

"The Fighting Seabees"

By: Frank Arneson
Former 1st Class Petty Officer
U.S. Navy C.B.
August 1942 to September 1944

As stated in the last story published by this paper about my encounter with John Wayne in a movie called "The Fighting Seabees," we are this week publishing more photos in honor of the late John "the Duke" Wayne. John Wayne did so much for this country during W.W. II and right up until the time of his death for he was a man who loved God and his country. I will now tell how the U.S. Navy Dept. formed the C.B. because that was what this movie was all about and it was a true story, more or less. In 1942, at the U.S. Navy Dept. in Washington, D.C., a civilian general contractor, "The Duke" met with, or tried to meet with, someone to get an O.K. to use weapons against the enemy who were trying to take over all allied owned islands in the South Pacific. As civilian workers on the islands, they were being killed by the enemy but were forbidden by the Allies who owned the islands to defend themselves. So, after a long ordeal and a run-around in Washington, the Duke had an appointment to sit down and tell his story to the Navy Dept. After a long discussion, some young Navy officer came up with the idea to take these construction men and enlist them in the Navy so they could learn to use guns and other kinds of weapons to defend themselves on the islands. As most of the citizens of this country and around the world have seen the Fighting Seabees picture, I will not go into any more detail about it. I know the Signal has only a limited space to do this story so I will let these photos tell the story of the actual filming on location of the last half of the movie.

In the near future, I will show these photos at some local place of business and if I have time, I will be there to explain them and why each photo was taken.

DON FRANCISCO TO APPEAR AT LIVING WATER FESTIVAL

Don Francisco will be one of the featured entertainers at the Living Water Camp Meeting scheduled for the weekend of September 14th at the Family Life Center in Renfro Valley. Don will be performing on Friday night, September 14. Reprinted here is a brief sketch concerning Mr. Francisco.

"Don's life has not always been in one fellowship with the Lord. Living a life of pain, confusion and loneliness. Don was determined to be successful. He knew he was running from the Lord but it didn't seem to matter. One day while still searching for inner peace, Don realized he had tried everything and knew not where to turn. It was after all had failed that God spoke to Don and changed his life. "The Lord spoke to me almost audibly. He said, 'I am Jesus and I am alive in your heart. Read my Word and do it.' At this point, Don's life had taken a new direction, one with meaning and purpose.

His music is a spiritual experience... a thing, beauty, able to move gently while being a vehicle of the Holy Spirit. "I want to minister to the whole man to help him realize more of the Lord Jesus."

Don has two current releases, his first being "Brother of the Son" and his most recent "Forgiven." These are available on New Pax Records and Tapes, a division of Word, Inc."

The Family Life Center at Renfro Valley held their Grand Opening Labor Day and a Picnic for all interested in attending. Several prizes were given with the grand prize, a country ham, going to Ms. Cora Loperin, far left, standing. Lonnie Bryant, second from left, received a prize for being the oldest present and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Overbay had the most children (5) present and Mattie Howard is shown holding her son who was the youngest person present. The children on the front row are the Overbay children and others who won prizes.

Enjoying a game of horseshoes at the Family Life Center Picnic were these two men. Volleyball, basketball and shuffleboard were also available for everyone to enjoy.

Get News Alert
Be Aware That: Bagworms

are nearly full grown and beginning to pupate making insecticidal sprays useless. Fall army worms may cause serious damage to alfalfa and other hay and pasture crops within the next few weeks.

Expect Problems With: Crickets annoying homeowners; mosquitoes; Mexican bean beetles in Central and Northern Kentucky growers should consider treatment if defoliation reaches 25% during bloom and pod development; or 35% during pod fill. However, once the pods begin to yellow and 50% of the leaves are yellow (plants have reached physiological maturity) treatments are no longer justified even though heavy defoliation occurs; squash bugs on pumpkins and squash; for control spray or dust with carbaryl. Watch for: brown patches in lawns caused by white grubs; increasing problems with wasps; yellow jackets and hornets; green stink bug in soybeans treatment justified when stink bugs average 2 per a feet of row while pods are filling.

Landscape Lesson

Bluegrass seed for the lawn Arrangements should be made for the Kentucky bluegrass seed that is to be sown on the lawn early in September. The seed for a lawn should weigh 21 pounds or more to the bushel, should have a germination of 85% or more and be free from noxious weeds. This is a much better seed than the farmer will buy for seeding his pasture field.

September is undoubtedly the best month of the year to sow this seed. The lawn should be clipped down to about one inch and if the clippings are heavy they should be raked and removed and the seed scattered over the grass that is on the lawn. The rain will wash it down and bring it into contact with the soil.

If the sod is reasonably good, one fourth pound of seed sown on each 1,000 square feet of area will be sufficient. If the sod is light, one-half pound of seed should be sown to each 1,000 square feet.

The best way to sow this seed is with a seeder, but if this is not available then the amount of seed should be divided into two equal parts and one part put in a container and sow in one direction and the other half sown at right angles to the direction of the first seeding. Doing this lessens the danger of missing any spots with the seed. If possible, a time should be selected for sowing the seed when the wind is not blowing as bluegrass seed is very light.

DEER HUNTING AT BALLARD WILDLIFE AREA

Deer hunting on the Ballard Wildlife Management Area will be allowed on a first-come, first-served basis during both the archery and gun deer hunts there, according to an emergency regulation adopted by the state Fish and Wildlife Commission.

The change in procedure from the advance reservation requirement was made necessary at the Ballard Area, Fish and Wildlife Commissioner Carl E. Kays said, because an insufficient number of applications was received to reach the maximum daily quota of 400 hunters.

The hunting dates and the number of hunting positions open are: archery, Oct. 20, 27; Oct. 22, 2, Oct. 29, 87; Nov. 4, 341; Nov. 5, 337; Nov. 10, 325; Nov. 11, 358; and Nov. 12, 362.

The hunter check-in station will open each day of the hunt at 4:30 a.m. Central time. Kays said, and only one day of deer hunting will be allowed each hunter. A $10 fee will be charged and it is payable only by certified check, cashier's check, money order, or cash. No personal checks will be accepted.

GRANT FOR BRODHEAD FAIRGROUNDS EXHIBIT

Commissioner William S. O'Daniel, Department for Local Government, has announced approval of a direct game for $15,000 in area development funds for construction of the Brodhead Fairgrounds Exhibit Hall.

Cumberland Valley Area Development District recommended funding of this project from its area development allocation.

Other funds for this project include $45,000 from the state convention center fund and $19,547 from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

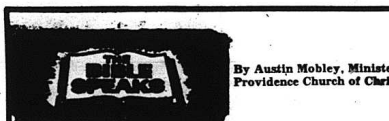

When direct grants are approved, complete funding for a project is paid to the applicant agency subject to special provisions of the legislation.

Area development funds were made available through action initiated by Gov. Julian Carroll and approved by the 1976 and 1978 legislature. Each biennium $12 million is allocated for the fund.

Final authorization is made by the Department of Finance following a technical review of each project.

This home took a short trip last Friday afternoon when it was moved across the street by Housemovers, Inc. of Corbin. The home was located behind the First Baptist Church who bought it and then sold it at auction with the buyer having to move it from the premises.

Travelling Down "Broadway"

Many people feel no pressing need to obey the gospel of Christ. They live in prosperity, enjoy good health, and are upright in their moral behavior. No rough roads of adversity ever force them to re-evaluate the direction they have taken. Although they are caught up in the heavy traffic that congests the broad way leading to destruction, they seem oblivious to the fact that at some point their journey will bring them to the brink of eternity. What then? Life's highway may be smooth and it may seem to stretch on indefinitely. But beware! There's a barricade ahead marked "Death". Will your road and journey, with only the blackness of eternal separation from God before you? We plead with the unsaved to "enter ye in at the strait gate, which leadeth unto life" by obedience to Christ. Repent of your sins and be baptized to enter "Narrow Street" which leads to heaven. Don't travel another day on "Broadway". It's a one way street that leads to hell!

Two-Car Collision

Injures Pennsylvania Youths

A two-car collision on I-75 just north of Mt. Vernon early Monday morning left two Pennsylvania teen-agers seriously injured (one critically). According to State Police Officer Danny Coleman, Anthony "Tony" Deutsch, 19, of Charleroi, Pa., was burned over 40% of his body when the car in which he was a passenger, was struck from behind by a 1975 Camaro, driven by Michael Penner of Indiana.

The car, in which Deutsch was a passenger, was a 1979 Subaru which had been pulled to the side of the interstate by its driver, Jay Buckhalter, 19, of Greensboro, Pa., reportedly so the two could sleep for a while. Buckhalter suffered a broken vertebrae in his neck and some burns. The burns were reportedly inflicted while he was rescuing Deutsch from the auto which burst into flames just minutes after being struck.

Neither Penner, nor a passenger in his car, was injured in the collision. Penner told police that he evidently went to sleep at the wheel just prior to striking the Buckhalter vehicle, Coleman said.

Two Pennsylvania youths were injured seriously early Monday morning when their car, shown above, was struck from behind on I-75 just north of Mt. Vernon. The car burst into flames and was extinguished by Bud Cox and Gary Hansel of the Rockcastle Co. Rescue Squad.

Confusion Over Specifications Causes Reletting of Bids

A confusion in the specifications for the chain link fence and backstop to encircle the softball field at the Broodhead Fairgrounds brought about the rejection of all three bids submitted and the readvertisement for bids for the project.

The confusion mainly centered around the height of the backstop to be bid. The original bid form called for a 10 ft. backstop with a five foot canopy but Cumberland Fence Co. of Science Hill pointed out that the engineer's drawing of the side view of the backstop in the plans was for a 20 foot backstop, with a 5 ft. canopy, if it, the sideview, was drawn to scale and he said this was what he bid on. Cumberland's bid was for $10,344.30 and was the highest of the three bids submitted but the other two bidders, Eads Fence Co. of Berea ($9,640.00) and Asher and Sizemore Fence Co. of Manchester ($9,304.44) both bid on a 10 ft. high backstop, 52 ft. wide. This was another point of confusion since the original bid form called for a 36' wide backstop and Eads and Asher and Sizemore caught the discrepancy between the drawing and what showed 52 feet and the written specification which called for only 36 feet, and Cumberland did not.

There was some discussion between the Magistrates and County Judge Executive Hubert Thacker, and Jim Cass of the Tri-County Community Development as to how to handle the bid letting, but it was finally decided that the specifications would be redrawn making these two points and others completely clear and the bids would be requested to be resubmitted by Friday, September 14, at 10 a.m. when they would be opened.

In other business, the court agreed to rescind their original motion to make an application for a HUD Block Grant for development of the Burr Hill Intersection area and to instead switch the application to the same project as last year—the Pine Hill area.

Mr. Cass recommended this action to the court saying that a consultant to his firm had advised that the county would stand a better chance of obtaining a grant on this project. Cass also told the court that the Pine Hill project included rehabilitation of houses, repair of roads, construction of a sewer system with a package treatment plant and possibly a small community park.

School Board Discusses More Land for MVES; Lets Bid for New Sewer Plant at RES

At Tuesday night's regular monthly meeting of the Rockcastle County Board of Education, Supt. Charles Parsons made a report to the board concerning the status of the facility survey and had a recommendation to make to the board concerning it.

Mr. Parsons said that he had talked with the State Department of Education in Frankfort and asked if the board could come up with more acreage adjacent or near to the present site of Mt. Vernon Elementary School, if the board's original recommendation would be approved. The board's original recommendation was to build more rooms at MVES and a cafeteria in such a manner that it could be considered phase one of a new building so that as additions could be made to this addition the old Mt. Vernon Elementary School building could eventually be demolished with a complete new structure ready for use.

Mr. Parsons said that Frankfort agreed that if as much as 14 acres (including the acreage the school now sits on) could be obtained and, if it were approved by the Department of Building and Grounds, then the board's original plan could be approved. Mr. Parsons further said that the state had agreed to forego the idea of a middle school for the county and had agreed to the addition of more

Health Department Turned Down On Construction Funds for New Building

The Rockcastle County Health Department has been notified by the State Department of Public Health of the disapproval of $122,500 for construction of a new health department for Rockcastle County.

The notification came in a telephone call and letter to Dr. G.W. Griffith, a member of the Rockcastle County Public Health Board, last Thursday.

The letter read, in part, "Your application for $122,500 for capital construction has not been approved for funding out of our initial appropriation of $2,000,000." The $2,000,000 figure is what the state health board had to disperse to local counties for construction and Rockcastle County had been unofficially assured months ago that they were high on the priority list for their share of these funds.

The letter, from Joseph Miller, Deputy Commissioner for Public Health, gave no specific reason for the turn down but went on to say, "We will hold your application for the remainder of this fiscal year and should any local health department improvement funds, previously allocated for projects become available during this period, your project will again receive our most serious consideration."

Members of the local health department board and employees expressed shock when news of the state board's decision reached them. Dr. Griffith said that all necessary papers supporting the local department's application had been secured by the board but the board had already made arrangements to have the $122,500 in matching monies available. He said that the local department had been virtually assured many years ago and the local board was told that this was another item in their favor since health departments which were still located in courthouses were given priority for the funds.

One of the major causes for concern is that the local department has until 1981 to meet requirements for providing facilities for the handicapped and in their present location, this is an impossibility since there are no ramps for wheelchairs, the doorways are not wide enough, and fire safety standards are not being met. In the past, several federal programs have been implemented in the county through the health department on the basis of an adequate building being constructed in the near future. Now, the future of these programs is in some doubt.

The local department administrators programs such as: WIC, KMAP screening, family planning, immunizations, blood pressure tests, hemoglobins, vision and hearing screening, diabetes testing, fluoride program, rheumatic fever, TB clinics, Pap Smear clinic, VD testing, breast examinations and pregnancy testing.

In addition, all environmental programs are handled through the same office by Steve Mickliff, environmentalist with the local department. These programs include: testing

Mrs. Nancy Bradley, a clerk at the county health department, stands in front of the new revolving filing cabinets which will soon be put into use in the health department. The cabinets, which are better organized information on people who use the health office, is a mixed blessing since it takes up more of the already overcrowded space in the office.

Both units of REACT serving the county, were busy this past week end handing out refreshments to motorists at service stations on the Brentvo Valley exit of I-75. In the top photo, members of Rockcastle Co. REACT, Unit #801, were stationed at the Brentvo Valley Exxon where workers said they served between 150 and 200 travelers. In the bottom photo, Tri-County REACT, Unit #62, set-up at Brentvo Valley Shell and likewise said they had served hundreds. Refreshments were donated to the two organizations.

5th Fall Fair at Berea Is October 5 - 7

The 5th Fall Fair of the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen will be October 5-7 in Berea College's Indian Fort Theater.

The Fair will return to the original site near the Theater entrance, eliminating the problems experienced with the alternate site used in May.

Over 70 of Kentucky's best craftsmen, craft centers and artists will participate in the Fall Fair, setting up their displays and demonstrations under the Guild's colorful canopies.

Working demonstrations will include weaving, pottery, painting, spinning, carving, candlemaking, and much more; traditional skills are on display for three full days.

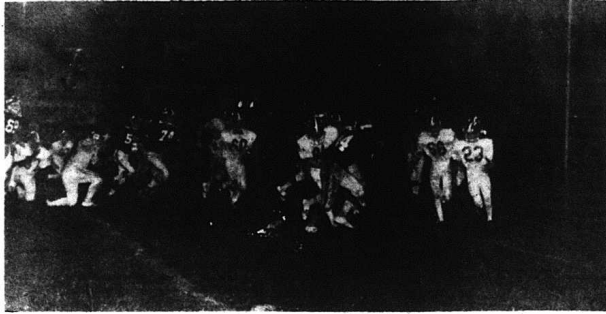

Kentucky entertainment will include the Berea College Country Dancers, Harrodsburg's Martha Williamson, Sonja Yancey of Berea, and classical guitarist Tom Lankey.

Harvest displays are provided by the Pilot Market, a farmer cooperative near Berea.

Autumn colors highlight the Berea Forest; cool nights and warm days provide ideal weather for the outdoor festival of the arts.

Fair hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday (October 5 and 6) and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday (October 7). Admission is $3 for adults, $1 for children. All fees are used in the Guild's year 'round service programs.

Carrying the ball against the Patriots Friday night was No. 44, Denzil Chasteen. The Rockets only threatened once in the 47-0 loss and this threat ended with the Rockets turning the ball over on downs. This Friday night, Clay County will come to town.

Patriots Romp Over Rockets 47-0

The Rockcastle Rockets hosted the Lincoln County Patriots Friday night and the Patriots came away with a decisive 47-0 victory.

The Patriots won the toss and elected to receive. Nine plays later, they went in for their first score of the game on a beautiful pass play. The Rockets then began their first series of downs from their own 38 yard line, but, three plays later, had to punt the ball away.

In a repeat of their first possession, the Patriots again took 9 plays before going in for a touchdown from the Rockets' 20. Again, the Rockets were unable to move the ball and Bobby Hammon's punt rolled dead on the Patriots' 48.

With 10:16 left in the third quarter, the Patriots scored their third touchdown and, a little over two minutes later, scored from the two yard line for their fourth score of the game which was set up by a short punt which went out-of-bounds on the Rockets' 17 yard line.

The Rockets came up with their first down and only serious threat of the game on their next possession. Some good blocking by the Rockets' line and running by Hammons, Denzil Chasteen and Steve Mitchell moved them to deep within Patriot territory but the Rockets were forced to turn the ball over on downs on the Patriots' 20.

The Patriots made several substitutions in their offensive line the third quarter and were unable to score until late in the quarter when a Rockets' fumble was recovered by the Patriots and they scored from the Rockets' 1 yard line.

The two teams exchanged the football for a while when early in the fourth quarter, a Lincoln County runner romped 60 yards for their fifth touchdown of the game. Then, with 1:26 left in the game, the Patriots went in for their final score. This Friday night, the Rockets host Clay County.

Sons brought the matter before the board, board chairman Dr. K.R. Burdette voiced his objection to the local board having to bear any of the cost since they were not at fault in any way in the matter. He was backed in his opinion by Mrs. Isabel Mason.

The matter was finally resolved by Mr. Parsons being directed to tell Mr. Collins to try to reach a settlement on the cost between himself and the architect and, if this failed, the matter would be brought before the board again for possible action.

Mr. Parsons pointed out that the board was due $1,450 from Mr. Collins under the penalty clause in Mr. Collins' contract amounting to 58 days at $25 a day for being this much over the time limit in getting the building built. The board delayed action on this claim against Mr. Collins until it was resolved what would be done about the lights.

In other action, the board: Employed three additional substitute teachers, Col G. Wilson, Carol v. Phillips and Randall Adams, subject to certification; employed Mrs. Iris Young as English teacher at RCHS to fill the vacancy created by Mrs. Doris Nicely's retirement; employed three additional bus drivers/contract haulers; employed three substitute drivers; approved the C.E.T.A. In-School Youth Work Program for 1979-80; approved the purchase of a 1973 Dodge Maxie Van for use as a bus; approved and adopted new school board policies relating to the exceptional children's program; employed Wanda E. Brown as library clerk at RCHS to fill leave of absence of Sondra Mullins; employed James William Shehan as mechanic to replace Leon Durham and gave Mr. Parsons authority to approve either Wilson Electric or Smith's Electric's bid for installing new electric fuse panels and other electrical work required by inspector at Livingston School.

The local health board was scheduled to meet Wednesday morning to decide what alternatives, if any, are available to the local board now that the state has refused to approve their application.

Child Find Program Continues

The Rockcastle County Board of Education is continuing its county-wide efforts to locate every handicapped child of school age who is not now in school.

"Child-Find" is designated to search out young people between the ages of three and twenty-one who are blind, deaf, physically handicapped, emotionally disturbed, or mentally retarded, or those with learning disabilities.

Public Law 94-142 is the Education for All Handicapped Children Act, which states that no child may be denied a tax support education.

We are asking for your help in locating these handicapped children who are not enrolled in school. If you have such a child or know of such a child please contact the Superintendent, Charles B. Parsons, at 256-2125. We will follow up with this child and help his parents to develop a suitable educational program for him.

Your cooperation with this program is greatly appreciated.

Legislative Report

By Harold DeMaroux

Last week, I prefiled a bill with the Legislative Research Commission for the 1980 General Assembly that will amend the present statutes and give each county a full time prosecutor. By combining the offices of county attorney and commonwealth's attorney into a single elective office in each county, the state's unnecessary and expensive dual-prosecution system will be eliminated.

In many counties, we are paying $50,000 or more to prosecute criminals through the use of part time attorneys who can also have a lucrative private law practice on the side.

Recent testimony has shown that many commonwealth's attorneys, who have two or three counties in their districts, may only spend two weeks a year in a given county doing criminal prosecutions, yet these counties have an elected county attorney who is already being paid around $30,000 per year to prosecute misdemeanors cases in the same county.

Kentucky could save the extra $30,000 each of the fifty-six commonwealth's attorneys' salaries by adding the two weeks of criminal cases to the load of the county attorney which is usually no more than five or six cases in small counties.

The drafters of the Constitution of Kentucky foresaw the day when only one prosecutor would be needed and permitted the General Assembly, by law, to eliminate the position of commonwealth's attorney. Our justice system does not need dual prosecution, which allows two shots at dropping charges against criminals, and in most of our counties, allows someone from outside the county to decide what will be done with the most serious criminals.

A full time prosecutor in job without the distractions of a private law practice. In the each county will mean that serious criminal cases are handled by the same office from the time of investigation to the time of the conviction. Presently, the preliminary stages of felony charges are normally handled by the county attorney and the trial by the commonwealth's attorney.

With an increased caseload, the county attorney as a full time prosecutor, will be able to devote his full efforts to his larger counties, the county attorney would have assistants (as is now the practice) and detectives to assist in maintaining a high professional standard.

In the smaller counties, where the caseload is substantially less, the Prosecutors' Advisory Council of the Attorney General's office, could assign these county attorneys to help out as special prosecutors in the counties where the caseload is very heavy and the need is greater for additional help.

Under my proposal, the salaries of county attorneys will be the same as circuit judges, now $35,000 annually. County attorneys would be state officials paid by the state, instead of the county, and counties would be required only to furnish office space.

Also, the bill eliminates various extra fees that counties have had to pay to part time county attorneys for collecting taxes and various other services, this will result in an additional savings to the taxpayer.

This legislation will make for a more unified prosecutorial system, eliminate the need for the taxpayers to support more than one prosecutor in their county and give the people a stake in the operation of their own criminal justice system. It eliminates the "absentee landlord" system of prosecution which has plagued the Commonwealth's citizens since 1891.

Mrs. Theard Douglas Proctor

Miss Jackson Weds Mr. Proctor In Ceremony at First Baptist Church

The marriage of Miss Linda Lee Jackson, daughter of Mrs. Bennett Hamm of Mt. Vernon, to Theard Douglas Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby A. Proctor, Brodhead was solemnized Saturday afternoon, July 21 at the First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon.

Rev. Raymond Roaden performed the double-ring candle-light ceremony under a floral arch of white carnations with matched foliage arrangements and candlelamps.

A program of wedding music was presented by Miss Tina Cain, organist, and Miss Patty Towery, pianist. Mr. Ernie Blevins of Brodhead, soloist, presented "Annie's Son", "Time in a Bottle", and "We've Only Just Begun".

The bride, escorted by her father and given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional style gown of white chantilly lace and organza. The fitted bodice and bishop sleeves were accented with delicate lines of chantilly lace. The sculptured neckline was detailed with edging of lace. The full skirt was chapel length and swept to an attached chapel train with a flounced hemline of soft baby pleats. A beaded camelot cap secured her finger tip veil. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses entwined with baby's breath on a white Bible.

Miss Gina Cornelius, Mt. Vernon, maid of honor, was attired in a dusty rose floor length gown accented with a light grey flora cape mingled with dusty rose. She carried a bouquet of one pink rose surrounded by white mums sprinkled with baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Miss Michelle Dick, Miss Audrey Morgan, Miss Sandra Sweeney, Miss Lisa Raines and Miss Janice Jackson, sister of the bride. Their gowns were fashioned after that of the maid of honor, each carrying a single long stemmed pink rose.

Anthony D. Frederick, cousin of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Mike Halcomb, Mr. Nelson Graves, Mr. Bill Graves, Mr. Derrell Proctor, brother of the groom, and Master William Jackson, II, brother of the bride.

Miss Carla Frederick, flower girl, was dressed in a floor length pinafore of white with pink eyelet over light pink. She carried a white lace basket from which she dropped petals of pink and white roses.

Master Gregory Hamm, brother of the bride served as ring bearer.

Miss Elizabeth Proctor presided over the guest register and distributed the wedding scrolls.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hamm wore a floor length gown of pastel blue polyester knit with a cowl neckline. She wore a corsage of white carnations tipped with blue.

Mrs. Proctor, mother of the groom, chose a soft peach floral chiffon floor length gown. Her corsage was a white carnation tipped with blue also.

A reception honoring the newlyweds was held in the fellowship hall of the church immediately following the wedding ceremony. Miss Mary Hamm and Mrs. Paula Allen served at the reception.

After their wedding trip the couple returned to make their home in Brodhead. Both are graduates of Rockcastle County High School. Mrs. Proctor entered Berea College this fall and Mr. Proctor is employed by Exide Corporation in Richmond.

The bride-elect was honored with a bridal shower July 6, in the Community Room at The Bank of Mt. Vernon, given by Mrs. Laura Frederick, Miss Mary Hamm, Miss Sandra Sweeney, and Mrs. Anna Mae

Just opening the freezer door increases the cost of freezing foods. To cut the time needed to locate a package, store meats, main dishes, vegetables and fruit in separate areas. Also, keep an inventory. Have a tablet near the freezer so you can write down each food and how many packages there are. Then cross out each item when you remove it.

As a matter of fact, it was Old Piny who provided the information as to how this beautiful flower got its name. As his account goes, it is the namesake of Paeon, protoge of Aesclepias, Greek god of medicine.

One day, as the legend goes, while out botanizing on the slopes of Mount Olympus, young Paeon was accosted by Leto, mistress of Zeus and goddess of fertility, who told him of a mysterious plant whose root was invaluable in easing the pains of women in childbirth.

Once in possession of this knowledge, Paeon became a great success as a gynecologicalist, so much to that Aesclepias became jealous and threatened to kill him. To save Paeon's life, Leto appealed to Zeus who changed him into the plant we now know as Peony.

During the Middle Ages, the peony was known to the church as the "blessed herb" and it was highly recommended to carry a piece of its root as a talisman to ward off witches and warlocks and to counteract the effects of the Evil Eye. It was also highly regarded as a healing agent and even today some modern Herbals list the flowers and roots as being valuable in the treatment of St. Vitus, epilepsy, spasms, nervous diseases and whooping cough.
