Roast Chicken: A "Simple" Dish That's Simply Perfect

Juicy, tender and tasty roast chicken is one of those seemingly simple dishes that takes more skill than you might imagine. But the result is well worth taking the time to plan the timing, basting and stuffing correctly. It's a hearty dish that yields leftovers for sandwiches and salads.

Now is an excellent time to make roast chicken because poultry is now in plentiful supply.

When shopping for a roaster, choose a larger bird for best results (4 or more pounds is ideal). Cooked at 350 degrees, it should take 2 or 3 hours depending on size and whether or not the bird is stuffed. To be sure the chicken is thoroughly cooked, prick it to see if the juices are running clear—there should be no trace of pink or red, just yellow. Also, the leg should move easily in its socket.

Here's a simple method for roasting chicken that is very popular in the French country side. Knead a small amount of butter with tarragon and toss into the cavity of a chicken; also add salt and pepper. Place chicken, breast side up, in roasting pan. Melt a half stick of butter and add to it the juice of one lemon. Brush the chicken all over with a pastry brush. As it cooks, in a 350 degree oven, baste every 15 minutes. In the beginning, you may have to add additional melted butter and lemon juice, but after about one-half hour, there should be enough drippings in the pan to do the job. Be sure to turn the chicken over when you are half-way through. When it is done, remove from pan to a warm platter. Wait at least 15 minutes before carving, so that the juices will not run when you are cutting up the chicken. During this period make a simple sauce by pouring the accumulated pan juices into a small saucepan and reheating quickly so as to thicken the sauce and concentrate the flavors. Serve in a separate dish.

This dish goes especially well with rice and a steamed, green vegetable. Or, you can cook a few cut-up potatoes and carrots in the drippings along with the chicken. This will take approximately 30 to 45 minutes, depending on the size of the pieces.

If you want to stuff your chicken, here's an interesting suggestion.

Savory Bread Stuffing

- 3 T. butter
- ¾ chopped celery
- 3 T. chopped parsley
- 2 T. chopped onion
- 4 cups soft breadcrumbs

¼ t. savory seasoning
¼ t. salt
pepper to taste

Melt butter in a frying pan and add celery, parsley and onion. Cook until tender. Add fat and vegetables to breadcrumbs along with seasonings. Mix lightly but well.

Stuffed or unstuffed, roast chicken is a dish you come back to time and again throughout the year.

Kentucky needs a man who can get things done.

It's been said the world is divided into two kinds of people: talkers and doers. Most politicians are talkers. They're full of fancy words, glib phrases, and empty promises.

But John Y. Brown, Jr. isn't a politician, and he isn't just a talker. John Y. Brown, Jr. is a businessman, and an achiever.

Look at his achievements
As an Encyclopedia Britannica salesman working his way through law school, John Y. Brown, Jr. managed a district office that broke a national company record. As President of Kentucky Fried Chicken, he achieved legendary success making KFC the largest franchised restaurant company in the world.

As fund raiser for the National Democratic Party, John Y. Brown, Jr. organized the most successful political fund raising events in history—the 1972-73-74-75 Democratic Telethons—raising $19 million to help get the Democratic Party out of bankruptcy.

The best is yet to come

An innovator, a businessman, a proven leader, John Y. Brown, Jr. is the kind of man Kentucky needs to make government run efficiently. His independence from special interests will give him the freedom to work for all the people. His proven skills and credibility will allow him to bring in more business, more jobs, and more investment money to Kentucky.

John Y. himself puts it best: "I'm not a politician. I'm a businessman. State government is this State's largest business and ought to be managed soundly and for the benefit of the people of Kentucky."

John Y. Brown, Jr. the achiever, will do it. John Y. Brown, Jr. cares about Kentucky. He needs your help.

Fire Season Approaches

According to Rockcastle County Ranger Stephen C. Bullen, we are approaching a dry season and a hazardous time for burning. Mr. Bullen states that the Fall fire season officially runs from October 1st through December 15th. During this time it is illegal to burn before deep cover; in tailwaters, trout good; clear to murky, falling, three feet below pool and 66 degrees.

Dewey: crappie slow over submerged cover; bluegill slow in heads of cove; murky to muddy, stable at pool and 66 degrees.

Fishtrap: crappie slow over deep cover; bluegill slow over shallow banks; murky to muddy, stable at 15 feet below pool and 68 degrees.

County Students Enrolled in UK College of Agriculture
 There is one student from Rockcastle County enrolled this semester in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. The student is David Noe and his departmental major is Ag Education.

A teaching program in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture offers many opportunities for student development in all areas of agriculture and related sciences along with capabilities for useful citizenship.

The College of Agriculture offers departmental majors in many areas, including, forestry, landscape architecture, agricultural economics, agricultural education, agricultural production, agronomy, animal sciences, entomology, horticulture, individualized programs, plant pathology, rural sociology and food sciences.

The students in this College have a unique opportunity to use the University's extensive laboratories, classrooms, libraries, greenhouses, field plots and feed lots to broaden their background in the areas of agricultural research and application of scientific findings.

4:30 p.m. Even if you think adequate precautions have been taken, it is still unlawful to burn except between the hours of 4:30 p.m. and 12 o'clock midnight.

County Ranger Bullen reminds us that our woods are an important part of Rockcastle County's economy and recreation. The careless or malicious use of fire is a serious threat to the health of our county's forests.

The careless burning of trash, and the careless use of campfires are responsible for the downgrading of Rockcastle County's timber resource year after year. As one example, Mr. Bullen emphasized the fact that a single forest fire starts a decay process that lasts and worsens throughout the lifetime of the scorched trees. The scars never heal.

Whether you are in the woods, on the highways, or in your own backyard, be careful with fire. Before starting a fire be sure you are prepared for any emergency. Be a good neighbor. When the woods burn, everybody loses.

If you see a wildfire, report it to Stephen Bullen, Rockcastle County Ranger, phone 256-2957. Or you can call the United Ranger Station at London, ph. 864-9396, or call the District office in Pineville at 337-3011. Collect calls to report a forest fire will be accepted. Early detection may save your neighbor's land and possibly your own.

Ground Broken For Housing Complex; Completion Expected by Summer of '80

K.A. Williams, Developer, Don Jeffers, architect and Carroll Russell, building superintendent were all on hand Monday night for ground-breaking ceremonies behind City Hall for a planned 32-unit elderly housing project.

Following the outside ceremony, Mr. Williams and Mr. Jeffers spoke to those who assembled in the city hall building to explain somewhat about the project such as its construction, etc.

Mr. Williams said the project would consist of four 8-unit buildings with a separate building housing the office, laundromat, community room, restrooms and maintenance area. The managers apartment would also be in this building and arranged so that it will have control over the driveway into the project.

16 of the apartments will be on the upper level and, of the 16 on the ground level, 4 have been designed specifically for handicapped persons.

Appliances will be furnished in all the apartments which will also have central heat and air conditioning and be carpeted. Each apartment will consist of living room, kitchen, bedroom and bath and those on the ground level will have an entry porch while those on the upper level will have a balcony.

Construction on the project is scheduled to begin immediately with completion hoped for in early summer of 1980.

Rent on the apartments will be based on a persons income with approximately 20% of their adjusted gross income being charged for rent and utilities.

Mr. Jeffers told the crowd that construction of the units would be concrete slab on grade with wood frame walls extra well insulated. The outside will be brick veneer with liberal landscaping, including shade trees, Mr. Jeffers said.

As to the drainage problem in the area, Mr. Jeffers said this was being worked on but would be partially eliminated by using fill dirt on the site and setting the units on this which would enable water to drain away from the apartments.

The project is being financed by Farmers Home Administration and is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $675,000.

Will Affect Jackson Co. RECC Rates

East Ky. Power Granted Rate Increase

In an Order handed down by the Energy Regulatory Commission, a rate increase was granted to East Kentucky Power effective October 1, 1979. The adjustment of $10,800,000.00 will result in an overall increase of approximately 9 1/2% to the members of the 18 Distribution Cooperatives served by East Kentucky Power.

According to Lee Roy Cole, Manager of Jackson County RECC, the Commission Order also made the following points:

(1) The increase granted East Kentucky Power will result in an increase in power costs to Jackson County RECC of $1,091,900.00 (Jackson County buys power from East Kentucky for its members to use).

(2) Jackson County RECC is entitled to recover the increased wholesale power costs and its financial condition would be materially impaired if it were not allowed to recover this additional cost.

(3) Rates of Jackson County RECC have been revised by the Commission to reflect only the increased power costs.

(4) The flow-through to Jackson County RECC will not result in any additional net margin and does not exceed the price guidelines established for electric utilities under the Federal Anti-Inflation Program.

The Commission "Therefore ordered, that Jackson County Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation is hereby authorized to flow-through the increased power costs resulting from the rate increase granted its wholesale supplier." The new rates went into effect October 1, 1979.

Citing the rising costs of producing electricity as a major reason for higher power bills, the RECC manager also points to other causes inside from everyday general inflation.

"East Kentucky Power was granted only half its request rate adjustment last year and had a serious deficiency because of it," Cole adds. "That deficiency plus higher interest rates on loans, the high construction costs on mandatory pollution-control equipment, and a steadily increasing growth figure led to East Kentucky's recent rate decision."

The enormous cost of building generating stations to accommodate the system's annual growth is another factor affecting the rate increase. In 1969, a 200,000 kilowatt generating unit was built in Pulaski County for $129 a kilowatt, while a unit currently being built in Mason County will cost $678 a kilowatt. A plant planned for completion in 1985 will cost more than $1000 a KW, which is an increase of nearly 700 percent since 1969.

The Livingston Lions Club are sponsoring a country music show which will be held Friday night, October 12, at 7:00 p.m., at the Livingston Elementary School gymnasium.

The show will feature local talent, with all proceeds going to the Lions Club Eye Conservation Project. Admission is $1.00 per person.

School Board Meets

The Rockcastle County Board of Education held their monthly meeting Tuesday night, October 2 with only routine items of interest on the agenda.

The board did clear up one carry-over item concerning a late penalty of $1,450 assessed against Preston Collins, contractor for the recently completed bus garage at the high school. Mr. Collins was 58 days over his contract for completing the building and the late penalty was $25 a day for a total of $1,450. However, the board owed Mr. Collins $297.00 for extra work on the garage and board member Willie Taylor made a motion to let the two items offset each other. The motion was approved unanimously.

The board also voted to accept an offer by the roofing contractor on the high school gymnasium roof of $5,500 off if the amount would be applied toward the contract cost on area #4 ($13,667) and/or area 5 ($10,610) the library and home economics areas and to approve payment of the balance due less 10% retainer or $18,991.66.

In other action, the board also approved:

Four substitute teachers, subject to certification: Mrs. Clove Mills, Mrs. Elizabeth Graff, David Wayne Hunt and Della Scoggins.

The employment and salary increases for the following personnel: Lloyd Vance, contract hauler, Well Hope, $170.00; Carol McGuire, $3.30 per hour, 6 hours a day; Everett Renner, contract hauler, Blue Springs,

Road Program Amended

Rockcastle County's rural secondary road program for 1979-80 has been amended to include one additional project, according to the state Transportation Department. The project calls for the relocation of three-tenths of a mile of Hurricane School Road.

Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson said the work will be financed with rural secondary funds already allotted to Rockcastle County for the current fiscal year.

Brodhead Receives $9,120 Grant

Gov. Julian Carroll has announced that $9,120 in state funds will be granted to the city of Brodhead for open ditch and storm sewer improvements. The city will provide $2,880 for the project.

The project involves cleaning 800 feet of open ditch and improving 130 feet of storm sewer.

$20 month; Gerald Etiblock, $65 a month; Charles Lovell, substitute driver and James Shehan, increase by $53 a month.

The Education Improvement Plan for 1979-80, prepared by a committee of teachers and principals, was approved by the board and the board approved $8,516.00 in local funds to match $21,799.00 in state funds for the Harry Sparks Vocational School.

The board's tobacco base a the high school also came up for discussion. The board did not lease the 126 pounds last year and thus have accumulated 2,732 lbs. for lease this year. A motion was made and approved to lease this total allotment at 50 cents a pound by way of the ASCS bulletin board on a first come basis.

The board also approved the close estimate budget for fiscal year 1979-80.

The first score of the game came on a one-yard run by Chasteen. Then, later in the same quarter, Quarterback David Riddle's 23-yard pass to Keith Bussell was good for another TD.

Legislative Report

By Rep. Wm. Harold DeMarcus

As of October 1st, there have been 115 bills prefiled with the Legislative Research Commission (LRC) for the 1980 General Assembly. Legislators prefile bills with the LRC in order to provide fellow members and the general public with an opportunity to review upcoming issues.

Two bills that I prefiled and support seek to establish open primaries and a unified prosecutorial unit. LRC Bill 52 would make Kentucky primaries open and allow the voter to vote for the candidate of their choice irrespective of party registration. LRC Bill 74 would combine the offices of commonwealth's attorney and county attorney in order to streamline our prosecutorial system and save a substantial amount of tax revenue.

Representative Art Schmidt, the House Republican Whip, has prefiled LRC Bill 15 to subject the minutes and records of the State Fair Board to the open records provisions. This legislation is important in light of the fact that the Board is empowered to issue revenue bonds that increase the state debt.

Representative Herman Rattliff, the House Republican Caucus Chairman, has prefiled LRC Bill 107 to extend the end of property tax discount period from November 1st to December 31st and to change the beginning and end of the 2% delinquency period, currently from January 1st to February 31st, to February 1st to the last day of February.

The Interim Joint Committee on Health and Welfare has prefiled LRC Bill 34 to establish a statewide senior citizen discount program jointly with the Department of Human Resources and the Governor's Office of Volunteer Services. Only persons 65 years of age and older may be eligible for the discounts that will be determined by participating business.

LRC Bill 32 has been prefiled and received by the Interim Joint Committee for Agriculture and Natural Resources to require non-resident alien individuals and business to register with the Secretary of State and the county property valuation administrator, their ownership or interest, other than a security interest in mineral rights or more than 40 acres of agricultural land in Kentucky.

The Interim Joint Committee on Elections and Constitutional Amendments has received LRC Bill 58 which directs the county clerk to provide voter registration forms to the principal or assistant principal of public and private high schools and to the director of each area vocational school for the purpose of registering qualified voter applicants. The bill requires that completed forms be returned to the county clerk for official registration.

LRC Bill 110 has been prefiled to seek Kentucky's ratification of an amendment to the United States Constitution relative to representation of the District of Columbia in the Congress. This amendment comes to us from House Joint Resolution 554 of the Ninety-fifth Congress and would become valid upon ratification by three-fourths of the state legislatures.

Additionally, several bills will be introduced by full committees; which should reflect information gathered through interim study programs. Likely issues are hazardous waste control, state debt, income tax revision and educational concerns.

Some of these bills will become major issues during the 1980 Regular Session and some may dwindle to obscurity. Also, many issues will arise from bills that are introduced after the legislature is in session. The budget bill, for example, will not be printed until several weeks after the session has commenced.

If you would like to express any questions or opinions concerning the 1980 General Assembly, please write to W. Harold DeMarcus, House Republican Leader, Room 314, State Capitol, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

County Agent's Notes

What To Do In October
Mow the lawn weekly and keep it leaf free to encourage Bluegrass to fill in empty spots. Try to plant broadleaf and needle evergreens early in the month.

Plant tulips and other spring flowering bulbs. Plant deciduous plants when they start losing their leaves during the last part of October.

Prune shrubs and trees as soon as leaf drop has taken place.

At the end of October cut roses back to 30 inches, and tie the tops to prevent wind damage.

Dig summer bulbs before the ground begins to freeze. Check the branching on weak limbed trees such as Siberian Elm and Water Maple, tie and reinforce weak limbs.

Water deeply and mulch any plants likely to suffer from winds and drought.

Wrap tree trunks to prevent sun scald. Apply rodent control measures for fruits and ornamental plants.

Dispose of all unused fruits to prevent overwintering of diseases.

Protect tomato plants from early frost-plastic covers will not adequately protect.

Check Irish potatoes dug earlier in the summer, discard any showing rot signs.

Work garden after harvest to help reduce weeds next season.

Harvest pumpkins and squash with a piece of the stem attached. Store in a shady, dry frost-free place.

When liming, allow 10 to 12 pounds of ground limestone per 100 square feet for every point change needed (as 5.5 to 6.5 pH).

Soil Test and Treat Fields to Be Renovated Now!
Now is an excellent time to test soil and treat grass fields that you are planning to renovate this winter. Not only does heavy equipment move over fields easier now, but also applications made during fall and winter do just as well or better than those made in the spring.

Make a good soil test. Divide fields into 10 to 15 acre areas for sampling. Pull 10 or more samples from each of these areas, and mix these "pulls" together to make each composite sample.

Apply needed lime, phosphate, and potash now. Nitrogen is not recommended in renovation this late, because grass is stimulated and crowds the legumes in the new stand.

As soon as you get the liming and fertilizing done and the heavy top growth grazed, you are ready to tear up the sod, a disk, field tiller or cultivator are excellent tools to use.

You can renovate an old grass stand for about one-third the cost of making a new seeding. You will also get top production of high quality feed from this field next year.

Other activity totals given for the London post included 195 arrests for public intoxication, 195 motorists assisted, 225 vehicle accident investigations, 151 crime prevention program contacts and four traffic safety program presentations.

Kentucky Afield

By John Wilson

Changes in season dates are about the only changes Kentucky's bowhunters will have to remember this year. The deer archery season opens October 1 and is split into three phases. The first phase runs through November 9. The second phase opens November 13 and runs through November 19. The final phase opens December 4 and continues through December 31.

Bowhunters who take deer should remember that, like last year, they are required to have the deer checked either by a conservation officer or at the nearest open check station.

The checking procedure is designed to give biologist a quick and accurate count of the state's deer harvest, which will aid their future management efforts. Last year, bow hunters accounted for 1,013 of the 11,203 deer taken in Kentucky.

By far the most productive area in the state was Land Between the Lakes in Western Kentucky, where archers took 467 deer. By contrast, the open counties in Kentucky yielded 421 deer, with the remainder coming from other wildlife management areas.

To review briefly some of the bowhunting regulations, archers may take either antlered or antlerless deer in all open counties of the state. Longbows or compound bows are legal. There is no minimum pull weight and arrows must be fitted with barbless broadhead points at least 7/8 inch wide. Arrows cannot contain chemicals or attachments containing chemicals.

Hunting hours for both bow and gun hunters are from one-half hour before sunrise until one-half hour after sunset, prevailing time. Bow hunters may not carry firearms of any kind while hunting and may not use crossbows during the regular archery season (a special season for crossbows only is set for November 20 through November 30).

The following counties are closed to all deer hunting, whether by gun, bow or crossbow: Estill, Floyd (except for a bow deer hunt on the Dewey Lake Wildlife Management Area October 13 through November 9), Johnson, Knott, Lincoln, Magoffin, Martin, Perry, Powell and Wolfe.

Several wildlife management areas have special dates and other regulations, so be sure to check the current regulations before hunting. A copy of the 1979 deer hunting guide along with a list of check stations is attached to each deer permit. Permits ($10.50 for residents and non-residents) are required in addition to a valid annual license.

If you would like to bowhunt at the Ballard Wildlife Management Area in Ballard County but didn't make the July 15 deadline for application, you still stand a good chance to get in.

There are 77 slots still open for hunters on October 20 and 136 positions on October 21, the other day set aside for bow hunting on the area. These will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. All you need to do is get there early (the check station on the area opens at 4:30 a.m.) and stand in line. Remember that all hunts at Ballard will be for antlerless deer only.

The Fish and Wildlife Department's game management division is now keeping records of trophy deer. Any buck with an antler length of 24 inches or more or with a field dressed weight of more than 200 pounds will qualify, as will any doe with a field dressed weight of more than 115 pounds. So if you take a possible trophy, be sure to get in touch with your local conservation officer.

Call Social Security To Conduct Business

Most people can take care of nearly all of their social security business by telephone, a social security spokesperson said recently.

Using the phone can be more convenient and a real time-saver the representative said. It spares people a trip to the office and a possible wait and it allows social security personnel to serve the public in a more efficient manner.

The spokesperson listed some of the matters that can be taken care of by telephone:

- Applying for social security or supplemental security income payments.
- Applying for Medicare.
- Requesting a change of name or address on social security records.
- Reporting events that may affect receipt of checks, such as starting or stopping work.
- Reporting a lost or stolen check or a delayed payment.
- Replacing a lost or missing social security or Medicare card.
- Getting help with filling out Medicare forms.
- Getting an estimate of monthly benefit amount.
- Requesting a statement of earnings reported to a person's social security record.

• Finding out if a particular health facility takes part in Medicare.

• Getting help in requesting a review of the decision made on a claim.

• Getting the answer to any question on social security, SSI, or Medicare and requesting copies of free publications on these programs.

To do any of these things, just call any Social Security office. The telephone number of the nearest office can be found in the telephone directory.

Q. I've decided I'd like to have my social security check deposited directly into my checking account. It would be much more convenient than having to stand in line at the bank every month. How do I arrange for direct deposit?

A. All you have to do is complete a direct deposit form SF-1199. You can get the form at your financial organization and the people there will help you fill it out. Direct deposit of your checks will start about several months after you submit the form. In the meantime, you'll continue to get your social security checks at home.

SCHOOLBUS DEATHS

The recent deaths of two children in Clinton and Breathitt Counties, killed while crossing the road to board schoolbuses near their homes, have resulted in an urgent call here for greater emphasis on schoolbus safety.

Lt. Ernest Bivens, director of Public Affairs and Safety Education for the Kentucky State Police, said here today that KSP safety education officers have been directed to begin soliciting the help of the local news media, school officials and police in all of Kentucky's 120 counties "to prevent anymore of these tragic accidents."

Bivens said that, although the schoolbuses in each of the two fatalities reportedly were stopped, with caution lights flashing, neither motorist involved in either accident apparently was able to stop in time to avoid hitting the children.

State police and the Division of Pupil Transportation in the Kentucky Department of Education were especially alarmed by the two deaths because, Bivens said, with eight full months of school still ahead of us, we're already in danger of exceeding the total number of children killed in school-related accidents during the entire past school year.

During the 1978-79 school year, which ended last June, only four children were killed in schoolbus-related accidents. Each, however, died after being hit while attempting to board or exit from a schoolbus.

Accordingly, Bivens said, the upcoming safety education effort will include the publication of "strong" reminders, through radio, television and the newspapers, calling attention to a state law which prohibits drivers from passing a schoolbus when it has stopped to load or unload children.

Among other specifics which state police will propose in meetings with local officials are:

time and route schedules so local drivers "are put on notice" as to when they should be especially alert to schoolbus traffic.

—Encouraging participating by schoolbus drivers in short, but regularly-scheduled schoolbus safety training sessions.

—Educating students in safe procedures for boarding and departing from schoolbuses.

About 14,000 martyrs are listed in the records of the Roman Catholic Church.

"Home Insulation Buying and Safety"

Consumers looking ahead to winter and its high heating costs are likely to consider adding insulation to their homes. Properly installed, insulation can save energy and greatly reduce heating costs.

According to the Tennessee Valley Authority, full insulation can reduce the cost of heating a 1,500 square foot home by as much as $720 per year. However, before you decide to further insulate your home, you should know certain facts about insulation.

The ability of insulation to resist heat flow is known as its "resistance value" commonly referred to as an "R" value. The higher the "R" value, the more effective the insulation.

Remember, "R" value, not the thickness of the insulation, tells you how well a material insulates. "An insulation's" "R" value should be printed on the package or container.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development has set minimum standards of R-19 for ceilings, R-11 for outside walls and R-7 for floors for homes in Kentucky.

Most homeowners use the fibrous kind of insulation which contains millions of tiny air pockets which retard heat flow.

If excess moisture accumulates in insulation it can cause wood to rot, plaster to loosen and paint to blister. To prevent this damage, a vapor barrier should be applied at the time insulation is added.

The vapor barrier may already be on the side of the insulation, or it may have to be installed separately. Care must be taken not to tear the vapor barrier during the installation or it will lose its effectiveness.

When buying insulation, be sure to check with local authorities to make sure the insulation you are considering meets the fire safety requirements of your building code.

Insist on obtaining in writing the specifications for the product and a warranty for product performance. It's also a good idea to check out an insulation contractor's references with his previous customers or a consumer protection group.

If you plan to install the insulation yourself, you should be aware of the following safety tips:

—Since chemicals from insulation may irritate the skin, you should wear protective clothing gloves, goggles and a dust mask.

—Wash protective clothing separately. Use gloves while handling the unwashed clothes.

—Keep insulation at least three inches away from any electrical fixture, furnace or other heat producer. Otherwise,

THE MT. VERNON SIGNAL THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1979 P-13 fire may result.

Do not let insulation block attic vents.

Insulation can help save energy and lower heating costs. Good buying habits and safety during installation can make insulation an even better buy.

If you have consumer questions or complaints, write the office of the Attorney General Consumer Protection Division, Frankfort, Ky. 40601 or call the toll-free consumer hotline at 1-800-372-2960.

Propane is better. Propane is gas... the efficient energy.

Propane heats over two homes with the same original energy it takes to heat one home electrically. Propane dries over three loads of clothes to one. Cooks two meals to one. Heats nearly 2 1/2 gallons of water to one.

And the new gas appliances conserve so much energy, you can save enough to do all these jobs for up to two extra months each year. So, don't waste energy! Don't waste money! Use Propane!

All insurance agents are about alike.

Until you have a claim.

Most insurance agents look pretty much alike. But some work for only one company while others (like us) are independent, working only for you. An agent working for one company must satisfy the company. If he doesn't, he may not have a job.

With us, we must satisfy only you. If

How does this work when you have a claim? Simple. We're always on your side. (Try to figure out where the other guy is.)

A letter has been received from Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Proctor of Richmond, concerning the Proctor Reunion. All of our relatives were not able to attend this year but many were there. It was a lovely day and everyone had an enjoyable time. It was agreeable to all to change the date of the Proctor Reunion to the third Sunday in July so it would not conflict with Buckeye Church Homecoming. I know I would enjoy being at church there once again," Mr. Proctor said.

Mrs. Dorothy French and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Isaac of McKee were in Tipp City, Ohio during the weekend visiting their brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson. Coming home they stopped in Berea with the Lakes family and had dinner Sunday evening.
