WRAP BOTH YOUR HOME AND CAR IN ONE BLANKET OF PROTECTION

We have an innovative policy called PCP—Personal Comprehensive Protection—from The Continental Insurance Companies. And if you own a home and a car, PCP offers you exceptional value. Separate policies often mean differing amounts of protection for your car, for your home and for its contents. And separate policies often cost you more, in time as well as money.

PCP, on the other hand, gives you one amount of property protection for your home and its contents. And one amount of liability protection for your car your hospital, disability income and mortgage life insurance in the same plan.

PCP is easy to understand, efficient and time-saving, and in many cases, more economical. Come see us or call. We'll be glad to show you what PCP can do to make you—and your property—more secure.

Livingston's Curfew One of First Items Of Business Taken up by New Board

Livingston's 10 p.m. curfew law was the main item of business before the new Board of Trustees who held their first regular meeting of the year Saturday, January 5.

At this meeting, Bobby Wilson was elected chairman by unanimous vote and Jerry Mink accepted the position of city clerk. In addition to Mr. Wilson, other board members are: Donald Jones, Curt McHargue, Mike Robbins and Danny Bullock.

Concerning the curfew law, the trustees were approached by Frank Lamb of Richmond, who operates an auction business on Friday and Saturday nights in Livingston. Mr. Lamb told the board that the curfew would hurt operation of this business.

In addition to Mr. Lamb, several citizens had also come to the meeting to ask that an exception be made to the curfew ordinance for Mr. Lamb's interest.

Trustee Danny Bullock voiced his opinion that, in all fairness to everyone, no exceptions to the law should be made. Some question was raised about the constitutionality of the law and, after some discussion and reading of the ordinance, the board agreed to change the curfew time to midnight and to work on a new ordinance against loitering and to check with the state attorney general's office as to its wording.

In other business, the board accepted letters of resignation from Elizabeth Mink, city clerk, and Gene Senter, town marshal.

Chairman Bobby Wilson explained to the citizens present that, at a called meeting on January 1, Kenneth Harris had been hired as city marshal. The police phone number is now 453-2232. The board also granted permission to Mr. Harris to attend a breathalyzer course at Eastern Kentucky University.

During the meeting, Chairman Wilson also expressed appreciation to the outgoing board and chairwoman Bertie Rice for their work in the past.

The board also approved the purchase of insurance for the police cruiser from State Farm Insurance and set the first Saturday in each month at 2 p.m. as the regular monthly meeting date of the board.

A 90-day privilege permit was granted to Janice Moore to operate an entertainment center with the 90-day period to be a type of probationary period.

The sewer fund was brought into discussion at the meeting when Jerry Mink asked if such a fund existed.

Trustee Curt McHargue reported that as far as he knew money from this fund had been used by the previous board to complete payment of the contract for monthly garbage pick-up. However, this could not be readily determined since records were not available and it was decided to take this matter up at the next meeting, after obtaining the records.

Parker Brothers were retained to provide garbage pick-up to the city.

Chairman Wilson asked the citizens of Livingston to come to the meetings. He said, "No problem can be solved on the street."

Girls Extend Record to 5-3 By Defeating Estill Co. 42-38

Rockcastle County girls played an exciting game Monday night and came out on top of a fine Estill County team, 42-38.

The game was close all the way through with Estill County holding a one-point lead at the end of the first quarter and the Rockets in that position at half-time. In the third quarter, the Rockets outscored Estill 12 to 7 and held on to win by a four-point margin.

High scorer and rebounder for the girls was Donna Faulner with 13 points and 12 rebounds; Kaye Hammonds got 10 points and 11 rebounds. Libby Ruppe had 9 points, Tracy Mulberry and Kim Howard, 4 each, and Debbie Bowman, 2.

The B-team game was never in question as the girls took a 9-0 lead in the first quarter and held on to win by 15, 27-12.

Debbie Bowman was high scorer with 8; Shella Burton got 6; Kelly Thomason and Cynthia Holbrook got 5 each, Donna Farthing, 2 and Lisa Deatherage, 1.

The girls, who are 5-3 on the season, will play at Casey County Thursday night and will host Eubank Monday night.

Boys Lose in Over-Time to Williamsburg

The Rockets seem to be jinxed these days and they certainly were at Williamsburg last Friday night as Williamsburg won by one-point in an overtime victory.

The Rockets trailed by one point at both the end of the first quarter and at half-time. But, Williamsburg rallied in the third quarter, to pull ahead, 43-38, and at the end of regulation play, the score was knotted at 58 all. The overtime saw few balls going through the basket but Williamsburg garnered three points in overtime to the Rockets' two for the win.

Matt Poynter was high-point man with 18; David Mullins got 17; David Riddle, 12; Trent Mullins, 8; Marty Hensley, 3 and Anthony Davidson, 2.

This Friday night, the Rockets host Wayne County and next Tuesday night travel to Jackson County.

The Rockets are now 2 and 11 on the season.

Tracy Mulberry, a starting forward for the Rockets girls team, looks for help during action in Monday night's game at the high school. Tracy got 4 points in the girls 42-38 win. The girls team is now 5-3 in season play.

New City Council Sworn-In; Some Business Conducted Before Regular Meeting Next Monday

Newly-elected councilmen for Mt. Vernon were sworn-in Monday night by City Attorney Carl Clontz and then discussed a few items of business. The regular monthly meeting will be held next Monday night, January 14th.

Mayor Mullins told the new councilmen that one of their first items of business must be selection of a regular monthly meeting night and the Councilmen agreed to leave it the same as before, the second Monday night of each month.

Mayor Mullins then discussed with the council the committees which have been set up in the past—water and sewer and streets. After some discussion, it was agreed that the actual setting-up of these committees would be taken care of next Monday night and it would be decided at that time whether or not to add an additional committee—that of police and parking.

During the brief meeting, the council also discussed the possibility of alleviating the bottleneck on Main Street caused by traffic stopping to turn left into the driveway window of the Bank of Mt. Vernon; the installation of a resident into the building recently rented by the city at Lake Linville to help hold down unwholesome use of the area and discussed what steps to take to secure payment of the lease fee due to the city by a Christian Appalachian Project for the boat dock and lake.

Mayor Mullins also brought the council up-to-date on projects recently being worked on by the city which include: a water storage expansion project to alleviate problems on peak days in summer; the Fairground project to expand water and sewer into this area, improve the streets and extensive renovation of the area to include new housing and the sewer study which is in its last phase prior to making application for funds to renovate the present sewer plant.

One of the new councilmen, Tom Welch, took a moment to commend Water Superintendent-ent Matt Powell on the improvement in water quality in the last few months. Mr. Welch said his son worked where the water from here was tested and had reported to him that quality had much improved lately.

The Council then went into executive session to discuss the police organization, direction and personnel. However, no action was taken.

As a final item of business, City Clerk Mary McClure asked the council if it would be possible for the liquor, confiscated by police to be stored elsewhere than where it is presently. Mrs. McClure said she was obliged to use the office where the liquor is now being stored and that she preferred not to have to take responsibility for its safekeeping. The Council agreed to have Matt Powell submit a cost estimate on partitioning off part of the police office in city hall and storing the liquor there with Chief Larry Williams having the only key.

The Council will meet next Monday night for their regular monthly meeting.

Snowfall Delays School Friday But Doesn't Close It

Last Friday morning, Rockcastle Countians woke up to a white earth for the first time this winter and school children thought they were going to be able to roll over and go back to sleep; but, looks were deceiving as school was held but began an hour later than usual.

No ER Fee

To Visit Dr. Yip

There has been some comment that perhaps our story concerning Dr. Julian Y. Yip's present office confused some people last week into thinking that if you visited him during regular office hours there would be a fee charged for the emergency room at the hospital from which Dr. Yip is now practicing.

This is not the case. A visit to Dr. Yip's office during regular hours will not result in an emergency room fee—this fee will only be charged if Dr. Yip is called to the hospital to see a patient outside of regular office hours.

Dr. Yip expects to be in his permanent office at the hospital sometime this month.

CHARITY BALLGAME

There will be a basketball game Saturday night at 7 p.m. at Brodhead Elementary School between employees of the Rockcastle County Hospital and Sowler Nursing Home in Brodhead.

Admission to the event will be $1.00 per person and all proceeds will go toward projects at the hospital and nursing home.

of Transportation, reported that only three buses were unable to run on Friday, one in the Red Hill area and two in Orlando. Reports from the Three Links area said that Thursday night, while Mt. Vernon and surrounding areas were getting rain, they were getting snow and wound up with about two inches on the ground.

Local weatherman Bud Cox reports that a total of one and one-half inches of snow fell here Friday and Saturday with 57 inches of rainfall to date for January.

Thus far, no school days have been missed in Rockcastle County due to the weather and predictions through the middle of January are for above-normal temperatures.

COMMUNITY CHORUS ORGANIZED

The first meeting for the organization of a Community Chorus was held last week with approximately 17 persons present.

Mrs. Marty Murphy of Williamsburg will be directing the chorus and Mrs. William James of Mt. Vernon will be the pianist.

About 50 persons are needed for the chorus, adult and high school age men and women, and rehearsals will begin shortly for a concert to be held in the spring.

If you are interested in participating in this group, please be at the next rehearsal which will be held this Thursday night, January 10th at 7:00 p.m. at the First Christian Church.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We, of the John Wayne Memorial Fund are asking you weekly to help us out again. We appreciate everything that was published to try to see that we can raise money by donations from the photo of the late Mr. John Wayne and Mr. Frank Arneson, in Mr. Wayne's film of "The Fighting Seabees", made in the fall of 1943. As most of us older citizens of the U.S. know, Mr. Wayne (The Duke) made many war pictures but this movie was his first of many.

The photo offered by the Memorial Fund is a collector's item as it is the only one of its kind that we know of. As it is very hard for us to get free help to send these out we are asking any charitable organization or church group in your area to contact us to help us out and they will receive for their help the proceeds for their club or organization. They can write to The John Wayne Memorial Fund, P.O. Box 141, Brodhead, Ky. 40409. Please don't send for these photos if you don't represent a church or charitable organization. Each 5x7" photo will be sent in 4-6 weeks after we receive the orders. This would be a good fund-raiser for groups.

Thanking you,
 God Bless All,
 Frank Arneson

not to fall prey to a roaming band of gypsies who were convincing every newspaper they could out of them. Of course, the warning came too late but I soon found out I wasn't the only one. A legitimate dealer was in the shop Tuesday to pick up our negatives and told me how many papers had been taken just the same way all across the state. I felt pretty stupid but I guess if the same circumstances presented themselves-I would be the same thing. Having been raised from a child to fear the gypsies, I would probably let them clean out the whole place before I would try to take issue with them. It's all Jim's fault anyway, he should have been here.

I am so thankful for our winter weather thus far. This time last year, we were having a really terrible time of it with snow and freezing rain and below normal temperatures and I am just glad that it has been delayed for a while longer. I have no doubt that we will eventually be "blessed" with our share but the longer we can put it off the better off we'll be.

Don't forget to attend the basketball game Saturday night at Brodhead Elementary between employees of the hospital and the nursing home. I don't know how many of the ladies are accomplished players but we are sure it will be worth the price of admission, $1 per person, and the money goes to a worthy cause.

Also, if you like to sing, be at the First Christian Church Thursday night, tonight, at 7 p.m. to take part in a rehearsal of the Community Chorus which is being organized. Plans are to start rehearsals for a concert in the spring.

Very little really to ramble about this week-with the situation in Iran, you feel a little supercilious cracking jokes about the government. It's really a little frightening to think what might happen in this crisis and with the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan. Don't you find it a little ironic that the Soviets do all these things and when other nations don't like what they're doing they simply ignore them and continue to as they please. Yet, we are such pacifist, that we allow our embassy personnel to be taken hostage and only say, in effect, that's not nice and you should let them go. Senator Howard Baker had an excellent idea-and hindsight is worth absolutely nothing-when he suggested that we might maintain a strike force of 50,000 men trained in this type of military operation. But, of course, to be successful a military operation would have had to be begun immediately and not weeks afterwards-now they would only kill the hostages first and we would be castigated into a war with probably the Russians. It's a terrible situation and one I do not envy the President having to work out. I can imagine the hostages must feel terribly alone and deserted and I feel frustration because there's absolutely nothing I can do personally to free them.

Perhaps the 80's will find our country able to work out our economic and energy woes, at least we can pray it will happen...

ramblings...

by: perlina m. anderkin

You never like to come face to face with the realization of how stupid you can be at times and today I had to face that situation and it wasn't pleasant. It was from an incident which occurred last summer when the office was invaded one day by a family of gypsies. They were posing as Indians and wanted our old negatives from which we print the paper so they could recover the silver for their "old grandpa" to make jewelry so they could make some money to help feed the starving Indians.

Jim wasn't around at the time and I was faintly suspicious, especially after he paraded the wife and little children in an obvious bid for sympathy. He also managed to case the place pretty thoroughly while stringing me along and eventually managed to walk out with about a nine month supply of negatives worth somewhere around $100. free of charge. There were two reasons for this-first of all, he did manage to play on my sympathies about the starving Indians and secondly, I was just a little afraid of him. Needless to say, when I received my next newsletter from Kentucky Press Association, I read with some sorrow the warning

FOOD TALK

Whole Grain Cereals For Breakfast

In days gone by, some kids got mighty tired of oatmeal for breakfast. There it was, on the back of the wood-burning stove, waiting for the family to get up and gather round the kitchen table. It needed just a dab of jam or brown sugar and cold milk or cream. It held its proper place in the scheme of things.

Smart mothers count on oatmeal and other whole grain cereals still to start the family off to a hearty, nutritious, stick-to-the-ribs breakfast.

Keep a good supply of these cereals on hand and they'll help you get through a long, cold winter. When the chilly winds blow and the snow piles up, you're a good survival food, along with the milk you've mixed up from your store of dry milk in the cupboard.

Team a hot whole grain cereal with orange, a cup of hot cocoa, and orange juice or a dish of fruit and the family won't be hanging around the kitchen again until lunch time. At school, the kids will probably find it possible to stick with their studying and classwork without being hungry or tired.

Nutrient Content

Oatmeal, farina, cracked wheat, bulgur, grits, cream of wheat and cream of rice are worthwhile sources of iron. They also supply carbohydrates, B-vitamins, minerals and protein. They contain fiber too, needed for healthy bowel functioning.

Add raisins and other dried fruits to increase the iron content, as well as to give extra flavor. Add a sprinkling of bran to grits, cream of wheat and cream of rice to make them truly a whole grain cereal.

Compare Prices

Next time you shop for food make some price comparisons in the cereal section. You'll find that whole grain cooked cereals cost far less than the ready-to-eat variety. The cost per serving is similar for most cooked cereals—from 35 cents per bowl.

Cooking Whole Grain Cereals

Some of the whole grain cereals are sold in instant form so that all you do is add boiling water. Others have a shortened cooking time, and still others call for old-fashioned long cooking and can be heated over a low flame or in a double boiler. Just follow the directions on the box. You usually pay more for the instant variety, but not always, and there's little or no difference in nutrient content.

If you buy rolled oats and other whole grains in bulk, here's the general rule for cooking them: allow about 1/4 cup of cereal to 1/2 to 1 cup of rapidly boiling water per serving. Cook from 5 to 10 minutes, or 1/4 minutes in a microwave oven.

If the finished product is too soft to suit you, just add a little milk. If it's too thin, it will thicken up if you let it stand for a few minutes. Next time use a little less or a little more boiling water.

If the children aren't sold on hot cereal, let them experiment with adding fruits, jam, honey or a little cinnamon sugar.

Leftover Cereal

Fill the cooking pan with cold water right away and you'll save yourself a tedious clean-up chore.

To reheat leftover cereal, add a little boiling water and heat slowly. You can avoid any sticking and burning by using a double boiler.

Once leftover cereal has firmed up in the refrigerator, you can slice it and fry it for another meal. Some people like to serve it with a little butter and syrup, honey or sorghum.

Cold Storage

If whole grain cereals and flours are not used up quickly, they can lose nutrients and get rancid. So it's best to keep them on a cold pantry shelf or in the refrigerator.

grated cheese. Bake at 300 degrees for 40 minutes to one hour.

delicious Chocolate Cake

Beat together:
1 cup salad oil
1 cup butter/milk
2 egg yolks
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups sugar
2 cups plain flour
1/2 cup cocoa
1 tsp. soda
1/4 tsp. salt
Add 1 cup boiling water.
Bake in 9x12 inch pan or 3 round pans at 325 for one hour. Cool and frost with following recipe.

ICING

18 oz. size cream cheese
1 box powdered sugar
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1/2 cup milk
1 stick butter or margarine
Cream all together well.

POTATO SOUP

Cook together:
6 potatoes (diced)
1/2 cup onion (chopped)
1/2 cup celery (chopped)
2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
Cover with water and cook until tender. Fry 8 slices of bacon, sauté drippings. Make sauce of 6 tbsp. drippings and 2 tbsp. flour, and 2 cups milk. Cook until thick. Add to soup. Crumble bacon and add. Heat thoroughly.

PECAN PIE

Mix well:
1 cup dark corn syrup
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup melted butter
1 tsp. vanilla
Add 3 whole, slightly beaten eggs.
Pour into unbaked pie shell and sprinkle 1/4 cups shelled whole pecans over this. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

All children from babies to teen love to play with Mom's kitchen appliances and some can be dangerous. The hand mixer, for instance, is a perfect place for little fingers to be hurt on the blades or they can get caught in the hair. So be careful about what you let your child play with.

Teach your child that stoves, refrigerators, washers, dryers, freezers and furnace vents are not play-things.

Children love color crayons and sometimes they mark on the walls. These marks can be removed quite often with a wet cloth onto which has been poured a tablespoon of bleach and a lot of Comet, Ajax or etc. and elbow power.

This is it for this week. Hope some of these items are handy. And as always in closing a few words to the wise. We all have a brain, so think on these thoughts for a few days.

"If you can't say something nice, don't say anything at all."
"We know a man by the name of keeps."

"A child learns from his parents to respect people, which means parents should be worthy of respect."

Thanks for stopping by. It's been a pleasant time for me. Hope to see you again next week. Here's to Super Living.

Fairview

By Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Sunday School attendance at the Fairview Baptist Church Sunday was 90. Several more came in for worship services.

We are, I am all so thankful for the beautiful weather we have enjoyed all during the fall and early winter, but some snow finally came on Thursday and Friday making the roads slick for the weekend, but most of all it melted on Sunday. God is so good to us and blesses us in many ways.

Well, Christmas and New Year's Day has come and gone. It was very quiet and peaceful around here with families getting together and enjoying themselves. I hope and pray everyone thanked God for our many blessings of life and for our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Mrs. Bertha Vaughn of Crossville, Tennessee who has been hospitalized for the past few weeks, remains about the same. Your prayers and concern are appreciated.

Visiting Mrs. Bertha Vaughn recently were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Reppert of Paxton, Illinois and Mrs. Myrtle Repper Wilson of Amherst, Ohio and Mrs. Dorothy Reppert of Eggleston of New London, Ohio. They also visited other relatives there and here before returning home.

Having supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander on Christmas Eve were their three children, Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Davidson.

Their other daughter, Mrs. R. J. Ridgell, Mr. Ridgell, Connie, Rickie and Sherry spent the day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ridgell of Corbin.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Davidson were dinner guests of his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Davidson of Kirksville on Sunday, December 23rd.

Charles Noland of Independence who has been ill, is improving very nicely.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Seals and Kim and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Chasteen of Berea this past Sunday were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen.

May God bless everyone who is ill, heart-broken or bereaved in any way, and may the year 1969 bring you all the good things of life. I hope and pray we can all love each other and worship and honor God more in 1969 than we did in 1979. Each day we live we should strive to be closer to God and to His will. We are going to have problems and troubles, maybe more than ever before but we must live and do the best we can. Just take them to the Lord and let Him help us with them. God bless you all. I wish you the very best of everything.

What To Do In January
Among other things, January is the month of resolutions and, in thinking them over, every gardener may well resolve to have a better garden than ever this year.

Actual garden work is at a standstill right now, but spare time may be used to a good advantage in planning and preparing for the coming spring-which will be here almost before we know it.

Study the seed catalogs that are arriving in the mail and make selections of seeds, plants, shrubs and trees. Order early so the selections will be on hand when needed and before supplies are exhausted. When ordering, try to use the order sheets that come with the catalogs. This will help minimize errors. Also keep a carbon copy of the order and check it with the seeds when they arrive.

Plants received during the holidays which with proper care could be kept beautiful much longer are often neglected. Poinsettias should be kept in a warm place and given plenty of moisture. Or the other hand, cyclamen should be kept very cool and also given plenty of moisture. Begonias should be kept at an even temperature, away from drafts.

Other house plants require attention through the winter months, too. Loosen up the soil occasionally and spray often with warm water to remove dust that may settle on them.

When the winter days are mild enough to work outside, search out and destroy all caterpillar nests that can be found in and on the shrubbery. Since they often harbor disease organisms, all specimens of dried or decayed fruit still hanging on the trees should be shaken off and destroyed.

The tool shed should be a busy place at this time of year. Here the gardener, with time on his hands, can build new garden furniture, give the old pieces a new coat of paint, make plant protectors for the early spring garden, sharpen tools, put new handles in hoes, cut bean and tomato stakes, repair the trellises of grapes and the like. All such work done now will save a lot of time and trouble come spring and busy planting time.

Legislative Report

By Rep. Harold DeMarcus

The corridors of Kentucky's Capitol are full of people, the 1980 General Assembly is now in session, as always, an air of solemn expectation is ever present. After serving as minority floor leader throughout the 1970's, I perceive the solemn expectations of that decade as yielding as subtle yet sweeping progress for Kentucky's legislators.

Perhaps the most important progress made by the General Assembly during the 1970's was the emergence of interim committees. Interim committees have helped keep legislators more informed and allowed for legislative input into governmental issues whenever they arise.

When the legislature is in session, the State Government committee, for example, exists as a separate committee in both the House and Senate. When the legislature is out of session, the House and Senate committees act as one interim joint committee.

When the legislature is in session, there are 15 standing committees in the House and 15 standing committees in the Senate. When the legislature is not in session, there are 15 interim joint committees.

In 1970 the Commonwealth had a republican governor and a democrat controlled legislature. At that time the legislature created interim committees to give it a stronger voice when not in session, thus acting as a thorn in the governor's side.

Throughout the decade, interim committees have served a much higher purpose and developed into a viable communication entity between the people of Kentucky and their state legislatures. Any citizen may appear at an interim committee meeting to express an individual or group view on governmental issues, information gathered at such meetings is shared with the public by way of the news media.

Interim meetings allow the Appropriations and Revenue committee to acquire very important information on the state budget. Also, interim committees allow the legislature an opportunity to extensively study new ideas.

Analysis of the 1970's has seen great proliferation of late, yet such analysis must be the subject of each and every individual's interpretation. However, many will agree that the issues that face the 1980's are very similar to those faced by the 1970's.

Harmony in the spirit of compromise should be the watch words for the 1980's. Harmony must be reached between man and his environment, labor and management and man and his fellowman. The 1970's are history and must not be dwelled upon, but the hope remains that lessons were indeed well learned. The issues that face the 1980's are important, and if for every confrontation a fair balance is struck, then many old and new problems may be solved.

Requesting a Social Security Number

If you have ever held a part-time or summer job, you should already have a social security number. If you plan to work for the first time and do not have a social security number, you should apply to the Social Security Administration for one using an SS-5 form.

the outdoors, the more one can see. And the more one sees, the more meaningful outdoor adventures become. The hunter or angler who lets his single-minded pursuit of fish or game blind him to the wonders of the world through which he travels misses much of what an outdoor experience should be.

The hunter who doesn't stop to watch a spider spin or the fisherman who isn't distracted by a gallinule suddenly appearing from the marsh might possibly bring home more fish and game, but I wonder if they enjoy themselves as much as the outdoorsmen who do allow themselves to be pleasantly sidetracked by what's going on around them.

However, most really good hunters and fishermen are also knowledgeable naturalists. Although they might not be able to give the scientific name of even one plant, animal or fish, they have acquired—through years of keen and questioning observation—both a storehouse of outdoor lore and a broad and deep appreciation of nature and her ways.

Among the many well intentioned resolutions most of us make at the beginning of each new year, let's include one that should be fairly easy to keep, let's resolve to slow down our pace and open our eyes, to

Let's resolve to learn more about the wild creatures, the fish and plants with which we share this planet, to sharpen our powers of observation and our knowledge of the natural world to become, in other words, complete outdoorsmen.

Consumer Comments

By Steven L. Baghear
Attorney General

The furnace inspector who drops in to check your furnace free of charge may warm your heart, but he may not warm your house. Beware of phoney furnace inspectors who may try to persuade you to have unnecessary work done on your furnace.

As the weather turns colder, consumers are reminded to have their furnaces inspected, cleaned and repaired—if repairs are needed. There are many reputable firms to do the repairs.

There also may be others who want to sell you unnecessary parts or an entire new furnace.

Let's review the guidelines to protect yourself against unscrupulous furnace repairmen:

—Be cautious when approached by anyone who offers a free furnace inspection.

—Don't let anyone take your furnace apart for inspection or cleaning unless you are sure he is qualified to do so. Make certain both the inspection and reassembly will be free of charge.

—Don't take an inspector's word that he is qualified. Investigate every home improvement firm you deal with. Call the Consumer Protection Division, the Better Business Bureau, the National Home Improvement Council, the National Remodelers Association or a local home builders group. Ask around about the inspector's qualifications.

—Investigate inspectors and dealers in advance, if possible. If there is ever a real danger of an explosion or of poisonous fumes, you will want to act quickly to have your furnace repaired. Advance checking can do away with the possibility that an inspector might use scare tactics to get you to sign a contract too quickly. Always check past service of the company and shop for the best price.

—During an inspection, watch carefully. A fraudulent inspector may bring his own broken parts with him and pretend they are yours.

—After an inspection, get a second opinion. If you've been told your furnace is beyond repair, have it confirmed by a heating engineer. If an inspector recommends a particular heating engineer, it could mean the inspector and the engineer are working together. Find your own.

—Obtain written estimates or competitive bids on replacements or major overhauls. Beware of unusually low bids.

—As always, get any guarantee or warranty in writing.

If you have a consumer complaint, write to the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601. Kentucky residents may use the toll free hotline: 1-800-372-2960.

Pavarotti and the N.Y. Philharmonic

Luciano Pavarotti, the opera world's reigning lyric tenor, will perform a live concert with the New York Philharmonic when KET presents "Live From Lincoln Center" Monday, January 14 at 8:30 p.m. (ET), 7:30 p.m. (CT). The orchestra's music director, Zubin Mehta, will conduct the concert, which features a number of operatic arias.

Pavarotti, a former school teacher who went on to become a world-renowned opera star, will be making his third appearance on "Live From Lincoln Center" on January 14. His first appearance, which won a coveted Emmy Award, took place on February 12, 1978, when he became the first opera singer to do a solo recital from the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City.

His most recent appearance on the series was on January 22, 1979, when he and Dame Joan Sutherland collaborated for the first time in a joint recital.

"Live From Lincoln Center" is a presentation of "Great Performances."

Kentucky Afield

By John Wilson

There are over 200 distinct species of fish in Kentucky's lakes and streams. The commonwealth's fields and forests support at least 50 mammal species and more than 300 different kinds of birds live in or migrate through Kentucky.

Add reptiles, amphibians, insects, trees, shrubs, wildflowers, geological features—the wealth and variety of our natural landscape staggers the imagination.

Visit a stream or walk through the woods with a biologist or naturalist and a whole new world suddenly appears. The trained eye sees things the average person never notices, reads the story of life and death in what appears to be a peaceful meadow and finds drama beneath the surface of a placid pool.

Changes in Tax Law Affect Filers' Returns

For this income tax filing season there are some new provisions in the tax law which may affect how you file your return, the Internal Revenue Service says.

As was the case last year, every person who files a return has a minimum of income which is not subject to tax. This amount is called the "zero bracket amount" (ZBA). For 1979, however, the zero bracket amount has been increased. The degree of increase depending upon the taxpayer's filing status. For example, a single taxpayer's zero bracket amount is $2,300, a $100 increase over the 1978 figure of $2,200. For married taxpayers filing jointly, the amount is $3,400, an increase of $200 over the 1978 figure. Married taxpayers filing separately get a ZBA of $1,700, an increase of $100 over the 1978 figure of $1,600.

In addition to the increased zero bracket figure, the amount allowed for each exemption a taxpayer claims has been increased to $1,000, compared to the 1978 figure of $750. However, the general tax credit expired at the end of 1978.

As a result of changes in the ZBA and the amounts for personal exemptions, the following new filing levels have been established: $3,300 for singles and heads of households and $5,400 for married couples both under 65 filing a joint return. If one spouse is 65 or over, the filing level for the couple is $6,400 and is $7,400 for marrieds both of whom are 65 or over. If filing a joint return, the filing level is $1,000.

Changes apply to credits and deductions available too. Starting with the 1979 tax year, a taxpayer who itemizes deductions can no longer deduct state and local taxes imposed on the sale of gasoline or other motor fuel for personal use. Another item not longer deductible is a political contribution. However, a taxpayer now may claim a tax credit of up to $50 ($100 on a joint return) for contributions to candidates for public office and political committees. In effect, the new law has doubled the allowable credit.

New this year, parents may claim a tax credit for qualifying child care payments made to a relative, including a grandparent, unless the relative is the taxpayer's dependent or child under 19 years of age. These payments may be subject to Social Security tax.

A further change for the 1979 tax returns is that unemployment compensation may be taxable. The amount subject to tax is the lesser of government-paid unemployment compensation or one-half of the sum of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income, government paid unemployment compensation and excludable disability income over a base amount exemption. The base amount for individuals is $20,000, and for marrieds filing jointly it's $25,000. For married taxpayers who do not file a joint return and did not live apart for the entire year, the base amount is zero.

As a result of new legislation, the Earned Income Credit (EIC), scheduled to expire after 1978, has become a permanent part of the tax law with increases in both the amount of the credit as well as the income limits on eligibility for the credit. The new credit rate is 10 percent of earned income up to a maximum of $5,000, or a maximum credit of $500. Previously, the figures were $4,000 and $400 respectively.

Under previous law, the credit was reduced 51 percent for every $10 of adjusted gross income (AGI) above $4,000. The credit was not available when AGI reached $8,000. Now the phase-out does not begin until AGI or earned income hits $6,000, and the phase-out is complete at $10,000.

The new law also makes the EIC available to groups of taxpayers who didn't qualify previously: (1) married couples and surviving spouses whose only dependent child living with them is over 18 and neither disabled nor a student, and (2) heads of household who qualify for that status because they maintain a home for either a dependent or nondependent unmarried child who is over 18 and neither disabled nor a student. Eligible taxpayers can receive EIC payments in advance from their employer. Additional information on the EIC and other new changes appear in the tax instructions.

Political Contributions Must Be Taken As Tax Credit

For 1979, the IRS says, taxpayers can only claim a tax credit for contributions to candidates for public office and political committees, and to newsletter funds of candidates and elected public officials. Previously the contribution could be taken as a deduction or a credit.

While a change in the law has repealed the itemized deductions for political contributions, it has also doubled the allowable credit. The credit can be taken to a maximum of $50 ($100 on a joint return). To be eligible for the credit the contributions must be made to (1) candidates for nomination or election to a federal, state, or local office in general, primary, or special elections, (2) committees sponsoring such candidates, (3) national, state, or local committees of a national political party, or (4) newsletter funds of an official or candidate.

The free IRS Publication 585, "Voluntary Tax Methods to Help Finance Political Campaigns," offers helpful information and can be ordered by using the handy mail-order form in your tax package. The publication is also available from local IRS offices.

Retired Can Avoid Estimated Tax Payments

If a retired taxpayer files a Form W-4P to have Federal income tax withheld on each pension and annuity payment, estimated tax payments will no longer be necessary, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

The taxpayer will not have to file a declaration of estimated tax, nor will he or she have to pay a large sum of money at one time, if he or she files a Form W-4P, Annuitant's Request for Federal Income Tax Withholding, and has the proper amount of income tax withheld.

The only requirement for filing a W-4P form is that at least $5 per month be withheld and the net annuity be more than $10. Then, the taxpayer must only file an annual tax return on or before April 15, 1980, according to the IRS.

If a retiree does not file a W-4P, and receives pension payments or other income subject to tax, he or she must file a declaration of estimated income tax, Form 1040-ES, "1980 Declaration-Voucher," when the estimated tax is $100 or more and estimated gross income includes more than $500 on which no tax has been withheld.

Excess Social Security Tax Can Be Claimed

If you worked for two or more employers during 1979 and received wages totaling more than $22,900 and more than $1,403.77 of social security tax was withheld, you are entitled to claim the excess social security tax withheld as a credit against your income tax.

If you file a joint return, you and your spouse must make separate computations. However, if you worked for only one employer and more than $1,403.77 was withheld, you may not claim the excess as a credit against your income tax. Your employer should adjust this over-collection with you.

SECOND SECTION

SS Amounts up in 1980

Increases in average earnings covered by social security the past year have triggered an increase in the retirement test annual exempt amount for people receiving social security benefits, Bob Anderson, social security manager in Richmond, Kentucky said recently.

The retirement test annual exempt amount is the amount of earnings a person can have and still receive all benefits for the year.

For people under 65, the 1980 annual exempt amount will be $3,720. The 1979 amount was $3,480.

For people 65 or over the 1980 annual exempt amount is $5,000. The 1979 amount was $4,500.

A person whose 1980 earnings go over the annual exempt amount generally has $1 in benefits withheld for each $2 of earnings above the exempt amount.

Another figure increased is the amount of annual earnings required to receive social security credits. A person needs credit for a certain amount of work to be eligible for social security benefits. This credit is measured in "quarters of coverage." A person can receive up to 4 "quarters of coverage" in a year.

In 1980, a person receives credit for 1 "quarter of coverage" for each $290 of annual earnings, up to a maximum of 4 if annual earnings are $1,160 or more. The 1979 measure was $260.

More information about social security credits and about the retirement test can be obtained at the Richmond social security office. Free leaflets are available that give more detail about both of these subjects. The Richmond office is located in the University Shopping Center on the Eastern By-Pass and the telephone number is 623-5856.

We want to thank the Broadhead Fire Dept. for their donation to our "Jaws of Life" fund. Also thanks to Frank Lamb of Richmond, who owns and operates the Auction House in Livingston. Mr. Lamb donated his time and auctioneer to auction some items that were donated to the Rockcastle Co. React for our fund. Mr. Lamb also told us that we could use his building some time later on, for an auction for the benefit of our "Jaws of Life."

We are a long way from the goal, but we hope with the help of interested citizens and other organizations that it won't take us very long.

We also want to thank a very nice citizen, whom I only know by his C.B. handle of "Little Catfish," for his donation to the Rockcastle County Line React.

Our safety patrol was out working during the holidays to help assist the traveling motorists.

Our regular monthly meeting is this Sunday, January 13 at 2:00 p.m. at the Rockcastle County Library.

Public Library News

The Library has been very busy this winter with the increased book circulation but we still would appreciate more people coming to the library and see what we have to offer to the public.

Some of the new books that we have are:

The Androids Are Coming by Robert Silverberg. Man has always been fascinated and a little frightened by the manlike things he has made; robots, androids, clones, golems, monster computers. Here seven imaginative writers consider some of the questions that such creatures may raise.

It's Your Money by Adam Starchild: a consumer's guide to credit. Credit has virtually replaced cash in the American economy. Everything from home to clothing is acquired through some form of credit. The vast credit network affects everyone's income, purchasing power and personal reputation.

Tales To Send Chills Down Your Spine by Alfred Hitchcock: 29 stories by Patricia Highsmith, Robert Bloch, Jack Ritchie, Bill Pronzini, Henry Slesar, Borden Deal, Wenzel Brown

Super Markets and Groceries Are Helping In Inflation Fight

These groceries are constantly arguing with wholesalers, food brokers and meat packers to bring prices down. They are your neighbors and friends and are depending on you for their livelihood. Therefore, they are firmly on your side in this great battle against inflation.

We urge you to praise them in their tremendous effort to supply you a well balanced diet to fit your budget. There are many food supplements that your grocery store can recommend to give you a nutritious diet. They are authorities on food and gladly work with you in suggesting the necessary staples to see that your family receives a well balanced bill of fare.

Shop the stores displaying the Anti-Inflation poster, and read this newspaper for the best buys in food.

Cross Your Fingers, Spit in Your Hat by Alvin Schwartz: superstitions and other beliefs. Almost everyone is superstitious, though few people will admit to it. Superstitions make up the largest body of folklore material handed down from the ancient past and our belief in them links us to the beliefs of our ancestors.

At Home In The Sun by Norah Deakin Davis: This solar home book has an added dimension: people. Reading it is like chatting with the families who live in these 31 homes. They tell what they like about their houses and what they would change, the decisions that have paid off and the errors they've made. You'll taste the joys and problems of solar living.

Mrs. Aileen Davis, County Librarian, invites you to come in and see your library.
