For Free - Not Fee

The Providence Church of Christ is not in any business other than the spreading of the gospel of Christ. We are not charging people for any service rendered. What we have to offer is without cost to those who will take advantage of the offerings.

Should you visit with us, you will be bombarded with requests to buy merchandise. In fact, we will not even ask you for a contribution to defray our expenses. The bills are paid by the members through a free-will offering made upon the first day of the week (See I Cor. 16:1-2).

No apostle ever tried to sell a man something to support the church. No early New Testament church ever sponsored any kind of fund-raising activity, however innocent it may have appeared. People who were not Christians were never asked to contribute into a fund to pay the expenses of anyone, or any activity.

What Providence has to offer is FREE. We will charge no fee. Mrs. Wayne Todd and Jessica and Mrs. Lillie Barron and Stacy.

Prior to beginning tours of the extended care facility Sunday, a short ceremony was held in the activity room of the new addition. At that time, two awards were presented by the Rockcastle Improvement Council and members of the fiscal court and the county judge executive were recognized by the hospital's board for their cooperation in construction of the addition. In the photo are, from left: Magistrate Joe Clark, Magistrate Frank DeBorde; County Judge Executive Robert Thacker, Wayne Stewart, Bill Bailey and Robert Cromer, all members of the hospital board.

These nurses in the extended care addition to the hospital are shown with the two improvement awards which were presented to the hospital and the nurses at Sunday's Open House. The ladies are standing in the nurses station of the new addition which received its first patient Monday.

Shown here is one of the semi-private rooms in the new addition. The entire section is well-lighted and each room has individual television sets available for rent. There will also be a barber and beauty shop available in the new facility.

Over 500 Attend Hospital Open House

Over 500 persons attended the Open House held at the Rockcastle County Hospital Sunday to acquaint everyone with the new extended care skilled nursing facility which has been completed. The 32 bed addition admitted its first patient Monday and, according to Robert Cromer, a member of the board of directors of the hospital, several patients are scheduled to be admitted shortly.

The Open House began with a presentation by the Rockcastle County Improvement Council of their Improvement Award to the hospital's board of directors and one to the hospital employees. The separate award to the employees was in recognition of their efforts to raise funds for needed equipment for the new facility. Gailiff Craig and Mrs. Les Harris made the presentations on behalf of the Improvement Council.

Those attending were divided into groups of 20-25 and were conducted on a tour of the different departments contained in the addition and to newly renovated areas of the older section of the hospital, including the x-ray and laboratory departments and the emergency room area.

Another Rabies Case Confirmed in County

Another rabies case, a red fox, has been confirmed in the county, according to Steve Midkiff, environmentalist for the Rockcastle County Health Department.

Mr. Midkiff said Mrs. Frank Houston, who lives near the Cedar Rapids Recreation Center on Hwy. 150, found the fox in her barn, chased it outside and killed it.

Midkiff also said that the health department was considering all foxes, skunks and bats rabid unless proved otherwise.

State Board Will Leave Unit Requirements at 18

The state Board of Education and Secondary Education voted Wednesday to leave requirements for high school graduation at 18 credits, rather than raising them to 20 as had been considered.

However, the board encouraged local school boards to set higher standards if it is in the best interest of their students.

The local board of education had voted to comply with the 20 unit requirement and Superintendent Charles Parsons said Tuesday that the matter would have to be discussed with the board before any further action could be taken to either re-affirm their decision or to rescind their motion and drop the requirement back to 18.

Mr. Parsons said there was a possibility he would recommend that the required credits be kept at 20 but that he would wait until talking with other superintendents before deciding on his recommendation to the board.

Local boards were, as was pointed out in the story, encouraged to set higher standards if it is in the best interest of their students.

Board members asked the staff of the state Department of Education to prepare a regulation that would limit the number of credits to be counted toward graduation to five per year. That would require students to take at least three credits their senior year. However, such a regulation would allow all credits earned to be counted for college entrance.

The state board wanted the regulation also to allow denial of accreditation of schools that fail to keep students in classes for the required six-hour school day.

The board took the action after receiving the recommendation of the hearing officer to withdraw the amendment to the state regulation setting the minimum requirements toward a diploma. All of those testifying at the Dec. 19 hearing opposed the increase.

In other action, the board approved the minimum appropriations set for instructional materials for each student. The amounts set for the 1979-80 school year are: instructional materials, $5; printed material, $2.50; and audiovisuals, $1.75. For the 1980-81 school year, the appropriations are: instructional materials, $7.50; printer material, $3.50; and audiovisuals, $2.50.

The board also approved a proposed regulation that establishes minimum courses of study, the scope of instruction offered and minimum requirements for graduation. The regulation would make the state education course of study program an official standard rather than the guide it has been.

Delinquent Taxpayers Notified

According to City Clerk Mary McClure, about 135 letters to delinquent taxpayers over the past several years, were mailed out Wednesday.

Mrs. McClure said if the taxpayers did not respond by the end of the first week in March, the bills would be turned over to the city attorney for collection.

ORGANIZATION MEETING

The Rockcastle County Little League Football Club will hold an organizational meeting Saturday, February 2nd at 6:30 p.m. at Mt. Vernon Elementary School.

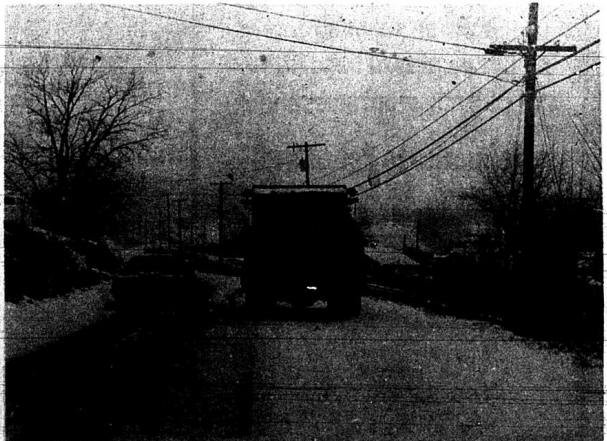

All interested parents are invited and urged to attend.

UK To Conduct Blood Pressure Survey

The University of Kentucky is conducting a blood pressure survey in Rockcastle and Clay and Jackson counties. Representatives in the Rockcastle area are Norma Jean Hale, C.H.W. and Sharon Woods, R.N. All cooperation will be appreciated.

Sallie Jackson, R.N. is manager of the project.

Shows the biggest snow for this week's paper is above the photo - that's right Rockcastle began receiving its first significant snowfall of the winter very early Wednesday morning, closing school for the first time this year and causing the snow trucks to be brought out to take care of the slick roads. Predictions were for about 6 inches of snow before it ended. It is questionable at this point how long the children will be out of school if temperatures do not take an upswing.

KU Announces Construction Plans for 1980

The Board of Directors of Kentucky Utilities Company has given an approval for construction expenditures of $171,019,000 for 1980. In announcing these plans, W.B. Bechman, President, called attention to the fact that 74% of the budget was for construction of the Ghent Generating Unit #3 which is scheduled to come on line in 1981 and Ghent Unit #4 which is scheduled for operation in 1983.

The approved budget also included $5,449,000 for expenditures on the Hancock Generating Station which now has Unit #1 scheduled for 1987 and Unit #2 scheduled for 1991. Expenditures for the Hancock Unit include engineering and environmental impact studies that must be made at this time. In addition to the generating station expenses, a number of transmission and distribution projects will be built in 1980.

Bechman commented that "It is absolutely necessary for us to proceed with generation construction plans in order to provide the electricity needed for our customers by the end of this decade. In 1979, 7,864 new customers were provided with electric service. Not only must we provide service for new customers but we must also be prepared to serve additional commercial and industrial growth as it is expected to develop."

Looking to the future the Company anticipates construction expenditures from 1980 through 1984 to be $804,141,000. "These construction requirements are tremendous," Bechman continued. "But we have no choice but to plan for our customers' needs and we must go to the money market for additional financing. The Company anticipates the additional sale of common stock equity in 1980 as well as the sale of bonds and preferred stock."

The common stock dividend was increased 2 cents per share (Cont. to 11)

Frankfort Watchline

By Paul L. Whalen

To a certain extent members of the Kentucky General Assembly were during the third week of their 1980 session very much concerned about amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

The Senate adopted a resolution calling on the U.S. Congress to pass a constitutional amendment which would require that the federal budget be balanced. The resolution calls for a constitutional convention to draft and adopt this amendment if the Congress fails to do so. If the Kentucky House passes the Senate's resolution, Kentucky will be the 31st state to call for a constitutional amendment requiring a balanced budget. 34 states must call for a constitutional amendment before one is required.

The State Right of Life Movement staged a demonstration in Frankfort on Thursday, January 24. The rally was to commemorate the Jan. 22, 1973 decision by the U.S. Supreme Court giving women the right to an abortion. The Right to Life Movement seeks to overturn the Supreme Court decision by adding an amendment to the U.S. Constitution outlawing abortion in any and all circumstances.

The House Committee on Natural Resources and the Environment passed a resolution urging Attorney General Steve Beshear to file a suit challenging the new federal strip-mine law.

Former State Rep. Mark Fitzgerald of Cynthiana, has been named as an assistant legal advisor to the House at a salary of $100 a day.

The General Assembly passed legislation sponsored by Rep. Pete Worthington (D-Ewing) which would place strict controls on the Maxey Flats nuclear waste disposal site in Fleming County.

State Supreme Court Chief Justice John Palmore in his State of the Judiciary Address stated that there is an urgent need to up-grade the pay of district court judges. Palmore said that district court judges should at least have their salaries raised from $27,500 to $30,000.

State Senator John M. Berry (D-Turners Station) gained more support for his "bottle bill" last week. The Covington, Ky., city commission passed a resolution endorsing the proposed legislation to place mandatory deposits on non-returnable bottles and urged passage of the bill in the 1980 General Assembly.

Rep. John Isler (D-Covington) is sponsoring a bill which proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the General Assembly to pass laws regulating bingo and other games of chance by social, fraternal or religious organizations where the proceeds would go for charitable purposes. Bingo and other games of chance are banned by the state constitution.

Legislation to establish a statewide senior citizens discount program was passed out of committee last week.

According to legislative records, freshman State Rep. Bob Heisterling (R-Louisville), has sponsored more bills than any member of the 1980 General Assembly with over 40 at last count.

Legislative Report

By Harold Demarens

As of January 24th, 530 bills and resolutions have been introduced in Kentucky's 1980 General Assembly. The first bill to be passed by the House of Representatives was House Bill 134, which prohibits a deputy county judge/executive from presiding over or voting at meetings of the fiscal court.

If the last few legislative sessions are any indication, approximately 400 bills will be passed in 1980, which means that over 600 new laws will be enacted. However, the legislature's primary duty is to approve a budget that will fund state government.

This brings us to the timeless adversary which confronts government in general and budget-making in particular. That being a lack of vision or at least an inability to forecast future policies.

To help deal with this adversary the Appropriations and Revenue committee took a departure from normal procedure in order to hear economic forecasts that were presented by four economic experts.

Each offered slightly different observations and reasons for his predictions. But all generally agreed that Kentucky has the potential for a bright economic future.

Kentucky should benefit from the national moves toward the production and conservation of energy resources. The agricultural community will be enhanced by a big push to manufacture gasohol and the coal industry will becomestable if coal liquefaction becomes popular.

The Future of Kentucky's economy is directly linked to the policies of the federal government. Today, our economy is influenced by America's foreign policy and the impending presidential election.

If Kentucky's consumers continue to purchase, then tax revenues will not decrease and government services can be provided without increased taxation. However, it is almost impossible to foresee the affects of the current situation in the Middle East or to know who the next president will be or what his economic policy will be.

As far as the state budget is concerned, the legislatures should try to reduce government spending, as much as possible, without endangering vital services. This way if things take a turn for the worse, taxes will not have to be raised.

Further, considering that the 1980 presidential election will have a 100% affect on America's economy, a one year budget for Kentucky makes more sense than anything else.

It is also very foolish for the General Assembly to approve a two year budget that would commit $9 billion in tax revenue for governmental services. Especially since a national economic policy will be in effect until after the 1980 presidential election.

To change subjects, a very disturbing situation has developed in the House of Representatives. Each day the House is called to order and a visiting minister begins the session with a prayer.

Recently, several persons sitting in the visitors gallery have conducted themselves in a rude and irrelevant manner during these prayers. Being a Christian, I find this particularly disgusting. If this behavior continues, I will introduce a bill to stop these persons from disturbing the prayer services.

AFDC ASSISTANCE

Public-housing residents will not be excluded from a Department for Human Resources energy assistance payment for households receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children, department Secretary Dr. Grady Stumbo said today.

The department has determined those families are entitled to receive payments, even though many public-housing residents do not directly pay utility bills, Stumbo said.

At a recent news conference, reporters asked Stumbo about the department's policy regarding such households, in light of reports that some national energy assistance programs are offering aid to families in public housing.

Stumbo said today, "for the past two weeks, we've been examining the situation. According to federal regulation, all households receiving AFDC are eligible for the payment and should not be excluded. Also, we've found that the cost of identifying public-housing families and detaching them from the program would delay assistance to those in need and involve substantial administrative cost. We would rather see these funds go to these low-income households."

The new program is financed with $5.6 million from a recent federal allocation of the Supplemental Energy Allowance Program. Under the state program, AFDC households with one child will receive $50 to help defray winter heating costs. For larger families, the payment is $100. About 60,000 Kentucky households will receive aid, Stumbo said.

An estimated 12,000 of those families live in public housing, Stumbo added.

Stumbo noted that more than one-third of public-housing households pay some utility charges. The rental payment made by these residents includes utility costs unless such costs exceed a certain limit. Utility costs that are more than the limit are the responsibility of the residents.

Rockets Lose to Corbin, Clay Co.

The Rockcastle County Rockets Boys Team lost two games during the last week as they fell to Corbin, 69-60 on Friday night and to Clay county, 81-56, Tuesday night. The Rockets were never really "in" either game that they lost. They were behind in both games at every intermission period.

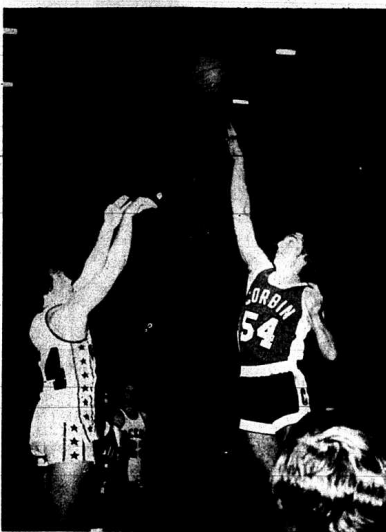

David Riddle was high scorer in the Corbin game with 13. Matt Poynter had 12, Marty Hensley and Mike Manis each got 10, David Burdine had 6 and Trent Mullins, Clinton Graves and Danny Offutt each got 2 points and David Mullins had 3.

The Rockets then traveled to Clay County Tuesday night where they not only lost the game by 25 points, but they also lost starting senior forward David Mullins. Mullins quit the team just before half-time and no reason has yet been given for this action.

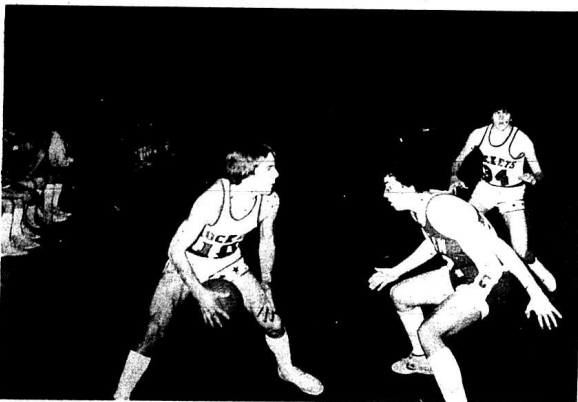

The Rockets were outscored by Clay 24 points in the first half but managed to stay right with Clay in the second half being out-scored by only one point.

High point man for the Rockets in the game was Mike Manis with 19. Matt Poynter had 14, Mullins got 9, Hensley had 4, David Burdine, Anthony Davidson, Steve Phelps, David Riddle and Trent Mullins each scored 2 points.

The Rockets boys will travel to Monticello Friday night and then host Pulaski County on Tuesday, February 5.

Mike Manis, No. 54, goes for two points in the Rockets game with Corbin Friday night. Mike had 19 points against Corbin but was high man for the Rockets against Clay County Tuesday night with 19 points. The Rockets also lost to Clay, 81-56.

David Riddle, No. 10, looks for an open man in Friday night's action with Corbin. The Rockets lost 69-60. Riddle was leading scorer in the contest for the Rockets with 13 points.

LEXINGTON—You won't see this ad in this newspaper. WANTED: 23,000 Kentucky basketball fans cheering wildly. The place: Rupp Arena. The time: Saturday, February 2, at 7:30 E.S.T.

You won't see that ad but Kentucky coach, Joe B. Hall, would like to get that message across. His Wildcats play Tennessee. The Vols have beaten the Cats 9 times in the last 11 meetings and the last 4 times in a row. It's time Kentucky broke the jinx.

"We'd like to call on our fans for a little EXTRA spirit and emotion for this one," says Hall. "I would like to see every person that is able to come to the game to wear something blue. We need our fans' avid leadership to help our team against Tennessee." Coach Hall continued.

Kentucky lost to Tennessee in their first meeting in Knoxville this season when Howard Wood's basket with two seconds remaining gave the Vols a 49 to 47 win. "We were tight as a tick in that game," says Hall. "I think our players wanted to win so badly we just didn't play well. I think they might have wanted it too badly." He went on, "I know we're at home this time but it's going to be just as tough. Tennessee didn't have its leading scorer, Reggie Johnson, or Chuck Threats, a leading reserve, the first time we played them. Tennessee will be a much tougher team this time." Warning to life challenge, the U.K. Coach goes on, "We are not going to be overly concerned with Tennessee. We're concerned with our own ball club. If we play our game we'll be right."

Coach Hall expects it to be a tough game. He's as least as anxious as Kentucky's legions of fans for the Wildcats to break the Tennessee jinx. Joe is preparing the team for an all out effort and he hopes he can enlist the aid of the fans to help from the stands. Joe emphasized again, "I hope they will all wear blue."

Girls Defeat Lincoln, 53-49

Monday afternoon, in a game at the high school, the girls came from behind to take the measure of the Lincoln County Patriots, 53-49.

According to Coach Preston Parrett, 9th graders on the team contributed tremendously to their girls come-from-behind victory with four freshmen putting in 21 points in the contest.

According to Coach Preston Parrett, 9th graders on the team contributed tremendously to the girls come-from-behind victory with four freshmen putting in 21 points in the contest. Coach Parrett also said that starting guards Kim Howard and Libby Ruppe did an excellent job in the game although they were playing with injuries.

The girls only had 9 turnovers in the game as compared to Lincoln County's 22 and won the battle of the boards with 31 rebounds. They also came back in the second half with a hot shooting hand, covering 15 of 27 field goals after hitting only 5 of 26 the first half.

High scorer in the game was

Donna Faulkner with 12; Kelly Thomason got 9; Kim Howard and Kay Hammonds got 7 each; Sandy Clark and Debbie Bowman, 6 each; Libby Ruppe, 4 and Sheila Burton, 2.

The B-Team game which followed showed the toll which had been taken in the first game on three of the B-Team starters: Burton, Thomason and Bowman, they combined for only 8 points in the second game which the girls lost 31-20. Tracy Mulberry was high with 9 points while Kim Farthing got 2 points and Cynthia Holbrook, 1.

This Thursday night, the girls host Oneida and then play the next 8 straight games on the road.

In the Anglo-Saxon trial by comparison, the accused was released if a number of his neighbors were willing to swear to his innocence.

HEART CAMPAIGN VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Mary B. Hamm, chairman of the 1980 American Heart Association campaign in the Rockcastle County area, has asked for volunteers to help in the fund raising effort.

Darla Reams of Orlando was one of 52 graduating seniors honored at the mid-year recognition service at Berea College. She has completed the requirements for a B.A. Degree in physical education.

Dr. William G. Pollard, former executive director of Oak Ridge Associated Universities, was the featured speaker at the recognition service. A reception for the graduates and their families was held at the home of Berea College President and Mrs. Willis Weatherford prior to the ceremony.

Darla is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Reams. While at Berea, she worked at the women's physical education department in the on-campus labor program in which all Berea students participate. A four-year member of the basketball and field hockey teams, Miss Reams also was the assistant coach of the women's varsity basketball team.

She is a graduate of Rockcastle County High School.

Each year, nearly one million Americans die of heart disease and stroke and 200,000 of them die before retirement age.

"The contributions collected by volunteers support research, professional and public education, and community service programs," Ms. Hamm said.

Volunteers will distribute information on how the Heart dollar was spent.

To help in the fight against early death and disability from heart disease and stroke, call Ms. Hamm at 256-2049 after 4:00 p.m.

BRINDLE RIDGE

Mrs. Walter Fowler and Mrs. Dan Buisback and children of Lexington visited Mrs. Bertie Mink Sunday afternoon. They were here to attend the funeral of Mrs. John McCollum, Jr. at Berea.

There are about 300 species of holly shrubs and trees throughout the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Drew, shown above, were life-long residents of Rockcastle County. They were the parents of W.M. Drew, George Drew and Mrs. Fannie Drew Abney, all of Orlando; Charlie Drew of Harrison, Ohio; Mrs. Emma Drew Turpin of Broadhead and Mrs. Lida Drew Lakes of Hamilton, Ohio, all of whom are deceased. They were also the grandparents of Mrs. Virgie Sowerd of Mt. Vernon.

County Agent's Notes

County Extension Agent
For Agriculture

Get More and Better Feed From Grass Fields

More and better feed from your pasture and grass hay fields may be obtained in expensive nitrogen fertilizer? That's what you can expect if you renovate your grass fields this year, according to Kenneth E. Mark, Extension forage specialist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Renovation involves seeding legumes such as clover or alfalfa into grass fields without plowing. Legumes increase total feed production because much of their growth takes place during the hot summer months when the growth of grasses such as tallfescue and bluegrass is slowing down. And legumes increase pasture quality because they tend to be higher in protein than grasses and to have greater palatability and digestibility, especially during hot summer weather.

The greater production and better quality of grass-legume pastures show up in animal performance. Many experiments have shown that animals perform better on grass-legume pastures than on straight grass pastures.

Perhaps the greatest advantage of legumes is their unique ability to take nitrogen from the air and "fix it" or make it available for plant growth and protein formation. Legumes can be inoculated at seeding time with a culture of bacterial which will infect the plant roots. The legume plants supply energy to the bacteria, and the bacteria take nitrogen from the air, change it to a form that plants can use, and supply it to the legumes. As the legume roots die and decompose in the soil, nitrogen is also made available to the grass plants.

Research has shown that alfalfa can fix as much as 225 pounds of nitrogen per acre in Kentucky. This is about 500 worth of nitrogen at current fertilizer prices. Red clover will fix up to 175 pounds of nitrogen per acre per year, or between $40 and $50 worth. Korean lespedeza, vetch and other annual legumes may fix up to 100 pounds per year, or $25-$30 worth.

It should be kept in mind that these amounts of nitrogen are not left in the field if the legumes are grazed or harvested as hay. Much of the nitrogen which is fixed, is used by the legume plants, and when the legumes are harvested, the nitrogen they have used for growth is removed from the field.

Cloze grazing or mowing of pastures before renovation is recommended. This will make tillage easier and will weaken the grass, making it easier for the legume to become established.

The tillage needed for renovation can be accomplished with a disk, field cultivator or field tiller. Tear up 40-60 percent of the grass cover if you plan to seed clover and 80-100 percent if you plan to seed alfalfa. This tillage opens the sod so that the legumes will have a better chance to germinate and thrive. The tillage can be done anytime from late fall to seeding time when the ground is dry enough to work.

After seeding, renovate fields should be grazed short until the livestock begin biting off the young legume plants. Then the cattle should be removed. Pastures seeded with clover should be left four to six weeks and those seeded with alfalfa should be left for eight to ten weeks. After that, the field can be grazed or hay can be harvested.

A publication, "Renovating Grass Fields," AGR-24, is available from your local county extension office.

Grandmother, On a Winter Day

Grandmother, on a winter day
Milked the cows, stopped the hogs, saddled the mule,
And got the children off to school,
Washed, mopped the floors,
Dished the windows and did some chores,
Cooked a dish of homemade fruit.
Pressed her husband's Sunday
suit,
Swept the parlor, made the bed,
Baked a dozen loaves of bread.
Split some firewood and lugged
it in,
Enough to fill the kitchen bin,
Cleaned the lamps and put in oil
Stewed some apples she thought would spoil.

Churned the butter, baked a cake,
Then exclaimed, "For Goodness
sake,
The calves have got out of the pen,
And went out and chased them
in again.

Gathered the eggs and locked
the stable,
Back to the house and set the table,
Cooked a supper that was delicious,
And afterwards washed up all the dishes.

Fed the cat and sprinkled the clothes,
Mended a basketful of hose,
Then opened the organ and began to play,
"When You Come to the End of a Perfect Day."

which amounted to an increase of 4%. The quarterly payment of 53 cents per share of common stock will be made on March 14. "With soaring interest rates, inflation, and realizing that we must have additional funds for construction, the dividend increase is most appropriate. We must give stockholders a competitive return on their investment so we can raise money by selling more shares. If we don't have enough money for these expenses, there simply won't be adequate and reliable electric service in the future," Bechmann said.

The Company also set the date of April 22 at 1:30 p.m. as the time for the annual stockholders meeting.

Marriage Enrichment

Six couples met together at the Family Life Center on January 25-27 for a weekend retreat. The objective: to grow in their marriages. Bob and Eddie Fields led the retreat using their own experience as a married couple as well as presenting useful skills to help facilitate growth in marriage. "Openness, honesty, and a willingness to learn from your mistakes" seemed to be the basic theme underlying the retreat experience. Marriage enrichment retreats such as this as well as family seminars, will be held in the future at the Family Life Center. If you are interested, call (606) 258-5512 or write to: Director, Family Life Center of Appalachia, Renfro Valley, Ky. 40473.

Livingston Lions Report

The Livingston Lions held their regular meeting on the 24th of January, 1980, and accepted two men as new members of the club.

Mr. Charles B. Parsons, the club's secretary and treasurer, read the report from the club's annual basketball tournament held the 3rd and 12th of January and the minutes of the previous meeting.

The Lions approved $250.00 to be spent on the county elementary football program's outstanding debt of $500.

Livingston Lions also heard a report and discussed a much-needed eye operation for one of the club's youth. The club received and accepted a motion that the Livingston Lions pay all examination and travel expenses to Louisville and limit the club to $500 toward the expense of the eye operation.

Livingston Lions Ladies' Night will be held at the next regular meeting on Valentine's Day.

The Livingston club is now in its 40th year of service toward sight-preservation to the community with 32 active members, and is consistently one of the most active Lions Club's in the district. Two members, C.H. Webb and C.F. Mullins, have remained active Lions since it was chartered 40 years ago.

WE go to school and take courses ranging from arithmetic to zoology. Somewhere along the line, however, we do not adequately study a most neglected yet most necessary area of discipline: "active listening". Let's face it, we all fall into the trap of listening selectively; hearing what we want to or what we interpret we are hearing. In doing this, lines of communication are broken or never even materialize. When this happens between husband and wife real communication ceases and little by little the two grow further apart. The end result can be serious, ranging anywhere from mutual estrangement to divorce.

There are a number of suggestions to keep in mind about the "art of listening". Allow me to share a few with you:

1. Everyone has difficulty actively listening; it is a discipline that takes time.
2. Don't practice "marital telepathy"; it will get you nowhere. (Marital telepathy means that you assume what your partner is saying before he says it.)
3. Try paraphrasing what your partner says so that you and he will be confident that the message has been communicated.
4. Ask your partner to clarify what he says when you do not understand the message communicated.
5. Try spending 10-15 minutes a day, face-to-face and eye-to-eye, actively listening to each other.

I feel that if you try the above-mentioned suggestions that you will discover a new dimension of communication in your marriage (or for that matter any relationship with your fellow human being).

The Family Life Center facilities are open to the public. We invite you to use our Family Game Room and Library, Indoor/outdoor Recreation Facilities, emergency shelter and picnic areas. Twenty-four hour counseling services are available. For more information, call (606) 256-5612 or write to Director, Family Life Center of Appalachia, Renfro Valley, Ky. 40473.
