RAYMOND OVERSTREET ... is concerned

Raymond Overstreet is interested in the needs and problems of the farmer. Born and raised in a farming community, Overstreet is always ready to listen. Here he listens attentively to Marvin Brown.

Raymond Overstreet's views ...

... on farming

"I was born and raised in a farming community. I am interested in helping the farmer with his many problems. At a time in which big city thinking is dominating the Congress, the farmer needs someone in Washington who will listen to him."

... on elderly life

"Older people have always been a guiding influence on me. Aunt Belle Lawson always taught me to respect the opinion of my elders. It troubles me that as people reach their retirement age, after having worked all their lives, that the dollars they earned and put away seem to have disappeared and they cannot adequately make it on their small pensions. I will work toward helping our older citizens attain a better life as they reach retirement age."

... on small business

"Our businessmen are the backbone of any community. We have made it extremely hard on the small businessman by passing laws that affect his business in a negative manner. These laws should be carefully reviewed and revised to give him a better break in business."

... on coal

"Coal is the answer to our energy policy. I will have someone in my office from the coal country as a full time paid staff member who can work with the coal industry. I will work to change the law so that a landowner and coal operator can leave the land the way they agree rather than back to its original contour. I will support a high tariff on imported coal to insure that Kentucky coal will be bought and burned."

... on inflation

Inflation is presently touching every family. It is a problem that must be addressed and solved immediately. But, it must be solved in a manner that will give relief to every person ... not just a few. The first step must be taken in Washington and this action must come from your concerned Congressmen. "I want to help you."

Fred and Ester Burkhard discuss with Overstreet the problems which today's society and economics have placed on the retired community.

Raymond already has a friend in Congress. Above, Raymond and Congressman Larry Hopkins from Lexington. Their friendship goes back to 1972 when both served in the Kentucky House of Representatives and were re-elected.

Overstreet is concerned with the problems facing small business. Overstreet listens to David Davenport as they discuss some of these problems.

Representative Overstreet and Representative Deskins work together on coal legislation in Frankfort. Rep. Deskins is from Pike County, a large producer of coal.

In his role as State Representative, Raymond Overstreet enjoys the pleasure of visitors to Frankfort, both young and old.

Meet Raymond Overstreet

Raymond, the youngest of nine children, went to live with his grandmother, "Aunt" Belle Lawson, when his own mother died while he was very young.

His father, Bro. Roy Overstreet, has preached often in this section of Kentucky.

RAYMOND ENTERED Berea College on a $300.00 loan. He worked for Berea College to pay his way through. He majored in history and political science and became an astute student of government.

WHILE AT BEREA College, he became an officer on the college Young Republican and was an active worker in the Republican Party for the State of Kentucky. He was honored at Berea by being nominated by his classmates as one of 12 outstanding young men at Berea College.

UPON COMPLETION of College, Raymond traveled extensively over the United States and around the world working with disadvantaged families. His work with the American Indian Tribes and Appalachian families has given him an insight into the problems of poor people that is unique. He had to work with all federal agencies and learned which doors to knock on to get what he wanted.

AS A CONSULTANT to Save the Children Federation, Raymond was involved in keeping low income children from dropping out of high school because of money problems.

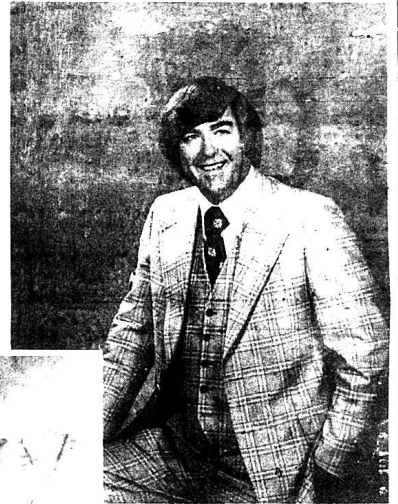

... "If they were willing to work at community projects, we were willing to see that they got an education. I know how hard it is to try to go to school without money, and only when you have been down a path can you adequately guide others."

IN HIS WORK, Raymond also taught classes to community leaders all over the U. S. in such subjects as community development, leadership roles and the concept of helping others help themselves.

HE HAS WRITTEN and published articles on the plight of the American Indian, members of Appalachian Youth Education and State Government.

In 1971, while still in Law School, Raymond was elected to the Office of State representative and has been elected five consecutive times. He has served in the leadership of the House Republican Party as Republican Whip.

The Overstreet Family

HE IS MARRIED to the former Mary Ashby. Mary's father worked in the coal mines of Eastern Kentucky. Mary holds a B.A. degree in business from Berea College and is a certified teacher of business courses for the State of Kentucky. She has completed the requirements for a Masters Degree from Eastern University.

At 17, Raymond was one of the youngest Marines at Farris Island, S. C.

"No one told me that I was too young to serve my country at 17, yet there are those who would say I am too young to be Congressman at 36."

Shawna, age 7

STATEMENT TO THE VOTERS

"As the Nation moves into the 1980's, we need men in Washington who know and understand what is happening.

"We cannot afford to send men who for one reason or another, will not work tirelessly for our community.

"I ask you to look at each candidate's background. I have stated my qualifications for this position. You must decide which of us is more capable to give you the best representation that you so richly deserve.

"It is not fair to you, your children, or your community to look at a man seeking public office without looking closely at his qualifications for such an office.

"It does not make sense to send a blind man to view pictures in an art gallery. Neither does it make sense to send a man to Washington who cannot get the job done.

"Other districts throughout Kentucky send strong, qualified men to Washington to represent them. You deserve the same type of representation.

"If you will give me the chance to represent you, I pledge that I will do what I believe is right for the 5th District.

"I will work hard and knock on the right doors to get everything possible for you."

My door will always be open to you, anytime, for any reason.

Law Officers Destroy Marijuana

700 to 1,000 marijuana plants were destroyed last Friday by Sheriff Henry Lee Abbey and State Police Detective Fred Walton.

The plants were located about one-half mile from the Philadelphia Baptist Church in the Negro Creek section of the county.

Det. Walton, who said that ownership of the land had not been determined, said the plants were from 4-10 inches high and were in a prepared, cleared and seeded bed.

The theft of about $1,000 in property from the Perry Jefferson Company was reported last week.

Det. Walton said that items taken included eight 3 gallon cans of oil, a 55 gallon drum of oil, Briggs and Stratton water pump and assorted hand tools.

The coal company is located on old U.S. 25 near Burr.

No arrests have been made in connection with the theft.

Some last Thursday night or early Sunday morning, a car belonging to Silas Taylor was stolen.

The car was later recovered in Madison County in a creek bed by Patrolman Nolan Ben-ton. The car had been stripped.

One adult and one juvenile have been arrested in connection with a theft and vandalism at the Kentucky Christian Assembly Campgrounds near Brodhead Monday.

Det. Walton said five beds were destroyed, aluminum was ripped off the walls and 13 storm doors were taken. The doors were later discovered in Crab Orchard.

Charged with theft by unlawfully taking over $100 is James Timmy Williams of Brodhead and one juvenile, also of Brodhead.

Arrests were made by Brodhead policeman Wayne Denney and Det. Walton.

Charges of criminal mischief are pending for still another juvenile in connection with the incident.

Early Tuesday morning, the Super Test Service Station, just south of Mt. Vernon, was broken into and robbed of $764.00 in cigarettes.

Det. Walton said evidence points to the robbers gaining entry and exit through a broken front window.

June Food Stamps

Should Be on Time

Barring a last-minute hitch, Kentucky's food stamp recipients are assured of getting their June allotment on time, state officials said today.

The federal food stamp program ran out of money this month, but Congress budgeted $2.2 billion in additional funds for the program Thursday. The appropriations bill awaits President Carter's signature to become law, an action expected in a day or two.

U.S. Agriculture Department officials had said failure of Congress to come up with more money by Thursday would have resulted in suspension of benefits June 1.

State Human Resources Secretary Grady Stumbo said Kentucky's 138,000 food stamp families will get their coupons on a normal schedule in June, because the department has maintained its usual processing

Rev. Bryant Honored By Kiwanians

Rev. Mike Bryant was awarded the Support of Spiritual Aims Award for Outstanding in the Year in Rockcastle County by the Rockcastle Kiwanis Club on May 14th. The award was presented by Kiwanis President Melvin Becker at the club's annual prayer breakfast held in the community room of the Bank of Mt. Vernon. The award was given to Rev. Bryant in recognition of his dedication to God and for his outstanding contribution to the spiritual life and welfare of his community.

Rev. Bryant has been in the ministry for more than sixteen years. During this time, he has pastored five churches and has been interim pastor of four. In addition to his church responsibilities, he has also done substitute teaching in three different public school systems covering a period of six years. He is a former manager of the J & J Christian Bookstore in Corbin and a former Juvenile Counselor and Protective Service worker for the Department of Child Welfare in Rockcastle Co. Mr. Bryant has been involved in the work of these Baptist associations. In that capacity, he has served as vice-president and president of the pastors' conference, chairman of the nominating committee, member of the credentials committee, child care representative, member of program committee, chairman of youth advisory committee, member of resolutions committee, Association vacation Bible School director, assistant moderator, moderator and was selected to preach both the annual and doctrinal sermons.

Presidential, Senator and Representative Races on Ballot for Tuesday Primary

Tuesday, May 27th, Kentucky will hold its second presidential preference primary and a hotly-contested race for U.S. Representative from the 5th District and a not so hotly-contested race for U.S. Senator from the 5th.

Eleven Republicans and four Democrats have filed for the seat of retiring Representative Tim Lee Carter.

Republican candidates for the office are: Tom Emberton, Elmer Patrick, Raymond Overstreet, Eddie C. Lovelace, Phillip Conley, Elmer Begley, Jr., Henry (Skyler) Garrison, Harold Rogers, John D. Rogers, Gene Huff and Thurman Jerome Hamlin.

Democrats on the ballot for the same seat include: Lyle L. Willis, Charles W. Harris, Jesse M. Ramey and Ted R. Marcum.

Incumbent Senator Wendell Ford is being challenged in the primary by only one candidate, Flora Templeton Stuart. However, there are six candidates in the primary: Granville Thomas, DeSota Vaughn, Jackson M. Andrews, Mary Louise Foust, Tommy Klein and Dr. Yale Jay Lubkin.

50 Democratic and 27 Republican delegates will split their votes at their conventions according to the popular vote for the candidates in the primary. However, the delegates are not bound to assign any portion of their votes to candidates receiving less than 15% of the popular vote and they are legally bound only on the first ballot to the popular vote prorotation.

The presidential ballot also contains a section for uncommitted voters and if more than 15% of the voters elect to go this route, then a proportionate number of delegates are also designated uncommitted and cast vote as they wish.

The Republican party has a simple means of arriving at the number of delegates it sends to conventions. Each state is assigned 6 at-large delegates and each congressional district warrants 9 delegates, thus arriving at the 27 figure for Republicans.

The Kentucky Democrats send 45 regular delegates who are designated according to a detailed formula, similar but different to the Republicans, and 5 add-on delegates, who are elected by the party officials and leaders, making their total of 50 delegates.

Democratic candidates for president are: incumbent President Jimmy Carter, Cliff Finch, Richard B. Kay and Edward M. Kennedy. Republican candidates are: Harold Stassen, John Anderson, George Bush, Benjamin Fernandez and Ronald Reagan.

Precinct Locations Announced by Clerk

Irene Bales, Clerk, has released the location of all 14 voting precincts in the county which will be used in next Tuesday's Primary Election.

The precincts will be located as follows:

West Brodhead - Lee Taylor building (Main Street).

North Brodhead - Brodhead Jail.

MISS LAWRENCE INJURED.

Kathy Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Lawrence of Brodhead, was hospitalized early last Friday morning following a one-car accident on Highway 150.

According to police reports, Miss Lawrence was traveling west when her car left the road and struck a utility pole. The pole was broken in three places and Miss Lawrence's car was totally demolished. Miss Lawrence escaped without serious injury.

Californians Choose Rural Lifestyle Over City

By: Nancy Mullins

If you don't realize the advantages of living in a small town, ask Don and Judy Stewart-Shackelford who left Long Beach, California in November of last year and headed east in the pressures of a fast paced city life.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart-Shackelford recently opened Adams Optical in Mt. Vernon in the Sears Building. Adams Optical takes its name from Mr. Stewart-Shackelford's family who are originally from this area. They fill eyeglass prescriptions and adjust and repair glasses.

On their decision to leave California, Mrs. Stewart-Shackelford said, "People there (in California) build six foot cinder block walls around their yards and I was the only one I knew who had a clothesline. I enjoy going to town here and seeing people who are interested in you... have something friendly to say and a smile. I have

Judy and Don Stewart-Shackelford are shown with a display of the eyeglass frames they have available at their newly-established optical business, located on Main Street in the Sears building. Adams Optical has over 300 frames in stock and can order any frame you would like. They can fill any eyeglass prescription, repair and adjust or change frames and answer any questions you might have. They have office space available and would like to attract an optometrist to the community.

Appalachian Science in the Public Interest Building Model Solar Home in Rockcastle

By: Nancy Mullins

About a mile from Ft. Sequoyah, down the now-paved road that shows you only green this time of year and which eventually leads to the old Rocky Bend School site near the 1-75 overpass, is a spot that would likely make a foot-fetted, smudged city dweller think he had died and gone to Heaven. To the right is a hillside where you can't put your foot down without stepping on a variety of wild birds, wild geranium or phlox, blooming May apple or a daisy fleabone and where a resident biologist this spring has counted 110 different kinds of wild birds. With the backdrop of white oak saplings and the Rockcastle River - not yards - in front, sits Rockcastle County's first completely solar home.

Now, you may think that solar energy is something of which I am totally ignorant. However, to catch you up on my background in that field, when we were growing up, my dad fixed up a water holding tank from welding two huge truck wheels together and welding pieces over the holes. After a sunny day, at least two family members could have a hot (or warm, depending on whether we were first or second in line) shower. He built only three sides around it - the fourth was turned toward the back pasture field and we were usually pretty preoccupied with wondering just what we'd do if some neighbor decided to come see us the "back way."

In the decade pass, and in the ones to come, it seems that we are all and will be concerned in one way or another over soaring costs, especially energy costs. So, it is comforting, at least to some degree, to know that as we panic and complain and fear, that there are those even in our county who are actively engaged in trying to provide answers and alternatives.

What I found, when I visited the site, was a model home, built as an experiment to find out how cheaply, using local materials and topography, a house can be built which is relatively independent of the need for expensive energy sources. The feasibility of building this type of, hopefully, low-cost housing on the side of a hill was a major interest.

The house, which has 1550 sq. ft. of floor space and includes a bath, 2 or 3 bedrooms, kitchen-dining area and a large living room, was built at a cost of about $40,000 - which now, days is a moderate price for a

Legislative Report
 By: Rep. Harold Deharous
 A pressing concern for America is the production of energy within the guidelines of environmental protection and the corresponding relation to our dependency on foreign oil.
 Approximately 900 Kentucky landowners came face to face with this issue when the Addington Oil Company leased mineral rights to thousands of acres in the Knobs belt that surrounds the Bluegrass region. Addington's stated purpose was to assemble enough oil-shale reserves to attract the estimated $1 billion investment needed to start a shale-mining and processing industry.
 The results of this situation proved once again that in America the people rule. Of course, a portion of credit must go to the news media for bringing the facts of this occurrence to everyone's attention.
 Landowners have said Addington told them the leases were the usual short-term oil and gas leases and that the documents would not allow strip-mining. In reality, the leases do allow strip-mining, which is the most economically viable method of extracting oil-shale.
 Also, the leases were written in such a way that Addington could maintain the mineral 000 acres had already been leased.

As the situation began to boil, over 300 landowners appeared at a public hearing on shale mining conducted by the state legislature. After hearing testimony, the 1980 General Assembly passed a bill prohibiting oil-shale mining until the industry can be regulated by the department of natural resources beginning in July of 1981.

The people continued to demand government action, 489 landowners filed complaints with the attorney general's consumer protection bureau, charging that Addington misrepresented the terms of the leases.

The attorney general's office, feeling the heat of public pressure, announced that they were going to file a suit against Addington for alleged violations of the consumer protection act.

Upon suffering for several months, a barrage of pressure from the public, state government, legislative committees and the press, Addington succumbed to the will of the people. Landowners have now been given the opportunity to amend or cancel the oil-shale leases under an agreement authorized by the attorney general's office.

Many landowners have already cancelled their leases with Addington, while others are still in the process of cancelling or renegotiating the oil-shale leases.

It has been estimated that the oil-shale reserves in Kentucky could be made into 190 billion barrels of oil. Oil could be produced from shale for about $30 a barrel, while coal-liquefaction costs are estimated at $40 a barrel.

Further, if a still experimental method extracting the shale is developed, it could represent less of a hazard to the environment than strip-mining. This yet to be perfected heat retorting process is being referred to as "in-situ."

If a political fiasco involving the Persian Gulf were to occur which mandated the development of all energy resources in America, Kentuckians would be first to answer the call. But not until an environmentally safe method of shale-mining was at least attempted and all the facts of the matter were made available to all concerned.

Microwave Program Presented

Fran Maierhauser, Home Economist with the Kentucky Association of Electric Cooperatives and women's editor of the "Rural Kentuckian" presented a very informative program last Tuesday, May 13th to fourteen microwave owners in Rockcastle County.

The program, which included information on care of ovens, selection of microwave cooking and cooking hints, was held at the Library Community Room and was sponsored by the Rockcastle County Cooperative Extension Service and the Jackson County RECC. Mrs. Maierhauser gave several helpful hints to microwave oven users to improve their capabilities. Hints were to keep door seals extremely clean to prolong life of micron tube and to allow food to "set" for several minutes after time in oven is up to allow food to finish cooking.

More information on microwave cooking can be obtained by dropping by the County Extension Office, second floor of the courthouse.

These three county microwave owners were among 14 who heard Mrs. Fran Maierhauser, home economist, present a program dealing with microwave ovens last Tuesday night, May 13th at the Library Community Room. In the photo are, from left: Laverne Winstead, Doris Gabbard, Mrs. Maierhauser and Shirley Mullins.

Word from Mrs. Jalia Dotson in Bradenton, Florida, "Just to let you know I am better. My heart was damaged and doctors orders are for me to be careful or any exertion may bring on another attack. News from my brother, Carter, that after surgery, he is recovering nicely at home in Bradenton, Indiana. Susan Cummins and Ann visited us Friday, both are fine."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Savers of Berea and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Sigmon spent Mother's Day with their aunt, Mrs. Clyde Anglin. Mrs. Sigmon furnished the dinner. Mrs. Saver is the former Sadie Langford, daughter of the late Bob and Tessie Sigmon Langford.

Mrs. Jimmy Gover of Crab Orchard visited her mother, Mrs. Minnie Mink on Mother's Day and her sister, Myrtle Stanley.

Mrs. Fannie Thomason returned home Saturday after spending three weeks in Berea Hospital for treatment on her foot.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Chasteen, Michelle and Chris, of Richmond visited the children's great grandmother, Mrs. Harvie Brown, Saturday.

We sincerely wish to extend our heartfelt sympathy to the Ed Fain family in the passing of his brother, Henry Fain, who died last week at the Veterans Hospital in Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fain wish to thank Bro. Bingham, pastor of the Flat Rock Baptist Church, who preached the funeral. Also, everyone for their kindness during the illness and death of his brother.

Mrs. Isabella Peters of Louisville, who was here for the funeral of Mrs. Della McHargue Dalton, visited her sister, Mrs. Sinnie Nicely.

Dennis and Dollie Mullins of West Alexandria, Ohio is visiting Jack and Brilla Mullins.

Mrs. Mary Souder and Mrs. Ruth McFerron of Louisville spent from Sunday until Tuesday with their mother, Mrs. Sinnie Nicely. Also, Mrs. Nicely's son, Charles, and Betty, visited here and in Pineville recently.

A letter received from our relative, Milton S. Proctor, while I was in Florida was that he had just returned home to Middletown, Ohio from a visit with his daughter in Newport, Arkansas and his son, William David, in Albuquerque, N.M. He had a nice airplane flight from Cincinnati, Ohio to Memphis, Tenn. where he was met by daughter, Ruth, and son, Shane, and driven to Newport. They left there by auto for Little Rock, Arkansas where he took the American Airline to Albuquerque with one stop at Dallas, Texas. He then left William David's in New Mexico by TWA for Cincinnati, Ohio. It was a trip, Mr. Proctor said, but I surely missed dear Gladys who always made the trip with me. Mill says he enjoys the Signal news from this county where he was born and lived most of his life.

Mrs. Billie Janice Brant and daughter, Lisa, of Indianapolis, Ind. returned home Sunday from a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Arnold, her sister, Mrs. Henry Hines, and aunt, Mrs. Delbert Parrot.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Adkins and Sherri of Dayton, Ohio and Jack Duke, also of Cincinnati, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Graham and family.

Mrs. Debbie Hammond returned to Ft. Myers, Florida, Saturday from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Woodall and Sherri, her great grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Chesnut and great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elige Woodall.

One of the best senior high school plays I've ever attended was at the Somerset High School recently where a great niece, Vicki Sparlock (where I could have been just a little prejudiced) had one of the leading parts. She also was the first to make an appearance when the play started. I enjoyed my visit with Mee-Mee and the Joan Sparlocks.

The regular Fourth Gospel

Singing at Maple Grove Baptist Church will be Saturday night, May 24th. Featured singers will be the G. Cooper quartet from London with services at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Walker Robbins and daughter of Ohio were here to see Walker's mother, Mrs. Eva Robbins, during her illness. Walker, who recently underwent surgery on his arm, is, of home, improving, but unable to come.

Bro. Charles Adkins, formerly of North Carolina, has recently joined the Renner Family Singing Group. He is a certified drummer and will be working along with Wendell as assistant manager and future planning for the group. The Renners appreciate Bro. Adkins for his spiritual and moral boost along with a few other characteristics that most people know such as cook, hairdresser, driver, salesman, steamer, baby sitter, window cleaner, mechanic and mason helper, at the age of 22 and single.

Visitors going in and out of the Wendell Renner home to welcome Virginia and the new baby home from the Central Baptist Hospital over the week end were: Mr. and Mrs. Laney Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miller, Tim McNew, Charlie Miller, Angie and Tina Miller, Jason Bales, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Herbert and daughter, Becky, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Mullins, Fannie Stallworth, Eddie and Doug Stallworth, Mr. and Mrs. Bruner Gilliam and sons, Tony, and Tim and Charles Rader. And, I'm quite sure there're other neighbors and friends whose names we failed to get.

Bernard Purrell flew from Michigan to Lexington Tuesday where he was met by Aden Ramsey, Bernard, Miss Dorothy Purrell and Mrs. Aden Ramsey received a call from their brother, Arvin Purrell, who was critically ill in the VA hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Rovy Ponder, who have been vacationing with their son in Tennessee, stopped on their way home to Hamilton, Ohio recently to visit relatives in the county. They visited Mrs. Ella Ponder Saturday.

Mrs. Cartelle DeBorde and Mrs. Marie Dowell of Lockland, Ohio were guests of Mrs. Jewell Brown last Saturday while spending the week end in Brodhead with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Scott.

How we enjoyed our sister, Mrs. Cepha Kincer's visit with us for the past two weeks. Her daughters, Mrs. Connie Coker and Mrs. Betty Barnett and her granddaughter, Donna, and great granddaughter, Shanna, of Union and Erlanger visited us Sunday and were accompanied home by Mrs. Kincer.

Bud and Angie Philbeck and Michelle of Ohio visited Mrs. Elizabeth Philbeck Sunday.

Rev. Alford Carrier of Hustonville is holding a revival at the Pentecostal Church which began Monday night, May 19 and will continue through Saturday, May 24 with services at 7 p.m. Bro. Charles Shivel is pastor and everyone is invited to attend.

Spring Revival began Sunday night, May 18th at the First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon with Bro. Orville Griffin, Director, Evangelism, Stewardship Department, State Convention of Baptists in Ohio, as evangelist. Bro. Lynn Mitchell is music director. Rev. Raymond Røden, pastor, and the congregation extend a cordial invitation to everyone to attend.

Mrs. Mary Ida Jones informs us that a revival will start next week at the Nazarene Church in Mt. Vernon.

Time Saving Cooking Methods

Foods prepared ahead of time and frozen, provide one of the quickest and easiest ways of putting a meal on the table in a hurry. Many of your favorite dishes and other foods can be frozen and served one or two months later.

Tips and Suggestions. Plan ahead. Make double batches of bread, cookies, vegetables, casseroles, soup, stews and meat (such as meat loaf) and freeze one batch for later. Always cool before packaging and freezing.

Freeze left-overs that will not be used within a few days.

Mt. Vernon Signal

Save trays from TV dinners and use left-overs for filling them. Freeze and serve later when you need a quick meal. When using sliced meat such as roast beef, ham, etc., top with gravy or a sauce to prevent drying out.

Proper packing is essential to maintain good-quality flavor, texture, appearance and nutrition. You may use plastic, glass or metal containers as well as heavy-duty foil, freezer wrap or freezer bags. Seal properly to keep air out and retain moisture and flavor.

Wipe the wrap to the way the food will be packed in a suitable wrap when the food will be taken directly from the freezer and put in the oven.

Management to the Rescue.
Meal preparation is a chore for Thursday, May 22, 1980 P-5 the busy family. However, getting organized can rescue you from the kitchen in minutes. Follow the tips below to help you get started.

Plan your shopping list. Consider weekly menus when planning a shopping list. Keep a pad and pencil handy for jotting down needed items. This will save time and extra trips to the grocery.

Select menus that can be prepared quickly and easily. Develop three or more menus that require a short amount of time for preparation. Keep the food needed for these meals on

SPEAKING WHERE THE BIBLE SPEAKS
AND BEING SILENT WHERE IT'S SILENT

By: Austin Moberly
Minister
Providence Church of Christ

Preacher and the Druggist

A very learned physician, unsurpassed in his field, once carefully examined the little baby of the preacher. The doctor gave the minister a prescription to be filled and the preacher hurried to the pharmacist.

While filling the prescription, the druggist said to the preacher, "Here is an item that the doctor specified but I do not think it essential and the baby can probably get well without it."

But the preacher asked, "Do you have it there in your stock?"

"Yes," he said, "but I think it is just as good not to put it in."

"No sir," the preacher replied, "I want you to let me have it just like the doctor prescribed."

"Well, I have another drug here, which the doctor did not call for, but I think it is good and I like it. Shall I put it in?"

"No, I insist that you let me have exactly what the physician specified, that and no more," demanded the preacher.

"Yes, but the doctor did not say NOT to use it."

"Nevertheless, I can only accept the prescription as the doctor gave it and it must be filled that way or not at all."

The following Sunday, the druggist went to hear the preacher deliver the prescription of the Great Physician for the healing of the sick soul. In the course of his remarks, he stated that although the Bible taught that ALL should be baptized, and that Peter commanded "everyone of you" to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ for remission of sins, he thought that one could be saved without being baptized. The preacher urged that baptism, although prescribed by Jesus and all the apostles, was not essential in the prescription.

Later in the sermon, the minister affirmed that instrumental music in worship, without a specified command, was entirely safe and sound.

"Although the teaching of Christ is silent on instrumental music," he said, "and we do not find a command to use instrumental music, we certainly know that Jesus nowhere said NOT to use it."

As the druggist shook hands with the preacher after the service, he quietly said, "Surely the legs of the lame are unequal."

Friends, Jesus DID say, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mark 16:16), and He did NOT say we could use instrumental music in worship. Why don't we all just leave it that way? By doing exactly what He DID say, and refraining from what He did NOT say, we can be sure to please Him. Just as a little poison will destroy the body when mixed with prescribed medicine, so a little false teaching will destroy the soul when mixed with prescribed practices.

KENTUCKY CAN GROW OIL TOO

A lot of good things have come from Kentucky farms . . . corn, hogs, tobacco, cattle, soybeans and Senator John Rogers.

John knows the problems farmers face. He's spent most of his life on the family farm.

And John knows Kentucky farmers can cure a lot of the problems that face our nation today.

Coal is our most valuable natural resource. But John knows our farmers, too, can help in solving the nation's energy problems.

IN 2 TRACTS

Saturday, May 31, 1980 10:30 a.m.

Town Hill,
Mt. Vernon, Ky.

LOCATION
Town Hill, Mount Vernon, Kentucky. Turn at the junction of U.S. 150 and U.S. 25 (at the caution light) onto State Road 1249. Go approximately 1 1/2 mile to the property. Auction signs are posted.

The heirs of the late Mrs. Myrt Isaacs have authorized our firm to sell this property for the absolute high dollar to settle the estate.

The property will be offered in two tracts, reserving the right to sell in whatever manner reflects the best return for the owners.

TRACT NO. 1: Contains 2.27 acres with 418 feet of road frontage along State Road 1249. The property is improved with the above-pictured house which has a living room, kitchen, 2 bedrooms and bath. In addition to the house, there is also a good cellar. City water and sewer are available.

TRACT NO. 2: Contains .78 acres and is adjacent to Tract No. 1 and also fronts on Floyd Street at a distance of 200 feet. This would make a good building or mobile home site. City water and sewer are available.

When combined, there is a total of three acres, more or less, right in the heart of Mt. Vernon with privacy yet with potential for development. Don't miss this one - it will sell for the absolute high dollar.

Terms: 20% down day of sale and balance within 30 days with the deed.

"SOLAR HOME"

new home. It has, of course, the built-in economical feature of no heat-bill. Passive heat is the term used to describe the heating system in this house, according to Jerry Nichols of Livingston, who designed and built the house. This means that the mechanical means of heating the area such as pumping water or steam, etc. In a sunnier climate, the house would be 100% solar heated; however, Kentucky's climate has enough rain and cloudy days to make solar heat about 75% efficient. The other 25% is provided for by a wood-burning stove.

The house itself has similarities to the pole house seen throughout much of Appalachia. It has little foundation, but because of the extra 7,000 pounds weight of the water storage tanks, which are heated by the Sun, the support poles had to be concrete piles. The house is finished outside with rockcrete. The climate has enough rain and cloudy days to make solar heat about 75% efficient. The other 25% is provided for by a wood-burning stove.

hinged, movable foil-faced styrofoam shades which regulate heat intake and can be closed in winter to hold in the heat. Two stories and, therefore, two rows of water barrels are used in this model with still a third attic-type area at the top used for heating water for use by the dwellers. Storage tanks here allow for 3 to 4 days supply of heated water to be heated on one sunny day. There is a mixing valve in case the water becomes too hot and also a 20 gallon auxiliary water heater which Mr. Nichols says is the smallest you can buy and, with any luck at all, would only have to be used occasionally. All the water is supplied by a 5,000 gallon concrete cistern which was built into the hillside and helped to stabilize it.

Another unique feature of this house is a general household waste disposal system which is a huge fiberglass self-enclosed tank. Initially, the tank has some peat, dirt and leaves, later, only waste is added, no chemicals. This unconventional system is called a Clivus Multrum and of course its best feature is that it saves 40,000-50,000 gallons of water a year each household uses flushing toilets. Mr. Nichols says that because of air vents above and below, it is odorless. However, I may go back when things are in full operation and if it's true, I may just send this story to "The Incredible".

The private, non-profit organization responsible for the solar home and many other projects is Appalachia Science for the Public Interest. It was founded, and is headed, by Albert Fritsch from Maysville. He is a man concerned with ecology and especially how it affects the local situation and problems faced by Appalachians. For example, research associates have helped him develop a Blasting Handbook that the state now recommends to all miners. The relationship between flooding and strip mining in the mountains, toxic wastes, low cost housing, solar energy and other alternative energy sources and water quality are only a few of the areas in which Mr. Fritsch and his organization are working. He has written four books including "99 Ways to a Simpler Lifestyle," "Household Pollutants Guide," and his latest, "Environmental Ethics." Before coming back home to his native Kentucky, Fritsch, who has a PhD in Chemistry, spent several years with the Center for Service in the Public Interest in Washington, D.C. and also worked for some time as a research associate with Ralph Nader.

The organization has a $100,000 a year budget which is funded in a multitude of ways including Fritsch's book sales, private and church contributions, the National Science Foundation, the Department of Energy and various federal grants. He is now looking for application for a grant to be used to study the solid waste problems in the mountains is being reviewed and it is hoped that this is a real project, make a low cost dumpsites, the dumpsters and illegal dump sites in our own county.

Persons wishing to file written objections and/or request a formal administrative hearing in regard to the above-described strip mine should notify the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection within 30 days of the date of this notice. Such objection or request must be in accordance with KRS 224.081 (2) and must be forwarded to the Director, Division of Reclamation, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

2. Notice is hereby provided pursuant to 405 KAR 1.050 Sec. 6, paragraph 6, that a portion of the proposed mine operation will lie adjacent to, and within 100 feet of the outside right-of-way line as well as underneath Rockcastle County Road No. 1225 (Sinking Branch Road). Public comments from affected governmental agencies regarding the proposed operation above may be submitted to the address above.

According to the builder, this solar project has been under construction for 11 months and is nearing completion. During this time, an estimated 60 people have worked on the house at one time or another. Some received college credit for working for a Public Interest group. Some worked for the experience - volunteering their time. Some were paid laborers. Funds for the house came from "private concerns. No federal money was used on this project. Recently an open house was held with about 250 people attending.

Student groups from Berea and Sue Bennett have attended learning sessions there and others are welcome.

The family is being threatened more than ever before. Divorce is on the rise and many existing marriages are doing just that - existing. Youth are rebelling more than their parents at an alarming rate and are increasing. The nuclear family is gradually becoming estranged from the extended family unit, thereby losing that strength and support on which it has traditionally depended. Even the very make-up of the family is being changed as widows, God's gracious salvation, through Jesus Christ, discovering the difficulties that come with being a "single parent." No one can deny that the family under heavy attack nor that something must be done about it.

Something was done about it - nearly 2,000 years ago by Jesus Christ, God's Son. He came to earth as a result of His obedience to the Father in order to endure what we endure, and more, so that we not only might be saved eternally but that we also might have an abundant life now on earth. His purpose was not to condemn us (for man instinctively knows that already), but "to set the captive free." And the freedom begins the moment a man, woman, boy or girl submits his (her) life to Christ and allows His kingdom to be set up within the heart. Now, to translate this to the needs of the family, let me begin by saying that we are not dealing with a sociological issue but with an individual issue. You cannot transform the family merely through legislation nor through councils and committees. These are all fine, but they are not good enough. This transformation of the family can only come as individuals recognize God's gracious salvation through Jesus Christ, apply it to their daily lifestyle and administer it within their own families. There is no other way.

The Family Life Center of Appalachia warmly invites you to make use of its facilities, planned activities and 24-hour counseling services.

Little League Underway

The County Little League Program got off to a rainy start Monday night as the opening game, between the Blue Jays and the A's, was rained out and the games scheduled for Tuesday night were also rained out. The schedule will remain the same as before the rain-outs. Don't forget the playground at Mt. Vernon opens May 26th, Memorial Day.

Little League Schedule

A tentative schedule for little league play has been announced. This schedule is subject to change each week because of weather, tournaments, maintenance of field, etc.

- Month of May Schedule
- May 19 - A's vs Blue Jays, 5:30; Pirates vs Yankees, 7 p.m.
  - May 20 - Orioles vs Rangers, 5:30; Astros vs Reds, 7 p.m.
  - May 22 - Phillies vs Pirates, 5:30; Rangers vs A's, 7 p.m.
  - May 23 - Yankees vs Astros, 5:30; Blue Jays vs Orioles, 7 p.m.
  - May 24 - Reds vs Phillies, 6 p.m.
  - May 26 - Rangers vs Yankees, 5:30; A's vs Astros, 7 p.m.
  - May 27 - Orioles vs Reds, 5:30; Pirates vs Phillies, 7 p.m.
  - May 29 - Astros vs Pirates, 5:30; Orioles vs Blue Jays, 7 p.m.
  - May 30 - Phillies vs A's, 5:30; Reds vs Rangers, 7 p.m.
  - May 31 - Yankees vs Blue Jays, 6 p.m.

Fishing Report

White bass and crappie spawning runs are apparently over in Kentucky's major lakes but fair to good catches of both are reported from several spots by fishing at night under lights. The lake-by-lake rundown, according to the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources:

Cumberland: White bass and crappie fair to good off steep rocky points and rock banks, 20 feet deep, at night under lights; crappie slow during the day submerged cover; black bass fair on surface lures and large minnows; in tailwaters, trout fair and walleye slow, clear, stable, 3 feet below the timberline and 6 degrees.

Herrington: White bass good at night under lights, 12-15 feet deep; bluegill fair to good, 8-10 feet deep; clear, stable, 5 feet below summer pool and 67 degrees.

Daie Hollow: White bass good at night under lights; bluegill good off deep banks; black bass slow but improving on surface lures; clear to murky, stable at summer pool and 67 degrees.

Cave Run: Musky fair by trolling over river channel and by casting buzz baits and medium deep runners; crappie fair over stickups 3 feet deep; black bass slow on medium deep runners and spinner baits off deep banks; clear, stable at summer pool and 67 degrees.

Dewey: Crappie good over stickups and in fallen trees; bluegill good on nightcrawlers; clear, stable at summer pool and 64 degrees.

Laurel: Bluegill excellent in the stickups, black bass good on surface lures in wooded coves, trout good at night; clear, stable at 3 feet below power pool and 67 degrees.

Green: Bluegill good off points; crappie fair over submerged cover; black bass fair on surface lures and artificial worms in coves and off points; murky to muddy, rising slowly, at summer pool and 68 degrees. Barron: Black bass good on surface lures early and late and on artificial worms during day; bluegill good; clear, stable at 1/2 foot above summer pool and 71 degrees.

Kentucky: Black bass fair on artificial nightcrawlers, buzz baits and spinner baits in inlets and bays; catfish good and improving on worms and night-crawlers and minnows, 4-10 feet deep, off rip-rap; below dam, catfish slow on cutbait; clear to murky to muddy, rising slowly, 1/2 foot above summer pool and 67 degrees.

Barkley: Crappie slow in shallow brush and off dropoff; below dam, white bass, bluegill and catfish, fair; clear to murky, stable at summer pool and 68 degrees.

Nolin: Black bass fair on artificial nightcrawlers; bluegill fair; clear to murky, stable at summer pool and 68 degrees. Buckhorn: Bluegill good over submerged cover; catfish good over old river channel; clear to murky to muddy, stable at summer pool and 64 degrees. Rough River: Bluegill good along shorelines; clear to murky to muddy, rising slowly, 3 feet above summer pool and 70 degrees.

Fishtrap: Crappie fair in stickups; trout slow below dam, clear to murky, stable at pool and 69 degrees.

Grayson: Crappie fair over submerged cover; bluegill fair in inlets and bays, trout fair below dam; clear, stable at summer pool and 69 degrees.

Cawood Comments

© 1980, Cawood Ledford Productions, Inc.
By the voice of the University of Kentucky Wildcats
Cawood Ledford

LEXINGTON—"It's the best two years of recruiting since I've been here," is the way Kentucky Basketball Coach Joe B. Hall sums up his last two groups of recruits. "We'll be awful young next season," Joe goes on, "but every player on our squad, including the four incoming freshmen are going to be in Lexington all summer and that should help us. It's strictly a voluntary thing for them to come, but if they want to we can help them find jobs."

Two of this year's recruits, Bret Bearup and Jim Master will be working on a horse farm. Dicky Beal will be working for a Lexington bank and Melvin Turpin has a job in construction work. Hall says that the three out of town players likely will share an apartment together, but that Turpin, whose home is in Lexington, will live at home during the summer.

"We're really pleased the freshmen, especially, are going to be here this summer," Hall says. "We really think it helps them do three things. The best thing it does is to get them acclimated to being away from home for the first time. By the time school begins in the fall they will be over their homesickness. The second thing it does, the players get to know the campus and the city. When they enroll at Kentucky they will be familiar with their surroundings. The third thing, they not only get to know each other and the other players, but they make new friendships that many of them will have the rest of their lives."

How was Hall and his coaching staff able to put two such outstanding recruiting years in a row? "We don't have any upper classmen," is Joe's answer. "We were restricted for two years to sign only three players each year. Of the six we did sign, only two of them are still here. I think the incoming freshmen think they will get a chance to play and I think they will, too."

With two great recruiting years the future looks rosy for the Wildcats. "We'll be awful young again," says Hall. "Last year we had four upper classmen and that's who you depend on to lead your ball club. Three of them, Kyle Macy, Jay Shidier and LaVon Williams are gone. Fred Cowan is back and Chuck Verderber will be a junior. That still makes us a "tal young."

Young, but talented, huh Joe?

Any person residing in the Sixth Wildlife District who has been licensed to hunt or fish in Kentucky each of the past two years is eligible to vote.

The Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission meet at least four times a year and oversees the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. The commission also enacts seasons and regulations governing hunting and fishing in Kentucky and is composed of a member from each of the nine wildlife districts in the state.

The current sixth district commission member is Charles E. Palmer, Jr., a Lexington attorney, whose term expires in August but he is eligible for reappointment.

Seay Auditorium is located on the UK campus in the Agricultural Science Center North of Nicholasville Road near Cooper Drive.

The Sixth Wildlife District is composed of Anderson, Boyle, Casey, Clark, Estill, Fayette, Franklin, Garrard, Jessamine, Lee, Lincoln, Madison, Mercer, Powell, Rockcastle, Scott and Woodford counties.

HAROLD 'HAL' ROGERS

... Your Kind Of Congressman

As your Commonwealth's Attorney, Hal Rogers continually has fought for your safety.

Harold "Hal" Rogers as State Campaign Manager for President Gerald R. Ford in 1976. At right is a great Kentuckian, Sen. Thurston Morton.

Harold Rogers campaigning in 1979 with the Hon. John Sherman Cooper.

From the desk of Harold Rogers

TO THE PEOPLE OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY:

For the past 11 years, I have had the honor of serving you, the people of Rockcastle County, as your Commonwealth Attorney. And for even longer, the people of Rockcastle County have taken me into their homes, and into their hearts. For that, I will be eternally grateful.

Last year I was humbled by the tremendous support that you expressed for me in my Lieutenant Governor's race. You have shown your trust in me by choosing me twice to serve as your Commonwealth Attorney.

Now, I am asking for your trust and support so I can take the message of the people of Rockcastle County to Washington.

As your Congressman, I will work to bring more jobs to Rockcastle County so we may stop the loss of our young people to the North, where they now must go in order to find work.

As your Congressman, I will fight any gun control legislation of any kind.

As your Congressman, I will work to put backbone back into our foreign policy, and muscle back into our armed forces.

As your Congressman, I will fight to rid farmers and small businessmen of the over-regulation that is chewing away at what they have worked so hard to build.

As your Congressman, I will help you cut through bureaucratic red tape that often prevents senior citizens and veterans from getting what is justly due.

As your friend, I will perform these duties with a dedicated and determined spirit that will be deserving of the friendship, trust and guidance that the people of Rockcastle County have bestowed upon me.

Together, we will send to Washington a Congressman who knows the needs of Rockcastle County, and who has the commitment to put his shoulder to the wheel and get the job done.

I ask your support on May 27. And as always, I consider it an honor and privilege to call the people of Rockcastle County my friends.

With Warmest Regards,

Harold "Hal" Rogers

HOW ELECTRICITY IS MEASURED

If you'd like to keep current on your energy costs, it will help a lot if you understand just how electricity is measured.

Knowing what a watt may help you hold the wire on electricity bills.

Electric power is measured in units called watts (w). However, the Edison Electric Institute points out, a single watt is such a small amount of power that the kilowatt (kw), which is 1,000 watts, is the most generally used measurement.

We purchase our electricity by the kilowatt-hour (kw.hr). Kilowatt hours are determined by multiplying the number of kilowatts used by the number of hours they are in use.

For example, one kilowatt (kw) is approximately the amount of electricity needed to operate a steam iron. If you use that steam iron for one hour, you use one kilowatt hour of electricity.

LES ROYALTY—Kevin Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, and Joyce Bustle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bustle, back row, were crowned King and Queen of the annual LES Spring Festival last Friday afternoon. Prince and Princess were Mitchell Durham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Durham and Jennifer Clark, daughter of Mrs. Joyce Clark. Crownbearers were Chuck Mink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mink and Kevin Burdine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Burdine.

Livingston Spring Festival Held

Excitement was in the air last Friday afternoon at Livingston Elementary School as they held their annual Spring Festival.

Students and much of the town and surrounding area turned out to the school's gym to see the stage show, followed by coronation of the prince and princess and king and queen.

The show included every grade performing an act on the gaily decorated stage.

Candidates for prince and princess were Mitchell Durham and Jennifer Clark, Brad Hurd and Julie Lile, Scotty Bryant and Holly Marcum and Lonnie Bustle and Lori Mink.

Upper grade candidates for king and queen were Ronnie

McClure and Stephanie Harris, Kevin Jones and Joyce Bustle, Stacey Faulkner and Linda Wheeler and Derel Griffin and Teresa Newcomb.

Adding to the festivities were kindergarten students who served as crown bearers and flower girls with each girl carrying an armful of snowballs.

Money taken in on the election alone amounted to over $2,465 and will be used for general upgrading of the school facility. Last year's proceeds went to carpet the library and other areas of the school.

"CALIFORNIANS"

(Cont. From Front) explained to friends in California that a 10-minute errand might take an hour and not because of a traffic jam but because "the people want to take a love it."

For a year, they had subscribed to the Signal because Mr. Stewart-Shackelford had relatives living here. They laughed and admitted that they fought each week to see who got the Signal first. The things they read in the paper about Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County made them long to be a part of a small community. Since Mrs. Stewart-Shackelford is originally from Iowa and he is from here, they both felt their children were missing something by not being exposed to a slower-paced lifestyle.

The Stewart-Shackelfords admitted that there were times when they had serious doubts about uprooting a family of four children but after their two teenagers had been in school only a week, they reported they loved ROCKS and had no desire to return to California. The children, Scott, 16, Lori, 15, Bridget, 5 and Aimee, 3 1/2 had to be taught how to build a snowman and slide down a snow-covered hill as well as how to get along cooped up in a small motor home for three months during the trip and before they finally purchased their new home at Mareburg.

The family did consider settling in Somerset but, after some looking around, decided on Mt. Vernon, partly because they are both licensed Opticians and there was no service of this kind available here. This is the best either in private business as they both previously worked for large optical companies.

"FOOD STAMPS"

But while June's allotment is assured, the picture for the following three months is unclear. Stumbo said the $2.56 billion appropriation is probably not enough to carry the food stamp program through the rest of the federal fiscal year, which ends Sept. 30. A Congressional joint committee said Thursday it may consider setting aside more money, but not necessarily enough to tide the program over until Oct. 1, Stumbo said.

Because of the uncertainty of future food stamp appropriations, a state task force charged with finding other means of getting food to needy Kentuckians will not close up shop at this time.

Harold Greene, chairman of the Governor's Food Stamp Crisis Task Force, said the panel plans to continue to look at alternatives and will meet in four to six weeks to re-examine the matter.

Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr. set up the task force last month in anticipation of a cut-off of food stamp benefits. The panel has been looking at other government programs and private aid that might help lessen the impact of the loss of food stamps.

Auction

Wildie Christian Church's Parsonage and Old Church Bldg. Lot

SATURDAY, MAY 31, 1980 1:30 P.M.

Wildie, Ky.

LOCATION
Approximately 8 miles north of Mt. Vernon and approximately 10 miles south of Berea. Turn off U.S. 25 at Roundstone at Parsons Gas and Appliance Center. Follow auction signs approximately 1 1/2 miles to the property.

The Wildie Christian Church has purchased another house and will be utilizing it as the new parsonage; therefore, they have no need to keep the present parsonage and have authorized our firm to sell this property for the absolute high dollar.

This good frame house has 3 bedrooms, large living room, kitchen with built-in cabinets, utility room with washer and dryer hookup and bath. The house is heated by gas furnace, has hardwood floors covered with wall to wall carpet. In addition to all this, there are storm doors and windows. The house is situated on a large level lot, measuring 67 feet by 295 feet, giving plenty of space for a large garden. It has city water.

Old Church Building Lot will be offered in two tracts.

TRACT NO. 1: fronts on State Road Ky. 1787 and contains 32 of an acre. It would be ideal for building or mobile home site. It too has city water. In addition to fronting on the Wildie Road, it also has a 10 ft. public road on the outer perimeter.

TRACT NO. 2: lies directly behind Tract No. 1 and contains 6/10 of an acre. It fronts on the 10 ft. roadway mentioned previously. Being mostly wooded, this would be a good A-frame homestead. City water is available.

Tracts 1 and 2 will be offered separately, then together, selling whichever way reflects the most favorable returns.

These tracts will sell immediately following the sale of the parsonage.

TERMS: 20% down day of sale, balance in 30 days upon delivery of deed.

The Roundstone Concerned Parents Committee elected officers at their third meeting last Tuesday night. Elected were, from left: Evelyn Ponder, secretary; Linda Dooley, refreshments; Jack Wren, vice chairman; Rita Bishop, chairwoman and June McNew, treasurer. Absent was Gregory Witt, publicity. The next meeting of the group will be June 10th when their by-laws will be presented for approval.

Concerned Parents Elect Officers

The third meeting of the Roundstone Concerned Parents Committee was held Tuesday night, May 13th at the school's library.

Jack Wren, who was elected vice-chairman of the committee, said after the meeting, "We feel that in our school, there exists a triangular communication problem, between school administration officials, teachers and parents with children caught in the middle of these three forces. This committee has set as its objective to seek ways to define problems, possibly mediate feelings in all areas and offer themselves as servants to our school officials and children."

At the next meeting, June 10 at 7 p.m., the elected officers will present for approval by the group, a set of by-laws.

Census Takers Being Hired

Jack L. Laswell, Teacher - Coach To Retire At End of School Year

Jack L. Laswell, long time teacher and basketball coach in the schools of Rockcastle County, will retire at the end of this school year.

After graduation from Union College at Barboursville in 1941, Mr. Laswell started his teaching career in a small rural school in Rockcastle County. In 1942, he was called to military duty and served 4 years, two of which were in the Pacific Theatre at Guadalcanal. On his discharge in 1946, he taught one year at Livingston High School as teacher and basketball coach.

In 1947, he transferred to Mt. Vernon High School where he was a teacher and basketball coach for 25 years.

His 1953 and 1956 basketball teams were outstanding. The 1953 squad, which featured Earl Noe (an all-state player), Ken Cornelius, Charles (Tuck) Baker, Charles and Manuel Shephard was the only team ever to represent Mt. Vernon in the state tournament.

The 1956 squad had a great team, but was defeated in the finals of the 12th Region by Monticello.

By consolidation, Coach Laswell retired from basketball coaching and, since 1972, he has been teacher, athletic director and baseball coach at Rockcastle County High School.

Mr. Laswell is married to the former Dorothy Jean Shortell of Wallingford, Connecticut and they have one son, Brent.

REPUBLICAN WOMAN'S CLUB TO HAVE BOOTH

  - Smart White Sidewall Styling

One Polyester Body Ply in "A" and "B" sizes tires.

Remember: Radial tires should not be mixed with any other types of tire construction.

ATLAS SILVERAIRE TIRE RADIAL

Economy Radial Replacement Tire in ALL The Popular Sizes!

- Mileage- Two fiberglass cord belts running circumferentially around the tire help stabilize the tread when it meets the road and fight treadwear scuffing for good tire mileage. Anti-skid depth averages 10:32.
- Traction- The polyester cord radial body provides the sidewall flexibility to help keep the tread firm on the road for sure control and steering response. In addition this radial construction lets the carcass flex with a minimum of ply friction - keeping tire killing heat at a minimum - compared to other types of tire construction.
- Control- The Atlas Silveraire tire carries on the radial tradition of providing gas economy, because of less rolling resistance, sure response to action in the steering wheel, road gripping traction and positive cornering.
