Sunny Days Good News For Apple Lovers

If the sun shines through the limbs of apple trees on-

Christmas Day, it means that there will be a good apple crop the following year, according to an old superstition.

If that's the case, the sun must have been at its brightest over the nation's apple orchards last Christmas. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture marketing officials, apples will be in plentiful supply in supermarkets and at fruit stands during October.

During the coming weeks when holiday menus are being planned, apples will offer an economical way of adding flavor, nutrition and color to family meals.

- Apple Crisp
- 2 tbsp. granulated sugar
 - 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
 - 4 cups pared, sliced tart apples
 - 1/4 cup water
 - 1/2 cup flour
 - 1/8 tsp. salt
 - 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
 - 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
 - 1/3 cup brown sugar, packed

3 tbsp. softened butter or margarine

Mix sugar with 1/4 tsp. cinnamon, sprinkle over apples and mix lightly. Spread apples in a greased 8x8x2 inch baking pan. Sprinkle with water.

Blend flour, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and brown sugar. Mix in fat to make a crumbly mixture. Spread over apples. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees F. 40 minutes or until lightly browned and apples are tender.

Apple Casserole

- 1/2 pound link sausage - cut into half pieces or 1/2 pound bulk sausage
- 4 medium sized apples, pared and sliced
- 2 medium sized sweet potatoes, pared and sliced
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tbsp. flour
- 2 tbsp. sugar
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 tbsp. sausage drippings

Fry link sausage pieces until done. If using bulk sausage, shape into small balls before frying or cook "crumbled" style. Combine salt, flour and sugar with cold water. Arrange layers of sweet potatoes, apples and cooked sausage in well-greased baking dish, pouring some of the flour mixture over each layer. Sprinkle top with sausage drippings. Cover casserole tightly with cover or sheet of aluminum foil. Bake at 375 degrees for about an hour, or until apples and sweet potatoes are tender.

Apple Coffecake

- 1/2 cup light brown sugar
- 2 tbsp. flour
- 2 tbsp. butter or margarine
- 1 to 2 tbsps. cinnamon
- 1/3 cup shortening
- 1/2 to 3/4 cup sugar, as desired
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 1/2 cups unsifted flour
- 2 tbsps. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 cups thinly sliced apples

Blend together the brown sugar, 2 tbsp. flour, butter and cinnamon. In another bowl, combine sugar, shortening and egg. Beat thoroughly, then stir in milk. Mix 1 1/2 cups flour, baking powder and salt thoroughly. Stir into egg mixture just until smooth.

Spread half the batter in a greased 9-inch square pan, cover with half the apples and top with half the brown sugar mixture. Repeat. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes or until cake is set.

City Receives Grant from EPA for Redesign of Sewer Treatment Plant

Richard Moore, Technical Vice President, Civil Engineering, for Schimpeler-Corradino and Associates, was at the regular meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night to apprise the council of a $60,000 grant offering by the Environmental Protection Agency for redesign of the sewer treatment plant. This amount will be matched by $20,000 in city funds.

The grant money will be used for designing the upgrading and enlarging of the sewer plant to meet the federal government's criteria. The cost of the actual upgrading and enlarging will be approximately $700,000.

In other business, Doug Brock was present at the meeting to present the council with the right-of-way deed for the Clyde Barnett Road which is being extended around Lake Linville. The council authorized Mayor Roland Mullins to sign the deed. Councilman Tom Welch, who helped establish the right-of-way, told the council that a property owner on the lake had a couple of buildings which would have to be removed since they were constructed on the right-of-way rather than on the owner's property.

Sterling Hoskins, operator of the boat dock, was also at the meeting to request permission to build a room onto the present bait shop. Mr. Hoskins said he would like to have the room to move his fishing supplies into so that the original area could be used to operate a small grocery store from. Hoskins told the council that he would also like to have a five-year lease renewable for 30 days that could feel more secure of seeing a return on his investment for the new room.

The council granted permission for the building addition and assigned the lease question to Councilman Tom Welch and Roger McClure for investigation and a future report back to the council.

Several residents and the developer of Countryside Estates were at the meeting to apprise the council of the problem they are having with their water supply, especially to those homes built on top of the hill.

The residents said that because of the lack of a storage tank on top of the hill, the pump was having to work almost continuously and this caused the pump to be out of operation quite often! This results in at least six residents being entirely without water at times, with negligible pressure at others and with air in their lines often.

After the pump was installed, the council voted to take it over for maintenance and upkeep and Water Dept. Superintendent Matt Powell told the council that maintenance of the pump was a problem. Powell said the pump was large enough but the only thing that would help the problem would be the construction of a tank on top of the hill which would give the pump some relief in that after the tank was filled, the pump could kick-off into the storage tank was drained to the certain level.

Mayor Mullins asked the property owner and Mr. Hamm if they would be willing to share in the costs of a storage tank and Mr. Hamm said that he personally would not be since the pump was put in originally to the city's specifications and he didn't think it was fair to ask property owners to foot any additional costs.

The matter was turned over to the water and sewer committee for inspection and for a report to the council on their findings.

Singleton and Associates was the low bidder for the city's insurance. The total package, including workmen's compensation, was bid in at $7,168. Norton Insurance Company was the other bidder.

The council discussed the painting of several curbs yellow throughout town. Councilman Tom Welch said he had talked with Oscar Fain of Fain Furniture on West Main Street and Mr. Fain had approved the painting of the curb on the south side of the street in an effort to help clear up traffic congestion in that area. Mr. Welch also said that he felt the elimination of two parking meters, one in front of Mt. Vernon Bargain Store and one in front of Cox Hardware, on the corners, would help traffic to see to pull on Main Street from the street which runs between the two businesses. The council asked Mr. Welch to check with the two property owners in question and discuss the matter.

Councilman Welch also brought up the enforcement of the loitering law in Mt. Vernon and told the council that district court in Fayette County had ordered officers for loitering. He said he felt the council should instruct city policemen to charge offenders here. However, City Attorney Carl Clontz told the council that Kentucky's loitering law was defined so narrowly that he felt it would be better to, depending on the circumstances, charge offenders with disturbing the peace rather than loitering since the offenders cited by Mr. Welch seemed to better fit that charge.

In other business, the council approved the purchase of several extra uniforms for city policemen and a 13% cost of living increase for Policemen Frank DeBorde and Charles Lovell.

A leak in gasoline storage tanks at a station, belonging to Wayne Bullock on 150, caused gasoline to collect in caves under buildings located on Main Street. The situation became potentially explosive last week. Fuel was removed in the General Dollar Store and state and city officials were called in to help find a solution. The leaking tank has been emptied and is to be fiberglassed and, according to John Cox local fire chief, a good rain would help flush the caves and further help the situation. Shown above is the apparatus being used to help ariate the fumes.

City Gets New Tax Rate and $5,112 Tax Revenue Increase

The city recently received its new tax rate from the office of Robert Crowner, Property Valuation Administrator, for Rockcastle County and the 1980 rate was lowered to 16.5c per $100 assessment from last year's 20c.

Last year, the city was supposed to receive $36,343.63 based on assessed property valued at $18,171,814 and revenue generated from bank shares.

This year's assessment went up to $22,941,665 but with the rate lowered to 16.5c, the total tax increase amounted to $5,112 for the city this year. The city expects to collect a total of $41,455.30 in property taxes in 1980.

This difference amounts to more than the 4% allowed by law for general taxes such as new construction, tangible goods and bank shares are not including in the restriction;

Accident Reported

Robin Merrill, 51, of Route 4, Mt. Vernon, was taken to the Rockcastle County Hospital as a result of injuries suffered in a one-vehicle accident on Interstate 75 about 3 1/2 miles north of Mt. Vernon at 3:50 a.m. on Wednesday morning, October 8.

According to State Police reports, Merrill said he apparently fell asleep which caused him to run off the road and

JEWELRY STOLEN

Approximately $10,000 worth of turquoise jewelry was stolen some time Wednesday, October 8 from Mr. and Mrs. Nimrod Killion of Mt. Vernon, according to State Police Detective Fred Walton.

City policemen Jim Durham and Charles Hurd took the juvenile suspect into custody and he is being held in the Laurel County Jail awaiting a hearing.

Only a watch band and a necklace identified as having been identified by Mrs. Killion have been recovered.

PROPERTY RECOVERED

With help from the National Crime Information Computer, a loader, stolen from the Perry-Jefferson Mining Co. at Burr last summer, has been recovered in El Paso, Texas. The loader, valued at $39,000, was recovered along with a stolen tractor belonging to Ken Harris. The tractor was found in U.S. Forest land in Laurel County last Thursday. State Police Detective Fred Walton said.

Election Warms Up as Nov. 4 Approaches

Tuesday, November 4, citizens again have the future of the country at stake as they go to the polls to cast their vote for president. National elections usually stir a great deal of excitement and this one is no exception, especially since the polls have been showing the Republican candidate Ronald Reagan and Democratic candidate Jimmy Carter running virtually neck-and-neck.

The unknown factor seems to be which party's support will be most eroded by the entry of independent candidate, John Anderson, into the race.

Besides Reagan, Carter and Anderson, there are five other candidates running for the office of president under various party names, including Ellen McCormack, Andrew Pulley, Gus Hall, Ed Clark and Barry Comptoner.

Rockcastle Counties will also be voting for U.S. Senator. Incumbent Democratic candidate Wendell Ford of Owensboro is not expected to encounter much serious opposition from Republican challenger, Mary Louise Foust of Shelbyville.

In the U.S. Representative's race in the strongly Republican 5th District, former Commonwealth Attorney Harold Rogers from Somerset is expected to win easily over Madison County's Democrat candidate Ted Marcum.

According to the State Police the 1980 Mazda driven by Carroll, left the road, crossed the Fisher Ford Road, went over an embankment, through two wooden fences and flipped over on its top before coming to rest 145 feet from where it left the road. Both occupants were thrown from the car and Carroll was pinned underneath.

State Policeman Tommy Sloan of the Richmond Post said there were no skid or scuff marks on the pavement.

Carroll and Miss Shever were taken to the Garrard Co. Hospital where Carroll was transferred to the St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington where he is in intensive care following surgery and is listed in serious condition. Miss Shever was treated and released.

From Stage Life to Private; Three Entertainers Love the Adjustment

By: Nancy Mullins

Often we taste of people who have had a head of glory on stage, have known public adulation or have merely dreamed of becoming famous and who are never able to come to grips with a meaningful, alternative-lifestyle. Perhaps even though we respect those who are able to cope with the transition and build stable lives, we tend to regard them as being less than interesting to read or hear about. They become ordinary people. But the value and need in any community for people like Linda and Emory Martin and Troy Gibbs should not be taken for granted even were they not outstandingly talented performers.

Emory Martin was born with only one arm. His mother, in a biographical sketch written for distribution when Emory was a young boy, stated that he was born in 1916, she made a promise to her son that he would never know the loss of his arm. Possibly because of his parents' healthy attitude, Emory not only grew into a man able to accomplish anything most men with two arms can do, but became very early to do something few men with two arms can do - play a 5-string banjo. Emory was 7 when he surprised his father by learning to play a tune. His father was so pleased that he gave the instrument to his son. In order to learn to play the banjo, Emory had to learn to make use of his stub, his teeth and his toes.

At 16, at an aunt's insistence, he went to Nashville, Tenn., 60 miles away, to enter a talent contest. Much to his family's surprise, he won the contest and a white gold wrist watch. Thus began his musical career. He was billed everywhere as the "One Armed Banjo Player." For several years, he was on the WSM Grand Ole Opry Show with the Hank Williams band which he joined Uncle Dave Macon's Company. For two years, he traveled and played with the Texas Chuck Wagon Gang and broadcasted over WSM in Nashville.

He played with Johnnie Wright and His Tennessee Hillbillies which later became known as simply Johnnie and Jack and with Kitty Walls, who was Johnnie's wife. With the coming of World War II, most bands split up. Gas was rationed and hard to obtain in quantities enough to make a living traveling and playing music. In those days, before records, a performer's exposure depended upon live radio and radio shows.

In 1943, Emory Martin received a phone call from John Lair, who had heard about him through the Holden Brothers, who were friends of Emory's and were then at Renfro. Emory came for an audition and was hired. The deciding factor for him was that he would be paid a salary and it would be up to Mr. Lair to get the gasoline for the road trips. At that time, Mr. Lair had two troupes on the road at the time, sometimes spreading north to Canada and South to Florida. Life at Renfro was easier than at the Opry where the next week's jobs were announced on Saturday night and performers could be expected to go as far as 800 miles away and turn by the next Saturday night by show time. At Renfro, one group might be gone as long as 30 days without reporting back.

It was at Renfro that Emory and Linda Arnold met and later married. Linda, whose hometown was Indianapolis, Indiana, first came to Mt. Vernon on the train as a 14-year-old contestant in a talent show held at the Mt. Vernon school. Linda sang and played several instruments, including the guitar, fiddle, banjo and steel guitar. Mr. Lair was impressed and invited her to perform at Renfro but her mother thought her much too young and would not let her daughter go way off to Kentucky at that time. Before finally coming to Renfro in about 1943, she had performed in an all-girl band with Virginia Sutton Bray and her cousin on an Indiana radio show called the Sunshine Special. She also worked in Atlanta, Georgia for a while with another girl band on stations around the area.

At Renfro, Linda worked as a feature act by herself and needed. In 1947, the Martins left Renfro for a year and went to Topeka, Kansas to work at a radio station where they made more money than ever before.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

We are hoping you will print this and that it will help to contact my uncle since he will not talk to me in person or by phone. I hope that someone will read this to him since he cannot read.

Everything I want printed is the truth.

My uncle, Curt Kidwell, is an old man who will be 80 in January and I would like very much to talk to him. He hasn't spoken to me since 1974 due to a misunderstanding over a tobacco crop I wasn't plowing to suit him. I was hot and tired and he got on my nerves and I swore at him and he won't speak to me over it and that's the God's truth.

But, that's not all. You see in 1971, my uncle and aunt gave me and my wife three tracts of land, 122 acres in all, and on this land was two homes. Me and my wife and children moved into one and my uncle and aunt were to live in the other one for the rest of their lives. But one mistake was made in printing the deeds. It was supposed to state that my uncle and aunt were to live in the Wolfe property until themselves. But the Wolfe property part was left out of the deed and it only stated that they were to live on said property until themselves. We had all three tracts put into one deed and we also had a fake lien put on the property. We know it was fake and my uncle knows it was fake but we are paying a debt right today that we really don't owe. You see, we are paying $350.00 a year interest. Uncle used to cash it, check and give it back to us. But since 1975, he has kept the interest. Our reason for putting the fake lien on the property was because me and my wife both had children by a previous marriage and we wanted to make it safe for my uncle. In case something happened to either of us then the children couldn't come in and sell them out of a home.

You see those three tracts of land are located over a mountain on Scaffold Cane and if it's a bad winter, I have known it to get to where you can't get to my uncle's house. My reason for wanting to talk to him is to see if I can't get him to move into the home where I live now which is on top of Scaffold Cane right on the backstop road where it would be easy to get in and out. My Aunt Bruce, uncle's wife, was buried this past Saturday, October 4. Winter is coming on and I would like to see him up here on top of the hill instead of under it where it sometimes gets so bad a garden tractor can't even get to him. If I could just talk to him, I believe we could straighten things out. He could move into my house with the same deal we have had under the hill. This house is total electric. He wouldn't even have to worry about keeping a fire although it has a fire and he could also have coal or wood heat ever which he would want.

Sure hope this will be printed and someone will read it to him and tell him we can get together and talk this all over.

FIVE GENERATIONS

Cora Mullins Morris, 86, a life-long resident of Rockcastle County, is pictured with her grandson, Chester Raywood Lakes of Bradenton, Florida and his granddaughter, Oshula Johnson, also of Bradenton.

The two generations missing from the picture are Berdetta Mullins Lakes, deceased, who was Mrs. Morris' daughter, and Alicia Lakes Johnson, daughter of Chester Lakes, who also lives in Bradenton.

The Mullins family from Crooked Creek goes back many, many years to the sixth generation of Ballard Calloway Mullins and perhaps even further. The old Mullins farm is still in the Mullins family and is currently owned by Richard Mullins, Sr., who is the manager of Great Saltpetre Cave. Mr. Lakes, his wife, Gail, daughter Renee and granddaughter, Oshula, were visiting the Richard Mullins family the last week of September when this picture was taken.

CLASS ELECTIONS HELD AT LES

Elections for the seventh and eighth grade classes were held Monday, September 22 at Livingston Elementary School.

Elected were: Anita Burke, president; Sue Ann Fields, vice president; Paula Pigg, secretary; Betty Milburn, treasurer; Terrel Wilson, reporter. All eighth grade officers.

Seventh grade officers elected were: Lisa Francisco, president; Kelly Wilson, vice president; Greg Mink, secretary; Susan Hoskins, treasurer; and Steven Nicley, reporter.

Also, on Thursday, September 18, 1980, the seventh and eighth graders at Livingston Elementary visited the Rockcastle Resource Center. There, we toured a solar home where 70 percent of the heat is from the sun and 30 percent of the heat is supplied by a wood stove. Two of the interesting demonstrations we saw were the Solar Food Dryer and the Solar Energy Panel. The food dryer is faster, more sanitary and provides for less waste as the food does not rot. The energy panel converts sunlight into electrical energy. Its use was demonstrated by running an electrical fan powered by the panel.

But, they did not like it there and returned, to leave again in 1950. This time, they went to Louisiana to work on the "Louisiana Hayride," a really big show at the time which included such performers as Hank Williams, Faron Young, Hank Thompson, Webb Pierce and others. It was here that Johnnie and Kitty Wells, with help from the Martins, cut their first big record, "Poison Love."

Linda and Emory's son, Roy, had been born in 1945 and was now getting close to school age. Roy had made friends back in Kentucky, so the Martins decided to come back and make a permanent home for him here. They admitted that they were both tired of living out of a suitcase.

Emory, who had once said that he was not sure that he could not anything else, invested in a service station in 1956, two years before he retired from performing, and ran it for 14 years while he put his wife through nurses training and his son through mortuary school. After he sold his station, he worked a while in another station and now works part-time which gives him even more time to actively pursue his childhood hobby and interest - training and riding horses. Linda works as a nurse in the emergency room at the Rockcastle County Hospital.

Troy Gibbs and his wife, Bea, live near their long-time friends, the Martins, in a retirement home with a perfect view of the lake and the surrounding woods. They first came to Reno in September of 1945 while Troy was still walking on crutches from having his feet nearly frozen - missing 5 toes - as a result of his duty in the recent War. He was able to use the bass fiddle, which was his instrument, for support while on stage.

Troy earned his first money for performing when he was 8 or 9 at an early radio station in Harrisburg, Ill. near his hometown. His wife said he made a funny sight walking and carrying his overwhelming instrument which was painted white and was tied together with a piece of clothline to keep it from vibrating.

During high school years, he and a friend earned $2.00 a week by playing for 15 minutes twice weekly on a local radio station. The principal let them skip school for the performance.

His next salary came from playing on station WDZ in Tuscola, Ill. and amounted to $12.50 weekly. There he played with a group known as the Rhythm Ranch Boys. He later played in St. Louis, San Antonio and other cities before "The War" broke. The time wearing a tuxedo and playing with dance bands what he laughingly refers to as "uptown" music.

Troy played Reno for 5 years and in 1950 let go to college on the G.I. Bill. He attended S.I.U. in Carbondale, Illinois and the University of Louisville. For 18 years following that, he made topographical maps for the Army at the Army Map Service in Louisville. During that time, he worked on the Moon map used for the Apollo moon landing and in 1969 received a pewter medallion and a certificate of appreciation from President Nixon for his work.

During this time spent in Louisville, Troy kept his musical talent and interest alive by performing with various combos and bands for parties, country clubs and special occasions.

In 1973, he had a heart attack and he and his wife made the decision to leave the city and in 1974, they moved back to land they had bought a few years ago with retirement in mind. They built their house at an angle to be able to view Lake Linville from their kitchen window. Troy spends much of this time in his workshop where he produces furniture, lamps and other lovely wooden pieces for their home.

A story of these or other Reno performers would not be complete without a few colorful stories taken from the time Ole that abound.

Troy told of the time Ole Joe Clark was telling his famous joke about the mouse and the popcorn when a mouse dropped down from the loft onto his shoulder and ran off across the stage.

On stage, another time, Linda was playing "Listen to the Mockingbird" on the fiddle when a bird swooped from one of the rafters and left a drooping on her nose. She tried to keep her composure while blowing out the corner of her mouth at the slowly sliding mess.

Traveling home late one night, following shows, presented special problems and hazards. Troy remembers the fog was especially bad on trips back from the Family Theater in Hazard where they often played. Several times, it was necessary to have someone ride outside on the left front fender to keep him from leaving the road. At Conway once, the water was above the road and one of the performers took his shoes off and rolled his pant legs up and walked beside the front fender to keep them from the ditch by feeling for the roadway with his feet.

Emory tells of driving a careful of sleeping entertainers back from a show in Marysville late one night. As Emory began to get sleepy and needed some excitement and conversation to keep him awake, he began to swerve the car to awaken them. Everybody came to except Joe Clark, who had a reputation for being a sound sleeper. Emory found a road that looked much like Joe's driveway. He pulled in and stopped. Joe woke up and said, "Well, are we home?" To which everyone replied, "Yes." He was helped out with instruments and costume bags and started off down the dark road. The crew in the car sat enjoying the enormity of the joke for a while, but when he did not return when they expected, they went to find him. They heard him coming before they saw him. He was reportedly cussing them non-stop.

Linda Martin

Another similar incident occurred, again with Emory driving and Joe sleeping. Joe woke up under the bass fiddle in some big town where they had stopped for coffee and said, "How much farther is it?" Emory said, "This is it!" He told Joe to go into the theater they had parked in front of and ask if they had a P.A. system that would work for the show. In a few minutes, Joe and the manager emerged cussing and fussing and with Joe yelling, "But, I've got the contract right here in my pocket."

Troy Gibbs

Once when Mr. Lair had reportedly had to lay-off some or all of the performers, they all sat around dejectedly talking about how they would make a living when, after much serious consideration, Smokey Ward said, "Well, I used to preach. I reckon I ain't too good to do it again."

The performers agreed that without a sense of humor, none of them could have survived the lifestyle.

Rockets Lose To Estill

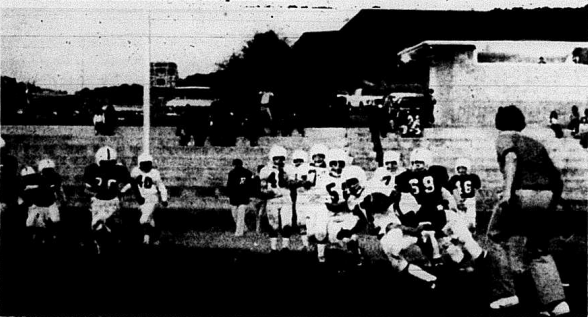

In the above photo, Bobby Hammons is shown returning the ball after a punt in Friday night action with Estill Co. It was the Rockets' second district game of the season. Hammons intercepted an Estill Co. pass in the first half and ran it in for the score to give the Rockets their first score of the night. Also in the photo is Dwayne Thomason, No. 13.

An Estill County runner, far left, returns a punt for good yardage in Friday night's home game with Rockcastle. Estill, who won the game 32 to 12, had an excellent punt return game which enabled them to come up with good field position all night. Rockets identifiable in the photo are:

Steve Halcomb, No. 52; Curtis Pingleton, No. 73; Eric Ponder, No. 73 and Scottie Robinson, No. 5. The Rockets score came on a Bobby Hammon interception which he ran back for the score and a one-yard run by Charlie Hasty.

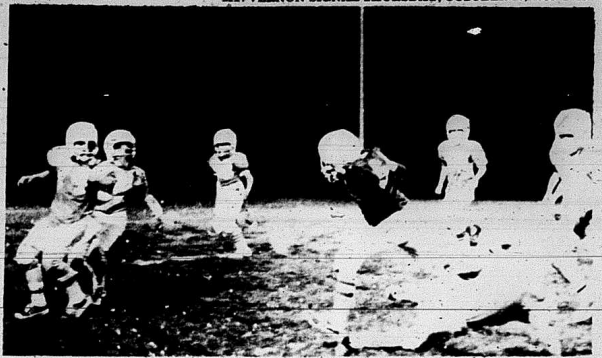

Pete Harrison, No. 47, carries the ball for the Redskins in their battle for first place with the Buccaneers Monday night. The Redskins came away with the victory and first place in the league by downing the Buccaneers 32-22.

Two weeks ago, because of erroneous information, we incorrectly identified Steve Fall as scoring the above touchdown for the Buccaneers. Actually, it was Joe Gregory. The Buccaneers defeated the Steelers in that contest. Our apologies, Joe.

Robert Mink, No. 54, fights for yardage against the game at the high school. The Steelers won the Bengals in Monday night's little league football game 14-6.

Coaches Corner

By: Larry Woods

Estill County came in here Friday night with a chance for a play-off spot with a victory. They were well prepared for us and we had some letdowns the first half to allow them to get a commanding lead. We had prepared for them and thought that if we could get a few breaks and surprise them early we could stay in the game. The first quarter they hurt us early with a pass and poor tackling by being out of position. They were on the score board quickly and this sort of let the air out of us. Estill has a good team and they still had much more experience than we, because they had 16 seniors on their team and this showed up throughout the game.

The second half, we finally found out that we were not with them and really showed good defense. Even our offense perked up and provided a score the second half.

Estill surprised us by the fact that they passed and had the success they had with this part of the game. We stopped the straight ahead rushing play, that we thought they would have more success with, but wasn't able to stay with their speed and power.

We have finally gotten all of our team back together again. There are some though that are being held together practically with tape and maybe if we are not sure we will get back in top form before our season is over.

This week, we engage with another tough team in Whitley County. They own a 7-1 record and have already won their sub-district. We will have some lineup changes hoping to get more experience at different positions.

I appreciate the fan support that we have had this year and hopefully they will continue to support our team.

COMMENTS ON LITTLE LEAGUE FOOTBALL

By: Coach Larry Woods

There was quite a controversial situation that came about during the little league football games Monday night and, at this time, I would like to talk about the purpose of why little league football is of value to our community.

I started this program last year for mainly two reasons: 1, to give our kids a chance to learn the fundamentals of football so they will be better players in the seventh through high school grades and 2, to provide an activity for our youth to be involved in - hoping that with this opportunity for involvement they will gain valuable experiences they will need throughout life.

Our community is in need of these programs and should be encouraging their children to participate. I know that there are many problems that will arise because all of us are only human. I also feel that criticism to a problem is not the answer, but instead we should volunteer to help with the problem.

I would like to ask any interested adults in our community who are interested in our youth to come out and help us through encouragement and not by criticism.

Our little league program is successful and should continue to be so if we don't get away from the true meaning of what it is all about. If we, as parents and adults, show an example to our children of complaining and criticizing them, our children will grow up to do the same. Our overall football program will benefit greatly from this type of program, but the attitude to "win at all costs" is not the example we should set for our children.

I would like to say how this program was started to let everyone know the entire story. I have heard comments that really disturb me about money, coaches, referees, etc. Summer before last, I asked Gene Lowe of Lowe's Sporting Goods, to charge to me $5,000 worth of little league football equipment to start the program. That meant that I would be responsible for the payment. I just don't believe that many parents would take the risk. I set out then to find good coaches who were interested, like myself, in developing football in our community and I found just what I wanted and I feel that everyone will agree to that fact. Payment to that bill through donations from our community, taking up admission and running a concession stand. We made a tremendous step last year because the parents and civic clubs were tremendous in helping repay some of the debt. We came out of last year owing $380.00 which was fantastic. The beginning debt has now been repaid and we are now ahead but I am looking ahead to upcoming years when we will have to buy new equipment. I also want to say that there is no profit to me because I don't expect any monetary rewards, just a good football program in our community. My son is years away from playing but when he is old enough, I want him to have the chance to play and be involved.

Referees have been the problem. The cost of getting referees is not the problem, it is finding someone who is available to do the job. I have made numerous calls trying to locate someone because I agree that getting someone who has no connection with the program is the right thing to do. I understand that the parents and coaches should demand better officiating because I know that is what I expect when I'm coaching. But, I also expect that parents and coaches should expect mistakes and be able to understand them - remember you are setting the example. I understand that some parents, who are not and hopefully, we can reach an agreement that will satisfy both teams. The coaches and myself are meeting Thursday to decide on an agreement. I hope that everyone will be satisfied with our agreement at this meeting. If anyone has any questions, concerning the little league football program, please call or contact me.

SATURDAY DOUBLE HEADER

LEXINGTON - Fran Curci hales night football games. His Wildcats will play the next two home games under the lights in deference to a long standing unbroken agreement with the Keeneland Race Course. Kentucky never goes head and head with the Keeneland race meet.

"Kentucky never plays our meet makes all the difference in the world," Keeneland President Ted Bassett was saying the other day at the track. "We have a lot of competition for the customer, during our fall meet. We have the baseball playoffs, the world series and several football games around the state. When Kentucky plays a home game during our meet we see a tremendous increase in our attendance."

Steve Paridin, who sells the Daily Racing Forms during the Keeneland meets, says, "Oh my yes, it makes a big difference when Kentucky's at home. We'll sell 5,000 more copies than we will on a Saturday that Kentucky's out of town."

Bassett thinks the Saturday double header is popular with the fans all over the state. "We get a tremendous amount of attendance from all over the state when Kentucky plays at home," he says. "I think it's good for our fans and Kentucky football fans, and that's good for Lexington businesses."

Keeneland has made one concession to the Kentucky football games. After Curci came to U.K. he asked Keeneland to begin its racing program a half hour earlier, moving the starting time from 2 o'clock back to 1:30 so that Kentucky could start the night football games a half hour earlier. "They did us a real favor," Bassett was saying. "We were glad to do that. We'll have a better turnout for us. The fans, that come to lunch don't have to wait so long for the races to start. The time change has been good for us."

Keeneland is expecting its biggest crowds over the next two Saturdays. Fans around the Commonwealth seem to like these Saturday double headers.

Ministerial Assn. Purchases Piano for Extended Care

Excitement was in the air last Friday afternoon when the residents of the extended care facility at the Rockcastle County Hospital received a new piano for their meeting room. The Rockcastle Ministerial Association has worked to generate interest in the project and were able to make the $1,000 down payment. The balance is $500 with some pledges not yet in. Any extra money will be used to purchase song books and for tuning the piano. Those contributing to the fund include: the AARP Club; Bethany United Methodist Church; First Baptist Church; Rockcastle Baptist Missionary thing I have to say must be read with this fact in mind. I have formed an opinion as to the relative merits of the controversy but that I will keep to myself mainly because, as I have stated, I wasn't there and anyone who wants to disagree with my opinion would have a perfect right to say "What do you know about it, you weren't even there."

I simply want to have the opportunity to say what I have said previously and that is that the little league program in this county would be improved immensely by the addition of referees for the game. I say this with no intention of taking a slap at the local boys who have been refereeing the games because I know - not talk - but know that they have taken their responsibility seriously and have felt at all times that they were making the correct call. And from all reports, they are not to blame for Monday night's fiasco.

At the same time, players and parents have no doubt felt more free to criticize their efforts because they were local and younger than referees are usually.

In Monday night's controversy, it seems to boil down to whether or not a referee blew the ball dead before it was picked up and run in for a touchdown. Again, I wasn't there and cannot print what I think happened but the matter would probably not have reached the proportion it did had there been an older, more authoritative referee, not from this area, calling the game. Several parents have told me they would be willing to kick in extra money, if needed, to resolve this situation.

While I am at it, let me say something about the sportsmanship I have seen displayed by Rockcastle Countians in general. I have two daughters presently participating in basketball and I have always reserved the right to cheer them on at every opportunity and will continue to do so. At the same time, I hope I have never been guilty of cheating the fact that a member of the other team suffered an injury or being vehement about the fact that an opponent was having an excellent game. One case in point of the bad sportsmanship that has always tore me up is the way it is common practice now for cheerleaders and fans to scream, yell and generally create a tremendous racket when an opposing player steps to the free throw line. I haven't been out of school too long - believe it or not - to remember that when I was a freshman, our principal stopped attending any more sports events for a period of time. I use this as only one example - there are others such as the out-of-town football team that was "harassed" this season after a game at a local restaurant. Perhaps they should have known better than to stop here but it is a free country and we should instill in our children more respect for the rights of the other fellow.

I mention the above to say that I have heard reports from parents of both teams involved in Monday night's game of the bad sportsmanship displayed by adults and I think the little league program is in jeopardy here primarily because the games have been taken out of the realms of fun and games and injected into an extension of the parents' desires and ambitions. There is now where in the county a more rabid sports fan than myself but the rules of fair play and good sportsmanship must prevail on all levels - from the players, to the coaches, to the fans - if we are to provide a good program worthwhile to the participants.

GENTRY REUNION HELD

Telephone customers who have been making heavy use of directory assistance will save money by looking up local numbers for themselves.

Under a new authorization by the Utilities Regulatory Commission, Continental Telephone Company of Kentucky began charging for calls to directory assistance on Sunday, September 28.

A 20c charge will be made for each directory assistance call in excess of a five-call monthly allowance. The five-call allowance is designed to compensate for the times when it becomes necessary to call directory assistance for numbers that are not listed in the directory.

"Directory assistance has been a costly service for the telephone company to provide," said Kentucky Customer Services Manager J. Wallace Black of London.

"A very few customers make most of the information calls, which means that the vast majority of customers have been, in the past, subsidizing the heavy users."

EKU Marching Band Membership Includes Local Residents

When the 200-member Eastern Kentucky University Marching Band enters the field for each pre-game and halftime performance during Eastern's 1980 Fall football games, it contains two members from Rockcastle County High School.

The Marching Maroons are now preparing for performances Oct. 11 and 18 and Nov. 1 and 22 on the campus for home football games and on the road to Western Kentucky University.

The band, directed by Dr. Robert Hartwell, William Schink and David Priestner, includes a featured twirler, majorettes, a flag squad, rifle corps and two drum majors, in addition to some 165 instrumentalists. Membership in the Marching Maroons is open to all students attending EKU who have had band experience in high school. Students rehearse an average of 12 hours every two weeks in preparation for the performances.

More than 120 different high schools are represented by graduates now members of the Marching Maroons.

The members of the band from Rockcastle County are: Rebecca Jean Tolle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tolle of Mt. Vernon and Michele Dick, daughter of Mrs. Glennis E. Dick. Miss Tolle plays percussion while Miss Dick's instrument is the alto saxophone.

Black said, "Hopefully, the new fee will have the effect of encouraging people to look up their numbers in the directory and therefore reduce the volume of calls to directory assistance."

Increases of information calls in recent years brought new pressure to add to the staff of operators and operator salaries were a substantial part of soaring labor costs for the company.

Recognition of those economic pressures was the foundation of the Commission's authorization on directory assistance charges.

Customers will be allowed up to two numbers on any given directory assistance call. But the Commission also authorized a 20-cent surcharge for such calls dialed incorrectly. "People should follow the instructions in their directories when it becomes necessary to call directory assistance," Black said.

"The additional 20-cent charge will be assessed for dialing 'O' rather than the prescribed directory assistance number. This is necessary because an 'O' dialing ties up two operators instead of just one, again adding to the labor costs."

An incorrectly dialed operator-assistance call also takes up more of the customer's time, Black indicated.

There are exceptions to the new fee: Directory-assistance calls from hospitals, hotels and motels will not be charged.

Also, there will be no charge for information calls made by people unable to use the directory because of a handicap.

Individuals who should contact their telephone business office for more information about this.

AN ANNUAL UNIQUE DAY IN MT. STERLING

October Court Day falls on the third Monday of each October - to time in with Harvest time.

Mt. Sterling has always been a big trading center. In the old days, before good roads and truck transportation, large flocks of turkeys, geese and livestock of all kinds were driven over the muddy roads into Mt. Sterling - many coming from great distances. Farmers also brought hides, wild roots and herbs. Molasses made in the mountains were in great demand as were pumpkins, cushaws, sweet potatoes and other good things to eat. In the old days, there were also a great number of mules and horses for sale and trade.

Today the tradition is continued with bridles, saddles, harnesses in abundance as well as guns, axe handles, antiques, knives, dogs and food.

Senior Citizens Trip

The Rockcastle County Senior Citizens are planning an all-day trip to Shakerstown on Thursday, October 16.

Anyone interested in going should call 256-4316.

Sixty-four years ago, our nation declared war on Germany and Austria in defense of freedom of the seas. Over four and one-half million young Americans left their jobs and classrooms to help win the war that was "To make the world safe for Democracy" and now a large percentage of those that are living need some kind of care. We, the Veterans of World War I, want to see that each receives that to which he or she is entitled.

Our last census report on Veterans of WW I for Kentucky was done in 1977. At that time, the report showed 12,000-plus. So far as we know, the 1980 census did not include any WW I veterans, or widows of veterans.

With an average age of 85, we know that many of them need some kind of assistance, such as Housebound Aide and Attendance and other kinds of help - going to the grocery, drugstore and Post Office. The veteran that can help should know his buddy - his name, address and physical condition. How do we do this? By organization. Send your Name, Address, zip code - and be sure to give your County. With this information, we can furnish a county list to each Veteran who will comply with this request.

Send the information to: Veterans of World War I, 2029 So. Shelby St., Louisville, Ky. 40217
