Cincinnati Woman Killed in Accident on Interstate

Patricia Milton, 49, of Cincinnati, Ohio, died Monday March 16 at the UK Medical Center in Lexington as a result of chest injuries suffered in an accident Sunday evening about 7:35 in Rockcastle County.

The accident occurred as the pick-up truck in which Ms. Milton was a passenger approached the southbound lane of 175 from the southbound ramp at the Renfro Valley interchange north of Mt. Vernon and cut across both lanes of traffic in an apparent attempt to reach the median and change directions, according to Jimmie Silvers, of the State Police who investigated the accident.

The truck was struck in the left side by a tractor trailer and was spun around twice. The driver of the tractor trailer, Delwin Dunlap of LaGrange, Ohio reported that he swerved toward the median in an attempt to miss the other vehicle, but was unable to avoid the accident.

According to Silvers, the driver of the pick-up, Cal M. Cutlip, a passenger and owner of the truck, Dewitt Beeler Bingham, both of Goshen, Ohio and Ms. Milton were all three charged at the hospital with being drunk in a public place. Dunlap also charged Cutlip with driving while intoxicated and Monday Cutlip was indicted by the Rockcastle grand jury with reckless homicide. Cutlip and Bingham suffered head injuries and were taken to the Lake Cumberland Medical Center in Somerset. Dunlap was not injured.

Accident

Dean Barnes, 40, of Brodhead was slightly injured in a one vehicle accident on Ky 1326, 2 mile west of Mt. Vernon last Saturday evening about 7:15.

According to State Patrolman, Jack Lawless, Barnes reported, that he met another vehicle in a curve, the bright lights blinded him and he lost control causing his car to leave the roadway and go through a fence belonging to Henry Cook of Brodhead. The vehicle came to rest on its right side.

I-75 Accident

A one vehicle accident on I-75, 3/4 mile north of Mt. Vernon sent Everett E. Branscum, 20, of Cincinnati, Ohio, driver of the car, to the hospital Friday, March 13th. According to the State Police report filed by Jack Lawless, Branscum who was traveling south pulled out to pass another vehicle. One of the passengers in the car called out to him that he was pulling into the path of another car. Branscum's reaction was to swerve back in which caused him to lose control and leave the roadway. The car turned over and came to rest on its top. The other two passengers, Everett Branscum, 43 and Roy Branscum, 46, received class 4 injuries.

Vandals Strike

According to Ray Kirby, sometime between 8 and 10 p.m. Friday night, his 1976 Nova had the windshield and back glass broken out. The car was parked in front of the Dinner Bell building at the time the vandalism occurred. Ironically, later that same night, Kirby's home was shot into. Luckily, no one was injured. Kirby is disturbed, to say the least, and is puzzled as to why anyone would want to harass him. He says he knows of no avowed enemies nor to his knowledge has he made anyone angry. He further stated that he and law officers are thoroughly investigating the two incidents.

The Rockcastle County Republican Women's Club held their regular meeting and installation of officers at Jean's Restaurant Monday night, March 16. Mrs. Nancy Mitchell, far left of Corbin, 5th District Governor, installed the following officers:

President, Mrs. Juanita Davis; First Vice President, Mrs. Linda Mullins; Second Vice President, Mrs. Juanita Witt; Secretary, Mrs. Patsy Hopkins; Treasurer, Mrs. Gertrude Hilton; Parliamentarian, Mrs. Sue Cromer.

CVADD to Lose Federal Money

Slashes, chopped, eliminated, abolished, carved, cut-back, reduced, phased-out, dropped, are all words the news media has bombarded us with of late. Nearly every newspaper attempts to guess what, who and how we will all ultimately be affected by President Reagan's efforts to "straighten out" the economy.

Two federal funding agencies which have been on Reagan's "hit lists are the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) and the Economic Development Administration (EDA). ARC was originally set up more than 10 years ago to help develop the intra structure in 13 states which lie in the Appalachian region because the area was economically and culturally underdeveloped. In Kentucky, 49 counties, including Rockcastle, fall within the Commission's bounds.

The economically and culturally underdeveloped and undernourished area was treated by the federal government much like a neglected and ailing child would be attended by a concerned physician. The prescribed treatment included mainly money for upgraded water and sewers, roads, health services, vocational education, governmental services and industrial development as well as technical assistance in these and other areas. The money spent was meant to improve the quality of life in an area of the country which in general was several years behind the less isolated areas.

Health Departments told to Organize Regionally or Lose State Money

Word reached the Rockcastle County Health Department late last week that the unit would lose $6,000 as a result of funding formula change and 25% in addition to that unless they join or become part of district or regional health department.

The Department of Human Resources has been suggesting this proposal for some months now and in some areas of the state attempts have already been made to comply with DHR wishes. This is the first in a possible series of efforts to force local departments to team up. According to Steve Midkiff, spokesman for the Health Department here, a further 25% cut (reducing the state input to 50% of the 1979 budget amount) will follow the first 25% if local departments fail to comply.

Also according to Midkiff, the only alternatives are to cut back the already understaffed health program here or go with the regional set-up. Even if the department goes to regional organization and present staff is kept, they will be losing 11,472 annually. Hopefully in that case, they would be re-evaluated and receive at least the amount lost through the initial funding formula change.

Midkiff says that to his knowledge, there are about 5

Adult Spelling Bee

The Woman's Club of Mt. Vernon is planning an Adult Spelling Bee and they invite anyone 20 years of age and older to enter the contest.

Prizes will be awarded to the first through fifth place winners and the women are challenging the men to win more of the prizes.

The Spelling Bee is planned as an event of April.

Officials Revise PVA Figures

Members of the field staff of the State Department of Revenue recently did an assessment study of Rockcastle's PVA office. Last year when median assessment sales ratios for Rockcastle County showed a percentage far above the 90-100% state recommendation, everyone including Revenue Dept. officials was puzzled.

The study completed last week found the corrected 1980 which all this federal money is strained and funneled is called a development district. There are 15 such districts in Kentucky. Gatliff Craig heads the Cumberland Valley Area Development District (CVADD) sometimes referred to simply as ADD. The London headquarters serves the eight county area which includes Rockcastle,

Appreciation Night For Businessmen

The Rockcastle Improvement Council in conjunction with various civic clubs will be honoring local businessmen at their regular meetings for the next several months.

Honored for the month of March and cordially invited to the Monday night March 23 meeting at 7:30 are the lumber and mill businesses and plumbing, electrical and building contractors.

Final Count

According to the final counts from the U.S. Census Bureau, Kentucky's population has increased by 13.7% in the past 10 years.

In keeping with that Rockcastle's growth rate was 13.6%, up to 13,973 from 12,305 in 1970, an all time low since before the first decade.

In the 10 year period the city of Livingston showed a 1.2 decline in population from 338 to 334. Brodhead's population went down from 789 to 686, a drop of 10.8%. Partly due to some annexation, the city of Mt. Vernon showed a 4.2% increase going from 1,639 in 1970 to 2,334 in 1980.

Crime Rate Up

Like inflation and interest, reported crimes took a jump last year according to the figures released March 11 by State Police Commissioner Marion D. Campbell.

Across the state crimes reported rose 11.3% in 1980 compared with 6.2% increase for 1979.

According to the report, in Rockcastle, murder or non-negligent manslaughter was up 1 over last year, forcible rape was down 2, robbery was up from 9 to 14, aggravated assault up from 17 to 19, burglary was down from 58 to 19, but the total larceny reports were up from 28 to 114 and auto thefts were up from 27 to 68. The total amounted to a 28% increase in Rockcastle in one year.

1981 May Festival Plans

The Mt. Vernon Business and Professional Organization met Thursday to plan this year's May Festival, scheduled for Saturday, May 23.

The festival will be conducted in much the same manner as last year with special invitations again being extended to civic organizations and clubs, businesses and individuals to participate.

This year, as last, Main Street will be blocked off traffic and lined with booths and the courthouse lawn will be the focal point for arts exhibits, sales and demonstrations.

In addition, plans are underway this year to invite local school classes to participate. A "Stomper Pull" sponsored by the Mt. Vernon Business and Professional Organization will be a special feature of the day this year.

More information will be forthcoming.

LIBBY RUPPE, sophomore guard for the girls' team, played an outstanding game last Thursday night in regional action and led the team in scoring with 15 points. The girls lost to Bell County by 10 points and Bell Monday night advanced to the finals by beating a highly touted Whitley County team. In the finals, Bell lost to Clay County 38 to 35.

Girls' Coaches Corner

By Coach Preston Parrett

We played Bell County in the first round of the 13th Regional Tournament and they defeated us 51 to 41. In the first quarter, we outscored them 12 to 10. In the second quarter, Bell outscored us and they were up 27 to 22 at halftime. In the second half, Bell outscored us five points and went on to defeat us 51 to 41. In turnovers we committed 10 and Bell 21. In rebounding Bell pulled down 32 to our 22. Several of these were put back in. Bell also used their height advantage to control jump ball situations. Rebounding and jump balls has been our major weakness all year long. The teams that have defeated us had a superior height advantage which led to our downfall.

In recapping the season, I think that a great deal of appreciation should be given to their gritty, determined group of young players, who have fought hard in every game to overcome great odds. Going into each game, we gave up an average of eight jump balls and eight rebounds before the game ever started; yet these small players played a tough end to end defense that forced numerous turnovers. They are a hard fighting, courageous group of young people and I, for one, appreciate their hustle and desire to win. They are great players. In the Bell County game, we could hit only 13 of 44 shots for 29 percent. Ruppe had 19, Thomason 7, Faulkner 6, Mulberry 9, Bowman 4.

Bell County knocked off Whitley Co., 40 to 39, Monday night and will play Clay Co. for the 13th Region Crown Tuesday night. Whitley Co. had been ranked in the top ten all year long and had been heavily favored to win the 13th Region.

In closing, I would like to thank all of those who supported us throughout the season and through the tournaments. We appreciate your support and deeply regret that we could not win. To our two Senior girls, Sandy Clark and Donna Faulkner, the team and coaches appreciate your leadership and wish you well as you graduate and tackle the obstacles of life. We know that you will be winners. We thank for sharing your friendship and winning personalities with us.

Boyle Co. Tourney

7th and 8th graders from each county elementary school have been working hard at RCHS in preparation for upcoming tournament play at Boyle Co. High School.

Some 25 7th and 8th graders have been participating in the workouts conducted by Head Coach Roscoe Denney. Rockcastle Co. will be represented with two teams in the tournament. Players from each school have been combined in forming the two squads.

Our teams will play next Wednesday night at 6:30 p.m. vs. Danville Bate Middle School and on Thursday night against Boyle Co. Elementary.

Much assistance has been provided by Gary Scott, Jerry Pensol, Nelson Graves and Garland Vanhook.

Boys' Coaches Corner

By: Coach Roscoe Denney

The boys' 13th Regional Tournament was held last week at Knox Central High School in Barbourville. There were some very interesting and exciting games, but the final result was basically the same, Clay Co. Tigers-Regional Champs, 1981. The team from Manchester claimed their eighth regional title in the past ten years by defeating Cawood by a very close 72-68 score. The only team other than Clay Co. to represent Sweet Sixteen within the past decade has been Bell Co. High School. The Bobcats won the title last season by defeating Harlan 71-69 and previously were champs in 1975, both times under the direction of Coach Harold Combs. Locally, Clay Co. has been under the superior tutelage of the legendary Bobby Keith in their past eight championship years. Only once have they advanced beyond the quarter finals in state tournament play, but we believe this to be the best team to represent Clay Co. in the Sweet Sixteen. One thing is for certain—they are under the on-court leadership of eve of the finest point guards that I have seen in high school basketball in quite some time in the person of Russell Corum.

Owensboro will be making a record 31st appearance and for the first time in 94 years the Devils will not be under the guidance of Bobby Watson.

In the 10th Region final Mason Co. defeated Clark Co., 61-52 to make their first trip ever down state after five previous misses in the final game of the region.

In the Fourth Region final small Gamabel made a strong bid to advance to the 64th Boys State Tournament but fell two points shy bowing to strong Allen Co.-Scottsville, 41-39. Also in the First Region championship game Mayfield defeated another Cinderella team, Lowes by a score of 51-47.

This year's tournament appears to be a classic and unless something extraordinary takes place, which is always a possibility, Bryan Station will take home the big trophy on Saturday night.

Fishing Report

Cool nights and cold rains have dampened Kentucky's spring fishing season, but there is some good fishing to be found, and even better prospects are just around the corner. The lake-by-lake rundown, as reported by the Kentucky Dept. Fish and Wildlife Resources follows:

Kentucky: black bass are good with crankbaits along the shorelines and off the gravel points; crappie are fair to good in 10-12 foot waters in the main lake and fair in the tailwaters along the banks where they are being taken with jigs; catfish are good in the tailwaters; clear, stable at one foot above winter pool, 47 degrees.

Barley: crappie are good in 12-15 feet of water over drop offs and submerged cover, with minnows; clear to murky, slowly rising at one foot above winter pool, 47 degrees.

Nolin: black bass are fair to good with crankbaits along shallow, stumpy points and dropoffs; crappie are fair in the headwaters in ten feet of water (cont. to 12)

THERE'S GOLD IN THEM BASKETBALL HILLS
LEXINGTON — The Southeastern Conference tournament meant a lot of money to the teams this year. No, I'm not talking about approximately $60,000 each team will get from the tournament itself but of the potential dollars created when the SEC sent four teams to the NCAA tournament.

Mississippi was invited to the NCAA for only one reason. It won the SEC tournament, which automatically qualified the Rebels for the post-season classic. Mississippi's win at Birmingham allowed it to join LSU, Kentucky and Tennessee in the NCAA's first round and that put approximately $280,000 in the conference's bank account to divide among the 10 member teams.

The NCAA field has dwindled down from the 48 teams that started the big show to only 16 teams. That will be reduced to four this weekend as they stage the regionals. The four survivors will meet in Philadelphia for the semifinals and the finals. The paydays get bigger as the teams advance.

Each team that participates in a regional this week will take home about $220,000. Each of the Final Four teams will get around $360,000. The four teams that go to Philly will pocket a total of about $670,000.

Teams in the NCAA tournament aren't playing just for glory, they're playing for big bucks. And you ain't seen nothin' yet. David Cawood of the NCAA office says there will be a whopping increase in the payoff next year.

"We'll get an increase of over $4 million in TV revenue," Cawood says "because of the switch from NBC to CBS next year. We're playing the finals in the Superdome in New Orleans and we expect to sell out the arena. They're arranging for 62,000 seats for the finals and we think ticket sales for the Final Four will be over a million dollars."

There's great prestige playing in the NCAA tournament. Winning it is college basketball's highest honor. There's gold in them thar hills too.

Opening a simplified pension plan before April 15th may give you and your employees a 1980 tax break.

APRIL 15 IS THE DEADLINE FOR OPENING OR ADDING TO YOUR SEP AND DEDUCTING THIS CONTRIBUTION ON YOUR 1980 TAX RETURN. Now's the time to investigate a Simplified Employee Pension Plan, because SEP is ideal for many types of businesses.

THE ADVANTAGE OF SEP IS FLEXIBILITY. With SEP an employer may contribute into each participant's account any amount each year up to the lesser of $7500 or 15% of salary. A self-employed person may contribute up to the lesser of $7500 or 15% of earned income. The employer decides each year whether to make any contribution, and, if so, what percentage.

The SEP may even be integrated with Social Security.

FURTHERMORE, THE SEP IS SIMPLE. The SEP is easy to establish and entails less reporting and disclosure than typical Employer-maintained plans.

EVOLUTION AND CREATION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Recently in the news we were told of a suit filed in a Sacramento, California court objecting to the theory of evolution being taught in the schools without presenting arguments for Divine creation as an alternative interpretation. Although this is not the first legal battle on the subject, it has arrested nationwide interest. Even our President, Ronald Reagan, has spoken out on the issue.

That our children in public schools are being drenched with the theory of evolution, no one can successfully deny. A friend of mine, who teaches in the Anderson, S.C. public schools, said, "I had opportunity to talk from time to time with the majority of teachers. Out of the more than fifty teachers in that school, I found one who was not an evolutionist."

Personally, I am opposed to religion being taught in public schools. It is not the constitutional responsibility of the schools. Rather, public schools are chartered to teach secular subjects. If the Bible could be legally taught in public schools, we would expect the some 1,200 different religious bodis to demand that their own views of the Bible be taught, resulting in mass confusion!

Conversely, we also oppose the teaching of evolution in public schools on the basis that it is THEORY and not a FACT. It is being taught as FACT in most levels of secular education, and if our children take issue with the teachers, they are often given failing grades or embarrassed by such teachers. In a college classroom at Kansas State College in Pittsburg, Kansas, two young ladies began to question the evolutionary teaching of the Botany professor. Because some of the questions proved difficult for him to answer, other students also opposed his teaching. The professor tired of attempting to answer questions which denied the theory of evolution, so, one day he said, "All right, everyone in this class who does not believe in evolution, stand up." The two young ladies stood up. Both were excellent students, but both failed the botany course.

Evolution is taught under the guise of "Science". However, in order for a thing to be scientific, it must have been proven and be provable. Science is knowledge, not guess work! Evolution simply does not fit into the field of science. Therefore, since evolution is THEORY and not FACT, if it is taught in public schools, then I believe the creation account of man's origin should also be taught (See Genesis 1:1), then let the students decide which is more reasonable. What do you think?

Make sure they're safe

Kids and kites are a natural this time of year. But the excitement of watching a kite dance in the wind may blot out the idea of potential danger.

Make sure your children know these important safety tips:

- Always use wood, paper and dry string in the kite.
- Use a power line and antenna.
- Never fly a kite on rainy days.
- Avoid busy streets and highways.
- Keep away from tall wires.
- Call "K" if your kite gets snagged in a power line. Don't pull the string or climb power poles to loosen it.

Lairfel, Bell, Knox, Whitley, Harlan, Clay and Jackson.
Craig attended congressional hearings in Washington last week along with Governor Brown and others from the Appalachian Area districts who were trying to convince leaders to retain ARC at least in part. He returned with some optimism. EDA, the other major source of federal funds, seemingly has less chance of surviving and ARC. The thought is that if ARC is only partially cut, it will help some of the ADD's stay afloat for the next year and a half, allowing for time the promised "block grants" to get in place.

According to Craig approximately 70% of the funding for CVADD is federal money, 23 or 24% comes from the state and the rest is generated locally.

In Rockcastle County, the Harry Sparks Vocational School, the Western Rockcastle Water District Project, the Northern Rockcastle Water District extension, the industrial site improvements and the Brothead Fairgrounds purchase and improvements have been the major federal projects approved through CVADD.

According to Craig, there are two potential projects which may be jeopardized by the funding cuts. The planned rail spur for the industrial park and the extension of the Western Water District may have to be put on the back burner until an alternative funding source is forthcoming.

The 1980 Census shows a 13.2% growth rate for Rockcastle County and an average of a 22.2% growth rate for the 8 counties within the development district. Rockcastle grew until it reached a peak population in 1940 of 17,165. Then next 30 years, statistics show a sharp decline in population until 1970 when the census figures showed 12,305, a population of 2,000 less than in 1910. The 1980 figure of 13,929 for Rockcastle represents an upswing brought about by economic growth which will not be seriously affected by the withdrawal of development funds.

education, health care, aid to the elderly and indigent, environmental protection, law enforcement and roads are funded, before making expenditures for aircraft, travel, development, tourism, capital construction and the duplication of state services.

The revenue shortfall in the state budget has been estimated to be anywhere from $112 million to $200 million. It should be noted, this is the same executive administration that forecasted enough state revenue to recommend a $9.7 billion biennial budget.

Further, the state will have eleven percent more general fund revenues in fiscal year 1981-82 than was expanded in 1980-81. It should appear that any good businessman with an eleven percent increase could operate efficiently without curtailing vital services.

The executive administration has gone so far as to blame the budgetary shortfall on the tax-reducing enactments of the 1979 Special Session. Of course, they fail to mention that they had full knowledge of these ramifications when they recommended a $9.7 billion biennial budget.

Also, this executive administration is estimating that President Reagan's proposals could reduce federal funds for Kentucky anywhere from $43 million to $580 million. However, these are only estimates of proposals, the U.S. Congress will be left to agree upon a final disposition.

Speculation has spread fast and furious that if taxes aren't raised, funding for education and health care will be reduced. This is one of the oldest tricks in the book, create a scare to generate public support for a tax increase. It can also be referred to as the easy way out.

Another rumor among legislators is that the governor will call a special session to reduce the budget. The only thing that can be said for this is that a special session would be very costly and unnecessary considering the statutory power at lower Kentucky's chief executive.

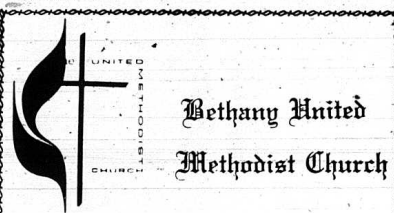

There is yet another speculation being offered, it suggests that the executive administration is creating a problem so they can solve it. Apparently, this is exactly what has occurred. It seems appropriate now to mention that the House Republican Caucus questioned the $9.7 billion biennial budget 14 months ago, simply because it was too extravagant.

Finally, for the last 7 months, Republican legislators have been saying that budget cuts should be instituted immediately and we have suggested areas where the budget could be reached.

Statistics supplied by the Department of Finance indicate that in Fiscal Year 1979-80, District Court costs in Lincoln County were $109,018 in revenue collected and $184,471 in expenditures for a deficit of $75,453. Rockcastle County court costs were $140,463 in revenue collected and $180,695 in expenditures for a deficit of $20,235. Pulaski County court costs were $470,065 in revenue collected and $413,037 in expenditures for an excess of $57,928.

TURNING POINT

Several years after our graduation, a friend from my rowdy college days was commenting on the change Christ had made in my life.

"I expect you even have a 'Honk-if-You-Love-Jesus' bumper sticker on your car," he said.

We both laughed at that, for the remark was not meant to be derisive. But later I began to think about what he had said. When you get right down to it, the change that Jesus makes in a life could never be summed up in a bumper sticker. It is too all-encompassing a transformation ever to be confined to a phrase on the bumper on a car or the front of a T-shirt. Those can never really do justice to the impact of a conversion experience.

Salvation is an awesome milestone. No wonder hymn writers liken it to unseeing eyes gaining sight or to finding the way after a time of fruitless wandering. Being "in Christ" gives us an entirely new way of looking at life.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Can people see the Christ-change in me?

EKUPRESENTS: Home Energy Savings

Home weatherization is a process that plays an important role for the homeowner who is serious about conserving energy. It is one of the wisest monetary investments a person can make.

Because of rising fuel costs, money invested in home weatherization will likely pay higher returns than some other investments. And it will continue to do so. At current fuel prices, the recommended improvements will more than pay for themselves during the life of the house.

The biggest energy waster in the home is the home itself. About two-thirds of the energy used in most homes is for heating and cooling. It is safe to say that hundreds of heating and cooling dollars are leaking out through ill-fitting windows, tiny cracks and holes, and poorly insulated ceilings, walls and doors.

To help focus your energy conservation efforts, it might be well to examine the areas in which the greatest dollar savings can be realized. The distribution of heat loss in a typical home is broken down in six areas. Infiltration accounts for 35% of heat loss, whereas doors and windows account for 18%, floors and basement walls 17%, walls 13%, ceilings 10% and box sills 7%. The percentage of loss attributed to each area will be reduced as improvements are made.

As you can see, infiltration is the single largest factor in heat loss. It is also the most difficult to predict, because of differences in building construction and the way the wind breaks against the home. Heat loss due to infiltration through walls and foundation openings can be corrected by caulking weatherstripping around doors and windows can help reduce infiltration up to 20 percent. Also planting evergreens close to one another upwind from the dwelling may reduce infiltration up to 40% and heat loss by 10 to 15%.

The steps that you take in winterizing your home will also help reduce summer-time fuel consumption. A well-insulated home not only holds in heat during the winter months, but it also helps retain the coolness during the summertime. It pays to invest in winterizing your home because the dividends are year round.

Know The Arthritis Warning Signals

It's America's number one crippling. It affects more than 31 million Americans, and every 33 seconds someone else becomes a victim. The disease: arthritis. Arthritis literally means "inflammation of a joint" and is the name for close to 100 different conditions that cause swelling, aches and pains in the joints and connective tissues throughout the body, according to Dr. Frederic C. McDuffie, senior vice-president for medical affairs for the Arthritis Foundation.

Arthritis can and does occur at all ages, from infancy to old age. It does not occur suddenly, however. It's a progressive disease, and there are warning signs that let you know it's developing.

The Arthritis Foundation provides this list of warning signals:

- Persistent pain and stiffness on waking.
- Pain, tenderness, or swelling in one or more joints.
- Recurrence of these symptoms, especially when they involve more than one joint.
- Recurrent or persistent pain and stiffness in the neck, low back, knees and other joints.

Letters Back Home

By Nancy Mullins

(Stories sometimes trickie down to us from the Civil War years and they are usually very interesting, but lately I was loaned 3 old letters written during those years. They are full of first hand facts and emotions. All are from and to people of Rockcastle County.

One thing that impressed me after reading the letters was that we may think that we have problems today, but they don't compare to some of the rough times of the past.)

Frankfort, Ky. May 19, 1861

Dear Brack,
(Brack Graves who lived in Mt. Vernon with his wife, Carrie)

You requested to be advised of our acts and doings, if

MT. VERNON SIGNAL THURSDAY, MARCH 19, 1981 P. 5

We did not adjourn on Monday and in compliance with that request, I will say to you that I almost hate to do it, from the fact that I have nothing but bad news to write, and you might think me an alarmist rather than otherwise. Everything is undergoing so many changes here that whatever is true today may be reversed tomorrow. We had a gloom thrown over us yesterday by some of our men voting with the secessionists. They carried their points to our great disappointment. We only had two majority in the House and whenever one votes on the other side it defeats all of our affirmative propositions and when they get two votes from our ranks, they carry their point as they did yesterday. There are 4 absentees in the House, three are secessionists, one Union. They are making a desperate effort to get their friends all in this week. If they do, the House is gone and our only hope is the Senate which has only two majority and yesterday while they were all at work upon a military bill, old man Wait, not noticing, voted with the secessionists (through a mistake he said), which gave them a partial victory for the time, and so disconcerted the Union party that they had to adjourn to fix up a different program for future action. It almost unnerved the Union party in the Senate, at a time too when a bauble was almost death. If the people only knew the responsibility resting upon such a position they would almost certainly select active energetic and sensible men to the Senate. Our strong hope is in the Senate, still we will contest every inch of ground in the House, and show them no more favors than we possibly can help. Whenever we can place right upon the record and get a majority we will certainly adjourn for every day we stay here now, we are jeopardizing Kentucky, for everything is brought to bear that can be possibly done, and some of our Union men are getting too weak in the knees for our comfort and might by a turn throw it into secession by a legislative act, while they would not so readily undertake it otherwise. Our moves in the House are very much like a game of chess, every move is warmly contested. We have been getting the better of them until yesterday they changed it, but we will make a desperate effort tomorrow to get the advantage we lost yesterday. How we'll succeed is uncertain.

You asked if we should not ask Mr. Breckinridge to resign according to our rule that was adopted in private caucus. We concluded not to introduce a thing of the kind without being successful. It is understood that the governor will send in his veto to the stag law tomorrow, we have reliable information that it is hard to keep down bread riots in Louisville and Covington. John W. Fleming and others in Covington offer their residences rent free to any good citizen who will take care of the property. There is to be a meeting of the first congressional district in Mayfield, Graves County, composed of delegates from the district for the purpose of calling a convention, to take action in forming a military league with Tennessee, provided Ky. does not secede from the Union. Every since the Legislature met this last time we have had a crowd here from the southern part of the state and from Tenn. bragging that if we did not make a sufficient appropriation that they would furnish with arms from the South, and on their own individual responsibility, they had agents down there making secret contracts and arrangements which aroused the Union men here and they went to work in earnest and in secret and at this time, even, there is a "good gun for every good Union man" in Mason, Lewis, Garrard and Jefferson and other counties, which arrived yesterday evening from some friends connected with the administration and we can all get as many as is necessary from that source so we understand from our friends. The department informed us that we can have as many arms as we want to protect our property from insurrectionary mobs. This does not look like the administration wishes to deprive us of our property when they will furnish us arms to protect it. The arrival yesterday evening of 2900 guns in Mason County which was immediately distributed we understand sent a sensation chill over the secessionists here. They are becoming alarmed at it, they fear a defeat at their own game. James T. Bates and Senator Barnes of Barron County have gone over to the secessionists.

The military bill if one is passed won't amount to anything the way the Senate will fix it, there is no use to increase our taxes when the Government is sending us such quantities. The Administration says since they have seen our Union vote that we shall not be coerced into the Southern States against our will. Neighter does he want us to furnish any more troops than is necessary to keep down insurrection at home, doesn't want troops to leave our own soil. There are secessionists here who

to the Voters of Rockcastle County

Property Valuation Administrator is a constitutional office elected by the people of Rockcastle County, directed and paid for from state funds.

All classes of Real, Tangible and Personal Property shall be assessed at 100% or Fair Cash Value.

You have paid less tax each year I have been your Property Valuation Administrator, with the exception of last year when I was directed by the State to reassess property, bringing it to fair cash value, which has been done.

I ask each of you to check your assessment. Then ask yourself, "Is my property fairly assessed by Robert Cromer?" I believe your answer will have to be YES. So I am asking each of you for your vote and support in the Republican Primary, Tuesday, May 26, 1981.

I will be ever grateful.

Your Friend,

Robert Cromer

READING

"Love-To-Read" Day was originally scheduled for Friday, February 13th at Livingston Elementary, but due to snow was held on Friday, February 27th. The whole day's events were geared around the theme "Love To Read."

The faculty and students came to school dressed as their favorite book character. A parade was held in the school gymnasium with each grade introducing their characters. Over 150 book characters were represented.

A Reading Contest was also held with all the students participating. Each student was asked to complete the sentence, "Reading is as much fun as..." Ten winners were selected from each homeroom as finalists in the contest. Monetary prizes were awarded—$5 went to the first place winners, with $3 and $2 going to the second and third place winners. K-3 winners were: 1st place, Earline Sparks, 3rd grade; 2nd place, Lisa Griffin, 3rd grade; 3rd place, Natasha Hubbard, 1st grade. 4-8 winners were: 1st place, Joe Powell, 5th grade; 2nd place, Jeanne Griffin, 5th grade; 3rd place, Kevin Wilson, 6th grade.

You may not be surprised to see me at any time at home for we will return as soon as we can, that is Mr. feelings now. They may change in a day or two. on your... and Jacob for seventy dollars... store room. This I do have.

This... produced by the everlasting nigger is operating very severely on our section. Business is as a deadlock with us. Money is out of the question here. Corn is legal tender with us. Could I get your prices for what corn I have. It would make me enough in one small speculation. I have 200 sacks ready to ship to our fine eating Southern friends as soon as navigation opens. We buy it cribbed at 15 in cash, 18 in rags, but for the unfortunate election of Old Abe we would have made a nice thing of it. As it is, if we can come out so so, we may be satisfied. If this however were the only live result of that event, I would so Amen to it, but I fear other and far more serious results are to follow from it. Already we have one section of our country alienated, her veneration for one boasted free and happy constitution. The country is supplanted by her dread of increased aggression, her rights by a dominant fanatic party just on the eve of entering into peace and power. A party election upon no other than opposition to slavery, a party more distinguished characteristics is a great sympathy for the Southern Negro, but an utter disregard for the good and comfort of the poor Northern laborer. I hope our troubles may be soothed with, out threat of dissolution, which would increase the grievances, you complain of ten fold. I have no disposition to reside in a foreign country from that of my birth. Troops are in our way, enroute to Baltimore to deter Virginia and Mass. from offering resistance to Abraham's inauguration, but enough of this, our country healthy, my health good, my weight 190 lbs. My love, friend.

Yours truly,
J.C. Williams

SECOND SECTION

HOME CROWD—Sixth District Congressman Larry J. Hopkins, R-KY, was visited Feb. 25 by members of the 1981 Kentucky Farm Bureau

Washington Dateline

By Cong. Hal Rogers

It has now been ten weeks since I was sworn in as your Congressman, and a lot has happened in that time.

I couldn't begin to bring you totally up-to-date on all that has gone on in these last two and one half months, but I do want you to know that I and my staff are here to serve you.

I want everyone in Kentucky's Fifth Congressional District to understand that my office in Washington and my district office in Somerset are not "my" offices. They don't belong to Hal Rogers; they belong to you, the taxpayers and voters of the Fifth District. This is important because it means that my staff and I work for you and we will do all we can to make sure that the people of Southcentral and Southeast Kentucky get a fair shake in Washington.

I guess the key word here is "representative." My job as a United States Representative is to see that your interests and concerns are presented to the policy makers of Washington—both to Congress and to the Reagan Administration. I plan to do exactly what I fight for the quality of life that we have come to love as Kentuckians.

I must mention two important things that happened in the first weeks of being a Congressman because they are important in my job of representing Kentucky.

First, I was elected by my freshman colleagues to represent them on the Republican Executive Committee on Committees. This is the body which hands out committee assignments to the members. I made a lot of friends amongst freshman and veteran Congressmen alike because I was able to place them in committee slots where they in turn can serve their constituents. This is valuable to Kentuckians because when it comes time to round up support for programs important to the Fifth District, I have many strong allies to call on.

Another benefit from my work on the Executive Committee is that I am in continual contact with the GOP leadership.

The personal and professional relationships I have built with people like Minority Leader Bob Michel of Illinois, GOP Conference Chairman Jamp Kemp of New York, Republican Whip Trent Lott of Mississippi, and Republican Policy Committee Chairman Dick Cheney from Wyoming are invaluable. These men are the ones who can make things happen in Congress and having a working relationship with these Congressmen will be of great value to me in my job of representing you.

Second, I was appointed to the coveted House Energy and Commerce Committee. Over forty other Congressmen wanted to get on this committee, so I was fortunate to land this very key position.

This committee is important to Kentucky because it deals with America's energy policy and may very well determine how much coal is mined and used nationwide for heating and lighting our homes and businesses.

The Commerce Committee is also important because it impacts on the tourism industry which will become more and more important to the Fifth District economy as the Big South Fork Recreation Area is developed and as the many other parks and lakes in our area attract hunters and vacationers. This is one reason why I am a member of the Congressional Travel and Tourism Caucus.

Without going into unnecessary detail, let me just say that my position on the Energy and Commerce Committee can make a difference on what happens to the cost of home heating oil, jobs for our coal miners, and industrial development in Kentucky to take new jobs.

This is an exciting time to be your Congressman. With the election of President Reagan, there will be many changes and new directions in how our great nation grows and recovers from the effects of over-regulation and too much government spending.

COUNTY ATTORNEY

Rockcastle County

Ladies and Gentlemen, my name is Jim Lambert and I'm running for County Attorney of Rockcastle County.

As I have never run for public office before, I wanted to take this opportunity to introduce myself and ask for your support.

I'm 38 years old and a life-long resident of Rockcastle County. My parents, James W. and Ruth Lambert, are natives of this county also, as were their parents. I have a 13-year-old daughter, Lora Lee Lambert, who is in the 7th grade.

I'm a lawyer and have been practicing law in Mt. Vernon for the past 5 years. If you elect me as your County Attorney, I will do you the best job I know how.

I am sure you realize that this is a big county and I won't be able to see everyone...but I want to see as many of you as I can. But if I don't see you, please know that I want your friendship and support, too.

Sound Eating Habits, Not "Special" Diets for Lasting Results

Weight reducing aids and regimens continue to be one of the more controversial nutrition issues. Each month is a good time to shed light on some of these gimmicks.

One product still promoted as a weight reducing aid by some clinics is a hormone called an chorionic gonadotropin or HCG. The usual practice in these weight reducing clinics is for the patient to be placed on a 500-Calorie per day diet and receive a daily injection of HCG. Promoters of the treatment say patients receiving the hormone are less hungry, feel better and thus are more likely to stay on the treatment. Some even go as far as suggesting the treatments promote weight loss.

"These clinics have been vigorously denounced by the American Medical Association on the grounds that there is little or no scientific evidence to support these claims. The treatments are very expensive, usually running about $15 per daily injection for an average period of 36 days.

In 1974 the Food and Drug Administration evaluated these claims and concluded that the hormone has no usefulness in the treatment of obesity. The FDA now requires that the labeling and advertising for all HCG preparations carry a statement to this effect.

These clinics have been vigorously denounced by the American Medical Association on the grounds that there is little or no scientific evidence to support these claims. The treatments are very expensive, usually running about $15 per daily injection for an average period of 36 days.

In 1974 the Food and Drug Administration evaluated these claims and concluded that the hormone has no usefulness in the treatment of obesity. The FDA now requires that the labeling and advertising for all HCG preparations carry a statement to this effect.

Another diet currently being promoted involves lecitithin, cider, vinegar and pyridoxine or vitamin B6, combined with 1,000 calorie daily diet. Kelp, lecitithin, and cider vinegar have no value in weight reduction, but adherence to 1,000 Calories will result in weight loss.

Lecithin is valuable in food preparation as an emulsifying agent. Egg yolks are especially high in lecitithin, hence their use in dispersing or emulsifying fat in products, such as cakes and mayonnaise.

Lecithin is made in the body in large amounts and is an important constituent of phospholipids, which are involved in fat transport. This had led food faddists to proclaim that lecitithin has magical properties for promoting weight loss since it will supposedly aid in mobilizing fat. Although the theory sounds good, there is no scientific evidence to back it up. Several products that use a high protein product to facilitate weight reduction are also on the market. Prolin is one example. This and other high protein products promote a very rapid body weight loss, most of which is water. They are potentially dangerous, since like all low-carbohydrate diets, they can produce an abnormal state of metabolism called ketosis. Moreover, these products don't teach sound eating habits and are therefore unlikely to produce lasting effects.

These preparations are very profitable since they usually consist of a cheap protein source combined in most cases with inexpensive vitamins. Unfortunately, the price tag of these preparations does not often reflect this.

According to specialists in foods and nutrition, the best means of losing weight is still a regimen that includes reduced calories and increased exercise, under the supervision of a physician and dietitian. For more information on sensible and sound approaches to weight control, the public can contact the local county Extension Office.

Daddy! When you were called, My precious father, I couldn't believe it was true, But I thank God everyday for a Father as dear as you, Your smile so sweet, I always weep, I can almost hear you say, Don't worry my child, I'm resting now, My work on earth is done, It's been just like a contest, Be happy that I won, The love we shared together, Are the memories we hold dear, All the happiness you gave us, Father, We will keep forever near.

Time is one of the most important things a parent can share with their child. It's time to "train" or discipline a child, time to "listen" to what a child is saying and time to show affection. These are points that Bart Ashley, Extension Specialist, Kentucky State University made to a group of parents in a Cooperative Extension Service Workshop last week. A second program, scheduled for Thursday, March 19 at 7 p.m. at the PCA Building will include a discussion on discipline methods and techniques in listening. Anyone interested is welcome to attend. Shown are, from left are: Mr. Ashley, Alma Kendrick, Mary Wilson and Don Shackelford.
