Judge McGuire to Appoint Trial Commissioner After the Election

Judge Walter F. McGuire said in a telephone interview Tuesday that as district judge it is his job to appoint a trial commissioner to replace Robert Robinson who was forced to resign when he became a candidate in the upcoming primary.

McGuire stated that he had been contacted by several people in the county who are interested in the position, however, he said that in all fairness to everyone and in order to give equal consideration and chance to everyone who is qualified and interested that the position will not be filled until after the election. He said that it is responsibility to try to seek a lawyer to fill the position first and if that proves unsuccessful, then he must choose the best qualified.

Judge McGuire further stated that some residents had voiced concern that in the absence of a trial commissioner that matters of immediate concern might not be taken care of. He said that he would like to

School Board Re-employs Personnel with the Exception of First Year Teachers

The school board voted Tuesday night to re-employ all certified personnel for 1981-82 except first year teachers. These teachers will be employed later if needed. According to school superintendent Charles Parsons, budget cuts and a decline in enrollment will cause the loss of some classroom units and thus cause some teacher not to be rehired unless there is a sufficient number of teachers who choose to retire this year.

The board also approved unused sick leave law as passed by the state legislature. The law states that a district's education may compensate a teacher at the time of retirement for unused sick leave days at a rate based upon a percentage of the teacher's last annual salary, not to exceed 30%. Payment for unused sick leave days shall be incorporated into the annual salary of the final year of service. According to Parsons the cost of this program should be offset by the use of fewer substitute teachers since there would be given incentive to accumulate sick leave days (10 per year) toward retirement.

The revised school calendar was accepted with the last day of school being May 26. Teachers will have a professional day Monday, May 25.

Sealed bids were opened to replace the roof on the remaining portion of the high school building not having already been reroofed. Six bids were submitted with Oak Ridge Roofing Company of Knoxville, Tennessee being awarded the contract after the low bid of $33,289.

Fiscal Court Allows Health Department to Merge with District

The Fiscal Court adopted a resolution at the request of County Health Board Chairman, Jerry Cox, to allow the county health department to join a district health department.

Cox told the court of the threatened one-third state funding cut to the local body if it does not comply. Magistrate Frank Deborde asked about hiring procedure in future job vacancies. He was assured that the local health board would still operate as is, that the county would have three representatives on the district board and that hiring procedures would remain unchanged.

Several county residents attended the meeting Thursday morning to protest the condition of the Bowling Ridge Road which a spokesman for the group said is so bad it is dangerous for the school bus to travel.

Bowling Ridge Road follows West Street out of Brodhead. Judge Executive Hubert Thacker said that the road would be fixed when then could.

Williametta Cromer asked that the court write and request the state to put up railroad crossings near Thrifty Lumber Co., the industrial park and at Mullins' Station. The court did.

Hit and Run

Two passengers, Frances Gabbard, 20 of Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon and Janice Ingram, 17, of Rt. 3, Berea, received slight injuries when the car in which they were riding was struck by a hit-and-run driver.

Juvenile Hearings

According to District Judge Walter F. McGuire, two days of hearings have been conducted to determine whether or not two Rockcastle Co. juveniles, arrested and held in connection with an early Sunday morning, March 29 incident involving four Pulaski County youths, will be tried as adults. The two juveniles were reportedly companions of Clarence Kirby of Chestnut Ridge who has been indicted on several charges stemming from the incident.

Kirby is being held on $250,000 cash bond. Bond for the juveniles was set at $100,000 (property).

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mrs. Mullins,
 Love your column each week, especially the older one you do on the early days of Rockcastle.

Would like for you to do some more, on the early settlers of Rockcastle County.

Here is a brief history of Rockcastle County:
 Rockcastle County lies in the foothills of the Cumberland Mountains. It was formed in 1810 as the 32nd county in Kentucky, was formed from part of Lincoln, Pulaski, Madison and Knox counties.

In 1767 Isaac Lindsey, a pioneer hunter, found a creek which he observed closely, which he said looked like an ancient castle. The river which flowed nearby was named Rock Castle River. The rock he called Castle Rock. Years later the county received the name Rock castle County.

The county seat was called The Mount, incorporated in 1817, the town was changed to Mt. Vernon in honor of George Washington Potomac home.

Rockcastle County played an important part in the Civil War. It was the center of main trails both the North and the South.

Salt-petre was mined here as a source for gunpowder production from 1797 through the Civil War.

Many pioneers are buried in the Renfro Valley Cemetery and several are Col. William Fish, owner of original Renfro Valley home; Ann Logan, wife of Col. Fish and daughter of Nathaniel Logan; William Hayes, Indian fighter and ancestor of Capt. Jack Hayes and Resaline Hayes.

I would love to know what the hold up is on Mr. Lair's book. Also in 1964, the Signal published a story, it was called the Hanging Tree or some such name. It marked the 100 anniversary of the Civil War. I would love to see this story reproduced. It was the front page copy that week. It may be 1963, I'm not sure of the date but sure do remember the story.

Best wishes,
 Lynda Foster

Dear Editor:

My husband, Eugene Senters, is a candidate for Sheriff of Rockcastle County.

Someone started the rumor that my son, Larry Senters and myself were going to be his deputies. This is not true. Larry has a job and he is not going to be a Deputy Sheriff. I am on lay-off from Parkers School, and I am not going to be a Deputy Sheriff. His deputies will be hired, through job applications if he is elected to be your Sheriff. I might work in the Sheriff's office as a clerk or bookkeeper. I've not made any decision at this time.

I will say, that if Parker Seal calls me back to work, I will not be leaving their employment, for a four year job in the Sheriff's office. I've told my husband that I will help him in any way that I can, so that he can serve the citizens of this county to the best of his ability. The person, that started this rumor, to you I can only say, that I am sorry to disappoint you. I am not going to be a Deputy Sheriff.

 Have you noticed lately how store clerks, hospital nurses, dental assistants, secretaries and doctors' nurses are wearing pant suits. It's no doubt a throwback to my early days as a secretary when the uniform was a neat dress or skirt and always stockings and high heels. I'll have to admit I don't like them but I have a tendency to change to fads after they aren't the "thing" any longer...

To The Voters of Rockcastle County

I appreciate the encouragement and support I have received from the people throughout the county.

Listed below are some of the commitments that I have made. These commitments are not campaign promises to be broken, "The Day After Election."

I fully intend to keep these obligations.

#1. I will have a concerned citizen from each district "Deputized" to assist us with enforcing the law in each community. Next week's Signal will contain a partial list.

#2. I will have someone on call 7 days a week, 24 hours a day.

#3. One of my Deputies or I will check out each and every complaint that we receive.

#4. The roads of our county will be patrolled.

"Our actions shall prove our words true." The people who know me "know" that I am "Honest" and "Trustworthy."

I invite anyone to feel free to talk to me and offer any advice or suggestions that will improve your County Sheriff's Dept. I believe the Sheriff's Dept., with the help of the people, can make Rockcastle County a better place to live and raise our children.

From the Depths of My Heart, I Sincerely ask you, the voters, for your support and votes.

The last report that the children received about their uncle Burches Stokes was that he was back in the hospital in Ohio. We are hoping for good news soon that he is improving in health and will be able to return home.

Mrs. Leanna Nicely received word that her sister, Mrs. Maude and Mr. Bill Griffin in Georgia are in very ill health.

Mrs. Florence Vaught of Science Hill was the recent visitor of her aunt, Mrs. Sallie Cummins during the latter's confinement from a fall.

Bro. Ernie L. Johnson accepted the pastorate at the Christian Church in Pikeville, the first of this year. We regret to lose this fine family from our town, Mt. Vernon and from the First Christian Church, where he was minister for several years. Mrs. Johnson's (Ruth) parents have been in poor health for some time and in their new location, is nearer and she can be with them more often.

Bro. Jerry Perry is the new minister at the First Christian Church in Mt. Vernon. He and his family moved to the parsonage on Williams Street last month, from Stanford where he was pastor of the Mt. Moriah Christian Church. We heartily welcome the Perry's to our vicinity.

Here are a few of the many items I've clipped from the Signal recently. Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Roberts announcing the engagement of their daughter, Connie to Richard Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Graham.

There was an excellent article that Leigh Anne Hiatt wrote of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hiatt's 60th Wedding Anniversary.

Recently looking over some back issues of the Signal I ran across the page of the continuation of Mr. Ed Johnson's obituary. I would see he and his wife, Irene real often when she would visit the late Mr. Willis Johnson. And in recent years, they would stop to see Mrs. Dorothy French at home; Evelyn Sue and Mr. and Mrs. U.G. Ramsey in Mt. Vernon enroute home. "Uncle" Willis who himself was a successful farmer loved to talk about his farm in Ohio, which was one of the best in the USA, and he really knew how to manage the sale for good production, he said. The article in the Signal stated that Mr. Ed Johnson respected the law of nature and had a deep appreciation for the good earth and its abundance. We can see why the Twenty-Third Psalm meant so much to him and Irene. True loving sympathy goes out to his family, the many relatives and friends in his passing.

ELECT Harvey Pensol

FOR

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY CLERK

Subject to the Primary Election May 26, 1981

I am a life-long resident of Rockcastle County and all of my family are Republicans as far back as I can trace my family tree. I am a veteran and a member of Ashland Lodge 640 F&AM.

I am qualified for the position of Rockcastle County Clerk as I have had twenty years experience in office management and all of my working experience has been connected with dealing with the public.

I pledge to serve the people to the best of my ability. I plan to keep the Clerk's Office open during lunch hour every day. I also plan to keep the office open as long as even one person is standing in line waiting for service.

I plan to do my best to eliminate the long lines for auto licenses during the month of February each year as most cars are being re-registered then. I hope to be able to locate a clerk in each of the heavily-populated areas of our county during this month. Therefore, everyone will not have to line up at the courthouse in order to re-register their cars.

I feel the purpose of this office is to serve you, the public, and I ask that you give me a chance by voting for me

We Don't Have to Live With Violent Crime

By Rep. Harold Rogers

America is a land of violence. Nothing could be better proof of that than last Monday's shooting of our President.

Not even in the shadow of our capitol building in Washington are we safe from those in our society who seek to solve the problems by threatening and taking the lives of others.

Immediately after this terrible event, I wrote to Attorney General William French Smith urging that the newly-formed White House Task Force on Violent Crime convene as soon as possible and work on a crash program basis to make appropriate recommendations to Congress and the states on how we can effectively deal with rising crime and violence in the streets of America.

The attempted assassination of President Reagan is a vivid symbol of the latest rise in terrorism—the new code word for plain old brutal, senseless violence.

And it isn't just Washington and the big cities. Crime is growing by leaps and bounds. Rural America is experiencing a crime increase that is shocking. Violent crimes alone were up 13% in rural America in the past year.

But terrorism is the price we pay for the failure to swiftly and surely punish those who attack our society.

The government's number one responsibility is the protection of its citizens from danger both here and internationally. When government fails (that is, when we don't have swift and sure punishment of the criminals), a frustrated citizenry is forced to protect itself.

The rampage of crime we're seeing is giving rise to vigilante groups in cities like Atlanta,

New York and even here in Washington. And we all know that lynching mobs and back alley "courts" have no respect for civil rights and fair trials. Really, there are two problems: First, our criminal justice system is too slow. Of that there can be no question. The right to a speedy trial on the part of the criminal should also be balanced by the right of society to have a speedy punishment. We can't afford to have those with proven records running around loose while they await trial for their third or fourth offense.

Second, once behind bars these murderers, rapists and others are getting parole after only a few years—released to continue their lives of crime.

The answer, also, is twofold and it will take the cooperation and efforts of both state and federal governments: 1) we must enact mandatory sentencing laws for violent crimes, especially those involving the use of a weapon and, 2) we must change our judicial system to make sure that criminals receive a speedy trial and aren't released so early on parole so they can attack society again. We must keep enemies of our society off the street!

Those thinking of committing an act of violence should be afraid that if caught they will have to spend many years in prison. They should know that if guilty, they will serve time and not be released to commit another crime or be slapped on the wrist.

Prison is a punishment, and unless punishment becomes swift and certain there is no deterrent for the criminal, only terror for the victim. In New York last year, for instance, of 130,000 felony arrests only about 8,000 people went to jail. Those odds are on the side of the criminal.

You simply can't install fear in the criminal if his chances of getting off are better than his chances of serving time. While we must continue to respect the rights of the accused, we shouldn't be freeing obviously guilty people to commit other crimes.

The rise in violence in America can be stopped. We have the means and we know how to do it. All that remains is an all-out effort to put an end to it before America is ruined.

Continuing Disability Investigation Done by SSI Offices

The records of 25,000 SSI disability recipients, who were converted from State welfare disability rolls, are being reviewed to see if they continue to meet the criteria for Disability. Bob Anderson social security manager in Richmond, said recently.

In addition, an increasing number of social security disability beneficiaries are also having their records reviewed Anderson said. The purpose of the review or continuing disability investigation is to improve program management.

"Previously, disabled SSI recipients who were on State welfare rolls prior to January 1974, when the SSI program went into effect, had been excluded from such review," Anderson said.

A Continuing Disability Investigation involves a review of pertinent records to determine whether a recipient has recovered sufficiently so that he or she should not longer be considered disabled. Priority is being given to SSI recipients since some of them no longer meet the medical criteria for disability or blindness, Anderson said. In the case of converted State recipients, the State's disability criteria at the time they were found to be disabled continue to apply.

Ordinarily, "a Continuing Disability Investigation is conducted whenever earnings are posted to a person's social security record, when he or she reports medical improvement or returns to work, when a medical reexamination is scheduled, or when new evidence indicates that the person is no longer disabled."

Any person who disagrees with the determination has the right of appeal. "In fact, the forms sent out by social security advise people what to do if they do not agree with a decision," Anderson said. "An appeal can be filed at any local social security office."

Contracts Let For Bridge Construction and Repair

The Kentucky Department of Transportation has awarded $10.5 million in contracts for construction and bridge repairs on state highways.

Walker and Walker, Inc., of Berea was awarded $3.7 million for construction of 3.9 miles of Taylorville-Fisherville Road, Ky. 155, from Ky. 55 at Elk Creek to the Jefferson County line.

In Jefferson County, a $2,690,000 contract was awarded to Ruby Construction Co. of Louisville for construction of 1.2 miles of the Riverport Development Access Road. Construction will run from the north property line of the Riverport Development Authority to Cane Run Road.

Walker and Walker, Inc. of Berea has been awarded $336,336 contract for bridge deck repairs in Rockcastle County.

The bridge over Brush Creek on Ky. 7, Broadhead-Eubank Road, 5.7 miles southwest of U.S. 150.

The bridge over Durman Creek on Broadway, Eubank Road, 5.1 miles southwest of U.S. 150.

Spiritual Needs of Patients Considered By Today's Nurses

"Back in the 60's, if a nurse had carried a copy of the New Testament in her pocket, she might have been considered a religious fanatic," according to Marlene Waller, assistant professor of nursing at Berea College. But that was before the recent emphasis on meeting the spiritual needs of patients.

"Now many nurses carry their Bibles to work—and they use them," she says.

This year, Mrs. Waller taught Berea's first nursing course aimed solely at spiritual care. Eighteen nursing students were enrolled in the class, which included weekly visits with patients at the skilled nursing facility at Berea Hospital and the local nursing home.

Course work included identifying and keeping lists of Bible verses that would be inspirational in certain situations, such as when patient was lonely, depressed, experiencing guilt feelings or fear of death.

In addition, the class heard guest speakers—a hospital chaplain and a local pastor—who stressed that nurses are in frequent contact with patients, could be helpful to ministers in the recognition and referral of a patient's spiritual needs.

But because chaplains and ministers are not always available, and because illness and pain may block the patient's ability to pray, nurses need to be prepared to help cope with the situations that often accompany illness and death. Meeting those special needs sometimes means reading to patients, whether it is a favorite scripture or poetry, and praying with them. At other times, all the sick person may want is someone who will listen and understand.

"A good nurse is able to identify and meet physical needs. At the same time, however, she or he must be aware of psychosocial and spiritual needs," Mrs. Waller said.

Understanding and meeting spiritual needs is an important part of Berea's nursing education philosophy. "But in holistic nursing," Mrs. Waller continued, "the whole is greater than the parts. We teach our students to recognize and care for all the needs—biological, psychological, social, cultural and spiritual."

Debbie Clark, a senior nursing major who took the course, explained why she, as a prospective nurse, believed the course was beneficial. "Hospitalization is very traumatic. It's when a lot of people need religion most," Miss Clark, a Vanceburg native, related a story about a woman she met last summer while working as a nurse technician at Mercy Hospital in Portsmouth, Ohio. "The patient, who was in her early 40's and dying of cancer, had become seriously ill so fast that she had not had time to go through the anger and grieving stages of dying."

Clark said, "As I look back on that experience, I wish I had had the course a year earlier. Maybe I could have helped her more."

Berea's nursing program is the oldest at any college west of the Allegheny Mountains, dating back to 1899. It became the first collegiate degree program in Kentucky in 1956 when it was expanded to four years. The program has full accreditation from the National League for Nursing.

"We encourage our nursing students to feel comfortable about sharing values and religious convictions with their patients," Mrs. Waller said. "If a nurse sees a patient crying, praying or clasping a rosary, we think it is important to stop and talk or pray with the person. But we tell students to keep an eye on the intravenous tube and monitoring equipment too."

Farmers Must Seek Higher Yields To Achieve Profit Goals in 1981

Faced with high interest rates, rising production costs and other 1981-style headaches, some farmers are asking if this might be the year to settle for something less than their previous high yield goals...saving a dollar here or there in an effort to slip by until better times arrive.

"Just getting by won't do it in 1981," warns Dr. Sam Kincheloe, an agronomist with International Minerals and Chemical Corporation, world's leading independent producer of fertilizer materials.

"Economics demand that farmers achieve maximum yields while working to keep unit production costs at a minimum. Higher yields per acre with lower costs per bushel is the equation that will spell success this season," he advises farmers.

Dr. Kincheloe points to a study in Iowa to show that higher yields are profitable even with rising production costs. That test revealed an average corn yield of 82 bushels an acre cost a typical farmer $20 an acre and in a net loss of $7.92 an acre, based on a $2.35 corn price.

"Compare that unprofitable effort with a top Iowa farmer whose 229-bushel corn cost $39.58 an acre and produced a profit of $168 an acre."

The high-yield, higher profit producer planted 6,000 more pounds per acre, applied 115 pounds more nitrogen, 48 more pounds of phosphates, and 114 more pounds of potash...but he harvested 102 more bushels of corn per acre than the average Iowa farmer.

Dr. Kincheloe urges other farmers to learn from the evidence of that Iowa study, and other research from Georgia to Iowa. "The key to high yield crop management spells the difference between profit and loss in difficult times."

"In fact, high-yield farming always pays dividends in greater profits because it is the only logical way to make the most of available land, labor and capital," the IMC agronomist says.

He lists the major differences between average farmers and high-yield, high-profit producers as follows:

1. Top farmers do things on time, such as planting early.
2. They never compromise on crop protection programs.
3. They test different hybrids or varieties to determine which are best suited to their that problem with a sound soil fertility program built around long-term agronomic evidence that fertilizer stretches available water and improves yields in dry years," he explains.

1. Adequate fertilizer stimulates root growth, making more water available to the plant.
2. Adequate fertilizer helps erops mature faster, making them less susceptible to late season dry spells.

3. Adequate fertilizer helps reduce water requirements because of a reduced rate of water loss from the leaves.

"Fertilizer, in addition to making a plant more moisture efficient, also enable that plant to produce higher yields."

SHERIFF

Rockcastle County

Experienced Qualified

I'm for Law and Order. Are You?

On May 26, 1981, the voters will go to the polls and elect someone to be our Sheriff for the next four years. I am asking you to give me that opportunity.

It is being rumored that I already have my deputies and that they are my wife and my son - this is not true! Neither my wife or my son will be deputies if I am elected Sheriff of Rockcastle County. My deputies will be hired through applications, as I stated in a previous ad. They will also be trained and on duty 24 hours a day.

If I am elected to be your next Sheriff, my only job will be working for you to protect and to serve the people of Rockcastle County.

I will not give the people my word on one thing and then do something else.

I ask you to examine each candidate before you make your choice, because your vote will decide the future of our county for the next four years.

Your Vote and Support for me are needed to give me this opportunity.

MAKING FAMILY LIFE MORE FUN

Your family might find life more fun if you look into your family someone who hardly ever has fun.

Your family can sponsor a poor child. Help him have what he needs most: food, clothing, education, health care and the opportunity to learn about Jesus. You may even help the child's family or entire community. All it takes is one gift and you can begin a sponsorship that will last forever and give your whole family a sense of accomplishment.

Watching a child grow and knowing you have a part in that growth is a joy your whole family can share.

Boys' Coaches Corner

By: Coach Reese Denny

Seventh and eighth graders from throughout the county have been collectively working on their basketball skills for the past seven Saturdays. They have been preparing for participants in the Boyle Co. Tournament held last week in Danville. Our young players were combined to form two teams which represented Rockcastle Co. in the annual Jr. high event. On Wednesday night one of our teams played Danville Bate, the eventual tournament runner-up. The final score of this game was 36-34 in favor of Danville Bate. Members of this particular team were as follows: Troy Taylor, James Hamilton, Alan Hammonds, Jonny Poynter, Tim Roberts, Brian Anderkin, Gary Fain, Bruce Blanton, Jackie Woodall, Troy Williams and Shannon Bishop. We were very pleased with the play of our people, particularly in the way in which they quickly adjusted to things our opponents were doing. Our man-to-man defense was real good and we stayed in this particular defense the entire game. However, this decision was made prior to the tournament; to play man-to-man defense the entire game regardless of the situation. It was good to acquaint our players with this method (man-to-man only) as all of our Jr. high teams will be following this same defensive procedure next season.

On Thursday night our other representative team, playing in the lower bracket, were matched against Boyle Co. Elementary, the eventual tournament champion. The very strong Boyle Co. team defeated us by a score of 56-28. Members of this particular team were as follows: Billy Bryant, Brian Ponder, Benny Blanton, Jeff Vanhook, Keith Vanhook, Terrell Wilson, Larry Ponder, Devin Ford, Tommy Payne, Donnie Coffey, Larry Newcomb and Chris Baker. We were very proud of this group because they never gave up. Early in the game we got behind by 14 points and could never recover. After loosening up somewhat our players managed to score 21 points during the fourth quarter alone. Another positive sign, particularly for this age group, was their fine free throw shooting, of which they made 16 of 23 attempts.

We certainly appreciate the efforts of Nelson Graves and Jerry Penso as they provided much assistance in preparing our players for this tournament. In the next couple of weeks we will be taking a look, via this column, at the Total Basketball Program in Rockcastle Co.

Commonwealth of Kentucky
AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS
Frankfort, Kentucky 40601

October 10, 1980
To the People of Kentucky
Honorable John Y. Brown, Jr., Governor
Honorable Hubert Thacker, County Judge Executive and Members of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court

We have examined the statement of receipts, disbursements and excess fees of the County Clerk, Sheriff and Jailor of Rockcastle County for the year ended December 31, 1979. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also conducted tests of compliance with state and federal laws and regulations.

As recommended by the State Local Finance Officer, pursuant to KRS 68.210, the accompanying financial statements are prepared primarily on a cash basis. Consequently, certain revenues and the related assets are recognized when received rather than when earned, and certain expenses are recognized when paid rather than when a liability is incurred. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements are not intended to present financial position and results of operations in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly the receipts, disbursements and excess fees of the County Clerk, Sheriff and Jailor for the year ended December 31, 1979, in conformity with the accounting system described above.

Our study of compliance disclosed no conditions which we consider matters of noncompliance.

Respectfully submitted,
/s/ James B. Graham
Auditor of Public Accounts

The above transmittal letter accompanied the audit report presented to Fiscal Court and is published pursuant to KRS 41.090(2). Copies of the complete audit report are available upon request by contacting the Auditor of Public Accounts, Room 108, Capitol Annex, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

THE FINAL BASKETBALL STORY

LEXINGTON — I promise I won't write about basketball again for a while. At least not for another week. But before we close the file on another season, I'd like to share some final thoughts with you.

They're still performing the autopsy on the Kentucky Wildcats. Why did they die at the end of the season?

I think the post-mortem will show that the Cats' inexperience caused them to play without confidence. They shot a scared stick.

I'm sure it will show that Kentucky's forwards were not capable of scoring from outside. By the time UK got to the tournaments, the word was out that the defense could gang up on Sam Bowie inside and not worry about the forwards.

The lesson hasn't been lost on Coach Joe B. Hall and his staff. He had maintained all year that Kentucky would probably recruit only one player this year. A big guard. They've got him, Mike Ballenger.

But the UK coaches are on the trail again, talking with Troy McKinley of state champion Simon Kenton. The 6-6 forward can shoot the eyes out of the basket.

Kentucky is also in the running for Ennis Whately, a sensational guard out of Birmingham, Ala. The Kentucky coaching staff apparently thinks it needs to do a little doctoring on the Wildcats before another season rolls around.

Looking at notes from the NCAA Final Four in Philadelphia now, I notice there's a chance the college game may go back to just two officials. The coaches voted by a 34-10 margin to do away with the three officials. The recommendation will come up at the NCAA meeting for a vote.

Also, if the NCAA goes by the wishes of the coaches, it will expand the tournament next March from 48 teams to 64. That would eliminate the byes. Every team would have to play six games to win the championship. All the teams in the Final Four this year had drawn byes and had to play only five games.

Now, let's forget basketball for a little while.

Hayes, Jr. and Mary M. Hayes of Rt. 1, Mt. Vernon. He was sent to Germany in November, 1979 and is now stationed in Bury, Germany. He is a 1977 graduate of BCHS. His wife, Florence Gibbs Hayes, is with him.

To The Citizens of Rockcastle County,

Folks, after a letter to the editor a few months ago by myself about the filthy garbage, many good people of both parties asked that I run for County Judge. Believing that our Democratic Party was not dead, just sleeping, I decided to try.

I don't know how the should be party leaders are elected but seemingly a handful have a secret meeting and appoint each other Co-Chairmen. We shall learn how it should be done and see that the game is played "according to Hoyle." I have tried to awaken the party and, to my pleasure, we have nearly one thousand new registered voters in Rockcastle County.

Now this self-appointed few have a good man against me. I am not running with, for, by or from anyone. Our party has been poorly led. I see meetings by Republican women, Young Republicans, the club, etc. but never a thing is heard from the Democrats. I know many good people at heart are Democrats but not having a good, strong, well led party have registered Republican, Independent, etc. Please come back home and let's build a good, strong two-party system. The Communists have a one-party system. Let's build a good, viable Democratic Party and watch the little donkey kick heck out of that big, blundering, clumsy Elephant.

I am not a Democrat because my father, grandfather and great grandfather were Democrats but because the Democratic Party is for the poor, hard working people of which I am one. Look what is taking place now. Who set up social security - the Democrats! Let's fight to keep it!

To vote in November, you must register by April 28th. You young folks who will be 18 by Election Day can vote but must register before April 28th. I believe it is shameful that less than 50% registered voters take a few minutes to vote even in national elections.

Yes, I would like to be Boss Hog for four years but I would like more to see a two-party system.

Local System Affected by State and Federal Fund Cuts in Education

By Nancy Mullins

At first glance Governor Brown's $0 million dollar elementary and secondary education budget cuts might cause gasps and groans but on closer examination it may be found that the cuts will not be too painful to endure since for the most part they involve cuts in future increases, not cuts in money received during the 1980-81 year.

As a result of the cuts in the upcoming budget the local district will lose close to 200 thousand dollars it had expected to receive. In only a few cases, one being the lunch program, will the district actually receive less money during the 1981-82 fiscal year than it received during this past year.

The state has plans to leave the bonus units (vocational and special education units) at the current level and thus save 6.3 million dollars. According to Charles B. Parsons, school superintendent, Rockcastle will not receive an additional 2.4 classroom units it had expected to receive in these areas and thus will lose approximately $48,000 in anticipated revenues.

The state estimates that the average daily attendance (ADA) basis upon which the state funds local districts will drop due to decline in enrollment.

The anticipated savings from this decline amounts to 11.4 million after revising the earlier estimate of ADA. Parsons says that with the enrollment drop, each district can expect to lose 3 regular classroom units and thereby lose $60,000.

Holding capital outlay at the 1980-81 level of $1,900 per classroom unit rather than increasing it to $2,000 per classroom as had been budgeted will cause Rockcastle County's system to be short $14,500 of its expectation. It will receive the same as last year which will cause systems to hurt a little since inflation makes operating on last year's budget a bit difficult. Across the state the projected savings is 3.2 million dollars.

The county system will lose no anticipated power equalization money. Power equalization will be kept at the 1980-81 level which will save 5.9 million statewide. According to Parsons, the richer districts like northern Kentucky and the Louisville area stand to lose the most from this cut.

A 4.3 million dollar savings is expected to be netted by increasing kindergarten class size from 20 to 25 pupils per teacher. It is anticipated that the change will reduce by 1 1/2 units Rockcastle's kindergarten units and thus reduce by $30,000 revenue received to fund these units.

In 1980-81 the school system received $5 per pupil from the state for student fees. For 1981-82, school districts were promised $15 per pupil. However, in the revised budget the amount was lowered to $10 per pupil, an increase of only $5 over the $5 of the $10 increase expected. This reduction in the planned budget will save the state 3.1 million dollars yet will not adversely affect school districts or students.

The state expects to save 9 million by delaying purchase of new language arts textbooks by one year. That means an estimated $29,000 less to be spent by the local district for books this year than it had planned.

Out of district-student fund cuts will reduce the state budget by $800,000 but will not affect Rockcastle as there are no students to which this applies.

The school foods service is to be reduced by the state by $200,000 and Mr. Parsons says he is not sure just what this means for Rockcastle County's system in terms of loss but from every indication it will mean an increase in the price per lunch next year.

However, some of the much talked about federal cuts in the child nutrition programs, are "proposed cuts" and since it's not all settled yet in Washington, Mr. Parsons says, "It's hard to put a dollar figure on it." There has been much opposition to the recommended cuts in this area and some softening, has been indicated on the parts of some lawmakers.

Perhaps of the most immediate concern to education-interested persons in Rockcastle is the freezing of school building authority money which means the proposed addition to the facilities at Mt. Vernon and Roundstone will have to be postponed until money is turned loose again for such projects.

Besides Foundation Program cuts on the state level, local school districts are expected to lose 25% of the federal money it now receives in areas other than the school lunch program.

Title I, ESEA, for instance (the remedial math and reading program) which last year poured over $400,000 into Rockcastle County's school system will be cut by almost $105,000.

Title VII B, a program of benefits for the handicapped, will be cut about $11,000 locally. This program pays for transporting students to other districts to receive special programs not available locally (for instance classes for the deaf).

Last year the local system received about $28,000 in federal money through Title IVB (Library Programs). Next year Mr. Parsons says he expects the amount to be about $7,000 less.

The Alpha I Reading Program is funded through Title I/C and stands to be cut by 68% or $5,300. However, Mr. Parsons said that the system will probably try to find an alternative source of revenue to support this successful program.

The federal cuts in school programs will be harder to adjust to since they will mean having to get by on considerably less revenue than in previous years.

industry-wide do-or-die drive to build up depleted burley stocks and supplies.

The Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association is getting reports of increased planting plans from around its five-state area. More plant beds than usual are in evidence, and acreage increases of 15 to 20 percent are indicated in the number of plowed fields earmarked for tobacco.

Recent rains over the belt have brought timely aid for plant growth. Some farmers are hopeful of boosting per-acre yields above the past two years. Average yield has been low for both the '79 and '80 crops, though it gained 127 pounds average last year and was up to about 2,000 pounds.

Unfavorable growing conditions, with drought and disease two years in a row brought storage stocks to alarming levels, and resulted in a 7.5 percent national quota increase. Under normal production this would mean a crop of 681 million pounds, and an effective quota of 850 million pounds to reflect 1979 and 1980 under-marketings.

The burley community has been disturbed over rumors of non-quota Maryland tobacco being introduced into southern states, to be grown and marketed without price supports. The Burley growers Co-op is watching and checking, especially on the legal aspects of the movement.

Maryland type tobacco closely resembles burley. It is grown and marketed outside its support price and without restrictions. Trade rumors say that where Maryland tobacco seed is unobtainable burley seed is being substituted, resulting in a threat of non-quota burley being grown and marketed in Maryland. This could make serious inroads on legitimate production in the traditional burley belt.

Some "good news-bad news" reports were in the March 1981 "Situation" publication issued by the USDA this week at Washington. The "good news" listed burley as the only leaf type showing export gains for 1980 over the previous year. U.S. burley exports hit a record 133 million pounds for the crop year ending Sept. 30, 1980.

But burley officials say any rejoicing over this is dampened by cigarette leaf imports into the United States, which seem to be gaining steadily each year. Last year burley grown abroad and shipped into the U.S. amounted to 55 million pounds, a gain of 220 percent over 1979 imports.

Meanwhile the tobacco program is standing up well under fire from its critics. Some banks in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Missouri burley counties have been sponsoring half-page ads in local newspapers. Their theme is that the tobacco program is not a subsidy, and that the price-support system not only pays its way, but earns money for the government.

Texts of the ads were furnished by the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative.

The Sound of the Didgeridoo

The didgeridoo is a musical instrument which plays a very important part in the culture of aboriginal tribes in the north of Australia. It is made from bamboo or a tree branch which has been hollowed out by termites and may be four to fifteen feet long. Its sound, a deep sustained drone, is an accompaniment to tribal dances and religious ceremonies. The tone may be continued for many hours with a number of players.

But try making sounds with a didgeridoo! I once tried, but was unsuccessful. Playing it requires correct application of mouth and breath, including the difficult art of drawing in air through the nostrils while maintaining a steady outward flow of air through the lips. Some have tried for months, unsuccessfully, to get a sound from it.

But when the experienced player takes up the instrument, the lifeless wood vibrates and the deep, haunting note sounds clear.

In the same way, when the Spirit of God blows through us we come alive. Un dreamed-of possibilities open up. And the music we then make can contribute to the divine harmony that God seeks for this discordant world.

PET FACTS & FIGURES

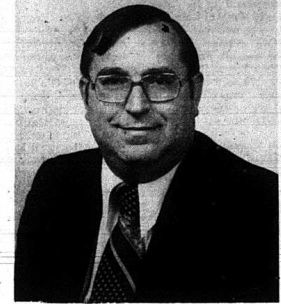

Dogs, as members of the family, carry a lot of weight around the house. But they run the gamut in the weight column from the Chihuahua, which generally tips the scale between two and four pounds, and one of the heaviest of the heavies, the St. Bernard. One St. Bernard in Wisconsin holds the record: 235 pounds.

Whatever their size, dogs do litter up their homes. Not only does dirt and hair collect on carpeting but persistent animal odors cling there, too. Luckily, there's Lesto!—deodorizing, Rug Shampoo, the clean way to keep odors away. Just foam it on, let it dry 15 minutes, and vacuum. Result: a clean, odor-free rug.

VOTE FOR and RE-ELECT ROBERT CROMER

Property Valuation Administrator

Since I have been your Property Valuation Administrator, I have always tried to uphold the laws pertaining to property assessment procedure, trying to satisfy each and every property owner with their assessment. Sometimes this is hard to do.

Any Property Owner who feels He or She are unfairly assessed, should visit Property Valuation Administrator's Office and I will do everything possible to reach a fair and equitable assessment with you.

I ask each of you to check your property assessment. Then ask yourself, "Is my property assessed at 100% of fair market value?" Then, I believe, you will have to say, "Robert Cromer has been more than fair and we must re-elect him to keep good sound government in the Property Valuation Administrator's Office."

Your Vote and Support will be greatly appreciated.

Senator Rogers Says Brown Not So Bad

By Rick Anderkin

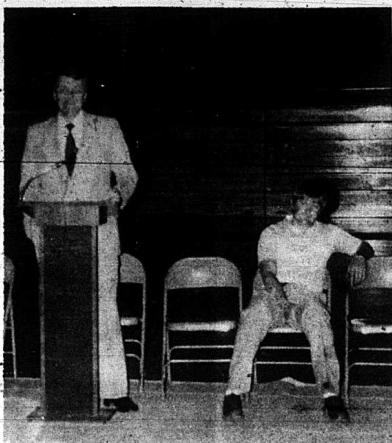

"If we've got to have a Democrat in the Governor's Mansion, then we've got the best one we could have," Republican State Senator John D. Rogers told a crowd of approximately 300 persons Friday night at the annual Young Republicans Fish Fry at Brodhead Elementary. He said that Governor Brown "must be doing something right because he's got all the Democrats mad at him."

Senator Rogers went on to say that the whole time before Brown took office that if he himself needed to get anything done he had to go through another Democrat to do it. He says that now he can go directly to the Governor for anything he needs.

Senator Rogers also told the vast number of candidates seeking county office not to let the outcome of the election hurt the Republican Party. He said with some 100 persons seeking office there were sure to be some hurt feelings. He called for a party reunification as soon as the election is over.

Senator Rogers' short speech came after President of the Young Republicans club, Republican State Senator John D. Rogers from Somerset was the featured speaker Friday night at the Rockcastle County Young Republicans' annual Fish Supper held at Brodhead Elementary School. Mr. Rogers gave a short speech to a crowd of 300. To Sen. Rogers left in the photo is Darrell Whitaker, president of the Young Republicans.

Darrell Whitaker introduced all of the candidates who were present. Each candidate was warmly received by the crowd. "The Governor also told the candidates that they would never be satisfied with the press coverage they received during the campaign, but it's hard he said, "to argue with someone who buys ink by the barrel." He told the candidates to be patient with the press because they will usually do the best possible job. Rogers ended his talk by thanking everyone for their attendance and telling them that he would serve his district in the most efficient way possible.

One Man Remembers How It Used To Be

By Nancy Mullins

Matthew "Matt" Manley Singleton says he's been through a lot of bad times, but he never did "draw none" (welfare, etc.) and never did work for WPA. Eighty-eight year old Matt says that sometimes "that big building (bank) is plum full of people that gets that check and some wouldn't work if they had to." He has always had to work, he says.

Jim Singleton, Matt's father, was murdered at Blanton Flats in Jackson County when Matt was a small boy. His mother, Molly, was left with 10 children to feed and clothe. This was before the government came to the aid of people in economic distress. But the Singleton family worked to survive. Perhaps just as important to their survival was the abundance of natural resources which are now gone or seriously depleted. Matt and his family lived at Buck Lick on the waters of Crooked Creek. Buck Lick got its name for the bounty of deer which came to the area to lick a salt deposit and then drink from the stream. He says that he once picked 100 gallons of huckleberries and sold them for 50 cents a gallon, all to one man. He and his mother also peddled blackberries, strawberries and raspberries which were in wild abundance and apples from his mother's orchard. He remembers that he got 10 cents a dozen for apples and one good market for them was the workers at the quarry at Mullins Station. "I'd tell my brothers, 'Get up, we're goin' break pickin' today, and we'd go out and bring in $5.00 worth of 'seng'" (gingers).

There were lots wild turkeys in the woods back in those days and according to Matt, they were really good eating. Gangs of wild turkeys at a certain time of year and possibly in search of feed, flew from the cliffs near Mullins Station toward the south east and made quite a spectacle in the effort. They fished in the creek near the Salt Petre Cave and caught lots of big fish. Now there are very few fish in the stream and most are small.

Matt always had a good coon and possum hunting dogs. The wild game he caught gave variety to their table fare.

Matt's widowed mother was a strong woman, he says, and lived to be in her 80's. She was forced to work hard, even beyond what most women of that time had to work. Matt said that she wore britches when she broke ground with the mule. She was known far and near for her doctoring ability. She could treat pneumonia fever, deliver babies, and great a variety of ills with her knowledge of local medicinal herbs and roots, coal oil and turpentine and their uses. She sometimes received small gifts as pay for the sick calls, sometimes she got nothing but "thanks." She became a familiar sight traveling around the countryside on her little white mule to visit the sick. She reported to her family that once when she was out she saw Frank and Jesse James riding through on horseback coming from the direction of London and ride up Horse Branch Hollow towards Berea.

According to Matt, his grandmother was at home by herself when a bear came up to their log house and tried to get in. He got his paw through a crack or at least close enough to a crack that she hit his paw with a hatchet. The bear ran off but when the men came back home they were able to track it from the trail of blood. They chased it up Horse Branch Hollow and killed it.

In order to make a living the Singletons raised corn, hogs, "grub stuff", sugar cane and the boys sometimes worked for as little as 25 or 50 cents a day at anything they could do. Once Matt had a job cutting corn for a fellow in Madison County who had 90 acres of corn. He walked the 24 miles early in the week and walked home at the end of the week. A neighbor, Albert Allen, planted big crops of corn and hired Matt and other men and boys in the community to help hoe it.

When Matt was a young man, he worked for 4 or 5 years at the stone quarry for $1.25 a day. (The company paid off in gold.) During that time, he managed to save $100, and bought a 3-year old, unbroken mule. He quit work, broke the mule, bought some farm equipment and began to farm.

During the depression he said he "never lit no bad trouble come in on him," had money in his pocket and got out a "grub to eat."

There were many violent crimes in the area during those times: Nearly every election saw a shooting or two or a killing.

He said that his mother's brother was sitting in the election house looking out the window when a man shot him from across the creek and killed him. Moonshine was made in the area quite a bit and was possibly partly responsible for some of the acts of violence. Matt's theory, however, is that the people of the area intermarried within families and in some cases this led to the violence.

Revenuers were in the area from time to time trying to find stills but Matt said that the area was an ideal place for stills to be hidden. He said that once about 6 men in the community went to a place called "Cotton" and swore they saw Matt and some other men making liquor. One of the witnesses was a known chicken thief and according to Matt, the Judge threw the case out.

Matt recalled that of the 6 men "dried up and laid down and died" within a year of the trial. Here, Matt quoted a passage of Scripture that says, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

Terri Lynne Abney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Abney, celebrated her first birthday, March 28th at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hammond. A cake and many nice gifts were received. Terri is also the granddaughter of Sheriff and Mrs. Henry Lee Abney.

To The Citizens Of Rockcastle County

As most of you know, I am a candidate for County Judge Executive. I served 4 years as Jailor of Rockcastle County and four years as Deputy Sheriff.

I feel I am well qualified to fulfill this office. Since I have been magistrate for the past four years, I have learned the importance of having a judge who will cooperate with all magistrates from all districts.

I feel the people of the county elect each magistrate to represent each district and that each magistrate should have the right to bring before the court the needs of his district. I also feel he should have the last say as to what is to be done in his district and, if I am elected County Judge Executive, he will have.

I am not trying to criticize anyone. I just feel the people should have someone they can call on when they need them.

Thanking you in advance for your Vote and Support, I am

COUNTY ATTORNEY

Rockcastle County

Dear Friends and Fellow Citizens of Rockcastle County:

I wish to say that I am very thankful for all of the encouragement that so many of you have given me since I announced for the office of County Attorney. As you know, this is the first time I have run for public office. If at all possible, I want to talk with each of you before election day to get your views on our present court system, or other matters that may concern you.

When elected, my goal is to be the most active and vigorous County Attorney that I possibly can be. I, too, am concerned with the increase in crime and lawlessness that plagues us. I, for one, believe that we need to be able to lie down and sleep at night without the fear of being robbed or vandalized before morning. My pledge to you is that I will work diligently with our Sheriff, State Police and presiding Judges to make the criminals in Rockcastle County account for their deeds.

Help me to help you.

Legislative Report

By Rep. Harold DeMarcus

One of the chief complaints heard by the legislature's Task Force on Small Business in its travels around the Commonwealth involves Kentucky's small business as collectors of the sales tax.

Numerous business representatives have appeared before the task force claiming that the time and money involved in doing the bookkeeping necessary for sales tax collections are hampering their business.

Due to the budgetary shortfall, the Department of Revenue is considering new administrative regulations which could cause the state to reap a one-time windfall in the collection of tax revenues. Should the administration decide to pursue this tack, the proposed regulations will come before the Administrative Regulations subcommittee sometime within the next ninety days.

The proposed regulations would accelerate the collection of sales and income withholding tax revenues, causing a windfall of $25 to $30 million.

While these regulations would facilitate Kentucky's efforts to erase some of its revenue shortfall, the effect on business and economic development could be negative.

The regulations would affect business collecting at least $3,000 per month in sales tax and $2,000 per month in income withholding tax. Businesses in these categories would be required to remit taxes for which they become liable, during the first fifteen days of the current month together with taxes collected in the previous month, by the 20th day of the current month.

Obviously, this proposal would require business to do additional bookkeeping. Computer software would have to be re-programmed and new personnel might have to be hired.

Companies having locations in several areas around the state would be faced with the difficulty of compiling the necessary data to remit their tax collections within the proposed five day period.

Further, companies that do not bill their customers until the end of the month would be paying taxes on receivables they have yet to collect.

This could force companies to use working capital or even incur debt to pay the taxes.

Also, forcing companies to account for income withholdings on the 15th could cause a change in their payroll periods. Alteration of payroll periods that are the result of collective bargaining agreements could lead to labor complications.

As for economic development, companies considering Kentucky as a location might reconsider given the executive administration's willingness to propose regulations that could so adversely affect the operations of a business.

Approval of these regulations would also mean that small businesses will no longer be alone in their dismay over tax collection procedures.

Tonya Lynn Callahan, daughter of Cora and Michael Callahan of Copper Creek celebrated her 4th birthday, March 31st at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elden Chasteen, also of Copper Creek. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Callahan of Richmond, Indiana.

To The Citizens of Rockcastle County

This is my formal announcement as a Candidate for Sheriff of Rockcastle County, subject to the Republican Primary. I want to take this time to say a few words about the two men whom I have chosen to serve as your deputies for the entire four year term. Both these men are fully qualified and both have agreed to serve you in this capacity the full term of this office. I am proud of both these men and grateful that they will serve in this capacity and I feel sure you will be just as proud of them as I am. This is definitely a three-man Sober Sheriff's Department ticket.

Now, let me say here and now in this first announcement that neither I nor my deputies will have anything derogatory to say now or later about our opponents whatsoever. There may be some candidates who will start rumors and try to tear down other people and in the same sentence try to build up themselves. We promise you here and now that we will not run this type of campaign. The things we want to tell you is what you can expect from us as your Sheriff's Department and not to slander any opponent.

We have agreed to have telephones in each of our homes and radios in our cars so that you can and will have personal contact with your Sheriff's Department 24 hours a day. We believe that a lot of crime could be prevented by the Sheriff's patrol cars just patrolling the roads and being available in any area of our county at a short notice. We plan to work closely with any and all crime prevention groups in the rural and farm areas. Of course, any and all church revivals or public gatherings will be patrolled just be letting us know. We will work with all funeral homes and give escort to all funerals. We will also attend all our school ballgames and school functions to protect our children.

We realize that we cannot stop all the stealing and breaking in of businesses, homes and farms but I guarantee you that we will slow it down and we will be at your side in a very short time when you call us, day or night. Yes, we will answer all your calls at once, not the next day or so.

So, if you are for slowing down crime in Rockcastle County, please consider this Sheriff's Ticket to serve you. We will do you a good job and do Sincerely Appreciate your Support and Vote.

This is not just another political promise that is made every four years. This is our word to you, the citizens of Rockcastle County, to give you the protection and service you deserve from your Sheriff's Department.

Circuit Court Clerk

Qualified Experienced Friendly Service

I have made a career of public service through my military and judicial offices. I am not running for personal financial gain. My goal is to serve the good citizens of Rockcastle County.

Since the inception of Kentucky's new court system, the duties and responsibilities of the Circuit Court Clerk have greatly increased. My experience as your Trial Commission for the last three years demanded a close working relationship with the Circuit Court Clerk's many responsibilities.

I ask for your vote and influence in electing me to this office.

Your Friend,

Robert E. Robinson

EXTENSION HOME ECONOMICS

Interest-Paying Checking Accounts are not for Everyone

Checking account users are faced with the decision of sticking to a regular account or switching to a new interest-paying account. These new accounts called NOW accounts, short for Negotiated Order of Withdrawal, came into being on Jan. 1, 1981. Banks, savings and loans associations and credit unions can offer the service. But, in making any consumer decision, it's wise to get all the facts.

Before switching from a regular checking account to an interest-paying checking account or from one financial institution to another, take time and compare. Most advertising gives the minimum balance requirement but omits details on penalties or service charges.

Interest on checking sounds like a good idea, but in actual practice, it may benefit only those people who can or are willing to keep fairly large

Plans for the third annual Rockcastle Revue, the Mt. Vernon Woman's Club's major fund-raising effort of the year, are getting under way. The Revue, held at the Barn at Renfro, is a showcase for the community's performers with an emphasis

sums in their checking accounts. Because this will add costs to businesses, these costs most likely will be passed on to customers in the form of service fees.

Most financial institutions require customers to keep a minimum amount of money, from $400 to $1,500, in their accounts to receive interest or to avoid a service charge. That means your balance cannot fall below the specified amount on any day of the month without paying a penalty.

Another problem with a NOW account may be the low-balance method used to compute your interest. Interest may be paid on the lowest amount you had in the checking account during the month. For example, suppose at the beginning of the month you had $5,000 in an account that requires a minimum balance of $1,000. On the 28th, you took out $4,500. You would receive interest only on $500 even though you had $5,000 in the account for 28 days. In addition, you may be charged a service fee for allowing your balance to drop below $1,000.

Another financial institution, for example, might require a $500 minimum balance but would charge $2.00 a month plus 20c a check when your account is below $500.

Savings and loan associations are entering the checking account business for the first time and they will be active competitors for customers. Some experts expect them to offer lower minimum balances and lower service charges to lure customers away from banks. However, the interest rate is set by law at 3 1/2 percent for NOW accounts in both savings and loans and banks.
