"Miss Rockcastle" Plans Continue

The Mt. Vernon Business and Professional Organization met recently and made plans for a Miss Rockcastle County Pageant to be held Friday night November 6 at the old Barn at Renfro Valley.

Members of the Association are invited to sponsor a local girl between the ages of 16 and 21 in the pageant which will feature a tea Sunday before the event at which time the judges will have an opportunity to talk with each girl.

A fee of $30.00 to sponsors will entitle the merchant to a half page advertisement in the booklet, below the picture of the candidate and additional name exposure during the pageant. Merchants wishing to buy an ad rather than sponsor a candidate are invited to do so.

Contestants will be judged on beauty, poise and personality. Anyone wishing to be a candidate or interested in more information should call Karen King at 256-2514 or 256-5402.

Plans are for the winner of the Miss Rockcastle title to be featured in the Christmas parade sponsored each year by the merchants.

Ray Mills, left, thirteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Mills of Calloway, rode 72 miles to take the first place prize in the Wheels for Life Bike-A-Thon held Saturday in Mt. Vernon. The prize was a 10 speed bicycle. Runner-up, with 64, miles, was David Poynter, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Poynter also of Calloway. David won a watch in the drawing which was held following the event. Proceeds from the fund raising effort will go to the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

Critical Need for More Doctors Discussed by Three Groups

Local doctors, the Rockcastle County Hospital Board and the Rockcastle Improvement Council met Monday night to discuss the immediate need for at least two more family practice physicians and a surgeon for the county and to discuss the problems associated with attracting and keeping doctors.

Reference was made early in the meeting to the fact of a need for some common ground of understanding among the three groups represented as to what was desired by all parties and how best all could work toward the same goal for the medical community.

Dr. Orson Arvin, local physician, stated that as he views the situation, there seems to be no problem attracting doctors to Rockcastle County. The problem is to keep them. He said he felt more doctors coming into the area should be dedicated to staying in a rural area before they make the decision to come here.

Dr. G.W. Griffith, the only other physician working full time in the county, said he thinks partnerships are more likely to be successful as are those doctors who are under no illusion as to how much money they will make in a rural area such as Rockcastle County.

Dr. Arvin and Dr. Griffith are actively seeking partners.

Dr. G.H. Griffith, who has been semi-retired for some months, expressed the view that prospective doctors visiting the area should be told that even though the county's population may be over 13,000, they will not draw from that whole population since many live in such close proximity to surrounding medical communities such as Somerset, Danville, London and Berea.

He said he has seen 34 physicians come and go since he has been practicing here and all with the exception of one were mobile physicians, that is, they did not come here as resident physicians.

According to Henry Hoskins, Hospital Administrator, the hospital cannot operate long at the present 71% occupancy. At least 80% of the 28 beds in the acute care wing need to be filled for the hospital to maintain the

An accident occurred on U.S. 190 Saturday about 1:45 p.m. after a vehicle driven by Christine Fler, 43, of Mt. Vernon, pulled onto the highway from Davis Street near Franklin's and was struck in the rear by an eastbound vehicle driven by Noah Poynter, 65, of Route 1, Mt. Vernon. Ms. Tyler was waiting for traffic to clear in order to turn left and cross the railroad tracks onto Williams Street. According to the accident report filed by city policeman Charles Hurd, Poynter's car slides approximately 25 feet before hitting the Tyler vehicle. Treated and released from the Rockcastle County Hospital was one passenger in the Tyler vehicle, Roxanne Bradley, 22.

Monday Night Ended 22 Year Career of City Councilman Jasper

Bob Jasper, a Mt. Vernon City Councilman for the past 22 years, has submitted his resignation from that office effective September 14th.

In his letter of resignation, Jasper said that he felt he was having to devote too much time to his campaign for County Judge Executive to do an adequate job as councilman.

The council accepted the resignation with reluctance and cited Mr. Jasper's contribution to the city during his many years of service.

No discussion was held by the council as to who would be appointed to fill the vacancy created by Mr. Jasper's resignation.

During the meeting, the council also heard from several residents of the Valley Manor Subdivision who expressed concern because the promised larger tile has not yet been installed under the road leading to the library.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

The Rockcastle County Ministerial Association elected officers for 1982 at their meeting Monday, September 14. The officers elected were: president, Kenton Parkey; vice president, Richard Holladay; secretary and treasurer, Bob Fields.

The Ministerial Association meets the second Monday of each month at noon at the Kastle Inn.

Residents of the area were flooded early this summer when continued heavy rains caused water to back up into their homes. It was felt that several things contributed to the flooding but one of the suggestions for helping to alleviate the situation was to have a larger tile installed under the road.

City Water Superintendent Matt Powell, Jr. was directed by the council to grade and gravel Library Drive, which ties into Joyce Street, so that residents will have an outlet while the new tile is being installed.

Jehovah's Witnesses

Plan Convention

September is a month of special activities for the congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses here in Mt. Vernon. Members from the local congregation plan to meet with fellow witnesses at a semi-annual circuit convention September 19 and 20. Nearly a thousand are expected to attend the meet at Danville High School in Boyle County.

A series of discourses during the weekend meeting will be based on the convention theme "Subjecting Ourselves to God." The program begins at 9:55 a.m. Saturday and continues Sunday.

Councilman Tom Welch reported that he had talked with property owners along old U.S. 25 near its juncture with Main Street concerning the construction of a sidewalk leading from the Valley View Apartment complex to Main Street. Welch said the general consensus of property owners along the street was that they preferred that a sidewalk not be constructed. Developers of the Valley View complex were to pay for blacktopping the street and constructing the sidewalk. The blacktopping will proceed.

Taylor Files for Council

Hubert Taylor announces his candidacy for council of the City of Mt. Vernon, subject to the November General Election.

In making the announcement, Taylor issued the following statements:

"I believe the experience I have had in business management and working with people, that I am in a position to serve you well in the office I seek."

"I believe any job, regardless of what it is, if it is worth doing, is worth doing right. To this end I will work according to the ability God has given me."

Sixty Years of Quilt Making and Change

By Nancy Mullins

Soon after Roberta Kirby and Oscar Bullock were married in 1921, by County Judge Cam Mullins, Oscar made a trip to the saw mill for some lumber supplies and brought back, at his new wife's request, four long pine strips for a quilting frame. Mrs. Bullock used a "drawing knife to shave them off and fix them" into the frame which she still uses. The large frame is attached to hooks in her kitchen ceiling from which the frame can be lowered to allow for her to stand and work her way around the quilt. She prefers to stand and quilt because her legs hurt when she sits for long periods.

Quilting and piecing quilts takes up more and more of Mrs. Bullock's time since, "They (her daughter and son-in-law) won't plow my garden any more."

Mrs. Bullock concedes however, that she really hasn't been able to work outside in her garden for the last two summers which gives her more time to quilt, dry apples and do other less physically demanding jobs.

This summer she has pieced and quilted seven quilts, which added to the ones she already had, makes a total of almost 80 quilts she now has in reserve. Mrs. Bullock chooses to make quilts rather than do other types of handwork such as crocheting or knitting because she can sell quilts more easily. She usually makes 3 or 4 quilt sales a year. She says she may have some more to do this fall (between $150 and $175), but lots of time and lots of material go into the making of a quilt, and at that, she isn't making much money for her labor, but she says she has to do something. She can't simply sit still. It takes about a week, sometimes two, to piece a top and about two weeks to quilt it. She pieces many of her tops on the sewing machine because a fall left her thumb stiff and prohibits her from using a needle for too long a period.

She has every imaginable pattern made up, including a necktie quilt made from old satin-looking broad ties, but she has no favorite pattern.

Mrs. Bullock's home furnishings reflect her ability to create beautiful embroidery, crocheted pieces and decorative pillows including a "ribbon pillow" made by folding and stitching satin ribbon into repetitive, interesting and unique effects.

Born in 1898, the oldest of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Kirby's ten children, Mrs. Bullock remembers she learned to knit at 10 years of age on a large sage

Filings in City Election

Livingston is the only one of the three towns in the county in which there will be a contest for the office of Mayor. According to filing records in the County Clerk's office, Bobby Wilson and Bertie Rice have filed for Mayor there.

Those filing for city commissioner for Livingston were: Tod Mink, Michael Robbins, Don Jones, Ed McHargue, Danny Bullock, James McClure and Eugene Senter.

Ronnie Cash is the only one having filed for Mayor for the city of Brodhead, but five candidates have filed for the four commissioners' posts there. Those filing were: D.A. Robb, Johnny Wilcox, Eddie Cash, Harold Harris, and Billy Bussell.

Roland Mullins is the only candidate for mayor for the City of Mt. Vernon, however, several have filed for a seat on the city council. Those filing were: Conrad Parrett, John Bullock, Marshall Bullock, James (Pete) Hurd, Roger McClure, Tom Welch, Joseph C. Martin, Garry Noe, Ernie Tolle, Joel (Buster) Gentry, Hubert Taylor and Oscar Bullock.

Mrs. Roberta Bullock of Blue Springs stands beside some of the many quilts she has pieced and quilted in the last several years. Mrs. Bullock has a stockpile of more than 80 quilts on hand now, all of which are for sale.

With only one day left to file as a candidate for city offices to be filled in the three county towns in the November election, there will be opposition only at Livingston, if no other else files.

Two slates of candidates have filed for city trustee posts at Livingston.

One slate has the incumbent trustees: Dr. R.G. Webb, H.R. Mason, Sampson Halcomb, H.L. Holland and Ellis Marshall.

The other includes C.H. Webb, Lester Arnold, Henry Cummins, Clell Pike and P.L. Foytner.

Voters, however, are not required to vote for a slate. They may choose five from the 10 at Livingston.

One police judge candidate has filed. He is the incumbent police judge Dewey Bingham.

At Mt. Vernon, the present council will seek reelection and will apparently be unopposed by another slate.

Present council members include: Gillis Craig, Floyd Owens, William I. Norton, Dr. Rudolph Burdette, Kenneth Cummins and David McCauley.

For a time it appeared Mt. Vernon Mayor Carl Brown would have opposition from former mayor Roy Cummins.

Mr. Cummins reported Wednesday night he would not be a candidate.

Two other residents have filed as candidates for city council. They are Dennis Halcomb and G.M. Isaacs.

Ess Baker is the only candidate for police judge.

At Brodhead only four candidates have filed. Three police judge candidates have filed. They are incumbent police judge E.C. Watson, G.H. Berry and S.C. Davis. One trustee candidate is Charlie Carnack.

Though no one else has filed at Brodhead, it is expected there will be two slates of candidates.

The present trustees are: Edward Robbins, Elmer Arnold, Henry Crawford, Willie Wallin and Bobby Proctor.

Letter To The Editor

Editor,

At a recent football game, I was one of the proud Rockcastle Countians, when our team showed outstanding sportsmanship.

The opposing team was not an example that our boys seemed to want to follow, when they cheered because our players were injured. In turn, our team acted like real gentlemen, even to the extent of applauding, when they found out an opposing player was not seriously injured and was able to walk from the field.

At a time when we hear so many un-becoming things about our youth, I did not want to let this opportunity pass by to let others know that our youth deserve our admiration and support. I was very proud of the Rockets, their coaches, cheerleaders and fans.

Mayor Roland Mullins, right, signs an official document for Iris Young of the local chapter of the DAR proclaiming this week Constitution Week. In connection with the 193rd anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States the DAR is sponsoring an essay contest entitled "What the Constitution Means to Me". First prize is $25.00. Second prize is $15.00 and third prize is $10.00. All high school age children are urged to enter the contest.

Local DAR Promoting Constitution Week

The Daughters of the American Revolution, in promoting National Constitution Week as designated by the Congress and the President of the United States, remind citizens that this week marks the 193rd anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States. The organization feels that the ideals of the document are reinforced each day by the continuing success of the system to which it gave birth. Because the system cannot function without an enlightened public, the DAR urges all citizens to read the Constitution this week and consider its influence on the lives of those living in this nation.

The local chapter of the DAR, in helping promote Constitution Week here, asked Mayor Roland Mullins to sign an official Constitution Week Proclamation. In addition they are sponsoring an essay contest entitled, "What the Constitution Means to Me" and are urging all local high school students to enter. The students are guided to read the Constitution and tell what it means to them. The essay is judged on the

WIC Program Is Beneficial

The Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) funded by the United States Department of Agriculture provides specified nutritious food supplements to pregnant, breastfeeding and postpartum women, and to infants and children up to 5 years of age who are determined by health professionals (physicians, nutritionists, nurses and other health officials) to be at "nutritional risk" because of inadequate nutrition.

Under the WIC Program, infants receive iron-fortified infant formula, cereal which is high in iron, and fruit juice which is high in vitamin C. Participating women and children receive fortified milk and/or cheese; eggs, hot or cold cereal which is high in iron, fruit or vegetable juice which is high in vitamin C.

Infants, children, and pregnant, breastfeeding and postpartum women are eligible for the WIC program if the reside in an approve project area and meet the income standard for the WIC Program. Each person is individually determined by a competent professional on the staff of the Local Agency to be able of the student to convey a personal feeling about the Constitution after reading it.

The DAR has provided the school and public libraries with information and pamphlets pertaining to Constitution Week.

at nutritional risk and to need the supplemental foods provided by the WIC program.

At the present time we have a waiting list for persons applying to the Program due to limited funds. The waiting list is established on a priority basis. When openings occur persons with the greatest nutritional need will be admitted first. In most instances pregnant and breastfeeding women and infants will be of higher priority than postpartum women and children.

If you believe that you or a member of your family may meet the eligibility requirements for the WIC program you may obtain more information by contacting: Rockcastle County Health Dept. Courthouse Building Mt. Vernon, Ky.

Ph. for appointment: 256-2242

The WIC program is open to everyone regardless of race, color, or national origin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas G. Grant of Richmond, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Bowling of Mt. Vernon.

Urns of varied greenery and lighted tapers in brass candelabras formed the background. Hurricane globes on brass posts lined the aisle with ivory ribbons and greenery attached. Singlet ivory candles were in each window included with green ivy.

The Army National Guard has just made it easier for students to attend college and serve their community and country at the same time. Students with National Direct or Guaranteed Student Loans may now qualify for the Army National Guard's Student Loan Repayment Program. For a three or six year enlistment, the Guard will pay 15% of the balance, or $500, whichever is greater, plus interest. For details on this and other educational assistance programs available before September 30, students should visit their financial aid officer, their local Army National Guard recruiter, or call (800) 638-7600.

Student Loan Repayment Program Announced By Army National Guard

Students returning to class this fall will discover a new way to finance their college education. The Army National Guard announces that its Student Loan Repayment Program is now available to college students. This new program, which may be coupled with either the Educational Assistance Program or the Enlistment Bonus Program, makes an attractive National Guard while completing his or her college education. College students are advised to consider these programs before September 30, 1981 due to changes that could occur after that date, pending outcome of current legislation. The Student Loan Repayment Program will pay off a student loan at the rate of 15 percent of the balance or $500, whichever is greater, plus interest, for each year of satisfactory service in the Guard. Loans that qualify for this program are the Guaranteed Student Loan and the National Direct Student Loan. The loan must have been made after October 1, 1975. A student must be a high school graduate. While in college, he or she can enlist in their local Army National Guard unit for either three or six years. Local recruiters can provide students with up-to-date information on available openings and skill specialty areas that qualify for this program. Students who are approved for the Guard's Student Loan Repayment Program can also apply for one of the following programs while in college. In the Educational Assistance Program, a college student can claim up to $1,000 per year to cover educational expenses during four years of college while studying for his or bar undergraduate degree. After the student completes military training, the first payment will be made to cover expenses such as tuition, books and lab fees. The maximum payment is $1,000 per year and a total of $4,000. A student must enlist for six years in a qualifying specialty area.

Anyone, students included, can apply for the Enlistment Bonus Program. The National Guard will pay a total of $1,500 over a period of four years. To qualify, one must be a high school graduate, have no record of previous military service and enlist for six years.

All enlistees are required to attend initial military or basic training. Then Guard members attend an Advanced Individual Training Course in one of 400 specialties. To accommodate students' class schedules, the National Guard can arrange for the student to take this second round of training a full year after basic training and during summer vacation. The Army National Guard is a "smart-time" military service. The Guard pays its members for the one week end of training per month and two weeks of training they are required to attend annually.

Students must pass mental and physical examinations in order to qualify for any of these three incentive programs. Bonus programs can vary slightly between states and some states offer additional incentive programs. Since program terms, payment amounts and eligibility requirements are subject to change, students should contact their local recruiter for up-to-date information.

Rev. Harvey Pensol filled his appointment at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend with good attendance. Sunday School attendance was

If you aren't attending church services anywhere, won't you please think about it? If you have children, they need to be in Sunday School and church, and they need to see you there. You are responsible for their upbringing; the Bible tells us to bring them up in the way they should go, and one of the best things you will ever do for your child is to keep them in Sunday School and church. I'm sure you can see that our world is growing more wicked and evil every day we live. So please just lay everything aside and take your children and go to church and Sunday School next Sunday. God bless you.

Since my last writing I've spent eleven days in the Berea Hospital. I've been home for two weeks but still not able to be up and around all the time. But so thankful to be as well as I am. I was able to attend worship services last Wednesday night and on Sunday.

Everyone has been so wonderful during my illness. I had so many visitors during my hospital stay, and I enjoyed everyone so very much. I thank God for my many good friends, for their prayers, their gifts, letters, cards, flowers, love and concern, also for the beautiful words of encouragement. And last but not least, for the hospital staff and Dr. Jack D. Lewis. I must also say a special thanks goes to my family, my pastor, Bro. Pensol and all the wonderful people at the Fairview Baptist Church and Sunday School. God bless you, I love each and everyone of you.

Our deepest heartfelt sympathy goes out to the loved ones of Joe Buleens and Mrs. Thelma Phillips. We've known these families for years and love them very much. May God comfort each of you in your bereavement at this time. You have our prayers.

Mrs. Ethel Kirby has spent the past several days in the Berea Hospital. She has been very ill and needs the prayers of all you good Christian people.

We love Ethel and her family and hope and pray she will be feeling better soon.

Please remember church and Sunday School. Let's all pray for each other. We all need the prayers of God's people. God bless you all.

The word "balk" comes from the Anglo-Saxon balk, a wooden beam, referring to the huge timbers that were used to bar doors, thus balking an enemy's onslaught.

Dr. Norman Davis, from the Kentucky Department of Libraries and Archives, presented a slide program on Kentucky Heritage at the annual Rockcastle County Extension Homemakers meeting held last Thursday at the Exit 59 Steak House. He highlighted the origin of the people's coming to the new frontier of Kentucky as well as the political and economics conditions that formed the culture of our state. Forty-four Homemakers and guests were present at the meeting called to order by County President, Gladys Bussell of Brodhead. Judy Stewart Shackelford of Town and Country Homemakers led the devotions. Quail Homemakers were in charge of the recreation; Louise Graves of Happy Hearts Homemakers, led the creed and Merita McGuire of the Happy Hearts Homemakers, made arrangements for the meeting. Shown, left to right, are Bea Hensley, Lois Philbeck and Rosalind Philbeck and Mr. Davis.

CURCI PLAYS HIS IDOL

LEXINGTON — He may be only the third winningest football coach in history, but Paul "Bear" Bryant is the best coach that ever lived. That's what Kentucky Coach Fran Curci thinks anyway. Late this season Bryant is expected to pass the two men ahead of him, Paul "Bear" Bryant and Amos Alonzo Stagg. Curci hopes he can delay Bryant's goal by one game as he sends UK against Bryant's Alabama team this Saturday at Commonwealth Stadium. Curci is anxious to play against the powerful Crimson Tide. "Everywhere I've coached," Curci says, "my teams seem to play their best against the best. I think we'll play well against Alabama this week. Our players are really excited about the game and I am too."

Curci will be trying to win Saturday, that's for sure, but you can tell by his conversation that Bryant is one of his idols. "He's got to be the best that has ever coached," Curci says. "He's won everywhere he's been. He's won at Maryland, at Kentucky, at Texas A & M and certainly at Alabama. He's won with small quick players and he's won with the big guys. He's won with the passing game and he's won with the running game. Coach Bryant is just a great football coach. The greatest," Curci adds.

It might be an honor to coach against Bryant, but Curci says once the game starts it really doesn't matter who's on the other sideline. "He always leans up against one of the goal posts when his team comes out to warm up," Curci says. "I'll go down there and have a short visit with him, but after that we've got too much to think about during the game to even know who's doing what with the other team. We're not really playing Coach Bryant," says Curci, "we're playing Alabama and as usual they're an awesome football team."

Kentucky has won only once in 29 tries against Alabama and that was way back in 1922. The Cats have had two weeks to prepare for this week's renewal, taking last Saturday off. This would certainly be the time to make it win number two for Kentucky even if Fran Curci has to beat his idol.

Rockets Take 1st Win

By: Rick Anderkin

The Rockcastle County Rockets won their first game of the season Friday night by downing the Clay County Tigers 19-8.

Rockcastle took an early 6-0 lead when junior running back Steve Halcomb scored on a 45-yard run from scrimmage.

Rockcastle then scored on a 50 yard pass from quarterback Roddy Carr to split end Craig McGuire to take a 13-0 into half-time.

At the start of the second half, it was obvious to Rockets would have little trouble holding onto their lead.

Rockcastle added to their lead in the third quarter when Charlie Hasty scored on a short run to make the score 19-0. Roddy Carr kicked the extra point attempt after the Rockets' first score but his next two attempts were unsuccessful.

It began to look as though Rockcastle might shut out Clay County but, late in the third quarter, the Tigers got a score on the board to make it 19-8.

In the fourth quarter, neither club could mount much offense and the game ended at 19-8.

Rockcastle will play Berea next Friday night at Berea. The Rockets are now 1 and 3 on the season.

"It's Time" Little League Football

The Rockcastle County Little League football program got underway Monday night at the high school. Because of the rain, there was only one game played and it was not completely finished. The Redskins from Roundstone and the Steelers from Mt. Vernon opened the 1981 season and, with two minutes to play, the Redskins had a 14-0 lead. The two teams will finish the game the next time they play each other.

Next Monday night, there will be two games, starting at 5:30 when the Redskins take on the Buccaneers and at 7 p.m.,

the Steelers will play the Bengals.

Druther's Restaurant on Hwy. 25 is sponsoring a defensive and offensive player of each game this season. Monday night, the defensive player of the game was Ronnie Cromer and the offensive player was Pete Harrison. Each player will receive two free meals this week at Druther's.

Also this Monday night, there will be a meeting of all parents and interested persons between games on the bleachers to try to form a Little League Boosters Club.

Dogs Are 4th In State

In 1973 the Waterdogs won the 22nd ASA Class A softball tournament for the first time. Since that time they have won the district tournament three times and they have been in the regional tournament each year since then with the exception of 1978 and 1979 when they were allowed to by-pass the regional tournament as they were forced to play ASA Class AA.

This 1981 Waterdog team went to the State Tournament for the third successive year and made their best showing in the State Tournament as they emerged in fourth place among a 32 team field.

The Waterdogs have been assembled for the past fifteen years under the management Cleston Saylor who recruited more than 75 boys for his Waterdog teams over the past fifteen years." In this span of time they have won unofficially more than 800 games and lost near 350. The 1981 season was their best as they won 79 games and lost 32 which was their most wins and most losses in any one season.

The Waterdogs entered sixteen tournaments in 1981 and placed in ten of them as they won first place in seven tournaments, second place in two and third place in one.

If the ASA softball rules do not change, it is supposed that the Waterdogs will have the refusal of a direct trip to the ASA Class AA State Tournament; as they won four games in the state tournament this year. The Waterdogs have been sponsored by Saylor Pharmacy for the past five years.

CRUM WOULD LIKE MORE CHANGES IN COLLEGE BASKETBALL

LEXINGTON — Denny Crum has won 20 games or more every year for the past 10 years. You would think that starts the game with a jump ball then has the teams alternate taking the ball out of bounds on all jump ball situations after that unless there is an overtime.

He likes the new rule that's coming in this season that starts the game with a jump ball then has the teams alternate taking the ball out of bounds on all jump ball situations after that unless there is an overtime. "We played under an experimental rule like that up at Maryland a couple of years ago and we didn't have any problem with it," Crum said. "One of the big inadequacies we've had is the official's inability to throw the ball up straight. I very rarely see a perfect toss and somebody gets an advantage on almost every jump ball."

Crum would like to see a lot of other changes in college basketball. He would like to see a shot clock used to do away with the stall. The Louisville coach would like to see the college game go to the international rules.

"I've coached the international game and I really enjoy the pace at which it's played," Crum said. "They have the clock and I think it speeds up the game. It's a continuous game. If the ball goes out of bounds in the backcourt the other team grabs it and throws it in and it's off and running. There's no standing around and kibbitzing and yelling at the officials."

Crum loves the wider lanes they use in international competition. "It takes the advantage away from the seven footer and gives more players an opportunity. I think it's good for the game," Crum says.

The man who took the Cardinals to the NCAA championship in 1980 thinks the international game is just a better all-around game than the one the college teams have right now. His only complaint with international rules is the substitution rules.

"That's all fouled up," Crum says, "but I like the rest of the game. It's a faster game and that's what I like and I think it's what the fans like."

I do too, Denny. I do too.

Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul Volcker's policies of high interest rates, having some effect on reducing inflation, are smothering the nation's economy and President Reagan's Economic Recovery Program. More importantly, these policies are killing off thousands of farmers and small businesses who can't afford sky-high interest rates.

As I went from county to county throughout the Fifth District of Kentucky during August, the number one issue was high interest rates.

Folks all across Southeastern Kentucky are literally screaming about what 15% to 24% rates are doing to them. Farmers can't afford to meet the payments on their land, equipment or seed money; parents can't afford to borrow money for their children's college education; businessmen can't afford the payments on their inventory loans, or to expand and hire new people; and families can't afford to replace that old car or a new home. In short, high interest rates are destroying America's small businesses and farms.

Well, when I got back to the nation's Capitol, I was shocked that while many Congressmen were talking about interest rates, nobody seemed to be doing anything. Immediately began working on legislation aimed at lowering interest rates and easing the pain of this economic penalty until rates come down to affordable levels.

When challenged on his policy of high interest rates, Chairman Volcker's only response has been to promise more of the same high interest rates. I find this unacceptable and am working on a plan designed to give Americans relief from these killer interest rates. I am drafting legislation directing the Secretary of the Treasury to develop a comprehensive plan to lower interest rates—particularly those paid by small businesses and farmers. The Secretary would have to submit his plan to Congress within sixty days.

My bill would, in other things, require Treasury to consider several points in their plan, including:

- Special relief for small businesses and farmers involved in federal loan program such as SBA, PCA and the Farmers Home Administration.
- Increased access to low interest loans for small business farmers—perhaps a special pool of money for our small business people and farmers which are especially hurt by double-digit interest rates.
- A moratorium on mergers by large corporations which use up a tremendous amount of the available loan money. These corporate mergers don't do a thing to create new jobs and our small businesses simply can't compete with these financial giants.
- Measures to encourage home purchases and construction.

This is by no means an exhaustive list of possibilities, but it's a good start. We absolutely must give the Reagan Economic Recovery Program a chance to work, but that won't happen if interest rates don't come down soon.

The time has come for Congress to take action. As the old saying goes, "Talk is cheap." But you didn't send me to Washington just to talk. I hope this bill will go a long way towards bringing down interest rates and saving our nation from economic ruin.

Generic Drugs Can Cut Medical Expenses

Although medical expenses continue to go up, your pharmacist and doctor can help you lower the cost of prescription drugs. In most cases, generic drugs are as effective and less costly than their well-known, brand name equivalents.

Having studied drugs, their use and effects, your pharmacist is highly qualified to compare and evaluate drug products. Keep Your Range Clean with Good With Routine Cleaning

A clean range lasts longer and looks better; so don't let your range become too dirty. Wipe up food spills immediately and clean the outside surface after every meal. Even if you have a self-cleaning oven, routine cleaning is still necessary for the outside of the appliance to prevent grease and grime build-up, especially around burners and doors. If your range needs a good cleaning, begin by removing the control knobs and dropping them in a dishpan to soak. Then clean the outside of the range with soap or detergent. Be sure to clean all the vertical surfaces, as well as the top. Use a sudsy pipe cleaner, perculator brush or old toothbrush to clean the crevices and around switches and handles that are not removable.

For stubborn spots on porcelain, try baking soda. To cut grease, use 1 tablespoon of household ammonia in the wash water. Don't use coarse scouring powder on your range. It can damage the finish permanently.

leaving a dull or discolored spot. Acid foods can do the same, so wipe up spills immediately. Chrome rings around the vents of an electric range or the burners of a gas range can be cleaned with heavily soaped, spin wool pads. Clean the drip pans under the units or burners the same way. Rinse thoroughly and dry before replacing.

Tree Seedlings Available from Forestry Department

The Kentucky Division of Forestry will again be selling to the public this fall. Seedlings for making the seedlings available is for reforestation, erosion control, wind breaks where needed, and for wildlife habitat improvement.

It is estimated that there are 1 million acres in Kentucky in need of reforestation. These are lands abandoned from farming, understocked and existing stands containing defective or undesirable trees. The Division of Forestry makes seedlings available to landowners at a nominal cost to help get these lands back into production of timber.

Besides the desired benefit of timber production, trees also provide erosion control, noise abatement, air filtration, and improvement of water quality.

Another important reason for planting trees near homes is for energy savings. Deciduous trees (trees that lose their leaves in the fall) planted along the south exposure of a house will make it considerably cooler during the hot summer. In the fall, after the leaves fall off, warm winter sunlight on sunny days will be permitted to radiate through exterior home walls helping to reduce inside heating costs.

Coniferous trees (pine trees) planted along the north-northwest side of a house will serve as a windbreak, reducing the cold air wind velocity from penetrating exterior and interior walls and windows. This will reduce the amount of air velocity at which cold air can infiltrate the house.

So this fall do yourself, your family, your neighbor and your country's energy supply a favor and plant some trees.

Seedlings available include Jobloty pine, shortleaf pine, white pine, Virginia pine, Scotch pine, black locust, white ash, cottonwood, sycamore, yellow poplar, Chinese Chestnut, black alder, Autumn Olive, and Bicolor lespedeza. They can be ordered in bundles of 100, 500, and 1,000. For more information contact the Kentucky Division of Forestry, P.O. Box 130, Pineville, Ky. 40377.

Retirement: It Can Be Most Rewarding Or An Empty Time Of Your Life

You've worked hard for the money that will pay for your retirement. You've looked forward to doing all the things you never had time to do before. Now you're retired. You're reading with a spot of daytime TV, a little traveling, even sleeping in the morning. Beware! You may be psychologically unfit to retire. You may be looking forward to what could turn out to be one of the loneliest times in your life.

Retirement is a time when you suddenly realize you are no longer needed. You may feel a sense of loss and loneliness. You may find yourself wondering what you will do with all your free time. You may feel a sense of emptiness and isolation. You may feel a sense of loss and loneliness. You may find yourself wondering what you will do with all your free time.

What does this mean? Studies have shown that of the millions of people who will decide to retire some time in the 80's, most have concentrated their lives throughout their lives. That leaves the other areas such as social skills, cooking, sewing, and the ability to form deep and lasting friendships undeveloped. These folks, once they retire, may find themselves with time on their hands and no one to spend it with. They may become very lonely people. Loneliness doesn't mean simply "feeling lonely." According to studies, lonely people tend to get sick more often than emotionally healthy people; they tend to die at a younger age than their more social counterparts.

Do you participate in activities and plan ahead with enthusiasm, or do you tend to be lethargic? Even shy people can learn to become more open, more active and more adept at developing important friendships. The trick is to learn how to become an "outgoing" person. This exercise you can practice to cause yourself to be more outgoing as you get older. Most of them involve being more conscious of your need to act and interact.

This phenomenon is more common today in men of retirement age than women, because the wives were the ones who maintained friendships. People can be taught to keep the many different areas of their personalities stimulated as the older years begin to begin; preventive measures are always best. Whether or not you are planning to retire, you can ask yourself a few questions which are pertinent to your happy future:

That's why health authorities place so much emphasis on physical fitness and health. The structural health of the older person is particularly important. Not only do the spine and nervous system control all the functions of the body, but also the nerves, bones, ligaments and muscles give us our ability to be mobile. They are the basis of work and play, and the use of all our emotions and given energy.

but construction of the sidewalk will be held up until City Attorney Carl Clontz can determine the actual right-of-way width.

Oscar Fain, owner of Fain Furniture in Mt. Vernon, was at the meeting to request that an ordinance be passed by the council prohibiting the peddling of furniture off trucks within the city limits.

Mr. Fain pointed out that these sellers pay no taxes of any kind and are only required to purchase a one-day $5 privilege license. He also told the council that he had had numerous complaints about the furniture from purchasers in the area who have no recourse once these items are sold.

The council agreed to pass such an ordinance provided it can be done legally. City Attorney Carl Clontz was asked to check into this.

In other action, the council adopted an ordinance which is the first step in gaining use of the county's tax records for assessment purposes.

The council also authorized city policemen to obtain a warrant after the third unpaid traffic ticket. In other words, if you have received two tickets for overparking and haven't paid them and you receive a third ticket, your name will be obtained from your license plate registration and a warrant for your arrest will be issued. This action would also entail a court cost of approximately $25 besides the fine. Also, city clerk Max McClure, has asked that anyone paying a fine please use the envelope provided since it contains information necessary for giving proper credit.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Gallaugh, who ran the city's summer recreation program at the lake this summer on a voluntary basis, were at the meeting to tell the council about their summer's program.

Mr. Gallaugh, a student at EKU, said he felt the program was a success in that the groundwork was laid for next summer's program. He said it was more or less a period spent in trying to ascertain the public's likes and dislikes in recreation.

The council expressed their appreciation to the Gallaughers for their efforts this summer.

status quo Hoskins said that statistics bear out the fact that for every doctor serving the community, an average of five hospital beds are filled. He said when Doctors Greenway and Yip (the last two doctors to leave) left, the number of full beds dropped in about that proportion. Presently there are 118 full time employees, however since Dr. Thomsen, the surgeon, left, the operating room has been closed and board members fear the obstetrics unit will soon have to close unless a surgeon is recruited.

The doctors at the meeting agreed that the community can support only 4 doctors and a surgeon, however, spokesmen for the hospital maintain this amount represents a minimum and would like to see more doctors.

A committee was appointed to formulate recruitment plans and work within the three groups to attain the common goals.

The first project of this committee will be to set up a recruitment booth at the KMA sponsored Recruitment Fair to be held in Louisville in October.

grass straws. She sat by her mother and watched her knit and begged to be allowed to, but there weren't any needles for her. She said she knitted her first pair of stockings on them and dropped so many stitches she had to do it all over again.

The Kirby's raised sheep and after her mother sheared them in the spring, she shipped the wool to a company and ordered it to be made into yarn and "linsley wool" a stiff heavy material used to make dresses, coats and suits.

Her next knitting needles (which she still has) were made by her mother for her from umbrella staves. She said they were really rough but she guesses she must have knit a "truck load of yarn on them."

"Back then you couldn't go to the store and buy things you needed. You bought mainly sugar, coffee and coal oil."

Mrs. Bullock remembers that her grandmother Renner raised flax and cotton and made towels, sheets, coverlets, and quilts.

"I don't guess she ever bought a yard of factory in her life."

Only the boys in the area went to school back in her grandmother's day. It wasn't thought necessary for a girl to be schooled and the trip to school was usually 5 or 6 mile walk or ride on horseback. Even though she said her grandmother Kirby couldn't read or write, she could feel of a coin and tell what it was.

That was back when a coin meant something, too, back when, according to Mrs. Bullock, "People could live off their eggs. Now they've got it so poor people don't have anything to fall back on."

She says she went to the store for her mother once and managed to have a penny extra. She spent it on a stick of "Long Tom", barely sweet, chewing gum, and her mother's disapproval. Her mother told her the least she could have done was buy a penny worth of salt or soda. Mrs. Bullock says you could get more soda for a penny then than for $1.00 now.

Almost everything that could be, was dried. It was seeming food from spoiling back then, according to Mrs. Bullock. Mrs. Bullock's Aunt Rosaline (her mother's sister) was a study in frugality. Before she married, Mrs. Bullock enjoyed the year she spend boarding there while she taught school at Buffalo and remembers that the coal oil lamp was lit in the winter time only long enough to get the supper over with and then was blown out. Before going to bed they sat by the firelight.

Aunt Rosaline saved oak bark and pine knots and kept a coil in the grate all summer to light the lamp and start a fire in the cook stove. Aunt Rosaline once made the statement that a box of matches and a gallon of coal oil would do her a year. Aunt Rosaline, she recalls, did much of her cooking over the open fire, even to baking. She made delicious hot water corn bread "dodgers" in a covered bread pan. The three dodgers which the pan held always had Aunt Rosaline's finger print on the top.

She taught the one year Mrs. Bullock taught at Buffalo, she taught one year at Cave Ridge and boarded with Alice Barnett and one year at Rocky Bend and board with Link Niecey. She remembers the salary in those days (1919, 1920, 1921) was $50.00 a month. She paid $3.00 a week to board.

She got married during the last year she taught and did not teach any more. She had, attended Langdon Girls' Boarding School in Mt. Vernon one term and boarded with Alice Davis in Mt. Vernon while attending the Graded School following Langdon. If she had continued to teach, she said, she would have been required to get more schooling at Berea or eastern Normal School.

In talking about the area's educational system of the early twenties, she said a week or two before school started, an "institute" was held in Mt. Vernon for teachers who planned to teach that year. It was an early form of in-service teacher training.

Often in communities, Mrs. Bullock recalls, after the regular July through December term was over, a professor would come in and hold what was called a "Winter School". Students sometimes came from other districts or counties and brought there and paid tuition to attend these classes which were designed to put them ahead or prepare them for further schooling.

Mrs. Bullock has witnessed great changes which have brought out the battery road, the talking machine and electricity. She remembers the first airplane she ever saw came over when she was teaching at Cave Ridge. She and all the students went out to see the 1920 phenomenon. The first car in the area was owned by Bill Bullock who had a store at Hansford. That was about 1915 or 1916.

People of the area either traded at the Hansford store or at the Level Green store and post office which was run by a Dr. Price and later by his son, Dr. Grover Price. The older Dr. Price built the large two story house that still stands behind the old store building on 461. She thinks the house is well over 80 years old.

If we had to go back to the old ways, we would miss all the conveniences and might starve a lot, but back when she was growing up and before, people didn't expect life to be easy. She says she has done lots of hard work in her life, a lot of "uncalled for hard work" that could have been left undone.

She takes time out now, from whatever she is doing to watch, as she has since she's had a window into a room story, "The Guiding Light".

Casey County Apple Festival Is Planned

The "world" largest apple pie will be prepared and eaten in Kentucky's largest apple-producing county, according to festival officials, during the seventh annual Casey County Apple Festival and Fair in Liberty, Sept. 20-27.

Weighing some 3,000 pounds and measuring 10 feet in diameter, the pie will contain 65 bushels of apples that will be peeled by helpful festivalgoers. In addition to answering the apple-peeling invitation, festival attendees can enjoy a wide range of activities spanning this eight-day event.

Highlighting the festival will be a baby contest, an apple festival parade, an arts and crafts show, an antique engine display and a canoe, kayak and inner tube race on the Green River.

Peeling apples for the gigantic pie will begin Thursday, Sept. 24, and anybody can help peel. The pie will bake all night Thursday and all day and night Friday. At noon Saturday the pie will be sliced and served to the public, free.

Other special events taking place Saturday will be contests in husband calling, apple peeling, haybale throwing and frog jumping and there is even a greasy pig contest. All these events and more will be held in downtown Liberty's Court-house Square and are free to the public.

cludes Sunday afternoon.

The main address on the subject: "Deliverance in a Time of Anguish" will be presented Sunday at 2 p.m. Joseph Scaglione, district overseer from the Watchtower Bible Society's international headquarters will deliver the address. A native of St. Louis, Scaglione has been in the full-time ministry 34 years. As a representative of the Watchtower Society he has traveled extensively in 20 states and Canada.

Tomás Gonzalez, presiding elder of the Mt. Vernon congregation noted: "Many people fear that the society of man is on the verge of collapse. But our expectations are based on God's Kingdom with Jesus Christ as our Deliverer. The convention lecture is to present scriptural and practical aspects of that hope in detail."

Gonzalez added that Jehovah's Witnesses are concerned with alerting their neighbors to the benefits of studying and using God's Word—the Bible. All interested persons are welcome to attend the convention. As with all meetings of Jehovah's Witnesses, seats are free and no collections will be taken.

Another timely event for the Witnesses in September will be the local distribution of the special September 22 issue of "Awake". It presents a series of articles about evolution and the latest divisions that have developed among evolutionists. The magazine also explores "National Guard"

PUBLIC HEARING HELD

The Mt. Vernon City Council held a public hearing Monday night, prior to their regular meeting, to hear public opinion as to the spending of approximately $6,500 in Economic Assistance Fund monies.

30% or $1,950 of the money, has to be spent on coral related roads but the other 70% can be used pretty much as the council pleases.

The council decided to use the remaining monies to pay their part-time policeman Darrell Collingsworth, subject to guidelines which they will receive from the state at a later date.

recent efforts of some to push the teaching of "scientific creationism" in the schools—a movement that has been making headlines across Kentucky. Persons wishing a copy of the special issue are welcome to obtain one from Mr. Gonzalez or other local Witnesses.

Mr. Gonzalez reported that the local Witnesses will have an open house at their new Kingdom Hall on Poplar Street on September 26 from 2-5 p.m. Further details will be given in next week's Signal.

UK AG Alumni Hold Annual Roundup

Alumni of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture returned to the Lexington campus Saturday, September 5 for their ninth annual UK Ag Alumni Roundup.

Presentation of awards and scholarships, food, football and fellowship, highlighted the event, which drew more than 2,000 persons from throughout the state. Alumni, family members and faculty attended the Roundup program at the E.S. Good Barn, where they were served a barbecue pork luncheon. Guests then watched the UK Wildcats play North Texas State University from Denton, Texas.

Scheduled on the day of the first home football game each fall, the roundup brings together members of the UK College of Agriculture Alumni Association. As ambassadors of agriculture, the alumni lend their support to the College's programs and services to improve the quality of life for all Kentuckians.

A major feature of the program was recognition of 15 "distinguished alumni" who were selected by their area alumni association chapters, and presentation of the state alumni award. The honored alumni were chosen for their leadership, loyalty and service to the University, the College of Agriculture, the agricultural industry and their communities.

This year's state award winner is Ray Mackey of Elizabethtown, president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation. He is a 1949 graduate of the College with a bachelor's degree in agronomy.

Mackey, 54, has farmed in Hardin County for 30 years. He owns Meadow View Farms, an operation of 1,000 acres of corn, 300 acres of wheat, 300 acres of soybeans, 12 acres of tobacco and 425 head of Angus cattle. The UK Cooperative Extension Service has used the farm for demonstrations and field days and for research projects.

Mackey has been director of the Hardin County Farm Bureau for more than 20 years and its president for four. He has been director of the state organization since 1965, president since 1978.

Mackey is also director of the Southern Farm Bureau Life Insurance Company of Jackson, Miss., and president of the Farm Bureau Development Corporation.

H. Lee Durham, left, of Mt. Vernon was recognized — "distinguished alumni" of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture at the ninth annual UK Ag Alumni Roundup Sept. 5 in Lexington. Dr. Joe Turpin, vice president of the Ag Alumni Association, presented the awards.

He is a member of the Hardin County Extension Council and the State Extension Council. In 1980, Mackey chaired the Committee for Kentucky Agricultural Research and Extension, composed of agribusiness leaders for the purpose of securing funds for agricultural research and extension at UK.

Mackey also is director of Citizens Bank and a member of the Elizabethtown Chamber of Commerce.

H. Lee Durham of Mt. Vernon, along with several others, was presented with a plaque for distinguished service.

Mr. Durham, a retired county extension agent for agriculture, received a master's degree in agriculture from UK in 1967. He has a bachelor's degree in agriculture from Berea College.

Durham, 66, was the Rockcastle County Extension agent for agriculture for 27½ years before retiring in 1980. He previously worked as a soil conservationist in Robertson County and as a vocational agriculture teacher at Crab Orchard.

MT. VERNON SIGNAL THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1981 P-15

In Rockcastle County, Durham initiated the county improvement council, responsible for the recently completed industrial park, and organized the county livestock improvement council. He encouraged production of bell peppers as a cash crop for county farmers and worked with the small farm program to assist farmers with limited resources.

He is a member of the county and state livestock improvement associations, the national and state Association of County Agricultural Agents, the Forage and Grassland Council and the ASCA advisory board and the Production Credit Association advisory board. He has received outstanding service awards from the Kentucky department of agriculture, the county and state livestock improvement associations, DCA and the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

HUDDESTON TO TESTIFY BEFORE SBA COMMITTEE

Senator Walter (Dee) Huddleston will testify September 23 before the Senate Small Business Committee on the soaring interest rates he says "represent a grave threat to the national economy."

The Senator also announced that he would welcome comments from individuals and organizations in preparing for his testimony before the Committee.

"The adverse impact of these rates is falling primarily upon those who can least afford the added burden — small businesses, farmers, consumers, prospective homeowners, small financial institutions and others," Huddleston said.

He noted that during his travels throughout Kentucky to meet with constituents during August, "excessively high interest rates were the number one issue, overshadowing even such major concerns as inflation in general, national defense, tax cuts and social issues."

"I intend to do everything I can to see that this issue gets the attention it deserves in the Senate."

Huddleston is a member of the Senate Small Business Committee and was responsible for urging the committee to hold the hearings.

"At the present time, the Federal Reserve, with the apparent full support of the Administration, is committed to a policy of tight money and high interest rates for the foreseeable future," Huddleston said. "However, many economists are openly questioning this policy and I am convinced that it is not a policy which is in the best interest of the country."

The odds against five brothers or sisters of the same family having the same birthday are almost 18 billion to one. That's about four times the entire world's population.

The odds against remembering someone's birthday ten years have been greatly reduced thanks to a unique "greeting card" gift box idea from Johnnie Walker Red Scotch. REDUCED PRICE BREAKFAST (if available) 15¢

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals. Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents. Additional forms are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. A statement of current income, family size, and social security number of adult household members is required plus a signed certification by the parent or guardian that the information provided is correct.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, they should contact the school.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if the family's size and income changes during the school year, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for free or reduced price meals if the family income falls at or below that shown on the family size and income scale.

Under the provisions of the policy, the school official will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to:

for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy on file in each school and in the superintendent's office contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, color, or national origin.

Each school and board of education has a copy of the completed policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.
