"DISPUTANTA"

lives in an apartment near her only son, Cloyd Vaughn, and reads this column regularly since she takes the Signal, her link with home folks. How nice to let us hear from you, Mary Cain, and to know you are enjoying "life" on Clear Creek as we try to send it out. These great hills, splashing waters over green, mossy stones, tall pines, large rocky cliffs, and Clear Creek, lazily moving along as if it too, hated to leave these valleys. Best of all the great neighbors make it the same land you left as a young woman. Come home and see us all this summer! I will continue this feature until next week when I write of two other women who were part of Clear Creek or close to one who was.

Till then: If you cannot help worrying. Remember that worrying cannot help you either.

"Bullen's Fire"
The Cox said that had the Fire Department had a floatation pump which is a new piece of equipment that goes with the truck, "the house might have been saved. The floatation pump can be quickly set into a pond or creek.

The floatation pump, as well as some additional equipment, is scheduled for delivery Friday.

"Weather"
several hills in the county and U.S. 150, in the curve just east of Broadhead, was closed for at least an hour late Saturday morning.

Residents awakened to a frigid 10 degrees below zero Sunday morning and, according to one local auto parts dealer who opened Sunday to help get motorists going, batteries were "hot" item for several hours and there were numerous calls for jumper cabies and diesel oil conditions. Other dealers reported a hectic day of double volume sales on Monday, selling out of many items which were in demand because of the cold temperatures.

One tire dealer said he sold as many snow tires as he could change Monday and quit taking orders.

Schools
Schools were closed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for the first time in January due to ice and snow covered county roads and, following the Tuesday and early Wednesday snow, chances are there will be no school the remainder of the week.

During the month of December, three days of school (December 17, 18, 22) were missed due to hazardous road conditions.

"City Council"
and he agreed to the terms. Cornett now receives $376 a month from the city.

Mayor Mullins told the council that the UDAG grant, which will be used to help Mt. Vernon expand their operation, has not yet been approved but that "indications were that it would be approved shortly."

Mullins also asked the council for authority to hire local CPA Dwight Griffin to help with the bookkeeping part of the grant when it was approved. The council voted to give the mayor this authority.

The council also voted to put a street light on Lovell Lane on the recommendation of the street committee.

Rockcastle County Sheriff William Taylor was at the meeting to ask about two protective screens the city had taken out of their old Ford cruisers.

Taylor told the council that he would be willing to buy or borrow the screens. The council decided to loan Sheriff Taylor the screens.

The meeting adjourned early to allow everyone to get home because of the treacherous weather conditions.

"FISCAL COURT"

motion passed by the Fiscal Court Monday, Rockcastle is now a member. Dues are $500 a year and Deputy County Judge/Executive Mark Jaspser said, "I know that (the $500 dues) sounds a little high but it will be well worth the money spent since it has been estimated that we (the county) can save up to $25,000 a year by taking advantage of the association's workmen's compensation insurance."

Mike Barr, director of the Rockcastle County Ambulance Service, met with the court to discuss the way things are running with the service at the present time.

Members of the court told Barr they thought he was doing a good job in coordinating the service. Barr asked the court how many of the present workers would be retired at the next Fiscal Court meeting since all the drivers' contracts are due to expire January 31, 1982.

Barr was told that this matter would be discussed at a later called meeting since the next regularly scheduled meeting was after the 31st.

Barr also warned the court that they would have to buy a new ambulance in the next year if the service cannot maintain its high level of efficiency.

County Road Supervisor Paul Hansel was told by the court to keep track of the ambulance workers' private trucks when they are used on county business so the Fiscal Court can accurately reimburse the men for their gas. Hansel was also told to sell six used grader tires since they are no longer needed.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Burton were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hurst of Eubank, Mr. Charles Hurst of Leavel Green, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Schick of Cincinnati, Ohio and Mr. Mark Owens of Route 3, Somerset.

SPEAKING WITH THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By Austin Wobley, Minister
Providence church of Christ

Test Your Baptism

Men of the world teach against baptism, resulting in much confusion, but men of the Bible uphold baptism. The word of God plainly states that baptism saves the alien sinner (1 Pet. 3:21). All should investigate the Bible instead of accepting a man-made doctrine.

Baptism is commanded and that should settle the mind of any one who is confused on the subject. Christ commanded it in the great commission (Mark 16:15-16). Peter taught baptism (Acts 2:38). In every conversion, following the establishment of the church, baptism was commanded (Acts 22:16; 10:48; 8:36-37; 16:14-15, 33, et al.).

Subjects for baptism were penitent believers who confessed Christ (Acts 2:38; 8:37); those guilty of sins, not infan-church (1 Cor. 12:13). When one is baptized, he is born again (John 3:5) and becomes a new creature (2 Cor. 5:17).

Bible baptism is a burial in water (Col. 2:12; Rom. 6:3-4; Acts 8:38-39). Perversions of baptism range all the way from infant baptism and sprinkling for baptism, to claims that baptism is non-essential because those who are being baptized are already saved.

Are you willing to test your baptism and compare it to what is taught in the New Testament? Will you accept the word of man or the word of God on this subject? Remember that one cannot reject Christ's commands and be saved (John 14:15; 12:48). Our salvation depends upon our making the right choice.

VOLUME 95 - NUMBER 23

THURSDAY, JANUARY 14, 1982

Old man winter made its biggest mark of the young snow season Tuesday night and Wednesday morning as the county was blanketed with a 4-inch snowfall that caused the closing of school and treacherous driving conditions. In the above photo, Debbie Woodall, far left, Beverly Hatfield and Joyce Brown, employees at Rockcastle County Hospital, try to remove the snow from their car early Wednesday morning. In the photo at left, James Mullins is shown as he attempts to clear the street in front of his business early Wednesday morning. More snow is predicted for Saturday.

Winter weather... all kinds of things happen

By: Nancy Mullins

When it snows an inch (as it did Saturday) and the temperature drops to 10 degrees below zero (as it did Sunday morning) and hovers below the zero mark for more than 24 hours (as it did during the day Sunday and part of Monday), and then snows 4 more inches (as it did Tuesday night), then all kinds of things start happening.

Homes

Exposed pipes freeze and sometimes burst, leaving people either without water or with too much water in the wrong places.

Matt Powell, Jr., Mt. Vernon City Water Superintendent, said Tuesday that approximately one-third of the city water customers may be without water due to freeze-ups, if the decreased rate of consumption is any indication.

According to Powell, the city crew has been answering distress calls since early Sunday morning. He guessed that perhaps 50 or 60 water meters have frozen.

When asked what customers could do to prevent water meter freeze-ups, Powell said that residents should check to see that lids are properly replaced and that old rugs or insulation could be placed around the meter.

Those who heat with No. 2 fuel oil and have exposed storage tanks and fuel lines are likely to have problems with the fuel oil "jelling" when the temperature drops.

Local distributors who have been busy answering local fuel "freeze-up" calls advise customers who normally buy the less expensive grade of fuel oil to change to No. 1 grade during cold weather or at least to mix the two grades half and half.

Service persons must change the filter, blow out the line and put No. 1 oil in the tank so, even though No. 2 grade is about 4¢ cheaper per gallon, it is more expensive

Magistrates raise their salaries to $600 monthly; rehire Hansel for two years

By: Rick Anderkin

Rockcastle County Magistrates voted unanimously to raise their salaries of $456 a month to $600 and to rehire County Road Supervisor Paul Hansel for a two years, following a lengthy two-hour executive session during a special called meeting of the Fiscal Court Monday held in the County Judge/Executive's office.

These two motions were the only ones to result from the executive session which was held to discuss personnel matters.

According to Magistrate Joe Clark, who made the motion to raise salaries, Rockcastle has the lowest paid magistrates in the state. The new salaries were made retroactive to January 5th when the magistrates took office. Along with the salaries, each of the five magistrates receive a $100 a month expense allowance from the state.

The rehiring of Hansel came as no surprise; however, it had been rumored that Hansel might be replaced by the new court. Instead, Hansel was rehired for two years at his present salary.

County Attorney James H. Lambert explained to the court that the road supervisor's job was the same as a term of office and that they could hire a supervisor for either a two or four year period. Hansel had not held the job for a complete two years but the old fiscal court, which hired him the first time, did not specify the length of his employment and the court felt he needed to be officially hired for a specific amount of time.

In other business, the court voted to pay twenty five percent of the expected cost of $33,000 for a county road to go around the fairgrounds at Brodhead to the housing project planned for construction by the city of Brodhead for low-income families.

According to Bill Ashley of J.M. Crawford and Associates of Lexington, who was present at the meeting, the other seventy five percent of the bill will be paid through a grant from Farmers Home Administration. The road will be 24 feet wide and 750 feet long.

Rockcastle County was one of the few counties in the state not to belong to the Kentucky Association of Counties. However, with a

City of Mt. Vernon still without a police chief

By: Rick Anderkin

Despite the fact that the Mt. Vernon Police Department is currently without a chief, the council decided to leave the department on an "as is" basis until their next meeting. The decision came at the Council's regular monthly meeting Monday night.

The decision was made in order to give council members and Mayor Roland Mullins more time to look over the situation. The resignation of Chief Jim Hurd came earlier this month.

In discussing the matter among themselves, newly-elected councilman Pete Hurd said he felt the job should be awarded to the police officer on the force with the most seniority since that is the way the council has handled the matter in the past. However, some of the other council members did not agree with Hurd's viewpoint and wanted to leave the department operating as it is until the next meeting.

"I can tell there is some discussion on the council as to how to handle this situation so, for now, I will start preparing the work schedule for the officers," Mayor Mullins said. "One schedule will be on the board here at city hall and one will be at my home so if there is any question about who works then I can be called at home. Any other problems should be brought to me or (counseling) Tom Welch or Roger McClure for the time being," Mullins further said.

Policeman Ronnie Hurd has the most seniority in the police department at the present time.

Sam Ford, local realtor, was before the council on behalf of Ms. Maggie Johns when, according to Ford, ran bleeder lines from septic tank onto the city's property at Lake Linville and used part of the city's lane for a driveway.

"The reason I am here is because I sold Ms. Johns the lot," Ford said. "The lady is quite innocent because she wasn't aware of what was happening," he said.

Ford told the council that Ms. Johns was worried about answering the suit filed against her by the city and that she would clear up the problem if she had a little time. The council agreed to give Ms. Johns time to take care of the problem and told City Attorney Carl Clontz to hold the suit in abeyance for now.

The council also voted to pay Johnny Cornett, city street sweeper, an extra $15 per month to sweep down to Dailey Street on Richmond Street. Cornett told the council he thought that the ($15) was a fair price (cont. to pg. 16)

Brodhead council changes its mind

The Brodhead City Council has put their city policeman Wayne Denney back on his regular schedule effective last Thursday, according to Mayor Ronnie Cash.

Denney's hours had been changed by the council in their first regular meeting of the year. However, according to Cash, numerous residents were unhappy with the hours of Denney's new schedule.

Cash said that Denney has been put back on call 24 hours a day and will work the same hours as before the council's decision last week.

Charges dropped against two road workers

Charges of theft by unlawful taking were dismissed against two county road workers, Tom Kirby and Monroe Hansel, recently by Circuit Judge Phillip K. Wicker.

Kirby, charged with 4 counts of theft and Hansel, charged with 2 counts, were indicted by the Grand Jury in July of 1981, along with former County Judge/

two road workers

Executive Hubert Thacker who was indicted on charges of malfeasance of office as well as charges of theft by deception.

Charges against three resulted from instances of allegedly maintaining private property with county funds.

Charges against Thacker are still pending.

Arraignment set for three indicted in November

An arraignment date has been set for January 22 for Donald French, Charles French and Junior French, each charged with theft by unlawful taking of property valued at over $100.

The three were indicted during the November term of Circuit Court and have since been brought before the court. They have been released on $5,000 bond each.

Beef slaughtered

According to State police detective Roland Huckabee, a 600 pound mixed Charolais belonging to Keith Coffey of Renfro Valley, was butchered on the Coffey farm near Lake Linville, Monday, January 4.

Huckabee said someone backed up to the pasture, killed the animal and field dressed it leaving the waste portions in a nearby creek.

Bullens home destroyed

An early Saturday morning fire, of undetermined cause, destroyed the residence of John Bullens, about 5 miles north of Mt. Vernon at Brindlie Ridge.

The Mt. Vernon Fire Department responded to the 4:47 a.m. call with the new county fire truck and according to fireman Bud Cox, the fire was under control when the truck's 750 gallon tank ran dry. The time element involved in re-laying lines to a nearby pond and disconnecting the pump, coupled with the strong winds allowed the fire to completely destroy

Elmwood Cemetery Perpetual Care

By Nancy Mullins

Sometime between the years 1909 (when the Mt. Vernon Woman's Club was organized) and 1915 (when the club's organizer, Miss Mary Rose McCord moved away from Mt. Vernon) a "Cemetery Organization" was initiated by Miss McCord.

According to a club history by Mrs. Ruby McFerron, taken in part from club secretary books, the Woman's Club joined forces with the Commercial Club to form the organization, whose purpose it was to solicit funds for improvements of the "sadly neglected cemetery". Miss McCord was president of the Cemetery Association and James Maret was secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. McFerron's history reads as follows concerning the project: "Only a few individuals can now remember the gruesomeness of that cemetery. Covered with wild honeysuckle vines and sawtooths, it was almost impossible to walk through and a spot had to be cleared before each burial. So the work was begun. The ground was cleared, the grave markers straightened, and while the men worked, the women cooked and carried their dinners to them. Soon flowers and grass were growing where briars and thorns had grown. A caretaker was employed and both clubs helped to finance the project. Later a concrete retaining wall was built around the south side, joining the old stone wall on the east side. Many soldiers who were killed in the battle on Wildcat Mountain during the Civil War are buried on the top of the steep embankment in that cemetery. In 1921, a wall was completed and a beautiful arch was erected over the drive."

This is the earliest record available of a community effort to organize and fund the upkeep and care of Elmwood Cemetery, an effort which, through the years, has flourished and waned numerous times. According to Mrs. Bernice

In 1970 the Rockcastle County Jaycees hired workers to rebuild the crumbling concrete wall at Elmwood Cemetery and remove the arch which had been erected in 1921.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR

This is in regard to a group of men who have not received the proper credit in the last few years for a job well done. The past three or four years have been extra hard winters with quite a bit of snow and ice covering our highways. Several times I've called on our Highway Dept. to either spread salt, sand, chip or scrap roads trying to make them safer for our residents to travel and to workers have always responded promptly. Never has the Highway Dept. refused or failed to respond to these requests and I'm sure several accidents have been avoided saving our residents either personal injury or property damage.

One instance that comes to mind is several weeks ago while working a property damage accident in Brodhead that was caused by a single spot of ice in a curve that had the potential of causing several more wrecks. Upon calling the Highway Dept. within the hour John Brown and Doug Lovell were there with their salt truck to remedy the situation.

This has been only one instance out of many out our Highway Dept. certainly deserves a well-deserved thank you for a job well done.

The Law Enforcement Officers of Rockcastle Co.

Dear Editor:

I read with sadness in a recent issue of the Mt. Vernon Signal of the resignation of a State policeman because our judicial system will not punish criminals.

It is frightening to read about the high crime rate in our country, Americans are beginning to doubt if their homes are really "their castles". Rather, many homes have become fortresses. Thieves plunder the houses in broad daylight and rob businesses at night.

Law enforcement agencies are generally understaffed and overworked and quite frequently are frustrated by the level inhibitions placed upon them out of deference to the criminal. Supreme Court Justice William H. Rehnquist accused the courts of encouraging crime by their attitudes and actions toward criminals and disrespect for the laws of the land and the rights of law abiding people. He said, "When our systems of administering criminal justice cannot provide security to our people in the streets or in their homes, we are rapidly approaching the state of savagery."

The slogan used to be "Crime Doesn't Pay" but that is no longer true. More consideration is given to the criminal than to the victim. Criminals are placed in "Waldorf Astoria" atmospheres with the best of food and modern conveniences. But the poor victims are expected to bear their own loss and suffer the injuries. Criminals need deterrents, not inducements to crime. They should be required (if possible) to work under penal supervision to compensate their victims.

It is amazing how the press and liberal sub-sisters sympathize with criminals. They tell us how sorry they are mistreated! Perhaps if they were robbed and beaten, their daughters abused and raped, they would change their tune!

What is the solution to this problem? It begins with proper training in the homes. Police, the prosecutor, and the public must cooperate to make certain that speedy and adequate punishment is meted out to those who break the laws. It is not a matter of weapons control, but rather people control. Yes, it's time we "put the criminal in his place" and make him understand that "Crime Doesn't pay."

Austin Mobley, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

Fund Raising by Foster Parents Assoc. A Success

In spite of the loss of money caused by the ill winds of the helicopter at the Christmas parade, the local foster parents association managed to raise nearly $500. for Christmas gifts for foster children. The greatest part of this was from donations and part was from the sale of baked goods and homemade craft items.

The Department for Human Resources allows the foster parents only $15.00 per child per year to purchase a Christmas gift. They are given this only if no other resources are available.

A month or so before Christmas, Mrs. Debbie Carpenter, Brodhead, called me and stated that she and her husband, Wayne, would like to help the local foster children to have a nice Christmas. Debbie met with me and four of the foster mothers (Mrs. Dora Smith, Mrs. Non Putnam, Mrs. Judy Harrison and Mrs. Betty Manz) and made plans to raise money to purchase Christmas gifts for the foster children. Thanks to the hard work of the ladies and the generous do-

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richard Graham

Roberts-Graham Vows Said

The Ottawa Baptist Church formed the setting for a lovely wedding on Sunday, December 20, 1981, when Miss Connie Lynn Roberts became the bride of Earl Richard Graham.

Nuptial vows were exchanged at half past two in the afternoon with Rev. Earl Davidson performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Roberts. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Graham.

The altar was decorated with an arch trimmed of greenery with blue ribbons and baskets of blue gaidolius. Lighted blue tapers in candelabras formed the setting. Singlet blue candles with ribbons were lit in each window.

A musical program was presented by Miss Janice Jones, pianist, Miss Debbie Davidson, organist and Mr. Ernie Blevins, vocalist. He sang "If," "Color My World," and "We've Only Just Begun."

Escorted to the altar by her father, given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a traditional floor length gown of soft white organza. The fitted bodice of a Queen Anne neckline was lavishly covered in a French re-embroidered alencon lace adorned with seeds of pearls. The lace and pearls followed the sleeves to a point at the cuff. A full circular skirt with the appliques of alencon lace and pearls bordered around the complete hemline adding an elegant touch to her flowing cathedral train. Her mantilla trimmed in lace and pearls sat delicately upon her head and fell to a waist length. She wore a single strand of pearls given to her by her mother. She carried a bridal bouquet of blue silk roses, white carnations and miniature sweetheart blue roses and baby's breath with blue and white satin streamers.

Miss Marie McGuire served as maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of delicate soft blue knit. Jason Hunt, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. He wore a pale blue tuxedo with navy trim, ruffled blue shirt and boutonniere of white silk carnation. He carried a white satin pillow accented with tiny blue silk flowers, lace and streamers.

Mr. Robbie Robinson served as best man for the groom. Ushers were Eric Ponder and Walter Aispit. "ELMWOOD CEMETERY"

Cox, history has repeated itself several times throughout the years, as people in the community have become concerned about the cemetery's upkeep, followed by dwindling enthusiasm after an initial push to reorganize and solicit funds.

In July of 1923, an organizational meeting was held at the courthouse with L.W. Bethurn elected president and Mrs. Oscar Bryant, secretary-treasurer. Thirty-five persons were present at this meeting and $235 was received in pledges. Those present discussed ways and means of making the association a permanent one and plans were made, but never materialized, to draft articles of incorporation. Tip Langford was selected to see the clean-up work and employ labor for the job. At a subsequent meeting, Mr. Langford reported 8 men on the job.

Many graves in the old part of the cemetery were unmarked or poorly marked making it impossible to know who had been buried in many of the graves there, so in 1924 the Elmwood Association purchased a freestone marker from John and Dee Ramsey to honor the unknown dead.

In 1925, the Association voted to lay the unknown "spur of driveway running parallel to the pike."

Following another lull, the Association was revived in 1934 with Mattie Robertson as president and C.C. Cox as secretary and treasurer. Then again in 1951 new officers were elected, with Mrs. Robertson as president and W.H. Cox named as secretary and treasurer.

In 1970, the Rockcastle County Jaycees took as a major project, the repair of the concrete retaining wall around the cemetery. The heavy concrete entry arch which had begun to crumble and fall was removed at this time.

Mrs. Bernice Cox replaced her husband as acting secretary-treasurer in 1974 and in April of 1980, Henry Cox was elected president and Kelly Roaden was named secretary-treasurer.

According to Henry Cox, who presently serves as president, there is no way for Elmwood Cemetery to have any more there are few lots left to be sold. In a generation, without some funds of perpetual care, Elmwood will be an old cemetery with no one to take care of it.

Over the years, some money (approximately $7,800) has been donated to a perpetual care fund. At the November 1981 meeting of the Elmwood Association, the Articles of Incorporation, which had already been filed and approved, were formally adopted by the Association, thus granting the non-profit organization, legal tax exempt status, making all donations tax free.

At the first meeting of 1982 (which will be held Jan. 19 at 7 p.m. in the courthouse) the old association will be dissolved and replaced with the Elmwood Cemetery Perpetual Care Corporation, Cox stated. The basic purpose of the new plan is to try and solicit enough donations (approximately $50,000) to deposit in a trust fund, thus letting the interest support the yearly upkeep budget. Last year, the budget was $3,000.

Anyone wishing to make a tax free donation to the Elmwood Cemetery Perpetual Care Corporation may do so by addressing it to P.O. Box 153, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456.

Yes, folks, its charging-Willie Hiatt is shown as he charged into a Corbin player Friday night at the high school. Willie managed only 5 points on the night as the Rockets lost 65 to 56.

Rockcastle County Rockets boys' team last Friday night as they lost to the Corbin Redhounds by a score of 65-56.

Rockcastle had a narrow one-point lead at the end of the first quarter but things then began to go Corbin's way. By the end of the first half, Corbin, who was a much smaller team, had moved out to a 32 to 16 lead.

The Rockets fought hard and managed to keep the Redhounds from increasing their lead any further as they went into the final period of play still down by 6 points at 48-42.

The Rockets made a run at Corbin about mid-way through the fourth quarter and managed to get within 4 points. However, Corbin regrouped and, not only held onto their lead, but increased it to as much as 11 points.

Rockcastle was led in scoring by senior forward Craig McGuire who had 18 points. Barry Proctor had his best game of the season getting 13 and David Burdner who sat out a big part of the first half because of foul trouble, got 8 points. Anthony Brock, who also had 3 fouls in the first half, scored 6 points on the night. Willie Hiatt got 5 points and Billy Reynolds had 4. Freshman Shannon Bishop came off the bench late in the fourth quarter to get 2 points.

The Rockets were to have played at Jackson County on Tuesday night but terrible weather conditions cancelled the game.

Governor Brown proclaims Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Week

Governor John Y. Brown Jr. has proclaimed the week of January 11-17, 1982 as National Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Awareness week in Kentucky and commended citizens concerned about Sudden Infant Death Syndrome.

Definition: Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS) is the sudden and unexpected death of an infant or young child which is unexplained by history and in which a thorough postmortem examination fails to demonstrate an adequate cause of death.

Circumstances: SIDS strikes without warning. Its occurrence is almost always during a sleep period and thus is also referred to as "crib death". Typically, an apparently healthy, normal baby is put to bed and is found minutes or hours later dead of an unknown cause.

Victim: SIDS strikes babies in every level of our society, regardless of race or socio-economic status. It has occurred while children have been in the care of the mother, the father, relatives, friends and babysitters. It has occurred in the home, in hospitals and even in car bassinets. Characteristically, SIDS affects infants between two weeks and seven months of age. The syndrome peaks, however, between the second and fourth month. Only rarely do SIDS deaths occur in younger and older infants.

Incidence: SIDS is the leading cause of death in infants after the first week of life. In the United States alone, over 6,000 thriving, apparently healthy infants die of SIDS every year. This means one of every 350 babies will die of SIDS.

Diagnosis: SIDS is Diagnosed through investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death, the age of the victim and a post-mortem examination.

Local contact: Betty Lewis at the Home Health office, for any other desired information, 256-4916.

Jennifer Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bishop of Mt. Vernon, will celebrate her 11th birthday, January 11. She is a fifth grade student who enjoys her family and friends. Winter is her favorite season, especially at hog-killing time.

Let's use our County Library

Rockcastle County has a fine library. Let's use it. Respect it. Enjoy it. Some of our adjoining counties have had the misfortune of losing their libraries. That is a huge step backward, instead of forward.

Our library is used very much by all ages. College students use our reference books to copy their term papers, high school students also have term papers to work on and they find their material in our reference books as well as books on our shelves. Mothers bring their children to the library for the story hour, and they learn to appreciate good books. Many men and women read for pleasure, fiction books as well as non-fiction books.

We are starting a program to bring young folks to the library. We are going to give 10 questions on the radio and in the newspapers, and we want you to find the answers and turn them in to the library. We will offer $5.00 for 5 different readers and we will draw for the 5.

- 1. What does an average baby elephant weigh?
 - 2. Where did the United States get the Statue of Liberty?
 - 3. How tall is the Statue of Liberty?
 - 4. Who was the 23rd president of the United States?
 - 5. What day of the week did Christmas December 25th come on in 1900?
 - 6. Who served the shortest term as President of the United States?
 - 7. How many miles long is the Mississippi River?
 - 8. In what state is the Glacier National Park located?
 - 9. Name three short stories by Jesse Stuart?
 - 10. What is the population of Rockcastle County?
- The contest will end January 29th.

We were guests for an early Christmas dinner on December 20th at the home of my niece Barbara and C.B. Owens in Broadhead due to their family having other plans for Christmas Day. There were we greeted by a very dear sister-in-law, Lou Payne, Raymond, Virginia, and Frank Dutton from Crab Orchard, Jimmy Parsons, Janice and daughter from Lexington, Dr. C.B. Owens, Jr., Peggy and Patrick from Somerset, Attorney Phillip Owens, Virginia and family from Stanton, State Banking Examiner Stephen Owens, Ona Kay and son of Broadhead proud of Barbara's family as well as her. Beine one of Rockcastle Co. High School's successful teachers, she has inspired her sons to achieve whatever they undertake. C.B. is a retired postmaster of Broadhead. I am proud of other relatives in this group but I only discuss my hosts today who can be able to go there again next year.

Blueford Payne of Royal Oak, Michigan is a regular city slicker having left Clear Creek many years ago to make his mark in the Industrial North. But he hasn't gotten the gravel out of his shoes yet. Longing for the hills of Rockcastle, he asks that I send him the Signal saying, "If I can't come back to Clear Creek, as you did, I can do the next best thing and read about life back there!" His oldest son, William Payne, has a lot of the hillbilly in him too since he spent many summers here as a boy visiting Grandpa Payne. Once they have played in Clear Creek they never forget as Bill talks of it yet, like his Dad. It's a pity Blueford doesn't use the strong will power as Joe Abney had when he moved back in one night without his wife knowing, or Blueford could be drinking this good mountain, spring water while he climbs the hills in search of the mountain top plant which all kids used to chew and green up their tongue.

There is nothing more stable for winter food on the farm than a good old green leaved, purple and white turnip.

This feud, er-I mean contest over the turnip champion that I have been talking up does not appeal to a once Rockcastle boy who has become one of Lexington's city slickers, Jimmy Taylor Parsons, a nephew (but I have doubts of claiming it now that he's trying to ruin my cause). When I saw him at the Owens Christmas Dinner, he said, in a scornful way, "Why don't you quit writing about those durned old turnips and Tip Reppert? Why not write about a country boy turned city dude like me!" I'll stick to the turnips. After all they are mighty good on a table with fresh pork. After his snooty remark, don't any of you give him a single turnip. I'm on the subject, you would be turnip experts men, let me say you don't have this contest to yourselves. As you know, it's the year of women's lib and I've found a challenger to the turnip title. Mary Harding, my nearby neighbor, announced she was throwing her turnip-I mean "hat into the ring." She says, "I can beat Neely and Clark with my turnip. I was champion last year and had a picture of it in the Berea Citizen to prove it." This may bring out other contenders.

Trudy King, a one time Clear Creek girl and sons having been back home to parents, Armon and Harri-ett Neeley, for a few days, comes from Indianapolis, Indiana.

"Church Happenings" Our church and the Community Service Sunday night, and although I have partaken of it many times, ... solemn, awesome and sacred when you realize all that it means. Kirby led us and made it so meaningful that we seemed to sense His presence among us as we worshipped our Lord. The congregation going out singing Amazing Grace at the end, felt a great closeness and warmth with each other.

Our church offers condolences to Bro Kirby and family in the death of a relative, Chester Kirby.

Our Sunday morning service was one of the best. Afterwards our pastor talked of his starting his third year here at Clear Creek and committed himself to greater service for the Lord in the New Year and asked that we each do the same for the Master. Others discussed their plans for the coming year but one of the nicest talks made was from Everett Robinson, a church member, who paid tribute to his life partner and wife, Ethel. He praised her virtues and companionship, as well as the great moral and spiritual character of this woman. It was a wonderful thing to hear of his appreciation of his wife. The only flaw about the moment was Ethel's being absent due to illness. Every woman who is a wife should hear that said about her, if she is as deserving as Ethel Robinson.

"Featuring People" As I stepped in the Signal office last Tuesday, one of the staff, Anita Plummer, handed me a letter, which had come to the office for me. I read it out in my car, where Mattie Miller was waiting, a letter from Mary Cain Vaughn of Indianapolis, Indiana, who was a former Clear Creek girl, daughter of Samuel Cain. She is aunt of Raymond Hurley and at one time lived in the same location where Raymond now lives. Mary says she is 77 years old.

Dimmer Switch Can Save Energy

A dimmer switch can help you go from a candlelight mood to no-nonsense lighting for reading or writing. It can provide safety lighting at night and save household energy in the bargain. If you use it most often at lower settings your bulbs will last a long time.

Most dimmers have a full-range control that adjusts the light from dim to full brightness. Other features available are lighted knobs, a push-on/push-off knob that allows you to keep a pre-set brightness level and rotary dials. Before you have a dimmer, add up the wattage of the bulbs to be controlled and make sure the total doesn't exceed the rated wattage on the dimmer. Most dimmers go up to 600 watts, but some only go up to 300 watts. Also check to see that the dimmer is UL approved (Underwriter's Laboratories).

Install It Yourself
Make the installation during daylight hours if you're going to do it yourself. Be sure to turn off the electricity at the circuit breaker or at the fuse panel before starting. Some advantages of using dimmer switches are:

To control outside lights. They can be left on all night at a low level for security.

To convert an overhead light to a night light in a child's or elderly person's room, and in a bathroom or sick room to avoid accidents.

To create mood lighting for "candlelight" dinners.

Dimmer switches will cost from $4 to $11, but they can make it up to you eventually in energy saved and bulb-life extended.

Some Cooks Use 56% More Energy Than Others

Some people use half-again as much gas or electricity as others' do to prepare the same meal. A recent test conducted by the National Bureau of Standards compared energy use by cooks fixing identical meals on identical equipment. They discovered a big difference in kitchen habits. With this in mind, the following are tips for saving energy in your own kitchen.

Exhaust Fans, Coffee Makers

Kitchen exhaust fans draw warm air out of the house, so use yours as little as possible.

An electric coffee maker can waste energy, too. Once the coffee is ready, pour it into a thermos jug to keep hot. Instead of leaving the coffee pot plugged in or turned on. If coffee has cooled down, use a small pan on the range or a microwave oven to reheat just one cup, instead of heating the whole potful.

Range-top Cooking

A pressure saucepan is an energy miser. It cooks foods in about one-fourth their usual time. It uses low heat once the correct pressure is reached.

Small pots on large cooking units waste heat. Match the pan size to the range-unit size.

For long cooking, cast-aluminum or cast-iron pots hold the heat well.

Put the pot on the range unit before turning it on. Turn the heat off before the cooking is completed, using retained heat to finish the job.

Use as little cooking liquid as possible and use tight-fitting lids.

Boil only the amount of water you need for instant tea, coffee or hot chocolate.

Oven Cooking

Microwave ovens use much less energy than conventional ovens.

Don't peek if you can help it. Every time you open that door, the oven temperature drops from 25 to 100 degrees.

Plan meals and baking so that you cook several foods in the oven at once. If you just want to bake two potatoes to go with dinner, for instance, use a small cooking appliance. Bake a pie or cake along with them in the big oven.

If you use glass or porcelain-enamel baking utensils, you can set the oven temperature 25 degrees lower than when using metal cookware.

No preheating is necessary for most foods, except for those using leavening agents (cakes, breads, cookies and such).

With many foods, such as meats and casseroles, you can turn off the heat 15 to 30 minutes before cooking time is up. Retained heat will finish the job.

When you have finished cooking, leave the oven door open on a cold day to take advantage of that little bit of extra heat as the oven cools.

A Word of Caution

Never use your gas or electric oven or range as a space heater to warm up the kitchen. That was one of the winter-time duties of an old wood or coal cook-stove, but trying to use modern cooking equipment this way is dangerous. It might start a fire, or use up oxygen needed for breathing. It's also inefficient use of energy. It could even damage your oven or range, which wasn't made for that kind of extensive use.
