Fiscal court passes ordinance dealing with trash disposal; accepts contract

An ordinance prohibiting residents of adjoining counties from using dumpsters around for residents of Rockcastle County making it unlawful to dispose of any "unbagged" trash and prohibiting the disposal of trash anywhere other than inside the dumpster, was passed by the fiscal court Tuesday. The ordinance, which is to take effect March 12, following publication, is an effort by the court to improve the conditions around the dumpsters since the court said violations would be prosecuted.

This action followed the acceptance of a contract with Multi-County Services, owned by William K. Bullens, to provide garbage collection services for the county for $4,600 monthly. One of the terms spelled out in the contract was that dumpsters are to be emptied when they become full.

The county is to assume the responsibility for keeping the area around the dumpsters clean. Elzie Robinson was hired to clean around the sites. He will be paid $3.35 per hour, not to exceed 40 hours per week and is to furnish his own transportation.

Danny Coleman, spokesman for a group of parents from the Roundstone community, asked the court for $2,500 to be used to buy lights for a little league field at Roundstone School.

Coleman was told by County Judge executive Bob Jasper that the county was short on funds right now and had several pressing obligations. He said he felt these had to be met before the county should further obligate themselves.

The general consensus of court members was that there was not enough money at present to fund the request. Treasurer Floyd Owens was asked how the county stood on meeting its obligations to which Owens replied, "You are running awfully close."

Magistrate Joe Clark made mention of the fact that the court had already approved a committee of $3,500 for fighting last year.

Donald Rowe, magistrate from the first district brought up the legal aspect of spending county money on equipment to be installed on school property and over which the court has no jurisdiction.

When members of the committee from Roundstone pushed for a vote, Magistrate Bill Wren made a motion to give the group the $2,500 if there was enough money available and if it was legal. The motion died for lack of a second.

Judge Bob Jasper requested a phone call be made to the Kentucky Attorney General's office concerning the legality of such an appropriation and according to County Attorney Jim Campbell, the attorney general recommended a gainst the appropriation.

When members of the committee urged the court to loan them the money, Judge Jasper told the representatives the county would have to borrow the money in order to loan it to them.

In other business, the magistrates voted to let the county road the new work one week in each district while the magistrates drawing numbers for first priority.

Tom Denney, who was in charge of the drawing idea at first, said he had roads in his district that a car had not been able to tow for the last 6 weeks. Magistrate Wren suggested that if one magistrate's roads were worse, the number priority could be traded to get to the worse roads earlier. Magistrate Denny drew number 4, Wren drew 5, Clear 1, Albright 2. Bud Cox of the Mt. Vernon Fire Department asked the court to write a contract with Rockcastle, facturing asking them to refrain from uncontrolled burning on the premises. He said the fire department had answered 3 calls there, two in the last month for grass fires which got out of control as a result of burning trash in the parking lot. Judge Jasper said he would notify them.

John Kuhn, a resident of Livingston and operator of a service station near the Livingston 175 interchange related to the court that on the night of February 13, he called the county 911 (dispatcher) and requested a county car be sent to his establishment as the result of a disturbance and the threat of more violence. He said the car was told by a resident of the jail that if he "saw" one, he would send it down there. Kuhn said no law enforcement ever arrived.

Carolyn Abney, wife of jailer Henry Lee Abney, said she remembered taking the call in question and that someone (law officer) was notified of Kuhn's call. She said she has no control over whether or not the state police report to their calls to the London Post.

Land trust organizational meeting

In 1979 one hundred acres of land along the Rockcastle River was up for sale. Not wanting to see this neighboring land bought by speculators or developers, the director of Appalachia-Science in the Public Interest (ASPI) appealed to the Regional Land Trust for Appalachian Communities, Inc. The trust responded by purchasing the land, and the intention of someday turning it over to a board of local people committed to the idea of the land trust.

The Regional Land Trust for Appalachia Communities, Inc., based in Clearfield, Tennessee, is a group of organizers from those who believe in community held lands as the critical resources for the self-development of rural communities. The trust does not have a lot of money. Most of the sources of income are from individual and group donations from those who believe in the basic philosophy that everyone who is born has a right to land.

The land trust at Livingston is 100 acres of land intended to be leased for housing and garden sites to people of this community who otherwise have no access to land.

The land will never be sold, but will always remain in trust. The land will be cared for in such a way that it will remain fertile and fruitful for future generations. To assure this, careful and thorough planning for the future of the land is essential. No more people will be allowed than the land can support, and certain areas may be preserved and tended as forest.

Currently, the land is held by the Regional Land Trust for Appalachian Communities, but someday the land will be turned over to a local board, made up of people who live in this area, who are committed to the vision and concept of preserving the land. Anyone who is interested in finding out more about the land trust or in being part of the land trust organizing committee, is invited to an upcoming meeting, Tuesday night, March 9 at 6 p.m. at the Livingston City Hall.

Spacing - Does it help or harass?

By Nancy Mullins

Somewhere recently I read this bludge of insight regarding children and the ever-changing role of parents. "During the first six months you try to keep them from dying, the next six, you try to keep them from killing themselves and the next six, you try to keep them from killing you."

The more I ponder this maxim, the more I become convinced that one of my main problems as a parent (with one child in each of these six-year categories) is that I am not a specialist. The effects of the age differences in my children manifests itself in my often appearing confused, addled and frustrated. This behavior has been mistakenly attributed (even by some who call themselves friends) to a age family back-ground and instability. Not so!

When the first child arrives, most parents are totally unprepared for the anxiety and stark fear which sets in as they leave the hospital with the newborn.

So frightening even are the first rapid gulps the newborn takes as he breathes fresh air, that it is sometimes enough to make parents vow to keep the child from all contact with the outside world until he has had all shots and vow to protect the child's face from wind until he is 5 years old and when our first child was not more than six weeks old, he got a head, cold and stuffy nose. I carried him to the doctor and he make a house visit because I was convinced he was too sick to be moved. I stood and cried as the doctor examined him on the kitchen table, fearful that he would not live through what I was sure was pneumonia.

Most parents go through similar bouts with raging temperatures, hacking coughs, painful earaches and nagging stomach aches. It just seems to me, however, that parents who have more than one child under six are better able to cope. They keep a ready supply of child remedies; they are able to diagnose and distinguish between the really serious and that which can "wait until morning."

When very young siblings contract a childhood disease two weeks apart, for instance, parents may be overworked and drained but following one doctor visit to the doctor, they can maintain some continuity and consistency with regard to treatment and possibly will have some medicine left over for treatment of the next victim. I treat the first of our children if he had a life-threatening illness when

First Blood Drive of 1982 to be Tuesday

On Tuesday, March 9, the Rockcastle County Homemakers will hold their first blood drive of 1982. The drive will be held at the Bank of Mt. Vernon Community Room from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2:30-7 p.m.

Well over 150 pints of blood were provided to county residents last year as a result of the special coverage provided by the Central Kentucky Blood Center and the efforts of those who gave blood. You are able to donate if you are:

- In good health and not requiring constant care of a physician.
- Have not donated blood in the past 8 weeks.
- Not on diabetes medication, antibiotics or other medication (vitamins, hormones, birth control pills, weight reduction pills and aspirin, etc., okay).
- Have not had major surgery, birth, or pregnancy or blood transfusion in the past 6 months.
- Blood cannot be manufactured. Only through volunteer blood donor programs will blood be available to persons who need it. Help save a life if you can.

Weight at least 110 pounds. Have not had a cold, sinus infection or flu within one week prior to donation.

Not on diabetes medication, antibiotics or other medication (vitamins, hormones, birth control pills, weight reduction pills and aspirin, etc., okay).

Have not had major surgery, birth, or pregnancy or blood transfusion in the past 6 months. Blood cannot be manufactured. Only through volunteer blood donor programs will blood be available to persons who need it. Help save a life if you can.

Hit and run

A head-on collision on KY 70, 8.7 miles west of Mt. Vernon Friday about 8 p.m. was reported to KSP headquarters in London by state trooper, Jack Lawless. The driver of one of the vehicles, Phillip Price, 25, of Brodhead, left the scene of the accident after he reportedly approached and struck, head-on, a vehicle being driven east on Ky. 70 by Edgar Crabtree of Winfield, Tennessee. Crabtree said Price apparently lost control and came over into the eastbound lane and struck him after he had pulled almost clear of the highway in an effort to avoid the accident.

According to Crabtree, Price, who was alone in his vehicle, told him that he did not know who was driving his car when the accident occurred and left before police arrived.

Witnesses at the scene took Price's license number and he was later located and charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Accident

A two vehicle accident about 3:15 p.m. Tuesday, February 23, involved a vehicle traveling north on Ky. 1229 and a parked car.

According to a report by state trooper Guy Elevins, William Alexander, 17, of Brodhead failed to negotiate a curve about 6 1/2 miles from Mt. Vernon and struck a car parked in a driveway 17 feet from the roadway.

Alexandine Harris, 44, of Brodhead was in the parked vehicle, however she was not injured.

Michael Alexander, 15, a passenger in the Alexander vehicle, sustained class 4 injuries and William Alexander received class 3 injuries. Neither were treated immediately for the injuries.

NOT QUILITY

Paul Davidson and Leslie Reed were found not guilty by a jury in Rockcastle District Court last Tuesday February 23 on charges of possession of alcoholic beverages for purpose of resale. Davidson and Reed were arrested and charged on December 28.

Three bills sponsored by Rep. Ford

Although the 1982 session of Kentucky's state legislature has just reached its midpoint, Representative Danny Ford of Mt. Vernon has had three of his bills passed by the General Assembly.

Representative Ford co-sponsored House bills 26 and 88 and was a primary sponsor for House Bill 299.

House Bills 26 and 88 will increase the penalties for planting, harvesting, cultivating or selling marijuana to a minor. Both bills were passed unanimously by the House of Representatives and Senate. "House Bill 299 will change the state's prevailing wage law so that the costs to Kentucky taxpayers, for some very necessary governmental services, will be reduced," Rep. Ford stated.

House Bill 299 will raise the minimum contract covered by the prevailing wage law to $250,000 from $500. House Bill 299 will also exempt projects undertaken by local governments and school systems, which receive at least fifty percent of their funding from state government.

Further, under House Bill 299 the state Commissioner of Labor will compute prevailing wages in each county, instead of by congressional district.

Representative Ford remarked, "House Bill 299 will bring down construction costs for school systems and local governments, which will reduce the cost that is paid by the taxpayer."

The Senate passed (Cont. to 4)

School board meets

The Rockcastle County School Board met Tuesday night and accepted the low bid of $10,629 for boiler and fire insurance on the county's school buildings. The bid was submitted by Pennington-Maupin Insurance Agency of Richmond. Singleton and Associates Insurance Agency and Norton Insurance also submitted bids.

In other bid openings, the board voted to accept the low bid of $3,288 from Pennington-Maupin Insurance Agency of Somerset for 80 lights and 80 brackets needed to light the Roundstone ball field. Also accepted was the low bid ($4,310.50) from Central School Supply for lunchroom tables for Livingston School to be purchased with lunchroom funds. The low bid was accepted for food items to be purchased by the lunchroom during the last quarter. Additional work on RCHS baseball field including blasting and removal of existing exposed rock and grade work, installation of the remaining fence and the construction of two dugouts was approved by the board.

Elнора Burke and Garland VanHook were approved as substitute teachers, subject to certification. G.E.D. certificates were granted to Ricky Allen Miller, Marilyn Jo Kates, Kathy Jo Mullins, Sheila Pittman Polly and Billy Joe Bryant.

The board approved the advertising and acceptance of sealed bids for Title I furniture and supplies for the two classrooms at Roundstone School. Superintendent Charles Parsons was authorized to send applications to all certified personnel and request return by March 31, 1982.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
 Please find enclosed a check for a year's subscription of the Signal. I feel lost without news from home. I was born and raised around Mt. Vernon, went to school to John E. McFerron, also to Dr. John D. Henderson, Clyde Watson, to Eula Carson and believe me, they taught us not only our history and arithmetic, but to serve the Lord and be good neighbors.

John Lair went to school on Richmond St. He is, like me, been here a long time. Most all my neighbors and friends are gone.

I will be looking for my paper soon. My father was J.G. Orton.

Sincerely,
 Mary Preston Cincinnati, Ohio

Dear Editor:
 Facts from my observation of over 800 users of Cambridge Weight-Loss and Diet Nutrition Program.

More rapid weight loss in comparison with results from other diets that I have tried.

Energy level has surpassed all other diets, with the exception of those persons with hypoglycemia (low blood sugar). Persons with high blood pressure, under supervision of a physician, have experienced a reduction of blood pressure of up to 20 mm/Hg.

Some diabetics have experienced a reduction of insulin of up to 50%.

Under any personal investigation of this diet, I have found these facts:

The FDA approved the Cambridge Diet Plan on July 9, 1980.

The diet, when taken in the recommended daily amount, gives more than 50 essential nutrients.

The Cambridge Plan is a high fiber, low calorie diet.

The Cambridge has adequate fiber for the normal individual. According to Mercks Manual (used by physicians for standards set for normal body maintenance states): "About 30 grams/day of good quality protein is necessary to maintain normal nitrogen equilibrium." Cambridge contains 33 grams of high quality protein.

Sodium levels according to Mercks Manual is 2-15 grams per day. Cambridge has 1.5 grams per day. The reason Dr. Howard, founder and researcher of this diet, lowered the sodium level was for heart patients.

Potassium levels are more than adequate in the fact that the potassium intake daily is equal to the potassium in a normal state. "The normal intake of potassium varies between 1 to 4 grams per day." Cambridge contains 4 grams per day.

Dr. Howard spent 8 1/2 years of dedicated research forming this diet. It has undergone extensive research.

George A. Bray, M.D., Professor of Medicine, UCLA School of Medicine, in Los Angeles, California, and Associate Chief, Division of Metabolism, Jefferson Medical Center, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, expresses his professional opinion in this way: "Obesity and overweight are major problems in the United States with 14% of all men and 24% of all women between 15 and 74 years of age being more than 20% overweight." "The diets which are available for weight reduction can be divided into low calorie diets and 'very low calorie diets'."

"A balanced diet is one in which all the major macronutrients (protein, carbohydrate and fat) are present in reasonable proportions. An unbalanced diet is one in which the percentage of one (or two) of the macronutrients is greatly increased in proportion to the rest." "Not to be confused with the liquid protein diets, the diet developed by Dr. Howard and his colleagues in Cambridge and London, England, has used high-quality protein and has been supplemented with carbohydrate as well as most of the vitamins and minerals."

The composition of the Cambridge Diet is based on the findings of Dr. Howard. The protein sources are nonfat milk solids, soy protein and hydrolyzed vegetable protein, fructose and soy flour. There's nothing apparent in this formulation which should be in any way harmful or deleterious.

I have personally experienced a loss of 51 pounds in 10 weeks and have maintained this weight for the past two months through use of the Cambridge Diet Loss and Lifetime Nutrition Program. My energy has far exceeded what I have experienced with other weight loss programs.

The greatest weight loss that has been achieved out of the 600 users in this area has been 100 pounds over a period of 10 weeks.

In the United States there are an estimated 1.5 million users of the Cambridge Diet Plan.

Sincerely,
 John L. Sipple, D.C.

State Legislature

By Senator John D. Rogers

A considerable amount of Senate and House bills continue to be studied, debated and passed or defeated by Kentucky's state legislature.

This past week the Senate passed one of the Brown Administration's reorganization bills and a "right to light" bill. Also, Senate Bill 20 was passed, which should give the legislature more say over the construction of state roads and bridges.

On February the 11th the Senate passed Senate Bill 171 by a vote of 23 to 7. Senate Bill 171 will conform state law to the Brown Administration's reorganization of the Energy and Utility regulatory commissions.

Under Senate Bill 171, the Energy and Utility regulatory commissions will be combined into a single Public Service Commission. Prior to 1978, the regulation of public utilities rested under the authority of a single Public Service Commission.

On February the 18th the Senate passed Senate Bill 18 by a vote of 24 to 9. Senate Bill 18, or the "right to light" bill, will permit property owners to record a solar easement or right-of-way as an interest in their property.

On February the 18th the Senate passed Senate Bill 60 by a vote of 33 to 9. Senate Bill 60 should save the state millions of dollars of unnecessary road projects and give the legislature more say over the construction of state roads and bridges.

Senate Bill 20 will require the state highway department to develop four classifications of highways, establish standards for each classification and determine costs to upgrade the highways to the established standards. The department will also be required to provide a priority ranking for projects in each highway classification.

Further, the highway department will be required to submit their final construction plan to the legislature, the legislature will then have the authority to omit projects determined not to be in the proper order of priority.

This week the Senate passed House Bill 299 by a 26 to 11 vote.

House Bill 299 seeks to change the prevailing wage law in such a way that it will serve to benefit every taxpayer in Kentucky.

House Bill 299 will raise the minimum contract covered by the prevailing wage law from $500,000 to $1,000,000 and also include construction projects undertaken by local governments and school systems, which receive at least fifty percent of their funding from state government.

And, under House Bill 299 the state Commissioner of Labor will compute prevailing wages in each county.

Under House Bill 299 will bring down construction costs for school systems and local governments, which can only take some of the burden off the taxpayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Barnett

Saylor-Barnett Vows Spoken

A beautiful winter day was the setting for the ceremony uniting Miss Virginia Sue Saylor and Mr. Ronnie Dale Barnett in holy matrimony.

Given in marriage by her parents, the ceremony was performed before a white altar decorated with the Holy Bible and pink roses with baskets of white gladiolus on each side.

Willie Hiatt, no. 20, is shown trying for a goal in the opening round of the 49th district tournament held at Manchester Tuesday night. Willie had an off-night scoring only two points and so did the Rockets as they lost for the third time this season to Clay County by a score of 75-49. Other Rockets in the photo are Craig McGuire, directly behind Hiatt, who led the Rockets in scoring with 17; Barry Proctor, no. 10 and Anthony Brock, no. 40.

Debbie Bowman, no. 24 and Glenna Beams, no. 20, try to stop a Clay County girl from scoring in Tuesday night district action at Clay County. Beams played a fine game defensively for the girls but both she and Debbie had a little trouble finding the range scoring on 6 and 2 points respectively. They weren't the only girls who had trouble finding the range as the Rockettes lost in the opening round of the 49th district, 45-35.

Teresa Sturgill, no. 22 is shown as she tries for two of her 18 points in Tuesday night district action at Clay County. Teresa was high scorer but the team fell short 45-35.

Rockets downed in district tourney play

The Rockcastle Rockets boys team traveled to Manchester Tuesday night to face the Clay County Tigers in the opening round of the 49th district basketball tournament and came away with 75-49 loss.

The Rockets, who had lost the two previous meetings with Clay County this season, were never really in the contest as the Tigers took the lead from the outset and never looked back.

The loss was the 14th of the season for second year Coach Roscoe Denny, against 13 wins.

The boys were down by 20 points at halftime and Clay expanded that lead to as much as 31 in the second half.

Senior Craig McGuire led the Rockets in scoring with 17 while center Anthony Brock, who will be the only returning starter to next year's squad, had 12.

Sophomore Chris Cornelius came off the bench to add 7 while the two starting guards Barry Proctor and Willie Hiatt accounted for only 2 points each. David Burdine earned 6 points while Scotty Roberson helped with 3.

The girls finished out regular season play against a fine Monticello team and were defeated 54 to 45. The game was close all the way as both teams scrapped hard to win.

In the first quarter, we went up 12 to 10. In the second period, we were up 24 to 23. In the third period, Monticello went on top 38 to 36. Midway of the fourth period, they went on top to stay. We outscored them 22 to 20 in field goals but in free throws they outscored us 14 to 12.

We committed 12 fouls, they committed 10. We had 13 turnovers, they had 20.

We played extremely well in the second period, Holbrook, Sturgill, Thomason, Wolfe and Farthing doing a fine job during the game.

In scoring, Reams 10, Bowman 4, Holbrook 4, Sturgill 17, Thomason 8, Farthing 2.

Clay County defeated us 45 to 35 in the opening round of district play. We played, extremely well in all phases of the game except shooting. We took 55 shots and could connect only on 15 of them for 27 percent. This was our worst shooting of the season. We had very good shots but they would not fall for us.

It was a hard-fought contest which saw the lead change hands several times before we hit a dry spell.

Scoring: Reams 6, Bowman 2, Holbrook 2, Sturgill 18, Thomason 5, Martin 2.

March winds signal the beginning of kite flying season. Protect yourself and others by following these safety rules.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

Kay Carr was certainly the homemaker to choose to present the lesson on "Coupons and Refunds-Make them Work." She certainly makes them work for her family. She carries a small box with coupons filed in categories so they can be found easily when she shops. At home she has three large rectangular boxes with national coupons, store coupons, forms to exchange for cash, etc., filed for easy access. The lesson gave us courage to get our coupons in order and never forget them when we go shopping.

The Blood Drive will be held at the Bank of Mt. Vernon March 9, 1982. As our president says, "Blood doesn't grow on trees, so let's help to make this drive a success." Cynthia Colson and Carol DeBoard plan to make tapes to advertise this on WRVK radio.

Play practice will start soon for April 2nd and 3rd production that members plan to have to make money to buy Christmas Decorations for the town. Deborah Newland and Aslee Bray are in charge of the advertising for the "play".

On March 13, 1982, a farm machinery auction will be held at the fairgrounds. Volunteer workers for selling and preparing food were selected for these jobs. A 100-cup perculator and a cooker were bought to have for occasions like this.

The State Homemakers Meeting will be in Lexington March 17, 18 and 19. Four members, Gladys Bussell, Sylvia Whitt, Emily Gllovak and Elizabeth Mullins plan to attend all or some of these meetings.

Roll call was answered by a New Year's Resolution that had been broken. Decision was made to use interest on money for present expenses.

Barbara Watson gave us a treasurer's report. Glenn Brooks read an invitation for the 50th Wedding Anniversary for one of our members, Sylvia Whitt and her husband, at Brothead Baptist Church on March 6, from 2-6 p.m., given by relatives of the couple.

Eighteen women were present at this February meeting held at the Brothead Senior Citizen Building. The hostesses were Elaine Newland and Mary Belle Johnson. They served delicious refreshments. Next month's hostesses will be Clara Proctor and Ella Mae Martin at Mrs. Proctor's home on West Street.

he had children, while 2 years later the same 25 years did not require anything other than a bag of candy.

The second six years of life, parents battle darts, pocket knives, trees, bicycles, mini-bikes, BB guns, plus a whole assortment of previously unimagined dangerous situations such as riding bulls, swinging axes, testing the thickness of ice, diving into rivers and creeks and playing on farm machinery.

It is a time of reaching out beyond limits previously known, yet not wanting to know any new limits.

Clothes are torn to shreds as a daily routine, teeth are knocked out and chipped, eyes are blacked, bones are broken, skin requires stitches and tongues are stuck on ice trays.

Now, the only advantage I can think of to having all your children in the 6-12 age group, is that they would likely play together and by chance one might be an informant or reporter. Our middle child once hung (I am not sure for how long) by one foot from the baby was a sleep and her older brother was at the movies.

GOVERNOR PRESENTS CHECK—Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr. presents a check for $21,329.74 to a delegation from Rockcastle County last week in the Capitol. The check represents the county's monthly payment from Gov. Brown's three revenue sharing programs with local government — the coal severance tax return, the mineral severance tax return and the county road aid program. This year, Brown told county officials, the return under his three programs will exceed by $25.1 million the amount returned to local governments under the old program. From left are: Rep. Danny E. Ford (R-Mt. Vernon); Gov. Brown and County Judge-Executive Bob Jasper.

"Save Your Vision Week" is March 7-13

"Plan Today to See Tomorrow" is the theme for the 1982 Save Your Vision Week, the Kentucky Optometric Association has announced. The event, slated for March 7-13, is proclaimed annually by the President of the United States to remind Americans of the role good vision plays in their lives and of the importance of preserving their vision with proper preventive health care. "This year's theme emphasizes preventive vision care," said Dr. Bob Mackey, president of the optometric organization. "It helps remind people that they must take care of their vision now so that they will be able to see for a lifetime."

Dr. Mackey added that preventive vision care involves not only regular vision examinations but also good vision care habits. Such habits include taking eye breaks while conducting close work, watching television or driving long distances; wearing the right safety eye wear for a lifetime.

Why shouldn't funds deposited in a checking account earn interest? - Here they do.

Our NOW account offers both a savings and checking program all under one roof. Your money earns 5 1/4% interest while on deposit. Then, when a check you have written is presented to us for payment, we simply deduct this amount from the account.

Really, that's all there is to it.

You receive a statement regularly showing all the activity. Every deposit made, every check written is shown on the statement and the balance in your account is totalled. Interest earned, too, is shown on the statement and added to the total funds you have on deposit.

If you don't have a NOW checking-savings program with us now, act now. Our NOW should be in your life now. Stop in.

SS Begins Campaign To Collect Overpayments

Social Security is conducting an aggressive campaign to collect the nearly $1.9 billion in outstanding overpayments owed to Social Security by those who receive monthly social security retirement, survivors and disability benefits as well as supplemental security income (SSI) payments, according to Bob Anderson, manager of the Richmond Social Security Office, in a statement issued this week. In most instances, these overpayments came about because a person failed to report an event that affected his or her right to benefits.

It's much easier to prevent an overpayment that it is to lose part or all of one or more monthly checks, money that most people need for day to day living. And, the easiest way to prevent overpayments is to report any event that could affect the right to or the amount of a person's monthly benefit. I cannot emphasize strongly enough the necessity of proper reporting.

Prompt reporting of the following events will go far to prevent a possible overpayment. People who get green social security checks should report:

Earnings above the annual limit—the 1982 annual limits are $6,000 for people 65 and over any part of 1982 and $4,440 for people under 65 all of 1982. Generally, $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings above the annual limit. Notify Social Security as soon as you think your earnings will exceed the annual limit. Don't wait until your earnings have already gone above the limit. And remember, the SS pay that counts, not just take home pay. Any plans to go outside the U.S. for 30 days or more. Absence from the country may affect the receipt of checks.

Any work outside the U.S., no matter how little you earn.

Divorce or annulment of marriage. Benefits to wives or husbands generally end unless the marriage

Special Interest Programs

The following programs sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service, are scheduled for March.

An aerobic exercise class will begin on March 9 at 6:30 p.m. The class will be held for 8 consecutive weeks on Tuesdays at the Community Room of the Rockcastle County Library. Beaty McCullough will be the instructor. The fee is $15.00.

Register for either of the classes by calling the County Extension Office at 256-2403.

lasted 10 years or longer.

Marriage. Any person who gets benefits as a child, widow, widower, divorced spouse, or parent of a worker should report if he or she marries.

Child leaves the care of a mother or father. A mother or father who receives benefits because she or he is caring for a child, must report if the child leaves her or his care.

Change in school attendance for a child over 18. A child over 18 can get checks as a student only while he or she attends school full time. Any change in attendance must be reported. Also, the child must report if he or she is paid to attend school by an employer, or if he or she is convicted of a felony.

Death. Benefits stop at death. Someone should report if a person getting benefits dies. No check is payable for the month of death.

A person getting benefits because of a disability should report the following: The person's condition improves.

Return to work, no matter how little is earned.

Application for, the receipt of, or any change in the amount of any public disability benefit provided by Federal, State and local programs, including workers' compensation payments. People getting gold SSI checks should report: A move or change of address.

A change in household.

Any change in income.

Any change in resources owned.

Any improvement in condition for a blind or disabled person, or if the person takes a job.

Any change in school attendance for a student under 22.

If a drug addict or alcoholic stops treatment.

If a person can't manage funds.

If a person dies.

It's very important that these reports be made as soon as possible for the person's own benefit.

No check is payable for the month of death. The quicker the report is made, the more likely that an overpayment will be prevented. The required reports can be made by telephone, mail, or in person at any Social Security office. A report should include the following information: name of person about whom the report is being reported; date it happened; signature if report is by mail or in person; social security number; correct claim number under which benefits are being paid. The claim number is shown on the correspondence and appears on all checks.

Any help you need can be obtained at all Social Security offices. Remember, it is a lot easier to prevent an overpayment than it is to repay it.

money Facts and Figures

When the first electronic banking started back in 1976, there were about five banks offering such service. Today, almost every bank in the top 200 offers electronic cash management, which lets any size company get its bank to do four things by a computer link out here: transfer money, has and where it is, move a account and record the transactions.

With today's high interest rates, companies that know who they are, it is so it will be able to manage it wisely. According to Allen M. Gentry, president of Allen M. Gentry Associates, a New York City consulting firm, the answer is a microcomputer system that lets you manage the key to financing in the 1980's. The system contains a computer terminal, a TV screen, storage on a floppy disc and a printer.
