School system opens August 18th; Board raises school tax for 82-83 year

by Rick Anderkin

School in the Rockcastle County School System will officially begin August 18th when teachers will report to their respective schools. Students will join the teachers the following day, August 19th, according to Charles E. Parsons, Rockcastle County School Superintendent.

Parsons told the members of the board of education, during their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night, that he needed approval from them to make any necessary adjustments and transfers to start the school year off properly. He said that any change in personnel assignment would be subject to their approval at the next board meeting. The board agreed to give their approval.

The school tax rate of 6.5 cents per $100.00 was raised to 6.8 cents by the board Tuesday night as they exercised their right to raise the tax 4% each year. Parsons told the board that in his last meeting with the Kentucky State Board of Education, it was agreed that any school system that did not take the 4% raise would be in trouble with the state if they ever got themselves in a bad situation. He said that for this reason he felt like it was a must to take the increase.

In the aftermath of the school bus garage break-in last month at the High School, Superintendent Parsons suggested the board that they hire a night watchman to stay at the garage and to keep watch over it, the high school and the vocational school. The board agreed with Parsons' recommendation and gave him the authority to find a suitable man or men for the job.

Head football coach Larry Woods was present at the meeting to discuss with the board the 7th and 8th grade football program at the grade schools, as they are now being operated. He said that it was not of anyone's but that those two years were almost useless as far as a football player was concerned. He asked the board to consider recommending that the program be revamped. He said that he would like to see the 7th graders fall back into the varsity program as they plan for one more year there, and the 8th graders would come to the high school and play with the freshmen as an 8th and 9th grade team. The members of the board and Mr. Parsons all seemed very interested in what Woods had to say. Board member Kenneth Adams then made the motion to give Parsons authority to work with the coaches at each grade to get the program on its feet and ready for the beginning of school.

At the wake of Mrs. Pauline Mullins' retirement from the school system after 39 years of teaching, the board hired two ladies to replace her Tuesday night. Mary Gregory was hired by the board as the full time speech therapist and Lori Mullins, part-time. Mr. Parsons said that the ladies were fully qualified in this field.

With the beginning of school this month, the board hired several of its employees Tuesday night, and set the pay scales for 1982-83 school year. Substitutes will receive a monthly meeting Tuesday night, that he needed approval from them to make any necessary adjustments and transfers to start the school year off properly. He said that any change in personnel assignment would be subject to their approval at the next board meeting. The board agreed to give their approval.

tut teachers for the coming year were hired and they are as follows: Elizabeth Kaye Payne, Larry David Welch, Jennifer Jarroverde, Deborah E. Stevens, Linda Dene Whitehead, Edna Fain, Janet Cummins, Darrell Wayne Sparks, Darla Mae Reams, G. G. Wilcox, Sharon Gwyn Caudill, Charlotte Bullock, Polly Abney, Debbie Jo Cash, Katherine Bradley, John Nugent. Substitutes will receive a monthly meeting Tuesday night, that he needed approval from them to make any necessary adjustments and transfers to start the school year off properly. Cooks, lunchroom managers and substitute bus drivers were also hired Tuesday night. son. The board granted a one year leave of absence to Miss Janet Rader, an EMH teacher at Brodhead School, and gave Mr. Parsons authority to find a suitable replacement. Bus drivers Olen McGuire and Frank Martin were also granted one year leave of absence.

The adult education program for the school system will be the same as it was last year with Mrs. Verla Scott teaching the class at $7.00 per hour; Mrs. Pauline Mullins, the supervisor, at $104.00 per year and Naomi Mink, clerk at $49.00 per year.

Voters will decide fate of ambulance service this Fall

by Rick Anderkin

Residents of Rockcastle County will be able to decide for themselves whether or not they want to have the Rockcastle County Ambulance Service continue to serve them, according to Bob Jasper, County Judge Executive.

Jasper and four of the five magistrates discussed putting the ambulance service question on the November ballot, at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday morning.

Only $8,000 was appropriated for the ambulance service in this year's fiscal budget and it takes over $100,000 to run it each year, according to deputy Judge executive Mark Jasper. Jasper said that $8,000 is a far cry from what the ambulance service needs to stay open but that the money just simply is not there. He said that the county's budget, excluding the jail, was cut around $130,000 from last year. "We simply have no other choice than to see if the taxpayers want to tax themselves more next year to pay for the ambulance service," Jasper said.

The court met for close to four hours Tuesday morning and, during that time, Sheriff William Taylor was again present to ask for more money. He said if he didn't get some help from the Fiscal Court come September, he would close his office. He told the court that they could not expect any more work for nothing and that is what he would be doing.

The county Judge executive, told Taylor that he understood his problem and that if the money was in the budget they would help him all they could, but that the money just wasn't there.

"It bothers me that every other thing you want to do you've had money for, except the Sheriff's department," Taylor said. Magistrate Donald Rowe asked Jasper where the $4,000 was coming from to build two voting buildings. (The court agreed earlier to have two buildings like the one in the Brown voting precinct, built for Conway and Bullock and to spend no more than $2,000 each for them.) Jasper told Rowe that it was the duty of the Fiscal Court to provide a place to vote. "It's something we've got to do," Jasper said.

Rowe then made a motion to give the Sheriff's department $1,000 a month instead of the $600 they are getting now. Magistrate Alex Albright seconded the motion. Magistrate

Magistrate Joe Clark and Bill Wren, along with the Judge executive voted no on the measure. The vote was three to two because Magistrate Tom Denny was absent from the meeting. A new statewide building code will go into effect August 15, and Charles A. Cotton, Commissioner of State department of building, was present Tuesday morning to explain to the court what that would mean to the county. He told the court that they would have to hire an electrical inspector and a building inspector for the new laws going into effect. He said that a plumbing inspector is provided by the state and that the court would not have to employ one. He said that every new dwelling or not on a farm would have to go through an electrical and plumbing inspection and that any dwelling other than a single family house would have to go through a building inspection. (The Fiscal Court had the option of whether or not to have single family houses inspected by the building inspector and they voted it down.)

The commissioner went on to tell the court that any farm dwelling would be exempt from all inspection. He said that the way the state decides what is a farm is how the Property Valuation Administrator has it listed on the tax books.

The court voted to start proceedings for closing two roads (the Bowman road and the Bill Cass road) in the county. The court can only begin proceedings and Tuesday's vote is far from final.

Betty Sue Bullen of Mulkey County Services, who handles the collection of garbage for the county, was present Tuesday to tell the court that the landfill that they now lease would be full by the time their contract was ready to renew. She said that the court should start looking for another site as soon as possible because it takes about six months to get the state's approval on a new landfill.

The court gave the Judge Executive authority to advertise for bids on proposals to lease land to the county for a new landfill. Bids are to be opened next month.

In other business the court voted to charge persons lodged in the Rockcastle County jail $10.00 per day for each day in jail and they hired two new ambulance drivers, Keith Bussell and Terry Robinson.

Rockcastle man dies Saturday of self inflicted gunshot wound

A Rockcastle County man died Saturday evening after he was shot in the chest with a .22 caliber target pistol, according to Lincoln County coroner, Bobby Martin.

Alton Bradley, 38, of Route 1, Crab Orchard, was pronounced dead around 8 p.m. after two of his sons found his body, Martin said.

Martin stated that the incident happened in a wooded area across the road from Bradley's home and that the death appeared to be a suicide.

Bradley ran a printing shop in Brodhead for several years before going to Lancaster.

He was born in Madison County, the son of Curtis Bradley of Route 1, Brodhead and the late Syble Bullock Bradley. He was a printer for the CAP Christian Appalachian Project in Lancaster and was a member of the Ottawa Baptist Church.

Survivors, besides his father are his wife, Mrs. Brenda Barker Bradley of Route 1, Crab Orchard; four sons, Troy, Stephen, Anthony and Chris Bradley all at home; one sister, Mrs. Jeleen Cummins of Winchester; his step mother, Mrs. Addie Bradley of Route 1, Brodhead.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, August 3, at the Ottawa Baptist Church by Bro. Marion Brock, Bro. Earl Davidson, and Father Pauline Mullins. Burial was in the Ottawa Cemetery.

Funeral arrangements were by the Watson Funeral Home.

Kentucky Genealogical Society to meet in Frankfort August 7th

The Kentucky Genealogical Society will meet August 7 in Frankfort. The members of the group will hear talks on Kentucky Military records from speakers, Mrs. Linda Ashley, Eugene Harrell, Dr. Frank Westvik and Mrs. Edna Milliken.

KU BEGINS SELLING COAL ASH

Kentucky Utilities Company has implemented a method to help solve an economic and ecological problem: coal ash disposal. The company is selling fly ash to concrete companies who use it in manufacturing their product. "KU is always looking for innovative ways to save money and operate more efficiently," according to Bob Ormond, director of production and generation construction. "When fly ash is sold and used, it doesn't end up forever in a settling pond that is expensive to maintain."

Ormond said that sale of the ash presently brings in only a small amount of revenue. However, as a market for the product develops, it will be helpful in keeping electric rates as low as possible.

KU generates about 99% of its electricity by burning coal. As a result, large quantities of coal ash are produced annually at the company's power plants.

The traditional way to dispose of ash has been to install electrostatic precipitators to collect it from the stack, mix it with water, and pump it to settling ponds. Storing this coal by-product has been a costly and space-consuming problem for the company. Huge silos, which can store 1,000 tons of fly ash, have been installed at KU's Ghent Generating Station in Carroll County and at the company's E.W. Brown Plant in Mercer County. Ash can be loaded directly from these silos into tanker trucks.

Pre-registration that includes lunch, is $10. On the day of the conference the fee will be $12.

Ormond said KU is studying the feasibility of buying equipment to load fly ash into rail cars for long-distance sales. The fine gray powder can be substituted for up to 20% of the cement in concrete. Fly ash-based concretes actually become stronger over time rather than deteriorating. Other uses are also being found for the product. KU began its fly ash operation in March and plans to expand it later this summer. The company hopes to ultimately sell as much as 25,000 tons of fly ash a year.

The seminar is open to the public and reservations should be made by writing the Kentucky Genealogical Society, P.O. Box 153, Frankfort. Reservations are limited to 200.

Mrs. Linda Ashley is the daughter of Mrs. Sadie Ramsey and the late Earl Ramsey of Mt. Vernon. In 1975, Mrs. Ashley composed and published a most interesting and complete history of the First Christian Church in Mt. Vernon in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the present building, 1924-1974. Typed and bound copies were available for any member wishing to purchase them. Mrs. Ashley is indeed eligible to be a member of the Kentucky Genealogical Society at our capital in Frankfort.

Brodhead Willing Workers Homemakers Club

The longest discussion, the fourteen women present at Betty Machal's home, was about the August Family Picnic. It was at the William Whitley House Picnic Grounds at 6 p.m. Friday, August 27th. Jean Albright and Elizabeth Mullins will be co-hostesses for this get-together of the families of the 24 members of the Brodhead club. Each homemaker will bring a covered dish. If anyone wishes to tour the house, they will have to go before 5 p.m.

The job of the club is where Brodhead's Christmas Lights can be bought and the price of them, was given to Barbara Watson and Deborah Newland. Emily Glovak and Sylvia Witt were chosen for the nominating committee for the club's office for a new year, beginning in October. Gladys Bussell, our county's president, asked each member to make a list of their accomplishments and hours of volunteer work since last October. To send to the area's district president so she can send it on to the state president. Our president, Glenna Brooks, thanked Sylvia Witt and Gladys Bussell for serving drinks, etc. at the Blood Drive, and all the women who called to remind past blood donors of the drive's date.

Announcements made were, County Council Meeting at Cheryl Witt's home at 6 p.m., August 5th; Area Meeting at Cumberland Falls November 4th; the third World's Fair. Trip is planned for October 15, and last-but not least, a St. Jude's Hospital Bike-a-thon on September 18, headed again by Deborah Newland. SE. A list of jobs around for volunteer workers to sign to help in this undertaking that involves safety for children taking part in this worthwhile job. If it rains, the bike-a-thon will be September 27th.

Loraine Newland had us answer questions about our U.S.A. Flag and President to try to bring out cowboys in our brains. Our guest that we hope will become a member, Linda Clark, answered the most correctly. We were reminded again, to enter something we have made, at the Little World's Fair, Tuesday, August 11th, between 10 a.m. and noon. A delicious salad and sandwiches were served by the co-hosts, Sylvia Witt and Betty Machal before adjournment.

All we ladies are very busy as we are in the process of getting ready for the winter ahead and as fast as time goes, wintertime will be here before we realize it. But we just thank God for all the blessings of life and for everything that He does for us.

Mrs. Janet Ridgell and daughter, Sherry and Mrs. Hubert Chastep visited Mr. and Mrs. John Adams of Crab Orchard July 13th. Bless their hearts they are very dear friends and it was so good to see them again.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and son, Kenneth were in Ohio July 21st and 22nd where they spent the night with Eugene's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. James (Georgia) McCall in Springboro and then visited Mrs. Alexander's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Powell of Spring Valley. They enjoyed their visit so much.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cope last week ago this past Friday night were their daughter and son-in-law, John and Alice Shupe and family, Mrs. Nyoka Shupe Cember and son Matthew, all of Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chastep visited Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Berry of Disputanta last Tuesday evening. Rev. Berry remains very ill and needs our prayers continually. He and his wife Alta have been faithful, devoted servants of the Lord for many years. They both are friendly, kind and loving people and we love them dearly. God bless them.

Recent guests of Mrs. Mary Corman of Nicholasville were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and Kenneth.

Mrs. Cletus Peters and I spent most enjoyable day last Friday in Richmond at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Ashcraft. Mrs. Ashcraft is the former Christine Nolan, a former sister-in-law of Mrs. Peters. She has been a very special friend of mine for many years. And her mother and I both have also known Lonnie for years and years. It was so good to see and visit with them again. Later in the evening we visited Mrs. Peters' niece (and my niece), Mrs. Barbara Ann Croucher in Berea, where she also had such a good visit. All the day was such a joy—one we will long remember. I have always been a person that loves people and enjoys being with them. After all God made us all and we are to love one another. We could use a little more love in the world today.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Powell and family of Spring Valley, Ohio. Sunday the Powell family and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander spent an enjoyable day at Cumberland Falls. Later, Mrs. Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Powell visited a relative, Mrs. Nerva Maiden in Barbourville. Mrs. Maiden is 86 years old and was so glad to see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Wyatt and son, Michael of Clear Water, Florida visited his uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cope last Saturday.

Meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cope Sunday evening were their daughter, Mrs. Carlos Powell and Mr. Powell, of Berea and their grandson, Dwayne Spires of Conway on Saturday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill of Lexington were her sisters, Mrs. Cletus Peters and Mrs. Peters of Fairview and Mrs. Barbara Croucher and husband, Bert of Berea on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vians of Vandalia, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Burdette, Jr. of Lexington were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Anderkin and Cheryl from Friday until Sunday.

We wish a speedy recovery for little Toni Corner of Roundstone who is now a patient in the Berea Hospital. May God bless him to return home soon.

To my niece Georgia Alexander, McCall, I'd like to say, I'm so glad you are feeling better and hope you will continue to enjoy the Mt. Vernon Signal which was recently sent to you as a gift. We love you and your family.

Please attend church and Sunday School with your children every time you can. All people need to be in the House of the Lord. May God bless and keep you as my prayer.

Did John Establish the Baptist Church?

Some Baptists say: "John was the first to baptize people; that made him a Baptist. John baptized Jesus; that made Him a Baptist. Jesus baptized the apostles and that made them Baptists. The apostles were sent out to teach all nations and baptize them, thus those whom they baptized became Baptists." From this reasoning, they conclude that John founded a church and that it was the Baptist Church.

Others say the Baptists got their name because they baptize people. If this be true, their name and origin come from an "ordinance"—the ordinance of baptism—which, incidentally, they say is not essential for salvation.

Either way you look at it, the Baptist Church would have as its origin a man (John the Baptist) or an ordinance (baptism).

To establish the beginning of the Baptist church and Baptist names, we shall quote from the opponents, enemies, or adversaries of the Baptist cause, but from Baptist historians. Therefore the information should carry particular weight and consideration.

The first regularly organized Baptist Church of which we possess any account, is data from 1607, and was formed in London by a Mr. Thomas who had been a clergyman in the Church of England" (A General History of the Baptist Denomination by Benedict, quoting from the Jubilee Report, page 304)

"The word Baptists, as the descriptive name of a body of Christians, was first used in English literature, so far as is now known, in the year 1644. The name was not chosen by themselves, but was applied to them by their opponents" (Short History of the Baptists by Vander, Introduction, page 3)

At the time that Jesus promised to Build His church (Matt. 16:18) in the future tense, John the Baptist was already dead (Matt. 14:1-2). John declared that Christ "must increase" (John 3:30). John's mission as a forerunner of Christ was soon to be completed. When Christ's baptism became law, John's baptism would no longer be effective (for an example see Acts 19:1-5).

There never was but one Baptist mentioned in the Bible—that was John. He was the Baptist, not a Baptist. The disciples of Christ were never called Baptist; they were called Christians first at Antioch (Acts 11:26). Paul sought to persuade King Agrippa to become a Christian—Christ a Baptist (Acts 26:28). Peter spoke of those who suffered as Christians—not Baptists

(1 Pet. 4:16). Neither is the church ever called the Baptist Church. It belongs to Christ (Matt. 16:18). His bride. (Rom. 7:4). John said, "He that has a bride is a bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice..." (John 3:29). The bride wears the name of her husband, not the name of his friend. Baptist do not believe that the church is the bride of John. When should they wear the name that would indicate that they have two husbands: one living (Christ) and one dead (John). The name they wear is that of the dead one!

Let us consider some reasons given in the Scriptures by which we can KNOW that John did not establish the church. If he established it, it did not have the blood of Christ in it because it would necessarily have been established BEFORE Christ shed His blood. Therefore those who would not have been saved because it is Christ's blood which saves (1 Pet. 1:18-19; Heb. 9:20). A body without blood is dead! Furthermore, it would have been Spiritless because the Spirit did not come at a promise that Jesus until His ascension was accomplished (John 16:7-10; 14:16-26; Acts 1:8; 2:1-4). A body without the Spirit is dead!

Jesus said that all plants not planted by the Heavenly Father will be rooted up at the judgment (Matt. 15:13). Jesus established His church after John was beheaded and added the saved to it (Acts 2:47). When He comes again, it will be for the purpose of delivering up His church to the Father (1 Cor. 15:24).

Dear friend, would you rather be in a church which is not mentioned in the Bible and bear a name that was never given to the disciples of Christ in the New Testament than to be a member of the church of Christ which He built, purchased with His blood, over which He is the head, and to which He adds all that are saved? Would you prefer to stand before Christ at the judgement wearing the name of His friend rather than His own name?

We will be happy to send to anyone upon request a free booklet entitled, "Why I Left the Baptist Church", written by Graver Stevens, a former Baptist preacher.

In Memory of My Husband Arthur W. Adams

It has been one year ago on August 2, you were called away. Arthur, you couldn't tell us goodbye the day God called you home. Your suffering is over, your mansion ready. It's supper time, the Lord must have said. What a supper that must have been. For you were such a special guest. Your chair is empty now. Your place at the table and Home is just not the same since you were called away. I know you are walking those golden streets and your suffering is over. But, Arthur, we will always miss you. And tears we will always have. Because you were the dearest husband and dear a family could ever have. To all of you who still have your husband, do something special for him. A year from now, he could be gone.

USDA proposes stiffer disqualification penalties for food stamp abuses

Food stamp abusers will get stiffer disqualification penalties under a proposal announced by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Mary C. Jarratt.

Under the proposal, people found guilty of intentional misrepresentation or fraud will be disqualified from the food stamp program for six months for the first offense, 12 months for the second and permanently if found guilty of a third offense. These penalties would apply to all individuals regardless of whether they are determined guilty at state or local administrative disqualification hearings or in courts of law.

Currently, persons found guilty of fraud at administrative hearings are disqualified for three months, while those found guilty by courts are disqualified for six to 24 months for food stamp abuses.

In the past, states have been reluctant to conduct administrative hearings because they viewed findings of fraud to be under the jurisdiction of the legal system.

The proposal would add the intentional making of false or misleading statements to the offenses for which a person can be disqualified from the food stamp program. Then, states will not have to prove fraud per se, but only intentional misrepresentation by the household. Persons would be disqualified for violation of any state food stamp statute under the proposal announced recently.

"This is one of the many measures we're taking to improve the integrity of the food stamp program and eliminate fraud, waste and abuse," said Jarratt. "These rules should encourage states to actively pursue persons abusing the program by handling more cases of suspected fraud administratively."

The proposal would also change the way states recover overpayments. If a household receives more benefits than it is entitled to as a result of intentional misrepresentation, recovery would be the same for a fraudulent overservice.

Under current procedures, only the disqualified individual is responsible for repaying fraudulent overpayments. With the proposal, the household would be responsible for repaying the overpayment by agreeing to a reduction in its allotment or making the repayment in cash.

The state agency would also reduce the household's future allotments to collect overpayments due to inadvertent errors by the recipient. These reductions would be limited to 10 percent of the household's allotment or $10 a month whichever results in faster collection.

In addition, state agencies would be able to turn any claim over to a professional collection agency or take the household to court if it fails to respond to a collection agency after demanding repayment.

Comments on this proposed rule will be accepted through August 20 and will be considered in developing final rules. Send comments to: Thomas O'Connor, family nutrition programs, Food and Nutrition Service, USDA, Alexandria, VA 22303.

Forty-nine pints given during homemakers blood drive

On July 20th, the Rockcastle County Homemakers held the second blood drive of the year at the Bank of America. Forty-nine people donated. When added to the 63 pints collected in March, the Homemakers have 112 pints toward the county goal of 195 pints. Eighty-three pints are needed at the final blood drive which will be held on November 9, 1982 at the Bank of Mt. Vernon.

Rockcastle County has enjoyed "total County coverage" through the Central Kentucky Blood Center since November of 1979 when the county first obtained its goal in one year. This goal has not changed through the years even though usage has gone up and donations have been harder to come by. "Total County Coverage" simply means a safe, adequate supply of blood will be on hand for each Rockcastle County citizen who needs it in any amount. No replacement deposit fees will be charged on blood transfusions.

Mt. Vernon Plastics will be holding a blood drive for their employees on Tuesday, August 3, 1982, from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. Also on that day, Rockcastle Manufacturing will hold a blood drive for their employees from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m. Both sites will be visited by Central Kentucky Blood Center's new Bloodmobile.

The following people came out to donate blood on the 20th:

Early settlers were dependent on "home-remedies" for illnesses

by Nancy Mullins

Early settlers, to the area were on their own when treating sickness and pain.

Anbesol, Tylenol, Hatticol, Nytol, Midol, Peptobismol, alcohol are other "store bought" remedies and drugs are what the modern generation relies upon to cure its ills.

As recently as forty or fifty years ago, modern drugs and the health care services we depend upon now were expensive and in short supply, if available at all. Added to that was the isolation of persons living in rural America, most of them taking pride in being independent and self-reliant. Medical help was sometimes a day's journey away. Bad weather and bad roads made the trip almost unthinkable.

Home remedies were made from available resources, many coming, no doubt, from the Indians who were familiar with the area's herbs and trees. But many must have come from a process of trial and error as the early settlers tried sometimes in vain and sometimes with limited success to find relief from infections and pain and struggled to live in the harsh environment.

Salves and teas made from roots, blossoms, buds, berries and the bark of accessible vegetation served as the basis for many remedies.

Childhood diseases and even colds, more so than today, posed a serious threat and always, there was the fear of pneumonia.

Measles killed many young children as it spread through families and communities. One early treatment for measles was a tea made from the bark of red sycamore. In many cases, medicine was given to make the measles "break out". Reportedly cases of measles in which the patient did not break out were much worse and only after breaking out with the rash did the recuperation begin. Among the teas made and given to help promote the breaking out were spicewood (shrub tea) and a tea made from either sheep dip (manure) or a tea made from boiling the corn cobs gathered from a hog lot.

Colds, croup and pneumonia, all affecting the lungs were treated in a variety of, sometimes stinking, ways.

Groundhog oil boiled down from the fat was one remedy for croup. The idea was that the oil would gag the patient and thus help bring out the mucus. Another treatment for croup was a poultice made from cooked onions and rubbed on the chest.

One of the most popular treatments for colds and congestion or pneumonia was a good chest rub with lard, coal-oil, camphor and turpentine (in an combination) covered with a warm flannel rag. Another fairly common medicine for pneumonia and colds was a knife dipped into quinine and touched to the tongue. Reportedly, it made your head roar and "felt like the top of your head was about to come off". But it helped break up pneumonia.

Pennyroyal tea and bone set tea were both taken for consumption and fevers. They reportedly had a sedative effect and "sweated" a person, breaking up the fever.

Some teas such as pennyroyal was made in advance and drunk cold, while some stems of the bone set plant, which grows in swamps, was gathered and hung to dry from the ceiling to be made when needed.

One lady interviewed remembers the cold remedy in her family was mutton tallow rubbed on the feet and the feet placed up to the open fire. It was intended to "open you up."

For the dreaded tuberculosis or "catarrh" as it was sometimes called, a liverwort tea which reportedly had a mild taste was taken. It supposedly "sweated the lungs" and helped take the infection out.

"Bitters", made from yellowroot, honey and whiskey was used to treat flu or gripe as well as for a cough medicine. Another cough medicine was honey, whiskey and rock candy. Wahoo and Seneca snake root (which was scarce) was a good tea for opening up the lungs during bouts of pneumonia and bronchitis.

"Flux", "summer complaint" or what doctors would probably now term "viral" also posed a serious threat especially for children who quickly dehydrate after a short period with the ailment.

Snake root tea was also used as a remedy for diarrhea as was blackberry juice.

A jelly-like medicine for constipation was made from slippery elm roots. The roots were boiled to make the gelatin substance. Tea made from wild cherry bark was also used as an early laxative, usually given at the advent of a stomach ache.

One lady interviewed had an aunt who was bothered with stomach pains and a hurting in her side which she treated faithfully with hen manure tea.

Hospital News

Being admitted to your local hospital - what you should know

by Leigh Anne Hlatt

The Hospital News article in last week's Signal was designed to give you a general overview of the facilities available at the Rockcastle County Hospital. That article was followed each week by a more specific one which will present a close-up look at a particular aspect of the hospital.

This week the column will explain the steps a patient has to follow in order to be admitted to the Rockcastle County Hospital. Although many patients make plans ahead of time to enter the hospital for treatment, many other people have to be admitted unexpectedly or through emergency procedures. Knowing what to expect ahead of time, whether you are a planned or unexpected admittance, will make the process as simple as possible for you as an incoming patient.

I talked to Zella Alcorn, the Director of Nursing for the Skilled Nursing Facility (SNF), and to Serena Stratton, the Social Worker for SNF, to learn the steps involved in the admitting process for acute care and long-term patients.

Mrs. Alcorn explained that acute care patients (those with a physical need that should be met immediately) will have to have a doctor's order before they can be admitted to the hospital. When the hospital receives the order from the doctor, the patient is then taken to the Admissions Office before going to his room.

The job of the Admissions Office is to get each patient's medical facts. The patient will have to answer short, basic questions about his health condition and his chief physical complaint at the time. He is also expected to sign his name and give his address, parents or guardian, name of doctor, and the person to contact in case of emergency. Unless a patient is responsible for himself, a parent or guardian will have to sign permission for his treatment.

The patient is placed in his room after the Admissions Office has gotten his medical facts. The doctor may then check on the patient or call by a verbal order for treatment to begin.

If a patient is admitted under an emergency situation, such as a car wreck, he will be treated by the doctor on call and will receive medical attention without anyone's permission if the case is too serious to be delayed. If possible, the Admissions Office will obtain the medical information on the emergency patient when he gets there. Not, the basic facts can be found from the identification the patient has with him and the rest will be received later.

The procedure is a little different for patients who are being admitted to the Skilled Nursing Facility. The reason for this is that the SNF patients are admitted for extended periods of time. These patients do not have an immediate need, but they have to have 24 hour a day nursing care.

"This is not a nursing home," said Mrs. Alcorn who directs the nursing staff of the SNF. "You cannot stay here indefinitely for customer care. It's the step between acute care and the nursing home."

Mrs. Stratton, who processes admittance and discharge papers for SNF, added, "When the patient's condition has been improved they can be moved."

There are several requirements to be met before a patient can be admitted to the Rockcastle County Hospital's Skilled Nursing Facility. The patient must have had at least a three day stay at an acute facility (not necessarily Rockcastle's), and he must be under a physician's care. If the family has not specified a physician, the hospital will choose a doctor on a rotating basis according to the alphabetical order of the staff doctors' last names.

"The Kentucky Peer Review Organization (KPRO) plays an important part in the placing of patients into the SNF if the patient is subsidized by Medicare or Medicaid. If a patient is able to pay his own expenses he does not have to be approved by KPRO. KPRO determines if a patient needs the long-term care offered by the Skilled Nursing Facility. If approved by KPRO, the patient can be transferred to Rockcastle's SNF from their acute care facility or any other hospital's acute care facility that has gotten permission from Rockcastle.

The other hospital is responsible for getting the patient to Rockcastle's Skilled Nursing Facility, which admits approved patients from 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Monday through Friday. The patient is then evaluated by KPRO once a week to determine whether his condition has stabilized enough to be moved to a nursing home or to go home. Registered nurses with special training come to do the evaluating.

When the patient comes to Rockcastle's SNF, he should be responsible for himself, or have a family member or guardian with him. He will stay in the Admissions Office at the entrance of the hospital and then will be taken to Mrs. Stratton in the SNF. She will record the patient's social history which includes such pertinent information as allergies, food likes and dislikes, usual habits of the patient and responsible SNF members. It is state law that the patient will have to sign his rights and responsibilities.

As soon as a patient arrives at the SNF the doctor is called. The patient will receive 24 hour a day nursing supervision.

The patient will stay in the SNF only as long as he warrants that type of care. When his condition is stabilized he can be moved to a nursing home or to his own home. If the patient is paying privately he can move to the nursing home of his choice or continue to stay at the SNF. The patients taken care of by Medicare or Medicaid will have to take the first nursing home available within a 50 mile radius or become privately paid.

The patient is never moved from one level of care to another without the doctor and the family's permission.

Mrs. Alcorn stressed that Rockcastle's SNF is the only one in the state of Kentucky that takes respiratory dependent patients. Before the SNF was built, patients with respiratory problems had to stay in acute care. Mike Barr is the respiratory therapist at the Rockcastle County Hospital and Kim McGowan is his new respiratory therapist assistant.

The procedure process at the Rockcastle County Hospital involves a planned procedure that will insure the best care possible for the entering patient. If you are ever faced with hospitalization, knowing what to expect from the procedure will facilitate your admittance and get you settled into the hospital as quickly as possible.

"REMEDIES"

(Cont'd from second front) made from the roots of the plant was used as a menopause remedy. The medicine is made from the roots and wounds were treated with salves made from such ingredients as Balm of Gilead buds boiled down to make a "slimy stuff". Mud packs were sometimes treatments for surface wounds. Cuts in one section of the county were stitched with a regular needle and a hair from a horse's tail. Spider webs were sometimes administered to a wound to help stop bleeding.

Slippery elm bark was gathered to make poultices. It was hammered to a pulp and made into a poultice to be used to bring a "rising to a head" or to help relieve soreness and inflammation.

Sassafras tea was said to thin the blood; turpentine was given for worms and rub on wounds; catnip tea was given babies for colic; the seventh son of a seventh son blew into the mouths of babies suspected of having thrush mouth. The list of remedies is long and varied, but one remedy handed down in our family which sounds a bit preposterous I know and even though I can't explain it, I know it works and works well. As soon as a victim is stung by a bee, make sure the stinger is out and then do the following: gather three grasses or weeds and mash or rub them together firmly between the fingers and thumb until the green juices are flowing, then rub the grasses firmly on the sting. For some reason the pain eases and the swelling is lessened.

The natural remedy is one of the closest things to a miracle cure I have found, but then, of course, I have never tried sheep dip tea.
