Controlled Calving Season

Why should beef farmers be concerned with developing a scheduled or controlled calving season?

Surveys show that two out of three beef herds are on year-round calving. Of those herds, 40 percent of their calves are born in June through August or the summer months. Calves born in summer months can be expected to weigh approximately 70 pounds lighter at weaning than those dropped at other times. Other reasons are related to a herd's management and productivity.

By following a controlled seasonal calving program; better care can be given cows at calving time. Percent calf crop is the major economic factor in a cow-calf operation and care at calving time affects percent calf crop. It is very difficult to properly check cows which are on a year-round calving season.

Herd health and management is facilitated when those practices are followed which are more likely to perform all these jobs at one time, it is much more likely that they will be done and the stress level will be much less.

Pregnancy testing and culling open cows can greatly influence percent calf crop and herd profits. However, it cannot be conveniently carried on with year-round calving.

Brood cow nutrition can be improved. Winter feeding of the brood cow is the most expensive phase of cow-calf production. If some of the cows are dry usually some are nursing calves during the winter, the herd cannot be fed in the most efficient manner. Since cows nursing calves require at least 50 percent more protein than dry cows, neither group can be fed properly if they are nursing together.

Marketing or stocker-finisher operations are improved. A calf crop which is uniform in age and size can be marketed to a better advantage. Large uniform groups of calves will usually bring several cents per pound more than those sold individually. If calves are uniform in age, they will also fit into the farm stocker or feeding programs.

Culling and selection of replacements based on production records can be better accomplished to make meaningful comparisons among brood cows, calves born within a 90 to 120 day period. One of the main criteria for culling cows is the relative performance of their calves. Accurate comparisons between cows cannot be made in the calving season is too extended. Acceptable performance implies not only weaning weight but also that a cow produce a calf each twelve months.

How Does A Farm Start Controlled Calving Season?

In most herds a year-round calving season, natural calving concentration already exists. Nutrition is the major factor responsible for brood cow cycling and conceiving at certain pastures, are usually at their peak of quality in spring and early summer. A natural concentration of calving may occur in late winter and spring (March-April). No system of grazing on a controlled breeding program can completely eliminate the desiring of a herd to calve during a certain calving schedule. However, by taking advantage of the natural concentration in a herd, the problem can be minimized.

A system for converting from year-round to a 90-day controlled calving season over a period of three years would present less loss and fewer problems than to try to convert in one year. The following steps are suggested for getting on a controlled breeding system:

1. Remove bull from herd. Select removal date to coincide with latest date you want calves born on your farm.

2. Assuming fertile active bulls have been used and that there were enough bull calves to replace those removed, after removing the bulls from the herd (or at a conventional time near the first year) cull all non-pregnant dry breeding-age females which have been running with the bull as well as non-pregnant cows with calves five months of age or older.

Put bulls back with herd the first year so that calving season will be six months long. For a second year beginning March 1st, bulls should be placed with cows on May 20th and removed November 20th.

Start breeding replacement heifers 20 to 30 days ahead of the final long-range planned breeding date for your herd (May 1).

Put bull with mature cows for six months the first year.

The second year, follow the same system as outlined above, except start breeding so that calving season will be about 4 1/2 months long with weaning calves May 20 to October 5.

The third year follow the same system as outlined in steps above, except start breeding season so that calving season will be 80 to 90 days. (May 20 to August 10 breeding season). Also cull all open cows this year when pregnancy checking regardless of age of their calves. The breeding season can be made even further in following years.

The ideal season would be 60 days. By starting breeding on May 20th to July 20th calves would drop March 1st and continue over the next 30 days. Advantages of this concept are: dry cows are taken through the winter and require less stored feed. Breeding improved by increased grazing during late spring and early summer. Herd health and management practices can be done at one time. Calves will be group by size better. The feed supports the gain will provide higher weaning weight. Replacement heifers may be chosen from larger, older animals by performance records.

The advantages all lead to more efficient and profitable beef production.

Let's Give Working People A Fair Shake

How would you like to work 8 or 10 hours a day...for a small salary plus tips...and then hand over nearly all the money you earn to Uncle Sam?

That's exactly what may happen to some of our hard-working waitresses, and it's something that I'm trying to stop!

This ridiculous situation is the result of a bad law passed by Congress last year, a law I fought and voted against. The law set an arbitrary amount which the government assumes a waitress is receiving as tips. But in my instances, waitresses are making much less than this arbitrary figure. The law is creating havoc with the lives of honest, hard-working citizens in the District and elsewhere. In fact, some waitresses may even end up owing money to the government!

This new law, designed to catch a handful of workers who under-report their income, must be repealed. This week, I co-sponsored legislation which would repeal this tip reporting requirement. We simply must stop harassing honest citizens with a lot of bureaucratic red tape, which only deteriorates their lives further.

This same sort of situation occurred with the new 10% withholding tax on savings and dividend interest. I voted against this bill as well, and am also working to get it repealed. By most estimates, 95 of all taxpayers faithfully report their interest income at tax time. But in a few to try and catch a few law-breakers, more paperwork and burdensome bureaucracy have been dumped on our banks and savings and loans, and on average citizens—citizens who need that interest income now for the use, and not sent off to Washington.

Spring forest Fire Season has begun

The Spring Forest Fire Season is beginning now, according to Steve Bullen, Rockcastle County Ranger with the Kentucky Division of Forestry. The official Fire Season began March 1 and ends May 15. During this period, weather conditions are such that just a day or two of hot, dry weather causes dangerous burning conditions. For this reason, Ranger Bullen urges everyone not to burn anything during fire season unless absolutely necessary, and to obey the Fire Laws if they must burn something.

During Fire Season, it is illegal to burn anything within 150 feet of any woodland until after 4:30 p.m. The law also requires that anything to be burned must be adequately cleared around before it is burned, and the site must be attended at all times until it is out.

The Division of Forestry will be using planes and road patrols to detect illegal burning, and citations will be issued for violations of the Fire Laws.

Ranger Bullen also offered some other suggestions to reduce the danger of a fire escaping. "No burning should be done when there is any wind of when the weather is very dry", he stated, "and tools, water and adequate help should be immediately available in case the fire should escape."

For information on fire safety, fire weather conditions, or Fire Laws, or to report a forest fire, contact any Forest Ranger or call the Kentucky Division of Forestry at London, phone 864-9959.

Garbage service to continue by the month

An agreement was reached Tuesday between the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court and William K. Bullen, concerning the continued collection of the county's garbage.

Bullen's contract expired March 1, 1983, but the magistrates voted to rehire Bullen on a month by month basis, to continue the service. The monthly amount agreed upon was $4,950.00, an increase of $350.00 per month over last year's monthly rate.

An annual contract was not renewed with Bullen at this time, apparently because the county is in the process of acquiring a land fill. An option and a 40-year lease has been obtained on 37 acres off the Mullins Station Road which the county plans to use as a land fill. Lease price is $1500 annually. The proposed landfill is on property belonging to Emmitt Foster, and, according to Judge-executive Bob Jasper, here are details to work through with the state Division of Waste Management and the county surveyor, Alfred Mullins, before it is ready to use.

The court also adopted a motion to advertise for bids for a 5 year franchise for business and commercial trash hauling. The magistrates named Donald Thompson, Jim Poynter and Joel Gentry to serve as a three member material reapportionment committee. The members will be paid $4.00 per hour and are asked to have the redistricting, according to population distribution, completed in 60 days.

Farmer's Home Administration recently required the county governing body to rename a "holding committee" whose responsibility it would be to either take over management or get

First 1983 Blood Drive scheduled March 8

The first blood drive of 1983 will be Tuesday, March 8th at the Bank of Mt. Vernon basement from 10 a.m.-7:30 p.m. Kentucky

Blood Center has extended the hours so there is no break. During bank hours, come through the lobby of the bank to the back and down the stairs. After banking hours, use the side entrance door.

This is the fourth year that the Rockcastle County Homemakers have sponsored the blood drive. Rockcastle County has received full coverage as a result of the drives each year.

Now, more than ever, your unselfish donation of a pint of blood is needed to provide a safe and adequate blood supply. Your blood not only helps to save a life, but also helps to guarantee blood availability for you and your family.

Georgia man sentenced to two life terms; female companion set free

The man accused of the murder and robbery in the robbery and shooting death of a local gas station attendant last December, pleaded guilty to all charges before Judge John T. Mandt in Circuit Court, Friday.

Raymond Baines, a thirty-one year old black man from Decatur, Georgia, was handed down a life sentence on a first degree murder charge; twenty years on a first degree robbery indictment; and another life sentence for two persistent felon indictments. Judge Mandt specified the sentences be served consecutively. Baines will be transported to LaGrange State Reformatory by the Rockcastle County sheriff.

Francis Williams, 25, Baines' companion, indicted on charges of aiding and abetting in the murder and robbery was released after charges against her were amended to first degree criminal trespassing.

She was sentenced to term served, which was 61 days in the county jail, and released Friday.

Baines and Williams were charged with the offenses after witnesses who pulled into the Exxon Station where the robbery was taking place helped identify them. The incident occurred on December 27, 1982. Thurman Tompkins, 60, was shot twice in the chest and once in the back and robbed of approximately $130 while working as attendant at the station.

Luther Rose, right, was presented with the Rockcastle Improvement Award Monday night at the group's monthly meeting. Rose was commended for taking a "negative" and making a "positive" out of it. Rose has remodeled a gas station at the edge of Broadhead and turned it into Rose's One Stop, an attractive business place, and a plus for the town. Bill James, left, made the presentation.

School closed for three days due to "flu" epidemic; reopened Thursday

School administrators are hard put to remember a time when school attendance dropped as low as the 78.6% of last Monday.

School was dismissed last Friday when a week of lagging attendance had failed to improve by last Thursday. Officials were in hopes that after the long weekend, Monday's attendance would improve; however, just the reverse was true.

Pupil Personnel Director Garland Cummins said Monday that absenteeism in the elementary schools was up 4 times the normal amount, calling for the re-closing of classes on Tuesday and Wednesday.

He said the flu epidemic, which is being blamed for the poor school attendance here and across the state, has obviously spread to the elementary schools. Last week it was the highest school which had the lowest attendance rate. Cummins said attendance was up some Monday at the high school.

"We just can't handle it moneywise," Cummins said. The school system, according to Cummins lost $7,000 due to absenteeism Monday alone. The money goes to the state Department of Education on the basis of average daily attendance.

School is scheduled to reconvene on Thursday. Cummins said they would re-assess the situation then.

Most schools in surrounding counties previously affected by the outbreak, made decisions Monday to keep schools open in spite of continued absenteeism. Most of these systems had already lost several days due to flu related absences.

Those systems remaining open this week were Jackson County, Floyd County, Whitley County, Corbin, Middleboro and Pineville Independent schools, Clay County and Laurel County schools.

Norma Mullins new postmistress

Renfro Valley is getting a new postmaster. Norma M. Mullins will officially become the new postmaster of Renfro Valley on March 5, 1983.

Mrs. Mullins has worked at the post office since 1979, serving as the replacement clerk for former postmaster Betty Van-Winkle, who is now the postmaster at Paint Lick, Ky.

It was announced recently by Paul Carlisle, regional postmaster general for the 13 state central region that Mrs. Mullins was the successful applicant for the vacant postmaster position at Renfro Valley.

All postmasters are appointed by the Postmaster General, William F. Bolger. Postmaster appointment are not subject to Senate confirmation. Mrs. Mullins is a native of Renfro Valley and has one son, James, age 14.

Meeting notice Dairy Producers Luncheon will be held Monday, March 7th at 12 noon in the PCA meeting room.

To the Fifth graders at MVES:

Mt. Vernon once had pool and rink

By: Nancy Mullins

About 70% of the fifth graders at Mt. Vernon Elementary responded to our queries about Mt. Vernon and the county by naming a swimming pool and a skating rink as the most desired improvements.

Most likely, they do not know that Mt. Vernon once boasted having both forms of recreation. It was more likely, they take a small measure of enjoyment from that fact, nevertheless, we found it an opportune time to talk about those two "used-to-be's".

The swimming pool was built in the mid 1920's. Times were good, economically and Rockcastle County was growing. If it was not quite the roaring twenties here, it was certainly the booming twenties. There were approximately 1,500 more people living in the county then as compared to now. There were also some very progressive thinking people for that time and they were willing, not only to think progressively, but to act.

The pool was built with money "pooled" by nine local men who planned the facility late in 1924. The men who formed the Mt. Vernon Amusement Company that built the pool were: Fred Baker, Bentley Sparks, B.H. Parsons, A.R. Sparks, Fred Owens, R. Harvey Miller, F.E. Miller, F.L. Durham and R.L. Langford.

The pool was in the spirit of the day, that of having a good time and it was quite a prestigious venture, for there were very few pools in the state and none in this whole area.

Bentley Sparks, one of the members of the company, says he has tried to forget the venture that was Fred Owens' brainstorm. Each man put up $100, and he said, "that was back when a dollar loan was as big as a bed blanket." So, it was no small investment.

What the pool amounted to, he remembers, was that "we dammed up Town Branch" near the Spout Spring. (The site was near the present site of warehouse owned by Central Vending.) Sparks said it was really "just a big mud hole." The bottom was bedded with limestone rock. The pool which opened in the early summer of 1925 was 10 feet deep at its deepest end and measured approximately 50' x 30'.

Almost from the beginning, there were problems. There was no filtering system. Sparks said, "We didn't even know what a filtering system was." The water became muddy and dirty, rains caused overflowing and an unusual rainy season caused problems. It was mud slides in the pool area.

"Old Dr. Pennington (who did not own a share of the stock) condemned it," as Sparks remembers, "before the season was even out." And, he adds, "it probably should have been condemned long before that. It is a wonder we didn't all get sick and die from it."

There were no rules governing the operation of pools in those days. There was no lifeguard, although Andy Fish was hired to attend the gate and rent bathing suits. The fee was 25 cents to swim and 25 cents extra to rent a suit.

All this was complicated by two other negative influences. One of the members came up with the idea of a grandstand for spectators. This expense proved to be an error in judgement, since many townpeople, shy to try out the new and be on display, preferred to watch, free of charge.

Despite the gaiety of the era, there was a certain restraint with regard to acceptable public bathing attire. The approved bathing suits of the day covered the entire body. A local merchant, in eager anticipation of the opening of the pool, placed an order for bathing suits. When they arrived, however, they

These old skates were the kind worn in the early part of this century in the skating rink that was then in the basement of the building occupied by Harold Jones' store. Jones said he found the skates in the attic section of his store. The basement, which was never electrified, was lit by oil lights. The last manager of the rink, Will Mullins reportedly sold most of the skates to area children.

Dear Editor,

I was very pleased to see the letter last week in the Signal, referring to the flying of the American Flag in the Mt. Vernon City Park. I whole heartedly support this project and urge others to do likewise. Let's all get together, Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County and get behind this campaign. We have a flag to be more than proud of. Let's show our patriotism in this way. When we look as "Old Glory" we see the sign of a nation, great and strong.

the hope of freedom and the embodiment of liberty. We also are reminded of the great price our forefathers and fathers, have paid in places like Valley Forge, Gettysburg, Iwojima and even in Southeast Asia, for this land of freedom of ours.

Henry Ward Beecher said, "A thoughtful mind sees not the flag, alone, but the nation itself, the principles, the truth, the history."

Old Glory is our history, our heritage of liberty purchased with blood and sorrow. Let's pay the honour due her, let's fly her high. Long may she wave.

Sincerely,
Jackie R. Renner

EDITORIAL

A preschool child's condition required hospitalization in recent days as a result of sexual abuse in which the father is the prime suspect.

We are a nation concerned with rights. Human rights, equal rights, rights of the unborn, civil rights, women's rights, and most assuredly, the rights of the accused and the imprisoned are championed.

It is ironic, then, that in the push and shove of political grouping, maneuvering and defending, that children are often trampled underfoot.

Most crimes against children go unpunished. While cases of reported child abuse are increasing, only the most flagrant instances get court attention. Punishment, if and when meted out, seems wholly inappropriate for such heinous acts against the totally defenseless.

Who defends the rights of children? The state is supposed to protect children. Law enforcement officials are supposed to protect children. The court system is supposed to protect children. The school system is supposed to protect children. Churches are supposed to protect children. Parents and other adults are supposed to protect children. Why is it then that so many children are unprotected? Is it everybody's job and therefore nobody's?

When Shelby County in recent months, there has been a focusing and cooperative effort among officials and agencies to prosecute sexual offenders of children—only one of 120 counties—only one aspect of child abuse. Yet, it is an effort to do something about a crime that nobody likes to talk about or get involved in.

Why is this the exception, rather than the rule? Children don't have money, and we all know money "talks". Children don't have political clout nor voting rights, and everybody knows that gets the job done. Children don't have a lobby working to reform laws on their behalf. Children don't have bodies equal in size and strength to the attacker. They lose on all fronts in the struggle against adults.

About the only immediate recourse children have against violence and physical abuse is to cry and scream and beg for help. And later there is usually no one to listen.

In a land of opportunity, where is that which belongs to the hurting child? In a land that boasts protection of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, is it only for those who have muscle?

Why do not those who support the right of the unborn to enter the world support with equal enthusiasm that child's right, once born, to be taken care of?

GS Cookie Sale

The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale, a major fund raising effort for over 17,500 girls from Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council, is now in progress. Rockcastle County Girl Scouts will be selling the delicious goods until March 14th, according to Alma Kendrick,

The purpose of the Girl Scout Cookie Sale, a Girl Scout tradition since 1936, is twofold: to help raise money for local troop activities, and to help support Wilderness Road Council's outdoor program and camp development. Seventeen and a half cents of each box sold stays in the home troop to help pay for program supplies and other

Girls advance in district as Bowman and Sturgill star

Fast-paced, aggressive ball handling and fancy outside shooting advanced the Rockcastle Lady Rockets to the finals of 49th District action as they rolled over the Oneida Lady Mountaineers, 68-49, in the opening game of the tournament Tuesday night.

Junior guard Teresa Sturgill had the hot hand in the first half, hitting 8 field goals, and senior forward Debbie Bowman came through in the second, scoring 6 of her 10 field goals then. Bowman also led in rebounds with 16 and steals, 8.

The Lady Rockets jumped out to an early lead and never looked back as the quarter scores were 25-11, 37-18 and 57-35. But, the important thing is it was a stellar performance from each player and the type of performance that, if repeated Friday night, could give the girls their first real shot at a district title.

Eighteen fouls were whistled on the Lady Rockets as compared with 9 on the Lady Mountaineers but the girls from Oneida could only pick up 9 points at the charity stripe while the Rockets were 6 for 11 from the same spot.

Bowman and Sturgill tied for scoring honors at 22 each; senior forward Kelli Thomason got 12 and instigated several steals; Stephanie Wolfe, Donna Farthing and Cynthia Holbrook each scored 4. The girls shot almost 57%, hitting on 31 of 55 field goal attempts.

Friday night the girls will play the winner of the Jackson County - Clay County game.

Boys lose to Oneida

110-80 in district

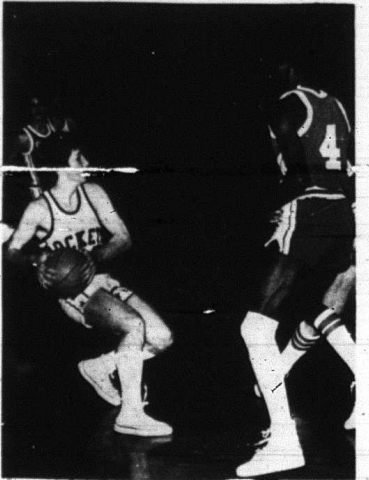

For a while Tuesday night, Rocket fans thought they might have two teams in district finals Friday night as the Rockcastle Rockets boys' team stayed with the Oneida Mountaineers through two quarters of play, even leading most of the first quarter. But, it wasn't to be as the Mountaineers defeated the Rockets, 110-80.

At half-time, the Rockets were only down by 3, 48-45, but in the third quarter, the Mountaineers, who maintained a full-court press throughout the game and weren't even breathing hard, outscored the Rockets 31-15 and likewise in the fourth quarter, 31-24.

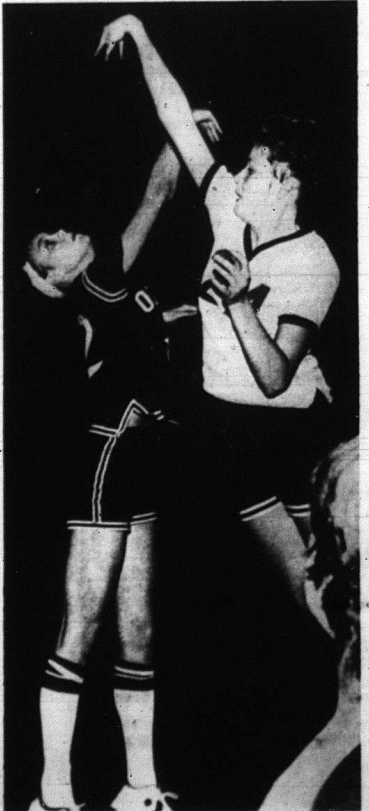

Junior guard Roger Isaacs had the hot hand for the Rockets the first (Cont'd to P.8)

Junior guard Roger Isaacs needed help James Brown, No. 00, who was high scorer against the Oneida full-court press Tuesday night and he managed to lead junior Tony Burns, No. 3, who scored 23 to teammate sophomore Shannon Bishop, points for the Mountaineers, mostly from No. 24. In the photo is Oneida guard, the parking lot.

Junior guard Chris Cornelius brings the ball down the court against the Oneida Mountaineers full-court press during their district game Tuesday night which Oneida easily won, 110-80. Cornelius was high scorer for the Rockets with 21 points.

Senior forward Debbie Bowman passed the ball to a teammate during district action Tuesday night. Bowman tied for scoring honors with Teresa Sturgill at 22 each and played an excellent defensive game.

someone to take over management should hospital directors resign their responsibility for the local hospital.

According to Judge Jasper, the term of the last committee has long since expired and when F.H.A. became aware of the lapse, they required the committee be updated immediately.

Named to the committee were Bill James, Lloyd Cain, Gary Allen, Sam Ford and Tommy Harold Mink.

In personnel matters, Williametta Owens was hired to replace Kaye Robinson a nutrition aide at the Brodhead; Senior Citizens Center at $3.25 per hour. Williametta Cromer was hired by the county to work four hours each week at $4.00 per hour. Ms. Cromer will serve as bookkeeper for the agency.

were reportedly more daring than anything seen or heard of in this area. They showed legs and bare shoulders. The merchant had no trouble selling the suits, yet courage to wear the new styles before grandstand of spectators failed.

The pool did not reopen in the 1926 season.

Sparks said he and at least some of the other shareholders finally sold their stock to Fred Baker for $50 and felt lucky to get at least half of their investment back.

Thirty-six years later, in 1962, then mayor of Mt. Vernon, Carl Brown, applied for $60,000 federal public works grant to build a municipal pool. However, the proposal was not funded.

During the early 1900's a skating rink was located in the basement of what is now Harold James' store on the corner of Main and Church Streets.

Mr. Sparks remembers that it was about 1908 that Will Mullins, who operated the rink, sold the skates and closed the doors. All the kids in town bought the skates and skated where they could after that.

Upstairs, over the wooden-floor rink, Jim Adams had a store. There was a separate outside entrance to the rink. In the afternoon, the rink opened and for 10 cents, skates would be rented and the floor was open.

Sparks remembers that sometimes traveling shows performed there. A few "Jack-o-lantern" or slide picture shows were put on the rink. Harold James' store on courthouse was usually used for this type entertainment.

quarter, scoring 8 points, most of them from downtown and, at the first quarter stop, the score was all knotted at 19 all.

In the second quarter, the Rockets were guilty of over laying on of hands and the Mountaineers picked up 12 points at the free throw line. That, combined with some of the best shooting seen inside board work; you'll see in the 13th region, gave the Mountaineers their 48-40 half-time lead.

The second half saw the Rockets making numerous turnovers as they were unable to handle the Mountaineers press and the Mountaineers scored 8 unanswered points before the Rockets could add to their half-time score on a three-point play by junior guard Chris Cornelius. The Mountaineers then reeled off 10 more points.

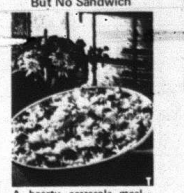

When you have the combination of junior Tony Burns, who can shoot the eyes out, and Burns' partner from anywhere on the floor but seems to prefer to do it from about 30 feet out, matched up with the board work and inside shooting of senior guard Wayne Brown, you have problems and it was more problems than the Rockets could handle.

Brown led all scorers with 39 points and sixteen assists and Burns' partner, leading the scoring for the Rockets was Cornelius with 27 points; Mike Harman, who played an excellent second half, and senior center Anthony Brock, tied for 16 each; Roger Isaacs got 13 points, all but 2 coming off the bench. Shannon Bishop scored 9; Chad Brock and Greg Mink, 2 each and Harold Graves, 1.

The Mountaineers will play the winner of the Jackson Co. Clay County game Friday night for the championship.

Local KET volunteers working on campaign

Friends of KET in Rockcastle County are busy working on TeleFund 83, the annual county call out. The call outs will take place on the evenings of Monday and Tuesday, March 7 and 8, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Locally organized by Teresa Evans, the TeleFund is a state-wide membership campaign to encourage people to become Friends of KET in order to support evening and weekend programming on the Kentucky Network.

By joining Friends of KET, Kentuckians have a chance to support such fine programming as "The MacNeil/Lehrer Report," "Wall Street Week," "Sesame Street," and "Kentucky Journal." Last year's call out raised $50,000 for evening and weekend programming.

If you would like to help with the Rockcastle County call out, please contact Mrs. Evans, county coordinator at 758-8040 today.

The call outs will take place from Superintendent Charles B. Parsons's office in the Rockcastle County Board of Education building. If you are not contacted during the call-out and would like to make a donation to the TeleFund, you may call the office during the hours of the call-out only, 256-2125.

Say Yes to Less
During Nutrition Month
Once again, March is being proclaimed across the country as National Nutrition Month. The American Dietetic Association, composed of more than 47,000 dietitians, will be encouraging you to follow a good diet for better health. The theme will be "Say Yes to Less. Less Fat. Less Salt. Less Sugar."
Extension will be promoting these themes and can provide you with materials on all these topics. Let's begin with "Say Yes to Less Sugar." (Then in the next few weeks, subsequent articles will tell how to say yes to less fat, salt and calories.)
A publication called "Sugar and Other Sweeteners in Your Diet," available from your county home economics Extension agent, can help you learn to reduce the sugar level in your diet. Some suggestions:
-reduce the amount of sugar in your favorite recipe
-learn to like the taste of less sweet foods.
-use naturally sweet foods such as fruits for dessert.
-use sweet spices to season foods—these include cinnamon and ginger.
-make your own fruit drinks by diluting frozen juices with extra water. Add a tiny bit of sweetener if needed.
-use packaged foods with less sugar. Read la-els and do not buy those with sugar, honey, sucrose, dextrose, maltose, corn syrup or sweetener listed first or second.

-use the new low-calorie sweetener, aspartame (brand name, equal) in certain recipes, such as the following:

Hot Spiced Tea
1/2 cup hot tea
1 packet equal (aspartame)
2 tsp orange juice
1 cinnamon stick

Combine hot tea, Equal and orange juice in a cup. Stir with cinnamon stick and garnish with an orange slice.

Makes 1 serving, 9 calories per serving. Diabetic exchange: 1 free food choice

Bruntridge News

Just a note from Bruntridge Road in Northern Rockcastle County. We got a mail route last Saturday, the first to be on this road according to my father-in-law, William Harold Pigg, who has lived most of his life on this ridge. On Sunday, February 20th, his children had a 76 year birthday dinner for him. He was born to Lucy Pigg in 1907 on Clear Creek. They moved to Bruntridge Road when he was about three. His mother, Lucy, who will be 99 years old on March 3, 1983, lived across the fence from Bill Rose's Church at Morrill or we call it, the top of Big Hill. Oh, by the way, in if there is anyone reading this area of the Signal who might have a couple of hen turkeys to sell, I would like to buy them for William Harold Pigg—to me. He would like to drop me a note if you have any turkeys. By the way, I'm Sandy Pigg.

A computer will be placed in each school in the county for use by students and faculty by fall

A computer will be purchased for every school in the county to be in use in the 1983-84 year following the school board's acceptance of that recommendation. Superintendent Charles B. Parsons made the recommendation at Tuesday night's board meeting and said the computers will be placed in a central location, probably the library for use by both students and teachers. Workings in the use of computers will possibly be scheduled for teachers and others interested in learning about computers, Parsons said.

Norton Insurance Agency of Mt. Vernon submitted the low bid for complete insurance coverage of school property. Her bid was lower in all three deductibles ($100, $250, and $500) advertised than the other bidding companies, Pennington-Maupin Insurance Agency of Madison County and Singleton and Associates of Mt. Vernon.

Boiler insurance was awarded to Pence-Gilliam Insurance of Lincoln County. His bid of $923.65 was lower than either Norton Insurance ($988.00) or Pennington-Maupin ($984.00).

The job was awarded to O. Steven Pittman and Ray Mullins who bid the low figure of $1,190.
Others who bids were Newland Construction Company, $1,495; Sylvester Kirby, $1,950; Hammonds Owens, $2,643; Jack Wren, $2,965 and Donald E. Collins, $3,250.

Bids which had already been opened and tabulated by a committee appointed by the superintendent were submitted to the board and the low bid was accepted for each.

Science and health textbooks to be used in grades

K-12 during the years 1983-84 were approved for adoption. A faculty textbook committee had already selected the ones to recommend.

The superintendent to send applications for employment to all certified personnel for the next school term and voted... Joy Lori Ann Cash as substitute teacher, subject to certification.

In other business, the board agreed to advertise for bids for a new fire and burglar alarm system at Livingston School and for removal of asbestos insulation from boiler rooms and steam pipes at the elementary schools.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By Austin Mobley
Minister,
Providence Church of Christ

The Work of the Deacons

A reader of this column has requested that we show what the Bible teaches about the work of deacons. She alleges that a deacon and the preacher are ruling church where she formerly attended, and that this deacon is guilty of conduct not becoming a Christian.
God has not only instructed, as to how to establish New Testament churches, but He has also told us how they are to be governed and maintained. The complete organization of the church is clearly shown in Phil. 1:1. Here deacons are mentioned as part of the government of the local church.
The word "Deacon" comes from the Greek word "DIAKONAS" which has two meanings: (1) The primary meaning is "one who executes the command of another, waiter, attendant, servant, minister." Every Christian is a servant in this sense. (2) "DIAKONAS" is also used to designate the official office of a deacon. The qualifications of those who serve in this capacity are clearly stated in I Tim. 3:8-13.
A true comparison of the organization of the New Testament church and organization of modern denominations is being revealing in the New Testament, elders (pastors, shepherds, bishops, overseers) had complete oversight of the local church (See Heb. 13:17; I Peter 5:2). Preachers were not "pastors" unless they met the qualifications of I Tim. 3:1-7 and Titus 1:6, and had been appointed by the local church to serve with other elders. Pastors worked under the authority of Christ, the Supreme Head of the church (Eph. 1:21-23), in accordance with Acts 20:28-30; watching (Acts 20:29-30); ruling (Heb. 13:17; I Tim. 5:17); and being examples to the local church (I Pet. 5:2-5). The Bible does not authorize boards, synods, councils, etc. to make laws or govern the church.
Duties of deacons are not administrative, that belongs to the elders. Deacons are to be helpers or servants under the elders. It may be financial, janitorial, advertising, transportation, building and grounds, evangelism, benevolence, Lord's table, etc. They are responsible to see that their specific responsibilities are carried out, thus relieving the elders for the spiritual tasks God has assigned to them. Deacons have no, more authority than any other Christian. If, for example, a deacon and preacher are exercising authority over a church, they are acting without authority from Christ, and thereby commit sin (2 John 9; Rev. 22:18-19).

Qualifications for deacons demand that their lives be above reproach (I Tim. 3:8-13). Among other things, they are to be "blameless." This does not mean "sinless perfection"—for no one reaches that plateau in this life. Rather, it means one against whom no evil can be proven (Matt. 5:1). Further, Paul said they are to be "grave." This means venerable, honorable, and serious dignities. Their deportment should be such that they will gain respect of others. Because they are to hold the mystery of the faith (gospel) in a pure conscience. This simply means that they are to "practice what they preach." Deacons must not suffer from the accusation of their conscience because of inconsistencies in daily conduct with the faith they understand and profess.
The church needs men who can be given special responsibilities upon whom the elders can rely. They must be real Christians and be willing to cooperate and work with the elders.

Girl Scouts in Rockcastle celebrated "Thinking Day" last Saturday

Rockcastle County Girl Scouts celebrated "Thinking Day" Saturday, February 26th. The International Tasting Party, which represented a foreign country with food and displays. During the festivities Saturday, the Brodhead Troop 1013 led the flag ceremony, Troop 352 from Mt. Vernon presented a program on Thinking Day and Brodhead Troop 904 led the group in blessing. Misch Ertel, field director from Berea showed and discussed slides from her recent trip to Egypt and Israel. The purpose of Thinking Day for scouts is to heighten awareness of Girl Scouting everywhere. On this day, their thought waves encircle the globe, sending silent greetings to Girl Scouts around the world, keeping alive the memory of the founders of Girl Scouts, Lord and Lady Baden Powell.

The four program emphasis of Girl Scouting outlines the goals, objectives and steps from the varied opportunities for growth. They are: a deepening awareness of self as a unique person of worth, relating to others with increasing skill, maturity and satisfaction; developing values to give meaning and direction in her life, contributing to the betterment of her society through use of her own talents and in cooperative effort with others. "Having fun doing things" is high priority when girls are asked what they look for in Scouting. Through activities the concepts, purpose, philosophy, and foundation elements come alive for girls. The Girl Scout program groups activities into these five broad interest areas. The World of Well-Being includes activities that focus on physical and emotional health: nutrition and exercise-interpersonal relationships-the home-work and leisure-consumer awareness. The World of People

Hellow from Clear Creek!

It is time to make your guess as to March weather. If March comes in like a lion-lamb, it will go out the opposite way, an old prediction. We have snow on the ground, and sunny skies with a promise of 57 degree temperature today so be prepared for anything weather wise.

This past fall David Harding really built a nice tobacco barn on his place just above his dad, John Harding. I heard a man say once, "It takes a good barn to build up the rest of a man's place." Since farmers depend on crops to make a living, the barn is a large part of it.

I was of a mind to go home with Raymond and Lorene Hurley when I ran into them at Conley Saylor's supermarket last week. Their cart was filled with groceries and I knew Lorene would have a good dinner, as usual, on Sunday for the family gathering. Raymond said he had an old horse that didn't know the direction of "gee" nor "haw", but you could just pull on the harness lines and he would go anywhere. Give him credit, Raymond, for at least trying.

Lorene said she and daughter, Judy Miller, went to McKee recently to visit her father, Roscoe Sloane.

Wanda Laswell and daughter have moved to a home on Matilda Miller's farm.

Clear Creek Baptist Church is having a Weekend Youth-Led Revival on March 5th and 6th. Everyone is invited to attend and especially the young folks.

Tammy Russell was on the Honor roll of Roundstone School's eighth grade the past month. Parents, Tex and Wanda Russell, are very proud of their second daughter, as is the grandmother, Matilda Miller.

I better start, right now, and clear up the mistake I made of Robert Abney being Joe Abney's brother. Robert is Joe's uncle, as I knew, but just forgot it when my mind played tricks on me again. I better make this good for the Abneys are not a bunch of people that you can fool around with.

Sarah King has been brought home from Berea Hospital and is somewhat improved in her condition. The family feels much improved in their concern about the wife and mother.

Driving up Highway 25 near Boones Gap, we saw Don Gadd from Upper Clear Creek, sitting on his dad, David Gadd's porch one Sunday. People have that one thing in common in visiting the homefolks about the wife and mother, habit that keeps families together.

Della Bulens of Scafold Cane, organized me Sunday at Macedonia Church that she had made some quilts for me years ago. Her memory was better than mine. She says she still makes quilts and sells them. Pretty good in a woman who has a difficult time getting around as well as age advancing but she doesn't let that stop her. Where there is a will, there's a way, fits her life all right.

You never saw such a happy woman as Nannie Chasteen Shearer who showed me all the birthday cards she had gotten. "I've never gotten so many in all my life," she beamed at me. "When we went to the mailbox, I didn't know what to think but it has made me so happy to hear from all the people I used to know." Her eyesight is past reading but the cards were read to her and flames given. For you who took the time out to make a 94-year-old little woman happy, she has asked me to thank you for her and bless you. I thank you for your generous response when I wrote about her coming birthday.

Till then, a true friend is one who walks in when others walk out.

HEAD WILLING WORKERS HOMEMAKERS

Color, color everywhere, but what color to wear? That was the question that Gladys Bussell tried to raise in the 20 homemakers minds present at the Senior Citizens Building, February 24 in Brodhead.

She was the night's leader, who presented the lesson on "Color—Makes the Difference." Thirty blouses of different colors were brought for interested parties to drape under their faces to see what colors looked best. She explained that hereditary factors such as skin tone, eye color and natural hair color could help us decide if we would be typed as a Winter, Spring, Summer or Autumn. From "Color Me Beautiful" by Carole Jackson she pointed out the lists of colors that suited each type. These lists were in leaflets given to each member. As an extra, Gladys gave the group tips for sewing, passing around articles to help make finished, neater garments in their "colors."

When Barbara Watson called the roll, the mem-

Our president, Clara Driston, had the club vote on Proposed Homemakers Club Lessons for 1983-84 and Special Program Ideas. She also gave a report of the last council meeting. She asked us to remember the Blood Drive Tuesday, March 8 at the Bank of Mt. Vernon from 10 a.m.-7 p.m. and the May 11-13 State Home-maker's Meeting in Lexington.

Glenna Brooks told Sylvia Whitt to call to get the 45 mile speed limit changed on Main Street.

While we were partaking of the delicious refreshments prepared by the hostesses, Jean Albright and Sylvia Whitt, Tupperware booklets were put on the tables by Emily Givok for interested members to give orders to help the Sowder Nursing Home's Heart Fund.

March's meeting will be at Carol DeBoard's home with Cindy Colson as co-hostess.
