Salvaging Gone-By Peas
If you let your peas get too mature so that they've gone by the young-and-tender stage ideal for fresh eating, freezing or canning, don't despair. You can shell them out, blanch and freeze them, then use them only in soups and soured-cream dishes.

"Or you can blanch and dry them, following the directions for mature legumes in our publication, "Home Drying of Fruits and Vegetables."

Freezing or Drying Onions
If the green salad onions in your garden have grown to be great big onions, not as good anymore in salads, you can do several things with them.

You can let them go on and mature further into dry bulb onions, then dry or store them. Or you can pull some of them now and freeze them. Wash and peel them, then blanch in boiling water for 1 1/2 minutes. Chill them in cold running water, drain well, package and freeze at once. These lose flavor after about 3 months in the freezer.

Or you can dry these onions in your oven, dehydrator, or in the sun. Follow the directions given in our drying publication.

Prevent Ice Crystals in Frozen Food
For better quality frozen vegetables, freeze them with as little water as possible clinging to them. Drain them well, then blot them on clean absorbent dish towels or Turkish towels.

This prevents ice crystals from forming and causing mushiness in the frozen product.

Salt-Free Canning
And Freezing
If someone in your family is on a low-sodium or salt-free diet, plan for this when you can and freeze. Put up your vegetables without salt, letting those of you who use salt add it at the table.

Salt in small amounts doesn't help preserve the food. It just adds flavor, so it can be left out without causing a problem.

When Jars Don't Seal

If you discover the problem within 24 hours, you can reprocess the food. Check the rim for nicks. If you find the jar is sound, wipe the rim clean, place a new lid on it and reprocess for the recommended length of time. Otherwise, use a new jar as well as a new lid.

If more than a day has passed, bring the food to a boil, cool slightly and refrigerate. Use within a day or two. If you find a fault, seal a new jar or more days, don't take chances—discard the contents.

What About Half-Gallon Jars?
No canning manuals give processing times for half-gallon containers. We don't recommend using jars larger than 1 quart. It takes too long for the food in the center of the jar to reach the correct temperature.

Don't freeze foods in half-gallon jars, either. Save those jars for storing your dried foods and other staples.

Process Sauerkraut in Canner Process sauerkraut in your boiling-water-bath canner—15 minutes for pints and 20 minutes for quarts. Do this whether you have fermented your sauerkraut in the jars, in a crock or in a wooden tub.

Food researchers tell us this is the only sure way to keep your sauerkraut from spoiling.

Hello from Clear Creek!
 Mary Hurley on Davis Road wiped her face on the collar of her apron as she met me at the door and declared she had never seen it so hot that was about the truth with 97 degrees hanging over the valley. Her visitors for the week were grandsons, Junior James of Berea, Robbie Hurley of Arizona, daughter Jewell and husband Russ Anglin of Berea, son Charley and Bea from Ohio, daughter, Maggie and Ray Carroll of Covington. Mary, daughter Lorene and her son, Greg, were at Cumberland Falls Park one day with relatives from Ohio.

Lorene, who is employed at Mountain View Motel in Berea, had an interesting story to tell that Greg, who went to work with her one day, met only met Wayne Jennings, country singer, but had been treated to breakfast by Wayne, who had spent the night in the motel. Talk about luck, that kid really had it.

The wonderful smell of blackberry jam cooking was in Lizzie Thomas' kitchen bringing back such memories that I fell into a chair and looked around for a biscuit to try the gorgeous stuff on but Ernest had already beaten me to the punch at a ome was left.

Ernest, Lizzie, Mary Harding and Virgia Thomas had gone to Pulaski County one day to pick blackberries which Lizzie mixed with her jam. A fellow could pass out eating that mixture. It would be so good.

Mary Thomas of Shearers Hollow was happily surprised to have her three daughters visit her. Nothing like a family get together. They were Lucille Streeter and Beatrice Collingsworth from Indiana and Gladi Parker of Tennessee.

Martha Hill attended the cherry wedding reception Sunday afternoon. Luther Hill is doing fine after a few days in the hospital. But he claims he can't use the hoe that Martha put near him.

Sarah Ramey, who once lived in Shearers Hollow, is still here.

"Housing Credit Available" (Cont. From Second Front) and transfer by assumption will receive a high priority for processing," he added.

For further information, interested persons should contact the local FHA county supervisor.

low, sends word by daughter, Lizzie Thomas that she will be 91 years young on August 11th and on the 14th, a Ramey Reunion will take place at Berea Park celebrating her birthday with a family get-together. There will be music by some of the family and, of course, plenty of cakes and pies, what a reunion is for anyway with all the food brought in.

Once a month, Ernest Thomas, three sisters and four brothers have a get-together at one of their homes. These are Jimmy Thomas' children and they can recall many funny happenings of their family life in the past when all were young.

Jackie Miller has bought a motor boat and is planning to take her skiing on nearby lakes. The group one Sunday was inez Stanley, Ola Miller, Wanda Russell and daughters, Tammy, Regina and a friend Jack. Along with Jackie, Pat and son Adam Miller, Matilda said she was glad to see the most she could do would be to waste water and her knees, let alone skiing.

Mossie Cope was able to attend the Baker Family Reunion near Renfro where she was the only survivor of her father's family, Jessie and Sarah Baker. So it was nephews and nieces who greeted her.

James and Gayle Cope of Lexington, Roby Cope of Ohio, Doris and Glenn Meadows of Berea were some of the children to visit Mossie recently. She has been able to visit some of the neighbors herself, Lorene Hurley, Sarah Madd and Matilda Miller.

The double touch-me-not flowers in the Cope yard were beautiful to see.

Lorene Hurley has been returned to the Patty Clay Hospital at this writing. Alta Berry with Linda Berry and Wanda Campbell as co-hostesses gave a delayed wedding reception for her son, Kenneth and wife, Betty Berry on Sunday afternoon, who were married June 10th. Due to a death in the family, the couple were unable to complete their wedding plans. After the ceremony, the couple left for their honeymoon immediately afterward. About 40 guests came to help the family "finish the wedding. Alta explained. A wedding cake and refreshments were served and the bride and groom received many nice wedding gifts.

Clear Creek congratulates the happy couple and wishes them a joyous future.

County have moved into the former Edd Croucher home. She sure has a nice garden growing. I made friends with Chrissy with a cake of chewing gum.

Ronnie and Janice Owens' welcome a brand new daughter named Britany at a week old. They are at a Clay Hospital, weighing six pounds and ten ounces. John and Mary Harding surprised David and Kathy Harding with a wedding anniversary celebration with a cookout and also celebrated David Junior's birthday. That was fun for everybody.

Mayor Joe Abney and brother Hubert from Berea made a weekend trip to Indiana to visit some relatives. Since court duties were kind of slow (everybody is slowing down all this heat), Joe figured he would see how the other half of the country was making out. Brothers Clear and Andy greeted him. If he'd brought any Kentucky ham, Sisters Geneva Jones and Ethel Cates, who quired why he didn't bring some garden products. Joe said he told them no, that Clear Creek food in Indiana wouldn't taste as well. All of them have gone bare-

London attorney files 9 motions for Holley in Circuit court

By Rick Anderkin
London attorney Warren Scoville, has filed a motion in Rockcastle County Circuit Court that asks Circuit Judge John Mandt to dismiss the charges of capital murder against his client, Denver Earl Holley.

Holley was indicted by a Rockcastle County Grand Jury on June 10th for the murders of three members of a Rockcastle County family.

The motion, which was filed July 15th in the Circuit Court Clerk's office, states that the indictment shows "on its face" that Holley did not commit the offense of capital murder, or murder. The motion goes on to state that the language in the indictment charges second degree manslaughter, and not murder.

Besides Scoville's motion to dismiss the murder charges, he also filed eight other motions on behalf of his client.

One of those motions is for a bond reduction. At the present time, Holley is being held in the Rockcastle County Jail on more than one million dollars cash bond, an amount set by District Judge Dan Venters.

Perhaps the most unusual motion filed by Scoville is a request that the jurors selected to hear the murder case be sequestered from the time the trial starts until they reach a verdict. Scoville states in his motion several reasons why he is asking for jurors to be kept away from the public until the trial is over. The first says that the murder case has been the subject of much discussion and publicity since the offense occurred in May, 1983. The second reason given is that the facts of the case and the nature of the evidence will inspire further discussion and publicity as evidence is date approaches, especially because the Commonwealth is seeking a capital murder penalty against Holley.

Although District Judge Dan Venters and Circuit Judge Mandt both have ruled against the motion that Holley be moved from the Rockcastle County Jail to Laurel County Jail, Scoville has also filed that motion once again.

Commonwealth to produce certain evidence for his inspection prior to the trial. The defense attorney asks that any photographs of the automobiles involved in the accident be produced, along with a "blackjack" that state trooper Marcus Daly used to subdue Holley when he arrested him the same day as the accident.

Also among the nine motions filed was a motion that Judge Mandt allow the questioning of jurors separately from other prospective jurors. The London attorney said in this motion that Holley's case has received most extensive and prejudicial publicity since the offenses occurred and he used as evidence, clippings of stories that appeared in the Mt. Vernon Signal on May 26 and June 2, 1983, along with a story that appeared in the Courier-Journal on May 24th.

In selecting a jury in the state of Kentucky, defense attorneys get eight strikes on a jury and

Arts Council presents "By Hex" on July 21-22

By Nancy Mullins
For most of the cast of "By Hex" it will be the first time to perform in a musical drama when they step on stage Thursday and Friday nights at the Red Barn at Benfro. Excitement is running high among cast members who include housewives, mothers, high school and college students and even some children.

For many, participating in the production of this musical has allowed them to be creative and develop skills they have longed to develop, but it has also meant long hours of practice, finding a baby sitter or bringing children along and, for some, giving up a much needed summer job. For all, it has meant the sacrifice of much time and energy.

Last fall, the local association, KAGE/RAGE, made a "first" application to the Kentucky Arts Council for a grant to Towerly named to fill vacancy. Bige W. Towerly, Jr. has been named the new board member for the Rockcastle County Hospital. He was officially sworn in at a hospital board meeting on July 12. The board is made up of Wayne Stewart, president; James W. Lambert, vice president and Bill Bailey, secretary. Towerly decided to assume the responsibility of a board member after realizing it was an opportunity to provide some service to the community. "I feel very strongly that a hospital is an important facility in any community," he said, "and it is important to have a facility to accommodate emergencies. The convenience of local health care services, such as physical therapy and lab, are very hard to have."

Rockcastle man murdered early Monday morning

By Rick Anderkin
A Rockcastle County man has been arrested and charged with murder in connection with a shooting about 4 1/2 miles south of Livingston at Lamerro, early Monday morning.

Robert Jackson McCowan, 32, of Lamerro, was arrested about 10:30 a.m. Monday morning at Bond in Rockcastle County by a Kentucky State Police sergeant who was on the lookout for the make of car that McCowan was reportedly driving, according to investigating detective Roland Huckabee of the Kentucky State Police.

McCowan has been charged with the murder of Arthur W. Jones, 28, of Livingston, who was shot once in the chest area with a 16 gauge shotgun at the residence of Thelma Keene, 43, of Lamerro, Sunday, according to Huckabee.

Huckabee said that McCowan had apparently given Jones $15.00 to buy some liquor for him Sunday night while he was in Madison County with Ms. Keene. When the two returned from Berea, Jones reportedly had only one pint of liquor for McCowan and an argument ensued. The two men were reportedly alone in a bedroom of the Keene residence when others in the house heard the gunshot.

Huckabee said Jones was taken to the Rockcastle County Hospital by Mrs. Keene and his father, Ovie Jones, where he died about 8:15 a.m. according to Rockcastle County Coroner Bill Dowell.

Dowell said that the preliminary autopsy report revealed the cause of death to be a single gunshot wound to the chest. McCowan was placed in the Rockcastle County Jail under a $100,000 cash bond. His preliminary hearing was held Wednesday morning before District Judge Dan Venters.

Jones was born in Rockcastle County on October 30, 1954, the son of Ovie and Annie Mae Carpenter Jones and was a member of the West Brodhead Church of God.

Besides his parents, Huckabee said that

Floyd McClure, 39, a longtime employee of the City of Mt. Vernon, died about 1:30 Wednesday afternoon at the University of Kentucky Medical Center following a freak accident.

Details were sketchy at press time, but reports

Mr. and Mrs. Ovie Jones of Livingston, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Betty C. Jones of Mt. Vernon, one daughter, Jonie Irene Jones of Mt. Vernon, three step children, Ralph, Kenneth and Sherry Lewis, all at home, six sisters, Ida Mae Tankersley and Miss Dora Lou Jones, both of Livingston, Ella Cathy Maupin and Thelma Jean DeBorde, both of Brodhead, Brenda Sue Meadows of Newtown, Ohio and Georgia Irene Atkins of Gray Hawk.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, July 20, at the Red Hill Union Baptist Church by Bro. Ronald Mounts. Burial was in the Red Hill Cemetery. Mrs. Jones was a member of the West Brodhead Church of God.

Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

City employee killed in freak accident

Mr. McClure were hauling a load of gravel when he noticed that the left rear tire of the 1 1/2 ton city dump truck he was driving was low and stopped at the Town and Country Service Station on US 25 in Mt. Vernon.

Senior League All-Stars are Area champs

By Rick Anderkin
Two more runs which made the score 8-6. With only a two-run lead going into the bottom of the 5th Allan Hammonds walked and Bruce Blanton, who hit a grand slam in the first game hit another home run with Hammonds on base to make the score 10-6. 10-6 would be the final score as Taylor got the last six Wayne County batters out in order.

The All-Stars then traveled to Middlesboro Sunday afternoon and won their first game of the District tournament, 20-8, against Harlan on a strong pitching performance by Paul Halcomb. Halcomb entered the game after starter Jackie Woodall walked five straight men in the second inning. Halcomb pitched a complete game and won the sixth innings he pitched.

Centerfielder Jeff Van Hook added the offensive punch, for Rockcastle, as he went 4 for 5 at the plate with one walk. "We hit the ball extremely well against Harlan," said the all-stars manager Wayne Taylor. "We also got another strong pitching performance from Halcomb, he simply shut Harlan down after he entered the game," he said. On Tuesday afternoon Rockcastle played probably the easiest team they faced in tournament play as they played the all-stars from Jenkins.

Rockcastle did not hit the ball as well as they had in previous games, but pitcher Travis Jackson took up the slack. Jackson pitched a one-hit shut-out against Jenkins and gave up only two walks.

The game ended in the fifth inning after a thunderstorm caused a delay. Rockcastle had a 10-0 lead at this point and the Jenkins coach conceded.

Rockcastle then ran in to a little trouble Tuesday night as they faced the host team of the tournament, Middlesboro, in the final of the winners bracket. Rockcastle lost to Middlesboro 15-5, but with the District being a double elimination tournament, the all-stars are still not out of it.

"The score might have been 15-5 but the ballgame was closer than that," said all-star manager Taylor. "We got behind 6-0 in the early going but our boys rallied well and with a few breaks we could have

Rockcastle Saddle Club Horse Show Results

The excitement is over for another year, the 27th Annual, Rockcastle County Saddle Club Horse Show is now history. But, what a show it was with over 250 horses and exhibitors, many out of state and many big winners right here at home.

In the Couples Trail Class, Little Evil and Puddin' E ridden by Dana McClure and Carmelita Bishop won first; Shelly Bumgardner and James Reppert tied for second on Jigger and Little Red; Playboy's Big Man and Panda, ridden by Sherry Asher and Oscar Chasteen came in third; Mr. Kentucky Shades, ridden by Luther Campbell and Mrs. Judy Wallace and Midnight Son's Echo, ridden by Judy Wallace and owned by Cathy Wylie tied for fourth; Pete and Sladoff, ridden by Gene Gray and Carol tied for fifth and Gary Bumgardner and Adrian Hanson, ridden by Dan and Spickie, came in sixth.

In the Walking Mule class, the Duke and Red, ridden by James Reppert and Little Red won a second place ribbon in the Rider Over 50 Pleasure Class. The Rockcastle County Saddle Club Member - 16 Years and Over was won by James Reppert on Little Red; Hill Norton on Dan tied for second; Brad Ladd, ridden by Judy Wallace and Jigger came in fourth and Bobby Taylor in fourth and Bobby Taylor, riding Spider, tied for fifth. In the Musical Chairs (time event), it was Knox and Barry Bunn, ridden by third and Dennis Bumgardner, riding Rocky, owned by Tracy Heidt, winning fourth. In the last class of the evening, the Open Pleasure Class, it was Dana McClure, riding Little Evil, trying for first; Mack K's Traveler, with Joy Durham and owned by Dickie and the Kouta Callaway, winning second, Mr. Bojangles, ridden by Ronald Nicely and owned by Gary Smith, tied for third; Little Red and James Reppert came in fifth and Mighty Sun's Echo, ridden by Sue Tussey, and owned by Kathy Wylie tied for sixth. On Saturday night, they brought in some real muscle but Saddle members were able to hold their own, as Little Evil, owned and shown by Dana McClure, tied for the Pleasure Class, with Mr. Thompson and Winston's Sundancer winning second; Joy and Mack K's Traveler, tied for third and Mr. Bojangles, ridden by Ronald Nicely and owned by Gary Smith, came in sixth. The James Reppert and The Untouchable won fifth place in the Show Pleasure Class and Sensational Fancy, owned by Bill Norton and shown by Bob McQuerry, won the Aged Mare Class. The big winner of the evening, at least as far as crowd-pleasing was concerned, was Roy Cummins, now training Racking Horses in Pidgeon Forge, Tennessee, riding a fancy black four-year-old Racking Horse, named Gambler's Premier, owned by Rolling

Meadows Stables of Pidgeon Forge. Roy and Gambler's Premier, won the Junior Racking Horse handily and the crowd would have made his big victory pass. Then it was on to the Amateur Owned - and Trained Walking Horse and Delight's Sewanne, owned and shown by Cecil King. (Cont'd to P-12)

Stewart-Bussell vows said in double-ring ceremony

Our Lady of Mt. Vernon Catholic Church was the setting for the marriage of Lori Lynne Stewart, daughter of Don and Judy Stewart-Shackelford of Mt. Vernon, to William Keith Bussell, son of Jack and Annette Bussell of Brodhead. The wedding took place on May 28, 1983 at 7:30 in the evening.

The double-ring ceremony was performed in the candlelit sanctuary by the Reverend K. Richard Holladay of First United Methodist Church in Winchester.

The bride, escorted down the aisle by her father, wore a floor length gown worn by her mother 21 years ago, featured a scalloped neckline of lace, trimmed in sequins and tiny seed pearls; long finger-tip sleeves and a full skirt of chantilly lace over an organza ruffled underskirt, and extending into a chapel train. The gown fastened in the back with 28 tiny lace buttons. The finger-tip illusion veil was held by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, daisies and baby's breath. Her white opal necklace was a gift from the groom, and for something old she wore her maternal grandmother's wedding ring, and she carried a white embroidered handkerchief belonging to her late great aunt, Mrs. Mayme Allen.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with a white tie and tails. His boutonniere was a white rose.

The maid of honor was the bride's aunt, Miss Terrie Johnson of Burlington, Iowa. Her floor length dress of baby blue dotted swiss, featured a square neckline with a bodice trimmed in lace and ribbon. The dress had puffed sleeves and a bow in the back. The full skirt was accented with a lace-trimmed ruffle at the bottom. She carried a colon-

If you're about to add or replace a central air conditioner, do it with an ADD-ON Heat Pump — for year-round efficiency.

The ADD-ON Heat Pump is a close relative of the central air conditioner and can be added to your present gas, oil or electric heating system. In summer you get economical cooling, and in winter, it provides up to three units of heat for every unit of energy it uses. That's efficiency.

Forecasters predict continuing rising energy costs. Replace that worn-out air conditioner with an ADD-ON Heat Pump to save energy and money. It's The Wise Choice . . . now and in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hall

Miss VanHook weds Mr. Hall

Maltha Lynn VanHook and Gary Watson Hall were united in marriage at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, July 9, at Bethel Baptist Church in Lebanon, Virginia. Reverend David Hartzog performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harold D. VanHook of Rosedale, Virginia. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Watson Hall of South Amherst, Ohio.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Jane Hartzog, organist and soloist, and Mr. Alan Addison, soloist.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. The bride chose a formal ivory gown of chantilly lace over tulle. The bodice of the gown had a Victorian neckline with small delicate ruffles and covered buttons. The long bishop sleeves cuffed at the wrist with button closures. The fitted belted waistline fell into a full circular skirt and a chapel length train. The bride's head was adorned with a waltz length veil of silk illusion edged with chantilly lace and attached to a lace and pearl covered Juliet cap.

The bride carried a bouquet of cascading lilies, sunia roses, forget-me-nots, and ivy.

Miss Anne Williamson of Charlottesville, Virginia served as maid-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Debbie Camp of Fredericksburg, Virginia and Miss Karen Hall, sister of the groom, of South Amherst, Ohio. The attendants were attired in apricot chiffon over satin. Their floor-length gowns had a high ruffled neckline and a softly pleated bodice.

The natural waistline was encircled by a soft fabric sash. The bridesmaids carried wicker parasols adorned with apricot and coral roses, forget-me-nots, ribbons and ivy.

Mr. Larry Painter of Cynthiana, Maryland attended the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Steven Hall, brother of the groom, of South Amherst, Ohio and Mr. Mark VanHook, brother of the bride of Lebanon, Virginia.

Miss Margaret Allen, cousin of the bride, of Lexington, Kentucky, attended the guest book. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Berthena VanHook of Brodhead and the late Joe VanHook and the late Mr. and Mrs. B.C. Riddle.

The bride is a graduate in Housing and Interior Design at Virginia Tech. The groom is a graduate of Virginia Tech and is employed as a chemical engineer at B.F. Goodrich of Avon Lake, Ohio.

Following a wedding trip to Charleston, South Carolina, the couple will reside in Elyria, Ohio.

fund a community summer theatre. The $1,000 matching grant was awarded. KAGE/RAGE then encouraged the organization of a "first" Rockcastle Council for the Arts to administer the grant and seek the necessary local cash and in-kind contributions. It was the "first" time any of the members had served on such a council.

One of the "first" acts of the council was to hire Brian Holman as director of the project, a "first" for Brian who has had 2 years of experience in theatre, but had never been responsible for a production.

Upon ordering the play after choosing it in early spring, it was discovered that play books, which included lyrics, were available, but the musical score was out of print. Not to be outdone, a local youth (who may someday gain fame as a musical genius) was solicited and accepted the almost impossible job of writing the music for all 17 songs in the play. Jack Lewis, between spring and summer seasons of classes, U.K. and during summer classes, has worked closely with the director and cast to produce some of the most beautifully moving music anyone would hope to hear in a Broadway musical.

Get designing was a "first" for Lisa Clontz and her crew who worked to build the elaborate sets for the play. They traveled to U.K.'s drama department to see for herself how their flats were constructed. The set was built together and painted in her garage not without a few hang-ups along the way, but with the help of some talented and willing helpers.

Library research and study were necessary for costume designer Martha Brown who had never examined Amish clothing. For the aprons (to conserve money), Martha bought inexpensive white sheets and made the Amish caps from thinner material usually used for interfacing. The men's pasties came from Rockcastle Manufacturing (some modification).

Coming up with the props for transporting them from place to place of practice has not been an easy matter for the "prop people" but Norma Eversole who took the job upon herself has it under control. One of the most complicated scenes Norma and her crew have had to provide props for is the opening scene which is "market day" and requires an assortment of fresh produce baskets, boxes, etc.

Even though, as has been frequently reiterated, the Rockcastle Arts Council's "first" production is also a "first" for most of those connected with the play, the lack of experience is quite visably overshadowed by the enthusiasm, freshness and creativity of all those involved.

With continued community support and interest, hopefully this first will "set the stage" for many more productions and for a variety of

BMV opens new office

The Bank of Mt. Vernon has announced that it has expanded its facilities to better serve the people of its trade area.

The newly remodeled office (previously the K.U. office), adjacent to the Bank, now houses a new Installment Loan Department. According to Mike Manship, Department Manager, the new office is completely staffed and has equipped the latest in equipment to better handle the demand for installment loans from the Bank's customers. All applications for installment loans will now be taken at this new office.

The Bank said installment loans are an attractive service for many customers because loan terms and repayment schedules can often times be tailored to fit within their budgets, thus allowing the purchase of big ticket items at businesses where terms are not available or not wanted.

Mr. Manship stated that an attractive Annual Percentage Rate on loans for new cars would be announced in conjunction with the Grand Opening of the office. Details will be advertised as a date for the Grand Opening is decided upon.

Bank president, C.T. Huffins, added that it is hoped the new office will help alleviate some of the over-crowding which occurs from time to time in the main lobby area and also add to the existing work space within the Bank.

"That could have been the difference in this balgame," he said. "We were behind 9-5 in the top of the seventh with two outs when we made another costly error. This game was much closer than the score," he said.

Rockcastle would have to wait until Carbin Wednesday evening and then beat Middleboro twice to win it all, but according to Taylor, the all-stars still could win the district. District play ends Thursday and the State

Minister
Providence Church of Christ

Titling, the giving of a tenth, was voluntarily practiced by Abraham who gave a tithe of the spoils of battle to Melchizedek, King of Salem and priest of the Most High God (Gen. 14; Heb. 7:1-10). Imitating his grandfather, Jacob voluntarily vowed to give God a tenth of all the substance he received in Mesopotamia (Gen. 28:22).

Titling was commanded under the Law of Moses. A tenth of the seed, fruit and cattle belonged to the Lord (Lev. 27:30-32). The Levites were supported by this tithe (Num. 18:21-24), a tenth part of which was to be given to the Levites for heavy offering (Num. 18:24-32). The tithe was to be brought to the central place of worship (Deut. 12:10). If the offering was too great, it could be converted into money and then sent (Deut. 14:22-24). The Hebrew Jesus did his apostles made the tithing binding upon subjects of the New Covenant. Jesus told certain Jews who were under the Old Covenant to pay tithes (Matt. 23:23), but never bound it upon Christians.

When Jesus died on the cross, He repealed all former laws (Col. 2:14), and nothing is binding upon Christians save what is found in the New Covenant.

The New Testament indicates that the Jew's work is to be supported by the freewill offerings of the saints, who are to give willingly and cheerfully (2 Cor. 9:7). liberally (2 Cor. 8:1-7), according to their prosperity upon the first day of the week (1 Cor. 16:2). No specific amount is required under the New, because God only desires that we be willing given from the heart. We may safely reason, as God required one-tenth under Moses, when He did so much more for us in Christ. He would expect more from us; but if we cannot do it willingly, He does not want it. Read Matt. 5:20 and ask yourself - "How much do I want to give!"

Locals invited to compete as Area Photography Show announced

Whether you dabble in the art of photography for the mere pleasure of it, or earn your "bread and butter" with your camera, the challenge of competition awaits you through the Homecoming Photography Show in London, scheduled for August 16-20 during the Laurel County Homecoming.

Participants for this year's show are currently being sought. To be eligible for entry, photographers must be residents or past residents to the counties of Rockcastle, Laurel, Clay, Knox, Pulaski, Whitley or Jackson. Open to both amateurs and professionals. Shutters from these seven counties will be competing side by side for prizes and ribbons to be awarded in nine categories established for judging. These are: Action/Sports, Dark Room Technique, Contemporary, Landscape, Natural/Science, Still Life, People, Animal, and Travel. Within these classes, color and black and white prints will be judged separately, as will entries by those age 16 and under. Judges for the show will be announced at a later date.

The Homecoming Photography Show, sponsored by Cumberland Valley National Bank, will be on display in Cumberland Gallery, located in the East Main Office in downtown London.

Scheduled to run concurrently with other week-long activities planned for Laurel County's 46th Homecoming celebration, the Photography Show will kick off with an opening reception, to which the public is invited, on Monday evening, August 15, from 7-9 p.m. in the Gallery. Gallery hours for the remainder of the week are 8:30-4:00 Tuesday, Friday, and 8:30-12 on Saturday.

Anyone interested in joining this photography competition can pick up an entry form at the office of the Mount Vernon

Credit for moderate and above income applicants

"Financial assistance in the form of credit sales and transfer by assumption can be made available to qualified applicants if their income exceeds the loan income limits," according to Kendall L. Seaton, State Director of Farmers Home Administration.

Applicants without adequate housing who are otherwise qualified for an FmHA loan, and have income to repay amount due but are unable to obtain credit from other sources and would live in the home as a full-time resident can assume the loan of a present borrower or buy a property from Government inventory. "Most inventory properties are listed with local real estate brokers," Seaton said.

"Since no funds were provided for moderate or above-moderate loans this year, it is impossible to use this method of financing homes from Government inventory or to assume a loan even though applicants have incomes above the limits established," Seaton said. Credit sales may be made with no down payment and 33 year terms.

4-H Camp Pool Fund Goal Exceeded - Rockcastle County has reached and exceeded their assessment for the J.M. Feltnor 4-H Camp Pool. Each of the 29 counties using the camp were assessed according to their 4-H enrollment, camp use, distance from the camp and county tax assessment. Rockcastle County was asked to raise $10,200 for their assessment. Fund raising chairman Danny McKinney reports the goal has been met and exceeded by approximately $1,000. The recent donation of $1,000 from CAP finalized the fund drive. Five organizations who donated $1,000 or more will be listed on a bronze plaque at pool side. Those donors are Christian Appalachian Project, Ky. Farm Bureau, Cumberland P.O.A., Rockcastle County 4-H Council and Ky. Stone Company. The pool is now complete and several 4-H campers from Rockcastle County enjoyed the pool activities July 4-8. Thus far, 124 Rockcastle youth have attended camp this year.

son fired her first rifle under the supervision of two Knott County leaders.

Steven Martin was among the many campers in crafts class who painted ceramic cardinals. A wide variety of crafts were available for youth to work with in craft class. Learning to shoot the bow and arrow was a task Jenny DeBoard and Stacey Craig practices in archery class. Other classes offered during the week included tennis, nature, boating, fun foods and recreation.

Campers enjoyed a carnival on Tuesday evening where admission was empty cans and wrappers. The carnival was followed by a "punk" dance, where green hair and dark glasses were in the "in" look. The week wrapped up on Thursday with the traditional campfire service, there were many sad campers. Sad because friends would be missed and another year must go by before 4-H camp again.

SCHOLARSHIPS

A special thanks goes to the Rockcastle Rodders Automobile Club who donated camp scholarships making it possible for 4-H youth to attend camp last week.

Japanese beetles were first found in this county in 1918 near Riverton, New Jersey. It is likely that the grub stage was brought here and United States accidentally in soil around some nursery stock imported from Japan. Until that time, this insect was known to occur only in Japan. Natural enemies and a lack of abundant turf land kept populations there generally low and it was not considered to be an agriculture pest.

Branda Gentry and April Kendrick were among the many who enjoyed the photography class. They received instructions in taking pictures and were able to enlarge their own black and white negatives and make prints.

The eastern United States, however, provided a favorable climate, large areas of turf grass for developing grubs, almost species of plants on which adults could feed and no effective natural enemies. The beetle thrived under these conditions and the infestation began to spread. The first Japanese beetle discovered in Kentucky was found on the southern outskirts of Louisville in July, 1937.

Adults emerge from the ground and begin feeding on plants in June. Individual beetles live about 30 to 45 days. Their life span may be longer if temperatures are low or shorter if temperatures are high. Their activity is concentrated over a four to six week period, beginning in July, after which the beetles gradually die off.

Japanese beetles can feed on about 300 species of plants ranging from roses to poison ivy. They usually feed in groups, starting at the top of a plant and working downward, and prefer plants exposed to direct sunlight. A single beetle does not eat much; it is group feeding by many beetles that causes the severe damage. Adults feed on the upper surface of foliage, chewing out tissue between the veins. This gives the leaf a characteristic skeletonized appearance. They tend to do little feeding on thick, tough leaves. Plant odor seems to be a very important factor in the selection of a suitable plant to eat and floral odor lures may be used in beetle traps as an attractant.

The insecticide Sevin, Malathion and Methoxyphlor may be used to control Japanese beetles. Repeated applications may be necessary because of the relatively short residual effect of the products. Also, significant rainfall shortly after an application may reduce the insecticide deposit.

Plants which grow rapidly and are especially attractive to the beetles are most difficult to protect. Roses unfold quickly and are especially attractive to beetles. When beetles are abundant, nip buds and spray to protect the leaves or cover the roses with netting to keep beetles out.

Be sure the insecticide you use is registered for use on the crop you spray, especially if it is a food crop. Observe waiting days from last application to harvest.
