The Rockcastle Co. Hospital, in cooperation with the Rockcastle County Disaster and Emergency Services (DES) conducted a mock disaster drill last Friday. The drill involved a school bus and a tanker loaded with vinyl chloride. In the above

Mock disaster drill held last Friday

By Leigh Anne Hiatt

The Rockcastle County Hospital conducted a mock disaster drill Friday in cooperation with the Rockcastle County Disaster and Emergency Services (DES). The state requires the hospital to conduct an external disaster drill twice a year and it's also a common practice for Kentucky Emergency Services to hold a disaster drill at least once a year on the county level. The purpose of the drill was to coordinate county organizations so they will have worked together in the event of a true emergency.

The mock disaster involved a school bus that was hit by a tanker loaded with vinyl chloride, a flammable, toxic substance. The accident occurred near the old state garage building, between the hospital and Cox Funeral Home.

Minutes after the mock disaster took place, the Rockcastle County Ambulance Service, the county Rescue Squad, the state and local police, and the Mt. Vernon and Brodhead Fire Departments responded to the call from the accident area.

The firemen worked to put out the fire caused by the vinyl chloride which spilled from the overturned tanker. Meanwhile, the ambulance service crew got the victims off the school bus and into the hospital, where they were treated for their injuries.

The Rockcastle County Board of Education provided the school bus and driver, and the Harry Sparks Vocational School provided 15 teenage students to act as victims of the wreck. M.L. Becker's tanker truck was used for the disaster and Jack Bradley loaned the emergency services his water truck.

The state coordinator for Disaster and Emergency Services, Bill Hendrickson, was at the scene of the disaster to evaluate the response to the drill.

Gary Asher, county coordinator for DES, commented, "All the organizations who participate in the drill worked well together. As a group I think we can adequately handle a true disaster."

Brodhead Bengals win

14-team tourney Sunday

By: Evonne Sowder

Rockcastle County was well-represented last week end by the four youth football teams in the county as they went to Georgetown to play in the Opistat Club Youth Football Tournament.

The Redskins played a fine game but lost to the Franklin Cowboys 22-0.

The Bucs lost to the Franklin Co. Jets 30-6 with Leslie Scaff scoring the only touchdown for the Bucs.

The Steels won their first game, defeating the Scott Co. Raiders 18-0 with Chad Hodges and Scott Smith scoring the touchdowns, but they lost their second game to the Cardinals by a score of 30-0.

The Bengals brought home the first place trophy by defeating four of the best teams from Franklin and Scott Counties. The Bengals won their first game by besting the Scott County Rams 38-20. Rodney Kirby scored 14 points in the game; Mark Sowder got 8; Jamie Cromer scored 12 and Chuck Shields, 2.

The Bengals then defeated the Franklin County Jets 30-0 to move into the semi-finals on Sunday against the Franklin Co. Rams.

In the Bengals-Jets game, Kirby scored 12 points; Sowder got 8 and Cromer, 10. In Sunday's game against the Rams, Kirby again scored 12; Cromer got 8; Sowder, 2 and the defense contributed a safety.

The championship game pitted the Bengals against the Scott Co. Cardinals and the Bengals came out on top decisively 32-0.

Consider Barley and Wheat For Spring Crops

After the severe drought of the summer, many Kentucky farmers are counting on wheat and barley for a good spring grain crop. With increased demand and reduced production of feed grain, wheat and barley both should be profitable crops in 1984, according to Dr. Morris J. Bitzer, Extension grain crops specialist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Wheat is a crop of major economic importance to farmers of Kentucky and the Southeast. However, for wheat to be a profitable return to the overall farming operation, high yields are essential. By following the best possible cultural practices, higher yields and greater net returns will be realized.

Bitzer points out that markets are limited for barley and barley yields may be reduced more than wheat next spring because of severe winterkilling or high incidences of barley yellow dwarf virus.

Many farmers this year are asking for information on planting barley," reports Bitzer. Some conclude: report out harvest time next spring; provide an excellent feed for livestock; and allow for planting of soybeans for higher yields.

Bitzer offers some recommendations on seedling, variety selection and fertilization for those considering planting these two grain crops.

The crop is critical during two periods of growth: seedling establishment in the fall and completion of the growth cycle in early spring. Unless soils are extremely low in residual nitrogen in the fall, a spring application of 60-90 pounds of nitrogen per acre can give near maximum wheat yields. There are no yield differences in wheat when ammonium nitrate, urea, or nitrogen solutions are applied as the source of nitrogen.

If small grains are broadcast with fertilizer, diking should be done both prior to and after application of the fertilizer with seed. Better and more uniform stands of small grains have been obtained when the fertilizer and small grains have been spread separately, and diked in together.

What are the advantages to preplanning a funeral?

"Bill and I have been best friends for years. And as you might guess, we've been through a lot together -- why, we've even got married on the same day!

"When Bill asked me the other day what I thought about an ad in the paper on preplanning a funeral, well I thought maybe poor Bill had been chewing too much tobacco. But as I got to reading the ad, I realized there were a lot of advantages to planning my funeral service early. For instance, I could spare my family the burden of making funeral decisions. Also, I could pay early for the services and spare them financial worry."

So I told Bill it was sure worth looking into."

Recommended planting dates in Kentucky are early October for barley and after October 15 for wheat. Small grains seeded too early in the fall usually yield much less than later plantings, while later seeding have lower infestations of aphids and less barleys yellow dwarf virus transmission.

Use good seed. The disease wheat scab and loose smut are carried from one year to the next in the seed. To reduce the incidence of these diseases, use seed from areas that were free of the diseases or using a seed treatment. The use of certified seed is also a proper practice. It give you seed that has recently been treated. If using your own seed, be sure a recent germination has been obtained and consider treating your seed with the proper treatment.

Recommended seeding rates for the small grains are one and a half bushels per acre for wheat and one and a half to two bushels per acre for barley. If the grains are to be used for grazing or silage, a seeding rate of one bushel to one and one-half more bushel per acre should be used. Many farmers have over-seeded on their seedling rate, increased lodging and reduced yields have resulted. However, when a farmer is seeding early late, a higher seeding rate should be used.

Variety Selection
The best barley varieties for Kentucky are Barsoy and Volbar. Volbar is about 10 days later and less winter hardy than Barsoy, but it has a higher yield potential.

Acidic type wheats should disappear from Kentucky, according to Bitzer. Net and higher yielding varieties are rapidly replacing them. The latest small grain performance bulletin is available at the County Extension Office.

Fertilization
Phosphate and potash should be applied in the fall according to soil test recommendations. The requirement for nitrogen by

VOLUME 97 - NUMBER 9

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6 1983

Gene Doren (far right), director of the Main Street Revitalization project for the City of Winchester, met with business people and government leaders from Mt. Vernon last Thursday to talk to them about Winchester's progress with the project which Mt. Vernon is presently undertaking. The group from Mt. Vernon traveled to Winchester and Danville to see the progress that had been made by each town in making their Main Street area more attractive.

School board votes to sell tobacco quota; hires coaches

The Board of Education in Rockcastle County will be getting out of the tobacco business as they voted Tuesday night to auction off their 3,006 lb. tobacco base sometime before December 1.

In addition, the board will be receiving sealed bids for their 1983 poundage at the November 1 meeting.

Superintendent Charles B. Parsons told the board that the auction was necessary because of a recent Department of Agriculture ruling which prohibits public institutions from owning tobacco bases.

The quota will reportedly be sold in two lots of 1,570 and 1,436 pounds.

The date for the auction will be decided on in the near future and announced.

The board also has to sell their poundage from their 1983 quota and there was some discussion by the board of when they should accept sealed bids.

Board member Kenneth Adams said he felt it would be best to wait as long as possible so that farmers might have more time to see if they needed the extra poundage. But it was finally decided that the December 1st deadline did not leave enough time to make a difference.

The board also employed RCHS teacher Ryan Riddle as assistant boys basketball coach and David Riddle as freshman boys' coach. Both these men were recommended to the board by Coach Mike Appelman.

Riddle will be paid $1,415 for his job as assistant coach and David Riddle will receive $900 for coaching the freshman team.

The high school will be getting three computers and the grade schools at least one or more each following the board's acceptance of Central School Supply's bid for the Apple II E and Texas Instrument 99/4A computers.

Central School Supply's bid for the Apple II E was higher than the other bidder, Computer Store, but there was a difference in the specifications in that Computer Store would not provide in-field service.

The board decided that for the difference of $138.75 in the bid price, it would be of more benefit to award the bid to Central School Supply since their representative, Lon Wilson, who was present at the meeting, told the board he would be personally available to the schools in case of breakdowns and, if the machine had to be transported to the company for repairs, which he could not effect, he would handle this himself at no cost to the board.

Central's bid price for the Apple II E Computer was $1,618.75, as compared to Computer Store's $1,480.

Mr. Parsons told the board that three of these machines would be purchased for the high school. The grade schools, each of which have been given $2,000 to spend on computers, can choose between the Apple II E or the Texas Instrument 99/4A on which Central bid $499.50 plus $126.50 for a 12" color monitor. Computer Store did not submit a bid for this machine.

Jail facility needed is main item of fiscal court meeting

The main item on the agenda for Tuesday's meeting of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court, was a decision as to whether the court wanted the county jail to remain a full-service jail or be converted to a 12-hour or 96-hour facility.

Jailer Henry Lee Abney told the court that he favored this decision by the court by October 25th so that he could complete a policy and procedures manual for the state Department of Corrections.

Abney told the court that they actually had four options - to close the jail to make it a 12-hour or 96-hour facility or a full-service jail. However, the court never seemed to consider closing the facility as a 12-hour facility also seemed of little interest to them. The discussion centered on whether to make it a 96-hour facility or a full-service jail and this caused a split among the magistrates on a motion by Magistrate Tom Denney.

Denney's motion was originally just that the court make a decision. How?

He clarified it to say that the court would provide a full-service jail if grant money could be obtained from the state to help build a new facility or enlarge and renovate the present one. And Judge Jasper said he was not certain the county could afford to maintain and operate a jail such as the state is requiring under new regulations.

Rowe's statement that he actually favored a full-service jail brought a report from Magistrate Tom Denney who said, "You must not be, you set right there and voted against it."

Rowe explained that he would vote for a full-service jail if he could be certain that the county would not be obligated to follow through at their own expense if they could not obtain grant money to help with a new facility.

The magistrates decided to have County Attorney James Lambert contact Jim Woodrum of the state Department of Corrections to see if the county could change their plans. Lambert is to get this information for the court and there will be a special meeting Saturday, October 15 at 9:30 a.m. to decide on their course of action.

County Road Supervisor Paul Hansel asked the court if they would agree for him to use a grader and put rock on the Crooked Creek Road which was widened in places by a bulldozer during September. Hansel said if the grade work was not done and rock put down before it rained, residents along the road would face difficulty in using it.

Magistrate Denney immediately reminded the court that it was Rowe's week to use the grader but Wren insisted that this was an emergency and there ought to be some provision for using the grader in an emergency.

Rowe asked why the job wasn't completed at the time the bulldozing work was done but Wren said it couldn't because the grader was being used for chipping and sealing.

Rowe said he felt there was a difference in an emergency created and one that just arose and reminded the court that they had all agreed to share the grader by putting it in each district for one week at a time.

Rowe finally agreed to let the grader be used for the work and Magistrate Joe Clark said he felt the court should then stick with their 5 day each agreement.

However, Magistrate Wren asked what could be done if the grader wasn't needed five full days in each district.

Magistrate Albright said he felt that if the grader work didn't take all five days then the men could be put to cutting right-of-way.

However, Wren disagreed with this idea saying, "I don't believe we ought to be paying grader (Cost to 12)

Ohio man charged with hit and run

An Ohio man has been charged with hit and run and first degree wanton endangerment following an accident on I-75 Monday evening about 11 miles north of Mt. Vernon.

According to state Trooper Guy Blevins, the accident occurred about 7:30 when a rental truck, being driven by Curtis Olson, 33, of Dayton, Ohio struck a van which had pulled onto the shoulder of the northbound lane to assist another motorist who had reportedly run out of gas.

Blevins said that Paul Cordell, 36, of Columbus, Ohio had pulled his van onto the shoulder of the road behind a car, being driven by David Sizemore, 56, of London, which had apparently run out of gas. Cordell and Sizemore were between the two vehicles, putting gas into Sizemore's car from Cordell's van when Olson reportedly struck the van in the rear and knocked it about 7 feet into Sizemore's car.

Cordell was thrown to the side of the road but Sizemore was pinned (Cont. to 10)

Brian Russell, a member of the Brodhead Fire Department, and a Mt. Vernon fireman were busy last Friday afternoon dealing with the aftermath of an accident involving a school bus that was hit by a tank truck. Russell drilled conducted jointly by the Rockcastle County Hospital and the Rockcastle County Disaster and Emergency Services (DES). The disaster involved a school bus that was hit by a tank truck loaded with vinyl chloride (see story on page A-11).

Letters to the editor

de concerning the Rockcastle Hospital and all the staff and everyone involved.

I think all the people who work there are wonderful folks.

My sister stayed in there a week and they did everything to make her comfortable. A wonderful doctor knew just what to do. The nurses carried out his orders and were so faithful. I don't have anything to say about the hospital except words of praise for it. It is a haven for the poor sick folks. Without it, I don't know what would become of the poor sick people here.

I don't mean to throw any stones at anyone. If I did, I would have to start at home. I don't know who the staff members are but I really think the Rockcastle County Hospital is getting better, regardless of whom the officers may be.

Dear Editor:
With the going up and installation charges soaring, many people can no longer afford the convenience of a telephone. Elderly persons who need a telephone but are on a fixed income are especially hard hit by the increasing cost of telephone service. For many years the telephone company has had a monopoly on every aspect of telephone service, and as costs go up, the service, if anything, has gotten worse.

There is a brighter side, however, and changes in the phone company now and soon to be in effect will benefit the consumer. It used to be that the phone company supplied you with a phone and charged you two to six dollars rent for the phone itself each month. This still is true, but now you have the option of purchasing a telephone and owning it. You can buy telephones at any number of independent stores which sell telephones. Owning your own phone reduces your monthly bill and gives you a wide variety of phones to choose from. Many styles and features are available in telephones on the market today. Competition is driving prices down but many phones are manufacturer's phones of superior quality. Even reputable businesses sometimes sell these phones and although prices are low, they are generally a poor investment in the long run.

In the past, if you wanted to move a telephone jack in your home or add an extension jack in another room, it had to be done by the phone company and involved an expensive service charge. Now the phone company encourages you to do this work yourself, which eliminates the service charge. You will have to buy the wire and jacks but they are inexpensive and relatively easy to install. Find a store which caters to the do-it-yourselfers and they will supply you with the parts and information you need. Some stores even offer installation and service charge will invariably be less than the phone company's.

As of January 1st, 1984, you will be required to purchase your rented phone from it in to the phone company and buy one elsewhere. In other words, everyone will have to buy their own phone. The phone company will ask a reasonable price for any phones already in your home but in many cases it will be even cheaper to buy a new phone from an independent phone store. This will give you the extra benefit of warranty period on your new phone because the phone company will no longer fix or replace your telephone for free. This brings up the question of service and repair. After the first year, the phone company will be responsible for repair only on the wires going up to your house and perhaps the first jack in your home. Any service performed on your phones themselves or additional wiring in your home will be charged per hour at their standard labor charge. If you have a problem, it is simple to determine where the problem exists before calling the phone company and perhaps paying an unnecessary service charge. Try plugging your phone into a neighbor's outlet to see if the problem is in your phone or not. If the phone itself is working, you know the problem is in your lines. You will then have to determine whether the same problem is inside or outside your home. This is fairly easy to do but should be referred to someone who knows what they're doing. You can, however, look for obvious problems such as broken or shorted wires. If the problem is outside your house you can call the phone company and know that the repair will not cost you anything. If your phone itself is broken you may have to buy a new one. Because replacement parts are not presently available, a broken or disconnected wire can, of course, be fixed by someone who knows phones. A few phone stores offer service on their equipment and some will even come to your home to help you with any problems. These stores will be hard to find but are well worth looking for. Shop around and find a phone store that offers good service at

Dear Editor

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the helpers and staff at this in your recent book sale and read the book "Cystic Fibrosis" which I received a total of $20.00. I was fortunate to have Andrew Palmer, Jim McGumery and Jim Osborne of the Hawk Eye Book Company. Many thanks to them for their generous gift. Also thanks to Mildred and Shannon, the Linda Pittman, the Linda and Terry, Mary and others who contributed in any way. I send heart felt thanks for your kind help.

Thanks again,

SAFETY ON THE JOB

Carbon Monoxide How It Can Harm You

Carbon monoxide is a colorless, odorless, tasteless gas that is produced by the incomplete combustion of carbon-containing fuels. It is a leading cause of accidental death and disability in the United States. Carbon monoxide poisoning can occur in a variety of settings, including homes, workplaces, and public places. Symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning include headache, dizziness, weakness, and confusion. In severe cases, it can lead to unconsciousness and death. To prevent carbon monoxide poisoning, it is important to ensure that all fuel-burning appliances are properly installed and maintained. Carbon monoxide detectors should be installed in homes and workplaces to provide early warning of a leak. If you suspect a carbon monoxide leak, evacuate the area immediately and call the fire department.

Mr. Alsop of Texas, recently. Those visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Burton...

But now I find out. I'm tired because I'm overworked. The population of this country is 200 million. Eighty-four million are retired. That leaves 116 million to do the work. There are 75 million in school, which leaves 41 million to do the work. Of this total, there are 22 million employed by the government. That leaves 19 million to do the work. Four million are in the Armed Forces, which leaves 15 million to do the work. Take from that total the 14,800,000 people who work for state and city governments and that leaves 200,000 to do the work. There are 188,000 in hospitals, so that leaves 12,000 to do the work. Now, there are 11,998 people in prisons. That leaves just two people to do the work. You and me. And you're sitting there reading this. No wonder I'm tired.

We're glad to report that Mr. Jack Cromer has returned home from the Rockcastle County Hospital.

I'M TIRED

Yes, I'm tired. For several years, I've been blaming it on middle-age, iron-poor blood, lack of vitamins, air pollution, water pollution, saccharin, obesity, yellow wax build-up and a dozen other man-made factors that make you wonder if life is really worth living.

Services Nightly 7:00 P.M.

Sunday
11:00 A.M. 2:00 P.M.

After pastoring in Williamsburg for 3 years, Rev. Marvin Hensley and family have returned to Mt. Vernon to pastor Lighthouse Assembly of God. Rev. Hensley will be speaking Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights during Homecoming Revival. Sunday's speakers will be Rev. Billy Medley (11 a.m.) and Rev. Darrell Osborn (2 p.m.). Special singing by the Faith Singers from London's Faith Assembly of God. Come and worship with us in a time of fellowship.

WE BELIEVE . . .

- ... the Bible is the inspired and only infallible and authoritative written Word of God.
- ... there is one God, eternally existent in three persons: God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit.
- ... in the deity of our Lord Jesus Christ, in His virgin birth, in His sinless life, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascension to the right hand of the Father, in His personal future return to this earth in power and glory to rule a thousand years.
- ... in the blessed Hope—the rapture of the Church at Christ's coming.
- ... the only means of being changed from sin to the glory and holiness of the previous blood of Christ.
- ... regeneration by the Holy Spirit is absolutely essential to the personal salvation of the soul.
- ... the redemptive work of Christ on the cross provides healing of the human body in answer to believing prayer.
- ... the baptism in the Holy Spirit, according to Acts 24, is given to believers who ask for it.
- ... in the immediate experience of the Holy Spirit by whom the Christian is enabled to live a holy life.
- ... in the resurrection of both the saved and the lost, the one in everlasting life and the other to everlasting destruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clark, son of Mrs. Monk and her daughter, Gladys Roberts of Falmouth, visited her over the weekend.

Paul Powell, Bill Parker and Don Cawood, all past presidents of the Danville Merchants' Association met with the group from Mt. Vernon last Thursday which toured both Winchester and Danville's downtown areas to see their revitalization programs in progress. The men gave the group some interesting ideas as to parking control, streetscaping and other areas of interest to the group just now as Mt. Vernon is undergoing a major face-lift on Main Street. The tour was conducted under the auspices of the Local Development Corporation which is overseeing the revitalization project.

between the two vehicles for about 30 minutes before he could be freed.

Olson reportedly continued on to Berea where he pulled off at a restaurant near the exit. Witnesses to the accident reportedly followed Olson and reported the incident to police.

Olson was arrested about one mile north of Berea on I-75 by state police.

Neither Olson nor his sister, Nanette Olson, 27, were injured in the accident.

Olson was taken to the Rockcastle County Jail and was released on Tuesday on $8,000 bond.

Sizemore reportedly suffered two broken legs and other injuries in the accident. Cordell also suffered a broken leg. Both men were taken to Fattie A. Clay Hospital in Richmond.

"SCHOOL BOARD"

Parsons said that most of the grade schools have indicated that they prefer to go with the TI machine because of being able to get more than one for the money they have allocated.

In other action, the board:

Approved the hiring of Katherine Bradley as a 1/2 science teacher at Broadhead School in order for the school to use Gary Scott as a physical education teacher in the afternoon so they might meet the state requirement for the amount of time available for P.E.

Approved allotments for instructional supplies for students at $7.50 per pupil for high school and $6.50 per pupil for elementary students and $12,191 Chapter II funds to purchase library books and supplies dividing on enrollment basis (this amount per pupil is up about $1 from last year).

Employed Della Scog

gin and Gary R. Cromer as substitute teachers, subject to proper certification.

Approved the close estimate budget for 1983-84 (see complete story in future issue of Signal).

Approved G.E.D. certificates for Orba R. Allen, Janet Carol Jenkins and Scott Jackson Etheredge.

Approved a change order for J & R Salvage Company to remove additional asbestos from heat exchanger of Central Office building for $850 and to dispose of an asbestos board removed from Broadhead School for $150.

Employed Bobby Wilson of Cove Branch as substitute driver for Juanita Wilson (contract hauler) and approved Betty Jo McKinney as bus driver for field trips.

Approved the painting of ten light posts on the football field for $200 under a contract with Eddie Morgan with the board to furnish the paint.

The board also approved Bige W. Towery as supervisor of the Basic Adult Education program for 1984.

On this appointment, Mr. Parsons commented to the board that Mr. Towery had become interested in this program through helping to transport children to the Kentucky School for the Deaf once a month and hoped to instigate right away a class for their parents and any other interested adults to attend to learn sign language. The teacher will be provided by KSD, Parsons said, and be paid by the state.

NATIONAL 4-H WEEK...

October 2-8

Marked by 25 years of growth

4-H is youth education

4-H is the youth education program of the Cooperative Extension Service. This informal educational program is conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, State Land-Grant Universities, County Governments and combines the work of Federal, State and local Extension staff and volunteer leaders. Participation in the 4-H program is open to all interested youth, regardless of race, color, sex, creed, national origin, or handicap. Participants are primarily between the ages of 9 and 19 and reside in every demographic area: farm, city and in between. The success of the 4-H program is attributed to the nearly 600,000 volunteer leaders who are backed by the strong educational base of the Land-Grant University Staff in every county of the nation.

Kentucky has the fourth largest 4-H enrollment in the nation, with more than 270,700 youngsters and teens participating in 4-H programs, coordinated by the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service.

Youths may participate in 4-H through a variety of program delivery modes. These include organized 4-H clubs, 4-H special interest or short-term groups, 4-H school enrichment programs, 4-H instructional TV, 4-H camping or as individual 4-H members.

The mission of 4-H to assist youth in acquiring knowledge, developing life skills and forming attitudes that will enable them to become self-directing, productive and contributing members of society. This mission is carried out through the involvement of parents, volunteer leaders and other adults who organize and conduct educational subject-project experience in community and family settings. These learn-by-doing experiences are supported by research and Extension functions represented by the Land Grant Universities, 1890 Institutions and Tuskegee Institute, USDA, and cooperating counties with support from the National 4-H Council and other private support.

These youths contribute to energy conservation, environmental improvement, community service, and food production and participate in programs that aid youth employment and career decisions; health, nutrition, home improvement and family relationships. As a result of international cooperation with many countries, 4-H is also contributing to world understanding. In the process, 4-H youth apply leadership skills, acquire a positive self-concept and learn to respect and get along with people.

A dynamic growing organization, 4-H has expanded steadily for the past 25 years. The most recent statistics indicate that there are approximately 5 million boys and girls involved in this youth educational program of Extension. Since 1914 over 40 million youth from all States, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, and Guam have participated in 4-H.

THEY'RE 4-H'ERS

Head, heart, hands, health... that's the creed these young people live, work and play by...helping to make our community a far better place.

4-H...means a chance for young people to grow and develop valuable life skills.

WHAT IS A TEEN LEADER? Teen leaders are volunteer 4-H leaders that may teach a project group, lead a club, assist in judging or carrying out 4-H events, or serve as a counselor at 4-H camp. Teen leaders are 15-19 years old. It is not necessary to have Kentucky's 4-H Talk Meet offers training in effective public speaking for youth from age 5-19. 75 youth participated in our last county 4-H talk meet. Pictured above are: Cindy Gregory and Carrie Mullins, winners in the 9 and 10-year-old category.

Teen leaders grow with 4-H to gain self-confidence, develop self-control and improve your leadership skills as you work with the younger 4-H'ers. Get involved in our 4-H Teen Club and be a teen leader! Watch for signs announcing our next meeting at RCHS.

Volunteers support 4-H with time

4-H leaders are a vital part of the Rockcastle County 4-H program. Many of our elementary school teachers serve as leaders for 4-H school clubs. Also teachers are involved by using 4-H projects, such as the Mulligan Stew T.V. Nutrition series, to supplement their curriculum.

Volunteers in our county teach 4-H'ers new skills in after school project meetings. Last year, leaders were involved in four separate project groups: foods, clothing, woodwork and electric.

Judging 4-H events and activities is another way leaders show their support of 4-H. Winter Contest, Project books, Award of Excellence and Demonstration Contest are but a few of the many 4-H events that require judges. Volunteers are also found serving as leaders for community clubs, such as the Quail Quackers Club; project clubs such as the Horse Club; helping with 4-H fundraising activities, and assisting in 4-H Camp.

Our 4-H Council consists of a group of volunteers who work together with the County 4-H Agent to plan, carry-out and evaluate 4-H activities in Rockcastle County.

A special thanks go out to our 4-H volunteers who believe in 4-H and give of their time to prove it.

The demonstration contest teaches 4-H'ers skills in presenting information to others. 13 youth gave demonstrations in our last contest. Participants pictured above are: Tracy Burdett, entry foods; Cindy Witt, breads; Sonja Bullock, photography; Allison Boyd, creative writing; Vanessa Robbin, other foods.

The Outstanding 4-H'er award is presented to two youth at each elementary school who have excelled in 4-H work during the year. Those awarded for the past year, pictured above, are: Jenny DeHorse, Eronstead; Sabrina Motzire, Livingston; April Kendrick, Mt. Vernon; Cindy Witt, Eronstead; Cindy Gregory, Mt. Vernon; Shana Donovan, Roundstone and Sonja Bullock, Eronstead.

One 4-H club each year is recognized for their outstanding work in 4-H during the previous year. This year's award goes to Mrs. Patsy Morgan's Grade Club at Eronstead. Mrs. Linda Williams' 7th Grade Club at Roundstone came in second and the 7th and 8th grades at Eronstead came in third. Pictured above is Mrs. Patsy Morgan and members of her club.

"FISCAL COURT"
pay for cutting right-of-way. When went on to say that most of the magistrates could use the grader five days without any problem, but he didn't think Rowe had enough work to use a grader in his district five days a time.

This brought a retort from Rowe who said, "Why don't we just set it up to give you all (the graders) five days and me two."

During this discussion, the magistrates also began one on whether or not Doug Bishop, a mechanic at the county garage, was fulfilling his duties properly or not.

Albright said he (Bishop) was taking off to be a substitute mail carrier and work at the garage while being paid. Albright asked Hansel how many days Bishop was off during September and Hansel replied that Bishop missed four days due to a death in the family (without pay) and five days vacation time during which he carried the mail for the regular carrier who was ill.

After considerable discussion, Denney made a motion to transfer Bishop to truck driver and give Delno McClure his job as mechanic. Albright seconded the motion and it passed with Rowe and Judge Jasper both voting no.

Bishop's salary will be dropped to $3.75 per hour from $4.50 and McClure will be paid $4.50 per hour.

During the meeting, the court also heard from Deputy Sheriff Clarence "Dibb" Hasty who asked the court if they had any definite date on when they might be getting their landfill permitted and under construction.

Hasty, who has the contract to operate a garbage franchise in the county, told the court he was the owner. He would be coming there for 6 months or a year, Hasty said he might be able to get a better price.

Hasty also said his system was running in the red right now, with total expenses last month of $390 and take-in from the county of $4,800. And, he said, this would be a savings that would help. He also asked the magistrates if they might be able to help him out with a little more money.

However, Magistrate Rowe said he didn't see how the county could without voiding the present contract and re-advertising the franchise. Magistrate Clark suggested to Hasty that he would just have to cut back on his expenses somewhere but Hasty said he didn't see where he could cut back any more since the men hired to pick-up the garbage at various points in the county were only being paid $2.50 per hour now.

Mainly, Hasty said, he wanted some idea from the court as to when the landfill would be operational and he was told that he could probably count on it being at least six months before the landfill site could be permitted and ready for use.

One item of business discussed by the court caused an exchange between Magistrate Albright and Judge Jasper and concerned the chipping and sealing of county roads. Albright made a motion that next year, the program be set up so that each magistrate receives an equal amount in their district and the motion was seconded by Joe Clark who added that the court should also give Hansel the authority to stop when when the set amount was used in each district.

The motion passed unanimously but Judge Jasper later told the magistrates that he felt he should have some "say-so" on this (county roads are chipped and sealed).

Albright then told the judge, "Me and you both have had to live with some people already. I have heard of two or three being promised (for roads to be fixed) and I didn't promise anything. I was running for election."

"I didn't promise anything either," Jasper responded. "I have had more callers out of your (Albright's) district than all the other districts put together."

Clark reminded the Judge that he had fixed a road in Negro Creek and Jasper said, "Those people are on the road the same as anyone else."

"You promised them anything you judge," Albright said. Magistrate Clark said he felt it was the magistrate's job to go out and look at the roads and bring it in for the judge to carry out. "I think the judge should be the boss," Clark said.

In other action, the court agreed to advertise the closing of a road in the Brindle Ridge section of the Big/Little Hurricane Road. Magistrate Wren said he wasn't sure of the road's designation but that the only three property owners along the road (which Wren said was impassable) had asked the court to close the road. Magistrate Albright voted no on the motion, saying he was not familiar with the road and that the court had gotten into "jams" before over closing roads.

Following last month's meeting, the Signal, because of confusion during the meeting, erroneously reported that the court had voted to buy a radio from Paul Himes for $350 to be left in Hansel's truck for use by the road department and to give that owner's office a radio out of the county's yellow International. This was incorrect.

That motion failed and another motion which approved buying Hansel's radio and containing no provision for giving the coroner's office the radio out of the International, was passed.

Junior running back Garry Fain doubled as a pass receiver Friday night as he hauled in this pass from quarterback Chris Cornelius on Casey's 42-yard-line. The pass set up Fain's and the Rockets' second touchdown of the game in the first quarter. Senior Scotty Robinson added three TD's to the scorebook for the Rockets in their 38-7 homecoming victory over the Rebels. The Rockets are now ranked 5th in Triple A schools.

Rockets beat Casey

The Rockcastle Rockets have improved their ranking to 5th in the state in Triple A competition, and the big gain in the ratings was probably due in part to the 38-7 thrashing they handed the Casey County Rebels last Friday night.

It was homecoming for the Rockets and the fans (Rocket fans that is) knew instantly it was going to be an enjoyable one as junior running back Garry Fain took the Rebels' lead-off on the 15-yard-line and returned it 55 yards for his first touchdown of the season. In fact he was the first Rocket to run a play on the board this season, besides senior Scotty Robinson.

Robinson got a share of the scoring honors immediately however by going over for the two extra points and, with just seconds left in the game, the Rockets led 8-0.

The Rebels threatened almost immediately as, on their first play from scrimmage after taking Rockcastle's punt on their own 25-yard-line, they completed a long pass. But, the receiver fumbled the ball and Robinson recovered and returned the ball to the Rebels' 25.

However, the Rebels got stinky with their territory then and, following a Rocket fumble recovered by the Rockets and an off-sides penalty against the Rebels, the Rebels got the ball back on their own 2 yard line.

Again, the Rebels were unable to come up with a first down, even with the aid of another offside call against the Rockets, and had to quick kick on third down.

The punt, which set up the Rockets' second score of the game, was taken on the Rockets' 40 yard line and the Rockets went into action from there.

Quarterback Chris Cornelius found Fain on Casey's 42-yard-line and, two plays later, Fain went in for the second TD of the night with 5:33 remaining in the first quarter.

Cornelius then passed to senior Greg Long in the end zone for the two extra points. After taking the Rockets' kick-off, the Rebels were unable to drive the football and had to punt on 4th and 13. But, Fain tried to catch the ball with a Casey defender too close and fumbled it. It was recovered by Casey County on the Rockets' 29-yard-line.

The Rebels then moved the ball to Casey's 28-yard-line where Robinson took off for the goal line once again and scored the final TD of the game. Johnny Poynter then scored the two extra points and that was all for the scoring for the game. The Rockets looked ragged most of the first half and were once again plagued with too many penalties, some at crucial times. However, they shone defensively with the play of Hansel, Burkhardt, Glovack and Poynter and Hansel and Fain are contributing more all the time to the offense. This Friday night the Rockets journey to Bell County.

Fall fire hazard season is here

The official Fall Fire Hazard Season started October 1st and runs through December 15th, according to Steve Bullen, Rockcastle County Ranger for the Kentucky Division of Forestry. During this period, the danger of forest fires is always higher than usual. However, because of this summer's drought, the fire danger this fall will be very high.

Fires will start earlier, burn faster and hotter, and be very difficult to control. Because of the increased danger during Fire Season, it is against the law to burn anything during this period within 150 feet of any woodland or brushland before 4:30 p.m. If a person burns anything after 4:30 p.m., the law requires the area be previously cleared around as necessary to keep the fire from spreading and that someone be with the fire until it is completely out. A person planning to burn materials should also check county or local ordinances "mu state All regulations to be sure that their burning is not in violation of other laws

A Tribute

(Editor's Note: Bradley Burdette, father of School Board Chairman Dr. K. R. Burdette, died April 23, 1971. The following article written by John Lair, appeared in the Renfro Valley Bugle in May of that year. Mr. Burdette was born September 23, 1886 and we felt it would be a fitting tribute at this time, near his birthday, to reprint this article.)

The death of Bradley Burdette of April 23, 1971 narrows by one more the rapidly diminishing circle of those of us who grew up together in Renfro Valley. He was 75 years of age, and with the exception of the years he spent in service during World War I, had never been away from the Valley for any appreciable length of time. He lived and died on the farm which he was born and through the years had converted the log cabin home in which he first saw the light into a beautiful and comfortable residence. He and his wife the former Julia Reynolds, were the parents of two children, one of which is a doctor and the other a school teacher.

"TRIBUTE"

Bradley was a partner in the operation of the motel end of Renfro Valley and his ledge and his hospitable and courteous handling of its many guests brought them back, time after time. The fair children, as well as the other youngsters in the community, found in Bradley an understanding friend and some of them were always at his heels as he went about his work.

A gentle man, a Christian man, a Brad-Bradette. Always concerned in his later years in "helping some struggling little country church keep its doors open or helping some needy family in any way that he could. His friends were numbered by his acquaintance and his enemies could be counted by the fingers of one hand-with the flat shut!

He had a sense of quiet humor that carried him over the rough spots and an appreciation of old days and old ways well suited to the associations which he enjoyed.

No community can afford to lose a man like Bradley Burdette and to the little close-knit group to which he belonged the loss comes doubly hard, because so few are now left in the Valley where Time Stands Still.

Although Irving Berlin wrote "God Bless America" in World War I, he waited until 1928 to have it published.

Bullock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Taylor visited Mrs. Austin Taylor Sunday afternoon at the Rockcastle Co. Hospital, where she underwent surgery. Also visited Mr. Taylor's brother, Mr. Austin Taylor, a patient in the Skilled Nursing Facility at the hospital.

Hello from Clear Creek.

Plants have given up after their struggle to grow this summer. They wait for the final kill of heavy frosts and the cycle will be ended for the season. In October and soon icy fingers of winter will send in their warning. People going to work must scrape off the windshield in the darkness of early dawn as they shiver before joining the rush of traffic on the roads.

At Cecil and Vivian Abney's home on Liven Clear Creek, I stood on the high ground above the stream and looked down on a large hole of greenish water. It was surrounded by sycamore trees that were lazily dropping their leaves into the stream.

Suddenly the afternoon's quiet was broken as the Abney's children and grandchildren exploded among us in arriving for the Sunday visit. They were assisted by a number of dogs who had lain quietly about until the children arrived. You know dogs and children go together as they make family life a merry one.

We met kinfolk, Ken and Jean Abner, who were with their family at Berea. He works at Hyster

Company. He said his work involves the use of a computer in parts and inventory control. (Cont. to A3)

Cats believed they were Top 20 Bound

"Hey Mass-SEE," chortled UK cornerback Kerry Baird as the Wildcat players trotted off the bermuda turf at Commonwealth Stadium after UK's win over Tulane Sept. 24. "What are we, man? What you got to say?"

Split end Rick Massie grinned through the bars of his helmet as the two came together for a high 5 near the X-box. "You're top 20 bound," Massie said. "Got to be top 20 bound."

The homecoming crowd roared as if it had heard the little conversation.

The Kentucky Wildcats are four-and-oh and, according to the UPI coaches poll last week, the No. 18 college team in America.

It has not been so in Lexington since 1950 when the name Vito "Babe" Parrilli was drawing top billing around the town and up, down and across the state.

Thirty-three years later, on a sunny homecoming afternoon Coach Jerry Claiborne talked about it. The coach rubbed at the worry lines on his leathery forehead and sighed deeply. "Oh boy... (pause) I'm proud to be four-and-oh. Gosh, there can't be more than five in the country. I'm really happy to be where we are and I think perhaps we need this rest (open date last week)."

Claiborne grinned and chuckled. "Some TV guy asked me awhile ago if there was any resemblance between this Kentucky team and the one in 1950 I said only the four and oh."

Laughs

"That team had Bob Gain, Babe Parrilli, Doug Moseley, Walt Yowarski, Charlie McClendon and Pat James—four All-Americans and about six All-SEC players," he said.

"But I told him we were still four and oh. That's the only resemblance."

A reporter wanted to know if Claiborne was "sleeping better these evenings?"

"Well, I'm still taking sleeping pills on Saturday nights," he said as another roll of laughter came and went. "I still get cranked up on Saturdays. But shoot, as hard as we're working around here it's no trouble getting to sleep at night. Getting here at 7 and staying till 11. It's no trouble getting to sleep."

The coach smiled. "The thing is, it's more fun coming to work these days. Shoot, everything's more fun around here."

Laughs again.

Claiborne rubbed his eyes once more and put a perspective on matters at hand—coupling this season with last. "It's like if you're selling insurance and you haven't sold a policy in a year, by gawd, you're looking for some place to eat. It's the same type of profession in that if you don't win a game it's like you didn't sell a policy all year."

To fulfill the analogy, UK's football coach is selling lots of policies these days.

Then, an inevitable, if incredible, question for Claiborne: "Has it entered your mind, coach, the thought of a bowl game?"

"No, it hasn't entered my mind," he said. "We're realistic around here. Right now we're four and oh and we want to get to five and oh. That's as far as we look ahead."

Claiborne said he is not surprised that his Wildcats are four and oh, "because our players believe in themselves. They felt if they went out here and did what we asked 'em to do then we had a shot. But then I'm an optimist. I don't think we're ever going to get beat. Of course I was wrong 10 times last year."

UK bowl talk?

UK's chances are 50-50 at best, considering the remainder of the schedule. Two wins would get the Wildcats a minor bid. But...

"We're not stupid," Claiborne said. "Starting with Auburn we've got seven games left and six or seven teams went to bowl's last year. Tulane is the best team we've played so far, but they're not as strong as teams in our conference. The toughest part is ordinarily still ahead of us."

One thing is certain, however. A long list of bowl officials will be in the UK prestobox Oct. 9. For a look-see at Auburn of course, but for a close look at Kentucky as well.

After all, where else in America is there a better insurance salesman these days than Jerry Claiborne?

One liners

Not everyone is enamored with UK football as Wildcat fans are these days. Los Angeles Herald Examiner sports writer Allan Malamud wrote: "I've grown weary of rhythms George plugging Kentucky football every Sunday on The NFL Today."

BWBY did Kansas State, senior quarterback Doug Boege change his major from veterinary medicine to petroleum geology? "I didn't want to get any telephone calls at 4 a.m. from somebody saying, 'Fifi is throwing up.'"

Louisville quarterback Dean May was asked how he would like a UK-UL football match last week. "I'd love to be playing Kentucky and Randy Jenkins," he replied. "I believe the students and fans would love it too. But it's taken them 24 years to get together on a basketball game so I don't see much hope any time soon. But I'd love to see it."

Just for fun's sake, wouldn't it be something special if Kentucky and Louisville went on to winning seasons and got invitations to, say, the Liberty Bowl in Memphis?

UK's Turpin

Kentucky basketball coach Joe B. Hall revealed to a Lexington television reporter last week that Melvin Turpin reported for preseason drills overweight.

How much overweight?

Hall refused to say, but did admit it was more than his preferred playing weight of 235 to 240 pounds.

Later in the week Gene Abell of the Cats Pause in Lexington said Melvin is always going to have a weight problem, but he's not in bad shape. He weighs about 250.

Turpin is more than keeping pace with his teammates in the team's running drills. Abell said. "The thing about Melvin is that he's the type guy who's going to do whatever they (the coaches) tell him to. He'll be ready to play."

How did Turpin allow his weight to become a problem?

"He's always gone to the McDonalds there on campus a lot," Abell said. "The coaches found out and told them to stop serving him, so Melvin started hitchhiking across town to the other McDonalds just they found out about that one, too. It's hard to hide when you're 6'11."

Comment: And weigh 250 pounds

Greg Long is Commended in 1984 Merit Program

Rockcastle County High School has been notified that one of its students has been designated a Commended Student in the 1984 National Merit Scholarship Program. Clifton Saylor, principal at RCHS, has announced that Gregory Long placed in the top five percent of over one million participants in the twenty-ninth annual Merit Program. Although Commended Students will not receive further consideration for Merit Scholarships, each has demonstrated unusual academic promise and will be honored with a Letter of Commendation.

An officer of National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), which administers the program, stated that, "The outstanding test performance of each Commended Student in the highly competitive Merit Program is an attainment deserving of recognition. In a nation that places great value on the education of its young people, it is important to honor academically talented students and to acknowledge the part that schools play in the development of their abilities. We sincerely hope that their attainments thus far will encourage these young men and women to take advantage of their opportunities for higher education and to acquire the skills they will need to become productive adults and contributing citizens in a free society."

All participants in the current Merit Scholarship competition were notified by taking the PSAT/NMSQT in the fall of 1982. Although the scores of the 38,000 Commended Students designated throughout the 50 states were very high, they were slightly below the level required for Semifinalist standing. Only the 15,000 Semifinalists who were announced by NMSC on September 14 will have an opportunity to continue in the competition for some 5,300 Merit Scholarships to be awarded next spring.

B.M.O. man, Ken was recently awarded a pin in recognition of his five years service with the company.

His wife, Jean drives to Deville each day to teach Home Economics in the School for the Deaf there. When you think on the fact that these students can't hear, and Jean had to teach them, you can understand how difficult her job has been. She had to learn "sign language" and lip reading but she is doing fine she says.

Genevieve Hembree, Cecil and Vivian's only daughter came from Berea with her son, who was still talking of his birthday celebrated that day. The Abney's, along with sister Evelyn Abney Bullens, had been attending the Gospel Festival Singing at Brodhead Fairgrounds and said they heard some beautiful songs.

Vivian had been walking through wooded ground near by to search for arrowheads of which she is a "big" collector. Just see the tall, dark skinned Indians as they walked through this valley long ago.

Cecil had given up swimming this summer but the grandchildren enjoyed using the stream.

The word "molasses" sent us into Copper Creek where we had heard they were made "fit for a king's taste". And after putting them on a hot biscuit spread first with butter, you really could believe that remark.

Charles and Bessie Brook of Copper Creek, with many years of experience in the business, were called master (and mistress) of sorghum molasses making. They take pride in their work and even though it was Sunday, when operations cease, we were taken to the cane mill and shown how the molasses were made.

Now I had come looking for the patient old mule, as I had seen in childhood, plod in a never ending circle around the cane mill that pressed out the sweet sugar cane juice. He, too, was gone along with the wood fired cooker. They were replaced by the more modern methods of gas and electric. A man was still needed to feed the cane into the mill and here they were assisted by their son, Ernest Brooks. He lives nearby and helps in this seasonal work. Pushing the cane stalks into the grinding press is an exact operation all day long, one being careful a hand or arm doesn't go in too far. Ernest never makes that mistake, I'm sure. We did not get to meet him and his family but from the way Charles and Bessie talked of their son, he must be an important part of their farm life.

"Nothing gets him down," Bessie said. He faces up to any problem life and works to overcome it and succeeds where I might fail!"

These were very friendly people to spend some time with. Their life was busy and interesting yet they had humor about it. Charles, when asked about crops, said, "I think I'll have to go to Mt. Vernon to get out a search warrant in order to find our potatoes. It's been such a dry season, they are hardly bigger than marbles."

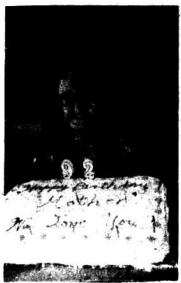

Cleve Kynan made a flying trip to Berea to get a hair cut. That's as long as he will stay there. He's as bad about the creek as Joe Abney is. What does this valley have that makes the people like it so well?

Don't ask me to hang around to get out a search warrant on Green Pond Ridge nor picnic near Mt. Vernon. Did you see last week's pictures in the paper? I must have a talk with the Editor. She's killing me off falling that Rockcastle is the best place for people to come and live in.

Will be on home ground next week. It's close to wild grape hunting time anyway.

FBLA Club buys 14 calculators for vocational school

The Harry Sparks FBLA Club recently purchased fourteen calculators and donated them to the Rockcastle County Vocational School for use in the Business Education program. The money to pay for these calculators was raised by the students. The FBLA Club usually has one or two fundraising activities during the year to make money to pay for trips, guest speakers and also to help buy needed items at school.

Most of the money to buy the calculators was raised during the 1982-83 school year. When the students found out this year that some of the calculators were worn out and not enough was in the rooms for the students to use, they decided to purchase fourteen calculators to equip the classrooms. The club purchased fourteen calculators at a cost of $125.40 each. The calculator.
