The crowd at the newly-opened Rockcastle Roller-drome was very good Monday night but the weather and hazardous road conditions combined to keep the less than adventurous home Tuesday night. But, those that turned out seemed to enjoy themselves a lot. The rink is open 7 days a week (see ad elsewhere in Signal).

Report shows sales of U.S. Savings Bonds on increase

James W. Lambert, Rockcastle County Savings Bonds Chairman, reported purchases of $1,473 in United States Savings Bonds were credited to the county for October, 1983. Total sales credited to the County through October are $27,132. Statewide sales of United States Savings Bonds totaled $3,237,182 for October, 1983, according to reports coming to the County Chairman from Dennis R. Hendrix, President and CEO of Texas Gas Transmission Corporation, the Kentucky State Volunteer Chairman for the U.S. Savings Bonds Division. Kentucky sales through October of 1983 totaled $35,037,015 which is a 3 percent increase over the comparable period of 1982. Nationwide sales for the first 10 months of 1983 are up 32 percent at $3,362 billion. Redemptions for the 10 month period were down 29 percent from a year ago. The value of United States Savings Bonds held by the public was $70.9 billion on October 31.

Effective November, 1983, the market-based interest rate for Series EE Savings Bonds issued between November 1, 1983 and April 30, 1984, is 9.38 percent for their first semi-annual interest period. This is the third semi-annual rate to take effect since market-based, variable rates were introduced on November 1, 1982.

Older Series EE and E Bonds and U.S. Savings Notes also receive the new market-based rate for six month interest-accrual periods starting between November 1, 1983 and April 30, 1984. All Bonds must be held at least five years from their date of purchase or November 1, 1982, whichever is later, to receive the variable rate.

ment still have a "pretty good supply" on hand. Again, a tip of our hats to a hardworking bunch of men.

And, while we are at it. We have to mention our city employees who have worked so hard to restore service to many customers without water because of pipes being burst or meters being out of commission. These men braved the extreme cold Monday and Tuesday to try and get service restored to many customers and while we realize that it is their job we still think they have executed it conscientiously and it is appreciated.

Poultry flue raises egg prices in state

While no cases of a deadly avian influenza have been reported in the state, Kentucky consumers are feeling the effects of the poultry disease in higher egg prices.

Avian influenza does not affect people, but it does affect all types of poultry and game birds. In the past few months, about 7 million chickens and turkeys worth more than $16 million have been destroyed in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

"Besides causing the total eradication of infected flocks, the disease in its early stages causes decreased egg production," said state Agriculture Commissioner Alben W. Barkley II. "It's all contributed to less eggs being available, and that naturally has raised their cost—in some parts of the state to as much as $1.25 a dozen.

In addition to less egg production, poultry with the flu show milk to severe respiratory symptoms, coughing, sneezing, rales, excessive secretion of tears, muddling, ruffled feathers, sinusitis, edema of head and face, bluish coloration of unfeathered skin, nervousness and diarrhea.

"No specific treatment is available to fight the viral infection," Barkley said. "We are advising poultry producers to isolate their flocks from other birds and to keep the people who handle their birds from other fowls. It's not a good idea to bring new birds into your flocks right now. Also, poultry producers should not hunt or handle wild game. This disease is highly contagious and nearly impossible to stop."

"Fear of misfortune is worse than the misfortune."
Hasidic Saying

Chief Justice Stephens

Three area judges have been selected by Kentucky Chief Justice Robert F. Stephens to exercise his authority to make and administer special judge assignments. Circuit Judge Charles R. Luker, 27th Judicial Circuit, has been appointed Chief Regional Administrative Circuit Judge, and Judge Paul Barry Jones will serve as Vice-Chief Regional Circuit Judge for the Cumberland Region.

On the district court level, 27th Judicial District Judge R.W. Dyche, III, has been appointed Chief Regional District Judge for the 22-county Cumberland Region.

Appointed December 1 to two-year terms by the Chief Justice, the chief regional judges, both circuit and district, have the authority to assign judges in their regions, whether active or retired, to other courts to expedite disposition of cases where there might be a heavy caseload, or to promptly substitute another judge where the local judge is disqualified, or where there is a temporary vacancy. If judges within the region are not available for cross-assignment, the affected chief regional judge may request assistance from another region. The Regional Administration Program is an effort on the part of Kentucky's unified court system to equalize the caseload among judges and provide for a more efficient and effective judicial process in all areas of the state.

MOUNT VERNON, KENTUCKY 40456

VOLUME 97 - NUMBER 21

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1983

City workmen Burgess Mullins, left, and Jimmy Rickels worked on Larry Bell's meter Monday - and it was just one of many they were called on to replace, repair or just plain thaw out the extremely cold temperatures over the week end - with a record 11 Christmas morning, caused many homeowners grief as pipes froze and burst throughout the county and water meters took their share of the punishment of the cold weather. Early Tuesday afternoon, city employees said they had received 65 calls for help.

Sub-zero temperature readings over week-end caused problems

It was 11 degrees below zero Christmas morning and local weatherman, Bud Cox, said he was sure it was a record low for that date in the county.

However, Cox, also a fire department assistant chief for Mt. Vernon, said that fortunately there had been no major fires reported. The fire department was called out five times Saturday but they consisted of 2 vehicle fires, 2 chimneys and one flue in an attic.

The main aggravation of the extremely cold weather over the weekend was for people who had water problems. And, have water problems they did as city employees spent all day Monday changing, repairing and thawing meters which had frozen up and burst in some cases.

City employees Burgess Mullins and Jimmy Rickels were still busy Tuesday and said they had answered about 65 calls thus far with some customers saying they had been with out water for three days.

Brodhead residents were without electrical power about two hours Christmas Eve, because of an overloaded breaker in the substation, according to Ron Cain, local KU manager. Cain said he thought the period had probably been a peak demand period for electrical usage although he did not have the exact figures from the power station as yet.

Pipes in at least two public buildings—Roundstone Elementary School and Sower Nursing Home in Brodhead—froze and burst during the period. At RES, Glen VanWinkle, principal, said that some pipes in the ceiling burst but that damage amounted to only about $400. The mishap is covered by insurance with a $250 deductible clause.

At Sower Nursing Home, Mrs. Linda Witt administrator, said their major problem was in a restroom between two patient's rooms where pipes, also in the ceiling, froze and burst. Mrs. Witt said the Brodhead Fire Department was very cooperative in helping them to take care of the problem which she said probably didn't cause any permanent damage. This occurred on Christmas morning and later that day, also at the nursing home, an alert employee noticed that the compressor was running more than it should be indicating a leak. Again, the fire department helped employees trace it to the sprinkler system which had frozen and pushed a valve out of a sprinkler head.

Johnny Eaton of Central Body Service said he had had quite a few calls for start-ups over the weekend when temperatures dropped so low but that there had been amazingly few wrecks with people seeming to be driving more carefully.

The weather forecast Monday night was for about three days of ice and snow and sure enough. Tuesday morning, the snow came with less than one inch of accumulation in Mt. Vernon and the northern end of the county but the western end of the county got about six inches.

Roads were slick and the boys ballgame, scheduled for Lone Jack Tuesday night, was called off.

Court of Appeals reverses decision in Cornelius' case

The United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit recently reversed the summary judgement of U.S. District Judge Eugene Siler in the case of Charles K. Cornelius vs. the Laurel County Board of Education and board members Roy McFadden, Jack Bolton, Ryan Vires James Kennedy and Jack Bruner, individually.

The suit stemmed from Cornelius' dismissal as superintendent of the Laurel County school system in January of 1981, after new school board members, elected in November, took office.

In his summary judgement, Siler ruled that Cornelius did not have a constitutionally protected property interest in his position as superintendent and therefore was not entitled under the due process clause of the fourteenth amendment to an evidentiary hearing prior to his dismissal from the position of Superintendent.

However, the court of appeals' decision states in part, "We conclude that appellant (Cornelius) did have a protected property interest in his position as superintendent. Accordingly, we reverse the judgement of the District Court and remand the action for a determination of what process was due the appellant and whether that process was provided."

Cornelius, an assistant principal at RCHS at the time, was hired as superintendent in the early summer of 1980. He is now a teacher at Mt. Vernon Elementary.

When the snow hit Monday a week ago, it didn't take them long to get on the job and they were a very welcome sight to motorists who were stranded by the unexpected, slick white stuff. It has been that way right along as they seem to usually be able to keep one step ahead of the problem.

Road crews have been doing an excellent job

Robert Broughton, assistant foreman for the state highway dept. said the crews had been putting in quite a bit of overtime the past two weeks with several working all night Tuesday night to combat the ice that was gathering on the roads and threatening to stop traffic.

According to the 11 o'clock news Tuesday night, the interstate was closed south of Clays Ferry. However, Mr. Broughton said that traffic continued to move on the interstate through Rockcastle, thanks to a mixture of salt and very fine gravel the department uses on icy roads.

Broughton said the local department received some salt out of Louisville Tuesday which made the department

Venters to be sworn in January 2

Daniel J. Venters will be sworn in as Judge of Rockcastle and Pulaski Circuit Courts on Monday, January 2, 1984, at the hour of 10:00 a.m. in the circuit courtroom in Mt. Vernon. Venters, who presently serves as District Judge, was elected Circuit Judge in the November General Election.

Justice Calvin Aker of the Kentucky Supreme Court will administer the oath of office to Judge Venters. Immediately following the swearing in, a reception will be held in the circuit courtroom and the citizens of Rockcastle and Pulaski counties are invited to attend.

Card system set-up for commodities

The Rockcastle County Commodity Committee is implementing a Commodity Distribution Card system. Application for the cards will be taken on January 4, 5, and 6, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the Mt. Vernon Baptist Church, the Livingston Pentecostal Church and the Brodhead Baptist Church. Please bring verification of income. You will receive your card at the time of application which will then be punched each time a commodity distribution is made.

For more information, call chairman, Amos Owens, 256-2938.

Feed corn available for drought-affected farmers

The U.S. Department of Agriculture issued eligibility and quantity guidelines for the emergency feed assistance program to sell Commodity Credit Corporation-owned low grade corn to livestock producers whose livestock feed suffered because of drought, hot weather or related disaster.

Eligible producers are those who have not applied for feed assistance and those who applied during the first signup period.

The farmer or rancher must be located in a county designated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as a disaster area due to drought, said Everett Rank, administrator, USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The farmer or rancher also must have suffered a loss of feed normally produced on the farm and must not have sufficient feed to hand to maintain foundation livestock and poultry through the end of the 90-day feeding period, which begins when a producer applies for assistance. The second signup begins on December 27 and runs through January 4.

CCC-owned lower grade corn will be sold to producers at 75 percent of the current basic county loan rate for the average quality of available corn in the county where the corn is produced.

REPUBLICANS TO HOLD NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY
The Rockcastle County Young Republicans Club will be holding a membership drive New Year's Eve party on Saturday night, December 31 from 7 p.m. to midnight at the Senior Citizens Center in Brodhead.

stored, Rank said.

The maximum amount of assistance that may be granted is 10 pounds of feed grain per day per animal unit times the number of days in the feeding period. The maximum amount is reduced by the amount of feed on hand and the total amount may not exceed the amount of production lost.

Rank said farmers and ranchers should contact their county offices of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service beginning December 27 for further details and to make application for assistance.

Rockcastle's newest entertainment attraction for all ages is now open. The Rockcastle Roller-drome, owned and operated by Jimmy Cromer and Carolyn Huffines, is located on U.S. 25 just south of Mt. Vernon and opened over the Christmas week end. They are open 7 days a week and plan a special skate for New Year's Eve.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor,

Needless to say, I was embarrassed by the letter written by Mr. Graydon Cummins and published in the Signal last week.

In response to Mr. Cummins' letter, I would like to explain that back in 1968, the state law (KRS 158.030) stated that a child must be six (6) years old by December 31 to enroll in school in the first grade.

Mr. Cummins' daughter was born on January 1, one day too late. The principal and I were simply carrying out the state law when we refused to enroll the child.

Mr. Cummins then produced a copy of an attorney general's opinion which stated, in effect, that if a child was born within two months and minutes after midnight on January 1, it would be eligible to enroll. We then enrolled the child since she was born within that time frame.

Mr. Cummins made a false statement when he said that I caused the child to take the first grade two years I had nothing to do with the child failing the first grade. I never interfere with a teacher's judgment to retain or promote a student. This is left entirely up to the teacher.

Intervisions: Poems and Photographs

(Reprinted from the October 13, 1983 issue of the Tri-County News-Journal in Spruce Pine, N.C.)

By Elizabeth Hunter

Sharon Anglin Kuhn is her own woman. No doubt about that.

A few years ago when she decided to try to get her photographs exhibited more widely and began entering every contest and competitive exhibit she read about, we newspaper editors found the influx of news released from faraway places to be on the rise.

A substantial number of these missives from exotic sounding places like Paris, France, or the Perihelion Gallery turned out to be announcements of yet another Kuhn photograph winning an award or being selected to hang in a prestigious exhibit. I got used to skimming lists of exhibitors for her name and, more often than not, found it.

So it came as no particular surprise, several months ago, when somebody mentioned that she was publishing a book which combined her photographic images with some of well-known author James Dickey's poems.

It even sounded logical,

It also sounded like a good story, and it is.

According to Mrs. Kuhn, she became convinced, after reading a couple of Dickey poems from his new book "Puella" about a year and a half ago that she and she were "thinking along the same lines," though one was putting the thoughts into words while the other was using visual imagery.

For almost a year she let the thought pass, "but in January of this year I un and wrote him, and sent him 20 slides of my work. I told him I thought we were interested in the same ideas and wondered whether he thought so too. He wrote back and said 'yes,' we were thinking along the same lines. He was very excited about it. He said my photographs were the most sensitive and 'imaginative' photos he had ever seen."

Correspondence between the two continued, while Mrs. Kuhn worked toward her Master of Fine Arts degree from East Tennessee State University. One day her major professor Jonathan Donahoe suggested she ask Dickey for permission to put together a book combining his poems with her photographs. She wrote Dickey, and he agreed.

The book, which will be published in December, will form a major part of the thesis exhibition Mrs. Kuhn will hold in the fall of 1984 to complete her degree. Her thesis will be on the subject she said, "the artist as publisher."

granted, the project still faced many blocks—finding a publisher, for one, and obtaining rights to the poetry from its original publisher, for another.

The best deal she could get from any publisher with whom she talked, Mrs. Kuhn said, was 10 percent of the profits—after she fronted the money to cover printing and publishing costs. "So I decided to found my own publishing company," she said.

That process took six months, and required, among other things, borrowing a substantial amount of money from the bank, planning a marketing campaign, reading books about publishing, and setting up an extensive bookkeeping system.

In addition, Mrs. Kuhn discovered that she could not secure rights to the poetry in "Puella," so had to switch to some poems Dickey had published 20 years ago. "I went through 200 of his poems," she said, "and got it down to 20. Together she and Dickey selected 10, including 'a couple I hadn't originally selected.'" Rights to those poems have been granted to Mrs. Kuhn by Wesleyan University Press.

Author and photographer met at Pauley's Island, South Carolina, where Dickey lives, in May, she said, to discuss her ideas. "I already had it edited the way I wanted it," she said, "But he changed a few things, including the title. The only

By Lella Stokes

Thanks to everyone for remembering us in our sorrow with your kind words of comfort in the home going of our beloved Kenneth Stokes.

He had acute leukemia, which caused sudden death. It's very, very hard to be prepared to hear from the doctors that your loved one has such a fatal disease. But through all a Christian's heartaches and trials, we have God's sure promise that He is with us. "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Copied from a devotional booklet "Our Dailey Bread" of December 19th are these words: "For a Christian, death is not an ending but a beginning. The believer is now with his blessed Savior, and we who are left behind can take great comfort, for our loved one is waiting for us to come home." We thing I feel bad about is conceding the title."

Mrs. Kuhne's working title had been "Images from the Undercurrent," but the book will be published as "Interviews: Poems and Photographs."

The photographs which will be used in the book are part of a series she began making in 1980. (The most recent additions, she said, were shot this spring, in Bruce Phillips orchard when it was in full bloom. Others have been shot at, or in, the North Toe River, on top of Roan Mountain in the snow, and at Topsoil Beach.) "I wanted to verify my femininity," she said. "I had traipsed around in the masculine world of the university, and so on, for so long. I had bought this old clothing, shawls and dresses, with fabric which was very appealing to me.

"I had begun photographing other women in this clothing, but they were bringing their personalities, stories, into it. I started making up stories about the clothing—where it had been—and I realized I could create characters with the clothing all by itself, but I was very timid about the idea," she said.

A summer photographic course at Penland School of Crafts, however, put her in touch with Aida Fish, a teacher from the Philadelphia College of Art, and she helped me weed all this together. She encouraged me to use the clothing, she said.

"I use the clothing to personify a universal thing," she said. "I think a dress can represent so many things." One dress she uses, she said "looks like my grandmother. My whole idea of nature comes from her."

Dickey's poems do the same sort of thing, she said. "Awaiting the Swimmer," her favorite of the 200 poems she read for the book, for example, "uses a woman who's swimming as a personification of courage."

In conjunction with the publication of the book—a limited edition, with only 3,000 copies to be printed, all hardbound—Mrs. Kuhne is having a two-color poster, of a four-color poster of a photograph and a promotional brochure printed. She also plans to sell her photographs through the publishing company.

There will be two major marketing phases, she said, the first prior to the December 15 publication date, where she will mail out 2,000 brochures to a mailing list she has compiled, offering the book at a pre-publication price of $23.50. (The price will increase to $28.95 following publication.)

Mrs. Kuhne said she is already planning her second publication: another book of her photographs. "I see my company turning into a publisher of fine art books and posters," she said.

Mrs. Kuhne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Anglin of Mt. Vernon.

"PERSONALS"

would not wish them back again amid this world of care. For God in love has called them home, and we shall meet them there."
Anon. If Kenneth had a favorite hymn, I think it would have been the same one that was sung at his father's funeral. "When I say good morning here, I'll say good morning up there."
In Christian love, we wish to express our sincere sympathy to the families and friends of these beloved ones: Mrs. Christine Sparks, Mrs. Hazel Riddle Elliott, Mrs. Carrie Baker, Mr. Z. Laswell, Mr. Jesse J. Taylor and Mr. Benton Mullins.
Mr. Henry Coffey and Mr. Jack Cromer of Mt. Vernon, Mrs. Daniel Wisemer (Joyce) of Bradenton, Fla., and Mrs. Joe Poston (Kathy) of Bedford, Texas, attended the funeral of Mr. Charles Kenneth Stokes in Michigan.
I enjoyed my visit this past summer with Kenneth and wife, Virginia Stokes in Jackson, Michigan. They both looked so well.

The line was clear and the telephone message from my sister Amanda was plain but it was hard to believe what I was hearing that our cousin, Christine Davis Sparks, had passed away in a Lexington hospital. She looked so good when I was at home this past summer. To this dear and beloved family and friends we send sincere and heartfelt condolence.
Miss Michelle Turner of Sarasota, Florida spent Saturday night with her great aunt, Mrs. Lella Stokes in Bradenton. She and Damon were in their church program Sunday morning in Sarasota. Jimmy, who goes to school in Tampa is spending Christmas holidays with his mother, Mrs. Martha Turner and family in Sarasota.
Billy Dowell and family of Mt. Vernon spent Christmas with his mother, Mrs. Janie Dowell at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ruby McKenzie in Pensacola, Florida.

Mayor Roland Mullins and family of Mt. Vernon visited his brother, Wendell and Virginia Mullins during the Christmas holidays in Sarasota, Florida.
Mr. and Mrs. Frankie McDanel are spending Christmas with her parents in Ohio.
News has reached us from Mrs. Annabess Renner Shatto of Merritt Island, Florida that her brother, Darrell Renner of Ft. Mitchell, Ky. went home to be with the Lord last week. Everyone loved Darrell. He was a real dedicated person who loved his Saviour.
I'm very grateful for all the lovely Christmas cards and letters this 1983 and the good wishes for the New Year and in return I wish each and everyone of you God's richest blessings now and always

VA questions and answers

Q How do I appeal a decision made by one of the VA's rating boards on my disability?
 A You need only write a letter to the VA office which made the decision stating you disagree with the VA's decision. This will initiate the appeals process.

and you will then be advised of your appeal rights and actions you must take.
 Q Can anyone get information from the VA about my service-connected disabilities and how much compensation I receive?
 A Under the Privacy Act of 1974, we can inform anyone how much money you receive from the VA if they provide sufficient identifying information about you. However, we are not allowed to inform anyone where your VA checks go or what your disabilities are without your written permission.

 Q May a veteran or other eligible claimant work and still be evaluated as unemployable for benefit purposes?
 A Each claim for unemployment benefits is determined on the basis of the facts in the individual case. The nature and extent of employment and the effects of service-connected disabilities are taken into consideration. Veterans who are rated unemployable, and who begin any type of employment should notify the VA at once so that continued eligibility can be re-evaluated.
 Q I have a war related injury and my kids are ready to start college. Are they entitled to any help from the VA?

 A Perhaps. The college-age children of veterans who suffer from permanent and total service-connected disabilities may be entitled to education benefits similar to those granted veterans. The student can use this benefit for college as well as for other types of training, and can make application either through the VA directly or through the Veterans Affairs Office at school.
 Q I now receive 100 percent service-connected disability compensation. My wife and I plan to divorce. Will she be entitled to a portion of my compensation after we are divorced?
 A No. Her entitlement to all benefits ceases when your divorce is final.

Berea Parker Seal Employees Train To Be Leaders: From left, front row, are Ann Meeks, Lucille Bullock, Nancy Northern, Kathleen Teague, Standing: Dearn McKinney, Lucy Carter, Phillip Singleton, Bill Robbins, Joy Lear, John Churchill. These Parker employees recently completed three days of training as quality circle leaders. The training was designed to certify the participants as leaders so they could lead existing quality circles or organize additional groups. Seven of the ten have become leaders of their circles while the remaining three are serving as assistant or substitute leaders of their respective circles.

This group is a Berea Parker Seal Quality Circle which is an employee improvement team which meets one hour per week to identify, analyze and solved work-related problems. Each group selects a name—this group chose "Fixers" since they spend most of their time fixing things to keep the plant running smoothly. The group recently concluded their quality circle training. Their final training exercise consisted of making a special "presentation" to the plant's upper management. Each circle member participated in the "presentation" in which management was given three options for evaluation and possible implementation. The recommended option will, if implemented, result in a cost reduction to the plant of approximately $28,259 per month. Management gave approval to experimentally install two units as recommended. If the experimental units are as successful as anticipated the procedure will be expanded to apply elsewhere. Jerry Caudill served as facilitator in training and leading this group through their first management presentation; and Jack Farmer who is a plant engineer assisted the group even though he is a member of another quality circle. Pictured, front row, from left, are: Frankie Anderkin, Leroy Caudill, Virgil Hatton and Jack Farmer. Back row: Beve Reynolds, Harold Gill, John Newchick and Laney Poynter.

Three charged with theft; other arrests made

No arrests have been made in connection with a break-in Sunday night, December 18 at John's Discount on U.S. 25 South in Mt. Vernon.

Taken in the break-in were 29 handguns and several rifles and shotguns were found outside the store in the weeds, Deputy Sheriff Clarence "Jibb" Hasty said.

Hasty said entrance to the store was gained by breaking through a rear concrete wall.

Three men have been arrested in the theft of two head of cattle from the Ambrose Rader farm at Skeggs Creek on December 16.

The cattle were recovered at the stockyards in Lancaster later the same day after they were sold to a "pinhooker".

Arrested were Kevin Fletcher, Tracy Fletcher and Darrell Mason. All three have been charged with theft by unlawful taking over $100.

Two adults and one juvenile were arrested in connection with a break-in early in the month at the Attic on Williams Street in Mt. Vernon.

Arrested were Randy Graves and Marie Muse. Both were charged with burglary in the third degree. Muse was in jail released on a property bond.

Taken in the break-in were several jackets and sets of sheets and pillow cases. The sheets and pillow cases were later recovered by the Sheriff's office at a motel in Mt. Vernon.

Matilda Miller in Begley's Drugs buying trimmings for the table. Martha Hill eyeing the fruits in Wilson's Market and filling a cart for the holidays.

Audrey McGuire from Burr who couldn't decide on the kind of candy she wanted at the display. Along with her was Mrs. Jim Barnett from M. Vernon who greeted Martha Hill with hugging because Martha was her online teacher.

Joining Mrs. Barnett and Martha in the store at Berea, I was hugged soundly too when Martha introduced me as the writer of news from the creek. "We sure enjoy that paper. That's where I know all about you she said to Martha. A teacher feels happy when her former pupils show kindness after the years go by."

ie in a restaurant at Mt. Vernon saying, "I've come to buy the biggest pair of socks in town to hang up. Santa didn't leave me enough last year". Maybe he thought you had been naughty, Bill.

We went, as old friends, to see a once Clear Creek resident, Pearl VanWinkle in Brodhead's Sewder Nursing Home. She had been in, and was out of the hospital because she became very ill. Charlie is now in the twilight of life for she didn't respond to us in the way that we knew her. She was such a friendly person interested in all that went on around her and we miss that.

Our daughter-in-law Sherrill Cornett and our granddaughter, Diana, were down from Florence to see us. They must have run into very ill Charlie somewhere on the way for they brought us nice gifts. Son, Russell, had to work they said so they came to visit.

Mary Payne entertained Blanche Payne and myself for lunch one day at Berea near Christmas. Now I call it all an enjoyable gift. Clelan (Dick) Abney called from Indiana one day to wish us a "Merry Christmas. He said he enjoyed memories of Clear Creek, where he was raised, as he read news in the Signal. He also asked if I would let him know as to when I thought Joe and Ruth Abney would have enough rabbits frozen to pay for his making them a visit.

It was very pleasant and surprising to receive a letter from Henry Voltmer of the Signal. I learned was a friend of John Lair and had taken the Signal to read of Renfro news. "Now, he says," I read of the joy of Clear Creek folks and the odd thing about it is that I don't know a single person there but they seem to be the kind of people I'd like to know." Well, that makes us proud, Henry, for you hit the mark on the way you talked about us, the folks would like to have you for a neighbor.

Thanks for the nice Christmas card and may you have a happy New Year. My idea that Tom Leger was holding off age by eating fresh, new turnips and that I would do likewise, has started something on Clear Creek. Why there has been a regular raid on the turnip patches, that you've never heard the like. Among the group (who believed me) were Don Gadd, Cleve Payne, John Gabbard, Joe Abney, John Harding, Raymond Hurley, Buster Gadd and Blufford Sexton of Clima. Nathan Mullins said he'd wait for more proof but Charlie King just laughs and laughs.

One thing I see is how Howard and Hazel Linnville in Mt. Vernon one Sunday recently. They have both retired, Hazel from teaching and Howard from the county road department but each is still interested in all that goes on. At one time, they lived on Clear Creek but moved to a farm in Indiana then returned to Rockcastle to live. In talking of their coming back here, Howard said he became sick. Hazel told me, "Yes, sick, but plain old homesick. That's what was!" They returned to the land where they were born and raised. No better place than good old Kentucky. The Linnvilles were expecting their daughter, Mary, from Texas with her family, to visit over the holidays. That will be a happy time for them.

Not all the pretty girls in Rockcastle live on Clear Creek. They have them in Mt. Vernon, too. I thought when I walked into the Signal office and met Jamie Anderkin of the staff, Did you see her and the family in last week's paper? I thought it very nice to see the people who are working for the readers to give us a good newspaper.

And Jamie will help us that front office by her friendly smile and making folks feel welcome.

Now as 1983 draws to an end, I would send greetings and best wishes across the miles to the many readers of the Signal as well as the folks at home.

Correction?

In last week's paper, in an item about the new 461 now being under construction, we said the next section to be started will be from 150 around to the Red Top Restaurant on 25.

However, we later heard from Leroy Brown, newly appointed Chief District Highway Engineer for District 8, who said that this may not be the next section started as at this time it is not certain which section will be constructed next.

What is happening is that some right-of-way is now being purchased on the section from 150 to Red Top Restaurant on 25 but Brown said this does not necessarily mean this will be the next section started. Or, it could be.

Anyway, we apologize for the (maybe) error.

FAREWELL TO 1983

Tonight at midnight, no break, Church bells will ring the old year out, Sirens will blow and fireworks sound. As the new year 1984 comes around.

How fast time passes, we often say. Another year has passed away.

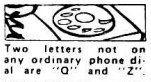

Many things we can recall, Some pleasant, some not at all. Yet one thing we are glad to say, God has spared us to see this day.

And we can be thankful as we pray.

For the safety of our country, the USA. We'll make resolutions, hard to keep, Try not to get in too deep. For resolutions are easy to break. Just have a Happy New Year. For goodness sake!

Hello from Clear Creek. Smoke drifts lazily from chimneys. It does not rise upward but floats down across the roofs and yards, a sign of bad weather to come, old timers say. We're having it here as before Christmas. Up and down the creek, colored lights twinkle from the windows and around doors from homes as the celestials greet each other with a "Merry Christmas." We celebrate one birthday, our children and join millions world wide in singing, "Joy to the world!"

Folks I met out looking for Christmas. Alie Berry coming out to the IGA market in Berea with all the fixings for a Christmas dinner.

Tax Trimming

If you haven't talked to your accountant lately about how you might cut your taxes for 1983, don't delay any longer.

Review the following list with him as a starting point to find what will work for you. Those ideas that turn out to be too late for this year may be available for 1984 tax planning in a year-round activity; it's never too early for it.

- Bad debts-What deduction is available?
- Dependency exemptions-Will any be lost? Working college students, elderly parents, divorce situations need review.
- Inventory donated to charity-What tax break exists?
- Bunching deductions every other year-Is it better than taking the standard deduction?
- Option to sell on installment sale-Better than a cash sale?
- Tax shelters-Should you invest before year-end?
- Equipment purchases-Should they be done before year-end for 1983 depreciation and investment credit?
- Year-end bonuses-Good idea? Will the changes in social security taxes affect income tax savings?
- Postponing income and accelerating expenses-What are the options?
- Tax credits-Which will apply? Energy, R&D, targeted jobs, political and charitable contributions, earned income, elderly, child and dependent care, etc.
- Deductible expenses that could be overlooked: job hunting, moving, adoption, casualties.
- Residence sales-What's required to defer the taxes?

A tax planning session with your advisor will be time and money well spent.

We have "Tax Deduction Recorders" available, free of charge. The recorder can help ensure your greatest tax savings. Stop by and see us today for your free recorder and be on your way to a lower 1983 tax liability.
