By Mary McWhorter

Our Gospel Meeting at the Providence Church of Christ begins April 2, continuing through the 7th, with Robert Jackson doing the preaching services nightly at 7:30. Everyone is cordially invited. If you do not have a way, we will be glad to see that you get there.

Our sympathy goes to the family of Mrs. Bonnie Taylor in their loss. Mrs. Taylor's funeral was conducted at the Bethel Church of Christ by Steve Fikang of Danville. She was laid to rest in the Bethel Cemetery by the Fox Funeral Home of Stanford.

Leslie Owens of Louisville remains very ill in the intensive care unit at the Auduburn Hospital in Louisville.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Gentry by their daughter and granddaughter, Louella and Susan Cass and friend Tim Puckett of Hartford.

Olney Sutton of Bowling Green, and formerly of Broadhead, is on the sick list. Mrs. Sutton, who has been sick for some time, is slightly improved. We hope for better health for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bert McWhorter.

Mrs. Brenda Bradley and Stephanie were Tuesday visitors of Mrs. Eugenia Skidmore at Mt. Vernon.

Week end visitors of Mrs. Melberta Robbins and Mrs. Jim Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ray Cash, all of Morrow, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Vick and daughter, Rachel, of Berea.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hampton of Lockland, Ohio, enroute from a visit in Fort Myers, Fla., stopped by for a short visit with Mrs. Lauceve Monk and Mrs. Gladys Roberts. They also visited their son, Tim, and family in Waycross, Georgia.

Mrs. Lauceve Monk announces the birth of a new great grandson, Stephen Smits, born to Mrs. Monk's granddaughter, Georgina Hampson Smits and husband Tom Smits of Lockland, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hubbard were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hubbard.

James Woodall is confined to his home with the flu. We hope he will be better soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Renner of Lexington called his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Renner Friday night. They had just returned from a week's vacation in Florida visiting old friends.

Mrs. Mary Graves was Sunday afternoon visitor of Mrs. Maggie Fletcher and Audrey.

Victor Bradley of London remains in serious condition in the coronary unit of the Methodist Hospital in Corbin. His Friday visitors were his sister, Mrs. Gertrude Renner and Mr. Renner. Then, on Saturday, his sisters, Mrs. Irene Watkins of Lancaster and Margaret Bradley and his brother, John Bradley, all visited him.

Visitors of Mrs. Martha Owens and Kenny were Paul Owens of High Point, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. E. Albright and children, Teresa, Larry, Tim and Shonna, Mr. and Mrs. Garner Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Childress and Jessica.

Orville Burkhardt of Livingston, Ky., visited his friends Mrs. Dugie King, Stella, all of London. Mrs. Burkhardt's children in Leslie County. She says they enjoyed a big dinner and nice visit and also visited some more friends, Austin Caldwell and wife, and Ferline, his 86-year-old mother, Mrs. Ellen Caldwell, Robert and Mack Caldwell and wife, Stella. He says it was more like a family reunion as Robert, Mack and Osal Caldwell grew up with Mrs. Burkhardt's children in Leslie County. She says they hugged my neck and kissed me. We were all so glad to be together again.

Mrs. Cam Walcott had the misfortune of falling and breaking her arm and is not feeling so well. We hope she will be better soon.

Recent visitors of Mrs. Viola Albright were Mrs. Leon McClure, Pauline McClure and little 4-year-old Josh Todd, Jerry and Terry Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kidwell and children, Lori and Andrew, of Lexington were Friday night guests of Mrs. Maggie Kidwell.

Mrs. Viola Albright celebrated her 74th birthday Sunday, March 25 along with part of her children and grandchildren. The rest plans to be here Easter to help her finish. Those present were: Mrs. Kathy Coffey, Amber and Thomas Loyd, Mary Harper, Everett and Shonna Albright. She had a good dinner and lots of nice cards.

Mrs. Albright reports her 26-year-old grandson, son of P. D. and Mary Ann Albright of Paris, was feeding cattle with the help of an electric feeder when he had the misfortune of getting his leg in it, cutting his heel badly and removing the skin up to his hip where he could get help. He is in the hospital at Paris. Those from here who visited him were his grandmother, Mrs. Viola Albright, Mary Renner and son, Scotty and Shelby Cable, Hershell and Dawn Taylor, Terry and Jerry Brown, and Everett and Jean Albright.

Mrs. Mae Doan was Tuesday morning visitor of Mrs. Mae Holbrook and got another surprise. It was sweet bread instead of cake or pie.

IN HONOR OF THE LATE RUSSELL CROMER

Written by: Dawn Treador

"Russell's Last Flyte"

With pen in hand I dare not write Of amazing grace Russell's last flyte

It was his last flyte That sent him there To be surrounded With the doctors' care

A delapidated nurse The tests would show His family stood by Trying hard to be bold

But as boldness very quickly Turned to fear Their bodies began to tremble Their faces, washed with tears

The surgeons began working Their nurses close by A powerful thunderbolt As quick as an eye

Came through the steel walls Into Russell's breast And took him home To everlasting rest

A few hours later: Russell appeared to his Son As a Spirit in the night Things are far better After the last flyte.

As his flyte was nearing, His room was cleaned, His face clean shaven He turned pure white With a heavenly image

He survived the operation For a little while He even walked around Though he suffered, he smiled

He survived the operation For a little while He even walked around Though he suffered, he smiled

Homemakers disappointed with blood drive turn-out

On Tuesday, March 13th, the Rockcastle County Homemakers sponsored the first blood drive of the year at the Bank of Mt. Vernon.

The Homemakers were pleased with the support of the Mt. Vernon Signal and WRVK Radio Station for their support in publicizing the blood drive and to the people at the Bank of Mt. Vernon and Druthers Restaurant for their support and donated food coupons. They were disappointed with the low turn-out and urge all Rockcastle County blood donors to participate in the next blood drive.

Homemakers hold three community blood drives each year at the Bank of Mt. Vernon.

Please help the homemakers maintain a safe and adequate blood supply for all Rockcastle Counties by donating at these blood drives. The next two drives are scheduled for Tuesday, July 24 and Tuesday, November 6, 1984.

If you have any questions about the Rockcastle County blood program or would like to be a blood donor, you may call Jerry Alheid, toll free, at Central Kentucky Blood Center 1-800-432-9528 or Cheryl Witt at 256-2403.

However, the auction will be conducted at the junction of Loman Hill Road and Green Pond Ridge Road.

It should be noted that the property is presently being surveyed and the acreages may vary from what is advertised.

TRACT NO. 1 - (Smith Tract) contains 80 acres, more or less, and is improved with a tobacco barn. Although the land is improved, it definitely has farming capabilities. With a little mowing and clearing, several acres could be utilized agriculturally.

TRACT NO. 2 - (Durham Tract) contains 30 acres, more or less, with an old barn. This tract is located adjacent to tract No. 1 and fronts on the county road. This is a picturesque wooded tract of land.

TRACT NO. 3 contains 220 acres, more or less, and is improved with a dandy tobacco barn. With a little work, there would be several acres of tillable cropland. There's also a pond and well on this tract which was originally the old homestead.

If you're looking for land with plenty of privacy and close to nature, look no further, this is it. It offers a fantastic view of the rolling hills of Southeast Kentucky.

AUCTIONEER'S NOTE: Survey plats are available for your use in examining the marketable timber. You're welcome to cruise the timber and see the logging potential on these tracts. With coal possibilities prevalent in the area, you may want to pursue this potential.

Executor of Estate reserves the right to sell each tract separately then grouped, selling whichever method reflects the best returns.

Tobacco base allotments for the individual tracts will be announced day of sale.

Also selling, will be 5,600 tobacco sticks.

Announcements day of sale take precedence over any printed matter.

COUNCIL FOR THE ARTS MET MARCH 20

The Rockcastle Council for the Arts met again March 20 to discuss the progress report on fund raising and projects for 1984.

The community response has been outstanding and

Gregory's present slide program

The Rockcastle Chapter DARR met recently at the home of Mrs. Roscoe Adams, Chapter Regent, for the March meeting.

The program had been designated as International Defense Program and the chapter was most fortunate to have one of its members, Mrs. Mary Gregory, accompanied by her husband, attorney William D. Gregory, presented a slide program and commentary on their recent trip to Russia.

For this particular presentation, the Gregorlys chose a series of slides dealing with their stay in Moscow. Along with identifying locations such as Red Square, Lenin's Tomb, and inside the Kremlin, Mrs. Gregory gave personal observations about how tightly they were kept together as a tour group and how obvious it was that there were many places you were not to go by the obvious presence of armed military guards. She said the military was very visible, doing many jobs not associated with the military here in our country. She noted that military veterans do wear medals in public and are accorded great respect that large public banners do urge workers to produce more for "the state" and there are large posters in prominent locations depicting Uncle Sam as a blood-thirsty war-monger.

The Gregorlys expressed their emotions at viewing centuries old church buildings and priceless religious paintings in a land whose government denies the existence of God. Mrs. Gregory told of visiting bookstores in the Moscow area and asking if there were any Bibles for sale. On one occasion he was told "No Bibles."

The Gregorlys agreed they ran a gauntlet of emotions while on this tour, and while there were moments of near-panic, they both agreed it was an experience they are glad they did not miss and might even consider going again.

An informal question and answer period continued throughout the refreshment and social time. Nine members were present and welcomed one guest, and prospective member, Mrs. ZI Graves.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Readers,

I would like to say thank you to those individuals who cared enough to contact Kentucky Senator Huddleston and Senator Ford in voicing your opinion on the Prayer Amendment. Thanks to you, our Kentucky Senators voted yes to permit our children to pray in school once again.

Although the final vote was 56 for to 44 against, the vote still did not meet the required two-thirds to be passed. Next year, we may have the opportunity again to put prayer back into our public schools.

We may have come up short of the needed votes in the Senate, but we have not lost. We have just begun to fight to retain our children's right to pray. We all can help.

Thank you again, Brenda Joyce Stroman

agreed it was an experience they are glad they did not miss and might even consider going again.

4-H Reflections of the past....

A group of 4-H leaders attended a conference at Mt. Vernon. "The adult leader of the 4-H clubs are chosen from the local people in the communities. The Extension program of Junior Work would be impossible to carry on without the aid of some good local leaders. The 4-H club leaders and project leaders are asked to come to Mt. Vernon three or four times each year to a training school conducted by the County and Home Demonstration Agents." (Excerpt from 1932 narrative report by Frances Stallard) Note: Martha Brown, County Extension Agent, has received several comments concerning native Rockcastle Countians who were involved in 4-H in the past. Stories and letters about 4-H activities may be mailed to P.O. Box 900, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456.

Tornado safety tips

It was 10 years ago, in April of 1974, when a tornado ripped through Livingston and other sections of Rockcastle County. It spring once the lowest level means tornado season.

Gary Asher, the safety director at the Rockcastle County Hospital and the county coordinator for disaster and emergency services, thinks everyone should know what to do in case of severe weather. He offers the following tips to keep in mind during a storm or tornado.

First, you must remember that there's a difference between a weather watch and a warning. A watch is issued by the National Weather Service whenever conditions are likely to produce severe weather. A warning means severe weather is imminent. When a warning is issued, you should take action immediately to protect your life and the lives of others around you.

If you are threatened by a tornado in your area, stay away from windows, doors and outside walls. Be sure to protect your head.

If you're in your home or a small building, go to the basement, or to an interior hallway. Go to the lowest level—closets, bathrooms or interior halls. Get under something sturdy.

In schools, nursing homes, hospitals, factories and shopping centers, go to pre-designated shelter areas. Interior hallways on the lowest floor are usually best.

In high-rise buildings, go to interior small rooms or hallways.

If you're in a mobile home or a vehicle, leave them and go to a substantial structure. If there is no shelter nearby, lie flat in the nearest ditch, ravine or culvert with your hands shielding your head.

In case of a tornado watch or warning, listen to your radio or television for the latest National Weather Service bulletins.

Another thing to remember is that tornadoes often accompany severe thunderstorms and only

Charlie Harrison -- country music entertainer

Charlie Harrison, with his six-foot frame, silvery hair, soft eyes and generous smile, was born February 4, 1936 in Jackson County, Kentucky. He taught himself to play the guitar and joined a band when he was eighteen years old. In 1960, he began making guest appearances at The Renfro Valley Barn Dance. It wasn't long before he was invited to become a regular entertainer there. He has been singing and telling funny stories on the stage for many years.

In 1967, he cut his first records, backed up by The Nashville Band. "I See Her Face in Everything I Look at," wound up in the top ten in some states.

Dean Dillion, a high school boy, left one of Charlie's shows determined to put his name in country music one day. He became one of the best song writers in Nashville. He wrote George Jones' new hit "Tennessee Whiskey." He also wrote "Mazie Del Rey" and "Lay With Me A Little Longer."

In 1978, Charlie appeared in the well-known movie "Black Beauty." He played six background scenes and one main scene. He played the man who bought Black Beauty and tried to turn it into a buggy horse.

Some of Charlie's regular appearances each year are the Squirrel Festival in Floyd County, The Lenville Ball in Morgan County and The Sorghum Festival where he was The Grand Marshall in 1976. He was featured as a regular entertainer in the Kentucky pavilion during the World's Fair, when it was hosted in Knoxville in 1982.

He was once compared to Don Rickles. He was doing a show in Louisville and failed to make a girl laugh, losing a $1,000 bet. "I almost cracked up," she told him later. "You're almost as good as Don Rickles, he always made me laugh."

In 1982, Charlie recorded an album filled with funny stories country style. One of his jokes is called "The Chicken Shick" and Hank Williams, Jr. enjoyed it so well that many times he will use it during his shows. The album is called "One Funny Man," and if you haven't got one, you're missing out.

A new single has just been released by Charlie. "I Can't See What's Happening," is the title of his new song. Out of 800 new releases, it was listed in Billboard as number 22, effectively beating out some big names in country music. Just to be mentioned in Billboard is quite an honor in itself.

Charlie is a comedian, a country, western, gospel singer and a song writer. He lives in London with his wife, Bitha, and their two white French poodles. They have raised two children and are now busy spoiling their grandson.

Charlie has traveled extensively, entertaining as he went. Once the Harrisons won a costume party contest in Brazil, Bitha, who was caught without a costume, invented one right off the top of her head. He's worked with radio, television, movies, festivals and concerts. He has written songs, made records and albums and had a good time along the way. He does television commercials and is the MC for "The George Humfleet Radio Show," which airs on Saturday morning at 9:30 on WWEL and WFIC, both London channels.

Some terrific things are happening in Charlie's life right now. Charlie Pride called and asked permission to record, "I Can't See What's Happening." And, Rick Dye, head of the Ohio State Fairs, stopped by Charlie's house last week and asked him to join his other 4,000 attractions in entertaining the midwest. Charlie said that it was a good offer and that he is considering it. Someday, he hopes to make it big in country music - sell a million records, appear on the stage at The Grand Ole Opry and end up in The Hall of Fame.

Willing Workers meet

Fifteen Brohead Willing Worker Homemakers met at the Senior Citizens building on March 22, 1984, even if it was the night that U.K. battled Louisville in Lexington.

Glady Bussell had been alerted to make the meeting short so the basketball fans could see the complete game at home. So, she started at 7:30 and hurriedly got the meeting started by asking Ella Mae Martin to present the devotion. Her thoughts were about how the tongue hurts as well as helps so it should be bridled for best results.

Barbara Watson asked each member for the number of volunteer hours they had given last month as well as reading minutes and giving the balance in the treasury. A report was given on the International Dinner and the Brohead PTA asked the homemakers to donate a craft item to sell their country store at our April meeting.

Pennies for friendship were collected. It was voted on that we would give scissors to the best seamstress in Brohead's 4-H Club and that we would give $20 to Brohead's best all-around 4-H club member.

The club has received what it will receive as an award at the state meeting for its membership.

Linda Dyer passed out an informative booklet, "Service Agencies for Rockcastle Co." that was compiled by Cheryl Witt. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses Jean Albright and Carol DeBoard.

April's meeting will be Monday night, April 23 at Aslee Bray's home with Ruby McKinney as co-hostess.

Grand Jury returns several indictments

By Richard Anderkin

The Rockcastle County Grand Jury has returned five indictments on charges ranging from murder to armed robbery.

Lisa R. Jones of Mt. Vernon was indicted for the January 30, 1984 murder of Johnny Keith Falin, 34, of Orlando. On the night of the shooting, Jones told police Falin was shot by someone in a vehicle who had pulled up behind her car on KY 1004. Ms. Jones said Falin got out of her car and that she did not turn around to see who was behind them until she heard the gunshot and was unable to furnish police with any description of the vehicle or its occupants.

About a week later, Ms. Jones was arrested on the University of Kentucky campus where she is a nursing student.

The arrest was the result of an investigation into the murder by Kentucky State Police Detective Doyle Stogdill.

Ms. Jones is free on a $30,000 property bond and her trial has been set for August 20.

Ernie Woods, 16, of Route 4, Mt. Vernon was arrested Monday by Rockcastle County Deputy Sheriff Clarence "Jib" Hasty after the grand jury returned an indictment against Brown for the January 22nd armed robbery of Convenient Food Mart on Richmond St. in Mt. Vernon.

Although Brown is a juvenile, he was certified to stand trial as an adult by District Judge Ernie Woods, after a transport hearing.

The indictment against Brown alleged that he entered the Convenient Store around 11 a.m., carrying a .410 shotgun and wearing a mask. He allegedly demanded all the money in the cash drawer.

Two other accomplices reportedly waited outside for Brown.

Brown's arraignment has been set for April 13th. He is presently lodged in the Rockcastle County Jail under $7,500 bond.

An indictment for receiving stolen property was also handed down against Bruce Hopkins of Brodhead. Food items, stolen in a recent break-in at Brodhead School, were reportedly found in a closet in Hopkins' home by Sheriff William Taylor and the items were identified by witnesses of the school.

Hopkins, who is scheduled for arraignment April 13, is free on $5,000 property bond.

Elizabeth Stewart of Mt. Vernon was indicted on two counts of theft by deception for checks written to M&B Foods, in the amount of $1,147.67, which were returned by the bank for insufficient funds.

Ms. Stewart was released on $8,000 property bond and will also be arraigned April 13.

An indictment was also returned against Otis Pigg of Madison County for a March 13th incident in which he allegedly rammed Earl Noe of Mt. Vernon on Interstate-75.

Pigg was released after filing a $5,000 property bond. He will also be arraigned April 13.

More indictments have been returned and will be released after those charged have been brought before the court.

Hwy. 461 project is back on track

by Richard Anderkin

Money previously said to not be available for the Highway 461 project between I-75 in Rockcastle County and KY 80 in Pulaski County, has once again surfaced and the project is included in the state's six-year road plan, released last week by the state Transportation Dept.

State Representative Danny Ford, R-Mt. Vernon, said last Thursday "It was actually a little more than I expected and I am pleased with Rockcastle's share of the road program money."

The six-year plan included eight different projects for the county with the largest projects being, of course, the reconstruction of 461 and it's bypass around Mt. Vernon.

The first project listed in the plan for the county will come in the latter part of 1984 when the approach to and the bridge over Negro Creek Road, 4 1/2 miles east of junction KY 1250 will be repaired. The project will cost a total of $511,000.

The only other project scheduled for 1984, besides the work on 461, will be the repair of the approach and bridge over Little Negro Creek, 7 1/2 miles east of junction KY 1250, at a cost of $300,000.

On the 461 projects, Ford said Tuesday, "As it stands right now, the bypass will be built much like the parkways across the state with a limited access two lane road and pass lanes where they are needed."

"However, I understand that the Transportation Department is trying to get some federal money for the project which would make the road four lane all the way, just like I-75," Ford added.

He went on to say that the federal money was still just in the talking stage and that it might not happen at all. "As for now, the road will be built with state money and will remain as it was planned," Ford said.

The first phase of the 461 project will begin this year and will eventually lead to the complete reconstruction of two lanes from where KY 80 joins 461 in Pulaski Co. to within 2500 feet south of Warb in Rockcastle. At this point, 461 will connect with the bypass around Mt. Vernon when it is completed.

However, the first phase of the 461 project scheduled for completion is the by-pass - a 2.5 mile section from U.S. 150 north to U.S. 25 which will be 2 lane initially. $180,000 will be spent on the section in 1984 and $5,437,000 in 1985.

Over $7,000,000 will be spent in 1987 on reconstruction of the section of 461 which leads from Pulaski Co. to it's junction with the by-pass. Close to $3,000,000 is expected to be spent on this phase of the project in 1984.

Another three year project will involve the bridge and approach on KY 1152 at Skegas Creek, .1 miles from KY 1240. The project will cost a total of $541,000 and will begin in 1986.

Two big projects on Interstate-75 in Rockcastle County, will be financed by the 5% federal tax on gasoline.

$4,000,000 will be spent on a 1 1/4 mile stretch from the Laurel County line into Rockcastle County and the project will involve rutting and repair and open graded friction course. The project is scheduled for 1987.

Another stretch of I-75, 6 1/2 miles of a mile west of Green Hill to the Barnes Mill Road in Madison Co. will cost $13,200,000. The road will be cracked, sealed and overlaid.

Multi-Banking Bill becomes law

By Richard Anderkin

Governor Martha Layne Collins sent the Multi-County Banking bill to the Secretary of State's office last Friday, allowing it to become law without her signature.

The Governor defeated the bill in the previous General Assembly when she broke a tie vote on the bill by casting her no vote.

Collins could have vetoed the bill this time but instead she let it lie on her desk for ten days which automatically made it law.

Beginning July 15th, holding companies will be able to own more than one state-chartered bank, provided the state Department of Banking approves the transactions.

Holding companies in contiguous states will also be able to buy Kentucky banks under the bill, provided their states allow Kentucky companies to do the same. Companies in other states will have to wait three years to move into Kentucky.

The bill would prohibit a single company from controlling more than 15 percent of the total assets in Kentucky.

State Representative

Danny Ford, R-Mt. Vernon, who voted against the bill during the last General Assembly did so this time too.

He said that he had had very little feedback from his constituents since the bill was passed but that while it was still under consideration, most of those he talked with were against it. He said that was the main reason he voted against it. "I hope I'm wrong, but if the bill is going to help so much, why can't people outside the banking industry see it. Why can just bankers see the advantages?"

Ambulance service to hold radio-a-thon

In order to raise money for a new ambulance, The Rockcastle County Ambulance Service is holding a radio-a-thon on Sat., April 7 from 9 a.m. to noon in front of The Bank of Mt. Vernon.

The radio-a-thon will conclude the first Rockcastle Ambulance Service Contribution Week which has been proclaimed for April 1 - 7 by County Judge Bob Jasper. Mike Barr, director of the ambulance service, explained that the new ambulance is a necessity and is being purchased to replace one of the old ambulances which has 175,000 miles on it. The new ambulance will cost $30,000 without equipment.

Charles Napier, salesman and deejay for WRVW radio station in Renfro Valley, will be conducting the radio-a-thon. He said that many businesses in the county will be contacted before the radio-a-thon and asked to make a pledge for the ambulance service. Their pledge will then be announced over the air on April 7.

Those wanting to make a donation can call in to any of the three phones located in James W. Lambert's law office in Mt. Ve-ron which will be used for taking pledges the day of the radio-a-thon.

Barr said that the ambulance service survives financially without taxing county residents and manages to pay for personnel, new equipment and repair and purchase of vehicles with the aid of a county subsidy and billing. He urged the citizens of Rockcastle County to call in a donation during the radio-a-thon on April 7 to ensure the continuation of this vi-

STATE WANTS BIDS FOR RESURFACING KY 1505

The state Transportation Cabinet will accept bids March 30 to resurface 8.7 miles of KY 1505, Brodhead-Conway Road, in Rockcastle County.

The cabinet will resurface the road from U.S. 150 in Brodhead to U.S. 25 near Conway.

The project is part of the state's 1984 resurfacing program for Rockcastle County.

County Judge Bob Jasper, center, signs a proclamation making April 1 - 7 the first Rockcastle Ambulance Service Contribution Week. Giving approval is Tom Welch, left, treasurer for the ambulance service, and Russell Barron, right, a driver for the service. The purpose of the contribution week is to raise money for the county's new ambulance. On Saturday, April 7, the ambulance service will hold a county-wide radio-a-thon from 9 a.m. to noon in front of The Bank of Mt. Vernon.

UPCOMING EVENTS

4-H Fashion Revue
Sunday, April 1st at 2 p.m. will be the time for those 4-H'ers who have been working hard on their clothing projects to step "Through the Looking Glass" and show off their garments. The revue will be held at the Rockcastle County High School with a tea immediately following.

Junior 4-H'ers (age 9-13) will be competing in 5 units with one champion being chosen from each unit. Each participant will be awarded a ribbon for their work, either white for 3rd, red for 2nd or blue for first. Also, an overall junior champion will receive a plaque.
Senior 4-H'ers (age 14-19) will also be competing in units with the overall senior champion receiving a plaque. The top two senior participants will be eligible to participate in the State Fashion Revue in June.

4-H'ers planning to participate must register by March 30. Everyone is invited to come and view the results of the hard work of our 4-H'ers.

4-H Teen Camp
April 13-15 will be the first sampling of 4-H Camp, this year for teens in the Wilderness Trail Area. While swimming will not be one of the activities in our first teen week-end camp, there are many activities planned for the teens to enjoy.

Registration will begin on Friday, April 13 at 6 p.m. Friday evening's activities are planned to help the teens from our eight counties get acquainted, ending of course with camp fires and vespers. On Saturday, teens will be able to attend workshops concerning exchange, club leadership and 4-H trips and recognition. Organized recreation, a birthday party, and a mid-night hike are also on the schedule for Saturday.
Activities will end on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. after a devotional service and a program on 4-H week.

Youth in the eighth through twelfth grades are eligible to attend. The fee will be $18 and will be paid on Friday, April 13th at camp. Registration forms are available from the Extension Office and must be turned in by April 11th.

One of local 4-H'ers favo-rite events is coming up next month. The 4-H Variety Show will be held on Tuesday, April 17 at Brodhead Elementary. Clubs planning on participating must call the Extension Office (256-2403) by Tuesday, April 10 to register their acts. No acts that do not allow to perform.

Thirty-four 4-H'ers completed pop-can lamps in after-school electric project meetings this month. Tom Mills, Agriculture Agent, conducted the classes at each elementary school. Pictured above, Tom and Michael Robbins work with a group of 4-H'er from Livingston Elementary.

Seventy-one 4-H'ers have been working on their 4-H clothing projects in after-school meetings for the past six weeks. Pictured above, Mrs. Regina Hodge assists Lori Hodge and Kathy Howard at Livingston.

5. An act exceeding the time limit should be permitted to finish but cannot be awarded champion.

Rockcastle Extension Homemakers Participate in Leadership Conference

Fifteen homemaker members from Rockcastle County attended the Wilderness Trail Area Homemaker Leadership Conference in Corbin last Saturday. The conference, the first in the area, was conducted under the direction of Noretta Thompson, area president.

After attending a similar conference in Mississippi and then the State Homemaker Leadership Conference last Spring, Mrs. Thompson planned the program for 80 homemakers in the Wilderness Trail Area so they might become more effective leaders in their clubs and communities.

Are you looking for an Easter outfit for your children? Here are some ideas for Spring/Summer Fashions and Fabrics.

Youth in the 80's generally have an independent, grown-up lifestyle and their choice of clothes reflects this attitude. Clothes are becoming ultrasophisticated, following the attitude found in adult attire. Styles, fabrics and colors are replays of the adult market. Children and youth are aware of fashion!

Youth and Children's Wear
Youth continue to look much like tiny adults, imitating the fashions of parents and older siblings. Clothing must be comfortable no matter what the style. Some children take little or no notice of clothing; others are very observant and opinionated by age 2. Look for the following:

Styles: drawing pants and shorts (shortalls), short sets. Dresses are very important! Sundress, chemise, blouse, tent. The chemise is in the spotlight. Dresses are dressier! Dresses with jackets. "Flashdance" influenced activewear. Sweaters and T-shirts. Nautical look styles. Jeans, work shirt, overalls. Jumpers and pinafores, jumpsuits.

Fabrics: good looks, durability and comfort are important. Eyelet and pique, linen and slipen-like voile dressy items. Polyester-cotton knit teamed with sturdy bottom fabric. Poplin, denim, trigger, chambray and the like. Seersucker and pincord.

Color and Design: lots of stripes, nautical looks and pastel colors. White teamed with pastels as well as navy blue, red and steel gray. Raggedy Ann and Andy prints, Strawberry Shortcake and Cabbage Patch prints and designs. Olympic designs are also popular. Colors include melon, as well as pink, lavender and blue. Spattered, finger and crayon design fabrics good for youth.

Junior or Teen: seersucker, junior or teen material is very much a function of age and attitude combined. Clothing trends frequently follow adult lines, but may take fashion to a little more extreme in some areas. This season is the Fifties look and "splash art."

Styles: Designs are roomier for male and female alike. Romper-type jumpsuits, easy-wearing one-piece short suits. Culotte skirts, pleated pants, tank tops, zipper-leg jeans/pants. Painter overalls and coveralls, jumpsuits layered or with mesh tops over work shirts and knit tops. Dress shapes follow the easier geometric silhouettes as for women. Oversized shirts and trousers, cotton sweaters. Jeans and poly/cotton blended fabric-slacks/trousers.

Fabrics: Variety is the name of the game! Poplin, canvas, cotton/polyester blends. Fleece, interlock and sweater knits. Denim, chambray, madras gauge and crinkle cloth. Seersucker, linen, broadcloth, pincord.

Color and Design: Inspired by the Fifties and art motifs. Jungle prints; crayon, finger and splash print designs. Khaki leads the way coordinated with updated bold colors; chartrouse, neon orange, magenta, electric yellow, deep blue and purple. Coral is very good! Stripes are a carry-over from adult design, look for madras and other plaid designs.

Calf Losses May Increase This Season

The environmental conditions that have plagued cattle producers since last summer including the weather, dry pastures and the resulting low feed supplies may have another detrimental effect this spring through poor health of calves.

A weak-calf syndrome has been blamed for calf losses of up to 22 percent on ranches in the northwestern United States, according to Dr. Duane Miksch, Extension veterinarian at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The symptoms of this syndrome include late-term abortions, still births, calves weak at birth, dummy calves and severe calf scour. Conditions which have preceded severe losses in Idaho, said Miksch, were dry summer pastures, inadequate winter nutrition for cow herds, the presence of viral and bacterial diseases and extreme cold, followed by wet and muddy calving areas. Those conditions sound much like what we've experienced in Kentucky during the past several months. And, while there's no reason to sound an alarm, cattle producers should be prepared for problems that may develop.

There are no single quick fixes for cattle losses, but Miksch pointed out some factors known to contribute to early calf mortality and suggested some remedies.

Weak calves are to be expected from inadequately nourished cows. Underfeeding cows results in weak calves at birth, poor milk production and few antibodies in the colostrum. Energy deficiency often shows up in lowered production and poor reproductive performance. The quality of colostrum is probably decreased by less-than-adequate protein and vitamin A.

Producers also should take care to get enough vitamin A into the cow. Calves can be injected with vitamin A soon after birth.

Thursday, March 29, 1984 P-9 to build body stores and avoid deficiency-related problems.

Dummy calves are generally associated with bovine virus diarrhoea (BVD) infection in the herd. Dummy calves can't stand or are poorly coordinated and don't seem to know how to nurse. The solution to this problem is to increase herd immunity to BVD.

Short term therapy for the surviving dummy calf, is to provide nourishment and protect it from other diseases until the calf has a chance to outgrow the problem. But survival rate in dummy calves is not very high.

Calf scours is not a specific disease but a symptom of infection with bacteria, virus or protozoa, coupled with environmental stress. There are vaccines on the market for cows before calving or for newborn calves to help prevent calf scours due to some specific bacteria and viruses. For example, a genetically-engineered antibody against E. coli recently was released to give orally to calves less than 12 hours old.

But no vaccine can cover for unsanitary conditions or other poor hygiene practices. Calves and their mothers should be on clean.

With proper care, a calf with scours has a better chance to survive than a dummy calf does. First take the scouring calf off milk and provide it with sufficient nutrients and fluid to maintain hydration and strength. You can buy commercial replacement products or make your-own formula from water, beef commons and a few other common grocery items. Fluids should be warmed to body temperature. A nursing bottle should be used if the calf will suckle.

A publication: "Diarrhea of Newborn Calves (Calf Scours)," which provides more information and the recipe for the homemade fluid replacement is available at the County Extension office.

Signs of Spring can be seen in Clear Creek area

By: Hilda Payne Hubbard

Hello from Clear Creek. Some signs of spring in northern Rockcastle: clear, cold spring waters rushing downhill; roadsides bright from fires being set to kill old growth, man's way of helping Nature get ready for new growth; frogs having their brad of "rock" croaking; violets getting ready to bloom down by the willows; the hills seeming ready to burst forth in God's promise of new life; yellow daffodils waving their yellow heads in soft wags and Eli Chasteen showing a welcome to spring by a blossom-walk over a new lettuce bed (it's right near the roadside, too).

Ruth Abney has been serving on the grand jury at Mt. Vernon and every man walks carefully around here. No one hot rods it through Disputanta. Remember we have speed limit signs that say 30 and 35 on Clear Creek roads.

Bro. Jim Kirby of the Clear Creek Baptist Church has resigned as pastor here in order to accept the call of a church near Lancaster, I am told. He was one man who did some powerful preaching for the "pulpit" and will be missed.

One Sunday, Bro. Mike Bryant filled in for Bro. Jim, who had to be away. To hear Bro. Bryant, Edd and Dorothy Mullins and Margaret Linville of the Scaffold Cane community come to the church here and to visit the old church of Edd and Margaret's parents, Willie and Eliza Mullins. They were warmly greeted in memory of those good pillars of Clear Creek Church.

Dee Thomas Seals, who came from the hills of northern Rockcastle and got her growth on the upper part of Clear Creek where the girls are all pretty from drinking that clear, sparkling spring water of the Cumberland foothills, is proof of that I thought as I stepped into the nice stone home owned by Monroe and her on Old Hwy. 29 near Conway.

Now, last fall Monroe, whom I saw at the home of his aunt, Nannie Chasteen and her on Old Hwy. 29 near Shearer, invited me to come by and get a "mess of turnip, kale, mustard or whatever kind, greens." But on this day when I stopped by, I don't believe he meant it (he would make a good politician with their promises). Dee said Monroe and Shirley had been cutting wood to sell all winter. Probably burning up Rockcastle to feed hungry stoves is my guess.

Dee was on her way out to the position she holds as switchboard operator at the Berea Hospital. She laughed about Monroe's offer of the "greens" saying they had frozen out with the winter. However, she had frozen lots of them and she would give me some. Now, I like a spoiled child, when I wanted evergreens, I meant it out of the ground. So, I took leave, thanking her for her offer anyway.

... here to say I realized why Dee held her "up front position" because she greets people in a very friendly voice and manner. (A word to Monroe, I will be back early this fall!)

They say people can get boring when they talk of their children so much. I'm guilty of that in talking about Clear Creek and it's good folk who live here every day. She takes nothing seriously (I wish I had that trait), but giggles and laughs at any situation which would down me. Anyway, when I commented recently to Sharon that there was a student who comes into my classroom at the college as my class goes out. He is a dead ringer for Tom Selleck or could be his younger brother with the same features - long black lashes framing deep blue eyes, a mustache over strong white teeth, a flashing smile and a six foot plus form topped by the same baseball cap as Tom wears.

Sharon screamed, "Oh, my goodness! Do you think I could get in that class if I quit here?" And she started laughing. All you girls understand, don't you?

Albert Brandenburg, 73, said he had been in the grocery business at the edge of Berea for 45 years. I believe his is the last country store around. With his smiling face and black eyes that peer over top of his spectacles, Albert does business in his little, one room store in the shadow of supermarket giants and says, "No, I ain't worried about them. People know me and how I will favor them if they are short of money. So I'll be here!" And, it does seem so. There are no shiny carts or long check-out counters, just Albert standing there kindly toward everybody. But the reason I write of Albert is the story he told me, chuckling so he shook as he told it about my brother, Howard Payne.

"Don't you know Howard got 18 of us young fellows to get married one spring that he stayed with his brother, Stanley, over here in a restaurant? Why he would gather a bunch of boys around him and tell 'white apron tales' he called them. Being happily married himself, Howard made married life sound so good to us and we were all ready to listen, being in love ourselves. Howard would say, 'Why you fellows don't know how it is in the garden and your wife comes to the door in a ruffled white apron, a turning fork in one hand and a dishrag in the other calling you to come to supper. She will kiss you and sit you down to hot hotholes,' lettuce and onion bathed in red eye grav."

of brown fried potatoes for the best life you've ever lived - and we'll went and got married!" Albert laughs hard at "white apron" tales.

Well, here is my surprise I told you would be forthcoming - pictures of the good people on Clear Creek whom Henry Voltmer wants to come and live near, leaving Indiana. Look for two each week (editor permitting).

Till then: In friendship, the life and length depends on how well you treat it.
