Former resident celebrates 100th birthday October 7

A former Rockcastle citizen celebrated his 100th birthday on October 7, 1984.

The family of Elmer Anglin of 11320 Thiele Road, Fort Wayne, Indiana gathered from California, Texas, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, and Indiana to celebrate the occasion. A family dinner and reception was held at the Hilton Hotel. Attending were his six children: Hilda, Joel, Jack, Myrtle, Glen and Lela; 15 grandchildren, 22 great grandchildren and many friends joined with greetings and best wishes.

Walter and Geraldine Anglin of Westerville, Ohio have been working on the Anglin genealogy and just recently found Elmer's family. He said his brother, John, was hoping to attend but had been unable to make the trip from Lexington, Kentucky at that time. John, you missed a good party. His daughter, Myrtle and of a century of birthdays would be ending.

Elmer has no special formula for reaching "100." He said, "This is the best birthday of my life. I can't believe all of these people helping me celebrate."

If God wills, "I'm ready to begin another year, and I plan to start right by casting my vote on November 6th, for Reagan, because I believe in America. He requested they end his party with the entire group singing, "Amazing Grace."

His grandson, Jerry Minton, who is on the Los Angeles police force and was special guard for the President's party at the Summer Olympics, said "I'm almost overwhelmed by this as I was by my summer assignment. I can't believe this is happening to us. My grandfather is 100 years old, wishing her enjoying every minute."

Elmer has a half-brother, Ivory Anglin, of Mt. Vernon, and a half-sister, Grace Fox, of Hamilton, Ohio still living. He is the last surviving child and John Allen and Mary West Anglin.

husband, Winston Wilson, greeted the guests and the party began. Myrtle gave a brief history of her father, saying he and her mother, Florence Lake Anglin had been married for 73 years before her death in 1979 and had reared nine children. Three are deceased, Harry, Birch and Edwin. She asked for a moment of silence to honor them and stated that no one could fill those family vacancies.

Linda Wilson Kaehr, principal of Springfield Christian School, was the oldest grandchild present. She greeted her grandfather lovingly and then directed her remarks to the grand and great grandchildren, saying, "How grateful I am for a healthy and beautiful family, I'm proud of my heritage."

Music was provided by a group led by Winston Wilson. He and Myrtle began by dedicating the song, "Kentucky" to her father. They sang gospel songs which brought tears of remembrance to many eyes. Sue Caudill, Music Director of Waynesdale Baptist Church, sang special selections also.

KENTUCKY'S YOUTH

By: Martha W. Brown
County Extension Agent for 4-H

4-H'ERS ACTIVE IN FOOD PROJECT

One hundred and twenty-seven 4-H members participated in after-school food project meetings during October and November. The classes met one afternoon a week at each elementary school for four weeks.

4-H'ers learned how to prepare foods as well as nutritional information. One 4-H'er reported that they learned about "the four food groups, how to make things, how to measure things, that breakfast is important, and how to break eggs." Another 4-H'er stated she learned how to read recipes. One 4-H'er summed it up by saying, "I learned to have manners at the table, how to measure, and about the four food groups."

Three classes were taught at each school: Unit 1, 2 and 3. 4-H'ers in Units 2 and 3 were able to prepare a lot of egg dishes. One 4-H'er reported, "I enjoyed making the egg recipes the most. These egg recipes were: Egg chitlada, Egg taco, Eggburger, and the Kantarao." The eggs were contributed to 4-H by Dave McCauley through a special egg giveaway program of the Kentucky Poultry Federation.

Reflections of Christmas' past

her family would gather around and sing while her mother played Christmas songs.

"We went down to Rockcastle River and had skating parties and would ride down the hill on sleds," said Mrs. Payne, who grew up in Wildie.

Sallie Parsons of Wildie (she wouldn't reveal her age) still lives close to the place she was raised. Her early Christmases were happy times. "We hung up our stockings," she said. "They were knitted from sheep's wool and Grandmother made them."

"I can remember most of the things we got," she added. "There was rock candy on a string and firecrackers and sprinklers. I don't remember toys if we ever got any. I think we got an orange and raisins dried right on the bunch as grapes grow. We really enjoyed it because it was all we knew."

Mrs. Parsons said that Santa Claus was as popular then as he is now and that it broke her heart when she discovered he wasn't real.

Stockings were also filled with small presents and candy and apples at Nathan Mullins' home when he was a boy. "We still enjoy Christmas," said Mullins, 86, who has lived at Climax all his life.

Oranges were often cut into four parts to share with all the members of the family, recalled Mable Mullins, 78, who has spent her life at Livingston. They only got oranges at Christmas and considered them to be a treat.

Mrs. Mullins said that she and her brothers and sisters would string popcorn and draw pictures to decorate their Christmas tree. Toys were not a common gift. "You'd get a toy or something once a year," she said. "Or maybe a book or candy."

Dovie V. Roberts, 69, of Climax grew up in Poplar Gap and said they didn't put trees in their home when she was young. Instead, her family would make crepe paper chains and string popcorn to hang about the house during Christmas.

Mrs. Roberts said the teachers would give the students fruit and candy treats at school and that at home the boys would get a knife and the girls would get a doll. She remembered making sleds out of poles for runners with lumber on top to sit on. They guided the homemade vehicle with a piece of string.

Christmas is still "a happy time for us," she said.

Lucille Hysinger's family had to curb their excitement and eat breakfast on Christmas mornings before they could open their presents.

Mrs. Hysinger, 83, is from Mt. Vernon and grew up near Scaffold Kane.

"Usually the girls would get a doll of some kind," she said, "and we always got a story book." Her mother would hide their presents in a wardrobe with a curtain over it and always warned that if they found the gifts they couldn't have them. "We didn't dare peep," said Mrs. Hysinger.

She has noticed that the attitudes about Christmas has changed since she was young. "It's all in getting now; it's not in thinking and remembering. Used to be, all you thought about was giving something and now most people worry about getting something."

Irene Hasty from Brodhead has happy memories of Christmases with her mother, even though her father died the day before she was born. Mrs. Hasty, 62, grew up on a farm in Tompkinsville and the family would put up a cedar tree for the holidays.

They made tinsel out of tin foil and decorated the tree with a star. Mrs. Hasty said she could always count on getting a new pair of shoes for Christmas as well as a "beautiful new dress" made by her mother.

"We all got together and enjoyed ourselves," she said. "We loved each other."

Mrs. Hasty's husband, Clyde, is 69 and grew up in Willalla. He recalled getting a cap pistol that cost 15 cents and added, "Back then, we didn't know there were oranges and bananas except at Christmas."

Hasty said that when he was young, Christmas was more of a religious celebration and that now the season has become more commercialized.

Fannie Noe, 84, from Rock Springs grew up in Rockcastle County. She said that people are putting more religion into Christmas now than when she was a girl. Now that she's an adult she said Christmas is "more meaningful to celebrate because we understand what it means."

Mrs. Noe didn't get any clothes for Christmas, but she sometimes got a 25 cent doll along with some candy and fruit. "After I got up to about 15 we would have programs at school that we could call 'dialogues,'" she said.

A family that decorated with ferns, pine cones and mistletoe off their farm was that of Anna Stevens, 79, from Negro Creek. Her mother would trim their tree with popcorn because decorations couldn't be bought in a store.

Mrs. Stevens said, "The last doll I ever had was one that would go to sleep and I was really proud of it. Usually a plain little doll cost 25 cents but for 80 cents you could get a doll that would go to sleep."

She grew up around Maretburg and remembers neighbors visiting each other more than they do today. "The neighbors enjoyed having the holidays come along," she said.

W. S. Stewart, 85, was raised in Wildie and still has his home there. "We didn't have much Christmas in our house when we were growing up," he said. His mother died when he was small and he doesn't remember putting up a tree during the holidays.

He said he usually got some candy and an orange and apple, but very few toys because there was no way of going anywhere to get them. But he does recall his teacher giving a bag of candy to each student at school. They also had a Christmas program before school let out in December until the next July. "Each little kid ran across the platform and said a little something," Stewart added. Sleigh riding was a favorite winter sport with the students and they would pour water on a hill near the school to make it as slick as possible.

Even though people often observe Christmas differently as the years go by, the spirit of Christmas remains the same.

W. S. Stewart put it this way when asked if he thought celebrating Christmas has changed in his lifetime: "I think Christmas has always been a special time for people right on back through the ages."

And the star on top of the tree shines brightly whether it's homemade or bought off the shelf.

Weight Watcher News

Have a Merry 'Little' Christmas

One of the most surprising facts about the holiday season is the level of unhappiness that seems to accompany it. There are many who find the period between Thanksgiving and New Year the most difficult time of the year.

The activities of others around you are all indicating a level of merriment that is actually artificial. Unrealistic expectations of what a happy holiday is can create a great deal of disappointment. "Frequently these problems are solved with food," says Kay Morrissey, Area Director for Weight Watchers in Kentuckiana, "only to create new and perhaps greater problems. For many, the food alone becomes the only reflection of, or participation in the holiday. Then every January, thousands bemoan the excess weight they've put on, or the important diet they've neglected, the previous Christmas, or New Year. But there is a way to defeat this pattern and enjoy the holidays as they were meant to be enjoyed."

Weight Watchers offers one of the most successful self-management programs available for weight control, and features The Quick Start Program, the success of which is partly based on the psychological boost of a 20% initial faster weight loss and phased learning to make weight control easier. To help ally holiday blues and bring pleasure to the holiday season, particularly for those who have a weight problem, or who are anxious about not creating one for themselves.

"Try not to have unrealistic expectations of what the holidays can bring. The holiday world we live in is really only a slighter dressed up version of our every day world. It should be fun, but not earth-shattering.

-Indulge yourself. If you get the present you've always wanted from yourself, you won't be disappointed if you don't get it from someone else.

-Schedule time for yourself.

Remember, even members of your family aren't able to read your mind. If there is something special they can do to make the holiday better for you, let them know!

If family is not around, make plans to do something special (the theater, a movie, a date at the beauty parlor or store) with a friend.

"If you haven't been invited to a party, throw one. And if weight is a problem, Weight Watchers has developed some recipes that make the party season easier. This menu is great for a Trim-a-Tree get-together, a New Year's Eve party, or even a Twelfth Night gathering, for those who get the post-holiday blues. The recipes were designed to be enjoyed without guilt, and fit into any sensible weight loss plan like Weight Watchers Program featuring Quick Start!

Seasons Greetings

As this year draws to a close, the families and staff of the Dowell & Martin Funeral Home would like to take this opportunity to thank the many Rockcastle area families who have placed their confidence in us over the many years we have been serving this area. Together, Billy Dowell and Roy Martin have over 50 years of combined experience in funeral service. These many years of experience, plus a highly trained staff, beautiful facilities and a genuine concern for those involved, make the Dowell and Martin Funeral Home the most selected and recommended funeral home in this area.

This holiday season, we wish for you the very best for the coming year, peace and happiness always.

New law puts stop to leasing tobacco after market opens

Rockcastle County tobacco farmers that failed to lease tobacco before July 2nd of this year are unable to do so now, according to Harold Ballinger, director of the local ASCS office.

"Any farmer having too much weight when they took their tobacco to market this fall, simply had to take it back home with them," he said, "and wait and sell it next year." He said the same was true of any farmer that had not yet sold their tobacco.

According to Ballinger, Congress passed a law in 1983 that allowed only for a certain time period to lease and transfer burley quotas from one farm to another, and that time period, he said, was from early spring of this year to July 2nd. "The same will be true next year." "We will send out notices from our office next year letting each grower know when they can start trying to lease tobacco, and they will have from then until that July 2nd deadline," he said.

He went on to say that this law was passed so that the total percentage of tobacco sold each year would be less, and thus allow for more demand and higher prices. "In the past, a lot of farmers have raised much more tobacco than they actually had base for, and after the market opened, they would lease someone's extra that was short and sell their tobacco, making for a

The Rockcastle County Jaycees Annual Christmas Party

The Rockcastle County Jaycees annual Christmas party will be held this Sunday, Dec. 23rd at 1 p.m. at the Old Barn at Renfro Valley.

The same bus schedules as last year will be in effect.

Banks Will Be Closed

Citizen's Bank in Brodhead and The Bank of Mt. Vernon will be closed Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 24th and 25th in observance of the Christmas holidays.

Ky. State Trooper Daryl Presley was slightly injured last Sunday night when he crashed his state police cruiser into an embankment in the Ottawa section of the county. Presley was in pursuit of a suspected drunk driver, who eluded him after the accident.

Trooper injured in accident at Ottawa

A Kentucky State Trooper was injured Sunday night in the Ottawa section of Rockcastle County following a single car accident, according to Gilbert Acciaro, Jr., Public Affairs Officer at the London KSP Post.

State Trooper Daryl Presley was taken to the Lake Cumberland Medical Center after he failed to make a right turn on what is commonly known as the Snodgrass Road at Ottawa and crashed his cruiser into a road embankment, according to Acciaro, who said that the cruiser was probably totaled in the accident.

Police said that they received a call around 5:45 p.m. reporting a drunk driver in the vicinity of the Snodgrass Road, which is off Hwy. 70.

"Officer Presley was in a high-speed chase of the reported drunk driver when he failed to make the turn," Acciaro said. The trooper went on to say that the road forked where Officer Presley failed to make the turn and that the road surface was slick because of the gravel. The accident also occurred just after dark, police said.

The public affairs officer said that Presley received a cracked breast bone and spent one day in the hospital and is now at home where he is expected to spend several days recuperating from the accident.

Presley had returned to work only a few weeks ago after being on sick leave with back trouble, according to Acciaro, who said that he did not know how long Presley would be off because of this accident. Acciaro said that Presley might have been hurt worse but that he was wearing his seat belt at the time.

The suspects that the trooper was chasing have yet to be apprehended, according to police.

Bales first candidate to announce for county office

The first candidate seeking a county office in next May's primary has filed his papers and announced his candidacy.

David R. Bales, 37, of Rt. 4 Mt. Vernon, has filed his papers seeking the office of Rockcastle County Clerk, an office presently held by his mother, Mrs. Irene Bales.

Bales, who is a former employee of the state's Bureau of Highways, has been Chief Deputy Clerk in the Clerk's office since his father, former County Clerk Clifford Bales, passed away in 1976.

Farthing announces for jailer

This year's second candidate to file his papers for a county office is Harlin "Buck" Farthing of Mt. Vernon.

Farthing has filed his papers in the County Clerk's office seeking the office of jailer of Rockcastle County.

The present owner and operator of Buck's Auto Parts in Mt. Vernon is making his first-ever attempt for a political office.

Farthing, who is a former co-owner of B & F Gulf in Mt. Vernon, is a Republican and is married to Vicki Farthing.

Farthing, 42, is a life-long resident of Rockcastle County.

Board districts not equal in population

By: Richard Anderkin

Rockcastle County school districts are not equal in population, according to information released last week by the state's Legislative Research Commission.

According to the report, the 1982 census showed a great discrepancy in the number of people represented in the county's five school districts.

The greatest discrepancy came in the school district which is composed of Orlando and Climax. According to the report, only 1,565 people live in those two precincts. Their board member is Mrs. Edna Camaran.

This figure compares to a population of 3,745 people living within the school district boundaries of Brown, West Brodhead, and North Brodhead, according to the report, which showed that the other four districts all had at least 1,000 greater population than did Orlando and Climax.

Besides the Brown, West Brodhead and North Brodhead school districts, where 2,180 more people are represented by one board member, the school district of Conway, Roundstone and East Mt. Vernon has 1,555 more people being represented than does Orlando and Climax, according to the report which showed the balance of population to be somewhat more distributed in the other four districts.

In the district of East Livingston, West Livingston, and South Mt. Vernon, 2,739 are represented, while in the district of Bullock, North Mt. Vernon and West Mt. Vernon, 2,804 are represented by one board member, according to the report.

Local board adopts new program so high school students can get credit

In an effort to provide the best education possible in Rockcastle County, the local school board has adopted a new program for the Rockcastle County High School for the 1984-85 school year.

During their regular monthly meeting on December 6th, the board voted unanimously to appoint Bige Towery director of the high school's new advanced placement program for next year.

Towery, who attended a seminar on the program, explained to board members and to Superintendent Charles Parsons that high school students could receive college credit through this program if they scored high enough on their final exams.

"Advanced placement is a program of credit by examination for college-level studies pursued in secondary schools," Towery said. "It will give students the opportunity to pursue college-level studies while still in high school" and to receive advanced placement and credit, or either one upon entering college."

Towery said that about 27% of the nation's high schools offer some level of advanced placement course work, with the average number of classes being offered to be three or four. But, he said that the program is usually started on a limited basis in the area of English.

The school's curriculum director suggested to the board that they follow the same guidelines and begin in the English area with only about two classes. Towery explained that each school district decides on its own system for selecting students, and that several different ways can be chosen.

He explained the way the course works. He said that students, after chosen, are put into a class which is taught on the

The same discrepancy in the number of people also surfaced during the November General Election in which three school board races were on the ballot.

Although Mrs. Cameron was unopposed in Orlando and Climax, only 98 votes were cast in those two precincts. In the district of Brown, North Brodhead and West Brodhead, 1,487 votes were cast. In the district of Roundstone, Conway, and East Mt. Vernon, a total of 1,134 voters went to the polls.

While only one person running for the board from Orlando and Climax probably made a difference in the number of votes cast; if every registered voter in Orlando and Climax had voted, the total number of votes cast still would not have added up to as many cast in Brown, North Brodhead and West Brodhead where 2,251 are registered and where only 67 percent went to the polls, according to election figures on file in the County Clerk's office. The same is true of Roundstone, Conway and East Mt. Vernon where 1,902 are registered and only 60 percent of the voters went to the polls in November. 679 are registered to vote in Orlando and Climax, according to the statistics.

Mrs. Cameron was unopposed, but so was State Representative Danny Ford of Mt. Vernon, and he ran second on the ticket, behind President Reagan in receiving the most votes in Rockcastle County. Ford got 4,150 votes as an unopposed candidate, according to the statistics.

Rockcastle County School Superintendent Charles B. Parsons said Tuesday that he was sure that it had been at least 20 years, and probably longer, since the school district boundary lines had been redrawn.

According to Kentucky Election Law KRS 160.210, any changes made in the boundary lines shall be such as will make divisions as equal in population and containing integral voting precincts insofar as is practical. No change may be made in division boundary lines more frequently than five years after the last change in any division lines, except in case of merger of districts or a change in territory due to annexation.

The law goes on to read that if 100 residents of a county school district division petition the state Board of Education stating that the school district divisions are not divided as nearly equal in population

by: Perlina M. Anderkin

There's good news and bad news for our family this Christmas—the good news is that there is a four-year-old in the house and we get to share in the magic and joy that Christmas is to him—the bad news is that he's old enough to tell everyone what they got for Christmas and admonitions of what horrible fate will befall him if he tells one more person what he/she has for Christmas, have no effect whatsoever. It does keep him from "spilling the beans" in front of me. If he's asked around me, he assumes this self-righteous air that says "how could you believe I would tell you." The only thing in my favor is that he tends to get what the item is mixed up after a certain length of time and it gets everyone confused. . . .

Christmas is a confessing time at our house anyway. I like to keep gifts a surprise from our 23-year-old down to the four-year-old and I don't like to be presented with lists of expected items. Instead, I like to keep my eyes and ears open from about July on and figure out just exactly what item it is that the children just cannot live without—without them knowing I am doing so. You see, this impresses the children with my power of observation and my astuteness—not to mention the incidental "goodies" I happen to overhear while I am listening for them to utter that one key statement which will give me a clue as to their heart's desire.

Occasionally, this presents a problem as our 13-year-old kept requesting a horse when she was several years younger and we had to constantly point out that we had no facilities to keep the animal—even though she made a fair case for bedding it down on the carpet or in the garage and couldn't understand why it couldn't be fed table scraps like the dog. . . . But, this year I had a hard time figuring out what to get the 16-year-old and the 13-year-old. I was finally forced to asking them. Both kept saying "I don't know" or "I don't matter" or "I'll think about it, let you know later." So, I finally asked for a Cabbage Patch doll, primarily, I suspect, because she knows how hard they are to come by. Last I have failed to make myself clear in person, maybe she will read this column and I can make it clear here she isn't getting one. . . .

Travis, 4, has been asking constantly what Santa is going to bring him and his list kept growing until one day it turned into the entire Christmas catalogue for toys. He isn't getting all that either. . . .

I use the same procedure to determine what to get Jim. I try to observe and listen a couple of months in advance. This is the easy task since we're talking about a man who doesn't ever share his opinion, jewelry (with the exception of a watch) and only puts on a suit under dire threats of a divorce action. (and then I have to throw in a reminder of the amount of child support he would have to come up with.)

But, even with all the headaches our modern-day civilization has turned Christmas into, there always comes that one magical moment when the entire family suddenly remembers what Christmas is all about and this brings on such a feeling of love and fellowship that it is then you realize what a wonderful time of year Christmas really is. . . .

Let me take this time to wish for each of you the joy of Christmas, of sharing the holiday with family and friends and of keeping in your heart all year long a feeling of peace and love.

P.T.O. Chairman says Thanks

Editor: Mt. Vernon Signal Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456

Dear Editor:

The Roundstone PTO would like to say "Thank you" to everyone who helped make the chili supper successful.

A special "Thanks" to committee members, Mr. Bill Parsons, Miss Dottie Williams, and Mrs. Lollana Ramsey for a job well done. Miss Parrott deserves to be complimented for the great job she did with the children in the short time she had to work with them. Thanks also go to the Signal and WRVK Radio for free advertisement.

Thank you to everyone who gave donations for the chili and donated crafts and baked goods. Thank you, Santa, for your visit.

Well over 500 was cleared, and everyone had a good time. Anyone interested can still become a PTO member until Jan. 1st. Dues are $1.00 a year. Remember, we are parents, teachers, and friends working together for the good of our children.

From all of us to all of yours. Thanks again, and Merry Christmas!

Church of Christ

The Ten Commandments

by: Austin Mobley
Minister
Providence church of Christ

In our last Signal article (112-6-84), we discussed some differences between the Law of Moses (the Old Covenant) and the Law of Christ (the New Covenant). We cited scriptures which clearly teach that the old law was abrogated by Jesus when He established the new law. "Before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterward be revealed. Wherefore, the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith. But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster" (Gal. 3:23-25).

The ten commandments were a very prominent part of the Old Covenant between God and Israel, but they are not a part of the New Covenant. Therefore, the ten commandments, per se, are not binding upon anyone today. However, principles found in nine of the ten are a part of the New Testament and are thus enjoined upon all of us; the fourth commandment regarding the keeping of the Sabbath being the only exception. (See No. 4 below).

Listed below in the left hand column are the ten commandments in brief as stated in Ex. 20:3-7. In the right column are some of the New Testament scriptures which correspond to them in principle.

| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." 2. "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image." 3. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain." 4. "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." Notes: breaking of the Sabbath brought swift judgment and a penalty of death (Ex. 35:2). 5. "Honor thy father and thy mother" 6. "Thou shalt not kill" 7. "Thou shalt not commit adultery" 8. "Thou shalt not steal" 9. "Thou shalt not bear false witness" 10. "Thou shalt not covet." | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. There is "one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all and in you all" (Eph. 4:6). Also see Acts 17:22-30; I Thess. 1:9. 2. "Little children, keep yourselves from idols" (I John 5:21). 3. "Let no corrupt speech proceed out of thy mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying..." (Eph. 4:29) Also see James 3:10. 4. See Col. 2:24-17. Man is no longer to be judged with respect to the Sabbath. 5. "Children, obey your parents in the Lord... honor thy father and mother" (Eph. 6:1-2). 6. "...murderers shall have their part in the lake that burns with fire and brimstone..." (Rev. 21:8). 7. Adultery is identified as a "work of the flesh" and "they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God" (Gal. 5:19). 8. "Let him that stole steal no more..." (Eph. 4:28). 9. "All liars shall have their part in the lake that burns with fire and brimstone..." (Rev. 21:8). 10. Covetous "shall not inherit the kingdom of God" (I Cor. 6:10). |
|---|--|

While no one can be saved without incorporating into his life these truths found in the right column, they are by no means all that is required for salvation. In fact, none of these scriptures tell a sinner what to do to become a child of God. To be saved one must believe the gospel (Mk. 16:15-16); repent of his sins (Acts 2:38; Lk. 13:3); confess Christ (Matt. 10:32-33; Rom. 10:10); and be buried in baptism (Rom. 6:3-4; Col. 2:12). Then live faithfully, putting into practice that which is enjoined upon you by the New Testament and you will receive the crown of life (Rev. 2:10). Please contact us if we can help you in any way. We would be happy to do so.

Rockcastle DAR member recognized

MT. VERNON WOMAN'S CLUB

By: Brenda Lambert

Miss Janie Ramsey, an organizing member of the Rockcastle Chapter DAR was one of four ladies recently recognized by the Berea Chapter, of the American Red Cross for making lap throws for veterans at the Veterans Hospitals in Lexington. Both the Red Cross and the KSDAR do much for the veterans throughout the year and especially at Christmas.

Miss Ramsey with her knowledge of the genealogy of many Rockcastle families helped to organize the Rockcastle Chapter DAR in 1970. She compiled one volume of Rockcastle Marriage Records and contributed copies of many other Rockcastle court and cemetery records for books published by the Kentucky Records Publishing Committee of the DAR.

Since the chapter has been organized, she has only missed one chapter meeting and that was due to her being in the hospital.

A Holiday Recipe

- 4 cups of love
- 5 spoons of hope
- 2 cups of loyalty
- 2 spoons of tenderness
- 3 cups of forgiveness
- 4 qts. of faith
- 1 cup of friendship
- 1 barrel of laughter

Take love and loyalty. Mix it thoroughly with faith. Blend it with tenderness, kindness, and understanding.

Sprinkle abundantly with laughter. Bake it with sunshine. Serve daily with generous helpings.

Rockcastle girls and boys varsity are struggling early

The Rockcastle boys and girls varsity ball teams have seen some rough going since the start of the season with the boys only chalking up one victory thus far—their opening game against Williamsburg and the girls losing three while defeating Richmond Model and Lynn Camp.

The boys lost to Lynn Camp Tuesday night by four points and had lost to the Berea Pirates in the homecoming game last Friday night.

In the Berea game, junior guard Benny Blanton was high point man with 12; junior center Jackie Woodall and junior forward Greg Mink each got 11; junior Harold Graves and senior Bruce Blanton tied with 7; senior Shannon Bishop got 4 and Scott Parrett 2.

The Rockets were behind by two at the first quarter stop; ahead by one at halftime, 24-23; behind again by 2 at the end of the third quarter and lost the game eventually by a 4-point, 58-54 margin.

After losing to Knox Central, a team they had a 10 point lead on in the fourth quarter, the girls journeyed to McCreary Central last Thursday night and blew a five-point first half lead to lose 41-36. Of course, the girls were also playing without the services of senior forward Betty Milburn, who was ill.

The girls team is a young one and when the starters get in foul trouble, Coach Preston Parrett has to depend mainly on freshmen and sophomore players to fill the gap and, as is to be expected, turnovers often result.

In the McCreary Central game, sophomore center Sandy Hunter led the scoring with 10 points, freshman forward Lori Mink got 8; junior Caroline Machal, and freshman Regina Lewis each got 6; junior Paige Anderkin contributed 4 and senior Anita Burke scored 2 points.

The girls journeyed to Jackson County Monday night to face a good, quick, young team with 7 wins and 0 losses to their credit and lost the game on free throws.

The girls dropped behind 12-4 in the first quarter but fought back to end the quarter down 12-7. Then in the second quarter, the Rockcastle girls got it together better and outscored the Lady Generals 15-7. Then in the third quarter, the two teams traded points, each scoring 10 and it was the fourth quarter that wrote finis to the girls' hopes of giving the Lady Generals their first defeat of the season as they were outscored 19-6. This was due in large part to Hunter having to hit the bench early in the quarter with her fourth foul; Anderkin fouled out with 4:58 remaining in the quarter and just generally being outthrust by Jackson County who were quick to capitalize on Rocket turnovers.

Senior forward Betty Milburn led the scoring with 10 points; Hunter got 8; Mink 6; Anderkin and Regina Campbell, 4 each and Caroline Machal, Regina Lewis and Tonya Parrett, 2 each.

Tuesday night, the girls had to struggle but finally put the game on ice against Lynn Camp with a good second half, which saw Hunter score 14 of her 16 points.

The girls jumped out to an early 11-2 lead but the Lynn Camp Wildcats clawed their way back to take the lead at 12-11. But the Lady Rockets hung in there and finally pulled out to a 22-18 half-time lead.

Then, Hunter went to work, scoring 9 of the Rockets' third quarter 15 points to help the girls to their 37-27 third quarter margin. In the fourth quarter, Lynn Camp rallied to close the gap but it was too little too late as the girls put the game in their win column with a 50-43 victory.

Hunter led the girls' scoring with 16; Milburn got 11; Caroline Machal 9; Anderkin 8; Regina Lewis 4 and Tonya Parrett 2.

This Thursday night, the girls take on the usual strong Clay County girls at RCHS.

Botanically, the onion is a lily.

"Success in basketball is a strange thing. It seems to build on itself. It only takes one or two good games to get things going right."

—Jack 'Goose' Givens —UK, 1975

Success is indeed a strange thing and the teams and fans from both sides of the Kentucky-Louisville line got their money's worth from Saturday's 71-64 U of L win over Kentucky.

Because it was a wonderful game, of college hoop.

And Goose Givens' words of wisdom have unequal but nevertheless fitting application for both Kentucky teams today. For it was a lovely piece of action at Freedom Hall.

If you have the U of L-UK game on video tape, mark it for your archives and put it up out of the reach of the kids. If you relish the college game the way it was meant to be played and don't have a video copy, then get one! Take it out and play it for your grandchildren. It was that good a contest.

Yes, Givens knew what he was talking about...

First, Louisville

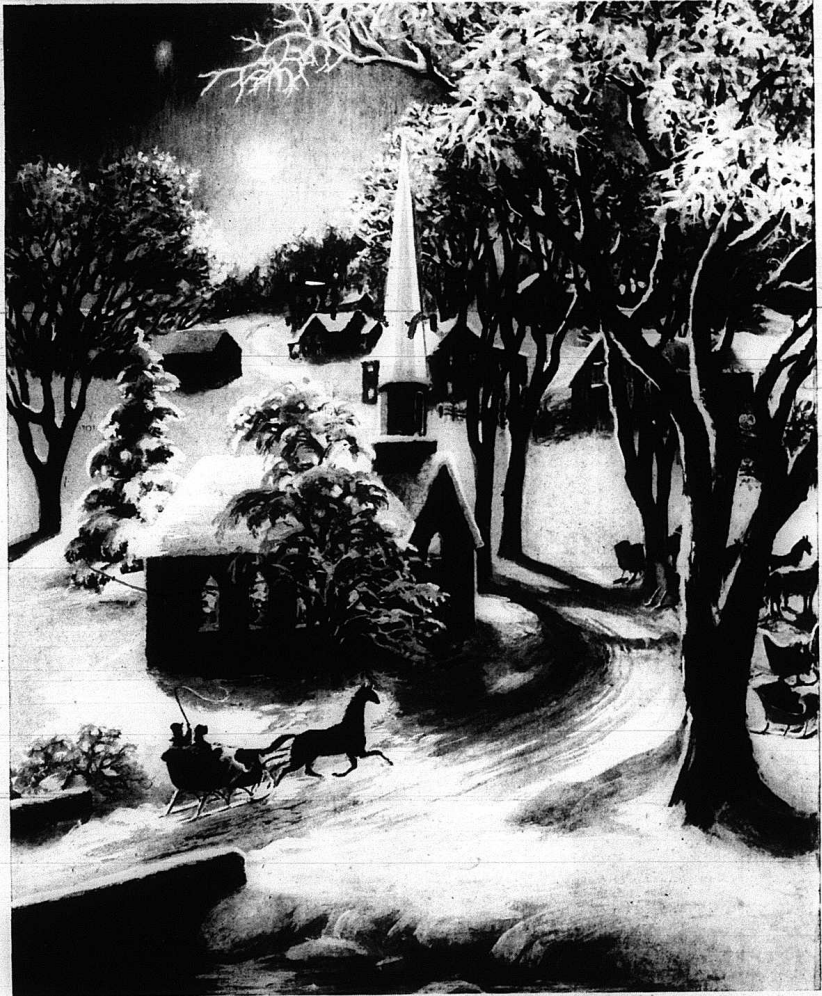

Coach Denny Crum: "If somebody had told me that we'd be 5-1 at this point of the season with our schedule, and without Milt Wagner, I'd have said, 'hey, you'll get my money!'"

Crum would have lost his red suede blazer (with Cardinal lapel light).

But then Crum is a man on a roll. He ought to take his recent good fortune to Las Vegas for a roll at the blackjack tables. Coming to his 13th season at U of L with a new long term contract, a spanking new basketball arena, a voice in selection tion as can reasonably be expected, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall cause an investigation to determine the validity of the petition, and said investigation will be completed in thirty days after the petition is received.

The law further states that if the investigation reveals that the school district to be unequally divided according to population, the State Board of Education, upon the recommendation of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall order the local Board of Education to make such changes in school district divisions as are necessary to equalize population with the five school divisions.

The Rockcastle County Fiscal Court restricted their magisterial boundaries in April of 1983 because of a shift in population, and a story about the new lines will appear in next week's Signal. One change the new boundaries for the magisterial districts caused was that it put first district magistrate Donald Rowe and second district magistrate Tom Denny in the same district. If both men decide to run in next year's primary, they will have to face each other.

The complete story will appear next week.

Machal, Mary B. Johnson, Kaye Carr, Ruth Shivel, Mimi Cloyd, Emily Glovak, Barbara Bowman, Lou Payne, Cindy Colson, Barbara Watson, Ella Mae Martin, Elizabeth Mullins, Loraine Newland, and Marjorie Shivel partook of turkey, dressing, and dumplings prepared by Mrs. Shivel and numerous other "dishes" made from the other ladies' favorite recipes.

Elizabeth Mullins read letters from the Diskens and Teresa Glovak after minutes were read.

Barbara Watson told of a rewarding visit, with Santa Claus (Keith Rigsby), to the Sowder Nursing Home. The patients' exclamations of joy was a delightful experience.

Ella Mae Martin gave greeting cards from the Brodhead Christian Church to Emily Glovak to deliver to each patient in the nursing home.

She also presented the month's lesson on a story "Joyful and Triumphant." It was about Vietnam prisoners' joy of being released from dungeons to ordinary cells in prison.

In this Christian Service in 1971, they sang Christmas Christian Carols and read Luke's Christmas story of Jesus' birth. They ended their service by singing "Silent Night" and prayers.

Before leaving the family room, the ladies unwrapped their 1984 Secret Sister's Gifts. "drew" for 1985, hostesses, lessons and Secret Sisters. Then they went into the living room to sing Christmas carols accompanied on the piano by Marjorie Shivel, Betty Glovak, and Cindy Colson. This was a climax for the group's 1984 works in Christian Services.

January's meeting will be at Barbara Watson's home with Mimi Cloyd giving the lesson.

mas, and challenges of aging.

Mrs. Witt said that "within the next generation, the number of people over 85 will triple." Therefore, "we must be resourceful and loving," she added, "and discussed any permanent living changes with the people involved."

"And remember, give warm fuzzies (positive comments) to everyone, especially the older person. We all need them," she said.

Mrs. Witt initiated an activity in which 15 of the members wrote positive comments about Mrs. Kathy Cromer, who said, "You've made my day. Warm fuzzies are great."

The meeting was adjourned with the reading of the "Collect."

Members enjoyed refreshments provided by hostesses Alma Kendrick, Judy Bowman, Karen Noe and Vicky Farthing.

of the school's football coach, and not-so-lofty expectations for his team this season.

But, the Cards opened with a stunning victory at Indiana and it established a trend, momentum, the sort that Givens had in mind. And the players had to be whispering to themselves, "Boy, maybe we ain't too bad."

Next, the Cards swept by a good team from the Sun Belt, Virginia Commonwealth and lost All-American can Milt Wagner in the process. What followed was a nice spanking from Athletics in Action, then came a healthy dose of bruiseball from Louisiana Tech and a loss. A victory over pesty St. Francis required hustle and probably brought with it a collective butt chewing to ward off a rash of complacency.

But this was prep stuff, perfect for what came next. Kentucky, Tough, talented and intelligent Kentucky. The Louisville coach could not have asked for a better December season coming up the game for hoop fans in the bluegrass state.

Jackie Woodall and Shannon Bishop fight for a rebound in the Rockets-Pirates game. Woodall got 11 points in the game Bishop had 4.

A "home game" against Kentucky.

What these things have done for the Cards brings us again to Givens' Kentucky spun philosophy. Success in basketball is strange and it builds on itself.

U of L's Jeff Hall: "Being mentally prepared when you go out to play a game has become so important in college ball. I think it's become 60, 70 percent of the game. You'd better be ready."

And Louisville was ready for Kentucky Saturday night. If the Cards had not been, then the Wildcats would have blitted them, partitioned and all.

"Needless to say we're pleased."

Crum said after his club's victory, "Kentucky's a good ball club and they're obviously getting better with Winston (Bennett) back in there."

About the U of L-UK series, Crum was gracious, but candid. "I think it's a great basketball series and I felt the same way as I did last year up there (Rupp Arena). You know, there used to be, I thought, a lot of hatred (between U of L-UK). A lot of animosity. But now we're playing every year and I don't feel the animosity and hatred that was there before. It doesn't hurt Kentucky to lose to us and it doesn't hurt us to lose to Kentucky."

Next, after a "warm-up" against Tampa in Freedom Hall Monday night, the Cards were head to Hawaii for Christmas.

They deserve it.

Second, Kentucky
The Wildcats are 14. But it is no secret that the record is deceptive if only because UK is a young team suffering from a crash course in college basketball and schedule overload.

Three of Kentucky's four losses have come on the road, and what a road — at Purdue, at Indiana and Louisville. Even a "duck" (scheduled four years ago) for Rupp Arena turned out to be a bear, SMU ranked eighth in America.

And still a break here or there, an offensive pattern executed properly at this point or that one, Kentucky would be 3-2.

With any luck and the kind of sustained play Hall got from his team in the Louisville game, UK would have beaten Purdue and SMU. But they did not. However, in sports jargon "luck and breaks have a way of evening out."

Amidst sideline scoldings and newspaper digs from Joe B. Hall, the players abilities are beginning to mesh. So far it has been a rude and frustrating, this introductory course in big time college basketball.

In spurts against U of I Saturday, UK looked like a snaf, a team trying to do something together. And, to my knowledge the word unit has not been attached to this club so far.

Coming up to the Louisville game, Joe Hall said: "The thing we hoped for most was to see some improvement. And I think we did in this game. I thought we ran our offense better than we have been. We played better than we have been playing." And Kentucky did play better. Offense? In the first half UK shot 48.3 percent. Defense? UK mixed its defenses well enough to confuse U of Vernon Florist in Mt. Vernon. This year's primary race will be Bales' first-ever attempt at gaining a political office.

While most people think they must wait until after January 1st of next year, anyone wishing to file for their year's primary can do so now, and has been able to since November 7th of this year.

All it takes is two signatures from registered voters in Rockcastle County and $20.00. Papers are filed in the County Clerk's office on the second floor of the courthouse.

L into 30.1. Rebounding? For the game the Wildcats outperformed U of L 30-32. All good signs.

Yes, the Wildcats are improving. Now it's time for a little "practical execution" of Jack Givens' extended theorem.

Kentucky's Christmas tournament, the UKIT this week is an ideal place to start.

Going (boldly) beyond that, I can see Hall's Wildcats blossoming into a team that will put together a five, perhaps six game, win streak, winning its Christmas tournament, then beating Kansas in Louisville New Year's Eve and then posting consecutive home floor victories against Auburn, North Carolina State and Vanderbilt.

Afterall, Success in basketball is a strange thing. It seems to build on itself. It only takes one or two good games to get things going right.

To the staff of this newspaper and to everyone who reads and enjoys it, warmest season greetings. Have a very merry Christmas. ■

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application No. 502-0047

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Ikerd-Bandy Co., Inc., P. O. Box 246, Ferguson, Kentucky 42323, intends to file an amendment to existing Application No. 502-0047 for the surface disturbance mining of approximately 25 additional acres located 1/2 mile southeast of Pongo community in Rockcastle County. The proposed operation is approximately 1/8 mile east of Ky. 1249's junction with Eagle Creek and 1/2 mile east of Buffalo Baptist Church.

Latitude 37 degrees 12' 29", longitude 84 degrees 18' 32". The surface of the area to be mined is owned by Lula Mize, Ronald Mink, Gene Cronser, and Lonzo Mize. A brief description of the land mining activity proposed is contour mining. The application will be filed at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement London Regional Office, State Office Building, London, Kentucky 40741.

Notice is hereby provided pursuant to 30 CFR 715.13 (d) (10) and KRD 350 that the proposed post mining land use of hayland and pasture constitutes a change from the undeveloped pre-mining land use. Interested citizens in regard to the above described surface mine should notify the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection within 30 days of the date of this notice. The written objection must have attached a copy of the newspaper clipping, and reference to the above application number. Such objection or request must be in accordance with KRS 224.081 (2) and must be forwarded to the Director of Permits, Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

This is the final advertisement of this application, all comments, objections or requests for a permit conference must be received within thirty (30) days of today's date.

college level by a high school teacher. Once the course is completed and passed, the student automatically gets their English credit for their high school records, and, if so desired, can take a test to see if they can gain the college credit for the course.

Towery said that the test costs $49.00 and that it is given by someone other than the advanced placement teacher. However, he said that the reductions were available to students with financial need.

The county's Chapter 1 coordinator said that he would work on the program in the coming weeks and report back to the board about his discussions as choosing a good advanced placement teacher and a criteria for choosing students for the program.

"I'm glad we are discussing things like this that will better our children's education rather than discussing the hiring of a basketball coach and things like that," said board member George Poynter.

Superintendent Parsons asked the board if they would like him to bring in certain people from time to time to discuss and review other areas of the school system's educational process, and each board member that was present, Dr. K. R. Burdette, Poynter, and Mrs. Edna Cameron agreed.

Kenneth Adams and Willie Taylor were absent of the meeting because of bad weather that night.

In other business, the board voted to:

- purchase 10 new IBM electric typewriters for the high school typing class at a cost of $6,021.00.
- employ James Parsons, Clotis Cummins and Shirley Allen as substitute teachers.
- employ Glenna Spoonamore, Merry Poynter, Suzanne Thacker, Linda McClure and Lillie Cook as substitute cooks.
- advertise for sealed bids to furnish labor and materials to wire Livingston School for window air conditioners.
- approve G.E.D. certificates for Carl B. Hickerson, Penny R. Alexander, Brenda S. Hulker, Cecilia J. Renner and Mary Harding.
- employ Alfred McNew and William Melcher as substitute bus drivers.

The next regular scheduled board meeting is January 1st at the central office in Mt. Vernon.

lot of tobacco being sold. This way most farmers have to grow pretty close to the amount they are able to sell," the director said.

Ballinger said that he has not received one complaint from any grower about the price they received at the market this year, and well over half of the tobacco in the county had already been sold.

He did say that he had been told by several people that this year's crop was being looked upon by the tobacco companies as the best, most usable crop ever.

Just over 3 million pounds of burley will be sold by Rockcastle County farmers this year which could generate nearly 6 million dollars for the county's economy, according to Ballinger.

President Lincoln's successor, Andrew Johnson, never went to school. He had not learned to write and could barely read when his wife undertook teaching him these skills.

SENATOR WENDELL FORD

U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510

WORLD REACTS TO FAMINE TRAGEDY

The world has been saddened by the plight of millions starving in Ethiopia. In response, government and private relief agencies have stepped up aid to this troubled country.

As many as 7 million people are said to be in danger of starving to death in Ethiopia, with scores dying each day. Officials report that 75 to 80 percent of deaths in feeding camps there are among children under age four. The United States Agency for International Development has provided 215,000 metric tons of emergency food assistance -- valued at $96.6 million -- to Ethiopia since October 1. That is more than was provided in all of the previous twelve months.

This federal agency has my wholehearted support in its efforts to help these starving people. It is our moral obligation. However, I believe that future U.S. aid programs should be designed to prevent disasters of this kind, rather than merely react to them. I plan to support changes in our aid program that will work toward preventing these disasters. I believe such moves would carry a lower price tag, as well as lessening human suffering.

It is important to note that millions of Americans are showing their concern through donations to private relief groups. Voluntary agencies working at the local level in Ethiopia and other African countries are keenly aware of the victims' needs, as well as the cultural and social customs which define appropriate types of assistance.

INTERACTION, an association of U.S. agencies, is coordinating responses from individuals or groups wanting to know how to contribute more directly to this relief effort. The association has set up an African Relief Fund and a special Ethiopia Relief Fund. All of the American private groups playing a role in Africa receive portions of the money raised. For more information or cash pledges, you may telephone INTERACTION's toll free number: 1-800-982-1400.

Many Americans are attempting to donate food, medicine and clothing. While those gifts are appreciated, agency officials say cash donations more rapidly meet the victims' needs. There is a shortage of warehouse space for storing and sorting donated goods for distribution. Furthermore, the transport of goods is very difficult because there are areas in Ethiopia which have no roads. Cash donations are more efficient because they can be quickly transformed into the appropriate commodities and delivered to the areas most in need.

During this holiday season, we are thankful more than ever for the prosperity enjoyed in the U.S. And it is good that voluntary organizations exist to allow us to channel our holiday goodwill to those who are less fortunate.

Christmas, how it was for many local people

By: Leigh Anne Hiatt

The ways to celebrate Christmas in Rockcastle County have changed since the first 20 years of this century, but many of the older people in the area still remember how Christmas used to be when decorations were homemade and there was little money to spend on gifts.

Although shoppers today have the convenience of buying all their tinsel and presents, those who recall the old-fashioned Christmas of their childhood cherish the memories of a special time of year and a special way of life.

Lou Payne of Brodhead is 92 and clearly remembers shaking and feeling the gifts under the tree when she was young to determine what was inside. There was an organ and piano in her house and

CAP hands out 315 food baskets

By: Leigh Anne Hiatt

The Christian Appalachian Project gave out 315 food baskets to the needy people of Rockcastle County Tuesday.

CAP is a non-denominational, non-profit organization that receives funding from contributors from all over the United States. Its main office is located in Lancaster and serves Southcentral Kentucky.

The families who received a basket of food staples also got a personally-chosen gift, for each family member, said Guy Adams, the assistant director of development for CAP.

The presents were donated by 668 sponsors from around the country who were given the first names and descriptions of family members and sent appropriate gifts for the individuals they sponsored. Adams said about 80 percent of the sponsors also sent gifts suitable for a grandmother and grandfather.

He added that there are also about 3,000 people nationwide who send contributions to help fund CAP's programs and that one donation this year came all the way from Alaska.

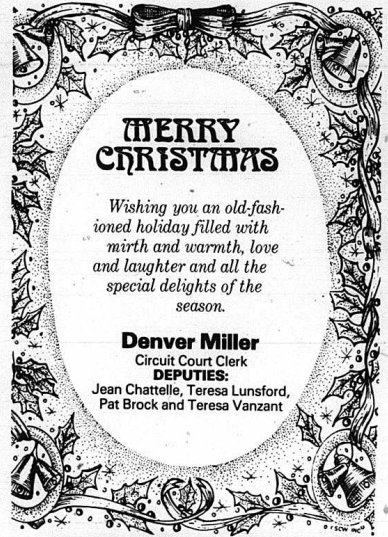

Persons wanting a food basket signed up for it in August. Adams said that CAP holds similar basket giveaways in Lincoln, Garrard, Pulaski, Floyd and Wayne counties. In all, 1,300 will receive baskets this year.

"It works really well," said Adams. "This is the eighth year. We started small in Lancaster and now we have a group of 12 volunteers from Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo here for five days to help give out baskets in all different areas."

Adams said, "Last year CAP directly and indirectly helped 36,000 people in Southcentral and Southeastern Kentucky."

The night of December 20th has arrived and the Creek is excited. City Hall has been decorated with green pine, cedar, spruce, holly and mistletoe. A big fire roars in the large, old fireplace with logs brought in by John, Joe Abnev, Cleve, John Hardin, Dick Venable and others that I could persuade.

The court-room furniture has been pushed back to the walls while tables line the sides of the room. On them are pies of every variety baked and donated by the kind women on this creek to be served to our guests along with pots of strong, black coffee, for some people will have traveled far this night to be here.

The Christmas tree, ah, the biggest one the young men could find, is loaded down with gifts for all you kind people who have been reading the paper and tell me how much you enjoy it. This party for all 4,988 of you readers, along with the second and third hand readers, is my way of saying thanks to the many friends who tell me I have not only informed them of life on the creek, but have taken them back into the past with its memories.

I returned to Clear Creek, my childhood home, four years ago and found the folks are just as neighborly as in the past. The women show this by bringing the pies—blackberry, rhubarb, dried apple, squash, pumpkin, vinegar pie, kumquat, plumgranny, peach, strawberry, raisin, mince, and sweet potato, but I've lost count for they smell great!

The group of musicians are about to start with fiddles, guitars, banjos, jugs, a base fiddle made from a tub, a washboard, a set of buckets used for drums, and other music makers.

I ask you now to join me in the spirit of fantasy land (as you have so much in reading my column) and enter the long, low, old building when the doors are opened wide.

Outside, and I can't believe my eyes, are the smiling, laughing, happy faces of "readers" stretching far back up the road—and they were there, all 4,988 of them plus many who borrow the paper from a kind friend. But it is time, as the minutes hasten along to start with the gifts on the tree, underneath it, and spilling out on the floor. In talking to some folks about my gifts of appreciation, I have asked what they wanted most and it has been given to them as asked.

The first gift I take from the sparkling, decorated branches is a large, red poinsettia for Editor Ardenkin to whom I owe for the chance to write this column.

A large bunch of mistletoe to some bachelors who may need it over the holidays—Robert Smith, Henry Voltmer, and Paul Drew.

Joe Abnev, polish for his constable's badge, John Harding, a bottle of Geritol to help him get pep to finish his woodwork shop and make my churn—the cows will become "fresh" in the spring.

Mary Hardin, a new smile before she wears her ever-ready one out.

Randy Northern, a flashlight to find his way to his girl's house on Greenpond Ridge. A set of bells for Chief Junior King so he can find his goats when they ramble over King Hollow; Matilda Miller asked for another year of closer friendship tied with red ribbon.

Brother Cleve gets a larger table so I won't have to eat at the "second one" on Christmas Day.

Elijah and Julia Abney, a gunsight to help guard their ducks.

Let me say here a welcome to WKXO Radio Station at Berea which has just joined our Reader Family. So my gift to News Director, Wayne Gregory, is a new brush to use on his beard. It tickles the girls on the cheek.

Bertha Long wants help in learning the difference between mistletoe and other greens. I'm also giving Matilda Miller lessons in truck driving which she would like to ride around in.

To Armon and Harriet Neely, a bridge across Davis Branch so I can get over to their house when I smell turnip greens cooking.

I'm giving Mossie Cope a promise that I won't tell where her winter onions are planted. Dick and Marie Venable are given a license to drive their mower-speed cart on I-75.

Blanche Payne, a new writing pen tied with green ribbon, to balance checkbooks. She has worn out one balancing mine.

Darlene Clark asked for another year of Disputanta news—Tavane Phillips wanted more time for handicrafts while Chester asked for time to answer all of Ahlshia's six-year-old questions. Edward Northern was given a patent for the car that he invented.

Martha Hill gets a calculator to help her count plumgranny seeds in one melon. A shiny star for Lura Clark's tree for being all things to her family. A red sock of candy canes to Kaye.

A white poinsettia, each, to Lou Payne and Elnora Gray in Brodhead who, having no children of their own, for being wonderful "mothers" to all their nieces and nephews. A bag of duck feed tied with gold ribbon to Lorene Fowler.

Sharon Hurley gets a new set of tires. She's worn the others out speeding up Clear Creek and Davis Branch. A new set of court record books for Attorney Ronald Swinford—he couldn't find the previous ones. A red-ribbon-tied cluster of holly for Ann to wear in her hair at parties. New arrows for David and Perry Hardin. The deer carried the others off.

Sparkling tree ornaments to Kathy and Pat Hardin, Joyce Stephens, Tammy Russell, and Phyllis Harding.

Martha Faye Rowlett gets a bigger basket to hunt for "poke sallet" come spring.

New sewing needles went to Lorene Hurley, Alta Berry and Ruth Abney. They were theirs out making pretty handicraft.

I gave a bullet mold and more ammunition to Nathan Mullins to use in his old muzzle loader rifle. Seems folks have been in his woods. To Eva Mullins, all dressed in red velvet and gold glitter, best wishes for her new life.

Eli and Pearl Chasteen, field glasses to keep an eye on their ducks when hatched.

Howard and Hazel Linville, Ruby Whit and Clyde Anglin received a red sock of good will. Paris Swinford gets a box of sassafras tea to pep him up for spring golf.

A three-inch square of Rockcastle land tied with red ribbon goes to Bill and Gertrude Getliff, Jane Lee Dondanville, and Everett Reppert because of their love for this land.

Earl Hammond asked, and got, a bottle of Japanese Oil liniment. Kathy wants freedom from my popping up to make her picture. Bill Stewart got two red socks to hang up on his tree.

For Barbara Owens, a stamp to send me a birthday card in January.

A box of good will to the people of Wildie, especially Minnie and Curg Brock, but only a stick horse for Jan Stevens to outride all us women he made mad by saying we tricked our husbands into paying our bills.

A holly wreath to Clyde and

Bales Announces Candidacy

David Bales, son, Adam and wife, Shannon Raines Bales

I would like to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for Rockcastle County Court Clerk, subject to the May, 1985 Primary.

I have been privileged to give my services to the people of Rockcastle County during the past years and, in making my decision to run, I want to pledge to continue the same dedicated service that I have always extended to everyone.

A life-long Republican, I have served in the Clerk's office as Chief Deputy Clerk since the death of my father, Clifford Bales in July of 1976 and feel I know the needs and requirements of the job.

Previous to my work in the clerk's office, I worked for eight years with the Dept. of Highways in the engineering division.

I pledge to continue the same friendly and courteous service that Rockcastle Countians have come to expect from the clerk's office. I enjoy being of service to the people of the county and feel that with the experience I have had, I am well qualified for continuing to serve you.

ELECT DAVID BALES
Rockcastle County Clerk

—Subject to the May, 1985 Primary—

Paid for by candidate

Genevieve Reynolds, Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon and John Christman are the grand prize winners in the 1985 Berea College United Way drawing. Mrs. Reynolds, an employee of Berea's Appalachian Center, won a poncho from Needlecraft and Wooling, Christman, of the Music Department, won a Lincoln Stool—a new product by the College's woodcraft industry. All College employees who made a pledge to the United Way campaign were eligible for the prizes.

The first electric sign was built by W.J. Hammer, an English sign maker in 1882. The sign was a message cut out of wood and illuminated from behind with electric light bulbs.

One hundred and two persons attended Sunday School at the Fairview Baptist Church Dec. 16th with several more coming in for the Worship Service. We thank God for all who attended and our love and prayers go out to those who were unable to attend. Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick When who were recently married. They are both members of our church and also both are enrolled in school at Eastern in Richmond. We all love them and wish them many years of joy and happiness and the greatest of blessings down through the years. God bless them.

I enjoyed so much seeing and talking to Mr. and Mrs. James Lambert in Mt. Vernon recently. James and I attended school together at Fairview and we have known and loved the Lambert family for many years. We have always attended the same church too. James and his wife, Ruth, told me how much they enjoyed reading my column in the Signal. If I can bring a little enjoyment or sunshine into someone's life, then it makes me happy too.

I also enjoyed the letter to the editor of the Signal from my brother, Everett Reppert, of Paxton, Ill. Everett is a good, kind, devoted man who loves the Lord and walks with Him daily. He is also a wonderful brother which I love dearly.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bowles of Danville were guests of her brother, Willie Cope, and Mrs. Cope last Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Cope also visited at his brother's home and they all enjoyed the day together.

A large number of people attended the Christmas Open House at the Berea National Bank in Berea on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 16th. Among those present were Mrs. Hubert Chasteen and daughter, Mrs. Darlene Church. We enjoyed meeting and talking to the directors and staff. Hubert and I have done our banking at Berea National for many years and have always been treated with the deepest respect. I enjoyed so much talking to Mrs. Mary Walker, Maurice and Violet Stephens and son, Berton, also their daughter, Sue Ponder and husband, Sherman, and their beautiful daughter and Janet Brooks who along with others told me they read my article and kept up with the happenings at Fairview through reading the Signal. Thanks for the compliments. I love you all.

Recently Luther and Nancy Isaacs enjoyed a candlelight dinner at the home of her sister, Kitty Canterbury, and husband, Kenneth, in Richmond. The dinner was prepared by the wives in honor of their husbands' birthdays which are two days apart. Each received his own heart-shaped cake and both families enjoyed the day. (We, the friends of Luther and Ken, wish them many happy returns of the day.) Both families mean a lot to us and our church. J. B. Alexander stopped by his brother's home (Eugene Alexander) and visited awhile last Thursday. J. B. lives in Wisconsin and was on his way to Tennessee to visit other relatives. He hasn't been well for a long time, but I'm so glad he is able to travel again.

Darlene Church visited Mrs. Thelma Thacker of Scaffold Creek last Thursday. They enjoyed a lovely day together.

Mrs. Christine Barnett of Berea visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cope last week. Ruth, told Mrs. Cope isn't too well at the present time, but we all hope and pray she will be well again soon. She is a lovely lady, loved by everyone and has so many friends. We have always loved and respected the Cope family down through the years. God bless them all.

Mrs. Hubert Chasteen and daughter, Darlene Church, visited Mrs. Irene Barnett in Mt. Vernon recently. Bless her heart, she was so glad to see us, but we missed seeing Eli so much. Her granddaughter, Tina Phillips, was with her. Tina is such a beautiful girl so nice and kind and so good to Irene. Like many others, is facing her first Christmas without her beloved husband who passed away in July. Irene, I'd just like to say to you that you have many friends and loved ones who love you and your family and are praying for you. God bless you.

Tom Legear, Ben Wilson, Robert Chasteen, Elbert Cook, Bill Stephens and Monroe Seals. I'm giving happiness and good will in a sleigh to Ruth Gatfill, Jessie Norton, Ruth Rose, Mrs. Clarence Warfield, Lella Durham and Ollie Gatfill.

A big red sock of thanks to Cepha Davis Kincer in Erlanger, a "displaced Rockcastle girl" for putting Mt. Vernon on the literary map. Clelan (Dirki) Abner gets a Janie Ramsey, my long visit with relatives and old friends in Wildie with its memories of her girlhood.

To Cindy Anderkin, the Signal's front office cute clerk, I give a pair of pink booties and best of luck in January. For Rick, her husband and new editor of the Signal, three large safety pins in a tiny pair of red socks and directions on assembling a "three cornered job!"

For Tommy Hayes on Little Clear Creek (and I didn't know there was one), the last Reader's Button if we'd gotten them, for the swell job of corn grinding he did at his new mill. John says, "Now, I call that bread!"

Candy canes to readers Nora Hensley, Naomi Edwards, Gladys Mullins, Aster and Geneva Anglin the man who could hardly lift a feather, he said, to get out of yard work, Mary Cain Vaughn, Elber Cook and Hayse Morris.

For Mary McCollum, Mrs. William Owens, Jr., Nannie Legear and Sarah Daniels, I have beautiful quilt pieces to be put into a quilt and I'd like to come to the quilting.

A visit to a country store where they can sit around and talk while they spit tobacco juice goes to Tom Legear, Ben Wilson, Robert Chasteen, Elbert Cook, Bill Stephens and Monroe Seals.

I'm giving happiness and good will in a sleigh to Ruth Gatfill, Jessie Norton, Ruth Rose, Mrs. Clarence Warfield, Lella Durham and Ollie Gatfill.

A big red sock of thanks to Cepha Davis Kincer in Erlanger, a "displaced Rockcastle girl" for putting Mt. Vernon on the literary map. Clelan (Dirki) Abner gets a box of Clear Creek soil at Christmas, the ground where he spent his young days.

For Cousin Jim and Brenda Lambert, a setting of duck eggs for spring hatching so the animals can live around their new back home. A sock full of Rockcastle soil tied with green ribbon to Richard Mullins in Chicago, Milton Lavefers, Eddie Hurt, W. R. and Dorothy Baker. Tree ornaments to Mary Neely, Flossie Stephens, and Phyllis Burdette.

The night grows late and the fun begins to die down. I haven't space to present gifts to the rest of the crowd of readers, but we at Clear Creek send out good will and appreciation for your interest in us here on the creek to the others from all fifty states of this country and overseas.

I owe thanks to a lot of people over my column but I'd like to say a great big one to my patient and helpful husband, John, who goes along with me on my visits up hollows and over far hills to find news. Also a thanks to my brother, Cleve Payne, who is a good sport about my telling things on him. ("I'd whip you if I were him," says Martha Hill.) And thanks to kinfolk, Joe Abney, for letting me split the beans on him. To you patient and kind readers, a Happy New Year in 1985 who never know what news I'll come up with next. Remember the reader button? The Clear Creek Festival? The plumgranny project? The Christmas Party? Stay with the Mt. Vernon Signal, my Anderkin family backers, and me, and we think you'll have a lively summer. Well, here's to '85.

McGuire named manager for KU of Danville district

Richard G. McGuire has been named manager of Kentucky Utilities Company's Danville district, which includes Harrodsburg, Lancaster, Stanford and Mt. Vernon. He succeeds Joseph A. Gibson, who has been named economic development manager for KU.

McGuire joined KU as a commercial service engineer at Shelbyville in 1958 and transferred to Richmond two years later. He was promoted to technical engineer at Danville in 1962 and had served as supervising engineer since 1965.

The Ashland native earned a degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Kentucky. He also holds an English degree from the University of Illinois.

Active in community affairs, McGuire serves on the advisory board of the Salvation Army and is a member and past president of the Danville Lions Club and the Danville High School Band Boosters. He is a past elder and choir member of the Presbyterian Church of Danville.

McGuire and his wife, Gay, are the parents of four children: Sharon, Kathleen, Coleen and Brian.

What Christmas Means

The following comments on the meaning of Christmas were written by members of the 7th grade class at Brodhead School.

Giving at Christmas means that when someone gives another person a gift that means they love them in a special way.
Donna Harper

Christmas means being together with my relatives and talking about things that have happened over the years.
Jennifer Rogers

I'm glad Christmas comes only once a year so I can bother my parents about what I want next Christmas, and if I had one wish, I would wish that other children could have a Merry Christmas.
Jennifer Rogers

Giving at Christmas means sharing gifts with others and symbolize the Wise Men giving gifts to Baby Jesus.
Kevin Rowe

Giving at Christmas means loving, caring, and sharing.
Robin Elkins

If I had one wish for Christmas, it would be for the world to have peace.
Stacey Moore

Christmas means love to me.
Robby McFerron

Giving at Christmas means happiness.
Dean Northern

If I had one wish for Christmas, it would be to give everyone in the world a Christmas present.

Christmas in Kentucky is an old-fashioned Christmas holiday all over again.

Isaiah 9:6

Ladies and gentlemen,

At this Christmas season, I want to thank each of you for the many kindnesses shown me during the past year.

Christmas is a time for remembering, for thinking of old and new friends, for watching the magic in a child's eyes on Christmas morning.

But more importantly, it is the birthday of our Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ.

I hope each of you have a very Merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.
