

Sales slips needed for wool payments, Ballinger says

To avoid late payments, Harold D. Ballinger, CED, said wool and lamb producers must turn in their 1984 sales receipts and file an application by January 31st.

Farmers who have a record of their wool and mohair sales are eligible for incentive payments only if the sales are reported to the County ASCS office. Mr. Ballinger said the quantity sold does not affect the eligibility. However, sales slips should contain the month of shearing, month of sale, number of head shorn, pounds of wool (grease basis) or mohair sold, and net proceeds. Shorn wool and mohair payments will be made only for bonafide sales documented on invoices prepared by the purchaser. Sales slips for lambs must show the liveweight and state that the lambs were unshorn. Accounts may be filed for re-election in the fourth district.

In the fifth district, where incumbent Magistrate Joe Clark has filed for County Judge/Executive, Olen McGuire and Roy Reynolds have thrown their hats into the ring, both as Republican candidates.

The only snafowl for the month accounted for one inch of the precipitation. The high temperature for the month came on the 16th of December when the thermometer reached 74 degrees. The high in December of 1983 was recorded on the 6th when it was 63.

Cox said that the low temperature for December was 4 degrees on the 7th which compared to a minus 11 reading the year before on Christmas Day.

A total of 54.70 inches of rain fell for the year, which compared to only 47.17 for 1983. Cox said the difference was the drought during the summer of '83.

The percentage is the amount required to raise the national average price received by all producers of shorn wool and mohair in 1984 up to the support prices of $1.66 a pound for wool and $5.17 per pound for mohair. The program is designed to encourage sheep growers to do their best job of marketing and to improve the quality of fibers.

Abney served as Sheriff for four years and elected to run for the office of Jailer in 1981. He was elected that time out of a field of five, beating his closest opponent by more than 400 votes.

Abney is married to the former Carolyn Jones, and they have two sons, Terry Wayne and Jeff. Both Mrs. Abney and Jeff are deputy jailers.

Abney said, in announcing his candidacy last week, that he realized the office of County Judge/Executive was the most important county office and that if elected, he would treat all people in all parts of the county with equal fairness.

He and his wife presently live on Lovell Lane in Mt. Vernon.

found Sherman Denny guilty of a 1983 armed robbery of the Super Test gas station in Mt. Vernon, and during that same week, a local man, son, Ronald Wyatt, was released from Saudi Arabia where he had been held captive for six weeks.

In the last week of April, the murder trial of Robert Jackson McCowan began. He was charged with the July, 1983 shooting death of Arthur Jones-Lamero, an elderly Louisville man drove his car through the side of Mary's Restaurant in Renfro Valley, and a committee was formed to see that the Broadhead area got a new fire truck for county fire runs.

The first issue in May was the most tragic SIGNAL printed during 1984. The headlines included the shooting death of Lamerio man near Livingston, the death of a Brodhead man as the result of a car accident, and the bizarre death of a twelve-month old baby, murdered by a Barr. Farley Newcomb was arrested and charged with the murder of Ernest Singleton near Gaulty Branch. James Northern was killed in a single car accident on Ky. 1505, and Katherine E. Pettit of College Park, Georgia allowed her one-year-old baby girl to crawl onto U.S. 25 and be hit by a local motorist. Her baby died a few minutes later at the Rockcastle County Hospital. Mrs. Pettit was later charged with second degree manslaughter. Also during that week, the Fiscal Court agreed to apply for a grant for a new fire truck for Brodhead, and a mistrial was granted in the murder case of Robert McCowan because of a story that had appeared in the previous week's SIGNAL.

For the first time in 6 years, school was called off in the county because of flooding, and also in the second week of May, the public was barred from the preliminary hearing of Katherine Pettit. District Judge William Cain also issued a '90 order prohibiting anyone involved with the case from discussing it.

During the third week of April, Citizens Bank of Brodhead announced that they applied for permission to build a branch in Mt. Vernon, and the City of Mt. Vernon applied for a $750,000 grant to upgrade certain areas of the city.

The last part of May saw Mr. Vernon City Councilman Joe "Buster" Gentry die from a heart attack at age 69 and a public hearing at Frankfort was held about the proposed landfill site.

The first of June was the beginning of a break in that were to plague the county for several weeks. Clayton Hammond's Supermarket on Highway 461 was robbed after thieves drove their automobile

Rockcastle Co. Judge/Executive

Subject to the May Republican Primary

To the Citizens and Voters of Rockcastle County

After seriously considering the upcoming May, 1985 Primary Election, I have decided to become a Republican candidate for the high office of "County Judge/Executive."

Thanks to you, the citizens and voters of Rockcastle County, I have had the honor and privilege of serving as your Sheriff from 1978 to 1981. Since 1982, I have been serving as your Jailer.

In the past and present, I have served you honestly and faithfully as Sheriff and Jailer and will continue to do the same. Myself and my deputies have tried our best to serve you in a kind, friendly and understanding manner. You will know that anytime we could help you, we have. We have been, and will continue to be good to you, your friends and everyone we come into contact with - both as a citizen of Rockcastle County and as your "Public Servant."

The High Office of County Judge/Executive is of the greatest importance to each of us, myself, you and every citizen in this county.

I promise to fulfill the duties of this office according to all laws and will, in the near future, state to you my platform.

If you nominate and elect me as your Republican County Judge/Executive, there is one thing for certain, I will be fair and honest and will treat everyone right and will further see that every section of Rockcastle County is treated in a fair and equal manner. I will not forget anyone or any part of our great county.

It would appear there will be several candidates for this office. I am now asking every citizen to please work for me, vote for me and nominate and elect me as your Republican County Judge/Executive. Further, I feel that I should announce at this time so that any citizen who desires to support me will know that I am a Candidate for County Judge Executive.

I will know that every county office belongs to the citizens and the choice is yours; so I am now asking you, please help me. Stop by and see me and give me any advice and assistance you can in my race for Republican County Judge/Executive.

Thank You,
Your Friend and Present Jailer

North Brodhead, West Mt. Vernon and Bullock are in new districts

Due to a shift in population in Rockcastle County, certain magisterial district lines have been redrawn, according to Rockcastle County Deputy Court Clerk David Bales.

Bales said Monday that three county commissioners finalized the new lines last week after the Fiscal Court voted to accept them in April of 1983.

The two magisterial districts, the fourth and fifth, were not affected, according to Bales, who said that only the first three districts had either a precinct removed or one put in their place.

In the 1981 primary election, District One was composed of West and North Mt. Vernon. Now it is made up of North Brodhead and North Mt. Vernon, which leaves the district with no incumbent.

Crime, proposed landfill, school board races, asbestos made '84 headlines

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of two stories concerning headlines which appeared in the MT. VERNON SIGNAL in 1984. The other story will appear in next week's edition of the SIGNAL.

By: Richard Anderkin

Crime, a proposed landfill, asbestos and two school board races made the major headlines in 1984.

In January of last year, Rockcastle Countians found themselves with a new Circuit Judge, after Danil J. Venters was sworn in on January 2nd.

Venters was the first-ever circuit judge to be sworn in in Rockcastle County instead of Pulaski County. He handily defeated John T. Mandt in the November General Election.

Mandt, who was filling the unexpired term of Phillip K. Wicker who resigned earlier in 1983, was a former City Attorney in Somerset.

During the second week of 1984, William T. Cain was sworn in to fill the unexpired term of Venters, who was District Judge when he won his Circuit Judge seat. Also, during that week, two physicians, Dr. Kim Boggs and Dr. Mike Gutierrez, announced that they would open practices in the county soon.

In the third week of '84, the biggest snowfall in several years fell on the county. Over 6 inches of the white stuff fell. Brown's Food Market was robbed of over $100, and State Representative Danny Ford introduced a bill in the 9th Legislature that would let high school students' academic standing to their eligibility to apply for a driver's license. The bill later died in committee.

The big headline during the fourth week in January was that Consistent Food Market in Mt. Vernon was robbed at gunpoint on January 22nd. Suspects were later arrested in the case.

Troopery struck during the first week of February when a Rockcastle County man, Johnny Keith Falin, was shot to death near Berea. His girlfriend, Lisa Lopez Jones, was later arrested and charged with the murder.

The Seaboard Railroad System made the news in the second week in February when they announced they would close a 70-mile stretch of rail line between Livingston and Lebanon. Local citizens concerned over the closing called a meeting to form a plan of action.

Also, that week, Circuit Judge Venters granted a change of venue for Denver Earl Holley, a Laurel County man charged in the May, 1983 deaths of three members of a Rockcastle County family in a traffic accident on 175. The trial was moved to Pulaski County. Also, Rockcastle County Hospital Administrator Roger Pancy resigned his position after only a short stay at the helm.

During the last part of February, Seaboard System Railroad President Richard Sarnborn announced that he would not close the 70-mile Sinks Line after a meeting at Stanford which several local concerned citizens attended.

The big news for the last week in February was the assassination attempt on the life of Rockcastle County Sheriff William Taylor. Taylor was shot at from a wooded area from in front of his home on the Old Brodhead Road. No one was ever arrested in connection with the attempted murder.

The month of March began with the state announcing that school taxes would be doubled in Rockcastle, and the landfill controversy began.

Later in the month, the Rockcastle County Board of Education voted to extend School Superintendent Charles B. Parsons' contract for (our more years, and it was announced by the State Highway Department that there was no money set aside for the "Highway 461" project. The state said they could not find $20.1 million dollars that had been set aside by former Transportation Secretary Frank Metts.

During the last week of August, the Hwy. 461 project was put back on track, and the Rockcastle County Grand Jury handed down five indictments including one for murder and one for armed robbery.

The murder trial of John Harvey Taylor was given to the jury during the third week of March, and he was found guilty of the murder of Mutt Farmer later in the month. Denver Earl Holley pleaded guilty before his case could be tried, and Brindle Ridge Baptist Church caught fire.

April began with Fifth District Magistrate Joe Clark trying to bar Channel 18 reporter Jim Walkin and his camera from the monthly Fiscal Court meeting, and former Brodhead Mayor-Dan Gray died at the age of 87.

During the second week of April, the Rockcastle County Ambulance Service raised almost $6,000 locally for a new ambulance. It was learned that asbestos existed in the Rockcastle County Courthouse, and the Brodhead Volunteer Fire Department announced that they would have to quit making county fire runs unless they got some help in purchasing a new truck. Their 1984 truck, which they used on county fire runs, could no longer make the trips.

In the third week of April, two local residents, Joyce Norton and her daughter, Hollie Nichole, escaped serious injury when their car was hit by a Rockcastle County school bus driven by Garner Brown. The bus came to rest on top of the Norton's Buick Electra, a Rockcastle County Circuit Court jury ## ramblings...

by: perlina m. anderkin

New Year's is the time for making resolutions and usually breaking them when it becomes a matter of sheer willpower.

For the past three or four years, I have avoided making any resolutions since my track record on keeping them has not been too good. This year it was a "have-to" situation. I have acquired so many bad habits lately that it was either resolve to change some of them or continue my downhill slide.

My most important resolution, I suppose, is to quit smoking, and, at this writing, I have not smoked for 34 hours—10 minutes and 23 seconds, but who's counting? A couple of my habits I have resolved to do something about. I dare not mention since I sincerely hope that they may have gone unnoticed by at least a few of my friends and acquaintances.

Of course, should they be requested, I could quickly draw up a list of resolutions for my children. Since there are 4 girls at home, ages 13, 21, the resolution that would have to top my list would be to limit all phone conversations to 10 minutes—regardless of whether they be with the male or female gender.

Second would be the perennial "Keep your room clean" plea which would no doubt fall on deaf ears as it has always done in the past. I may try to solve this problem by taking their dates (except the 13-year-old who has no dates) on a tour of the area and asking them if they actually want to be out with someone who gets dressed in a room that looks like this.

The third (which should really be substituted for number one) would be that each girl be responsible for washing, folding and putting away their own clothes. I have never discovered why the person in the household who has the least clothes of anyone else and amount, not size, should have to take care of everybody else's. I tried to solve this problem once by announcing my intention of only taking care of mine. Jiff and Travis, and everyone else being on their own. This didn't work and the reason why is too complicated for any sane person to understand so I won't try to explain it. Suffice it to say I couldn't afford the situation.

The last two weeks have been hectic but it is always exciting to have a new year to begin—a

Christmas at M.V.E.S.

The second annual Christmas program at M.V.E.S. was held Friday night, December 14 and was a great success.

It was quite obvious when you had to stand in line at the door that everyone had the Christmas spirit and wanted to support our school and our students. The PTA did a wonderful job organizing and planning the program. The teachers and faculty at M.V.E.S. worked hard and gave much of their time and energy to the students in preparing acts for us all to enjoy. We are very lucky in Mt. Vernon to have so many dedicated teachers and faculty to depend on.

At the entrance, you could see the Country Store set up with many delicious homemade desserts for sale. There was also popcorn and Coca Cola for refreshments.

In the gymnasium was a beautiful ten foot Christmas tree, decorated with glittering lights from top to bottom. There was also candlelight to set the Christmas mood.

Mr. Danny Ford did a wonderful job as emcee for the event. At intermission, there was a drawing for a diet bike won by Gail Reams.

The first act was the kindergarten class who performed "Sights and Sounds of Christmas." The first grade class recited poems and sang "Frosty the Snowman" dressed in cheerful costumes. There is nothing as precious as the twinkle in the eyes of a small child performing in front of an audience.

The second grade acted out and sang a very entertaining "Twelve Days of Christmas" and the third grade did a beautiful rendition of "Silver Bells."

The fourth grade gave us all a great joy with "Christmas From the Eyes of a Child." The fifth grade presented "The Night Before Christmas," "Christmas Means," and "Bring Back the Baby Jesus."

The sixth grade gave a wonderful performance of "Snoopy's Christmas." They had everything, including band music, singing, the Red Baron, airplanes and Snoopy. The seventh and eighth grades combined a performance of "Let's Go Caroling" with some beautiful, singing, old-fashioned carols and the en-

Debbie Stevens receives top honors for her efforts with Body Works

By Leigh Anne Hiatt

A Rockcastle County woman has received two awards for her contributions to the business community of Berea, Ky.

Debbie Stevens of Wildie founded Body Workout, Inc., an exercise studio which opened in Berea in October, 1983. The success of the studio resulted in her being named Berea's Young Career Woman by the Berea Chapter of Kentucky's Federation of Business and Professional Woman's Clubs Inc. in February. In April, Mrs. Stevens, 25, represented the Berea Chapter in the statewide competition for young career women in Lexington. Mrs. Stevens was presented the Women of Achievement Award from the Berea Business and Professional Woman's Club in October. The club's voting came to a tie and she shared the award with Sarah Culbreth, also a businesswoman in Berea.

Opening an exercise studio was a "dream come true" for Mrs. Stevens, who describes herself as being a physical person. She first offered aerobics classes through the home-economics department at the high school and was well-received.

"People find a knack of what they're good at and from the feedback I've gotten, this is my knack," she said.

When Mrs. Stevens decided to establish the studio, she looked for a location in Mt. Vernon and Berea. She eventually rented a building on 202 North Broadway in Berea because she felt the town was larger and could offer more business.

Mrs. Stevens incorporated her business in May, encouraged by the success of Body Workout, Inc. which is drawing patrons from Berea, Paint Lick, Richmond, Vernon, Jackson and Garrard Counties and Lexington.

Beginning this month, the studio will have a second room in use which will allow two classes to be taught at the same time.

Aerobics classes are a staple of the studio. Mrs. Stevens said that aerobics exercise is valuable because it raises the heart rate to improve the cardiovascular system and also helps a person burn calories.

The studio offers specialized classes in addition to the aerobics classes. A certified Body Recall instructor affiliated with Berea College teaches a class for severely overweight and older people.

Bob Greene, associated with the Sin The Sports Center in Lexington, teaches barre, jazz ballet, is taught by Charisse Newton, who is affiliated with the Lexington School of Ballet. Ginnastics are taught by Evelyn Theil. And massages are offered to women only by masseuse Nellie Shreve.

Mrs. Stevens teaches eight to ten exercise classes a week herself, and is joined in the studio by several other instructors. Elizabeth Berry is the manager as well as an instructor. Others who teach exercise classes are Dan Short, Renee Burgo, Dawn Mayne, Lorie Cusick, Laura Lough and Thelma Taylor. The studio plans to add two more instructors this month to accommodate its busy season which runs from January to May.

Mrs. Stevens said she often drops and picks up specialized classes as they are needed. In the past, she has offered clogging and prenatal and postpartum sessions. The majority of her clientele are women, although Mrs. Stevens said there is no typical patron. She has single women, mothers, older women, women in shape and women wanting to get into shape. Women from all economic levels and professions visit the studio to work out.

"We try to make everybody feel important," said Mrs. Stevens. "We go out of our way to see to each individual's needs. We've tried to get it small and personal. We try to get to know them their names and find out what their needs are and what they're wanting."

Body Workout presently offers co-ed classes and would like to hold more co-ed sessions in the future. Clients can choose between two classes with both males and females, or those strictly for women.

Mrs. Stevens said she opened an exercise studio because she thinks there's a need for a place where people can go to get in shape. "Out in California it's big," she said. "They have a health fitness center every five miles. It comes this way we're late in catching on to it."

Mrs. Stevens said she has visited several health centers in Lexington as well as attended workshops to learn how to improve her business. She also feels to learn ways to do things differently.

She emphasized that she is leaning upon about the idea of estimating the business and asking shares to customers.

She discovered that many of the women who come to the studio want to improve their mental and emotional well-being as well as to get in shape physically.

"I'll swear by it now," said Mrs. Stevens of the exercising. "I'll do it exercise. I'm harder to live with. I feel so much better after I've worked out hard."

Besides running Body Workout, Inc., Mrs. Stevens teaches third and fourth grades at the Roundstone Elementary School. She got her bachelor's degree in education from Eastern Kentucky University in 1982 and is planning to return there to work on a master's in physical education.

She and her husband, Jan Ewan, have two children, Jay is 8 and Shaunta is 6. Debbie Stevens is the daughter of David and Barbara Bishop of Brodhead.

She gives credit to her husband for success with the studio. "Jan Ewan has helped a lot over there," too," said Mrs. Stevens. "He's been a working force behind it that a whole lot of people haven't seen."

Body Workout is open Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday mornings at 10 a.m. and every week night from 4:30 to 9 p.m.

Soil conservation district held meeting Dec. 17

All supervisors were present: Roy Brown, Chairman; Ray Brock, Vice Chairman; Jack Daley, Treasurer; Secretary, C. Tommy Maul; Lloyd Cain, Wallace Proctor and D. A. Robbins. The wives were also invited to this meeting.

After the meal, Roy Brown read the Business Meeting and discussion was made concerning the Poster and Essay Contest which has concluded. The entries have all been submitted for judging and the winners will be announced in the near future.

The Supervisors also discussed the Farmers Business Bank which had recently opened. Several comments were made on the suggestions for next year. The Board of Supervisors met approximately. Allen Allen, as a new coordinator with the Conservation District.

David Stipes of the Soil Conservation Service reported that there were no more annual Lake Kentucky clean-up events. Mr. Stipes also reported that the grass is being mowed on top of the roadbanks that were seeded recently.

After some closing comments, Roy Brown adjourned the meeting.

TIPS FOR REMOVING CANDLE WAX STAINS

Candles are a popular holiday decoration—but they can spoil holiday fun for the business when expensive tablecloths are spotted. With special techniques, wax stains can be removed. Candle wax needs to be pushed out of a fabric the same way it came in, not forced through the fabric. Even if the wax is the same color as the fabric or if the fabric follows these tips for removing the candle dye stain.

1. Scrape off excess wax with a dull knife.
2. Place the stain face down on a blotter. A regular desk blotter will do.
3. Press the back of the tablecloth with a slightly warm iron. Keep moving the blotter around under the stain until the stain is absorbed.
4. If some of the stain still remains, try using a stain remover, such as Carbona or Energine, that is effective on oily, greasy or waxy stains.

COUNTERFEIT CREDIT CARDS A NATIONAL PROBLEM

Counterfeit credit cards cost credit card companies $42 million a year, and as a result legitimate consumers will soon note some changes in the appearance of their familiar plastic cards.

Many credit card companies are gearing up to wage a technological war against counterfeit cards. Last year the hologram, a new type of visual process for reading information stored on the magnetic strip on the back of credit cards was introduced. An "audiotape" reads the account numbers stored on the magnetic strip and automatically displays these numbers. The store clerk then can match the displayed number with the one embossed on the card. Another device in the making is to install a permanently embossed account number into the magnetic tape which would detect any tampering. Future credit cards may be come "smart cards" that contain computer circuits. The consumer will need a password and other information when using the card. For more information on other kinds of consumer fraud, the leaflet, "Consumer Fraud: A Handbook For Prevention and Recourse," can be picked up at the local county Extension office.

Providence church of Christ

How Would You Like This?

There is a church in your community which has no bowling club, no softball team, nor does it sponsor a Boy Scout troop. The physical property of this church includes a modern playground for assembly and worship. But in this building there is no kitchen, no banquet hall, no gymnasium, no party room.

Your first thought may be, "What a strange church! What a strange people!" However, many of these church members are your neighbors and are very normal people. They enjoy bowling and softball, some serve as coaches or managers of little league teams. Our teenage girls enjoy their party dresses, dates, and record sessions as much as any others of their age. Our young men "make the team" in high school and college, and the parents cheer them on with enthusiasm. But the church is not used as a club or social club.

By now you may be asking, "Then what does this congregation offer me? What does she offer the community in which we live?" These are fair questions and demand fair, open answers. Here is what the Providence Church of Christ offers:

A church that is undenominational (I Cor. 1:10). In the Bible we read of no denominations: "We only read of there being one body (Eph. 4:4). A church that has no head but Jesus Christ. We read of no earthly head in the Bible: "Christ is the head of the church (Col. 1:18), and the 'headquarters are in heaven' (Heb. 4:14).

A church that has no creed but the Bible. We are forbidden to add to or take from the word of God (Rev. 22:18-19). If we go beyond the doctrine of Christ, we have not the God (2 John 9).

A church that wears only a Bible name (Rom. 16:16; I Cor. 1:2). Most names that are associated with religious bodies are not found in the Bible. But if someone thinks that names don't make any difference, what about the name "church of Beelzebub" (Prince of devils)? You see, it does make a difference.

A church that doesn't use instruments of music to draw crowds and entertain. The New Testament tells us to sing (Eph. 5:19) and that is what we do. A church that takes the Lord's supper every Sunday (Acts 20:7). Most religious bodies take this supper monthly, quarterly, or not at all.

A church that speaks where the Bible speaks and is silent where the Bible is silent. The Apostle Peter said, "If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God" (I Pet. 4:11). A church that is supported by the free-will offering of its members (I Cor. 16:1-2). The Bible doesn't authorize a church to have rummage sales, pie dinners, or to buy and sell to raise money for the Lord's work.

In short, the church that Jesus built is a spiritual institution, administering to our spiritual needs. We make no boast of greatness on our own part, but pledge ourselves to strive diligently to follow the rule of God, the divine message. If you like this and would like to find such a church, visit with us soon at the Providence Church of Christ and let us welcome your honest investigation.
