NEED AN EXCUSE TO TRY SOMETHING DIFFERENT?

The Chinese New Year begins in February. If you are looking for a reason to celebrate or just a change of pace after the snowed-in days this month, try some of these exciting recipes. If you do not have a wok, you can use an electric skillet or heavy fry pan over the range unit.

Chinese or stir-fry cookery not only provides a change of pace dish for your family, but it is a low fat, nutritious form of food preparation.

- Hot Chinese Potato Salad
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
4 medium potatoes, halved lengthwise and thinly sliced (about 1 1/2 pounds)
1 cup each carrots and celery, thinly sliced on the diagonal
1/2 cup green pepper strips (1/4 x 2 inches)
1/2 cup sliced mushrooms
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 large tomato, cut in thin wedges
1/3 cup sliced green onions

In wok or large skillet, heat 1 1/2 tablespoons of the oil. Add potatoes; cook and stir over medium-high heat about 10 minutes until barely tender. Remove and keep warm. Add remaining oil to wok, then carrots, celery, pepper, mushrooms and garlic. Cook and stir 3 or 4 minutes until crisp-tender. In small bowl combine water, soy sauce and cornstarch. Return potatoes to wok with cornstarch mixture. Cool and stir about 2 minutes; just until sauce thickens and mixture is heated through. Spoon onto platter; garnish with tomato and onions. Makes 6 servings.

Ginger Fruit Oriental

- 1 1-pound can sliced peaches, drained
1 cup orange juice
2 teaspoons finely chopped candied ginger or 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger

2 bananas
Combine peach slices, orange juice and candied ginger. Chill several hours to blend flavors. Peel bananas and run fork down sides to flute. Slice on bias. Add to peach mixture. Heat in serving dishes.

Fried Rice

- 1 slice bacon
2 green onions, sliced
1 clove garlic, minced
2 cups cold, cooked rice
1 egg, beaten
1 1/2 tablespoons soy sauce
Salt and pepper
Fry bacon. Remove, add scallions and garlic and stir-fry in bacon fat 1 to 2 minutes. Add rice and stir-fry 4 to 5 minutes. Pour the beaten egg into a well in the rice.

VOTE FOR Tyree "Jr." GRAY for Rockcastle Co. SHERIFF

My Platform

First of all, I stand for Law and Order. If elected to the office of Sheriff, I will do my best to operate the Sheriff's Office the way it should be with at least one full-time deputy and myself to patrol and protect the citizens of Rockcastle Co.

Also, I will work very hard to set-up a Community Volunteer Deputy Program. These men will be outstanding law-abiding men in communities around the county. They will be selected and screened very carefully. My aim is to have as many volunteer deputies as possible.

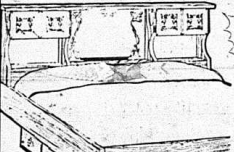

Myself and my full-time deputy will work hand-in-hand with the volunteer deputy program to insure 7 day a week, 24 hours a day protection to the citizens of Rockcastle Co. Furthermore, I will have a publicized 24 hour a day telephone number so the family in the furthest corner of this county will only be a phone call away from help when needed. I also have an idea about a neighborhood watch program.

I will work with the citizens of any neighborhood to set-up and get a good working watch program going. I also pledge to the citizens that if elected, the sheriff's office will be run in a business-like manner.

I also pledge to work for and to help in any way to make this a better, safer and more attractive county to live in.

Grass Tetany in beef cattle

What is grass tetany? True grass tetany is a cow disorder caused by an abnormally low amount of magnesium in the animal's blood. This is caused primarily by the cow's feed being low in magnesium. When grasses are used for feed, this condition will mainly occur in the spring.

Grass tetany is usually confined to females and is more likely to occur in older animals. Cows are more susceptible during their third and fourth lactations. The animals exhibit milk fever symptoms and may begin to walk stiffly or stagger. Their appetites may decrease and they usually become very dull in appearance. In many cases they will isolate themselves from the herd. As the disorder progresses, the animal sometimes becomes very nervous and occasionally has muscle tremors and will exhibit rapid breathing. In advanced cases the animal will collapse, go into convulsions and die. The disorder can run its course rapidly, and unless corrective measures are taken, death sometimes can occur less than an hour after the onset of visible symptoms.

If the magnesium level in the blood is low, it is mainly due to a low level of magnesium in the animal's feed. Three reasons why magnesium may be low in the animal's feed are species of grass, soil nutrient status, potassium levels and weather.

Grasses are lower in magnesium than legumes. The early lush growth is likely to be all grass (since legumes start growing later in the spring) and may be deficient in magnesium. Pastures, even grass pastures, should have adequate magnesium content in late spring or summer. Cereal crops such as wheat, rye, barley and corn are poor accumulators of magnesium. Forages of this type are apt to be low in magnesium in the spring or fall.

The plant must get its magnesium from the soil, and soils low in magnesium can limit the low plant content. However, at the present time, it appears that magnesium fertilization on most Kentucky soils would not be feasible. If the soil has a high potassium soil test the application will do little to increase the magnesium content within the plant. Only coarse (sandy) soils and soils with a low potassium soil test would show an increase in plant magnesium when fertilized. However, massive applications, such as with dolomitic limestone, would probably have a beneficial effect.

The potassium content in the soil is probably the dominant factor affecting the uptake of magnesium by the plant. Potassium competes with the uptake of magnesium. A similar type of relationship appears within the animal itself. The higher the amount of potassium entering the animal, the lower the amount of magnesium found in the blood. If the intake of magnesium is constant, the amount in the blood is lowered by higher potassium intake. Because of this, the potassium content of the soil should not be allowed to get into the high soil test range. A medium or high medium soil test should be sufficient for good pasture production and prevent significant reduction of magnesium in the animal.

Tetany has been associated with spring weather for quite some time. Also, it is worse some years than others, and this is mainly because it is closely associated with weather conditions.

Grass tetany occurs mainly when as soon as the weather breaks. One other rural abandoned mine project in the county is growth of grass in spring than in years with poor, slow growth.

Grass tetany is a threat anytime the average daily temperature is between 40 degrees and 60 degrees. Once the average daily temperature remains above 60 degrees for six consecutive days, the chance of grass tetany occurring is very low. Many times, the number of grass tetany occurrences is high five days after a sudden rise in temperature in the spring.

The feeding of magnesium to the animal is the fastest and most certain method of preventing the occurrence of grass tetany, though problems may still exist. Therefore, the prevention of tetany must be through a combination of correcting fertility imbalances in the soil as well as orally supplementing the animal.

Conservation District holds monthly meeting

The monthly meeting of the Rockcastle County Conservation District was held Tuesday, February 19th at the Courthouse in Mt. Vernon. Members present were Wallace Proctor, Lloyd Cain, Tommy Mink and Jack Dailey. The rural abandoned mine program was discussed as the first item of business. It was noted that Kentucky pays the largest percentage into this fund from any state. However, Kentucky ranks low in terms of the amount of money it receives from this fund to spend on abandoned mine sites. The District Supervisors decided to check into this further to see ways to get more of this money into Kentucky and Rockcastle County.

David Stripes of the District also to pay a portion of dues to the National Association of Conservation Districts. The board also approved a motion to purchase a new supply of envelopes for the District.

David Stripes of SCS reported that the ACP sup-up period with ASCS has been extended through March 1st. David also reported that the Loan Durham Rural Abandoned Mine Project will begin as soon as the weather breaks. One other rural abandoned mine project in the county is

Application deadline extended for Governor's Scholar Program to Feb. 19

The application deadline for the Governor's Scholars Program has been extended to February 19 because of the weather conditions that have closed many schools throughout Kentucky. The original deadline of February 1 was extended to February 6. Many schools have not been in session for several weeks or more.

Lillian Press, executive director of the program, urged school district officials to submit applications as soon as possible. "The applicants take considerable time to process," she said. "In fairness to students who are holding off making commitments to other programs in the type they will be selected as Governor's Scholars, we want to notify applicants of their status before the end of March."

"If bad weather continues to cause school closings, we may even have to accept applications beyond February 19," she said, "but we urge school counselors to use telephone and mail, if necessary, to obtain teacher recommendations and applications. Many school districts across Kentucky have met the original deadline, and we are grateful for their special efforts."

The Governor's Scholars Programs, a five-week residential, academic enrichment program for 600 of Kentucky's outstanding high school juniors, will be in session at Murray State University in the survey stage and is scheduled to begin this year. The meeting adjourned at approximately 4:30 p.m.

VOLUME 98 - NUMBER 29

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1985

Last week's winter storm that dumped over 9 inches of snow on the county made traveling rough for many Rockcastle residents. High winds during the snowfall caused some snow drifts to reach a height of over 8 feet on some county roads. A Rockcastle County grader is shown above trying to clear one of the drifts on the Brindle Ridge Road last Thursday afternoon. The drift, which was about 8 feet high, filled the road to the top of the banks for about 40 feet, which made travel on the road completely impossible. The Brindle Ridge area was hit hardest by the drifts because of its flat terrain.

2nd jail break in 4 months

Three men escape from Rockcastle jail

By: Richard Anderkin

The second jail break in less than four months has occurred at the Rockcastle County Jail. And two of the fugitives from justice this time are the same two who escaped from the facility less than a month ago.

At approximately 9:30 Monday night, Gerald Cotton, Jeff Prewitt and Bobby Ramsey fled the jail on foot after overpowering two men, according to one of the deputy jailers, Stanley Mullins.

Mullins said Tuesday that the three men, who were all in the same cell, were already out of that cell when he came on his shift at 9:30.

"They were in the slam area of the jail when I came on duty," he said. He explained that the slam area was a hallway between the men's cell and the showers. "When I got here, three of them were already in the hallway because they were supposed to be taking a shower," he said.

"The deputy jailer said that when he unlocked the door to get the men back in their cell, they overpowered him, knocking him out of the way and fled to the kitchen area of the jail where 2nd district magistrate Tom Denny was. "I yelled at Tom to lock the door to the kitchen, but the three men had already knocked him out of the way and fled," he said.

Mullins said the three men were in the same cell because it was the only one in which the commode worked. "The jail is in a bad state of repair and there is a great need for too full-time jailers to be on duty at the same time," Mullins said.

Rockcastle County Sheriff William Taylor said Tuesday that he thought the men were still in the county. "I don't think they had any money to leave town on," he said. Taylor, who along with deputies Mike Bryant and Jimmy Durham looked for the three escapees for over 5 hours Monday night and Tuesday morning, said there was a vehicle stolen from the Best Western Motel at Bard at around 4 a.m. Tuesday morning.

"I would say the three of them probably stole that car, but I still don't think they have left the county," Taylor said. Taylor said that his office and the state police were still investigating the case.

Gerald Cotton and Jeff Prewitt, who have broken out of jail twice now, were awaiting transfer to the State Penitentiary in LeGrange and Ramsey, who was being held without bond because he was already out of the penitentiary, was awaiting action by the Rockcastle County Grand Jury this Friday. According to Taylor, Cotton and Prewitt could not be moved until an opening at the penitentiary.

Cotton was sentenced to a total of eight years on January 25th by Rockcastle County Circuit Judge Dan Venters after he pled guilty to several charges, including the escape charge from the first time he fled jail, assault in the third degree, and two counts of receiving stolen property valued at over $100.

Ky. 461 progressing; bids to be awarded this summer

Contracts for improving two different sections of Ky. 461 are scheduled to be awarded sometime this year, and a segment of the road now under construction should be ready for use this fall.

The Mt. Vernon bypass, a part of the proposed improvements at the northern end of the controversial road, will be let to construction contractors in May, according to D. J. Garland, Eighth District engineer for the state's highway department.

The bypass section, which is slated to run approximately 3.8 miles, will extend from a point about 8 1/2 of a mile west of existing Ky. 461 U.S. 150 intersection, looping around to join U.S. 25 near the Red Top Restaurant.

The contract for the bypass was originally scheduled to be awarded next month, but Garland said a right-of-way problem delayed the bid opening contract until May. The bypass is estimated to cost around $5.5 million.

Press Secretary for Transportation Secretary Floyd Poor, Mary Mulloy, said last week that the bypass is part of the federal primary system, and the federal and state governments will share the cost on a 75-25 ratio, with the Transportation Cabinet paying the smaller part. The state will do all pre-construction activity, including design, right-of-way and utility relocation.

Garland added that the Highway Department is purchasing sufficient right-of-way for a four-lane bypass, but only two lanes will be built at first.

The other section of Ky. 461 for which a contract likely will be awarded this year is Pulaski County at the extreme southern end of the project. New construction will begin at the end of the existing improved section where the road leaves Ky. 80 on its northward trek toward Mt. Vernon. It will extend north, to about a mile and a half north of Buck Creek. The project includes a new bridge over the creek.

Mulloy said the cost of this first section of Ky. 461 is $4.8 million. The tentative date for awarding the contract is September 20.

The press secretary said that the money will come from the sale of bonds and that it is already earmarked and available.

London Bridge Co. currently is improving a section of Ky. 461 from a point 8 1/2 mile south of the existing Ky. 461 U.S. 150 intersection near Mt. Vernon, extending 2 1/2 miles south to just south of Wabul in Rockcastle County. The London firm got the over $2 million contract November 4, 1983, and this segment of road is scheduled to be finished this year.

Two sections of the 461 project currently are subjects of a design public hearing, according to legal advertisements now being published in the SIGNAL. These extend from 1 1/2 miles north of Buck Creek to south of Wabul and join the section of road now under construction.

The advertisements inform the public of their opportunity to inspect data at the Eighth District

Highway Department office on South 27 in Somerset and request a public hearing if they deem it necessary. "No public hearing will be scheduled without a request by a March 8th deadline, according to the Somerset office."

Tentative bid opening and

Attempt to save tobacco program

A bill that seeks to drastically reduce tobacco imports and ease pressure on the embattled federal tobacco support program was introduced last Tuesday by U. S. Rep. Harold Rogers of Somerset.

An aide to Rogers said last week that the measure Rogers will introduce asks that Congress impose an immediate limit on imports, which have been blamed for undermining the domestic price support program.

Under Rogers' bill, known as the Tobacco Import Relief Act of 1985, imports would be limited to 50 percent of the average amount of tobacco imported in the 10-year period from 1975 to 1984.

That would place the ceiling on imported tobacco at 101 million pounds a year—45 million for burley, 31 million for flue cured and 25 million for filler tobacco. It has been estimated that more than twice that much foreign tobacco was imported into the U. S. last year.

A request by farm groups, representing 12 states, for an import cut, similar to that sought by Rogers, received an unfavorable recommendation from the International Trade Commission, which was studying the cuts at the request of the Reagan administration.

Gregory vs. Gregory trial begins

A trial between a former County Attorney and his father got underway Tuesday in Rockcastle Circuit Court before Laurel Circuit Judge Lewis Hopper.

The case, involving David Gregory, et al. vs. William D.

Hollway Department office in Somerset and request a public hearing if they deem it necessary. "No public hearing will be scheduled without a request by a March 8th deadline, according to the Somerset office."

Tentative bid opening and contract letting date for the two sections underlying the design public hearing process is 1986, according to Chief District Engineer Leroy Brown.

The chief district engineer said the section from 1 1/2 miles

Rogers introduces bill to cut imports

The ITC ruled 4-1 that imported tobacco does not have an adverse effect on the production of domestic tobacco, much to the disbelief of tobacco-state legislators and farmers.

Reagan will make the final decision on the request, which was first made to him last March.

Rogers said last week he would introduce a bill seeking similar cuts as a result of the ITC decision.

He said last Friday in a prepared statement released by his aides from his Washington office that the ITC decision was wrong and hopefully this bill can correct that mistake.

Under the 42-year-old tobacco program, tobacco producers are guaranteed a minimum price for their tobacco in return for government-mandated limits on production.

Tobacco not bought by a private company is sold to the government pool, which borrows money at current interest rates from the Federal Commodity Credit Corporation to finance the advances to growers. The tobacco is stored in the pool until it can be sold at a profit.

However, cheaper imports in recent years have forced an increasing amount of domestic tobacco into the pool while making it harder to sell pool tobacco, which leaves the support program

Smith announces for sheriff

The race for the GOP nomination as Rockcastle County Sheriff has attracted another hopeful.

Shirley Smith of Rockcastle County, announced his candidacy this week. This is the first time he has run for a local office.

Smith said in announcing his candidacy Tuesday that, "with crime on the increase, I feel that the people of this county want a more diversified Sheriff's department, and I, myself, have been a victim of crimes and know the feeling one gets when they have to go through that."

He said that he intends to explain his platform of priorities which will show responsibilities before and after the election.

Smith is married to the former Libby Parsons, and they have two daughters, Marsha and Lisa. He is the son of Henry and Joyce Smith of Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon. He also has seven brothers and six sisters, eight of which live in Rockcastle County.

He joins incumbent William Taylor, former Deputy Sheriff Clarence "Jibb" Hastu, Ed Jackson, Harold Price and Mt. Vernon City Policeman Tyrone "Jr." Gray in the race.

Letters

Dear Editor:

I am seeking information about the William Witt family who lived in Kentucky many years ago. Williga Witt was my great grandfather. His second wife was Jane Cox. My record shows he died December 26, 1878. Would like a copy of an obituary, or would like to correspond with anyone who has Witt family records.

A William Witt born 1-20-1794 married a Mary Parker. If anyone has that record, would surely appreciate receiving a copy. There are many frustrated people searching the William Witt lines.

Would like to hear from anyone who has information.

Sincerely,

Rita Witt Simpson

Dear Editor:

I'm sure everyone has experienced great hardship due to this extremely snowy winter. My family has been blessed with only minor problems. Namely, only a couple of broken pipes and a steep driveway that becomes impossible to get up or down after a couple of inches of snow.

I just had to write to thank the good people who have helped us during the snow and cold.

Thanks to the plumber who came each time we called very quickly, and charged very reasonable fees. Thanks to Clyde Payne for pulling me from a ditch I backed into trying to get up the hill. Thanks for the strangers that stopped and pushed me out of the ditch when I was trying to go down the hill.

And a special thanks to the three people who plowed our drive so I can stay out of the ditch.

The first gas in a red jeep drove the drive the first Saturday we had all that snow, about two weeks ago.

The second time, on Feb. 13, at about 6:30 p.m., a white and blue Ford truck plowed the hill. I knew the faces, but couldn't put names to them - None of these good people would accept any payment, though the time and worry they saved us is without measure.

Thank you all, and may God bless.

I hope you will print this letter. It's the only way I can show my appreciation.

Sincerely yours,

Judy Foster

Sorry! This week's Ramblings is not going to be written by that hard-working mother with the "weird kids" as many might have thought. Instead, she thought you might like a change of pace so she decided to let "Weird Kid No. 5" do the column this week.

The topic? How I feel about missing school because of the weather. (Now hold on folks, this is a "hot" subject around our house!) As many young folks feel the same way I do, they would probably agree that you could sum the entire situation up in one word. B-o-r-i-n-g!!! There are a Prewitt, who was already serving time in the county jail for several offenses when he broke out the first time, had also pled guilty on January 25th to the escape charge and was sentenced to two years in the "pen." Prewitt was also to serve time for crimes that included four counts of theft by unlawful taking, criminal abuse, possession of a forged instrument and theft by deception, according to records on file in the Rockcastle County Circuit Clerk's office, where the information on Prewitt's crimes was also gathered.

Bobby Ramsey, who was on parole from an eight-year prison sentence in the state penitentiary, was arrested February 10th by local police after his father, Russell Ramsey, of Mt. Vernon swore out a warrant for him after his son shot at him.

He was being held without bond because he broke parole, according to a spokesperson in the Circuit Clerk's office, who said that Ramsey was in the "pen" because of a 1981 conviction of first degree, unlawful imprisonment and second degree attempted robbery.

Ramsey's conviction stemmed from a March 3, 1981 incident when he and another local man were hitchhiking on Ky. 461. According to police reports, Ramsey and his companion were picked up by a McCreary County man who was on his way to Somerset. Police said the two men pulled a gun on the man and made him stop his car and get in the trunk.

Ramsey received eight years for the crime.

He said that both of these projections could change.

"RAMBLINGS"

few other words which I might add such as, fattening, useless, dumb and last, not least, irritation. But, Hey, don't get upset parents. There are only 10,000 kids who serve with me -- wholeheartedly, I mean, let's face it, who in their right mind wants to go to school in the hot summer? Not me! I live for the summer. Why, if June and July were not vacation months, they would probably have to send me back to the factory for repairs.

But, of course, there are a few good points to the matter (and, please notice I said a few). You get to catch up on your Soap Operas. Of course, the only ones I care about are (1) Days of Our Lives, which you would know just happens to come on at 10 o'clock in the morning and this presents a problem since I don't usually get up before noon, if I can help it and (2) General Hospital, GH comes on at 3 o'clock and, since I'm usually home from school by around 3:30, I'm usually caught up with this show during the school year. So, there is really not too much advantage in that for me.

The other day, I was in the middle of a wonderful dream when Paige ("weird kid No. 4") tells me I have a phone call and that Mom will be home in a few minutes and that I don't have the kitchen cleaned up. So, I drag myself out of the bed, looking like a slob, only to find the kitchen a wreck and some cheerful person (who got up at a decent time) on the phone to tell me the latest gossip. I won't mention any names but her initials are Beverly Rowe--oops! Think of that as a misprint. And, while I'm in the middle of some hot gossip, my Mom walks in for lunch--the kitchen is a disaster area and poor me is right in the middle of it!

My solution for you people like me is (1) pray each night before you get to bed that "there will be school in Rockcastle County tomorrow" (2) eat your beegies and (3) don't call anyone before one o'clock in the afternoon and you might be able to beat the "out of school blues."

"GREGORY TRIAL"

Testimony Tuesday by David Gregory concerned myriad financial and property transactions between the two men and also touched on an agreement, between the two parties and containing among other things an easement to and buffer zone around, the younger Gregory's home. The case is expected to center around this agreement.

The trial will probably last several days, particularly if all of the more than 80 potential witnesses, listed by the defendants, are called.

Another lawsuit connected with the case is against Rockcastle County, filed by the younger Gregory, over the county's action in reopening a county road in the latter part of 1984 at the request of David Gregory.

The elder Gregory, who owns land on one side of the road, and with his son on the other side, contended in testimony Tuesday that the road was closed originally without his permission.

to pay costly interest rates.

Farmers assumed the cost of the loans and interest payments in 1982 with fees paid under the no-net cost program.

The law in 1982 was a penny a pound. That figure went to five cents in 1984 and shot up to nine cents a pound last year.

Many agricultural economists recently said the fee may go as high as 23 cents this year, although legislators reportedly will work to keep it in the 15-23 cent range.

Rogers pointed to the recent increases in growers' fees as another negative impact of the increase in tobacco imports.

Boys win two straight games by one-point margin

By: Richard Anderkin

After a 44-point drubbing by district power Clay County last Friday night, the Rockcastle County Rockets boys varsity bounced back to take consecutive wins at home this week.

On Monday night the boys defeated district foe Jackson County by one point, 30-29, at home, and on Tuesday night the boys took another one-point win over Whitley County, also on their home floor.

Monday night's game started with a bang when senior center Jackie Woodall stole a Jackson County pass and went the length of the floor for the slam dunk for the first two points of the contest.

The boys were red hot early on in the first quarter when they ran out to an early 14 to 6 lead.

Bruce Blanton hit several jumpers from the corner, and some key offensive rebounds gave the boys the early edge.

However, Jackson County never gave up as they fought hard

Two points away - Senior center Jackie Woodall is shown just prior to having a goal tending call made against him in Tuesday night's game with the Jackson Co. Generals at home. Woodall did touch the ball in the cylinder but it went in anyway. Woodall started the game with a bang when he stole the ball, took it the length of the floor and dunked it for his only two points of the game. Also in the photo is junior forward Greg Mink who scored the winning basket in the Rockets' one-point victory Tuesday night over Whitley Co.

Senior guard Bruce Blanton, No. 20, is shown above attempting to pass the ball to junior guard Greg Mink during action Monday night at home against district-foe Jackson County. The Rockets pulled out a narrow one-point victory. Bruce was high point man for the Rockets with 12. The boys will play Oneida in the 49th District Tournament next Wednesday night at Jackson Co.

In the second quarter, and a last second shot at the buzzer enabled them to pull within four points, at 20-16.

In the early going of the third period, the Rockets found themselves in a cold stretch and went 5 minutes without connecting on a field goal. But the Generals could muster no better an offense and managed only to tie the score at the end of the third period at 26.

The Rockets scored only four points in the fourth period, but, combined with some good defense and the help of a walking call late in the game, it was enough to pull out their fifth victory of the season.

Harold Graves hit a jumper from the baseline with about a minute to go to give the Rockets the lead at 30 to 29. The Generals brought the ball down, called time out, and set up what they hoped would be the game winning play. Everything went as head coach Ray Lakes had ordered except for the fact that his young guard was called for walking before he shot the ball from the floor. The shot he took went in and, had it not been for the violation, the Rockets would have found themselves behind. But it wasn't meant to be.

Senior guard Bruce Blanton led the Rockets in a low scoring ballgame with 12 points, junior forward Harold Graves, added 8 points. Jackie Woodall ended the game with 2 points.

On Tuesday the Rockets also pulled out a one-point victory over visiting Whitley County with the (Cont. to A5)

Greg Mink rebounded a missed shot by Bruce Blanton and put it back in with time running out to give the Rockets their second victory in as many outings.

The Rockets led at each intermission with leads of 4 points at the end of the first quarter, 1 point at halftime, and 3 points at the end of the third quarter.

Bruce Blanton led the game in scoring once again with 18, junior forward Scott Parrett added 6 points and Graves finished with 5.

The boys next regular scheduled game is Friday night at Middlesboro, and they will play the Oneida Mountaineers in the 49th District Tournament next Wednesday night at Jackson County.

Sophomore center Sandy Hunter had her work cut out for her the last two games, having to work the inside against Garrard County's big 6'2" senior center. Hunter still managed 13 points in Monday night's contest. Next Wednesday night, the girls meet Oneida in their first game of the 49th District Tournament at Jackson Co.

BIT begins tonight

After a two-week delay, it looks as though the 4th annual Brodhead Invitational Tournament is going to be held.

What has come to be known as the Cadillac of grade basketball tournaments in Rockcastle County, the B.I.T. will open play tonight (Thursday) with a four-game slate.

According to Shirley Martin, director of this year's tournament, Meace Middle School, of Pulaski County, and Mt. Vernon Elementary will open this year's tournament at 5 p.m. Tyler Elementary of Jackson County, and Roundstone Elementary will play at 6 p.m., while Livingston Elementary and Pulaski Elementary will face off in the 7 p.m. game. Host team Brodhead Elementary will face defending champion Science Hill in the nighttime at 8:30.

Mrs. Martin said the semifinals games will be played Friday night, with the consolation and championship game set for Saturday night.

As in the past, Mrs. Martin said that she is expecting a large turnout for the annual event.

This year's 49th District basketball tournament will get underway next Tuesday night at Jackson County High School with two games on the slate.

Although the tournament is being held at Jackson County, this year's host team is Oneida Baptist Institute, and they are the school that both the Rockcastle girls' and boys' varsity teams must defeat if they are to advance to the 13th Regional tournament which will be held at Clay County High School.

The RCHS girls' varsity will play at 6:30 next Wednesday night against the Lady Mountaineers, and the boys will play 20 minutes following the end of the girls' game.

On Tuesday night, the Jackson County girls and boys will square off against defending district champions, Clay County, to open the tournament. That action will also start at 6:30. The finals of the 49th District will be held Friday night, beginning with the girls' championship at 6:30, and the boys' championship at around 8:15.

The girls lost their only game with Oneida this year at Oneida and the boys were their only meeting with the Clay Co. school at RCHS by one point.

Freshman guard Tonya Parrett scrambles for the ball in action against the Garrard Co. Lady Lions Monday night at Garrard. The girls were soundly trounced 86-39 by a team who had only beaten them 39-30 on Saturday night at RCHS. Sophomore center Sandy Hunter was high scorer for the Rockets with 13; Paige Anderkin got 10; Regina Lewis, 6; Caroline Machal and Cindy Fain, 3 each and Anita Burke, 2 and Regina Campbell, 2. Last week, the girls played McCreary Central and lost that game 43-34. Senior forward Betty Milburn got 22 points in that contest and 14 against the Lady Lions Saturday night. Monday night, Milburn was unable to play because of an ankle injury received Saturday night. Hunter and Lewis also scored in the McCreary Central game with 6 each. In the Saturday night game against the Lady Lions, Hunter got 10; Anderkin, 4; Machal, Parrett and Fain, 2 each.

Record-breaking cold-spells have caused folks to use a lot more electricity than usual — what with heaters, blower motors, compressors and all being used so much.

At times like this, it helps to know that KU's rates are still among the lowest around. KU is proud that its rates are near the bottom of the bill comparison list. A lot of folks not served by KU are paying much more for the electricity they use.

Remember, though, during cold weather — or any other time, for that matter — you can help keep your energy bills as low as possible by using electricity effectively.

For conservation tips or advice, call your local KU office. They'll be glad to help.

4-H PROJECT RECORDS

An important and rewarding learning experience for 4-H members is keeping records of their 4-H project and activity work. The reason most often associated with record keeping is that records are used to measure the accomplishments of the 4-H member and to award them accordingly.

The awards offered for record keeping include recognizing a champion in each project at the county level in three age categories: junior, junior high and senior. These champions then prepare their records for area judging. Last year, a new area recognition trip was initiated for all 4-Hers entering records in area judging. The trip is to see a Kentucky Wildcat's Blue/White game in Lexington was rewarding to the 4-Hers and will be repeated again this year.

In addition, the area recognition trip, 4-Hers receive county and area ribbons, points toward being recognized as outstanding 4-Her at their school, points toward their club receiving the outstanding club award, and an invitation to the county 4-H recognition banquet where they are presented a project pin.

Senior 4-H members (age 14-19) who receive champion at area judging may submit their records to state judging. As a state winner, the senior 4-Her receives a free trip to Chicago to National 4-H Congress and has their record entered in national competition where they may win $1,000 college scholarships. A champion senior record is usually one which a young 4-Her started in the 4th or 5th grade and kept adding learning experiences each year in the same project.

Determining winners of project awards is only one reason for keeping records. By keeping a record, 4-Hers can see what they have accomplished and learned in a certain period of time. If it is a project which involves the production and sale of a product, such as with the dairy project, the 4-Her can determine expenses and income and then determine what the profit was on the project.

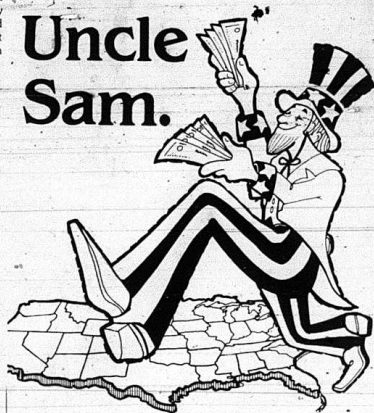

We all have to keep financial records even if it is the minimum amount required to balance our checkbook or to file our income taxes. 4-H record keeping helps 4-Hers learn to keep accurate records, thus helping them to prepare for the role as an adult record keeper.

In order for a 4-H member to do a good job of record keeping, the interests of 4-H leaders and parents are very important. The following tips will help leaders and parents assist 4-Hers with records:

Records should be kept simple and accurate. Project record forms come with each project book. If 4-Hers complete more than one unit of a project in a club year, units can be combined to build a stronger record. A stronger record is built when a 4-Her carries the same project each year and adds new

Troop 263 receives Honor Unit award

Troop 263 of Rockcastle County received the 1984 Honor Unit Award* from the Boy Scouts of America for their quality programming in 1983. The Boy Scout program gives scouts the opportunity for games, competition, campfires, and involves the scouts in outdoor programs that help build their character, encourage participating citizenship and develop their physical, mental and emotional fitness.

Troop 263 participated in such events as: Expo '84; spring camporee at Turkeyfoot; a week of Boy Scout Camp at Camp McKee; they learned CPR at Rockcastle County Hospital by Betty Puggell; camped out and hiked the 10-mile trail of Pioneer Mountain at Camp McKee; camped out and hiked two trails at Perryville, the 15-mile 'Dry Canteen Trail', learned Horsemanship at Salt Peter Cows from Bill Norton; camped out and hiked the 12-mile Massacre Trail near Louisville; toured the manufacturing plant and earned Textile Merit Badge; and participated in a council-wide Fall Camporee at Levi Jackson State Park and was among the very few troops that came home with top awards; their Scoutmaster, Robert Palmer, was elected to and completed the Order of the Arrow; and the following scouts advanced in rank: John Dale Adams, Alan Purcell, Aaron Purcell, Eddie Mosley, and Robbie Palmer. Billy Blair became a Life Scout. Troop 263 also achieved new boys' achieving goals: Clint McCown, Jeremy Brock and Marty Wright.

Troop 263 plans 1985 to be a full year of camping and hiking, field trips, advancement and wishes any boy to join their ranks. Troop 263 meets every Monday night at Bethany United Methodist Church at 6:30 p.m.

their annual Klondike Derby.

Troop 263 was represented by a few Boy Scouts and one Cub Scout as they left home very early that morning, bundled up with layers of clothing, knowing that they would spend the day outdoors, blazing with eagerness to show their skills in competitive action.

Their spirits high and the day still ahead and not wanting to miss a moment, they lined up for their various events. The events such as knot tying, orienteering, Tripod, First Aid, Edible Foods, the obstacle course and sled racing, all requiring concentration, a strong back and a warm heart.

At the end of the day, the leaders and scouts were presented with their awards. Troop 263 was very proud of their achievements as they were presented with two trophies: one for winning the sled pulling contest, and their greatest surprise and joy came with the second trophy. With only 3 Boy Scouts and 1 Cub Scout, they were presented with the trophy for Best Patrol. They also won a Blue Ribbon.

Those scouters who know the joy of receiving the trophies were Chad Merritt, Billy Blair and Robbie Palmer and the one Cub Scout was from Pack 263, Brad Shickelofed. Their leaders were Robert Palmer, Scoutmaster, Joe Merritt, Assistant Scoutmaster and Don Shickelofed, District Commissioner.

Hello from Clear Creek! I won't talk about the weather, for that subject has been worn out. But due to the weather, I'll tell you of my accident which could have kept a lot of people from reading this stuff (they're bored enough already when I fell and came down on my left arm and wrist. You talk about pain, I thought I had broken my arm, but it was a bad sprain. If the fall had been on my right arm, then you folk could have gone back to reading something more worthwhile - I did get out of doing the dishes for a few days.

I could just "pinch" these folk who are lucky enough to spend the winter in Florida. Neutral "Hill" Miracle is one of those from Fairview who is down there doing that. She called me on Valentine's Day to wish me a happy one (I needed that for my hints of a heart-shaped box of candy fall on empty grounds). Also, Neutral said she had kindfolk Cora Miracle Hays of Conway and Albert Miracle of Berea visiting her there. I'm a-thinking John and I could load up his truck in "Beverly Hills" fashion and go down to join 'em.

Hi there, good neighbor and friend, Henry Voltmer of Cedar Creek, Lowell, Indiana! He sends me, and "all those beautiful people along Clear Creek," a Valentine card. (He didn't mean in looks, Dick Venable, Joe Abney, and certain Fellow neighbor of Joe's). Henry says he just likes us down here from the way I write Pat Harding of Anglin Falls Road, who is Clear Creek's Librarian, stands before the entrance to Anglin Falls itself. You can see she drinks "spring water" every day.

From a Jackson County reader comes this picture of Mary Croucher McCollum and father, Elijah Croucher (deceased) who were both born on Clear Creek near the Disputanta Post Office. He was 85 at death.

about the folks. How much better do we want it? I say to Henry, leave Cedar Creek, come down and go fishing with Arnon Neeley, rabbit hunt with Joe Abney, visit Anglin Falls with Dick Venable, for hunt with Blubbed Sexton, learn how a man can hide out in the hills from having his picture taken as Raymond Hurley and Charles Northern do. If the season is right, visit Mayor Bill Buxens-strawberry field, but don't expect to learn John Harding's secret on raising bees nor Police Chief Junior King's success in getting more goats for his flock (or whatever).

Anyway, thank you, Henry, for your kind words in a Valentine greeting.

Well, it's birthday time around here. Raymond Hurley reached the nice age of 61 on Jan. 13th when he can say, if Lorene asks him to cut wood, that he's too old to work hard, or too young to be a senior citizen. Then Alta Berry, who's a whizz with a needle, celebrated her birthday on Feb. 13th, almost being a Valentine herself. Ruth Abney, Joe's better half, claims Feb. 18th when she became probably 39 or 40 (like me). Then Ruth has a grandson, Kirk Thomas, who had a birthday on the 21st. He is Joyce's son and it's hard to tell which of the two women love him best (not counting the girlfriends).

John Harding also had a bad fall. Mary told a neighbor, but no bad results from it. Leave the bees alone, John, in the winter time. They are staying home like the rest of us.

Phil Trill out of Davis Branch and Scaffold Cane Road to Berea, where so many workers drive over here, they are depended on and must go. Ellen Himes, who is employed at Boone Tavern, uses a 4-wheel drive truck which gets her there.

In the mail, Mabel Seal Fry of Oklahoma writes to renew memories of Scaffold Cane where she was raised. Teaching at Climax, she says Bluford Sexton was one of her pupils. Is that why, Mabel, you refused to take the school a second term? And why hint for some plumgranny seed, just sit right down and self-address an envelope with a 22-cent stamp on it, mail to me, and I'll start you in business. I don't mind promoting business out there in Oklahoma, for listen to the next letter I received.

From Lakeland, Florida, Velma O'Neil Onkist writes for plumgranny seed, no doubt but to compete with the orange crop which is having a bad time. Hooray for you, Velma! Get it there and show 'em you may have lived there 26 years (she says), but that good old Rockcastle background you have will help you to promote a new crop.

Here's to a belated Happy Birthday greeting on Jan. 17th to Clyde Anglin of Mt. Vernon, an old friend who is the widow of Bill Anglin, a Clear Creek boy who made good as the Sheriff of Rockcastle as well as a businessman. If my record of Clyde's age is correct, she would have been 93 years young for she still enjoys life. So congratulations, Clyde.

The Berea Hospital has some of the nicest employees and to make it better, many of them are from Rockcastle as when I referred to Jo Ann Burdette recently. So having business to settle, I was sent to the office of the Patent Accounts and Credit Manager, Boo, with a title like that. I could expect to deal with a tough character. I don't know how many of you have had to face a hospital bill when the insurance company backs off leaving you to mortgage the family home as well as dog and cat.

So with great fear and trembling I met Bill D. Sowder, a native of Rockcastle County, in his office. I had expected to be hung by the thumbs when I explained my situation that if the construction business didn't pick up, John and I would have to go and stay out the winter with relatives (and look how many Abneys there are). But Bill Sowder was so nice and helpful (oh, I had to pay) that my worst fears were over. That's why I say Berea Hospital has some of the best people in the world to keep things running.

On the wall of his office were some beautiful pictures of great looking cattle which I admired. He told me his home was located between Mt. Vernon and Brodhead and that the cattle were registered: Simmental breed that he raised. To me, cattle were raised for their meat and in my ignorance I said lightly, "I'll bet you have some great steaks and roasts to eat."

There was a pained look on Bill Sowder's face and I nudged for the door as he rose to his feet. "Oh, my Lord, no. We don't eat them. We raise them for show cattle."

Live and learn. I thought as I hurried out of the building.

I went up to a caslet at the funeral home and looked down in sorrow on the features of a friend, Lillian Mullins Thomas, wife of Dennis, who had lived on Davis Branch Road. Lillian was beautiful in death as she had been a beautiful woman in life. It was all so sudden that the family members were still in a seeming shock for their wife and mother had taken ill on Jan. 5th and passed away Feb. 8th, 33 days later. The dread killer had entered Lillian's life and taken too great a hold to be overcome. The family was told, "She only has a short time here in life."

God must have needed Lillian

Thomas for He called her home at age 46. We ask why she had to be taken at such a young age, but a verse in the Bible begins, "Ask not why,.... and we can only feel learning experiences every year. Records should be checked and updated throughout the club year, making a continuous record. It's easier to record things close to the time they happen.

Activities such as demonstrations, speeches, and tours related to a project add to its quality. (An example of a tour in the computer project might be to go to a local bank and ask them to show how their computer is used or to go to a computer sales store.)

Be specific when explaining what was learned in the project. Avoid generalizations, such as "I learned a lot about...." Most project records for the 1984-85 club year will be due May 15th. The exceptions are animal or horticulture projects which require work over the summer. These will be due in August.

a loss along with her family whom she loved as they did her.

I only knew Lillian a few short years, but her nature was such that I grew to love this friendly woman. Lillian would tell me of the vacation trips that she and Dennis would go on and have fun fishing. She was thrilled over the details of daughter, Sonya's wedding as she related them to me. She and daughter Tavana seemed like sisters when I would visit them in Berea. No grandchild ever had as devoted a grandmother as Lillian was to Alshia who spent many hours with her.

There will be a large broken link in the Thomas family chain for a time. Then God will bestow a healing on Lillian's loved ones and, although she will always be there in their memories, the sharp pains will be dulled until the family can bear it and go on with life as God meant for it to be. Till next week.

This isn't death we're facing, but it's life forever more. It's not the end yet re-reading. It is entering Heaven's door.

Six from here named to Cumberland Dean's List

Two hundred and ninety-one students have been included on Cumberland College's Dean's List for the Fall semester 1984, according to college president, Dr. Jim Taylor.

The Dean's List is published to recognize the academic excellence of those students who are registered for 12 or more semester hours, have no grade of "I," and attain a minimum cumulative scholastic standing of 3.50.

Those students recognized from Rockcastle County are: Melissa Ann Bryant, daughter of Mike and Carol Bryant; Martina J. Cromer, daughter of the late Jack Cromer and Erol Cromer; Harold Ray Harper, son of Harold and Edna Harper; Tamara M. Lunsford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lunsford; Jamie Leigh Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Payne; and Cleston A. Saylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleston Saylor.

Lyons promoted to Senior Airman

Jeffery K. Lyons, son of Norma J. Lyons of Mt. Vernon, has been specially identified for early promotion to senior airman in the U.S. Air Force.

The airman was awarded the new rating ahead of other Air Force members by a "below-the-zone" promotion board which considered job performance, military knowledge, bearing and self-improvement efforts. Lyons is a Morse systems operator at Wheeler Air Force Base, Hawaii, with the 6924th Electronic Security Squadron.

His wife, Melanie, is the daughter of Kermit and Carolyn F. Combs of Hazard.

The airman received an associate degree in 1982 from Eastern Kentucky University at Richmond.

Community Service Scholarship

The Christian Appalachian Project announces its annual scholarship program designed to promote community spirit and involvement. This year $1,000 in scholarship money will be awarded to each of the following counties: Clay, Floyd, Garrard, Jackson, Jessamine, Knott, Letcher, Lincoln, Madison, Magoffin, Martin, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Whitley and Wolfe. Nine additional counties are to be included as of 1985. They are as follows: Estill, Johnson, Knox, Laurel, Lee, Leslie, McCreary, Owsley and Powell. Additional grants of $1,000 will be awarded to the Barkers Childreng Center, Oneida Baptist Institute, Reibird Mission, and students of Kentucky School for the Deaf from the Appalachian counties.

Those scholarships are unique in that grade standing and family financial circumstances are not the prime factors for selection. Citizens' Committees from each community select the recipient or recipients from their county based upon involvements and contributions to their local communities. Applicants for the scholarships must be graduating seniors. However, it would be beneficial to younger students to inquire into requirements of scholarship for future reference.

Examples of student involvement might be volunteer work as hospital aides, visits to the sick and elderly, church related community projects, leadership roles in scouting, as well as community improvements along conservation and ecological lines. Many other examples would describe ways the student would contribute to making his or her community a better place in which to live.

Graduating seniors, your school counselor will have applications and further information concerning these scholarships by mid-March this year or you may contact the coordinator of Scholarships & Grants directly at C.A.P., 322 Crab Orchard Road, Lancaster, Ky. 40446. (606) 792-3051.

Sports In Kentucky

People and things. Kentucky football Coach Jerry Claiborne, when asked last week to evaluate the talent his staff managed to harvest this recruiting season, retorted, "ask me in four years."

That's fine of course and fans know full well that, at this point the signees are just so many names and numbers on paper, but those who have supported Kentucky so faithfully would have liked it better if the coach had given them some morsels to kick around at the coffee shop.

UK assistant coach Jerry Eisaman was a bit less reticent. "Each year if (recruiting) just gets better and better and we feel awfully good about this one. We got what we wanted."

Eisaman is excited about Mike Pfeifer (6-5, 250) of Louisville Trinity, "has the kind of height and range to really become a fine player."

At what position? "We really can't project that at this point," he said.

Eisaman said that freshmen coming in are allowed to "choose what position they want to try out for." Then we evaluate how they are doing with where our needs are and work it out from there."

Eisaman said that the Kentucky coaches are already busy preparing for spring practice (20 days), beginning the last week in March.

"We're already breaking down film from last season, seeing the areas we'll want to work on in spring practice," he said.

Four UK signees are listed in something called Max Emfinger's Super Dixie 225. They are wide receiver Dee Smith of Paducah, linebacker Carwell Gardner and Pifer of Trinity and tackle Vic Adams of Middlesboro.

Additionally, three others, according to some recruiting experts, are better than average college prospects—Ron Robinson, a defensive back from Nashville, 6-4 and 6-5, 225-pound Tom Crumrine of Westerville, Oh. And Eric Green, a defensive back from Cincinnati had a punting average of 44.3 yards per kick last year.

Is UK NCAA-bound?

If Kentucky's basketball team can muster 18 victories through the SEC Tournament, I think the Wildcats will receive an NCAA Tournament bid. Of course if UK wins the SEC tournament March 6-9, a bid comes automatically, but if not, "than an invitation will likely come anyway if only because of the expanded 64-team field and school's marquee value."

Vic Bubas, commissioner of the Sun Belt Conference, is chairman of the Division I NCAA Basketball Tournament Committee. In January, Bubas said, "I believe there are enough quality teams to go from 53 to 64 without a problem. We had over 20 teams last year that won more than 20 games and did not get invited to the NCAA Tournament."

As of last week, there were eight teams already with 20 victories this season and 29 others closing.

Final contenders

There are three categories—First & second liners and Dark horses.

First liners: eight of them—Georgetown, St. John's, Memphis State, Michigan, Georgia Tech, Syracuse, Louisiana Tech and SMU.

Second liners: Iowa, Duke, Oregon State, Virginia Commonwealth, North Carolina and Illinois.

Dark horses: Villanova, DePaul, Maryland, Dayton, Alabama-Birmingham, Texas El Paso and Southern Cal.

Southeastern Conference

This year's hoopball in the south has been a fascination in topsy-turvy.

Before the SEC season began, back on Oct. 15, Kentucky's Kenny Walker told a reporter, "I think four losses will win it."

It may be the only thing Walker has missed this season because five will do it, maybe even six to tie.

The favorite to win the league? My pick is Louisiana State. Coach Dale Brown's club has come full circle—favored at the start, sagged in the middle... then perhaps a good stretch run. LSU looked quite good beating Tennessee 87-82 last Thursday in Knoxville.

An important victory because the Bayou Bengals have been awful for the season (2-4 before the Tennessee win). Perhaps more indicative of why Brown's club is coming has been the play of freshman John Williams and point guard Derrick Taylor.

Williams is "no longer a freshman" and Taylor is playing more under control. Those two are the key to the Tigers winning the league along with the enigmatic Brown himself.

For Dale Brown did a dandy coaching job against Tennessee not allowing his club to panic when it got behind by 10 points, changing defenses, pressuring Michael Brooks, and shuffling personnel at all the right times.

The SEC league favorite, make mine LSU.

SEC vs. America

The 10 league teams have taken turns beating up on each other so frequently this season that not one of them is ranked in the Top 20. One fan wanted to know, "how have SEC teams done against outside competition?"

Answer: With all non-conference games accounted for except for the LSU-Syracuse game (Saturday)—SEC teams have a 68-22 record against non-league foes (75.5 win percent).

However, a closer examination reveals that the SEC's record is not so impressive against teams from the country's better leagues—ACC, Big Ten, Big East, Big 8, Metro and Pac-10.

SEC teams have a 14-15 record against members of the fore-mentioned leagues.

Which team has the best and poorest non-league record? Tennessee was 9-3 and Miss. State (4-5). Kentucky had the second worst (5-4). However, while UK was playing SMU, Kansas, Louisville, Purdue and North Carolina State, Tennessee was rolling against Idaho State, Vermont, Richmond and UNC-Charlotte.

College basketball, great fun, isn't it?

Is Western Kentucky Univer-

city basketball coach. Clem-Haskins is happy of losing his job? "No," a source close to the Hilltoppers said Wednesday, despite rumors to the contrary.

The inevitable grumblings have surfaced what with the Topps disappointing season so far. But while some fans may be old-fashioned director of athletics John Oldham is said to be backing his coach 100 percent. Haskins has another year on his contract.

Western has never bought up a coach's contract, nor has a Hilltopper coach been fired.

Foreign connection

"How are the foreign kids doing (the basketball season)?" a fan asked Tuesday. He referred to four foreign-exchange students who are on high school basketball teams in Asheville area.

They finally had a use for it... The State Highway Department, in an effort to clear county roads last week, brought out a new and bigger snowplow after the county was blanketed with a 9-inch snow. The Highway Department, as well as the county Road Department, worked all hours of the day and night trying to make roads passable. City employees also did their share in Mt. Vernon by clearing as many city streets as possible.

The above nine men all from Rockcastle County were recent winners of two men's double elimination basketball tournaments in Jackson County. One at Sand Gap and one at Anville. The team is sponsored by Saylor's Pharmacy of Mt. Vernon and are pictured front row left to right, Pat Crawford, David Bryant, Ronnie Brown and Billy "Red" Bryant. Back row from left, Danny Offutt, Curtis Brown, Troy McClure, Jerry Reynolds and Lonnie Mink.

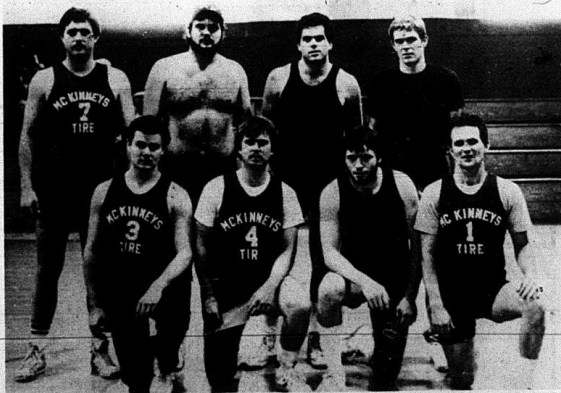

The local chapter of Future Farmers of America is observing National FFA Week February 16 through 23rd. Tuesday, County Judge/Executive Bob Jasper signed a proclamation officially designating FFA Week in Rockcastle County. FFA officers who were present were, from left: Dwayne McKinney, secretary; Phil Thompson, president; Scott Wolfe, vice president; Mark McClure, reporter; Richard Gibbs, sentinel and Bill Ponder, advisor. Not present was Ernest Singleton, treasurer.

National Vocational Education Week... Rockcastle County Judge/Executive Bob Jasper is shown signing a proclamation declaring last week as FBLA-VICA week in Rockcastle County in conjunction with National Vocational Education Week. Shown with

McKinney's Tire was recent winner of a men's double elimination tournament at Livingston last weekend. The team, which went undefeated in the tournament, is pictured front

An editorial in the Feb. 11 edition of Sporting News assailed college coaches for berating game officials in post game remarks to reporters. "It's unfortunate that officials can't begin to find for publication," the editorial says. "As Tulsa Tribune sports editor Mike Swartz suggested, 'You don't just imagine, Swartz wrote, if a game official had told the press after Arkansas's loss, 'SMB! That was the most poorly coached game I have ever seen.' I hope Arkansas' officials look at the same films to see how poorly they did. Sutton coached in the two games. He made some brilliant decisions."

Dwayne Feltz, Coach Don Dendler on who he has more of a love-hate game. "I don't mind a love-hate game. I don't mind a necessary evil."

"The look for this fall and winter will be bright and bold, according to Robert Smitheimer, R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.'s special events manager for More cigarettes. More and Ebony Magazine will parade the latest fashions across the country during the 27th annual Ebony Fashion Fair. The fair features styles from 114 American and European designers."

Christian County (8) is averaging 10 points and 6.5 rebounds through 20 games.

Jens Doerner (West Germany), a 6-8 junior forward at Hoptown High (15-4) is averaging 5.1 points and 5.2 rebounds. Whether Doerner is a junior or senior in eligibility is still being questioned.

Carlos Verdechia (Argentina), a 6-8 junior forward at University Heights Academy (12-2) is averaging 17.2 ppg and 8.9 rpg.

Also at University Heights is 6-4 Tony Baxter (England), a junior who is averaging 15.6 points and 7.1 rebounds.

"They're all reasonably good offensive players," said Steve Harmon of the Hopkinsville New Era. "But you can really see the difference between them and American players where emphasis on defense is concerned. They're still learning to play defense."

Tidbits

Phil Cox do UK a favor? Right. Vandy's playmaker from Doughton, Ky. swished a game winning hoop against Georgia last week that helped put UK alone at the top of the SEC standings. The 5-11 senior is closing in on becoming the school's all-time leading scorer too. Cox has 1,638 points, fourth best behind No. 3 Charles Davis, No. 2 Clyde Lee and No. 1 Mike Country Rhodes (1,699). Incidentally, Vandy's sports information department has put out a (modest) poster of Cox posing the idea: The Nation's Best Basketball Player? Beneath the photo of Cox it says, Under six feet tall.

Following the Kentucky-Ole Miss game, Rebels' coach Lee Hunt was asked about the Magnolia State's high school phenom Michael Payne, a 6-7, 205-pounder from Laurel, Miss. "He's a fine young player, a special kid all right," Hunt said. "We're hoping to get a visit from him. But he's not one to give away much about where he's going to college."

Comment: The University of Louisville, along with UK, is in the hunt for Payne, who, by the way, was thought to be considering Auburn, too, until Sonny Smith announced he will resign at season's end.

RCHS senior wins NSDAR contest

The Kentucky Society Daughters of the American Revolution has announced that William Scott Brown, a 17-year-old senior at Rockcastle County High School, has placed first in the state in the annual contest for the NSDAR American History Scholarship Contest. Scott is sponsored by the Rockcastle Chapter DAR. His American History teacher is Mr. William Lynch, and his home room teacher is Mrs. Iris Young, who is a member of the Rockcastle chapter.

By placing first in the State, Scott is eligible to compete on the national level for the scholarship which awards $2,000 per year for the four years of college. The applicant must be in the upper one-third of his class and must be planning to major in American History.

Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Brown of Rt. 1 Brodhead. He is a member of the English Club at the high school and is on the staff of the school newspaper; has played in the band and is frequently on the honor roll. He plans to attend the University of Kentucky, majoring in American History.

Scott and Mrs. Young will be guests of the Kentucky Society DAR for the Honors Luncheon to be held on March 13 at the Marriott Resort Hotel in Lexington during the DAR State Conference. Rockcastle Chapter would like to congratulate Scott for placing so high in the State and would also like to thank Mr. Lynch for his

Want a home business?

Seminar shows you how

If you enjoy sewing, making arts and crafts objects for your home, food preparation, refinishing or upholstering furniture or child care—and you're pretty good at it—you may have dreams of turning your hobby into a successful business.

But there's more to a profitable home business than creating or performing the work itself—a lot more. You have to know how to manage, how to sell, how to keep the books and how to figure your income taxes.

Anyone "tempted" by the dream of owning his or her business or already operating one should plan to attend a seminar sponsored by the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service. Called "Home Business: Is It For You?" the session will cover the basics for starting or running a small business in clothing, home furnishings, toots, child care or arts and crafts.

The area-wide seminar will be held from 9:30-3:00 p.m. on March 13 and 14 at Sue Bennett College in London.

Participating in the seminar will help would-be operators understand what's required to run a successful home business. "It will provide a sounder foundation for establishing a business and making more profit," said Cheryl Witt, County Extension Agent.

"Many people are already sewing for others, or selling craft items they make," she said. "But they may not be taking advantage of tax breaks they're entitled to. And they may not keep the kinds of records they need for a profitable business."

Home business owners also may be more casual than they should be in marketing their services. "They tend to think of themselves as professionals who have skills that others are willing to buy," said Mrs. Witt. The seminar will feature a panel of small-business owners who will give first hand accounts of their experiences, frustrations and successes.

Participants will be able to choose from among sessions on home furnishings, arts and crafts, clothing, foods and child care. The home furnishings workshop will discuss starting or maintaining a business repairing, refinishing or upholstering furniture or sewing home furnishings products. Topics include setting quality standards, pricing, keeping customer records, determining resources and purchasing supplies.

The session on arts and crafts will address the importance of high quality and quality control, upgrading design and production techniques, pricing, display, supplies and other resources, markets, and how to market your product and yourself.

The clothing workshop will emphasize increasing efficiency and professionalism for increased profit. Topics will be types of specialties, quality standards, fitting and altering, customer records and prices.

Participants in the foods section will learn about the advantages and disadvantages of the food service business, the different types of catering service, food safety, meeting the health department regulations, keeping business records and how to price their products.

The child care workshop, through discussion, active participation and audio-visual materials, will serve as a guide to those who seek to establish a family day-care home.

The cost of the seminar is $10, which includes registration, a notebook, refreshments and lunch. (The cost is tax deductible.) For more information on the seminar or how to register, contact your County Extension Agent for Home Economics. Call 256-2403.
