

April 15th is final day to apply for crop insurance

April 15 is the last day to apply for Crop Insurance for corn, grain sorghum, and tobacco in Rockcastle County, according to Richard Derringer, a representative of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

Crop Insurance covers unavoidable loss of production resulting from adverse weather conditions, wildlife, earthquake, or fire.

"Three coverage levels (50, 65, or 75 percent) are available for insurance protection. Additionally, FCIC offers three optional price elections for valuing production lost or damaged," says Derringer.

A new Crop Insurance plan, called Actual Production History (APH), is available this year to producers of corn, grain sorghum, and certain types of tobacco. Producers of these crops may now qualify for higher yield guarantees by proving their yield history. Rates have been developed to offer reduced premium for pro-

Insurance," says Derringer. To find out more about the APH plan, producers should contact a local authorized agent. To select an agent, producers may check the list of agents at the final ACSI office. April 15 is the final deadline for applications. Dealers will above-average yields. "This change could sharply reduce the cost of carrying Crop

New phone directory for Rockcastle Co.

Already over half of Rockcastle County residents have received the new Cumberland Valley Phone Directory and Guide—a publication that is offering instant cash. Security Publishing Group is introducing a new consolidated telephone directory to residents and businesses in the Cumberland Valley. It is a unique directory that will save time, money, and give everyone in Rockcastle County a chance to win instant cash just by using their new directory.

The new Cumberland Valley directory contains the white and yellow page listings for Rockcastle County, plus the four other counties in the Cumberland Valley. No longer will you need two phone books to get the regional listings you need. The entire Cumberland Valley will receive the same phone directory. Included are Laurel, Whitley, Knox, Rockcastle, and Clay counties. Approximately 58,000 directories are being distributed by Harte-Hanks Direct Marketing, Lexington, Ky., one of the nation's largest distributing companies. By April 19, virtually every household in the five county area will have the Cumberland Valley listings at their fingertips.

The reason for the expanded directory is twofold. The consolidated yellow pages offer Cumberland Valley residents goods and services from neighboring counties. This saves time as you no longer need to thumb through separate yellow page listings from counties and towns served by different telephone companies. And it saves on long distance directory assistance charges—at 50 cents a call, they add up. Plus the expanded listings offer area businesses the opportunity to reach consumers in nearby counties without having to place yellow page ads in different phone books.

Aside from the convenience of the expanded listings, the Cumberland Valley Directory contains valuable information, and money-saving coupons from area merchants. If you're new in the region, there's a section on the history of the Cumberland Valley, complete with a pictorial guide to historic homes of famous Kentuckians from the valley. The points of interest section directs you to state parks and recreation around the region. The directory outlines Kentucky hunting and fishing, gives local high school football schedules and a complete guide to Cincinnati Reds baseball. Your directory contains coupons that save you money on pizzas, wallpaper, car care, and much more.

Security Publishing Group, based in Lexington, produces directories for counties in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and the Bluegrass region of Kentucky. Of the 5,800 phone books published across the country, over 1,000 are produced by independents like Security Publishing. Some independently published books in northern states have been serving their areas for 150 years. And in Kentucky, over 50% of the population is presently being served by independent directories. Dallas Sheumaker, president of Security Publishing, comments, "Many people may ask why a new phone book. It's simply good old American competition. We feel we can do a better job—giving the consumer more and costing advertisers less."

The Bluegrass Gateway Phone Directory and Guide, serving Bourbon, Powell, Montgomery, and Clark counties, is a Security published directory with the same kinds of features as the Cumberland Valley Phone Directory. In a recent survey, Statistical Consultants, Inc., a research firm in Lexington, found that over 83% of users of the Bluegrass Gateway Phone Directory and Guide in Bourbon County used it as much or more than the Paris South-Central Bell Telephone Directory. Furthermore, 66.7% of users of the Bluegrass Directory appreciated the fact that all of the area listings are now included in the one publication. Security Publishing believes the new directory will be just as well received. "We're trying very hard to make sure every residence and business in the five county market receives a directory, as soon as possible," says Sheumaker.

The most exciting aspect of the new Cumberland Valley Directory is that Security Publishing is holding a contest to a quantity of the new directory and its features. Each week five area residents can win $50 cash from Security Publishing just by using their directories. Inserted in each and every directory is a numbered ticket, and each week five winning ticket numbers will appear in Cumberland Valley Directory's ad in the Mt. Vernon Signal.

If the Bluegrass Gateway Phone Directory is any indication of just how helpful the Cumberland Valley Phone Directory can be, you Cumberland Valley residents will be singing the praises of the new directory. When asked about the Bluegrass Gateway Directory, Mr. John Bush of Paris (Cont. to B5)

To the Voters of Rockcastle Co.

Are your taxes too high? What will they be next year? How about the next few years? These are questions that worry us all.

Our economy is not rebounding as fast as economists had hoped. Demands are being made for more money for education. Revenue sharing may be a thing of the past soon. The tax money to meet these demands -- where will it come from? It will undoubtedly come from the pockets of the taxpayer. That means you and me.

It is becoming more important yearly that our property is assessed at a fair and equal market value. It is very important that your Property Valuation Administrator be on his toes to insure that your property is fairly assessed. I can do that job for you the taxpayers, I want to be your P.V.A. the next four years to insure that you are treated with fairness and equality concerning your property assessment.

I humbly ask for your vote and support so I can be your P.V.A. in the next four years. Thanks again for your continued support and encouragement.

Recommendation to raise age of Compulsory school attendance to 18

Raising the compulsory school-attendance age from 16 to 18... or graduation, is one of 21 recommendations from the Dropout Prevention Advisory Commission.

Before that change goes into effect, however, the General Assembly should provide funds for alternative programs for students most likely to become school dropouts, the panel recommended at a meeting in Frankfort on Monday, March 18.

The commission recommended that the age change be made in the 1990-91 school year, and that funds be sought from the General Assembly in 1986 and 1988 to enable local school districts to develop dropout-prevention programs and special services for potential dropouts.

"Raising the age to 18 will not solve the problem alone," said Wandel Strange, the commission chairman and superintendent of the Hart County schools. "We need new money to provide the necessary programs and services along with changing the law."

The commission's recommendations will go to Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald, who appointed the group last year in response to legislation approved by the 1984 General Assembly. The recommendations will be considered by McDonald and the Department of Education develop a legislative package for 1986.

attendance to age 18 unless parents give written permission for students who are 16 or 17 to drop out of school.

Other major proposals from the commission include: Requiring the State Board of Education and local school boards to follow up on all dropouts at six months and 12 months to determine whether it is feasible for them to re-enter school.

Providing funds for local school districts to hire qualified personnel to address the special social and emotional needs of all children, giving first priority to those students identified as potential dropouts. The extra staff members would include guidance counselors, school social workers and psychologists, at a ratio of one for every 250 students.

Aslee Bray will chair

St. Jude's Bike-A-Thon

The Central Regional Office of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Mrs. Aslee Bray has agreed to chair the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-A-Thon in Brodhead.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, and provides total medical care to over 5,200 patients.

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are working side by side seeking not only a better means of treatment, but also the causes, cure and prevention of these terrible killers.

All findings and information gained at the hospital are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Thanks to St. Jude's children who have leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, sickle cell anemia, and other child killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

The Bike-A-Thon program is dedicated to "Jaime." Jaime is from Ohio and was diagnosed with leukemia in May of 1983, and began treatment at St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital. Today, her cancer is in remission and she is doing quite-well. Jaime is a living example of the progress and success of the research, patient care and educational programs of this internationally recognized hospital.

We sincerely appreciate the concern that Mrs. Bray has for our work and we hope the citizens of Brodhead will support the Bike-A-Thon this spring to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset... Our Children.

Second annual Kentucky Leukemia Type-A-Thon

FBLA members of the Harry Sparks Vocational School will be participating in the Second Annual Kentucky Leukemia Type-A-Thon! Students will solicit donations based on how many words are typed in a five minute period, and will receive prizes based on amount of pledges collected. The proceeds will go to the Kentucky Chapter, Leukemia Society of America, which provides patient aid for leukemia victims, research into the cause and cure, and public and professional education.

Students participating in this year's events to be held April 29th are joining the fight against leukemia in Kentucky and are improving their typing skills as well.

Child Abuse Prevention Month

According to Attorney General David L. Armstrong, child abuse continues to be the leading cause of death of children age three and under. "We have to face the tragic fact that abuse is a growing problem for Kentucky's children," he said.

In 1984, more than 19,329 children were reported as being abused in Kentucky. "Since April has been proclaimed by President Reagan as National Child Abuse Prevention Month, it is particularly important to inform Kentuckians now that everyone—doctors, nurses, teachers, neighbors—everyone has a legal responsibility to report suspected child abuse," Armstrong said.

According to Armstrong, neglected, mistreated and neglected of a child by a parent or caretaker resulting in injury or harm to the child. Physical, verbal, emotional and sexual abuse are the common forms of child abuse. Actions range from inappropriate clothing or discipline to severe beatings, rape and murder. "Children have been burned, scalded, beaten, locked in closets, tied to furniture—the list is endless," he said.

Armstrong added that there are several signs to look for when considering the possibility of child abuse.

Does the child appear to be afraid of his or her parents and other adults in general?

Are there usually frequent injuries with bizarre or impossible explanations?

Does the child have a poor self-concept or low self-esteem?

Are behavior extremes exhibited ranging from aggressive to passive behavior?

Does there seem to be "unusual sexual knowledge" or seductive behavior?

Does the child seem to have a neglected appearance such as undernourished, inadequately clothed, or is left alone for long periods of time?

Parents who abuse their children may follow certain patterns or display certain characteristics such as: isolation from family and friends, financial problems, unrealistic expectations concerning their children, low self-esteem and low frustration levels, and fear or being rejected.

"In June, 1964, Kentucky was one of the first states to pass legislation on reporting child abuse. Anyone who suspects a child of being abused must report it," Armstrong said. "Private, confidential conversations between husband and wife or doctor and patient do not exclude one from reporting."

Persons who know or have a reasonable cause to suspect a child is being abused, should call 1-800-752-6000 toll-free, 24 hours a day. Or notify the local county office of the Cabinet for Human Resources, Bureau of Social Services. Give the names, addresses, ages, dates, injuries, and who might be responsible for the abuse. The names of those reporting are considered confidential and will not be released unless ordered by the court.

The Office of the Attorney General has a Child Abuse and Neglect Legal Information Phone Line, (502) 564-2438, to answer legal questions concerning child abuse.

Fiscal Court must have garbage disposal plan by end of December

By: Ray McClure

Garbage, YUK!
That is an often heard response when someone mentions the word garbage—that never-ending stream of paper, trash, dead animals and “gook” that is continually stacking up across the country.

And it's stacking up in Rockcastle County just as fast as anywhere else. Most residents know it, but hope it will go away, maybe sink into the topsoil.

If won't, and the remedy could be as unpleasant as the piles of waste that gather and gather with no officially approved place to put it.

Sure, a landfill would be nice, but remember, DON'T PUT IT NEXT TO ME!

Come to think of it, a landfill or garbage dump brings to mind the old observation someone once made about Heaven. Everybody wants to go to Heaven, but nobody wants to die. Everybody wants a landfill, but no one wants it next door.

In Rockcastle, garbage is collected regularly, but before the year is out, the county will be faced with what could be its biggest problem ever.

The Rockcastle Fiscal Court has until December 31 to formulate and agree on a solid waste disposal plan. (Most of us know it as garbage) and show some inclination of implementing the plan, or the state will step in and take drastic action. How drastic?

The county could face a fine of up to $1,000 a day if the December 31 deadline passes without a plan. The county court magistrates and county judge on January 1, be they new or returned to office. You could say it wouldn't be a happy new year.

The exact amount of the fine would be left up to the Kentucky Cabinet. The Kentucky Legislature gave the cabinet the authority to set penalties for trashing the environment.

The Cumberland Valley Area Development District (CVADD) at London, that was thought to have been devising a solid waste disposal plan for the county, isn't. It does not have a contract to supply a plan. But it's "standing by" ready to begin when the court approves.

A Rockcastle plan is expected to cost about $18,000, with half the cost coming from the state, plus an additional allowance for in-kind service provided by the county, making the actual cost to the county about $7,000.

Tim Schwendenman, district specialist for CVADD, said his group will not approach the fiscal court again until after the May 28th primary when the "political climate" can be better judged.

"We are here to help the county with its plan, not here to force anything," Schwendenman said. "We don't want the county to face penalties. But if Rockcastle waits until late in the year to decide, there could be problems. I doubt the state would consider an extension."

There are at least three plans that probably will be considered and evaluated by the CVADD. One plan would be a landfill owned and operated exclusively by the county. Residents could bring their trash to the landfill. There could be a collection system set up but that would have to be determined after the final disposal method has been approved.

Estimated cost of a landfill that is county owned is about $250,000 for the land and for preparing the landfill to state specifications; about $180,000 for equipment, and a salary for the person or persons operating the landfill. Garbage must be covered daily.

The county was issued a permit by the state for a leased landfill near Pine Hill, but the magistrates, after approving it, turned around and rejected it unanimously when Livingston residents opposed it on the grounds it would contaminate their water supply that comes from Roundstone Creek.

Another plan would be to contract with another county to use its county-owned landfill. One such landfill in the vicinity is owned by Jackson County. Again, the method of collection would have to be determined.

A third plan was to use a private landfill in another county. This plan is actually in use here now. Clarence "Jit" Hasty, who has the contract for collection, takes garbage to a private landfill at Lily in Laurel County.

Hasty has had a contract with the county to collect garbage at $4,750 annually. The county also pays a dump fee of $15 a load with a maximum of eight loads weekly. Actually, Hasty's contract has expired but has been extended by the court on a month-by-month basis.

From July 1, 1984 to the present time, the county has spent about $47,177 for garbage disposal with $32,075 coming from revenue sharing funds and $15,102 from the Economic Assistance Fund (coal and minerals tax).

State revenue sharing being ended by the Reagan Administration, the garbage problem could become critical very quickly.

All officials, state and local, agree on one thing—the public will end up paying for garbage disposal no matter the method. Don't be surprised. Some future date, a fee for garbage disposal suddenly shows up on one of your bills, such as water or property tax, or who knows?

Garbage collection and disposal has always been a problem in about every county in every state. In Rockcastle, bins (green boxes) were set up at various locations and emptied weekly. But some residents abused them and some were set after and destroyed.

Hasty now has seven garbage collection points. They are: Blue Springs, Pongo, Green Hill, Brodhead, Pine Hill, Brush Creek and Quail.

Hasty also has half of Mt. Vernon's garbage disposal contract. His half is west of Richmond Street and Sand Springs Road. William K. Bullen has the other half, including all businesses.

Hasty does not charge for house-to-house collection which is done on each Monday.

"I do not charge residents and I have not authorized anyone to collect money on a regular basis," Hasty declared. "If it's being done in my area of Mt. Vernon or in the county, it's not any of our people. However, anyone wants to contribute, it sure would help."

State police search county jail Monday on a rape conviction. Abney said that he was not notified of the raid beforehand. "All they had to do was come down here and ask me to search the jail," Abney said. "At times in the past, the state police have called and offered to bring their narcotics dogs to the jail for a shakedown to see if any of the prisoners are concealing any type of drugs."

Abney attributes the search to bad relations he has had with the state police in the past. "State regulations say that when anyone comes into the jail, they leave their firearms outside."

State regulations also say that I cannot lodge a hurt or sick prisoner in jail before they have been treated at the hospital and they don't like that," he said.

Abney said that it is very easy for prisoners to get items in their cell from the outside. He said that the state requires that all jails have two visitation days per week and that one of those days be on the weekend. "When we have a lot of prisoners in the jail, we have as many as twenty visitors back there at one time. It is impossible for one man to watch all those people, and the only way you are going to keep everything out of the cells is have booths (visitation

Parking changes recommended for downtown Mt. Vernon area

By: Ray McClure

Sweeping changes in parking are in the offering in downtown Mt. Vernon if the Mt. Vernon City Council proceeds with recommendations made by the Mt. Vernon Local Development Corp. (LDC) at a council meeting Monday night.

The LDC asked the council to remove parking meters and mark tires to get a better turnover on prime off-street parking. The council took the matter under advisement and will discuss it.

The LDC also asked the council to arrange for more off-street parking for town employees and car pool parker.

The council agreed to try.

Floyd Owens, project director for the LDC, which has been instrumental in downtown beautification, told the council "to benefit the most people, a high turnover rate is encouraged for prime off-street parking."

"This situation can only be one reality if an efficient and consistent enforcement policy is employed, such as chalking tires and recording license plate numbers," Owens stated.

The council was told fewer parking tickets have been issued this year than last. The council agreed that a closer check on day-long parking should be made, but did not make a decision on removing parking meters.

Owens said a survey was made on three consecutive days of parking on Main Street that showed that over 70 percent of cars parked were not at meters or those parked at meters were not paying. He said the L & N Railroad parking lot was being used mostly by car pool people or commuters, as well as the lot in front of the courthouse. He said car pool people and courthouse employees need more parking.

"Prime street parking is limited and must be used by those having business in local stores, post office and bank," he stated. "Off-street parking is needed for store employees, courthouse employees, and more off-street parking is needed by car pool people because merchants do not wish to lose the potential business of these people.

Off-street parking suggestions were:

Contact the railroad to see if the city could remove the mound of dirt between the railroad and Maple Street along Central Body Service and Cox Funeral Home, erect a fence along the railroad and have cars park parallel. That would possibly allow for parking 30 or more cars. The council agreed.

The city should make an effort to lease a lot between the Sears Catalog Store and Fred Baker property owned by Billy Hiatt, and ask the county and state for help in tiling and filling in and gravel to park an estimated 70 cars. Then ask car pool people and courthouse employees to use the lot. This would leave the present L & N parking lot for local and county people to park while shopping or conducting business in town. The council agreed to look into the matter.

The city was asked to check into the possibility of leasing an acre or two of land owned by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leach, located behind Ken's Repair Shop, just off of Main Street, for use by car pool people and town and courthouse employees. The council agreed to try.

CIRCUIT COURT

Wayne Clark vs. Dennis

DATELINE: WASHINGTON

A weekly report by

Congressman Hal Rogers

206 Cannon HOB, Washington, D.C. 20515

Reforming our tax system is a must

Many of you, along with millions of other Americans, are in a last-minute rush to send in your income tax returns to Uncle Sam. Often, it takes days or weeks of laboring over complicated forms, trying to figure what is owed, what can be exempted, what can or cannot be deducted, and interpreting the law.

Yet, each year, more and more of us are being cheated—cheated by a system that rewards big corporations with tax shelters, while at the same time piles ridiculously complicated rules on top of the average taxpayer. It is a system that desperately needs overhauling.

We struck one blow for liberty this week in Congress. Last year, the IRS had established a new rule, requiring that those who use their cars for business keep track of their mileage every day. No longer would simple receipts be allowed. Instead, drivers would have to document their mileage daily. In effect, the IRS wanted these small businessmen and farmers and others to drive with one hand while filling out their mileage forms with the other!

That our entire tax code needs a major overhaul. Recently, Citizens for Tax Justice reported that General Electric, a multibillion dollar corporation, paid no federal income tax in spite of profits of $6.5 billion—in fact, they received a refund. Dow Chemical made $776 million in profits, paid no taxes and received a refund. Union Carbide made $613 million, paid no taxes and received a refund. W. R. Grace and Company made $684 million; ditto.

Clark, Deborah Clark, Marvin McWhorter, and Diana McWhorter, complaint. 85-CI-085.
Connie Jo Ann Bond vs. Danny Avery Bond, petition for dissolution of marriage. 85-CI-055.
Linda (Morgan) Canada vs. Gerald Manuel Canada, petition for dissolution of marriage. 85-CI-056.
Gary Hayes vs. Vickie Ann Yates Hayes, petition for dissolution of marriage. 85-CI-057.

But this week, the House approved legislation to return some common sense to this record-keeping. Under this bill, which I supported and voted for, these small businessmen will no longer have to produce reams and reams of information to justify their business vehicle use. Instead, a simplified system will be set up to document business mileage.

These corporations and others are making out like bandits. Meanwhile, you and I pick up the tab while filling out a blizzard of forms so complicated that half of us need help to get our income taxes done.

A similar situation occurred last year, when waitresses and waiters were required to keep detailed records of their tips. In some cases, waitresses found themselves owing more in taxes than they got in tips! Fortunately, we were able to simplify this reporting system as well.

There are numerous plans now being discussed to simplify our tax system and spread the burden. Treasury Secretary James Baker is working on one plan for the Administration, Congressman Jack Kemp and Senator Bob Kasten have another idea, as do Congressman Richard Gephardt and Senator Bill Bradley. Each plan is slightly different in the way it works, but all of them have the same goal—simplifying our tax system as well.

The fact remains, however,

Letters

Dear Editor:

Your article on the Rockcastle County Library brought back many treasured memories of my years of service on the library board. I wish to give credit to Nancy Williams, "Neural Miracle," and Johnny Allen who also served on that board during those formative years.

Sincerely,

Joyce R. Henderson

Dear Editor:

As you know, an academic booster club has recently been organized by KAGE/Rockcastle for our county. We are in the process of raising money to promote and to reward academic excellence among our students in grades 1-12.

On Friday night, May 24, we will host an "Academic Awards Reception" at the high school. This is an exciting venture, and we have received good support from various businesses in and out of our community. Their contributions will help pay for the

and the awards to be given that night. We would like to provide team jackets for those thirteen students that have worked so diligently all year to represent Rockcastle County in the Lake Cumberland Academic Conference.

We would like to thank the following sponsors for their generous donations. They will receive an invitation to the reception with special recognition that night: Tag's Gallery, King's Pic Pac, Interstate Coal Company (in London), Cumberland Production Credit Association, Appliance Service Center, Rockcastle Manufacturing Co., and J & L, Inc.

We still need funds to accomplish these goals and similar ones. If your readers would like to become a part of this academic booster club, they may send their tax-deductible donations to KAGE Academic Booster Club, P. O. Box 430, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456. All contributions will be acknowledged upon receipt and will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Sue Hamm

VOICE FOR AND ELECT

Jackie Russell Renner County Judge/Executive

I am the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie R. Renner of Mt. Vernon, the grandson of the late Howard Renner and Curtis Barnett. I am an active member of First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon, a member of the Rockcastle Co. Young Republican Club, a graduate of Rockcastle County High School, a member of the Mt. Vernon City Council, a member of the Mt. Vernon Urban Renewal and Community Development Agency, a life-time Republican and resident of Rockcastle Co.

I have worked in and with the public for the past 9 years and I know the needs of our county. Most of you know me but for those who don't, ask around, for both my public record and private life are open for your inspection. I believe you will find in me an energetic young man, qualified to be your County Judge/Executive and an able public servant.

With all that's gone on in the past few years, I think it's time for a change, don't you? I offer you a real choice this year. I will be "Your Voice, The People's Voice" and not an echo of a select few.

I am a working man. I know the value of a dollar and your tax dollar will not be thrown away if I am Judge. I will serve you in an honest, fair and efficient way. I believe in equal treatment for all. The "Open Door" policy will be followed by me if elected. I have a deep concern to see our county move forward and catch up with our neighboring counties.

I will be a strong County Judge/Executive and I will serve you with thoroughness and compassion.

I offer no catchy slogans. I will not cut any corners but speak plainly and to the point. We don't need just the same old talk and more talk with the same old results. Now is the time to go forward and vote for our county's future.

I will be thankful for each vote and every word of support that you give me in my race to be the next Republican County Judge/Executive of Rockcastle Co.

Thank You,

Jackie Russell Renner

New guy in town. Eddie Sutton's appointment last week as successor to coach Joe B. Hall at the University of Kentucky was a (semi-)surprise. A UK official was not kidding when he "whispered" a few hours before Dr. Otis Singletary's announcement that, while he could not reveal the new coach's name, "he's a proven head coach and among the top five in America."

Sutton is that, and Kentucky basketball heads into a new era, that-it seems to me-looks most promising.

On court....
Sutton's teams have won consistently, nine straight trips to the NCAA tournament and with only an occasional superstar (Sidney Moncrief, Joe Kleine). Sutton's teams have always been extremely good on defense. During Final Four week, Sutton likened his defensive philosophy to that used by John Thompson at Georgetown.

Sutton's basic philosophy covers most everything. It's a "team" game.

Off court....
Unless Sutton's maneuverings through his first breathing-room-only press conference with Kentucky media last week were less than genuine, I was most impressed with the way he put his family first during introductory remarks-wife Patsy, and sons, Stephen, 20, Sean, 16, and Scott, 14.

"This is my girl," Sutton said proudly. "And come June 1st, Patsy and I will have been married 27 years."

Applause.
Then Sutton introduced his three sons, noting that 20-year-old Stephen is a pre-law student at the University of Arkansas, "I'm hoping he'll transfer to Kentucky."

Laughs.

Woman's Club meets

By: Brenda Lambert

Two prestigious presentations have been made during the last two meetings (Feb. 26 and March 26); a third was made in December to Mrs. Gertrude Hilton.

In February, Mrs. Ruth McFerron was presented her 50-year pin by President Judy Stewart-Shackelford. Mrs. McFerron expressed her appreciation and briefly discussed projects and people that had been a part of the club over the years. She especially remembers the practical projects that members were involved in during World War II. She said, "These gave the ladies a sense of helping, of patriotism." When she finished, she received a standing ovation.

On March 26, Mrs. Molly Bryant received her 50-year pin. She discussed the pleasure she had received throughout the years from the programs and the people that she met in the club. Having joined in high school, she is now an associate member and attends each time she can. She ended by praising another dedicated member, Gertrude Hilton, "whose heart is with the club even though she cannot attend tonight. We need more people like her," she said. The members honored her with a standing ovation.

Other items of ceremony and business in February were the devotional presented by Mrs. Arletta Norton; a letter from Gordon Pepe thanking the club for its $100 donation to the Foster Children; a discussion of money-making projects, and the appointment of Cheryl Witt as chairman of the Nominating Committee. Cheryl Witt, Brenda Lambert, Donna Hopkins, and Ruth Lambert were hostesses. Mrs. Ruth McFerron was the door prize.

In the March meeting, Kathy Cromer presented the devotional, Vicky Farthing read a letter offering prints for a reduced rate; the club voted to buy five prints for $15 to use as a fund-raiser; Treasurer Karen Noe reported that the club had $101.27 in the treasury; an amount that indicates the club must make additional revenue.

Alma Kendrick, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, mentioned several possible projects: a basketball game between the UK cheerleaders and the Woman's Club (a possibility for fall), a Cheerleading Clinic sponsored by the UK cheerleaders, a performance by Alabama (which was prohibitive because of the $50,000 fee), a dance for teenagers, a talent revue, and a cooperative work plan with Pizza Hut in which club members help prepare the food and/or serve as waitresses, allowing the club to make a certain percentage of the

DEALING WITH PESTICIDE CONTAMINATED CLOTHING

Farmers who use pesticides in preparing their lands for the coming farm season need to be aware of special requirements to care for their work clothes which come in contact with pesticides.

Following a few simple guidelines should make the care and maintenance of protective clothing trouble free.

Outer clothing can become easily contaminated during the mixing, loading and application stages of using pesticides. So farmers should consider wearing a disposal coverall over work clothes to provide an extra layer of protection. The coveralls can be removed easily and discarded after use.

All contaminated clothing should be removed outdoors or in an entry to avoid contamination of other areas. If a granular pesticide is used, shake clothing outdoors and make sure to empty the pockets and cuffs of any stain grains.

Contaminated clothing should be kept separate from all other clothing before and during laundering. Designate a container in the laundry area for contaminated clothing and be sure all family members are aware of its importance. If more than one pesticide is in use at any time, be sure to have a container for each.

Do not mix clothing contaminated by different pesticides before or during the laundering process.

Save clothing worn while handling pesticides for that use only. If clothing becomes saturated with concentrated pesticides, burn or bury the garments. Do not attempt to launder them.

When applying pesticides daily, wash contaminated clothing daily. Pesticide residue will be easier to remove and the chances of pesticide poisoning will be greatly minimized. Always wear waterproof gloves when handling highly contaminated clothing.

VOTE FOR
Danny W. Hinton
Magistrate
Rockcastle Co.
5th District

Voters of the 5th District,

By reading the advertisements placed in the Signal by Magisterial candidates, it is very evident that, to most of them, the maintenance of the county roads is their only concern. County roads are important but there is more to the Magistrate's job than that. The Fiscal Court, as a body, handles the county's financial matters and that is a big responsibility. If our financial affairs were handled more responsibly, we would have more money left for our roads.

Last year, our Fiscal Court tried to put a landfill in one of the worst locations in the county and could have ruined the water supply for hundreds of people and school children at Livingston. The actual cost of this landfill would have been 5 to 10 times the cost projected by the engineering report and the landfill would only have lasted 8 years. Was that responsible action?

How many other times in the past year has our Fiscal Court gotten itself in trouble by not checking things out before they act?

Why don't we have the same services that other surrounding counties have?

Why do we still have garbage piled on the ground waiting for pick-up?

Why is Rockcastle County not progressing?

The answer to these questions is:
1. Lack of a vision for the future!
2. Lack of proper planning for the future!
3. Lack of action!

Until we, the voters of Rockcastle County, put responsible people in all of our county offices, we can expect no more than the failures of the past.

I would like to have the opportunity to serve the people of the 5th District as your next Magistrate.

1. I have a vision for the future.
2. I will work with the other members of the Fiscal Court and the people of the 5th District in planning for our future.
3. I will work hard to see that these plans are carried out.

RGHS students participate in History Bowl

Twenty four junior and senior students attended the second annual History Bowl held at Eastern Kentucky University on April 5. The Bowl was sponsored by the EKU Department of History. 675 students represented 41 Kentucky schools in the state-wide competition. Entrants chose either the American History or World History test. Each test consisted of 75 multiple-choice items and one essay question.

Team championships were awarded to the three schools with the highest combined scores. First, second and third place individual winners in each category received an EKU Presidential Scholarship of $250 per semester for eight semesters. McDonald's and Beqley Drug Co. awarded the first place winners with Textbook Scholarships worth $600 for eight semesters. United States Savings Bonds were given to second and third place winners.

Science Club formed

These are some of the members of the recently formed Science Club at Mt. Vernon Elementary School. The club was established for 8th graders who exhibit a keen interest in science and to give these students an opportunity to demonstrate the skills they have learned in science and to develop skills in leadership and responsibility.

The club members will be responsible for a science "lending library" of equipment to be used by all grades. The members are able to demonstrate the use of the equipment as well as explain how to do special projects, such as construct an electric circuit; build, explain, and "erupt" a volcano, take blood pressure readings, etc.

The 8th graders this year have been required to do four creative projects that demonstrate a scientific principle. These students are displaying relief maps which were made as we studied maps and topographic features of the earth.

Mrs. Roberts' 5th grade completes Civil War study

Mrs. Dollie Roberts' fifth grade at the Mt. Vernon Elementary School has been studying the Civil War. Each student made a scrapbook. Some of the material put in the scrapbook were reports on Ulysses S. Grant, Robert E. Lee, Abraham Lincoln, Iron Clads, Henry Clay, Harriet Tubman, Douglas Fredrick, Clara Barton and many others.

We studied how the iron clads were used during the war. Some of us dressed as Civil War characters. Mark Richards won first place dressed as a Confederate soldier. Melissa McFerron and Patty Phelps came in second and third.

We had several skits about different characters or events. Some of them were Lincoln signing the Emancipation Proclamation which freed the slaves. Lee surrendering to Grant at the Appomattox Courthouse. Lincoln being shot by John Wilkes Booth and Carpet Baggers in the south. Women such as Harriet Tubman leading slaves north by way of the Underground Railroad. Sojourner Truth, Mary Walker, Clara Barton and Berthea Dix played an important part in the Civil War.

We are now studying how the south was rebuilt and how the nation worked together to make it what it is.

By studying the Civil War we have a better image of how our country came together. It makes us proud to be in a democratic country where we can all work together as a free country.

Kentucky, it was time for a change and the move to Eddie Sutton looks like a good one. Certainly UK fans who telephoned Sutton on his first radio call-in show on WWLK Tuesday evening demonstrated enthusiasm for UK's choice.

With Lute Olson's earlier rejection of the UK job in mind, Sutton was asked if he believed he was the number one man for the Kentucky job.

"I think so," he replied, looking down. "They couldn't get Bobby (Knight), or Dean (Smith), or Denny (Crum), or John (Thompson), so I guess I was next on the list."

As Sutton reeled off the names, Hagan sat nearby whispering after each that none of the forementioned had been approached.

Style change at UK?

When it was suggested to Sutton that his style and manner is different from Joe B. Hall's conservatism, he was on top of it.

"If you win, they don't care how you play the game, and that's the bottom line. They will love me until we lose that first game! But I don't think our philosophies are that much different. We both believe in discipline, getting players to play the game with great enthusiasm and intensity. And we both believe in strong defense.

"But I don't think you'll see anything very different in my philosophy than you've seen the last few years here at Kentucky," Sutton added. "Any team in sports that's successful over a long period, you'd better be strong defense. Joe's teams may have played with more zones than we do because we're primarily a man-to-man ball club. But we'll play some zones, too."

Leonard Hamilton

One of the first things Sutton did when he accepted the UK job, he said, was ask Leonard Hamilton to stay on as assistant coach. The news brought rousing applause from board members and reporters at the press conference.

It was indeed a sound decision.

Hamilton's reaction to being asked to stay on?

"I decided to evaluate my situation when there was something to evaluate," he said. "I found out this morning who the coach was and he asked me to stay."

Hamilton says he sees no style of play change in UK's future under Sutton. "I don't think there's going to be any difference in the kind of athletes we've been recruiting. Style? He likes man-to-man defense and aggressive offensive basketball and I like to think that's what we've been doing here too."

Hamilton's reaction to being overlooked after 11 years as a UK assistant?

"I didn't apply for the job and I had my reasons," he said. "I'm pleased with the progress I'm making toward the personal goals I've set for myself. Goals that I'd rather not discuss."

Letters

From Autry Duncan of Elizabethtown... "A few words about UKs. I believe Coach Hall did a better job coaching this year than he ever has before. I have nothing against Coach Hall and I feel like he has done a very good job following Mr. Rupp, but somehow I feel like it was good that Mr. Hall stepped down. I feel like it will be good for everyone if we get a fresh start away from the old line of people and move forward with new people. Again I have nothing but praise for Mr. Hall (even though I did not agree with all his moves with some of the players he had) but he was the coach and knew what he was doing. "I would have liked to have seen him play (Robert) Lock and (Cedric) Jenkins more, but I guess he thought it best to go all the time with Bret (Bearup).

UK will have to have more points from (Winston) Bennett if they are to win. One comment on last year's team that should have worried all. This is not meant to be critical of the kids but in the last half of the Georgetown game, the kids were scared. You could see it in their eyes and the passes and shots they took. But they were a good bunch of kids and I did enjoy seeing them play.

Again not trying to be critical, they all did well. And the best of all of them, including Mr. Hall, I would love to see this kind of stuff between the Rups (family) and Hall cease. I really don't see anything good coming from carrying a chip on your shoulder the rest of your life.

Again, I enjoyed these kids this year and Mr. Hall's coaching. It was good not to be the favorite every game for a change. Less pressure. I also believe the fans now will accept the fact that we cannot win every ball game."

Tulane tip of Ice berg?

The point shaving episode at Tulane University might be, in the opinion of some college coaches "an isolated incident."

But one revelation last week from New Orleans demonstrates I am convinced—that we are seeing the tip of an iceberg that goes far deeper and touches many more college programs in the country than Tulane and will be far more damaging in the long run.

After all, Tulane is not close to the General Motors class of college basketball and yet somebody paid John Williams $10,000 to sign a college scholarship.

Green Wave coach Ned Fowler admitted having paid Williams $100 a week and the player told reporters that when he signed four years ago he was given a shoebox with $10,000 inside.

It is not a doomsayer's view to suggest here that big money and the relentless pursuit after it, may be in the initial stages of consuming college basketball as we know it.

Certainly money and greed have killed the program at Tulane. And just as quickly as Tulane was a Metro Conference title contender, presto, the school's president Eamon Kelly recommended that the men's program be terminated.

I believe Eamon Kelly should be receiving a telephone call from President Ronald Reagan, commending him for attempting to kill a cancer that is gnawing at Our Game.

We live in a time when the pressures on coaches to win cause them to throw chairs, badger and abuse referees, and cheat.

Something Henry L. Mason, political science professor at Tulane University, said last week is (sadly) demonstrative of where we've gotten to.

"We've always been worried about 'big-time' intercollegiate athletics at Tulane," Mason told the Associated Press, "because of the expense of the program and because the athletes seemed more and more like 'pre-professional' sports players. We always felt that they were alien to the university, and in a sense, the scandal has proved this point."

Alien to the university. Yes, the point is made. And yet, somehow Mason's view is no more than a remarkable grasp for the obvious.

As big as college basketball has become, there are things going on that avoid print and media exposure only because coaches and those involved with college programs are clever enough to deal in cash and verbal commitments, thus avoiding leaving a trail of hard evidence.

And so, who are the foremost casualties in all this? They have not all come to the surface yet, but....

Not Ned Fowler. Even though the career of this former Metro Conference Coach of the Year is in a shambles and he is finished as a coach at any level, he will survive.

John Williams, maybe. The 23-year-old's promising career in the NBA is gone because not even the money grubbers from the play-for-pay league would touch a talent who has "been on the take." Worse, considering that drug charges are involved, Williams may face a prison sentence. But he will find a way to survive as well.

No, the real casualties here are college basketball and the fans who adore it so. You and me.

For what we are seeing unfold in New Orleans is I believe—sadly, just the tip of the iceberg.

If you have a point of view you would like to share, write to Bob Watkins, Rt. 1, Glendale, Ky. 42740.

4-H VARIETY SHOW

One of local 4-Hers favorite events is coming up next month. The 4-H Variety Show will be held on Tuesday, May 7th, at Brohead Elementary. 4-Hers around the county are beginning to practice and prepare for the show.

4-H Clubs preparing acts should follow these guidelines:
1. Specialty acts shall consist of four 4-H participants or fewer and have a time limit of four minutes. A 4-H club may have up to two specialty acts.

2. Minimum requirements for the club act state that twenty percent of the club participants or five participants, whichever is greater, must be involved. Club acts have a time limit of eight minutes.

3. Only one person other than 4-H participants, such as pianist, may accompany the act. Other than the one accompanist, only 4-H participants may appear on the stage during the act.

4. Variety Show participants must be a 4-H club member or have participated in a 4-H activity since September, 1984, and may only represent one club. 4-Hers belonging to two clubs may not be in both club's acts.

5. An act exceeding the time limit should be permitted to finish but cannot be awarded champion.
6. Since participation is of the utmost importance, the combination of clubs for the purpose of presenting a club or specialty act is not permitted.

7. Dramatic readings can be entered as a variety act.

8. All acts must use the same P.A. system. No act will be allowed to provide their own systems. As it was last year, an additional P.A. system will be used to supplement the existing Brohead system. A record player and tape recorder will be available.

9. Leaders must take care of their own music.

10. Each school will sit together until time for their acts. Club leaders are responsible for keeping their group together and quiet. Parents should be recruited to help as chaperones.

11. Admission will be charged to those who are not participating in acts. 75 cents for children and $1.00 for adults. Tickets for participants and leaders will be delivered after clubs call in to register their acts. 4-Hers who lose their tickets will have to pay the admission charge.

12. Clubs must register their act by calling the Extension Office (256-2403) by Wednesday, May 1. NO acts that fail to register will be allowed to perform. Registration information will include:
- name of act
- type of music that will be used (tape, record)
- number in act (names if a specialty act)

- whether you plan to come to rehearsal night
13. A rehearsal night will be held the night before the Variety Show on Monday, May 7. A time schedule will be worked out with participants having 15 minutes in which they may go through their act on stage and try out the P.A. system. When clubs call to register their act, they must specify at that time whether they would like a practice time. This will be the only time groups will be allowed to practice on stage. Be prepared to tell what time you wish to practice when you call to register your act.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Kentucky Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet, Division of Water, hereby gives notice that the Livingston Municipal Water Works, Inc. exceeded the maximum contaminant level for coliform bacteria for the reporting period of December, 1984.

The test results for coliform bacteria (normally found in the intestinal tract of humans and other warm-blooded animals) indicate that some contamination occurred. Coliform bacteria is not considered harmful, however, its presence is a reliable indicator that harmful bacteria may have been present in the water at that time.

The Livingston Municipal Water Works, Inc. was formally notified of this violation and the regulatory requirement to inform their consumers of this violation. As of April 2, 1985, the Division of Water has not received verification of the Public Notification. Therefore, the Division of Water is acting on behalf of the water supply in issuing this statement in accordance with the Kentucky Public and Semipublic Water Supplies Regulations (401 KAR 6:015).

Other violations accumulated since July 1984 are: July, 1984 - Failed to submit an adequate number of water samples for bacteriological analysis.

Questions or comments concerning this Public Notice may be directed to Drinking Water Branch, Division of Water, 18 Reilly Road, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

turned out to be in Livingston on April 6th. We, the ladies class of the Livingston Christian Church who sponsored Big Night, wish to thank everyone, especially, Elsie Gilliam Jones who came up with the idea.

We honored Miss Josephine Dickerson, one of our many retired school teachers, who is coming to her home after suffering a stroke on September 10, 1984.

The ladies got busy and everything seemed to fall in place.

We thank James H. Lamberti, who was Master of Ceremonies, and Mr. Charles B. Parsons, who did a wonderful job of reminiscing the years of Miss Josephine's teaching in the rural schools and Livingston High School. A special thanks to the Livingston Basketball Alumni who really put on a show. The remark was made by many that they did a better job and played better ball than a lot of games put on at UK.

We say "Thanks" to everyone from the smallest to the largest for any part you had in the Big Night. All proceeds go for new seats and carpet for our church.

Steve WEAVER DEPUTY

First of all, I stand for Law and Order. If elected to the office of Sheriff, I will do my best to operate the Sheriff's office the way it should be with at least one full-time deputy and myself to patrol and protect the citizens of Rockcastle Co.

Also, I will work very hard to set up a Community Volunteer Deputy Program. These men will be outstanding law-abiding men in communities around the county. They will be selected and screened very carefully. My aim is to have as many volunteer deputies as possible.

Myself and my full-time deputy will work hand-in-hand with the volunteer deputy program to insure 7 day a week, 24 hour a day protection to the citizens of Rockcastle Co. Furthermore, I will have a publicized 24 hour a day telephone number so the family in the furthestmost corner of this county will only be a phone call away from help when needed. I also have an idea about a neighborhood watch program.

I will work with the citizens of any neighborhood to set up and get a good working watch program going. I also pledge to the citizens that if elected, the sheriff's office will be run in a business-like manner.

I also pledge to work for and to help in any way to make this a better, safer and more attractive county to live in.

"Remember this the next time someone tells you to go fly a kite."

When Tom Sawyer would go outside to fly his kite, Aunt Polly would always caution him to be careful. He let on like he didn't pay her any mind, but he secretly knew she was right.

These days, kite flyin' requires special attention to safety. There are power lines that weren't up there in the old days. And modern-day Tom Sawyers and Becky Thatchers know that kites and electric wires should never cross each other's paths. And the same goes for model airplanes.

"If your kite or model airplane accidentally becomes tangled with a power line, don't try to retrieve it. And never climb utility poles, substation fences, or trees near electric wires.

Respectin' the power of electricity could save your life some day."

booths) that prohibit any type of physical contact, and we don't have that," he said.

Abney's lawyer, a local attorney, said the search warrant, which was issued at approximately 4:15 Monday afternoon by local trial commissioner Robert Robinson, was, in his opinion, illegal

The warrant was obtained by KSP Detective Ernie Boggs, who said in a sworn affidavit that "on Sunday April 7, 1985, State Trooper Nicky Hensley, while in the prisoner section of the Rockcastle County jail, he strongly smelled the smoke of burning marijuana. When he reported it to Deputy Jailer John Bullock, he was told, 'No, there isn't. No action or investigation was taken by the deputy jailer."

Abney said the fact that the state police obtained a search warrant without his knowledge did not bother him, but feeling he was intentionally set up, does.

"The jail is open to search whenever they request it," Abney said, "but the fact that Channel 27, a Lexington-based television station, was with the state police at the time of the raid does bother me."

Abney said that he was told by state police the newsman just happened to pass the London post while troopers were leaving for the raid. "That seems unlikely to me," he said.

KSP public affairs officer Gilbert Accardo, Jr. said Tuesday morning after the raid that it was standard procedure not to notify the jailer prior to the search of a jail and that Monday as few people as possible were notified.

Accardo also confirmed that the Channel 27 newsman was passing the post at London on his way to Hazard when he noticed the movement and asked to "tag along."

Members of the KSP who participated in the search were Detectives William Stewart, Ernie Boggs and David Campbell and Troopers Gary Lane and Joe Schenkelfelder.

When asked if the bad publicity had dampened his political hopes, Abney said, "Definitely not. I haven't done anything wrong, and I'm in this race to the end."

"CITY COUNCIL"

Owens reported bids have been taken to erect a stone and iron rail fence on the parking lot in front of the courthouse.

Bids have been asked to reconstruct rock around the spring in Spout Spring Park. The council thought it was a good idea.

A request was sent to the Rockcastle Fiscal Court for money to buy two street lights for the courthouse yard and two for the Rockcastle Health Department Building.

It does not pay to damage the decorative lights along Main Street. The council was told the replacement bill for a light damaged by Kenneth Melvin Baker of Orlando will be $542.80.

The council paid a $1,710 bill for a fire hose that was delivered earlier.

The council also heard a report on sewer construction in the city and settled several problems with water service and bills.

"GARBAGE DISPOSAL"

collect all business trash. Eddie Fields collects residential garbage for Bullen in the area east of Richmond Street and Sand Springs Road. He uses a sticker method. He sells a sticker for 75 cents that is placed on a bag of garbage when set at the curb. If no sticker, the garbage is not picked up. Residential garbage is taken by Fields to a site owned by Bullen near Renfro Valley. Helton takes business garbage to Corbin.

"In discussing garbage, both Hasty and Bullen leaned toward use of an industrial compactor that would be operated by a private garbage collector. The public could take trash and garbage to the compactor where a disposal fee would be charged. Again, the method of collection would have to be decided, if any.

"If there were a landfill, you'd have to take your garbage to it, down some muddy hollow, so you might as well bring it to a nice clean area that has a compactor," Hasty said.

He estimated the cost of a compactor at about $25,000. Schwendenman at CVADD reported some areas are using compactors, but he would not speculate if such a method would be successful in Rockcastle.

"We will take into account many things when we start a plan," Schwendenman related. "One is the population to be served. We seldom recommend a landfill if a county has under 25,000 population. A landfill has to make money to pay its way."

Rockcastle County has a population of 17,000, according to figures released by the Kentucky Press Association, based on the 1980 census.

For the time being, and figuring in the "political climate," and until an acceptable plan is devised; nothing definite should be done about a landfill. Schwendenman said if the cost should now pursue a landfill before a plan is devised, the state and federal governments would not make any funds available to the county.

It would be a good idea, if the fiscal court would just put a landfill idea aside for the time being," Schwendenman said. "It would be best if the court waited until after the primary election before taking up the problem again."

I have been asked several times, "Who is going to run with you as deputies?" Here is why I am not getting obligated or signing contracts with deputies to run with me for this office. (1) If elected, I will screen the deputies very closely and I will not hire deputies that think they have to insult or beat up everyone they arrest. I will not have deputies that abuse our people. (2) I will select deputies that live in different sections of the county so that every person can reach a sheriff in very short notice, day or night. (3) All my deputies must be of good reputation, well recommended, level-headed and have good, common horse sense. (4) My deputies will serve papers, patrol the back roads (as well as the main roads), churches and all public gatherings with courtesy, respect and kindness to everyone. But, at the same time, they will be firm and do their duties as required by law to protect our citizens. (5) Each and every crime, including break-ins and stealing, will be thoroughly investigated at once. (6) If I have a deputy who does not do these things and I have complaints on him, he can and will be dismissed because I am not obligated or under any contract with him because he ran with me for this office.

I do hope this meets with your approval.

It is fun being in Mrs. Bobbie's room. I think she is nice and she doesn't give us a lot of work. We have a library day and I think it has helped me a lot. I love to watch films about interesting people. We have synonyms and antonyms games. I love it.

In Mrs. Bobbie's reading class we teach each other by going over our mistakes together. When one is feeling bad, we try to make them feel better. She helps us with reading comprehension.

In Mrs. Bobbie's reading class we learn different things. She lets us play word games. She teaches us how to spell hard words. I like coming to this class because Mrs. Bobbie is a very nice teacher. I think coming to this class helps me read better.

Lighthouse Assembly will begin revival April 14

Evangelist Don Carver, Louisville, will be the guest speaker for special services beginning April 14 at 7 p.m. at the Lighthouse Assembly of God at Burr Hill.

Carver will discuss the changes Christ made in his life and will share what Christ can do in the life of others. He lived a life of crime that included fighting, drinking and stealing and spent a total of 15 years in four prisons. Eventually, he became a patient at a hospital for the criminally insane where he was branded a hopeless case, a "habitual criminal."

While awaiting trial for a murder charge, he began to hear messages brought by the Assemblies of God members who visited the jail every Sunday. Carver began to pray and "I turned my life over to the Lord Jesus Christ. The last four years in prison were the best of my life because I was free from sin." He began to study the Bible in prison and felt a call to the evangelistic ministry. He was paroled in 1972, and two years later his parole was lifted.

He was ordained as an Assembly of God evangelist in 1976 and has been involved in full time ministry for the past 10 years, having ministered in 30 states. He has spoken for several Full Gospel Business Men's chapters, the Women's Aglow Fellowship, schools, prisons and churches of various denominations.

He will be accompanied by his wife, Doris, and their daughter, Tabitha. They will minister in songs.

Services will continue nightly through April 19. Pastor Marvin Hensley extends a cordial invitation to the community to attend.

Rockcastle Baptists to hold meeting

Dr. D. M. Aldridge, Director of Missions for Rockcastle Association of Baptists, announces the semi-annual meeting of the association. This meeting of the 22 Southern Baptist Churches of Rockcastle County will meet on Friday, April 12, at 7 p.m. at the Freedom Baptist Church.

Each church is urged to send their alignment of messengers to the meeting. The 1985-86 officers and leaders for the association will be elected. The program will consist of reports from several department directors and committee chairmen concerning the first six months of the year, as well as plans and challenges for the last six months of the association year. Dr. Aldridge will bring the inspirational message. He was for 28 years president of Clear Creek Baptist School of Sairee Leone, Kentucky. Dr. Aldridge became a director for the association last November. Special music for the service will be by the McKinney family.

Messengers from the churches, church members and friends are all invited to attend this meeting. The association Executive Board will meet at 6 p.m. prior to the semi-annual meeting.

Mt. Vernon Pentecostal to conduct mini-revival

The Mt. Vernon Pentecostal Church will be conducting revival services April 17-19. Services will begin at 7:00 p.m. each night. Royce Roy of Sairee Leone, West Africa will be the speaker.

On Wednesday-night, he will present a slide presentation of missionary work in West Africa where he has been for 11 years.

In Memory of ULYSSES CRANK Who died April 8, 1980

My mind goes back in time to five years ago, today the sadness I felt when my daddy passed away.

My mind goes back further when I was just a child sitting on daddy's knee looking up at his loving smile.

Throughout my teen years He was always there to give me love, support and understanding I counted on his care.

Now, I'm grown, he's gone I love him like I did back then No one could take his place those memories will never end.

If you have your daddy told him you love him so No matter what the age, a parent is love

Art's Council will present 'Wiley and the Hairy Man' April 12

The Rockcastle Council for the Arts is continuing its April Fund Drive in order to meet the state's deadline for matching funds.

Together with the state, the Bluegrass Consortium of Lexington helps with funding for the arts which is necessary for the council's existence.

As a non-profit organization, the Arts Council has provided two major musicals: a dinner theatre, Homer Ledford, "Arts in the Park." The Pole Cats, and Michael Fogler, guitarist. Programs for Sowder Nursing Home, Maple Grove Day Care, and the local D.A.R. are just a few of the touring activities the council also lists in its credits.

Synopsed, Inc., a Lexington based dance company, with guest artists from New York City will perform April 26th at the Brodhead Elementary School.

For the younger audiences, the council is presenting a spine-tlingling children's play. Set deep within the mysterious Tombigbee Swamp. "Wiley and the Hairy Man" centers around a young fatherless boy, his conjure-woman mother, his faithful hounddog, and the Hairy Man who haunts Wiley's days and dreams. Through rhythm and rhyme, a chorus catches the mystery of the swamp. The magic of this play is not fairy dust...it is soil. The magic of the earth and mud of the swamp, the magic of survival.

Forest fires ravage 1,000 acres

High winds fanned dozens of forest fires across Kentucky last weekend, only abating after rain dampened the tender-dry woodlands.

Rockcastle was not spared. Fires burned nearly 1,000 acres on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, according to Steve Bullen, Rockcastle County Forest Ranger.

State Forest protection personnel reported that forest fires on land outside the national forest areas of Rockcastle have damaged nearly 15,000 acres resulting in the loss of nearly $30 million worth of timber. The figures do not include the Daniel Boone National Forest.

In Rockcastle, the worst of the fires started in the Pine Hill area about 3 p.m. Thursday and burned toward Maple Grove, charring about 410 acres. It took the Mt. Vernon and Livingston Fire Departments, forest service personnel and a bulldozer until 4 a.m. Friday to finally extinguish the blaze, believed to have been arson.

Bullen said about 35 men battled the fire that kept spreading because of high winds. He said the fire had been started in two places.

About 9 a.m. Friday the first of the fires burned over 260 acres on private land on Poplar Gap. The fire was believed to have been caused by trash burning. The Mt. Vernon Fire Department battled the fire.

A fire that started Thursday, and believed to have been set, burned about 121 acres near Fairview Christian Church. Because of other fires in progress, no action could be taken until early Friday.

Even after raining for 30 minutes or longer, a fire broke out near Oak Hill School and near the Clay Colson farm. That fire was believed to have been set. The Brodhead Fire Department answered the call.

About 117 acres was destroyed by a fire Friday that started near Wolf Creek and burned toward Hummel. It burned an old empty house. The Mt. Vernon Fire Department and a forest service crew battled the blaze. The firemen had to return to the site about 10 p.m. Saturday after the fire rekindled even after nearly an inch of rain.

Mt. Vernon places 2nd in K.U. contest

Mt. Vernon has been selected the second place winner in the Kentucky Utilities Company development and reevaluation program competition, according to a letter sent to the Mt. Vernon Local Development Corporation and read at a meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night.

Your downtown street lighting program along with the new sidewalks shows a lot of enthusiasm and leadership in your community," wrote Dan D. Stewart, Jr., community development specialist for KU.

Floyd Owens, project director for the local development group, read the letter to the council. He said Mt. Vernon was second only to Middleboro which won first place.

The choice of towns was made through written reports and a local inspection by a team of three persons other than company employees.

Mayor Roland Mullins expressed his thanks to KU, and then to the council, and to Owens for their interest and work in the revitalization program.

County received $6,049.10 for forest land last year

Just how much revenue is returned to Kentucky counties that have acreage in the Daniel Boone National Forest is found in a recent summary of 1984 revenue reported by the U. S. Forest Service.

A total of $321,000 was returned to the counties based on total National Forest acreage in 21 counties including Rockcastle. The 1984 figures showed an increase of $26,486 over payments in 1983 which were $294,591.

Rockcastle received $6,049.10 for its 12,688 acres of forest. Half the amount always goes to the county road fund and half to the Rockcastle County School District. The amount averaged 48 cents an acre.

The largest amount went to McCreary County, $74,145 for 155,520 acres. The smallest amount went to Knox County, $35 for 74 acres.

Forest receipts represent revenue collected from timber sales, recreation fees, mineral leases, grazing fees, and land use charges on the 673,000 total National Forest land that makes up the Daniel Boone National Forest.

The timber program contributed nearly 56 percent of the National Forest fund money; the counties shared Recreation user fees contributed 17 percent and the royalties received from coal taken from deep mines and from oil and gas wells under the National Forest lands, contributed 22 percent. The remaining 5 percent came from land use, power permits and grazing.

In 1937, when the Cumberland National Forest, now Daniel Boone, was established, the total returned to the counties was $383.99. During 47 years of management of the forest, $3,947,525 has been returned to these counties for public benefit.

Hello from Clear Creek. The cold, cloudy spell that hit us Easter is rebound. The blooming, wine colored, trees are great to look upon after the dull winter days. Beds of tulips, colorful as they rear their heads, gladden our eyes, and the yellow-headed dandelions are like little people in the green grass welcoming spring.

I finish now my last week's visit to the Harding home. We are sitting in the big, warm kitchen where a pot of coffee is always ready.

Mary must be the best mother-in-law ever for I find some of the girls there visiting too. Kathy was sitting in the kitchen reading the Signal that had just come in Thursday's mail. She told me of her and David's 15-year-old son, Terry Wayne, who was to attend an FFA contest in Lee County with a group of boys from Mt. Vernon. We'll hope the boy does well.

Phyllis, who makes her home with Mary, said they had not gotten any sassafras tree root yet to make tea, but she was going any day to hunt a spicewood tree and make tea from its broken twigs. She and husband, Perry, have been making their home there until they finish up the rustic, log house they are building up in the woods above the Harding home. Phyllis says they plan to move this summer. I will try to find out if they will be having a new, housewarming party with dried apple pies and hot spice-wood tea for the visitors. You can bet I'll be there just to see the beautiful quilt she showed me that would go on her bed.

Mary also brought out one she had been finishing up. Clear Creek women don't waste time in winter (such as writing newspaper columns). They know cover is needed in spring, summer and fall on the creek. Can a body stay warm under a newspaper?

I left with this story under my pen. It seems John and Mary had bought some peafowl chicks in spring and raised a rooster and hen. These birds like to sit or ride in John's truck, so one day he started for Berea, not realizing the two birds were roosting in the truck bed. The rooster flew out, but the lady hen was daring. She would stay with the truck and did all the way to the Family Farm Service store. When John stopped, he saw the peafowl bird fly out of the truck bed and up on the building root, his first knowledge that she was with him.

No amount of calling could bring her down. John telephoned back home on Clear Creek and asked the family to catch Papa peafowl, bring him to Berea, to lure his lady back to the truck which the Hardings did, and he did, and she did coming down to her love while a crowd of the store watched. Everybody, including birds, got safely home.

Mary Harding will celebrate her 68th birthday (and looks so young and pretty yet) on April 15th. So her nine children and mates, 34 grandchildren, with two new great grandchildren were anxious to know what Grandma would want for a gift on her birthday.

"This is what I want more than any other thing that you all could give me," Mary looked upon her family. "I would like to have everyone of you to appear in church for me on the 14th. That will be the best gift any mother could have."

Sandy Payne met me at the door of the big white house on the corner by Disputanta City Hall where she and husband, Jerry, my nephew, live with son, James. "The Signal calling, Reporter Hilda Gabbard on duty to get the news which will be read by over 5,000 folks so make it good," I said to her while she laughed at my entrance. Sandy came from our good neighbor, Jackson County, to live on Clear Creek and says she and husband, Jerry, like it here. He drives daily, like the work force on the creek; to work over near Richmond.

Sandy does some interesting things on her job as a representative for the Home Interior Decorating Co., displaying beautiful wall and other type ornaments. She said she had just returned from her sister, Dorothy Johnson's, home in Richmond where she showed the decorations at a party. If anyone is interested in having a party, Sandy would be glad to talk to you. Her route number is Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon.

Jerry hopes to get a garden plowed soon to beat out his folks nearby who always have a good one. That is, Blanche Payne does. Jerry is interested in any coming political races in Disputanta. He's asked about several.

John and I talked to Virgil Abney, who stopped by to get his mail from the box while we were at the Hale home on Roundstone Road, Virgil said. "Joe was over visiting Cuma and me one day and said as constable he'd arrested you for not having your driving license along with you one day."

I told Virgil Ruth had helped talk me out of the trouble. She said I could work against Joe in any future election on the creek and he'd better think twice before fining me.

I've had word from Bluford Payne of Michigan about the snappy car picture in the column recently. He thinks it was made at a garage run by Morris and Earl Phillips near Clell Mullins' store in Wildie. Any other takers?

Peggy Payne Rowlett who purchased land on Clear Creek was asked what she planned to farm on the land. "I'm thinking of raising a crop of plumgrannies on it. You know Uncle Cleve did right well with his roadside stand of them and I figure I can do the same. Anyway, if Martha Faye Rowlett can raise "poke sallet" on their farm on Burnt Ridge Road, then I'll go for the plumgranny crop down here," Peggy informed me.

Matilda Miller offered me a cup of coffee as I entered her home late one afternoon. She said I caught her in good time since she'd been out the day before making the rounds of Mt. Vernon and Berea on business. "While out, she had visited her sister, Sarah King, in Berea in the Skilled Nursing Facility where Sarah hasn't known her in a long time, but Matilda says, "It's a comfort for me to look at my older sister while she sleeps."

Matilda also had received word that her son, Estill Anglin's, wife, Louise, of Kenderville, Indiana had accidentally broken her hip and was in the hospital there.

The Miller children come together at Matilda's home on Friday night where they have a buffet supper, then spend the evening in talking, playing games, and just being together with their mothers in old time tradition, as they grew up, with no cares of the world as they now know it.

"The things of the world are only for a moment, but God is forever," were the hopeful words that rang out from the pulpit of Macedonia Baptist Church during a four-service revival by Bro. Bruce Treon as he conducted the meetings. This sincere young man was very earnest in his approach to the Easter message that he brought to the congregation who attended. The words seemed to flow from his being as if they couldn't wait to be spoken. The remarks, "That was a good sermon," and, "He does well," flowed through the crowd after the services as people made their way out of the building.

Bro. Bruce Treon was ordained as a minister just after he was called to be our pastor at Macedonia. When he and a friend, Becky Headrick of Mt. Vernon,

By: Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Worship services were conducted at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend with 126 for Sunday School. We are so thankful to see our church and Sunday School growing and prospering. And we give God the praise for it. All we "must" love the Lord and we "must" love people and we do if the love of God is in our hearts. Again I say, "Thank you, Lord."

Our Sunday School monthly average for March was 113. Thank God for each and everyone that attends.

We had a wonderful revival last week with Rev. Seymour Wattenbarger as evangelist. He pastored the Calvary Baptist Church in London. We enjoyed his sermons and ate thankful for the good attendance every night. We had souls saved and several rededications for which we are so thankful. May God bless Rev. Wattenbarger and every other minister who is preaching God's Word.

Our Easter Sunrise Service was held at our church with a good number attending.

Also the Easter Cantata was presented during the morning worship hour. It was well received and enjoyed by everyone.

A baptismal service was conducted on Sunday evening with 5 precious souls being baptized.

We thank God for them and pray they will be great workers for the Lord. We love them dearly.

I'd also like to pause right here and publicly thank God for our pastor, Rev. Harvey Pensol of Mt. Vernon. We are all so glad God sent him (along with his family) to us at Fairview. God bless them all. They have our love and prayers.

Tip Reppert of Scaffold Cane celebrated his birthday on Sunday, April 7th. "Attending" were their sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Reppert and son, Ronnie Dale, of Conway, and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Reppert and daughter, Allis, of Berea. We hope for Tip this coming year a time of joy, happiness and good health. Tip has been in poor health for some time. But he is a wonderful brother and I love him dearly as his family, relatives and many friends do. We all wish him many more happy years in this life.

Floyd Mitchell Branch Creek visited Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cope recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Peters attended the Woodmen of the World Kentucky Jurisdictional Convention Center in Paducah. Mr. Peters was a delegate and Mrs. Peters was a guest invited by the Field Representative, Mrs. Jean Towery of Roundstone. While there, they went to see the Lynn Anderson Show. They also visited Mrs. Billy Daugherty and son in Bowling Green.

After church services on Sunday, Hubert and I visited some friends in the Berea Hospital. I've always enjoyed so much visiting and talking to people—especially those who are ill. May God bless them all to be feeling better soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Patrick visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander recently. Easter Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Peters were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Croucher of Berea, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brock, Brian and Tara of Indian Hills, Paint Lick, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Peters and sons, Chad and Michael of Fairview. The children enjoyed hunting Easter eggs in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nolan of Independence visited his sister, Mrs. Bert (Barbara Ann) Croucher, and Mr. Croucher in Berea on Saturday.

Mrs. Ardilla (Mullins) Trinch of Franklin, Ohio and Mrs. Thelma (Thomas) Miraok were here over the weekend to attend their class reunion at Broadhead on Saturday night.

Visiting Mrs. Edith Mullins' uncle, J. B. Proctor and Mrs. Proctor, of Richmond on Saturday were Mrs. Mullins of Snider, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Croucher and daughters, Dawna and Twila of Conway, Mrs. Lucille Ponder of near Fairview, and Mrs. Ardilla Trinch of Franklin, Ohio. Mr. Proctor was 95 years old March 8th. I hear he loves to read the Fairview news in the Signal so I, along with his many relatives and friends, wish him more years of good health, joy and happiness. Mr. Proctor, God has blessed you with a long life upon this earth, for which I'm sure you are very thankful, and we all wish for you the rest of your life the very best of everything. God bless you.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Peters and family were at the home of her brother, Herman Smith, and Mrs. Smith of Renfro Valley on Saturday night. They all gathered for the occasion of celebrating the 60th wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, of Wildie. All their children were present but one. Mr. Smith's birthday was also the same day. To this blessed couple, who have been together for these many years and raised a big family, we all would love to say, "Congratulations and best wishes" down through the years. Our love and prayers are with you. May God bless you always.

Hubert and I visited my brother, Tip Reppert, and wife, Florence, after church on Sunday night. A very pleasant visit as they always are in their home.

And now I have a request to make. To all you good dedicated Christian people "whomsoever you are" and where ever you are, I'm asking you to pray for my brother, Everett Reppert of Paxton, Ill., who is very ill at this time. I know God is still able to hear and answer prayer. Everett is and has been were guests at our homes for the evening meal Saturday, I said, "Bro. Bruce, I can't see any difference in you now since you have been ordained than I did before. You wear the same dedicated look—maybe a little brighter eyed and happier." He laughed and suddenly it came to me as he glanced over at Becky. (Hilda, you are getting old. He has always smiled and been happy in the Lord's work but this smile was different I saw.) But who would, n't smile at this pretty blue-eyed girl.

We had quite a few visitors as well as musicians at the revival and we thank each one of you who took time to visit and worship with us.

From the mail box: I would like to meet a Mr. Graves living near Sand Springs out past Mt. Vernon so I could tell him what a fine person he is. You don't have to take my word for it, but you should read the words in Daisy Thiesen's letter written from Oberlin, Kansas. It seems Mr. Graves has done so much in the way of friendship for her family, including sending them a subscription to the Signal, that they can't praise him enough. I'll help praise him too for wanting them to read the news here about people in Kentucky.

Daisy asked for plumgranny seed, saying the fields out there farmers use is full of and other projects. I wish I had space to print her letter to tell her family, met Mr. Graves.

Clear Creek's good friend, who likes the people very much here since reading about them, Henry Volmer of Indiana, send me a beautiful Easter card. Then to put the icing on the cake, he volunteers to be an out-of-state campaign worker for me as well as suggesting he could buy some land on Clear Creek through Sharon Hurley and the real estate company for whom she works in order that he could vote for me as county judge by being a resident here. Why, Henry, I never heard of a friend going that far in order to help me. I'll keep you in mind (should I decide to run) even may send you an absentee ballot anyway—we might get it by. For your offer of help, I may send you some plumgranny seed to impress the girls this summer. More on the mail in the next issue.

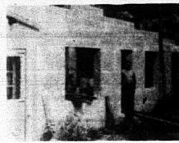

Will next week. It's not enough just to be good—be good for something.

The Signal is now on Newsstand for sale at Todd Market, Rt. 3, Berea.
