Council awards contract for sewer to Mt. Vernon firm

By: Ray McClure

As expected, Karish Construction, Inc. of Mt. Vernon was awarded a contract for construction of sewer lines in three areas of the city at a meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night.

The Karish bid was $497,000 for sewer lines to Fairground Hill, a section of Owens Subdivision and Cox Lane.

Seven alternate sections of lines within the program were not included in the bid because of a lack of money, at least for the time being.

However, the city has a verbal promise from the Kentucky Housing Authority for an additional $60,000 that would take care of two of the alternates, according to Mayor Roland Mullins.

The next five alternates will probably be constructed over a period of time by city employees, the mayor said.

During the next 10 days there will be a pre-construction conference, and the contractor will present insurance and bonding information.

Karish Construction is owned by David L. King, Karen King, Clifford Collins and Patricia Collins.

Engineers for the city reported they have no official notice from the state or federal government on an additional $400,000 needed for additions and remodeling at the city sewer plant. The bid on the total program was $1.6 million. The city had only money totaling $1.2 million.

Expecting $18,000 in federal revenue sharing funds the city has now been informed it will receive $32,400, the mayor told the council.

The council accepted the resignation of James D. Thompson from the city police force effective Dec. 1. Thompson has taken a position on the Berea Police force.

He had been at Mt. Vernon for nearly two years.

The council hired Jimmy Durham to "fill in," through December.

City Attorney Carl Clontz warned the council from now on the council should be cautious in hiring police officers who have had no training or experience in police work.

The city has a police chief (Joe Howard) and three permanent part-time officers—Frank Osborne, Tyree Gray, Jr., Wayne Deming, and two who are filling in during December, Durham and Randall Stevens.

used where needed in the county. Mayor Mullins told the several Mt. Vernon firemen who attended the meeting that the city has applied, and probably will receive, a $4,000 grant which will be used for purchase of the tool. If the grant is not approved the city will contribute $3,000 toward purchase of the $10,445 instrument.

The county has contributed $3,000, Brodhead $1,000, and Brodhead Fire Department $250. Livingston City Council, at last report, had not met to consider a contribution.

A representative from the Family Life Center (Christian Appalachian) (Protest) told the council the center is considering construction of a swimming pool to be located at the corner north of Mt. Vernon. The representatives asked for the council's views, attitudes and comments covering the project.

Generally, the council members agreed it would be a good idea to have a swimming pool at the center, but since it would be in the city limits, about the pool, that the council can do is to wish the "good luck."

problems of various kinds, the 30 percent rural area remaining would have a weekly pick up at designated sites. In short, there would be a specific point, for a specific time period, and on a specific date for the rural holder. Commercial rates would be "reasonable, proper and negotiable."

There will be a minimum franchise fee return to the county of $40,000 paid annually (paid quarterly, in advance).

The county would also participate in a Clean Community, Educational Program designed and presented by a state agency.

After three years, the garbage program would be re-evaluated to consider expanding the mandatory routes, always looking toward 100 percent mandatory collection.

Where the garbage will be taken by the franchise firm would be up to that firm. That phase of the plan is not considered a major problem. There are any number of out-of-county landfills available.

CVADD officials estimate collections based on the county's 5,076 households, at $8 a month, with only 70 percent participation, would bring a count-down franchise an estimated $336,000 a year. That does not include commercial pickup charges.

For the record, CVADD estimated the county will create 16 tons of solid waste daily, or 5,840 tons annually. The collection system, as noted earlier, involved a total of over 682 miles of roadway, but 800 miles of driving, allowing for 15 percent back-track mileage.

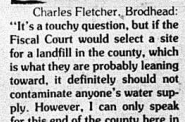

Frank Groschelle, who represented CVADD at the meeting, warned the court-let that the garbage program will have its critics, but the court must remember to have a strict enforceable ordinance, a determined coordinator, an education program, and "hang tough."

He stressed the garbage program should get underway as soon as possible and it should be in operation throughout the county by July 1, 1987, or earlier.

He said the state will keep an eye on the county to see how the program is operating. He added that details such as method of payment, routes and pick-up points have to wait until the plan is in place.

court there today (Thursday). According to a spokesperson in the circuit court clerk's office, the arraignment is being held in Pulaski County so that the chances of any arraignment attempt will be less.

Charles Fletcher, Brodhead: "It's a touchy question, but if the Fiscal Court would select a site for a landfill in the county, which is what they are probably leaning toward, it definitely should not contaminate anyone's water supply. However, I can only speak for this end of the county here in Brodhead, and in my opinion, the system in effect now is working better than any system we have previously had."

Lower interest rates offered at local banks

The Bank of Mt. Vernon and Citizens Bank of Brodhead are two of the 67 lending institutions that will be working with Kentucky Housing Corporation (KHC) to provide a 9 3/8% interest rate to lower and moderate income individuals and families in the Rockcastle County area. The below-market interest rate comes as a result of a $100,000,000 bond sold by the Corporation.

"This is the lowest interest rate KHC has been able to offer since 1978," stated KHC executive director F. Lynn Luellen, "and it is important to note the 9 3/8% interest rate will remain fixed throughout the life of the loan."

To qualify for a KHC loan, a family member may earn up to $25,000 gross income and may purchase a house costing no more than $46,000 ($52,000 in certain Eastern Kentucky counties). Unless living in federally designated targeted areas, applicants may not have owned a home in the past three years.

According to Luellen, the application period will be 18 months. During the first 60 days, commitments will only be made on loans to those persons earning 80% or less of the State Median Income. Eighty percent of median is $18,000.

Lending institutions will be gin taking applications Dec. 12.

approved by a recognized testing agency such as Underwriters Laboratories. If the stove is second hand, make careful inspections for cracks or other defects. Cracks usually can be repaired with stove cement or by welding.

When installing a wood-burning stove, be sure to check with fire officials and building inspectors for installation, operation and maintenance recommendations. Meeting proper clearances between ceilings, floors and walls is another important factor in using the stove safely.

Standards set by the National Fire Protection Association recommend a 36-inch clearance between the stove and all surfaces.

Additionally, make sure all surrounding sides of the wood burner are protected with a non-combustible material. Brick or stone provides little or no protection for a combustible wall since they are also good conductors of heat.

Burning inexpensive green wood is hazardous because it causes creosote to form in the chimney flue. Creosote is the highly flammable byproduct of burning that causes most chimney fires.

Also, make sure there is adequate clearance from the top of the chimney to the highest point of the roof. The chimney must be properly constructed, maintained in good repair and kept clean. It would be wise to have it checked and cleaned at least once a year by a chimney "sweep" or repairman.

Jointventing of smoke pipe or solid fuel-burning devices with oil or gas burning units to the same chimney can cause noxious fumes to back up in the home. At all costs, avoid such hookups.

Consumers using kerosene heaters should also heed some important basic safety suggestions.

Never use gasoline; even a small amount in the heater tank can cause a fire. Only use 1-K kerosene and buy it from a dealer who can certify that what is being sold is 1-K grade kerosene.

The heater should be stored out of the reach of small children, and they should be warned against touching it.

People suffering from asthma, respiratory disease or heart disease may be susceptible to the toxic gases given off by kerosene heaters. Anyone concerned that he or she may be sensitive to the pollutants produced by kerosene heaters should consult his or her physician.

Adequate ventilation should be provided for kerosene heaters, as recommended by the manufacturer. Only use kerosene heaters in a well-ventilated room. This will prevent toxic gas buildup.

Most importantly, follow all of the manufacturer's recommended operating instructions and be sure all family members understand how the heater is to be operated safely.

Consumers considering purchasing a kerosene heater should check their state and local building and fire ordinances to determine if kerosene heaters are permitted.

provide important use and care information to the consumer.

campaign ever to replenish funds drained by the natural disasters. President Richard F. Schubert has kicked off the $20 million quated campaign and has invited all Red Cross chapters to do their share to replenish the disaster budget.

We, locally, are urging everyone to be "A Good Neighbor" by sending your liberal donations to: Berea Area Chapter, American Legion Building, Berea, Ky. 40403, so that "The Contributions of every American, who is able to give, can be pooled in Washington in readiness to help the next suffering victims who may suffer a disaster. Who knows-it may be that the money will have to come right back to us should we have an emergency!"

Chrysanthemum. Christmas is almost the off-season for Chrysanthemums; however, many are still sold. No other plant grown commercially has as wide a range of colors or as many forms as the Chrysanthemum. The center of the flower of the pot chrysanthemum should be tight and generally exhibit a slight green color. The flower head should be flat to slightly rounded. As viewed from the top, the flower should be evenly spaced so that each flower is fully exhibited. There should be no broken flower heads.

Foliage Plants. The same general characteristics required for quality flowering plants should also be evident in foliage plants. However, the leaves on foliage plants are more important than on flowering plants. The foliage should be blemish-free and should usually be shiny green, in color. The shade of green will depend upon the variety.

Ohio woman dies in wreck on interstate

A Cincinnati, Ohio woman died early Friday morning from injuries she sustained in a single car accident on I-75. Police said Mary Sullivan, 57, lost control of her 1986 Chevrolet at the 62-mile marker and hit the bridge abutment. She was pronounced dead at the Rockcastle County Hospital by local coroner Bill Dowell. Dowell said Mrs. Sullivan died of massive internal injuries and was dead on arrival at the hospital. State police at the London post blamed the icy road conditions for the accident which also injured Sullivan's grandson, Allen Parks, 18, of Cincinnati, who was a passenger in the car. Sullivan was the seventh person to die on Rockcastle County highways this year.

Maple Grove center burglarized

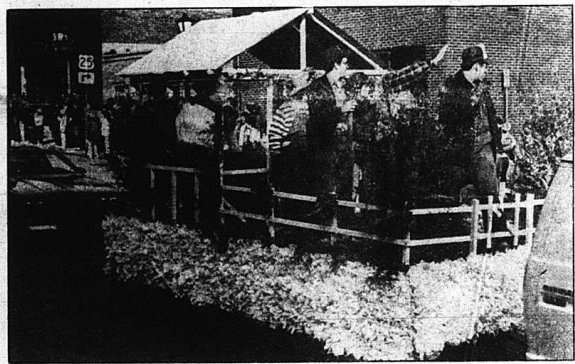

The Maple Grove Child Development Center has been burglarized three different times since Halloween, according to Kentucky State Police. The latest break-in occurred last Sunday night. An arson attempt was also made during the break-in when thieves stuffed paper towels into a cubby hole in the building and set it on fire. The fire burned out and no real damage was done to the building. During the three break-ins, a total of approximately $1,000 worth of merchandise has been stolen from the center. No arrests have been made.

Christmas concert

The annual Rockcastle Chorus Christmas Concert will be this Sunday, Dec. 15, at 2:30 p.m. at the high school. This year's theme is music for the holidays. Admission price is $1.

Parking meters along main streets in Mt. Vernon will be covered, meaning free parking from today through Dec. 25. The Mt. Vernon City Council approved the two weeks of free parking in order to expedite Christmas shopping in the downtown area.

The Roundstone Community Clover 4-H Club won first prize in the float competition during Saturday's parade in Mt. Vernon. The club received a $150 cash prize from the Rockcastle Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the parade.

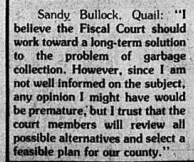

People Poll . . .

With all of the recent problems with the county's garbage collection we thought we would ask a few local citizens from different areas of the county their opinion on how to handle the problem.

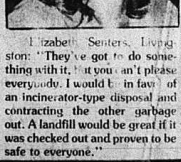

Poll and photos by Richard Anderkin

Linda Mason, Bendle Ridge: "I think we should have an ordinance countywide holding everyone responsible for the cost of proper disposal. And if a private company handles the disposal, they should bid on disposal of our county's waste annually to keep the cost down."

Sandy Bullock, Quail: "I believe the Fiscal Court should work toward a long-term solution to the problem of garbage collection. However, since I am not well informed on the subject, any opinion I might have would be premature, but I trust that the court members will review all possible alternatives and select a feasible plan for our county."

Elizabeth Sanders, Livingston: "They've got to do something with it, but you can't please everybody. I would be in favor of an incinerator-type disposal and contracting the other garbage out. A landfill would be great if it was checked out and proven to be safe to everyone."

Now it can be told

Garbage plan for county unveiled at local hearing

By: Ray McClure

A plan for garbage collection throughout Rockcastle County that will please the state Environmental Protection Cabinet, but probably not the public, was unveiled Tuesday night at a meeting at the Rockcastle County Courthouse. With all members of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court-elect on hand for the new court's first session, CVADD agreed, but was not the court to get in haste to come, a representative of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District (CVADD) gave the some 30 persons who attended a dollars-and-cents view of the most acceptable plan for Rockcastle.

The CVADD has a contract with the county to come up with a garbage plan by March and asked the court elect to give CVADD a "decision to proceed" at its first meeting on Jan. 7. County Judge/Executive-elect Hubert Thacker, who will be installed at that January meeting, suggested another meeting day because of the large number of persons who are expected to be on hand for the new court's first session. CVADD agreed, but wanted the court to get in haste. Two plans were initially put before the group that would be acceptable to the state, but one plan was apparently shelved because the first year of operation would cost $274,450, give or take a thousand. That plan is considered, the ideal, but too costly. The other less costly plan, one that would leave the court more or less free from direct operation, appeared to be the choice of those attending, and the CVADD.

However, it will be the responsibility of the court to see that the program is enacted and enforced. Failure to do so could result in malfeasance-of-office charges, because the state legislature has mandated a garbage plan must be in place in all 120 counties.

One thing is clear, it is going to cost householders about $8 a month for garbage pickup; and it will be mandatory whether or not the householders want to use the service. To back it up, there will be an ordinance detailing penalties for violations. Under the plan, the county will be divided into two privately operated, franchised sections. Basically, they are west and east of 175. The franchises would probably be put up for bids by the fiscal court. One district would have 307 miles of pickup and the other 375 miles.

The system will be 100 percent mandatory in Mt. Vernon, Brodhead, Livingston and Renfro Valley, all under the strict enforceable ordinance. However, in other areas of the county, a 70 percent mandatory participation is anticipated in the first year, or years, by the program.

The participation in curbside pickup in the four areas covers 70 percent of population households and 90 percent commercial. Because of distances and road

Three indicted for armed robbery at Convenient

Two Rockcastle County men and an Irvine man have been indicted in connection with a September 27 armed robbery of Convenient Food Mart in Brodhead.

Dillard Wayne Cotton, 25, of Mt. Vernon, Johnny Denny, 23, of Brodhead, and David Wise, 24, of Irvine, were indicted for "armed robbery in the first degree" and

"theft by unlawful taking over $100."

The theft charge was in connection with a Mercury Cougar which was stolen from Dallas McGuire.

According to court records, Wise and Denny, who are presently being held in the Pulaski County Jail, will be arraigned in district

Clyde Rader, Mt. Vernon: "Nobody is going to allow a landfill in their district. I think that the Fiscal Court should hire somebody in each district to pick the garbage up and haul to a landfill out of the county, such as Lily. A reasonable fee could be added to the water or electric bill to pay for the service."

Jerry Mink, Livingston: "Of the plans that were submitted in the Signal on Nov. 17, Plan B, which is 100 percent door-to-door mandatory collection, is the one I like best. Contracted to a private firm with an ordinance and a coordinator to insure smooth and efficient service. Regardless of which plan the Fiscal Court chooses to adopt, the court should take into account the financial obligations and the needs of Rockcastle County in future years."

Jack Lawless, Mt. Vernon: "The expense of a garbage pick-up and landfill may be too much for Rockcastle County to handle. The end result may be that the people of Rockcastle County—in the cities and out in the country—have to pay a service charge to support proper disposal of garbage."

Bobby Wilson, Livingston: "I think the only way the county will ever be able to completely take care of the garbage problem is to implement a 100 percent door-to-door mandatory collection, contracted to a private firm, with an ordinance and a coordinator."

Madison reader supports survey ...

Dear Editor:

To one who has long been familiar with Rockcastle County and its problems, it comes as no surprise that in a recent rating the county was in the lower third. For the researcher to have done otherwise would have made the whole project suspect.

The educational program in the county has long had many apparent deficiencies. Many students who graduate from high school have severe difficulties in post-secondary programs. Those who do persevere and finish college usually opt to go elsewhere to market their skills thus exacerbating the brain drain. And yet the person who represents the area in the State Legislature voted against increasing taxes to improve education.

Fewer than half of the adults have finished high school. This fact is in evidence in all facets of their everyday lives. In the area east, a line drawn south from Conway to the Pulaski border, there are all of the evidences of a destitute existence.

The quality of life suffers from the absence of social, educational and political institutions which are necessary attributes of the good life.

Perhaps instead of some individuals reacting negatively to the findings, energies should be directed toward possible solutions.

Gifts for Christmas

Dear Editor:

Folks, it's near Christmas. Why not give the old folks and young ones also a blue bird house. Have many made—none better was ever made. Purple martins houses, 6 and 10 nests, are ventilated, which stops young from crowding in doors in the heat of the day, pushing each other out and killing them.

I have the best bird feeders ever made. Feed don't get wet and clog up. Birds eat all the way around. They also have two blue bird houses built in them. They hold from one peck to over a half bushel. They are feeders, not cessers. So many want a feeder that holds about a quart.

There's no more hollow trees, fence posts, etc. where the blue bird and wren once nested.

It's worth $100 to have a family of blue birds around your house.

If you have purple martins, you have no mosquitos or flies to torment you and your cattle.

If a place for these birds to reproduce isn't found soon, the only thing to sing in spring time will be English sparrows and filthy starlings.

Nine years past I sent a letter to every newspaper in Kentucky begging people to destroy the starlings. I believe Lexington Herald and Danville Advocate published the letter. Starlings carry a disease, hystoplasmosis. It's fatal to mankind. They destroy all hole-nesting birds, young or eggs, take the nest and raise more starlings. The Redhead and Pileated woodpecker are near extinct, and also the flicker.

I beg all who will write to Kentucky General Assembly the first week in January to make the blue bird our state bird instead of the cardinal. The cardinal never ate a bug. I sometimes counted 300 cardinals in winter, but seldom see one in spring, summer and fall.

The cardinal is seven states' state bird—the blue bird only the state of New York.

I carefully observed two blue birds last summer for 15 minutes. Between the two they made 29 trips carrying bugs from garden and flowers, carrying bugs to their young. They will raise two to four broods of young annually.

Also our state tree has been changed from the tulip or poplar to the coffee tree, which is of no value to anyone. There's no beauty to it.

Kentucky's most valuable tree is the walnut. All best of guns use walnut, the best of furniture is made of walnut. If trimmed to cause it to grow tall, it grows very fast. About all walnut that's large enough to get a board, one by four inches, have been cut. I have several hundred trees grown of which I am very proud. Every family with room should have a few walnut trees; they have more food value than anything I have ever heard of. A cup of best ground beef has 187 calories. The same cup filled with walnut kernels has 785 calories. If kept in a cool, dry place, walnuts left in the shell will be good several years but like the chestnut, when dry for a short period the germ dies and won't come up if planted.

One other thing, you can eat four or five walnuts with you have no desire for any kind of meat.

Graydon B. Cummins

Thank you to Sheriff...

Dear Editor:

As this Christmas season rolls around, we would like to thank the Rockcastle Co. Sheriff's Department and the Mt. Vernon City Police Department for providing us with funeral escorts during the past year.

On behalf of the families we serve, we would like to say thank you.

By: Richard Anderkin

THERE IS A LETTER TO THE EDITOR this week from a Berea citizen concerning Rockcastle County's quality of life rating.

It was from a person from Berea who does not live in Rockcastle, thank goodness. In his letter, he said that Rockcastle Countians lack the social, educational and political institutions which are necessary for the good life.

Mr. Garrison obviously has made himself the utmost authority on living in Rockcastle County because of all the facts that he points out in his letter. Strange to me that he has no evidence to back up these facts.

I'm sure that most Rockcastle Countians will join me in saying, "Thank you for your concern, Mr. Garrison, but we have managed to muddle through our existence despite lacking social, educational and political institutions, for many years."

THE LATEST-RULE FROM THE Kentucky High School Athletic Association is a bad one.

High school basketball coaches cannot get out of their seats during a game. That rule has already cost the girls team a victory. Coach Preston Parrett was slapped with two T's last week in a game at Knox Central. The coach felt very badly about his actions, but who can blame the man? He has been getting out of his seat for 30 years, and now this year they tell him he can't. The rule was inserted to help incompetent officials look like they are competent. Good try, but it doesn't work.

LAST WEEK'S MYSTERY CITIZEN was Robert Owens, a store manager at Convenience Food Mart in Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Vicki Farthing of Mt. Vernon was the 23rd caller, and the first to correctly identify Robert Friday morning.

Vicky will receive an 18 pound turkey, compliments of Rockcastle Circuit Court Clerk Denver Miller.

I KNOW HOW TO SPELL Panthers and technical, although you couldn't tell it from last week's Rockets basketball story. I also know who Kevin Fletcher is, although I failed to identify him in last week's front page picture of the new Jews of Life. I would like to say that someone else made these mistakes, but I guess since I am from Rockcastle County, it is expected of me. Right, Mr. Garrison?

FOR THOSE WHO ASKED the Signal to "do something" on the county's "first traffic light," meaning the one at the U.S. 150-KY 461 interchange west of Mt. Vernon: We've had two pictures, and information has been included in at least three stories in the Signal.

Incidentally, it is not the county's first traffic signal (red, yellow, green). There have been at least four in Mt. Vernon, one in Broadhead and one in Livingston.

None lasted very long. In Mt. Vernon, there was one on Richmond Street about 20 feet north of the railroad tracks; another at Main and Richmond Streets; one at Richmond Street and U.S. 150, and one at U.S. 150 and Church Street near the courthouse. Broadhead had one at its main downtown intersection and Livingston had one at the bridge. They all proved to be more of a hazard than a help. All were long before 1-75 was constructed.

The one now in operation at the poorly designed U.S. 150-KY 461 interchange will probably last longer.

HAD A NOTE from Jeff Burdette who said that Walter Browning had gotten some shooting lessons, because he could remember the time when Walter and John Benson would jump four coveys of birds, say they killed one bird, and then claim the dog ate it. Well, I guess my criticism of Walter was unjust; he is getting better.

Not The One Vernon Douglas Singleton of Rt. 4, Mt. Vernon is not the Douglas Singleton who was arrested for D.U.I. in last week's Signal.

The Week That Was

1955 [30 years ago this week]

John Houston, W. F. Randolph and Robert Snodgrass have been nominated for election as officers for the 1955-56 year by the Rockcastle County Farm Bureau nominating committee.

Mr. Houston, of Broadhead, and present president, has been nominated president; Mr. Randolph, Spiro, vice president, and Mr. Snodgrass, Quail, secretary-treasurer.

Also nominated was a board of directors composed of W. I. Norton, H. Lee Durham, Maurice Brown, W. B. McWhorter, W. J. Randolph, Wayne Stewart, Morgan Saylor, Roy Turner, M. C. Sutton, Hobart Thompson, J. M. Wallace, James Mullins, Edgar Mullins, Homer Hale, Earl Roberts, Arthur Schiff, R. R. Wolfe, Lloyd Shuttles, Arch French, W. E. Proctor and Bradley Saylor.

The election of the officers and directors will be made at the annual Rockcastle County Farm Bureau banquet scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Dec. 8 at the Mt. Vernon High School.

Persons who attend the banquet will vote on the nominees. Members of the nominating committee were W. J. Randolph, J. M. Wallace and Homer Hale.

Cecil Purcell, who has been confined to Reid Memorial Hospital, Richmond, Ind., following a heart attack, is slowly improving at his home in Sheridan Court, Apr. 1.

Mrs. Rilla and Anna Brown have returned to Mt. Vernon after being with him during the early days of his illness.

1965 [20 years ago this week]

We predict there will be overwhelming joy locally if the planning now underway at Renfro Valley materializes as we now believe it will. It's doubtful we will be able to give out the first story since it will be of national as well as local interest. But we'll try. Seriously, this is, to use an old expression, "bigger than us all."

"We predict most of us will be at least mildly surprised when the State Department of Education survey team releases its latest findings on Rockcastle County schools. Mrs. Neureul Miracle, superintendent, tells us we will let us go over the survey when it is finalized. Since previous reports have mentioned a central high school in a general way, we venture this latest, one will be much more specific.

Seven packages of candy have been sent to the Armed Forces through efforts by the Mt. Vernon Chapter of the Future Homemakers. To raise money for postage, the group held a necking party. That's right, a necking party. Well, the neck of each member was measured and they came up with a penny an inch. The club is now selling cookbooks. They tell us the books make nice Christmas presents. Place your order today, they ask.

Cpl. John William Renner, son of Mrs. Edna Hansel and

Walter Renner of Mt. Vernon, has completed a four week course at Drill Instructor School at Ft. Dix, N.J. and has been stationed there with Company C, 2nd Basic Training Brigade. He was also promoted to corporal. He will assist in training new Army recruits. Corporal Renner ranked fourth in a class of 40.

The Livingston Blue Devils made it wins number seven and eight during the past week to give them the best win-loss record in the county.

Saturday night, LHS jumped into an early lead and went on to down Eubank 86-68.

Billy Wyatt, playing with a hand injury, netted 13 points. He set out about half the game. Vernon Sams, recovering from an ankle injury, went on a scoring spree to pour through 31 points, the highest number by a county player so far this year. Bert Newcomb had one of his better nights hitting for 16 points.

Six students in the Beta Club at Mt. Vernon High School attended the Beta Club Convention at Louisville Friday and Saturday.

They were: Jamie Lynn Mullins, Joe Lambert, Jerry Hodges, Donald Nelson, Paul McNew, and David Nicely.

Joe served as chief usher, aided by David, Jerry and Donald.

1975 [10 years ago this week]

Monday night, the Freshmen team went to Jackson County and returned with another victory. Eddie Thompson was leading scorer for the freshmen with 13; Steve Carter and David Pencil go 10 each; Warren Cash, 4, and Jack Farthing, 3.

This Friday night, the Rockets varsity, B-Team, and Girls host the Laurel County Cardinals.

Very little of interest was before the Mt. Vernon City Council Tuesday night at their regular meeting.

The Council did discuss with City Attorney Carl Clontz the lowering of water rates for elderly customers who qualify and Mr. Clontz suggested to the Council that he draft a letter for the City Clerk to write to the Attorney General's office in Frankfort requesting an opinion as to whether or not the lowering of rates for one group of customers and not for everyone would be discriminatory.

Mr. Clontz also told the Council that he would research the proposition himself and render his own opinion to the Council.

According to Coroner Bill Dowell, an autopsy report on Kenneth Lovell Fletcher, who collapsed and died Saturday afternoon, November 29th while a prisoner in the Rockcastle County Jail, showed that Mr. Fletcher died of strangulation due to aspiration of his own vomit.

Mr. Fletcher, who was arrested and lodged in the jail late Friday afternoon, was standing at a commode in the jail vomiting when he fell backwards. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the local hospital.

HEALTH FOCUS

Skilled nursing facility receives superior rating

A long-term facility in Rockcastle County has been rated "Superior" for an individual level of care under Kentucky's nursing home reform law. The "Superior" rating was made for the skilled nursing level of care provided by the Rockcastle County Hospital in Mt. Vernon. The designation is made by the Cabinet for Human Resources Division of Licensing and Regulations and is prepared for each long-term care facility in the state during the facility's annual relicensure survey by the division's staff. Human Resources Secretary Al Austin said, "One section of Kentucky's nursing home reform law allowed for the designation by rating of the individual levels of care, in order for the consuming public to get some idea of the type of service being provided under state regulations." Levels of resident care not attaining "Superior" status are designated either "Unrated," which indicates that the service is in compliance with at least the minimum standards, or "Conditional," which means that this particular level of care in that facility is in non-compliance with the standards.

Woodrow Dunn, director of the Division of Licensing and Regulations, said, "It's important for the public to understand that each separate level of care is rated individually. Many facilities today offer two and sometimes three levels of residential care and each has its own rating." Levels of care at long-term care facilities include personal care, intermediate care, intermediate care/mental retardation-developmentally disabled nursing home and skilled nursing care.

In order to achieve a "Superior" rating, a facility must meet two requirements for the level of care involved. "First, it must be in compliance with the minimum standards for licensing in each of 11 areas," said Dunn. "Then the facility must exceed those minimum standards in at least six of the 11 areas of its operation." Those 11 areas are administration, nursing services, dietary and social nutritional services, life safety code, physical environment, physical and restorative therapy, social service and activities, drugs and biologicals, medical services, patients' rights and record keeping.

Dunn said, "I believe this process provides a real incentive to the long-term care facilities in Kentucky to achieve the highest possible rating. Achievement of the 'Superior' designation for an individual level of care should tell the public something about the facility, just as the other ratings will serve as an indication of the track record as well."

The Medicine Chest

By: Tina Cain Hasty

Labels on over-the-counter medicines are the key to safety and proper use. They tell you what the medicine does, who should take it, and how to use it. You should read the label before each use of the medicine because the manufacturers sometimes change the ingredients used, the dose recommended, the instructions for proper use, or the warnings.

The makeup of a non-prescription label contains the following information:

- name and identity of the product
 - what the product will do
 - quantity of contents
 - active ingredients
 - inactive ingredients
 - name and address of manufacturer, distributor or packer
 - the recommended dose and how frequently it should be taken
 - directions on how to take the medicine (with water, etc.)
 - side effects
 - limits on length of use
 - circumstances which may require a doctor's advice before taking the medicine.
- If you have any questions about the information on the labels, ask your pharmacist or doctor.

should have some type of device to prevent them from falling unexpectedly. Better yet, store toys in open boxes and on shelves.

the U.S. and around the world have completely exhausted all available Red Cross disaster funds. Four major disaster relief operations in the first third of this fiscal year have already boosted Red Cross expenses for disaster preparedness and relief to

GIVE PLANTS FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Many varieties of pot plants are sold at Christmas. Know something about these varieties and what to look for in quality. It will help you buy a more desirable plant that will give additional pleasure.

Choose a Good Quality Plant
Most pot plants sold as Christmas gifts are grown in 6 inch diameter pots or larger. For your plant to be visually attractive, buy one that has a certain height proportionality with the pot in which it is grown. If the plant is too tall, it will appear too heavy; if too short, it will look stubby.

The acceptable proportionality between plant and pot is 2 to 2 1/2 times. That is, if the pot is 6 inches in height, then the plant should be 12 to 15 inches in height.

The flowers on the plant you buy should have clear or intense color, be free of blemishes and not show any signs of aging. Make sure the leaves are dark green, and free of blemishes caused by disease or insects, spray residues and physical damage. The leaves generally should cover the stem and touch the pot. The plant be should be symmetrical in shape as viewed from the top and should not be centered in the pot and not leaning to one side.

Many plants being sold this Christmas will be 'acclimatized,' which means they have been grown in an environment where they were given the proper care to prepare them for use indoors. These plants will adapt quickly to your home.

Check the Variety's Quality

Poinsettia. The most popular Christmas pot plant is the red poinsettia. If you're tired of red, buy pink, white or a bicolor poinsettia. The bracts should have an intense color and be free of blemishes. The true flowers of the poinsettia should not be mature. If three to five large bract heads are grown per pot, they should all be of uniform height. If many smaller bract heads are produced per plant, the pot should be rounded in shape.

Azalea. The azalea comes primarily in red, white, pink and some bicolors. It is usually grown in a 6 or 7 inch pot. The proportionality of plant to pot will be nearer two times the height of the pot. The azaleas should be close to round in shape as viewed from the top. Approximately 3/4 to 1/2 of the buds should be fully open and the rest should show color. If all flowers are open, the plant will not be attractive much longer. There should be no green shoots protruding through the flower head.

Cyclamen. The cyclamen should not be as tall as the poinsettia or azalea because the leaves of the cyclamen droop over the pot, reducing the observable height of the pot. Most well-proportioned azaleas are about 1 to 1 1/2 times the height of the pot. Some varieties of cyclamen will have patterns of light green in the leaf. This is a characteristic of the variety and should not be mistaken for a cultural problem. Several flowers should be protruding above the leaf canopy and many small buds at various stages of development should be observable below the leaves.

Christmas Begonia. The Christmas begonia should be round and symmetrical. Some flowers should be fully open with buds at various stages of development in the axils.

Christmas Cactus. The Christmas cactus produces flowers of white, pink, or red at the end of the succulent leaf. The leaves with the flowers trailing over the edge

Fairview

By: Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Rev. Harvey Pansol filled his regular appointment at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend with good attendance. Sunday School attendance was 111!

Thank the good Lord. Hope everyone had a wonderful time with family members and friends during the Thanksgiving holidays. I'm sure we all had much to be thankful for. God has always been and continues to be so good to us. Even in our sorrows, death, sickness and pain. He is always near and hears us when we pray. He is a dear and loving Heavenly Father.

Our community has been saddened during the past few days by the deaths of Doug Hockover, Laney Poynter and Shirley Croucher. We extend our sympathy and love to all the family members and relatives. May God give you that extra strength heeded in your time of sorrow. We love you all.

Those still on the sick list and needing your prayers continually are Gustava Peters, George Wren, Georgia Blair, Mona Treon, Mrs. Anne Linville, Charlene Hall and Charles Noland.

Also Rev. and Mrs. Ira Dean of Berea asked me to request prayer for their son, Bill Dean, of Dayton, Ohio, who is very ill. Bless their hearts, they are so worried and concerned about him. So we covet the prayers of all you good praying, loving Christians for all these I've just mentioned. It's so good to be able to pray for others and have that God-given love that we have for all mankind. It's so hard to stand by and watch our loved ones suffer, but we thank God for His nearness in these trying times. Also I thank God so much for our good friends and neighbors who are so willing to do whatever they can. Bless their hearts, they are wonderful.

Tip Reppert, who recently spent a few days in the Pattie A. Clay Hospital in Richmond, is now home and feeling better. Thank the good Lord.

Mrs. Georgia Blair has also been released from the Berea Hospital and recovering nicely.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jack Parsons who were recently married. They are two very nice people and loved by everyone. May God grant them a good and wonderful life together for many years to come. Dottie and Bill, you have our love and prayers. God bless you.

Mr. and Mrs. James Seals and daughter, Kim, of Indian Hills, Paint Lick, and Hubert and enjoyed supper at People's Restaurant on Thanksgiving night.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alexander and infant daughter spent a few days during Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. Christine Napier of Evans.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen recently were Junior and Lynetta Chasteen of Berea and Wayne Chasteen and son, Darrin, of Fairview.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cope and family of Dayton, Ohio were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cope, Thanksgiving weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ridgell and Sherry were Sunday guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ridgell of Corbin.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall one evening last week.

Hubert and I visited with our son, Junior, and family in Berea on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Barbara Spillman of Berea visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cope on Wednesday of last week. Elmer Walters visited on Saturday.

Rev. Ballard Rader of Berea visited Mr. and Mrs. Tip Reppert and Melody of Scaffold Cane Monday night.

Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mrs. Laura Gabbard were her son, Buddy, wife, Doris, and daughter, Gail Lee, and Mrs. Gladys Rose.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Seals and Kim were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen.

A thought for the day: "We can make our plans, but the final outcome is in God's hands."

Please remember church and Sunday School. We have a lot of suffering and sorrow in our world today, but we also have our times of peace and happiness. God bless you.

Mrs. Grace Brown received word of the death of her first cousin, Jim Carson, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. He was also a distant cousin of us Craig children.

Mrs. Wanda (Brown) Hamm, wife of Glenn Hamm, suffered a stroke and is a patient in a Richmond, Ind. hospital. Our prayers are for her.

Mrs. Ellen Brown and Mrs. Maggie Derron visited their sister, Mrs. Winnie Winkler, in New Lebanon, Ohio recently. She visited her son, Glenn Edward Lewis, and wife, Wanda, in Toledo, Ohio. Then Glen, Wanda and Ellen all went to Columbus, Ohio and had supper with her granddaughter, Dr. Brenda Lewis, then on to Indianapolis, Ind. and visited Glen's other daughter.

Mrs. Linda Benson, and two children: Briane and Jessica, then back to Lebanon, Ohio and finally getting back to Brodhead.

Mrs. Derron has been suffering from bronchitis for the past eight weeks. We hope it soon gets tired of her and she gets better soon.

Ellen also tells me her grandson, Tommie Baldwin, will be home from the service Dec. 14 for a visit. Miss Melanie Baldwin and girlfriend were home over the weekend from Cumberland College in Williamsburg, where she

"The Christmas Magic-Wagon," a play by June Behrens, will be performed Friday, December 20 for the students and faculty at Livingston Elementary. The setting for the play is Parkville, a small American town of the early 1900's recently devastated by floods. The plot involves the Jason Family who set out to "make" a Christmas for some of the flooded-out families. They soon learn that in giving from the heart, they receive so much more in return. Performers for the play were chosen on the basis of reading try-outs. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Hale. In the photo are, from left, Mrs. Nancy Hale, director; Shane Johnson as Pa Jason; Brad Hurd as Grandpa Jason; Anna Langford as Ma Jason; Ruby Begley as the narrator; Julie Childress as Julie Jason; Angela Stallsworth as Amy Jason and Jennifer Clark as Grandma Jason. Not pictured is James Hammond as Dan Jason.

Beware of kerosene heaters and wood stoves this winter

In recent years, the wood-burning stove has proved to be an efficient, inexpensive and an appealing alternative to costly electric, oil or natural gas heat. And the use of the kerosene-fueled portable heaters has expanded significantly; an estimated 12 million are now in use.

But as the number of kerosene-heater and wood-burning stove purchases increases, so do the number of home fires related to their use, according to an Allstate Insurance Company spokesperson.

Approximately 9,300 people were injured in this country in wood-burning stove-related accidents alone in 1984, according to the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

"Most stove-related fires are started when combustibles are too close to a hot stove, by hot gases or flames that escape through a crack in a chimney, or by sparks or coals that escape from a stove," the Allstate spokesperson said. "These risk factors can usually be eliminated if the installation is done by a licensed contractor and the stove is properly maintained."

An important factor to consider when purchasing a wood-burning stove is the area that will be heated. Using a stove that is too large for the room can cause overheating and result in a fire.

Stoves should be made of a strong and sturdy material, such as cast iron or steel. Look especially for stoves that are

Clay Colson receives Everett C. Brown Memorial Award

Clay Colson, in the forefront of agriculture and soil conservation in Rockcastle County for many years, was named recipient of the Everett C. Brown Memorial Award at ceremonies last week at a luncheon meeting of the Rockcastle Improvement Council at the Renfro Valley Seafood House.

The award, presented for several years, was originated by Weldon J. Brown of Washington, D. C., son of Everett C. Brown. It is presented annually to an individual from Rockcastle County who has contributed significantly to the improvement of the county.

John Cox, Mt. Vernon Hardware dealer and fire chief, was last year's recipient.

Colson began his career in agriculture June 7, 1937 following graduation from Berea College when he assumed duties as assistant county agriculture agent.

Shortly before that time he had trained a judging and demonstration team including Wayne Stewart, Phillip Harrison, Edison Coldiron, Nolan Brown and Earl Kilborne.

He left Rockcastle in 1938 and worked as extension agent in Letcher, Estill and Jessamine counties. He returned to Rockcastle in October 1944 as soil conservator in the newly organized Broadhead Soil Conservation District that later became the Rockcastle district.

As soil conservator in Rockcastle, he assisted in developing conservation plans for farmers, installing miles of waterways, terraces, diversions and improving thousands of acres of pasture and meadows and planting thousands of trees for erosion control and timber production.

As chairman of the county agricultural council, an organization for all the agricultural agencies in the county, plans were made to further all phases of agriculture and development. The cooperation of all agricultural agencies was a model studied and copied by surrounding counties and colleges of agriculture in the state.

He helped organize the first milk routes in the county when the Armour Company erected a plant in Mt. Vernon. He assisted in organizing the Rockcastle County Recreation Center (country club) and was a director for many years. He was a charter member of the Rockcastle Improvement Council which obtained land for the Rockcastle Industrial Park, which has brought industry to the county. He was Improvement Council-treasurer for many years and is still a member.

The idea of developing water districts for the county was born in a car with supervisors of the Soil Conservation District who were returning from meeting with the Kentucky Highway Development engineers about using the I-75 roadway for a dam at Renfro Valley.

He helped organize the Rockcastle County Saddle Club of which he is a member. He has been a show chairman for the past eight years.

He brought the first Kentucky-31 fescue to Rockcastle in State wants crackdown

State Police say improper license plates, drivers licenses, titles and insurance can cost you a stiff fine in the future, if the State Police Commissioner has his way.

State Police Commissioner Morgan Elkins has issued a "legal bulletin" to all troopers, and alerted all county and city police departments, asking for cooperation, "so that the Commonwealth could collect the lost revenue" from improper registration of motor vehicles, estimated at $35 million a year.

A recent survey by Assistant Attorney General Gerald R. Gerhard indicated as many as 5,000 vehicles that he checked are apparently owned by people living in the state but whose vehicles have been driven for years with auto dealer license plates, plates registered in other states, plates registered in other counties, and persons with drivers licenses in one state and plates in another.

He said many of these motorists own and drive vehicles without having to pay vehicle-related taxes in Kentucky.

He added, it is not uncommon to see Lexington residents operating vehicles year after year on a license plate from low-tax states such as Florida, North Carolina, Michigan, Ohio, Texas, Tennessee and Alabama.

Under state law, the owner of a vehicle must apply for registration with the county clerk before he or she can drive on the highway or within 10 days if the car has been brought to Kentucky from another state.

Gerhard said many people such as dealers' families, friends and business associates operate the same vehicle for years on dealer plates, or a combination of dealer plates and company tags, while others use dealer plates from other states.

Elkins said that Gerhard and state police auto-theft detectives had estimated that the state lost "somewhere between $5 million and $35 million a year in revenue" because of illegally registered vehicles.

Lexington police Chief John McFadden said he was going to ask Gerhard to "come up and show our officers what he's learned in his research."

"The money factor is important, but it's the criminal side of it that concerns me," McFadden said, noting that improper registration could conceal a stolen car. Gerhard said it had taken several weeks to find an attentive audience for his crusade, but as the man who wrote the legislation for the state's vehicle registration and title system, he is accustomed to a long wait.

In 1975, he began calling for an automated system that included a central computer in Frankfort and a statewide computer network operating in county clerk's offices. It was not until 1982, after several starts and stops, that the legislation was enacted.

And while Gerhard is pleased with Elkins' efforts, he said the existing statutes suffered from ambiguity, loopholes and gaps.

Gerhard said county attorneys, their assistants and district judges who handled vehicle registration cases must be educated about the seriousness of such offenses.

"Too often, in fact, almost always, a citation for improper registration is dismissed upon showing proof of registration, no fine is levied," he said.

Delia Reams is big help at Child Development center

By: Richard Anderkin

It is getting harder and harder these days to find someone willing to put forth that little bit of extra effort it takes to do a good job, but that is not the case when it comes to Mrs. Delia Reams and her work.

Mrs. Reams is the cook at the Maple Grove Child Development Center, and as she winds up her first year on the job, her supervisor, Mrs. Emily Pansol, had nothing but praise for the mother of eight.

It seems the center needed a cook about a year ago and, according to Mrs. Pansol, they couldn't have found anyone better to fit the bill.

"Delia really takes pride in what she does, and she is like a grandmother to the children," Mrs. Pansol said.

"Often times you will find her rocking one to sleep around nap time, and more than once she has sewed something up for one of the children. Last year she sewed Christmas gifts for all of them," Mrs. Pansol said.

Mrs. Pansol, who has been at the center since it opened seven years ago, even went so far as to say the center probably could not operate without Mrs. Reams.

Delia is married to Elmo Reams and they live at Brush Creek. They have eight children of their own. Ironically, Mrs. Reams was the last Green Thumb worker to be hired in the county.

According to Mrs. Anna Rose Mullins, who oversees the Green

Thumb project in the county, a freeze has been put on hiring for the program.

Mrs. Mullins said to qualify time for the program you must be 55 years of age or older and that some income limits also apply.

Presently there are nine Green Thumb workers in the county. Each worker is allowed 48 hours each two weeks and is paid minimum wage.

Of her job at the center Mrs. Reams says she loves it and she adores the children.

Thirty-three children, ranging in age from 2 1/2 to 5 go to the day care center. It is only one of two centers of its type in the county and is administered through Comprehensive Care.

Boys down Williamsburg for first win

By: Richard Anderkin

With some clutch free throw shooting by senior forward Tommy Payne the Rockcastle County Rockets boys varsity won their first game of the season last Saturday night over visiting Williamsburg 63-50.

Payne, who led the Rockets in scoring with 16, hit 7 of 9 free throw attempts and scored 13 points in the fourth quarter to give new head coach David Perkins his first win as a Rockets coach.

The Rockets led by 9 at half-time, and Williamsburg made somewhat of a run at the Rockets in the fourth quarter.

Senior guard Benny Blanton turned in another fine performance, scoring 14 on the night and playing some very intense defense.

The other senior guard Scott Parrett added 11 to the cause, while senior center Harold Graves, got 10. Senior forward Tony Harrison had 7 points and several clutch rebounds, while junior Johnny Kirby got 5.

It was a little different story Friday night when the boys made the trip to Liberty to play Casey County.

Playing lackluster on both offense and defense, the young men from Rockcastle lost 72-57—a 15 point margin which was only 7 at half-time.

Scoring wise, Parrett had 15; Blanton, 14; Kirby, 7; John Bullens, 5; Graves, Harrison and Tim Hodges, 4 each, and Payne and Robbie Mink, 2.

One bright spot Friday night was the fact that the boys B-Team won 63-48, the same 15-point margin by which the varsity lost.

Scoring went as follows: Burton, 12; Anthony Lewis, 10; Bullens, 9; Hansel, 9; Winstead, 8; Adams, 4; Hodges, 4; Kevin Bussell, Pete Harrison and Ray

Kirby, 2; and Matt Shepherd, 1. The B-Team then switched rolls with the varsity Saturday night as they lost and the varsity won.

The B-Team fell in overtime to Williamsburg 64-63. The game was tight the whole way with the half-time score 37 each.

Sophomore center John Bullen led the B-Team in scoring with 21, while junior guard Scott Adams added 12. Hodges had 11; Jeff Winstead, 9; Pat Hansel, 7, and Shannon Burton, 3.

The boys played Bell County at home Tuesday night.

Office of the General Manager - Terminal/Station Management

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC:

Seaboard System Railroad, Inc. ("Seaboard") hereby gives notice that on Wednesday, January 15, 1986, it will put into operation a mobile agency based at its Transportation Service Center ("TSC") at Lexington, Fayette County, Kentucky, which will serve and perform all railroad agency functions at Seaboard's following stations in the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Junction City and Parkville in Boyle County; Lexington in Fayette County; Cliffside, Frankfort,* Jett, Sam Clay, and West Frankfort in Franklin County; Crab Orchard, Rowland and Stanford in Lincoln County; Berea*, Berea College, Fort Estill and Richmond* in Madison County; and Brodhead, Mt. Vernon, Mullins, Pine Hill, Roundstone, Snider and Wildie in Rockcastle County.

Stanford is currently a manned agency station, and Seaboard's resident agent at that station would be eliminated upon implementation of the proposed mobile agency. The Stanford agency serves the nonagency stations of Brodhead, Crab Orchard, Junction City, Mt. Vernon, Parkville, Pine Hill and Rowland, and as is indicated above, those nonagency stations will also be served by the Lexington mobile agency. The other stations listed above are already served by agency personnel based at Seaboard's Lexington TSC so there will be no significant change in their agency service.

After the Lexington-based mobile agency is in operation, Seaboard will remove, dismantle or otherwise dispose of all facilities rendered surplus by said mobile agency. Such facilities include the depot building at Stanford which is used as an office for Seaboard's resident agent in that town and which is not needed for other railroad purposes.

The Lexington mobile agency will be in service Mondays through Saturdays from 8:00 a.m. through 5:00 p.m., local time. The Lexington mobile agent will be assigned a radio-equipped automobile, and he or she will call on Seaboard customers at the above-listed stations in his or her service area as business may require. Seaboard customers at those stations will be able to contact the Lexington mobile agent through a toll-free telephone number which will be distributed to them by the railroad and which will be published in future editions of the telephone directories covering the above-listed stations.

Seaboard is not seeking authority to close, abandon, or cease providing railroad freight service at any of the above-named stations, but rather to alter the form of the agency service it provides for those stations.

These proposed changes in agency service fall within the jurisdiction of the Kentucky Railroad Commission, and anyone wishing to contact said Commission concerning the proposed changes may do so by writing it at 212 State Office Building, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601 or calling it at 502/564-4640.

Transporting charges dismissed

Charges were dismissed against a Russell County man who was arrested the day before Thanksgiving for illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages for the purpose of resale.

Agee McCorkle was arrested by a KSP officer at the 67-mile marker in Rockcastle County. Taken from the truck that McCorkle was driving were 100 cases of beer and 17 cases of whiskey.

The charges were dropped because of a technicality involving the search warrant.

District Judge Ernie Woods, who dropped the charges, also returned the 1975 Ford truck McCorkle was driving. The alcohol which was confiscated was not returned.

Approximately 70 percent of the farmers in Rockcastle County have finished stripping, and their tobacco will be in the market place before the Christmas holiday season which begins Dec. 20, according to County Agent Tom Mills.

Hell is no Joke!

It seems that many people are not really happy in life. They are just "marking time," putting up with the problems of life until they retire and are able to relax and "get away from it, all." You know, life is like that—we can "put up" with a thing if we know it will not last forever. Even serious hardships can be borne, because we know it will soon be over. The man who takes his own life is the one who does not see the end or "out" for his problems. Knowledge (or hope) of release extends patience.

But with HELL it is a different story indeed! There is no expectation for any release whatsoever. Maybe the bitter anguish and pain coupled with remorse could be tolerated if we knew that hell was only for a thousand years; only a hundred years. We could begin to chalk off the days and years, until at last one day, the final day loomed in sight—how joyous it would be! But hell is not so!

What is hell like? Word pictures are given to us so that we can form some sort of idea of that dreadful place—of the rebellious, defiant, unbelieving, liars, and good people who never acted, and church members who had no zeal. It is primarily a place of punishment (Matt. 25:46; 2 Thess. 1:8); a place of pain and torment (Matt. 13:42; Rev. 14:10-11). Hell is represented as a place of fire and brimstone (Mk. 9:47; Rev. 20:15); a place of grief and sorrow (Lk. 13:27-28). It is ETERNAL in design (Mk. 9:43; Matt. 25:41, 46; Rev. 14:11). You need to remember that as sure as there is HEAVEN, there also are sinners in hell. Do not be deceived into thinking that you might suffer some, but later will join those in heaven—the Bible does not teach it!

We tremble as we read about God's destroying the ancient cities of Sodom and Gomorrah with fire and brimstone. I don't know about your fears, but I imagine they are similar to the rest of us—we fear fire and especially the thought of being trapped in a flaming car or building. The eternal lake of fire awaits all those who refuse to obey God and walk in His ways.

Dear friend, YOU make the choice as to where you will be in eternity. Jesus has "gone to prepare a place for you," and invites you to come to heaven (John 14:1-3; Matt. 11:28-30). How about YOU? Let us study with one of the beauties of the Christian life in your home, by mail, or by attending the services at the Providence church of Christ.

Services: Sunday: 10 a.m., Bible Study 10:30 Worship 6:00 p.m., Worship Wednesday: 7:30 p.m. Radio: WRVK Sunday 8 a.m.
