

A conservation tillage system for you

By: David Stipes

Adaptable...flexible...customized...No matter what they call conservation tillage, there is a system for you. With the different systems available, you are not required to use just one general practice to keep 30 percent of the soil surface covered with residue after planting. That's what conservation tillage is all about—keeping the ground covered with crop residue.

When looking at practices available, consider how serious is erosion affecting your soil's productivity, which system fits into your conservation plan, and what local equipment is available and being used, suggests District Conservationist David Stipes, of U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service.

Then look at the pros and cons of the systems available: no-till, ridge till, strip till, mulch till, or other minimum tillage practices. With no-till, the soil is left undisturbed. Seeds are planted in a narrow seedbed about one to three inches wide. Weed control is accomplished primarily with herbicides.

With ridge till, the soil also is left undisturbed. Crops are planted on ridges usually four to six inches higher than the row middles. A combination of herbicides and cultivation is used for weed control. Cultivation is also used to rebuild the ridges.

With Strip-till, the soil is left undisturbed. About a third of the soil surface is tilled at planting time. The seedbed is made in the row by a rotor-tiller, in-row chisel, or row cleaner. Weeds are controlled with herbicides and some cultivation.

With the mulch-till method of conservation tillage, the total soil surface is disturbed by tillage before planting. Such tillage tools as chisels, field cultivators, discs, or sweeps are used. Weed control is with herbicides and some cultivation.

USING UREA NITROGEN AS A FERTILIZER

Solid granular or prilled urea (45-46% N) has become widely available in Kentucky, as has 28% nitrogen solution (UAN solution) which is half urea and half ammonium nitrate. When applied to a field, urea is transformed to ammonium N soon after application. The rate of transformation is greatly increased by urease, the enzyme found in varying degrees in soil and on plants and plant residues. Due to the chemical reactions involved as urea nitrogen undergoes transformation, there is some degree of likelihood for volatilization loss of some N. Whether such a loss will occur, and how much N will be lost if it does occur, relates to temperature, moisture, degree of contact with soil and pH of the soil.

Effect of Temperature—Enzymes which convert urea to ammonium are not very active until the weather warms. Research Generally, conservation tillage includes any tillage and planting system where 30 percent or more of the soil is covered by crop residue after planting. The form of conservation tillage used depends on the site, local conditions, and a grower's needs.

To help you get started, see what your neighbors are using with success. Perhaps they leased machinery, or modified an old planter. Talk to them about what works best for them. For technical assistance, contact the USDA's Soil Conservation Service by calling 256-2541 or see us in the Rockcastle County Courthouse.

In Kentucky indicates that it will usually be early April before this rate of transformation will be great enough that risk of volatilization is economically important.

Effect of Moisture—There are two thoughts to keep in mind about moisture. (1) If soil, plants or residue onto which urea is applied are moist, enzymatic activity will be increased and urea will rapidly convert to ammonium

Municipal Aid Fund Public Notice Proposed Use Hearing

A public hearing will be held by Mt. Vernon at the city hall on May 12 at 7 p.m. for the purpose of obtaining written and oral comments of citizens regarding possible use of Municipal Aid Funds. The city currently has $17,854.23 in carry-over funds from fiscal year 1985-86 and will be receiving $15,719.00 during the fiscal year 1986-87 for a total of $33,573.23.

All interested persons and organizations in Mt. Vernon are invited to the public hearing to submit oral or written comments on the possible use of the Municipal Aid Funds. These funds will be used for the maintenance and repair of municipal streets.

Any persons (especially senior citizens) who present their comments, should call the city hall 256-2879 so that arrangements can be made to secure their comments. 36x1

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals will purge its underground certified miner files, July 1, 1986. All certified underground miners who have not been retrained since the 1982 calendar year will be dropped from the active file.

If you are an unemployed underground miner, previously certified by the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals, but have not been retrained since the 1982 calendar year, you should contact the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals office in your district and request enrollment in a 16 hours retraining class in order to retain your underground miner certification. Once dropped from the certified miner active file, it will be necessary to complete a 48 hours new miner class in order to be reinstated as a certified miner in Kentucky.

The address and telephone number of the Department of Mines and Minerals in London is: Dept. of Mines and Minerals, Rt. 13, Box 1-M, London, Ky. 40301, Tel. (606) 878-0610, Ext. 243.

assuming the temperature is warm enough, and (2) If applied onto soil, plants or residues and enough rain occurs within 1-2 days to soak the urea into the soil, volatilization loss will be minimal.

Degree of Contact with the Soil—As urea converts to ammonium, the ammonium will react strongly enough with soil to minimize volatilization. The less soil contact with urea or UAN solutions when the N is applied, the greater the risk for volatilization loss of N. When surface applied to bare soil and worked in, there is little risk unless soil pH is above 6.5. When surface applied to no-till corn, the risk can vary from great where there are enough residues to prevent much soil contact, to slight where residues are thin enough that most of the N contacts the soil. When top-dressed onto grass sod where there is little initial contact with soil, risk is great after mid spring.

Effect of Soil pH—This has little effect on N loss except where urea is spread onto bare soil and not worked in. Under such conditions, risk of volatilization can be great if surface pH of soil is above 6.5.

If using starter fertilizers which have been blended using urea, do not place the fertilizer in contact with soil since concentration of ammonia resulting from urea breakdown can be toxic to germinating seeds. Solid urea (46% N) contains 920 pounds of actual N per ton of material; UAN (28%) contains 560 pounds of actual N per ton of material (approximately 3 pounds actual N per gallon); ammonium nitrate (33.5%) contains 667 pounds actual N per ton of material. Carefully consider the price per pound of actual N together with convenience in application and the relative risk of N loss for the particular crop when deciding

CARD OF THANKS
 Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair. Perhaps you sent a funeral spray. If so, we saw it there. Perhaps you spoke the kindest words, as any friend can say. Perhaps you were not there at all. Yet, just thought of us that day. Whatever you did to console our hearts, we thank you so much whatever the part.

The family of Ira N. Reppert

VOLUME 99 - NUMBER 36

THURSDAY, APRIL 10, 1986

Briefly . . .

Motorcycle crash

Charles B. Shaffer, 43, a London resident and businessman, was killed about noon Tuesday when his motorcycle struck a truck on I-75 at Woods Creek Dam near the Rockcastle line in Laurel County in a construction zone. The work on I-75 will continue through the summer's heavy traffic period. At times last weekend, the backup was 11 miles on the northbound lanes. Local traffic from London to Mt. Vernon should open by U.S. 25.

alternate. There's more news next year there will be work on I-75 from the Rockcastle-Laurel line to the Madison-Fayette line, if plans materialize.

A drop or two

About 17 of an inch of rain fell at Mt. Vernon Sunday night, the first rain in the area this month, according to Buddy Cox at Cox Funeral Home. In place of rain, frost is predicted for Wednesday night and Thursday night with a warming trend beginning Friday, if the National Weather Service is right.

Forest fires diminish

Forest fires in Rockcastle County that have burned hundreds of acres of woodlands in the past two weeks are out at last report. There were two smaller fires reported this week. One was on KY 461 and another at Brush Creek. One large blaze was reported in Laurel County on Monday and Tuesday, but reportedly has since been contained.

Another contract

Elmo Greer and Sons, contractor on the Mt. Vernon bypass of KY 461, has another contract. He was awarded a $3,975,599 contract to reconstruct a 1.8 mile section of U. S. 27 in McCreary County and is expected to start the project soon. It's the first of a two-part project to reconstruct six miles of the rugged highway in that area, estimated to cost a total of $10.2 million.

Talking time

Daylight Saving Time (DST) will not start a month earlier now that Sen. Wendell Ford has had his way. The Kentucky Democrat has succeeded in bottling up legislation in Congress that would have had DST starting the first Sunday in April and ending the first Sunday in November, a month earlier. Since 1966, DST has started the last Sunday in April and ended the last Sunday in October. Obviously, it will remain the same this year.

Somerset bypass

Although the Kentucky Department of Transportation has agreed a bypass to the east of Somerset joining KY 80 and U. S. 27 will eventually be constructed, it will not be soon. The bypass is in the Transportation Cabinet's six-year plan with design work of about $600,000 scheduled in 1991. Some Somerset officials had hoped for an earlier date.

Singing again

For those interested in gospel singing, the Friday night gospel singing has resumed for the season at Renfro Valley. This week will be a favorite quartet, the Smokey Mountain Echoes, and Jim Gaskins and the Homefoks Quartet.

Sewer plant work begins --

Workers began the year-long renovation and expansion of the Mt. Vernon sewer plant this past week. Ttus Construction Co. of Dayton, Ohio, is the contractor for the $1,621,745 project. The newly-remodeled plant will have sewage processing increased from 200,000 gallons a day to 600,000 gallons. The city received a $1,443,305 grant from the government for the project. The city's share is $481,102. Included in the work are a new pump station and pumps, drying beds, clarifiers and digester. In the picture is Darrell Jones of Danville who is one of the workers on the job. The project superintendent is Bill Floyd.

Brodhead Council acts --

Delayed fire house addition revived

By: Ray McClure

It was back to "square one" for the Brodhead City Council at its meeting Monday night, and that called for action.

Agreeing that the city needs to "get things going," a committee was appointed by Mayor Billy Bussell to seek advice and to do the planning on the city's delayed fire department annex.

Appointed to the job were councilmen Ronnie Cash and Johnny Wilcox, and Fire Chief Brian Bussell.

The building, originally planned to join to the east side of the fire department/city hall building, was started about six months ago. The foundation was poured, but then work was halted over a property line dispute with the Southern Railroad.

Chief Bussell then went looking for other sites, including the parking lot area opposite the Citizen's Bank, owned by the railroad and leased to the city.

After appraisals were made on the railroad lot, the railroad agreed to sell the property to the city for $15,000, but only to the city for a fire house/city hall.

Although the council did not turn thumbs down on that property at the Monday meeting, it was apparent that the cost of the lot, plus the cost of the building, did not interest the council, even if it could sell the present building to help defray the cost of the new structure.

Chief Bussell told the council Brodhead would be rated a class six, and the county a class seven, on May 1 by the Insurance Service Office in Nashville, Tenn., meaning lower insurance rates, and that the city should show some movement toward locating its fire trucks to better meet the needs of the city and county.

The county has a new fire truck stationed at, and operated by, the Brodhead Fire Department to handle fire calls in the western areas of the county.

The council spent almost an hour discussing the details relating to the proposed building, including other locations in the city that might be acceptable, the kind of building to construct (steel, concrete block, brick) and the possible cost.

Chief Bussell told the councilmen the fire department has about $7,000 in the fire department building fund coming from donations, and various events, and the contributors "don't see much going on."

He predicted if the council did not get something started soon, the contributors might want their money returned.

The mayor then appointed the committee and asked them to decide by the next meeting on May 5 on a new building.

Most likely the committee will advise the council to go ahead with the annex to the present building

Four local dairy farmers choose federal program that terminates dairying

Four out of the 42 dairy farmers in Rockcastle County have decided to participate in the federal Dairy Termination Program, meaning they are getting out of the dairy business.

The four Rockcastle dairy farmers whose bids were accepted by the program are Edward Sowder, Sr., with 56 cows; Edward Sowder, Jr., with 29 cows; Teddy Brock, with 46 cows, and Lloyd McKinney, Sr., with 45 cows.

Edward Sowder, Sr. and McKinney will go out of business this month. Brock will terminate his herd in March 1987 and Edward Sowder, Jr. in August 1987.

Under the program, a farmer must sell his herd for slaughter or export and not produce milk on his farm for five years. In return, he will get the money from the sale of his herd, and government payments equaling a bid he submitted based on his herd's past yearly milk output plus other economic factors.

The four from Rockcastle submitted the following accepted bids--The figures include the amount of milk in hundredweight and the price per hundredweight.

Edward Sowder, Sr., 6,685 hundredweight at $12.72 per hundredweight; Edward Sowder, Jr., 3,442 hundredweight at $14.99 per hundredweight; Brock, 3,075 hundredweight at $19.30 per hundredweight, and McKinney, 3,853 hundredweight at $20 per hundredweight.

The farmers will receive five equal payments over the five year period. They also receive the amount paid at the time they sell their cows.

According to Harold Ballinger at the ASCS office in Mt. Vernon, 22 county dairy farmers in Rockcastle submitted bids. There are no plans to re-open the process for further bidding, he added.

Although some dairy farmers were nappy over the new program, beef producers were not. With the dairy herds across the nation to be slaughtered, beef prices have already dropped dramatically.

The program, authorized by Congress last year, will cut U. S. milk production by about 12 billion pounds, or 8 percent, over an 18-month period. It is expected to cost more than $2 billion over the five-year period, with dairy farmers paying 38 percent through a special marketing fee.

It is hoped that the program will cut the nation's 20 billion-pound dairy product surplus, which is costing the government about $2 billion a year.

In the last two years, Kentucky has lost nearly 1,200 dairy farms. There is a reason.

The average Kentucky market price for 100 pounds of fluid milk (that manufactured as milk as opposed to that manufactured as other dairy products) was $12.70 in January, compared with $14.20 in January 1984. That means a Kentucky dairy farmer with a

Children will benefit from World Vision gift to CAP

An offer of children's items worth several million dollars from World Vision sent officials of the Christian Appalachia Project scurrying to find available warehouse space recently.

World Vision contacted Bill Begley, CAP's director of financial development, on March 21 with an offer to give CAP books, records, and tapes for children, and some food items worth about $6 million if it could find sufficient warehouse space to store it.

The offer was made with the intention of distributing high quality merchandise to needy children of Appalachia. The unused items are products of a brand-name American manufacturer.

CAP, needing approximately 25,000 square feet of space to store the merchandise, began their search simultaneously in Danville and Lexington, and with Rep. Harold Rogers' office.

A week and a half passed with a deadline nearing to give an answer to World Vision when two offers were made from the Lexington-Bluegrass Army Depot and the Farmers Tobacco Warehouse in Somerset. CAP accepted Farmers Tobacco Warehouse's offer of 25,000 square feet, rent free. Farmers Tobacco Warehouse is a 440,000 square-foot facility.

Both offers came through the efforts of Rep. Rogers' office.

The first of 35 to 38 tractor-trailer loads of merchandise will arrive at the warehouse the morning of April 9, according to Charles Deaton, coordinator of Operation Sharing. The trucks will deliver on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for ten working days.

The merchandise will then be

Report to Kentucky

SENATOR WENDELL FORD

U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510

TAX ON TAX THREATENED
I know it is a very sensitive time to discuss taxes. Some of you are still struggling with the 1985 federal tax forms. Others are trying to figure out how you are going to come up with the money to pay the tax bill. Even as the April 15th deadline comes and goes the Senate will be working on another "tax reform" bill. The major proposal before the Senate Finance Committee is disappointing.

The tax reform bill is a must. It is long overdue from the Congress and is long sought by taxpayers across the country. Real tax reform would make the method of computing taxes simpler and the tax form you file more easily understood. Most importantly reform would ensure that all taxpayers pay their fair share of taxes. The bill before the Senate Finance Committee sets that as its goal. But the plan outlined by Finance Committee Chairman Bob Packwood of Oregon misses this goal by a wide margin.

The President has said he will veto a bill that includes "new taxes." I support the President in this. Rather than take the President at his word, some in Congress and some in the President's own administration have set out to find a way to increase taxes without calling it a tax increase.

The idea they have come up with is called "denying deductibility." The best estimates are that it would raise $75 billion in five years. It would work this way: Every company and individual who under current law must collect excise taxes for our Federal government on the products they sell would have to pay taxes on those taxes they collect. No longer would these excise taxes be deductible business expenses, even though the money collected is turned over directly to the U.S. Treasury. Only minor changes in current law would be required to raise these funds, and that seems to be popular with some groups in both Congress and the Administration. It is popular until you explain the effect of these "minor changes." Excise taxes would increase on average 54%. This increase would be inevitably passed on to the consumers. That means that every gallon of gasoline, long distance phone call, new tire, airline ticket, cigarette pack, other tobacco products, and all of these things would cost more. The percentage increase would vary according to the product.

Many of these products are used by Kentuckians every day. And many are grown, mined, or made in Kentucky. That means that production costs would go up. Businesses would be forced to cut costs. Less money would be available for payrolls. I've been told that hundreds of jobs in the state could be lost. Manufacturers would buy less raw material. Coal, tobacco, and grain could suffer. Cigarette manufacturers might use this as an excuse to buy less expensive foreign tobacco. If consumers are forced to pay more, sales can be expected to drop off and the state government could be expected to lose several million dollars in revenue.

Senator Mitch McConnell and I have begun the fight against this proposal. We have sent a letter to Chairman Packwood requesting hearings by the Senate Finance Committee. More than half the Senate signed this letter or a similar one sent by members of the Finance Committee. Hearings will give us a chance to make Kentucky's case and show how harmful this tax on taxes would be to consumers across the country. Our letter also shows the Chairman of the Finance Committee that this idea is not popular in the Senate and that Congress must find a more equal, less harmful way to achieve fair tax reform.

A white dogwood tree was planted on the Executive Mansion grounds to commemorate Arbor Day, which Gov. Martha Layne Collins has proclaimed for April 4, 1986. "DAIRY FARMERS" average-size herd (80 cows) and an average rate of production a cow (1,000 pounds a month) saw a $450 cut in its monthly milk check and that's without considering other economic factors that have cut profits.

Dairy farmers are not expected to fare better this year. Although the price of feed for the farmers' top production expenses is expected to drop 20 to 50 cents below last year, said Robert Beck, a dairy economist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Although the participants will be out of the dairy business, some still hope to get back into it at some date in the future. It might not work that way. Many might be out of business to stay.

The termination program is not without critics. "Some dairy farmers are quick to point out that a dairy diversification program in 1983 M. under which 38,000 farmers received subsidies to cut U.S. production by 7.5 billion pounds did little to being supply in line with demand."

"BRODHEAD COUNCIL"

since it already has plans drawn.

As one councilman said, "If we want to get it done as soon as possible, we need to get a contractor. I'm sure a lot of men would willingly contribute their time to help with construction, but this is vacation time and summer time, and we all have a lot to do."

The council was told by Water Superintendent Deola Bussell it will soon have to paint the city water tank, last painted about five years ago. The council instructed Bussell to find someone acceptable and professional to do the job.

The council agreed that riding motor bikes on city sidewalks should not be done, and left it to Police Officer Bill Lawrence to check into the problem. The council did not prohibit bicycles on the sidewalks.

Discussed at some length was the problem of "stealing city water" and what to do about it. The council decided to cut the line and plug it at the last paying customer on a problem line.

The council voted to change the location of the valve that controls the water line from Mt. Vernon to Brodhead. Now located at Hall's Hill, it will be moved to water the bottom of the hill. The change was made to help remedy water pressure problems that could occur with additional building that will be done in a nearby subdivision.

"CAP GIFT"

distributed to other service organizations in Appalachia, such as the Kentucky Council on Churches, the Commission on Religion in the Appalachian Region, for their programs. Deaton said.

"We hope to have them distributed by Oct. 31," Deaton said.

"The theme of this while effort is getting gifts into the hands of children," said Rev. Doyle Fortney, CAP's director of religious programs and planning. "We feel very fortunate to have this kind of opportunity."

Water Watch includes county

Over 50 streams and lakes from the tributaries of the Big Sandy in eastern Kentucky to Madsen Creek in the far western part of the state have been adopted, including the Rockcastle River.

The new guardians of the waterways are more than 400 Kentuckians who joined Water Watch, a Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet program enlisting volunteers to help protect Kentucky's water resources.

Charlotte Baldwin, secretary of the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet, welcomes the assistance of Water Watchers. "The response to Water Watch is one more indication that Kentuckians feel strongly about keeping our many miles of water clean and useable. We consider it a privilege to work with these groups who volunteer to help protect the state's water," she said.

Water Watch has attracted a wide range of community groups including garden clubs, the Audubon Society, scouting programs, paddling groups, schools, Sierra Club chapters, fishing clubs, the League of Women Voters, local industries, and universities.

Water Watchers are trained by the Department for Environmental Protection's Division of Water to conduct simple water quality analyses and rehabilitate polluted streams. The Water Watch groups are engaged in a wide range of pollution prevention activities.

Tax Shelters and the Not So Rich

Many taxpayers feel that tax shelters were set up for the rich. The truth of the matter is that most taxpayers take advantage of one tax shelter or another. You're probably doing so right now even if you don't think so.

If you are buying a home, investing in property, or putting money into an Individual Retirement Account, you are using tax shelters. The farm tax shelter is viewed by many to mean some elaborate scheme to avoid huge amounts of taxes. Tax shelter simply means that you're deferring the tax to a later time, reducing the tax by converting ordinary income to the preferred capital gains, or investing in certain bonds, the income from which is not taxable.

Your first concern in an investment should be its economic merit. The tax aspects are going to be of little importance to you if you've never going to get your original investment back. This means that you have to take it upon yourself or get the advice of some independent advisor before you invest in any program. Do not rely solely on the advice of the person selling a particular investment.

Some of the more exotic tax shelters involving limited partnerships, real estate, oil and gas, etc. should be looked at closely. The legitimate companies will appreciate your investigative questions. The more exotic the tax shelter, the more opportunity for you to be hoodwinked by those who are high on salesmanship and low on performance. As a first step, check with your state securities department. Most investments are required to register with your state securities office before they can sell within your state. Such registration, however, is not an indication that the investment is economically sound.

There's no substitute for investing in those items which you know best. In the absence of first hand information, use an advisor, such as an investment, that does not stand to profit if you buy the investment.

PTO Spring Carnival will be held Friday, April 25

The Mt. Vernon PTO is planning a Spring Carnival Apr. 25 reminiscent of the halloween carnivals that were once held at the Mt. Vernon School.

The carnival will not only feature games, balloons and the coronation of the king/queen and prince/princess, but also a "haunted house" and music. The Mt. Vernon Elementary School students will be given an opportunity to participate in the festivities during school hours on Friday, Apr. 25. The carnival will be open to the public at 7 p.m. The coronation will be at 9:30 p.m. Tickets can be purchased in advance, 12 for $1 at Saylor's Pharmacy, Young's Pharmacy, Mt. Vernon Pharmacy, Hiatt's & 10, Appliance Service Center and DeBorde's Discount.

The students will be informed when they can purchase tickets at school. Tickets at the carnival will be 10 cents each. Those who would like to volunteer to help during the carnival should contact Vicki at 256-5234 or Alisha at 256-2653.

Come out and be a part of the fun and help support the Mt. Vernon PTO.

Kentucky workers eligible for increased wages

Gov. Martha Layne Collins has signed a bill into law that will make an estimated quarter of a million Kentucky workers eligible for increased wages.

The bill, which will go into effect July 1, raises Kentucky's minimum wage from $2.60 an hour to $3.35, bringing it into alignment with the federal minimum wage.

Service industry workers in Kentucky's hotel, motel, restaurant and retail industries will be the principal beneficiaries of the new wage provision.

Labor Cabinet analysts estimate that more than three-fifths of the state's minimum wage earners are women and an estimated 28 percent are heads of households. At present, an employee working full-time (40 hours per week) for Kentucky's minimum wage earns approximately $5,200 a year, less than the state's poverty level for an individual.

"This legislation will give thousands of Kentucky families an important foothold in their battle against poverty," said Gov. Collins. "Many young children will enjoy a better quality of life, and now that there is a viable alternative, we can anticipate seeing a number of welfare recipients choose gainful employment over the entrapment of dependency."

At present, only nine states are without minimum wage provisions. Of the remaining 41 states, with a minimum wage, only eight have lower wage standards than Kentucky while 33 have higher ones.

"This legislation will produce positive economic results for all Kentuckians, raising the standard of living for the working poor and lowering the taxpayers' burden for public welfare programs," said Wells. "Since every new dollar is expected to roll over at least two and a half times and be subject to taxation each time, state and local governments and the people they serve will benefit, as well as the very industries that face increased costs."

The new minimum wage will affect Kentucky employers who gross from $95,000 to $362,500 a year. Those who gross less than $95,000 a year will remain exempt.

Workers who have questions about whether they qualify for the new minimum wage should contact the Labor Cabinet's Division of Wage and Hour Standards at (502) 564-2784.

1040/1040A filers can get extension to file taxes

Taxpayers who file Form 1040 or 1040A can request an automatic four-month extension of time to file their federal income tax returns, according to the Internal Revenue Service. The IRS stresses that the extension to file tax returns is not an extension of time to pay.

To obtain the four-month extension beyond April 15, taxpayers must complete Form 4868, "Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," and forward it to the service center processing returns for their area. Kentucky residents file federal tax returns at the Cincinnati Service Center, Cincinnati, Ohio 45299. Form 4868 must be filed on or before April 15.

On Form 4868, taxpayers should make a tentative estimate of the year's taxes and submit any balance due with the form. If the unpaid tax is more than 10 percent of the total tax, a penalty is assessed for late payment unless the taxpayer can show reasonable cause for not paying the tax when due. The penalty is one-half of one percent per month on the unpaid balance, up to a maximum of 25 percent. Interest is also assessed on any unpaid balance. Taxpayers who wish to take an Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) deduction for 1985 must make their IRS contributions by April 15, 1986, whether or not they have been granted an extension to file, the IRS said. Taxpayers filing Form 1040EZ, or those requesting the IRS to compute their tax, are not eligible for an automatic extension.

Anyone who has specific questions regarding estimated federal tax payments may call the IRS toll free at 1-800-424-1040.

Fishing Report

Unseasonably warm, dry weather has cleared up the muddy water conditions that hampered fishermen earlier in the season although the lack of rain now looms as a threat to normal springtime fishing patterns. During the past week water surface temperatures climbed into the 60's at most lakes. Fishing has greatly improved and almost summerlike conditions have lured thousands of anglers onto the state's lakes. The spring crappie run is in full bloom at Kentucky Lake, and good catches of white bass, muskie, and largemouth bass were reported during the April 5-6 period covered by this report. The lake-by-lake rundown is as follows:

WEST: Heavy crappie fishing activity was reported at Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley with good catches being made. Crappie were being caught on pink and red and green and red tube jigs and minnows in secondary creek channels and by drift fishing the banks. The next 10 days should be the best crappie fishing of the season. Bass were being caught on crankbaits cast across gravel points and stumps at both lakes, with some lunkers reported being taken.

KENTUCKY: Murky to clear, rising slowly, 4 feet below summer pool, 64 degrees.
BARKELEY: Clear, rising slowly, 3 1/2 feet below summer pool, 67 degrees.
WEST CENTRAL: At Barren River Lake, crappie were hitting minnows and jigs fished around stickups and brush piles in 5-8 feet of water, bass on crankbaits fished over sandy banks in 3-8 feet of water. In the tailwaters, good catches of crappie reported.
 At Nolkin Lake, bass and a few walleye were hitting crankbaits fished across points and rocky banks, bluegill on worms off steep rock walls and crappie on jigs and minnows around stickups in 3-6 feet of water.

At Rough River Lake, crappie were being caught on minnows and jigs in 12 feet of water and bass on crankbaits over points.
BARREN: Clear, rising slowly, 12 feet below summer pool, 60 degrees.
NOLIN: Clear, rising, 5 feet below summer pool, 65 degrees.

ROUGH RIVER: Clear to murky, stable, 10 feet below summer pool, 62 degrees.
CENTRAL: At Taylorsville Lake, bass were being taken on chartreuse spinnerbaits up in the creeks and on shallow banks.

At Lake Cumberland, white bass were being caught casting spinners, crappie by drifting minnows and jigs over submerged and in 6-10 feet of water and bass by casting white spinnerbaits and worms.
 At Herrington Lake, white bass and hybrids were being caught near the Boyle/Garrard county line in the vicinity of the Ky. 52 bridge by anglers casting spinners and jigs, and crappie on minnows around stick-ups, and white bass by trolling crankbait/jig combinations.

 At Green River Lake, excellent fishing for muskie with big crankbaits reported with a 41-23-23-pound fish taken recently. Crappie were being caught on minnows and jigs in the brush and standing timber in 3-15 feet, bass by casting crankbaits and spinnerbaits.

At Dale Hollow Lake, bass were hitting spinnerbaits fished over shallow banks and crappie were being caught on minnows fished around submerged willows.
TAYLORSVILLE: Clear to murky, stable, 2 feet below summer pool, 62 degrees.
HERRINGTON: Clear, stable, 9 feet below summer pool, 62 degrees.

GREEN RIVER: Clear, rising slowly, 5 feet below summer pool, 60 degrees.
CUMBERLAND: Clear, stable, 7 feet below summer pool, 58 degrees.

DALE HOLLOW: Clear, stable, 4 feet below summer pool, 58 degrees.
EAST: At Cave Run Lake, bass were being taken by flipping jigs and rind combinations and casting spinnerbaits on a slow retrieve.

At Paintsville Lake, crappie were being caught on minnows over brush and stickups in 4-6 feet of water, bluegill on worms around shoreline brush, and catfish on worms at the heads of coves.
 At Laurel River Lake, rainbows were being taken by trolling crankbaits, and bass were hitting jigs fished over rocky points in the upper lake.

At Buckhorn Lake, crappie and white bass were being taken in the tailwaters by casting jigs and still fishing with minnows.
 At Grayson Lake, bass were being caught on crankbaits and spinnerbaits during the day, and by jig fishing globs of night-crawlers at night.

At Dewey Lake, crappie were being taken on minnows fished over stickups and deadfalls in inlet headwaters in 2-4 feet of water, bass on crankbaits and spinnerbaits over points and brush in shallow coves.

At Fishtrap Lake, crappie were being taken on minnows and jigs over brush in 8-12 feet of water and bass on crankbaits, spinnerbaits and jigs on points in 4-8 feet of water.

LAUREL: Clear, stable, 1 foot above summer pool, 62 degrees.
CAVE RUN: Clear to murky, rising slowly, 4 feet below summer pool, 59 degrees.

PAINTSVILLE: Clear, stable, 5 feet below summer pool, 65 degrees.

FISHING COLUMN

By: John Bryan

Trouit season will open on Saturday. I was once a trout fisher. My childhood indoctrination was at Yellowstone. My adulthood boryan baptism was at the Beaverkill. Walt Dette sold me a handful of clipped duns that sealed my faith. Although my honeymoon became the West Branch of the Croton, I throw flies at the trout of North Georgia's Chattahoochee. I remember seeing the Cane Fork, New York's Amawalk, Long Island's, Nissequogue. In my fantasies I throw a two-handed twelve footer across the great Gaspé, waded a seven-foot Payne above the slow and thoughtful Ichen, and shot a nine-foot Fenwick graphite at Chile's rapids.

But I'm longer care about Opening Day, nor about trout that moon. The largemouth bass has been my fall from grace. Trout and bass attract more passionate allegiance than any of the fishes, and I sometimes try to explain why the bass is my own clear winner.

Certainly trout are more beautiful, they fight better, and they inhabit much more dazzling waters and landscapes than do bass. So what on Saturday, will I be dunking plastic worms broken down, dirty water boat-docks rather than sailing high-floating flies among' bubbling bouldered streams?

I love games, and fishing is my ultimate of games. The trout game is not as good as the bass game. I'll explain in generalities, and ignore the exceptions to the rule.

You catch trout in small waters, bass are in big waters, that's a bigger game board. Trout are in clear waters, and you can often see the fish you're trying to catch; bass are in murky waters which add to the mystery and suspense of the game.

Trouit fishing is surrounded by a zillion intricate tangents like fly tying, memorizing scientific names of insects, collecting hand-crafted rods and reels, literature-tangents that can become more important than the game's main objective. Bass fishing's tangents are limited; the few that do exist all point back to catching bass.

When trout fishing you go after single fish; when bass fishing singles are important; but there's always that hope for a glorious school. Trout are stocked in streams as adult, keeper fish. Bass are stocked when they look like guppies. Just knowing that makes the bass game better for me.

 With trout there are gullt trins, gullt if you don't use a fly and, gullt if you use corn or cheese or worms, gullt if you catch fish fresh out of the hatchery truck. Today, fortunately, there are a couple of quilt trips with bass:

Brodhead Willing Workers meet; upcoming activities discussed

The devotional on "Inner Beauty" and the lesson on "Outward Beauty" gave the home-makers controversial views.

Loraine Newland read from Peter 3:5: "Do right and do not give way to fear." She read "One Solitary Life" that tells how Jesus left His mark in the world, to end the devotion.

Emily Glövak presented the lesson "Grooming Products." Cost of the products can't guarantee the quality of cosmetics. By reading labels you can compare products for value and avoid substances you are allergic to. She gave us a true/false test and then passed-out papers for us to write products that we had in our bathroom. Gladys Bussell, Loraine Newland and Jean Albright won prizes for writing the most products in a certain time.

Besides reading minutes, Deborah Newland showed us the dress she had made for an Ethiopian woman. Then patterns, directions and cloth for 17 dresses were taken by members present to make. Eight of these are left. She hoped some members who weren't present would make them before Apr. 17.

The club decided to make or buy "mittens to give" to needy children before next winter.

We signed a "Get Well card" to send to Ella-Mae Martin, and were asked to leave magazines on Elizabeth Mullins' patio for Geraldine Robbins to pick up and take to country women on the county's Bookmobile.

Jean Albright, the club's president, carried the meeting along, gave report on council meeting and gave the following announcements: State Leadership Program, Apr. 1; Quilt and Craft Show, May 16 and 17; State Homemakers Meeting, May 7, 8 and 9, in Lexington; N.E.H.C. Anniversary Conference, July 19-25, in Blacksburg, Va., and Area's Cultural Arts Camp class, July 31, at 4-H Camp, London.

Mrs. Albright asked the members to write a personal letter to our congressman asking him not to cut budgets in 1987 for Extension Service.

Clara Proctor will write about Brodhead's Christmas Festival for community's work to enter in Kentucky's contest. Thanks, Clara.

After the blessing by Sylvia Whit, the group gathered around tables to partake of chips, dips and pecan-chess pie served by the hostesses, Emily Glövak and Elizabeth F. Mullins.

The April 17 meeting will be held at Loraine Newland's home with Gladys Bussell as co-hostess. Notice it is the third Thursday instead of the fourth Thursday, the usual meeting time.

Elizabeth F. Mullins, Reporter

Girl Scout troops observe International Day at FLC

On March 22 the Rockcastle County Girl Scout Troops had an International Day at the Family Life Center.

Each troop was a different country. Each troop did a flag on their country, gave information about their country and brought food from their country. A tasty lunch was enjoyed by everyone. There were about 67 present for the event.

A patch was offered to the girls. We had a special treat of two girls from Berea College. Edna Viruell from Mexico and Sandra Cairo from the Netherlands were guests of the Girl Scouts at their recent International Day.

Edna Viruell of Mexico and Sandra Cairo from the Netherlands were guests of the Girl Scouts at their recent International Day.

Cairo from the Netherlands were guests. Both of them told the girls about their country and each did a dance. Sandra did several stunts with the girls and showed them some basic dance movements.

A good time was enjoyed by all.

Scout leaders meet

The monthly Girl Scouts' leaders meeting was April 1. We discussed and planned Clown Days which is on April 12 at the Family Life Center from 10 until 2. We encourage everyone to come and join in the fun.

For those girls who don't jump on April 22 is Leader's Day, so be kind to your leader. She has worked hard all year for you.

On April 19 some of the leaders will attend the American Red Cross training in Berea. And the weekend of April 26 and 27 is Kings' Island day for the Girl Scouts.

Those attending this month's meeting were Regina Hodge, Donna Brewer, Liz Phelps, Kathy Coffey, Judy Woods and our field executive Judy Senkoff.

Activities at Brodhead Elementary

Tabs save lives! Students, teacher and local businesses at Brodhead began saving pull tabs from beverage cans that will buy time on kidney, dialysis machines. So far, Brodhead students and faculty have collected 10,000 in six days. Every tab buys 20 seconds. Some of those helping county the tabs in their free time are, left to right, Tracy Owens, Keith Carpenter, Dewayne Sizemore, Susie Bryant and Rebecca Price.

The average person in the course of a lifetime walks a distance equivalent to almost three times around the equator.

Mr. Michael Radford, at right, resource room teacher at BES, is shown with his exhibit on the BIT he displayed at the Kentucky Middle School Association, Saturday, March 29 at Woodford County Middle School in Versailles. Mr. Radford also showed a video clip from one of Brodhead's television news program.

Brodhead Elementary School has its own news program! BES students are participating in a program in which they bring the school news via video camera. Shown at right is Sonia Morgan shooting the news reported by April Abney.

BES has new TV news program

As we all know, communication is important, and equally so are communication skills. One new way of communicating at Brodhead Elementary School is their daily television news program as seen on Channel 3 WBES. On any given morning at 10:00 the students are watching the news seen was "BES Tiger Pride", featuring 8th graders reporting some of the highlight of the year's accomplishments and announcing some future events. A daily features is an up-to-the-minute progress report of our "high attendance" project.

Some day you may be approached by one of our students to participate in a "Person-on-the-Street" interview. We are planning many features for this news medium.

Brodhead is proud of this program which is sponsored by its guidance committee with Mrs. Nancy Parkerson and Mr. Michael Radford assuming the major responsibility. Other members of the guidance committee are Mr. Tom Payne, (Principal), Miss Molly Hamm, (teacher), Mrs. Pam Martin, (teacher), Mrs. Delores Albright, (parent), Rebecca Albright, (student), and Mrs. Sue Hamm, Counselor.

Two teachers attend regional conference

"Sharing/Growing" was the theme of a conference presided by the Region VIII Kentucky Middle School Association on Saturday, March 29, at Woodford County Middle School in Versailles.

"This conference was attended by two members of Brodhead's faculty, Michael Radford, resource room teacher, and Mrs. Sue Hamm, guidance counselor.

Mrs. Hamm made a presentation on excellence in education and shared information about the school's newsletter, "A Note From School," which is sponsored by Brodhead PTA.

Mr. Radford displayed his exhibit on the BIT and showed a video clip "BES TIGER PRIDE," from one of Brodhead's television news programs.

There were over 100 educators attending this conference.

Mrs. Shirley Martin's first grade class was one of the classes who got popcorn and coke last week for having perfect attendance all three of the test days last week. BES also has an attendance contest going that rewards the classes who have perfect attendance for five days, ten days, fifteen and twenty days. Other schools in the county also have attendance contests going with prizes being given away.

BES athletes to compete in Special Olympics

Special Olympics are designed for those athletes who do not usually get to compete in athletic events. Some of these athletes are children while others are adults. Though their bodies may be past their prime, the spirit and determination has not died — they compete for ribbons. Special Olympics does not stress being first, but rather in finishing the race. Their motto is evident of this: Let me win, but if I can not win let me be brave in the attempt.

For the first time in several years Rockcastle County will be represented when area athletes travel to Union College in Bourbonville to compete on Saturday, April 26, 1986. Approximately twenty athletes and fifteen or more coaches and volunteers will travel by bus leaving around 6:00 a.m. for the day of activities. Schools represented are: Rockcastle High School, Mt. Vernon Elementary, Family Life Center, Roundstone Elementary and Brodhead Elementary. Local businesses and organizations have donated time and/or money to help send these athletes to area games. All the coaches, teachers, school volunteers, parents and athletes would like to thank those who helped out financially or otherwise.

All parents, teachers and interested persons are urged to attend the games in Bourbonville and cheer on our "special athletes." Parade line up will begin at Knox-Central at 11:00 a.m. Track and Field events will begin following opening ceremonies at 9:30. Dewayne Sizemore, a seventh grader at Brodhead Elementary will represent Rockcastle by bringing in the olympic torch to officially open the games. Other students participating from Brodhead are: Susie Bryant, Tracy Owens, Johnny Singleton and Dewayne Sizemore. Track and field, and Rebecca Price. Arts. The coaches, athletes and volunteers of Brodhead would like to thank Citizens' Bank of Brodhead for providing uniforms.

"ATTEND CONFERENCE"

Besides sharing ideas at Brodhead, many new ideas were brought home from the conference. Mrs. Hamm was requested to present papers on excellence in education for a presentation to the Ky. Dept. of Teacher Education in October.

Congressmen asked by 4-H'ers to protect funds

The federal budget proposed by the government for the fiscal year 1987 (starts Oct. 1, 1986) contains a 60 percent reduction for the Cooperative Extension Service. Because 4-H is a major extension program, its funds would be affected.

Students at Mt. Vernon Elementary School have been active in expressing their concern of 4-H letters to Kentucky U.S. senators and representatives.

In a letter to Sen. McConnell, Gail McClure, an eighth grade student wrote: "I was a secretary in 4-H once and it was really helpful. It helped me to learn how to manage things. If you don't cut out our 4-H program, it can really help younger children learn responsibility too."

Another letter from eighth grader Janet Laura VanWinkle stated, "4-H is a good way for children to learn how to cook, sew and make stuff. The 4-H speeches help shy children to get over their fear to get in front of people and talk to them. Rockcastle needs 4-H."

Many of the students expressed their feeling that in our small community, youth are limited as to the number of activities they have an opportunity to participate in. Eighth grader Julie Dowell addressed this in her letter to Harold Rogers: "This is a small town and we don't have many educational activities such as a debating team, etc. 4-H helps so many young people to learn how to cook, sew, make speeches in front of people and many other helpful things."

Here is one of the letters written to Congressman Harold Rogers:

Dear Congressman Rogers:

Please don't take 4-H away from Rockcastle County. 4-H is so important to all of us here! My friends and I have been so involved in 4-H. It wasn't just for the speech contests and talent contests 4-H sponsored. I probably wouldn't be able to get up in front of a crowd. The cooking classes, sewing classes, woodworking classes, electronics classes, have all been important in showing me the basics to these. Many of the experiences I gained in 4-H. I would not exchange any million dollars for "New tiny little sisters" in 4-H. I hate to think of the kids in the future without 4-H. They probably won't know how to give a speech or a demonstration. 4-H is a way of life in our county. It has taught many of us patience and self confidence. Please! Don't take 4-H away!!

Sincerely yours,
Carrie Mullins

Local farmers, community leaders, homemaker club members and 4-H leaders have also been writing letters in opposition to the federal cuts in the Cooperative Extension Service. Letters of support are anticipated from each of the 50 states.

Your Child's Health

by
Dr. John Payne

It is really a shame to see children walking around today with crossed eyes.

About one child in 20 has a problem with eye muscle balance at birth. Some may be obvious to anyone who looks at the child. Other cases may be so subtle that it is even difficult for an eye doctor to tell for sure that there is something wrong.

Eyes that do not focus together even by one millimeter may not work together. If the visual image that each eye sends to the brain is not the same as the other eye, the brain "sees" a blurred image. It automatically shuts out the images from one eye so that a clear picture can be interpreted. This shutting out of one image means the eye that is out of focus will gradually go blind or become a "lazy eye." The medical term for this is amblyopia and it affects about 100,000 children in the United States each year.

Early diagnosis is important. Examination of children by age 6 months is important and treatment is much more effective if begun early. If your family doctor is not sure that the infant's eyes are straight, he or she can refer you to an ophthalmologist. Usually, drops are tried first to correct the problem then glasses and finally surgery if needed. Once the vision is lost in the lazy eye, nothing can bring it back.

A free vision test to help you check your child can be obtained from: The National Association to Prevent Blindness, Box A.B. 79 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016

The Medicine Chest

By: Tina Cain Hasty RPh

Enfamil, Similac, ProSobee—the list of infant formulas seems endless.

Their popularity is reflected in surveys which have shown that infant formulas account for approximately 75 percent of the milk and formula fed to infants.

These products vary in content, required preparation and even taste. It is important to pick a formula which is well tolerated by the infant, convenient to prepare for the parents, and within the family budget.

There are many differences in the content of infant formulas. Some products contain iron, while others do not. Similac, Enfamil and SMA are the most popular milk-based formulas, while Isomil and ProSobee are popular milk-free products. There are many products prepared for infants with cystic fibrosis, congenital heart disease, phenylketonuria (PKU), and other conditions requiring special diets.

Infant formulas come in three forms—ready-to-feed, concentrated liquid, and concentrated powder. The latter two require the addition of a diluent such as water. Concentrated preparations are usually less expensive and less convenient than ready-to-feed products.

Infants are highly susceptible to infections because they have insufficient antibodies. Until the infant can produce adequate antibodies, it is especially important to sterilize all equipment used in infant feeding.

If you have any questions about infant formulas, check with your pharmacist or doctor.

mixture, wash a small area at a time and rub with a clean dry cloth. Keep mixture warm by placing in a pan over hot water. Discard mixture when it becomes soiled.

To Remove White Rings

Use soft cloth dipped in hot water and then ammonia to wipe surface. Then use cloth dipped in polish or oil. Fresh white marks can be removed by rubbing with furniture polish, linseed oil, or vegetable oil.

Destined Dust Cloths and Mittens

1 quart warm water
1 tablespoon ammonia
2 tablespoons linseed oil

Dip clean, dampened cloths in this mixture, wring out and dry. Store solution in covered container. When using again, reheat and add 1 tablespoon ammonia. Re-treat dusts after washing.

Mirrors, Windows, Light Fixtures

Wash window frames first. Wipe very dirty windows with rags or newspapers first.

Scaled Windows: 1 tablespoon ammonia to 1 quart warm water.

Glass on window from tracks: 1 tablespoon white vinegar to 2 quarts warm water.

Use in cold weather: 1 tablespoon alcohol to 1 quart warm water.

Very dirty window: 1 tablespoon washing soda to 2 quarts warm water.

Remove rust from screens: 1 tablespoon kerosene to 2 quarts warm water.

Ceramic Tile, Porcelain Enamel

2/3 cup water softener
2 tablespoons mild abrasive such as whitener or turface (available at hardware store)
1 cup hot water

Apply with sponge or to grout with stiff toothbrush. Discolorated grout can be cleaned with a diluted solution of Chlorine Bleach. Use car wax, or furniture paste wax to coat clean surfaces to prevent soiling and aid in cleaning next time. Use a mildew retardant spray after cleaning, if area is subject to mildew.

Stone, Slate

To remove soot, dissolve 1/2 cup white laundry detergent in boiling water. Add 1/2 lb powdered pumice and 1/2 cup household ammonia after it has cooled. Use a stiff brush to apply to stone. Let remain for 1/2 hour, clean off with brush and rinse thoroughly. For added beauty for slate, rub dry slate with a cloth dipped in lemon oil furniture polish.

Wallpaper

To remove grease stains, use a paste of:
1/4 cup flour
1/2 cup warm water
2 tablespoons caustic
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons ammonia
1 tablespoon kerosene

Put in pan in larger pot of boiling water. Stir until mixture is stiff. Remove from heat when cooked and then knead until elastic. An art gum eraser can also be used to remove dirty spots.

Kid Safety Week

Gov. Martha Layne Collins has proclaimed the week of April 7-13 as Kid Safety Week. Shopping centers throughout the Commonwealth and the nation will fingerprint thousands of children and educate them on proper safety measures during the week.

The Kentucky shopping malls with the help of citizens from the community and civic organization members will fingerprint the children and several merchants have agreed to take photographs of each child," said Edie Grant, director of Marketing at David E. Hecker and Associates in Owensboro. "We are very pleased to be a part of this nationwide program to help educate our children about safety," she added. Safety tips on fire, school bus, poison, and safety belts will also be discussed at the malls.

Gov. Collins urges all citizens to support the events held to protect our precious children.

When working outdoors...

- Look out above for power lines to prevent accidental contact when you're:
- installing or moving a TV or radio antenna.
- painting — particularly if working with a long-handled roller.
- using a ladder or scaffold.
- pruning or cutting down trees.

And follow these other safety hints:

- Never use electric tools outside if it's rainy or damp.
- Use ground fault circuit interrupters.
- Call us before you dig where there may be underground lines.

When playing outdoors...

- Respect the power of electricity. Follow these rules:
- Fly kites and model airplanes when it isn't raining. Stay far away from power lines.
- Use dry string—not metal, foil or wire—in your kite.
- Stay away from fallen wires.
- If a kite or airplane gets caught in a power line, don't try to retrieve it.
- Keep out of trees that have wires running near them.
- Never climb utility poles, towers or fences around substations.

National Library Week April 6-12

For almost a century some form of library extension service has been putting books and other reading materials in Kentuckians' hands. What started as a traveling library project for a woman's club is now a fleet of 117 bookmobiles.

Wooden crates like these were used as early as 1887 to ship books to isolated areas with no library service.

Traveling Book Project

Back in 1887, Mrs. C.P. Barnes of Louisville initiated a "Traveling Book Project" for a local literary club. Later known as the Monday Afternoon Club, the club shipped books in crates to areas with no libraries. Once the books were read, they were packed again in the crates and returned.

The "Traveling Book Project" met with so much success that the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs sponsored a "Traveling Library." Miss Fannie Costleman Rawson, a member of the Monday Afternoon Club, became chairperson of the "Traveling Library." In one season, she traveled by muleback 96 miles taking books up creekbottoms, over mountain ranges, and across the headwaters of the Kentucky and Cumberland Rivers.

Kentucky's Federation of Women's Clubs also had another far-reaching effect on reading. The Federation and the Kentucky Library Association were instrumental in getting the General Assembly to establish the Kentucky Library Commission (The Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives' predecessor) in 1910. Miss Fannie Rawson, who systematized and expanded the "Traveling Library," was appointed Executive Secretary of the Kentucky Library Commission. Once the Commission was established, the Federation transferred its traveling library collection of 5,000 books and 100 wooden crates to the Commission. The Commission extended the service to the entire state and, by 1913, there were 182 traveling library stations operating from 81 counties.

Bookwagon Service

While the Commission was establishing traveling libraries, Berea College was initiating library service of a different form. A bookwagon, an early forerunner of the bookmobile, was started around 1916 to serve outlying communities. Even back in the 1890's, Berea was sending reading materials into isolated hills and hollows by mail train, river boat and muleback. At its peak the service had an annual circulation of 60,000 books.

Just as the whole nation suffered during the Depression, so did library services. The Works Progress Administration (WPA), associated with the Federal Works Program, not only provided work for needy people, but also provided a shot in the arm for extension library services. Working with the Library Extension Division (formerly the Kentucky Library Commission), WPA initiated several programs designed to aid libraries. One of these was the Packhorse Library.

Packhorse Library

In 1934, Leslie County was the first county to have a Packhorse Library. Harlan County was the second. By 1939, there were 30 packhorse libraries in operation. The following is a description of the Packhorse Libraries by Mr. Clarence Bingham of the Louisville Public Library in a letter to Marguerite Smith Westerfield quoted as part of her master's thesis in 1938 entitled "A Study of the Services of the Kentucky Library Commission."

Each [Packhorse Library] is organized with a librarian who stays in the headquarters to collect, classify, and mend the books and magazines, and tour to six carriers who travel up the mountain trails to carry these books and magazines to lonely mountain cabins and isolated schools.

Carriers travel on foot or on horseback or muleback and one carrier travels part of one route by rowboat. Books and magazines are carried in suitcases, saddlebags, or "string bags."

"I still like trout fishing, although the only time I do it now is when it is bass season available."

My favorite vehicle for learning more about bass fishing and making my game even more fun is my membership in Operation Bass, headquartered in Gilbertsville, Ky. The telephone number is (502) 362-4880.

Bookmobiles

Through Miss Rawson's dedication of supplying books to underprivileged areas...

...a Citizens Library League in Horse Cave was formed in 1936. Just two years later it became Friends of Kentucky Libraries which has continued the work of helping struggling libraries throughout the state. In the late forties, Mrs. Mary Belknap Gray, one of the original "Friends," made the first major contribution, both in personal effort and funds to the work of the organization. Her inspiration was the natural outgrowth of the WPA pack horse libraries and the limited bookmobile service, which at that time was provided to several counties, from Arty, in Perry County, Kentucky.

She [Mrs. Gray] decided that "Bookmobiles" were the best way to get books to people in rural areas. In 1946 she teamed up with Frances Jane Porter, Director of the State Library Extension Division, and traveled tirelessly from one end of the state to the other listening sympathetically to the needs and problems of small libraries, struggling for existence.

Among the counties which received Bookmobiles through the efforts of Mrs. Gray were Hart, Breathitt, Bell, Madison, Wayne and Bath counties. One was made from an unused ambulance, another from a horse and one from a weep. Others were small paneled trucks.

In 1952, Dr. Victor Henry of Henderson, Kentucky was elected President of the Friends of Kentucky Libraries.

Kentucky author Jesse Stuart was guest speaker at the first Annual Meeting, pointing out that 80 percent of rural Kentuckians had no free public library service, and that 47 counties out of the state's 120 had no access to books at all.

Mr. Stuart's speech fired Louisville businessman Harry Schacter with a driving enthusiasm to obtain more Bookmobiles for Kentucky.

At a called meeting of the Friends Mr. Schacter outlined plans to purchase one hundred Bookmobiles for the rural areas of Kentucky. As impressive as the project seemed to many, Mr. Schacter's proposal caught fire and Dr. Jacqueline Bull, President of the Kentucky Library Association and Dr. Henry, President of the Friends of Kentucky Libraries, cooperated in implementing Mr. Schacter's plan. A committee of five was appointed to take action — composed of Mrs. Gray, Miss Margaret Willis, of the Louisville Library, Dr. Laura Martin, of the University of Kentucky, Mr. Paul Hughes of the Louisville Times, and Dean Hilda Threlkeld, of the University of Louisville.

Mr. Schacter assumed the responsibility for direction of the Project, and Mrs. Barry Bingham, wife of the publisher of the Louisville Courier Journal and Times newspapers, promptly and unselfishly agreed to become chairman of the Kentucky Bookmobile Project. She worked tirelessly, traveling throughout the state to elicit the interest of industries, businesses, and individuals in donating all or part of a Bookmobile along with the necessary books to fill them.

In February, 1953 a meeting was held in Governor Weather's office, at which time Wendell F. Butler, Superintendent of Public Instruction endorsed the Kentucky Bookmobile Project and the Governor agreed to serve as its honorary chairman. The enthusiasm for the Kentucky Bookmobile Project spread across the state and from the beginning of the campaign the sense of urgency which prevailed signaled its sure success.

Red Man Rookie Takes Top Money In Mountain Division Qualifier

Robert Cox, Jr. fished his second bass tournament ever Sunday and ended up winning $2,290 and first place over 235 other seasoned anglers. Cox participated in Operation Bass' Red Man Mountain division qualifier, held on Lake Cumberland Sunday. Almost $9,000 was awarded in the event.

Cox, a Burnside welder, used 12-5 lures and flipped the lower end of the water where the bass caught his five bass weighing 10 pounds 11 ounces. The win was worth $2,290 and valuable Red Man All-American points.

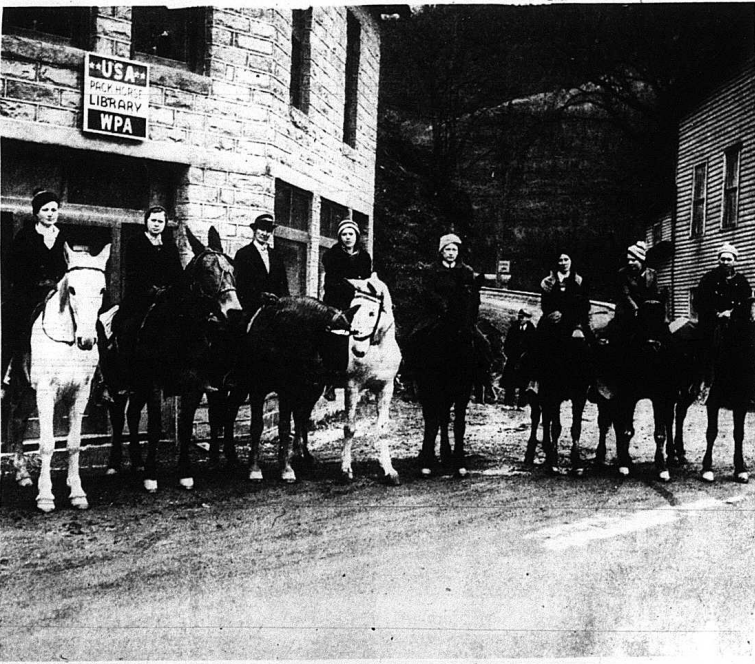

Dave Smoot, Frankfort, landed three fish on Bill Norman stick baits, to capture second place and a $1,430 paycheck. He was fishing a slider pattern where he caught his 10 pounds 5 ounces of fish.

Terry Disney, 40, of Corbin, took third place with a four fish catch weighing 10 pounds 1 ounce. He banked $830 for third. Kent Shearer fished black shade banks with cover. His pattern produced four "keepers" that weighed 9 pounds 3 ounces. Fourth place earned the Albany man $510. Paul Hagans won $450 for fifth place. Hagans, of Langley, reeled in five fish that weighed 9 pounds 1 ounce.

Rounding out the top ten positions were: (6) Al Cox, Burnside, five fish, 8 pounds 5 ounces, $390; (7) Mark McKinney, Brodhead, four fish, 7 pounds, 13 ounces, $330; (8) Jim Elmore, Albany, four fish, 7 pounds 10 ounces, $270; and (9) Gilbert Ingle, Sevensville, Tenn., five fish, 7 pounds 9 ounces, $162.13; and John M. Bray, Mt. Vernon, two fish, 7 pounds 9 ounces, $162.13.

Second place finisher Dave Smoot also took big bass honors with a 7 pound 10 ounce lunker. He caught the fish in Clip Creek on a Bill Norman stick bait. Smoot won an extra $1,000 and a one week vacation for the catch.

On any given day, one out of every ten hairs on your head has stopped growing, it's said.
