Archival outreach project offers free speaker's bureau

Kentucky's rich history is the focus of a variety of program topics available to local civic and heritage groups across the state.

A free speakers' bureau featuring noted state historians is part of "Reflections of the Past," Archival Resources in Kentucky. Participating as program speakers are four Kentucky scholars: Dr. Raymond R. Betts, professor of history and director of the Honors Program at the University of Kentucky; Dr. Nancy Fortner, professor of history at Eastern Kentucky University; Dr. Tom Owen, associate archivist of the University of Louisville Archives and Records Center; and Dr. Carol Crowe-Caroco, professor of history at Western Kentucky University.

Bookings for the speakers' services are available at no cost through November 1986. Scheduling information may be obtained by contacting the Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives in Frankfort, telephone (502) 875-7000, ext. 250.

"Reflections of the Past" is funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities to the Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives and is jointly administered with the Kentucky Historical Society.

Gifted Education

This year, there have been some changes in the gifted education program in grades one and two and land grade three in one school. Because of changing state guidelines and the fact that it is so difficult to correctly identify these young children, we will be offering an enrichment program to ALL children in these three grades.

The challenge to teachers will be to teach each class for a thirty-minute period on a rotating basis, and the classroom teacher will assist her with follow-up activities. Although we realize that this is not sufficient time for these children, we do feel it is the best method of utilizing the resources we have.

As the basis for our enrichment program, we have chosen to concentrate on enhancing self-esteem, positive attitudes and developing good relationships. We will utilize some components from the "I CAN" curriculum, incorporating art, music, creative writing and related activities.

We feel that this will be an exciting program and trust that the parents will join in the excitement by discussing the ideas and this curriculum with their children.

SANDWICHES WITH A NEW TWIST

Summer is sandwich season—sandwiches for quick lunches, backyard parties, and picnics in the park. Enjoy your "peanut butter and jelly" or "white" sandwich. Consider making your old favorite sandwich into a gourmet light meal. How?

Avoid the usual processed meats and boring loaves of bread in favor of fresh ingredients and specialty breads. One new bread worth trying is the croissant, a light, flaky pastry from France which brings a delicious buttery flavor to any sandwich.

Now there's a new croissant designed especially for sandwich making, Sara Lee All Butter Pre-Sliced Croissants with a convenient, round shape and already sliced. You could say it's the greatest thing since sliced bread, and it's handy to buy in your grocer's freezer case.

Once you've chosen your bread, pick a filling of fresh meats, natural cheeses, and new combinations of vegetables and spreads. Aim for appetizing mixtures of flavors, textures, and colors. Here are some suggestions to get you started thinking about new sandwich specialties.

- BACON, EGG 'N CHEESE SANDWICH
 - 4 frozen All Butter Pre-Sliced Croissants
 - 4 slices Canadian-style bacon, grilled
 - 6 eggs, scrambled
 - 4 slices Cheddar or American cheese
 - 8 fresh orange wedges
- Separate frozen croissant halves and heat cut-side down on ungreased baking sheet in preheated 325°F oven 3-4 minutes. For each serving, place bacon slices on each croissant bottom half. Top with 1/2 scrambled eggs, then 1 cheese slice. Top with remaining croissant half. Makes 4 servings.

- CHICKEN SALAD CROISSANTS
 - 4 frozen All Butter Pre-Sliced Croissants
 - 1 cup diced, cooked chicken, grilled
 - 1/3 cup chopped celery
 - 2 tablespoons chopped red pepper, optional
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - Leaf lettuce or spinach leaves
- Separate frozen croissant halves and heat cut-side down on ungreased baking sheet in preheated 325°F oven 3-4 minutes. Stir together remaining ingredients except lettuce. Line croissant bottom halves with lettuce. Top with chicken filling and remaining croissant half. Makes 4 servings.

Report to Kentucky

SENATOR WENDELL FORD

CONGRESS TO BE BUSY IN COMING MONTHS

The Ninety-ninth congress is in its home stretch. In the next four weeks the House and Senate are scheduled to wrap up everything worked on in the past two years. A new Congress will begin in January, with the state wiped clean, and any pending legislation will have to be introduced again if it is to be considered.

All this means the rest of September and October will be high pressure, short-fused days in Washington. A lot of complex proposals will be considered on short notice, including those dealing with financing of the federal government and how it pays its bills.

If Congress completes even three-quarters of the business piled up, it will be quite a feat. There is an enormous backlog of matters, many of them urgent, which must be addressed.

These are some of the major items.

Tax Reform Compromise: The House-Senate Conference Committee will submit its tax reform agreement for consideration by the full Congress.

Gramm-Rudman Adjustment: The Senate will consider changes in the Gramm-Rudman deficit reduction law. The status of the law was thrown into question by a July 7 Supreme Court ruling that struck down as unconstitutional the provision of the law which would trigger automatic spending cuts if Congress failed to meet specified deficit targets.

Appropriations Bills: Congress is expected to pass 13 of the money bills to keep the government funded. Not much progress has been made by either body. Congress is also likely to need a continuing appropriations resolution to cover federal agencies whose regular appropriations have not cleared by the start of the new fiscal year October 1.

Supreme Court Nominations: An early Senate vote is expected on the nominations of William H. Rehnquist to be chief justice of the United States Supreme Court and of Antonin Scalia to succeed Rehnquist as an associate justice.

Impeachment Trial: The Senate will consider the impeachment trial of U.S. District Judge Harry E. Claiborne of Nevada, who is serving a two-year prison term for tax evasion.

Drug Abuse: During its first week back the House reportedly plans to take up an omnibus bill to combat drug abuse.

Mystery in the woods . . .

David Mason or Pine Hill holds a jawbone found last week under a cliff.

Dr. David Wolfe, Kentucky Pathologist, digs under a rock at the site where two skeletons were found last week. With him are local Coroner Billy Dowell and David Mason.

Bones found by youths under cliff

While looking for indian arrowheads, two boys found more than they bargained for — skeletons of two persons buried in a shallow grave under a cliff overlooking in a woodland at Red Hill, David Mason of Pine Hill and an unidentified friend, who refused to tell his name, were digging for arrowheads under the overhang when David uncovered a bone fragment.

As the boys continued to dig, more bones surfaced until they decided it wasn't an animal and told David's father, David Mason, who accompanied them to the site.

Coroner Billy Dowell was later summoned, along with Kentucky Pathologist Dr. David Wolfe.

More digging and more bones were uncovered, including rib and jaw bones with tobacco stained teeth.

Dr. Wolfe, who gathered the fragmented bones in a box as they were uncovered and cleaned, is not sure how old they are, but he is confident they belonged to a teenage boy and an older woman.

Fifth district report

Study paints gloomy education picture

A report on education in the Fifth Congressional District of Kentucky, that includes Rockcastle County, paints a gloomy picture and offers only a glimmer of hope for the future.

The report by the Mountain Association for Community Economic Development is entitled "Would you like to Swing on a Star?" and points out dramatically that the district has the least educated adult population in the United States.

The obstacles enumerated in the report, are poor communication between parents and schools, low-quality teacher education programs, low expectations of students by their teachers, insufficient money, and politics, which may have parents in the district say is the "primary obstacle."

The report estimates that 62 percent of the adults in the district have not completed high school, as compared to 47 percent in the state and 34 percent in the nation.

Conway woman charged with murder

A Rockcastle County man died Sunday night in a Lexington hospital after he was shot by his roommate at a house near Conway.

Charles E. Richmond, 50, of Conway Hollow, had died of a shotgun blast to the lower abdomen, according to police.

Clara B. York, 43, of the same address, was arrested by State Police and charged with murder. She was lodged in the Rockcastle County Jail in lieu of $100,000 cash bond.

The shooting apparently stemmed from a domestic argument, police said.

An autopsy was conducted Monday on the victim at the University of Kentucky Medical Center.

Another shooting

James Elmer "Jimmy" Burke of Sand Hill is in intensive care at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington suffering from a gunshot wound, according to police.

Burke was shot at a home at Sand Hill Tuesday night. He was taken to Rockcastle County Hospital and transferred to Lexington.

No details were available at press time.

"There's always a story to be told surrounding the death of any individual," Dr. Wolfe related. "There is always a natural curiosity as to who the person was, how he died, and why he was buried in a particular location."

The locale in this case, adjacent to the Murphy Martin property, and is peculiar since the cliff is difficult to reach. The medical examiner said the bones were not Indian bones, and probably had been

Said the report, the district is "to the state what the state is to the nation—lagging behind on most measures of educational attainment and success."

Re-re-affle for new shotgun

Getting rid of a shotgun is becoming a problem with two local clubs.

If all started when the Veterans of Foreign Wars raffled a shotgun as a money-raising project. The winner of the gun was Ronald Cain, Kentucky Utilities manager at Mt. Vernon.

Cain said he did not need the gun, and donated it to the Mt. Vernon Lions Club which in turn raffled it again.

This time the gun was won by Bobby Cox, who stated the Lions Club contributed much good work in the county, so he gave it back to the club to raffle again.

Billy Dowell, president of the Lions Club, in expressing appreciation to both Cain and Cox, reported the Lions would use the gun again in another raffle this fall.

Mt. Vernon keeps same tax rate for 1987; discusses garbage

By Ray McClure

The city could have, but didn't, raise the city property and vehicle tax rate for 1987 at a meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night.

The rate—warranted at 16 cents on $100 property valuation. The council could have legally raised the rate by four percent which would have raised the rate to about 17.5 cents.

But, the council agreed the city tax rate is very low and the city is finding it more and more difficult to make ends meet.

There will be a close look at the entire city tax picture after the first of the year, the council agreed. By that time a new water rate probably will go into or be in effect.

A water sewer project is an estimated $300,000.

Jack Crawford of Crawford and Crawford of Burgisde, engineers for the city on the water project, told the council the project should get underway this fall and be completed by July.

The project includes water pumping station improvements and the construction of the 766,000-gallon and water storage tank, an additional line and improvement of one of the sewer pump stations. After completion, the water system can provide two million gallons of water daily. It now provides 980,000 gallons.

State approves garbage plan

After a few stops and starts, the Environmental Protection Cabinet has given preliminary approval of a plan for garbage collection in Rockcastle County.

No changes were made in the plan after earlier changes and clarifications were made at the request of the Division of Water Management.

Cumberland Valley Area Development District (CVADD) representatives, who devised the plan, were to be at the Rockcastle County Courthouse Wednesday afternoon to discuss the plan with the fiscal court. A more detailed report will be made in next week's Signal.

The court had asked that the agency review the plan as soon as possible, since the court is now paying $9,000 a month for garbage collection in the county.

The plan does not include Mt. Vernon until some decision is reached on a city franchise held by William Bullen, or until that franchise expires in 1988.

The council touched briefly on garbage collection in the city. A new garbage company, Bee, owned by Johnny Eaton, is now in operation. Mayor Roland Mullins reminded those present that the city has a garbage franchise with William Bullen until 1988.

The council then agreed to sell Bee a privilege license to operate a business, but it does not give Bee the right to pick up refuse in the city. Franchising garbage in the city would be left up to Bullen, Bee, and the court to decide, if court action is taken to test the franchise.

Mayor Mullins said the city is not side-stepping the issue, and repeated, the city awarded a franchise to Bullen on a bid about three years ago.

Several residents outside the city limits were at the meeting to of their property into the city. They left when they were told their street will not be included in the annexation.

The council agreed to hold a special meeting to take up the annexation question at some future date, but did not set a date.

A pleased council looked over a deed dated Sept. 1, 1970 and subsequent Rockcastle Fiscal Court minutes of September 1970, deeding the road around Lake Linville from the City of Mt. Vernon to Rockcastle County for

Lake road is owned by county

By Ray McClure

For all practical purposes, the ownership of Lake Linville road (Rose Hill Road Oak Hill Road) has been determined.

The county owns it.

A search of records at the Rockcastle County courthouse uncovered a deed dated Sept. 1, 1970 transferring "Lake Linville roads" from the City of Mt. Vernon to Rockcastle County for maintenance.

Further, the minutes of the meeting September, 1970, by the Rockcastle Fiscal Court states:

"It being deemed in the best interest of Rockcastle County and KRS Chapter 178 of Statutes having been complied with and deed having been accepted and recorded, a motion was made by Hewitt Jones seconded by Sherman Sargent that Rockcastle Fiscal Court accept the roads as described in deed recorded Deed Book 90, Page 358 and said roads to be known as Linville Lake roads." All magistrates voted yes.

Also on the July, 1971, meeting of the court, the minutes note:

"A motion was made by Hewitt Jones and seconded by Sherman Sargent that if there is any surplus road money for Rockcastle County, this money be used for maintenance and improvement of Rento lake road."

All magistrates voted yes.

First District Magistrate Glen Ellison, in whose district the road is located, when informed of the deed and court action, appeared surprised, but did not comment directly on the ownership. He did say he had checked to see how much backstop would be needed on the road and was told it would cost about $30,000, not including installation, improvements and other expenses.

Ellison put the road, one of two on his list requesting the

In the picture above are Whitaker, on the tractor, Magistrate Jack Bradley, Magistrate Donald Bullock and County Judge/Executive Hubert Thacker.

U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510

BACKLOG FOR FARM EXPORTS NEEDED

In 1983 the Reagan Administration signed the second Long Term Grain Purchase Agreement with the Soviet Union. After several years of destructive grain embargo this Administration seemed ready to free Americans to sell agricultural products to the Soviet Bloc again. And the Russians were ready to buy -- or so they said. On paper the Soviet Government committed itself to buying a minimum of 4 million metric tons of corn, another 4 million metric tons of wheat and one-half million metric tons of soybeans. That was the very least they agreed to buy for the following five years.

We're two years into the deal now and guess who is getting the short end of it? The Russians are more than a million metric tons behind on their minimum wheat purchase. And in the last year they didn't buy their first American soybean. You should know that the soybean crop in Kentucky last year was worth $265 million.

What is the Administration doing to set the situation right? In the judgement of the Senate, the Administration is the real reason this purchase agreement isn't working. Our diplomats have moved in and are trying to sell wheat to the Russians $14 to $15 dollars higher than our other regular customers are paying. Given the opportunity to undersell us, Australians, the Canadians and the Argentines have moved into the Russian wheat market which by agreement should be ours. And the American farmer is feeling all the adverse effects of another grain embargo without it being called an embargo. The Senate has stepped in to help. It has instructed the Administration to sell wheat and other farm products to long term contracted customers at competitive prices.

Like many in Congress I have written letters to the Secretary of Agriculture and to the President's Trade Ambassador and everyone in the Administration that might reasonably be expected to do something about the plight of American agricultural sales.

For the first time in memory, American agricultural exports have gone into deficit. The U.S. is actually bringing more agricultural products into this country to compete with our own home grown goods than we are selling overseas. Five years ago U.S. farmers produced the largest amount of American goods sold abroad.

The Administration argues that the high value of the dollar compared to the rest of the world's currencies. They say that makes U.S. farm products more expensive to foreign buyers. There is some basis for that -- but only some. I believe that this administration has lost its appetite for selling.

Last week I began the first of a series of Senate floor actions aimed at making the Administration's people a little more hungry... for results. When the $300 million Export Import Bank Authorization was on the floor I asked the Senate to set aside a small percentage of that money and use it instead for Farm Price Support Programs. The Export Import Bank's reason for being is to encourage U.S. exports and clearly it's not getting the job done. The argument of "farm did not foreign aid" had appeal. In 24 hours we found 47 supporters... four votes short of victory.

But, I intend to continue with this idea of reducing overseas programs each time they come to the Senate floor and ear-marking that money for Farm Price Supports until the agricultural economy begins to show some recovery.

Your Child's Health

By: Dr. John Payne

If anyone could really prevent colds, they would become rich and famous. Mothers try to keep hats over children's ears, keep their feet out of puddles, and overdose them with vitamin C. None of these measures have been shown to prevent colds.

Drug companies advertise new cold and cough preparations almost weekly and drug salespersons bug the heck out of doctors to get a few minutes to tell them of their latest new flavor or color of cough potion. All of this tells us that colds and coughs are of major interest and financial concern. In reality, no one knows how to prevent cold viruses from attacking people.

However, studies now show that the frequency and duration of respiratory infections of all kinds can be decreased. This can be done by avoiding smoking around the child. It has been shown that a child living in a household where one person smokes will likely have about twice as many colds and respiratory infections as a child living where no one smokes. If two people smoke in the home, the child will likely have three times as many colds. If the child is prone to allergies and two people smoke, he may have six times as many respiratory infections. Whether the smoke irritates the mucous lining of the nose and bronchial tubes and weakens it so that viruses can attack it or what is not fully known. What is known is that there is a way to decrease the frequency of colds.

The Medicine Chest

By Tina Hasty, RPL

Many different drugs are used to treat arthritis. One of the most widely-used is aspirin, which effectively relieves pain and reduces inflammation. But, since it can be bought without a prescription and is used commonly for pains, many people think it isn't special enough for arthritis.

Although aspirin is one of the safest drugs available, a few people don't tolerate it well and may develop stomach irritation or other side effects. This is especially true in many types of arthritis which often require very large, frequent doses of aspirin. Special aspirin preparations have been developed to help avoid stomach distress such as buffered tablets, coated tablets and slow-release tablets.

Some people might think they can treat their arthritis with aspirin without having to see a doctor.

Hamilton kicks Rockets past Clay County 9 - 6

Rockets win Appalachian Bowl; Larkey, Shields honored

By Richard Anderkin

The Rockcastle County Rockets upped their season record to 2 and 0 as Friday night when they defeated arch rival Clay County, 9-6 at Clay Co.

It is the best start for a Rockets football team in three seasons and the first time in three seasons that the Rockets have won two straight away contests.

The devastating blow came to the Tigers when senior place kicker, Mike Hamilton kicked a 24 yard field goal in overtime, to give the Rockets the victory.

Clay County had just missed a field goal attempt in overtime, their third miss of the night.

The Rockets also came home with all of the trophies from the Appalachian Bowl. Hamilton named the Rockets and head coach Tom Larkey didn't even know they were playing in until the game was over. "Clay County has had this bowl for a few years now and they always schedule somebody they think they can easily beat. I guess they were wrong this time," Larkey said.

However, it didn't look as if Rockcastle would be the victors of the bowl until late in the game.

Clay County scored in the first half and took a 6-0 lead into the dressing room at half time.

The Tigers kept the lead until late in the game when Rockcastle finally mounted a drive. Junior quarterback Chris Larkey took the ball into the end zone from the five yard line.

Hamilton missed the extra point but the score was tied at 6-6. Clay County then fumbled the ball, deep in their own territory after only two plays from scrimmage but the Rockets were unable to capitalize when Hamilton missed a 36 yard field goal attempt.

With only 15 seconds left in the game, Clay County completed a 50 yard pass, and attempted a field goal that was no good.

Coach Larkey said Monday that he thought his team was smothered in better playing condition than Clay County. "We had a hard time getting anything going until they got tired because they were so much bigger than us," Larkey said. Clay County's front defense line had an average weight of 230 pounds.

Junior quarterback Chris Larkey had 23 yards on 27 carries and one touchdown to lead the Rockets in rushing and he was also named the outstanding offensive player of the game. Sophomore Chuck Shields was named defensive player of the game. The sophomore defensive back had a total of eight tackles and assists and a total of intercepts during a Clay County drive.

Clay Williams had 23 yards on 13 carries. Pete Harrison got 12 yards on 3 carries. Leslie Scalf had 13 yards on 3 carries and sophomore Adam Coleman garnered 9 yards on 4 carries.

Harrison and Larkey each had 10 tackles and assists, while Leslie Scalf had 9. Gerald Rowe and Mike Whitehead, were credited with 8 each and Doug Cox got 5.

The Rockets attempted only two passes, one of which was intercepted, while the other was incomplete.

Last rain helps late crops

Late crops and pastures are not a much needed boost from last week's rains, according to Agriculture Commissioner David F. Boswell.

Most of the state received the rainfall, with Berea, Cumberland Gap and Somerset all recording more than two inches. The driest area of the state falls between 1-65

Statewide soil moisture was rated 23 percent very short, 50 percent short, 20 percent adequate and 1 percent surplus.

During the past week four and a half days out of six were suitable for field work. The most common activities were cutting and housing tobacco, harvesting corn for grain and silage and haying.

Barley cutting progressed to 58 percent complete, compared to 64 percent last year. Dark tobacco is also 58 percent cut, compared to 62 percent last year.

Tobacco still in the field is rated in mostly fair condition.

By Sept. 30, 40 percent of the corn had attained the maximum of late-harvest, considerably ahead of last year's 27 percent. Harvest was 10 percent complete by the 7th, 10 percent by the 14th, 20 percent by the 21st, 30 percent by the 28th, 40 percent by the 5th of this month, 50 percent complete by the 12th and 60 percent by the 19th.

Overall, the crop condition is rated 2 percent poor, 48 percent fair, 38 percent good and 3 percent excellent.

Late beans were greatly helped by the rains. Boswell said "By the 7th, 23 percent of the crop was in the shuffling leaves stage or beyond. This compares with 12 percent last year."

A few early fields have been harvested in west central Kentucky; however, 50 percent of the crop still has leaves that are entirely green.

Soybean acreage is rated 1 percent very poor, 4 percent poor, 44 percent fair, 49 percent good

Train stop here may be last

Probably the last time a passenger train will make a scheduled stop in Rockcastle County will be Monday, Oct. 13 when the train, pulled by a steam locomotive, will stop at Mt. Vernon to pick up passengers who want to take an autumn tour as far as Louisville, or towns along the way.

Although not officially announced, the railroad between the Rockcastle Industrial Park and Lebanon Junction is expected to be closed within a year or two.

The tour, probably the last because of rising insurance rates, is sponsored by the Kentucky Railway Museum in Jefferson County.

For those who wish to take the last ride, the train will leave Corbin at 9 a.m. with stops at London, Mt. Vernon, Stanford, Lebanon, New Haven, Lebanon Junction, and ending at Louisville at 6 p.m. It arrives in Mt. Vernon at 10:45 a.m. and departs at 11 a.m.

Passengers may ride from Corbin to Mt. Vernon for $14, from London for $4.50, from Mt. Vernon to Stanford for $8.50, to Lebanon for $20.50, to New Haven for $27.50, Lebanon Junction for $33 and Louisville for $45.20.

However, passengers must make arrangements to be taken to the boarding point if south of Mt. Vernon and to be picked up at the town where they plan to get off. The train will not make a return trip.

Information may be obtained locally from Blaine McHargue, telephone, 256-5740.

The railway museum was organized in 1964 near downtown Louisville, but was flooded out in 1964. The museum now has a building at Dorsey Lane and LaGrange Roads near Anchorage where there are 70 pieces of equipment on view.

5th District education report

to fail; when they do succeed, they almost can't believe it.

One of the members of the committee that wrote the report said, perhaps the biggest problem we found was politics in the schools.

Mary Ann Rogers, writing in the Lexington Herald Leader, quoting the report wrote:

School board members "control more jobs and more people's lives than any other thing in the county. They have the employees, and any time that you have that type of situation, especially in a low economic area, you have a beautiful setup for bribery, corruption, and political power plays."

The researchers said that they found a direct correlation between destructive school politics and poor quality schools.

"Some poor quality systems were not heavily political, but all good quality systems did not appear to have political problems."

In addition to politics, migration of the young and educated out of the 5th District is another huge problem, the report said.

"There are a few jobs available in the area to make an education a worthwhile investment. Children know few adults for whom education is the key to success because people from the Fifth District who have succeeded through education have usually left," the report said.

Consequently, the region has more elderly, disabled and under-educated adults than in any other state.

It also has the state's highest drop-out rate and lowest student test scores, the report says.

"People in the Fifth District recognize how much economic opportunity are enticed with educational standing, and many are ready to break the cycle," the report said.

Some districts have managed to reduce the effects of politics on their schools; the report noted, adding that "their success indicates that the most harmful abuses can be overcome."

The report emphasized that cooperative efforts were needed to improve life in the district.

Solutions suggested in the report ranged from more parental and community involvement in schools to establishing an education and development agency to work with the schools in attacking chronic problems, such as illiteracy and high dropout rates.

"Change in these areas has come directly out of concerted community action in the past, and the people we interviewed saw education as the key to the future," the report said.

Floyd Owens asked the council to allow Main Street to be blocked for a fall festival to be held on the first or second Saturday in October. The exact day will be decided later. The council agreed.

State Highway Department at Somerset to take over the road for maintenance, but the department refused noting that its maps showed the road belonged to the city, and reportedly told the county magistrates "not to touch it." The request involved 3.8 miles from US 25 at Renfro Valley to Brindle Ridge.

When the city and state worked out Mt. Vernon's city water project that involved the lake, a section of road that ran through the valley had to be changed because of the water.

The deed for the property lists several names whose property was taken for the road, including Evert Purcell, Burgess Hysinger, Rose Hill Church, Cecil Hysinger, Mitchell Abney, Roy G. Brown, Dolie Abney, C.F. Holt and James O. Smith.

To date nothing has been officially reported on what steps will be taken to improve the road.

2 fires reported here last week

A mobile home belonging to Greg Ennis on Pur Rigby Road was destroyed by fire last Wednesday afternoon.

The Brotherhood Fire Department answered the call and was assisted by the Mt. Vernon Fire Department.

Reportedly, Mrs. Ennis, who works late, was asleep and was awakened by her cat and escaped moments before the home was consumed. The home was located near the Glen Rigby home.

A fire of undetermined origin destroyed a house on Flar Gap Road south of Boone and at the intersection of US 25 Saturday afternoon.

The house was believed occupied by R. Rhodes, according to firemen, but owned by an out-of-state resident. A woman who may have lived in the house suffered burns.

A fire in the same house was extinguished by firemen last winter.

Filing penalties charged on info returns

Nationwide, notices are being mailed to taxpayers who are subject to the $50 per annum penalty for filing Tax Year 1985 information returns improperly, the Internal Revenue Service announced.

The notices are sent to taxpayers required to file information returns with IRS to report amounts paid to other such as dividends, interest, commissions and pensions. These returns also are required to report other transactions which affect another person's income tax returns.

According to IRS, many of the notices explain that penalties have been charged for failure to file returns timely and/or failure to file returns on magnetic media. For most types of returns, the penalty is $50, with a maximum penalty of $50,000. However, for returns reporting interest, dividends, patronage dividends and original issue discount the penalty is $50 per return with no maximum penalty.

The notices explain that the taxpayer can request removal of the penalty by demonstrating due diligence in attempting to meet the filing requirements. The due diligence exception applies to returns reporting interest, dividends, patronage dividends and original issue discount. For other returns, the taxpayer must show reasonable cause for removing the penalty, such as for unusual circumstances.

If the taxpayer has filed

P-10 The Mt. vernon Signal Thursday, September 11, 1986

information returns which cannot be processed and did not correctly resubmit the returns after receiving a letter from the IRS, the notices will instruct the taxpayer to submit corrected information returns. Information return filing may be obtained by calling IRS toll-free at 1-800-424-1040.

The IRS says the main objective of the penalty program is to get information return filers to report correctly as required by law. Answers to any specific questions on information return filing may be obtained by calling IRS toll-free at 1-800-424-1040.

Farmers need conservation plan

Harold Ballinger, of the Rockcastle County Conservation, Stabilization and Reclamation Service, said farmers who produce agricultural commodities on highly erodible land without following a locally approved conservation plan or produce agricultural commodities on converted wetlands will be ineligible for certain USDA program benefits.

By allowing farmers to include agricultural commodities produced on these acres as part of their base acreage for various farm support programs, the government has, in effect, encouraged increased soil erosion and loss of wetlands. This situation also has contributed to commodity surpluses and depressed farm prices.

Programs covered by this provision of the Food Security Act of 1985 are USDA price supports, disaster payments, crop insurance, Farmers Home Administration loans, Commodity Credit Corporation storage payments, farm storage facility loans and other programs under which payments are made with respect to commodities produced by the farmer. The Food Security Act of 1985 gives farmers the following options for highly erodible land, newly converted wetland or wetlands that they want to convert. Farmers can (1) produce agricultural commodities on highly erodible land without using an approved conservation plan and lose their eligibility for covered USDA programs; (2) produce agricultural commodities on newly converted wetland and lose their eligibility; (3) develop and apply conservation plans that will reduce excessive erosion on highly erodible cropland and remain their eligibility for certain USDA programs; or (4) apply to enroll their highly erodible cropland in the Conservation Reserve if they meet criteria for the program.

Farmers will have a grace period to implement a conservation plan on highly erodible land that was cultivated in any year between 1981 and 1985. Ballinger said many farmers will be farming highly erodible land, or who think they need a conservation plan, should contact "The Rockcastle County Soil Conservation Service or the Rockcastle conservation district" as soon as possible. "This will ensure timely service and provide the farmers time to plan and apply appropriate cropping and conservation systems," the ASCS official said.

NO NET-TOBACCO FUND

The No Net Tobacco Program Act of 1982 requires that as a condition for price support eligibility, tobacco producers must agree to contribute to a No Net Cost Tobacco Account or Fund for each pound of tobacco marketed. Failure to agree to contribute to the Fund or Account will result in loss of price support on burlap tobacco and open bound marketed from the farm will be subject to a marketing quota penalty.

Important Notice: Failure to sign the MQ-38 form will result in loss of price support on burlap tobacco and open bound marketed from the farm will be subject to a marketing quota penalty.

Since the 1982 crop, the burlap tobacco loan associations have established No Net Tobacco Accounts to handle the assessment paid by tobacco producers.

Beginning with the 1986-87 marketing year, the price support loan associations have switched to a No Net Cost Tobacco Fund. The No Net Cost Tobacco Program Act of 1982 requires that when a Fund is established by the burlap associations, producers must agree to contribute to the Fund for three consecutive marketing years. The law further requires that each association must file a plan with the program prior to the beginning of the first marketing year (October 1, 1986) of such three-year period.

all, all this for only 46 calories in a 3 1/2 oz. serving. Eating a raw peach helps keep teeth clean, too.

When choosing a ripe peach, look for one that is bluish from far to the bottom, but a bit red. The red bluish on the peach skin is not a true indication of quality. More important, is a yellow to creamy color between the bluish hues.

Peaches ripen best at room temperature. To hold ripe peaches, store at 32 degrees with a high relative humidity.

Peaches are found on the market year around. Certain varieties are produced during mid-Summer through late fall, while others are in season in October through May.

This delicate fruit provides a fair amount of vitamin A and C and other bodybuilding minerals needed for good nutrition. Pear juice contains all the B vitamins. A 3 1/2 oz. serving has only 61 calories.

Skin color is also not a determination of ripeness with peaches. It is interesting to note that peaches are picked green because a finer flavor and smoother texture will develop when not too ripe. The fruit is considered ripe when it yields to gentle pressure. It is perfect for salads and eating raw. For baking and other cooking, choose peaches that are still firm and slightly under-ripe.

The following recipes should help you enjoy these two favorites. Summer fruits to the fullest.

FRESH PEACH PIE

- 1/3 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup unsifted all purpose flour
- 2 Tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 6 medium sized peaches-peeled and sliced
- 1 cup orange or apple juice
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup cornstarch
- Whipped cream or ice cream

Microwave thigh butter in uncovered 9" microwave safe pie plate 45-60 seconds or until melted. Stir in flour, 2 Tablespoons sugar and vanilla; mix until crumbly. Press mixture into bottom and up sides of pie plate. Prick with fork several times.

Microwave thigh, uncovered, 4 to 5 minutes or until lightly browned and no longer doughy, rotation plate once. Set aside.

Mash 2 cups of the peaches in 1 quart glass mix in quart bowl. Stir in orange juice, 1/4 cup sugar and cornstarch.

Microwave thigh, uncovered, 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens, stirring twice. Fill in remaining sliced peaches. Pour into cooked crust. Refrigerate until set, about 2 hours. Serve topped with whipped cream or ice cream. Makes about 8 servings. 250 calories each.

PEAR CRUMBLE

- 6 medium-sized ripe peaches, peeled and cut into wedges (about 2 lbs.)
- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 1/3 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 cups vanilla wafer crumbs (about 30 wafers)
- 1 1/2 cup sliced almonds
- 1 teaspoon almond extract

Arrange pear wedges in 8" round, microwaved safe baking dish. Pour wine over peaches. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Set aside.

Microwave (high) butter in uncovered 1-quart glass mix. in quart bowl 30 to 45 seconds or until melted. Stir in wafer crumbs, almonds and extract. Mixture will be crumbly. Sprinkle on peaches.

Microwave (high), uncovered, 12 to 15 minutes or until mixture bubbles through topping and peaches are tender, rotating dish twice. Serve warm or chilled. Makes about 6 servings. 320 calories each.

Brodhead Willing Workers Picnic August 22 at Quail Park

Brodhead Willing Workers Homemakers' Club enjoyed their picnic August 22 at the Quail Community Park.

Clara Proctor and Roberta Taylor, hostesses, had the long tables decorated with white and blue covers with gourds as center pieces. The plates, napkins and cups matched the table cover and even the ice container was blue and white.

After partaking of all the food everyone could devour, Glena Brooks, vice president, called a short business meeting.

The group voted to give the Quail Homemakers a donation for the use of their park; everyone was asked to remember the Sat., Sept. 6 yard sale planned in town between Dart Delight and the Mill from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Patsy Fletcher and Barbara Watson were selected as the nominating committee for 1986-87 officers and Clara Proctor asked for volunteers to help in the Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon Sept. 13th at 1:30 n.m.

THUNDER No. 7

I got a letter from a man yesterday. He made out like I could be a false prophet because I announced in 1980 that a famine would start, in 1982.

Then the Lord caused me to see (Math. 24:48) where He prophesied about two thousand years ago that his coming would be delayed.

You cannot delay a meeting unless a date had been set. I announced the time, the Lord delayed it.

At one point in the Lord's servants ministry (Math. 24:48) the Lord called him an evil servant. That was when the blood was taken away and he was ignorant of God's righteousness.

But the spirit led the Lord's servant slowly causing him to know the day's God had ordained for us to keep to honor Him and worship Him in.

It is the law of God that we keep His Holy days. It is a sin to break that law. There is no blood now to cover that sin. You are in the judgment.

We find the Lord honoring that law when He said to the five foolish virgins (I KNOW YOU NOT).

Christ said He kept the Father's commandments (St. John 15:10) the fourth one says to keep the Sabbath Day Holy.

If someone tells you my writing isn't so, you look in your Bible and see what was read to the early Christians every S-A-B-B-A-T-H day (Acts 15: 19, 20, 21).

I'm trying to get people to qualify to be in the kingdom of Heaven, now the kingdom of Heaven is the government over Heaven.

So you believed in Jesus Christ and was saved for the judgment (Gal. 1:14) not Heaven, that was a false teaching, and now you are being according to your works (Math 25:31 thru 46).

Mt. Zion is so large that God's enemies and all flesh will be there (Isaiah 66:24).

Death and hell will be cast away, out into outer darkness

THE LORD'S LIGHT

Rev. 18:1
1A Church of Heaven
Mt. Zion Ky.

on Mt. Zion (Rev. 20:14) Death is aging (Gen. 3: 4, 5). Aging is part of the word called fire.

Christ broke the Sabbath day, and then healed a withered hand, proving to the world He was Lord.

I broke God's Holy Sabbath day and I had to repent several times before I could get a prayer answered.

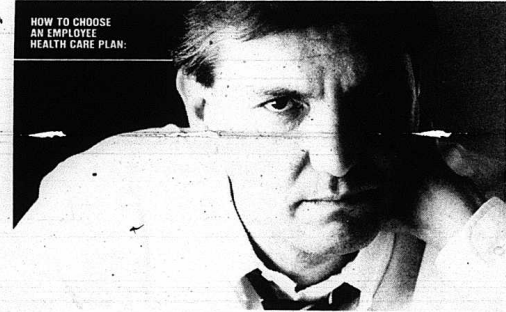

No blood — sin is piling up — no prayers answered — that is this judgment today (Isaiah 41:1)

It seems there were three missionaries that went together to a foreign country, one kept Saturday and the other one kept Monday as their day of rest to their God.

When they got to the town they were going to, each one took their turn speaking to the audience, they would tell the people what they believed and why they believed that way, and asked them to have faith like theirs, they would also tell what day they kept each week for their day of rest to their God and encouraged the people to keep that day, also.

When the judge of the cows heard of that confusion he called two soldiers and told them to go and arrest the two impostors. They went, which was the judge said I am told three are preaching about the same God, so go take their book and look in it, see which one is telling the truth.
