Mount Vernon Signal

Serving Rockcastle County Since 1887

MT. VERNON, KENTUCKY 40456

VOLUME 100 - NUMBER 5

Thursday, December 4, 1986

Briefly . . .

Friendly reminder

Santa Claus will visit Mt. Vernon at 10 a.m. Saturday along with a parade on Main Street. That afternoon at 2 p.m. he will visit Brodhead going to the city's Christmas tree in the downtown area.

Renfro Lodge sold

Gene Smith, who has owned Renfro Valley Lodge and Restaurant for several years, has sold the lodge and motel to his two sisters, Mrs. Willard (Aline) Collinsworth of Renfro Valley and Mrs. James (Helen) Radcliff of Columbus, Ohio. They also purchased a share from another sister, Rosalie Murphy of Ironton, Ohio. Smith said the Radcliffs would likely move to Renfro to operate the business when he retires from his present job.

Possible jail suit

A suit may be filed in Knox Circuit Court seeking damages from a Lexington architectural firm that had charge of construction of the city's two new jails. Several prisoners have escaped recently, and the court blames the firm, Chrisman, Miller and Woodford. The firm blames faulty security methods by employees rather than construction problems. The firm is currently in charge of remodeling in the Rockcastle County Jail.

Heating money

People who have qualified for grants for funds to help with heating bills this winter should receive their check in a few days, according to officials of the Social Insurance Department. Checks should start arriving after Dec. 8.

Plan on hold

A plan to remodel and/or construct new homes for some residents in the Horseshoe Bend area of Mt. Vernon has been put on hold for a year, according to Will Linder and Associates of Berea, consultants for the city. It's a matter of available financing from the Division of Community Programs of the Kentucky Department of Local Government.

Brodhead plans public hearing

Getting ideas on what projects the city should seek grants for next year, will be the goal of the Brodhead City Council when it holds a public hearing sometime this month, the council agreed at a meeting Monday night.

Each year city councils meet to decide if they should try to obtain public funds for such projects as public housing, downtown development, or other projects that would be approved for funding. The public can offer suggestions.

The council did not set a date for a hearing, but it will be announced at least a week before the hearing is scheduled.

To clear up any misunderstanding, a check with the council shows the cost of the new, impressive fire department building totalled about $52,000 with a few minor items yet to be completed.

The city accepted a low bid of $38,000 for the construction. Brodhead.

Mayor's days numbered

City employees bid fond farewell

It was goodbye and good luck for Mt. Vernon Mayor Roland Mullins Tuesday night at a dinner given by city employees for the "retiring" mayor.

It was a night of accolades for the mayor who moved out of the city and legally had to give up the post he had held for 14 years.

He was given a watch and a plaque with a gavel by employees.

"I want to thank each and every one of you for tonight," the mayor said. "Over the years from Chester Hellard to Tom Welch I have been proud of our employees, the councilmen and Mt. Vernon. Your dedication to the city has always been a marvel to me."

The 18 who attended at the Renfro Valley "Subdoff" House agreed the mayor's job was "well done."

Councilman Welch made introductions. Presentations were by Joe Martin and Leslie Harris. Unity was by Jerry Pensol, thanks came from Larry Burdette, Jackie Renger gave the prayer.

Tom Welch said the mayor had served 14 years in an efficient, honest and dependable manner. "and the people of Mt. Vernon are proud of the many improvements that have been accomplished during his terms as mayor."

Board backs principal's Mason decision

By: Richard Anderkin

For the second time in as many meetings of the Rockcastle County Board of Education all other board business took a back seat to the subject of Chris Mason, William Smith and Terry Renner, students at Rockcastle County High School.

Rockcastle County High School Principal Cleston Saylor was present at the meeting and told members of all three families that he was going to give Chris Mason 10 days of expulsion from school. He said he thought William Smith, who had been absent from school for 43 days, had suffered a broken leg, had had enough punishment because of his condition, since a fight on the school grounds between the two boys in September.

Chris Mason's father, David, told Saylor and board members that he agreed that his son, who has not missed a day of school since he started in the first grade, should receive some other kind of punishment.

"I'm not saying what Chris was right, but my son set a goal for himself and he has not missed a day," Mason said. Mason added that his son would be willing to take 10 "licks" as punishment, stay after school, or even on the weekends to avoid missing a day of school.

Jail remodeling bid is approved

Warned indirectly by the Corrections Cabinet that the Rockcastle County Jail could be closed or reduced to a 96-hour facility, the Rockcastle Fiscal Court voted Tuesday to accept a $79,910 bid, from J.C. Newland Construction Co., of Brodhead to remodel the jail.

But the court put on hold; at least for the time being, any decision on removing asbestos from several areas of the courthouse.

The decision on the jail bid came after Jim Woodrum, representing Chrisman, Miller and Woodford of Lexington, engineers/consultants for the county, told the court it should not wait any longer to begin work on renovation and remodeling the jail.

"The state could reduce the jail to a 96-hour facility any time like, meaning the county

Fiscal court votes to include cities in solid waste plan

By: Ray McClure

The cities of Mt. Vernon, Brodhead and Livingston were put on official notice Tuesday that they will be included in the Rockcastle Solid Waste Management Area within one year.

The Rockcastle Fiscal Court voted 5-0 Tuesday to give notice by letter to the cities so they won't be under any illusion that they will be allowed to go their own way with their own garbage program, or continue with the one they have.

County Judge Executive Hubert Thacker, as usual, abstained.

The court also invited mayors of the three cities and all other interested parties to attend a public meeting at 7 p.m. Friday at the courthouse at which time the entire garbage question will be discussed.

County Attorney James H. Lambert told his magistrates, according to Kentucky Attorney General and Kentucky Statutes, the towns can be included in a countywide solid waste program simply by notifying the cities one year in advance.

The motion to send the letters to the cities was made by Magistrate Doug Bishop, seconded by Jack Bradley. All magistrates voted "yes."

Bishop told the court the county had delayed long enough and had no alternative but to proceed pointing out that any franchise needs the three cities to make a profit on garbage removal. He also reminded the court that the county is spending several thousands of dollars a month to have garbage removed from dumpsters.

"It's time we stopped all this hearing to talk it over so they will have a chance to express an opinion," Bishop said.

The court especially invited

Judge Lambert office here

Under Kentucky Statutes, newly elected Supreme Court Justice Joseph Lambert will have an office in the Rockcastle County Courthouse at 200 W. 1st St. in Frankfort.

Justices are entitled to an office in their home county, paid for by the Administration Office of the Court in Frankfort.

The office will be in an area formerly occupied by the Extension Service and contains two rooms and a small kitchenette. Rent to the county will be about $1,400 a year, bringing the total rent the county receives from all state offices of the courts to $22,000 a year.

Justice Lambert thanked the Rockcastle Fiscal Court for making the room available. He said he was pleased that the additional revenue will go to the county.

Four indicted in bank fraud

Four persons, including a Berea attorney, have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges they defrauded the Northern Kentucky Bank and Trust Co. of $3.5 million.

Accused of the conspiracy to defraud the bank are Ervin Enzweiler of Melbourne, former bank president; attorney and accountant Nicholas Williams of Berea; Thomas J. Rhein of Alexander, who owned Triple A Coal Co. in Jackson County and William Hoffman of Baltimore, Md., a general partner and manager of Mineral Associates.

Enzweiler faces 44 counts; Rhein, 36 counts; Williams, 31 counts; and Hoffman, 36 counts.

The indictments accuse Enzweiler of issuing numerous fraud-

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

As chairperson of the board of directors of Rockcastle River Community Land Trust (we are in the process of legally changing our name to Livingston Economic Alternatives in Progress), after reading Rambling and learning you had never heard of RRCLT/LEAP, I would like to tell you who we are.

RRCLT/LEAP is a non-profit organization governed by a board of directors, composed of area residents, who are interested in seeing the Livingston area prosper. We are trying to create meaningful jobs in our area. We are helping develop Golden Kentucky Sorghum Coop, which not only provides several seasonal jobs, but gives farmers a chance to increase their income by growing the coop and growing their sweet sorghum cane under contract to the coop.

The Christian Appalachian Project (CAP), was interested enough to make us a grant to help us reach our goals. For this we sincerely thank them.

If you would like to know more about us, you may contact our director Tammy Gardner or myself.

Sincerely,
Faye Baker

high school. . . . Those are excerpts from a letter to the editor by Peggy Howard in last week's Signal.

I'll bet that some of the local school administrators who think that every word written by this newspaper about the school system is negative, had a smile on their face when they went to bed last Wednesday night.

Fact is, the story concerning the incident between Chris Masor, and William Smith in the Nov addition was an account of the local school board's monthly meeting.

At no time was it ever mentioned why the two boys were fighting. The story was not about the fight, it was about the meeting. I was not at the fight and did not and still don't know for a fact what happened. I was, however, at the board meeting and reported what took place there.

There had been much talk of the incident, but no one I trusted completely had actually told me what happened. I thought I knew what happened and I still do, but you can't print hearsay.

It is good to see that at least some people in our community care enough to make their opinions known. That is what our letter to the editor is all about.

The last election is long since over, but something has been bothering me since that day. What makes a man, who has worked in a school system over 20 years, and has as much education as his superior's go to the election polls and hand out cards for someone to the work by schoolteachers at the polls during school board elections?

It seems to me that if you are doing your job as best you can, that you should be all the security you would need. I am sure that Dr. . . .

FLU SEASON POSES HEALTH THREAT

The flu season is approaching again, and federal health officials are warning that there could be 40,000 deaths nationwide from all types of flu and pneumonia. To prevent illness, they are recommending flu vaccines, especially for people in high risk groups.

Members of Congress were recently warned by the Capitol Physician about the flu threat. We were encouraged to consider inoculation ourselves, and to inform our staffs that the vaccines are available.

According to the Attending Physician's Office of the Capitol, there are four different types of influenza viruses predicted to cause illness in the autumn and winter. Three types of flu are contained in a vaccine that is already available. The fourth is a new flu strain -- Taiwan A -- for which a vaccine is now being distributed, but may not be readily available.

Federal health officials say that strain poses a special threat to people under 35 who have underlying health problems. Persons under 35 probably have no immunity to the Taiwan A virus which is similar to strains prevalent before the mid-1950s. Therefore, the new strain may cause widespread illness this fall and winter among children and young adults.

Flu inoculations are strongly recommended by physicians for individuals with health conditions such as heart disease, chronic respiratory disease, renal disease, diabetes, chronic asthma, severe asthma, and for persons over age 65. However, they point out that in any individual the vaccine has been proven to be more than 80 percent effective in preventing or making less severe the illness caused by influenza viruses.

Health authorities say the Taiwan A flu strain was discovered last spring when U.S. drug companies already had begun production of the vaccine which contains the other three flu strains. They add that peosystem's own interest at heart. I know that he will, and has done, what he always thinks is right. But I do think that sometimes he gets the wrong advice from people he trusts.

One of the most persistent myths about Social Security, which causes a great deal of mischief, is the belief on the part of nearly all recipients that they paid for their own benefits during their working lifetimes. Nothing could be further from the truth.

"I may only be here for one term, but I'm going to do what is best for our county," is a quote worth repeating from the little lone Democrat on the Rockcastle Fiscal Court.

The quote came during last week's called meeting of the fiscal court, from Doug Bishop, Bishop, Amos Burdette and Glen Ellison voted to set boundaries for the county's solid waste management plan. Magistrates Jack Bradley and Donald Bullock and Judge Hubert Thacker abstained. It is understandable that Thacker did not vote, his son-in-law is in the garbage business.

Bullock and Bradley abstained until they could get a ruling on the inclusion of the three county towns in the solid waste plan from the Kentucky Attorney General. They voted "yes" Tuesday along with Bishop, Amos Burdette and Glen Ellison when they got their answer from the state lawyers that the cities could be included.

Garbage has been a problem in Rockcastle for years and some are trying to remedy that problem now. At least Doug Bishop, and the other magistrates have enough courage to stand up for what they think is right and not be intimidated by some other people.

case with each of the magistrates the county would just keep paying $70,000 a month to collect garbage out of their general fund.

Having reported much of the previous fiscal court, I watched as magistrates bickered among themselves, rescinded votes when the vote was tied up, and even picked a site for a landfill before they got it approved by the state. Unless my memory fails me, none of them are still on the fiscal court. Of course, two of them did run for county judge.

The county probably has enough money to keep paying the outrageous garbage bills for a while, because their fiscal year doesn't end until June 30 and tax money is coming in now, but what about the jail renovation, the bill at the U.K. Medical Center, and asbestos removal in the jail and courthouse.

One subject around these quarters that I have not been agreed with on is President Reagan and his secret deal with Iran and then the use of millions of illegal dollars in Nicaragua.

While Reagan may be the first President to get impeached since Andrew Johnson, and he may even have to appoint Bob Doyle to the Presidency, so he can pardon him, it is very hard for this Reagan supporter to watch and read about his dealings every day.

Such items as toys, ceramics, monogram items, U.K. Novelties and much more, also special items from a few of our own counties homemakers.

Come do your stocking stuffing with us and at the same time report scouting.

from a Press Corps that never let up.

I guess it comes from actually only feeling and seeing the effects of two presidents, or caring at least. I wasn't old enough to vote for Jimmy Carter, but I probably would have voted for him at the time. Of course it would have been a mistake. Reagan may have done very well and if he has, he should suffer. But I find it hard to swallow news reports from some of television networks, that 69 percent of the American people think he is lying.

Look on the bright side, Reagan gets impeached. Gary Hart, Ted Kennedy or another good Democrat gets elected. Then we can go back to the good old days when we had 20 percent inflation, faked oil shortages so the price can go out of the roof and 21 percent interest rates. We may even be able to get 50 or so hostages taken at one time, instead of the seven or eight held now, and held until another President with some backbone comes into office.

Oh yes, I thought that John Y. Brown was an excellent Kentucky governor. Wasn't he a Democrat?

ple whose physicians specifically recommend flu inoculations should receive both the standard vaccine and the one for the newer Taiwan A variety.

The Centers for Disease Control reported in November that a flu strain similar to the Taiwan variety already had been reported in Hawaii, New York and Texas. The Taiwan A flu virus is also related to the Russian flu which caused an epidemic in this country in the winter of 1978.

Flu is especially dangerous to the elderly because they are more susceptible to such potentially fatal complications as pneumonia, the sixth leading cause of death in the United States.

"Court sets garbage plan"

mayors from the three cities. Mt. Vernon Mayor Roland Mullins came to one court meeting as did Livingston Mayor Bill Medley. Broadhead Mayor Billy Bussell has not attended a meeting.

During the discussion, a representative from Mt. Vernon Plastics asked the court to exempt the company from the solid waste plan. The court said it would consider the request at a future date when details of the plan are discussed.

Magistrates voiced their concern over the poor conditions around garbage dumpsters in the county. Tom Denny is paid $600 a month to keep the areas clean. The magistrates gave Denny two weeks to clean up the areas or the court will call a special session and hire someone else.

The magistrates did not take additional action on the solid waste plan, awaiting the Friday public hearing.

"I hope people will show up," one official said following the meeting. "If they don't, they only have themselves to blame."

In other action, the court voted to approve Citizen's Bank of Broadhead as depositor of sheriff's taxes.

At the request of County Clerk Norma Houk, the court approved pay hikes for five of her deputy clerks. The raises are paid from fees received by her office, and are the maximum allowed under law. If fees are not earned, the clerks will be paid accordingly. Chief deputy clerk will receive $13,000 annually; first deputy, $12,750; second deputy, $11,200; third deputy, $9,400 and fourth deputy, $7,700.

The court also voted to give Anna Rose Mullins, Judge Thatcher's assistant, a $50 a month raise. Her new salary will be $13,250.

Dog Marden Glen Bullock will also receive a $50 a month raise. His salary will be $375 a month.

The court hired Mary Ann Cromer of Broadhead to replace resigning Kathy Denney as Fibre Bound Service Aid at the Broadhead Senior Citizens Center. She will receive $3.35 an hour for six hours a day, five days a week.

Law overturned

A new Kentucky state law, permitting a family to place a mentally retarded person in a treatment center without their consent, has been struck down by U.S. District Judge Charles Allen who said that the law "effectively eliminated the rights of mentally retarded persons is unconstitutional."

discussion words became very heated between parents.

"If I prove it I'll break more than his leg," Emma Renner said, while her husband also talked of violence because of the incident.

However, JoAnn Smith told the Renners that her son had been slandered enough and that she wasn't going to put up with it any longer. She also said that she had been to the high school several times to find out what happen but without results.

Carter Renner also told board members that when he signed for his son to attend Vocational School he was suppose to have an aide for him and he wanted to know where the aide was when the incident occurred.

"I wanted my son to be able to learn, but I won't subject him to that. I will take him out of there," Carter Renner said.

would have to re-transport prisoners at an added expense," Woodrum said.

He admitted the cost of renovation to meet state standards was higher than expected, but added that there was little the court could do but go ahead with the project.

The magistrates on a motion by Doug Bishop, seconded by Jack Bradley, voted unanimously to accept the Newland bid.

The court will have to borrow about $61,000 for the renovation project. The court has about $19,000 left in a state grant that it can use.

The court delayed awarding a contract to the same consulting firm to come up with a cost for removing asbestos from the courthouse, in spite of a plea from Sheriff Clarence Hasty that the asbestos in his offices should be removed first since his offices have the highest percentage of asbestos fallout in the building.

The court agreed to bring up the matter at a later date because of a lack of money. The firm had asked $3,200 for the survey and its recommendations.

"We'd like to get the asbestos out of the building now, but there is no money available," Judge Thatcher said. "Maybe we can get it out partly this year and partly next year."

Asbestos in the county jail area is now being removed at a cost of $10,250 before remodeling of the jail begins.

"SCHOOL BOARD"

they work together to see that both Chris and William got their education and graduated. He said that Chris had been the hardest decision he had ever had to make and that he had never prayed about it.

"I want to treat everyone as fair as I can and I will always take responsibility for something that is in my jurisdiction, but this is a very unusual and sad situation," Saylor said.

"I'm a man of my word, and I said that I would go along with whatever decision you made, but that doesn't mean I agree with it and I don't," said David Mason.

After Saylor made his decision, the Masons immediately turned to the board for an appeal. The board went into executive session for only about 10 minutes, and when they came out Dr. Rudolph Burdette, board chairman, told the Masons that the board was backing Saylor's decision.

Dr. Burdette told Chris Mason that he was sorry that this had happened but that he thought Mr. Saylor had always tried to do what was right at the high school and he felt like that if Chris worked hard when he returned to school he ulent letters of credit from Dec. 1, 1981 through Jan. 31, 1983 to Rhein. The indictments charge Rhein used the letters to borrow money from Mineral Associates of Baltimore, MD. Enzweiler was fired from the bank in 1983.

The indictments say Enzweiler was counseled and induced by Rhein, Hoffman and Williams to issue letters of credit to Rhein, who in turn, used them to borrow money from Mineral Associates on promissory notes. Rhein's promissory notes then were used by Enzweiler from Northern Kentucky Bank funds.

One count of the indictment charges that Enzweiler, Rhein, Hoffman and Williams fraudulently procured funds from Northern Kentucky Bank by avoiding the legal lending limits, overdrafts, unauthorized loans, letters of credit, guarantees and unauthorized opinion letters. All are named in 22 counts of issuing fraudulent letters of credit seeking more than $2.65 million.

Enzweiler, Rhein and Hoffman are charged with 23 counts of misapplying and stealing funds by use of letters of credit totaling $2.37 million.

Enzweiler and Williams face eight counts of drawing and paying checks on Williams' account and the Triple A account when there were insufficient funds.

The money derived from the 60-day letters of credit was deposited in the Triple A Coal Co. account at Northern Kentucky Bank to pay the expenses of the business he was trying to build, Rhein said.

"There was never a penny missing," he said. "Nobody made any money off those loans."

Enzweiler had sole control of the Triple A account, bank officials said, when the shortages were revealed in 1983.

Rhein admitted that his accounts were overdrafted but said his accounts receivable at times were greater than the overdrafts. The four men indicted have been sued by the bank for $13.5 million. The bank says it wants to recover the $3.5 million it was swindled out of plus $110 million in punitive damages.

tally handicapped son, Terry, were at the meeting and they told board members what had happened the fight between the two boys.

Carter Renner said William Smith put urine in a pop can and gave it to his son to drink. Emma Renner said that it made her son sick and that she could prove what happened.

However, JoAnn Smith, mother of William, questioned the Renner's as to whether they could prove their accusations. "I can prove it and I can prove a lot of other things that are going on at the high school like cocaine, and pistols," Carter Renner said.

But, Saylor said that he did not have any jurisdiction over the Vocational School, where the incident reportedly occurred, and that Lloyd Cain would have to take care of that problem. Cain is principal at the Vocational School.

GRAVES FAMILY VISITS

The family of Zl Graves shared a double treat over the Thanksgiving weekend.

Along with giving thanks for the past year's blessings, and the thankfulness of grandchildren growing into young adults selecting colleges of their choice and setting goals for their future, we celebrated yet another occasion.

Judy Graves Kennedy the oldest child of Mat (now deceased) and Zl Graves celebrated her 50th birthday on Thanksgiving Day.

She and her husband, Geoff, had their 40th Anniversary. Geoff's mother, Carolyn Kennedy all of Flint, Mich., came home for the occasion. Rodney Graves and wife, Helen, and son, Birch, was here from Sinks Grove, W.Va.

Polly and Charles Abney and son, Chad, from Mt. Vernon made the family circle complete except for Judy's son, Deno Prokos, who is studying languages at the University of Hiedelberg, Germany.

The turkey and dressing with all the trimmings was only a part of the celebration.

Thanksgiving evening a group of her childhood friends and classmates were invited to come and share her "over-the-hill" party.

The house had been quietly and effectively decorated without her knowing with, over the hill banners and streamers of crepe paper loaded with balloons. The center ones clinging to the ceiling being large block ones denoting the "over the hill" and Happy Birthday message.

On the porch, arriving guests were made aware of the reason for celebrating where a 15 ft. sign said "Here Nifty-Judy's Fifty."

Needless to say it was a hilarious evening with everyone joining in.

Already full stomachs, with party goofies, one of the eating attractions was her husband's sausage brought back from Alaska when I took my vacation last summer. A cane to help her over the hill was used instead of candles on her chocolate birthday cake.

The attending guests were, besides the wife and husband Geoff, Charles and Polly Abney and Chad of Mt. Vernon, Rodney and Helen Graves and Birch of Sinks Grove, W.Va., Carolyn Kennedy of Flint, Mich., Ann Prokos of Flint, Mich., Calice and Dean Mize, Sherman and Anna Mize of Mt. Vernon, Albert and Barbara Hibbard of Pulaski County, Glen and Vivian Renner of Mt. Vernon, Ludema Hawk of Pulaski County, Emma June Cross Grier of Stanford, Janice Crabtree Wilson of Dayton, Ohio, Bethel Burdine of Somerset, and Jay Mize of Glendale, Ohio.

Everyone reported having a grand time reminiscing old times and reports of how they are adapting old ways to the changes in today's world.

They would like more of this kind of get together without the age emphasis.

PUT "FAMILY TIME" IN YOUR SCHEDULE

You often hear a great deal about what is wrong with American families these days. But have you ever thought about how much is right with your families?

One of the ways that you can strengthen your family is by spending time together through family rituals and regularly-scheduled activities.

Kids need lots of contact with groups. One of the key ways of creating more mature, healthy 16-year-olds is by spending time with your kids when they are young.

When most Kentuckians lived on farms, usually there were plenty of uncles, aunts and grandparents as well as parents around who spent time with kids as they grew up. But today, in our mobile society, many of us have moved away from these very important people. This leaves a great void in children's lives.

How can you fill this void? One way is to establish more family rituals. The busier you are, the more you need them. Whether it's Sunday brunches, a picnic or a special way to spend time together in a special way that suits your family.

Another way is to make sure you schedule special time with each child—a monthly lunch, or a regular time to play a favorite game. Children count on these special times and the whole family gains from them. Finally, plan monthly family activities in advance. Let nothing get in the way of carrying through with your plans to enjoy one another. A family is like so many other things — if it's important enough, you'll find the time to invest in it.

BE AWARE OF STRESS SIGNS

There are as many signs of stress as there are stressed-out people. The trouble is that not everyone knows what the signs of stress are.

Some people have headaches, neckaches and backaches. Others bite their nails, grind their teeth or tap their feet. Still others experience heartburn, stomach disorders or have problems sleeping at night. Any of these symptoms can be an indication of stress.

The important thing is to examine your life and get a picture of what is happening that may be contributing to stress symptoms.

You might keep a diary or journal.

Henderson is Wells Scholar

The Wells Scholars Program, an honors program for education majors which is offered at Sue Bennett College, is designed to meet the changing requirements for those going into the teaching field.

Recently, a dinner meeting

As soon as you notice a stress symptom, jot down what happened before you experienced it. See if you can identify any patterns.

Ask yourself what the symptom is doing for you. These are suggested ways to handle stress:

Concentrate on what you are doing.

Don't blame or complain. Exercise, meditate or pray. Learn to say no.

When stress strikes, catch it early, calm yourself and listen to your inner guidance.

The sooner you catch a stress symptom, the quicker you can take steps to manage it and let it go.

was planned for the Wells Scholars, along with a viewing of the movie "Great Expectations." This particular movie was shown because the book had been read by the students and they were asked to critique it. One of the objectives of the program is further develop reading and writing skills to a very high degree.

A recipient of the Wells Scholars program from Rockcastle County is Stacy Henderson, daughter of David and Betty Henderson.

Leslie

Leslie is a 1986 graduate of Eastern School of Hair Design. She is the daughter of Luther and Bonnie Rose of Brodhead.

If you were not familiar with the story line of "The Real Inspector Hound," you might have gotten just a little confused in the most recent production of the Rockcastle Co. Arts Council. During the play, Scott Henderson and Jack Lewis, critics to begin with, changed places with actors and became involved in the story plot -- Patti Towery declared her love for two (or was it three?) different men during the play, the "dummy" who lay on the floor of the drawing room the entire dinner hour and throughout the play was no "dummy" but Tracy Burdette and Louis Tagliaboschi was not who he seemed to be. All very confusing -- but entertaining and interesting, as usual for an Alan Pensei directed production. In the top photo, Jack Lewis (Moon the critic, at first) winds up a little disgruntled at the end of the play. Patti Towery (Cynthia Muldoon) and Louis Tagliaboschi (Major Magnus, et al) find comfort with Scott (Mrs. Wesszard, Nagina Eveleske (Mrs. Drudge) looks on happily and Jennifer Witt (Felicity) not so happily. In the background are the actors cum critics, Craig White (Inspector Hound, at first) and David Phillips (Simon, at first). In the photo at left, Scott Henderson, a newcomer to an Arts Council production, but a very impressive actor, after he became Simon in the play.

Rockets lose opener to Knox Central and Mays

The Knox Central Lady Panthers came to town Monday night to help the Lady Rockets open their 1986-87 season and to give freshman guard Kim Mays a chance to break Knox Central's single game scoring record. They did both.

Mays scored 17 points in the fourth quarter, of the 19 points scored by KC, and this, added to her 20 points in the other three quarters, gave her 37 on the night and the record. It was also enough by itself to defeat the Lady Rockets since they could only manage 35 points for the game.

After being behind 26 to 14 at the end of the first half, the Lady Panthers made a run at the Lady Rockets in the third quarter and cut the gap to four points but that was when Mays decided to take charge and take charge she did with 13 points from the free throw line on the night and 12 field goals. And, then in the fourth quarter, she did it all - stole the ball, took it to the goal with two or sometimes three defenders there, rebounded and just generally won the game.

Senior center Sandy Hunter was high point scorer for the Lady Rockets with 13; Lori Mink, who was not early in the game, got 9; Carol Coffey and Phyllis Harper both came off the bench to get 3 and 4, respectively and Rhonda Cobb, Cindy Fain and Tonya Parrett each contributed 2 in the final 53-35 margin.

Boy's Lose

Although it was too late for stats, the Rockets boys' team lost to the Estill Co. Engineers in their opening game of the season Tuesday night at Estill Co.

Drives for the goal...

Brodhead 5th grade guard J.D. Bussell drives for the basket in Monday night's game with Roundstone at home. The Tigers won the first game 27-17. The Eagles took the second game 33-26.

Births and Birthdays

Glenda Jo McFerron celebrated her birthday with a clown and balloon party at her home with her cousins and friends. She would like to thank everyone for the great time and all the pretty gifts she received. Glenda's mom and dad are Bill and Glenda McFerron and her papas and mamas are Fred and Emma Doan of Mt. Vernon and Estil and Zelma McFerron, also of Mt. Vernon.

Tim and Debbie Whitehead wish to announce the birth of their first child, Kasey Leigh, born November 7, 1986 at Humana Hospital-Lake Cumberland in Somerset. Kasey Leigh weighed 7 lbs., 9 1/2 ozs. at birth and was 19 1/4 inches long. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reynolds, Jr. of Orlando and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight J. Whitehead of Brodhead.

Ashley Nicole Gabbard celebrated her second birthday December 4, 1986. She is the daughter of Teddy and Penny Gabbard of Williamsburg. Grandparents are Floyd and Ruby Gabbard of Brodhead and Wayne and Eva Moffitt of Lexington.

You must have stamps for mail to be picked up.

During the month of December your Rural Mail Carrier will not pick up mail from your mail box if you have money on your mail. So please buy plenty of stamps for all your bills and Christmas cards, so they will not be delayed.

Also during the other eleven months of the year if everyone would buy stamps and use them on all their mail it would help the carrier give better and faster mail service.

You can eliminate almost all the trips to the post office, because doing business with the Postal Service is as close as your mailbox.

Stephanie Hutt, daughter of Steve and Kay Hutt of Indiana and great granddaughter of Ivory L. Anglin and of the late Frank and Irene Fitzpatrick, participated in the Little Miss Easter Seals Pageant and won the title of "Most Photogenic" in beauty held in Louisville. She was also second runner-up in the contest.

Why is Sin So Popular?

The Bible teaches that the wages of sin is DEATH (Rom. 6:23). This is eternal separation from God. Sin grieves the Holy Spirit, makes vain the death of Christ, and saddens the Father. In view of its horrible consequences, why is sin pursued so diligently by so many?

Obviously sin has its pleasant side. Its appeal is to the physical senses. It can be made to look good, sound good, and feel good. It is strong! When practiced, its appeal becomes even stronger and more entrenched as a habit. We, as Moses, should realize its pleasures are only "for a season" [Heb. 11:25].

The very popularity of sin enhances its appeal. If we lived in a pure environment where there was great pressure against every form of evil, it would not have the appeal that it has now. There would even be the threat of exposure, shame and disgrace.

Sin is popular because of human reason. After all, as some foolishly refer to the sin of Adam and Eve, "What is wrong with eating an apple?" Worldly-minded people so rationalize sin that good becomes evil and evil good [Isa. 5:20]. If you doubt this, look at how the virgin or celibate one is made fun of while the promiscuous is considered normal and good. Human reason thinks divine law concerning marriage and divorce is too narrow [Matt. 19:9]. Divorce and remarriage for any reason or no reason is approved by society. Homosexuality and abortion are either accepted or advocated as right.

Sin is popular because people are basically self-willed. They sin because they want to. Eve did not sin as long as she was more concerned about God's will than that of her own. Jesus did not sin because the Father's will was always put first in His life [John 5:30]. Those who freely indulge in sin need to learn this lesson from Jesus.

Another underlying reason why sin is so popular is that those involved deceive themselves. It is not that they are totally unaware of God or its consequences, but they deceive themselves into thinking they are getting by with it. They may say, "I'll change later," "I've done more good than bad," "I'm not as bad as some church members," "God is too good to condemn me," or "God made me this way." How sad for man to think that he can change the Bible to fit himself rather than change himself to fit the Bible! To all who think this way, God warns: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting" [Gal. 6:7-8].

Jesus provides the way of escape from sin's consequences. When one believes in Christ, repents of sins, confesses his faith in Christ and is baptized for remission of sins, he is forgiven [Mk. 16:16; Rom. 10:9-10; Acts 2:38]. Obey Jesus now!

FITNESS ALL OVER

The trend that has many people dieting, exercising and more concerned with good grooming is becoming an important part of daily life for an increasing number of modern American men; some say they're building blocks to success.

Here are some tips on exercise and grooming to help you look and feel your best.

- Try to exercise at least three times a week for 20 to 30 minutes per session. That's enough of a workout, experts say, to get your heart pumping.
- Aerobic exercises—ones that make your heart beat faster—are the most beneficial for overall health benefits. Jogging, bicycling, even walking at a quick pace can help burn calories and get the circulation system moving.
- If you want to improve your appearance do some toning exercise. You should start with some warm-up stretches. Then do a series of sit-ups, push-ups, leg lifts, side-bends, knee-bends and other isometric exercise.
- To give your skin a more toned feeling, end your hot showers with a cold rinse.
- After every shave, splash on Skin Bracer® After Shave by Menen. Skin Bracer® is ideal for men who want to soothe razor discomfort and enjoy that refreshing wake-up tingle.

Combining a regular series of exercises with good grooming habits should be a specific part of your daily regimen. Looking good and feeling physically fit are worthwhile achievements for today's active men who believe in total fitness. Now, back to those tips.

Rockcastle's teachers rank 128 among state's districts

By: Richard Anderkin

Rockcastle County teachers are paid better than most administrators in comparison to other districts in the state, according to the Kentucky Department of Education.

Teachers, who have been teaching for more than 15 years and have their Rank I, will make $24,205 this year. That is the maximum a Rockcastle County teacher can make, unless they work extra days under the state's extended employment.

But, according to the Department of Education, the average teacher salary in Rockcastle County is $19,685, which ranks them 128th among the state's 180 districts.

According to Garlan Cummins, Rockcastle County board treasurer, the reason for the "fair" ranking for teachers is the fact that many of the approximately 180 teachers in the local system have their rank 1 plus 15 years experience.

Cummins also said that Rockcastle gives their teachers the full amount of their salary that is received from the state.

"Some districts withhold as much as 10 percent and put it in their general budget," Cummins said.

In comparison to the amount a teacher with a Rank I rating which is 30-hours of additional graduate work beyond a Masters Degree, a teacher with a bachelor's degree in Rockcastle County, and less than three years experience, will make $15,555, while a teacher with the same experience and a master's degree will make $17,370.

But, Rockcastle teachers are paid on the average, $3,975 less than Fayette County teachers who are the highest paid in the state.

Administrators are a different story. They are ranked 170th in the amount of pay they receive for the job they do.

The average salary of a Rockcastle County administrator is $28,294. This figure includes all the central office staff, principals, Gov. Collins announces new home program for Ky.

Thousands of Kentuckians of modest means would be assured of home ownership over the next 20 years under a program announced by Gov. Martha Layne Collins.

The Kentucky Housing Corporation is devising programs to continue low-interest construction loans and below-market mortgage loans to families of low and middle-income citizens. The corporation, a non-profit, independent state agency, also is cooperating with other state agencies to sponsor a symposium on housing needs for the elderly, the governor said.

Kentucky is leading the national effort to develop housing assistance programs that federal actions are eliminating. "We're moving in housing just as we're moving in education and economic development," Gov. Collins declared.

The governor made the announcements at the Third Annual Governor's Housing Conference in Lexington Nov. 19.

Planning for the programs for low-cost housing and the elderly already has begun but a timetable for accomplishment is not final, said Lynn Luallen, executive director of the housing corporation.

Initial plans call for building five to 10 homes in 10 to 15 communities in the state, Luallen said.

Collins said that the Home Builders Association of Kentucky is working with the corporation on a statewide project to "deliver innovative, affordable, housing designs, and will take advantage of below-market interest rate KHC financing."

assistant principals and guidance counselors.

This average salary does not include Superintendent Charles B. Parsons, who is a contractual employee. His contract is negotiated with the board every four years. His last contract was worth $39,000.00 to him when he negotiated it in March of 1983. This does not include his salary for board secretary, and his $55 of extended/employment. That amounts to over $8,000 more.

Fort Thomas School District pays its administrators an average salary of $45,498, over $17,000 more than the average administrator is paid in Rockcastle County.

Brodhead Principal Tom Payne, who has a Rank I, and is paid $41,515 of extended employment, said Monday that while Rockcastle's administrative salaries were lower than most of the counties in the state he thinks the pay for teaching and administrating in the local school system is more than fair, when it comes to Rockcastle's economic base.

Seventh Time

VA lowers interest

For the seventh time in 18 months, the Veterans Administration has lowered its maximum home loan interest rate. Effective Nov. 24, VA-guaranteed fixed rate mortgages dropped to 9 percent—lowest since June 28, 1978.

The decrease continues a pattern that began in September 1980, when VA rates peaked at an all-time high of 17 1/2 percent.

The last change, from 10 1/4 percent to 9 1/2 percent, occurred March 3, 1986.

The cut brings the VA rate closer to the market rate nationally.

Besides benefiting new veteran-buyers, VA officials said the cut in the rate can help many veterans who already have home loans with high interest rates. By refinancing, veterans may be able to cut monthly payments by $200 a month or more and save thousands of dollars over the life of the loan.

The VA will also decrease by one-half percent the maximum rates for Graduated Payment Mortgages (GPMs) to 9 1/4 and home improvement loans to 10 1/2 percent.

The rates for manufactured home loans will also be decreased to 11 1/2 percent for unit-only loans and 11 percent for loans to purchase either a unit with a lot or a lot for a unit already purchased.

VA home loans may be used to purchase, construct, alter, improve, repair, or refinance a home. This includes the purchase of condominiums and manufactured homes, with or without a lot.

8.68 inches of rain

It was a wet November, that no one can deny. A total of 8.68 inches fell at the weather station at Cox Funeral Home during the month.

Some areas of the county may have had more or less.

Last year's November rainfall totalled 6.06 inches.

Even at the present rate, rainfall has 3.5 inches to go before equalling last year's total rainfall for the year of 41.71 inches.

Besides the extended employment, which is based on the number of days worked outside of the 185 regular school days, principals are paid $73.54 per teacher they supervise. Assistant principals are paid half that much for each teacher.

$129.62 perday for each additional day he works outside of regular school time. Each principal in the county is paid the same.

"The difference in the pay comes in the amount of education, the number of teachers supervised and the number of days worked on extended employment," according to Cummins, who said that all central office personnel are paid by the same scale as the teachers, and the only difference in their salary comes in the number of extended employment days they work.

For example, Cummins is paid a base salary of $24,205, plus $129.62 a day for extended employment. He works 54 days each year. The only people with more extended employment than Cummins is Superintendent Parsons and Agricultural teachers. Bill Ponder and Russell Parsons. 55 are the most days allowed by the state.

system have extended employment such as librarians and home economic teachers.

The highest paid principal in the local school system is John Hale at Mt. Vernon Elementary School. Hale has a Rank 1 and 10 years experience. He gets paid $43,920. He works 47 days of extended employment at $127.46 a day.

Mt. Vernon Elementary School assistant principal Mark McKinney said Tuesday that he agrees with Payne that salaries are high enough for teachers and administrators in Rockcastle County.

When asked if he thought that salaries had something to do with how good an education a student receives, he said "no".

"Money has absolutely nothing to do with it, when you get right down to it," he said. "There are a lot of teachers paid too much for what they do and then there are a lot that don't get paid enough for the time they put in."

McKinney did say that he felt like the principalship at Rockcastle County High School should be the highest paying job in the school system. It was his observation that the principal's job at the high school was the "toughest" job in the system and moreover had it should make more.

"That is one falacy of the local administrative salary schedule," he concluded.

McConnell tries to help Kentucky coal miners with Federal OSM

Declaring the Office of Surface Mining, Reclamation and Enforcement's (OSM) decision to continuously override the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulation of coal operations a "flawed interpretation which has wreaked havoc in the coal fields" and "a mockery of primacy," U.S. Sen. Mitt McConnell called on OSM to stop issuing Federal Notices of Violation (NOVS) to Kentucky and other states which already adhere to state approved regulatory programs.

"Coal operators should not be beholden to two masters," McConnell said in a letter to Secretary of Interior Donald Hodel. "I have a whole file of horror stories where operators have complied with every directive of the state regulatory agency only to be cited by OSM for non-compliance. This is the worst form of double jeopardy."

McConnell disagrees with OSM's ruling that they have the authority to issue Notice of Violation when they dispute the interpretation of an approved state program.

"This is nonsense. Sufficient tools are available under the law to resolve interpretational disputes without resorting to NOVS. Under the current scenario, individual coal operators are caught in between and punished for a dispute between state and federal regulatory authority," McConnell said. "The end result of this power battle is the demise of our coal industry and I won't stand for it."

To change the current system, OSM would have to initiate a rulemaking proceeding to repeal the existing regulation and then, after public comment, adopt the requested changes.

Bankruptcy law could help keep farms

Farmers who declare bankruptcy have a greater chance to reorganize their operations and keep them going now that a new bankruptcy law is in effect.

"Often when farmers declared bankruptcy under chapters 11 or 13 of the federal bankruptcy law, they were unable to put together a debt repayment plan that met the approval of creditors. As a result, their assets were liquidated and they were forced off the farm," said University of Kentucky Extension agricultural economist Don Shurley.

Under the new law, farmers have more leeway in reorganizing a debt repayment schedule, which should give them a greater chance to continue farming. The new law, commonly referred to as Chapter 12, gives farmers only 90 days to come up with a plan for repayment of debts; but does not require approval by the creditors for implementation, Shurley said.

Chapter 12 should prove to be a significant benefit to Kentucky, where farm bankruptcies continue to escalate. Now, some 23,000 acres of western Kentucky farmland are controlled by bankruptcy courts. Many will be taken over by the banks who hold the mortgage, making them reluctant farmers, Shurley said.

Although the new law probably will result in fewer farms being returned to banks, it may be seen by bankers as anti-lender because it does not allow them or other creditors to veto reorganization plans as they have been able to in the past.

In addition, lenders may find it troublesome the way the law defines "adequate protection for unsecured creditors." Under previous bankruptcy laws, farmers were required to continue paying interest on their debts while the court was processing the case, or be subject to liquidation. Now, farmers are required to pay only a fair rental value on their land until the case is resolved.

State police traffic report

A total of 176 motorists were issued citations for traffic violations in Rockcastle County during October, according to a report by Kentucky State Police at the London Post.

Fourteen were charged with driving under the influence of intoxicants, 42 were issued court-tes notices for faulty equipment and 33 motorists were assisted with breakdowns.

A total of 30 traffic accidents were investigated. Of these, 19 were property damage accidents only; 11 were personal injury accidents. There were no fatal accidents, but 18 persons were injured.

Twenty criminal investigations were made resulting in five criminal arrests and 395 persons attending 13 safety programs.

In the London Post area, 1,086 motorists were issued citations, 85 with driving under the influence of intoxicants, there were no fatal accidents.

Farm bill will affect farmers

By: David Stipes

A little noticed portion of the 1985 Farm Bill will affect most of Kentucky, farmers for the next decade.

Provisions of the 1985 Farm Bill mandate that farmers must be in compliance with the U.S. Department of Agriculture conservation regulations, if they are to receive any benefits from USDA support programs.

All 150,000 tobacco marketing allotment holders and 23,000 Farmers Home Administration borrowers in Kentucky will be

Controlling all weeds in soybean fields may be counterproductive

Farmers who try to control all the weeds in their no-till soybean fields may be costing themselves an extraordinary share of their profits.

Weeds can be controlled in a no-till situation with herbicides, said William Witt, a research scientist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"It's just that I'm not sure how feasible it would be from a profit standpoint to try to eradicate all the weeds," he said. "The cost is prohibitive. Most farmers in Kentucky can't afford to spend $50 or $60 per acre on soybean weed control."

Witt will present results of UK research on the matter at the 41st annual meeting of the North Central Weed Control Conference in Milwaukee, Wis., on Dec. 2-4. His subject is "Weed Control in No-Tillage, Full-Season Soybeans."

Witt and other UK researchers have been investigating several herbicides to control up to 10 different weed species such as cocklebur, Johnsongrass and morning glories.

"There are very few weeds we can't control," he said. "However, as in any production system, you have to match the herbicide weed. You have to know what's there."

In Kentucky, he said both pre-emergence and post-emergence herbicides must be used. Researchers are experimenting with new chemicals which may enable farmers to get rid of most of their weeds with one application. This obviously would reduce the cost of weed control. Because Johnsongrass, a major problem in Kentucky, is not effectively controlled by pre-emergence applications, post-emergence herbicides are required.

Because a completely weed-free soil is not profitable, Witt's purpose is to determine how many weeds a soybean field can have and still be profitable.

"We have to get away from the concept that we have to get rid of weeds completely," he said. "It can give you 75 or 80 percent control pretty effectively. It's that 95 percent that gets into your pocket."

The farmer also needs to understand which weeds he needs to concentrate on reducing. For example, a heavy concentration of cocklebur will reduce yield while the same concentration of giant foxtails will not. Obviously, money is better spent to reduce the cockleburs, Witt said.

able to pay the fair rental value for their land than to keep up interest payments on it. This should make it easier for them to have their repayment plans confirmed and reduce the chance that their assets will be liquidated," Shurley said.

Finally, the new law allows debts to be reduced to an amount not greater than the market value of assets held as collateral, he said.

Chapter 12 is available to farmers who have less than $1.5 million in debt and who earned more than half of their gross income from farming in the year before the petition is filed.

Bankruptcy cases already filed may be converted to application under the new law provided the court hearing the bankruptcy case decides that Chapter 12 would lead to a successful reorganization of the farmer's debt and if a prior plan has not already been filed, Shurley said.

Shurley advises farmers who are contemplating bankruptcy declaration to consult with a bankruptcy attorney before they make any decisions.

affected by the new law. Others who expect to enroll in various commodity support programs also will be affected.

The law provides that farmers cropping highly erodible lands, breaking new sod or draining wetlands in compliance with USDA conservation regulations or lose eligibility for most of USDA's programs.

When a farmer applies for next year's farm programs he must certify that he has not broken out new highly erodible lands or drained wetlands since Dec. 1985.

This is the conservation cross compliance requirement and it applies to all lands that were in crops at least one year from 1981 to 1985. Kentucky has 3 million acres of land in this classification.

If a farmer is producing crops on highly erodible soils, he will be required to have a conservation plan approved by the Soil Conservation Service by January 1, 1990 and have that plan in effect by 1995.

The most immediate impacts of the law for Kentucky farmers are the required certification to remain eligible and the restriction on sodusting that would have effect on those crop fields not cropped during 1981-1985. Land not cropped during 1981-1985 and is now cropped or will be cropped needs a plan immediately.

Landowners will need to certify your farm under these provisions at the ASCS office at your next visit. If you plan to crop any fields (any tow crops planted annually) during the next growing season, that were not cropped at least one year between 1981-1985, you need a conservation plan before receiving USDA program benefits in 1987. All crop fields cropped at least one year between 1981-1985 will need a plan by 1990. If you have any questions regarding these farm bill provisions on cropland or wetlands please contact the ASCS or SCS office in Mt. Vernon.

Remember, these provisions affect USDA programs including Tobacco, Corn, CRP, FmHA Loans and FCIC insurance.

Tobacco cooperatives receive less poundage

Burley tobacco cooperatives in Kentucky and Tennessee received less than half as much leaf under loan during the first week of sales this year, compared to 1985. Both cooperatives took in only 3.8 percent of the 107.7 million gross pounds sold last week, or about 4.1 million pounds to add to the some 50 million pounds still in stocks from the 1985 crop.

The first week of sales last year saw 8.7 per cent of 119.7 million pounds, or 10.3 million pounds, going under loan.

The Lexington-based Burley

Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association received 4.38 percent of the 74.4 million pounds sold in its five-state area, or about 3.3 million pounds, under loan. The Burley Stabilization Association in Knoxville took in approximately 700,000 pounds from 33.3 million pounds in sales, or about 2.4 percent.

The burley cooperatives failed to receive any leaf from several markets. Six of those markets in Kentucky were located in Henderson, London, Mayfield, Owensboro, Paducah and Somerset.

The Kentucky market sending the highest percentage of its sales to the pool was Bloomfield, with 14 percent of 1.2 million pounds in sales. Cynthia and Paris markets also had slightly more than 11 percent of their sales going under loan to the cooperatives.

Burley in out-of-state markets going under loan included: Huntington, W. Va., 21 percent; Madison, Ind., 84 percent; New Albany, Ind., 13.15 percent; Ripley, Ohio, 1.49 percent, and Weston, Mo., 14.73 percent.

Kentucky's share of pool receipts the first week was 2.9 million pounds from 68.1 million pounds sold, or 4.29 percent of sales. Lexington, the world's largest burley auction market, sold 9.26 million gross pounds, with 687,995 pounds, or 7.43 percent going under loan.

Sale prices for burley also were down the first week of sales this year. The eight-state belt averaged $157.41 a hundred-weight for grade B2F, to $127 for N2L.

By group, flyings accounted for about 6 percent of sales: lugs, 24 percent; leaf, 58 percent; tips, 4 percent; mixed, 4 percent, and nondescript approximately 3 percent.

The latest crop estimate in the burley area sets production of the 1986 crop at 434,136 pounds. The 107.7 million gross pounds sold the first week of sales—less 1.9 million pounds resales—totals about 24.4 percent of the estimated crop already sold.

22,000 men register for selective service

More than 22,000 men who either applied for, or received federal pell grants-student financial assistance have recently registered with selective service.

They had been identified by a new computer matching program as possible lawbreakers, but their registrations have brought them into compliance with federal law.

Although each man was required by law to register within 30 days of his 18th birthday, government records indicated none had done so. Their identities were discovered by selective service through a computer match of department of education pell grant applicant and recipient lists and selective service registrant files. Male students whose names didn't match a record in the selective service registration database received letters informing them they were suspected nonregistrants, and that they would be ineligible for federal financial assistance unless they registered, or could submit proof of previously registering, or being exempt from the requirement.

"This has produced many new registrations," notes Lew Brodsky, director of public affairs at selective service. "The response continues, but as of now we have 22,329 new registrations attributable to this effort."

to the military selective service act requires that men be in compliance with the registration law to be eligible for student financial aid under title IV of the Higher Education Act. The rationale behind the Solomon amendment (named for its sponsor, Rep. Gerald B. Solomon, R-NY) was

With the ending of the first week of burley sales your London Market had the highest average in Kentucky; not only in Kentucky but the entire 8 states in the Burley Belt. This should be evidence enough for you that the present owner and management are working hard to get you top money for your tobacco.

We haven't been able to get to visit you all on your farms about selling your tobacco with us. This doesn't mean that we don't have an interest in you on an individual basis, but time doesn't allow it. Don't feel as if you don't know anyone at the warehouse. See Graham Cole or Earl Bailey and we'll be glad to answer any questions you have. Visiting you and talking with you on your farm doesn't do much good, but our talking and doing for you on the warehouse floor is where it counts. So don't go to extra expense to carry your tobacco somewhere else for less money.

We are presently receiving tobacco for the sale of Dec. 8th at Warehouse No. 1 and No. 4. We weigh in daily at both warehouses to keep you from having to wait in line. We also weigh in tobacco 8 to 5 on Sunday.

For the first time ever, to show our appreciation to those who do sell with us, we are giving away at the completion of the season a 1987 Dodge Dakota pickup truck to one farmer who sells with us. For further details on how to win, call the warehouse at (606) 878-9000.

Looking forward to serving you this year. We are large enough to serve you completely and small enough to know you.

Sincerely,

Pulaski County men in jail after tobacco theft

Two Science Hill men are in Pulaski County Jail after they were arrested for stealing 39 bales of tobacco Friday from Novis and Estill Kent at Ottawa.

The theft was witnessed by the Gentrys, who gave chase and recovered five bales that fell from the vehicle, and noted the license number, according to State Police.

Robert Rodsey, Jr., 20, and Gerald Haste, 21, are charged with conspiracy to commit theft by unlawful taking over $100 in Pulaski County. Gorsev was also charged with possession of marijuana. Haste was also charged with receiving stolen property.

State detectives Clevis Brown and Herbert Adams are investigating the theft, one of several involving tobacco that has occurred in Rockcastle County in recent days.

that young men unwilling to risk being called to serve the nation in a future crisis should not be allowed to benefit from federally funded student aid programs.

According to selective service acting director Wm. Ebel, men born after Dec. 31, 1959 who have reached the age of 18 but are not yet age 26 must be registered. There are few exceptions. Ebel reports that 97 percent are complying with the law.

Failure to register is a felony. Besides being ineligible for student grants and loans, nonregistrants forfeit eligibility for appointment to federal employment and job training programs. They also risk criminal prosecution and, if convicted, face a fine of up to $250,000 or a jail term of up to five years, or both.

With the increasing federal and state legislation supporting registration, and new computer checks and processing, the comparatively few men failing to register now are risking greater personal consequences and have a greater likelihood of being caught, Ebel said.

Mileage rate still same

The Internal Revenue Service has announced that the standard automobile mileage rates to be used in computing income tax deductions for 1986 are the same as for 1985.

For a car that is not fully depreciated, the rate for business use of a car is 21 cents a mile for the 15,000 miles of business use and 11 cents a mile for business use after the first 15,000 miles. The rate is 11 cents a mile for all business use for a car that is fully depreciated. The rate for a car operated in connection with charitable activities is 12 cents a mile. For medical and moving expense purposes the rate is 9 cents a mile.

The IRS explained that taxpayers may deduct either the standard mileage rate or actual expenses when they use a car for business, charitable, medical or moving expense purposes. In addition to the standard mileage rate, taxpayers may deduct the related portion of parking fees and tolls.

Gardening naturally

by Carl Flinchum

Very shortly you should start getting seed catalogs signaling another gardening season. Most gardeners find value in buying some of their seed from these old companies like Burpee, Park, Henry Field, etc.

I like to try some seed of new varieties soon after they are introduced. Especially Hybrid Garden plants that have changed drastically in the past few years. Perhaps some of your old disease problems, long maturity time, or other problems could be cured by new varieties.

The seed catalogs are very valuable for information on maturity, disease, planting depth, spacing, special care, etc. Some of the catalogs like Earl May have a special section on the culture of each vegetable.

Now is a good time to do some planning of your garden for the coming year. If you had something that didn't produce well this past season, try to determine what caused it. Maybe you have another place that would suit it better. Many crops need to be rotated anyway.

Don't grow any of the cole crops like broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage, brussel sprouts, kale, in the same place successively. In my experience this goes for tomatoes as well.

With tomatos, pepper, cucumbers, melons, squash, I believe that you simply confuse or leave behind some of the bugs and disease from the previous year. Peas are a good crop to grow where you had a special problem the previous year. Onions are another if you have sufficient nitrogen.

On the subject of onions, you really should try to get some very satisfying onion taste, but are as small as an apple. They are not a long keeper however. Vidalia onion plants may be a little difficult to get this year because of some new Georgia state restrictions to preserve copyrights. If you need help, give me a call.

Now is a good time to consider your fruit trees, roses, bulbs, and brambles such as raspberries. If you have a rabbit or deer problem you should use a wrap around the trunk of the young trees. This will not help much for deer though. Raspberries need should be pruned during winter. Remove all dead canes.

Roses should have a mulch pack built up around them soon. If you still have some bulbs to set out and would like to try something different, try this: mark off a section of lawn and remove the sod. Then place the bulbs just about an inch into the soil. Place the sod back over them, to be removed and lightly mulched just at the end of winter. You should have some very early bloom.

Also you might like to try this. About February 15th freeze a few crocus or daffodil bulbs-in the freezer, then place them in a shallow bowl or other container. Plant them in gravel and keep them watered with warm water. They should bloom early.

Looking past winter to early spring, expect a reversal to some extent in the timing of frosts, freezes, and moisture conditions. This would mean more consistent frost conditions, wetter spring, drier summer.

About the last of May, expect great hours of seventeen year cicadas or locust. Our last invasion was rather mild. The one before that was very destructive, severely damaging fruit trees and eating almost everything edible to them which is about everything except worms and moisture conditions. Just do something. An oil and soil spray on the trunk and crotches of trees as well as a wrap around the trunk will help. Most of them will emerge from the ground around old trees, or where they used to be. The lay eggs in splits that they make in the bark of the tree which fall into the ground, to

55 Alive is success

The 55 Alive driving program sponsored by the local A.A.R.P. Club and the Rise and Shine Homemakers club was a success.

Senior people in Rockcastle Area are better off now than they were before Nov. 17 and 18. Their driving skills have been updated by a review of road signs and hazards and how to compensate for the problems of aging, eyes-ears reflexes and etc.

It was an easy course with lots of fun guessing how to handle difficult situations on todays busy thoroughfares. There were no road tests nor written exams. It was a review using slides and discussions. What paper work there was for our benefit only.

If you didn't take the course you missed one of the best offers of self improvement I know of.

Those to be congratulated for taking advantage of improving themselves and at the same time

State society reaching out to help children

The Kentucky Historical Society is reaching out to help children discover their state's past. A new guide entitled "Kentucky in the Classroom: A Resource Catalog" has just been published. The 208-page catalog lists books, periodicals, maps, audio-visual, games, field trips, and resource organizations that may be of interest in Kentucky studies courses. A joint project of the Kentucky Historical Society and the Kentucky Department of Education, the guide has been distributed to 1,400 school libraries and instructional supervisors. Your Child's Health

By: Dr. John Payne

Children's speech and language development is probably the best single indicator of how their mind is developing. There are lots of factors to consider, such as the amount of stimulation by parents, the presence of speech delaying ear infections or the variable effect of brothers and sisters. Still, gauging a toddler's speech is important for picking up problems as well as extra bright kids.

80% of children use single words by 12 months; 50% use noun-verb combinations by 15 months. Pronouns generally are added before 24 months and prepositions after that time.

Echoing parents speech is quite normal before 24 months, but children who only echo phrases and don't use their own words by 2 1/2 years may be autistic or have some other significant problem. Even before speech develops, gestures indicate stages of development. Lifting the arms over the head to be picked up generally develops by 8 months; failure to do this may be an early sign of autism. The baby should point to a desired object by 9 months and wave bye-bye and pat a cake by 12 months. Failure to imitate speech by 24 months is a serious matter and may be another indicator of autism.

For most parents these guidelines will be reassuring. You can tell your child is doing what he or she should right on target. However, if you have questions or concerns, the earlier they are picked up the more likely something can be done to help the child.

Lecture on breast cancer to be held at Rockcastle hospital Dec. 10

On December the 10th at 7 p.m. the Rockcastle Hospital will hold a lecture entitled "What Women Should Know About Breast Screening and Mammography." The guest speaker will be Dr. Carol B. Stelling, she will discuss the importance of mammography to women in the early detection of breast cancer as well as the importance of the self breast examination and the physical examination by a physician.

Dr. Stelling is a board certified diagnostic radiologist with 10 years of experience as the primary mam-mographer in a university setting. Four years at University of Virginia and 6 1/2 years at University of Kentucky. She is the Director of Breast Imaging at the Breast Diagnostic Center at the A.B. Chandler Medical Center.

The Class will be held at the hospital, with a reception following. All ladies are invited to attend.

Blood Drive - Dec. 18

During the holidays we give blood to our friends and family. Blood is one gift that continues to live and give you a warm feeling.

wealth will now be able quickly to locate supplemental materials for use in their classrooms.

Two innovative document kits have been made available to teachers. "The Civil War in Kentucky" uses reproductions of vintage 19th century maps, diary entries, letters, newspapers, and photographs to help students in grades four through 12 discover how "The Brothers War" changed the lives of civilians as well as soldiers. The kit contains 31 documents (all 9 inches by 12 inches) and a teacher's guide outlining activities, discussion questions, and background readings. A second kit: "Capitol Ideas" explores the history and evolution of the commonwealth's four "Capitol buildings."

"Thousands of students tour the Old and New Capitols each school year," commented Jim Wallace, education specialist at the society. "Now students and teachers will be able to study architectural drawings and photographs before they come to Frankfort so that they can make the most of their visit."

The Kentucky Historical Society, now celebrating its 150th year of service, is committed to ensuring that all Kentuckians, young and old, have the opportunity to discover their heritage. Individuals desiring more information about the society or about Kentucky history in general may write the agency at P.O. Box H, Frankfort, Ky. 40602-2108; the telephone number is (502) 564-3016.

County Hospital and from 1 to 6 p.m. at the Agricultural Service Center.

As a thank you, all blood donors will receive a free T-shirt with a typical Kentucky winter scene on it. For more information, contact Cheryl Whitst at 256-2403. Warm your winter and bring a friend to give blood on Dec. 18.

Commonwealth of Kentucky 28th Judicial Circuit Rockcastle Circuit Court Civil Action File No. 86-CI-121

The Bank of Mt. Vernon PLAINTIFF VS: NOTICE OF SALE Kim C. Moses, and wife, Mary E. Moses DEFENDANTS

Pursuant to judgment and order of sale entered in this action on November 19, 1986, and for the purpose of the enforcement of mortgage lien on real property in the amount of $20,537.24, plus interest, attorney's fee and costs, I will offer for sale at public auction the hereinafter described real property in Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle County, Kentucky.

At the Courthouse Door Friday, the 12th day of December, 1986 Beginning at the Hour of 12:00 Noon and said property being more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a peach corner to Pete Childress' heirs; thence S 81 degrees 55' 57" E 620.45 feet to a cedar and stone as agreed on by William McHargue; thence S 50 degrees 25' E 727.24 feet to a stone, corner to Childress heirs; thence N 15 degrees 43' E 950 feet to a point in the south right of way of U.S. 25; thence a new line with said right of way N 77 degrees W 200 feet, N 1 degrees W 40 feet, N 77 degrees W 400 feet to a stake, corner of A. Moses Owens, Jr.; thence with his line S 1 degree E 280 feet to a stake; thence N 83 degrees W 360 feet to an iron stake, corner of A. B. Owens; thence N 80 1/2 degree W 480 feet to a stake in Owens' line direct under the center wire of the K.U. line; thence due South 350 feet to the beginning, containing 13.28 acres all old lines were run with a 3 degree variation.

Kim C. Moses and Mary E. Moses obtained title to said real property by deed dated June 12, 1981, from Leslie T. Pike, et ux, recorded in the office of the clerk of the Rockcastle County Court in Deed Book 115, page 141.

THE PROPERTY WILL BE SOLD UPON THE FOLLOWING TERMS AND CONDITIONS:

1. The property shall be sold to the highest bidder[s] for cash or for a deposit of twenty-five (25%) per cent of the purchase price in cash at the time of sale and balance payable in sixty (60) days. The purchaser shall be required to execute bond with surety thereon, to be approved by the Master Commissioner, for the balance of the purchase price. The bond shall bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from date until paid, and to remain and be a lien on said property until fully paid.

2. The purchaser[s] shall have the privilege of paying all of the purchase price in cash or paying the bond before maturity by paying the principal amount thereof together with all interest accrued thereon to the date of said payment.

3. Purchaser[s] shall have possession of the premises upon complying with the terms of sale and risk of loss of improvements shall thereafter be on the purchaser[s].

4. This sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise.
