FINANCIAL TIDBITS
Most people don't have time to become expert in all aspects of their financial affairs. It is beneficial however, to at least be aware of information which can save or make you money. The following tidbits are offered to you as mind joggers.

*For some investors, the new single premium life insurance policies are worth a closer look. These are far more investment vehicles than they are insurance policies. Many of them carry favorable rates or return, as well as special tax advantages.

*The interest rate charged on taxes due the IRS will be 9% and the interest the IRS will pay on tax overpayments will be 8%. These new rates are effective beginning January 1, 1987.

*Consider arranging a second mortgage on your home to pay off credit cards, auto loans, etc. The Tax Reform Act of 1986 is phasing out the consumer interest deduction. The interest paid on home mortgages will still be deductible under most circumstances.

*If you want life insurance proceeds kept out of your estate when you die, you must have control over the policy. If you can borrow against the policy, designate new beneficiaries, or have other incidents of ownership, the proceeds will be included in your gross estate when you die.

*If you own a closely-held business operating as a "C" corporation, consider electing "S" status. The new tax rates make it advantageous to be an S corporation because the company's profits are taxed only once - to the shareholders at their individual tax rates.

If you have questions on these items, please call us. We will be happy to discuss these topics as they apply to your specific situations.

Call us, we understand business and financial concerns.

4-H NEWS

4-H youth learn skills in 4-H clothing project

By: John McQuerry
County Extension
for 4-H

Anyone who has purchased clothing lately at a retail store knows just how "valuable" sewing skills can be. These skills also come in handy when a garment needs repairing or altering and can even be used to give you that "one-of-a-kind" designer ensemble.

The 4-H clothing project continues to be one of the strongest 4-H projects in Rockcastle County. Beginning next month, 4-H boys and girls will once again have the opportunity to participate in clothing project meetings. Youth, grades 4-8, will meet at each of the elementary schools and high school and Mt. Vernon Elementary youth will meet at the County Extension Office. Classes will continue through March, ending with the grade finale, the 4-H Fashion Review.

For the junior 4-Hers, grades 3-8, projects will be offered in four units, depending on whether the 4-Her has taken sewing before.

Unit I is offered for beginning sewers. It consists of 4-Hers learning how to use the sewing machine, how to make a straight seam, how to make a seam finish, and how to make a casing. Girls will be making a skirt, and boys, shorts.

Unit II will build on the learning experiences 4-Hers had in their first year of sewing. The most common garment constructed in this unit is a simple top. In addition to reviewing the previous skills learned, the 4-Hers will learn how to put in a facing.

In Unit III, the 4-Hers apply the skills they have learned to sewing on knits. Fabrics, sweatshirts or jogging pants have been popular garments made in this unit.

Unit IV will advance the sewing skills of the 4-Hers even further as they learn how to put in sleeves or how to make button holes.

High school youth have several options in the sewing project. In casual wear, they can construct one of two garments which make a complete outfit such as a dress, slacks and top, skirt and top, or a jumpsuit. In coordinates, the senior 4-Her can construct three or four garments that mix and match to make a complete outfit, which can be modeled together, such as a skirt, blouse, vest and jacket. In dress-up attire, the 4-Her will construct a street-length garment to be worn for semi-formal functions.

Another unit offered to the senior 4-Her is specialized clothing. In this unit, the 4-Her will construct one or more articles to make a complete special occasion outfit, such as costumes, sleepwear or swimwear.

Formal wear is another senior unit. This unit is for the experienced sewers. In this unit, they will construct an after-six formal or p.m. outfit.

This last unit offered to senior 4-Hers is tailoring. In this unit, 4-Hers use either traditional or speed tailoring techniques to construct a garment.

In order to help the 4-Hers complete their garments, we will once again need volunteer leaders to help teach sewing skills. This year, we will hold our classes after school for one week at each school (Mt. Vernon and high school at the Agr. Service Center-Old Western Auto Building). Even a basic knowledge of sewing is helpful in teaching the beginning 4-Hers.

If you can help in the clothing classes at one of the schools or would like more information about the project for your child, contact the County Extension Office at 256-2403.

The English Dept. of RCHS recently was provided with a new IBM typewriter. Funds for this machine were provided by Foxfire, Inc. and by the Rockcastle Co. Board of Education. Foxfire, Inc. is an organization from Rabun Gap, Ga. that publishes a magazine called FOXFIRE, four times a year. Their magazines consist of articles dealing with the history of our Appalachian heritage. All the articles are written by students. Foxfire donated the money for the typewriter so the 10th grade English classes could use it in writing their essays about the history of their communities. It is also being used by the RCHS Digest staff. The English dept. and the RCHS Digest staff would like to thank the Board of Education and Foxfire, Inc. for their help. Above, assistant principal Ronnie Cash, at left, and Angie Carl, assistant Digest editor and Scott Busell, Digest editor, are shown with the typewriter.

Clontz asks dismissal of Mason suit

By: Richard Anderlin

Friday morning Rockcastle Circuit Judge Dan Venters must decide whether to dismiss a suit against the Rockcastle County School board and make Senior Chris Mason start his suspension.

On Wednesday January 14, Venters issued a temporary restraining order that has allowed Chris Mason to stay in school although Rockcastle County High School principal Cleston Taylor suspended Mason for ten days for a fight that he had on the school grounds with another senior William Smith in September of 1986. Mason and his parents David and Gail, of Pine Hill, had asked the local school board to reconsider David's punishment and to give him some alternative punishment. But in each case the board backed Taylor's decision.

Board member George Payne appealed to his fellow board members on two different occasions to give Mason another punishment. Mason and his parents had agreed to any other type of punishment. But his appeals fell on deaf ears.

Saylor said during the hearing for Mason last week that he felt like Chris Mason was not defending himself in the fight in which William received a broke leg and was hospitalized.

At the December meeting of the board, Carter Renner, of Mt. Vernon, told the board that

Weather

A total of 2.2 inches of precipitation (rain/snow) has fallen the first 20 days of January, according to figures at the weather station at Cox Funeral Home.

In January, 1985, there was 1.03 inches with one inch of snow during the first 20 days. This month there has been a half-inch of snow on Jan. 11 and on Tuesday Jan. 9 and 12. The most rain this month was on Jan. 19 when 1.30 inches fell.

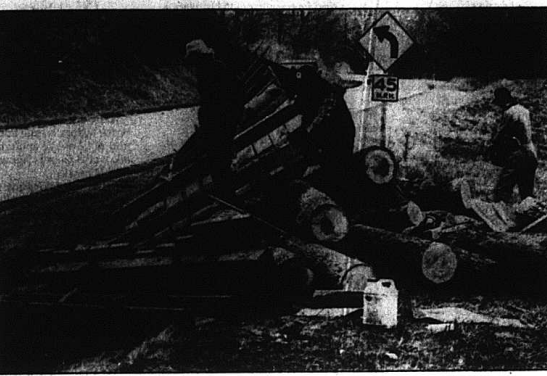

Highest temperature this month was 61 on Jan. 6. Lowest was 18 on Jan. 9 and 10. Comparing the first 20 days this year to the same period last year, this year has been colder. There were several days of 60 degree readings last January, topping out at 63 on Jan. 10 and 13.

For the record, 41.37 inches of precipitation fell during 1986, compared to 41.71 inches in 1985.

Benny Ham files candidacy

Incumbent Commonwealth Attorney Benny E. Ham announced this week he is running for re-election in the 28th Judicial District of Rockcastle and Pulaski counties in the May 5 primary.

In making his announcement, he said he had been "fortunate to have been selected as chief prosecutor of Pulaski and Rockcastle counties by the vote of the people and have performed that function for the last 5 plus years and previous to that, I was Assistant Commonwealth Attorney performing essentially the same functions since Jan. 1, 1979. I ask the people of these two counties for their support as they have supported me in the past and pledge to the people of both counties that I will continue to prosecute the indictments returned by the grand jury of both counties and will continue to do that fairly, honestly and vigorously. I have been fortunate in having very competent and dedicated help in Assistant Commonwealth Attorneys and support staff."

Lewis Rowe Jr., Carl Griffin and Paul Rowe begin the task of cleaning up a load of logs from the roadside on Hwy. 150 between Mt. Vernon and Brodhead Tuesday afternoon. The logs and bed of a truck belonging to Shellie Mullins of Climax fell off while he was traveling west on 150 last Friday.

Unless things change

Commodities on way out

There will be commodity distribution this month in Rockcastle County, but it may be the last unless there are changes made in Washington.

Nationwide and statewide, the poor will stop receiving federal commodities because money to distribute the food is being cut off. President Reagan has asked that $28 million appropriated for the federal food assistance program be deferred.

County Judge Executive Hubert

About 1,500 households in Rockcastle County receive commodities . . .

Thacker said this week the commodities will be available this month, on Jan. 26, but it will depend on what happens in Washington whether there will be any in the future.

About 1,500 households in Rockcastle receive commodities, according to Mrs. Edna Cameron, who is in charge of the county program. She said there will be no more further sign ups until the situation is clarified. This month containers will receive flour, cheese, honey and dry milk.

In the past, Carl Kirby has been picking up the commodities, most recently, at a Russell Springs warehouse. Earlier commodities came from Lexington. It costs about $300 to bring commodities to Mt. Vernon.

No official action has been taken in Washington on the cut off. Agencies that distribute the food were notified last week by the Kentucky Department of Social Insurance that funds will no longer be available.

Community Action of Lexington, which annually gives about $2 million worth of surplus cheese, flour, meal, non fat milk and rice to people in 17 counties, will shut down when the present store of commodities are gone. There will be no money to move to the state distribution points.

Landfill trial scheduled

A jury trial date of April 21 has been set on a case involving alleged non-payment of rent on property leased by the county for a landfill.

Judge Walter McGuire in District Court set the date after County Attorney James H. Lambert told the judge he would need time to prepare depositions in the case.

The county leased the property from Emmett and Linda Foster for a county landfill, but the property was never used after Livingston residents protested the landfill would contaminate their drinking water that comes from "the boils" in Roundstone Creek.

The Fosters claim in a suit filed Sept. 23, 1986 that the county failed to pay rental installments due under a lease agreement between Feb. 18, 1985 and Aug. 19, 1986 totaling $2,250.

The Fosters say the county has neglected and refused to pay.

Attendance off in local schools

The last six days of school have cost the Rockcastle County school system approximately $5,500 more to operate than usual, according to Rockcastle Pupil Personal Director Buford Parkerson.

Parkerson said Tuesday that the flu virus and chicken pox had caused an average drop of about four percent in school attendance which means less money for the schools to operate on.

Parkerson explained that school systems are paid for the number of students who actually attend school by the state department of education and that Rockcastle's average attendance is usually 92 percent.

"We are paid so much per student and if that student is not there we don't get paid," he said. Some school systems across the state have shut down due to the flu, but Parkerson said that the local system was lucky because the sickness started in one school and moved to another. "By the time it got from one place to the other, those that were sick were able to return to school," he said.

Parkerson said the local system could not operate on less than 85 percent attendance and that Tuesday things were looking better with approximately 90 percent of the students in school. The worse attendance was one day last week when almost 13 percent of all the students in the county were absent.

Chicken Pox are in the grade schools as well as the flu and the flu has been the main reason for the absences at the high school.

City agrees to join county trash plan; boat dock discussed

By: Ray McClure

The City of Mt. Vernon became a part of the countywide garbage plan at a called meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night.

The approval came with some reservations, namely to await the outcome of an appeal of a circuit court decision on a city garbage franchise recently struck down, approval by the city attorney, and sharing in the profits, if any.

The vote was unanimous by the council.

Mayor Elizabeth Baker commented that the county could bring the city into the plan even if the council did not approve, but that the city will have representatives at the court discussions to make suggestions.

Three Rockcastle magistrates at the meeting thanked the council and said the court will proceed with implementing the plan as soon as possible.

No change has been made in city garbage collection. Both William K. Bullen and Bee Garbage are collecting as they have been doing.

The court still has not appointed a coordinator for the program in spite of the mounting garbage removal costs. With money scarce, the court will have to pay a coordinator until the program is working, and money is something the court says it does not have.

In other action, the council will advertise for someone to operate the city's Lake Linville boat dock on a profit sharing basis.

Persons interested should contact City Clerk Kaye Rader at city hall to apply, no later than 4 p.m. Jan. 30.

The council then voted not to renew the boat dock contract held by Jimmy Hale that expired Jan. 31.

Councilman Joe Martin abstained on the vote not to renew Hale's contract.

The new contract will be for three years instead of the present one year, along with several changes in the contract.

Annexation was also on the council's agenda. The councilmen discussed the areas of the proposed annexation, but was told that several property owners do not approve of the annexation, and in one case a petition was being passed opposing the proposal and court action threatened.

The council decided to continue as planned.

State checks unpaid taxes

With about 400 delinquent tax bills on the books totaling $31,782, a state official is in Rockcastle County to check the bills and determine collection.

A representative of the Department of Taxation, Revenue Cabinet, is currently going over the bills. Collection will be made by the state.

A total of 6,832 tax bill were sent out in 1985 to county taxpayers. The 1986 county bill is yet to be completed.

Several of the bills are in the hundreds of dollars.

New trial commissioner

Robert E. Robinson has been named master commissioner for Rockcastle County by Circuit Judge Daniel Venters.

He replaces Supreme Court Justice Joseph Lambert.

The master commissioner term is for four years and is always an appointee of the circuit judge.

Robinson has been trial commissioner for Rockcastle District Court for the past eight years.

The master commissioner works for the circuit judge in completion of civil actions and service evolving from circuit court decisions.

A native of Mt. Vernon, commissioner Robinson retired from the Air Force in 1969 with the rank of colonel. A graduate of Mt. Vernon High School, he attended the University of Kentucky and graduated from the University of Maryland. He holds a masters degree in political science.

Judge Venters said in making the appointment that "Judge Robinson is exceptionally well qualified for this office. I have the highest confidence in his integrity and his ability to faithfully perform his duties."

Family Dollar Store open next week

The 63rd Family Dollar store in Kentucky, and the 1170th in the fast-growing North Carolina based discount store chain will open in Mt. Vernon Thursday Jan. 22.

The new store, located on U.S. Highway 150 West at Davis and Quarrs Streets, will open at 10 a.m.

Local officials and Family Dollar executives will take part in a host of ribbon cutting ceremonies at the main entrance to the store immediately before the opening. The company expects a large crowd to attend the ribbon cutting and take advantage of special Grand Opening sale prices afterward.

Jim Soavages, senior vice president of store operations, said, "Family Dollar looks forward to locating in Mt. Vernon and being part of a fine business market."

Don Fisher, the firm's district manager for the area, said, "Family Dollar offers excellent employment opportunities in this area and throughout the 23 states in which our stores are located. As many local people as possible will be employed at the new store."

Fisher added that Family Dollar is a rapidly expanding company and always interested in talking with management trainee candidates.

The store will carry a complete line of merchandise for the family and home including clothing and shoes, health and beauty aids, housewares, school supplies, candy, toys, paint and auto supplies.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

There is a lot of news in the paper about the road workers in Rockcastle County. I believe that it has nothing to do with the workers in the County Judge and the magistrates.

We live in the Fourth District, in which Amos Burdette is the magistrate. To my knowledge he has never been on our road since election time.

When we want something done, we have to call and call in order to get something done. By the time they do get around to our roads, we have holes in it big enough to swallow a car.

The road I am talking about is Flat Gap Road. If any of you have ever been on our road, you know what I'm talking about. The magistrates and Judge can sit on their butts and give themselves big raises, but what about our roads?

The next time, a letter goes to Frankfort. We are tired of never getting anything done. I think I am talking for all the people of Flat Gap Road.

Maudie Alexander

P.S. Bill Wren was on our road last every week and he did see that it was fixed when he was magistrate.

Dear Editor:

I am writing concerning the suspension of four of the Rockcastle County road employees, Monroe Hansel, Carl Pittman, Jessie Ambrose and Danny Carmack. In my opinion and the opinion of many other tax payers of Rockcastle County, they suspended the wrong ones. It would seem like they got rid of the only ones interested in keeping our roads driveable. Anytime I have ever been out and passed the county workers, the only ones I ever saw working was the ones the county suspended. Everyone else was just standing around with their hands in their pockets.

A Weekly Report from Fifth District Congressman Hal Rogers

Working to Reduce our Nation's Deficit

No problem facing our nation is more serious than reducing our massive federal budget deficit. Now that I have been appointed to serve on the House Committee on the Budget, I intend to devote my energies to working with the President to achieve a balanced federal budget by 1991.

The opportunity to serve on both the Appropriations and Budget Committees is given to only two Republicans. I am honored to have been asked to serve on both committees, two of the four most powerful in the House of Representatives.

Last year, Congress passed the landmark Gramm/Rudman legislation. This new approach to our budget gave Congress specific guidelines for reducing the deficit through a series of budget cuts over the next five years. Its goals were laudable; but unfortunately, the liberal leadership in the House preferred not to try and live up to the requirements of the legislation. In the end, Congress was forced to lump all 13 appropriations bills into one giant spending bill... nearly $973 billion spent in one vote! This is no way to run a government.

Again this year, Congress faces a monumental task of reaching an even lower budget deficit. From last year's deficit of more than $154 billion, we will need to reduce the deficit to $108 billion. But unless Congress has the political courage to act, we will again see our budget process bog down in partisan bickering.

I will be one of 14 Republicans on the Budget panel, and I intend to press the committee to make these hard choices. I am now in the process of going through the President's budget proposal with a fine-tooth comb, looking at his suggestions for how our money ought to be spent in 1988. But this proposal is just that... a proposal. It represents only an opening bargaining position. Congress and the President will have a lot of horse-trading to do before we come up with a realistic budget.

We must work toward a reduced federal deficit without damaging programs which are essential to the public good, and without substantial tax increases which could hurt our economy. Reducing the deficit is also a key toward reducing our trade deficit, since budget deficits help drive up interest rates, increase demand for dollars on the foreign exchange markets and increase the cost of our American exports, like coal.

I have been a critic in the past of our budget process. I have stated often that it does not achieve the goal of keeping our budget within reasonable limits. A number of reform ideas are being proposed to change our current system, and I pledge to support any and all changes which can help us get our fiscal house back in order.

There are no easy answers to any of our budget problems. But I will give my new assignment on the Budget Committee my total commitment as we try to solve this critical issue facing America.

U.S. SENATOR FOR KENTUCKY

Mitch McConnell

President Proposes New Budget, Kentucky Projects Affected

President Reagan issued his Fiscal Year 1988 budget proposal this week and my phones in Washington and in Kentucky have been ringing off the hook with calls from Kentuckians who are concerned about possible adverse affects.

The President's budget is just a proposal and, like every budget, will change a great deal before Congress passes a final version. Also, some of the details of the budget are still being worked out, so there are specific questions that we just don't have the answers to yet. However, from the outset, there is some good news for the Commonwealth:

- The FY88 budget proposes no excise tax for tobacco. This is the first time since I've been in the Senate that we did not begin the year with tobacco under direct attack. This speaks well of the work we've done the last two years to fight off attempts to tax tobacco.
- Kentucky will receive $18 million in military construction contracts during FY88.
- There is no change in Social Security benefits in the President's FY88 budget.
- The FY88 budget proposal includes increasing AIDS research and education 28 percent.
- Retirees compensation COLAs will be indexed to the Consumer Price Index.
- The Federal Aviation Administration will increase funding for air safety and airports by 20 percent.
- A number of programs important to Kentucky would be negatively affected by this budget proposal. Some of the major proposals I intend to fight include:
 - Termination of the Economic Development Administration and an order to rescind FY87 appropriations.
 - Termination of the Appalachian Regional Commission and an order to rescind part of the FY87 appropriation.
 - A proposal to increase excise taxes on coal production for black lung and tax black lung benefits as income.
 - Exclusion of funds for a number of important Kentucky projects.
 - A 27 percent cut for the Tennessee Valley Authority and a $250,000 reduction for Land Between the Lakes.

These budget cutting proposals would have disastrous effects on major portions of the Commonwealth and cannot be allowed to happen. As your Senator, I will be doing everything I can to see that they don't.

The Medicine Chest

By Tina Cain Hasty, RPH

Sneezing, stuffy nose, scratchy throat, headache—it seems that almost everyone has one or more of these symptoms at this time of year. Luckily there are many over-the-counter drugs that treat these symptoms.

If you've ever closely read labels of cough/cold products, you'll know that there are many different ingredients in many different combinations available. This can be confusing, especially if you have several different symptoms. Some general terms to look for are antihistamines, decongestants, expectorants, cough sup-pressants, analgesics and anesthetics.

Antihistamines are used for watery eyes, sneezing, running nose, etc. They are used for allergies as well as in cold products. One disadvantage of antihistamines is their tendency to cause drowsiness.

Decongestants are used in cold products for ear or nasal congestion. They are available orally or as nasal sprays or drops. The sprays and drops should not be used over 3-4 days since they can cause a rebound effect of more congestion.

Cough suppressants are available alone, or more commonly, in combination with other drugs. They simply reduce the frequency of a cough. Common side effects are nausea and drowsiness.

Expectorants are used to facilitate the removal of phlegm and to prevent the frequency of the cough from causing exhaustion. These are often used in conjunction with cough suppressants.

Analgesics are used for fever and body aches. But if a fever is present and persists for more than 24 hours in spite of over-the-counter drugs, a physician should be contacted. Another important note is that many cold products contain analgesics. So if you are taking a cold product, check the ingredients for analgesics. You might not need to take anything else.

Anesthetics are used in lozenges and sprays for sore throats due to their numbing effects. These, like the other drugs listed, are only used to treat the symptoms. They will not treat the underlying cause of the illness. Any persisting symptoms should be checked by a doctor.

The next time you go to the drug store to pick up a cold product, check the labels or ask your pharmacist for help.

Handman called the Reagan proposal "heartless."

"There's surplus food in warehouses in the Department of Agriculture sufficient to provide an adequate diet to every American in need," Perkins said.

Commodities are available to individuals or families with, an annual income at or below the federal poverty level.

A household of four can earn $11,500 a year and an individual no more than $4,500 a year to receive commodities.

Congressional action could reverse Reagan's deferral order, and speculation is that Congress may do that before the March distribution is scheduled.

rentals due, and continue to do so. They ask for rent due and costs expended.

On Oct. 14, County Attorney James H. Lambert answered the suit by explaining the complaint failed to state to claim upon which relief can be granted, and denied all other allegations of the complaint.

He said in his answers to the suit that the landfill was found to be unsuitable, and under terms of the original lease/option, the county could void the lease.

During the interval, Rockcastle Fiscal Court sent a check for $487.50, the amount the court said it may owe the Fosters. The check is still outstanding, according to records of the county treasurer.

William Smith urinated in a can and gave it to his mentally handicapped son, Terry, to drink. Terry, who was also at the meeting, said the same thing. This incident is what Chris Mason said spurred the fight between him and Smith.

David and Gail Mason have never condoned their son's actions, but they want a different punishment because Chris has never missed a day of school since he started the first grade.

The Mason's also contend that Chris will not pass if he is forced to miss ten days of school because he is only an average student.

School board attorney Carl Clontz, who is handling the case for the local board of education, has asked that the suit be dismissed and the restraining order be dissolved.

In motions filed last Thursday in Circuit Court, Clontz contends that the action taken by the school board against Mason was "instruct conformity with the law."

The Mason's lawyer, Karen Chapman, said she will oppose any dismissal of the suit, and that in most all other cases of fights at the high school a choice was given on whether to be expelled or take a spanking.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson Bailey

Cromer-Bailey vows said

The marriage of Miss Sophia Michelle Cromer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary R. Cromer of Mt. Vernon to Robert Jackson Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Bailey, also of Mt. Vernon, was solemnized Dec. 20, 1986 at Mt. Vernon with Dr. Michael Bryant, Sr. officiating.

Vows were exchanged before an altar having a 15 candle brass candelabra with touches of springer, interlaced trailing down the main stem with red and white ribbons. The two matching spiral candelabras had garlands of springer also trailing down the main stem. A brass pot on each side of the candelabras had each decorated with springer and baby's breath. The pews were marked with brass pew markers with an assortment of baby's breath, springer and small red and white bows and streamers.

Mrs. Pamela Martin, pianist and organist presented a selection of wedding music. Jennifer Cox sang "You Needed Me," Michael Bryant Jr. sang "Sundinely" and together they sang "Endless Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in an imported gown with satin Queen Anne neckline and bishop sleeves with hand beaded blue waistline bodice. A traditional design of the Bonny fair gown featured innumerable scroll lace, cut out motifs on the skirt and cathedral length train. The entire hemline had a wide border lace. The bride's headpiece was a wreath style veil with pearls and sequins. A pouff with wired ruffles and fingertip netting completed the headpiece. The bride's wedding bouquet was made up of white roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and springer with white ribbon streamers.

Miss Joanne Robbins, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a red lalique taffeta gown with sweet heart neckline, sheer V-neck bodice and large pouff sleeves barring the shoulder. Her headpiece was a halo of rosebuds, pearls and red satin ribbons. She carried three long stemmed white roses with baby's breath and red ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Cindy Noe, cousin of the bride and Miss Angela Winstead served as bridesmaids. Their dresses and headpieces were identical to the maid of honor and they each carried two long stemmed white roses with baby's breath and red ribbon streamers.

Flower girl was Miss Maria Bailey, niece of the groom. Her gown was similar to the maid of honor and bridesmaids and her headpiece was identical to that of the maid of honor and bridesmaids. She carried a white basket trimmed with red and white streamers from which she dropped red and white rose petals.

Bill Bailey, Jr. served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Jack Lewis and Scott Hanson. Master Zachary Cromer, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

The groom was dressed in a white short tailed tuxedo with matching white shirt, bow tie and cummerbund. He wore a red rose and stephanotis boutonniere.

The groomsman and ring bearer were dressed in black short tailed tuxedos with white shirts, red bow ties and cummerbunds. They each wore a white rose boutonniere.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cromer chose a teal crystal glo satin tea length dress. Her corsage was two white roses accented with baby's breath.

The mother of the groom wore an electric blue tea length dress. Her corsage was identical to the bride's mother.

Presiding at the guest register was Miss Tracy Kirby, Master Jeffrey Owens, cousin of the bride, distributed scrolls.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church fellowship hall. In the center of the bride's table stood a dainty baroque wedding cake trimmed with white roses and greenery between the layers. The cake was topped with a porcelain bride and groom silhouetted against a whispert of white netting. A silver candelabra with white candles and penossettias and a silver punch bowl surrounded by magnolia leaves further accented the bride's table. Behind the table were stacked pots of red and white penossettias. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Christine Coffey and Mrs. Margaret Coffey, aunts of the bride. Serving were Mrs. Janice Vanzant and Mrs. Martina Lucas, cousins of the bride and Miss Tracy Kirby.

Miss Angela Owens and Miss Bobbi Jo Barr, both cousins of the bride, distributed rice bags.

The wedding was co-ordinated by Mrs. Laura Durham.

After a short wedding trip, the bride and groom are residing in Mt. Vernon where both are employed at the Rockcastle Hospital.

The bride elect was honored with a miscellaneous shower Dec. 2 at the home of Mrs. Juanita Stanley. Assisting were Mrs. Doris Blevins, Mrs. Laura Durham, Mrs. Chica Thomsen, Mrs. Mary Neville Cash, Mrs. Agnes Carroll, Mrs. Edna Cummins, Mrs. Carol Pyles, Mrs. Ruth Lambert and Mrs. Elyonne McDaniel.

The results, sadly, often are the same. The foods and nutrition specialist with the UK College of Agriculture calls it the elevator effect. Weight goes down for a while then climbs right back up.

There's more to losing weight than just a diet. Most reducing diets fail to give lasting results because they don't help you change your eating patterns.

The best diet is a combination of behavior modification and dietary changes based on good nutrition.

First, the diet needs to be deficient in calories but adequate in all other aspects of nutrition, so that there is gradual weight loss without jeopardizing health.

Behavior modification helps you identify and change habits that result in overeating. For example, snacking while watching TV, eating too fast or eating when you are not even hungry are practices a dieter needs to avoid.

Dietary patterns also need to be changed so that fewer empty calories are consumed. Recipes need to be altered so that less fat and sugar is used in food preparation.

If you are serious about losing that ugly fat now and forever, first take a long look at what you are eating. Write down everything you eat or drink for a few days. Find some empty calorie foods you can eliminate.

Take an inventory of your cupboard, refrigerator and freezer. If you are wellstocked with vegetables and fruits, lean meats, whole grain breads and cereal, and milk and cheese, you are on the right track. If you find lots of sweets, rich desserts, beer and foods high in fat, resolve to change your shopping habits.

A loss of one to two pounds a week which can be achieved by eating 500 to 1,000 fewer calories per day. You should also incorporate regular exercise into your reducing plan.

I've said it before and I'll say it again. The only way, to take off weight and to keep it off is to eat sensibly, not just until you've reached your goal, but forever.

July 18, 1986

To the People of Kentucky
Honorable Martha Layne Collins, Governor
Honorable Hubert Thacker, County Judge/Executive
Members of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court

We have examined the statements of receipts, disbursements, and access fees of the County Clerk and Sheriff of Rockcastle County for the year ended December 31, 1985. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

We did not conduct a study and evaluation of internal accounting control as we concluded that the audit could be performed more efficiently by expanding substantive audit tests. Therefore, we placed very little reliance on the internal accounting control system.

As recommended by the State Local Finance Officer, pursuant to Kentucky Revised Statute (KRS) 68-210, the accompanying financial statements are prepared on a cash basis. Consequently, certain revenues and the related assets are recognized when received rather than when earned, and certain expenses are recognized when paid rather than when a liability is incurred. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements are not intended to present financial position and results of operations in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statement presents fairly the receipts, disbursements, and access fees of the Sheriff for the year ended December 31, 1985, in conformity with the accounting system described above, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

We are unable to express an overall opinion on the receipts, disbursements, and access fees of the office of the County Clerk because of lack of compliance with the Uniform System of Accounts which establishes minimum accounting requirements and internal control for all counties and county officials. We have included in our report a statement of receipts, disbursements, and access fees for the calendar year 1985, based on the available accounting records and computed in accordance with the applicable laws and regulations. In our opinion, the excess fees reported herein reflect a minimum amount due the county.

We also conducted tests of compliance with state laws and regulations, and unless otherwise noted below, the tested items were in compliance with applicable state laws and regulations. During our examination, nothing came to our attention to cause us to believe that the untested items were not in compliance.

FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Our comments are intended to be constructive. The purpose of each is to point out an improvement. Accordingly, we offer the accompanying comments and recommendations:

Prior Year

In the prior year audit report, we reported several noncompliances as follows:

- 1) The County Clerk's bank account had a deficit balance at December 31, 1984.
 - 2) The County Clerk did not deposit receipts on a daily basis.
 - 3) The County Clerk did not publish an annual settlement.
 - 4) The balance in the County Clerk's accrue account should be transferred to the county's General Fund.
- These noncompliances have been corrected and are not commented on in the current year report.

Current Year

- 1) There Was A Deficit In The County Clerk's Bank Account
As shown in the accompanying schedule, there was a deficit in the amount of $18,852 in the County Clerk's official account as of December 31, 1985. This deficit resulted from unreported receipts in the amount of $30,675 less $11,822 in salary and expense allowance not taken by the County Clerk. This deficit has been repaid from the County Clerk's personal funds.
- 2) The County Clerk Did Not Submit Reports On A Timely Basis
On several occasions during the year, the personal property tax and delinquent tax reports were not filed or paid on a timely basis. KRS 114.015 states, "The county clerk shall, by the tenth of each month, report under oath and pay to the state, county, city, urban-county government, school, and special taxing districts all taxes on motor vehicles collected by him for the preceding month."
KRS 114.010 states the County Clerk shall make a report of delinquent tax not less than once every thirty (30) days. We recommend these statutes be complied with in the future.
- 3) The Sheriff Should Make A Settlement With The Fiscal Court And Publish His Settlement
We could find no evidence that the Sheriff either made a settlement with the fiscal court for his office receipts and disbursements for the 1985 calendar year, or published such a settlement. KRS 64.930 requires all officials to settle accounts upon vacation of office, and KRS 424-220 requires all officials to publish their financial statements within 60 days after year-end.
- 4) The Sheriff Did Not Keep Supporting Documentation For Disbursements
We could not find supporting documentation for all disbursements made by the Sheriff for the 1985 calendar year. The Uniform System of Accounts requires that supporting documentation be retained for all disbursements.

We are confident the above findings and recommendations will be useful to the County Clerk and Sheriff in managing the operations of their offices in a manner consistent with effective accounting and compliance controls. Yours for a better Kentucky,

Mary Ann Tobin

Disabled and elderly can claim $17,100 exemption

Revenue Secretary Gary Gillis today announced that qualified persons who are over 65 years of age or are totally disabled can claim the Homestead Exemption up to $17,100 on real estate for tax periods 1987 and 1988.

The amount of the Homestead Exemption is adjusted every two years to account for changes in the purchasing power of the dollar. Gillis said it has increased from $6,500 in 1972 to the current $17,100 as a result of changes in the consumer price index. The exemption was $16,100 in 1985 and 1986.

Taxpayers who are qualified for this exemption must file a state application with the Property Valuation Administrator in their county. Taxpayers who qualify for the total and permanent disability exemption under a program authorized or administered by an agency of the U.S. government or by the Railroad Retirement System must file annually with the PVA by Dec. 31 and report any changes in their disability classification exemption.

Only one exemption will be allowed per residence. Therefore, regardless of the number of qualified owners of a home, totally disabled or over 65 years of age, $17,100 is the maximum value which can be exempted from property tax, Gillis added.

Taxpayers should contact the Department of Property Taxation, 502 E. Main Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, (502) 564-6730 for details regarding qualifications and filing.

EKU Phonthon

More than 6,000 Eastern Kentucky University alumni, including those living in the Mt. Vernon area, will receive telephone calls seeking support for their alma mater during EKU's Phonthon '87, Feb. 1 through March 5.

Student volunteers will ask EKU graduates to make a financial contribution to the University's Alumni Annual Fund during the five-week event. Alumni contributions will benefit student scholarships and other general University needs.

The phonthon goal is $30,000.

EKU's second annual phonthon is designed to increase the number and amount of alumni contributions through direct telephone contact, according to Mary Ellen Shurtich, phonthon coordinator.

"Colleges and universities throughout Kentucky and across the United States have conducted phonthons to raise funds for many years," Shurtich said. "Last year's phonthon was a resounding success. Our volunteer callers raised $22,215 for the University."

New publication from IRS makes good tax guide

A free catalog that describes IRS tax services is now available, says the Internal Revenue Service. The improved catalog, titled Publication 910, "Guide to Free Tax Services", lists and describes IRS services such as free publications and taxpayer education programs. Publication 910 also includes telephone numbers for Tele-Tax, the IRS' recorded tax information and automated refund information service, and for the IRS toll-free information lines which are staffed by taxpayer service representatives.

The booklet explains how to request copies of prior tax returns from the IRS, and provides answers to common questions taxpayers have about their accounts and the status of their refunds. It details the assistance offered to the public by the Problem Resolution Office as well. This office helps taxpayers who have problems with IRS have not been resolved through normal channels. Publication 910 provides taxpayers information on how to inspect returns and applications of tax exempt organizations. The revised guide also describes how IRS collects taxes and examines returns, and how to correct a return after it has been filed.

The new and improved Publication 910 was developed after the public responded to an IRS request for recommendations to make the publication more useful. Taxpayers told the IRS that the publication should be presented in an interesting manner and widely publicized. They suggested reorganizing the contents and improving the catalog's appearance to "invite readers in".

Order the free resource guide by calling 1-800-424-FOAM (3676) Monday thru Friday 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. CST. Ask for Publication 910.

Fire aid available for rural fire departments

A total of $40,000 in grants to assist rural fire departments in upgrading their equipment will be available this year, according to Charlotte Baldwin, secretary, Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet.

The grants, administered by the Division of Forestry, are available to fire departments in communities of 10,000 population or less and require the local departments to match the grant on at least a 50/50 basis.

In 1986, 202 rural fire departments received grants totaling

Girls fall to Lions 49-36

By: Willie Hlatt

For 16 patient minutes here Tuesday night, the Rockcastle County Lady Rockets cast a sort of spell over the Garrard County Golden Lions.

With a deliberate, lulling passing game, the Rockets controlled the game's tempo and thudded the tall Golden Lion defense. But it took a trapping press less than four minutes in the third quarter for Garrard to shake that spell and cruise to a 49-36 victory.

Garrard County, one of the top teams in the 12th Region, improved its record to 10-5. The Rockets, led in scoring by junior Rhonda Cobb with 16 points, dropped to 3-7.

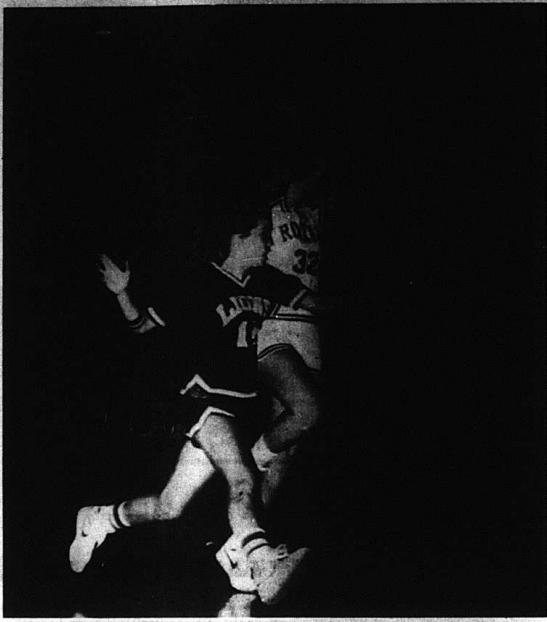

"We were just trying to work their 1-3-1 defense and we knew we had to be patient," Rockets coach Preston Parrett said. "Then we made two or three turnovers and they kept adding (points) on."

With senior guard Cindy Fain controlling the ball on the point, the Rockets built a 17-14 lead with 4:30 left in the first half. The Rockets, however, hit a dry spell and didn't score another basket until senior Sandy Hunter hit a shot at the buzzer to tie the game at 19.

The Rockets never seemed to regain the momentum.

Garrard then threw a full-court press on the Rockets to open the second half, pressuring the rebound pass and taking advantage of turnovers, and sparked an 11-4 scoring run. Cobb hit a jumper on the baseline to cut the gap to 30-25, but the Rockets never pulled closer.

"It was more or less carelessness," Parrett said about how the Rockets handled Garrard's press. "They applied a little more pressure the second half." "They didn't press as much the first half," said Hunter, who finished with nine points, "and we just weren't ready for it."

But Garrard's press doesn't deserve all the credit for the win. Deborah Moss, a 5-foot-11 senior, scored five of the Golden Lions' first seven points of the third quarter and their first seven of the fourth quarter. She finished with a team-high 16 points.

"We knew we had to be patient"

"It started falling for (in the second half)," Hunter said of Moss, who had only four points in the first half.

While Moss worked the middle, junior Angie Bryant owned the outside. Parrett said Bryant, who finished with 13 points,

"mutilated" the Rockets on the perimeter.

Parrett partly attributes his team's second-half letdown to tiredness. The game was originally slated for last Thursday but was rescheduled for Tuesday night because players from both teams were down with the flu. He said some of his players are still Boys kayo Oneida, Lose at Wayne Co.

By: Willie Hlatt

The Rockcastle County Rockets went to a fight last Friday night and a 49th District basketball game broke out. Or was it a "basketbrawl" game?

Whatever the case, the Rockets shut down Oneida Baptist Institute's high-powered offense, 84-77, in a game punctuated by two pushing skirmishes, one bench-clearing slugfest and four player ejections. RCHS principal Cleston Saylor called the melee "the biggest one I've ever had in 27 years."

Tempers flared with 3:12 left in the game when Rocket center Jon Bullens and Oneida's leading scorer Bill Gibson were ejected after exchanging shows. Just a little more than a minute later, a scramble for a loose ball at mid-court emptied both benches.

It took both referees, three RCHS officials -- Saylor and assistant principals Ronnie Cash and Tuck Baker -- and policeman Joe Howard to clear the floor. The Rockets' Jason Cougar and Oneida's top scorer for the game, Tim Finley, were ousted in the brawl.

"That happens when you start calling a game tight and then start loosening up your calls," RCHS coach David Perkins said about the referees. "They called so many fouls early we used 10 players in the first half. Then they loosened up."

"You had two teams playing as hard as they could play, and it was an extremely important game." Oneida coach Larry Gritton said. "You have to remember they're kids and sometimes emotions get heated."

Unfortunately, the skirmishes overshadowed an otherwise solid performance by the Rockets. Oneida entered the game with a 12-3 record and an offense capable of scoring in triple figures. The Mountaineers crushed Jackson County 98-71 Saturday night.

Even though senior guard Johnny Kirby played only about five minutes because of foul trouble, the Rockets handled

Freshman playing for future

By: Willie Hlatt

The Rockcastle County boys freshman team is lending credibility to the basketball adage that the best thing about freshmen is they become sophomores.

The freshman Rockets are winless in six games this season after losing to Laurel County, 63-35, here Monday night. But standing alone, that 0-6 record doesn't reveal that the Rockets' schedule is loaded with teams such as Clay County, Madison Central and Laurel County -- all schools with varsity powerhouses.

"It would be nice to win all of them," said RCHS varsity coach David Perkins. "But we have to bring them in with buses from the other schools and put them together. We play about as tough a freshman schedule as you can play."

Freshman coach David Riddle admits that he is looking more for improvement than victories at this stage. "Since the Rockets lost to Laurel 51-33, the first game of the season, Riddle said his team has improved its ball handling, but is making too many turnovers.

Defense, however, is still the focal point. By Riddle's calculations, the last four RCHS freshman teams have averaged only about 35 points a game. "So we have to play super defense," he said.

The Rockets' best outings have been when they have held opponents close to that figure. They dropped close home games to Clay County (30-24) and Jackson County (43-35).

"It is probably more discouraging to the boys than to the coaches," Riddle said. "I'm training for junior varsity and varsity. But a win ever now and then would look good."

Perkins might have an answer to a stronger freshman team. Next season, he plans to begin a basketball program similar to the county's Little League football and baseball programs. It will include kids from kindergarten age through eighth grade.

Plau will probably be on Saturdays and will coincide with the grade school season, he said.

"It may not pay off for four or five years," said Perkins, who coached at Jackson City and will pattern the program after Breathitt County's. "But sooner or later it will."

That could be a balancing factor for kids who Riddle says aren't as physically mature nor fundamentally as sound as some of Rockcastle's opponents. As he points out, a year's difference is a notable difference.

For example, last year's freshman team was 1-12, but that same group of players have a 5-3 junior varsity record this season.

"Now they see what winning is all about," Riddle said.

Monday night, Steve Clark led the Rockets in scoring with 10 points. Eric Childress and Jody McGuire each had 7 points. Kevin Rowe had 5, Robby Phillips and Mike Lopez had 2 each, and Chris Frith added one.

The Rockets play Clay County away next Monday Night.

Oheida's trapping press, for the most part, and slowed its run and gun offense.

Offensively, the 6-foot-5 Bulls led Rockcastle with 24 points on 9-of-14 shooting from the floor. He scored eight straight points near the end of the second quarter to give the Rockets a 36-34 lead, and then feathered in two 18-footers and a short putback to push their lead to 50-40 mid-way through the third quarter.

Junior forward Anthony Lew is scored 20 points on 10-of-12 foul shooting, including four crucial free throws down the stretch. Senior forward Doug Cox scored eight points and had a team-high 11 rebounds. Perkins said Cox's baseline defense was largely responsible for holding down Gibson, who was averaging 30 points a game going in Gibson finished with 16.

"They certainly intended to score but not at our pace," Grifton said. "They didn't want to get into a 100-point game."

The Rockets built leads as large as 13 points late in the third period. Their biggest lead of the game came with 7:44 left when Lewis weaved through a hole in Oheida's zone and was fouled on a layup. His free throw completed the three-point play and gave the Rockets a 67-49 lead.

But with a little help from the Mountain press, Finley then took up the scoring slack and brought Oheida back into the game. He scored 14 of the next 18 points, beginning with a 14-footer from the wing with 6:19 left.

Five minutes later, his 18-footer from the top of the key closed the gap to 79-73 with 1:44 left. It was the next trip up the floor when the brawl started.

"In my opinion the referees started the friction and then it got heated up," said junior forward Jeff Winstead, who finished with 6 points off the bench. "It was a needed game for both of us."

The Rockets, however, regained their composure enough to hit 5 of 9 free throws to seal the win, upping their record to 6-4. Junior guard Tim Hodges finished with 9 points, while Kirby was 4 of 6 for the night for 8 points.

In a decidedly less combative B-Team game, the Rockets coasted to a 53-32 victory. Sophomore guard Kris Ponder led Rockcastle in scoring with 12 points. Sophomore Chuck Shields and junior Darren Allen each had 10 points, while sophomore David Owens had 8.

The Rockets travel to Mid-dleboro Friday night.

Spotlighting still illegal

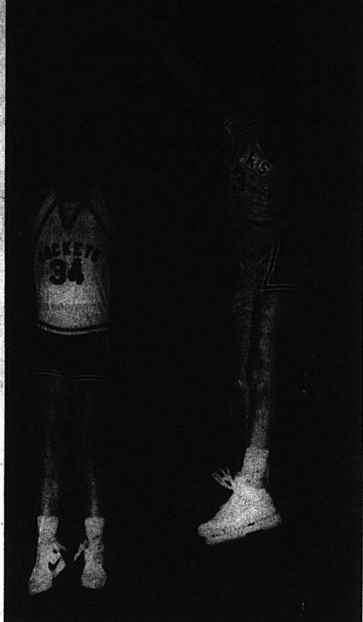

In spite of recent ruling that a state statute against "spotlighting" for deer is unconstitutional, the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is continuing to arrest and prosecute those who engage in this illegal activity, according to Commissioner Don R. McCormick.

The department has appealed to the Supreme Court for a discretionary review of the Kentucky Court of Appeals ruling that its law against "spotlighting" is unconstitutional. In addition, McCormick said that other existing laws still make "spotlighting" deer or other game illegal and that the state's conservation officers will continue to enforce these laws.

The appeal to the state Supreme Court has been filed through the Attorney General's office, McCormick said.

In late November, the court of appeals struck down a statute which prohibits a person from

"casting the rays of a spotlight, flashlight or other artificial lighting device on any highway or in any field, woodland or forest," while having a firearm or other weapon capable of killing a deer in his possession. In the opinion of the court, the statute is too broad and may be applied to anyone driving a public road with a firearm at hand.

McCormick said that existing laws against molesting wildlife, hunting at night or hunting out of season are being used to combat spotlighters until the appeal is heard.

"There is no way we are going to allow illegal hunters to damage our highly successful deer program," McCormick said.

"Spotlighting" is a favorite technique of illegal deer hunters, who use a powerful spotlight to locate and temporarily blind deer before shooting them. Deer habitually feed in open fields and along roadsides at night, making them easy prey for poachers.

Adult education programs available from different sources in county

In Rockcastle County, Adult Education opportunities are available through the Rockcastle County Board of Education, the Family Life Center Services, and the Rockcastle County Literacy Council, according to Bige Towery, Adult Education Coordinator.

In 1985 25 GED's were issued by the Rockcastle County Board of Education and in 1986 68 GED's were issued, Towery said Tuesday.

Statistics do not reflect the pride of accomplishment felt by these adults. Studies show that 80 percent of their children also improve in school. Once the learning begins it seems to snowball, Towery stated.

1990 census figures indicate that only 34 percent of the adult population (those 25 years of age and older) in Rockcastle County are high school graduates. State figures range from a high of 71.6 percent in Fayette County to a low of 25.3 percent in Jackson County. Rockcastle ranks 102 among the state's 120 counties for those graduating from high school.

The Kentucky Department of Education has responded to this problem by having a variety of programs in 118 of the 120 counties. Classes are for the non-reader through the person who is studying for the GED. Programs vary from large learning centers to home instruction, Towery said.

Kentucky has the dubious distinction of being the first in the nation in the undereducation of her adults. Forty-seven percent of the adults in Kentucky lack a high school diploma.

The Department of Adult and Community Education was established in 1966 in Kentucky to enable adults to continue their education to at least the completion of the high school diploma and to make available means to become more employable, productive, and responsible citizens.

Since 1966 the number of adults enrolled in Adult Basic Education has increased from 9,000 to 27,000 in 1986. This number includes over 13,000 who received basic literacy instruction.

Over 83 percent of all high school credentials issued in the state are through the GED program.

For more information about Adult Education opportunities call Rockcastle County Schools, Bige Towery, Adult Education Coordinator at 256-4144, Family Life Center Adult Education Program at 256-5307 or Betty Lewis and the Rockcastle County Literacy Program at 256-2388.

He and his wife, Brenda, have two children, Tim 16, and Susie 15. They live in Somerset and are members of the West Somerset Baptist Church.

"My plans for the future are essentially a continuation of the job that I have done in the past," he said. "The job is dependent upon all the elements of our society for the court system to be run smoothly and for the criminal justice system to be effective. I pledge to continue to cooperate fully with the courts, police agencies, victims, and especially the citizens at large of our society through the jury system and feel that all elements of our society have to be working together to make society a better place to live."

"I have worked in the past through the Commonwealth Attorneys Association for implementation of criminal laws and improvement of them, including the Crime Victims Compensation Act, recent legislation to notify victims, which is a policy that we have always adhered to in this office. I worked for improvement in the sentencing statutes, which was called the Truth in Sentencing and will continue to work for improvements through that association and the elected representatives to make our criminal justice system more responsive to the victims than to the criminals.

"It is my desire to continue to represent the people of these two counties and it is my desire to always to consist each case individually, on its own merit and to endeavor to get what is a just result based upon the evidence that can be obtained on behalf of the Commonwealth.

"I further ask each person's support so that working together we can succeed in making our community a safer more secure place in which to live and raise our families," he concluded.
