MVHS '53 Region Champ

stoke the furnace.
Hines, a janitor at MVHS for 34 years who doubled as a scorekeeper, held the keys to the gym. It wasn't unusual for boys to rise before daylight, fix their own breakfast, meet Hines at school and shoot baskets until classes started.

Sometimes the boys would help him sweep out classrooms in exchange for access to the gym after school or on Saturdays. Hines was even known to look the other way when a kid left a window open as a future passage to the gym.

"That's the way they learned it," said Hines, who retired in the early '70s. Cornelius once told Hines that he was the underlying reason Mt. Vernon made it to the State Tournament that year.

The cast of players included Earl Noe, the brothers Manuel and Charles Shepherd, Baker, Cornelius, Earl Pittman, Bobby Hines, Melvin "Snooky" Taylor, Bobby Spears, Billy Chaney and Jimmy Cummings.
Laswell meshed these individual parts into a unit, implementing an offense with constant movement and myriad picks, a tireless fast break and physical man defense. At the end of the season, Laswell's four-year record was 55-27.

The 6-foot-3 Noe, with his jumping ability and quick release, was a scoring threat inside and out. He averaged almost 22 points that season as a junior, including 39 in the Newport game, then a state tournament record.

"We all had different jobs and they knew I would turn it my job, to score." "That was my job, to score."

Baker was the senior leader. "The glue that held the team together," Cornelius said. He averaged less than 10 points a game, but he got the ball into the hands of the scorers while being a stopper on defense. He brags that no player ever scored more than 14 points against him.

The Shepherd boys were pillars, fierce rebounders, strong defensive men. Charles, a senior, scored a little more than his sophomore brother, but as Cornelius said, "Neither one of those boys knew what the word quit meant."

The scrawny 5-7, 110-pound Cornelius was the freshman scorer. His arsenal included a jump shot around the perimeter, a set shot on out to about 30 feet. He said he took 75 percent of his shots behind what is now the college three-point line.

His nicknames included "Bubblegum" and "Corny", the first because of the bubbles he blew unknowingly in games, the second as a play on his last name.

Pittman was a stout guard, a good rebounder and defensive man. Yet even with these players and a good bench, it wasn't until the 46th District Tournament at Waynesburg that the players began to realize a trip to Lexington was within reach.

The Red Devils dispatched Livingston 59-48 in the opener, then beat Memorial 62-49 and Middleburg 80-42 to advance to the March 5 championship game. There, Mt. Vernon beat Brodhead 84-66 for the fourth time that season.

"I don't think that we intended to say at the start of the season that we were going to the State Tournament," Baker said. "But once we got in the District Tournament and got rolling, I think we believed then that we could go."

Noe, who scored 89 points in the four-game District, and Charles Shepherd represented MVHS on the All-Tournament team. Cornelius finished the tournament with 64 points.

The plot thickened at Somerset High School, the site of the 12th Region Tournament. Mt. Vernon eased past Junction City 69-54 in the opening game, setting up a fifth meeting with Brodhead, a 77-70 upset winner over Somerset.

But again Mt. Vernon beat the law of averages -- and Brodhead 65-53.
"I guess we just had their number," said Noe, who added that Brodhead might have had the better talent that year.

Nonetheless, it was Mt. Vernon playing for a spot in the Sweet 16 the following night against the heavily-favored Lily Tigers. Baker remembers the Lily players laughing at Mt. Vernon's faded uniforms and mismatched shoes. "They weren't laughing at the end of the first quarter," Baker said.

The Red Devils jumped on Lily early, taking a 19-12 first-quarter lead. Using his position at the scorers' table to eavesdrop, Hines heard Lily's J.D. Brock, who was attempting to guard Noe, tell his coach, "Before I can get there the ball's gone."

Mt. Vernon led 40-30 at the half and 57-40 at the end of the third quarter. Maybe the Red Devils tired a little, maybe became a little too confident, but Lily reportedly scored 20 points in a three-minute span to close the score to 61-58 with 3:02 left.

Mt. Vernon, however, regrouped to stretch the lead back to 11, winning 77-66. Noe, who said it was the best game he ever played, and Cornelius were named to the Region's All-Tournament team.

"The Red Devils set up such an impenetrable defense that hapless, hard-charging, fast-running Lily Tigers could get but one shot at the basket, hit or miss wrote Tommy Gay, who covered the post-season games for the Signal.

The victory celebration took place at the old Belly Acres Restaurant near Renfro Valley, where the players, coaches and cheerleaders were treated to a one-shot dinner.

"Most people would like to be treated like a god," Hackman says in "Hoosiers," "if only for a few minutes."

Mt. Vernon superintendent Clyde Linville precluded any embarrassment in Lexington by buying the players new uniforms and warm-ups for the Newport game.

A crowd of approximately 12,500 watched Newport lead 17-12, 31-28 and 44-36 at the quarter intervals, despite the prolific scoring performance by Noe. The junior had 21 points at the half.

Mt. Vernon tied the score for the first time at 52 with 1:52 left in the game. That's when the first of two costly turnovers took place, ultimately leading to the Red Devils' undoing.

Cornelius admits making one of them, a cross-court pass that was picked off for a layup that tied the score. But he doesn't remember if it happened in regulation or overtime. The players can't reach an agreement on who made the other turnover.

But even then, Mt. Vernon had a chance to win. With the score tied and time running out in regulation, Noe got the ball about eight feet from the basket, turned, found himself wide-open and fired. The ball rolled around the rim and finally fell off.

"When I jumped and turned to shoot, he wasn't there," Noe said about the man assigned to him. "If he had been there, I would have hit it."

Gay later told Noe that he could have taken a step and shot a layup. Noe answered that he had eyes in the back of his head. Mt. Vernon wouldn't have needed the shot in the first place.

Noe hit two twisting jumpers in the three-minute overtime, but Newport ended Mt. Vernon's dream season, 61-60.

"We were disappointed that we lost the ball game," Baker said, "because we knew that we were a lot better team. In my own true feelings, I really believe there was only one team over there that was really better than us."

The team was eventual champion Lafayette, led by Vernon Horton, later an All-American at the University of Kentucky. Had Mt. Vernon beaten Newport and Pikeville in the first two rounds, the players doubt, barring a miracle, that they could have toppled Lafayette in the semifinals.

"I look back on it now and say 'what if.'" Cornelius said. "Who knows? You might have had one of those freakish games like Villanova beating Georgetown. That's what it would have been if we had beaten Lafayette."

Thirty-three years later the players are graying some; thickening around the waist. Naturally they're not as close as they were in that March of 1953.

Noe works at Westinghouse in Richmond. Baker is an assistant principal at Rockcastle County High School. Cornelius teaches at Mt. Vernon Elementary, just down the hall from where the Red Devils were so invincible years ago.

The Shepherd boys are no longer forwards, but guard at the Bluegrass Ordinance. Taylor is an IBM employee in Charlotte, N.C. Fields established cleft-knee Retreat. Pittman lives in Richmond, Ind.

Spears, now retired from the Navy, owns a business in Halle-ville, Ky. Chaney lives in Ohio, Cummins is a dispatcher for the railroad in Corbin.

Only Laswell is missing from that enchanting photo which suspended the team in another era. In 1984, the summer before Laswell died of a heart attack.

Cornelius bumped into his old coach just outside the elementary school. For two hours the two flashed back while sitting in Laswell's car.

Cornelius wonders if that chance meeting wasn't just part of the script. Laswell told Cornelius that his 1956 team which lost in the Region was actually his best team.

But it was the 1962-63 team which went to the Sweet 16. Maybe somewhere in a parallel universe Earl Noe's shot at the buzzer rolled in, and Tucker Baker muzzled Lafayette's Vernon Horton in the semifinals, and the players rode Jack Laswell off the Memorial Coliseum floor after winning the championship.

Maybe. Just maybe.

People once believed it bad luck to put the left shoe on before the right.

"It was the sudden marriage of ideas which before their marriage were not perceived to have any relation."

Sue Hamm takes stand in board's federal trial

BY: Richard Anderkin

The long awaited sex discrimination trial between the Rockcastle County Board of Education and its Superintendent, Charles B. Parsons, and school guidance counselor Sue Hamm got under way Wednesday morning in Federal Court in Frankfort.

In her opening statement, Mrs. Hamm's attorney, Jennifer Coffman, told Federal Judge James Newblent her client had been sexually discriminated against by Superintendent Parsons and the board of education since 1977.

Mrs. Coffman referred to a letter Mrs. Hamm had written to Parsons following a conversation between the two in March 1977.

In the letter, Mrs. Hamm requested that Mr. Parsons consider her for administrative jobs in the Rockcastle school system, specifically curriculum specialist, special education coordinator and assistant elementary principal.

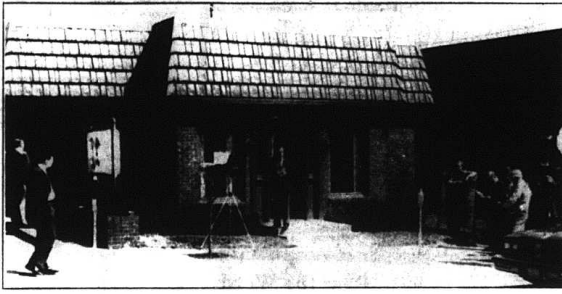

Although Mary Noble, Parsons' lawyer, objected, the letter was accepted as evidence by Judge Newblent.

Mrs. Hamm said, during her over four hours of testimony, that Parsons told her, in a meeting, that as long as he was superintendent of Rockcastle County schools, no woman would ever be principal.

Mrs. Hamm quoted the superintendent as saying, "This county is not ready for a woman principal." Mrs. Hamm told Parsons, "You mean, you're not ready for a woman principal." She said he replied, "That's right and I never will be."

Attorney Noble, in her opening arguments said that no copy of Mrs. Hamm's letter could be found in her personnel file at the central office.

So far, so good

Residents abide by new rules

By: Ray McClure

"They're doing better than I expected," was the way M.B. Kincer described how residents are disposing of their garbage now that there are no dumpsters to use.

Kincer was clean-up man for the county around the dumpsters and is still keeping an eye on who puts what garbage where.

"Since we got rid of the greenboxes folks have been real good about taking their garbage to places set aside for that," Kincer said. "I've only found about 26 bags laying along the roads and they probably blew off a truck on the way to a disposal place."

Kincer said a lot of the problems that existed at the dumpsters were caused by persons from other counties who hauled their garbage to Rockcastle, especially from Madison, Laurel and Lincoln counties.

Residents are also reporting persons they see who throw garbage along the county roads and over embankments. Some take license numbers and report them to officials. Illegal dumping can cost a $ 500 fine.

"All in all folks have been real good about dumping," Kincer added. "I thought, like a lot of people, that when the dumpsters were gone they'd bring their bags to the same place and throw them out. But they haven't."

The garbage problem throughout the county still remains despite the good report card from Kincer.

Section of Rockcastle River headed for federal control

A study team has recommended that 13.3 mile section of the Rockcastle River be designated "scenic" and included in the federal Wild and Scenic River System, a Forest Service official confirmed this week.

The Rockcastle River has been under study off and on since about 1982 when the U.S. Park Service recommended a 24-mile section of the river be studied for designation as wild scenic or recreational.

Bruce Slover, an assistant ranger at the London District of the Forestry Division, would not speculate on when the section would get final approval by Congress if it does.

He said the section lies

Bypass completion scheduled for August

By: Ray McClure

Residents of Mt. Vernon will once again have to contend with Lake Cumberland boat traffic through town this summer, or for most of the summer.

Department of Transportation officials at the Somerset District office confirmed this week that the Mt. Vernon bypass of Ky 461 will not be open until August, or even into September.

Elmo Greer Construction has until September to complete the contract for the section of the highway.

"There's actually more work there than meets the eye," an official said. "This is a fairly big project, one that takes longer to complete than it would seem."

The announcement was not the best of news for Mt. Vernon where residents had hoped the bypass would be open early enough to take care of the long traffic back-ups that occur at the height of the summer season. That back-up could be confounded this year if the city begins construction of a new water line that runs between this city hall and the tank.

The franchise will set out the requirements of the person who is

areas on Town Hill

A construction date has not yet been reported for the water line but it could mean alternating traffic lanes between U.S. 150 and city hall while construction is under way.

The opening of the bypass will leave only two sections of Ky 461 between Mt. Vernon and Ky 80 remaining to be constructed.

D J Garland, district engineer at Somerset, said right of way is being obtained now on the two sections from just north of Bark Creek to Ukiah. Sections considered the most difficult to construct.

A total of $14 million for the completion of Ky 461 is included in the $88.6 billion U.S. highway bill now making its way through Congress. Attached to the bill is a rider that would allow for the increase of the 55 mile an hour speed limit to 65 on certain sections of interstate highways, if individual states approve.

President Reagan has called the bill excessive and has threatened to veto it.

Speaker of House names Ford to select committee

State Rep Danny Ford has been named to serve on the Fiscal Affairs and Government Operations Committee of the Southern Legislative Conference by the Speaker of the Kentucky House of Representatives.

The committees are very important resources to the Kentucky General Assembly's decision making process. The membership of the committees is made up of legislators representing southern states.

The legislators discuss joint problems that impact the south, vast geographic area. It allows each legislature to benefit from the experiences of other states as they shape their own public policy.

Laswell took 1953 squad to Sweet 16

By: Willie Hiatt

The Jan. 22, 1953 issue of the Signal reported Dwight D. Eisenhower's presidential inauguration slightly above Mt. Vernon High School's victories over Brodhead and Hustonville.

If that seems like an odd juxtaposition of national and local news, it accurately reflects the excitement generated by MVHS basketball in those days. People stood three deep in the halls above the gym to catch a glimpse of Jack Laswell's teams executing their motion offense and man-to-man defense.

But little did anyone know in January that the season would end in a magical March when the team earned a trip to the Sweet 16 in Lexington, the school's first and last such pilgrimage.

"It's an experience," said Charles "Tuck" Baker, the point guard on that team. "If you have it, you'll never forget it."

Players no longer wear the Chuck Taylor canvas hightops or the satin uniforms with double numbers ranging from "00" to "99". The set shot is now a relic belonging to that glorious age in high school basketball before consolidation eliminated the Crab Orchards and McKees and Kingstons.

The players on the 1952-53 team stacked up enough memories to last a lifetime. They swept four games in the 46th District Tournament and cashed their ticket to Lexington by upsetting Lily in the finals of the 12th Region. They overtime loss to Newport Cardinal in the opening round hardly blemished their 31-5 record.

In Signal's first 100 Years

"It gives you a great deal of gratification knowing that you did go," said Kenneth Cornelius, a freshman guard then. "Even today I look back and say, 'Well, we did it.'"

The season might easily have spawned a movie script in the same genre as "Hoosiers," set in 1951 Indiana. Gene Hackman stars as a basketball coach who guides tiny Hickory High School in its miracle drive to the state championship.

But instead of Hackman driving along flat roads and boys shooting on crude hoops in the opening scene, the Mt. Vernon version would fade in with Charlie Hines walking slowly toward the school at 4 a. m. to

Some facts left out of recent County Attorney's report for his office in 1986

EDS NOTE: This column will appear from time to time on page 2 of the Signal. Views expressed in this column are not necessarily the views of this newspaper but are the views of its author.

In our Feb. 19 issue, our County Attorney James H. Lambert ran a "report to the people" of his office for 1986. In his report attorney Lambert "boasted" of a 98 percent conviction rate in District Court in 1986.

While I am sure that these figures, which were compiled by the state are completely accurate, they don't tell the whole story as it should be told.

No doubt, attorney Lambert is a busy man; but presently there are over 60 cases awaiting trial in Rockcastle District Court. No mention was made of this fact in his report to the county.

The way our county attorney reached the 98 percent figure for the conviction rate for Rockcastle County was using pre-payables that are mailed directly to Circuit Clerk Denver Miller's office, fines reported and accepted by local Trial Commissioner Robert Brown, and guilty pleas, accepted by either District Judge Walter McGuire or William Cain and by his own trial record.

Nowhere in his report did our county attorney mention the seven cases that Judge McGuire dismissed on November 11, 1986 for a lack of prosecution. Some of the cases dismissed had been continued as many as 11 times and one man from Harrogate, Tenn. had made six trips to Mt. Vernon to have his case heard. It was one of those dismissed.

As far as district court trials go in 1986, Mr. Lambert prosecuted four people. He won one case. A district court jury, in July, found a local man guilty of speeding, 68 miles an hour in a 55 mph zone. In the other three cases, one for public intoxication and two for driving under the influence the verdict was a little different. Gary Shepherd was found not guilty of public intoxication. Conley Mink of Somerset was found not guilty of D.U.I., although he had a recorded .13 on the breathalyzer, and John Hunt's trial ended with a hung jury.

During 1986, the four trials that Mr. Lambert was involved in, and the one civil case that he was not involved in, cost the taxpayers over $6,700 just for district court jurors.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky Statutes concerning drunk drivers state that a person is presumed under the influence if .10 percent of his or her blood alcohol is alcohol. From .01 to .05 a person is presumed not under the influence and from .06 to .09 there is no assumption made.

I have known Mr. Lambert for several years now and he is a very nice and likeable man. He should be commended for paying David Howard's salary out of his own pocket. However, a London attorney, has been hired as a consultant by the Fiscal Court to help them get their garbage plan into operation.

But, this still doesn't mean that his report to the county should go without scrutiny. The Way I See It: the report did not tell all the facts.

By the way, our friend Webster defines conviction as,

"to find or prove someone guilty, the act of convicting." Using this definition Mr. Lambert had an actual conviction rate of less than 10 percent last year.

Ky. 461 bypass set for August completion date

Even with the veto and a hold up of funds there will be little effect on Ky. 461 highway officials indicate.

"Money for the bypass was available before construction started on Ky. 461, and enough is available to complete the remainder of the road. The $14 million in the bill would be a cushion and would allow money set aside for Ky. 461 to be used on other highway projects.

U.S. Rep. Harold Rogers said

Ky. 461 is vital to the area's tourism and economic development potential. He said the conference report must now be approved by the Senate where passage is expected.

"The President has indicated he may veto the bill when it reaches his desk, but I am hopeful we will have a sufficient show of support for the legislation to either dissuade him or to actually override a veto," Rogers said. Rogers said the legislation will also free up billions of dollars for federal highway projects across the nation, and said the bill also includes reauthorizing language to continue work on another important Fifth District project, the Cumberland Gap tunnel.

McClure gets award

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Noreen McClure has been named a United States National Award winner in English.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Noreen McClure, who attends Rockcastle County High School, was nominated for this National Award by Mrs. Iris Young, an English teacher at the school. My Biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

Noreen is the wife of Dewey J. McClure and daughter of Lloyd and Barbara Vance. The grandparents are Sherman and Matti Kirby of Mt. Vernon.

Math-A-Thon raises funds

Dear Editor,

Recently Brodhead Elementary sixth-graders participated in a Math-A-Thon for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital and raised $1,902.17. We want to commend the students who worked so diligently obtaining sponsors, working math problems, and collecting money. We are very impressed by the honesty and dedication shown by our students in working for such a worthwhile cause. Former resident dies after wreck in East Bernstadt

A former Rockcastle County resident died at Central Baptist Hospital, Tuesday afternoon as the result of a motorcycle accident in Laurel County Monday evening.

According to Captain Gene Holland of the Laurel County Sheriff's department, Alger Bart Kirby, 20, of Rt. 2, East Bernstadt lost control of the 1971 Honda 5000 he was riding on Ky. 30, 3 miles east of East Bernstadt around 6:30 p.m.

A woman following Kirby told police that his motorcycle left the road and flipped several times. Kirby was apparently not wearing a helmet, although one was strapped to the back seat of the bike.

Fayette County Deputy Coroner Roland Taylor said Tuesday that Kirby died from massive head and internal injuries.

He is survived by his father, Earl Kirby of Blanchester, Ohio. Funeral services are scheduled for Thursday (today) at 11 a.m. at the Dowell and Martin Funeral Home. Friends may call at the funeral home after 5 p.m. Wednesday. A complete obituary will appear in next week's issue.

Part of Rockcastle river federally controlled

between Ky. 80 and Lake Cumberland.

The section has met two of three criteria for being scenic. Slower said. Eligibility has been determined and the potential classification (wild, scenic, recreational) also has been designated. All that remains is the "determination of suitability."

He added that the designation could change during the intervening time before final approval.

Earlier, all 52.5 miles of the river was approved for a study by Congress, but the park service chose the 13.3 section for its study. During that time the state stepped in and designated 16 miles to be termed scenic in the Kentucky Wild and Scenic River System. The 13.3 miles tentatively recommended by the federal study is part of the state's 16 miles.

The scenic designation means no dams are allowed within the 13.3 miles section. There can be no water diverted from the river. A road can bridge the river. New structures along the river will not be allowed. Some mining and timber could be allowed, but controlled. Some agriculture could be allowed, but it too would be controlled.

The team studying the river includes a landscape architect, and archaeologist and a wildlife biologist.

The Rockcastle is one of nine rivers that could be eligible for federal control. Others include a section of the Cumberland River north of Cumberland Falls; Red River, Little South Fork of the Cumberland, Marsh Creek, Rock Creek, South Fork of the Kentucky River, South Fork of Station Camp Creek and Warfork Creek.

Slower said he doubted that other sections of the Rockcastle River would ever meet the legal criteria for a scenic designation, and less so for a wild river designation.

Slower said a scenic designation offers a good deal of protection to the river that it wouldn't ordinarily get. He added that tourism is also a major consideration in determining whether a river should be designated wild or scenic.

"I doubt that the Rockcastle, other than the 13.3 miles, would be eligible for any designation," Slower concluded.

GRASS TETANY IN BEEF CATTLE

By: Tom Mills
County Extension Agent
for Agriculture

What is grass tetany? True grass tetany is a cow disorder caused by an abnormally low amount of magnesium in the animal's blood. This is caused primarily by the cow's feed being low in magnesium. When grasses are used for feed, this condition will mainly occur in the spring.

Grass tetany is usually confined to females and is more likely to occur in older animals. Cows are more susceptible during their third and fourth lactations. The animals exhibit milk fever symptoms and may begin to walk stiffly or stagger. Their appetites may decrease and they usually become very dull in appearance. In many cases they will isolate themselves from the herd. As the disorder progresses, the animal sometimes becomes very nervous and occasionally has muscle tremors and will exhibit rapid breathing. In advanced cases the animal will collapse, go into convulsions and die. The disorder can run its course rapidly, and unless corrective measure are taken, death sometimes can occur less than an hour after the onset of visible symptoms.

If the magnesium level in the blood is low, it is mainly due to a low level of magnesium in the animal's feed. Three reasons why magnesium may be low in the animal's feed are species of grass, soil nutrient status, potassium levels and weather.

Grasses are lower in magnesium when legumes. The early lush growth is likely to be all grass (since legumes start growth later in the spring) and may be deficient in magnesium. Pastures even Congratulations!

VAN WINNERS — Roy Bowlin and his wife Opal recently received the new Dodge Caravan SE they won from Cummins Chrysler, Inc. in Berea. The Richmond couple entered a contest at the local car dealership last August and were notified by phone in October that they had won the $14,000 vehicle. Ironically, Bowlin had purchased a pickup truck from Cummins in November. He is retired from the Blue Grass Army Depot and an avid fisherman. The Bowlins say they will probably have the van fitted with a trailer hitch, hook up their boat trailer and head for Cumberland Lake to do some fishing. On hand to present the couple with their new van were (l-r) Margaret Cummins, Roy Bowlin, his wife Opal and Cummins Chrysler, Inc. owner Joe Cummins. (Photo by Keith Steer) grass pastures should have adequate magnesium content in late spring or summer. Cereal crops such as wheat, rye, barley and oats are poor accumulators of magnesium. Forages of this type are apt to be low in magnesium in the spring or fall.

The plant must get its magnesium from the soil, and soils low in magnesium can cause a low plant content. However, at the present time, it appears that magnesium from the soil and soils low in magnesium can cause a low plant content. However, at the present time, it appears that magnesium fertilization on most Kentucky soils would not be feasible. If the soil has a high potassium soil test the application will do little to increase the magnesium content within the plant. Only coarse (sandy) soils and soils with a low potassium soil test would show an increase in plant magnesium when fertilized. However, massive applications, such as with dolomitic limestone would probably have a beneficial effect.

The potassium content in the soil is probably the dominant factor affecting the uptake of magnesium by the plant. Potassium competes with the uptake of magnesium. A similar type of relationship appears within the animal itself. The higher the amount of potassium entering the animal, the lower the amount of magnesium found in the blood. If the intake of magnesium is constant, the amount in the blood is lowered by higher potassium intake. Because of this, the potassium content of the soil should not be allowed to get into the high soil test range. A medium or high medium soil test should be sufficient for good pasture production and prevent significant reduction of magnesium in the plant, and subsequently, in the animal.

Tetany has been associated with spring weather for quite some time. Also, it is worse some years than others, and this is mainly because it is closely associated with weather conditions.

Grass tetany occurs mainly when the temperature is rather low and other conditions are favorable for grass growth. The frequency of tetany is much higher in years with a sudden quick growth of grass in spring than in years with poor, slow growth.

Grass tetany is a threat anytime the average daily temperature is between 40 degrees and 60 degrees. Once the average daily temperature remains above 60 degrees for six consecutive days, the chance of grass tetany occurring is very low. Many times, the number of grass tetany occurrences is high five days after a sudden rise in temperature in the spring.

The feeding of magnesium to the animal is the fastest and most certain method of preventing the occurrence of grass tetany, though problems may still exist. Therefore, the prevention of tetany must be through a combination of correcting fertility imbalances in the soil as well as orally supplementing the animal.

A simple way to save lives in the case of fire is to keep smoke detectors and other fire safety mechanisms in working order.

KU to assist the elderly with gatekeeper program

Meter readers of Kentucky Utilities Company will soon be able to assist vulnerable older people who need help but may be unable to get it for themselves. Through the Gatekeeper Program, a partnership between KU and the Kentucky Division of Aging Services, the employees will be trained to identify people in need and help open the gates between them and sources of assistance.

When you're 80 years old, sick and living alone, there is a potential for serious problems, said KU Senior Vice President Lunwood Schrader. If such a person becomes unable to function independently, it could go unnoticed. A KU meter reader may become aware of the situation and inform those who can provide help.

Through the Gatekeeper Program, meter readers will be trained to recognize certain danger signals in the elderly: a change in appearance or behavior, signs of confusion or disability. A local agency will then be advised, and a trained professional will contact the elderly person, assess his or her needs, and connect the person with the appropriate health or social services.

Schrader said that KU has always been concerned about customers, and many employees have been providing this type of service to some extent. However, it is becoming more important to establish an effective, systematic approach to meet the needs of the rapidly-growing elderly population.

"We are pleased to be cooperating with the Kentucky Division of Aging Services and with local agencies throughout our 77 county service area in this program," Schrader concluded. "By working together, we hope to be able to help older people get the attention or assistance they need."

Resides being on a $5 bill, Abraham Lincoln's portrait is also on a $1,000 savings bond.

12-year-old in fair condition following B-B gun accident

A seventh grade student at Mt. Vernon Elementary is listed in fair condition in the intensive care unit of the University of Kentucky Medical Center following a shooting incident near his home.

Eric Franklin Mason, 12-year-old son of Frank and Wanda Mason was shot once in the head with a b-b, according to local police.

The incident apparently occurred Sunday afternoon while Mason and two other juveniles were shooting toy guns in a wooded area behind the Rockcastle Villa apartments.

According to police, Mason was struck in the front of his head about a half inch above his eye, by the b-b which ricocheted either off a rock or a tree.

No charges have been filed in the incident.

INTERNATIONAL DINNER

The theme for the 1987 International Dinner for the Rockcastle County Homemakers was Hawaiian.

It was held Monday, March 23rd at 6:30 p.m. at the Agricultural Service Center Meeting Room.

As we entered this room we saw a palm tree by the table where we registered, received our name card and chose a lei that matched our outfit.

In surveying the beautiful table of pot-luck dishes with a South Seas island flavor, our taste buds made us hungry.

We found a place at one of the tables spread with white cloths. The centerpiece was a real pineapple surrounded by colorful leis.

The county's president, Virginia Hansel, asked Sylvia Whitt to give the blessing before we lined up to partake of the food.

"Good Nutrition: A Personal Choice" is March's National Nutrition theme. We had non-fatty meats, green and starchy vegetables, tropical fruit dishes, breads, and of course, desserts. Nutritious? Yes!

The entertainment and display of jewelry pamphlets, grass skirts and leis were presented by the homemakers who went to Hawaii last spring.

They were Virginia Hansel, Noretta Thompson, Gladys Buswell and Gaele Scoggins. Roberta Taylor and Glenna Brooks went a few years ago.

Noretta Thompson and Virginia Hansel showed slides of the beautiful scenery and interesting places. The narration of the events kept the groups spellbound as well.

as hysterical at some points in their explanations. It made us wish that all of us, as a group, could make a trip to Hawaii together.

Thanks to the Sunshine Club, especially for decorations, and the rest of the clubs for making this a memorable occasion.

We really did enjoy a mini-vacation in Hawaii, for one night. Elizabeth F. Mullins County Reporter

County farmer completes UK leadership training

Danny McKinney of Brodhead was one of 25 farmers who completed a two-year program sponsored by Philip Morris and the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The purpose of this program was to develop the leadership skills of young, active burly tobacco farmers.

The Philip Morris Agricultural Leadership Development Program consisted of 11 three-day seminars at UK's Lexington campus and two study tours. One study tour was to Richmond, Va. to visit the Philip Morris USA Tobacco Company. They then went on to the nation's Capitol to meet with congressional delegations of the participants' home states. In addition, they attended USDA briefings on agricultural legislation and visited government agencies that deal with agricultural issues.

McKinney works in partnership with his brother to farm 137 acres. In addition to his crops, he has 85 head of cows, calves and feeder steers. He has recently been named president of the Bank of Mt. Vernon.

He obtained his bachelor of science and associate of arts degree in agriculture from Eastern Kentucky State University. He is a member of the Rockcastle County Beef Association, 4-H council, and often provides his farm for Field Days.

He is also involved in the Rockcastle County Council for the Arts, the County Improvement Council and the PTA. He sees the education of the general public in the realities of farming as an essential element toward reaching valuable agricultural solutions.

His wife Betty Jo has a master of arts degree in English and education and teaches school. They have two children, Angela, 12, and Eric, 8.

Each of the 25 participants were awarded a Philip Morris Agricultural Leadership Fellowship valued at $10,000. They were chosen on the basis of demonstrated leadership ability and commitment to make future contributions to agriculture and society. They also must be engaged in the production of burly tobacco and be 25 to 40 years of age.

The UK College of Agriculture recently announced the receipt of a $900,000 grant from Philip Morris USA which will be used to establish a second two-year leadership development program. The second program will increase the number of fellowship recipients from 25 to 50.

NUTRITION DAY PROGRAMS

Making omelets, orange smoothies, cocoa and whole wheat pancakes, learning to eat right, and learning how food affects health. These are some of the experiences Rockcastle County School children have had during nutrition days at their schools. All children from Kindergarten through 8th grade are participating in a nutrition program in their classrooms during March, National Nutrition Month. The nutrition day programs are sponsored by the Rockcastle County Cooperative Extension Service and the Expanded Foods and Nutrition Education Program.

Nutrition days were held at Brodhead Elementary School on March 3 and 4, at Roundstone Elementary on March 10, at Livingston Elementary on March 17 and at Mt. Vernon Elementary on March 24 & 25.

Bonnie Gentry and Patsy Hopkins, Nutrition Assistants, have helped kindergarten and 1st grade through 3rd grades students become more aware of food, the four food groups, and healthy snacks. The children tasted raw vegetables, made orange smoothies, cocoa mix from powdered milk, and prepared apple waffles.

Cheryl Witt, County Extension Agent for Home Economics gave demonstrations to 5th graders on making whole wheat pancakes while stressing roles of fiber, low cholesterol and low salt in diets. Sixth graders made omelets while 8th graders became more aware of meal time manners.

John McQuary, 4-H Agent, presented program on key nutrients to 8th graders and stressed keeping fit with 7th graders.

A special thanks goes to the school principals and teachers in scheduling the programs to supplement their on-going health programs. David McCauley, who donated eggs to use in the programs, and the University of Kentucky foods & nutrition specialists who provided visuals for the program.

4-H SEWING CLASSES

4-H Sewing Classes were conducted last week at Livingston Elementary School. Shown here are Tanya Hammond using the sewing machine while Janet Collins helps her sister, Regina Collins.

Girls and boys are participating in these classes. They learn how to use their pattern, cut their material out, and also how to sew their garment together using the machine. 4-Hers also learn how to share together because it takes a long time to sew their garment.

4-Hers who made garments will be able to participate in the Fashion Review on May 3rd at Roundstone Elementary School.

I would like to extend a very special thanks to Home Economics Agent Cheryl Witt for leading the sewing project classes. Also, a big thanks to all the leaders that have been helping with the sewing classes.

Spring in to new life

Spring is the time when life is renewed, trees bud, flower's bloom and bird's sing. What better time to contribute to life... by donating blood.

Blood is not a renewable resource. Blood can be produced by the human body, and donated for another. Central Kentucky Blood Center needs 170 volunteer donors daily to meet the needs of patients in area hospitals.

A blood drive sponsored by the Rockcastle County Donor Group and Central Kentucky Blood Center will be held at the Rockcastle County Hospital from 1 to 2 p.m. Contribute to life this spring donate blood on Tuesday, March 31. For more information, call Betty Purcell at 256-2195 or Cheryl Witt at 256-2403.

License revoked

The license of Dr. Billy J. Davis of Pulaski County has been revoked by the Kentucky Board of Medical License.

Davis pleaded guilty in August to conspiring with Attorney Lester Burns Jr. to defraud two insurance companies of $1.1 million with a phony traffic accident. Davis is scheduled to be sentenced April 6.

At one time Davis operated the Urgent Care Center near Burnside.

No emergency funds for Jones Road

The Department of Transportation has told the county it will not approve emergency funds to renovate Jones Creek Road in the south area of the county.

Officials said the road belongs to the county and it would call for the removal of from 15,000 to 20,000 cubic yards of dirt for an estimated cost of $200,000 making the project prohibitive.

In some parts of the country it is believed that if a butterfly lands on you, you will get a new dress.

THE MEDICINE CHEST

By Tina Cain Hasty RPH.

March is National Poison Prevention Month and would be a good time to brush up on emergency first aid for poisoning. The first and probably most difficult step is to obtain calm.

The second step varies depending on the type of poisoning. If the poison is swallowed, the victim should drink a full glass of water if conscious. If the poison is on the skin, rinse with water for 10 minutes, then wash with soap and water. If the poison is inhaled, move into fresh air and ventilate the area. If the poison is in the eye, gently rinse for 15 minutes with water (body temperature).

The third step is to call the Regional Poison Center (1-800-722-5725). Information you should have ready if possible, include your name and phone number, age of the victim, name of the product, amount of the product involved.

With many poisons, it will be necessary to empty the stomach of the victim. Having ipecac syrup, a medicine to induce vomiting, in your home may save you a trip to the emergency room. Ipecac syrup can be purchased without a prescription and is not harmful if used properly. But it should only be used when recommended by the poison center, your doctor, or pharmacist because sometimes it is more dangerous to cause vomiting than to leave poison in the stomach. Vomiting is a definite no-no if the victim is unconscious, having convulsions, has swallowed a strong irritant (acid or corrosive) or has swallowed a hydrocarbon (gasoline, kerosene, etc.)

If you have any questions about poison prevention or treatment, check with your doctor, pharmacist or the Regional Poison Center.
