Rockets put on offensive show; beat Central 34-28

By: Leslie Norton and Cindy Witt

The Rockcastle Co. Rockets had a victory for their last home game as they defeated Knox Central 34-28. According to Coach Larkey, this was also the Rockets best offensive game of the season with a total of 387 yards on offense.

Knox Central took the kickoff to start the game and began passing. After picking up 3 first downs and reaching the Rockcastle 11 yard line, Eric Canady ran 11 yards for the touchdown. The extra-point kick was good and Knox Central led 7-0 with 7:34 remaining in the first quarter.

Dane Cox took the Knox Central kick-off to the Rockcastle 40 yard line. On 2nd down, Chris Larkey ran 27 yards to the Knox Central 18 yard line. A Rocket fumble led to a loss of 14 yards and Rockcastle was facing a 3rd and 24 situation. Chad Burdette took the pitch around the right end and scrambled 38 yards for the touchdown.

Adam Coleman's kick was good to tie the score at 7-7 with 5:05 to go in the quarter.

On their next series, Knox Central was forced to punt. Rockcastle took over on their own 11-yard line and on third down Cox picked up a 1st down which was nullified because of a clipping penalty. On third and long, backed up to their own goal line. Burdette got off a quick kick that put Knox Central on their own 417 yard line. On Knox Central's first play, Chad Williams recovered a fumble to give Rockcastle good position at mid-field.

At the beginning of the 2nd quarter, Williams ran 20 yards to the Knox Central 26 yard line.

with their passing game and on third down following the kick-off return, Wayne Mills caught a 32-yard TD pass. The extra point was good to put Knox Central back on top 14-13 with 5:36 left in the half.

"Rockets Win"

in bad field position on their own 2 yard line after the kick return, but Burdette picked up 25 yards, and a first down to the 29-yard line. After another 11-yard pickup by Burdette, Rockcastle had reached midfield but had to punt on 4th down.

After Coleman's 44 yard punt put Central on their own 1 yard line, the Panthers let the clock run out to end the half.

Rockcastle took the kick to begin the second half. From the tailback position, Larkey made gains of 16 and 41 yards that got the ball to the Knox Central 3 yard line. From there, he took the ball in to make the score 19-14. To get the 2-point conversion the Rockets faked the extra point and Larkey found Burdette open in the endzone to up the score to 21-14. Central wasted no time in returning the favor as Brian Jones returned the kick off 71 yards for the touchdown. The kick was good to tie the game at 21. The Rockets made a drive that ended on the Central 20-yard line. But on the next series, Pete Harrison recovered a Knox Central fumble on their own 43-yard line.

Rockcastle was forced to punt and Central took over on their own 18 yard line.

The Rocket defense held, forced the Panthers to punt, and from there the offense went to work. After a 23-yard run by Burdette, Rockcastle was on Knox Central's 13 yard line. Larkey found Chuck Shields open in the end zone for a 13-yard TD pass. The Rockets led 28-21 after Coleman's kick was good.

The Panther's offense, mixed with running and passing, found themselves 1st and goal on Rockcastle's 9 yard line. With 4th and goal on the 3 yard line, Otis Hammonds ran the touchdown. The kick was good to tie the score 28-28 with only 2:43 left to play.

When the Rockets returned the kick to the 30 yard line, they looked down the field to see that they had 70 yards to go and only 2 and a half minutes to play. The offense went to work with Burdette picking up 7 yards, Williams 9, Larkey 18, and Williams again for 22. On 4th and 1, Williams ran for the touchdown with 17 second left on the clock. The extra point was no good, the score 34-28. Knox Central had time for one more play, but a long pass was intercepted by Larkey to end the game.

Leading rushers were Chris Larkey with 15 carries for 153 yards, and Chad Burdette with 14 carries for 142 yards. On defense, Pete Harrison had 5 solos, 8 assists; Ralph Hines 5 solos, 6 assists; Chad Williams 5 solos, 5 assists; Larkey 5 solos, 4 assists; Gerald Rowe 4 solos, 6 assists; and Chad Hodges 4 solos, 5 assists.

This Friday night, the Rockets travel to Whitley Co. for their last game of the season.

"Deer Gun Season Opens"

The 1987 season will be the first in Kentucky history that will allow hunters to harvest two deer with a gun in some open counties. Counties in zones 1-3 will be treated as special areas, where hunters are permitted to harvest a season limit by gun.

There are several possible ways to harvest two deer with a gun besides hunting only in zones 1-3 or on other special areas. Hunters may harvest one deer in a zone 1-3 county or special area and harvest a second deer from another open county. The reverse of that is also legal. One deer can be harvested in a zone 4-9 county and a second taken by gun in a zone 1-3 county or special area. (Special areas are listed in the 1987 Deer Hunting Guide which accompanies the deer permit.)

In Zone 1 counties, hunters can harvest bucks or does all ten days of the season. In Zone 2, either sex can be taken during the first six days of the season, and in Zone 3 there are three days of either sex hunting at the beginning of the season.

In zone 4-9 counties, hunters may harvest two deer, but only one can be taken by gun. Hunters must purchase a second deer permit prior to hunting for a second deer.

The Kentucky deer population is estimated at over 295,000, and the harvest estimate for the 1987 season across the commonwealth is 60,000 deer. Over 57,400 animals are harvested in 1986.

Report county forest fires

By: Ray McClure

Residents are being careful of grass and woodland fires because of the dry weather, but there have been a few fires in the county since the season began.

Steve Bullen, Rockcastle County forest ranger, reported over 20 acres have burned since the fire season officially got under way in October.

"But people are being careful," Bullen said. "They realize we have very dry conditions and a fire can get out of control very easy. Our problem this year has been that we have had trouble containing the fires and keeping them from re-igniting."

Such was the case on Negro Town Hill where a fire burned about 10 acres on property owned by Attorney William D. Gregory.

Bullen said that fire broke out three times over a two week period because of roots and jumps that have burned and are difficult to extinguish. He added that new leaves keep falling and helping to re-ignite the fires.

Five acres burned on property belonging to the Robbins heirs near Brodhead last Saturday, Bullen reported.

He said that fire was probably started by hunters smoking game out of trees. After that fire was extinguished, it re-ignited on Monday.

Also on Monday, firemen from Mt. Vernon extinguished a fire that got out of control at Sherman Denny's junkyard on Chestnut Ridge.

Bullen said cars were being cut up when the fire got out of control. It burned about an acre before it was controlled.

About five acres burned early Tuesday on Brushy Ridge Road at New Hope, Bullen said the fire was started in two places. It was partially on land owned by Virgil Mullins.

Early Tuesday another fire was extinguished in the Lake Linville area by Mt. Vernon firemen. The property was owned by someone from another area of the state.

Bullen asked farmers and others to be especially careful of burning. The fire season continues until about Dec. 15. The 4:30 p.m. burning law is in effect. That law makes it illegal to burn anything within 150 feet of any woodland or brushland before 4:30.

Other laws that are in effect at all times require that a burning area be adequately cleared

I-75 Work slated here

A Nov. 13 contract letting date has been set for a 13.3 mile rehabilitation project on I-75, the Tennessee State Line - Lexington Road in Rockcastle and Madison counties, Gov. Martha Layne Collins has announced.

The Transportation Cabinet recently authorized $10 million in construction funds for rehabilitation and bridge widening on I-75 from Ky. 1505 to Ky. 595 (Conway overpass) and from Ky. 52 to Ky. 876.

Collins said Kentucky's interstates carry the highest volumes of traffic in the state and therefore requires consistent maintenance and upgrading.

All phases of the project are estimated to cost $10.1 million and are being financed with federal funds from the Interstate 4R Program.

LIVINGSTON TO RECEIVE GRANT

Livingston will soon be improved as the result of a state grant announced recently by Gov. Martha Layne Collins.

A $10,000 grant from the Area Development Fund has been awarded to the city of Livingston toward the purchase of a police cruiser. According to local officials, the new cruiser will replace a 1959 model vehicle which has become mechanically unreliable and poses a safety hazard to patrol officers. With the new cruiser, continuous safe patrol activities will be possible in the city.

The Cumberland Valley Area Development District Board of Directors recommended the project for funding.

The Area Development Fund is a capital projects program administered by the Department of Local Government in the Office of the Governor.

The state's 15 area development districts make recommendations to the department on the basis of state law and policy for project funding.

NEW SENTENCE

Former Rockcastle Commonwealth attorney Lester H. Burns, who was convicted in Federal court recently of knowingly accepting stolen money and transporting it across state lines to represent Roger Epperson in a murder-robbery trial, received a lesser sentence in Federal court in London Friday. Burns had been sentenced to eight years on two counts, making him ineligible for parole for two years. But Friday, Federal Judge Eugene Siler reduced his sentence to seven years and made Burns eligible for parole in a year.

Democrat president in the White House and want to break up the Republican Party in the district. Think of this before you cast your ballot. And when you do, cast it for all Republican candidates."

Following the breakfast, Harper toured the Rockcastle County Hospital to meet patients, employees and to see the hospital's respiratory unit.

Leaves go flying as a helicopter with Democrat candidate for governor lands at Rockcastle County High School Tuesday.

WILLING WORKERS HOMEMAKERS

By: Elizabeth F. Mullins

More witches came into Roberta Taylor's home, Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m., than any other Halloween-dressed homemakers. Clowns were a close second.

Roberta's blue hair, Glenna Brooks' purple hair, and Ella Mae Martin's orange hair were certainly colorful. Jean Albright came "lumbering" in with her sons' fruit outfit including his boots; Emily Glovak had the prettiest mask; Patsy Fletcher was beautiful in an India Outfit; Loraine Newland added black gloves to her witches outfit; Clara Proctor was the only witch with a broom; Carol Riddle was most modern witch; Martha Owens had strings of wool for hair; and last but not least was Deborah Newland that came as a jar of jelly-beans - only the jelly beans were balloons!

We finally calmed down enough to let Madame Carol Riddle die call the meeting to order and listen to Loraine Newland present the devotion.

Patsy Fletcher's treasurer report told us that we had only a balance of $182.22 in our checking account.

Membership cards were passed out; hours checked for extra monthly work; voted to have Christmas Dinner, Dec. 12, 6 p.m., at Kastle Inn; and then planned Christmas Festival for Dec. 5th in downtown Broadhead.

Our super team - Clara Proctor, Roberta Taylor, Margie Brock and Barbara Watson will contact businesses for prizes and take care of the "Drawing" at 2 p.m.

Posters will be made by Glenna Brooks, Jean Albright, Carol Riddle and Elizabeth Mullins; Deborah Newland will be in charge of preparing Santa's 250 treats for children, Fri. Dec. 4th in Christian Church's basement; Christmas Tree will be erected by Everette Albright and helpers; Bazaar will be opened at 10 a.m. in the fire house; and Santa will arrive on the fire engine after the drawing!

Thanks to Jean Albright for buying this year's Christmas ornaments on sale; after tree's last year.

Ella Mae Martin presented the night's lesson on "Snack Time". The snacks we choose are important to the health of our teeth, choose snacks wisely. Switch to snacks, such as fruits and vegetables.

She gave us a 12 snacks puzzle to solve and a piece of paper to write the snacks we'd had that day and then discussed pro and cons of the good and bad snacks we had had. She closed the lesson by presenting Sylvia Whitt a door prize.

Glenna Brooks was co-hostess, helped to prepare small club sandwiches, dip and raw vegetables; fake carrot sticks made from snack menu; carrot cake, white stack cake and pumpkin pie plus a liquid, then we served ourselves on the Taylor's T.V. screen!

Roberta had taken the antics, etc. of the guests around tables with pumpkin handle holders and fall colored leaves surrounding it. What a way to end a great meeting!

Our next meeting will be early

Nov. 19th at Elizabeth F. Mullins' home with Emily Glovak as co-hostess, at 7:30 p.m.

What is the "Sin Unto Death?"

By: Austin Mobley, Minister Providence church of Christ

"If a man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death; I do not say that he shall pray for it" (1 John 5:16).

What is this "sin unto death" that John speaks of? The subject under discussion in the context is prayer. The issue is: For what may a Christian pray with the assurance of being answered? The answer to this question is in verses fourteen and fifteen. The conditional phrase, "If we ask anything according to his will" is very significant and demands a clear understanding in order to arrive at the truth on this subject.

Early in this same epistle, John has shown what God's will is concerning forgiveness for the erring brother. He says such may be cleansed of all unrighteousness, if he confesses his sins (1 John 1:7-9). This confession, in the light of the context and other passages, necessarily implies a penitent confession. Thus, in the final analysis - no matter how willing and anxious God and all others are to forgive - God has made the erring brother's "life" (forgiveness) depend upon his own will. Of his own will he must repent and confess. Until this is done, we need not expect prayer for "life" in his behalf to be answered. No prayer of any person can possibly cancel the erring brother's free will. Such a brother is in rebellion to God, the ultimate end of which is the "second death" (Revelation 20:14-15). He is sinning a "sin unto death," SUCH A SIN, THEN, IS ONE WHICH A PERSON WILL NOT REPENT OF.

However, when the guilty brother repents of his sin and confesses the same unto God or unto God and the brethren (James 5:16) as the case may demand, his prayer and that of all other Christians in his behalf will be answered. The sin for which forgiveness is sought is no longer "unto death" since it is one of which the guilty has repented. For such a person John says ask and "life" (forgiveness) shall be granted.

The Lord will forgive EVERY SIN, of whatever nature, that a brother repents of and confesses (1 John 1:8, James 5:16, Acts 8:22). There is however, a sin which the Lord will not forgive (1 John 5:16) Therefore, the sin which the Lord will not forgive is simply any sin not repented of and confessed. This is the "SIN UNTO DEATH," and we are not to pray for forgiveness of such.

Wilkinson '87

Thanks for the help and encouragement from the people of Rockcastle County on behalf of Wilkinson's campaign.

Wallace believes in the people of Rockcastle Co., the Fifth District and Kentucky. He will do more for us than any governor -- Wallace is one of us!

Wallace Wilkinson is from Casey County (Liberty) in the Fifth Congressional District. He is married to Martha Stafford Wilkinson, also of Casey County. They have two sons, Glenn and Andrew.

Mr. Wilkinson has said, "I have a passionate belief in Kentucky. In what we can do! There is a brighter future! There is a better way! This is a new day! This state has too many good things going for it for any of us to settle for second-best. There are men - and women - and children in this state - who can rise up and make their dreams come true! That's what this election is all about. We won't settle for second-best! We are Kentuckians! We are proud! Together, the future is ours to build!"

Vote Tuesday, November 3 for Wallace Wilkinson for Governor

Crack-down on improperly registered cars profitable

A crackdown on improperly registered vehicles is bringing more revenue to both the state and 164 taxing districts, Governor Martha Layne Collins announced today. Collins said that increased Revenue Cabinet enforcement of the omitted property tax laws has brought in over $760,000 to the state.

Revenue Cabinet Secretary Gary W. Gillis and sixty percent of the money is earmarked for local governments. "We expect to collect an additional $500,000 that has already been billed," Gillis added.

The Revenue Cabinet initiated an investigation in late 1985 of motor vehicles operating in the commonwealth with out-of-state license plates. Of the seven states contiguous to Kentucky, only two have comparable personal property taxes on motor vehicles. Gillis said this has resulted in a growing number of violations.

Caring for the family care-giver

Volunteers from the Cumberland Valley Area Development District are participating in a "Caring For The Family Caregiver" Project developed by the Gerontology Program at Western Kentucky University and funded by the Department of Health and Human Services Administration on Aging.

The volunteers will assist in scheduling programs designed to provide helpful information to Kentucky families caring for frail and/or impaired older persons.

Mrs. Shirley S. Cummins attended volunteer training in Hazard, on Sept. 18.

Volunteers will be scheduling caregiver training programs in their local communities. Programs will provide information to support the work of family caregivers who provide 85 percent of the care for the frail elderly.

Caregivers unable to attend community programs will be able to participate in their own homes. Program topics include, understanding stress, financial and legal issues of caregiving, coping with the death of the care receiver, coping with stress, and the normal mental and physical changes associated with aging.

many Kentucky residents have licensed their motor vehicles in those states. In addition, out-of-state leasing companies have violated the law by leasing vehicles to Kentucky residents while continuing to use the leasing company address. Companies owned vehicles which are driven by Kentucky residents but licensed to the company's out-of-state address are also in violation of Kentucky's law.

Gillis said the cabinet has made great strides in putting new taxpayers on the tax roll. "We will continue our effort to identify and collect omitted and delinquent property tax due Kentucky," said Gillis.

"It is only fair that the Revenue Cabinet collect these taxes to protect Kentucky retail operations. Unfair competition is the result when out-of-state retailers do not adhere to Kentucky tax law," Gillis concluded.

Farmers will have to be certified

Tobacco farmers who have routinely used methyl bromide to fumigate their tobacco beds will have to be certified in the future, according to an edict just released by the Environmental Protection Agency.

"In the past, methyl bromide packaged in small cans required no certification for use. Only if the product were packaged in larger containers was certification required," said University of Kentucky Extension pesticide expert Lorraine Rodriguez.

Tobacco farmers who fumigated only small plots could use the product without having certification. However, under EPA's new edict, they will have to have been certified to handle pesticides to purchase the product.

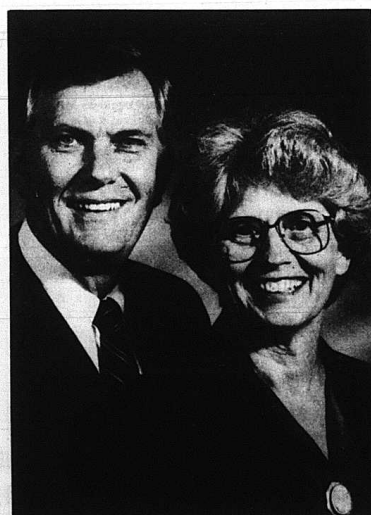

The ruling becomes effective in early 1988, but products bearing the older labels can still be sold legally as used afterwards. If new products with restricted use labels are sold, the seller must use proof of certification.

The College of Agriculture is the designated agency in Kentucky that handles pesticide certification. Farmers interested in gaining certification to apply methyl bromide and other restricted use chemicals should contact their county Extension agent for agriculture for details.

HALLOWEEN SAFETY TIPS

The U.S. Consumer Safety Product Commission has some Halloween safety tips for parents and guardians of children who plan to go trick-or-treating this Halloween:

*Warn children not to eat any of their treats before they get home. Examine all treats carefully; for evidence of tampering before allowing children to eat them.

*Look for costumes, masks, hoods and wigs labeled "Flame Resistant". Although this does not mean these items won't catch fire, such labeling indicates that they will resist burning and should extinguish quickly once removed from the ignition source. Flimsy materials and outfits with big, baggy sleeves or billowing skirts should be avoided to minimize the risk of contact with candles or other sources of ignition.

*Make or buy costumes light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists. For greater visibility in dusk or darkness, costumes can be decorated or trimmed with reflective tape which will "glow" in the beam of a car's headlights. Bags or sacks should also be light colored or decorated with reflective tape. Reflective tape is usually available in hardware, bicycle, and sporting goods stores. Children should also carry flashlights to see - and be seen - more easily.

*Costumes should be short enough to prevent children from tripping and falling. Children should wear well-fitting, sturdy shoes. Mother's high heels are not a good idea for safe walking.

*Hats and scarfs should be tied securely to prevent them from slipping over children's eyes.

*Apply a natural mask of cosmetics rather than have a child wear a loose fitting mask which might restrict breathing or obscure vision. If a mask is used, however, make sure it fits securely and has eyeholes large enough to allow full vision.

*Swords, knives, and similar costume accessories should be of soft or flexible material.

*Smaller children should always be accompanied by an older responsible child or an adult. All children should use the sidewalk rather than walk in the street, and they should walk not run from house to house. Children should be cautioned against running out from between parked cars, or across lawns and yards where ornaments, furniture, or clotheslines present dangers.

*Children should only go to homes where residents have outside lights on as a sign of welcome. Children should not enter homes or apartments unless they are accompanied by an adult.

*Those receiving trick-or-treaters should remove anything that could be an obstacle from steps, lawns, and porches. Candelit jack-o'-lanterns should be kept away from landings and doorsteps where costumes could brush against the flame. Indoor jack-o'-lanterns should be kept away from curtains, decorations, or other furnishings that could be ignited.

For further information on product safety, consumers may call the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission's toll-free hotline on 800-638-CPSC. A teletypewriter number for the hearing impaired is 800-638-8270.

FIBER: WE LIVE IN A WORLD OF IT

We live in a world of fibers. You don't believe it! Then think for a minute what life would be like in a world without fibers.

We'd all be naked! No clothes. No underwear. No stocking or socks. Not even shoes.

Animal skins would be no substitute. We'd soon kill off all the animals for their fur and hides and even then only a few people would be clothed. . . probably no one you know.

Of course, there's always the trees and bushes. We could strip all the foliage bare to make grass skirts, and fib leaf shorts. . . but what would we do when winter comes?

No, skins and leaves are no substitute. We'd all have to move South just to survive. Think what tremendous over-crowding that would produce! I think a world without fibers would be a world without so many people in it. . . maybe without you and me!

In a world without fibers we'd ride to work on a horse, or in a wooden-wheeled wagon pulled by a horse. There'd be no automobiles because there'd be no air-filled tires, no water hoses to cool the engine, no wires to carry the spark to the piston! No upholstered bucket seats. No rugs on the floor boards. No convertible tops. No padded dash or even, in some cars, air scoops, bumpers or fenders.

In a world without fibers baseball wouldn't be played. . . not even on real grass! There'd be no football, no soccer, no basketball, no tennis, no volleyball, no badminton.

In a world without fibers there'd - be no space program. No astronaut could survive without his space suit. Nor could

Please Vote EARL CUMMINS

For School Board Member
Tuesday, November 3rd

For District 3 which is West Mt. Vernon, North Mt. Vernon and Bullock precincts.

Earl, Norma and daughters, Trina, Tamey, Amanda, Genna

I am a lifelong Rockcastle resident, living on new 461. My parents are Rayme and Hazel Cummins and I teach at Laurel County Vocational School. I graduated from Brodhead and E.K.U. with Rank 1 in Industrial Education.

The picture shows the reasons why I want to be your school board member.

Remember what happened last year. I was narrowly defeated by 25 votes. A few months later, Dr. Burdette moved out of the district and resigned. Former Superintendent Parsons and his board did not even consider me for the vacancy. Instead, he hand picked Dr. "Billy George" Griffith. I think the citizens, and taxpayers should choose the school board member.

I cannot compete with the organization and their money without your help. The last time I was harassed and my job was threatened. Now, the same tactics are being used against some of my supporters.

Let us work together for our children instead of a political establishment. Thank God we live in a country where this can be carried out in the voting booth.

VOTE THE COMMON MAN - VOTE FOR EARL CUMMINS.

Thank you for your support,

Earl Cummins

One-inch rainfall causes loss of 20% of hay left drying in the field

Every farmer knows that rain damages hay drying in the fields. Until now, however, they haven't known just exactly how much.

Hay becoming a Kentucky cash crop

As Kentucky moves more into hay production as a cash crop, the new trend will be toward quality rather than just yield quantities, according to University of Kentucky agronomists.

"We've just put in 40-fescues and 32 ryegrasses at the Research and Education Center in Princeton," said Larry Laceyfield, Extension forages specialist. "Our tests are going to key not only on yield but on improving quality."

He added, "We're already seeing buyers stress their need for quality, and we think that's going to significantly increase in the future."

Laceyfield pointed out that quality means different things for different people, and the trick for farmers trying to raise hay as a cash crop is to market it according to its quality. For instance, the horse industry and dairy cattle require the highest quality, while beef cattle might well thrive on hay not ideal for those animals.

"The majority of grass hay in Kentucky is put up much later than is desirable for its highest quality," Laceyfield said. "The number one factor as to quality is the stage of maturity of grasses when grazed or cut for hay."

He added, "All forages are at their highest quality when they are the youngest. At a height of about four to six inches, we're dealing with the highest quality. Of course, it's not practical or economical to cut hay at that stage."

If the plant has seeded, it has less quality, he said. It becomes higher in fiber but lower in protein, digestibility and acceptability to livestock. UK research has shown that delaying harvesting from early flowering to seed stage can result in over a 45 percent loss in protein. Digestibility drops one-half percent per day for each day's delay in harvesting.

Laceyfield said, "We have to find the best compromise for quality, quantity and persistence, and still make a profit for the farmer. That's not as easy as it sounds. It's why we're experimenting with so many grasses at the research center."

There are things farmers can do to improve their odds, however. Laceyfield recommends farmers determine what levels of lime, nitrogen, phosphate, potash and other elements are needed for high yields. Fertilizers should then be used accordingly beginning in early fall to provide those nutrients.

By using varieties that have been tested as adaptable for Kentucky's climate and by controlling pests, the farmer also can improve his odds. But the best bet is to make the first cutting earlier.

"Traditionally, if the tobacco gets set, the hay gets cut," Laceyfield said. "Our studies show it would be better to cut the hay first capturing it in the highest quality stage."

Michael Collins, research agronomist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, has shown that a one-inch rain causes a loss of 20 percent of the digestible material from the leaf and a 7 percent loss from the stem.

"The leaf is higher in protein, digestibility, minerals like calcium and phosphorus, and it is lower in fiber which is desirable," Collins said. "As a result of rain damage, bales of hay contain higher portions of stem resulting in lower quality."

Collins will present a paper outlining his research next month at the national meeting of the American Society of Agronomy in Atlanta. He said this research is a small part of a larger plan by UK's college of Agriculture to learn how to reduce field damage to hay as the state moves more into hay production as an alternative cash crop.

"We want to be able to tell the farmer how much he has to spend to avoid much of this loss, and how much he can spend and still make a profit when he sells his hay," Collins said.

The best way to better the odds is to dry the hay quicker. If a farmer can field dry his hay in half the normal time -- two and a half days instead of the normal five -- he has reduced the odds that his cut hay will be rained on by much more than the 50 percent some people might expect.

"That's because two-day he return without the heat shield on his rocket, or even the parachute to slow his descent! Once in the water, how would he stay afloat without the flotation collar, or in an emergency, the life raft or even his own life jacket. The fact is, he'd never leave on a space flight without hoses for fueling, wires and cables for control, seat belts to hold himself in, even the seats themselves.

In a world without fibers many people would die without bandages, sterilized gowns and masks. Damaged diseased arteries and wind pipes would stay damaged or diseased and the patient might die because there'd be no dacron replacement. The "Iron Lung" wouldn't have saved so many polio victims. The kidney machine wouldn't be keeping so many others alive today. And the artificial heart would probably be impossible!

Just what is fiber? It's the basic unit or component which makes up a fabric. It's anything woven or knitted or made into a fabric. It's the cotton, wool, silk or man-made like nylon or rayon or polyester which comprise the garments we are currently wearing. It's also the asbestos in the fireproof fireman's suit, the carbon strand which make up super-sonic airplane parts. Let's not forget the ultra-fine glass used in space suits and the stainless steel which produces the artificial tendons.

Yes, we lie in a world of fibers... and the world we live in, we live in because of the wonderful discovery of textile fibers.

weather forecasts are much more accurate than the longer term predictions," Collins said. "Try it sometime by watching your television weather forecasts. They are mostly, right on the short term predictions, but there are too many variables for them to correctly forecast the long term."

He added, "Also there are a lot more two or three day dry periods in April and May in Kentucky than there are five day dry periods."

By smart timing, a farmer can further increase his odds of avoiding rain on his cut hay.

"If he cuts his hay as soon as possible after a front has moved through, the odds are greater that a new front won't move in again in the next two or three days," Collins said.

But how can the farmer dry his hay in half the time it normally takes?

Collins said a chemical desiccant applied at the time of cutting causes the water in the plant to be removed faster. Another alternative is to add a chemical preservative -- propionic acid -- at the time of baling. Also, UK researchers are looking at baling the hay at higher than normal moisture levels -- say 25 to 30 percent -- and getting it out of the fields to finish the drying inside barns.

"We've found we don't lose as many leaves that way, and we have a higher quality bale of hay," he said. "We've found that hay bales store well at less than 20 percent moisture and will continue to dry down to the about a 12 percent level."

It costs more to dry hay in the barn, but those costs could be less than rain damage in the field now costs the farmer.

UK is continuing its research with computer analysis of actual rainfalls on hay cut every week for more than four years and allowed to dry in the field. If it rained, the hay was damaged, Collins said.

To the Citizens and Voters of Rockcastle County School System and District 3

Since this is the final week before the election, I would like to touch briefly on some of the future things that will be of concern to our school system.

Of course, one big thing is the new Mt. Vernon Elementary School. At the present time, the planning stages are in full swing. If you have comments about the new school, now is the time to make them. Contact me or someone in the school system and your suggestions will be made known to the building committee.

Also, we have several new people in positions of leadership in our system. Mr. Bige Towery has been very hard as your new superintendent and I feel doing an excellent job. We should express our feelings of appreciation and support to him. It is sometimes a very lonely position and he needs our encouragement. Mr. Ronnie Cash and Mr. Charles Baker have been made principal and assistant principal of the Rockcastle County High School. They have spent many long hours working to improve the high school and I have not heard anything but praise for their work. Parents, teachers and students feel they are doing an excellent job and I feel we should also encourage them.

One important area we must not forget are the teachers in Rockcastle County. We have many, many fine teachers and we should always take time to encourage them.

I feel we are in for some big changes and improvements in our school system over the next few years and I would like to be a part of them as your District 3 school board member.

REMEMBER TO VOTE ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3

Thank you,

George W. Griffith, M.D.

Counterpoint ramblings...

by: perlina m. anderkin
 Rick and I rarely disagree, not more than three or four times a day anyway, but I can't let his last week's "As I See It" go by without making a counterpoint statement about his seat belt remarks.
 I don't use seat belts. I'm not really saying this in a braging manner and I may very well live (or die) to regret the statement. However, I claim it as my right to make that individual choice for myself.
 I realize there is legislation already concerning the restraining of children while in cars, although the folks who wrote this legislation have never tried to "restrain" Allison, our two-year-old, from anything. I also realize that children should be in car seats, seat belts, etc. and if they want to pass legislation that anyone who rides in my car must wear belts or I am legally responsible in case of an accident, fine. I will comply as best I can or suffer the consequences.
 But, I will fight to the last ditch efforts to take the choice away from me personally. I don't need another daddy or big brother, I have both and they are very adequate, thank you.
 The government already controls huge segments of my life and I resent more interference from them. I resent it to the point that I would make the fight against this legislation a personal effort.
 I get very upset on this subject. A lot of it stems from my children who browbeat me into fastening my belt whenever I am riding with them. This is most of the time since, according to them, I am not the "safest" driver around. I made a trip to Lexington and back all by myself Saturday and the amazement was rampant among the children that I managed this feat all by myself. I have given up trying to "drive" around, but if I want to, I could tell them about numerous "feats" I accomplished before they got old enough to "take care of me."
 Be that as it may, I want to state once again that I am unequivocally opposed to a law imposed on persons who do not wish to wear seat belts.

YOUR CHILD'S HEALTH

By: Dr. John Payne

A couple of things always seem to "make it better" when infants and toddlers get hurt. One is to "let Mommy kiss it" - an act as ageless and touching as motherhood, and probably heralding back to our ancestors literally licking their wounds. The other "instant cure" for small hurts is more modern. This is the application of a Band aid or similar small adhesive dressing. This use of a small dressing seems to satisfy the child that something was done. It may keep wind from the broken skin and make it hurt less, and keep the area clean.
 However, an infant or even a toddler can suck such a dressing off, especially if it is on the finger. There has been at least one case of sucking the band aid down the windpipe. In the reported case the infant survived, but tragedy could have been the result.

The report of this case was in an article to warn doctors about the use of band aids after infants get fingertick blood drawn for laboratory work. However, the same cautions are relevant for band aids stuck on by mommy, especially on the fingers. The message would seem to be to use them if the injury really needs it, but be cautious on the fingers, which often get sucked anyway. If a little TLC, washing and compression of the scratch until the bleeding stops will do, perhaps defer the band aid. More to worry about with raising younguns, huh?

Mt. Vernon's potential for future economic development was discussed by Mayor Elizabeth Baker with state officials at Frankfort recently. With the mayor is Russ Slope, director of industrial development, left, and Earl S. Kerrick, manager of site development. The mayor said the city will work closely with the Rockcastle Industrial Authority and the Rockcastle Chamber of Commerce.

VOLUME 101 - NUMBER 1

Thursday, October 29, 1987

Mount Vernon, Kentucky 40456

Briefly...

NO PRESIDENT YET

Although an official announcement cannot be legally made until the full board meets, Jess Bullock, a longtime officer at the Bank of Mt. Vernon will become the new president. Bullock will take over for Danny McKinney, who resigned October 15.

NEW SENTENCE

Former Rockcastle Commonwealth attorney Lester H. Burns, who was convicted in Federal court recently of knowingly accepting stolen money and transporting it across state lines to represent Roger Epperson in a murder-robbery trial, received a lesser sentence in Federal court in London Friday. Burns had been sentenced to eight years on two counts, making him ineligible for parole for two years. But Friday, Federal Judge Eugene Siler reduced his sentence to seven years and made Burns eligible for parole in a year.

CONTRACT PENDING

The long awaited Citizens Bank Branch will soon become a reality, according to Keith Smith, vice-president. The contract on the 2,000 foot full-service branch in Mt. Vernon, will be let soon. The branch will be located next to the Mt. Vernon Car Wash on Hwy 150.

COME TO THE BANQUET

The Mt. Vernon Lions Club will sponsor the 28th Farmer-Business Banquet at the Rockcastle County High School on Nov. 6. Tickets which are $6 each can be purchased at the Red Top Restaurant, Bank of Mt. Vernon, Citizens Bank, Wildie General Store or from any Lion's Club member. Speaker to be announced.

Apartments get started

Work began this week on a privately-owned moderate income housing project at the east end of Tevis Street in Mt. Vernon.

Construction by Warren Realty of Shepherdsville, the 24-unit complex is expected to be completed in May, according to Ruth Sohn, an official of the company. The complex will contain 12 one-bedroom and 12 two-bedroom units. The cost of a one-bedroom apartment ranges from $200 a month to $359, depending on the income of the renter. The two-bedroom apartments range from $240 a month to $399.

The apartments will be furnished with a stove, refrigerator and garbage disposal. They will have central air and be heated with an individual heat pump. Sewer, water and garbage removal are included in the rent. Electric is not.

Ms. Sohn said the apartments are "for working people in the middle/moderate income range, retirees and young couples." The gross income should range from $12,500 to $18,500 a year.

Ms. Sohn said the apartments are not built for children. However, if a two-bedroom apartment is rented it could be for a couple with one child. Also, there are apartments for a couple, a single parent with a child, two women and two men.

Applications will be taken about 60 days prior to the completion of the project. There will be a promotional campaign, Ms. Sohn said, and added, "Right now we've just scratched the surface out there, so it will likely be May before we complete the complex."

Candidates for governor seek county votes

Wilkinson visits classes

With a smile and a wave, Wallace Wilkinson, Democratic candidate for governor, stopped briskly off his helicopter Tuesday at Rockcastle County High School to spend nearly an hour with supporters.

There were about 50 persons there, including a large contingent of the news media. In fact, an aide of Wilkinson was heard to comment that there was more coverage by the media here than they had had in several days. His visit here had not been publicized.

"We've covered him fairly closely," one visiting reporter said. "I don't take notes any longer because I have heard what he's going to say many times before."

Up front for a first handshake were his local county campaign chairmen, Verla Scott and Bob Jasper, both showing their excitement. Mrs. Scott got a hug, Jasper got a friendly handshake.

"Glad to see you!" was heard time after time as Wilkinson walked through his greeters. "Things are looking up," he was heard to say on a number of times, along with, "Glad you could come out."

The group then headed for the high school where it was lunch break. Most of the students had gathered to look, and many paused from eating to watch as Wilkinson went through the lobby.

Wilkinson visited several classrooms, chatting individually with the students. He did not make a speech at the school. If he had, he would have repeated what he has said at other times about education.

The truth is that our schools are too slow for the fast kids, too fast for the slow kids, and boring to the rest. We need to change our assembly line system of education and create learning environments in our schools."

He would have pointed out, as he has before, that "the easiest thing for a politician to do is promise new programs, but programs without price tags are dreams, including educational programs. The hard part is telling how you're going to pay for them. I have done that."

Wilkinson is opposed to a tax increase, but he favors a lottery. He also proposed "rate justification for insurance companies."

He proposes a plan for "county-by-county economic development."

Following his school visit, and with a smile and a wave, he was off again for Somerset for an evening fund raiser.

Democrat candidate for governor, Wallace Wilkinson, is greeted by Rockcastle County High School principal Ronnie Cash when he visited at the school Tuesday. At left is Wilkinson's county campaign co-chairman Verla Scott and far left, co-chairman Bob Jasper.

Harper, Nunn talk to voters

By: Ray McClure

"We're going to win this election; all signs point to it," John Harper, Republican candidate for governor, told a group of supporters at a break fast Wednesday at Jean's Restaurant. He was introduced to the audience by former Gov. Louis B. Nunn, who told his listeners if Republicans in the Fifth District turn out and vote, John Harper will be the next Governor of Kentucky."

State Rep. Danny Ford introduced Nunn, telling the gathering "We have a lot to look forward to next Tuesday when our candidate will win."

Only about 15 local people were at the breakfast. They were overshadowed by persons from other areas and the news media. It prompted Rockcastle Republican Chairman Lonzo McCollum to note, a bigger crowd had been expected.

Other than Ford, only three elected officials from the county, or three cities attended. They were County Clerk Norma Houk, Circuit Clerk Denver Miller and Property Valuation Administrator Elmer Hale.

Harper told his listeners there is a "vast reservoir of silent sentiment in Kentucky to turn the state in another direction, to one of integrity and honesty that has been lacking in the state."

"We cannot tolerate another four years of flamboyance and cheering in the streets," Harper retorted. "So I think the people will respond and elect me their next governor. We're going to win this."

Harper told the group Wilkinson plans not only a lottery, but plans to repeal the local option law and set up a statewide liquor monopoly system of state-operated liquor stores with the proceeds going to the state.

"If you ask Wilkinson about this, he will deny it," Harper said. "It will be another of his hoaky deals."

In a final plea, the candidate said he "needs" a good vote from the Fifth District. "So get out and vote," he challenged.

Harper read a letter from Bruce Weddle, who is from Wilkinson's home Casey County. Weddle, a Republican, asked Republicans to vote for Wilkinson.

"These people are undermining the Republican Party in the Fifth District with this slander," Harper commented. "They want another Democrat governor, a Incumbent Mt. Vernon Mayor Elizabeth Baker is listed on the ballot but she has no opposition. Her opposition was in the May primary when she defeated Councilman Jackie R. Renner.

Also to be elected are a four-member Broodhead City Commission and a Livingston City Commission (Council).

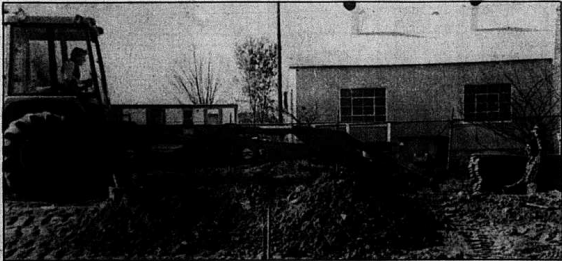

In the race at Mt. Vernon, there are seven candidates for six seats on the city council. They are incumbents Larry Burdette and Billy Ray Doan, and newcomers, Charles T. (Tommy) Bussell, Earl R. Nichols, Grag Hurley, Wayne

At Livingston, there are six candidates for four city commission seats, incumbents, Todd Mink and Earl Baker, and newcomers, Wayne Mounier, Larry Mounce, Catherine Sue McClure and Margaret Burdine.

At Broodhead, three incumbents are candidates for election to the city commission (council). They are Johnny Wilcox, Eddie Cash and D.A. Robbins, and newcomer, Paul D. Owens.

Since there are four candidates for four seats at Broodhead, the commission is elected solely to Burdette.

Support personnel union planned

An effort is underway in Rockcastle County to form a chapter of the Kentucky Educational Support Personnel Association (KESPA), according to Rod Brown, who organizes similar groups in the state of Kentucky.

KESPA is a branch of the Kentucky Educational Association which is the Kentucky teachers union. K.E.S.P.A. members are made of cooks, bus drivers, custodians, aids, and secretaries.

Brown said Monday that approximately 17 chapters have been organized in the state with over 1,200 members involved.

The K.E.S.P.A. organizer said that he was contacted by a couple of local school employees about the need for such a group in Rockcastle County.

During the groups first meeting at the Rockcastle County Library on Oct. 16, only about 15 persons turned out. Brown said that the low number was unusual for a county with the number of support employees that are in Rockcastle. About 160 employees of the school system are eligible for membership in K.E.S.P.A.

The main function of the proposed union, is to improve working conditions, provide legal assistance, and counsel members on their rights and the benefits they should receive from the school system, according to Brown.

The group has scheduled another meeting for Nov. 10, at the Rockcastle County library.

Opinions—

Dear Editor,
After becoming aware of the Democratic Party's nominee's objectives regarding the State's railroad commissioners, I must first in support of G.L. "Dusty" Rhodes, the Republican, for Third District Railroad Commissioner. His opponent's major goal is the termination of the office. The obvious question: Why would anyone devote his time, energy, and finances to gain an office, then seek to abolish the office? The Republican, on the other hand, wants to help eastern Kentucky's coal industry work with the railroads to contribute to economic growth.

For this reason I ask everyone to support G.L. "Dusty" Rhodes for Third District Railroad Commissioner.

Dear Editor,
I am a student at the Rockcastle County High School, and our class read in the Courier Journal on Oct. 12, 1987, state officials are allowing out-of-state garbage to be dumped in Kentucky landfills. I don't think it is fair for the other states to dump their garbage on our state. Help to keep our state and county clean.

Sincerely yours,
Michelle Wilson

Dear Editor,
I know I'm not the only one that does not want more garbage in the state which doesn't belong to the residents of this state. Everyone knows we have enough garbage. We don't need anymore. Other states want to put garbage in our state. How would they feel about someone putting garbage in their state?

Sincerely yours,
Perry Mason

Dear Editor,
Since the Mt. Vernon Signal has already been kind enough to help sponsor the Girl Scouts in this area, this letter is directed to county businesses and the citizens of this county. Many people are not aware of the impact scouting has on a young girl's future. In scouting girls learn:
Self Confidence
Money Management
How to work as a team
Respect for Nature
Community Involvement
Leadership
I think most of you will agree that as an adult these are valuable qualities to have. To date we have registered 118 girls county wide for the 87-88 year.

At this time of year it seems like everyone and his uncle are asking for donations for some cause or another. Now it's our turn. The United Way funds most of the counties. But in our county we are not funded. We must ask for your support. The money you give will go toward many things such as:
Membership (for those who otherwise could not afford to participate)
Books (training manuals for girls and adult volunteers)
Camping (equipment, transportation, etc.)
In other words the money you donate will be spent very carefully. Also the money will stay in our county, to be used for our girls!

Our citizens may donate by calling Jeannie Whitt at 256-3851.

Dear Editor,
Jim Rhodus was a "fair" and honest policeman, who was treated unfairly.
He did his job in writing the swimming tickets, or did as he was told.
He believed if someone broke the law, even if it had been his son or the President's son, that he deserved to be written a ticket and pay for his actions. Because some people have power and pull, they also think they have special privileges, too. Anyone who has this idea, should not be working with the public. Everyone should be treated the same. No one person is better than the next one.
I think he should be given another chance. Not a chance to prove himself, because to me and other citizens, he has already Businesses, we will be calling you. Please give from your heart.

Our youth of today will be our leaders for tomorrow. Make a wise investment - take stock in them.

The Way I See It

By: Richard Anderkin
Mount Vernon Signal

When I make a mistake it is usually a big one and last week was no exception.

It seems that I got the Democrats and Republicans together, at least in the paper.

You may have noticed that a Harper for Governor advertisement had two phone numbers on it. Those numbers just happen to be Bob Jasper's and Verla Scott's.

When I made the two political ads up last week I failed to look at the original copy and my mother had a little to do with it. When she set the ads she set the Wilkinson and Harper ads on the same roll of type. The numbers were to have been near the Wilkinson ad but not in it. Well they got in, but in John Harper's ad.

Mrs. Verla took it very well as did Mrs. Juanita Witt, who placed the ad for Harper. I certainly appreciate the ladies' willingness to overlook such a gross error.

Monday I had a visit from Democrat J.E. Combs, a candidate for Railroad Commissioner from this district. Most everyone that knows me know that I am a staunch Republican but I do not say that I will vote for Harper, or Wilkinson, but in the railroad commissioner race I must cast my ballot for Combs.

I have not met the Republican candidate, who is being endorsed by Mr. Carlos Carlotts this week, but I am sure he is a fine man. I was just simply impressed with Mr. Combs, a very nice Hazard man who runs a restaurant along with his wife.

Combs and I had a long talk about politics and voting and so on and he told me of the recent ordinance passed by Perry County Fiscal Court, in which they prohibited people from passing out campaign material in front of the polls in their county.

You know that during county elections it is difficult to get to the voting machines because of the people lined up outside to hand you a card or whatever.

Lets face it, if by the time you get to the polls you haven't made up your mind who you are going to vote for, then you probably don't need to be there in the first place.

Then the Lexington Herald did not endorse either candidate for Governor, because they did not feel like we had a good one. Well I am much of the same opinion. Wilkinson was here Tuesday, for a second time and a week before the election. That was nice to see, since the last Democrat candidate for Governor did not even come to our county. Harper was here Wednesday morning. That was also nice to see, a large man with a good turn. But as far as a leader for this state, I just don't know. One thing is for certain come election day one of them will get elected. I doubt if it is Harper, but I also doubt the rumors that Wilkinson will carry the heavily Republican 5th district because he is from Casey County. It will be interesting to see.

The fact that Wilkinson won't make his tax return public and won't talk about his kidnapping bothers me, maybe it shouldn't but the people of Kentucky have the right to know all they can about their next Governor.

On the subject of elections we have a few local races this year. Probably the one that will draw the most attention is the race for school board.

Dr. Griffith has done an admirable job in his short stint on the board. He has worked hard and had an open mind. He seems interested in what is going on and has had a lot of input into the school system in only a few months.

Earl Cummins is also a fine candidate and by all rights probably should have been Dr. Burdette's replacement on the board. Earl is well educated and a sensible man. He too would make a good board member. It is refreshing to see people who have two interested enough in our children's education to make the effort to run for school board. In the past it has not been a task that most people would want to undertake.

Wear your learning like you watch, in a private pocket; and do not pull it out, and strike it, merely to show that you have one.

Revival at Brodhead Christian

We are happy to announce that Larry W. Jamison, founder and evangelist of the G.T.O. (Go Tell Others) Evangelizing Association in Bowling Green, will conduct our revival meeting at the Brodhead Christian Church. The dates of this meeting will be Nov. 1-6, at 7 p.m. each evening.

Bro. Larry was born in Clay City, Illinois, on Sept. 9, 1939. He grew up in nearby Flora, was baptized into Christ Feb. 18, 1951, under the ministries of Pearl Willis, and Roy C. Blackmore. He began his college training at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, to be a High School English teacher and football coach, but transferred to Cincinnati Bible College after one year. He graduated from Cincinnati Bible College in 1961 and remained for one year of Graduate Work. He has a son, Tracy W. Jamison who has also graduated from Cincinnati Bible College, and a daughter, Kathryn Jamison, who is a 1987 graduate of Princeton, Indiana High School. Larry's wife, Pam, is from Antioch Church of Christ near Maysville. Larry and Pam are now ministering to Bristow Church of Christ.

Larry was selected and included in the 1974 Who's Who in Indiana, the 1975 Outstanding Young Men of America, the 1977 Who's Who in Religion, the 1978 Dictionary of International Biography and International Who's Who in Community Service, and the 1979 Notable Americans. He has held six located ministries in Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Kentucky. Since he started the GTO ministry in 1968, he has served in 25 of the United States, and six foreign countries which are Mexico, Haiti, Korea, Philippines, India and Burma. During this time he has preached 250 revivals and averaged from 200 to 400 souls baptized into Christ each year.

GTO was started during the summer of 1968. A cross-roads decision was necessary for Bro. Larry. Desiring that more precious souls be reached through Christ, he launched out on faith, organizing the GTO Evangelizing Association. The three-fold purpose of GTO remains as it is today:

- (1) starting and assisting new congregations,
- (2) conducting soul-winning revivals and clinics,
- (3) working for God and country.

Support for the GTO ministry comes from a host of Christian friends and churches of like precious faith whose missionary support makes every bit of what GTO accomplishes possible. GTO is governed by a board of trustees.

Larry started the GTO mission to Haiti, which is now called Sharing Christ's Love, and led by Almer Vanden Bosch. One GTO Evangelist is Leslie Wilkerson whose mission took him to the Philippines. Bro. Larry heads up his ministry here in America and in overseas programs and the GTO reserves program which assists new congregations in securing a building, and is the Director of GTO.

The Brodhead Christian Church is most happy to have Bro. Larry conduct their revival and prayerfully invites the public to come and hear his plea for the restoration of New Testament Christianity in a non-denominational congregation of Christians only!

3rd Grade Students Recognized for Attendance: Last school year, the 3rd grade students of Sue Ford, Darlene Cameron and Jennifer DeBorde were awarded for best attendance with a trip to Frankfort to see the Capitol and the Governor's mansion. Representative Danny Ford guided the students on tour. They enjoyed seeing the seats of Mr. Ford at the House of Representatives and Joe Lambert of the Supreme Court. Each student received a certificate as Honorary Page. Following a tour of the capitol, the students were on the lawn at the time of Governor Martha Layne Collins' arrival by helicopter. A picnic lunch was enjoyed at the park before returning to Mt. Vernon. Bus drivers were Larry Travis and Roland King.

ROUNDSTONE GIRL SCOUT HAYRIDE

The three Girl Scout troops at Roundstone School started the year with a hayride and uteror toast. There was a total of 47 people participating. We want to thank all the parents for donating food and thanks to the renters who went along with us. Also, a big thanks to Dick Rucker for the hay. What's a hayride without hay? We also want to thank the drivers, Thomas Coffey and James Cornelius. We want to plan another hayride at the end of school.

Bro. Larry W. Jamison

ROUNDSTONE GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Roundstone School has started Girl Scouts with a "bang" this year. We have registered more girls than ever before.

There are two Daisy Scouts and 29 Brownie Scouts. Kathy Coffey is the leader of these troops. Also the Junior Scouts has 14 girls. Their new leader is Allene Cornelius.

We want to thank Allene for joining us and giving our girls a chance to learn about Girl Scouting. It is a very rewarding experience to teach girls about Girl Scouting and it's fun for the leaders to learn also.
