"This is only one of a number of similar information sessions we're holding this summer," said Dr. Marion Ogden, director of the EKU Division of Extended Programs. The open meetings will be held in 32 counties, he said. "We're going to every county in our service region and to the counties surrounding Madison County," Ogden said. The EKU Campus II schedule will include more than 100 off-campus courses offered at 20 sites across Kentucky. "Our listing of fall off-campus classes isn't complete yet," he said. "If a person has a suggested class in a given location, we very much want to talk about that and perhaps we can work out a way to bring the class to his or her county." "We're very interested in talking to people about future class offerings, and this is an attempt to move toward advanced planning, so people will know about the courses and the time and days they will meet," Ogden said. Volume 101 - Number 39

Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456

Citizens Bank, Mt. Vernon Branch on Hwy. 150 opened Monday

Citizens Bank branch opens

Citizens Bank of Brodhead announced the Grand Opening of its new office in Mt. Vernon. Located on U.S. 150 west of Mt. Vernon, the office will employ approximately seven area residents.
Executive Vice President Keith Smith will initially manage the new banking center, which opened July 18th.
The new Mt. Vernon banking center will offer full service banking. Commercial banking and lending services will be available, along with a full line of retail services, including safety deposit boxes.

Two new drive-in windows will make banking easier than ever for Citizens Bank customers. Regular bank hours Monday through Thursday 8:30 a.m. till 3 p.m., Fridays 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturdays 8:30 a.m. till noon will provide customers the chance to bank at their convenience.
"The opening of our Mt. Vernon office will make Citizens Bank more accessible for everyone throughout the county," according to Bobby Proctor, President. "We always welcome new customers at Citizens Bank, and we're pleased to be able to provide the best possible service to all our customers - old and new alike."

The Grand Opening celebration will last throughout August with drawings for three 20" color TVs and free gifts (while they last!) for anyone who visits the new Mt. Vernon office of Citizens Bank.
"I mean all districts should be checked along with Brodhead and Mt. Vernon," Crawford added.
Mayor Cromer said the task force should discuss all phases of water usage in the county and make some decisions and recommendations on what to do if the times come when water is scarce.
The mayor said he hoped it would never come to the point where there would have to be a price increase to encourage less use of water.
Denver Burton, president of the Western water district, came to the meeting to discuss water pressure problems and the water supply to the Water task force begins work

A task force, charged with monitoring Mt. Vernon's water supply and with recommending measures to offset drought conditions in the future, convened with the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night.
They heard:
A water study should be made soon to determine usage;
the water plant may have to be expanded;
residents should begin thinking of ways to conserve water;
last weekend consumption dropped by 100,000 gallons a day and the lake is an inch higher;
no to let the recent rains lead to the belief the drought is over.
Mayor Gary Cromer told the group that it is better to plan before the fact than to wait until the fact and have no plans.
"If we know the problems it will be easier to solve them," the mayor told the task force composed of Henry Hines, Lee Gabbard, Johnny Wilcop, Gary Asher, Richard Barry, Delmer Vanzant and Lottie Savers, all representing various organizations and businesses.

Jack Crawford, Burnside engineer who has been in charge of upgrading the city water plant and system, told the group before doing anything, a water study should be done to determine usage in all areas of the county.
"You should do this before spending $150,000, more or less, to expand the plant," Crawford related. "You need to know what you need before you spend a lot of money."
Crawford added, however, that he would speculate that the water study would show the need for some expansion.
He said the city should determine the actual water consumption, the amount of water sold in all areas, water pumped for sale, and water lost through leaks and other ways.

"I mean all districts should be checked along with Brodhead and Mt. Vernon," Crawford added.

Nearly 10,000 'pot' plants found, burned in Rockcastle

Once upon a time tobacco was Rockcastle County's number one cash crop.
That was quite awhile ago.
For the past several years marijuana has been the number one revenue crop in Rockcastle County. But last week state police and forest service made a big dent in this year's gross revenues from the sale of the illegal weed, seizing nearly 10,000 plants.
On Thursday police located 34 plots of marijuana in the Sand Hill area of the county. With the help of a state police helicopter 30 officers moved in and destroyed 4,733 plants. The marijuana was valued at around $5 million.

The efforts of the state police are part of their annual marijuana eradication program in which each year they use helicopters and ground crews to try to locate as much of the illegal crop as possible, according to Gilbert Acciarro Jr., Kentucky State Police Public Affairs officer at the London Post.
One arrest has resulted from Thursday and Friday's raids. Tommy Lovell of Route 5, Mt. Vernon has been charged with cultivating over 25 marijuana plants for the purpose of resale, a felony.

According to court records Lovell is due back in court Aug. 3, after he filled a $200 cash bond.
Before coming to Rockcastle County Thursday afternoon, police found 272 plants in Laurel County. At one of the locations on White Oak Road in the Daniel Boone Forest, steel traps were found in a pot patch.
According to Acciarro last week's activities was the first of many concentrated raids on marijuana. Acciarro also said that further arrests are expected from last week's raids.

Farmers to get disaster relief

By: Richard Anderkin

Relief for local farmers came in two forms this past week. The rain brought much needed moisture to the fields and a federal declaration of the county as a disaster area.
Funds are now available from federal disaster relief programs, Harold Ballinger, County Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office (ASCS) announced Tuesday.
The county has been declared a federal disaster area because of the summer drought, and programs are available to help farmers who have suffered losses on grains, pasture and hay crops.
Ballinger explained that under the federal guidelines, eligible applicants will be able to receive cost sharing on any feed purchased and they may also purchase government-stored grain at a reduced price.
The stored grain will be shipped to a central delivery point in Rockcastle County, where it can be picked up. No delivery site has been set, he said.
The disaster declaration will also enable farmers to purchase corn at 75 percent of the current selling price, which will reduce the price from about $2 per bushel to about $1.50 per bushel.

Ballinger also released a listing of information farmers will need to bring to the ASCS office when they are applying for the programs. The list is below.
The types and acreages of each crop in the farming operations.
A list of all feed on hand at the time of application.
Copies of bills showing the type of feed purchased, the date purchased, the amount purchased and the amount paid for any feed on hand at the time of application.
Information about the disposition or sale of any feed produced in the farming operation or purchased by the applicant.
A list of all animals in the farming operations at the time of application, such as dairy cows, bulls two years old or more, cattle and horses one year old or more, cattle and horses six months to one year old, sows and calves less than six months old, swine over six months old, sheep or goats, lambs or kids, and types of poultry.

After the application is signed, a record of all purchases and sales of livestock and purchases and sales of feed must be kept.
A record of livestock that were born or died must also be kept.

Growers buy six hay loads

Farmers in Rockcastle need hay and have responded quickly to an announcement that Oregon hay will be available locally soon.
To date, Rockcastle farmers have ordered six boxcar loads, according to Harold Ballinger, ASCS director.
Some hay has already arrived in Kentucky by air to help drought-stricken farmers, and some of that hay may be available in Somerset by the weekend for farmers in this district.
The hay will cost $105 a ton and will be distributed by lottery. Each county will submit five names for the drawing. Winners will get about half-a-ton.

The early arrival came by a 747 cargo jet belonging to United Parcel Service and arrived in Louisville for distribution.
The rail cars are not expected to arrive for about two to three weeks.
Signup for the hay ended Tuesday. However, some additional hay may be available later this year, Ballinger said.
The total amount purchased from Oregon may be as much as 10,000 tons.

Farm Field Day success

About 175 people attended the annual Rockcastle County Farm Field Day at Steve Bullen's farm last Friday afternoon. The event, which is spearheaded each year by County Agricultural Agent Tom Mills, is held to help local farmers with any problems they might be having and to give them new ideas on better ways to get the most out of their farm dollar. Above from left, Billy Gene Sigmon, Steve Trebelo, Willard Bullock, Harold Ballinger and Eric McKinney listen at one of the stops along the tour of the farm and above at right, folks on Terry Lawson's wagon listen to U.K. Tobacco Specialist, Gary Palmer talk about tobacco production and the effect the drought has had on the crop this year.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
On Saturday, July 9, Rockcastle County Band Boosters held a Bake Sale in Renfro Valley. We would like to take this time to say "Thank You" to everyone who helped to make our fund raiser a success.

We would like to extend a special thanks to Joe and Ann Henderson for letting us set up our stand on their property, to Earl B. and Wanda Cromer for use of their shelter, to WRVK Radio for advertising the sale, to Joe Allen, to Bible Baptist Church for use of their table and chairs, to all Band Boosters for donating their time working and making goodies for the sale, to Connie, Angie, Jennifer and Renée for working Monday.

We would also like to take just a minute to say "Thanks" to the Mt. Vernon Signal - you are so faithful to announce our meetings each month, at no cost to us, in your bulletin board section of the paper. Thanks for your support.

Please be watching for our next fund raiser and help us as we work toward our main goal of raising money to buy new uniforms for our band students.

Thank you,
Rockcastle County Band Boosters

Dear Sir,
Isn't it possible that Governor Dukakis will lose face over his choice of a running mate for vice president?

Jesse Jackson is a brilliant man and has the courage of his convictions. He stands tall on his views of morality, honesty and love for his country. Truc he has not held a political office, but he can match anyone in that capacity.

Jackson holds many honorary certificates from a Chicago seminary. He is very conscientious in regard to the poor and suffering people. He has stood up to face many powerful leaders, foreign and right here at home.

It's quite possible Dukakis feels a need for an experienced and older man to advise him, when a problem is too hot to handle, explodes.

Thank you,
Margaret Dyehouse

P.S. If anyone should ask for my opinion, I think Jackson is one perfect diplomat.

Dear Editor,
The following is in response to a letter to the Editor concerning flower arrangements being removed from the graves in Elmwood Cemetery.
During the mowing season, those flowers placed in a position that hinder or delay the mowing process are removed on the day the actual mowing begins. Due to the characteristics of our cemetery with its many headstones and foot stones and our limited amount of money, the mowing must be maintained in the most efficient manner.

Those flowers that are not a hindrance to the mowing are not bothered or removed. There is no directive to the mowers to remove arrangements within a certain time limit since the growing season determines the frequency of mowing.

After mowing season, any flower arrangement is permitted on the grave. We have had many reports of flowers being removed; however, our mowers only remove in the above mentioned manner.

As with most public property, the cemetery has the problem of security. Some visitors to our cemetery apparently have no respect for the dead and vandalism has been the result. Until this attitude changes, we will continue to have an unfortunate problem.

Dear Rite Aid/Begley Customer:

This is to inform you that beginning August 1, 1988, Rite Aid/Begley will no longer honor the Humana Prescription Drug Card in payment for prescriptions previously covered under Maxicare.

We regret having to make this policy change. Humana, recent acquirer of Maxicare, has informed us that Rite Aid/former Begley stores have been excluded from this plan.

In addition, we have learned that Humana's reimbursement level is significantly below the cost of doing business. In fact, the Humana price is below the reimbursement established for the poor and indigent programs in the state of Kentucky.

Rite Aid pharmacists will continue to fill your prescriptions under the Humana/Maxicare plan in the 39 former Begley pharmacies through July 31. Rite Aid currently operates 74 locations throughout the state of Kentucky.

We are sorry for any inconvenience this change in policy may cause you and encourage you to discuss other prescription plan options with your employee benefits administrator.

If you have any further questions about this policy change, please contact your Rite Aid/Begley pharmacist. To change your prescription drug program, please call your employer (benefits department) or, at Humana, John Morse, vice president of development, Humana, Inc., P.O. Box 1438, Louisville, KY 40201, or call (502) 580-1820.

Sincerely,
Rite Aid Management

"We quickly become close to patients and their families. This is person-to-person care."

Our Special Care Unit is a very warm place where the staff becomes a link between the patient and the family. These patients do require intensive care, and that care means nurses that are very skilled in not only the medical and technical aspects, but the psycho/social needs too.

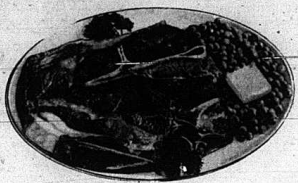

Anxiety levels are high for the patients' families... visitation is very limited, so we try to update them as often as possible. Plus, we explain the 'whats and whys' of all the equipment. This alleviates a lot of anxiety, especially when there's suddenly something 'different' on a loved one's monitor.

I'm very proud of our unit. Beyond the sophisticated support technology there's real 'feeling' care here. This is a special place.

EXTENSION HOME ECONOMICS

Canning guidelines changed for tomatoes

By: Cheryl Witt
County Extension Agent for Home Economics

You may not have any tomatoes to can if the drought continues, but if you do, be sure to follow new recommendations from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The processing times that we had been using for home-canning were developed in the 1940's.

Tomato varieties and canning equipment have changed since then, so the new recommendations are a welcome update and necessary for a safe, high-quality canned product.

The amount of lemon juice to add has been increased to two tablespoons per quart jar and one tablespoon per pint. The recommended amount of citric acid, which is now available at most grocery stores as a powder, is 1/2 teaspoon per quart jar and 1/4 teaspoon per pint.

Adding extra acid in the form of lemon juice or citric acid is now essential for safe canning, since several new varieties of tomatoes are less acidic than older varieties. Also, tomatoes from vines damaged by the drought may have less acid than tomatoes normally should.

All tomatoes should be acidified whether they are processed in a boiling water canner or a pressure canner. If, as a result of extra acid, the canned tomatoes are too tart, the flavor can be improved by adding a little sugar before serving.

Since tomato juice is usually not heated before serving, it is especially important that it be acidified before processing, they, like all low-acid foods, must be boiled or cooked to destroy any toxin that might be present.

Longer processing times are also necessary due to new tomato varieties and canning equipment. New lighter-weight canners heat and cool faster than the old heavy ones did, so filled jars must be processed longer to get the same heat penetration. Also, since today's tomatoes are more solid, heat penetrates more slowly, so a longer process time is required than is needed for a juicier product.

For further information about canning tomatoes, watch this column in weeks to come or contact your County Extension Office. A limited supply of publications are available, free of charge, from the Cooperative Extension office, located in the Agriculture Service Center building.

Water Conservation in homes

Water conservation in the home may not be a big issue most of the time; but this year's drought could make this summer the exception to the rule.

Water costs less than telephone service, rarely is used off completely and disappears without a trace, so many people have never felt a need to conserve it. This year, however, weather conditions are clearly out of the ordinary and appear to be so for the rest of the summer. We may be forced to take water conservation measures that are out of the ordinary too.

Water consumption could increase dramatically as the hot, dry summer continues, while most municipal water districts are already pushed to the limit on their pumping capacity.

What happens if a motor goes out or a line breaks? Even routine maintenance cannot be performed if equipment has to run continuously.

Home residents should know how to conserve water in case such an emergency should occur. To conserve water, they should know where it is used mostly and where it normally is wasted.

The largest user in the house is usually the toilet where five to seven gallons of water are used with every flush. It can be adjusted to use less or a brick can be placed in tank to displace water.

You need to be careful to make sure the toilet still produces an acceptable water flow to flush the bowl properly, or a second flush might be required. More water is used for two or three flushes than for one good one.

A shower rather than a tub bath is another way to save water. Showers use much less water than tub baths. Even more water can be saved by turning the water off while lathering faucet can run five to ten gallons of water per minute when full open.

North Carolina Farmers return gesture of thanks

By: Tom Mills
County Extension Agent for Agriculture

An old saying, "What goes around, comes around", was certainly the case last Saturday morning for fifteen Rockcastle County farmers picked by lottery to receive donated hay from North Carolina.

The summer of 1986 found North Carolina and many of the Southeastern states in a severe drought. A plea for help in saving their livestock brought about the Kentucky hay train. Twelve concerned Rockcastle County farmers supported the hay train by donating 675 bales of hay.

Two years later, Kentucky farmers are facing the same problem with providing livestock feed in the midst of a drought. Paul Walker, County Extension Agent for Agriculture in Alamance County, North Carolina, said, "Our farmers want to show a gesture of appreciation. We realize the uplifted feeling by knowing that someone cares. In fact, we are starting to get dry, but farmers wanted to ship the hay to Kentucky anyway. You know how farmers stick together."

The feeling of support was also evident in trucker Gene Anderson's comments. Gene operates a small beef farm with twelve to fifteen brood cows and remembers trying to provide feed during 1986. Even in 1988, some of his neighbors are finding smaller hay crops, but they all want to do their part in saying thanks. Gene and relief driver, David Watson, drove to Kentucky Friday night following their normal day's work with Wicker Trucking Company, donating their time and transportation expenses to help Kentucky farmers.

The 440 bale load was received enthusiastically by local farmers. In a time when hay is scarce, "every little bit helps".

One truck load will not ease the shortage, but knowing the concern from one farmer to another may outweigh the cargo.

Unloading hay from North Carolina are James O. Smith, Henry Hayes, Bill Randolph, Wesley Mays and Eddie Eversole. North Carolina farmers returned hay they received from local farmers two years ago.

What an exciting time - 4-H Camp!

By: John McQueary
County Extension Agent
for 4-H

During the week of July 4-8, sixty-one campers, four adult leaders, and four teens from Rockcastle County attended the J.M. Felner 4-H Camp. During the week campers got to take three classes of their choice, ranging from swimming, boating, crafts, archery, rifle, etc. There were 22 classes to choose from. The theme for July 4-8 was Wet, Wild, Wonderful Water. Putting a great emphasis on water and water quality. Ken Cooke from the division of water in Frankfort did various water projects with the campers. The theme on water went hand in hand with our current drought situation.

Sixty-one Rockcastle County 4-Hers had a great time at 4-H camp. The following 4-Hers attended camp: Alison Birney, Nicole Blair, Saben Blair, Jason Bullens, Kevin Burdine, Carmen Clark, Marcia Coffey, Melanie Coffey, Beth Collins, Jana Cornelius, Aaron Cox, Jonathan Cox, Lois Cromer, Kristi Cummins, Melissa Cummins, Angela Daugherty, Vanna Deborde, Mitchell Durham, Rachel D. If you could not attend 4-H camp this year, make your plans to attend our 1989 4-H camp.

The singing career of Cissy Houston, mother of singing sensation Whitney Houston, is chronicled in Cissy Houston: Sweet Inspiration airing Wednesday, August 3, 9 p.m. on KET.

At the age of 5, Cissy Houston was belting out gospel with her family group, The Drinkard Sisters. In the early 1960s she "crossed over," and with her nieces Dionne and Dee Dee Warwick, quickly became one of the hottest session singers in New York City.

Cissy Houston: Sweet Inspiration also features an intriguing mosaic of archival footage and stills from The Golden Age of Gospel and the Soul Years.

Nazarene Church News

Vacation Bible School was held at the Church of the Nazarene July 12-15.

All were happy with this successful school. Mildred Smith and Florence Worden of Portage, Ohio brought many illustrated lessons on the theme of Light.

They had many old lamps, oil lanterns, etc. to bring out the theme "Jesus is the light of the world." We enjoyed the new songs they taught. The crafts, always a big part of V.B.S., were fun for everyone.

Oh! how we appreciate our director - Lois Cameron. We know she managed many hours of extra work, worked into an already busy summer schedule. Lois tried to be two or three places at the time and almost succeeded.

We appreciate the refreshments and say "thank you" to all who had a part.

The closing service, Friday night, was sweet and impressive. Such singing! You should have heard "Arky Arky." We were glad for those who came, parents, grandparents and one great grandmother.

An outstanding feature of this Bible School was that nearly all the children living neighbors to the church were in attendance. We have Sunday school classes for these same children and are looking for them.

New Law Effective July 15 - $50 Fine For Violators!

Kentucky law mandates that any resident parent or legal guardian of a child, 40 inches in height or less, shall have their child properly secured in a child restraint system meeting federal motor vehicle safety standards while transporting said child in a motor vehicle owned by that parent or guardian. The term "motor vehicle" shall not apply to recreational vehicles or trucks having a tonnage rate of more than one ton. An amendment to the law adds that if all seat positions in a pickup truck are occupied by persons other than a child 40 inches in height or less, the law does not apply.

Amanda Sturgill tried out the phone system during the visit to the Kentucky Horse Park on June 23.

Summer activities for children from FLC program

"Hello? .. Yeah, Okay. .. Uh-Huh. ..OK. .. Bye?" said Amanda into the phone. Carissa walked up to the glass-framed display area and looked curiously at Amanda.

"Do you want to talk?" asked Amanda.

"Who is it?" Carissa asked.

"It's my dad, and your dad-it's anybody's dad and he's talking to us."

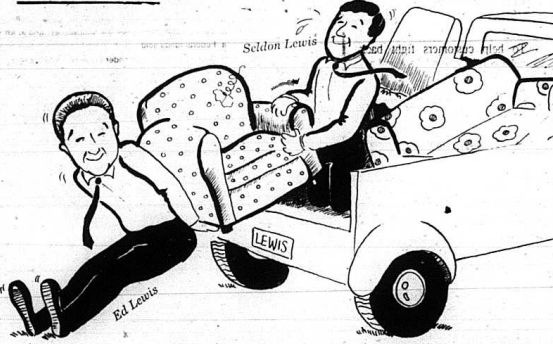

This was just one of the many delightful conversations overheard at the Kentucky Horse Park during the field trip taken by the fifteen children enrolled in the summer program of the Family Life Child Development Center. The focus for this three week program was getting ready for Kindergarten by introducing some seat-work, practicing writing names, and tying shoes. Unit themes such as nursery rhymes, summer sports and summer fun also helped with listening skills, speech, pre-math skills, large-motor skills and fine motor skills. It is hard to say who enjoyed the program the most--the children or the teachers. Our deepest thanks go to Jim Hale at the Lake Linville boat dock for making our fishing poles and letting us catch all those "sea-weed" bass; to John Hollbrook, who let us "walk on a roof you can mow!" and to Berca Caddy Shack Golf for treating us to a golfing afternoon (even though the balls went backward more than forward). Most of all, we thank you parents for sharing your most precious treasures with us.

From August through May, the family Life Child Development Center has a program for three-to-five year olds. We have two sessions: from 9-12 a.m. and from 12-3 p.m. five days a week. Our staff of nine works closely together to create a loving and creative environment. Through free play, group activities, music, art, inside and out side activities, field trips, etc., we help children learn to feel good about themselves, others and the world around them. Parents are closely involved in our program so that family goals and our program goals can come together in a positive way. We do still have a few openings for the fall. We are closed all of July, but for more information you can call Joyce Harvey at 256-5613 after August 1 between 8-9 a.m. and 3-4 p.m.

Dove, Duck Season

Dates for the 1988 dove season are Sept. 1 - Oct. 12 and Nov. 24 - Dec. 11. The dove season is 10 days shorter than last year, but the daily bag limit has been raised to 15 and the possession limit to 30. Last season, daily bag and possession limits were 12 and 24, respectively.

The reason for the shorter season and increased daily limit is that toward the end of the first part of the season, many doves have already migrated south and hunting opportunities in Kentucky decline greatly. Allowing hunters to bag more birds during the early part of the season provides more hunting opportunity when greater numbers of doves are available.

The early duck season will be September 7 - 11 this year. However, due to poor nesting conditions, the worst on record in Canada, only wood ducks may be taken during this season. Kentucky is one of only three states in the lower 48 to have a September duck season in 1988.

The daily bag limit will be two wood ducks, or one wood duck and one duck of another species, except canvasback which are protected by state and federal wildlife laws. Teal numbers have declined drastically from losses of wetlands and waterfowl habitat through increasing amounts of agricultural development and drought conditions in northern United States and Canadian breeding grounds.

Zachary Isaac Crawford celebrated his second birthday on June 8th with a party at McDonald's in Somerset. Those who helped him celebrate were: Jackson and Rhonda Bray; Tyler and Debbie Gibson; Colby, Suzanne, Ronnie and Debbie Brown; Jessica, Rochelle and Connie Riddle, Richard Nathan and Natalie Sewell; Jeff, Roy; Emily and Marcus Repper; Joshua and Joan Garrison; Amy Jo McClure; Robin and Jenny Mullins; Kendra, Loralee, and Marcia Eldridge, His Uncle Denny Halcorn and his grandparents Dennis and Bon Ami Halcorn were also present. Zachary is the grandson of Dennis and Bon Ami Halcorn of Somerset and Dave Crawford of Belton, S.C., and Jean Jones of Piedmont, S.C. and the great grandson of Shirley M. and Sarah Cable of New Albany, In. Zachary is the son of Pat and Lana Crawford of Somerset.

Mr. and Mrs. Rick Neal of Lexington announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, born June 29, 1988 at Patti A. Clay Hospital in Richmond.
