News from Maple Grove Missionary Baptist

Just a few words to let everyone know what's going on at Maple Grove Missionary Baptist Church.

First of all, we would like to thank all the merchants who made donations and/or gave discounts regarding our Thanksgiving baskets that the Young Adults Class put together and also a special thanks to those now helping with the Christmas baskets being made up by the church. The merchants included Mt. Vernon Foodtown, Save-A-Lot, Superior Food Market, Foodland at Brodhead and Ruby's Fruit Market. And, also another special thanks to Dave McCauley and Taylor's Produce for their help. We appreciate your support.

Our Christmas play, entitled "No Room at the Inn," will be put on December 18th at 6 p.m. and following that our traditional Christmas treats will be passed out. Everyone is invited.

We would also like to make welcome everyone to our annual Watch Nite service at 8 p.m. on December 31st. Singing that night will be "The Renneers" and our own Maple Grove singers. So, everyone come on out and have a good time in the Lord with us. Merry Christmas!

Poet's Corner

Mom and Dad

By: Gail Clark

So many times in the paper I've read
Poetry written in honor of the dead
Lucky am I, for I still have today
To make sure they hear what I have to say.

I may not have said how much I love you, mom or that I appreciate you so much for all that you have done
I could never have made it without you as my guide
Thru thick or thin you've stood by my side
So many times you've told me the right and wrong things I do
And I'm sure you think I never listen to you
But I want you to know, mom, I do.
All your teaching will never escape me tho I'm sure you've wondered if I even heard
But I assure you, my mother, I've computed every word.
My life's goal was to be the best mother on earth
But none can beat the one who gave me birth.
"I love you momma."

And, daddy, my hero, my favorite of all men
Thru all my life you've been my friend
You've always seemed proud of me, no matter which way my life was going
Tho you've always hidden your disappointment, your pride in me is always showing.
"I love you, daddy."

By having you both I've always known and felt your love
And for the both of you I give thanks to our Lord above.

Can You Tell Me

By: Mayzell Ries

"In you tell me?
I'd really like to know,
Why is the grass green?
Why does it snow?"

Why do the birds sing
their happy songs?
Why does the sun shine
all the day long?

Why are the mountain tops

all covered with snow?
Can you tell me?
I'd really like to know.

True Greatness

By: Bernice Wilson

A man is as great as the dream
he dreams.
As great as the love he bears
And the happiness he shares.
A man is as great as the thoughts
he thinks
As the worth he has attained,
As the fountains at which his spirit drinks,
And the insight he has gained.

A man is as great as the truth he speaks,
As great as the destiny he seeks,
As great as the life he lives.

The Undertaker Song

By: Floyd W. Stokes

In my youth I was walking around,
I met an undertaker down town.
He passed by without giving me a glance,
For to get me then he knew he had little chance.
I met him again when I was old,
This time he was friendly and bold.
He thought to himself, it won't be long.
He passed the time and said I better be shoveling along.

If you get up of a morning, you're ahead of the game.
You turn on the radio, everything is just the same.
You hear the funeral man say "Make arrangements today,
For after you die you won't be able to pay.
I want to get my money now while you're still alive,
So don't wait till that day arrives.
The undertaker advertises like they can't wait,
Till death will be your state.
They can't bury you while your still alive,
If they could get permission, they sure would try.

When I die don't let them undertakers get me.

Just put me in the yard beneath the old locust trees.

There let me sleep till the judgment
date.

They can't get me then, it will be too late.
The moral of this song is don't give up.
Or they will come by and bury you,
While they're still standing up.

Happenings

By: John Holtbrook

Up in Cincinnati over a back yard fence
That's how this story did commence

It was Rosella Reynolds who did say How is Maria Piccions doing this day

She's doing fine don't you know
But wants something new for a TV show

And as this story continued to unfold
A call was made to Shirley McCowan I've been told

Calls were made around London City
For this story to stop would've been a pity

I didn't know this was happening at all
But my friend Shirley had received a call

A question was asked of this friend of mine
Could you think of a story that would be fine

She told them straight and was off the hook
When she gave the name of John Holtbrook

Writing poems he's mighty strong Interview him and you can't go wrong

This information that was about to be
Was given to Maria at WKRC

I was unaware of this at all
Until from Maria I received a call

At Social Services the phone did ring
Again I answered the blasted thing

I said "Good Morning" in a voice so serene
I didn't want the caller to think I was mean

"I am Maria" the caller did say
And I want an interview on Friday

Interview me was my questioned reply
I didn't understand and I didn't know why

She said she worked in Cincinnati
for WKRC
And she had heard some things about me

Maria, Maria you're funning me
Cause I'm just a country boy don't you see

She then explained why the call
And she weren't funning none at all

She said, I got it from a good friend
of mine
That you could make about anything rhyme

When writing is slow, I tend to brood
But rhyme pours out when I'm in the mood

I just write down what comes to mind
It's no trouble, and by golly it rhymed

She said, "My friend George wanted to talk to you"
"I'll talk to you more cause I'm not there"

The Mt. Vernon Signal Thursday, December 15, 1988 P-B7

This man's voice came on the line
Requesting a little time of mine

George said "he didn't want to sound brazen
"But could I write a poem for an occasion"

So on ole George I used my persuasion
That I could write for any occasion

I can write a poem if I must Something so funny your sides will burst

George said, "at funerals and dis-voices, people bite knuckles
Could you write something to fill them with chuckles"

I told him I reckoned that I could knowing "very soon" that I would

George explained he worked in Cincinnati town
And on Friday they plan to come down

Maria was back a talking to me
I couldn't believe this don't you see

Down to London they plan to roam
And wanted direction to my Rento
Valley home

I gave her directions as clear as could be

So they'd have no trouble a finding me

Between today and tomorrow she promised to call
In the meanwhile I was to get on the ball

Set my typewriter upon a stand
And find all the poems that I can Spreading them out on a table that's dark

And some of the best I was going to mark

As she hung up she said bye
I was giddy with my head in the sky

Very soon I told some folks
That the phone call must be a hoax

I called my friend Tom just to see If he was pulling this to get even with me

He'd be out of the office for today
So I told his secretary what I called to say

But on the morrow Maria called back

Farm Credit Service members to make decision on merger

Farm Credit Services announced today that stockholders of the Production Credit Association of the Fourth District (PCA) and the Federal Land Bank Association of the Fourth District (FLBA) will have the opportunity to vote in late December and early January whether to merge the two organizations.

Branch Manager, Larry T. Conner, explains, "We think stockholders will be pleased with the merger proposal. With the financial strength gained by joining the two organizations, stock requirements on all new loans will be reduced to 3 percent."

At present, the stock requirement on PCA loans is 8 percent, and 5 percent on FLBA loans.

If the proposal is approved, stockholders who currently have loans with the association will have their stock converted to the new stock program. Stockholders with adjustable or variable rate loans will have all stock above the 3 percent requirement retired. Stockholders with fixed or fixed/adjustable loans will not be eligible for the automatic stock retirement, but will have their stock requirement reduced at the end of their fixed term. Mr. Conner says anyone with questions about what would happen to their stock should call the office at 846-6598 or out of county members for all toll free 1-800-221-7597 for a full explanation of the conversion and retirement process.

Mr. Conner says the merger would cause any disruption to service to members. "Farm Credit Services made the major changes when stockholders voted to consolidate operations in 1985. We combined staff and offices then. This merger will mainly affect our bookkeeping. Members will see virtually the same service as they have for the last three years.

The merger vote is a result of the Agricultural Credit Act of 1987 which called for votes to take place between members of all PCAs and FLBAs serving substantially the same territory." Prior to the passage of the Act, a merger of the two organizations was prohibited.

Since 1986, the two organizations have been jointly managed and staffed and operate under the name of Farm Credit Services.

Stockholders will receive the full disclosure about the merger by mail in December. The information will include a proxy ballot for a mail-in vote, as well as an invitation to a special stockholder meeting which will take place January 5, 1989.

The PCA and FLBA are both farmer-owned cooperatives and were formed by congress in the early part of the century to finance American agriculture. The PCA makes short and intermediate term loans for livestock, operating expenses and capital purchases. The FLBA makes long term loans for real estate and housing.

The local office is located at 1106 South Main Street, London.

YOUR CHILD'S HEALTH

By: Dr. John Payne

A recent research project in Cleveland indicates that children as young as six years of age can be taught how to control situations which will help them cope with various health problems. Conditions such as migraine headaches, malignancies, hemophilia, bedwetting and others were studied. Children need very simple relaxation techniques which will help them cope with various health problems. Conditions such as migraine headaches, malignancies, hemophilia, bedwetting and others were studied. Children need very simple relaxation techniques which will help them cope with various health problems. Conditions such as migraine headaches, malignancies, hemophilia, bedwetting and others were studied. Children need very simple relaxation techniques which will help them cope with various health problems.

The peak age for hypnotic susceptibility seems to be from 7 to 10 years of age. After this, there seems to be a cultural bias toward reality and away from imagination which makes learning such techniques more difficult.

Children with migraines were able to decrease the frequency of headaches greatly, though the pain was just as severe when they did have an attack. The improvement remained one year later.

Even more amazingly, children were able to increase significantly the level of immunoglobulins, or proteins used in fighting disease after watching a movie using puppets to explain their immune system and then using mental imaging to "help" their body make more globulins.

Children should not be given specific images to think of to reduce stress, but should dream up their own.

Examples dreamed up to help prevent migraines included koala bears, orange elephants, blue liquid, unicorns, skiing, surfing, and playing with computers. Whatever happened to lying under an apple tree in June and looking up at the clouds? The human mind is an amazing thing.

Strep Throat on rise

In case you hadn't noticed there is almost an epidemic of strep throat going around in local schools. We have discussed strep in this column before, but it bears repeating given the very large number of cases currently in the schools.

There are of course more cases of strep throat in the winter time when children are in close contact in school. Although the type of strep involved in pretty much always the Group A beta hemolytic variety, some strains are different from others. Sometimes the variety of strep causes a lot of people to develop allergies to it and break out in a very red rash called scarlet fever or scarlatina.

Such is the case right now. Many young children are developing the rash of scarlet fever along with their sore throats with the current round of sickness. The rash, which is bright red, and most prominent in the folds of the skin, the groin, and the elbows, and which leaves the skin rough and "sandpapery" and the fingers peeling, is best considered as a hypersensitivity reaction to the germ. It does not mean the strep throat is worse than without the rash, but it still needs prompt treatment.

Most doctor's offices have one of the new 10 minute tests for strep, which beats the two day wait for a throat culture. You really can't tell about strep by only looking down at the throat. There are studies that indicate long lasting shot of penicillin is the best way to treat the strep. Medicine by mouth can also be effective if all doses are taken.

Symptoms can include headache and stomach ache almost as much as a sore throat. If your child complains of headaches especially, and has a fever, you should think of strep these past couple of weeks.

It is really important to treat strep adequately to help prevent the possible complications of rheumatic fever and kidney damage.

Penicillin allergies should be checked out

Doctors almost always ask if a patient is allergic to any medicine before writing a prescription or giving an injection. Frequently we are told "Mary is allergic to penicillin." If she is really allergic, of course she should never be given this drug. Unfortunately, all too often we find that the history of allergy is all too vague to hand such a lifetime label on the child. If a patient can't take penicillin, this means they can't be given most of the first line drugs used for ear infections, strep throat etc. Amoxicillin, ampicillin and Augmentin are out, and there is some crossover allergy with drugs such as Ceclor. This leaves only the sulfa drugs and erythromycin, which often upsets the tummy.

Sometimes parents say the child had diarrhea after amoxicillin; this is not an allergy, but an expected side effect. Sometimes they say the child broke out in a rash, and they assumed it was due to the medicine, and so stopped the drug. Usually a doctor did not see the rash, and so only the family's description is available. Sometimes the child develops an unrelated viral illness associated with a rash, and this is confused with drug allergy. A certain percentage of children will develop a rash if given ampicillin when they have mononucleosis, but this is not a drug allergy. They may develop an allergic appearing rash due to some food or plant allergy while taking medicine and assume the drug is the culprit.

The only way to tell for sure is to have your child tested for penicillin allergy by an allergist. A couple of skin tests and a blood test is all that is required. Most insurances will probably cover such a test. This is much better than labeling the child as allergic to penicillin, and thus cutting off the use of the most useful drugs we have available to us. Real penicillin allergy is rather rare.

Council wrestles with traffic, burning, ducks

Council highlights
Privilege license increase ok'd
Changed traffic and parking
Put burning ordinance on hold
Changed meeting date
Prohibits duck hunting at lake
Approves annexation study
Story in adjoining columns

By: Ray McClure

Ordinances approving an increase in privilege licenses for businesses in Mt. Vernon and prohibiting parking on Richmond Street were among announcements made by the Mt. Vernon City Council at its Monday meeting.

But, an ordinance prohibiting burning was put on hold until the next meeting of the council and/or until the council could reach a decision on what regulations it wants to include in the ordinance.

The council discussed what could be burned, where, when and how, but could not reach a consensus on what to include.

The council voted earlier to draw up an ordinance to prohibit burning, but City Attorney Carl Clontz, at his last regular council meeting, said he had been unable to complete the burning ordinance but would have it before the end of the month and in time for the January meeting.

No parking on Richmond Street to allow the state to make a left turn lane between the railroad and Negro Town Hill Road had already been passed by the council. The State Highway Department has agreed to do the work.

The council in a 5 to 1 vote, with Councilman Tommy Buscell voting "no," eliminated the first parking space on the south side of Main Street at the Richmond Street intersection, across from the Signal office.

That intersection will be changed to three lanes with a right turn lane, a left turn lane and straight-on lane, and the third lane eastbound. The council had previously eliminated parking spaces on the north side of Main Street at that intersection.

As reported earlier, the privilege license tax increase was approved by the council and the ordinance enumerating the amount will be found on another page of this issue of the Signal.

Annexation revisited

Annexation of areas adjacent to Mt. Vernon city limits was before the city council at its Monday meeting.

Mayor Gary R. Cromer appointed a committee to study the annexation and come with recommendations.

Appointed were councilmen Bill Swinney, Wayne Adams and Tommy Buscell.

The annexation question has not been before the present council for discussion. However, it had been mentioned on at least two occasions.

Under the original plan, the city proposed to annex three areas. One was along U.S. 25 north to Renfro Creek bridge, or possibly to include the Renfro entertainment complex.

The second area was along U.S. 25 south to the I-75 overpass, or possibly beyond.

The third area was along U.S. 150 to the Ky. 461 bypass.

The annexation, which was brought up and discussed many times during the term of Mayor Roland Mullins, never got off the ground because of a lack of money for the detailed survey required by law in annexation cases. The cost at that time was estimated at $2,500.

The newest annexation attempt would face at least one changed requirement passed at the last session of the Kentucky Legislature.

In the past, an area could be annexed if all residents within the area prescribed agreed. If 50 percent disagreed then the proposal would have to come to a vote. To prevent an annexation 75 percent would have to vote against the proposal.

Currently, only 50 percent would

Resignation, retirements highlight board meeting

By: Jeff Hammond

Retirements, resignations, and personnel moves were the order of the night as the Rockcastle County school board met in regular session Tuesday night.

Three resignations, one from a teacher, Johnnie Tapp, and two bus drivers, Preston Nummelley and Lorella DeBord, will become effective Dec. 31, 1988.

Retiring from the school system after over 27 years of experience are Garlan M. Cummins, Finance Office Director of Administrative Services, and Margie Wilcox who has been the choral program director at the high school. The retirements will be effective December 31, 1988.

To fill the expected vacancies the school board unanimously approved the hiring of Richard L. Bray as finance officer and Johnna Ward to fill the chorus position. Bray had previously been the school transportation director. Ward has been the elementary music teacher for two years.

In other personnel moves the board approved a leave-of-absence extension for Janet Carter, first grade teacher at RCHS. Hired to replace Carter was Michelle Parkerson.

To fill other vacancies created by the shuffling of employees were: Caroline Graves at Brodhead Elementary, Parkerson and Gerald Alexander at Mt. Vernon Elementary, and Elizabeth Moore to fill the vacancy of elementary music teacher.

A report of the fiscal year 1988 financial audit was presented by board employed CPA, firm of Garsika, Lawton and Clontz.

Two members of the firm Joe Clontz and Ruth Lawton, gave the board their highest opinion, "clean" which indicates that the board has no deviations or problems. "The records are well maintained and kept under the current manual system," said Mrs. Lawton.

The next few years capital outlay money will be budgeted for the new school. Money for new roofs, and rooms for the current facilities will have to be financed by this board. This is why we must have good knowledge of our budget," said Superintendent Bige Towery, Jr.

The board met briefly in executive session to discuss the evaluation of the superintendent. The evaluation is for in-house purposes and is not available to the public.

ASCS election

Richard Lawrence received 196 votes to be elected to the Rockcastle County ASC Committee at a committee election Dec. 5.

Two alternates were elected, Cecil L. Northern, first alternate with 119 votes, and Herbert Lear, second alternate, with 115 votes.

The committee is now composed of holdovers Shari Brown, Benton Bullock and Lawrence.

In the voting William F. Martin got 78 votes and Henry Hayes 70 votes. Farmers in Rockcastle elect all committee men.

Attorney Carl Clontz received a plaque from Mt. Vernon Mayor Gary Cromer for Clontz's 25 years of service as City Attorney. Clontz attended his last official meeting Monday night. He will be replaced by his son, John.

More candidates file

Ten more candidates have filed this week for county offices in the May primary election bringing the total to 16.

Filing for a second consecutive term as jailer was Billy Kirby.

In Magistrate District 1, James T. Moore of near Brodhead has filed. It would be his first term as a magistrate. The seat is now held by Glen Ellison.

Three have filed for magistrate in District 2. Filing this week was incumbent magistrate Jack Bradley. A

Mt. Vernon barber, he is seeking a second term on the Rockcastle Fiscal Court. He joins Michael Mink of Calhoun and Wayne Bullock, service station operator.

The candidate list is growing in Magistrate District 3 where five have filed. J.R. Brummett Jr. filed first followed by D.G. (Alex) Albright, a farmer and former magistrate; Gary Scott, Brodhead teacher, who replaced Doug Bishop until the past November election when he was in

Gospel sing success

Santa Claus will visit a lot of needy youngsters and families as a result of last Friday's benefit gospel sing at Renfro Valley.

A total of $500 in food, about $518 in money and some toys and clothes were contributed in lieu of an admission charge to hear the Renmers and Different Way singers.

According to Dr. George W. Griffith, a singer with Different Way, the groups were well pleased with the sing. He estimated about 350 attended.

"With the weather, time and competition with ball games, I thought we did very well," Dr. Griffith said.

REAP will get the food for distribution. The money, toys and clothes will be distributed by volunteers under the Department of Social Services.

Baker's attorney, Jerry Cox of Mt. Vernon, entered a plea of not guilty for his client, claiming that he was acting in self-defense.

Cox is expected to enter the same

Local men sentenced

By: Richard Anderkin

A Mt. Vernon and Brodhead man were sentenced last week in Rockcastle Circuit Court for unrelated crimes.

Stacey McCracken of Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon was sentenced to 3 years in the state penitentiary and then placed on probation for 5 years for cultivating marijuana for the purpose of resale.

According to court records, McCracken was arrested after state police detectives found 11 plants of marijuana growing behind his residence on Aug. 18.

When McCracken was taken into custody police found a water hose leading from his house to a garden spot where he was growing the marijuana.

In his report former KSP Detective Ernie Boggs said the marijuana was also visible from the road.

McCracken was also sentenced to 3 years in the penitentiary and placed on probation for a September indictment that charged him with First Degree Burglary. McCracken was accused of entering the home of Ray and Charlotte Isaacs of Rt. 3 Mt. Vernon in July carrying a deadly weapon.

McCracken was also ordered to pay the Isaacs $175 in damages.

Dry time

It's been a dry first half of December, according to records at Cox Funeral Home weather station.

Only .17 of an inch of precipitation has been recorded, which includes an inch of snow on Dec. 9 and half-inch on Dec. 13.

The high for the month was 61 on Dec. 7 and the low was 8 on Dec. 12.

These children spent some time visiting with Santa Claus (Junior Sandusky) at Friday night's Benefit Gospel Sing at the Barn in Renfro Valley.

Shelia Nicely placed her donation with the others at Friday night's Benefit Gospel Sing at Renfro Valley. Many who attended gave money instead and about $500 was donated in addition to several hundred dollars of food, toys and clothing.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Your article on Ms. Lamb, failed to tell the whole story. Ms. Lamb has about 30 dogs take or add a dozen. She has filled a stream with dog food bags and other garbage. If she can feed that many dogs she can buy herself a stove and repair her window.

My son bought a 4 1/2 acre farm in back of Ms. Lamb and Mr. John Gilliam, the appraiser who appraised the farm, wrote on the appraisal report quote "there is an old house and lot located at the entrance of the property. This property is in poor condition and has 15 or 20 dogs in pens and on chains. This factor could be detrimental to the sale of subject property."

She has a garbage dump across the road and she has a good car. I think at her age she could do a lot better than she does. One thing she could do is get rid of all those dogs and spend some of her time cleaning up her property.

If for one won't help any one who is nasty or feeds that many dogs. I don't understand why the environmental agency or the health department don't make her clean up the garbage she is dumping in the stream that runs into Roundstone Creek. It's a mess and I've personally seen her throwing the garbage in the stream.

I'm writing this letter to let the people in Rockcastle and all other counties know that the story of Julie Lamb that was in last week's Signal was not true. Julie Lamb is better situated than most people in Rockcastle County. She gets a S.S.I. check every month, food stamps, medical card, she has a nice car and continually stays on the road going places, trying to get someone to give her something all the time. Julie has plenty of coal to burn. She now has a big pile of coal lying in front of her house that has been there every since back in the summer. She has just got the check from where she signed up on the heat assistance this year. She told her neighbor that she didn't need the coal from the check hauled, that she had plenty. Then she says that she doesn't have any heat. She also stated that she lived in a two room house, that is not true, the house she lives in has four rooms and has always had four rooms.

She also has television, radio and anything else that she wants. She stated she had no way to cook except on that little stove. That is not true. She has almost a new gas stove, she does not have to heat her house with that little stove. She says she doesn't like a big stove because it gets her house too hot.

She stated she knew nothing about the weatherization working on peoples houses. This is not true because she was married to a man that worked for the weatherization. She said she was going to get her house fixed. It wasn't long after she said that until a new top was put on her house and the house was underpinned. She also stated that after her father died she lived alone with her mother. That is not true, she has never spent one night alone with her mother. She was married when her father died. Her brother did not run her off. She and her husband moved from one of her dad's houses into the house she is now living just because she wanted to move. Her mother tried to get her not to move but she did anyway.

She won't stay at home long enough to clean the junk up around the house and that is the reason it looks like it does in the Signal.

She just wants someone to feel sorry for her and give her help so she won't have to use her own money. She puts up said tales to people all the time that are not true.

She has also got eight big German Police dogs that she keeps in a pen behind her house that she feeds and takes her good care of.

Anyone can feed that many dogs does not need any help from the Signal. I want the people in Rockcastle County to know that the Lamb Family would not let one of their people get in that kind of shape and not try to help them. The Lambs do not appreciate their name being put down that way as the July Lamb put it down in last week's Signal. Anyone who reads the Signal needs not to think Julie Lamb needs help because she doesn't.

Dear Editor,

There seems to be more and more confusion about the folk lore of Santa Claus. There are those who think Santa has a religious connotation or they think certain religions revere Santa Claus. Santa is just another including how he rode over the snow in his sleigh drawn by his reindeer on Christmas Eve to give surprise gifts to the children. A lovely act of charity, but purely imaginary, in the same way that nursery rhymes were created to delight the children.

As a very young child, I was delighted by stories of Santa and the Pied-Piper or Humpty-Dumpty, the Cow that Jumped Over the Moon, the Cat and the Fiddle, etc., as I grew up I began to accept the bare facts about Jesus and how He came into the world to teach us the difference in right and wrong. The ironic truth about how He had to be crucified to save the faithful Christians from eternal suffering. These are facts to be decided by adult minds. The young children should be kept happy and innocent as long as possible, and allowed to learn as they grow.

I thank God for all little children and wish they could all be happy with healthy minds and mature into adulthood to thank God every day for Jesus who died so we could enjoy eternal happiness in paradise.

Thank you very much. I remain as ever,

Dear Editor,

I am an employee at Mt. Vernon Plastics. I have been with this company for four years and in all these four years I've never needed a third party to help with any problems I may have had.

Some people seem to think they need to pay dues to someone else to get them to go in the office and talk for them and usually get no results either!

Well, I have a big mouth and if something doesn't suit me I can walk in that office and talk it out; it is always worked out for (good of all concerned) maybe not always my way, (but I'm not always right, either) and I don't need a Union Steward to go in there and (so called) bargain for me.

When people bring a Union in to negotiate for them, then they're saying they don't have enough backbone to stand up for themselves. Well if they feel they're right they need to stand up for themselves, not to go to someone else and take the chance on being sold out.

If I bring someone to my home to work on or to someone to work on my car I have to pay them cash. Well, most of these people who want a Union say they're not making enough money, well believe you me if they get their Union in our company, they will pay cash and plenty of it. They need to sit down and add up their profit sharing checks, quarterly premiums, turkey check, plus their insurance and then compare that with what their dues are going to cost them and see which side they will get the most cash from.

When they bring their Union in they are taking the chance of losing all present benefits (and frankly that scares me, especially my insurance) going on strike then they will have no cash but the dues still have to be paid or you are fined.

What most of these people don't realize if they are on strike there are no benefits, no insurance, no unemployment checks, no welfare, no food stamps, no nothing especially cash which seems to be their main goal.

Well, when I sit down and look at these bare facts I believe I am much better off like I am, right now. I have it all, (I can go in that office right now and talk to my supervisor myself, I have insurance, I have floating (paid) holidays, I have profit sharing, long term service checks (every 3 months) all the overtime I want, My own choice.

With the Union they have (1) no choice in matters, (2) dues to pay, (3) always the worry of a possible strike, (4) and a cash fine for opening their mouth (speaking up for themselves). Thank you for printing my view, Beatrice Chasteen

Dear Editor,

We would like to express our appreciation to all those who helped with the Rockcastle County Benefit Singing for foster children and needy families. The singing was held last Friday evening, December 9th at the Renfro Valley Old Barn. In addition to many fine donations, the benefit also provided a wonderful community Christmas program. Donations at the benefit included five hundred and eighteen dollars ($518) in cash; worth of groceries; one hundred and one (101) toys; twenty-seven (27) articles of new clothing; and, nine (9) packages of candy. Special thanks goes to the following organizations, businesses, and individuals:

The Renner's; The Different Way; Ann Henderson; R.E.A.P.; Santa Claus; Rockcastle County Chamber of Commerce; Mt. Vernon Lion's Club; The Shriners; Mt. Vernon P.T.A.; Brohead P.T.A.; The Mt. Vernon Signal; WKV Radio; other radio and TV stations in the area who advertised the benefit.

All who donated toys, food, candy, money, clothing.

Wendell Renner for organizing the event.

We also wish to thank the Maranatha Sunday School Class and the First Baptist Church of Mt. Vernon for the Christmas party and the Christmas gifts for foster children. The party was held on Monday, Dec. 12. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Sincerely,

ACLU should meddle elsewhere

The Kentucky branch of the American Civil Liberties Union (has filed) suit to stop the Nativity scene at the state Capitol in Frankfort. The ACLU cited its obligation to protect the rights of minorities and to grant the separation of church and state.

Shenanigans such as this one are among the reasons that voters of mainstream America recently turned thumbs down on a presidential candidate who boasted of being a card-carrying member of the ACLU.

Perhaps the initial intentions of the ACLU were of the highest order, and certainly no one would advocate denying the protection of the Constitution to any of this country's minority groups; but what about the rights of the majority? Should the rights of the majority be suspended because some self-appointed group such as the ACLU presumes to speak for America?

In its pretax to safeguard our freedom of religion, the ACLU is in actuality attempting to ban public expression of same.

Our founding fathers were religious men, and they bore no shame in that fact. The history of our country and a trust in God run parallel. The banning of religious expression smacks of persecution reminiscent of the catacomb days of ancient Rome.

Observance of Christmas is a part of our national heritage and should remain so. People come to the Nativity scenes of their own free will; and unless a time ever comes when they are dragged away at bayonet point, most of us would prefer that the ACLU find something else to meddle into.

Ladies' Aid

Christmas Dinner

By: Elizabeth F. Mullins

The Ladies Aid Missionary Group met at Betty Machal's home in Mt. Vernon, Saturday evening, Dec. 10th with all members present for our annual feast.

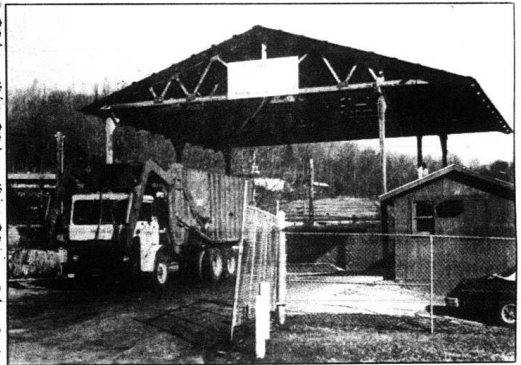

First, we partook of Betty's prepared turkey, dressing and dumplings with all the side-dishes brought by the rest of the ladies, after a blessing by Ella Mae Martin.

After this feast, Mrs. Martin read a letter from Brenda Disken, thanking us for the notes we had sent her as well as our monthly donation to help in their mission work.

Jenny Gilpin presented our lesson. She told us that from beggars to kings celebrated Christmas in the middle ages in England; kings were crowned on Christmas Day; the Magna Charter was signed on Christmas Day; and the "Order of the Garter" was (Cont. to A6)

EXTENSION HOME ECONOMICS

Time for Everything

By: Cheryl Witt
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Short of inventing a 29 hour day, how can you ban the "too-much-to-do" holiday syndrome? These six rules can help you survive the holidays.

1. Plan ahead and set priorities. Think through all the things you MUST -- and all the things you MIGHT -- do this holiday season. What you want to accomplish probably falls into two areas: activities with people or preparation and household chores. Decide what's important -- cleaning the refrigerator or joining the church carolers -- then keep your priorities clearly in mind.
2. Plan backwards to meet deadlines. This works when the schedule is tight with firm deadlines. List the dates of parties and special events and when things need to be finished -- gifts made, packages and cards mailed, shopping and decorating done. Decide how long each project will take and fit blocks of time in an orderly way, meeting deadlines as you move along.
3. Use a checklist. Write down everything you need to do. Checking off each task as completed adds a feeling of being in control.
4. Get organized. Any task gets done faster when needed supplies and tools are on hand. Check stocks of wrapping paper, ribbon, tape, mailing materials, cards and labels before a gift-wrapping session. Frustration flares when the scissors are lost and the only tape on hand is for freezer packages. Check your food inventory, too. Many holiday recipes call for seldom - used spices and other special ingredients; take stock well before a baking session.

5. Use a master schedule. On one calendar, write dates, times and locations of all the events involving you and your family. This reduces conflicts and extra trips.

6. Group your errands. Avoid spending too much time "on the road". Group errands and shopping trips. If you can, shop when stores are least busy. Use lists so you don't overlook or forget things that can add annoying and time-consuming extra trips.

To keep the holidays festive, not frantic, try these extra hints: maintain balance -- allocate some time to work and some to rest; alternate active and quiet activities; prepare for the unexpected -- get a few extra all purpose gifts; and refer often to your priority list to remind yourself of what's really important in your holiday schedule.

Local Home Economist attends State Meeting

Cheryl Witt, Extension Home Economist of Rockcastle County, attended the annual meeting in Louisville of the Kentucky Association of Extension Home Economists. County Extension Agents from across the state attended the two-day meeting, which focused on the National Initiative for Cooperative Extension Programming. Agents also attended workshops on various committee duties dealing with the Association.

Exhibits on outstanding projects were on display at the meeting. Awards were presented for research studies, and outstanding projects in communications, media, progress, public affairs.

Additional awards were given to agents for contribution to Extension Home Economics and to a paraprofessional for recognition of excellent programming.

Sunshine Homemakers hold Christmas Dinner

The Sunshine Homemakers Club met Dec. 3 at 7 p.m. for their December meeting and a potluck dinner.

Brenda Powell showed us how to make paper pinwheels for Christmas decorations. She provided such an array of material that everyone made pinwheels of different colors and styles. All eight members present enjoyed this lesson very much.

Candles and poinsettias decorated the tables and the food was so tempting that most of us surely ate too much. We weren't thinking about willpower or any sort of diet. After dinner we played games and there were prizes for the two best players. Then we exchanged gifts. What struck me as unusual was that no two gifts were even near alike. Everyone had a very good time and probably wish we could do this potluck dinner more often.

After devouring the meal, we relaxed to hear Patricia Fletcher, our president, call a short meeting. The men went to another corner to visit and exchanged their gifts.

The ladies' Secret Pals were revealed when they received their package, causing exclamations of surprise. A decision was to draw in January for 1989 for Secret Pals. Let Clara Proctor know if you want to be included in this yearly custom, please! Also, pay dues if you haven't, to Clara.

The Christmas Door Prize was won by Ella Mae Martin. The prize was donated by Gail's Florist Shop.

Next meeting will be Jan. 26, 1989, at Barbara Watson's home.

Then our monthly collection was taken up, that totaled more than usual. Our "drawing" for hostesses, lessons, and Secret Sisters for 1989, ended our meeting.

As we left the Machal's beautifully artistically decorated home, we bid everyone a "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year."

Green Hill Auto Parts, with Marlane Kirby, at left, as assistant manager and Debbie Witt seated, as manager, recently opened on U.S. 25, 5 miles north of Mt. Vernon.

Jeff Cromer will open a four-bay car wash next to Convenient in Mt. Vernon sometime next month.

Herman Smith of Hummel bought the largest tract last Saturday and Rudolph Burdette and Jan Stevens purchased the other two tracts of Don Richardson's farm located off the Buckeye Hummel Road, at public auction. The entire 756 acres brought $121,000.00. Smith paid $101,000 for 568 acres while Burdette got 80 for $7,000 and Stevens got 109 for $13,000. Later on Saturday the house and lot of the late Mrs. Clarice Tallant on the corner of Lovell Court and Lovell Lane in Mt. Vernon was bought by Ms. Rose Smith for $24,400.

Ford Realty and Auction Company of Mt. Vernon conducted both sales. Green Hill Auto Parts recently opened 5 miles north of Mt. Vernon on U.S. 25 on the right. Managed by Debbie Witt the new auto parts store carries a complete line of parts

"ORDINANCE" (Cont. From Front)

The ordinance makes substantial increases in business licenses in Mt. Vernon. It is the first time the licenses have been changed in 24 years.

Basically, there are 22 business licenses that will be $100 a year. There are 42 that will cost $75 and 50 that will be $50. No licenses are under $30.

A third ordinance has also been passed by the council. It changes the meeting date of the council from the second Monday in the month to the first Monday.

The council made the change since in some months the meeting does not occur until nearly a third of the month has passed, thereby causing many paying. The next meeting of the council will be at 7 p.m. Jan. 3, a Tuesday, since Jan. 2 is an official holiday.

The council approved drawing up an ordinance prohibiting duck hunting on Lake Lavinille.

The council earlier voted no hunting on the lake, but did not draw up an ordinance. The council was told there has been hunting at the lake in recent days.

Former Mayor Elizabeth Baker, representing Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center that is constructing a building near Valley View Apartments, asked the council to take over the street in the area after the building is completed.

Mrs. Baker said the center and apartment owner Jerry Ikerd would split the cost to get the street up to city requirements. She also asked the council to consider the same proposition on the private sewer lift station that serves the apartments.

The council agreed to have the Street and Sewer Committee to look into the matter.

City Attorney Clontz received a plaque from Mayor Cromer and the council in appreciation of his 25 years as city attorney.

"LOCAL MEN SENTENCED" (Cont. From Front)

found Paul Davidson of Rt. 3 Broadhead guilty of theft by failure to make required disposition of property over $100, on Nov. 9.

Last Friday Veners sentenced Davidson to one year in the penitentiary and placed him on probation for 3 years. One of the conditions of Davidson's probation is that he serve 60 days in the county jail.

Jurors found Davidson not guilty on another charge of failure to make required disposition of property over $100 on the same day.

He was indicted on both charges last March by a Rockcastle County Grand Jury after he failed to return rented video movies to Video Attractions in Mt. Vernon.

Also on the same day as Davidson had his trial Circuit Judge Veners entered an order dismissing manslaughter charges against Danny R. Dillingham of Rt. 1, Broadhead, and Darrell V. Dillingham of Rt. 4, Mt. Vernon, at the request of the Dillingham's attorney Carl Clontz.

The Dillinghams had been charged with the beating death of their father John Dillingham in December of 1986.

Veners dismissed the charges because of evidence from the state medical examiner's office that Dillingham died from injuries caused by a fall to the ground.

State Medical Examiner George Nichols in his report said that the fact that Dillingham's blood alcohol level was 0.24 percent probably led him from breaking his fall with his hands.

Also the only eyewitness to the incident said that the altercation was caused by the father.

have to disapprove.

Considerable controversy erupted during the previous attempt to annex the three areas, with at least two groups passing petitions and both claiming they had the necessary number of names. It was never resolved, but it was solved temporarily by the lack of money for the survey.

As could best be determined, it appeared there would have been little opposition to the proposal north and west of the town. The major opposition appeared to have been south.

Proponents told property owners being in the city would decrease their fire insurance and would eventually lead to sewer lines, street lights and better streets.

Opponents claimed the amount of insurance savings would be small and the city could not afford to install sewer lines, sidewalks and streets, and that annexation was just a scheme to raise money.

"Maybe we should go ahead and test the whole thing," one councilman said. "That way we'll solve the whole thing for the next few years."

People believe if you hang a string of onions in your house you will be healthy.

Groundbreaking held for Asahi Motor Wheel Co.

Ground was broken Tuesday in nearby Pulaski County for a newly formed aluminum wheel company plant, Asahi Motor Wheel Co., Inc.

Several local and company officials were on hand for the ceremony.

President Douglas V. Switzer told those present that the basic reasons for locating in Pulaski County near the Ky. 80 - 461 intersection are, proximity to potential customers, the availability of labor, the positive spirit of community leaders and the favorable life-style of the community.

"We're pleased to be a part of this area and it is our firm goal to be a good corporate neighbor," Switzer added.

Organized as a joint venture between three existing companies, the new company will have an initial work force of about 120 employees, and will produce and sell aluminum wheels for the North American automotive and light truck industry, according to President Douglas V. Switzer.

Construction of the new facility will begin later this year. It is expected to be completed during the latter part of 1989 in time for participation in the 1990 vehicle year, according to Switzer.

Employees will be hired predominantly from the Pulaski-Rockcastle area, Switzer said. The facility will involve every operation in cast-aluminum wheel production, including melting, casting, heat-treating, machining and surface finishing. Initial yearly production will be approximately 500,000 wheels.

Asahi Motor Wheel Company, Inc., is owned 50 percent by Motor Wheel Corporation, 40 percent by Asahi Malleable Iron Company and 10 percent by Toyomenka.

Headquartered in Lansing, Mich., Motor Wheel is a major manufacturer of wheels and brakes for the automotive and truck industries, and is the world's largest producer of styled steel wheels. Asahi, headquartered in Japan, has a diversified product line and is a leading manufacturer of aluminum wheels for the Japanese automotive market. Toyomenka is an international trading company with a worldwide network of 125 subsidiaries, branches and representative offices.

The new company will be operationally independent with a board of directors and operating committee.

Switzer was formerly director of quality assurance for Motor Wheel. He joined Motor Wheel in 1957 and saw subsequent service as draftsman, research and development technician, process and methods en-

RCHS boys easily handle Western Anderson 68-53

By: Jeff Hammond

The Rockets quest for the first victory of the season ended last Friday night with a 68-53 decision over Western Anderson.

After two straight road defeats at Mercer County and Sayre, the Rockets returned home to earn their initial victory of the season.

The Rockets jumped out to an early lead due largely to their defense and hot shooting by Kris Ponder and David Owens. "The team played more like they play in practice against Western Anderson," said Coach David Perkins.

The first quarter ended as it had started, on a three-point field goal by Kris Ponder. Ponder had his second 30-point night of the season on Friday night.

Good defense played a large part in the 16-7 first quarter advantage for the Rockets. However, in the second the Rockets were continually plagued by turnovers. The halftime score was 33-23 in the Rockets favor.

Ponder kept the score board clicking in the third quarter and the Rockets lead was extended to 21 at one point. The Rockets also got a good performance from David Owens and Kevin Parrett. Parrett and Coleman did a good job on the boards against the taller Anderson Eagles.

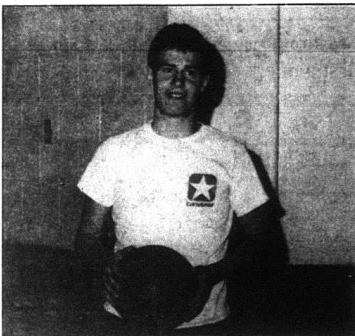

The Rockets shot over 50 percent for the game. In order for the Rockets to be successful this season they must continue to shoot equally as well and play good defense.

Coach Perkins agreed and said that with the Rockets size, good shooting was essential.

In addition to Ponder's 30, David Owens chipped in with 12 as the only other Rocket in double figures. If Ponder and Owens can continue their shooting the Rockets could improve dramatically as the season continues. Other Rockets breaking into the scoring column were: Mike Barron with 5, Steve Clark and Kevin "Shamu" Parrett 7 each, David Sargent 3, and David Eaton, who went down with a stress fracture, and Adam Coleman 2 each.

This Friday the Rockets play at home for the second straight

Freshman win first game

By Jeff Hammond

What does the future hold for boys' basketball at RCHS?

In Monday's 39-30 win over Model, the freshmen team looked sensational at times, and at times looked something less than average.

The freshmen team jumped out to an early 11-4 lead over the obviously less talented team from Richmond. William Bullens was the big gun early, scoring the first eight points of the game for the Rockets.

A couple of treys and a driving shot in the lane, by Bullens, gave the Rockets some needed momentum.

Coach Ryan Kiddle's squad seemed a little hesitant at first to take their open shots and not sure of their assignments on offense. Obvious freshmen mistakes.

The lead continued to grow in the second quarter as 12 men saw action for the freshmen team in the first half alone. The halftime score was 22-8 in the Rockets' advantage.

However, in the second half the freshmen team came out sluggish and lost their momentum and saw their lead disappear.

The outcome of the game was never in doubt, but the Rockets allowed the Patriots to get much closer than they should have.

It could take the freshmen a good length of time before they are comfortable in the adjustment from grade school ball to high school.

Bullens, 13 lead the Rockets. Mike Durham added 8, Kevin Mullins with some good board work had 5, Chris Ponder 4, Chris Newland, Josh Smith 3 each, Micah Parkerson 2 and Greg Richards 1. Scott Parkes, floor general for the freshmen, played but did not score.

game against Estill County. Homecoming, which was scheduled for last Friday night was postponed until this Friday.

The Estill County team will provide the Rockets with some stiff competition, according to Coach Perkins. "Size wise they are not that much bigger than us, but they have some good shooters if you leave them open," Perkins added.

Following the Estill game, the Rockets play on the road at Caswood on Dec. 22, their last game before a break for the holidays.

Football banquet

By: Kevin Rowe

The Rockcastle County High football team held their banquet Dec. 1, to present awards of excellence and to generally look back at the fine season they had this year.

A fine meal was followed by speeches made by several speakers. Opening comments were made by Principal Ronnie Cash followed by a few words from Rockcastle School Superintendent Bige Towery. This was followed by speeches from Dr. Michael Ray and his staff from the U.K. Sports Medicine Program.

Dr. Ray and his staff were very important to the team this year by taking excellent care of the players medically.

Next the coaches presented the awards to the players with outstanding performances during the season.

All players which participated in over half the quarters this season were presented with letters for their letterman jackets.

Players receiving specific awards were presented with trophies.

Best Offensive Lineman went to Chad Merritt for his outstanding blocking. Chad also showed his excellence in the classroom which earned him the Most Academic trophy.

Bobby Hayes' defensive prowess earned him the Best Defensive Lineman Award.

Chuck Napier won the Best Overall Lineman for his combined blocking and defensive play.

Chuck Shields won Best Defensive Back honors for his 61 tackles and 3 interceptions on the season.

The 110% Award went to Les Scalf for drive and determination on the field.

The Most Dedicated Award went to Chad Burdette for his persistent dedication to the game while Chad also won the Best Offensive Back Award for his exceptional passing at quarterback this season. His passing also made him the seventh ranked quarterback in the state.

Adam Coleman won the Leadership Award for the role showing his teammates a good example of hard work and dedication. Adam also won the Varsity M.V.P. Award, the highest award, for the combination of his leadership, tackles, receiving and punting.

Jr. Varsity M.V.P. went to Jason Chastoon for his fine jr. varsity season.

Freshman M.V.P. was a tie between Mike Bradley and William Bullens.

Congratulations award winners and all the Rockets for a season to be proud of!

The demand for aluminum wheels in the U.S. auto and truck market has increased substantially during this decade. In 1981, less than 5 percent of all U.S.-built passenger cars came with aluminum wheels as compared with 24 percent in today's market. In addition to a weight advantage, aluminum wheels offer flexibility of design and enhance the appearance of a vehicle.

Farm Bureau convention delegates make endorsements

Kentucky Farm Bureau convention delegates endorsed an increase in tobacco leasing limits, but rejected three other proposals to liberalize the leaf support program, during their annual business session, concluded Dec. 10, Louisville.

Under the new policy, which had been recommended by Farm Bureau's Resolutions Committee, the organization will now support doubling the current lease limit of 15,000 pounds.

But they soundly rejected suggestions to: remove the lease limit entirely; allow cross-county leasing in contiguous counties; legalize the sale of tobacco quotas within counties.

Under current law, a grower may lease poundage up to the limit, from quota holders within his home county, but may not lease from outside that county. Allotments stay with the farms to which they are assigned, and cannot be sold separately.

In other policy action at the convention, the Farm Bureau delegates passed a resolution saying that courts have no role in levying taxes or spending tax revenues. The statement went on to say that court orders or fines levied by courts against the state should be considered as "any other lobbying effort."

The policy was in response to a ruling earlier this year by Franklin Circuit Judge Ray Corns that Kentucky's current system for funding public schools is unconstitutional, because poorer school districts are underfunded.

Some estimates have suggested that $250 million or more in additional appropriations may be required to satisfy the judge's order. Farm Bureau will support proposals to deny driver's licenses to under-18 school dropouts or students who are failing their courses under another new policy.

Other new policies adopted would: Force plaintiffs in lawsuits to pay defendants' court costs in cases where the defendant wins.

Remove landowners' liability covering persons who enter privately owned lands for recreational or conservation purposes.

Oppose legislators raising their own salaries without a voter referendum.

Urge the governor to appoint a full-time farmer to the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees.

Support the granting of additional deer hunting permits to farmers who are suffering crop damage or having other problems with deer.

Ask that state parks and other facilities do not discriminate against smokers.

Support legislation to provide farmer representation on the State Fish and Wildlife Commission.

Support alternative classroom instruction in basics, and summer programs for students who need remedial instruction.

Oppose the sale of untreated noxious weed seeds in bird feed.

Give aggressive support to the use of ethanol as a gas octane enhancer and a pledge to fight anti-ethanol campaigns.

Oppose mandatory measured telephone service.

Support the drawing of reciprocal agreements between Kentucky and adjoining states so that farm truck operators won't have to buy fuel permits or additional licenses.

Support the reinstatement of the investment tax credit on federal income taxes.

DRINKING, DRIVING AND THE HOLIDAY SEASON

The Christmas season represents many things to many people. It is the joy of family members gathering together to share the special spirit of the holiday season; it is a time when people push aside their busy schedules to get together and renew friendships; it is also a time of celebration and reflection. As we make plans to attend neighborhood and business festivities, lets take a moment to think about the dangers of drinking and driving.

Over the past year, Kentucky has seen two tragic examples of drunk driving. In May, the lives of hundreds of people were changed forever when twenty-four teen-agers and three adults were killed in a bus wreck on Interstate 71 near Carrollton. The man who was arrested for crashing his truck into the bus has been charged with drunk driving.

Last month another horrible wreck grabbed headlines when an out-of-control pickup careened off the road and plunged through the home of a Henderson county family, killing the mother and father as they slept and narrowly missing a bedroom where their daughters, ages 5 and 6, were sleeping. Again, the driver of the truck has been charged with operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol.

Nationally, drunk-driving statistics are staggering: Over a quarter-million people have been killed in alcohol-related crashes over the last ten years. An estimated 560,000 people are injured each year by drunk drivers, with tens of thousands suffering permanent damage from spinal and head injuries. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration estimates that two-million alcohol-related crashes occur in the U.S. each year. These accidents cost $10 to $15 billion in damages, but what can not be calculated is the tremendous loss of human life and the emotional trauma families experience when they are torn apart by this senseless tragedy.

I am proud to say that Kentuckians have banded together and taken the lead to prevent other drunk-driving wrecks. Carroll County alcohol distributors and bar owners are setting an example for communities throughout the nation with a program to keep people that have been drinking off the road. Beginning this month, all 33 retail alcoholic-beverage-license holders in the county will provide free taxi rides to patrons who feel they have had too many drinks to drive. Many other Kentucky corporations, businesses and communities provide similar services during the holiday season.

When we gather to celebrate with family and friends let's be mindful of our responsibility to those we love. If a person has had a few too many -- do not let them drive. Provide them with safe passage home, get them a cab, or if necessary, take their keys away. If you know that you will be drinking, assign the driving duties to someone who will not be. By working together, we can make this a safe and joyful holiday season.

Miss Rockcastle pageant will be March 31 at RCHS

A new Miss Rockcastle USA will be crowned March 31 at the Rockcastle County High School gymnasium. The event will begin at 7 p.m. Danny McKinney, president of the Rockcastle County Chamber of Commerce, announced the chamber will sponsor the event for the fourth year in a row.

McKinney said he was proud that the girls of Rockcastle County will be given a chance to participate in the pageant.

"A pageant is a good confidence builder and nowadays in the job market you need a dose of confidence to land the job of your choice," McKinney said as previously done before, the businesses would be asked to sponsor the contestants, with the business receiving free advertisements in the pageant program. A new award category will be included this year, the crowning of Miss Hospitality who will reign for the year and come back the following year to crown the next Miss Hospitality.

Miss Hospitality will be the young woman that has sold the most ads for the program book.

"We the chamber members felt like adding a new dimension to the pageant which only makes for a better pageant," McKinney added. "The girls will be judged on poise, personality, ability to communicate and appearance in swimsuit, interviews, evening gowns and coming out competition.

The judges will be from out of the area and qualified in their diverse fields.

Mrs. Karen King is director for the fourth year. Her committee includes Judy Hansel, Doug Brock, Natalie Pybas and Sue Brock. Anyone wishing to help with the pageant should call Mrs. King at 256-5402.

Club. The award was made for the troops care and maintenance of the L & N Park in Mt. Vernon. Mr. and Mrs. Manuel D. Clark of Renfro Valley announced the engagement of their daughter, Sarah Grace, to Gary Lee Miracle, son of Mrs. Robert Hubbard of Mt. Vernon and the late Raymond Miracle.

Miss Jerrilyn Lynn Brown celebrated her first birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lee Brown of Orlando.

New telecourses provide off-campus opportunities

Registration is now underway at Eastern Kentucky University for Spring 1989 KET telecourses. KET telecourses are fully accredited college-level courses. Just as with on-campus courses, students have textbooks, professors, assignments, tests, and tuition. The main difference is that with telecourses, the majority of classes are broadcast on KET.

The Spring 1989 telecourse broadcast begins January 15. The curriculum offered at Eastern Kentucky University includes the following courses: America: The Second Century; For All Practical Purposes (Introduction To Contemporary Mathematics); Focus On Society; The Business of Management; and Ethics In America and War and Peace In the Nuclear Age, both of which will air during the KET evening schedule.

EKU also will offer The Middle School, which provides insight into the physical, socio-emotional, and intellectual uniqueness of middle school students.

More than 27,500 enrollments have been recorded for telecourses broadcast on KET since 1978. The main purpose of KET telecourses is to serve as a means of expanding and extending high education services to the off-campus learner, according to KET Higher Education Coordinator Mary Olson. That goal has been realized for many non-traditional students or "distance learners," Olson says.

"The off-campus learner may be handicapped, elderly or retired, institutionalized, or homebound for a number of reasons. KET telecourses are providing an avenue for non-traditional students to fulfill many of their higher education needs and dreams," Olson adds.

In the future, telecourse programming will increase as KET Star Channels are utilized along with the regular broadcast channel. "Consequently, the opportunities and options for choosing a telecourse will be even greater for Kentucky citizens," Olson explains.

KET telecourses are made possible by the Kentucky Council on Higher Education. If you would like more information about telecourses, or would like a free copy of the Spring 1989 Telecourse Booklet, please contact KET Higher Education Coordinator Mary Olson at (800)432-0970.

Consumers top list of mail fraud victims

Postal inspectors conducted 3,140 mail fraud investigations during fiscal 1988 and, as a result, made 1,488 arrests, Chief Postal Inspector Charles R. Clauson told the Postal Service Board of Governors today.

Nearly 44 percent of the victims were consumers, more than 39 percent were businesses, Clauson said, and more than 13 percent of the crimes were directed against the Postal Service or other government agencies.

Clauson told the Board that another 633 civil complaints were also filed in 1988 under the false representation statute, up from 485 in 1987. As an example of one recent false representation case stopped by the Postal Service, Clauson cited the Eurotrym Diet Patch advertised nationally in a TV talk show format at $50 for fifty patches.

"Evidence collected by postal inspectors determined that the product consisted of band-aids and tap water," Clauson said, "and the promoter has agreed to cease all advertising and to offer refunds to all persons who responded to past advertisements."

This-n-that Last week's story not exactly correct

By: Richard Anderkin

The outpouring of help was great. Mrs. Bradley Saylor offered a home with her. Mrs. Geraldine Gomer was going to pay men to cut firewood and move a stove to her home; a lady from Cincinnati called and asked how she could make a donation and a bigger stove was offered through the Rockcastle Weatherization Office.

But, for some reason for which I have no idea and now don't care at all, Ms. Julia Lamb obviously misinformed me about how serious her situation is in a story I wrote in last week's Signal.

But, from what I now gather from people who should know, Ms. Lamb's plight is not as desperate as I was led to believe. Family members say she draws a social security check and probably has money in the bank. The dogs she told me she was keeping for a man from Richmond, about 30 of them, she can apparently afford to feed because they are hers too.

Enough is enough and everyone's concern for a stranger was something that I guess is commonplace from good Rockcastle County folks. We have two letters about the story in our Letters to the Editor section this week which should explain the situation further.

I'm sure there are still people out there that could use a hand this Christmas season and, after what I saw last week, I have no doubt that they will get it if people know of the situation. And that speaks well for the people of this county.

Talking about this county let's talk about the garbage situation. A friend of mine said the other day that we should get Mt. Vernon resident Bob Howard to run for County Judge. You see, Bob picks up cans along the roadside and anywhere he finds the aluminum and, in turn, sells it for the going rate. The point my friend was trying to make is that Bob does more garbage collecting than the whole fiscal court.

Speaking of which, rumor has it that County Judge/Executive Hubert Thacker will probably seek a fourth term. He told friends earlier that he would run for magistrate in the first district. Apparently not. He will probably join Buzz Carlolis, Roland Mullins, Clarence Carter and Paul Kirby for the Judge's race. Sheriff Clarence Hasty, who has been preparing for a run himself for the judge's seat may have gotten cold feet. He has not filed and has told some that he might seek a second term as sheriff.

The only magistrate that has indicated that he will not run for reelection is first district magistrate Glen Ellison. But there will be plenty of hopeful candidates, reportedly including former Circuit Clerk Money Ed Cummins. Cummins hasn't filed yet but all indications are that he will do so.

There will no doubt be a slew of candidates for the magistrate seats and why not? There are probably no other part-time jobs in the county that call for such a pay scale and so little effort. About $800 a month is not bad for one meeting a month.

If you think that traffic deaths in the state of Kentucky that can be attributed to alcohol are not a serious problem, then go and find a Sunday Lexington Herald-Leader about lives lost due to the fact that people still get polluted and try to drive automobiles. Read about innocent teenagers who are killed because the guy who drove his car across the center line had a blood alcohol of .22. Read about the 29-year-old mother of two who was hit head-on by a drunk and killed and two children, less than five years of age, are left without a mother. It happens every 22 minutes.

Then, pick up a Mt. Vernon Signal, and see how many D.U.I. offenders who plead not guilty in Rockcastle District Court are tried. Laws are passed by the Legislature for a reason but they have been grossly ignored in Rockcastle County and other parts of the state. If a person blows .15 on the breathalyzer, it is supposed to mean that the case cannot be amended to a lesser charge but, in our fair county, these cases are not only

Childress gives Livingston students unexpected gift

Livingston Elementary School students will be having a merrier Christmas, thanks to a $1,000 gift received by the school Monday.

According to Principal Jerry Mink, the gift was sent by mail from Dr. Harold M. Childress, of Jamestown, N.Y., an orthopedic surgeon, with instructions "to let the children have a voice in spending the gift." Mink added that Dr. Childress, "wanted every student at Livingston to have a Merry Christmas."

EKU honors two students

Two students from Rockcastle County High School were among those honored Dec. 9, at Eastern Kentucky University's Language Career Day. They are: Rusty Moore, poetry first place; Fannie Martin, essay honorable mention.

The day, sponsored by the ECU departments of English and Foreign Languages, brings high school students into contact with guest speakers from the language fields, and allows students to take part in literary and language competition.

Speakers usually include a professional in one of the foreign languages, an educator, and a professional writer.

This year's guest speakers were: Rosemary Weddington, the state's 1986 Teacher of the Year in Spanish and now with the Division of Special Events for the Kentucky Department of Education.

Shawn Smith, co-anchor-producer-reporter for WKYT-TV, Channel 27, in Lexington.

Ed McManahan, author and teacher at the University of Kentucky. The language competitions were held in Spanish, French, German, and Latin, and English literary competitions were held in the essay, drama, poetry, and short story areas.

The money, according to Mink, has been divided equally among the 12 homerooms. The students are currently in the process of deciding how to spend the money, Mink said.

Dr. Childress will be stopping to say hello on his way to his winter home in Florida, Mink stated. He is a vibrant and energetic man that has done a great deal of research in the medical field and he has certainly been more than generous to our school.

Dr. Childress sent the school a $2,500 check last spring to be used for library and gymnasium improvements.

Born in Livingston in 1905, the son of J.W. Childress, a physician who practiced in Livingston from 1901-1920.

McFerron shots hand

Chester McFerron, 45, of Mt. Vernon, was treated in the University of Kentucky Medical Center Sunday for a shotgun blast to his left hand.

Police said McFerron put his hand over the end of the 12 gauge shotgun and pulled the trigger. The shot blew off his two middle fingers, broke the little finger and damaged bones in the hand.

 amended by the prosecutor and judges who are sworn to uphold the law, but they are dismissed after they are on the docket for so long. Drunk driving is a crime and should be treated as one. About a month ago, a Rockcastle County Jury recommended a penitentiary term for a man who had not returned some movies to a local video store. A crime, but not nearly as serious a crime as a drunk driver. That man was not endangering anyone's life as the man was who I followed out West Main Street in Mt. Vernon one day obviously so drunk that he could barely keep his car in the road, much less on his

Why I Say No to Drugs

By: Angie Lawless
 3rd place winner
 Mt. Vernon Elementary

They will kill one day you'll find and then the day you start you could die that instant.

You may think that they will make you feel real good, well don't listen to anybody, even if it is your mom, drugs will kill you.

If you want to live to be 90 or 100 and still be healthy "don't start!" Some people can trick you into drugs by slipping pot or cocaine or some kind of drug into your pop and then you drink it and get high and could die. If you don't know what drugs are, you don't want to know!! Don't take any if you do know about them!!!

Some people think they can stop once they start but believe me you can't. You get hooked on them real easily, so please, please, don't start. You don't want to decrease the population in this state, do you?

Don't commit suicide, don't you think we have already had enough people commit suicide? Drugs is about the easiest way to kill yourself. Don't even think about taking them cause if you do you will die and if you are my best friend I would not want my best friend to die cause I would really, really like my best friend!!!!

I would advise you to just say "No!", especially if you are in my family don't start. I don't want you to die.

I'm smart I'm not going to start. If you don't start you are smart too. Make a Just Say No to Drugs club and invite everyone you know to be in it. Have meetings as often as possible. Talk about drugs and why you should say no to them. Try to get Just Say No T-shirts for your club. You might save your friends life by keeping them from starting. Listen to me before it is too late!!!!

side. I called the police and he was arrested. But, according to court records, the county prosecutor said there was no evidence that he was driving his vehicle and no one bothered to ask me, I saw him driving. You see, he was sitting still when he was arrested. It sure makes you wonder if it was just another reason to dismiss a case and keep a vote.

Everyone is wondering and what many are speculating about what will be in the new structure on West Main St., next to DeBoard Oil Co. in Mt. Vernon. The land is owned by Ted and Verla Scott. Mrs. Scott is county Democrat chairman. She has been very quiet about the whole thing but most people, including yours truly, feel the structure will be the new home of the state welfare office for the county. Mrs. Scott still isn't saying but, the other day, I saw her on the site with a state official. I blew and she just smiled and waved. But she still won't say.

It is time to thank a few people who made my job a little easier this year, as in years past. They are always cooperative and, without their help, it would be almost impossible for us to publish a paper with news in it. Probably at the top of the list this year is Jailer Billy Kirby and wife, Gladys, and deputy jailer, Farmer York. You see, the jail does most of the dispatching for the county and if Billy, Gladys or Farmer know what's going on, they don't hesitate to let me know. Billy Dowell, Roy Martin, Bud Cox and Gary Hansel are always willing to provide any information they can as is Sheriff Jib Hasty. Carol Alcorn and Vicki Adams at the Rockcastle County Hospital put up with my pestering each day as does Denver Miller's staff. And, of course, the dispatchers at the London State Police Post are always very cooperative. Thanks, folks.
