Greetings to all you nice readers of the Signal!

We had a lot of rain last week and are now getting more, along with some thunder and lightning. The winter here has been very mild and not much snow. But Kentucky experienced much flooding last week, especially around Frankfort.

A large crowd attended worship services at Fairview Feb. 19th and one hundred and eighteen were present for Sunday School, thank the good Lord. We were glad to see our visitors and invite them back anytime.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgle Tinch and daughter Beth Johnson, husband Todd Johnson and infant daughter Rachel of Franklin, Ohio were here a week ago visiting Mrs. Tinch's mother, Mrs. Edith Mullins of Smider and other relatives, including Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ponder and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Croucher and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Poynter and Amanda. We are so thankful that Mr. Tinch's health is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Hayes of Winchester visited her mother Mrs. Mary Cope on Saturday.

Mrs. Debbie Smith and son of Berea visited her grandmother, Mrs. Edith Mullins of Smider, on Sunday.

Hubert and I visited my brother and family, Tip and Florence Reppert and daughter Melody, last Friday night. We had a very pleasant time, visiting is something we don't do as much as we used to, now we visit by phone. To me it is so nice to sit down and talk to people. I enjoy just talking to people I meet at the grocery, bank, drug store or wherever. I've always loved people and like to be with them. But too, I like to talk on the phone and just think the good Lord that we have phones.

Mrs. Mary Cope visited a dear friend, Mrs. Cora Hall, last Saturday afternoon.

My niece, Carol Knapp, husband Bill and daughter Traci of Wellington, Ohio, spent last Saturday afternoon in our home. They were in Kentucky to visit Traci who is attending college at Georgetown. They are so dear to us and we always enjoy their visits.

Other recent guests in our home have been Tip Reppert, Kenny Alexander, Wayne and Carolyn Chasteen, Joyce and Kim Seals and Robert Chasteen.

Allis Reppert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Reppert of Berea celebrated her 10th birthday Sunday at the home of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Tip Reppert of the Scaffold Cane area. (Her birthday is Feb. 21st). Present for the occasion were Tip and Florence Reppert and Melody, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Reppert, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Reppert and Ronnie Dale, Lindsey Smith, a little friend Allis; Rocky Wisner of Berea and Elizabeth Smith of Lancaster. Afternoon guests were Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Saylor. Everyone enjoyed the day and we all wish for Allis many more happy birthdays.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander last Monday were Hubert Chasteen and Tip Reppert.

Also Eugene and Hallie Alexander enjoyed a nice visit and delicious dinner at the home of his uncle Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Alexander of London.

Please try to attend church and Sunday School in the church of your choice. God is so good to us and blesses us in so many ways. Let's

Not present were: Jerry Makin and coach Mrs. Carolyn Bryant. (Photo by Steve Trebilo).

Erica Kirby is finalist

St. Xavier High School sophomore Duy Tan Nguyen is one of 18 finalists in the KET 20th Anniversary Youth Art Project. His work is featured on the February cover of the KET's 20th anniversary. Kentucky students were invited to submit artwork showing an appreciation of KET. More than 2,700 entries were received from schoolchildren around the state.

According to Tim Tassie, KET network director of broadcasting, "KET tries very hard, through its school services and home viewing programs, to serve the needs of children. A response like this lets us know that we are truly reaching a lot of kids."

The contest was divided into three age groups - grades 2 and under, grades 3 through 6, and grades 7 through 12. Six winning artists were selected from each of the three categories. The winning artists received $50 savings bonds and ribbons.

Erica L. Kirby, first grade Broadhead School, daughter of Ricky and Paty Kirby of Broadhead is one of the six finalists in the grades 2 and under category.

I was born on April 7, 1913 the daughter of the late Joseph Lettan and Lottie Carmichael McHargue, the first of nine children, three girls and six boys: Jean Baker of Louisville, Ruth Fain of Mt. Vernon, Joseph Lettan, Jr. deceased, Robert of Independence, Lee, deceased, Child of Evansville, Ind., Arthur of Indianapolis, Ind., and Wendell of Dallas, Texas.

My father was a business man most of his life. He ran a general store and served as postmaster for several years until his death on May 22, 1936. He suffered a stroke as a result of fighting a fire which burned the old Pine Hill Baptist Church, a dwelling and a store which joined our property. He, with the help of others in the community, carrying water from a nearby spring, was able to save our home.

I did not witness the event as I was away in school at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College. This was my senior year and during the graduation activities. I was unable to attend any, except the graduation exercises on Wednesday following his burial on Sunday. These memories are not happy ones.

I attended a two-room elementary school at Pine Hill, finished 8th grade receiving a diploma from Marvin Fairchild. School was out in January. The new Mt. Vernon Elementary and High School had just opened, I came to Mt. Vernon and entered the 8th grade, Miss Myrtle Bryant was the teacher. There I received another diploma. In the fall of 1928, I entered high school. This was four years of very happy, precious memories. Many close relationships were made which have lasted down through the years.

In Sept. 1932 I enrolled at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College and graduated in 1936. After my first two years, I received a Standard Elementary Certificate and decided to teach a year. This was the beginning of my career.

At that time teachers were hired by trustees in the local district. My father was a friend of Wilmer Chestnut who gave me the job at Maple Grove. This was a one room school. I enrolled 52 students in all grades except 6th and 8th. What a challenge I had before me, but I was determined to do my best. Former Rockcastle County Superintendent of School, Charles B. Parsons, was a third grade student.

The school day started at 8 a.m. and ended at 4 o'clock. I was in charge of all activities, no assistance except from older students. My salary was $80.65 per month. At the end of the school term I returned to college and continued my work toward a degree which I received in May 1936.

In July 1936, I began teaching in my home school at Pine Hill which was a three room school, the only one in the county. I had the first two grades, actually three, because the first year beginners started in the primer, then to first. There were 24 in this class, a full time job. I remember the reading series was "Alice and Jerry". This turned out to be a very fine class. When they graduated from high school, many were named to the National Honor Society. Jack Clifford was a member of that primer class and became one of the leading educators in Kentucky. He served in the Department of Education in Frankfort.

After teaching 10 years there, I transferred to New Chestnut Ridge, at my own request and taught one year, grades 1-4. I had an application through for Mt. Vernon and beginning my second year at New Chestnut Ridge, when the Mt. Vernon opened in September, on the day of their teachers conference, Clyde Linville came to my classroom and said that he had an opening. He had been by Miss Bryant's office and arranged a replacement for me for the next day. I gladly accepted the opportunity and began the last round of my teaching career.

I taught at Mt. Vernon for 26 years, mostly in the sixth grade. These were happy ones, but not at all easy. It required a lot of hard work, for most of my class were very large. I recall in 1952-53 of enrolling 58 pupils. We had the old fashion desks which took up a lot of space; you can imagine how squeezed in we were, barely able to get to the blackboard.

During the 23 years teaching 11 and 12 year olds, plus I correlated art and music with the social studies. Most were eager to learn. It was by this method I was able to motivate them to want to do things. Many projects were developed involving the entire class. I was fortunate to

Local students added to EKU Dean's List

At its January meeting, the EKU Board of Regents changed and made retroactive for the fall semester the way Dean's List honors are defined.

They are as follows:
 Paula Jean Blevins, Lois R. Burdett, Trina Gayle Bustle, Cynthia Lou Cash, Patricia Clark Himes, William Thomas Hines, Sandra F. Whittaker, all of Mt. Vernon; Jeleta Bradshaw, Teresa Gaye Brown, Jennifer Denise Stewart of Brodhead; Janis Lynn Durham of Livingston and Teressa Lynn Renner of Orlando.

Besides the 68 fall semester names added retroactively, additional names may inadvertently have been omitted from the first Dean's List because of computer-induced error. Those names are now included in this list.

Of the 924 students named to the Dean's List for the semester, 275 or nearly 29.8 percent, achieved a perfect 4.0 grade point average.

EKU at Richmond serves more than 13,700 students in its nine colleges and graduate school.

perfect 4.0," said Dr. John D. Rowlett, EKU vice president for academic affairs and research and dean of the faculties.

"And the Board voted to recognize those students who have been able to maintain a 3.5 GPA at the 1-hour level."

He noted the change was especially appropriate because increasing numbers of EKU students are people returning to college after an absence of several years who may not be taking more than 12 semester hours needed for full-time student status.

have such students as Tina Cain Hasty and Laura Lee Durham Speaks who were able to assist with the music. They were and are great piano players. Thanks girls!

We put on several programs for the student body, P.T.A. and radio. I took several classes to see the Stephen Foster Drama and toured My Old Kentucky Home. One year we were invited to put on our Thanksgiving Program for the Mt. Vernon Lions Club. I often see some of my former students who say to me that they remember the things they did in sixth grade. This is gratifying for me to know that they do recall many of their experiences.

I retired after teaching 38 years plus a few months, also I substituted for ten years. I enjoyed the challenge set before me. I am happy and grateful for the privilege of having a part in molding many Rockcastle children's lives. Some have gone on to help others by entering the professional world. There are teachers, doctors, lawyers, nurses, ministers, businessmen and many other fields of service. I cherish this great opportunity of serving our county.

On Oct. 1936, I was married to John L. Fain. We had one son, Bobby W. Fain of Mt. Vernon. I have three grandsons, Shane, John L. II and Frank. My husband died as a result of an auto accident in 1965.

Central Baptist will celebrate 25th anniversary this year

Central Baptist Church, located on Hwy. 25 South, behind Save-a-Lot in Mt. Vernon was established in 1964. The original structure was built in 1965, but has since been remodeled and redecorated, doubling the size of the auditorium.

The Central Baptist Church on U.S. 25 South Mt. Vernon, was organized on June 5, 1964, having been a mission of the Bethlehem Baptist Temple of Cincinnati, Ohio. There were twenty charter members of which seven are still members. Bro. Ralford Herrin was called as the first pastor and served approximately one year.

Work was begun on theological building in 1965. Bro. Ralph Sears became the second pastor in February of 1966 and served until June of 1970.

Construction of a parsonage was approved in late 1966. In September of 1970, Bro. Ralford Herrin was called for a second term as pastor and served until November of 1981.

Bro. Darrell Sparks became the third pastor in December 1981 and served until December of 1986. Dr. James Head became pastor May 31, 1987. During the twenty one months of the present pastorate there have been nineteen additions by baptism and twenty-one additions by letter or statement.

The church building has been completely remodeled and redecorated, doubling the size of the auditorium.

The church helps in the support of eleven Missionaries in the United States, Africa, Europe, Asia, Australia, and Central America.

The regular services of the church are: Sunday School at 10 a.m. with a class for every member of the family;

Morning Worship at 11 a.m. and evening services at 7 p.m.; and also Wednesday at 7 p.m. There is an attended Nursery at all services for the convenience of mothers with babies.

In addition to the regular services of the church, there is a monthly fellowship for the men, for the ladies and for families.

The church will observe its 25th anniversary in June with special services that will be announced at a later date.

Pastor Head and the members of the Central Baptist Church extend an invitation and a warm welcome to all. Their motto is "There is a Difference, Come and See".

Social News & Events

To Be Wed

Rodney and Jonimae wish to announce their forthcoming marriage. Jonimae is the daughter of Wayne Lear of Brodhead and Betty Harding of Berea. Rodney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Jones of Mt. Vernon. The wedding is set for April 15, 1989 at 4 p.m. at the Maple Grove Baptist Church. A reception will follow at the Rockcastle Co. Library. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Rockcastle DAR meets

The Rockcastle Chapter, DAR, met Tuesday night, Feb. 14, at the Rockcastle County Library. The Regent, Mrs. Onna Owens presided, and was assisted in the Ritual by Mrs. Iris Young and Mrs. Laura Durham. Miss Mary Alice Hunt read the National Defense Report from Washington. The Ninety-third State Conference to be held in Lexington in March was discussed and several issues were presented to the Chapter, including the new slate of officers.

As the meeting was held in the Genealogical section of the library, members browsed through some of the material available to the public, and decided to buy a volume of the Rockcastle Cemetery Records compiled by Jeanne Bonham and Patricia Hatt. This will be placed in the library in memory of two recently-deceased members, Sally Parsons and Ruth Brock.

The program of the evening was a "Show and Tell" with members bringing a personal or family memento to share with the group. A number of most interesting items was brought, among which were:

- A German bible with the family record also written in German; a black scarf worn through immigration at Ellis Island; a water color executed on rice paper by Chinese students for their missionary-teacher and sent on to America in the early 1900's; a small China doll received on the last-day-of-school by a child-not-yet-in-school; a sewing basket with thimble, needles and beeswax; and a number of family photographs. Members thoroughly enjoyed sharing their memories and their treasures. The next meeting will be March 21.

Piano Recital

Mrs. Marilyn McKinney's piano students who played in a recital recently were, front row, from left: Brooke Todd, Amanda Denney, Angela Brown and Sonya Hensley. Second row: Keesha McClure, Rachel Treholo, Krystal McClure and Beth Ann Durham. Third row: Mrs. McKinney, Genevieve Turner, JoAnn McGuire and Adam Treholo. (Photo by Steve Treholo).

Rebecca L. Fain receives honor for academics

Rebecca Fain initiated into honor society

Rebecca L. Fain, daughter of Mr. and Bill Fain, was initiated Feb. 2, to the Liberty University Sigma Pi Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an International Honor Society in Education.

An individual becomes a member of the Society by invitation from a local chapter whose members have approved the candidacy. Such an invitation is based on high academic achievement, a commitment to education as a career and a professional attitude which assures the members steady growth in the field of education.

Organized to recognize excellence in education, Kappa Delta Pi elects those to membership who exhibit the ideals of scholarship, high personal standards and promise in teaching and allied professions. It encourages improvement in teacher preparation, distinction in achievement and contributions to education.

Hinton enlists in Air Force

Richard W. Hinton, 17, of Livingston, recently enlisted in the Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program. Richard will graduate in the class of 1989 at Rockcastle County High School and is scheduled for enlistment in the regular Air Force in June. Upon graduation from the Air Force's six week basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base, near San Antonio, Texas, Richard will receive technical training in his designated career area.

Richard will earn credits toward an associate degree in applied sciences through the community college of the Air Force while attending basic and technical training schools.

Richard is the son of Danny and Carolyn Hinton.

Personal items must be in Signal office by noon Tuesday

Celebrates 88th birthday

George M. Mason of Orlando celebrated his 88th birthday Feb. 13. He was honored with a dinner Sunday Feb. 12 at the Rockcastle County Library. Twelve of his sixteen children were present, his brother, sister and several very special friends also attended.

The day was enjoyed by all and we, his children, would like to thank God for blessing us with such a great daddy.

A special thanks to Juanita Rbbinson who did a splendid job on the birthday cake, also to Roger McClure, Dan Bond, Mike VanWinkle for the music they provided and thanks to all the others, who thought enough of our dad just to come by.

Those who attended were: George and Gladys Mason, David Mason, Coleman and Vermetta Mason, Earl and Sally Mason Bobby and Norma Mason, Ernest and Joyce Mason, George Jr., Janice and Jennifer Mason, Charles, Dorothy and Melissa

Rader, Mary and Henry Vanzant, Ronnie and Linda Mason, Mindy and Kristi Sargent, Terry, Karen and VanWinkle, Paul and Kaye Mason, Gary Mason and Gary Jr., Leon, Willie and LaCosta Mason, Tina and Cody Waterman, Bruce and Missy Masort, Sarah Mason, Chad and Brian Hurst, Tim and Lisa Mason, Mike and Sandy VanWinkle, Kathy, Mark Jr. and Matthew Mason, Mike and Dana Mason, Walter, Della Mason, Lloyd and Juanita Mason, Lena Mason Peters, Morris Virginia Clark, Charles and Dorothy Clark, Bro. BLUE GRASS STOCKYARDS

Blue Grass Unloads Your Animals Faster

Blue Grass Stockyards makes it pleasant and convenient to sell your livestock. It took a major loading dock renovation to do it, but now your unloading time is cut to the nub.

Your animals get ready for the sale ring faster. Then you can come inside to talk business, meet buyers or renew friendships. Fast unloading and top notch holding facilities are two more important services which Blue Grass offers to livestock producers.

Blue Grass Stockyards has 11 well-kept acres under roof. So whatever the weather, you'll do your selling in comfort. Your livestock stay in better shape too.

It sure beats waiting behind a line of trucks!

Dr. and Mrs. Hedrick named missionaries to Nigeria

Dr. and Mrs. J. Charles Hedrick, Jr. were among 20 people named missionaries by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board Feb. 14 at New Bridge Baptist Church in Richmond, Va.

As missionary associates the Hedricks will live in Nigeria, where he will be working as a church growth consultant and they will be involved in a variety of outreach ministries.

Since 1981, Dr. Hedrick has been pastor First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon.

Born in West Milford, Ohio, Hedrick is the son of the late Rev. and Mrs. John C. Hedrick of Pleasantville. His father was a retired Southern Baptist minister. While growing up, also lived in Smiths Grove, Arlington, Owensboro, Lexington and Campbell, Mo. According to Dr. Hedrick, he considers Mt. Vernon his hometown and First Baptist his home church.

He received a bachelor of arts degree from Campbellsville College and a master of theology degree from American Bible College in Pineland, Fla. He also attended Kentucky College of Business in Lexington and New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

Dr. Hedrick has been pastor of Central Baptist Church in Maysville, Pleasant Hill Baptist Church in Hopkinsville, Concord Baptist Church in Hartford and the mission sponsored by Campbellsville Baptist Church. He also was a Southern Baptist Home Mission Board pioneer missionary in Ohio where he was pastor of First Baptist Church in Napoleon. He was a Baptist Student Union summer missionary in Kentucky.

Born and reared in Nashville, Mrs. Hedrick, the former Carrie Stears, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Stears of Grmanton.

She received a bachelor of science degree from Campbellsville College. Mrs. Hedrick has been a teacher in Maysville and a Home Mission Board, pioneer missionary with her husband in Ohio. Since 1983, she has been a teacher with the Rockcastle County Board of Education.

The Hedricks, who have three grown children, will go to Rockville, Va., in March for a seven-week orientation before leaving for the field.

A missionary associate is a person between 35 and 60 employed for a renewable four-year term to do a particular job for which he is equipped by his education and experience.

Brodhead PTA celebrated Founder's Day at their February 10th meeting by hosting a potluck supper in honor of their past presidents. Dolores Albright was presented with a lifetime membership certificate for her service to the organization. Past presents of the Brodhead PTA are, from left: Judy Stewart-Shackelford, 1982-83; Dolores Albright, 1985-86; Benny Craig, 1984-85; Rita Hayes, 1987-88 and Phyllis Holbrook, 1986-87. Not present were Kenneth Chattelle, 1983-84 and current president, Peggy French.

Social Security bulletin

Many people who receive either Social Security disability benefits or SSI benefits based on a disability are not aware of the many provisions designed to help them re-enter the work force. Bob Anderson, Social Security manager in Richmond, said recently.

Most people entitled to Social Security disability benefits are eligible for what is called a trial work period. This means that they can go back to work for nine months without being concerned about losing their disability benefits. If their return to work has been a successful attempt, Social Security will consider stopping their checks only after the end of the nine-month trial period. If the work is determined to be gainful employment, they will still be eligible for benefits for two months after they have completed their trial work period. This provision is to help them make the transition off the benefits roll. Even after their benefits have been stopped, there is a provision in the law called Extended Period of Eligibility that allows people who have had their benefits stopped because they returned to work to have their benefits reinstated without having to file a new claim.

For people eligible for SSI based on disability, there are other provisions designed to encourage them to return to work. Basically, work will not result in sudden and unexpected loss of eligibility. If a disabled SSI recipient returns to work, his or her

IF YOUR COULD WISH UPON A STAR
What would you wish for your child?

HAPPINESS

SUCCESS

SUCCESS IN LIFE

Like all parents, I'm sure you would wish for your child to have a healthy, productive and successful life.

We can help grant one wish, success is school - which helps contribute to the other two.

Together, we can begin the process of a successful school experience by bringing your child to the Rockcastle Preschool Screening for children ages 3 and 4.

Early detection of problems and help can mean a lot to a child in accomplishing their potential and achieving a positive self-image that puts them on the road to a more meaningful and successful life.

A screening test is now the beginning step in you child's education. Parents and educators will be able to get an indication from the screening test results of how well a child is progressing when compared to other children their age.

So put a star on the date March 4, 1989, and bring your 3 and 4 year olds to our FREE Developmental Screening.

March 4, 1989 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the elementary school your child will attend upon enrollment.

If you have questions or would like more information, please call Jeanie Gabbard at 256-4144.

One of a series...

We believe every woman has the right to feel good...

... about herself and her body, and that she has the responsibility to manage those external factors which affect her well-being. Through education and a personal commitment, each woman can take control of her life, adopting new habits and attitudes that lead to a healthier, happier lifestyle.

At the Women's Health Care Center, we believe that every woman deserves medical care that addresses her needs beyond the treatment of disease. Providing information, inspiration and overall well-being is an important part of care.

Often, pain, depression and overall poor health can be alleviated with proper nutrition, exercise, stress management and a new self-commitment.

For example, we recognize that PMS (premenstrual syndrome) is a very real medical condition that can and should be treated. Changes in diet and/or medication can provide relief from PMS's variety of nagging symptoms.

We encourage women to take an active, aggressive role in their healthcare, to ask questions and expect technologically and procedurally advanced treatment.

At the Women's Health Care Center, we're committed to sophisticated, yet compassionate care that meets the needs of the whole person.

Local student honored for poem

A poem written by Cumberland College student, Kim Carroll, daughter of James and Wanda Carroll of Brodhead, has been selected for publication in the fall semester edition of Pensworth, a journal of student writing sponsored by the Cumberland College English Department and Sigma Tau Delta. The journal was edited by faculty members Tom Fish and Tom Frazier.

Carroll's poem, "Joy in the Morning," was one of the 17 poems and two short stories selected from more than 100 entries.

The items published were selected by a panel of four students and five faculty members of Cumberland College.

For the Fisherman

Bass Tournament at Laurel Lake

T and H Outboard Sales will once again host the largest tournament of Southeastern Kentucky on Laurel Lake in April.

This year's open bass tournament will feature cash and prize winnings over $40,000. First place contestants will win a 1989 Skeeter Starfire 150 rigged with a Suzuki 50 SS engine, deluxe Husler trailer, custom cover and many more options plus $6000.

1988 tournament winners were David and Dewayne Martin. The Martins took home over $18,000 in cash and prizes with their catch of 12.27 pounds. Two hundred forty two fishermen competed in the event in which 20 teams took home winnings. This year's event which is set for April 8th at Grove Marina will have a buddy format with $200 per boat entry fee and optional big bass pot. Entry fees are now being accepted and are payable through April 7. First flight entries must be in by March 31. No entries will be accepted after registration closes at the pre-tournament meeting to be held at the Corbin Civic Center, April 7, at 7 p.m.

Prize winnings will go to 20 teams based on a 200 boat field. Payouts will extend to 10 percent of the entered field.

National sponsors of the tournament are Skeeter Boats, Kilgore, Texas; Suzuki Outboards, Brea, California; and Husler Trailers of Lake City, Tennessee.

The tournament is also locally sponsored by Pepsi-Cola Bottling; Buck and Bass; T and W Tom's Distributors; Hillbilly Bait (The Amber Company); Corbin; The Bait Bucket; Grove Marina; Pizza and Company; McDonald's, London, Harlan, Manchester, Barbourville, Middlesboro, and Hazard; Darrell Jones Chevrolet; Myers Battery; and Cumberland Mountain Battery, Middlesboro.

If you need additional information on the tournament please contact T and H Outboard Sales at 864-6964.

Red Man Bass Opener

Operation Bass will conduct the first Red Man bass fishing tournament of the Mountain Division, March 22, on Watts Bar at Bayston, signaling the start of the six-event Mountain Division Red Man season. Entry deadline for the event is March 1. All entries must be postmarked on or before that date.

Five other Operation Bass-Man-

Red Man slates golden blend on Lake Eufaula

Operation Bass will conduct the third of its 1989 Red Man Golden Blend Diamond Invisational bass fishing tournaments on Lake Eufaula, in Eufaula, Alabama, March 22-24. Entry deadline for the event is March 7. All entries must be postmarked on or before that date.

Golden Blend Diamond Invisational offers a $20,000 first-place payoff and a $1,000 reward for the "big bass" winner. There will also be a $1,500 cash drawing for anglers not finishing in the money. Operation Bass will pay the top 20 percent of each field as anglers compete for more than $90,000 in cash prizes (based on a 360-man field).

Golden Blend events have a $300 entry fee, Tuesday and Wednesday practice days, and two days of competition -- Thursday and Friday.

The other Golden Blend events include: Lake Havasu/Lake Havasu, Arizona, April 4-7, entry deadline March 21; Bill Shoals Lake/Bill Shoals, Arkansas, May 23-26, entry deadline May 9; and Hudson River/Catskill, New York, Sept. 5-8, entry deadline Aug. 22.

All Red Man tournaments are catch and release events. Operation Bass maintained a 98 percent live release rate in 26 events in 1988, the highest in the country.

Operation Bass sponsors for 1989 include: Red Man chewing tobacco, Ranger Boats, Chevrolet trucks, DuPont Siren line, Evinrude and Johnson outboards, Evinrude and Johnson electronics, GNB batteries, Pennzoll outboard lubricants, technicon (Humminbird electronics), Browning rods, Browning reels, Sears, Armour Vienna sausage, and Poo's lures.

aged Red Man events will make up the Mountain Division season in 1989 as follows: April 9, Dale Hollow/Star Point, entry deadline March 29; May 14, Cherokee/Hamblen Dock, entry deadline May 3; June 18, Barren/State Park, entry deadline June 7; July 1, Chickamauga/Chester Frost, entry deadline July 5; and October 8, Dale Hollow/Star Point, entry deadline Sept. 27.

The top 24 fishermen in the Mountain Division after the six qualifying events will advance to one of four Regional Classics where they will compete with 96 other "working" men and women anglers for a $35,000 "Dream" bass fishing rig consisting of a Chevrolet pick-up and a fully-rigged Ranger boat powered by an Evinrude/Johnson outboard and

Kinniconick offers year-round fishing

Rocky-bottomed Kinniconick Creek, a 50-mile-long, clear-water stream in Lewis County, is a year-round target for muskie fishermen and smallmouth bass anglers, according to an article by noted Outdoor Writer Sue clay in the March-April 1989 issue of Happy Hunting Ground magazine, official publication of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. March and April are the best months to go after toothy lunkers in Kinniconick's deep pools or throw a line near dropoffs harboring feisty bronzeback, according to the article.

For subscription information on this bimonthly fishing and hunting magazine write: Division of Public Relations, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, or call (502) 564-4336.

Spelunkers help locate endangered bats

This winter, experienced cave explorers are giving the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources a hand in locating Virginia big-eared bats in Estil and Lee counties. A 36-square-mile area will be thoroughly searched for the endangered species.

These gentle, meat-eating mammals live in small caves and rock shelters in Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and Kentucky. But there are only 8,000 big-eared bats left in the world -- and over 3,000 that number are known to hibernate in a single Lee County cave.

Biologists want to know where members of this particular colony go during summer to bear and nurse young, and just how far they travel, perhaps to secret caves in the hills and hollows of Big Sinking Creek county.

For several summers, biologists have peeked into more than 70 caves in Estil and Lee counties, looking for the "lost" big-eared bats. But so far only two sites have been found where females and their offspring can be seen and counted. Both caves shelter around 150 females, which leaves 1,300 unaccounted for.

To help solve this puzzle, every hillside in the designated search area will be combed to find (and crawl into when possible) every cave, rock shelter, crevice, nook and cranny that could possibly house bats. Then during warm spring weather, the best 30 or 40 sites will be revisited, and if Virginia big-eared bats are found, biologists will work with landowners to develop a protection plan for this endangered species.

Unfortunately, humans have given bats a not-too-sterling reputation, and because of our own ignorance, we fear them, or at the very least find bats distasteful.

Virginia big-eared bats are completely harmless to humans; they are not known to carry any diseases, nor do they threaten our way of life. In fact, this particular species helps humans by controlling night-flying insects, including some kinds of moths that can damage crops, vegetable gardens and forest trees.

April Burton and Stephanie North-em 8 each, Carla Kirby had 3, Jennifer Thacker and Angie McClure 1 each.

Monday night the Lady Rockets were matched up against the Garrard Lady Lions in their next to last regular season game. Unfortunately, for the Lady Rockets, they lost their second close game in a row 55-48 to Garrard.

According to Coach Bullock the girls have been shooting well and playing much better ball the last few games.

At Garrard Stephanie Northern led the Lady Rockets in scoring with 17, Jennifer Thacker had 10, Donna Harper 7, Angie Seters and April

Burton 6 each, Angie McClure had 2 points on the evening.

The Lady Rockets final regular season game is this Thursday night when they travel to Monticello. The Lady Rockets play Jackson County in the district tournament Wednesday, March 1 at 6:00p.m.

"Tourney Cont. from 6" season.

The 49th district tournament will be played at Jackson County High School.

The girl's game will begin at 6:00p.m., with the boy's game to follow about 25 minutes later. The doors will be opened at 5:00p.m.

Ticket prices are $3 for adults, and $2 for students.

New Red Cross course for professional rescuers

The Red Cross has designed a new CPR course teaching safety skills used by paramedics, firefighters, lifeguards and other persons who respond to emergencies. Called American Red Cross CPR: Basic Life Support for the Professional Rescuer, the four-hour course includes training in administering two-rescuer CPR, responding to cardiac and respiratory emergencies, using resuscitation masks, and recognizing the warning signals of a heart attack.

"Going beyond the fundamentals of CPR, this course meets the special needs of people who have a duty to act in an emergency," said Lisa Powell, director at Berea Area Chapter. "The course uses innovative teaching methods and the latest emergency care standards to help professional rescuers do their jobs."

Part I of the course addresses the role of professional rescuers in a community's emergency medical services (EMS) system. A section on the respiratory and circulatory systems links the participant's knowledge of anatomy with critical lifesaving skills such as rescue breathing and CPR. Other sections in Part I discuss the risk factors of heart disease; infant, child and adult CPR; and first aid for choking.

Part II presents skills that build on the foundation of single-rescuer techniques. Participants learn two-rescuer CPR, skills for airway management, and techniques for positioning and resuscitating victims of head, neck and back injuries. A section on the use of resuscitation masks discusses how to guard against disease transmission.

Healthy hearts for women

By: Cheryl Witt
County Extension Agent

According to Dr. C. Everett Koop, Jr., Surgeon General of the United States "Cigarettes are the most important individual health risk in this country."

Surprising as it may seem, smoking in the United States causes even more deaths from coronary heart disease than from cancer. Smokers also have two to four times greater risk of sudden cardiac death than nonsmokers. Moreover, studies show an association between cigarette smoking and cerebrovascular disease (disorders of blood vessels in the brain), which may lead to a stroke. Unless cigarette habits change, it has been estimated that 10 percent of Americans - some 24 million people - will die of heart disease caused by smoking.

Approximately 25 million American women smoke cigarettes. Although rates for female smoking have decreased from 34 percent in 1965 to 28 percent in 1985, those who do smoke are likely to smoke more heavily today than they did in the past. Moreover, more teenage girls are smoking, and are beginning to smoke at younger ages than ever before. Among young people, 17 to 19 more girls than boys are smoking cigarettes for the first time in history.

Women who smoke are from two to six times as likely to suffer a heart attack as are nonsmoking women, and the risk increases with the number of cigarettes smoked per day. Although women overall have lower rates of coronary heart disease than men, if they smoke heavily, they substantially increase their risk of coronary heart disease. In fact their risk may approach that of men. Furthermore, women who smoke heavily tend to have menopause earlier which in turn also increases their risk of coronary heart disease.

Women who smoke and also take birth control pills are at particularly high risk for cardiovascular disease. According to recent studies, female smokers who use oral contraceptives are up to 39 times more likely to have a heart attack and up to 22 times more likely to have a stroke than women who use birth control pills.

Cardiovascular disease is not the

* Board up windows to protect them with storm shutters or tape to prevent flying glass.

* Bring outdoor possessions inside the house or tie them down securely. This includes lawn furniture, garbage cans, tools, signs, and other movable objects that might be swept away or hurled about.

* If it is safe to evacuate by car, you should consider the following:

* Stock the car with nonperishable foods (like canned goods), a plastic container of water, blankets, first aid kit, flashlights, dry clothing and any special medication needed by your family.

* Keep the gas tank at least half full since gasoline pumps will not be working if the electricity has been cut off.

* Do not drive where water is over the roads. Parts of the road may already be washed out.

* If your car stalls in a flooded area, abandon it as soon as possible. Floodwaters can rise rapidly and sweep a car (and its occupants) away. Many deaths have resulted from attempts to move stalled vehicles.

When the Flood Comes

The safety of your family is the most important consideration. Since floodwaters can rise very rapidly, you should be prepared to evacuate before the water level reaches your property.

only health risk for women who smoke. Female cigarette smokers have an up to five times greater likelihood of developing lung cancer, the chief cause of cancer deaths in women for many years. Cigarette smoking is also associated with cancers of the urinary tract, larynx, oral cavity, esophagus, kidney, pancreas, and uterus. Smokers are also more likely to die from chronic bronchitis and emphysema, and are at higher risk than nonsmokers for chronic sinusitis and peptic ulcer disease. Women who smoke are also more likely to have infertility problems and a slightly earlier menopause.

Further, cigarette use during pregnancy poses serious risks for the unborn. Babies of women who smoked during pregnancy are likely to be smaller and to weigh less at birth and appear never to catch up. Smoking while pregnant also increases risks of bleeding, miscarriage, premature delivery, stillbirth, and sudden infant death syndrome.

Unfortunately, there is simply no "safe way to smoke." Although low tar and nicotine cigarettes may reduce the lung cancer risk to some extent, they do not lessen the risk of heart disease or other smoking-related diseases. The only safe and healthy course is simply to stop smoking.

By: Bea Hensley

Valentine's Day Feb. 14th was the date for our meeting this month. Our members showed up all decked out in bright red sweaters, blouses and dresses.

The table looked lovely with a centerpiece of big flowers in a wicker basket, red linen napkins and little cups of heart shaped candies for favors, compliments of Irene Baker. "Thanks Irene."

Our devotional chairman, Alta Bullock, was also well prepared for the day with the focus on love. She read from first Corinthians 13: God is love and the person that has experienced the presence of God demonstrates love.

We were reminded about our "International Potluck Dinner" coming up March 13, at 6:30. This will be held in the meeting room at the A.S.C. All homemakers and guests are invited.

We missed our members who couldn't be with us this month especially our planned hostess, Pauline, who is lending a helping hand to her grandson who is in need.

We used the A.S.C. meeting room this month. It is good to have such a nice place to use for our meetings when we need to.

Everyone had read the letter from Zii in Arizona to the Mt. Vernon Signal. "Good thinking, Zii, we enjoyed hearing from you."

Our lesson for February was titled "Small Spaces... Special Places."

Slides on this lesson along with a taped narrator were furnished by our Home Extension Agent, Cheryl Witt. We also received an informational guide for creative use and decorating of small spaces. The lesson was given by Alta and Bea. The ladies enjoyed the lesson and will find the ideas very helpful in their homes.

We are looking forward to our next club meeting March 14th. Our hostess will be Faye McCauley, in her home.

Sharon Palmer will present our club program. Leader training will be March 2nd.

A Message from the Superintendent

Superintendent Bige Towery, Jr.

Rockcastle Co. Schools ready for accreditation

Rockcastle County schools will be undergoing an evaluation process on February 21-22, as educators from around the state converge upon our school system for accreditation purposes.

School districts in Kentucky are accredited every five years. The last time Rockcastle County Schools were accredited was in 1984.

There are eleven standards that the school system must meet including: legal responsibility, philosophy and objectives, school/community relations, curriculum, staff and administration, pupil conduct, pupil activity program, pupil services, school plant and facilities, auxiliary services and finance.

According to Supt. Towery, "I think we're going to receive a good review from the accreditation team." The accreditation process is a unique opportunity for the school system to gain knowledge on areas that are not up to standards.

Towery said that a great deal of work has already gone into the accreditation. "We have worked diligently to place teachers in their area of expertise," Towery added. He also said that they are sure to be areas in which we need to improve, but with the help of the accreditation team, we can identify those areas and get on with the business of improving our schools.

Members of the accreditation team will be interviewing administrative personnel and teachers during their two day visit. A report from the accreditation team will not be back until about six to eight weeks. Then the school system has to make plans to correct any deficiencies that might have been identified during the accreditation.

School must be a place where children learn, where teachers can teach, and where parents are an integral part of the process

Approximately three thousand (3,000) children are dependent upon our schools and our community to provide experiences which will assure that they become contributing, productive citizens. That is an awesome responsibility, but one which we as educators have accepted. The standards and expectations of a community are primary contributing factors in determining the quality of its schools. We want your support, your involvement, and your commitment as we set goals and develop plans to make Rockcastle County Schools among the best in this area of the state.

We must instill in our children a respect for education and encourage our adult population to view a quality educational system as one of the community's most valuable resources.

School must be a place where children learn, where teachers can teach, and where parents are an integral part of the process. In order for this to happen, we must maintain good discipline and good discipline requires the cooperation and support of parents.

It is our plan to periodically distribute this publication as a means of providing you information regarding the operation of your schools. We want to promote the pride we feel for our schools and have an opportunity to feature excellent teachers and quality programs in our schools.

May we all join efforts to promote schools which:

Maintain strong discipline and are free of alcohol and drugs.

Provide effective leadership.

Are clean, safe and attractive.

Have a well-defined curriculum.

Involve parents.

Rockcastle County Schools can and will "Make a Difference" in the lives of our children. Our teachers, administrators and other staff members are committed to this cause. Our schools are neither the worst nor the best in the state, but it is definitely our goal to be better tomorrow than we are today.

New elementary school under construction

On April 26, 1988, Rockcastle County School officials received some welcome news from the Kentucky General Assembly pertaining to the new Mt. Vernon Elementary School.

The news from Frankfort was that House Bill 655 had been passed, thus allowing a new school survey to be conducted by the Kentucky Department of Education and permitting the new Mt. Vernon Elementary School to be built in one phase.

Originally, because of lack of funding, the school had been scheduled to be constructed in three phases.

As Rockcastle School Superintendent Bige Towery, Jr., said at the time, "It has been a total effort with everyone working together to get the measure passed."

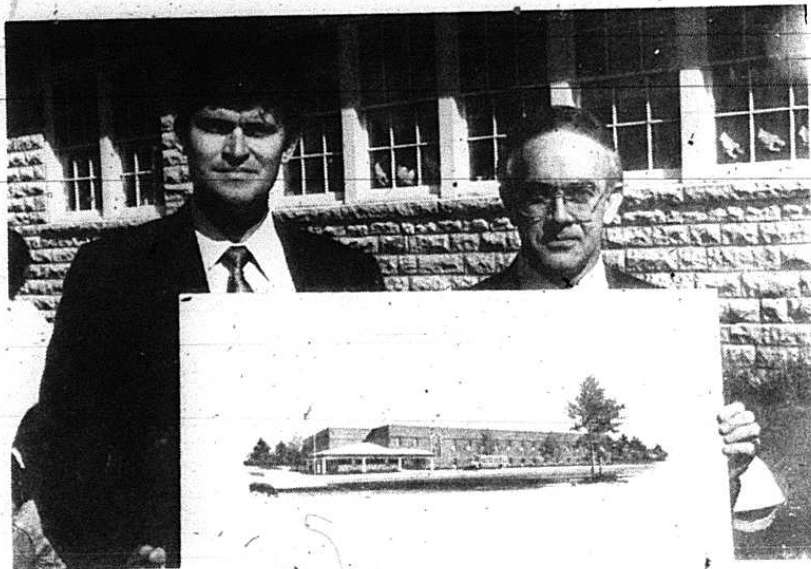

State Rep. Danny Ford, Superintendent Towery and State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. John Brock, were all instrumental in getting the bill through.

The new Mt. Vernon Elementary School, already under construction, is designed to serve the pupils in kindergarten through grade eight.

The 71,000 square foot, two story facility is scheduled for completion in early 1990.

Garlan Vanhook, Rockcastle native and graduate of Brodhead Elementary and Rockcastle County High School, is the project architect. "I'm really anxious to see some bricks and mortar going up," Vanhook said recently. "Once completed the school should be a structure the entire community can be proud of," Vanhook added.

Vanhook, who works for the Lexington architectural firm of Garlan Vanhook, project architect for the new Mt. Vernon Elementary School, and Supt. Towery hold an artist's conception of the new elementary school. The school is scheduled for completion in early 1990.

Johnson/Romanowitz, takes a special interest in the project.

"The groundbreaking marks a new beginning in Rockcastle County. The new school will become a symbol of this community's faith in the future and the future of its young people."

Dr. John Brock

State Superintendent of Public Instruction

Supt. Towery was once Vanhook's Principal at Brodhead Elementary. As Towery noted, "It gives special meaning to have a former student design such a structure for future generations of Rockcastle students to attain their education.

Once completed the new facility will have classrooms specifically designed for science, remediation, special education and music.

In explaining the plans for the building, Vanhook noted, "We have tried to create a balance between the totally modern structure while still preserving the historic architecture of the past."

The construction of the school will be supervised by Branscum Construction of Russell Springs, construction manager of the new school.

The new school will cost about $3.5 million. The majority of the funding comes from the increased bonding potential created from the new school survey.

By utilizing a construction manager the school system should save about 10 percent on the overall cost of the construction. The school system will realize about $200,000 in interest income from the investment of the bonds while the construction of the school is ongoing.

At the groundbreaking for the new Mt. Vernon school Dr. Brock stated, "The groundbreaking marks a new beginning in Rockcastle County. The new school will become a symbol of this community's faith in the future and the future of its young people."

The superintendent said in his experience, a new school building raises the expectations for education and it makes "us believe that we can do better."

Dr. Brock said the need for a new building was clear since the present building was constructed in 1928. But the way the law was written there was no way to get the financing needed. "We decided to change the law," he stated.

"A new building will make it easier to provide programs that mean better educational opportunities for the children of Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County. When this building is completed, it will be a source of pride for the students, parents, teachers and administrative staff. Just as important, it will be a source of community pride."

The food service portion of the new school will be totally modern and up to date. Ac-

Roundstone School addition planned by next year

The New Mt. Vernon elementary School will be a tremendous boost to the local school system and its educational efforts, but the new facility at Mt. Vernon is not the only construction planned for a local school.

A four classroom addition has been planned for Roundstone Elementary School. The addition is being planned in order to gain much needed classroom space. New and expanded programs at the school necessitate the new addition being constructed.

Programs such as band, music, gifted education, remediation and computer labs will be causing problems in scheduling in the near future. "We are trying to anticipate some of these problems before they happen," said former buildings and grounds director, Richard Bray recently.

The estimated cost of construction is about $250,000. Money for the project will come solely from local funds. The most recent facility survey, done by the State Department of Education, listed the Roundstone addition as one of the top priorities that needed to be addressed.

The Lexington architectural firm of Johnson/Romanowitz was recently selected as the project architects.

The building committee for the Roundstone school addition has decided that to meet the needs of the Roundstone school, the addition will have three regular classrooms, one science classroom, toilets for boys and girls, a teachers' workroom, and a general storage area for the addition.

The basement storage area will be 800-1000 square feet, unfinished and without heat or utilities, except for lighting.

If all goes according to schedule, the new addition will be completed by Oct., 31, 1989.

The Department of Education must first approve the design/development plans. Then, they must approve the construction documents. According to Supt. Towery, he will request that the department put the Roundstone addition ahead of other larger projects. If this happens the completion date could be much sooner than anticipated.

Mt. Vernon Elementary was awarded a Flag of Progress from the Kentucky Educational Foundation in a ceremony November 10, 1988 at the University of Kentucky's Singletary Center for the Arts. Students from 195 Kentucky public schools were honored for improving test scores, attendance and decreasing dropout rates. Presenting the award was Dr. John Brock, far left, and G. Ted Smith, far right, President of the Kentucky Educational Foundation, Inc. On hand to accept the award was George Poynter, school board chairman; Bige Towery, Jr., county superintendent; Danetta Ford, an eighth grader at MVES; John Hale, principal and Callie Mullins, student council president.

Flag of Progress awarded to Mt. Vernon Elementary

Mt. Vernon Elementary School recently became the first school in the county to receive a Flag of Progress from the Kentucky Educational Foundation, Inc.

The award was presented at a ceremony on the University of Kentucky campus on November 10, 1988.

Flags of Progress are awarded to recognize schools with outstanding improvement toward academic achievement.

To qualify the school must increase the percentage of students scoring at or above the national median, as compared to the previous year, by five percentage points in grades 3, 5, 7 and 10. In addition, improvement must be reflected by increased student attendance, lowered drop-out rate and the removal of any program deficiencies.

According to Mt. Vernon Elementary School principal John Hale, who was on hand to receive the award along with MVES eighth graders, Callie

Mullins and Danetta Ford, "We sat down and made it our goal to increase attendance and test scores and it has been a total team effort by our entire school."

Callie Mullins, an eighth grader at MVES and student council president, concurred with Hale's remarks. "For MVES to receive a Flag of Progress makes me feel proud because it shows that our school is progressing in attendance and test scores. Personally, it makes me proud to be a student at MVES," Callie added.

According to Hale, "It's a tremendous honor for our school and one in which our student body should feel good about."

On hand to present the award were Dr. John Brock, Harold Rogers, 5th district congressman; Sen. Wendell Ford; G. Ted Smith, president of the Kentucky Educational Foundation and Ann Ross, executive director of the foundation.

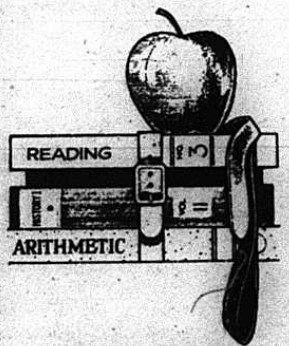

According to Supt. Towery,

"Raising the expectations of students, teachers and parents is one of the keys to improving education in Rockcastle County."

The flag now stands in the gymnasium of the Mt. Vernon Elementary school. According to Hale, it stands there as a memento of everyone's hard work.

Excavation has already begun at the new Mt. Vernon Elementary School construction site. Work has been slowed by a wet winter.

Sowder and Purcell receive honors for their outstanding personal accomplishments

Two Rockcastle High School students, Alison Sowder and Alan Purcell have received special recognition for their outstanding academic abilities.

Alison Sowder, a senior, has been designated as a commended student in the 1989 National Merit Scholarship Program. Alison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sowder, placed in the top 50,000 of more than one million participants in the 34th annual Merit Program and will receive a Letter of Commendation.

Over one million participants in the Merit Program entered the competition by taking the PSAT/NMSQT in 1987 as high school juniors.

Alison, who will attend the University of Kentucky, has aspirations of studying chemistry in college and later of attending medical school. She has also visited the campuses of Louisville, Transylvania and Murray. "I like UK because of its superior academic reputation across the state," Sowder added.

"Here at RCHS we've had the advantage of attending a school that is not too large or too small."

Alan Purcell, also a senior at RCHS, has been named as a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program.

Purcell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Purcell of Willailla, was among only 14,000 semifinalist nationwide.

All Merit Scholarship winners will be chosen from the group of about 14,000 semifinalists. More than 2,800 four-year scholarships will be awarded.

Purcell has decided upon the University of Kentucky to further his studies. "It's fairly close to home and my father attended UK," Purcell stated. Purcell has not yet decided upon a course of study in college.

According to Dale Whitaker, RCHS counselor, Purcell is an outstanding student and individual. "Allan had one of the highest scores ever recorded at RCHS on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, used to test high school juniors," Whitaker stated.

Coleman is all-state performer

Adam Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Coleman and a senior at RCHS, recently received All-state honors for his punting ability.

Coleman was chosen to be on the third team All-state squad by the Associated Press.

The All-state teams are voted on by coaches throughout the state, Adam is only the second player in RCHS football history to be named to an All-

According to Food Service Director, E.J. Smith the money the food service has in CD's will be used for the purchase of new equipment for the school cafeteria.

Work on the school has been slowed by a wet winter, but once able to resume the construction should proceed quickly.

Record number chosen for All-State Chorus

Ten of fourteen selected from RCHS to participate

Ten of 14 chorus students from Rockcastle County High School who auditioned for state honors on Oct. 22, at Lincoln County High School won All-state honors. They went on to participate in an All-state Chorus in Louisville, Feb. 1-4.

Mrs. Margie Wilcop, now retired, was still chorus instructor at RCHS when the students won their honors. This year's group marked the highest number ever chosen for the All-state honor in any one given year.

For the audition, a piece of music is selected by the state committee. The selection must be sung a cappella (without music) as a quartet in front of four judges. Each singer must also sing a section of the piece individually.

According to Mrs. Wilcop, RCHS received the highest scores in the district in bass, tenor, and alto voicing. Normally only two to three students are selected from each school for All-state.

The students who received All-state honors were: Greg Daughtery, Jason Wilson, Trudi Lay, Chris Thompson, Susan Smith, Denise Hensley, David Witt, Teresa Burdette, Juanita Robbins, and Melissa Rader.

Other students that participated included: Toni Baker, Melissa Renner, Stacy Craig, and Leigh Anne Rowe.

Some new faces join the central office staff

If you visit the central office these days you will find lots of new faces in the administrative positions. Retirements and resignations have moved some of our bright young educators into key roles at the administrative level.

Some of the new faces that you will see: Richard Bray is the new Finance Director, Larry Hammond is the Director of Transportation and Buildings/Grounds, Claudinna Cash is the Director of Chapter 1, Carolyn Bryant is in Gifted Education, Kenna Mogg is School Psychologist, and Roberta Jean Gabbard is the Early Childhood Education Teacher Director.

Not present, Phyllis Bullock, Director Upper Cumberland Special Education Cooperative, Roberta Jean Gabbard, Early Childhood Education Teacher, Kenna Mogg, School Psychologist and Doris G. Towery, R.N., School Nurse/Health Coordinator.

Cash, Whitehead elected to board of education

The Rockcastle County School Board took on a new look as two new members, Clayton Cash and Debbie Reynolds Whitehead, were elected to the Board following the retirement of Willie Taylor and Edna Cameron.

Taylor and Cameron were both veterans of the board having served 22 years and eight respectively. Their experience will be missed, however, with Mr. Cash and Mrs. Whitehead the board will take on a new look.

Both, Mr. Cash and Mrs. Whitehead, are committed to improving education in Rockcastle County. The future of our community's greatest resource, our children, is what interests both in serving on the school board. "Our children are our future and we must take great care in providing them with the very best education that we can offer them," Cash said recently.

Cash and Whitehead help to comprise a School Board that is a balance between experience and new members, with new ideas and direction.

Board Chairman George Poynter is currently in his third term on the board. His experience along with that of Vice-chairman Kenneth Adams, who has served for over 20 years, help to promote quality schools. Earl Cummins is currently fulfilling his first term on the board. Together they will help to promote and direct the education of Rockcastle County's youth for the next several years.

School Board Chairman George Poynter presented Mrs. Edna Cameron, far right, and Mr. Willie Taylor, former board members with plaques of appreciation.

Rockcastle students enter into computer age with help of IBM, Forward in the Fifth and the ARC

Rockcastle Elementary School students have entered the computer age, thanks to a grant from Forward in the Fifth, the Appalachian regional Commission and IBM.

A new program known as "Writing to Read" enables kindergarten and first grade students to gain hands on experience with computers while learning new words at the "make word stations", or type a story at the "writing-computer station", or they may listen to cassettes which go along with the books at a "reading station".

The "Writing to Read" program is intended to teach kindergartners and first graders reading and writing skills by the use of computers.

Every day each student is required to visit the reading computer station where he or she learns new words for the day. Each student also visits the "work journal station" where he uses workbooks to enforce what he has learned. All students are required to visit that station every day.

Next they have a choice. They can use games to learn new words at the "make word station".

According to Mrs. Jerri Smith, a first grade teacher at Mt. Vernon Elementary, the work journals which the students fill out and stories they write are never corrected by her. If she finds a mistake, she has the child look at the page, which usually results in them finding their own mistake. "When they notice their own mistake it's a much more beneficial teaching tool than if we correct it for them," Ms. Smith added.

According to Rockcastle School Superintendent, Bige Towery, Jr., the schools were chosen to receive the innovative computer program on a basis of test scores in reading, the economic index and the number of deprived students. The only cost to the county school system was to provide the room for the computers and a teacher's aide for each school.

After Livingston and Mt. Vernon acquired the computer systems, Mr. Towery then talked to Dr. John Brock, Kentucky Superintendent of Public Instruction, about getting the computers for the other county schools. Dr. Brock then talked to Jim Jackson, education consultant for IBM. IBM agreed to donate all the hardware, computer PC Juniors and printers for the two other elementary schools.

The school system agreed to pay for all the needed software (programs) for the other two schools.

"The computers have been a tremendous boost to the program," said Mrs. Smith. All teachers and aides are very optimistic about the academic future of students who learn to read and write by this revolutionary method.

During his senior season, Coleman averaged 41 yards per punt; his longest being a spectacular 71 yarder against Evarts.

Not only is Coleman an outstanding football player, he is also a superior student in the classroom maintaining a 3.6 grade point average.

Adam is also active in the youth group at First Baptist Church. According to Adam, one should try to learn from his and live his life as God would have him to live it.

When he found out that he had been chosen for All-state honors, Adam said, "I was overwhelmed, I had been hoping for an honorable mention, but to be chosen for third team was a dream come true, and I thank all those who helped make it possible."

Adam plans to attend college where he hopes to continue playing football and further develop his punting skills.

J.R. "Boone" Cromer withdraws from race

Rockcastle County Judge candidate J.R. "Boone" Cromer decided Tuesday that he would not seek that office in the May 22nd primary.

J.R. "Boone" Cromer

Cromer, who had filed to seek the Republican nomination, said Tuesday that he was dropping out of the race, because he did not realize what the job involved. "I want to thank all of those that encouraged me and supported me," Cromer a two time magistrate said, after having his name taken off the ballot Tuesday.

Cromer said that he also did not think that he could win the nomination judging from the field that had filed.

Two Lexington men jailed following garage break-in

Two Lexington men were lodged in the Rockcastle County jail Tuesday, after they were arrested by sheriff's deputies and charged with receiving stolen property.

Cromer, who had filed to seek the Republican nomination, said Tuesday that he was dropping out of the race, because he did not realize what the job involved. "I want to thank all of those that encouraged me and supported me," Cromer a two time magistrate said, after having his name taken off the ballot Tuesday.

Chestnut Ridge home burns Sunday morning

Fire completely destroyed a frame home owned by Junie and Anita Kirby at Chestnut Ridge Sunday morning around 1:30 a.m.

According to Mt. Vernon fireman Bud Cox, the house had already fallen when firefighters arrived at the scene. A Buick automobile sitting in the driveway of the home was also destroyed by the fire.

Although the house was vacant at the time of the fire, Cox said that someone was preparing to move into it.

Cox said that the cause of the fire has not been determined, but that it was apparently not arson.

Man living in Mt. Vernon wanted by Crime Stoppers

A man who had been living in Mt. Vernon since last October was the subject of a Crime Stoppers segment on Channel 27 last week and a local woman recognized him as the culprit.

According to a spokesman for Crime Stoppers in Lexington, Mike Neal is wanted on 19 counts of theft by deception and one count of probation violation.

Neal had been living in a room with his girlfriend at the Dixie Boone Motel on Richmond Street since October, according to motel manager Jack Browning, who said that Neal had even done some work for him at the motel.

But, last Friday Neal checked into the Gregory's Motel, although he apparently did not spend the night.

According to the spokesman, after the lady that recognized Neal called police they went to arrest him, but by the time they entered his room at Gregory's motel he was gone. "Apparently the number of police cars in the area spotted Neal, who had probably seen the Crime Stoppers segment, which offered an award for information leading to his arrest," the spokesman said.

Almost ten inches of rain for county this month

Almost ten inches of rain has fallen on Rockcastle County during the month of February, according to local weatherman Bud Cox.

According to Cox, 3.53 inches of rain fell since last Wednesday as well as an inch and half of snow, which fell last Friday.

The county got hit with the heaviest rainfall, Monday and Monday night when almost two and a half inches of rain fell. Cox said that some residents in other areas of the county reported as much as three and a half inches of rain fall during Monday's rains.

During last February only 1.12 inches of rain fell and 1.50 inches of snow. The low this month has been three degrees. However low temperatures were forecast for Thursday (today) morning.

City filings pick up as deadline nears

Cromer will face Busell in Mayor's race in November

By: Richard Anderkin

As the deadline for filing for city council seats across the county approached Tuesday, several new faces decided to try their hand at politics and many incumbents also will seek re-election.

Gary Cromer filed to seek re-election as Mt. Vernon Mayor. Cromer, 42, owner and operator of Appalachian Medical Equipment and Supply will face Mt. Vernon council member Tommy Busell in the May primary.

Busell, 29, who works at Berea College, filed earlier. He is a two term member of the council.

Incumbent Mt. Vernon council members, Wayne Adams and Clarence Kirby also filed for re-election.

Filing for Mt. Vernon council for the first time were Bill Cash, Lloyd Cam, Floyd C. Baker and Billy Doan.

Cash, 55, works for the Army in the Material Readiness Supportive Action division in Lexington.

Cash, 55, who retired this year, after 20 years as principal at the Harry Sparks Vocational School will attempt to gain a seat on the council.

Baker, retired from General Motors and Billy Doan, will also seek election to the council.

Doan is not to be confused with incumbent council member Billy Ray Doan, who has indicated that he will probably not seek a second term.

Billy Ray Doan works at Food Fair Supermarket, while the other Billy Doan is a vendor who sells knickknacks on the streets of Mt. Vernon.

As of Tuesday only one person had filed for any of the council seats in Brodhead.

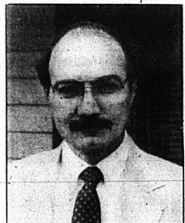

Keith Busell, 28, a respiratory therapist, who works for Grigam's Medical Supply will try his hand at politics for the first time.

In Livingston, Terry Salyer, 35, an electrician, who works at Bales Garage filed for one of the four council seats, as did incumbent Margaret Bardin.

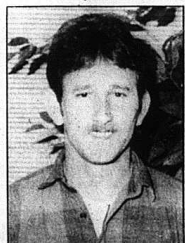

Incumbent Todd Mink had previously filed for re-election.

The filing deadline for all city offices was Wednesday at 4 p.m. Other candidates were expected to file in each city race. All candidates will not run until the November general election.

A complete list of the city candidates will appear in next week's SIGNAL.

Preacher Marvin Hensley killed

Marvin Hensley, who had preached at the Assembly of God Church at Burr for many years, was found shot to death at his Pittsburg gas station around 7 a.m. Wednesday morning.

According to Kentucky State Police at the London Post, robbery was the apparent reason for the homicide.

Gilbert Acciardo, Jr. Public Affairs officer at the London Post said Hensley was found dead in the aisle of Hensley's Spur, a store and gas station that Hensley and his wife Martha owned and operated. Hensley, 48, had been shot several times, according to Acciardo, who said that an undisclosed amount of cash was taken from the store.

A spokesman for the Laurel County Coroner's office said that an autopsy would be performed.

Acciardo said that Hensley usually opened the store at around 6 a.m. and police think the homicide occurred between 5:30 and 7 a.m.

Wednesday's homicide was the second in Laurel in as many months at a service station.

In January, Ronald Smith, of London was found shot to death at Doris Jean's Chevron on West 80.

Hensley lived with his wife and daughter Denise, a junior at Rockcastle County high school at their Burr home, next to the church where he preached.

Hensley is also survived by two sons, Marty, 27, and Dwight 25.

The body is at Bowling Funeral Home in London where arrangements are incomplete.

Already some changes

Familiar faces won't be at the barn dance when it opens

When the Rentro Valley Barn Dance opens for its first show under new management March 4, some familiar faces will be missing from the line-up.

At least ten performers, who had played and sang on the barn dance a year ago were notified that there would not be room for them this season.

In a letter to the performers from Glen Pennington, a partner in Rentro Valley Entertainment Corporation and executive vice president, the decision to not re-hire the performers was due to other commitments and economics.

Some of the performers not re-hired were 17 year veterans of the Rentro stage.

Those not re-hired included M.C. and guitar player Country Charlie Napier, accordion player Patty Fly, singer Tommy Dunsmore, upright bass player Curt Caldwell, Marge and Debbie Rhodes who play the mandolin and guitar and also sing, dobro player Bill Collins, James Roberts, who played rhythm guitar, lead guitar player Swaney Cornett and long time fiddle player Ralph Marcum.

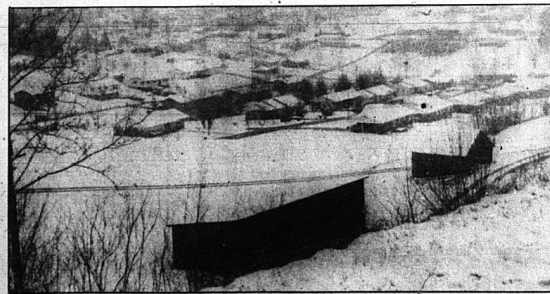

Some of last year's regular performers that will be back March 4 include Virginia Sutton Bray, Al Ballinger and Pete Stamper.

Pennington, director of entertainment for the group, promises a complete and entertaining line-up when the first show opens.

Rentro Valley Entertainment group purchased Rentro Valley Folks from the daughters of the late John Lair recently and have indicated that they will make sweeping changes in the valley. The group has also purchased the motel and lodge at Rentro as well.

Included in plans for the valley will be a new 1,500 seat auditorium, a theme park, cable television station and 64 unit motel as well as more shows and special week-end events.

Hammock marijuana trial delayed until April

A trial that had been set to start last Thursday in Rockcastle Circuit Court has now been delayed until April 13, after both the Commonwealth Attorney's office and lawyers for the defendant agreed upon the delay.
Debbie Hammock, 30 of Brodhad will be tried on a charge of distributing marijuana to a minor last September.
Hammock is accused of distributing marijuana to a Brodhad youth, who was caught trying to sell the illegal substance to other students at the Rockcastle County High School.
Hammock is free on bond until her trial.

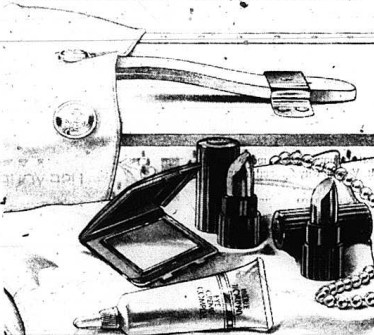

Letters

Dear Editor,
The residents of Sand Hill in District 2 of Rockcastle County would like to know why and what it would take to keep the roads in drivable conditions. Why can't we get more than one or two small truck loads of gravel on a stretch of road 10 miles long? When we call the magistrate to complain he tells us to call the judge. The judge then tells us to call our magistrate or the county road department. Nothing ever gets done about the roads.
The roads are like a washboard and the pot holes make it very hard to keep a vehicle in good condition. When it snowed last Friday, a resident of Sand Hill called and asked if we could get some gravel on the road so the school bus could get up the hill. They said they had sent a county truck out that was supposed to have come up the road. They said it didn't need it, yet the school bus was about one and half hours late and we had two weeks.

Elect Charles D. Holbrook Magistrate District #1

Boom-Boom is back & doing fine we're hauling gravel all the time.

We are basically a county of farmers and commuters. Our problems cannot be solved by promising this and that, whispers and handshakes. The roads have become increasingly hazardous, by wandering politicians, who never knew us before.

My friend, I could have possibly miscalculated, I understand privacy, and I adhere to this code.

Basically, all Rockcastle Countians understand our problems, as you know, I am working on them. I would be very appreciative to all, if given an opportunity to continue in this capacity.

Charles D. Holbrook, Republican Magistrate Candidate, 1st District

Fellow Citizens of the 3rd District

I've chosen to run as Magistrate because of my convictions of what our district and our county should be doing - money is certainly not the reason.

If I'm elected, I'll be available for you seven days a week to listen to your problems and concerns. I'll work with the fiscal court and county judge to address problems such as garbage and road maintenance and I'll look for ways to bring in new businesses to offer more jobs for our community.

I've been actively employed in Rockcastle County for 27 years and have been in business at DeBoard Oil Company for the past 10 years. I've traveled the roads in the third district daily. I know a better job can be done and I hope you'll give me the opportunity to speak up - speak out and address the needs of our district and our county.

Through the Rockcastle County Historical Society, Mrs. Janita Witt tells me my great grandmother - Mary Cox was born 1803 and died Feb. 24, 1879 at age 75 years 10 months. She was buried in the Old Mareburg Cemetery (between Wildie and Hummel). Don't know where great grandpa Ambrose Cox was buried or when he died.

What I am inquiring about is this: Do you have any death notices on Ambrose or Mary Cox or their children in your very old news papers?

Also I need to know if you have any death notices on Jacob or Sarah Winkler - my grandmother Angelina's parents. They were also listed in the 1860 census of Rockcastle County. Children John H. Angelina, Francis, Margaret and James W. Winkler.

The two sets of grandparents - the Cox's and Winkler's - were born in Tennessee and migrated to Rockcastle County.

We have a lot of Cherokee Indian blood in us and I am trying to trace it all down. We are not listed on the Cherokee Indian rolls.

If you can help me on the above information I would really appreciate it.

Thank you.
Yours truly,
George Wm. Cox

Conservation District purchases new drill

It was snowing Friday, Feb. 17, as Lloyd Cain unhooked the new no-till drill from his truck, parking it beside his house near the high school. Mr. Cain, a Rockcastle County Conservation District supervisor, and David Edwards, District Conservationist, had just returned from Somerset with the new purchase made for the benefit of area farmers.

The District plans to lease the drill to farmers by the acre. The drill plants an area 80 inches wide by preparing a "mini" seedbed in sod, crop stubble, or other unprepared ground. Since the farmer doesn't need to till the soil before planting, many benefits are realized, among them: saving time, labor, and soil. There is also a savings of seed compared to broadcasting, as the seeding rate can be reduced due to better seed placement by the drill. The types of seed which will plant are grass seed, clover, alfalfa, lespedeza, oats, wheat, vetch, soybeans and others.

When the snow melts and the soil dries out, the drill will be ready to roll. Contact the Conservation District Office in Mt. Vernon at 256-2541 for more details.

The Rockcastle County Conservation District's new no-till seeder awaits use by area farmers.

Burley leaders urged to vote "Yes" on referendum

Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association officials, as well as other tobacco industry leaders, are calling for an all out "yes" vote in the upcoming referendum for a three-year extension of the burley tobacco program.

The referendum on the program that includes poundage allotments to control overproduction, and price supports to guarantee a floor on sales, is scheduled to be held Feb. 27 through March 2 this year.

The voting again will be held by mail for the production years of 1989, 1990 and 1991. A two-thirds majority of voters have to indicate approval of the program for it to be continued for the next three years.

The Burley Cooperative regards a "positive" vote return this year as "more important than ever," and urges strong support in answer to the growing numbers of anti-tobacco groups and legislation to curtail smoking to terminate the tobacco program.

"Farmers have seen the ability of the program to survive both good and bad times," said John M. Berry Jr., president of the Burley Association. "In the past couple of years, the program has regained its health and is now in good financial condition," he said.

Berry also said if the program was ever voted out, producers would never get it back.

Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service officials said county offices will mail referendum ballots to all known eligible voters on Feb. 24. Ballots have to be returned to the offices by the end of work on Thursday, March 2, or mailed and postmarked by midnight March 2 to be counted.

All quota owners, tobacco producers and/or tenant involved in burley tobacco production, 18 years old or older, are eligible to vote in the referendum. Wives of producers also are allowed to vote if they were involved in any phase of raising or marketing the 1988 burley crop.

A farmer who holds more than one quota in one or more counties may vote only one time. ASCS officials said. Each operator and/or tenant raising any quota, however, may vote once in the referendum.

Burley producers who think they are eligible to vote and do not receive a ballot before the voting deadline, may request one at their local ASCS county office.

During the last voting period in 1986, more than 400,000 ballots were sent to tobacco producing families in the eight-state burley belt, including 210,000 ballots to Kentucky producers. Approximately 70 percent of the ballots were returned, indicating a 97 percent majority "yes" vote.

What Does National Flood Insurance Mean to You?

Until the late 1960s, flood insurance was practically unavailable to home and business owners.

Since private insurance firms were unwilling to assume the financial risk alone, Congress voted in 1968 to create the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). This federal pro-

In the event of a flood

Tips to minimize loss of life and property...

Even if you've never experienced a major flood, you ought to know what to do if floodwaters threaten your community.

The following tips from the National Flood Insurance Program should be used as suggested guidelines for action. Of course, if you find yourself in a flood situation and do not know what to do, check with local disaster officials.

Steps To take Today

Make an itemized list of personal property, including furnishings, clothing, and valuable. Photographs of your home -- inside and out -- are helpful. These will assist an adjuster in settling claims and will help prove uninsured losses, which are tax deductible.

Learn the safest route from your home or place of business to high, safe ground if you should have to evacuate in a hurry.

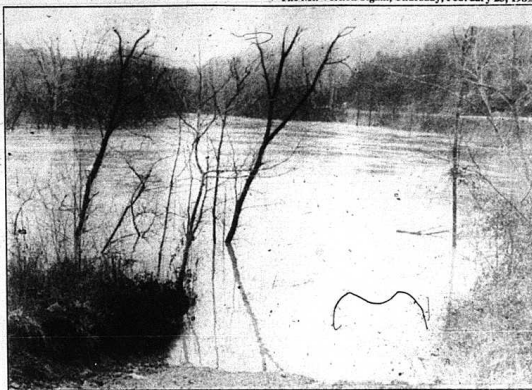

Keep a portable radio; emergency cooking equipment, and flashlights in working order.

Persons who live in frequently flooded areas should keep on hand materials such as sandbags, plywood, plastic sheeting, and lumber which can be used to protect property. (Remember, sandbags should not be stacked directly against the outer walls of a building, since, when wet, the bags may create added pressure on the foundation.)

Buy flood insurance. You should contact your property/casualty agent or broker about eligibility for flood insurance, which is offered through the National Flood Insurance Program. Generally, there is a five-day waiting period for this policy to become effective, so don't wait until the last minute to apply.

Keep your insurance policies and a list of personal property in a safe place, such as a safety-deposit box. Know the name and location of the agent(s) who issued these policies.

Keep a battery-powered radio tuned to a local station, and follow all emergency instructions.

If you're caught in the house by suddenly rising waters, move to the second floor and, if necessary, to the roof. Take warm clothing, a flashlight, and portable radio with you, then wait for help. ... don't try to swim to safety. Rescue teams will be looking for you.

When outside the house, remember... FLOODS ARE DECEPTIVE. Try to avoid flooded areas, and don't attempt to walk through floodwaters that are more than knee deep.

If, and only if, time permits... there are several precautionary steps that can be taken.

Turn off all utilities at the main power switch and close the main gas valve if evacuation appears necessary. Do not touch any electrical equipment unless it is in a dry area and you are standing on a piece of dry wood while wearing rubber gloves and rubber-soled boots or shoes.

Move valuable papers, furs, jeweled to a local station, and follow all

District tournament pairings announced

The Boys and Girls 49th district tournament pairing have been announced and it doesn't look good for the Rocket teams.

The boys must play the number 1 ranked team in the state, according to the Associated Press, Clay County. Clay is undefeated this season and has lost only once in two years to Kentucky competition.

The boys will play Clay on Tuesday, February 28 at 7:30 p.m. The girls have it a little easier, but not much as they take on the home-tandant Jackson County Lady Generals. The Lady Generals defeated the Lady Rockets by 5 points five weeks ago, but they have also defeated the likes of Laurel County this season.

Jennifer Thacker #15 takes a shot from the paint in the final home game of the season for the Lady Rockets played last Thursday against McCreary Central. The Lady Rockets lost to the Central Raiders after having led for a portion of the game. Also in the photo is Angie McClure. Both, Thacker and McClure will be returning for Coach Bullock next season. The Lady Rockets play in district competition next Wednesday night against Jackson County in McKe.

Girls drop final home game to McCreary

The Rockcastle Lady Rockets lost their final home contest of the season last Thursday night to a well-balanced McCreary Central team.

The Lady Rockets fell behind early when they could not get a shot to fall. Good rebounding kept the Rockets in the game.

April Burton had a fine game with 8 points and 10 rebounds. The Lady Rockets have been playing very well the last five games, says Coach Judy Bullock.

The Lady Rockets fought back to take a 6 point lead, 26-20, at the half.

In the second half good shooting by McCreary eventually led to a victory by the Lady Raiders. Angie Senter led the Lady Rockets in scoring with 12, Donna Harper had 9.

Boys lose by ten to Greenup

Play final home game against Red Bird Friday

For the second time this season the Rockcastle Rockets lost to Greenup County. This time the Rockets were leading at the half only to see their lead evaporate in the second period and go on to lose by 10.

Good shooting and defense enabled the Rockets to gain an early advantage over the visitors from Greenup. A couple of three pointers, one by David Owens and Kris Ponder, gave the Rockets the lead at the half.

The Greenup club did a good job in the second half of getting better shots and working the boards. Rockcastle's defense slacked off in the second half thus allowing visitors to gain the victory.

The Rockets were led in scoring by Kris Ponder with 16, Billy Todd added 10, David Owens 8, Mike Barron 5, Steve Clark, David Eaton and Adam Coleman 4 each, David Sargent added 3.

The loss dropped the Rockets to 4 wins and 16 losses on the year.

The Rockets return home this Friday night to host Redbird for the final regular season contest.
