How would you like to save $1,000 on the cost of building your dream house? It's easy!

Most home owners know about the importance of adequate insulation in staying comfortable and lowering energy costs. They also know that a high-efficiency heating and cooling system will help keep energy costs low.

Well, participating rural electric cooperatives are rewarding home owners who combine these two common-sense approaches to energy efficiency with a $1,000 rebate. We're talking about an All-Seasons Comfort Home. Here's how it works. Your builder or insulation contractor agrees to meet the insulation criteria outlined by the All-Seasons standards. A geothermal system provides heating, cooling and hot water heating. It's the most efficient, cost-effective heating and cooling system on the market — bar none. That's it. Pretty simple, isn't it?

A good blanket of insulation and a geothermal system mean you'll stay comfortable all year. You'll save money all year. And you'll save up front because of the $1,000 rebate. But remember, the All-Seasons Comfort Home rebate is only available from participating rural electric cooperatives.

Insulate for Comfort Insulate for Savings

One of the big advantages of an All-Seasons Comfort Home is the amount of insulation required. Quality insulation assures you comfort all year. You'll stay warm in winter and cool in summer. The results have been proven time and time again. But do you realize that insulation also saves money on operating your heating and cooling system — lots of money?

In a typical 1500 sq. ft. house built to common standards of a few years ago, you could expect to pay $1,125 for winter heating with an electric heat pump. With the same house built to All-Seasons standards, which includes a geothermal heating and cooling system, your heating costs are $435. You save $690.

When you're building a new home or improving an older home, it's best not to take shortcuts on energy efficiency. It soon adds up. Let's take a look.

Even if a house has the same amount of wall, floor and ceiling insulation as an All-Seasons Home, but it doesn't have storm windows, vapor barriers and infiltration barriers, you can expect to pay 57 percent more to heat and cool compared to the All-Seasons Comfort Home.

Free Heat From The Earth

An ingredient of the All-Seasons Comfort Home is a geothermal heating and cooling system. It's the most efficient system on the market. So efficient, in fact, that it will heat up to half your hot water free!

Here's how it works. A loop of plastic pipe filled with an antifreeze solution is buried underground. The liquid absorbs heat from the earth and transfers it into your house. In summer, the process is reversed. Heat is removed from your house and transferred to the ground below.

What makes it so good? Well, in addition to being the most efficient system available to home owners today, it's clean, safe and comfortable. Unlike gas systems, there is no open flame or pollution inside or out.

It's also head and shoulders above regular heat pumps in terms of comfort. The vent temperature of a geothermal heating and cooling system is about 105 degrees. The vent temperature of a heat pump is about 85 degrees. When you stand beside the heat pump, you feel cool because the vent temperature is below skin temperature. When you stand beside a geothermal heating system, the vent temperature is above skin temperature. You can feel the warmth. You can enjoy the comfort.

Quick thinking and gun saves Smith's life

Gunman also charged with Hensley murder

By: Richard Anderkin
Managing Editor

Had it not been for a pistol he carried in his front pocket and a nose for trouble, Ricky Smith might have ended up in the same shape as his neighbor, Minister Marvin Hensley Sr.

Smith, who owns and operates Quality Sunoco at Burr, was involved in a shoot-out with a Manchester man Saturday morning at his station. The man had apparently come to the station to kill and rob whomever was working and in this case it was Smith.

The crime occurred exactly like police think two other murder and robberies did in Laurel County in the past weeks and, late Tuesday police at the London State Police Post confirmed that the same gun was used in all three crimes.

Ronnie Bowling, 20, of Burning Springs, who had already been charged with attempted robbery and murder in the Saturday shooting at Burr, was charged with two counts of murder and first degree robbery Tuesday.

The Manchester man is accused of killing Mt. Vernon Minister, Marvin Hensley, Sr., at his Pittsburg gas station last Wednesday and Ronald Smith of London at the Doris Jean Chevron Station on Ky. 80 across from the state police post in London. That crime happened January 20.

Police think that Bowling struck again so soon after Hensley's murder because of the fact that he got only about $100 at Hensley's station.

As filing ends

Bussell will face Bussell at Brodhead

By: Richard Anderkin

Although there won't be any races until November, candidates wishing to hold a city office in Rockcastle County have filed.

The deadline was last Wednesday and there were few surprises except for a Bussell against a Bussell, for the Brodhead mayor's seat.

Ruth M. Bussell, 60, will face incumbent Billy B. Bussell, 63 in November.

Bussell will be trying to gain his second term as mayor. He has also served as city councilmember for several terms.

Ruth Bussell is a retired restaurant owner, who said Tuesday that she has seen the need for some improvements in the city and she is looking forward to the November election.

Ruth Bussell's husband, Joe, is the Brodhead City policeman. Filing for council seats at Brodhead were all four incumbents, D.A. Robbins, Johnny Wilcox, Paul D. Owens and Eddie Cash. Keith Bussell had filed earlier. The five men will seek the four seats.

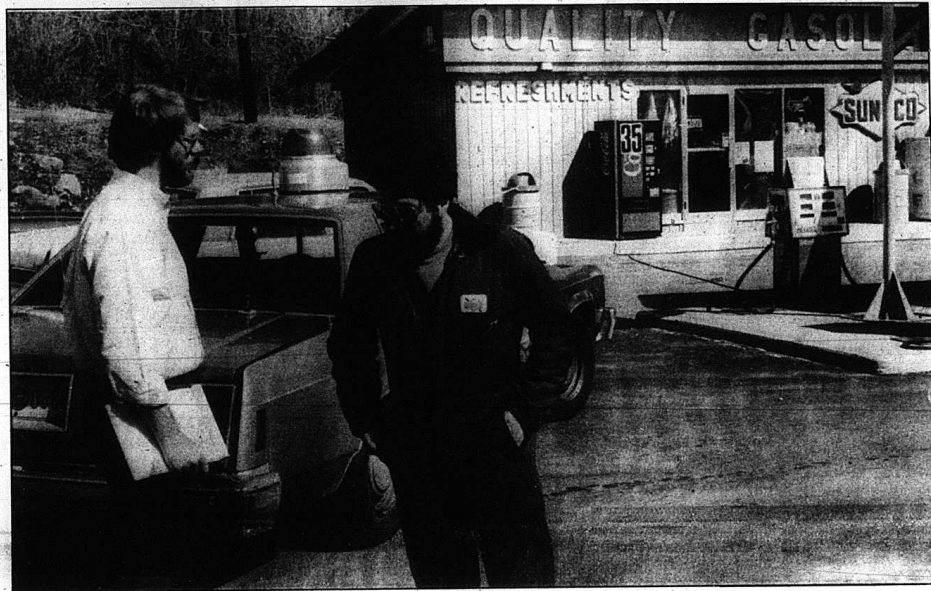

In Livingston, Billy Medley will go unopposed for the mayor's seat, while incumbents, Todd Mink, Margaret Burdine and Earl Baker will try to retain their council seats.

Denver Howard, 53, a truck driver for Sallies Horse Vans in Lexington will attempt to gain a seat on the council as will Billy Mason, 38, a service station attendant.

The two, along with Terry Sawyer are trying politics for the first time.

The gun that led to the murder charges against Bowling was found beside the road Saturday near the spot in Northern Laurel County where state police started chasing Bowling.

The chase began after Smith called the London Post to notify them that he had been involved in a shoot-out with a man he described as trying to kill him.

Smith gave a description of the man and description of the Ford Fairmont that Bowling was driving.

When Bowling left Smith's station he headed toward Livingston. But, state trooper Alan Lewis, who had just been to Rockcastle County on a drunk driving call, was still in the area and he intercepted Bowling seven miles north of London at Dive Bomber Hill.

Lewis, who used to be assigned to Rockcastle, said that when he met Bowling's car he had his lights on bright, but that he (Bowling) dimmed them and then had only the one headlight. When Smith notified police he told them that Bowling's car had only one headlight.

After Lewis spotted Bowling police pursued him at speeds of over 100 mph through Laurel County and Clay County before Bowling stopped at his residence on US 421 in Clay County. The arrest was made at Bowling's residence without incident at 7:11 a.m. following the 26-mile chase.

Bowling was then taken to the Marymount Hospital in London where he was treated and then transferred to the London State Police Post for questioning. He was later lodged in the Rockcastle County jail.

According to Ricky Smith, Bowling entered his gas station at around 6:30 a.m. Saturday and asked him if he needed any help.

Smith said that he told Bowling that he didn't and they talked for a few moments more.

Smith said that he was very suspicious of the way Bowling was acting and that he moved to the doorway of his office inside the station. Smith said that Bowling turned his back on him and then turned around and began firing shots at him.

Smith said that he dove to the floor behind the wall and his desk and pulled his .38 caliber pistol from his pocket and began returning fire at Bowling through the wall. Bowling also kept firing shots at Smith through the wall.

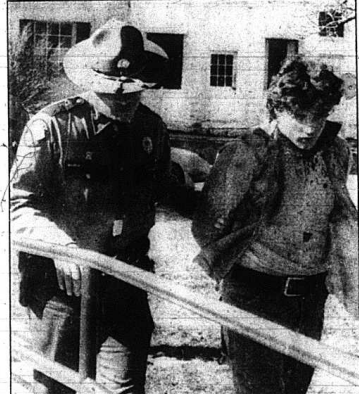

Smith, 32, who has owned the Sunoco for seven years said that Bowling suddenly fled the station and got into his car.

According to police, some of Bowling's flesh was found on the wall of the station. Smith had apparently hit him during the shoot-out.

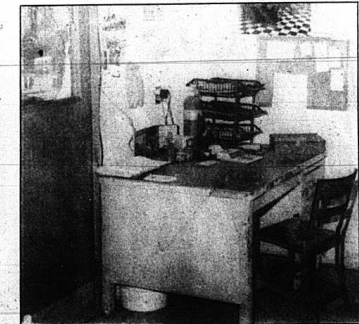

Police said that a total of nine shots were fired during the exchange.

"I usually work nights but ever since these killings started I have been coming in with the man that opens the station, but Saturday was his day off," Smith said. "He asked me if I wanted him to come in with me and I told him no." Smith

"Do Unto Others..."

Dear Editor,
I tell my children to do unto others as you would expect them to do unto you. I will be the first to admit that I have made many mistakes in my life time. We are only human.
But, as I try to teach my children well, it seems that there is always someone around the corner trying to bring out the worst in them.
Not only my children, but along with many others in the neighborhood, have complained about the alley-type pathway that is no longer to be used to get from Bussell Street to Tyres Street.
Mr. P.D. Owens will not allow this any longer so he put up NO TRESPASSING signs along with bobwire fencing across the pathway.
I don't worry as much about the bobwire as I do the foul language that Mr. Owens has spoken to my children. The men things that people say can be so hurtful to a child.
I just want the people of Brodhead to realize that this person with the bobwire fence and the NO TRESPASSING signs is the same person running for another term on Brodhead Council. Ask yourself when you go to vote if this is the kind of person you want to represent Brodhead.
I believe the truth will set you free. If you want truth, go to the first court on Bussell Street. But, watch out for the bobwire.
A Concerned Mother,
Deborah J. Price

Magistrate Not Fair
Dear Editor,
I am writing about Magistrate Jack Bradley of the 2nd district.
My husband recently passed away and the family asked Mr. Bradley to have some rocks hauled to the graveyard. Mr. Bradley said it was against the rules. The next week, someone else died and he gravelled two roads.
I just wondered why it was against the rules one time and not the other. Let's remember when election time comes. We don't need someone who can't be fair.

This is just a theory but I'll bet they started the first building in Frankfort the summer after a big flood. Several years would necessarily go by before the river got full again and it was likely a pretty looking spot, just laying there flat inside a big curve in the river. There were probably lots of big willow trees and the land was rich and fertile. And nobody realized that it had recently been under 30 feet of muddy water.

Before anybody knew what was happening several people had settled in close to each other and somebody had started a store in the big bottom. Next came a harness shop and a whiskey still and they had a town. Just like that. It was a happy place and the cashing was also good. And the Indians simply left it alone.

Folks probably wondered why the Indians didn't attack. They would come out on the cliffs high above the lower edge of town where the capitol overlook is now and they would all start laughing so loudly that it would echo up and down the river. Ladies would check to see if their petticoats were showing and men would twist around to see if something was stuck to their hindseys.

At first, the settlers were much alarmed when the Indians appeared because they were always getting word of raids on other communities around the state but these Indians seemed content to sit on the cliff and laugh. It was annoying, but folks learned to ignore it. Besides, they themselves got to really loud right before a good rain in February and March. Folks would say to each other, "We're gonna get a rain. Just listen to them jingus cackling over yander."

And sure enough, within twelve hours it would be pouring rain and every once in a while the river would get up high enough to wash off somebody's boat and foul up the trot lines. Things went on like that for twelve or fifteen years and Frankfort got to be a great big place with several hundred people living fat and happy there on the river.

Then one morning, about the middle of March, it seemed like all the Indians in the state were ganged up on the side of the hill, laughing their ankles off.

"We shore do need a good rain," the townsfolks said to each other. "Believe we're gonna git one too," they would say. "Jis listen to them jingus!"

That evening, it started raining and all the next day and the harder it rained the more Indians seemed to be congregating on the hill sides. The water had gotten up in a few yards and the main road through town was knee deep in rising water before dark on the second day and still the rain kept coming. By daylight the water was up in several houses and some people were having to vacate.

But the townsfolks, instead of worrying, became amused by all the stuff that was floating into town from farther up the river. There were all sorts of livestock either swimming or drifting by atop the roofs of crudely built log shanties.

"Ain't it awful how them people up in Letcher County live," the townsfolks would say to each other. And this was over a hundred years before Letcher County was even named. One of the first things that Frankfort settlers learned to do was despise hillbillies. Even when all the Indians in the world were sitting up on the cliff laughing at them, folks knew that someday there would be a Letcher County and they wanted to get an early start feeling sorry for it. Anyway, by noon, several homes were completely under water. The store owner had packed all his goods up to the second floor, but the water was still rising. The store owner was the last person to leave town. He swam out to high ground on a mule that had probably floated all the way downstream from where Whitesburg is now. The mule had lodged just above an upstairs window of the store and the man had climbed out on it. It swam easily when he got its head up and got it pointed toward high ground. The mule got its footing right about where Wallace and Martha Wilkinson live now.

When dawn broke, the Indians began doing the same kind of dance they always threw right after they had burned a settlement and scalped all its residents. Every building in Frankfort had washed away. The community was completely wiped out but just like the Indians knew it would and it had all come about without their having to fire an arrow which was what they had in mind all along. The Indians danced and celebrated till way up in the night and went in to bed joking about what fools the white eyes had been to build their homes in the riverbottom to begin with.

About five or six o'clock, way before daylight, they were awakened by the sounds of hammering and nailing. They climbed out on the cliff and could scarcely believe their eyes. Frankfort's residents already had three or four foundations laid by the time it got light enough for them. They were building in exactly the same spots they had occupied before the flood. But this time, the Indians didn't commence anything.

"Ligea Mooga Waaga Kainkacks," said the Indian with the most feathers in his hat band. When, when translated, means, "These *%&% Kentuckians actually believe they are muskrats."

So the Indians had a pop-wow and decided the settlers were crazy. It is the custom among Indians to walk a wide path around the mentally disturbed. But they also believe they'll get in deep mud with the spirits if they cause any harm to a crazy person. They don't even believe in making fun of them. So that probably explains why several other Kentucky towns built in the rivers never had an Indian trouble.

It was a good strategy at the time, perhaps, but it seems to me that we have little to fear from the Indians anymore. The time is right to save all the money we pour into rebuilding and cleaning up Frankfort every few years and relocate it on higher ground. Several other Kentucky towns should seriously consider the same strategy.

Postal Service delivers World War II letters "mailed" in 1986

A 30-month effort to deliver 235 letters written during World War II but not mailed until 1986 ended successfully for the Postal Service today. Postmaster General Anthony M. Frank returned two letters written by Sergeant Clarence F. Smith to his brother, Norman T. Smith of Henderson, Maryland, in a special ceremony in Washington, D.C.

Sergeant Smith was shot down by German fighters on July 6, 1944, two months after he wrote to his mother and a friend. His letters, along with those of 91 other soldiers, were discovered in an attic in Raleigh, North Carolina, in the summer of 1986. An exterminator was inspecting the home of an elderly woman when he spotted an old Army duffel bag.

The bag had been hidden in the attic by the woman's nephew and contained letters written in May, 1944 by GI's who were bound for Algeria aboard the troop ship Galathea. The nephew had promised to mail the letters for his shipmates but never did so.

Instead, they entered the United States postal system in 1986 when they were turned over to the postmaster of Raleigh, Ross Gansicki. He promised that the Postal Service would return the mail to the senders or their families; a promise fulfilled today.

On July 30, 1986, Albert V. Casey, then Postmaster General, retied letters to several veterans and their wives in a ceremony that marked the beginning of a nationwide search. Since that time, letters have been given to veterans and their families in 31 states, bringing memories and reunions of old friends.

Returning the last two letters presented the greatest challenge for said Smith in the most common name in the English-speaking world, the Postal Service only had his initials C.F. (Smith) to work with, and Sergeant Smith's records apparently were destroyed in a fire at the Federal Records Center in St. Louis.

"Thanks to the efforts of many caring people -- veterans, reporters and postal employees at all levels -- we were able to find Sergeant's Smith brother and return these last letters from World War II," Postmaster General Frank said.

44 participated in Blood Drive at Rockcastle Manufacturing

Forty-four people participated in Rockcastle Manufacturing's first blood drive of the year with 54 units of blood donated. Chairperson Carol Bryant organized the blood drive in conjunction with Central Kentucky Blood Center.

Blood drives are held in industries for the convenience of donors and industries -- the result is a two-part community service. The employee's community service is demonstrated when they share their good health by donating. Rockcastle Manufacturing is proud to be a part of the community by providing their employees paid release time to donate, chairpersons time to organize and by providing the site. The people of Rockcastle County and Central Kentucky Blood Center are thankful for companies like Rockcastle Manufacturing and the people who participated.

Many employees were unable to donate because of colds and flu.

However, the following people took time to try and share their good health by donating at the drive.

Fellow Citizens of the 3rd District

I've chosen to run as Magistrate because of my convictions of what our district and our county should be doing -- money is certainly not the reason.

If I'm elected, I'll be available for you seven days a week to listen to your problems and concerns. I'll work with the fiscal court and county judge to address problems such as garbage and road maintenance and I'll look for ways to bring in new businesses to offer more jobs for our community.

I've been actively employed in Rockcastle County for 27 years and have been in business at DeBoard Oil Company for the past 10 years. I've traveled the roads in the third district daily. I know a better job can be done and I hope you'll give me the opportunity to speak up - speak out and address the needs of our district and our county.

Rockcastle Little League Baseball News

"Batter Up"

Sign-Up Extension

The league will accept applications to play Little League baseball from individuals who have not had the opportunity to sign up (because of weather conditions, etc.) at the scheduled board meeting March 5 at 2 p.m. at the Rockcastle Co. Library (senior citizens meeting room).

Some Things you should know about the Local Little League

Abiding by the rules and regulations of Little League baseball, the local league is autonomous. It establishes its own administration, elects its own officers, managers, coaches, etc., and maintains an organization best suited to meet the needs of Little League in the community. The district administrator is responsible to the local league, informing them of any changes and solving any problems that might evolve. Regional offices are in St. Petersburg, Fla. and headquarters are located in Williamsport, Pa. Founded in 1939, this is the 50th Anniversary of Little League Baseball. A local league has its own protected league boundaries from which to accept players. Participants in that league are assessed a fee of $15 at sign-up time. At no time will the board refuse to accept any applicant because of inability to make payment of this fee. The local league is financed by fundraisers and donations of which we are appreciative. Sponsorship of any local league is very important to its success. Volunteer workers, responsible for many functions of the local Little League, is absolutely essential and always badly in need of.

Feeder System
The feeder system type set-up that is commonly in many sports programs, in this case T-Ball, Minor League, Major League, Senior League and Big League, is used. (Note: Minor League players are subject to be called up by a Major League team during the season when necessary. Eight year olds are exempt.)

RCHS Senior Mike Barron shoots over several Clay County players during Tuesday's loss to Clay County. The Rockets ended their season with the 104-48 loss to Clay. Also in the photo is #42 Kevin Parrett. The Rockets proved to be no match for the state's #1 ranked and undefeated Tigers.

The Clay County Tigers began their road to the "Sweet Sixteen" with a solid thrashing of the Rockcastle County Rockets, 104-48, in the first boys game of the 49th district tournament being held at Jackson County High School.

In what could be the last time a Rocket team will have to face a Clay County team coached by Bobby Keith, he has announced this will be his last season at the helm of the Tigers. Clay County controlled the opening tip and the rest of the game as well.

The superior quickness of the Tigers and their three-quarter court trapping defense led to steal after steal and to easy lay-ups. When the Rockets were able to get across half court the match up defense of Clay gave the Rockets fits and they were unable to get off a good shot.

When the Tigers missed a shot the entire team crashed the boards and seldom did they miss the opportunity for an offensive rebound and put back.

Defensively the Rockets started out in a man to man, which seemed to work about as well as anything else. The Rockets were no match for the quickness of this Clay team. The Rockets were no match, just as 76 of the last 77 Kentucky opponents have gone down to defeat at the hands of the Clay County Tigers.

At the end of the first quarter the Rockets trailed by only 11 points and had missed several opportunities to cut into the Clay lead. The second quarter, and the game, turned into a rout.

Clay County outscored the Rockets 31-13 and led by 29 points at the half. At this point it didn't appear that things could get any worse for the Rockets, but they did.

The Rockets could manage only six points in the third period. The Rockets also lost their leading scorer, Kris Ponder, to fouls with 1:05 left in the third period. With Ponder's absence the Rockets lost all hopes of gaining any ground on the Clay lead. Kevin "Shamu" Parrett played the best ball for the Rockets, if it is indeed possible to say that someone played well, he would be the candidate. Parrett did not appear to be intimidated by the Clay County mystique. In fact, he played the game like it was, just another basketball game.

Parrett, the only Rocket in double figures, led the Rockets in scoring with 10 points. He was followed by Steve Clark with 9, David Owens had 7, Kris Ponder and Mike Barron 6 each, Darren Smith 3, Billy Todd, David Sargent, and Tim Cottrell 2 each, Robbie Phillips chipped in with 1.

Clay County was led by Roger Sims '23 and Russ Farmer's 17 points. The Rockets finished the season with a 5 and 17 record. Clay improved to 29 and 0.

B-team finishes season with 8-8 record

One bright spot for Rockcastle County Basketball was the junior varsity.

The Rocket junior varsity, coached by first year man Jerry Reynolds, finished their season last Friday night with a 48-30 victory over RedBird. Their record was an even 500, 8-8 for the season.

Against RedBird the Rocket junior varsity did not play their best ball, but were able to win easily. Several freshmen and sophomores were the leaders for the junior varsity.

Robbie Phillips and William Bullens led the way with 11 each, Timmy Cottrell added 10, Darren Smith and Mike Durham (each) and Mike Smith and Scott Parkey 2 each.

William Bullens and Mike Durham, both freshmen have both performed well for Reynolds. Timmy Cottrell, Robbie Phillips, and Darren Smith as sophomores and juniors, have also played well at times.

According to Reynolds there were a few more close games that they should have won, but overall the kids played pretty good.

The junior varsity have been involved in some "down to the wire" games. Against Whitley County the Rockets trailed by one point with only seconds remaining. As they hurried the ball up the floor Mitch Parkerson broke open at the free throw line and nailed a jump shot that sealed the victory.

To the Voters of the Fifth District

I am Johnny Hedge, I managed Food Fair Store in Mt. Vernon for the past eight years and I have grown to know and become a very good judge of character and I think that Vickie Lynn McNew is what the Fifth District needs. If you want someone that is honest, hardworking, and a devoted Christian, then let's elect Vickie L. McNew.

I feel she will work with the County Judge/Exec. and the other four magistrates to see that our county is run fairly and equally in all five districts. I think it's time for a change so please get out and vote. I don't think you will be disappointed.

"OLD TIMER"

By: Ada Bullock

He was just an old timer very shabbily dressed. But the stories he told, left many impressed

How in the early days, he'd till the land, put out the crops, and harvest by hand.

Sometimes he was lucky, and could work for pay. But the hours were long for fifty cents a day.

He never complained or gave into despair. But always seemed happy and willing to share.

His faith never faltered and there was much love. As he sang the old hymns o' our Saviour above.

He never achieved, the riches on earth, had always been poor, from time of his birth.

But what he's achieved, is much more than gold. A mansion in heaven, where he'll never grow old.

"VISITORS"

By: Ada Bullock

Some little visitors came today, I'd looked for them so long. They usually come without this time, But never write nor phone.

So I have to guess the time, When they'll drop right in. But that's no problem either You see, we're long-time friends.

They never cause me extra work, Although they stay close by. And seem so happy all the time, I never hear them cry.

Just singing as they go about Their work so patiently. For their work has to be done, The same as you and me.

Now who are these little ones? If you haven't guessed, They're my singing little Sparrows, So busy making nests.

SINGING HIS PRAISES

By: Anna L. Clifford

Lord, I used to think I knew it all, when it came to my life. I had my plans all mapped out, I didn't think of grief.

Then one day you spoke to me, and all my plans were changed. Now all I want to do, is just sing praises to your name.

The new home I thought I'd build, it may never be. It doesn't matter anymore; there's a mansion awaiting me.

When I awake each morning, I sing praises to your name, And pray you'll send someone my way I can tell about the change.

I want so very much to tell others about you, and let them see you in my life with each thing I try to do.

I pray to be of use-Lord, never make you ashamed. As I go throughout this world, singing praises to your name.

YOUR FRIEND JESUS

By Vickie Petrey

I know Someone who loves you, He's waiting very near. He wants to be your friend and have your life to share.

His name is Jesus Christ, and He's real. As real as you and me. Many years ago, He died on the cross, your Saviour to always be.

No matter what you think, it was for you He died! To snatch you from the Devil's grasp and hold you by His side.

He doesn't expect perfection from you but obedience and love. So when this world is passed away, You'll be with Him above.

But first you must accept Him and be baptized in His name. It's not a hard thing to do, and your life will never be the same.

Greater will your life be, with Jesus by your side. With His loving, caring friendship like a joyful tide.

It's not "uncool" to love the Lord, after all, He loved you first. And once your life begins with Him, your heart will almost burst.

Through the good times and the bad (for the two will sometimes blend) Jesus Christ will stand beside you and always be your friend.

Busy Bee Homemakers

The Conway Busy Bee Home-maker's Club met Feb. 14 at the home of Edith Lamb. She had everything decorated beautifully in red and white for Valentine's Day. All refreshments were delicious as always.

We had 8 members and 3 visitors present. We also had 3 new members enroll: Effie Anglin, Vicky Tyler and Enva Bryant. We would like to welcome these ladies to our club.

Becky and Debbie taught our lesson on "Small Places - Special Places." It was very interesting and with spring coming, everyone will be cleaning and redecorating. It will be very helpful.

The members who knew how to crochet taught those who didn't and we will continue these lessons next month.

Our next meeting will be held at the county library on March 17.

Sunshine Homemakers

Conway Sunshine Homemakers Club met February 18 at the Conway Missionary Baptist Church.

Our lesson was on small spaces, special places. The lesson was taught by Sandi Thomas. Everyone enjoyed the slide presentation. Hostesses were Karen Leger and Sandi Thomas. Our table was decorated for Valentine Day and our refreshments were Valentine "goodies."

Our craft project for the meeting was potpourri taught by Brenda Powell. It was using potpourri and making sachets with it. Thanks to Randy Powell for his donation of potpourris. Our fellowship hall smelled so good! We got to take some home with us too.

We hope Linda and Sue are feeling much better and will be at our next meeting on March 4. Our lesson will be on decorating the bathroom.

Our craft for March will be taught by Debbie McQueen who will show us how to do plastic canvas needle-point decorations.

See you there!

As friends gathered in to pay their last respects? This baby would come in to see if her daddy had come back. Then sadly turn away while the tears ran down her face. There was no one else could take her daddy's place.

But each evening when the time was just about three, She would still go down to that old oak tree. And when night shadows would fall till she could no longer see. She would ask "Why don't daddy come back home to me?"

"What Saith the Scriptures"

The term Christian is found only 3 times in the world of God. In Ac. 11:26b "And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch." In Ac. 26:28 "Then Agrippa said unto Paul, almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian," and in I Pet. 4:16 "Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God on this behalf."

It's so sad and disheartening to see the enemies of the cross of Christ wearing human and man-given names. People wear names that exalt men and man-made doctrines. Friends, disciples were called Christians, not Lutherans, or Catholics, or Mormons, or Jehovah's Witnesses, or Pentecostal, or Methodist, or Presbyterians, or Seventh Day Adventists, or Baptists, or Nazarenes, but they were called simply Christians.

"Dear friends; in the words of President Bush "Read my lips", why not simply read God's lips, as he spoke on this matter in Ac. 11:26, Ac. 26:28 and I Pet 4:16? God has spoken to mankind through His word - the Bible, shall it fall on deaf ears? I hope not.

You see, the wearing of these man-given names, promotes and maintains religious division that Jesus did not want. Jesus prayed for unity of his true followers in Jn. 17:20-21 and Paul, one of the Lord's apostles commanded unity and condemned division I Cor. 1:10-13. Paul asks "Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul? I Cor. 1:13 Why cannot people humbly accept the name God gave his followers to wear - Christian?"

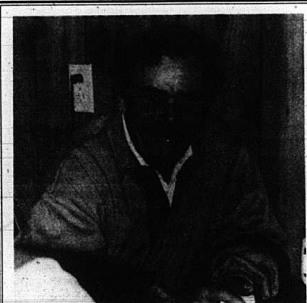

We are seeking to persuade people to be what Paul wanted Agrippa to be, simply a Christian. We are seeking to be what the disciples in Antioch were called - Christians. And when we suffer persecution we hope that it was because we were simply striving to be a Christian. Wouldn't it be great for people in our area to repent and accept God's will in this matter? Mt. 7:21-23. Let us know if we may help you in becoming a Christian.

Elect Charles D. Holbrook Magistrate District # 1

Citizens beware: unexpected hardships have been encountered these past few days, as candidates travel helter skelter from home to home seeking the vote, and promising all pie in the sky. My friend, look up, there is no pie in the sky.

Meals and periods of rest must be taken behind bolted doors. These disturbers of the peace, uninvited do-nothing candidates, shall be silenced forever on election day.

To avoid further head-on collisions with my dense grade truck drivers, they are now walking and begging their way backward toward the courthouse. These head turners, swimmers and small pipers, are by law considered as people, and are now required to consume large doses of rooster booster, (cure for limber new Jawlits and water stopper).

My friend, I shall not betray the public trust.

I will appreciate you support and influence.

Charles D. Holbrook

4-H Livestock Identification Program

Kentucky 4-Hers and FFA members who plan to exhibit their market livestock at district shows and the Kentucky State Fair this year will be required to have their animals identified with ear tags.

This new system of identification is required for all market animals that will be exhibited at shows above the county level, but is not required for breeding animals that will be exhibited.

Ear tags will be sent to County Extension Offices throughout the state.

All market steers must be identified by April 1 of the year of the show. Each member may nominate up to five steers for exhibition.

Market lambs and hogs must be identified by June 1 of the year of exhibition. Members can nominate up to six market lambs or hogs and an additional six hogs nominated for the state junior hog show.

Identification must be maintained until all state sponsored shows are concluded. The ear tags must be placed permanently in each of the animal's ears by or in the presence of an agriculture teacher for FFA members or in the presence of an Extension agent for 4-H members.

In addition, nomination forms must be completed and signed by the exhibitor and his parents or guardian and the Extension Agent or FFA teacher who witnessed the ear tagging.

No animal may be exhibited at district or state shows without the ear tags.

This form of uniform animal identification will make our shows more efficient since computers can be used to prepare and process show records. Information about the program can be obtained from County Extension offices throughout Kentucky or from agricultural teachers.

4-H Lamb Project

The Rockcastle County 4-H program, along with Keith Smith, 4-H Leader and Mike Hancock, Director of South East Kentucky Sheep program will be organizing a market lamb project this spring. This project will require that members purchase one or two lambs in early spring, care for, feed and show lambs throughout the summer and then sell the lambs in the fall.

Mike Hancock is a sheep producer and Keith Smith is also very knowledgeable of the sheep industry and will help 4-H throughout this project.

The first meeting will be on Monday, March 13th at 7 p.m. at Harry Sparks Vocational School. If you are interested in coming, call the Extension Office at 256-2403 as soon as possible and let us know of your interest.

This project would provide an excellent opportunity for members to learn about livestock, how to be responsible for animals, needs and how to show their animals at fairs.

Increasing Your Daily Fiber Isn't All Nuts and Twigs

Lately you've seen a lot of commercials for products that contain large amounts of fiber. But, increasing your dietary fiber doesn't mean you have to sit down to a bowl of tree branches and a glass of prune juice.

"A Life-Time Decision: Choose Good Nutrition," the 1989 National Nutrition Month theme, stresses in diets. One of the dietary components that requires decision making is fiber intake.

Most of us could improve our diets by choosing a variety of foods with more fiber. In recent years, we all have heard that increasing the fiber plays both preventive and therapeutic roles in the diet. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's 1985 Continuing Survey of Food Intakes by Individuals indicated that Americans have made some dietary changes, but in the case of dietary fiber, they need to make more. The average intake of fiber for women 19 to 50 years of age was a little under 11 grams. Most authorities suggest a range of 20 to 35 grams of dietary fiber daily for optimum health. Survey results indicated that over 95 percent of the women studied consumed diets with less than the minimum of 20 grams.

The USDA survey also indicated that our choices of dietary fiber are not good enough to satisfy daily requirements. Yet, there are many simple ways to increase your fiber intake. One suggestion is to choose a whole piece of fruit over fruit juice. For example, a whole, unpeeled apple adds about 3 grams of fiber, while 3/4 cup apple juice has only 0.2 grams. Choosing fruits for dessert can add fiber while decreasing fat and calories.

Salads are also excellent choices for high-fiber foods. Along with the fiber in salad greens you may add more by topping the salad with sunflower seeds.

When choosing cereals, look for high fiber types that provide 5 grams or more of dietary fiber. Read the carbohydrate information on the side panel to find this. Many ready-to-eat cereals now provide up to 13 grams per serving.

But don't be fooled by the words bran or fiber on the box front. A cereal might contain bran or another high-fiber ingredient such as whole wheat, but not in a great enough quantity to make a serving high in fiber.

Choose breads made with whole-grain flour. Again, don't be fooled by the package or product appearance. Not all brown breads are high in fiber. Look for the words "whole grain" or a specific term such as "whole wheat" as the first item on the ingredient list.

Choose cooked dry beans in main dishes or in side dishes. Fast food Mexican restaurants offer tasty high-fiber bean dishes.

Most of us could improve our diets by simply choosing a variety of foods with more fiber. Such diets also are low in fat and may decrease risk of certain diseases. When adjusting your fiber intake, gradual increases are advised to prevent gas and abdominal discomfort.

Some High Fiber Foods to add to meals:

Breakfast: 1 cup high fiber cereal - 5 grams and 1 medium banana - 3 grams. Lunch: 2 slices whole-wheat bread, 3 grams and 1 medium pear, 3 grams. Dinner: 2 1/2 cup brown rice, 3 grams, 1/2 cup cooked spinach, 5 grams and 1 medium apple, 3 grams. Total 25 grams.

said Saturday as he shook his head in disbelief about what had just happened.

Laurel County Commonwealth Attorney Tom Handy said Tuesday that he would definitely consider seeking the death penalty for Bowling because of the nature and severity of the crimes.

Bowling, who had been held in the Rockcastle County jail under a $50,000 cash bond, was being held in the Laurel County jail Tuesday night without bond for the two murders.

Police think that Bowling obtained the .38 caliber pistol that he used in the crimes in Lee County.

Your Child's Health

By: Dr. John Payne

The following has been written about before in this column, but seems to bear repeating because it comes up so often in medical practice. As everyone knows, there has been quite a flu epidemic in these parts over the last month or so. It seems to be about over, after providing very good business for hospital and doctors' offices for about six weeks. Doctors are now seeing patients with complications arising from the flu such as bad ear infections and chest infections. This is to be expected since the flu virus, like many other viruses weakens the bodies defenses by causing swelling and inflammation of the mucus membranes and allowing for easy access for secondary invaders of bacteria.

Patients often request antibiotics for the flu. Of course, the real flu bug is a virus and won't be affected by antibiotics. The secondary invaders which are bacteria will be affected by these drugs and antibiotics will help with these secondary infections. However, giving the antibiotics when the flu first starts does nothing but mess up the normal bacteria in the body and set the stage for invasion by weird bugs that may be resistant to most common antibiotics.

Doctors are under a lot of pressure from patients to give antibiotics, if for no other reason than to help the patient think "something" is being done and to justify the office call. It is better to ride out the first few days of the flu with rest, non aspirin fever medicine, fluids, etc. See your doctor if you are not better in 4 or 5 days when there may really be something which can be treated with prescription drugs. Of course, there may be exceptions, but this should be a generally good rule to follow.

Taxpayer Information

Q. Does the cost of braille books and magazines I must buy for my child who is blind qualify as a medical deduction?

Q. Is there anything I can read on special tax situations for the handicapped and their families.

A. Yes, you can request free Publication 907, information for Handicapped and Disabled Individuals, by calling the IRS at 1-800-424-FORM (3676).

LIKE THE MONTH OF MARCH, PEOPLE CAN BE UNPREDICTABLE

March is perhaps the most unpredictable month of the year. It can inflict more show and freezing temperatures on an already winter-weary population, it can warm up for some balmy spring days, or it can turn unseasonably hot. Along with the inevitable wind, this has given rise to the lion/lamb description of its entry and exit. As we all know, there are some people like that. They can never make up their minds about what they want to do or where they want to go. They just drift along, without any roots or goals, and seldom accomplish anything worthwhile. If you have been floundering in this manner, help is at hand at your House of Worship. Just seek the Lord's guidance and let Him point you in the right direction. He put us all here for a reason, and He knows where we belong. All we have to do is trust Him.

There is no more miserable human being than one in whom nothing is habitual but indecision.

Briefly

Fire completely destroys home at Poplar Gap

A fire caused by a skillet of grease that ignited, completely destroyed a home near Poplar Gap Thursday.

According to Mt. Vernon fireman Bud Cox, Lyman and Debbie Fisher lost everything they had in the blaze.

Cox said that some children at home at the time, left the house when the fire started and drove to Mt. Vernon to get help.

When members of the fire department arrived on the scene the fire was going out the roof.

The fire department was also called out to the home of James Malicote at Brush Creek Monday. A wall in Malicote's trailer had become very hot and he thought it was on fire. But, when firemen arrived they could find no fire.

Three charged with crimes following police raids here

Two separate raids Friday night resulted in the arrest of three local people.

Arrested at Calloway was Ruby Hayes, 66 and her daughter Phyllis Mills, 40. Hayes was charged with illegal possession of alcoholic beverages for the purpose of resale and Hayes was charged with illegal sale of alcoholic beverages in a local option territory and illegal possession of alcoholic beverages for the purpose of resale.

According to Gilbert Acciardo Jr., Public Affairs officer at the London Post, an undercover investigation led to the raid and arrest.

Taken in the raid were 84 cans of beer and 7 bottles of liquor. According to Acciardo, Mills told police that the alcohol taken was the same alcohol that police returned to Mills earlier in the month, after District Judge William T. Cain ordered the alcohol returned.

Mills and Hayes are free on bond until a March 8th arraignment before District Judge Walter McGuire.

Roger Mink, 28, of Horseshoe Bend was also arrested Friday and charged with illegal possession of alcoholic beverages for the purpose of resale and illegal sale of alcoholic beverages in a local option territory. Mink was also charged with two counts of trafficking in schedule four, non-narcotic drugs, or valiums, by arresting officer Gary Lane.

Mink, who was accused of selling alcohol to some Mt. Vernon Elementary students, is free of a $6,000 bond until his March 6 arraignment.

Schools will participate in storms awareness week

The Rockcastle County School system will participate in the Severe Storms Awareness Week, March 5-11, according to Larry Hammond of the Rockcastle County School system.

According to Hammond local schools will hold tornado drills during the week and on Wednesday March 8 schools will participate in a statewide tornado drill.

Controversial field to get backstop by weekend

A T-ball field that drew public protest over a year ago from residents in the area will finally have some work done on it soon.

According to Wayne Adams, a Mt. Vernon City Council member who is on the city's recreation committee city workers should have the backstop up at the new T-ball field completed by Thursday, (today)

The new field is located on city property on the old Broadhead road. Opponents of the field said the land was part of the purchase made when the city bought land for Lake Linnville and was needed for flooding purposes.

3 inches snow; 9 inches rain make for wet month

Including last week's snowfall, 3 inches of snow was recorded at the Cox Funeral Home weather station in February, which brought the total amount of actual precipitation in Rockcastle County for February to 9.49 inches. That is compared to only 1.12 inches a year ago.

According to weatherman Bud Cox, the high for the month was on February 2nd when it was 69 and the low was 3 only the 9th and 24.

Cain will have no opposition; McGuire faces Henderson

John W. Polk and Dean Stewart have officially withdrawn as candidates for district judge in division one of the 28th Judicial District of which Rockcastle and Pulaski Counties compose. Both attorneys said however that they will actively seek appointment to the post if it becomes vacant.

The vacancy would occur, if Circuit Judge Dan Venters is appointed to a federal judgeship in Pikeville and District Judge William Cain, the incumbent in division one is appointed to fill Venters' position. Of course it is all speculation because there is no guarantee that Venters will get the nod from President Bush.

Although Cain will go unopposed, Judge Walter McGuire will not be so lucky. He will be opposed by Somerset attorney Paul Henderson, who is speaking his first public office, for the division two seat. The men will not run until the November General Election.

Venters has heaviest case load in state

If you think that court proceedings move slowly in Rockcastle County, there is probably a very good reason.

Circuit Judge Dan Venters does more than your average judge.

The Rockcastle Circuit Judge's case load was the highest in the state in fiscal year 1988 -- well over 500 more than the average Kentucky circuit judge handles annually.

And there's no relief in sight.

"The voters have elected one of the better judges in the state," said Don Cetrulo, director of the Administrative Office of the Courts. "He's (Judge Venters) capable of doing more than the average judge."

Admitting that Venters's case load is well above average, Cetrulo could offer no immediate solution to the problem.

In fiscal year 1987, a total of 1,236 were filed in Pulaski and Rockcastle counties.

Last fiscal year there were 1,358 cases filed in the 28th judicial circuit.

"I greatly appreciate Judge Cains' willingness to help with the case load," said Venters. "He's certainly capable of handling the cases that he's accepted."

But he added, "Judge Cain has helped in the sense that it (the case load) isn't any worse than it is."

A total of 341 civil cases were filed last fiscal year. There were 273 criminal cases and 593 domestic (divorce, child support, etc.) cases.

Judge Venters has served the 28th circuit since 1984. He previously was a district judge.

"There needs to be a serious attempt to redraw boundary lines across the state," said Venters.

Kentucky has 56 circuits, and Judge Venters said "it's common" for circuits to cover two or more counties.

But he added that "circuit boundaries existing now have historic divisions based on factors that are generally not accurate any longer."

Grand Jury indictments

The Rockcastle County Grand Jury handed down several indictments last Friday for crimes ranging from trafficking in marijuana to receiving stolen property.

Robert C. "Bobby" Robinson, 40, of Rt. 5 Mt. Vernon, and his wife Zannie G. Robinson, 39, were charged with trafficking in marijuana, over five pounds.

The indictment stemmed from a September 30 incident in which state police and Mt. Vernon city police searched the Robinson home and reportedly found the marijuana.

The Robinsons are free on bond until a March 10 arraignment before Circuit Judge Dan Venters.

Two Lexington men were charged with receiving stolen property over $100.

According to the indictment, Barry Slenker, 20 and Edward Dean, 29, are charged with stealing auto parts, tools, cigarettes, candy and money from a garage owned by Gary Barnett at the junction of old 461 and 150.

Both men are still lodged in the Rockcastle County jail awaiting a March 10 court appearance.

Sharon Simpson, 41, of Brodhead was also indicted for assistance program fraud.

He said that splitting the circuit would not relieve the situation. According to Judge Venters, about three-fourths of the cases filed last year were from Pulaski County, and a fourth from Rockcastle.

And "given the state's revenue situation," said Cetrulo "the prospects of adding a second circuit judge aren't good."

Last summer a state judicial committee met to develop a solution to the state case load inequity.

According to Cetrulo, two major revisions were among recommendations handed down by the committee -- the addition of law clerks to over-worked judges and permission to assign some civil cases to district judges.

In Pulaski County, District Judge Bill Cain was assigned to 200 civil cases. Cain is also a district judge in Rockcastle.

According to Judge Venters, however, the statistics used to determine the re-assignment of the 200 civil cases were gathered from 1981 to 1986, when there were an average of 1,178

Shearer celebrates 100th birthday

Nannie Chasteen Shearer celebrated her 100th birthday last Friday at the Berea Health Care Center where she has lived since 1984.

Mrs. Shearer and her four brothers and three sisters grew up in the Clear Creek area of Rockcastle County. She says her younger days were filled with work on the farm, which she enjoyed.

"I used to hoe corn and do every kind of farm work until I got so darned old," said Mrs. Shearer.

Mrs. Shearer has a good explanation for her longevity. "I just let the Lord take care of me. I depend on Him and He's been keeping me for a right smart while now."

Mrs. Shearer has enjoyed her stay at the Berea Center. "We have a lot of fun here. I make flowers out of ribbons and stuff and I'm pretty good at it."

The centenarian says she doesn't feel nearly as good as she could, but she is going strong and looking forward to every day.

(Mike French - Berea Citizen)

Mrs. Nannie Chasteen Shearer celebrated her 100th birthday with a party at the Berea Health Care Center. Mrs. Shearer grew up in the Clear Creek area.

"VENTERS"

(Cont. From Second Front)

According to the judge, there has not been a massive revision in the boundaries in the last "20 or 30 years."

"And he added that past attempts at case law equalization have been 'piece-meal.'"

"You can't redraw lines for one circuit without affecting another," he said. "We need to examine the problem on a statewide basis and start from scratch."

According to Venters, such reorganization would be the responsibility of the state legislature and the supreme court.

He mentioned last summer's recommendations, "which I don't find very satisfactory," saying he doesn't expect any action to be taken on other measures in the near future.

"For the past several years I've gained a little ground," said Venters. A total of 1,296 cases were closed last year, but he notes that 62 more cases were filed than were closed.

According to Judge Venters, that explains "why some people complain about court moving slowly."

And he said his office working with the circuit court clerk's office, has "worked hard to keep a backlog from developing."

"But it's becoming harder" said Judge Venters. "I think we reached the limit last year."

"I think you can expect to see some greater problems in future trial dates for cases that need to be tried," he predicted.

Venters is a finalist for a federal judgeship in Pikeville. But to date, word has not been received as to who President Bush will appoint.

ELECT
William
"Bill" Mink
Jr.
Jailer
Rockcastle County

My name is William Mink. I am married to Louise Payne Mink, and we have four children: James, Tim, Chuck and Selena. I have lived in Rockcastle County all my life, and now reside in Burr, Kentucky. I graduated from Livingston High School in 1962. I was employed at Parler Seal in Berea for nine years until I became self employed in the body shop business. I was deputy jailer for nine months in 1986. Since that time I have been serving as Assistant Chief of the Mt. Vernon Police Department. If elected as your jailer I would treat all prisoners fair and equal and keep a safe and clean jail.

Your vote and support would be very much appreciated.

Primary Election May 23, 1989

Since filing for candidacy for Magistrate of the 2nd District of Rockcastle County, I have been very encouraged by your support. I am a native of Rockcastle County, the son of the late Aaden and Lillie Overbay Thomason of the New Chestnut Ridge area. My wife is Irene Sowder Thomason, the daughter of Meada Durham Sowder and the late Shirley Sowder of Mt. Vernon.

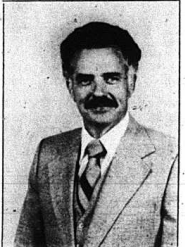

Most of my working career has been service to the public including my six year tour of duty with the U.S. Army, working as an auto mechanic and operating a service station in Mt. Vernon. I hope that my past association with you has acquainted you with my honesty and sense of caring about a job well done.

I believe that our county needs a workable garbage disposal plan set into motion, well maintained roads for safe travel and I will support any plans for the betterment of our educational system and a strong law enforcement program. I feel that with sound management, these improvements can be made with funds already allocated to our county.

If I am elected magistrate, I pledge to listen to the people and help carry out the affairs of our county government to the best of my ability.

Thank you for your friendship and trust. Clarence Thomason

In Loving Memory of My Beloved and Blessed Father
Coit Brock
He was my earthly father. I have a heavenly father, Jesus Christ. My father, Coit, has been dead one year. On May 2, 1988, my Savior and Daddy's Savior took my Daddy. I pray to heaven up above. I dearly miss my dear old daddy. As time goes by, I hope by God's help I meet my Savior and daddy up in the sky. That is, if the rapture does not take place first. If you do not understand, up in the sky has lived, his past January 18th would have been his 79th birthday. But that was not the good Lord's willing. He called his good servant, Coit, up to glory to be with him and my dear daddy home up to heaven his home to rest forever and ever and until the graves burst open and all christians come forward that were dead in Christ and will arise first. And, led by Christ our Savior, we that are christians will follow Jesus. I do not want to miss that rapture day. So, you christian brothers and sisters in Christ, by God's help, we all won't miss that day.
Daddy left this world Monday, May 2, 1988. How time flies. I have lived almost a year by myself. You do not know if you haven't lost someone or a loved one. I thought it would be easy living by myself but it gets lonesome around here, except for my male dog, a chihuahua. I named him Chi Chi.
Sadly Missed By his only son, more and more and more as the days go by David Brock

P.S. I hope and pray Maywell Ries writes a poem about daddy in a little while. Chi Chi, hit on his behind and he growled at me. He is spoiled rotten and I did it all and in so long a time he

Tax information

Q. Can anyone claim medical expenses?
A. Only taxpayers who itemize deductions on Schedule A, Form 1040, and have medical payments which exceed 7.5 percent of their adjusted gross income can deduct medical expenses. These expenses must be paid during the tax year and may not be reimbursed by insurance.

Q. Are expenses for special schools for the mentally and physically handicapped deductible?

A. If the main reason for using a special school is that the school has resources for relieving the handicap, then costs such as meals, lodging and ordinary education supplied by the school are generally deductible. You may also claim, for example, the cost of a school that teaches braille to a blind child, or teaches lip reading to a deaf child, or gives remedial language training to correct a condition caused by a birth defect.

HAVE YOUR PRESCHOOLER SCREENED!

A screening test is now the first step your child will take in beginning his or her school experience. The Rockcastle County School System will be conducting a Preschool Screening this coming Saturday. This service is conducted with one idea in mind - to begin children on a successful journey through school!

WHAT IS A PRESCHOOL SCREENING

The screening test is administered as a series of "games" for the child to play. However, it is an evaluation of preschool learning skills in the following areas: eye-hand coordination, total body coordination, listening skills, following directions, working with other people, and communication skills.

WHY SHOULD I HAVE MY PRESCHOOLER SCREENED?

This is one way of finding and seeking help for preschool children who may have special needs. Screening results will give educators an indication of how well the child is developing in comparison to other children of the same age. Results can give an indication of whether your child may be gifted, have a silent developmental delay, is developing as he or she should, or if there may be a handicapping condition. It is also a good experience for your child.

WHAT IS DONE WITH SCREENING RESULTS?

If the results indicate "no problem", the results will be held by the Early Childhood Program until the child begins kindergarten at which time they will be part of their school record. Children significantly below age level will be offered follow-up evaluations which will provide more information about the child's needs. This will be provided free of charge and with parent's written permission and participation.

WHAT DOES IT COST?

The screening is a FREE service provided by the School System to every child living in Rockcastle County.

WHO IS THE PRESCHOOL SCREENING FOR?

All preschool children ages 3 and 4 who are living in the Rockcastle County School District.

HOW LONG WITH THE SCREENING TAKE?

The actual screening will take approximately 30 minutes.

WHAT IF MY CHILD IS NOW 4, BUT WILL ATTEND KINDERGARTEN THIS COMING FALL?

You may choose to bring your 4 year old to the preschool screening or you may wait until kindergarten registration to have him/her screened. However, it is necessary that the child be screened one of the two dates.

DATE, TIME AND PLACE

Preschool screening will take place on Saturday, March 4, 1989. Screening stations will be set up in the kindergarten rooms in each of the county elementary schools between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. Please take your child to the school in which he/she will attend upon enrollment.

Peek-A-Boo, I'm Back

The best laid plans of mice and men often go astray, or so the old saying goes.

Well, that is true more often than we think. For instance, take my experience of planning to stay the winter in Arizona. That plan went astray due to family illness in Cincinnati which I felt duty bound to come back and help out with. Also, my daughter, Judy Kennedy and husband, Geof, were returning from their winter vacation in Florida and were stopping over for a night "at home." Now, what is home without a mother there? So, here I am. I enjoyed their overnight stay as I watched them take off this morning for their wintry home in Flint, Michigan. They must have brought a pocketful of Florida sunshine along with them for this morning my world is bright with sunshine and the snow all gone. Maybe today I can get out and do some of my laid-by chores. All getting my taxes taken care of, going through the grueling

96th Birthday Celebration

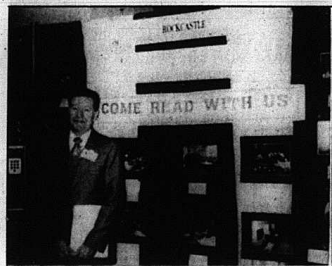

Carrie Smith celebrated her 96th birthday Feb. 7. Her daughters, Stella Sexton and Mr. Sexton, Bettie Baker and Mr. Baker, Opal Meeks granddaughter, Marilyn Underhill great granddaughter, Amber Baker and friends, Bea and Joe Henley were all present. She received lots of cards and best wishes.

process of sorting out and filing Medicare and insurance claims and visiting some of my sick friends.

Does anyone besides me have problems with sorting through Medicare and insurance papers along with odd bills from doctors and hospitals and not knowing what to do with them? Maybe one of the aspiring politicians could promise help for those of us who have this problem. It would be a good plank to put in their platform and would have more meaning than many of their many promises that are never realized. Is anyone willing to give this idea a try? I don't know why my caretakers don't do my paper work for me while I'm away as well as they do the house care. It's a joy to come home as well kept house but a horror to face the stack of paper work that has accumulated.
