threat of fullback Kevin Rowe.

Although he wears No. 42 on his jersey, he jus might as well have an "X" or a shooting target tacked onto his jersey.

They all know him well.

All Rowe did in 1988 was run for a team-high 916 yards on 142 carries (an average of 6.45 yards per attempt) and six touchdowns. He scored six more points on PAT rushes, for 48 on the season.

If defenses load up inside to slow down the pile-driving style of Rowe, then Cox could have a little more room to cut upfield at end.

And, if defenses pay too little attention to the tailbacks early in the year, then any of several young kids have a chance to make an immediate impact.

A junior (Jay Brown), two sophomores (William Hellard and William Bullens) and two freshmen (J.D. Harris and Jeff Navarre) were all given a chance to play by

He likes the speed and potential the group presents, but needs to find out who can PLAY.

Hellard started against Garrard in a pre-season scrimmage in early August.

Jason Kirby (12)
A good scrimmage

J.D. Harris (27) A quick back

Two freshmen who look solid for the future

But, Harris, a new player to the program after transferring, played a lot.

Harris, though very small, is quick, and gets into and through holes at the line of scrimmage very quickly.

In fact, Larkey likes the speed and quickness of all his tailbacks.

Hellard probably rates as the strongest of the five, while Brown and Harris are probably the fastest.

At the halfback spot, several players have a chance to play. Far ahead through most of the summer practice has been Mike Spires, who at 5-4 and 143, rates as a Mighty Mite.

Larkey says he is small, but he's also quick and strong.

Behind Cox are sophomore Scott Parkey and freshman JasonKirby, who played well in the scrimmage.

Saylor played a lot during the scrimmage, and the coaches see a real future for Coffey.

Mt. Vernon wants to annex more of area

A map showing areas surrounding Mt. Vernon that the city plans to annex was unveiled at a called meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night.

If there is no petition within 60 days, the council can annex the area without a vote. If the election is held, the question on the ballot will be: "Are you in flavor of being annexed to the City of Mt. Vermon?" Left off the annexation map is the property beyond the Burr overpass, property beyond the Renfro Valley overpass, including Renfro Valley entertainment complex and Derby City South truck stop.

The Kentucky General Assembly changed the percentage numbers for annexation at its last session. Previously, 75 percent had to oppose the annexation to prevent it.

"The new figure make it a little easier to defeat annexation," a city resident said. And the process is not as complicated as it appears. And finally, annexation is a process that all cities eventually must face if they are to grow and prosper."

Burned out transmissions

The brakes locked and caused this fire on the back end of a Universal Am-Can, Ltd., truck driven by Elmer Crist of Indiana Monday, Crist said he was taking a load of transmissions from North Carolina to Canada when his brakes locked while northbound on 1-75. "They started smoking," he said. "A tire below, and thus as just like throwing casoline on something. They just ignited." He said he tried putting out the fire with mergency fire extinguisher in his cab, but needed help from Mt. Vernon Fire Department personnel at the 56 mile marker. KSP spokesmen say they believe they have found no more than half the crops of any one county.

Based on that, Rockcastle mari-juana growers have seen a total of 3,030 plants, in 43 separate plots, de-stroyed through August 8 in raids. That means that Rockcastle has a probable 3,000 more plants growing at this moment.

The worth of the pot crops is put at $1,000 per plant, making Rockcastle's illegal profit loss already $3.03 million this year, out of a projected profit of about $6.1 million. That puts just the top 15 counties' estimated profit at $2500 million for the year, with about 260,000 plants. According to the statistics released, the Southeast Kentucky area is one of the big profit markets for growing marijuana.

Tor of the top 13 counties on the list are in the Kentucky State Police Post 11 area.

The others in the Post 11 area are Clay in sixth (6,038 plants), Laurel seventh (4,438 plants), and Knox in 13th (2,866 plants).

The top two counties -- Leslie (21,102 plants in 99 plots) and Owsley (19,863 plants in 103 plots) -- are in the Hazard and Richmond post areas, respectively.

Post 11 personnel have been very busy this summer making raids in its

"It's money," said KSP trooper Doyle Stodgill of Post 11 Monday.
"It's to much money, People you wouldn't dream about are involved. They can make more growing the plant than by farming or driving a truck or whatever."

One of the reasons for the prolif-eration of plants and plots in South-east Kentucky is terrain, he said. Because of the hilly nature of the area, smaller plots are needed to plant large numbers of crops.

That's a two-way street. By par-celling up the plots into smaller ones, it's harder for law enforcement raid-ers to find all of the plants in a given area.

"If we raid 10 plots and get nine, but miss one, you've still got your yearly profit," Stodgill said.

He said it is not uncommon to find

Part of the construction which is either completed or almost completed at Renfro Valley. Owners have withdrawn a request for a block development grant from the Kentucky Office of Local Government to finance

Renfro folks withdraw block grant request from the state

By: Ray McClure

By: Ray McClure

Owners of Renfro Valley Folks
Inc., have asked the State Department of Local Government to withdraw their application for a $500,000
Community Development Block Grant to expand the Renfro Valley entertainment complex.
Sally Hamilton, in charge of grants for the department in Frankfort, informed County Judge/Executive Hubert Thacker that Renfro company President Ralph Gabbard had indicated the company will seek private funding to develop its projects, but would continue the application for a $250,000 Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) grant.
A Community Development Block Grant and ARC grant were a package in occass of 31 million applied for by the Renfro company frinogh the county. The county approyed the package since it did not involve county funds, only county sponsorship, similar to a grant sponsore arrier for Mt. Vermon Plastics.

A Community Development grant calls for a two-thirds payback to the county. The ARC grant does not have to be repaid.
Ms. Hamilton said the department is "looking favorably" on the ARC grant, and that the project is even more attractive now that it calls for less money.
Whether the county will continue with sponsorship of the ARC grant apparently remains with the Rockeastle Fiscal Court and Judge Thacker. The judge said earlier he favored the grant package, and by the still does, although he had no comment on the block grant, withdrawsl.
No word was forthcoming on the windrawai.

No word was forthcoming on the reason for the withdrawal from Renfro, but one area official reasoned the company probably did not want to abide by some of the rules and regu-lations governing block grant money. "Thave an idea Renfro folks thought the block grant was too complicated -Mickey Mouse-- to abide by," he said, "including such things as wage scales and hiring practices, among others."

Meanwhile, work is progressing at a fast pace in the Renfro area. Under construction are a campground and buildings for a Trade Fair that is expected to open Saurday and continue each weekend through October. Work was completed recently on a new ticket or office located in the former fast food restaurant owned by loc Allen. Tickets for the bamdances and other events in the valley, along with information, is new located in that building.

Construction on a new auditorium and model is expected to get under way soon.

New ranger for the county

With the forest fire season just around the corner, Rockcastle County has a new forest ranger to help keep the fires under control. He is Marvin L. Stone, 41. He replaces Stephen Bullen who retired last year. Stone is a Clark County native, but grew up on a farm near the Payette-Scott Counties line. His father, Charles, works at Trane Co., in Lexington.

Now really Mrs. Moore are you being nece calling poeple who live on Negro Creek winntelligent and prejudice? Negro Creek to minetiligent and prejudice? Negro Creek bas been here for over one hundred to two hundred years. Sood people live here. If we could get rid of a few trouble makers it would be better. I hove where I live and when I hear Negro Creek I picture friends and a quiet place to live. I raised my kids here and buried my loved ones here. Negro Creek willalways be our home.

Dear Editor,
A few people who live on Negro Creek decided that it needed a new.
name. They passed around a petition and a lot of the people who live there signed it. When they realized what they had done they took their names off the list.

Four people decided the name should be changed to Oak Valley. Then informed the people what they had decided.

Mrs. Ted (Bonnie) Rose (who lives on Negro Creek)

As a general rule I shy away from reunions. It's not because I don't like people because I don't like people because I don't like people because I don't she with the profile to the people because I don't she will be the people be the people because I don't she will be the people be the people because I don't she will be the people be the people because I don't she will be the people be the people

Last week end though, there was a reunion Blair Branch that I felt sort reunion Blair Branch that I felt sort of safe in going to, It was the annual Adams, Blair, Thompson and anyzone else willing to climb the mountain affair. It's held about as close to behaven as you can get in Letcher (County, high atop a mountain where the peak has been reshaped by mining so that it resembles a crater, I fact, it looks for all the world like the district of an inactive volcano.

This contribute requision is the brain

This particular reunion is the brain child of Arthur and Helmer Adams' boys who claim close kin to all three of the aformentioned families. It started out, I'm told, as an attempt to get a few relatives who had grown up together around the base of the mountain back together for old times' sake. Those relatives are scattered all across the country and for the last several years a few of them have been show-ing up. Isn't that what reunions are all, about?

about 10 week of the Blair Branch Reunion. Every year the folks who show up keep tracing the family tree back another generating the family tree back another generation or two. As far ast can make out it looks like next year will be open to all the descendants of Noah. And folks, that's my kind of reunion!! I'm not expected to know everybody else. Consequently Idon't get, nearly as bothered because

I don't. God Himself would have had to look at note eards to recognize all the folks who showed up this year. This gathering of the clan was also a good excuse to get my wife and kids to visit Letcher County. They believe my value system from the music I enjoy (Bluegrass) to my favorite food eans and corn bread), are idio (soup beans and corn bread), are idio-cies that only they have to tolerate. Every once in a while I figure they need a good dose of reality therapy so I take them to Blair Branch where most folks have the same keen appre-ciation for the finer things of life that I do.

I also find it necessary to remind them what a mountain is from time to time. They keep referring to Pilot knob which is hardly more than a pimple on the landscape just south of Berea as "the mountain". My nephew Chris (Keeter's boy) spent last week with us and we happened to drive by Chris (Keeter's boy) spent last week with us and we happened to drive by Pilot Knob.

"Oh let's stop and play on the mountain", one of my kids suggested and Chris perked right up because, I suspect, he was getting a bit homesick for Letcher County.

"Yealh," he enjoined as he gazed around giving Pilot Knob a glance, Where's it at?

"Straight in front of your duffiny!" my kids bellowed thinking that he as suddenly gone blind as they gestured toward the knob.

"That ain't no mountain", Chris snorted in disgust, We make sand piles bigger than that on the beach at Car's Fork Lake".

My kids' mouths dropped open because they had been Chrised again, them. He took another glance at Pilot Knob before uttering his coup de grace.

That thing's actually in the way", he said. "Let's go borrow a couple of showels and move it for can."

In all fairness to Pilot Knob it is steepin acouple of places and getting to the top of it does require some effort. It's also beautiful and it's the closest thing that we have to a mountain in the flatlands. Still, it requires a big imagination to include it in the the standards. Still, it requires a tim in the flatands. Still, it requires a tim in the flatands. Still, it requires a tim in the flatands of the still sti coal industry. Every time I do go back the leaving on Sunday after-noon is just as emotionally difficult as it was the day I decided to move the first time. It's not a pleasant thing to I'vecome to love the flatlands too But the affection is not nearly like that I have for the mountains. And somehow it's easy for hillbillies to adjust to other ways of life -- much easier, I believe, than for outsiders to adjust to the hills. That's one reason why we scatter out so much and hardly anybody scatters in

"What Saith the Scriptures"

Jesus said "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt and where thieves break through and steal. But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." Mr. 6:19-21. First, let me point out that Jesus is not speaking against having a based account of plansing a sayings account, Jesus its using a contrast of emphasis, i.e., by denying the first for implications working for food.

emphasis, i.e., by denying the first 0 cm/partis-thet/Seconds.148us in fin. 6-27 used the same contrast of emphasis about working for food.

"Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for the meat which endured unde evertfalling life." Thus, he is not saying working for food is wrong or othat tresuring up material wealth is wrong but that spiritual food and heavenly treasures are far more important.

So many folks today store up for a "rainy day," but never give consideration for storing up treasures in heaven, Our carefully wealfull rot or rust, and if like gold and silver it does not rot or rust, thieves can seat them from use. Earthly wealth is temporal in finanture, the spiritual treasures imheaven are effmal in their nature, they neither rot or rust, or can they be stolen.

nor can they be stolen.

What a man holds to be his "treasure," that is what is precious and valuable to him, and Jesus said that is where a man's "heart," will be. What's most important to you? A Job? Money? Wealth? A new house? Clothes? Cars? Boats? Gold and silver? If serving God, and going to Clothes? Cars? Boass? Gold and silver? in serving Gold, and going to heaven, is not the most important thing to you, then friend, you need to repent and turn to God. You must get your priorities straight. Elemity is too long to notmake the all important step in serving God. Friends, if you miss heaven, you will miss it all! "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness." Mi. 6.33.

I have a few things to say about Negro Creek Road. I was talking to Pearl Brunmett this morning and she is deeply grieved over the talk of changing the name of Negro Creek Road of which she has lived all her life. It's always been Negro Creek since a county. The cemetery and so many things would have to be changed too

Daniel Boone led the Estate Surveyor from Virginia through Kentucky naming each creek and when they got to this creek the surveyor said he was naming this one after his slaves. Now wouldn't we respect Daniel Boone. I do not think any of us are to think of ourselves more highly than we are.

My grandfather John Elder had a negro man living with him, after his passing he was buried in the Providence Cemetery along with my grand parents and my uncle Bill Elder. W Craig children bought a stone for hi parents and my uncle Bill Elder. We Craig, children bought a stone for his grave. I also have worked with them at Belly Acres Restaurant and Parker Seal Company. Hoved and respected them as one of us, why can'twe all-realize they have a soul same as we. Let's all think on these things and love one another more. We may not have a long as we think to live in this love one another more. We may not have as long as we think to live in this beautiful place God has given us to prepare for a better home afterwhile. Greetings to all, and hope you are well and happy. We have recently had a few days of cool pleasant weather. Now it is the middle of August and we are wondering where the summer went. This year is going the summer went. This year is a so last, But I just mank door for each day that He gives us, Rev, Harvey Pensol filled his regu-lar appointment at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend, We had one hundred and thirty nine for Sunday School and a large num-ber for worship services. Thank the r for worship services. Thank the od Lord.

Our Sunday School average attennee for the month of July was one indred and twenty seven. It is so onderful to be able to go to the Lord's House.

The dedication of our new educational building was conducted on Friday evening, August 4th. A fellowship meal was served and later the dedicatory message was delivered by Rev. Robert C. Jones, director of our State Mission Department. The land on which this building now stands was donated to the Fairview Baptist Church by Mr. and Mrs. Boyd and Claudia Wen, both members of our church, and also Boyd is one of our deacons. We, as a church, truly thank them from the bottom of our person, and the standard of the carbing of our prayer is that this building will be geed many years for the teaching of our people, for the service of our Lord and the up-building of His Kingdom.

Lord and the sp.
Kingdom.
We have also enjoyed the recent visits to our church of Rev. Wendell Romans and Rev. Carl Hunter of Mt.

speaker Rev. Ken Lawson and whe of Louisville.

Mrs. Stella Coyle of Muncie, Ind., recently spent a few days with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edith Mullins of Snider. While here she also visited two other sister-sin-law, Mrs. Ann Thomas of Winchester and Mrs. Mary Dhomas of Beree.

What must have happened at camp for Rockcastle could only be described as the greatest thing since salt and pepper shakers.
Larkey, chief assistant Tony Saylor and the rest of the staff did a lot of lor and the rest of the staff did a lot of shaking, trying to put just the right flavor of seasoning on a very young team before embarking on the 11-game, 12-week schedule which be-gins this Friday, August 18, with a home opener against Lynn Camp.

No less than six personnel moves will affect the outcome of the early games for the Rocket's offense, and two or three similar moves on dense have sharpened the focus on that side of the line of scrimmage. The biggest move sends stilback-bandit back Jay Brown to offensive guard. He is just 5-9 and 150, but Larkey and Saylor both like Brown's willingness to block bigger opponents. Brown also starts at left tackle on defense.

The right to be armed is a natural, absolute, individual right given us by our Creator so that we may defend our lives, loved ones, liberty, property and freedom; and wher necessary, preserve the freedom and independence of our country.

The continuous, massive, obviously coordinated attack on our right to be armed is a major and essential part of the onoging conspiracy to undermine the freedom of the American people, subvert the United States and the free nations of the West, destroy Christianity, prevert Western thought and culture, and enslave all men under a one world totalitarian government brought about through the merger of communism and monopoly capitalism.

The United States of America, with her immeasurable might, natural resources and heritage of freedom; and with 70 million freedom loving gun owners possessing 300 million firestrms — stands as the greatest single obstacle to this diabolical conquest. That is why gun control and eventual gun confiscation is so important to our enemies.

ELECTRICIT

Stealing electricity is a serious crime. It's illegal to tamper with an electric meter or for anyone other than a KU representative to turn on electric service.

A thief may endanger himself, his family and property, and others by creating a shock or fire hazard. When convicted, he faces a fine, a prison sentence, or both.

Electricity thieves aren't just stealing from KU, any more than shoplifters are just stealing from a store. They're stealing from honest customers, who pay more to make up for the loss.

KU has an active theft detection program. Violators are subject to immediate termination of service and to prosecution.

If you know of anyone stealing electricity, contact your local KU office. All information will be kept confidential. And you'll be doing a favor for all honest customers.

Mt. Vernon police busy with burglars

Mt. Vernon City police were busy early in the week with thefts and autompted burglaries.

Sometime during the night of Sunday-Monday, August 13-14, a 400-450-b. call was taken from the Joyce Prewitt farm near old US 25.

Police chief Joe Howard said it seems whoever took the calf simply removed some gaites at the hinges and took furuk onto the farm to load the animal.

the animal.

In what may have been related incidents, Howard said that burglars attempted to enter the rear of Convenient Food mart sometime during the night of Monday-Tuesday, August 14-15, but the alarm was tripped when they attempted to cut it.

en they attempted to cut it. When the alarm went off, whoever when the auarm went off, wheever it was disappeared.

Later that night, someone tried to break into Willard Collinsworth's store in Renfro Yalley, But, the at-tempt failed because Collinsworth was still inside the store.

Howard also said that two 14-yearthoward and that in the window of a ge owned in the city lot at Richmond and Main is. The two are charged with shooting out the window with a BB gun.
The pair have been released to the custody of their purents.

All of the incidents are still being investigated by Mt. Vernon police.

An increase of 100 more motor vehicle accidents were recorded in 1986 over 1987 in Rockcastle County, according to statistics recorded by Kentucky Stiller Police.
Rockcastle had 493 accidents in 1988 compared to 393 in 1987, possibly the result of raising the speed limit from 55 to 65 miles an hour.
Rockcastle had 8 persons killed in 1988 compared to 3 in 1987, in 1988 compared to 3 in 1987, the were 132 non-fatal accidents in 1988 and 120 in 1987. There were 354 property damage accidents in 1988 compared to 270 in 1987.

Of the Rockcastle accidents, 36 involved alcohol in 1988 compared involved alcohol in 1988 compared to 41 in 1987. Of those, 37 were the drivers in 1988 compared to 41 in 1987.

In 1988, of I-75, there were a total of 25 killed and 1,071 injured, 1987 totals were unavailable. There were 2,067 accidents on I-75 with 1,412 involving property damage.
According to statistics, 42 percent of all the accidents in the state were caused by slippery surfaces, and 36 percent by driver inattention. 28 percent had defective brakes and 19 percent failed to yield, but only 6 percent of the accidents were caused by alcohol.

The company, and especially the Lexington Branch, deeply reget the death on March 16, 1989, of long-time employee, Al Singleton. Al started with the company in 1977 as a route salesman on a stocked truck, covering parts of Ohio and West Virginia. In 1979, when the company converted to our present marketing system, Al became the delivery driver for our West Virginia territory.

Al quickly developed into one of Lexington's most reliable, dependable and respected employees. He set in excellent work example and contributed immensely to Lexington's growth. He was always on the job and ready to hit the road. Al took great pride in his company, the equipment he drove and the amnner in which he delivered his merchandise. His meticulous attitude carried over to the customers who came to consider Al a close personal friend, often inviting himto their homes for dinner.

classroom, you must resolve to make sure that what they learn will be the right things. You will need to keep your eyes and ears open. When away from the normal curriculum, they may be put under pressure (and at an astonishingly early age) to try drugs, join in gang activities, or engage in other very undesirable pursuits. The schools and law enforcement authorities will do their best to counteract all these enforcements but the task is becoming harder. It ticements, but the task is becoming harder. It is up to you, the parents, with the aid of your House of Worship and its Sunday School, to combat these evil influences and make sure your children are safe from them. EVEN IN TODAY'S WORLD FAITH PROMOTES FAMILY LIFE

In today's hectic world, family life has taken some strange turns, and indeed, it is some strange turns, and indeed, it is amazing that any of it still exists. Dad may, have to travel occasionally. Weekends, he plays golf, goes fishing, or glues his "couch potato" eyes to any seasonal sport on the tube. Mom either works or gets involved in worthwhile. The "latchkey" kids come home to an empty house, while the teenagers have their own activities. It's only on rare occasions that the entire family sits rare occasions that the enture family sits down to dinner, or goes anywhere together. The one place where they should go in unison is to the House of Worship, where with the help of God some semblance of family unity can be restored. Even today, if the family members work at it, being together can be as rewarding as it used to be.

Lindsey in hospital

Linsey Nicole Lakes, who suffers from Hurley's Syndrome, is a patient at the University of Kentucky Hospital, awaiting a bone marrow transplant that will take place Aug. 23, according to her mother Pam. "It's not a real good match," Pam said, "But if's really the best we have." Linsey's father entered the hospital Tucsday to begin tests required before the transplant. Linsey entered the next day to begin treatments necessary before the operation. According to Pam, the recovery time after the transplant will be long. "It really varies from child to child,"she said. "She won't be fully recovered until after a year." Hurler's Syndrome is a rare genetic disorder which strikes one in every 25,000 births in the United States. The syndrome leaves the body unable to, produce certain enzymes.

able to produce certain enzymes which causes abnormal deposits of complex sugars in tissues and cells If the transplant is successful, the bone marrow will replace the miss ing enzymes and will break down the sugar deposits in Linsey's body. The sugar deposits are damaging her organs.

With the transplant, Linsey has a 50 percent chance of survival. Without it, there is little hope. Most children born with the disorder die before their fifth birthday.

The community has rallied to Linsey's support and many fund-raising events have been held to assist with the medical expenses.

Linsey is the granddaughter of Jim Farley of Mt. Vernon.

Powell County farmers discovered last weekend when they went into fields to top.
Mike Reed, Powell County Exten-

Mike Reed, Powell County Exten-sion agent, said farmers discovered blue mold last Saturday. "We've got our share of it," Reed said. "We've got quite a few farmers who used Ridomil at planting, but not enough. It's looking pretty bad, but the farmers are topping and waiting to see what happens."

Nesmith said later-set crops also have been showing more susceptibil-ity to blue mold, as it is in Mason County.

'We have quite a bit of activity in "We have quite a bit of activity in the county," said Bill Peterson, Ma-son County Extension agent. "Early set tobacco escaped serious problems, but later set tobacco has had the most activity. We still have a high quality rop here and right now damage is expected to be quite low."

Farmers who are considering harcron he vesting early should confine it to "hot spots" of fungal growth in shaded areas to lower the number of spores in the field

The 1989 burley tobacco crop in Kentucky and surrounding states has been upgraded from fair mid-way through his growth cycle 30 days ago, to at least at "low good" in most instances at this time, say agricul-tural extension agents. Youth marks 1989 Rockets

By: Jim Griesch

There is absolutely no truth to rumors that Rockcastle County High football players will wear Pampers this year instead of the traditional blue game pants; nor will games be played at 5 p.m. in order to get coach Tom Larkey's extremely young team home before dark on Friday nights.

All kidding aside, this is the youngest team in Larkey's tenure at Rockcastle.

There are just five seniors on the squad, and only three have played extensively.

There are 10 juniors on the 40man-plus roster, but several of the team's 14 sophomores will have to make important contributions for the Rockets to equal the 9-2 and 8-3 marks of 1987 and 1988.

Just how young this team really is was driven home during the scrimmage with Garrard County earlier this month.

For significant amounts of time,

A look ahead

Rockcastle's two returning backfield starters, Dane Cox and Kevin Rowe, were out with bumps and bruises type injuries.

The coaches pointed to the defense at one point, and noted, "Except for two players, that was our freshman team last year."

In terms of numbers, both the 1990 and 1991 seasons could be better than 1989.

That depends on how the younger kids develop, and how the breaks of the game go during those two campaigns.

The same is very true this year.

If some of those sophomores play like juniors and seniors during important district battles, then there might be no cries of "Wait
'til next year!"

If an untimely injury or two puts a key veteran player out for a

The three returning starters are: Scott Hines, 74; Dane Cox, 32; and Kevin Rowe, 42, All will play both ways, and Cox has been moved to quarterback from tailback.

Offensive Backs

Moving Cox is the key to TD formula

The key to the 1989 season for Rockcastle County High is the move of Dane Cox from tailback to quarterback.

Cox, a senior, ran for 822 yards on 165 carries last year, scoring three touchdowns and 20 points. He averaged 4.98 yards a carry.

That's about what 1988 senior Chad Burdette had in total yardage, getting 268 yards in 60 carries but 706 yards in the air on 34 completions in 66 passes and 11 touchdowns.

That is about even, but Cox has yet to establish himself as a passer.

If Cox can generate the same kind of offensive fireworks that Burdette did, either with the run or the pass, then coach Tom Larkey's gamble will be a success.

What Cox's running ability does is put immediate pressure on defensive tackles, ends and linebackers to guess correctly on which option Cox decides on.

If Cox keeps the ball, then he has proven he can pick up the stats on the ground.

That means that those defensive people will always have to respect Cox's ability to break the long gainer for a score.

long gainer for a score.

Making those quick decisions that much tougher is the inside Continued on Page 14

The basic Rockcastle County High offense will show opposing defenses about 1700 yards of returning offense on the very first option this year. That will happen any time Dane Cox hands off, or fakes a hand-off, to Kevin Rowe.

game or two, one of those younger kids will HAVE to step in and play major minutes in a big game.

As always with high school football, there will be experiments with position changes, trying an old hand at a new job.

Rockcastle is doing that this month. The key experiment is putting Cox at quarterback.

Larkey is moving his top tailback to quarterback, putting his most expecienced and best players right into the teeth of the offense. That gives Cox the opportunity to make the key decisions in Larkey's option running game. Cox is also one of the strongest players on the squad, and that strength should be needed as he takes the best shots 11 opponents have to offer.

Cox, with Rowe at fullback, will make up a potent running game, with the threat of either one deadly enough that opposing defenses will have to key those two.

That could open up the outside Continued on Page 8

Who will catch the passes in

No one who is back at end or receiver caught any in 1988, so the question should merit a lot of interest among Rocket-launch watchers

Senior Joe Ramsey is the most experienced, since he's in his fourth year.

Senior Gary Santo is inexperienced, since this is his first shot at football since junior high, but he has athletic ability and good hands.

The biggest of the receivers at the forefront is sophomore Mike Durham, who goes 6-3, 190.

And, the man who may make it all good is Billy Todd, a junior moved to end from quarterback.

Coach Tom Larkey's offense is ground-oriented, but an occasional pass that finds defenses asleep is a superb weapon, and one that often alters the pace and direction of a football game.

football game.
Ends should find themselves open a lot, if the running game can produce enough yards and scores to obligate defenses to stopping

It may be that the most effective blockers will play the most at end. In any run-oriented game, the blocks must come first.

But, when there is a chance to catch a pass, the talk might switch from first down to touchdown.

The eight who figure into picture: big but all young

If you liked the old television series "Eight is Enough," then you'll love the 1989 Rockcastle County High offensive line.

Eight is the lucky number that top assistant Tony Saylor has been working with through July and early August.

In that group is just one senior, Tommy Cromer, three sophomores and three juniors.

One of the juniors, Scottie Hines, is the only returning starter. He's a 6-4, 226-pound right tackle. Like the rest of this football team, the line is young.

It is also fairly big, which has become a Rockcastle trademark in recent years.

The juniors are Mark Houk

(225), David Eaton (218) and Hines. The sophomores are Stacey Nicely (210), Robert Didilot (183) and Clark Mullins (180). Cromer, though the oldest, is the smallest, at 165.

Saylor said that Nicely has been ahead of Houk at left tackle, while Didilot and Cromer are about equal at left guard. Cotton is at right guard, and both spots are backed by whoever doesn't start.

Eaton is at center, with Mullins behind him. Houk will also back up Hines and at center, making him one of the busiest linemen in Kentucky this fall. He also will see playing time in the defensive line.

If NIcely, Cromer, Eaton, Cotton and Hines start, the line will average 204. If Didilot and Houk start ahead of Nicely and Cromer, the average would jump to 210 per man.

That size is a good beginning. Saylor is interested more in who can make the blocks.

It will be up to this youthful bunch to keep defenders from pouring in on the offensive backs before the option plays can begin to develop.

If the juniors and sophomores can pick up the stunts they are Finding a running mate for Rowe a must

Just as on offense, where he will be the focus of other defenses, Kevin Rowe will become the focus of Rockcastle's own 4-4-3.

He's plugged in as a starter at one inside linebacking spot, just as he was a year ago, where he was in 100 tackles, second only to the 119 by Chad Hughes, who has graduated.

With linebacking partner Dane Cox moved to safety, Rowe will have to provide the insight and inspiration to young linemen and other linebackers.

A major experiment in July and How does a defensive secondary of Mike Spires, Dane Cox and Billy Todd sound?

How about Spires, Scott Parkey and Todd.

Seven in the hunt for playing time up front

Defensive Line

They may never be confused with Fordham's famous "Seven Blocks of Granite," especially since only four will play at the same time.

But, if Rockcastle is to post a shutout this football season -- something an 8-3 squad couldn't do in 1988 -- then the combination of Scott Hines, Mike Durham, Darrell Sizemore, David Eaton, Kevin Goff, Mark Houk and Stacey Nicely, has a job cut out for them.

That group will probably provide the starting defensive line in most of 1989's 11-game schedule.

But, just who lines up where is a question that could have a different answer each week.

Hines figures to start at left end.
Sizemore and Goff -- who are not in the picture on the offensive line--could provide the fresh legs inside that shuts down other teams' running games.

Defenisve coach Tony Saylor said that Durham, Eaton and Nicely all had a clean shot at one end spot,

But, Durham could also back up Hines, and Eaton could back up at a tackle spot, with the everpresent Houk.

Whichever/combination starts, it figures to have the size and strength to match up with most everyone on the schedule.

But, with the deep backs and linebackers, only one of those seven -- Hines -- made the top of the tackle chart for the Rockets in 1988. He was credited with being in on 35 tackles, 10th best on the squad.

And, if that group begins to jell in 1989, watch out 1990 or 1991, since not one of that group of seven is a senior.

Head coach Tom Larkey huddles with his three returning starters on picture day at Rockcastle County High recently. The three -- tackle Scott Hines, fullback Kevin Rowe and quarterback Dane Cox -will have to spearhead an effort backed by mostly young players this season. Almost all of both lines are underclassmen, which bodes well for future years but adds drama, excitement and unpredictability to the 1989 slate.

lanes for a bevy of younger kids. Larkey said four players have a shot at playing tailback this year.

The offensive line will be almost entirely rebuilt with only junior Scottie Hines returning at right tackle. Every other player that line coach Tony Saylor has worked most extensively with in pre-season practice so far has been a junior or sophomore.

The receiving corps is also starting over completely. Two 1988 seniors, Chuck Shields (23 catches, 513 yards, eight touchdowns) and Adam Coleman (10 catches, 207 yards and three touchdowns) caught all of departed quarterback Chad Burdette's 34 completions.

Among those getting a lot of time to prove themselves as ends are seniors Joe Ramsey and Gary Santo (out for the first time since junior high), junior Billy Todd (who is moving from quarterback) and sophomore Mike Durham.

Defensively, Cox, Rowe and Hines are the only three returning starters. Mike Spires played a lot at a deep back spot, and could be considered a fourth starter.

Cox moves to safety from finebacker, while Rowe will play in the middle of Saylor's combinations of even and odd-man looks.

Hines figures to start at one defensive end spot.

While the youth and inexperience are a worry to the coaches, Larkey has looked at the possibility of playing more people.

He thinks he can start 16 or 17 different people, which will mean that the same 11, 12 or 13 won't have to play almost all of the minutes this year.

That little bit of extradepth could begin paying dividends before the end of the year, and certainly should make for a much stronger team in 1990.

There are other problems. Gone (to Cumberland College) is 1988 punter Adam Coleman. He made some all-state teams for his 40-yards-plus average on kicks.

He also did some extra point

Larkey says simply that he doesn't know who will replace

Cox might be a starting point. Larkey said he would look at Cox first

If there is anything good about having a young, inexperienced team, if is the schedule.

Four of the first six games are at home. The two on the road are at Russell County on Saturday, Aug. 26, and at Harlan on September 15

Harlan was better last year than in the past several, but will have a new coach. Russell County has a third-year coach, but the Lakers have won but one game in the last two years combined. They've gone 1-19 in 1987 and 1988.

(Of course, this might be the Lakers' year, but ...).

What does it all mean?

The answers will all be in before election day.

at least one more year.

If the bunch develops a little faster, and comes together in 1989, then defense might help offset a young offensive line.

On offense, there are a multitude of blocking rules and angles

There are responsibilities on defense, too, but defense tends to be "results oriented," and any shutout has some fiscal value.

Again, even though the group is young, it has size. No one is smaller than 191 in the program.

Brown is a junior, Bradley another sophomore.

Outside, sophomore John Saylor and senior Tommy Cromer started in the scrimmage game.

Also getting a look at the bandit positions are freshman tailback J.D. Harris and diminutive junior Mike Spires

If Spires, Rowe and Cromer start with Brown, the foursome could represent as much experience in any one area of either the defense or offense as the Rockets can throw at another team.

going to see, and make the adjustments needed during the games, then the Rockets will win.

If the line is too confused by what senior-dominated teams might be able to do to them, then the Rockets will have a tougher time of it.

What Rocket fans will see is an inexperienced and young group of linemen trying to open holes for two seniors

Those seniors have proven stats, but those numbers came behind a veteran line.

This year, it is the other way

But, for 1990, and even 1991, the balance will swing back the other way. Seven of these eight, bolstered by perhaps more new faces here and there, will be the nucleus of the offense

And, the nice thing about youth is that it tends to get better as it picks up the fine points of the

If these eight can get the fine points down the first six games of the year, they should be ready for the important district clashes in
