

Balancing the demands of a job and homelife

By: Cheryl Witt
Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Families commonly experience conflict and stress over childcare arrangements and household tasks, a result of more women working outside the home.

The problem of balancing the demands of a job and home, advance planning by all the family members can reduce some stress.

To prepare for unexpected trouble (such as a child getting sick), plan for backup child care before an emergency arises. A good backup plan will require a list of several people who could be called on in a particular situation.

Check the school calendar or call the school to find out in advance about important daytime school activities, such as parent-teacher conference or the class play. Often parent-teacher conferences can be arranged after school hours.

For special events you may wish to take paid vacation hours or work overtime to compensate for time taken to attend these events. It may be easier to request an hour or two off to attend a school event. Both working women and men who do not have flexibility to take off work time should consider attending PTA meetings and special events held in the evening.

Women usually do not give up many of the family chores they did before working outside the home. Plan to keep from being overwhelmed by children, husband or meal preparation the minute you walk in the door.

Discuss with them what can be done to give you 15 to 20 minutes of time to relax. The more other family members that are involved in the planning, the less likely they will be to resent doing additional tasks.

Keep pre-dinner snacks on hand. It can keep you from being pushed to cook immediately or tempted to overextend your food budget by eating out too much.

Try to have the family agree on a workable schedule for after-work hour. This might include time set aside for homework, chores, making lunches or advance food preparation for the next day, dinner clean up and relaxation.

Also consider a family work night so the weekend can be left for rest, recreation, worship and family sharing. Make a complete list of weekend tasks such as grocery shopping, laundry or yard work. Then divide the tasks among family members and do those chores on a Thursday or Friday night.

Since the average full-time employed woman works 40 hours per week outside the home and another 22-27 at home, she shouldn't feel reluctant about getting other family members involved in planning for and doing household chores.

'Ministering for Abused Children in Kentucky'

'Ministering for Abused Children in Kentucky' is the theme of a one-day workshop designed for members of the clergy. The workshop, which will be held September 25 at the Kentucky Leadership Center on Lake Cumberland, is being organized by the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service with support from a grant from the Child Victims' Trust Fund.

Reported cases of child abuse and neglect in Kentucky have risen from 15,688 in 1980 to 43,351 in 1988. These numbers indicate a need to build broad-based coalitions to address this social problem. Because of both their family support and community leadership roles, members of the clergy can play a vital role in this effort.

Workshop presenters from a variety of state, religious, and other private organizations and agencies will conduct sessions focusing on such topics as recognizing the symptoms of abuse and neglect, the characteristics of abusive families, programs and services, and what religious organizations can do. Time for work-discussion groups also will be included.

The Kentucky Leadership Center is located on Lake Cumberland 12 miles south of Faubush on Kentucky 196. The workshop begins at 9 a.m. (Eastern time) and ends at 4 p.m., with check-in starting at 8:45. A registration fee of $10 is required to cover lunch and snacks.

In addition to the Kentucky Leadership Center, other workshop locations and dates include Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, September 19; General Butler State Resort Park, September 21; and Kentucky Dam Village State Resort Park, October 5.

Those wishing to attend the Kentucky Leadership Center workshop should preregister by September 22. Send a check made payable to University of Kentucky Research Foundition' for the registration fee to Gary L. Hansen, Extension Specialist, Dept. of Sociology, S-205 ASCN, University of Kentucky, Lexington, KY 40446-0091. Attendees should also indicate their address, phone number, and which workshop they plan to attend.

For further information call Gary Hansen at 606-257-7586.

Organizing local clubs

By: John McQueary
County Extension Agent
for 4-H

During the next several weeks, 4-H clubs will be organized in your classroom, starting in the 4th grade and going through the 8th grade. Each elementary school, Roundstone, Livingston, Brodhead and Mt. Vernon, has 4-H clubs. During club organization, there will be officers elected starting with president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, song leader, game leader and pledge leader. Each officer will have certain responsibilities.

Each 4-H'er has the opportunity to choose project books from dogs to bicycles, from woodworking to electricity, and cooking to sewing. All kinds of project books are ready to be filled out by eager 4-H-ers. When you have your first project book finished and want another, I will be glad to give you one. 4-H projects can be fun and very informative. I look forward to seeing you in your 4-H clubs.

GOD'S LOVE PAINTED THE FLAMING BRILLIANCE OF AUTUMN

The summer's heat is on the wane
And clouds are promising to rain.
The cooler air is filled with haze
From pungent smoke of bonfires' blaze.
And with the season in its prime,
On fields and trees it's harvest time:
While frost produces in the nights
Our most magnificent of sights:
The flaming leaves of red and gold
To mark a year that's growing old.
Before they turn to deepest brown,
So winds can bring them drifting down.
Your House of Worship will convey
The meaning of this bright display,
Which shows the love that God has planned
When brilliant autumn lights the land.

Autumn is a time of harvest of gathering together...
Edwin Way Teale

...the shell which the earth yields her increase, and God shall bless us...
Psalm 67:6

GOD MADE THE BRILLIANT AUTUMN FOR A TIME OF HARVEST

The heat of summer's on the wane,
And clouds may form, producing rain.
The leaves that turn to red and gold
Proclaim a year that's growing old.
Before consumed by bonfire flames,
It's time for school and football games.
When winds of change will cool the scene
And kids prepare for Halloween.
Our Bible lessons will convey
That harvest time is on the way.
A time for gathering the yield
From orchard and the farmer's field.
Our House of Worship now relates
That God's great bounty demonstrates
His love, that we should all reverse
When flaming autumn time is here.

Some of us call it Autumn, and others call it God...
William H. Carruth

Cats gone to the dogs

By: Jim Griesch

Donald Ray and Thelma Bullock of Willalla are the proud owners of five beagle hounds and three kittens.

One of the two female beagles, Daisey, is nursing the kittens.

Cats and dogs together is strange enough, but the Bullocks think that Daisey's behavior is even stranger, given that she last nursed a litter of pups sometime in 1988.

Actually, the kittens came as something of a surprise to the Bullocks. Thelma had heard that someone had dropped off some kittens in her area.

She and a nephew, Shannon York, found them about 10:30-11 p.m., on an early August evening.

At first, the Bullocks kept the kittens separated from the beagles by putting the cats in an empty dog pen. One night, they deliberately left the kitten's pen door open.

The next morning, they found all three asleep in Daisey's dog house. One was asleep on the dog's head. Another was laying on her side, and a third, on her hips.

The Bullocks, with daughters Tana and Donna, have given names to the three kittens.

A gray one has been named Rebecca. A white and gray is called Sylvester, and yellow and white one is named Sonny.

Daisey has become pretty domesticated and protective of her new litter. Thelma Bullock said that one time, she killed a chicken and brought it to the kittens to eat.

All of the beagles except the oldest female, Petunia, are kept chained to their dog houses.

She tolerates them, said Thelma Bullock. The others, at times, see afraid of the strange neighbors.

Don Bullock is amused by it all. He says he's seen animals get along well, but "not to this extent."

Rebecca and Sonny look for ways to leave Daisey's dog house after a morning nap last Thursday. Daisey is still inside, and waits her turn to get out, too.

Rebecca nursed from Daisey. The beagle hound allows all three of the kittens to nurse. But, it has been a year since Daisey had her last litter of pups.

Pot found farm could lead to its

Farm owners with lots of land had better know what is being grown there if they expect to keep the land.

According to a warning from the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Rockcastle ASCS, if marijuana is grown on your land, the law allows the United States Government to take your farm unless you can "affirmatively show that such unlawful conduct was carried on without your knowledge."

Land owners should make sure their land is not being used to grow marijuana. They can protect themselves by:

- Checking the identity and references of any potential buyer or lessee. Most marijuana in Kentucky is grown on leased land.
- They should include in all leases and contracts language that allows them or their agent to inspect the property at any time and inspect the property regularly.
- The landowner should promptly telephone the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration office (1-502-582-5908) or the London State Police Post if they suspect marijuana is being grown on their land.

Some indications that the people on your farm may be growing marijuana include:

- Payments made under false names;
- payments made with large amounts of cash; field work performed at night; corn planted late or never harvested; patchwork irrigation systems; drying racks and pruning equipment, and alarm systems and protective dogs.

Blackbird roost will get clean-up funds

It could be bye, bye blackbird after a favorite roosting area for thousands of troublesome birds in Mt. Vernon is cleared.

Federal funds have been obtained to work on the swamp area and sinkhole located near Mt. Vernon Elementary School and at the rear of Snack Shack Drive-In. The area is a favorite overnight resting place for a variety of birds.

A contract, estimated at about $17,000 is expected to be awarded late this year or early 1990, with construction to start in the spring.

Money for the project will come through the Soil Conservation Service Resource Conservation and Development program.

The project will include clearing the area of undesired vegetation, shaping and grading waterways for drainage, and cleaning out a large sinkhole that drains the entire area.

The sinkhole will also be fenced to prevent children from falling into the sinkhole.

There will be no public hearing on the project prior to construction.

Information may be obtained at the Soil Conservation Office.

A fire of undetermined origin destroyed the home of Ullyses Fletcher about 2 p.m. Tuesday at Groundhog Sinks.

Vernon Spwyder (left) and Richard Graham wheel to an ambulance one of two men slightly injured in a one-truck wreck on I-75, north of Mt. Vernon. Joseph Lawrence, 68, of Pittsburg, and John Gambrel, 59, of Tyner, were treated for minor injuries, and released from Rockcastle County Hospital. The driver may have swerved quickly to clear room for an approaching ambulance, a witness told Kentucky State Trooper Jack Lawless, who answered the call. The truck, northbound, swerved quickly, got up onto the guardrail along the roadway, and went over on its left side and slid several feet down the shoulder of I-75.

Jackson High hostage crisis ends quietly as juvenile surrenders

By: Jim Griesch

The whole world heard Dustin Pierce's cry for help Monday.

Pierce, a senior at Jackson County High, held 12 classmates hostage by school for up to nine hours at the gunpoint before giving himself up without hurting anyone.

Pierce, who lives with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Parks, told Kentucky State Police negotiators he wanted to see his father, Donald Pierce of Del Ray Beach, Fla.

The elder Pierce was reportedly on his way to Lexington Monday night, but wasn't seen.

Dustin Pierce held one of his classmates, Brian Bond, hostage overnight Sunday.

Bond's mother, Betty, is principal at Jackson County High. She said that Pierce had called Bond to come to his home to study. When he got there, Mrs. Bond said Pierce kidnapped her son at gunpoint and took him to the Bullskin area of Clay County.

Monday morning, the two arrived at Jackson County High about 9:20, and entered through a side door.

Pierce held a shotgun pointed toward Bond. The two entered a second-period world history class taught by Betty Clark.

Pierce fired a gun twice into the ceiling of the room, and told Clark to leave, witnesses said.

After the teacher left, he told two rows of students to leave.

Guilty plea made; psych examination ordered for Pierce

Dustin Pierce pleaded guilty to 13 counts of kidnapping and 13 counts of wanton endangerment Tuesday in Jackson District Court at a hearing.

He was being taken to Louisville for a psychiatric evaluation, but was allowed to meet with both his father and mother at the Richmond State Police Post while en route.

Detective Bob Stephens said that Pierce may have been using Stephen King's book, Rage, as a guide to the hostage crisis.

During negotiations with Pierce, KSP personnel referred to the book to see where Pierce might be, and as a guide to their talking through the crisis with Pierce.

The shots immediately alerted others in the school to a problem. The building was evacuated and the students sent home.

Negotiators from the state police were able to get all but three of 12 hostages released by 1:30 p.m.

Eleven is the number most commonly reported, but students in the room say there were 12. They included Craig Eversole, Belinda Hall, Tim Berry, Kathy Higgs, Kathy Kentucky State Police Captain John Lile announces the end of the hostage crisis shortly after Dustin Pierce surrendered to officers at 6:33 p.m., Monday.

Hayes, Kevin Cunagin, Anthony House, Gary Peters, Dhan Graves, Scooby Hundley, Carson Ohmit and Carlos Cameron.

Hall, Higgs and Hayes were released in a group as part of a package deal for pizzas to eat.

Bond was one of the first to be released from the room. Students say Pierce shot out the window in the room so that Bond could climb out to get a radio from police negotiators. Bond was traded for the radio.

Cameron was the next-to-last to be freed.

He said he told Pierce he had to use the bathroom, but that he would return if Pierce wanted him to.

"I really had to go," said Cameron later.

Pump fixed, county avoids water shortage

By: Ray McClure

With a lot of work and determination, city water customers will not have to do without water.

A malfunctioned transformer attached to a "starter" was repaired on a major pump at the Mt. Vernon water plant early Wednesday once again sending 1,420 gallons of water a minute through water lines and preventing a water emergency.

For awhile it appeared Mt. Vernon water customers would be without, or nearly without, water into the weekend, but the transformer part arrived by car from Louisville after a plane flight from Atlanta.

What happened? About 2:30 a.m. Sunday the transformer failed to start the pump. Soon areas in high terrain began to experience falling water pressure, and soon, no water at all.

By early Tuesday, it was near panic as residents brought out pots and pans, filled bathtubs, and figured out how to do without water.

With supplies dwindling, Mayor Gary R. Cromer called a water alert, asking car washes, laundromats and other major water users to turn off the tap until the problem was solved.

Most complied on Monday. Mayor Cromer recalled them on Tuesday asking for continued conservation. Again they complied and overall usage was cut in half.

With the one large pump out of operation, only one pump was left to produce and that was 740 gallons a minute, half the normal capacity. The third and only other pump at the water plant was out of commission for service, the first time in 20 years.

A break in a six-inch water line in the Northern Rockcastle Water District only added to the problem Tuesday, but it was hastily repaired.

KHI asks Mt. Vernon for $10,000 to upgrade site

By: Ray McClure

Kentucky Highlands Investment Corp., owner of the building housing Rockcastle Manufacturing in the Rockcastle Industrial Park, has asked the Mt. Vernon City Council for a loan of $10,000 to help upgrade the building they lease to Cintas Corporation.

Mayor Gary R. Cromer told the city council Monday night the money asked for is from an Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) that was repaid by the city by Reynolds Metals when Mt. Vernon Plastics was sold to Reynolds.

Rockcastle Manufacturing, owned by Cintas, plans an $800,000 addition to the facility and $1.1 million expenditure for equipment to furnish it. It would provide new jobs.

Highlands wants the money at three percent for 10 years with Cintas giving a rental guarantee for 1 1/2 years.

The city has about $300,000 in UDAG money and had talked with Oran's Truck Plaza owners about a $200,000 loan to help purchase and remodel Derby City South truck stop at Renfro valley. However, the city is no longer considering that loan.

Mayor Cromer said Oran's owner, Kenneth Smallwood had told the city a package would be presented to the city in a few days explaining the use of the money and other details, but

Cousin the key to ending

By: Jim Griesch

Dustin Pierce's cry for help was answered by a cousin, Chad Madden, who was the person who finally persuaded Pierce to end his nine-hour hostage situation at Jackson County High Monday.

Madden, who is a freshman at Eastern Kentucky University and a 1988 graduate of Jackson County, was called in by state police negotiators at 6:07.

Madden was taken into the school by Jackson County social worker Howards Williams, who said he thought Madden was successful in part because "I guess (Pierce) just got tired of it."

The last two hostages, Carson Ohmit and Scott Hundley came out with a KSP officer who said he fatigued ankle flak jacket at 6:18.

At 6:33, KSP officers told a huge throng of reporters and onlookers, "It's over. We have him."

Kentucky State Police detective Bob Stephens said that Madden basically just told Pierce that KSP personally wouldn't hurt him, and that there was still a lot of good left in Pierce's life.

Madden was escorted by police from the school about a half hour after Pierce was taken to the Clay County Detention Center in Manchester. Madden made no comments directly to the media.

Enjoy the Football Game and help REAP

With the permission of RCHS principal Ronnie Cash, REAP (Rockcastle Economic Assistance Program) members will be collecting canned food at Friday night's homecoming game with Knox Central. REAP is asking for you to bring a can of food to the game which will be collected at the ticket purchase location and members will be available to take the food from the car so as to not slow down entry into the game. If you happen to forget the food, it's still no problem but you might want to throw a quarter or so in the pot in lieu of it. REAP is very active as an emergency source of food in the county. Supplies are very low at present and, with winter coming on, the need is expected to increase. Anyway, the bottom line is, if you don't wish to participate, at all in the food collection, but we hope you will, it's no problem. Come on out and cheer the Rockets on to a victory in their homecoming game.

From Our Readers

Dear 4-H Council,
I would like to thank each one of the 4-H Council members who presented me with a cake at the last 4-H Council meeting. I really appreciated the thoughtfulness shown by this gesture.

I would also like to say that I have missed all the people who came in and out of the Rockcastle County Extension Office. There are some very special people involved with our councils and I appreciate their support and friendship I have received.

Thanks again,
Patty Himes

Dear Editor,

May I write a short story to you regarding the controversy about the name Negro Creek? "Many, many years ago I was a very little girl. My grandmother sat with me out in the front yard under the big maple trees. The weather was hot in July. We lived on Main Street in Brodhead."

I asked my grandmother to tell me a story. She pondered a subject for a while then she said she would tell me a story about the time when she lived on a hill named "Nigger Creek." She said that that was a name given to the place by an Indian. She said that was the name given to a black race of people.

She said the Indians who populated the hill were slightly lighter colored toward Brodhead because they were not allowed to live in Brodhead. I wanted to know if there was a creek on the hill. She did not know.

Her attention was distracted by a speeding Model T Ford going along the road at the rate of twenty five miles per hour. It was a yellow dirt road. No paved road existed in Brodhead at that time.

I never knew if she merely meant to entertain me or if she thought it was a little bit of a story some rather legendary to me. The hill should be given a proper name, maybe even regal sounding in honor of those who lived there, reared their families and died there who reside there now. We are in a new era. What's wrong with a name like King's Row? Another name with credibility.

The present name sounds intimidating and ludicrous... No reflections on those who may object to my opinions.

Sincerely,
Margaret Owens Dyehouse
P.S. Formerly Marguerite Owens

Dear Editor,
I feel obligated to the church and to Christian friends everywhere to tell you of my experience in the past few weeks with the court, the legal system, all court appointed agencies, etc. I feel that I must give it my best shot to inform you of the activities, the frustration of our most unworthy and panic-stricken advocates: "For he knoweth he has but a short time."

There is something taking place in this country that we always knew so well. The first amendment of our Constitution guarantees the separation of church and state. The state shall not establish any religion or prohibit the free exercise of any religion, but the state is beginning to tighten its grip and totally ignoring the first amendment and beginning to suppress the free exercise of the Christian faith.

In recent days several hundred Christians have been arrested in Birmingham, Alabama. They are being brought to court for several million dollars. They are threatened with closing their churches and taking their church property simply because they were peacefully demonstrating against the abortion clinics, who are murdering a million and a half babies each year and rising. The government even sent undercover cops into their churches to spy out their liberty and gather evidence against them. Many other Christian groups are embattled in the courts today.

The E.R.A., the A.C.L.U., the humanists and the liberals have gathered strength and combined their forces and now have enough people in government and in the courts and high places that they are setting the standards for the church. They know the church doesn't recognize those standards as the socially acceptable thing to do then they are branded as religious fanatics, antisocial and a menace to society and so on in ages past another persecution against the church has begun. This one promises to be the granddaddy of them all. "A time of trouble and tribulation such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time nor ever shall be; a day when darkness shall cover the earth and gross darkness the people."

The culprit in this present day society against the church is much different from the past. The culprit is humanism. The New Age movement is sweeping the country. Forty million people in this country alone are now involved in it, half billion around the world. They accept everything and everybody except true Christians of course. All the positive thinkers, mind controllers, mediators, astrologers, palm readers, reincarnationists, kins and gurus, all the cults and the occults. Their main theme is that we are all part of one, one with God and we are all one with the universe. It's long to Jesus Christ. I refuse to be identified with any other name. There is no other name under heaven whereby men might be saved. I'm one with the church, the body of Christ which is the body of Christ. It is a living organism of Christians all over the world animated by the spirit of God, although not physically joined together we are all baptized into one body by one spirit. We are the body, Christ is the head, he operates the body, the church. The church is the light of the world. If the world ever finds God they will find Him through and in the church. We believe God operates through no other institution or any other religion but an institution that is the Christian faith, that is the prime directive, the battle cry of the Christian. "Come out from among the world and be yeparate saith the Lord, and I will be your God and ye shall be my people."

This is the story of my times come on. Our 16 year old son was arrested twice for public intoxication, although we were very upset and disappointed in him, it is a small misdemeanor by today's standards with everything else that is going on, but we wound up in front of a judge with the results, 6 months probation, 9 p.m. curfew, counselors here and counselors there plus the fine insults and threats plus the six days he spent in a holding facility before appearing in court. The council was tried to explain to the judge that we were Christians, that we would rather our son to have a Christian counselor, but to no avail. The judge pointed his finger at me, quoted some scripture and told me how to take care of my son, which is also in violation with the first amendment. We've been insulted, embarrassed and threatened almost to the point of harassment. We've been forced to expose our son to the influence of personalities and mentalities that we would rather not have on our son. We are the people in the agencies and rehabilitation centers that are appointed by the courts are liberals and humanists. The ones that are not will soon be squeezed out. They thrive on New Age mentality such as positive thinking, human potential and self-esteem. Humanism is garbage to the Christian. Humans don't have the potential or power within themselves to change anything. They may change their minds or change their lifestyle but they cannot change themselves, only God can do that. That is the whole point of the gospel. Changed! Old things are passed away; all things become new; a new creature in Christ. The courts can now force you to send your child to a brainwashing of humanism, and here's nothing you can do about it. They have no regard for the free exercise of our religious faith.

We reserve the rights according to the constitution to teach our children without any interfering from the state, values, principals and priorities according to our religious beliefs, but the state can now force humanistic values, principals and priorities on our children. They are in effect propping their children for the wave of the future. We can no longer shelter our children from humanistic indoctrination. The state is forcing in the classroom or in the school system but the New Age movement is pumping their literature through the school system every day. Literature such as astrology, palm reading, modern occult arts, positive thinking, self-esteem, mind control and inner healing is being pumped through every level and segment of our society. The state is slowly taking control of your children's future.

All things work together for the good of those that love the Lord, one good thing that's come out of this is that it has made a better preacher out of me. I am now more aware of Satan's devices.

I can't change the plan of God or stop prophecy from coming to pass, but I'm going to fight the devil every step of the way. I intend to give him a fit. As one of our presidents once said, "I now declare War."

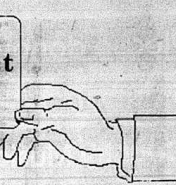

Jesus declared the final outcome when He said, "upon this rock (Himself) I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

don't know what the future holds but I know who holds the future.

Points East

By: Ike Adams

I wish that all the people who spend the bulk of their spare time complaining about the quality of education in Kentucky would get off their soap boxes for one week and spend it teaching school. The editorial writers at the big state dailies who would have the world believe they have all the answers ought to be required by law to do it. Because I'll tell you folks, I'm worried a lot more about the qualifications of the cocktail set that is so bent on a radical overhaul of the system than I am about the way things are going right now.

I know a bunch of people who are angry because in the latest round of national testing to measure what kids are learning these days, Kentucky came out better than the National average. They're ticked off had because they can no longer sit around and complain about being 47th.

The results of this recent measurement caught them all off guard. Apparently they didn't even know it was coming or we'd have been awed with insightful editorial prognostication on the subject for several weeks in advance. There would have been lottery tickets for sale so that you could bet on Kentucky's ranking. The papers would have turned it into the most publicized sporting event of the year.

Instead, we woke up one morning and the headlines neither whined "Gullible Here's something that sez Kentucky has a better'n average learning system. How can this be?"

A couple of days later they ran a story about some geek who honestly advertises himself as a "terrorist for education". According to that, he's a "terrorist for education" because he's not heard of a terrorist who wasn't intellectual and objective, after all????? Teachers and administrators cheating on the last round of testing was widespread. They even had a picture of the guy taken in a park and so they could be sure he was talking about... He said they cheated all over the country.

Now the implication in all this is that, in Kentucky we cheat better'n everybody else. They're not coming right out and accusing yet, but they are strongly suggesting that it could have happened.

For all the credit that teachers are getting out this dynamic improvement in the state's educational ranking, they should all just walk off the job. I'm serious. If you're not in the education business, how many teachers have you walked up to over the last week or two, slapped on the shoulder, and said, "Congratulations!!! Thank you for working so hard!! Way to Go!!!"

Contrary to what you may believe, there was no one who goes on Kentucky's "Top 100" list of the smartest than they are, nor was the test written by a group of Kentuckians who put questions on it that only we knew the answers to. That's not what happened at all. The fact of the matter is that education in this state has improved dramatically over the last few years.

The curriculum has advanced in difficulty from kindergarten to 12th grade and the teachers have taught it. We ought to be celebrating in every little hamlet in this state right now. We've come from the bottom of the heap to more than halfway to the top in one quantum leap. And in the final analysis, our teachers have made it happen. I know a few who are feeling awfully slighted right now.

I've read one more edition of this month on the evils of nepotism in Eastern Kentucky school systems. I'm going to puke on it and mail it back to Lexington or Louisville. Would all of you teachers out there who are kin to a board member or someone in the superintendent's office please mail that information to the Associated Press so they can put you in the paper all at the same time and get it over with? Please!!!

As a matter of fact, I want the cocktail set to teach in the classrooms all these nepoties when they spend that week trying to get a handle on what it is they're so upset about. I believe that they'll find out that the nepotism and political patronage via teaching positions has little to do with the quality of classroom instruction overall. More often than not, I am convinced, teachers stay in systems where they are kin to somebody higher up because they feel an obligation to do so. Not the other way around. Nobody is doing anybody a favor when they give them a teaching job in this state.

That's not to say that there isn't a serious political problem in our educational system because there is. The problem is the politicians, who are the government's office down, who ignorantly insist that raising taxes to pay for education is unnecessary. That throwing money at the problem won't help it.

Throwing some money at the teaching profession would help a lot right now in my opinion and it's more than appropriate that it be thrown too. Teacher's are doing more than whine about education in this state. They've just demonstrated that they can rise to the challenge. Let's see some help from the editors some insight into solving this education "crisis" why don't they turn to these teachers who are obviously onto something.

For starters they could say, "Here's a $10,000 raise to pay across the board and there's another ten in it for you when we get into the top 15. What else do you need?"

Facts on Cholesterol What everyone should know

What is cholesterol? Cholesterol is a waxy substance that is made in our body cells. Despite its bad reputation, cholesterol is important in the growth and manufacturing of cells.

Cholesterol is found in all foods of animal origin.
Should you be concerned about your blood cholesterol level? Too much blood cholesterol increases your risk of heart disease. Since cholesterol is manufactured normally in your body, eating foods containing high levels of cholesterol or saturated fats raises the level of blood cholesterol. Over time this excess of cholesterol may build up in the blood vessels of your heart, narrow blood supply to the heart, and possibly lead to a heart attack. Studies show the higher your blood cholesterol level, the higher your risk of heart disease.

Persons who are concerned about their cholesterol should know that diet and exercise play an important role in the prevention and control of high cholesterol levels.
The Rockcastle County Health Department will provide cholesterol testing in the month of February to any interested persons who are age twenty and older. There will be a $3 charge for the test, counseling will be provided. For more information, please call the Rockcastle County Health Department at 256-2242.

Smallwood did not come up with the package.

"As far as the city and I are concerned, Orans request is no longer being considered," the mayor said. "We have other things we can use the money for that would give the city a better return."

The council discussed the Kentucky Highlands request and suggested Highlands officials come to the council and discuss the loan at its

Oct. 2 regular meeting.

Mayor Cromer told the council he had talked with state highway officials about lighting the intersection of Ky. 461 and U.S. 25 near Red Top Restaurant. He said the state had rejected the request at least on three occasions.

He said Kentucky Utilities would install three lights if the city will pay the light bill of $13.99 a month for each light. The council approved.

The mayor suggested the city hire a public relations firm to promote the city and entice industry to the area, of Texas.

From the first week, the starter was a problem and NAC worked on it several times. The last time was in the spring this year when the company concluded they had finally found the problem. They apparently had not.

"It was a part that seldom fails to work," Supt. Powell said. "Transformers just don't tear up so there were very few places that socked the part. That was why it was hard to find a place that had one."

Powell noted that the starter that was installed just wasn't up to par. It had bugs, similar to a car that has bugs that have to be worked out.

Mayor Cromer said he was not pleased with the starter system that was installed and the city would have to take some kind of action. He did not elaborate.

Mayor Cromer said even now that the pump is back in operation, it will take two or three days to refill the tanks with water, so he would be used during the tank filling process. He asked everyone to conserve water for the next few days.

some things other cities have done. Included would be brochures and a film showing city services and points of interest.

The council voted up to $15,000 to pay the public relations firm that is selected. The money would come from UDAG funds, it legal.

The council voted to become a member of the Rural Water Association, a trouble-shooting group that identifies water problems and reports on how to remedy them, but not to correct them. The membership fee is $400 a year.

The first reading of an ordinance describing in detail the areas around the city that are planned to be annexed was approved by the council for publication. It is on another page in this issue.

The public now has 60 days in which to file a petition opposing the annexation. It must have at least 50 percent of the property owners/registered voters living in the area to be annexed in order to get the annexation proposal on the November ballot.

If no petition is received the land will be annexed at the second reading of the ordinance. The annexation will be discussed at the Oct. 2 regular meeting of the council.

Water problems

On the scene virtually all night Monday at the water plant were Mayor Cromer and water superintendent, Matt Powell Jr.

Telephone calls were placed to various suppliers that might have a replacement part. Finally Tuesday, a part was located in Atlanta.

By that time, there were water shortages in places like Burr, McGuire Subdivision, King Subdivision and nearly so in Brush Creek areas. Tanks were dry and only the small pump was keeping a supply of water in the lines. It appeared Brodhead, North and Western districts would soon have no water at all.

As background, the city has been upgrading the water plant for several months to produce more water. The large pump that failed was installed four years ago by NAC, Inc., of Lexington using an electric starter developed and sold by Siemens-Allis

James Still and Gary Eldridge rocking and taling at the Appalachian writers conference in Hindman.

Poet James Still reads at Family Life Center

At the recent Appalachian writers conference in Hindman, Gary Eldridge, program manager of the Family Life Center School, had an opportunity to talk with the eastern Kentucky poet, novelist and short story writer James Still. Mr. Still accepted Gary's invitation to spend an evening in Mt. Vernon, reading from his poetry and short stories and discussing the idea of Appalachia and a sense of community. Several of the writers at the workshop expressed an interest in the project and have agreed to be part of the lecture series that will be co-sponsored by the eastern Kentucky teachers network and the Kentucky humanities council. The first of the series will feature Mr. Still at the Family Life Center School, tonight, September 21, at 6:30. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

When Mr. Still had his first poem published in the "Virginia quarterly review, he sent a copy to the benefactor who had provided the scholarship for his graduate education. Still's patron, heir to a sash-and-blind fortune, was not at all certain that a boy who wrote poems had benefited from his expenditure. He wrote to Edgar A. Guest, then probably the best-known poet in the country, to ask for advice. Guest's terse reply came promptly: "Leave this young man alone. He may draw up at a place you know nothing of."

After a childhood in Chambers County, Alabama among "Barrels of relatives, dozens of cousins visiting back and forth," after undergraduate years at Lincoln Memorial University and graduate work at Vanderbilt University and the University of Illinois, James Still grew up at the Hindman Settlement School in Knott County, Kentucky, in the depths of the great depression. For the next six years he worked there on a salary that averaged, he once calculated, six cents a day.

In 1939, Still went to live on Dead Mare Branch in a two-story log house built before 1840. He moved there to finish a novel, River of Earth, (now recognized as an American Classic). He never intended to stay long. But he soon realized that the house on Dead Mare Branch was the place he had been looking for all his life.

Over the years many people have wondered why he has continued to live in so remote a place. To still the answer is obvious: he has lived on in the hills of eastern Kentucky and called the place his home because there he has been able to exercise "as much freedom and peace as the world allows."

Knott County has afforded Still the freedom and peace to create a distinguished body of writing. In addition to River of Earth, which appeared in 1940 and is available in reprint from the University press of Kentucky, Still has published a volume of poems, Hounds on the Mountain, another novel, three short story collections, and three books for children. The novel Spory Creek, continues the story of the family introduced in River of Earth. The short stories are collected in On Troublesome Creek, Pattern of A Man, and The Run For the Elbertas. In 1986, in connection with the celebration of his eightieth birthday, his collected poems, the Wolfpen Papers, appeared published by Berea College Press and distributed by Gnomon Press.

This Thursday, night, James Still will be sharing his writing and experiences of a people, a land, and way of life he knows well. You are invited to spend an evening with Mr. Still and discuss with him, his verse and fiction of Eastern Kentucky that critics have hailed for its beauty, humor, and integrity.

Dana Craig working in Scotland for two years

A Rockcastle county local has been selected by her company to represent them and work for their branch company in Livingston, Scotland. Miss Dana Lynne Craig, daughter of Gatliff and Nell Craig, has been employed by the UNISYS Corporation since her graduation from EKV in 1984. The UNISYS Corporation is an international computer firm and Dana's speciality is in banking software.

This assignment is of particular interest to Dana since the Craigs ancestors were of Scotch-Irish descent. This will give her an opportunity to look into her family heritage. Dana's grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. J.S. Craig, Sr., of Quail and the late Mr. M.J. (Rhody) Parsons and Mrs. Jewell Chasteen Parsons, formerly of Renfro Valley. Although Dana will be returning to the states from time to time her assignment will probably extend into the year 1991.

Your Government is Your Business
(You have both the need and right to know)

Dear Friends,

I have a strong conviction concerning the aforementioned statement. If I am selected to work with you, one of my first goals will be to see that you are kept informed concerning your county's business that is being transacted at the time. I'm convinced that it will not only be of interest to you but it will be a necessary help in order to accomplish the things that we must do.

In preparation for this, I will adopt as a standard practice to:

- A. have a prepared agenda for distribution at each month's Fiscal Court Meeting. The intent will be to promote more orderly discussion and bring dignity to this important event, and
- B. I will give you an activity report each month.

Hopefully, this can be delivered by either our local newspaper or radio station - or both if conditions permit.

I believe that you will agree that our personal business cannot be successful without our personal involvement. Our county's business must have this same degree of awareness and attention.

Sincerely,
Gatliff Craig

Dollar General stores get loan

Governor Wallace G. Wilkinson has announced that Dollar General Stores will be the first firm to receive a loan from revenue raised by Kentucky's bond sale on the Japanese market.

Wilkinson said that the Kentucky Development Finance Corporation will provide a $7 million construction loan to the Nashville-based company for a new 200,000 square foot distribution center near Scottsville in Allen County. The loan will be at an interest of 7.5 percent with the principle due in September, 1990.

Work on the facility is underway and is scheduled to be open within a year at a total cost of $8 million. The distribution center will employ about 36 people when operating.

Kentucky's yen bond sale in March was the first such venture into international financial markets by a state. The issue raised $77 million for KDFA to use in incentive packages to lure new development to Kentucky.

Wilkinson said that KDFA saved $3 million by using the Japanese bond market instead of selling the bonds on Wall Street. Additional savings had been anticipated because of the

He was one of seven applicants for the position. He replaces Mrs. L. J. Graves who has been the clerk for several years. Mrs. Graves resigned.

McBee, a half-brother of clothing store owner in Mt. Vernon, Estill McBee, retired from the L&N Railroad. He had lived in Florida until his retirement.

Hunt shoots self in hand

Leo Hunt of Mt. Vernon suffered a severe injury to the palm of his left hand when a rifle shell accidentally exploded.

Hunt was shooting a .765 mm rifle using 7 mm shells when an 8 mm shell accidentally got mixed with the other shells.

He put the shell in the magazine and when it wouldn't lock, he shoved the bolt in and the shell exploded. The rifle barrel split.

Hunt said his hand has no permanent damage since none of the nerves were damaged.

With the hunting season near, Hunt warned hunters to be careful and cautious when using their rifles and guns.

$300 reward for information

Barricades that prevent traffic use in construction areas of Ky. 461 are being removed and highway officials are alarmed.

In fact, so alarmed that a $300 reward for removing them from roadways is being offered, according to Vernon Johnson, safety director for contractor, Melco-Greer.

Johnson said the removal of barricades allow traffic to use unfinished and unfamiliar roads, can cause accidents and are dangerous to local residents.

The company will pay the reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of person or persons. Persons with information should telephone the company at 606-878-8900. Johnson reported another section of Ky. 461 should be open as soon as signs, guardrails and striping are complete.

He said the Rockcastle section should be completed by the end of 1990.

Barricades like the one above have been moved from the new 461, which causes concern for the contractor about the safety of those traveling along old 461.

Carters hosting Spanish student

By: Jim Griesch

Federico Sabras, 17, is one of two foreign exchange students spending the school year in Rockcastle County.

He's part of the on-going student exchange program which brings students from all over the globe to the United States, and vice versa.

Federico is staying with Larry and Linda Carter, and their children, Tiffany and Brian.

One of the reasons Federico is here is to learn to speak English. Right now, he can understand written words, and can respond well in writing.

He is learning to understand the spoken word, and is beginning to know how to respond to asked questions.

He's taking history, food management, English, art history, business law, and psychology.

While he says he has no real favorite, he says he likes all of his classes, but "I don't understand nothing."

Federico is something of an athlete who likes to hunt and fish and play soccer.

In fact, he's already tried his hand at place kicking, and some of the football Rockets are impressed.

They've seen him hit a field goal from 42 yards out and just miss from 50.

But, unlike the foreign exchange student of two years ago, Federico won't get to play American football.

New eligibility rules for foreign exchange students went into effect this fall.

Federico would have to lay out 36 weeks, and could be eligible next fall.

That won't happen. That's why the rule was put in. Some schools had been stocking basketball rosters with one-year imports.

Jealousy by opposing coaches forced the Kentucky High School Athletics Association to put the rule in this year.

Just last year, Harrodsburg High went to the finals of the Class A football playoffs with a European foreign exchange place kicker, and had two European girls play basketball.

That's over with. Carter thinks the rule is unfair.

Actually, Federico wasn't supposed to be in Rockcastle.

He was going somewhere else, but a late-summer illness forced the original host family to back out.

Tiffany Carter (left) and Linda Carter flank Spain's Federico Sabras, who is spending the year with them as part of the foreign student exchange program. They are looking over his portfolio for the trip. Looking on are Brian Carter (left) and Larry Carter. Sabras is a good soccer player, and a trophy winning hunter and fisherman in his native country.

Federico actually is a good soccer player, thinks Carter. He's frustrated because he can't participate in football with Rockets, and there aren't any soccer leagues for students his age.

So, Carter has been filling in the gaps in Federico's fun by taking him fishing, hunting, and boating.

Larry, Linda and Federico, and the family dog, recently went canoeing down the Rockcastle River.

"We went in at 1-75 about 2 p.m., and came out at KY 80 at 7:30," Larry said.

Carter and Federico have squirrel and dove hunting. Looking for squirrel was "the first time ever" for Federico.

As a "bonus," he wound up killing "a big rattlesnake," that got in their way.

Federico also hunts and fishes in Spain. He's won some trout fishing trophies at home. Larry's brother, Jerry Carter, is scheduled to take Federico to a bass fishing tourney before he leaves in the spring. Federico likes to wade into the water to do his fishing.

His father is an attorney in the hometown of Logorona, a city of about 150,000 on the northern, central plains of Spain. He is also on the Supreme Court in Spain.

Federico says it is about a two hour trip to the ocean, to Barcelona, and other major cities.

He says he wants to meet people while he's here, and could possibly take his driver's test here in the United States if he can transfer his license to Spain on his return.

Right now, he's checking on the legal process for that.

Federico has already taken some tests, and Larry says, "He's done real well" on them, and that he "can read and understand well."

Like most young visitors far away from home, there are things he misses.

At the top of his list is his girlfriend, Laura Tudanca, also 17; his parents and soccer (in that order).

He says he wants to learn to speak English well, wants good grades, and to learn to play American football.

The Carters hope to show him Mammoth Cave, Cumberland Falls, and maybe King's Island.

Because of his father's profession, Federico says he is also interested in law.

Larry says he wants to borrow some books from one of the local attorneys, Jerry Cox, to let him read through them.

Tiffany has become something of a guide for Federico at school.

She showed him to his classes the first couple of days, and she's helped him sort out the little things he runs into at school, the slang, the customs, and she even knows someone he'd like to meet.

Tiffany is one family member who wanted to act as a host from the start.

She had met Reiko Yamamoto in August when she visited for a month through a 4-H exchange program.

Federico arrived in Rockcastle through the help of Carter's aunt, Iona Parsons, who is hosting Yoko Takeuchi, from Japan this year.

Yoko is Iona's third guest. When she found out that Federico arrived in Lexington, and no one met him, she contacted the exchange program organizers in this area, and arranged for the Carters to host him.

The Carters were contacted on a Thursday, held a family pow-wow, and agreed to act as host the next day.

So far, Federico has been able to teach the Carter's some new tricks, too.

He's teaching them to play "snooker" pool, a form of billiards.

He's also cooked some meals for them, and shows a preference for juices, milk and water over the standard American favorite drink, cola.

The Carters plan to show him as much of the area as they can. Larry wants to take him bow hunting for deer this fall.

But, anyone wishes he had a chance at American football.

Thanks

The family of Vernon Ballinger would like to thank all of their friends that sent cards and the telephone calls to ask about him. Also, to thank you for the beautiful flowers that were sent to the funeral home. Thanks again and God bless everyone. His wife, Mollie and children

In Memory of William Ernest "Bill Allen" on June 21, 1989 Bill left this sinful world behind to dwell with Jesus in Heaven above. Where all is happiness, peace and love.

But he left me alone in this old world, days and nights are so lonely and blue. But he knew that I loved him so very, very much. And, hence, those words are so true. So, God has taken him up in Heaven to rest, to live forever with the very best. So, when the curtain at night are pinned back by teh stars, and the beautiful moon leaps the skies and the dew drops of Heaven are kissing the rose, that is when my memories fly as if on the wings of some beautiful dove in haste with the message it bears.

So at night when I kneel by my bedside to pray, I'll remember you Bill my love in my prayers. Loved and Missed so very, very much by Ruby Allen, your lonely wife

The family of Vernon R. Griffin wishes to express appreciation for all the sympathy and kindness extended during our recent loss. Thanks to everyone for the food, flowers, cards, visits, calls and prayers. A special thanks to Dr. Michael Gutierrez, Rockcastle Co. Hospital and the Rockcastle Co. Ambulance Service. Also a special thanks to Bro. Harvey Penso, Bro. Eddie Hammonds and Cox Funeral Home. Lela Hamlin Griffin and Doris, Bige & Bill Towery

Stephens described Pierce as "unbalanced...a confused young man, looking for someone to help him."
The only real demand Pierce made was to talk with his father, Donald, who lives in Del Ray Beach, Fla. Pierce hasn't seen his father in about 14 years, and apparently that absence had begun to grate upon him.
His grandfather, with whom Pierce has lived during those years, told some media people he thought the son was simply mad at his father.
KSP captain John Lile said that during the long hours of the crisis, "negotiators kept him in a decision-making mood, and that when his friends talked with him, they made a contract with Pierce, saying that nobody would hurt him."
Lile and Stephens said that Pierce was still armed after the last two hostages left, and it took several minutes for him to finally move file cabinets away from the door, throw out his guns, and come out.

Stephens, speaking before Pierce was finally cleared from the crisis scene, said, "I developed my trust, he developed my trust."
He added, "He never would say why he wanted to talk to his father. He just said he wanted to talk to him."
KSP detective sergeant D-K Damrel, one of the last police to leave from the school building, said, "It got tense at the end. We lost contact with him, and didn't know what he was thinking."
Damrel also said that Pierce's father actually contacted the KSP before they could reach him.
Damrel explained, "We were making arrangements to bring him here, but he called us and told us he was on the way."
Damrel said he planned to take the father to the Clay County Detention Center, "to see if the juvenile still wants to see him."

The anger and the situation caught most of the people who know Pierce by surprise.
Several Jackson County High students who were found said that they hardly knew Pierce well, but that he is very smart, plays in the band, and is quiet.
He supposedly asked Brian Bond, his friend and the school principal's son, to study for a physics test Sunday night.
Cousins Ange and Amy Gabbard, who were in the world history class interrupted by Pierce's takeover, said they were surprised when they returned for their books later.
"Our books and papers, even the pencils, were exactly as they were," they said. "But, the teacher's desk, the bookshelves, and the files, were all over the place."
Mrs. Bond spent the entire day inside her school building. Her son, Brian, was also in the cafeteria, along with a younger sister not in high school yet.
She said she was afraid for her son's life. When asked, she said that she had received no direct threat from Pierce, but that her concerns were those of most parents faced with that situation.
Brian Bond was one of the first of the hostages released.
While all of the action took place on the back side of the building, windows on the front were open or broken out.

Dustin Pierce sat in the back seat of this police car as he was taken to the Clay County Detention Center Monday night. Later, he was taken to the state police post at Richmond to meet his parents, then to Louisville for a psychiatric examination.

The Kentucky State Police's Mobile Headquarters stood silently in front of Jackson County High much of Monday afternoon. The unit, plus numerous police cars, ambulances, helicopters, and a throng of media trucks, cameras and people, marked one of the strangest episodes in Jackson County educational history. The hostage crisis ended quietly, with Dustin Pierce giving himself up about 6:30 p.m.

One first floor window was completely broken out. Students said that kids in class in that room had broken the window out to get out of the building faster.
A red Chevrolet pick-up truck, used by Pierce and Brian Bond, owned by Jerry Bond, stood at one end of the school, its back window broken out.
The two boys had driven the truck close to a side entrance when they arrived at school Monday morning.
The truck stayed there until Jerry Reed swept broken glass out of the bed at 8 p.m.
The Bonds reported that Pierce either shot or broke the glass out in order to shoot at any police who might follow them.

The term media circus is tossed around a lot in conversation.
Five television stations set up portable feed stations in trucks with discs atop them in a near-by funeral home's lot.
Television stations from Lexington (3), Louisville (3), Cincinnati (3), Knoxville (at least one) and Nashville (also, at least one), plus camera crews flown in from across the country by ABC, CBS, CNN, and NBC were covering the crisis. At one point in mid-afternoon, 16 TV cameras were set up at various points across US 421 from the school.
One Louisville station, WHAS, had three separate crews on the scene.
ABC's crew apparently used a room at the funeral home as a film lab, developing, editing and putting together their story there.
Radio stations from Corbin, Lexington and Richmond were there.
Print reporters from AP, UPI, Lexington, Louisville, Corbin, Mt. Vernon, and a Louisville-based free lance writer working for Newsweek were all there.
At one point, KSP public affairs officer Capt. John Lile cautioned TV people to use restraint in their spot reports, because Pierce had been given both a television and a radio during negotiations for several of the hostages.
Lile simply didn't want a news report to upset Pierce and possibly undo any progress toward ending the situation.

Hostages

Cousins Amy and Ange Gabbard were in seats in the first two rows when Pierce came in.
"They told reporters later, when they returned for their books, purses and other belongings, that they barely noticed Pierce when he first came in."
"We all had our heads down, working," they said.
They heard the shots fired at the ceiling, and at first thought maybe a filing cabinet had fallen.
But, "There was Dustin standing with the gun," said Ange Gabbard.
"They said he waved the shotgun around at the students, and at various times, the gun was pointed at them."
The girls said, "(Pierce) said, 'Get out!' and seemed really mad."
When told to leave, the students ran to the front of the building, then out into the parking lot in front.
"We came out, fell in the parking lot, and went all to pieces," said Amy Gabbard. "It was scary."
Amy Gabbard's mother, Betty, was with the two girls when they returned for their things about 7:30 p.m.
She said she was at a restaurant ordering some food when she heard of the incident. She had been at work at a McKee factory.

"My husband came (to get the girl), I wasn't able," she explained.
She said her daughter was extremely upset at home.
"She just cried and cried. She said, 'Momma, I just don't understand,' at one point," the parent explained.
Eversole, who talked to several media people, said that Pierce had a 12-gauge shotgun, .357-caliber and .44-caliber magnum pistols.
Hundley and Ohmit were the last two hostages to be released; about 6:18, when they were escorted from the front of the school to a side entrance into the cafeteria.
Eversole's mother, Darlene Prater, said she heard of the hostage incident while also in a restaurant.
When she got to the school, she eventually saw him come out the front door. She met him in the parking lot, as did several other parents for their children.

Fairview

By: Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Rev. Harvey Penson filled his regular appointment at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend with good attendance. Sunday School attendance was one hundred and twenty seven, for which we are thankful.

Sympathy is extended to all those who have lost loved ones recently including the family of Hardie Mullins of Florida. He and my mother Liddie Reppert were first cousins. I remember Hardie when I was a child, but I haven't seen him for years. I always loved his parents, Uncle Taylor and Aunt Fannie and their family. May God comfort the loved ones in my prayer.

The nights now are cooler and we are beginning to feel the touch of autumn in the air. We've had a very hot and humid summer, but it has gone by so fast. It won't be long until another year will be gone, but we just live one day at a time, never knowing what tomorrow might bring. So let's just be thankful for each day and the many blessings that we receive from our Heavenly Father.

Mrs. Mary Cope celebrated her eighty first birthday Sept. 12th. In celebration of this occasion Mrs. Cope and her daughters Helen Powell and Christine Barnett of Berea enjoyed a delicious supper at the Dinner Bell restaurant in Berea. Mrs. Cope has many friends who love her and for this coming year we wish for her, good health and much happiness. God bless you Mary.

Bert and Barbara Croucher of Berea and Bill and Beverly Brock and children Brian and Tara of Indian Hills, Paint Lick attended the wedding of Lisa Scott to Jimmy Noland Saturday Sept. 2, 1989, in Florence. Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Noland of Independence. They spent the night and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Noland for Sunday brunch along with other family members, Miss Armstrong, Teresa and Michael Schoberg and infant daughter Kayla; Mrs. Myrtle Wilson and daughter Pam and granddaughter Cindy of Amherst, Ohio and Mr.

and Mrs. Elwood Brock and Karey Morgan of Paint Lick. Congratulations to Jimmy and Lisa - we wish for them many years of happiness together. May God bless them down through life is our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen visited Mrs. Mary Mullins and Mrs. Ann Livville who are patients in the Berea Hospital on Sunday afternoon. We enjoyed the time we spent with them. They have been dear friends for many years. May God bless them all always.

Mrs. Hallie Alexander visited Mrs. Mae Patrick on Sunday afternoon.

Hubert and I recently spent a pleasant evening with my brother Tip, Reppert and family.

Beverly Brock, Indian Hills, Paint Lick spent a week in August in Delaware, Ohio where she was detailed into the Forest Service Lab to work for assistant Station Director, Dr. Albert N. Foulger. She said it was a very rewarding experience for her.

On Monday afternoon, Sept. 18, Jimmy and Georgia McCall of Springboro, Ohio, snootie home stopped by for a visit with her brother Eugene Alexander and family. They had been to North Carolina to attend Mr. McCall's family reunion. Their son Dale and wife of Texas also attended the event.

Please remember church and Sunday School. It is such a great blessing to be able to assemble ourselves with our friends in the Lord's House. And I feel like every time we miss worship services we miss a great blessing. We are living in a cold-hearted, evil world today where there is not much love. We as Christians should be a leader and walk before the lost people that they too might accept Jesus as their Savior. We all have loved ones who are un saved, so let's keep them on our prayer list. We love them.

We hope to see you at our revival Sept. 24 - 30 at 7 p.m. nightly - Evangelist Rev. Jack Bruce. We solicit your presence and your prayers. God bless you.

News from the Homemaker Clubs

Rise and Shine Homemakers

By: Bea Hensley

The ladies met Sept. 11th at the A.S.C. Meeting room where they were greeted by their hostesses for the month Zita and Lavada Graves, who were busy preparing a big country breakfast. We all agreed they must have had a lot of practice because everything was delicious.

Our club officers for the coming year were elected and our calendar for monthly meetings was filled out. We are looking forward to a good year of new ideas and fellowship. We welcome new members to our club and were reminded to ask our friends to join us.

We were happy to have one new member present at our September meeting. Her name is Patsy Ruth Pedigo, better known as P.R. Welcome to Mt. Vernon, P.R. and we are glad you joined our homemaker club. A gift from the club was presented to Pauline Kinzer-Tackett as a wedding present. She didn't sign up for membership in our club this fall since she will be spending a lot of time in Arizona with her new husband, Ish Tackett. Congratulations Pauline, we wish you the best, although we will miss your smiling face.

Plans were made to take a trip to Bardstown in October. This is such a lovely time of year in the hills of Kentucky. We are looking forward to a good time.

The Busy Bee Homemakers

Splash, Splash! Rocks win mudbath

By: Jim Griesch
 The mud was as deep as the ears on a hippopotamus, which should have been just right for Kevin Rowe. Meet a new hero -- Jonathan Saylor -- for the Rockcastle County football Rocks.

Dane Cox had a big exclamation point on last Friday's 14-0 win in rain-smeared Harlan with a 73-yard run.

The score came with just 59 seconds left in the game, on a counter from the halfback spot in the Power-I.

He headed his left hand out and around to the sidelines at the 35. From there, he simply cut up the field, to be run down by one Harlan back.

But, Saylor saw him diving for him at the Green Dragons' 20, and jumped him as he dived for his feet.

"I didn't have a choice (but to hurt him)," said Saylor.

The last 20 yards were all Saylor. That run, part of a game-high, career-high 119 yards in 9 carries, got him the WRFS-Kentucky Fried Chicken Player of the Game trophy.

Saylor had another 33-yard score, from the same formation and play action, on the Rocks' third play of the second half, but an irby clipping call erased it.

If the score had stood up, it would have been the first in the game.

Rowe had a good night, but was held to 65 yards in 17 carries, with a long run of just nine yards (twice). Most of the game was played in a driving rainstorm, and actually began with lightning crackling in the sky overhead, and thunder roaring from the hills surrounding the Eastern Kentucky coal-mining town.

Tackle Scott Hines actually helped get the first score of the game, a safety with 11:25 left in the fourth quarter.

Dwayne Lewis, the Harlan punter, was kicking from his own end zone after the Dragons couldn't move from the shadow of their own goal line, following a goal line stand.

Lewis bobbed the ball, and Hines and Saylor were among the first to knock him down as he tried to run out of the end zone to his right.

Hines also partially blocked another punt, with a hand, and grazed Lewis later in the fourth quarter, which was labeled a roughing the kicker penalty by referee Phillip Ball.

After the safety, Rockcastle took the free kick and moved in for their first score.

Billy Todd returned the kick to the Harlan 46, and a face mask penalty put it on the Harlan 39.

From there, Saylor got 18 from the same play he would eventually score. An eight-yard Rowe run put the ball at the Harlan seven, and Dane Cox chugged down to the goal. Rowe crashed home from less than a yard out two plays later with 9:20 left in the game.

The rain set up perhaps the funniest extra point try of the year. Kicker Curtis Cotton tried to kick the soggy ball, but it squirted into the air, and far short of the cross bar. But, his kicking shoe, held on by a velcro strap, sailed over the bar. No points for the shoe.

The Rocks were stopped twice near the Harlan goal.

The first time came at the 7:36 mark of the second quarter. The Rocks had a first-and-goal at the two. Parkey fumbled the snap, but recovered for no gain on first down.

On second down, he lost the ball completely. He faked a dive to both Rowe and Cox, and seemed ready to head around left end. But, he dropped the ball on his first step left, then kicked it right to Harlan's J.P. Ferguson at the two.

Hines partially blocked the punt, but Rockcastle had to give it up two yards short of a first down at the Harlan 35.

Rockcastle was in complete control the third quarter. Saylor had the TD taken away on the clip on the first series.

The second series, Ball and his officials botched the downs marker and cost the Rocks a down inside the Harlan five.

Redskins win clash of unbeaten teams

The Redskins captured a mid-season showdown with the Bengals Tuesday night in the Rockcastle Youth Football League's 7th-8th grade division.

Greg Bowman scored from three yards out with just five seconds left in the first half, then added the conversion kick, for the only points in an 8-0 contest.

The score was set up by a fumbled punt snap, and aided by a face mask penalty, which moved the ball close to the Bengals' goal line.

In the other Tuesday game, the Bucs won their first of the year, 26-6, over the winless Wildcats.

Roy Sturgill returned a punt 69 yards to start the Bucs' scoring in the opening quarter. Chris Dillingham had a two-yard sweep of right end in the second.

Jamie Medley went 15 yards for a third score, and Louie Davis scored the final TD on a five-yard run.

Brian Mink's 70-yard kick off return after the Davis TD got the Wildcats on the scoreboard. Both of the Wildcats' scores have come on kick off returns this year.

Davis added two conversion runs for the Bucs.

In the rain last Thursday, the Bengals nipped the Wildcats 6-0 on Jason Childress' one-yard run in the first quarter.

A clip wiped out a Wildcats score with 1:12 left in the game, and the Wildcats couldn't overcome the error. The potential scoring play had covered 43 yards.

The Bucs nipped the Redskins 8-6 on the strength of Jason Weaver's conversion kick. He had scored from 18 yards out with 1:40 left before halftime. Jamie Linville had given the Redskins a 6-0 lead on the last play of the first quarter on a 20-yard keeper around left end, but the kick failed.

Brian Carter didn't get to the quarterback, Louie Davis, in time to stop this pass.

Louie Davis heaves a pass downfield against the Wildcats in Tuesday's 26-6 win by the Bucs. Davis scored once and had two conversion runs. The win kept the Bucs out of last place, and moved them to within a game of the second-place Bengals with three games to go. Chasing Davis is Brian Carter, who plays defensive end and quarterback for the Wildcats.

Rockets win

From there, they drove to a first and goal at the Harlan five. Saylor lost two yards, but Rowe got three back on a drive over the right side to the four. On the play, Harlan was flagged for a face mask penalty. The ball was marked down the four, but the downs box was flipped to third down. An offside penalty moved the ball to the one on the next play, but Rowe was stopped short of the goal on what should have been second and third down. No one caught the mistake, and a last chance for the touchdown never came.

Game Five Report Card

The Pluses

- ✓ Finding another back -- Jonathan Saylor, to pick up some of the offensive load. Saylor had a career high 119 yards on 9 carries, and a 73-yard TD run, the longest of the year for a Rocket.
- ✓ Recording the first shut-out of the season.
- ✓ Controlling the ball at will.
- ✓ Holding Harlan to just 12 yards rushing.
- ✓ Scott Hines blocking one punt, partially blocking another.

The Negatives

- ✓ Not scoring when on the one twice. Although, one time, the officials failed to give the Rockets all their downs.
- ✓ Phillip Ball, the referee, allowing the game to begin while it was lightning and storming, despite agreement from both coaches.
- ✓ Phillip Ball as the referee.
- ✓ Still no passing game.

Frosh lose

The Rockcastle County freshmen had a wonderful afternoon at Somerset Monday, getting rolled 28-0 by the young Briarjumper. Somerset scored twice the first quarter, then added single scores in the second and third to wrap up the win. The Rockcastle JVs are 1-1 on the year, as are the freshmen. Here is an updated schedule for the remainder of the season: Sept. 25 -- Madison Southern JV; Sept. 28 -- Lincoln County freshman; Oct. 2 -- at Garrard County JV; Oct. 9 -- Pulaski County JV; Oct. 16 -- Somerset JV; Oct. 19 -- Pulaski County freshman; Oct. 23 -- Estill County JV.

Harlan had gotten a first down with 1:50 left in the first half, on a nine-yard run by Reuben Underwood. They got their second on a 10-yard pass from Parsons to Lewis after the first RCHS touchdown. The penalty was the third, and two plays later, a 24-yard pass from Parsons to Lewis got the first one. Without the roughing penalty, Rockcastle would have held Harlan to 21 yards rushing, 19 yards passing, for a total of 40 yards, not the 55 they wound up with.

This week, the Rockets stepped into district play, hosting Knox County Central. Both are 1-0 in district play, while Knox is 2-2 on the year, Rockcastle 3-2.

A win here by the Rockets would put them into position to go to the playoffs, with a win over either unbeaten Bell County on Sept. 29, on the road, or over 2-2 Cawood on the road on Oct. 13. Cawood has scored just 42 points in four games, an average of 10.5 per contest.

HAVE YOUR PRESCHOOLER SCREENED!

A screening test is now the first step your child will take in beginning his or her school experience. The Rockcastle County School System will be conducting a Preschool Screening Friday, Sept. 29. This service is conducted with one idea in mind - to begin children on a successful journey through school!

WHAT IS A PRESCHOOL SCREENING

The screening test is administered as a series of "games" for the child to play. However, it is an evaluation of preschool learning skills in the following areas: eye-hand coordination, total body coordination, listening skills, following directions, working with other people, and communication skills.

WHY SHOULD I HAVE MY PRESCHOOLER SCREENED?

This is one way of finding and seeking help for preschool children who may have special needs. Screening results will give educators an indication of how well the child is developing in comparison to other children of the same age. Results can give an indication of whether your child may be gifted, have a silent developmental delay, is developing as he or she should, or if there may be a handicapping condition. It is also a good experience for your child.

WHAT DOES IT COST?

The screening is a FREE service provided by the School System, to every child living in Rockcastle County.

WHO IS THE PRESCHOOL SCREENING FOR?

All preschool children ages 3 and 4 who are living in the Rockcastle County school District.

HOW LONG WILL THE SCREENING TAKE?

The actual screening will take approximately 30 minutes.

DATE, TIME AND PLACE

Preschool screening will take place Friday, September 29, 1989. Screening stations will be set up at the Family Life Center, which is located 2 miles north of Renfro Valley on the right, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Your Forest Ranger

By: Marvin L. Stone

Forest Supervisor Richard Wengert recently announced a change in cutting personal firewood on the Daniel Boone National Forest.

As of Oct. 1, there will be a minimum charge of $5 per cord. Each firewood permit is issued for a minimum of two cords, therefore anyone obtaining a personal firewood permit will now pay $10 for two cords of wood.

The change has been made to make the firewood program more consistent with other public uses. Almost all public use of National Forest lands requires a permit and a fee is charged for each particular use. Personal firewood cutting is no longer a minor use on the Daniel Boone National Forest. Each year permits for over 12,400 cords of firewood is issued to the public. The $10/cord per permit charge will bring the firewood program more in line with other public uses mentioned above.

The public firewood program on the Daniel Boone is an extremely important program that provides useful products to the public while accomplishing needed resource management objectives.

For further information on where firewood is available on the Daniel Boone, please call the nearest ranger district office.

Pearl Harbor ceremonies

The Pearl Harbor Commemorative Committee, Inc., announces the schedule of events for the national observance of the 48th anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1989, at the Radisson Hotel in Lexington.

"Appreciation for so great a sacrifice as American servicemen made at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, is not an outward display of tears, nor a barrage of meaningless words, nor shallow suggestions of sympathy, but lives that speak of true gratitude, lives that promote make secure the democracy for which many died", Ellis McCollum, president of the organization, stated. "We want to make this event a tribute to both those who survived Pearl Harbor and those who died there in order to remind the present generations of the "Day of Infamy", he added.

The opening program will begin at 10 a.m. with an invocation, presentation of colors, and Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. The Breathin' County, High School Band will play the national anthem, remarks by representatives of civic and veterans' organizations, and a special presentation by members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association and a memorial tribute to those who died at Pearl Harbor.

The official 48th Anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor will begin at 10 a.m. Dec. 7, 1989. At 12:55 p.m. (7:55 a.m. Pearl Harbor Time), the moment the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor began in 1941, the movie "Remembering Pearl Harbor" will be shown. This is a documentary beginning with the attack and continuing through the building of the memorial over the U.S.S. Arizona. A concert of patriotic music from 1941 will conclude the afternoon program.

The evening program will be highlighted with national figures, Edward Kimmel, of Wilmington, Delaware, son of Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, and Colonel Walter D. Short, USA Retired, son of General Walter C. Short, have been invited. Admiral Kimmel was the naval commander and General Short was the army commander at Pearl Harbor at the time of the attack. Captain Donald K. Ross, USN, Retired, of Port Orchard Washington, who was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for valor on the U.S.S. Nevada at Pearl Harbor, has also been invited. Senator Robert Dole of Kansas, a World War II hero, has been invited to be the featured speaker.

Additional information concerning the 48th commemoration of the bombing of Pearl Harbor can be obtained by writing: Pearl Harbor Commemorative Committee, Inc., P.O. Box 12315, Lexington, Kentucky, 40582-2315, or calling Mr. McCollum at 606-277-1629.

Father

By: Lewis Bowling

Being a father is a great life.
To be a good father you need a good wife.

When a child has arrived it is full of charm.
Your wish is to keep it from all harm.

It is a gift from the father above.
To teach it the truth and show it great love.

Don't try to get it to do as you say
Walk in front and show it the way.

Don't put all the work on your good wife.
Remember you will love it all of your life.

When they meet with troubles and strife
Show the way to have a good life.

You can tell them the tales of the days of yore.
Remember her or him they will follow the life you live before them.

So teach them the way the Bible has told
They will never depart from it when they are old.

So all you children far and near you father loves you most dear.
Though at times he is most gruff he can never love you enough.

If your life is calm or wild
Remember you will always be his child.

If He Had Only Said No

By: Ada Bullock

He met her at a party
Where he'd gone with some friends
And she seemed so exciting
As he tried to comprehend.

Could this be just her style?
As she mingled with the crowd
Or did she have a motive
To keep everyone in doubt?

After awhile he couldn't resist her she became his greatest need
And his dreams were all forgotten
Of the future life he'd lead.

He had planned to be a doctor for his goal was saving lives
But his fall continued downward
Till everything he'd sacrificed.

She had taken all his money
With her well accomplished schemes
Now a life is just existing
With a pile of shattered dreams.

She stripped him of his dignity
And a future that looked bright
If only he had said no
She could not have downed his flight

Now he's alone and penniless
Just another cast aside
Dependent on her daily
to keep him satisfied

But there'll be no satisfaction
Only sorrow she will bring
For the many that have yielded
To this tempter called cocaine.

She is known as a destroyer
So please keep this in mind
And never never get involved
With any member of her kind.

'Papaw's Home'

We remember times in our childhood,
Times at papaw's home,
A door that was always open,
A place to call our own.

Separate from the world outside,
Secure and just for us.
We'd lose our day-to-day troubles,
Sitting at papaw's knee.

He'd kiss our childish fears away.
We wouldn't feel like a fool.
And we'd laugh as he'd tell us stories,
Of his younger days at school.

He'd give us cookies before supper,
When no one else could see.
And we can't remember when,
He didn't have time for us.

But then we had no time for papaw.
We know we caused him pain.
But the rare times that we saw him,
He would smile and not complain.

It's just that we got so busy,
With friends and school and romance,
But we swore that we'd still visit,
... if we ever got the chance.

Now that we've gotten older,
We've ceased the need to roam,
But now that we time for papaw,
Papaw's not at home.

God took him one afternoon
When we weren't around to care.
And as we kneel each time at his graveside
We pray he knows we're there.

We love and miss you, papaw.
Sadly missed by your grand-children.

"To All Mothers" And one very special Mom Mrs. "Lizzie VanWinkle"

By: Mrs. Ruby Allen

God made this wonderful universe
And gave it all its glory;
its really too long to put in verse
Or even as a story.

Let's take out a tiny part
More precious than all others
Very truthfully from every heart
We have to say it was our mother.

God sent the birds the sunshine house to gladden all the world
He sent the foliage of the flowers in radiance unfurled

He sent the June, the stars, the moon in pearly dew drops sweet
And then He sent us mother dear to make it all complete. All pain and sorrow she tried to bear

Oh how these test our faith
God's kind sweet love was always there and she never held no hate.

We heard her pray from day to day that God would grant her power to guide her children along the way

Through every blessed hour
He heard and answered her request
And kept us ever near

Dear mother did her very best through heartaches, pains and tears to help raise all eight of us to adulthood

With families of our own
may we follow in her footsteps and raise ours as she has shown,
Thank God for mother's guiding light

Which brightened all our way
Led us to build a Christian home and taught us how to pray.

Money can not buy a ticket
nor license to drive a car.
To mother home right now
the distance is too far.

We will take our flowers now and place them on the green sod
Because mother's home at present is in Heaven with our God.

Take time now to go see your mother
On this honorable or any day
And make it a very special day.
We miss you mom so very much after seventeen years now
But oh what great memories we have

of you
Sweet, kind and loving, always.
Your children,
Ruby Allen, Ruth Richards, Elsie
Cameron, Mandy Vanzant, Pearl

Cameron, Lucendia Atwell, Junior
VanWinkle, Jacob VanWinkle
We still love and miss you Mom.

For all those born prior to 1940

Submitted By: Everett Higgins

WE ARE SURVIVORS: Consider the changes we have seen:

We were before television, penicillin, polio shots, frozen foods, Xerox, contact lenses, frisbees and the PILL.

We were before radar, credit cards, split atoms, laser beams and ball-point pens; before pantyhoses, dishwashers, clothes dryers, electric blankets, air conditioners, drip-dry clothes and before man walked on the moon.

We got married first and then lived together. How quaint can you be?

In our time, closets were for clothes, not for "coming out of." Bunnies were small rabbits and rabbits were not Volkswagens. Designer jeans were scheming girls named Jean or Jeanne, and having a meaningful relationship meant getting along with our cousins.

We thought fast food was what you ate during Lent and Outer Space was the back of the Riviera Theatre.

We were before house-husbands, gay rights, computer dating, dual careers, and commuter marriages. We were before day-care centers, group therapy and nursing homes. We never heard of FM radio, tape decks, electric typewriters, artificial hearts, word processors, yogurt, and guys wearing earrings. For us, time-sharing meant togetherness - not computers or condominiums - a 'chip' meant a piece of wood; hardware meant hardware and software wasn't even a word and the term "making out" referred to how you did on an exam. Pizzas, "McDonalds" and instant coffee were unheard of.

In our day, cigarette smoking was fashionable, GRASS was mowed, COKE was a cola drink and POT was something you cooked in. ... ROCK MUSIC was a Grandma's lullaby and AIDS were helpers in the principal's office.

We were certainly not before the difference between the sexes was discovered but were surely before the sex change; we made do with what we had. And we were the last generation that was so dumb as to think you needed a husband to have a baby? BUT WE SURVIVED. What better reason to celebrate!

Succeeding in business for over 50 years is no accident. At Parsons Gas in Roundstone their success is because of hard work, long hours and good planning.

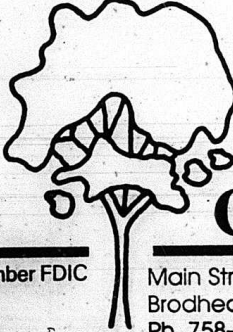

At Citizens Bank we like to think that we have made that success a little easier by offering them the type of personal service that no other banking institution can or will.

We know how hard David and Roger Parsons and all of their employees have worked to make their gas, appliance and heating business a success and we know that they expect no less from us.

Businesses like Parsons Gas at Roundstone are one of the reasons that we are a successful banking institution and we salute them for their hard work and important contribution to the community.

PART IV
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Due to the fact that the 1988-89 Master Education Improvement Plan does not require the district to address academic deficiencies since the test has been changed and no comparisons can be made, Rockcastle County at the time of this report's submission has no deficiencies to report.

However, Rockcastle County School District has a specifically defined educational program improvement plan for the 1989-90 school term. Listed below are the basics of the improvement plan.

- The entire system has proclaimed 1989-90 as a year "dedicated to instructional program growth." This growth plan calls for the involvement of teachers, administrators, all other staff members, board members, parents/community, and the Kentucky Department of Education. The plan calls for protecting instructional time and promoting quality instruction.
- Participation in the Kentucky Department of Education's program for development of a "long range growth plan." Rockcastle County submitted application for a special grant/assistance in the development of a long range (5-year growth plan) and is proud to have been selected as a recipient of one of the grants. Work will begin in October on this important project.
- Each school in the district has defined an improvement plan designed to raise test scores for the 1989-90 school term. Work is underway in each school to improve the instructional program. Central office staff members are working closely with the schools in the improvement efforts.
- The Rockcastle County School District is committed to sustaining its high level of student attendance and its low student dropout rate. The system is extremely proud of the 95.6% attendance and 2.44% dropout rate for 1988-89.

Mullins

Republican Candidate for County Judge/Executive

ACTION PLAN

Jobs - I know first hand the employment needs of Rockcastle County. At age fifteen, I left the state to find a job. Then, as an adult, I have driven 150 miles a day to work. I will, therefore, fight a vigorous day to day battle to recruit jobs and to maintain the jobs we now have.

Good Treatment - None of us should have to face the pangs of being ignored, of seeing our ideas discounted, or of having our needs considered unimportant. Each of us deserves to have a voice, to be given special consideration, and to have our needs recognized. Since the county is yours, the Judge/Executive is to serve you.

Water - A large percentage of families in Rockcastle County have no public water. Knowing first hand the hardships of not enough water, I intend to attack this problem immediately and forcefully if I am elected.

Roads - I was born on the banks of Crooked Creek, over a mile from the nearest road. I am familiar with the road problems and needs of our county. You can be sure that if I am elected, the county road fund will be stretched toward every household in the county.

Garbage - The other person's filth is always dirtier than your own. Random dumps and illegal disposal is other person's filth to each of us and think how it looks to tourists and industrial prospects. This situation must be remedied. Also, county facilities must be maintained, kept clean and attractive.

Affordable Housing - It is my estimate that we have immediate need for 350-500 single unit owner occupied houses in the county. Developers and financial sources will be brought together and potential buyers will be sought out if I am elected to lead during the next four years.

Taxes - If I am elected in this fall's general election, I will get the most for your tax dollar, seek alternative funding for eligible items and mind the treasury on a daily basis.

Economic Development - Endeavors that introduce new dollars into the county allow for a scope of development. The expansion at Rentfro Valley will tap the thousands of cars that pass on I-75 daily bringing in new money. The development of U.S. 150 will prompt building along that corridor. Promoting regionalism in business to reach the 100,000 plus population South and the 100,000 population North, both less than an hour away, will bring in new dollars. Leadership can tackle this.

Community Development - Encouraging the individual to produce by opening avenues for producing enhances any community. Assisting organizations to build, to develop, to expand, to do better to serve more promotes the common good and results in community development. This should be the commitment of any leader.

Recreation - At any age, a healthy body increases the ability to reason and function. The channeling of youthful energy through athletics improves the body and enhances the chances for success later in life. As Judge/Executive, I will support the development of recreational area throughout the county. Further, I will encourage the development of little league soccer.

Fire Protection - A ready response to fire hazards saves property and lives; it also lowers insurance rates. I will support the various fire departments if elected.

...grateful for your friendship, assistance & vote
