

County Homemakers hold annual dinner meeting

By: Elizabeth F. Mullins
County Reporter

The Ole Country Kitchen's dining room proved to be large enough for the 33 diners attending the Rockcastle County Extension Homemakers Clubs' annual dinner meeting, September 11th.

The welcome given by our county's president, Carol Riddle, started the meeting making us feel at ease. Linda Williams proved that a vice-president could do an excellent job. She gave the 'Thought of the Day'. She told us that the potential and capability of qualified homemakers can make a great club. She ended these thoughts by giving thanks for the food prepared for some of our bodies, before our dinner was served. Following our meal of beef, mashed potatoes, green beans, homemade roll and peach cobbler, Edith Lamb, Busy Bees President, took charge of 'Get-Acquainted' recreation. She gave each of us a Bingo Card to fill with signatures in each block to get us up for exercise as well as getting acquainted. Millie Eaton was the winner of this new kind of Bingo!

Then Edith had us make two lines of sixteen each and gave each of us a paper clip. We passed it down the line, connecting them to make a rope. The competition caused laughter. Then a Kitchen Scramble Game was won by Barbara Watson. I liked the Sunshine Card Game. On a 3x5 inch card each of us wrote a note of appreciation for one person in the room and handed it to her. Nice!

Our county's secretary, Norietta Thompson, called the roll and the county's club groups stand and be counted. She's good at anything! Irene Reed, president of Wildernes Trail area Homemakers, greeted all the clubs present. She told us some interesting tales about the 1989 National Homemakers Bus Tour that spent some time in the Los Angeles, Calif. area. She always attends these national tours each year.

Charlene Jacobs, the Wildernes

Trail Director, spoke to us on Portrait of a Successful Homemaker. 'Traits of a good homemaker are to be: ambitious, committed and enthusiastic in serving as a homemaker member.'

She suggested that leaders should make a talent search. This could help to find out 'Who can do What' to know who to ask to serve in certain things. She continued, read your State

Handbook that tells officers what is expected of them, to read her words of wisdom to everyone.

Carol Riddle presented awards for Perfect Attendance to: Brodhead Willing Workers: Jean Albright, Patricia Fletcher, Emily Gllovak, Elissa Martin, and Sylvia White; 40 Quail Club: Carolyn Brown, Virginia Hansel, Christine Taylor, Joyce Taylor and Carolyn White; 10 Rise and Shine: Alta Bullock and Beatrice Hensley; to Busy Bees: Wynona Isaac and Weltona Reams and from Sunshine Club, Brenda Powell.

The Ovarian Cancer Award makes us proud that our dollars help in this worthy cause. E.T.N.E.P. Sponsors were Quail, Rise and Shine and Sunshine Clubs. Brodhead Willing Workers Club expressed surprise when they received the 100 Percent Club Award in '89. Patricia Fletcher did an excellent job as Brodhead's club president, which helped them receive this honor. Thanks to Quail Homemakers for making arrangements for our successful annual dinner meeting this year.

Door prizes were won by Joyce Craig and Alta Bullock. Cheryl Witt, our Home Extension Agent, who has long work days to keep us supplied, made announcements of upcoming events before she led us in the Homemakers' Creed, before adjournment.

Sweet & Sour

By: Zi Graves

Something happened to me a few weeks ago that gave me some mixed feelings.

I was coming into town on 1249/ Sand Springs Road and anyone that has traveled that road knows about its curves, hills and narrow shoulders. Many of us drive a little too fast and take a little more than our share of this road, especially on the curves. But after my incident, I, for one, am watching a lot closer, both my speed and my side of the road.

I was coming up what I call the Bullock Hill and was almost at the top and there directly in front of me were two motor bikes or scooters, putting along a few yards apart. Naturally I had to go back a gear to two and was somewhat aggravated to be slowed down by my doctor appointment was in just a few minutes. Then the driver closest to me pulled into the left lane when he realized I was in back of him so I could pass. I speeded up recognizing the danger he had put himself in and then the second driver did the same thing. By now I was in a sweat and especially so when I saw it was two very young looking boys.

Can anyone imagine what would have happened if a car had been coming south around that double curve at the speed most people drive? There would have been no way to avoid hitting those two boys and probably me too. They were watching me pass instead of watching the road ahead.

My emotions were all mixed up the rest of the day. I wanted to thank them for their courtesy. I wanted to give them a lecture on safety. I wanted to outlast vehicles that tempt youngsters into these foolish acts.

It opened up a whole new insight into a child's way of thinking. They were being nice to the adult driving a car, and for this kindness they could have been killed. I don't think they ever once thought of the death trap they were in.

Parents, whoever you are, and not only the parents of those two boys but all of you who try to show love with things. Be sure you, as well as the children, thoroughly understand the dangers of them. Children and motor toys do not belong on public roads. If you must give them to the kids be sure there is a place other than the highway available for use.

Soon after I left this scene I met the dreaded car coming south around the curve. Thank you God for holding that driver up somewhere for the minute it took me to get past those boys and the tragedy that could have happened. And thank you boys for being nice to a car driven by an adult. But please watch where you're going too.

I'll always remember you and this incident.

Freshmen beat Whitley

The Rockcastle County High freshmen captured their second win in three tries last Thursday with a bomb.

The winning play was a first-quarter 60-yard pass from quarterback Jason Kirby to Chris Baker.

After Clark Mullins nailed the extra point, no one else crossed the goal line for either team.

One key play late in the game was Steve Hines' 51-yard punt that put Whitley on its own two yard line. Whitley muffed a drive, but could only get to midfield before the clock ran out on them.

Bomb to Baker

Scoring: Chris Baker, 60 pass from Jason Kirby (Clark Mullins kick).

Four indicted after I-75 arrests

By: Richard Anderkin

Marijuana sticking out of the trunk of a car resulted in the arrest and indictment of four Saul residents, a community in Perry County.

Indicted and charged with trafficking in marijuana and carrying a concealed weapon were: Alfred Grant Gibson, 22, Donald Gibson, 22, Ann Lee Gibson, 25, and Phyllis Lee Gibson, 26.

Making the arrest were Larry Thompson, Jack Foster and Chris Baker of the Mt. Vernon Police Department; Phillip Chestnut, sheriff's deputy, and Sgt. Doyle Stogsdill of the Kentucky State Police.

Count 1, criminal possession of a forged instrument, second degree, specifically, possession of a forged check for $240 of Margaret Hopkins. Count 2, theft by failure to make required disposition of property over $100 by renting two video cassette tapes and video cassette player and failure to return them.

Count 3, theft by deception, under $100, by obtaining from the Family Dollar Store a pair of jeans, package of socks, two cards of earnings, and two shirts in exchange for a worthless check drawn on the Citizens Bank of Brodhead.

Jailer Billy Kirby with a coffee can causing a cut on Kirby's head on Sept. 19. He posted bail. Linda Thomas, 23, of Mt. Vernon, was indicted on two counts of criminal possession of a forged instrument, second degree.

The presentation was made Saturday at Renfro Valley during Country Music Television Day. Ralph Gabbard (far left) was also on hand for the show and presentation. Gabbard is president of Renfro Valley Folks, Inc. Saturday's show was taped for a later showing on the CMT Network, available in Mt. Vernon at a later date.

Man arrested in Wolfe raid

A Mt. Vernon man was arrested last week and charged with growing marijuana on Natural Bridge State Park land. Officers from various agencies arrested Danny Bond, 30, when he was discovered growing 120 plants. Bond was lodged in the Wolfe County Jail. According to Park Ranger Gary Sparks, Bond had been guarding the plot for about six weeks, and had been camping at the site. Sparks had been investigating the case for one week. When rangers converged on the site Thursday, Bond was armed with a 12-gauge shotgun, but surrendered to authorities without incident. Among personal items confiscated were food, clothing, camping gear, beer and a Bible. Sparks said more arrests may be made in connection with the case. James C. Hargis, 33, of Somerset was arrested Saturday on KY 461 south of Mt. Vernon and charged with illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages, trafficking in marijuana and prescription drugs not in a proper container. Found in the car were alcohol beverages, marijuana and valium.

Counseling is the key to recognizing 'cycle'

By: Jim Griesch

Family Life Abuse Center personnel counsel everyone who asks for help. Over the years, studies and on-the-job training have revealed certain indicators and symptoms of abuse in families. The abuse cycle is a three-part living hell for those being abused. Phase One is the build up of tensions within a home or marriage that lead up to confrontations.

Among the signs to look for are poor communications between a couple, a series of minor incidents that increase tension and anger. Then, the abuser begins to exhibit decreased personal control of his emotions. The victim becomes more compliant, attempting to soothe the irritated partner, but the abuser begins to make increasingly pointed threats. In Phase Two, the stress reaches a

Drier weather will help growers

By: Ray McClure

Farmers with tobacco still standing in the field should be able to get it in the barn by the end of the week. According to Harold Ballinger, county ASCS executive director, with the drier and less humid weather predicted for the remainder of the week, farmers with tobacco left standing should quickly get it in the barn. Ballinger said 80 percent is already in the barn in Rockcastle, but growers have experienced lots of problems. "With high temperatures and high humidity farmers have been experiencing, some tobacco has been rotting in the barn.

With farmers allowed to grow more this year, barns are fuller than usual complicating curing. Ballinger reported 20 percent of the tobacco is real good this year, 10 percent is poor and the rest is fair. The same problem with tobacco is occurring over most of southeastern Kentucky where rain-soaked fields have prevented cutting. Wet fields are also hampering some farmers who need to get their corn crops and silage in the barn. Ballinger said it has been an excellent year for hay and pastures. He added that farmers probably could still use the hay left out in the rain although it would suffer some damage.

It was an early frost, but probably nothing was killed except possibly some tomatoes and peppers, Ballinger concluded.

Annexation not on next ballot

Time waits for no one, and that goes for annexation. If Mt. Vernon's plan to annex several areas to the city results in an election, the election will not be until the November General Election in 1990. Mayor Gary R. Cromer said this week that the public should be aware the annexation question would not be on the ballot this November. Reason: By law a 60-day period

Continued on Page A-11 must be set aside from the date the annexation ordinance is published, in this case, Sept. 20, sixty days from that date would be Nov. 20, or 13 days after the election. The next general election would, as noted, be in November 1990.

Japanese girl is a 'first' for the Parsons

By: Jim Griesch

Ione Parsons could stake a claim to being the parson saint of foreign exchange students in Rockcastle County. She is hosting her third student in three years. Her 1989-90 exchange student is Yoko Takeuchi, 18, from Toyota, Japan. That's in the same prefecture (state), Aichi, as Labo exchange student Reiko Yamamoto, who visited the Bobby Kendrick family in August. In the 1987-88 school year, Mrs. Parsons hosted Martin, a West German. Last year, it was Oskar, from Norway. In fact, Martin called her Sunday, she said, and told her he plans to visit the United States next summer. Yoko is one of two foreign ex- Continued on Page A-12

Dateline: Washington

A Weekly Report from the Fifth District Congressman Hal Rogers

Drug War Demands Congressional Action

The drug crisis grips America. What will be our response? If President Bush has his way, Washington will actually join the rest of America and mount a powerful offensive against drugs.

We need action. Now. The President is ready to go. The American people are ready. But Congress still wants to talk.

As Vice Chairman of the Appropriations committee entrusted with funding most of the law enforcement portion of the President's $7.9 billion National Drug Control Strategy, I helped put together a hearing last week with the three Administration officials most critical to the plan. Attorney General Richard Thornburgh, who oversees law enforcement; Budget Director Richard Darman, who is critical to funding the drug war; and National Drug Policy Director William Bennett, who, as "Drug Czar," coordinates the various parts of the policy.

As they described, the President's plan is comprehensive, well-thought-out, hard-hitting, and absolutely necessary - and I agree.

The President's drug war has three fronts: (1) a broad education initiative to persuade Americans to choose not to use illegal drugs; (2) funding for treatment of addicts; and (3) strong support for law enforcement so as to give swift and sure punishment to everyone from the Columbian drug cartels to the pot users on our streets, while deterring potential new users.

So what could the liberals in Congress conceivably find wrong with this plan? Well, they say it doesn't cost enough. They say, "Let's raise taxes and spend more money." This group, by the way, is the same bunch who convinced the Congress to declare war on drugs last year and then refused to fund the money for it. Their "war" lies unfunded while they complain that the President's plan should spend more funds.

The truth is the President's plan is comprehensive and hard-hitting and all it requires is re-prioritizing our spending and using unspent money from other programs.

Everyone agrees the drug problem is a crisis. And surely a crisis demands swift action. That means enacting the President's National Drug Control Strategy. We ask our young people to "Just Say No." To Congress we need to just say "Go!"

Dear Editor,
 Citizens of Rockcastle, has our prosecuting attorney of Rockcastle get to the point where he can't prosecute a case unless he has to bring in another attorney to try a case as bad as riding a motorcycle without a helmet?

Wonder if he can try a felony case? How did we did that cost the tax payers on such a serious crime?

'Thank you'

Dear Editor,
 I wish to express my gratitude to Charles and Elsie Jones, Carrie Lee LaFramboise, Tom Welch, Tom Shaeffer, Anna Banana and Glen Renner for their aid and assistance after the fire destroyed my home on August 28, 1989. Also thanks to churches and neighbors of the community that came forth in my hour of need. The FVW and AARP for financial aid, CAP and the Red Cross for their material aid.

May the Lord bless each and everyone in his special way.

Thank you,

Dear Editor,
 I am writing to tell the truth about my being hit last September. There have been so much gossip about me. I got my accident report from the city and there were so many untrue in it, it was disgusting. So many people think that I never even saw the accident. I was shocked when I saw what had been written about me. This nice lady said I was standing in the road and she didn't know that she hit me. What is she saying that I'm crazy, dumb or mentally ill? Well I'm proud of her. I was where I was supposed to be, crossing the line where the pedestrians were. I'm not crazy, I'm not dumb and I'm not mentally ill. She is the one that hit me and she was supposed to stop, not me. Now I know the reason it wasn't in the paper. There was a very serious and damaging report and false. Does she have proof that I'm dumb, crazy or mental?

Know lots more that happened but no comments on that, I told this because of the damaging untrue.

Dear Editor,
 The 50th anniversary of the first show from the Old Barn at Renfro Valley will occur on Nov. 4 of this year. It was on that date in 1939 that John Lair stepped to the microphone on the stage of the Old Barn for the first time and welcomed the radio listeners to the Renfro Valley Barn Dance.

We are looking for people who attended that first show and would like to include their remembrances of that special night in the November issue of the Renfro Valley Bugle.

If you attended the first show at Renfro Valley on Nov. 4, 1939 and would like to share your memories with our readers, would you please contact me at 256-2679 on Oct. 24. Or drop me a note at Renfro Valley, I thank you.

Dear Editor,
 I want to tell everyone how great a policeman Joe Bussell is. We really like the State trooper when Joe is on duty, because that is the only time we see the police car go by our houses. Joe is really to help anyone. He wants Broadhead to be a better place for our children and grandchildren. He wants to shape things up where the drugs are involved, which is our major problem. But some people don't seem to care if it goes on or not. A policeman cannot just sit in the police car when on duty, and take care of the problems Broadhead has. Joe, keep your good work up, there are a lot of us concerned citizens on your side.

Two of the many concerned citizens.

Dear Editor,
 Members of the Kentucky Dietetic Association are concerned about a new type of weight control diet which is sold in our community. It is a liquid protein diet purchased at a store or from a neighbor, and it lacks some of the important features found in medically supervised liquid diet programs such as the one Oprah Winfrey successfully used.

All liquid protein diets create major adjustments in bodily processes. The medically supervised programs such as the one Oprah chose keep constant watch on these changes. Tests and measurements are done including screening for normal heart activity, electrolytes (salt and potassium which affects water balance), anemia, and the cholesterol and triglyceride (fat) levels of the blood.

Using a liquid diet, even on the best program, can create problems such as hair loss, heart problems, gall bladder problems, constipation, light-headedness, and psychological stress. People who are at risk for these problems should be under the close observation of a physician. A history is taken in a supervised program and persons who have had blood clots, strokes, ulcers, and certain heart problems are rejected. The program is also not open to pregnant or nursing mothers or diabetics requiring insulin.

Liquid protein diets that are not medically supervised give the same printed directions for everybody. Obviously, the same amount of liquid diet formula would not be needed for a 170 pound cashier as a 315 pound coal miner. Programs need to be individualized.

Most important of all, the un-monitored liquid diets do not change a lifetime of poor eating habits; they do not re-educate with the food facts about how one tasty hamburger can be 300 calories less than another one, for instance. They do not have the important psychological group support program that helps keep you committed to your diet.

Registered dietitians have a professional interest in the health of the community, especially in healthy eating habits and dependable advice about nutrition. We hope this information will help some of you who are wondering whether to use this kind of weight loss diet, and if so, which liquid diet program to choose.

A few weeks ago I devoted this space to a plea for help from anyone who could assist me in dissociating myself with the mole population that has turned my lawn into a nightmare. I promised that anyone who offered advice that got rid of my moles would make headlines in this paper. The mail has poured in, but as I sit at my kitchen table writing just now, there's a party going on just below the roots of my crabgrass and clover.

First of all, let me assure you that I am, in fact, dead serious about this and that I genuinely appreciate the advice I have garnered thus far. In fact, I haven't tried it yet so there may be a winner here yet! I would, however like to share some of the suggestions I have received because this stuff is good to know.

One very kind lady wrote from Hamilton, Ohio insisting that I'd better get rid of them. She said her son had told her that he had read in the paper where I was covered up with moles and was asking for help. She said they caused cancer and she gave me the names of three doctors I ought to go to.

A bunch of people wrote that I should try mole beans. I'm talking twelve or fifteen folks, out of a little over thirty letters. And I don't believe these folks are pulling my leg. I'm as convinced as I can be that there is such a thing as a mole bean. But by golly if I've ever seen one I sure thought it was something else.

Out of all the folks who recommended mole beans, only Reavy Fields of Pineville by way of Mill Branch and Roxanna gave me any indication as to where I might find them. She said I ought to be able to find them in any store that sold other kinds of beans.

Not the stores that I go to in the flatlands near Reynolds, but in a store that I've been to. On the other hand they don't believe there's such a thing as a big white fall bean or a greasy bean either.

Now, although there is overwhelming support for the mole bean theory in general, there is a radical difference in opinion on how they work. Some folks say they have to come up and it takes a year. Others say you just drop em in the hole and the moles vacate the premises. In either case, I need a bunch of mole beans -- at least a quart, or more, if you can afford it. I want the name of that store.

Chris Allen of East Bernstadt said that all I needed to do was lay the nitrate of soda to my lawn, disk it in and see new grass. The moles will be gone and I'll have a new lawn in 30 days. And that might just work except there is more than an acre of yard and Chris's suggestion requires a lot of manual labor. Nobody has told Chris about my attitude toward any thing that causes sweat to rise, but thanks anyway.

Shirley Masley of Lubum, Ky., Alice Sloan of Prestonsburg and Phillip Collins of Hazard all suggested that I get from three to as many as a dozen good smart cats and turn em loose in the yard. Phillip says if you stare cats and there's moles around they'll stay flat as butterflips. When they start getting skinny it means all the moles are gone. Then, he says, "you just get rid of the cats."

Phillip hasn't come to understand that in my family one cat is just barely being tolerated right now. Newton, our Bassett Hound puts up with Jennifer's cat, Lucky, but that's where he draws the line. And Lucky would starve to death before he would consider venturing smelling of a mole. I would still be interested in borrowing a couple of cats though if anybody has any good moters that can whip one Newton.

Speaking of Newton, a couple of folks wrote to suggest live. Newton is not gifted with great intelligence. Loreta says we'd find Newton dead within an hour if we put live out and she's probably right. Buy and train a mole. Wouldn't anybody care to borrow a totally useless bassett hound for a couple of weeks? (It never hurts to ask.)

Somebody suggested gasoline. I already tried that. It killed the grass and the moles loved it. I tried it on ground crowdds though, where we used to live, and they stank for weeks. But it did get rid of em.

Jack Speck of London wrote a detailed dissertation that involved a shotgun. Pad the tunnels down, he suggested, and when you see the ground move, hold the gun barrel about twelve inches away from the ground and shoot right behind them. That way that he killed over fifty that I was.

Jack darn near got me killed too because I was fool enough to try it and I did, in fact, kill one mole. I found little pieces of it all over the yard, up on the front porch and top of my neighborhood mailbox. If I had put live and Newton had gotten into it, I could have buried him in the hole that resulted from Jack's shotgun experiment.

There'll be more on this subject later folks, but the editor quarrels about one more thing. Good thing, the bottom line is that still have moles and still need help. Moles are probably being born in my front yard at this very moment. Drop me a line at Rt. 2 Box 50, Paint Lick, Ky. 40461 if you have suggestions.

And Henry Fields, don't be forgetting to let me know where I can get some mole beans. And how come I never heard about 'em before now?

Bro. Dan McKibbin is conducting a gospel meeting in Crab Orchard this week.

Weekend visitors of Maggie and Audrey Fletcher were Mr. and Mrs. Will Walker of Fairfield, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fletcher of Tipp City, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Fletcher, Kristy and Jason of Mt. Vernon, Mrs. Kim Akorn, Tricia Faye, and Lindsay Kaye of Berea, Virginia Fletcher, Alene Parrett, and Mary McWhorter. They all celebrated Mrs. Fletcher's 87th birthday with a party. She got lots of nice things but was most excited when she received a card from President and Mrs. George Bush. We wish her many more happy birthdays.

Weekly visitors of the Fetters were Clara Proctor and grandson Tanner and Mary McWhorter. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Proctor spent a few days in Covington visiting her father, Carier Caudill, and also visited their son, Mr. and Mrs. Derrell Proctor and sons, Adam, Kyle and Stephen.

Mrs. Novara Proctor spent a few days with her son Arlos and family and is now back with Bob and Clara and is recuperating well from her foot surgery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Houston was a Tuesday guest of Mrs. Fannie B. Albright. We are glad Mrs. Houston is improving from an illness due to a burn. She spent some time in Central Baptist Hospital, Lexington and also spent some time with Linda Houston in her home after leaving the hospital. We hope she continues to do well.

Mrs. Juanita Robinson and Mrs. Alma Robinson visited Mazelle and Henry Ries, Dennis, Pam and Dustin last Wednesday. Mazelle hadn't seen Mrs. Alma in fourteen years.

David Croley of Florida and his cousin Becky Fingleton of Coppercreek and Mary McWhorter were Saturday visitors of Mrs. Cuba Croley.

Mrs. Betty Lou Whitaker spent Monday afternoon with Fannie B. Albright.

Visitors of Elva Mobley were Theo and Hazel Nantz of Somerset Mr. and Mrs. Wade Thomas, Barbara Collins and daughter Cher, Mrs. Eula Taylor and granddaughter Nicole and Miss Minnie Mills. Mrs. Mobley says she would like to have a nice lady to spend the winter with her. Her number is 758-8761.

Mrs. Fannie Albright and I visited Walter Deon Sunday afternoon at the Sowder Nursing Home and also visited Mrs. Birdie Taylor at the Rockcastle County Hospital in Mt. Vernon. She is improving and so is Mr. Deon.

Billy and Carolyn McKinney, Tim and Dana McKinney and Bertha Adams all were in Corbin Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Julia Hunt and Mary McWhorter visited Mrs. Bertha Adams one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. Rod Bruner of Martinsville, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Hemphill of Berea, daughters of Mr.

Your Forest
Ranger

By: Marvin L. Stone

Beware!
Fall fire season!

The fall forest fire season will soon be here and the dangers of using fire will be vastly increased. According to Rockcastle County Forest Ranger Marvin L. Stone the period from October 1 through December 15 is known as the Official Fire Season. During this period it is illegal for any person to burn any material within 150 feet of any woodland before 4:30 p.m. After 4:30 p.m., a person may legally burn materials on his own property if all reasonable precautions are taken to prevent escape of the fire. One major cause of forest fires during the fall fire season is hunting. While most hunters are sportsmen, a few will try to get their game any way they can. Ranger Stone cautions, "Using fire or smoke to capture or destroy animals is not only unsportsman-like, it is also dangerous and illegal." A wildfire not only damages trees, but often damages or destroys wildlife habitat and food resulting in a reduction of game populations, and also creates danger to other property or even danger to life. Considering all this, using fire or smoke in hunting is just not worth the risk.

The old saying "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is certainly in regard to forest fires. The effort and cost to prevent a wildfire is very small compared to the effort and cost to control it. For information on fire weather or fire laws, or to report a forest fire, contact Forest Ranger Marvin L. Stone at his home at Mt. Vernon, phone 256-5031 or call the Kentucky Division of Forestry at London, phone 864-9396.

Reflections on Ky.

Does Kentucky need eight colleges of education? Should a university spend millions of tax dollars on athletics when its faculty salaries are below average? Is it every Kentuckian's right to live within 25 minutes of a college program?

These are some of the questions raised during Reflections on Kentucky "Education," the first of three one-hour specials dealing respectively with Kentucky education, politics, and culture. Reflections on Kentucky premieres on KET at 8 p.m. Monday, October 2.

Central Scrap, Inc., owned and operated by Garland and Brian Johnson, was sold last week to Central Processors, Inc. The newly formed corporation is locally owned by Bob Kepler of Berea.

The company provides an area market for the purchase of aluminum beverage cans, sheet and cast aluminum, copper, brass, stainless steel, radiators, batteries and catalytic converters, and other non-ferrous materials.

Central Processors will continue the eight-year operation as in the past but with more emphasis on expanding markets. The company plans to immediately study the development of markets for plastics, corrugated cardboard, and glass. In addition to their drive-thru for area customers and pick-up for all regional industries, the company will participate actively with adjacent communities in their recycling efforts.

The company is located on Highway 21 West of Berea, approximately 1/2 mile from Exit 76. Brian Johnson, Mike Leger, Gary Phillips and Shane Lurry will process your materials in the cleanest facility of its kind. The company has certified scales and guarantees honesty and professional integrity always.

ROCKCASTLE

To the People of Rockcastle County,

NEIGHBORS - During the fourteen years that I served on the Cumberland Valley Area Development Board, millions of dollars were approved for community projects. From Berea in Harlan County to Middlesboro on the Virginia-Tennessee line to McKee, our neighbors were helped.

As a member of the priority rating committee and as an officer, I was privileged to review and recommend a variety of projects.

CO-OPERATION - By working with these neighbors from McKee, London, Manchester, Corbin, Williamsburg, Pineville, Barbourville, Middlesboro and Harlan, Rockcastle, too, got help.

Projects included: industrial park, fire department equipment and buildings, recreational facilities, parking facilities, ambulance equipment, sewage treatment facilities, police equipment, water system improvements, airport expansion, public building maintenance, road improvement, rescue equipment, building dams, shelter houses and the list goes on.

If chosen to lead during these next four years, emphasis will be placed on alternative funding sources, and on cooperating with our neighbors to insure success in getting the funds.

Dalton

Purcell

Barney Dalton, 85, of Orlando, died Sept. 22, 1989 at Berea Hospital. He was born in Tennessee July 9, 1904, the son of Jimmy and Minnie Lee Hayes Dalton. He was a retired farmer and a member of the Maple Grove Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Dalton of Orlando; three sons, J.R. Dalton of Milton, Ohio, Stewy Dalton of Dayton, Ohio, and Barney F. Dalton of Thom Grove, Tenn.; two daughters, Virginia Meriman and Frances Lunsford, both of Straw Plains, Tenn.; a step son, Virgil Lunsford of Straw Plains, Tenn., and two step daughters, Lucille Stewart and Wyoma Lainhart, both of Orlando; a sister, Zula Wolfenbarger of Tennessee, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Services were Sept. 24 at Dowell and Martin Funeral Home by Bro. Jackie Renner. Burial was in the Briar Field Cemetery.

Sam S. "Bub" Purcell, 78, of Broadhead died Sept. 22, 1989 at the Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington after a short illness.

He was born on Dec. 9, 1910 in Rockcastle County, the son of the late Sam S. and Rebecca Owens Purcell. He was a retired farmer and contractor and a veteran of World War II.

Survivors are: his wife, Lucille Albright Purcell of Broadhead; two sons, Rodney Dean and Ned Senet Purcell both of Broadhead; a sister, Mrs. Pearl Brown of Connersville, Ind.; two half sisters, Nina Jean of Lexington and Edna Earl of Danville and two grandchildren. Several nieces and nephews also survive.

Services were held Sept. 24 at the Watson Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Shelby Reynolds officiating. Burial was in Freedom Cemetery.

Cox

Boyd Cox, 31, of Sand Springs, was found dead at his home Sept. 24, 1989.

He was the son of William Luther and Lucy Marler Cox, who survive. He is also survived by four brothers, James, Milton, George and Shirley Cox, two sisters, Elsie Mullins and Emmie Renner, all of the Mt. Vernon area.

Services were Sept. 27 at Sand Springs Baptist Church. Williams Funeral Home of Berea was in charge of arrangements. Autopsy results are pending.

Hysinger

Cecil Hysinger, 82, of Mt. Vernon, died Sept. 21, 1989 at the Rockcastle Hospital.

He was born in Rockcastle County March 19, 1907, the son of Jack and Ella Shivel Hysinger. He was a retired farmer and a member of the Rose Hill Christian Church. He is survived by a nephew, Wayne Hysinger and a niece, Ona Whitaker both of Mt. Vernon, two great nephews and two great nieces.

Services were held Sept. 23 at Dowell and Martin Funeral Home by Bro. Homer McNew. Burial was in the Rose Hill Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Freddy Noe, Don Walker, Douglas Hysinger, Jeff Whittaker, Vic Bond, Owen Hunt and Estil McBee.

Mullins

Cecil I. Mullins, 65, of Vancouver, Wash., died Sept. 17, 1989 in a Portland, Ore., hospital.

He was born May 14, 1924 in Wildie and was a retired merchant seaman captain.

He is survived by his wife, Lois; his mother, Hazel Mullins of Wildie; a son, Michael of Seattle, Wash.; two daughters, Danita Myers of Hemiston, Ore., and Lonni Martin of Vancouver, Wash.; two sisters, Jerry Shaw of Haines City, Fla., and Nancy Smith of Lexington and three grandchildren.

At his request, there were no services. He will be buried at sea.

Clifford

A coal miner killed with nine others at Pyro Mining Company's William Station Mine in Wheatscroft on Sept. 13 had died in Rockcastle County.

Roger Clifford, 32, of Morganfield, died in the explosion.

He was born in Berea, Oct. 14, 1956, the son of Jack and Verla Parrett Clifford. Jack Clifford taught school at Livingston several years ago.

In addition to his parents of Middleboro, he is survived by his wife, Peggy Powell Clifford, and two sons, David Logan Clifford and Jack Duvall Clifford, all of Morganfield, and a brother Jack Randall Clifford of Mayfield. Roger is the grandson of Sadie Parrett of Pine Hill and the late Claude Parrett and Lewis and Lillie Clifford.

Services and burial were Sept. 16 in Morganfield.

Pallbearers were his engineering classmates of 1978 at University of Kentucky: Leonard Davis, Drexell Short, Mike Kerr, Charles Wesley, Danny Wooten, Jesse Gilpin and Bob Dunaway.

Among other relatives are aunts, Mrs. Geraldine Anglin of Broadhead, Mrs. Doris Cash of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Teresa Parrett of Pine Hill. Another aunt is Mrs. Eddie Neese of Fairfield, Ohio, and two uncles, William Estil Clifford of Mt. Vernon and Kenneth Parrett of Nancy.

Over 200 people paid tribute to Roger Clifford at a 15-minute service at a Morganfield funeral home Sept. 16.

'Thank you'

The family of Roger Clifford would like to express appreciation for the love and kindness extended during our recent loss. Thanks to each of you for the food, flowers, cards, visits, calls and especially your prayers. A special thanks to Dowell-Martin Funeral Home for the local obituary and to the Pine Hill Missionary Baptist Church. The Clifford and Parrett families

James Still - An ordinary man with an extraordinary talent for writing

By: J. Hannan

James Still enthralled his audience at The Family Life Center School facility in Mt. Vernon on last Thursday evening Sept. 21 as he read several of his favorite poems from his Wolfpen collection as well as bits from his short stories and reminiscence. He was the first in a series of authors who will speak over the next several weeks under the title Appalachian A Sense of Community. The series is open and free to the public.

Although Mr. Still is in his 80's he seems as vigorous as a man of 40 and his insights into the human condition are sharp and down to earth. He regrets that many of his friends are now dead but he celebrates life in his writing and his daily life.

Still lives in a 140 year old log cabin in Hindman where he has lived for over 50 years. Although he has been away from Hindman sometimes for extended periods he always loves to be back home again. Still lives a solitary life in a secluded area by Dead Mares Creek where he enjoys the peace. The solitude is conducive to reflection and writing. He also spends a great deal of his time in his garden where he sometimes experiments with hybrids and also enjoys raising flowers.

Often Still comes down to the settlement school where he has been so much a part of for many years as a librarian and instructor. He frequently enjoys chatting with the school's staff and visitors who come to the school.

Although Still has been hailed as one of the best of modern Kentucky writers and has won numerous awards, he is realistic about his accomplishments. He admits that he never expected to become a writer, least of all a famous one. Still writes about ordinary things, people and events but in such a way that his words become a thing of beauty. He sees beauty in nature, in a sunset on the mountains, a spider web or a rose, he senses the tragedy of a mountain child buried too young or he chuckles over the incongruities of life. He is a modern man yet a man of simplicity.

Unlike many writers Still writes when the mood strikes him. He does not get up at the break of day to begin writing daily. However, Still admits that when he is not writing an unceasing comes over him until he is comfortably sitting in a chair with pen in hand.

Still like most good writers is an avid reader. He said that as long as he can remember he has enjoyed reading and his taste ran the gamut of good literature. His taste varies from Chaucer, Gogol and Flaubert to Emily Dickinson, Mark Twain, William James and Elizabeth Maddox Roberts. He prefers to read notification and he likes to write about Appalachian culture and its people without the impressions of other Appalachian writers views to influence him.

Although Still has known numerous famous people in his lifetime he prefers the company of people who are not impressed with his accomplishments but who enjoy him as a human being.

At the workshop presentation George Brnst, book dealer from Berea was on hand and several of Still's books were for sale and all were signed by the author at the workshop. The program was sponsored by The Family Life Center School, The Eastern Kentucky Teachers Network, The Kentucky Humanities Council, Forward in the Fifth and the Rockcastle County Board of Education. Steve Thomas debuts as the new host for the 11th season of This Old House. Thomas, a writer, draftsman, navigator, and sailor, succeeds Bob Vila, who had hosted the popular series since it began in 1979. In this premiere episode, Thomas and master carpenter Norm Arban survey an 1835 barn in Concord, MA that homeowners Lynn and Barbara want to dismantle, rebuild, and live in. The conversion of the barn will be this year's main project.

Your Child's Health

By: Dr. John Payne

Bedwetting, or enuresis, is a frustrating problem for many families. When parents seek help, certain points almost always come up. Very often one or both parents or some other close relative wet the bed as a child.

Indeed, if this is not the case, the doctor will worry more about the child having some serious urinary problem.

Drug therapy, which can be very effective, should not be used until the child is six or seven years of age. Often other treatments can be effective. There are two types of alarm systems which sound if the child begins to wet and the moisture closes an electrical circuit and sets off an alarm. The older type depends on a pad under the child being wet. The child must get out of bed to turn off the alarm, and will presumably also go to the bathroom while he is up.

The newer type has a small pad attached to the child's thigh and an alarm is fastened to the child's pajamas. He does not have to get out of bed to turn it off. A recent study compared both systems and found both equally effective when used for six weeks.

Other important things to try include positive rewards for dry nights. A series of gold stars on a calendar which can be converted to a prize may be tried. Do not ridicule or shame the child. Try to have them go longer intervals between urination. Build up to a half hour between feeling the need to void and urination. Such bladder exercises can increase bladder capacity and help a lot. If you don't have success after a few months, see your doctor.

HAVE YOUR HOUSE PRESCHOOL SCREENED!

A screening test is now the first step your child will take in beginning his or her school experience. The Rockcastle County School System will be conducting a Preschool Screening Friday, Sept. 29. This service is conducted with one idea in mind - to begin children on a successful journey through school!

WHAT IS A PRESCHOOL SCREENING

The screening test is administered as a series of "games" for the child to play. However, it is an evaluation of preschool learning skills in the following area: eye-hand coordination, total body coordination, listening skills, following directions, working with other people, and communication skills.

WHY SHOULD I HAVE MY PRESCHOOLER SCREENED?

This is one way of finding and seeking help for preschool children who may have special needs. Screening results will give educators an indication of how well the child is developing in comparison to other children of the same age. Results can give an indication of whether your child may be gifted, have a silent developmental delay, is developing as he or she should, or if there may be a handicapping condition. It is also a good experience for your child.

WHAT DOES IT COST?

The screening is a FREE service provided by the School System to every child living in Rockcastle County.

WHO IS THE PRESCHOOL SCREENING FOR?

All preschool children ages 3 and 4 who are living in the Rockcastle County school District.

HOW LONG WILL THE SCREENING TAKE?

The actual screening will take approximately 30 minutes.

DATE, TIME AND PLACE

Preschool screening will take place Friday, September 29, 1989. Screening stations will be set up at the Family Life Center, which is located 2 miles north of Renfro Valley on the right, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Counseling

level that brings action. The abuser loses control, then begins to batter on an unpredictable basis, and the victim becomes traumatized.

In Phase Three, known among mental health professionals as the "Honeymoon Period," the abuser becomes apologetic after the emotional/physical outbreak. These apologists tend to make the victim feel guilty and responsible for being the cause of the violence. After the abuser promises to change, the victim allows it matter to drop.

Since most abusers and many victims come from a background of abuse themselves, the circle is harder to break because the symptoms and actions were already something of a way of life for both.

But, a large percentage of abused spouses stay within the abusive situation.

That's the circle that counseling is attempting to break.

Chae Robert, a member of the Denver, Colo., Commission on Community Relations, has come up with 31 reasons why abused women stay with abusive spouses, and she has come up with 24 myths about abused women.

Among the most common reasons for staying are: love, fear, retaliation, lack of attention by law enforcement personnel, economically dependent, religious or cultural beliefs, learned responses, lack of knowledge about help available, family history, and an addiction to violence and fear.

Among the myths about abused women are: it is a "small" problem, masochism, insanity, it is a lower class socioeconomic problem (upper and middle class women do not suf-

Family Life Abuse Center Facts

1. The center can handle up to 20 people at one time, victims and family, together.
2. Counseling is mandatory for the abused, highly advised for the whole family.
3. The main objective is keeping the family together.
5. Household duties are shared by the residents, and each family has its own private sleeping quarters.
6. If an abusive spouse comes to harass, police are called in immediately.
7. If you need help, the crisis line number is 256-2724. Or call 256-9511.

fer from it), religious beliefs will prevent abuse, abusers are violent in all relationships, once battered -- always battered, once a batterer -- always a batterer, a long term relationship will change the situation, children need a father -- even if he is violent.

relief," he said.

But it was not.

"And now with saturating, heavy rains this summer, the root systems of many landscape plants are destroyed," he said.

Fountain said most feeder roots that formed deeper into the ground last summer have been flooded and have died or are dying.

As a result, many trees -- including ones planted within the last two or three years -- died this year.

Another problem causing harm to landscape plants is a rise in foliar diseases and fungi that attack the roots this fall as a consequence of heavy rains and humid weather.

"This is related to high amounts of rainfall that we had over long periods of time when leaves were wet from dew and from rain and the high water content of the soil," Fountain said.

Spouse abuse

Wagers last week. "We also have an outreach program that works with the schools and clubs, and we get an occasional reference from the courts. But, most come from social services or the hospitals."

The center has a working relationship with Rockcastle County Hospital.

Physical abuse is just part of the problem with spouse abuse. People who use the services at the center also exhibit the effects of verbal and emotional abuse.

Hurd noted, "The physical abuse usually heels, the emotional abuse does not."

When a victim checks into the center, they are given room for themselves and any children brought with.

They are provided three meals a day, some snacks, and "all of the comforts of home" are offered, such as laundry facilities, color television, and a VCR.

The average stay is about 15 days, with a maximum of 30 days at the Mt. Vernon facility.

"There is an 8 p.m. curfew for residents, unless a job requires them to be out later.

While living at the center, victims are required to attend counseling sessions.

The key, says Wagers, is to get the whole family into counseling.

"Our goal is to maintain the family structure, but without the violence," she explained. "Getting the whole family into counseling is about the only way to do that."

While not every family who visits the center becomes a healthy, happy one, staffers do know of three families which have become "success stories."

They say that the chances of a non-violent family life for the kids look good, especially with future gains. In those three families, there were six or seven small children.

Tom Connor is one of the counselors involved in the program now, and he is trying to start a counseling program for abusers.

One of the problems for the center that staff members see is that some agencies see it as an advocate for divorce.

"They say that is not true, but if divorce is the last alternative to living with abuse, they do recommend it.

There are other success stories. Three victims are currently in college. Others have gotten GEDs with the help and support of the center staff.

While children make up a large number of residents using the center, children usually are better off, physically, than their parents.

"They usually don't get as much physical abuse if mom's being abused," says Wagers. "Most frustrations are aimed at the mother."

While most staff members feel they help almost everyone they are in contact with, there are some who have not been helped.

One woman returns almost every fall.

Another woman recently left the state, and her husband tried to sell a child for a car and $5,000.

A third woman left the shelter to meet her husband, and they haven't seen her since.

In another tragic incident, a woman was being housed at the center, and the woman's daughter shot and killed the husband.

"That was a long-term abusive situation," said Wagers.

Cold snap brings first frost

It was an early frost. Residents in the county awoke on Sept. 24 with white on the grass and rooftops, and a temperature of 35.

However, there was only one record low reported in the state, a questionable figure. Jackson city reported 34.

The county low of 35 compares to a 90 degree high recorded on Sept. 1, according to records at the Cox Funeral Home weather station.

But if folklore is to be believed, it will be a snowy winter. There were nine mornings with heavy fog. It is said the number of fogs in September means a like number of snows in winter.

With only two days remaining in the month, it appears September will end with 5.33 inches of rain, not considered a record but wet.

Most rain fell on Sept. 23 when 1.28 inches were recorded. It was nearly as wet on Sept. 16 when 1.13 fell along with .99 of an inch on Sept. 15.

In other other areas, the one-two punch of hot, dry weather last summer followed by drenching rain this summer has left many landscape plants dead or dying.

Horticultural experts say there's little hope of recovery for most plants that show signs of stress.

"At this point there's very little we can do," said Bill Fountain, Extension horticulture specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Many plants formed a deep root system last summer -- a result of scorching weather that accompanied severe drought, Fountain said.

"After the drought ended, many people figured that rain this past summer would be a welcome

Marijuana, a dangerous habit forming drug, was introduced into Rockcastle County by bureaucrats (mind you). Bases were established on private farms, under the pretense of raising rope -- really dope.

These bureaucratic sidestepers are again speaking from both sides of their mouth.

My farm gates have been widened to enable all big headed, free loading bureaucrats to maintain an upright position as they push their heads through. The above statements could possibly be discomfiting to many local bureaucrats, oddly enough it is true.

Farmers are now being threatened with bureaucratic dispersal of land concerning this left-handed weed. I, as most others, will not dignify this stupidity with a response.

Yoko visits

change students at Rockcastle this year. The other is Federico Sabras, who is staying with Larry and Linda Carter.

The two exchange students do not have any classes together this year.

Like almost all exchange students who elect to study in the United States, one of Yoko's goals is to learn to speak English. She wants to teach English at the junior high level in Japan, she says.

She should be well on her way, since she is enrolled in Rockcastle's top class, the Advanced Placement English course.

She's also taking driver's education, trigonometry, U.S. history, typing and French.

There is a purpose for most of those classes.

She's been studying English in Japanese schools for four years, and is just now learning to speak the language and understand the spoken word.

She says she likes trigonometry the most so far. Her teacher is John Walls.

Typing has a purpose, too. Her father is an instructor of science, technology and computers in Toyota. But, Yoko does not type, and doesn't enjoy working with computers because of that.

She'll make her father very happy by learning to type.

Typing will also help her learn the English language.

The driver's ed training is a first step toward getting a license.

Earning a license in the United States is very popular with foreign exchange students.

Relative costs are one reason.

It costs $1,000 or more for lessons in Japan or Europe.

However, there are some administrative red tape type steps to go through for Yoko.

In order to get a license here, she has to have a social security number.

That application has been made, said Mrs. Parsons. The papers have been sent to Japan for her parents to sign. When they return, perhaps this week, they will have to be notarized.

But, without the social security number, Yoko can't get a permit, and can't get behind the wheel of a car.

Mrs. Parsons said that Oskar got an international drivers license before he returned to Norway.

Yoko pursued the idea of joining the Rockcastle County High cheerleading squad this year.

But, there are too many logistical problems to sort through, and Mrs. Parsons says she won't lead cheers here.

She did in August, just before leaving for the United States. Her high school was involved in the annual baseball tournaments in Japan, and she was a cheerleader for her team.

She does work at gymnastics, and is sometimes found working on flips and such when the Rockcastle cheerleaders practice their routines.

Yoko is outgoing enough that she has begun to make friends rapidly.

She calls April Thorpe her best friend. She spent a night at April's house recently, and the two attended a concert in Lexington.

She's also attended church with April.

She's been to two of the school's four home football games, and she's been to school dances.

The "Americanization" of Yoko is well on its way. She says her favorite group is Bon Jovi, and she has a poster of Mötley Crüe, compliments of April, on the wall in her room at the Parsons house.

Yet, she insists, "I like all American music."

April is one of several classmates Yoko met her first day, said Mrs. Parsons. April has already given Yoko a friendship bracelet.

Mrs. Parsons is tickled to have a girl to host after two boys.

"I started out wanting a girl," Mrs. Parsons said. "But, I guess they were all taken. Girls seem to go fast. But, I guess I got my name on the list in time this year."

The two haven't decided an itinerary very far in advance. But, Mrs. Parsons says she has some trips and sightseeing planned.

Cumberland Falls, Mammoth Cave, Kentucky Horse Park, and Frankfort and the state government buildings, are on Mrs. Parsons' list. Yoko wants to visit the Toyota plant in Georgetown. Yoko also said she wants to see some horses. Since the Kentucky Horse Park is just minutes away from the Toyota plant, that trip seems like a natural.

Actually, this 10-month stay is Yoko's second trip to the United States. Last summer, she was with a group that hit all of the tourist spots in southern California.

She's found some differences in school in Japan and the United States.

She rides one of the county's yellow buses, No. 2, to and from school.

In Toyota, she rides a bike to the nearest train station (5-10 minute ride), trains to the next station (about 12 minutes), then rides a commercial run bus to her school. She reverses the order of modes of transportation to get home.

Yoko is adapting well, it seems.

AARP holds monthly meeting

The local chapter of AARP 3215 held its regular monthly meeting Sept. 18 at the library community room. A picnic at the home of Zi Graves Oct. 8 was decided on. Come early in the day as it gets cool as the evenings get sharper.

The new business was a decision to support the local cancer society with pennies derived from our birthday month. One penny for each year old we are when our birthday comes due. Remember to bring your pennies if you want to have happy birthday sung to you. This goes for a really good cause.

After our short business meeting we turned the evening over to our guests. I don't know if we call them speakers, instructors or entertainers. They really were all three. The group was "The Body Recall" from Berea.

Dorothy Cressman is the designer and director of the group. She spoke to us of the necessity of exercise to keep our blood moving the poisons out of our system.

She had us go through the no sweat-no strain exercises and we felt great afterward. So she was the instructor.

The entertainment was: she had the students she brought along, all senior citizens, go through their exercises including floor exercises in unison. This showed us how we too can get around much better and more gracefully if we exercise properly.

Please remember - these are not strenuous exercises. They are designed for people with health problems including arthritis - heart and strokes.

Dorothy invited us to participate free for one week's instruction, one hour a day, Oct. 2 - 6 at the Body Recall Headquarters on Mt. Vernon, 13 miles north on US 25. These lessons are free and will begin at 9 a.m. (Please be available at 8:45 and wear comfortable clothing).

If any senior would like to share this offer get in touch with Zi Graves at 256-4327 - president of chapter 3215 or Mary Lou Ballinger at 256-4565.

A.A.R.P. take trip

The Rockcastle County AARP club sponsored a trip to Opryland last weekend. One of the many beautiful and enjoyable places was Opryland Hotel.

Those making the trip were: Margie and Colston Blanton, Ruth Mink, Vivian Owens, Mary Lou Ballinger, Juanita Scott, Edna Pope, Clarice Denney, Alva Bullock, Bessie S. Clair and driver A.D. Ponder. All reported a wonderful trip.

Mt. Vernon re-union is successful

The annual Mt. Vernon High School reunion classes of 1914-1956 was held Saturday, Sept. 16, with great success. We want to thank all the members who attended and all who helped in planning, organizing and getting the class of '56 together, plus decorating.

We couldn't enjoy the event every year without the help and cooperation of school officials; Ronnie Cash, Tuck Baker and Mrs. Gllovak, the home ec. girls, the cooks, the janitor, Mr. Bullock's art dept., Jim Cox for all his efforts and taking pictures and Bige Towery for welcoming us.

Mr. E.J. Smith for helping us with menu planning. The Mt. Vernon Signal for advertising, The Cox Florist for the use of the stands.

Always in fear of leaving out individuals let us just say thanks everyone who did anything.

Next year the Class of '57 will be added. We look forward to the 1990 reunion.

Officers for the new year are Billy Hiatt, president; Robert Robinson, vice president; Jean B. Towery, secretary and Pat N. Baker, treasurer.

Rocks slosh by Knox

Kevin Rowe
 Rushing leader

Rowe among state leaders, best for an era

By: Jim Griesch
 Kevin Rowe has become a marked man this football season. Both Harlan and Knox Central have done a good job of shutting him down, as did Pulaski County in the second half three games ago.

Rowe has picked up 545 yards in 102 carries this season, and has scored 10 touchdowns.

Now, with opponents beginning to concentrate three and four defenders on him, others have begun to pick up the spear and continue the attack.

At Harlan, it was Jonathan Saylor. Against Knox, it was Dane Cox.

Just in time. This week, it is a showdown of undefeated (in district play) leaders. But, Bell County will be at home. Bell has been ranked in each of several polls much of the year.

They blanketed Corbin. They destroyed Whitley County, 52-6.

Don't be misled, the Whitley score was on a fumble recovery return.

Reports are that Bell's defense has not allowed a touchdown in 18 quarters.

The winner of this week's game will clearly be in the driver's seat in the district.

Bell already owns a win over perennial bridesmaid Cawood. Bell has games with Knox and McCreey Central left in district play after this week.

Rockcastle has games with Cawood and Whitley.

Should Rockcastle lose, they will be in the familiar position of having to beat Cawood to go to the playoffs. Cawood's offense had been struggling, scoring just 42 points before being Middlesboro 25-6 last week.

But, Rockcastle will have two weeks to get ready for Cawood.

That's an extra week to get over bumps and bruises, and to prepare for Cawood.

Rowe is closing in on several Larkey-era records, and already has set one and tied one this year.

He's broken Chris Larkey's career rushing mark of 1,522 yards. Rowe already has 1,749 in 325 carries, including the 545 this season.

He needs seven more touchdowns to tie Chris Larkey for career touchdowns.

Rowe also needs another 27 points this season to top the one-year mark of 86 points in a season.

And, the burley fullback needs another 481 yards rushing to top Larkey's one-year mark of 1,025.

This year, Rowe needs four touchdowns plus a tie, five to pass, Larkey and had buried ten for most TDs in a year.

Rowe has tied Larkey's mark of four TDs in one game. He had four against McCreey Central.

Here's Rowe's career rushing to date:

Year	Carries	Yards	Pts.
1986	46	137	6
1987	35	151	2
1988	142	916	36
1989	102	545	50
Totals	325	1749	104

Cox entered last week's game 22nd in the state in rushing, 518 yards in five games, an average of 103.6, and was tied for ninth in scoring, an average of 12 points a game, and was fifth in points scored, with 60.

Homecoming was postponed by last Friday's rain and cold. The traditional crowning of the queen will take place at the final home game of the year, against Madison Southern, on Friday, Oct. 20.

Rockcastle County High principal Ronnie Cash said last week that if it rains that night, the ceremony will take place in the cafeteria.

By: Jim Griesch

For the second week in a row, the Rockcastle County Rockets found a natural type to take them through some stormy seas and a rainy night for a win.

Last Friday, they used a coxswain's mate to navigate through the mud at home for an important 8-6 district win over Knox Central.

Two weeks ago, they used Jonathan Saylor to walk across the lake that was the field in Harlan.

Cox gained 69 yards on 20 carries against Knox, getting all but 14 of Rockcastle's net rushing yardage.

He also scored the team's only touchdown, pushing in from four yards out with 8:58 left in the first half.

He then scored on a conversion run for an 8-0 lead.

That conversion may have been one of the most important plays of the game. And, it was set up by an off-side penalty on Knox.

After the touchdown, Curtis Cotton's attempted kick was blocked.

But, Knox was penalized for being offside.

With the ball only 54 inches from the goal, coach Tom Larkey elected to go for two instead of one.

Later, when Knox scored with 6:05 left in the game, their conversion pass attempt failed when Scott Hines and David Eaton chased Knox quarterback Brent McDonald onto the sidelines stripe before he could make his pass.

That pressure was good enough to preserve the win.

However, it took a Kevin Rowe pass interception later in the game to finally wrap it up.

McDonald had Knox in position to think about a second TD with a first down at the Rockcastle 17 with 1:58 left.

But, on second and nine from the 16, McDonald sprinted to his right, got a ton of pressure applied, and threw a pass right into Rowe's waiting arms at the 15. He returned the ball to the 26, which allowed Scott Parker to simply down the ball three plays in a row for the win.

Most of the first half seemed to be played in a driving rain, the remnants of Hurricane Hugo.

Every play from scrimmage came on the Knox side of the field after the kick-off until the Rockcastle touchdown.

Rockcastle kicked off, and won its gamble they could contain Knox.

The winning drive needed just four plays to cover 18 yards after a Knox fumble.

Knox had held on fourth-and-two at its own six when Cox got just a yard.

On second down, Knox's Eddie Hamilton was hit hard as he went through the line of scrimmage, and fumbled the ball away all the way out to the Knox 18, where Jeff Houk fell on the loose ball.

The Rocks used a lost part of the offense, the forward pass, to get a first down on the four.

Parker hit Billy Todd in the right flat at the seven, and he was flipped head over heels at the four.

That was Rockcastle's first completed pass since August.

The next play, Cox plowed through right tackle for the score. He scored the conversion on the same play.

Knox never threatened until the final six minutes of the game.

Rockcastle had held the Panthers to just 40 net yards until the 6:11 mark of the final quarter.

In the first 42 minutes of the game, Knox blew several golden opportunities to score.

A 23-yard run by Randall Roach put the ball at the Rockcastle 47, with about 4:00 left in the half. He followed that with an 11-yard run, but an offensive pass interference call and a sack turned the ball over to the Rocks with 1:17 left.

Two botched kicking plays in a row helped put Knox at the Rockcastle 33 midway through the third quarter.

On third and 22 from their own 28, Knox attempted a quick kick. He couldn't get it off in the face of a big Knox rush, and ate the ball for a seven yard loss to the 21.

The next play, fourth and 29 from the 21, he dropped a good snap. From there, he ran it out to the 33, far short of a first down.

Houk, who hadn't dropped any snaps the week before against Harlan, and who hadn't let a blocked kick early in the year rattle him, said he just didn't think he had room to kick.

Bucs clinch second in county league; Redskins now 4-0

The Bucs clinched second place in the 7th-8th grade division of the Rockcastle Youth Football League with a controversial 14-13 win over the Bengals Tuesday night.

The winning points came on a safety with 3:27 left in the game. Bengals quarterback J.D. Bussell was ruled tackled in his own end zone while attempting to pass.

Ref Ryan Riddle said later, "I blew it dead too soon."

The Redskins had moved ahead with 6:42 left in the third quarter when Michael Shaffer romped 23 yards for a score. Bussell added the conversion on a run.

That 13-6 lead stood up for less than two minutes. Louie Davis hit Josh Bullock with a 41-yard scoring pass to cut it to 13-12, but the Bengals stopped a conversion run to maintain the lead.

Bullock, having the best night of any receiver in the league this year, scored the game's first TD on a 70-yard pass from Davis with 5:10 left in the first quarter.

Kelly Carpenter scored on a two-yard run to tie it at 6-11 with 1:40 left in the half.

That drive was set up by a short punt and return to the Bucs' 19 by Shaffer. The Bucs had just held the Bengals on downs at the three.

In the night's second game, the Redskins maintained their unbeaten streak. They blanked the Wildcats 32-0 as Greg Bowman, the league's leading scorer, rolled for three touchdowns and three conversion kicks.

He had runs of 57 and 19 yards, and added a third with a 30-yard pass interception return. Shawn Thacker got the other TD on a nine-yard run.

The Redskins added a safety in the second quarter when a Wildcat punt snapped out of their own end zone.

With two weeks left in 7th-8th grade play, the Bucs can still tie the Redskins for the league title, but that game is still two weeks away.

The Bucs maintained their one-game lead over the Redskins in 5th and 6th grade games at Rockcastle Youth Football League play last Thursday.

The Bucs slipped past the winless Wildcats 16-6, with the help of two second-quarter safeties.

The Redskins got a touchdown on a fumble recovery in the end zone by Saben Blair early in the third quarter.

The score was set up by a kick-off return by the Bengals that wound up on their own one yard line.

In the Bucs game, Jason Medley rambled 36 yards for a score in the first quarter, but the extra point kick failed.

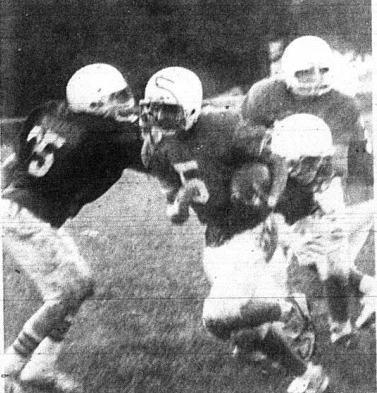

David Coffey and John Renner both tackled Wildcat runners in the end zone in the second quarter.

Coffey's safety came at the 6:05

Josh Bullock (45) of the Bucs goes up against the Bengals' Sherman Collins (32) and J.D. Bussell (9) in the background to catch this pass, which was turned into a 70-yard scoring play within the first three minutes of Tuesday's Youth League game. Bullock added another later in the Bucs' 14-13 win.

Kelly Carpenter breaks clean for a two-yard TD run late in the first half for the Bengals. He tied the score at 6-11. In a couple of Saturday games, the Redskins beat a Lincoln team 13-0, as Greg Bowman scored from 60 and 40 yards out. The Wildcats lost to a Crab Orchard team 18-12. Brian Carter scored on a 30-yard run, while Donnie Cromer went 25 yards.

Chris Larkey creeping up on a spot at EKU

Chris Larkey
 From his RCHS days

By: Jim Griesch
 Chris Larkey creeps closer to playing college football for Eastern Kentucky University.

Officially a walk-on, redshirt freshman, Larkey dressed for the first time this past Saturday night, as EKU topped arch rival Western Kentucky 24-3.

But, he still hasn't played.

Right now, Larkey is into his third week as a defensive back. He is not on the depth chart at any position.

But, he is listed as a back-up on the kick-off team.

"They've got me listed to take several people's places on the kick off. If any of them get hurt, I'd be first team," is how he explains his situation.

Larkey, who spent last year learning the ropes as a wide receiver, seems happier than he was in early September, when it looked as if he would be lost in the maze of numbers of would-be pass catchers.

He thinks "I've moved up a lot," in the two or three weeks he's been working under coach Jack Ision.

"When I was on offense, I wasn't on any special teams. Now, I'm a third team corner (back) and second team kick-off."

Ision isn't sure if Larkey will see action in the secondary this year or not.

"Probably, this year, he's just to be on special teams," explained Ision. "I just got him two weeks ago. He came over 10 days ago."

If you listen carefully, it sounds as if Ision thinks Larkey will play at Eastern.

But, there are no promises.

He likes Larkey's work habits, and his willingness to make contact with ball carriers and receivers.

But, Eastern has a lot of young players, with only eight seniors on this team.

Ision is going to provide an opportunity for Larkey, but there won't be many immediate openings created by graduation.

If Larkey moves up, it won't be that he inherited an open spot. He'll have to work in ahead of somebody already ahead of him.

Larkey is a former two-way star at Rockcastle County High.

He keyed the Rockets' 6-0 start in 1987, working as a quarterback in his father's (Tom Larkey) system.

He wound up running at tailback when a hand injury made receiving the center snap difficult.

That 1987 season, he ran for 1,025 yards and 14 touchdowns. Those are still high-water marks in the Larkey era at Rockcastle.

He also had 1,522 yards rushing in his career, a mark just erased this month by current fullback Kevin Rowe.

But, at Eastern, it has been a game of wait and see. Don't hide, but seek.

Ision agrees that Chris Larkey's background as a coach's son could pay dividends.

Much is made of basketball players being the sons of coaches.

Ision sees a parallel in football.

"They understand techniques, and what they mean," he pointed out. "If you tell somebody to step with the left foot first, they know there is a reason for that."

it on the quick kick. He admitted he simply dropped it on the fourth down punt. Rockcastle turned back that threat when Mike Spires intercepted, then dropped, a fourth down pass in the end zone.

That series showed how dominant Rockcastle had been. After the fumble, Rockcastle held Hamilton to no gain, then sacked Roach for a loss of four on an option play. Knox was also hit with a 10-yard holding penalty, which put them back on the 36. "I Vaughn dropped on pass wide open, and McDonald was sacked on third down.

But, the final 6:11 was almost all Knox. Andy Weaver ripped off a 44-yard run into one and 15 from his own 42. He went right up the gut of Rockcastle's defense, and was in the grasp of at least seven defenders. He was finally dragged down at the 14.

Two plays later, Roach rolled in from the eight. Parkey just underhanded a pass the next series, and a 30-yard pass from McDonald to Weaver almost scored. Weaver hooked up behind Hook, who seemed to slip in the mud.

But, Saylor hogged him with a neck-high tackle at the Rockcastle 17. Two plays later, Rowe made his interception. Knox had 99 net yards rushing, which just made defensive coordinator Tony Saylor's posted goal of holding Knox to less than 100 yards. Roach and Weaver picked up 67 of the 99 on two runs. But, Rockcastle held Knox to minus yardage on nine of the 29 carries.

Rowe practically got the second half off for the Rocks. He went into the game ranked 22nd in the state in rushing, averaging 103.6 a game. He got 25 yards on seven carries the first half, but went only twice for a yard each in the second, which cox did most of the damage.

Knox had Rockcastle pretty well scouted. Neither Saylor nor Todd gained a yard from scrimmage.

The two carried for a combined six times, and lost a net of 18 yards.

GATLIFF CRAIG

FOR COUNTY JUDGE/EXECUTIVE

FRIENDS AND FELLOW CITIZENS:
 As I talk with you about choosing a person to serve, I hear continually that you want someone that will provide leadership and can work effectively with everyone that is in a position to help me. I agree and, if elected, I will use every resource that is available.
 Many of the needs that you mention are the direct responsibility of this office. In addition, I will work responsibly with:

- A. Both the Rockcastle Improvement Council and Industrial Authority. I am a member of both bodies and have been for years. We are not satisfied, however, we have made progress over the last few years.
- B. The Water Districts and the City Councils. These are the public bodies that have the authority to supply water and extend water lines. As your chief executive, I will maintain a good relationship with these public bodies and help to access federal and state funds which will enable them to upgrade the treatment plant and extend water lines where possible;
- C. Office of the School Superintendent. Many of you have expressed concerns relating to roads and bridges over which our children must be transported. Be assured that these will receive priority.
- D. Our Tourism Industry. If selected, I will support the maintenance of a strong and active tourism committee that will work in conjunction with the Cumberland Valley ADD and the state tourism council, and E. Others that we will discuss later.

Whatever your choice, we must all work together to make Rockcastle a recognized and respected county.

Sincerely,

Gatliff Craig

The intra-county basketball season has begun.
 Last Thursday, the four county schools' girls teams hooked up in the first of several doubleheaders this fall.
 At Mt. Vernon, the Lady Devils pushed out to a 22-8 lead at the half en route to a 45-14 tumbling of Roundstone.

 Mt. Vernon continued its dominance in the second half, outscoring the visitors by 23-6.
 The Lady Devils are 2-0 so far this fall, and have won 21 in a row at the "A" game level going back through last season.

 Tabatha Bell netted 17, followed by Heather Kidwell's 14 to pace the Lady Devils.
 Kim Kirby added six, Brandi Chastean 5, and Kristal Doan had three.
 Jennie Proctor had eight of Roundstone's 14. Jennifer Saylor, Jamica Cummins and Becky Bowling each added two.
 In the "B" game, Mt. Vernon eased out to a 22-14 halftime lead, then outscored Roundstone 13-8 in the second half for a 35-22 victory.
 Becky Osborne had 19 for Mt. Vernon, while Ginger Mink had eight for Roundstone.
 Livingston and Brodhead split their two games at the home of the Blue Devils.

Brodhead made the most of some poor passes and rolled to a 20-4 lead.

Brodhead loses twice

The Brodhead Lady Tigers stepped out of the county for two games Monday and Tuesday, and lost a couple of heartbreakers.
 Monday, they dropped an overtime decision 31-30 at Berea. Cindy McCauley hit one of two foul shots to tie it at 30-all, but Berea hit the last point on a foul shot of their own.
 McCauley led Brodhead with 12 points, followed by Amy Robinson with eight and Donna Cash with six.
 Coach Debbie Cash said that McCauley, Cash and Tonya Callahan all missed important minutes in the third quarter with foul problems, and all fouled out in overtime.

During the third quarter, Berea cut a five-point Brodhead lead at the half to just one, at 25-24, by the end of the frame.
 Berea's "B" team rolled 42-12. Tuesday, Brodhead lost to visiting Pulaski Southern 39-31, again having third quarter problems.
 The score at the half was 16-13, Pulaski, but the visitors moved out in nine after three quarters, with a 12-6 run.
 McCauley led all scorers with 18, followed by Cash with 11. They had all but two of Brodhead's points.
 Pulaski ran away with the "B" game, 67-2.

MULLINS

Republican Candidate for County Judge/Executive

Taxes and Service Fees Past actions are an indication of future directions. During the fourteen years that I served as Mayor of Mt. Vernon, no new taxes were imposed, no taxes were raised and no increases were imposed for services. This was during probably the greatest inflationary period in the century.
Extended Results Asking the right questions, taking good advice, serving in the interest of all and extending good treatment to all was the mode of operation. The contract fee for water sold to Brodhead, Northern Water District and Western Water District was kept lower than any such contract in surrounding counties by as much as 171%.
Expansion During the same fourteen years, building programs were completed, services expanded and interest was earned on cash in the bank.
 I hope to talk further with you on these matters and would appreciate hearing from you.

...grateful for your friendship, assistance & vote

mark. Renner got his at the 2:32 mark, when a Wildcat misplayed a punt, then couldn't get out of the end zone when he finally corralled it.

The Wildcats made it interesting when Jonathan (No. 1) Cromer intercepted a pass and returned it 28 yards for the Wildcats' first score of the year.

The tally came at the 4:36 mark. But, the Bucs took the following kickoff and chugged down field, with Neal Shepler bursting over from the two.

No one scored the final quarter. The allegue is halfway through its season. Each team will play every other team one more time to determine playoff positions.

Shootout to begin here

All four of the grade schools in Rockcastle County plan to take part in this year's 10th annual Wildcat Basketball Shootout for Easter Seals. Sponsored in Kentucky by the University of Kentucky basketball program, school children shoot baskets for so much pledged for parents, friends, acquaintances, businesses, or other relatives, and the amount collected is turned in is used for pay for therapy and other costs for victims of disabling diseases. Livingston will begin in October, Broadhead in November, and Mt. Vernon in January. Roundstone will announce its participation dates later.

New University of Kentucky head coach Rick Pitino is the head for the shootout in Kentucky. He has chaired Easter Seals shootouts in Rhode Island (when he was head coach at Providence College) and in New York (as head coach of the professional New York Knicks). Easter Seal Society officials estimate that 25,000 Kentuckians use its services each year. The top money raising boy and girl will receive tickets to a UK game in Rupp Arena later this season, attend a pre-game dinner, and a post-game visit with Pitino. Schools also earn prizes through their efforts.

In college football, for a walk-on, it's that first correct step that is often most important.

If it has been slow for Larkey, it is equally slow for Union College freshman tight end Chuck Shields.

The 1989 Rockcastle County High grad, who holds all of the Larkey era receiving records, is being redshirted by Union.

For last Saturday's 13-9 loss at home to Evansville, Shields was not in uniform. But, with NAIA all-American Pete

Greene in his final year, Shields should get lots of playing time over the next four years. Shields, at 6-3, 190, is more of a true tight end than Greene, who is used as a slot man, an in-motion receiver, and as a receiver who works underneath the speedier outside pass catchers. Union also has two young quarterbacks in Kip Jones and Josh Callihan. They both played in the Saturday loss in the slop and swamp-like conditions at Union. Callihan came within a great open-field tackle of providing a win on the final play of the game. Right now, by not playing, Shields is putting his whole career into the future.

after a quarter of the "A" game. They maintained the edge the rest of the way to claim a 43-28 win. Donna Cash led all scorers with 18 for Broadhead, followed by Cindy McCauley. Rosemary Parker led Livingston with 10, followed by Jenny Hubbard with eight.

But, Parker scored 16 in the "B" game to lead Livingston to a 31-15 win. Amy Robinson had eight for Broadhead.

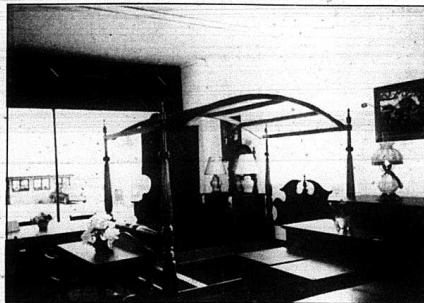

Each of the county schools will play each of the other three twice this year. That means that each school has seven more games left with their county rivals.

WORK AND FREEDOM PUT THIS NEWSPAPER INTO YOUR HANDS

Most of us have never worked on a newspaper, and so we cannot appreciate what goes into it. As it is, we merely take it for granted and expect to find it on our doorstep, in our mailbox, in a dispenser or at the corner newsstand. In it we read about all the strife and turmoil around the world, the latest happenings in our government, and reports of murders, fires and natural disasters; as well as the happier side of the news. There are also features, and among them a helpful House of Worship directory. So read your newspaper and remember those who spent long hours putting it together for you; to place that priceless symbol of the freedom we enjoy in this country right there in your hands.

Where the press is free and every man able to read, all is safe.

- Thomas Jefferson

... that which was written was upright, even words of truth."

- Ecclesiastes 12:10

NO MATTER WHOM WE ELECT, WE ARE STILL RULED BY LAWS

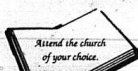

Great concern is often shown about religion or other aspects of our national life that differ radically from our own, and this is never more evident than when an election draws near. There may be a candidate whose principals are very close to ours, and yet we fear something else about him that might cause him to overstep the bounds of his authority. However, that's why we have laws, and a constitution that spells out those laws and the limitations of power by any level of government. From the lessons at our House of Worship we learn that these laws had their roots in the Bible, and were designed to allow the maximum of freedom while protecting the rights of others. Thank the Lord for these laws, and remember that all of our elected officials must abide them.

Any government is free to the laws under it where the laws rule and the people are a party to the laws.

"I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them."

- Hebrews 10:16

About Rockcastle Countians

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Joseph Young

Stella DeLisle weds Timothy Young

Stella Louise DeLisle and Timothy Joseph Young were united in marriage August 12th at St. Eustachius Catholic Church in Portageville, Missouri. The Rev. Father Fergus Monahan performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Joseph A. DeLisle and the late Chipper DeLisle. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Young of Mt. Vernon.

The church was decorated with arrangements of gerber daisies, carnations, baby's breath, and gladiolus. The garland around the altar was plumosa and springaria ferns. Each side of the altar had a 21 candle candelabra with ferns, baby's breath, and pink and ivory satin ribbon. Scripture was read by Rita Al-sbrook of Memphis, TN, and Melanie Williams of Jackson, Mississippi. Music was provided by a harpist with Rita Ross and Rene Crumley singing solos.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a dress designed by Detroit for the Illisa collection. Her ivory satin traditional gown featured a Sabrina neck line, long sleeves and fitted bodice. Sheffell embroidered appliques enhance the bodice and sleeves with pearls and sequins heavily beaded on the appliques. The yoke and bridal cuff were encrusted with pearls and sequins. The long flowing skirt featured panels of lace down the back and border of the cathedral train. For her hair the bride wore a wreath of rose buds and pearls with orange blossoms. Soft poofs were attached to a silk illusion veil edged with ribbon.

The bride carried an ivory cascading bouquet of philanopsis orchids, pink and white roses, pearls, stephanotis, ivory lace puffs, and flowing streamers of petit point ivy.

Matron of honor was Rene Crumley of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Rita Ross, sister of the bride, of Warsaw, Indiana and Donna Young, sister of the groom, of Mt. Vernon. Each of the brides attendants wore a two piece tate length dress of rose sateen. The bodice had set-in sleeves accented with bows. The neckline was high in front with a deep v and small covered buttons in the back. The box pleated skirt was complimented by a cummerbund with a large bow.

They carried cascading nosegays of philanopsis orchids, pink and white roses, baby's breath, pearls, stephanotis and ivy. For their hair they wore a wreath of pale and dark pink rosebuds mixed with baby's breath with streamers of ribbon in the back.

Flower girls Suzanne Crumley and Jo Beth deLisle, nieces of the bride, carried baskets of fresh flowers. The girls wore ivory lace tate length dresses designed by Jessica McIntock.

The bridegroom was attired in a Lord West classic black tuxedo, as were his groomsmen. Best man was Joe Young, father of the groom. Groomsmen were Perry Noe of Mt. Vernon and Randy Brown of Lexington. (Cont. to B9)

Mr. and Mrs. Gary L. Preece

Vikki King weds Gary L. Preece

The marriage of Miss Vikki I. Kirig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. King and Gary L. Preece, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Preece was an event of Saturday, June 3, 1989, 6:30 p.m., in a candlelit ceremony at Garden-side Baptist Church, Lexington. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Heard.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a floor length white bridal gown designed by Mari-Lee. The gown was fashioned from white silk organza and chantly lace. The gown featured a fitted basque waist and bodice. A sheer net yoke accented the bodice with a split lace band neckline. The bodice of the gown was lace covered and trimmed with tiny seed pearls and pearlized sequins. The sleeves were gathered full at shoulders and lower sleeve tapered narrow to a point over the hand. The sleeves were also featured with lace, pearl, and sequin trim. The skirt was organza and featured appliques of lace trim near the hemline on the front of gown which was beaded and sequin trimmed. The back of the gown featured a cathedral length train with a wide lace panel going from waist to hemline. Pearls and sequins trimmed the lace. A small fluted ruffle of the organza accented the lace panel in back of skirt to hemline and entire bottom of gown.

The bride's veil was illusion was fingertip length and trimmed with a fluted ruffle to resemble guppyfish. (Cont. to B9)

Mr. and Mrs. Eric A. Beard

Kathy Henderson weds Eric Beard

Kathy Lynne Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Henderson of Lexington, and Eric Andrew Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Beard Jr. of Lexington, were married Aug. 12 at Southern Hills United Methodist Church. The Rev. Charles Bertrand officiated at the ceremony.

The maid of honor was Nancy Coupl. Bridesmaids were Holly Beard, sister of the groom and Angeliqe Robey, cousin of the bride.

The best man was Roger Bertrand. Ushers were Mark Henderson, brother of the bride, and Jeff Taylor.

The bride is a graduate of Centerville High School and attended Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond. She is self-employed.

The groom is a graduate of Yates Creek High School and Kenschler Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y. He is employed by International Business Machines Corp. Mrs. Beard is the granddaughter of Okla Cox, of Lexington and the late Jan Cox, formerly of Rockcastle County. Paternal grandparents are the late Lona Henderson Lygdon and Robert Walter Henderson.

Stephanie Carmack to wed Dwayne Burdette

Danny and Kay Carmack of Mt. Vernon announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Stephanie to Dwayne Burdette, son of Larry and Gail Burdette of Renfro Valley. The event is scheduled for Saturday, October 7th at 2:30 p.m. at the Bible Baptist Church. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited.

Preston P. Nunnelley, M.D. elected KMA president-elect

Preston P. Nunnelley, MD, has been elected to the office of President-Elect of the Kentucky Medical Association.

Dr. Nunnelley, a native of Mt. Vernon, received a Bachelor of Science degree from Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond, in 1964, and an MD degree from the University of Kentucky College of Medicine in 1970. He completed a residency in Obstetrics-Gynecology at the University of Kentucky Albert B. Chandler Medical School in 1974 and has been in a partnership practice since that time. Dr. Nunnelley is an Associate Clinical Professor in the OB-GYN Department of Family Medicine and the Department of Family Practice at the University of Kentucky College of Medicine.

A Fellow of the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Dr. Nunnelley is also a member of the AMA, American Fertility Society, and a past President of the Kentucky Obstetrical and Gynecological Society and the Fayette County Medical Society.

Dr. Nunnelley will serve KMA as 10th District Trustee for the past five years and also currently serves on the Kentucky Physician's Care Operating Committee; Committee on State Legislative Activities; Executive Committee; and is Vice Chairman of the Board of Trustees. He also served on the Legislative Committee from 1982 to 1986 and the Nominating Committee in 1983.

Dr. Nunnelley and his wife, Lucille, have three sons and reside in Lexington.

Setting it straight!

A rifle shell exploded and injured Leo Hunt's hand. A headline in last week's Signal indicated he shot himself in the hand which was erroneous.

Deadline for news is noon Tuesday!

National Child Health Day

October 2, is National Child Health Day. Rockcastle Health Center will join with numerous national, state and local organizations to intensify efforts to alert women about the importance of good prenatal care. Early and consistent prenatal care plays a significant role in reducing infant mortality and improve the health of mothers and their babies.

There are no guarantees in the health field, but some actions can help prevent problems for the baby and the mothers. One example of a positive action is seeking good, regular prenatal care. What a woman does ton, Patrick Crumley, nephew of the bride, served as ringbearer. He wore a tuxedo which matched those of the groomsmen.

Ushers were George DeLisle, brother of the bride, and Eric Grider of Russell Springs.

A buffet dinner and dance were held after the wedding at the Portageville Community Center. Cake was served by Cindy Nise of Mt. Vernon and Patty Sallee of Somerset. Dancing music was provided by Jerry Ford.

After of honeymoon trip to Hawaii, the couple reside in Mt. Vernon where the bride is employed with Rite Aid Pharmacy and the bridegroom is a pharmacist at Young's Pharmacy.

The headpiece was a pearl covered wavy band drooping to forehead and featuring a teardrop pearl in center of band.

The bridal bouquet consisted of a live cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis, accented with greenery and white silk ribbons.

Miss Judy Howard served as bride of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Bridgette Duncan and Miss Cindy Fain, friends of the bride, Mrs. Charlotte Combs and Mrs. Glendine Hale, sisters of the groom. Bridesmaid's gowns were seafoam length and fashioned from peach colored moire taffeta.

The gowns featured a fitted basque styled waist, slightly scooped front neckline, v-back neckline and short puffed sleeves. The skirts were gathered to fitted waist and a bow accented waist at back with long wide streamers from base. The bridesmaids carried a live cascade arrangement of peach colored roses and carnations, accented with greenery, baby's breath and peach silk ribbons.

Miss Katie Walters, daughter of the bestman, served as flower girl. She wore a tea length white taffeta gown featured with lace trim, peach bow and streamers accenting the waist at back.

Master Samuel Hale, nephew of the groom served as ringbearer. He was attired in a miniature white tuxedo. Groomsmen were Greg Walters and Joe Patton, friends of the groom, Samuel Hale and David Combs, brothers-in-law of the groom, and Jeffrey King, brother of the bride. Groomsmen were attired in black tuxedos, accented with black cummerbunds and bow ties. The groom's attire consisted of a traditional Dior black cutaway jacket, accented with pinstripe pants, gray vest and black and gray ascot tie.

A program of wedding music was provided by soloist Harlena McWilliams and pianist/organist Sherry Thompson. Selections were "The Wedding Song", "Wind Beneath My Wings", and "The Wedding March".

Miss Judy Schwendeman presided at the guest book and distributed silk peach roses containing rice to decoration guest.

The three tiered white cake decorated with live roses, carnations, greenery and baby's breath was served by Mrs. Cindy Orlando, cousin of the bride, Miss Trisha Robinson and Miss Perri Doyle.

After a wedding trip, the couple will be residing in Tallahassee, Florida.

Gayfers manager promoted

Gayfers Manager Jim Reese has been appointed president of the six-store Gayfers Division based in Montgomery, Alabama.

He has been replaced by Wayne Gregory, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Gregory of Mt. Vernon and merchandise coordinator of the Montgomery Gayfers.

The transition will result in no changes at the Tusculoo store, which employs 300 people, Reese said.

Gregory

Gregory graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1986. He worked with Mercantile's McAlpin's stores until moving to Montgomery in 1987. He is married and has five children.

Mercantile's other store groups are Bacons, Root's, Castner Knott Co.

A trade publication says Mercantile had the highest profitability of department store chains in 1986 and 1987, Reese said.

Mystery! Saturday, October 14 at 9 p.m. on KET

Diana Rigg, perhaps best known for her portrayal of Emma Peel on the Avengers, is the new host of Mystery!, replacing Vincent Price. The 10th season of Mystery! premieres on KET Oct. 14 with the eight-part series "Campion." The newest super-sleuth to be portrayed in the series, Campion is an enigmatic investigator who courts danger and intrigue. He often lands in tight spots, but with wit, charm, and a deceptive naiveté, he manages to foil his enemies. Campion pursues his adventures with the aid of a loyal—but disrespecful—emancipated manservant, Magerfonten Lugg, and close friend Inspector Oates.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

Why is it that people can understand the nature of authority in everyday life, but not in religion? For instance, if little Johnny was told to go to the store to buy some milk and he came back with milk and a candy bar, would not he get in trouble? Or suppose you go to a catalogue store and ordered a lawnmower, but when you went to pick it up, they had a lawnmower, plus a TV set. Would you not say, "I didn't order that" and would only what you asked for? We can see the nature of authority in these sorts of everyday activities but why not in religious matters? The truth of the matter is that God deals with us in the same way in the Bible.

God tells us the kind of music he wants in the New Testament, but some want to add something else. In Mt. 26:30, Ac 16:25, I Cor. 14:15, Rm. 15:9, Eph. 5:19, Col. 3:16, Hchs. 2:12, Jms. 5:13, God tells us that the music vocal music or singing. No where in the N.T. is instrumental music authorized by God to be used in worship to God. God has not "ordered" such in worship, people ought to have the conviction to "take it back." If a person added coke and hamburgers on the Lord's table such was not "ordered" by God, people would have to "take it back" in order to be pleasing to God. You see to go beyond what is written and to introduce such things in worship is iniquity or lawlessness. I Jn. 9:10, Mt. 7:23, II Thes. 2:7. Jesus said, "But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men." Mt. 15:9.

Quoting O.T. passages to authorize instrumental music in worship will not be sufficient; for the O.T. law was done away with and is no longer binding. Col. 2:14, Rm. 7:4, Heb. 8:6-13, II Cor. 3:6-12. Claiming the instrument is an aid is not sufficient, any more to say that coke and hamburgers on the Lord's table is an aid in the Lord's Supper. When we go to a restaurant and "order" our meal, do we not want what we order and nothing else? Why can't God "order" what he wants in worship and then we give him what he wants? Friends, don't be deceived into thinking that God will be satisfied with whatever we give him in worship, for he will not. Mt. 15:9.

"Like Sherwood Anderson's Winesburg, Ohio or Hemingway's Nick Adams stories, both of which it resembles in form and style, Kinfolk is a short-story cycle dramatizing the growth of a young boy to early manhood, particularly as his development is reflected in changing relationships within a large Appalachian family. Like that of his mentors, Norman's work is novelistic in scope while preserving in the individual episodes the essential qualities of the short story. . . . This new work can only enhance his reputation by suggesting that Norman may be the outstanding Appalachian storyteller of his generation."

The Courier-Journal

"Ten spare stories, set in eastern Kentucky, which revolve around the relationships over two decades of a poor working-class hill family. All the stories stay on the surface, but the surface is a telling, rich one of everyday speech and gestures. . . . Mr. Norman is especially good at writing about the high currents of feeling that perpetually anger and annoy close members of a family."

The New Yorker

"This is a special book, sometimes hilarious, sometimes bittersweet."
