Duties of the 4-H officers

President

1. Preside at the 4-H club meeting.
2. Make sure all officers are ready for the meeting and have their duties prepared.
3. Announce 4-H meetings and encourage participation.

Vice-President

1. Fill in when the president is absent.
2. Make assignments for persons to do the American Pledge and the 4-H Pledge, at least the day before the meeting.
3. Assist the president and encourage participation at 4-H meetings.

Secretary

1. Keep notes during the 4-H meeting, of who was in the program and who participated in any 4-H events that month. Tell how many participated in the meeting and how many were present.
2. Write the minutes of the meeting and record in your 4-H Secretary's Book. You should do this as soon as the meeting is over so you will remember what went on.
3. Call the roll/have members answer by 4-H project, favorite color, pet, etc.
4. Read the minutes of each meeting.

Sample of Minutes:

The regular meeting of the Cloverleaf 4-H club was held at Trigg Elementary School at 2 p.m., on October 14, 1988. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Jim Gray and the 4-H Pledge by Mary Fox. Thirty members were present at our last meeting. Minutes were read and approved.

Jane Redd won a blue ribbon award on her poster. There were 15 members who participated in the poster contest.

Mrs. Oliver told us about our next month's meeting and explained how to prepare for the upcoming 4-H talk meet.

The meeting was adjourned at 2:45 p.m.

Reported by Sally Jones,

Secretary

Activity Leader

1. Plan a quiet game that the whole group can do.
2. Sing a song.
3. You will not have time each month for recreation, but your club leader will let you know when to plan the activity.

Pledge Leader

1. Lead the club in the 4-H Pledge and Pledge of Allegiance to begin each meeting.
- Who Makes A Good Officer?
  1. A person interested in 4-H.
  2. Someone who makes good grades and has time for extra activities.
  3. Someone who can speak with a good, clear, loud voice.

Fishing picking up during fall of year

Autumn in Kentucky is a great time to wet a line and try for muskie, trout, black bass and crappie along shoreline cover.

As days shorten and colorful leaves lose their hold on woody branches, cooling water temperatures bring fish into shallow water to feed.

Beginning in September, muskie anglers can find toothy lunkers near points, bars and humps and in timbered coves adjacent to deep water. Normally a deep-water fish, muskie will spend more time in shallow-water feeding areas throughout fall, searching for bait fish.

This offers the muskie angler an excellent chance to connect with this species on large medium-running crankbaits and bucktail spinners. At times, top water plugs will also draw a smashing strike from this often ferocious game fish.

The minimum size limit on muskie is 30 inches, and only two may be creel per day.

Cave Run Lake, near Morehead, and Green River Lake, just south of Campbellsville are home to Kentucky's top two muskie fisheries; in fact, Cave Run is considered one of the top muskie lakes in the nation. Buckhorn Lake in Perry County is another spot where fall anglers can find muskie fishing opportunities.

Whether cooked over a campfire or on the kitchen range, crappie sizzling in a skillet appeals to just about everyone, and Kentucky anglers can take home a mess of crappie any time of the year.

In early fall, try fishing minnows around submerged trees, sticks and brush attractor sites. As water temperatures fall into the 60 degree range, crappie start feeding more actively in preparation for winter's leaner times.

Daddy's Girl

By: Lewis Bowling
1989

I watched you when you came into this world
A cute little baby girl
As my heart began to swell
Daddy's girl I wanted to yell.

As your hair grew longer
And began to curl,
There you were still
Daddy's girl.

I watched you grow and learn
O the world,
I was so proud
Of daddy's girl.

Now you are grown, and out on your own
With a husband, children and a home
There is no one in the whole wide world,
Can compare with daddy's girl.

Your brothers I love with all my heart,
Yet there is no one can start
To set my heart all awirl
As you, daddy's girl.

You are kind, good and true,
To all the people who know you,
To the one who lives above
The God of peace, joy and love.

Some day when this life is o'er
And I reach that golden shore,
I shall stand inside that gate of pearl
To welcome you home, daddy's girl.

(Written for my daughter's birthday August 24, 1989)

Smokey the Bear

By: Mayzell Ries

I went to work as usual today,
and what to my surprise
I saw a big brown fur bear with big brown eyes.

His feet was big and furry
as the fur upon his chest
He walked around greeting the people and then he'd stop and rest.

He wasn't a very hostile bear
he was gentle so it seemed
I got a closer look and realized he was the bear of my dreams.

He was Smokey, Smokey, the bear,
with ranger Jones by his side
A friend to one and all he walked with pride.

They visited all the stores in town and they got their picture took
Some of the parents brought their kids
So they could get a look

Smokey, we hope you come back and see us again
We want you to know
you'll always be our friend.

'Weight Problems'

By: Mayzell Ries

Did you ever seem to notice
That no matter what you put on your plate
You always seem to gain
That dreadful, awful weight

You try to cut down
On the food you eat,
But you just can't stay away
From potatoes and meat

And oh! those luscious desserts
Like pies and dreamy cakes
Cookies and whipped cream
And all the good stuff that bakes

We go on all kinds of diets,
To try to get rid of fat
But as soon as we take another bite,
We gain it all right back.

Waitresses

By: Mayzell Ries

Hello, may I take your order please?
Yes, fix me a burger,
with tomato and cheese

Anything to drink sir?
coffee with steam
Dessert? Apple pie
with plenty of whipped cream

Check, please,
he left no tip.
Hey mister,
I think I'll skip

The service was poor
the burger cold
The apple pie
was covered in mold

The coffee cold
the service poor
I don't think
I'll eat here anymore

You must of liked it
you eat every bite
Not leaving a tip
you did it for spite

We work hard
standing all day
This is really work
not just mere child's play

Our feet hurt
and ankles swell at night
By the end of the day
we're really a sight

If you want to trade jobs
just say the word
Don't tell me I can't do yours
because that's absurd.

We take a lot from
the customers here
They try to pinch or flirt
and sometimes call you dear

We listen to their troubles
when we've got troubles of our own
Rrrring, I've got to go
I hear the phone

We take messages
and pass them along
We go home and get ready for work
the next day
And get ready to hear their same old song

So if you think
a waitress job is easy to do
Try doing it one day
and you'll be tired too

Commendations given RCHS students in 1990 Merit program

Principal Ronnie Cash, of Rockcastle High, announced today that John Adams, Coci Lanville, Angela McKinney and Kevin Rowe have been named Commended Students in the 1990 National Merit Scholarship Program. A Letter of Commendation from the school and National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the competition, will be presented to these outstanding seniors.

About 35,000 Commended Students nationwide are being honored for their outstanding performance on the 1988 PSAT/NMSQT, which ranks them in the top five percent of more than one million students who entered the 1990 Merit Program by taking the qualifying test. Commended Students scored slightly below the level required to continue in the 1990 competition for Merit Scholarships, but they have shown exceptional academic promise.

An official of the Merit Program stated that "to be designated a Commended Student in this extremely competitive program is an attainment deserving of public recognition and is a credit to these young people and their schools. Commended Students were included in a Merit Program service through which they could be referred to two colleges or universities of their choice. We hope that the referral service and the recognition they are now receiving will enhance the higher education opportunities of Commended Students and increase their motivation to use their abilities to the fullest." The continued educational and personal development of academically talented students will benefit the entire nation.

Your Child's Health

By: Dr. John Payne

Questions about sleeping patterns are some of the most commonly asked by parents of young infants. It has long been believed, and indeed suggested by physicians, that feeding cereal before bedtime will keep an infant's tummy full longer and allow him or her to sleep longer. This would seem to make sense, and indeed is common practice.

However, in a recent study in Cleveland, infants were either started on rice cereal at bedtime at five weeks of age or at four months. It was found that there was no relationship in sleeping patterns between the two groups. Infants usually slept six consecutive hours by twelve weeks of age, and eight hours by twenty weeks, regardless of feeding patterns.

Indeed, there are many beliefs about babies' sleeping patterns that have not been studied scientifically. It is sometimes said that a child who does not sleep much may be more likely to be of superior intelligence. While this may be of comfort to a frustrated mother, I know of no studies to back it up. It is also said that those who sleep a lot may have a more easy-going and relaxed personality. There are lots of questions looking for answers.

Sweet & Sour

By: Zi Graves

Last spring while the woods were still bare and the ground cover was all dead I sang a very sour song. It was about how terrible 1249 looked with all the fill of dump and wayside trash exposed. I guess everyone's fifth looks worse when it is exposed. But the roads we travel most and is closest to our hearts look the worst.

Now that time has changed and the melody is sweet. The Sand Springs Road or 1249 is beginning to be one of the prettiest in the county. At least it is now with the leaves putting on their fall clothes of so many colors and the wayside flowers, goldenrod and gentians blooming along the roadside to cheer our hearts while they cover some ones careless act or an innocent soul.

The dump sites seem to have been cleaned up. And, more people are fixing up their places. There are more flowers and mowed lawns to be seen. Fences are being built and more painting is taking place. Lawn furniture is appearing in attractive places. All this has made me want to do more to my place.

When I drive to town now I love to just iddle along and absorb the beauty. A few years ago I returned from a motor trip through the north east to see their fall foliage. It's supposed to be the prettiest in the world. Well, guess what, when I returned and drove into Mt. Vernon over 1249 my heart missed a beat. This was the most beautiful scene I had experienced on the 2000 plus miles that I had just traveled. Goes to prove, "grass is not always greener on the other side." Let's continue to take care of what we have at home and attract some of those tourists to our area. Wow! I'm pleased with our 1249 or Sand Springs Road.

"You all come". And if you bring enough food I'll guarantee you won't go away hungry. If it's raining come anyway. I do live in a house that can be used for any occasion. It's heard the laughter of a young adult party and the giggling plans for a mature wedding, all in the last few months. Now lets see how it will respond to the sighs and groans of yet another age group.

I'm not sure if I should have a quick tune up on the piano for an old fashioned e-log dance or roll-out more couches and easy chairs.

Our spirit, I'm sure prefers the music but our flesh will in all probability seek out the recliners. Any way, to each his own. I have both available.

Let's just make this the best Friday 13th we've ever had. Of course I can't do that for my best friend's 13 was in August 41 years ago. That's when my Polly Lynn was given to me. Thank you God for that gift.

Oops! Please note!

I goofed last week. I looked at the wrong month on the calendar and came up with the 8th instead of the good old Friday 13th for our A.A.R.P. yearly picnic. It will be held at my place on 1249 and I hope you can make it by noon. The days are shorter, and the 16 miles to my place is so pretty you will want plenty of time for sight seeing.

I live the third house on the right after you pass the Buffalo Church. About two miles there is a circle drive in front of my house with stone chimney facing the drive.

Mt. Vernon may annex Renfro Valley

By: Jim Griesch
The way has been opened for the city of Mt. Vernon to annex Renfro Valley at a future date.
Gary Cromer, Mt. Vernon's mayor, told the city council Monday night that a tentative agreement had been reached with Renfro Valley Folks, Inc., officials, during a meeting last week.
The foundation for any future annexation comes, literally, through the sewers.
Cromer said that Renfro Valley, which has been trying to put together its own sewer plant, has requested the city's help in acquiring a $400,000 grant to build the plant.

The mayor said about half of the money would come through an Appalachian Regional Commission grant that Renfro has already applied for, and more would come from a proposed Urban Development Block Grant, leaving about $60,000 to $90,000 that Renfro and other businesses from I-75 to Renfro would put in the form of personal guarantees and mortgages.
The council agreed to help Renfro based on the additional money being put up for guarantees.

Cromer said after the meeting that the annexation would be an extension of the proposed annexation plan, which has Mt. Vernon picking up huge amounts of land along US 25, to Exit 62 of I-75, on both sides of KY 461 by-pass north and west of the city, and an industrial park south of US 150, on the southwest corner of Mt. Vernon.
Other parcels are also included in the proposed annexation.
But, the current annexation plan won't be voted on until the November, 1990, election, because the issue wasn't ready for this year's elections 60 days prior to Nov-7 election day. That means it could be possible to add Renfro to the 1990 proposal. It might also mean that any annexation would not come until 1991 or later.

Cromer said that state officials had written Renfro in late August, telling them to cease construction on their sewer plant.
Since then, he said, Renfro had hired an engineer to work through their problems.

Basically, Cromer said, the state told Renfro that if Mt. Vernon would accept Renfro as a sewer customer, the state would allow Renfro to resume construction on its sewer project.
The council accepted Renfro as a customer, based on receiving some technical information from the recreational site's owners.
That information includes anticipated flow rates, which are commercially or privately owned, maps of all new construction, specs of the piping and materials, and the operational dates of any pump stations which might be built.

Additionally, the city seeks information on surface water runoffs, the source of Renfro's water supply, the needed state permits, and exactly which property from Renfro would be annexed into Mt. Vernon.
Cromer said after Monday's council meeting that the original annexation idea for Renfro included all property north along US 25 to property owned by the Christian Appaltion Project.

'Here!' cries still continue to rise

By: Richard Anderkin
Last year's record high attendance for Rockcastle County schools apparently was no fluke.
The 95% attendance by students during the 1988-89 school year is continuing in the 1989-90 school year with even higher percentages being reported.
At Tuesday's regular monthly meeting of the Rockcastle County board of education, Superintendent Bige Towery told board members that students showed up for school 97.6% of the time during the first 30 days of school.
"That kind of attendance is almost unheard of in southeastern Kentucky," commented Brodhead Principal Tom Payne, who was present at the meeting, which was held in the school's library.
Leading the way in attendance so far this year is Livingston school with 98.2% of their students showing up for class. 98.1% of Mt. Vernon elementary school students attended during the first month, while Round next had a 97.8% mark and Brodhead a 97.7% attendance average.
What pleased Towery and the board the most was the continuing good attendance at the high school where 96.7% of 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th graders went to school during the first 30 days.
The attendance at the high school has been as low as 92% in recent years.
After 25 years of service, adult education teacher Mrs. Verla Spott is retiring.
Superintendent Towery made the announcement Tuesday, along with a recommendation that the local school system drop their adult education program for this year and give the money they receive from the state to the Family Life Center School.
Towery said that he thought the Family Life Center had an excellent program that was filling the need in the county and that there is no reason to compete with them in that specific area.
The board voted to give the FLC school the $22.216 that the school system would have used on their own program, but they also retained the right to review their decision in a year.
In an effort to save as much money as possible and get the best quality, the school board voted to reject all bids for new furniture for the new Mt. Vernon Elementary School.
The board's decision came after Towery recommended that they do so, because he thought the bids they had received were too high.
Before the new school can open all new furniture must be purchased, but Towery said there was plenty of time to get the furniture in. The new bids will be opened at the November Excavation began recently for the new post office in Mt. Vernon, located at Richmond and Lewis Sts. The new facility is expected to be completed next March. The cost has been put at $329,659, and DWB Builders of Flat Lick is the general contractor. Adequate parking is expected to be one of the features of the new post office. The current office on Main St. lacks parking, both for customers and mailmen, and mail service trucks.

Help on roads promised by court

By: Jim Griesch
Roads took up most of Tuesday's 45-minute Fiscal Court meeting.
Zoe Ann Meadows, Larry Nicely, Ebb Allen and Phil Danson all asked the court for help on various projects.
Meadows asked about a bridge across a creek on Copper Creek Rd., citing high water, ice and access problems during winter and especially rainy times.
She was told that such a bridge was already on the work order, and would be addressed when possible.
Larry Nicely asked about a road not being covered with gravel for the last eight years.
The road, in magistrate Jack Bradley's district, is not graveled because of a gate across the road.
Amos Burdette told Nicely that a law prohibits road crews from graveling past a closed gate.
But, the court promised to see that gravel would be put on the road at the point gravel is left off up to the gate.
Allen asked the court to take over, and gravel, a road that he will straighten out through two S-curves, and put a 48-inch culvert across this month.
The court agreed to accept the road when finished, and to gravel it when they take over, which would be by the November meeting of the court.
Allen said two houses are already on the road, a third will go when he moves there, and a fourth is planned in the area.
The court told him that the roads meet county-control limits with the two houses already there.
Danson asked for help in gaining access to main roads in the Putnam Bridge Rd. area.
Danson is doing some logging on his land, but has no way to major roads except through forestry service land.
Members of the court told him he would have to be allowed access off, since land could not be "land locked."
Three other projects were added to the County Road Work Program.
They are:
• 300 feet of the Nancy Henry Rd.,
• 400 feet of the Mark Turner Rd., and
• four-tenths of a mile of the Willie Taylor Lane Rd.
In a road-related matter, the court agreed to co-op a bridge over Otis Miracle Rd (CR 59). The state will pay 80 percent of the costs, the county 20 percent.
In other business, the court agreed to pay Madison Termite Co. to spray the top two floors of the courthouse, and to make periodic return visits.
Paul Burton of Madison Termite quoted a price of $350 for all three floors.
The price for doing two floors will be one-third less.
The bottom floor will not be sprayed for roaches because jailer Billy Kirby asked that the jail not be

Three get 'on-line' Lotto games

Three Rockcastle businesses will have the "on-line" computerized Lottery machines Oct. 16, when the state's $1 million weekly Lotto Kentucky begins.
The three are:
• Convenient Food Mart on Richmond St., Mt. Vernon.
• Peg's Food Mart on US 150, near Exit 59 to I-75.
• And, Renfro Valley Shell, on US 25 near Exit 62 to I-75.
Bobby Cummins, manager of the Brodhead Convient store said he still has hopes his store will have the computerized ticket distribution service by mid-October.
But, his store was not on a list supplied by the Kentucky Lottery Corp., headquarters in Louisville.
Those stores, plus all others in the county who wish to do so, will continue to distribute the several "instant" winner, rub-off games with top prizes of between $1,000 and $15,000.

Vicki Dennis, the media representative for the Lottery Corp., said of the rub-off games, "We will still have instant games, they are an important part of Lottery."
A second computerized game, SuperSports (which will be based on the point spreads of National Football League games) will begin Oct. 18.
Customers who participate in either of the computerized games will follow these procedures:
• They will ask the attending store clerk for a play slip, which the customer will fill out.
• The customer will give the clerk the play slip, which is inserted into the "on-line" machine, which will read the slip and deliver a Lottery ticket within about 10 seconds, said Dennis.

The ticket will be mandatory in claiming any prizes, said Dennis.
The play slip will be given to the customer, which could come in handy, keeping up with the weekly winning numbers, but will not be negotiable tender in claiming a prize.
Only a winning "ticket" will be accepted.
The "on-line" game will be called Lotto Kentucky. To win, the customer picks six numbers from 1 to 42.
The cost is $1 for one play, $2 for three plays, and $5 for eight, per ticket.
The SuperSport ticket will allow customers to pick point spreads in four: five, six, 10 or 14 games.
Lotto Kentucky numbers will be televised state-wide at 7:28 p.m., each

Saturday, and the drawing can be seen locally over WKYT-TV, Channel 27, in Lexington.
The SuperSport game, similar to a game already begun in Oregon, faces a lawsuit filed by several groups involved in Kentucky's thoroughbred industry.
Lottery officials said at the end of September that the first six months of lottery games in the state had reached the $175,550,000 mark.
Additionally, the current $2 scratch-off game, "LottaGold," will provide additional winning chances for those holding losing tickets.
As with other recent "lottery" tickets, customers will be allowed to send in three losing tickets for a daily drawing, which began Monday.
Names drawn each day will receive 1,000 quick pick tickets for a

Six cases left on special docket

The end is in sight for the on-going special docket in Rockcastle District Court.
The special docket, which was instituted on May 31 by Kentucky Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert Stephens to wipe out a backlog of DUI cases, now has just six cases left.
When trials were first held in July, there were some 80-plus cases involving 155 charges.
Court officials said Tuesday that the last six would begin to be taken care of October 17-18, in the next session of the special docket.

Half a dozen cases have gone to trial, while many others have been taken care of through a bench trial, where a suspect has pleaded guilty, paid a fine, and/or lost a license for a number of days, and made other commitments, such as attending a traffic school.
Other cases have been taken care of in a variety of ways, including dismissal of charges because a particular suspect is already serving time elsewhere on other convictions.
Since August 1, a more vigorous approach to speedy trials and clearing the dockets has taken place.

County Attorney James Lambert said that since August 1, "eight to ten trials" for DUI have been held in regular sessions of District Court.
District Court has already been expanded to four days a week, with other Judge Walter McGuire or William Cain, presiding.
Lambert handles arraignments on Mondays and Wednesdays, and either Lambert or recently-hired Assistant County Attorney Jack Faust prosecutes on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Faust has been working Tuesdays only since his hiring as a part-time assistant this past summer.
Several DUI or alcoholic intoxication cases have already been scheduled for trial later this fall.
In June, Stephens appointed Fayette County Attorney Norrie Wake as special prosecutor, and Jefferson District Court to act as judge.
Fayette Assistant Attorney Jim Capillo has done the bulk of the prosecuting, and Judge Donald L. Smalley has heard the bulk of the cases.

Tonight as I was getting ready to run into town for some odds and ends, my wife asked if I'd mind picking up something for breakfast.

"Be more specific," I told her. "Do you want eggs or pancakes? sausage or Bacon?" Because when you get away from those staples you're just about covered the breakfast realm in my experience if you assume that gray and biscuits are taken for granted.

"Bagels," she said to me. "I want milk and bagels." I ought to be used to it by now because Loretta has been buying bagels for breakfast as long as I've known her. She lived in New Jersey for several years and got hooked on 'em. So did the kids. Bagels are what they want for breakfast three or four times a week. I have never, and not so affected.

Before I met Loretta I had some bagels on the bakery racks at some of the big chain food stores. I had even picked them out and decided that they were doughnuts that had turned out bad. Too hard and heavy to be fit to eat. Especially at breakfast. I've since learned that they are also tough as leather. Got a loose tooth. Just bite into a bagel and pull real hard.

Not only do I want bagels. They want them onion flavored. No one can do it better than onions. No better than I do. I often eat slices of bread and cold corn bread for a snack. Dinner is never served at our place unless there's an onion on the table. There ain't nothing any better at lunch for me than a Dixie Lufz sandwich with a big slice of onion on it. I could get by on plain old onion sandwiches if I had that but not for breakfast. I'll eat canteloupe, tomatoes and fried taters, if I have to, but I don't want no onions with my eggs.

If something flavored with onions is all I could find to eat for breakfast, I'd just put off eating it till lunch time.

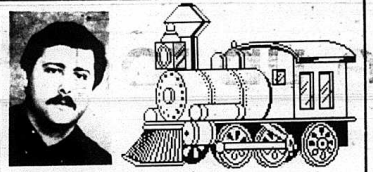

But there's a lot of people that aren't as particular about what they eat as I am. Sushi bars are a good example of that. The Japanese folks make mighty fine cameras and electronic equipment, but they've got a long way to go when it comes to fixing fish.

I'd been told that Sushi was in fact, raw fish, but I still figured it was steamed a little or pickled before I recently visited a restaurant that specialized in Sushi. Not so. When it comes out of the water, it's ready to eat whether it's still flopping or not. If it swims in the ocean it qualifies as Sushi. When they say raw, they mean raw. And I'll tell you, two thirds of what I saw wasn't anything that I would have tried even if I had been fried.

The Bible says that Jesus fed a multitude with seven loaves and a few fish. I've figured out how He did it. He cut the fish up into Sushi. At least one little piece was all it took to fill me up. The more I chewed it, the bigger it got. I picked it up with a tooth pick but it was like trying to swallow a whole roll of bologna.

Loretta says I'm just trying to narrow myself out of anything new. But that's simply not true. We never ate any Alaskan King crab legs on Blair Branch when I was growing up and I love 'em. I was in college before I'd even went to an Oriental, french or Italian restaurant and that's when I want to wind up when we go out to eat. I don't care how broad minded anybody is, raw fish is still raw fish. The next time you're cleaning fish, slice you up a piece and pop it in your mouth. Chew it up real well, then spit it out. I mean and tell me how good it was.

And instead of doing your morning aerobics, get yourself a couple of bagels for breakfast. If you succeed in chewing them up enough to swallow, you'll have had the exercise you need before going to work.

By: Richard Anderkin
Managing Editor

After John Brock's announcement Tuesday that he would seek the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senator from Ky., I'm wondering what incumbent Mitch McConnell will come up with now to keep his name in print and on the tube.

McConnell's latest attempt was his recommendation to Congress that a speciality factory workers that carry any aircraft that is suspected of transporting drugs.

That recommendation is absolutely ludicrous, but did get McConnell a spot on a morning talk newspaper and a lot of hype in national newspapers.

McConnell is obviously worried about his re-election effort because of the fact that he doesn't have a strong Republican presidential candidate to follow into office. He is pretty much on his own this time, except for the four million dollar war chest he has to campaign with.

Anyway you look at it something has to be wrong with having that kind of money to spend on a Ky. senate race.

In most cases, people these days don't give something, especially money, without expecting something in return. It certainly makes me wonder who and how many have strong hold over McConnell.

Of course McConnell has his fans. Especially in this die-in-the-wool Republican county, that say he has been very instrumental in saving the tobacco program and I guess he has. But, what Senator for Ky. wouldn't do everything in their power to help tobacco farmers in a tobacco state. Being the conservative Republican that I was raised to be, I guess it is sort of aggravating to see what kind of dilemma the national Republican party has helped cause for the poor people in this county.

For instance, just in Rockcastle County, there are about 4,000 people that receive food stamps now, compared to around 3,500 eight years ago. And earlier this year our Republican candidate vetoed a minimum wage increase that was approved by Congress. Either I wasn't listening or the President's reasoning just didn't stick with me.

That increase would have made a lot of difference to me, well, then especially factory workers that start their jobs at minimum wage pay.

With increases in the cost of living it would be extremely hard for a family to get by on two minimum wage paying jobs, just what Rockcastle County families do just that every month.

While vetoing the wage increase bill, Bush is in favor of bringing back the capital gains tax to help his rich friends.

Bush's predecessor, also enacted a new tax code that allows people who make the most money to pay less tax.

What it entails is if you, make for instance, over $75,000 a year you pay 33% income tax and if you make over $100,000 pay only 28%. Most of Bush's and Reagan's big supporters make over $100,000. I'm sure.

I know that all of the economic problems that the less fortunate face cannot be blamed on the Republicans, but I also know that it seems the rich are getting richer under the Republican policies and the poor are getting poorer.

Of course that is only an observation and the Democrats cannot come up with a better candidate for President than the last two they have had, then we will continue under Republican rule, a reign which has seen 25 billion dollars cut from housing projects and tremendous increases in defense spending.

One thought that might help the hungry and homeless is to take the money for education improvements that Congress gives itself to spend on sending you letters telling you what a good job they are doing in Washington, which amounts to mil-

Thanks, students

Dear Adult Education Students: I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your participation in adult education classes for the past twenty-four years. During those years I have seen many students from Rockcastle County develop and pursue new areas of education and career advancements. I believe that you have not only fulfilled an educational goal, but you have set an example for your family and your children. As I have often told my own children, and as I have told you, an education is something no one can ever take from you. Think about it!!!

Each of you has proven to yourself that, yes, you can do it. Please, encourage those around you that have not taken the necessary steps to finish their education to do so, and for those who are in school now to stay there. Without an educated workforce, we must all pay the price.

I resigned from my position as adult education teacher Sept., 19. Even though I am no longer teaching in the classroom, I will remain an educator for life, as all of us do.

My sincerest thanks, appreciation and admiration goes to all of you who did take the step for a second chance in education. I commend each of you on receiving your GED.

I want to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Nurel Miracle and Charlie B. Parsons, our former Superintendent of Schools, for all the help and encouragement that they have given me through the years. I appreciate both of them.

50th birthday

Dear Editor:
The 50th anniversary of the first show from the Old Barn at Renfro Valley will occur on Nov. 4 of this year. It was on that date in 1939 that John Lair stepped to the microphone on the stage of the Old Barn for the first time and welcomed radio listeners to the Renfro Valley Barn Dance. We are looking for people who attended that first show and would like to include their remembrances of that special night in the November issue of the Renfro Valley Bugle.

If you attended the first show at Renfro Valley on Nov. 4, 1939 and would like to share your memories with our readers, would you please contact me at 256-2679 by Oct. 24. Or drop me a note at Renfro Valley. Thank you.

Class 9 protection

Dear Chief Cox: We have completed our evaluation of the Mt. Vernon-Rockcastle County Fire Protection Area for a fire insurance classification. We can now advise that the fire insurance classification for those areas within your jurisdiction which are within five road miles of your fire station has improved to Class 9. Any areas within your jurisdiction but beyond five road miles from the fire station will remain Class 10.

The fire insurance classification is one of many factors used in developing individual fire insurance costs. It is not for property loss prevention or life safety purposes and no life safety or property loss prevention recommendations are, or will be, made.

We have initiated procedures for the referenced classification change and will implement it effective Oct. 1, 1989.

For applicable loss cost changes, consult with local insurance agent. If you should have any questions concerning the new classification, please let us know.

Very truly yours,

Around Brodhead

By: Mary McWhorter

Paul Belcher of Ohio was in Brodhead one day last week visiting David and Jane Cash and others, also inquiring about a lot more. I sure would have liked to have seen him, also I would like to see his mother Mary Bell and daughters, Wilma, Lorene and husband Glen Reynolds and Geneva. So if you're in Brodhead, just come by.

Mrs. Velma Croley Pingleton of Cincinnati, Ohio spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. Cuba Croley and took her for her doctors appointment in Lexington. She received a good report for a 90-year old lady. We hope she continues to do well.

Coyt Croley and wife Irene of Cold Springs spent a few days this week with Mrs. Croley and also visited me. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson and grandchildren, and Kitty of Rochester, Ind., spent last week with her father Roy Hubbard and wife Esther. Others visiting the Hubbards last week were Eva Woodall and sons Frank and J. D. of Brodhead, Bessie Hubbard of Lebanon, Ohio and McVinn Hubbard of Covington.

Mrs. Esther Hubbard spent Thursday Sept. 28th at the Berea Hospital getting more test and x-rays.

Monday visitors of mine were Coyt and Irene Croby of Cold Springs, Gatliff Craig, Brenda and Stephanie Bradley.

A bus load of Senior Citizens motored to London Friday to play games, winning prizes and had two great meals, breakfast and dinner. There were around to hundred from twelve different counties. Everyone enjoyed the occasion very much, the Gospel Singing and the good meals. Mrs. Burkhardt was among the winners of second prize. There were lots of pretty quills and also some of them enjoyed horse shoes, checkers and shuffle board. There were a lot of pictures taken. John Henry Northern won the prize in the checker game. All in all, they had a good time.

Mrs. Julia Hunt and her daughter Ona K. Owens and daughter Angela and Mrs. Lou Payne were in Frankfort visiting Mrs. Ann Gill and Mr. Gill. Ann is recuperating well from a broken hip.

Miss Audrey Fletcher is recuperating well from surgery.

Fairview News

By: Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Rev. Harvey Pensol filled his regular appointment at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend. One hundred thirty three persons attended Sunday School with several more for "Worship Services." We're always so thankful for everyone who attends.

Our glorious revival with Rev. Jack Bruce closed Friday night. We thank God for the one profession of faith and the large number of rededications. A revival means "to be revived" and I think our people were really revived during this series of meetings. Bro. Bruce is a dedicated and devoted Man of God. He has a unique way of presenting his messages to the people. It was such a joy to sit and listen to him. Several of us attended every service. I'm sure every person who attended enjoyed hearing Bro. Bruce (I know I did). Our prayer for Bro. Bruce, our pastor, and all other ministers who are preaching the Word of God, is that God will bless them in the great work they are doing. We are thankful for all who attended, and a special thanks go to all our visitors during this time. We at Fairview try to be a compassionate people and love our fellowman, and we say to each of you, any time you can visit us at Fairview, just come on, you will always be welcome.

Our deepest heartfelt sympathy goes to the family of John Adams who died Friday in Richmond Nursing Home. May God bless and comfort his loved ones.

Connie Adams of LaGrange, Ga. is here visiting her mother Janet Ridgell and family and other relatives and friends. She is here due to the death of her father.

Fall beef herd management demonstration

By: Tom Mills
County Demonstration Agent
for Rockcastle

The Rockcastle County Beef Association in conjunction with the Kentucky Beef Cattle Association and Crawford Farms will host a fall Beef Herd Management Demonstration on Thursday, October 12, 1989 at 6 p.m.

Crawford farms is located three miles east of Brodhead on Hwy. 1505. Programs will be held in the large metal building to avoid problems with rain and shorter day light hours this time of year.

Programs will include Dr. David Patterson on Current Beef Cattle Management Opportunities, Robby Freeman, KBCA Executive Vice President on State Beef Association Activities and membership incentives to KBCA and NCA. Tom Mills on Past/Preconditioning Demonstration results.

Demonstrations have been set up to show many of the suggested fall herd management procedures. Results will be discussed from a 28 day preconditioning trial for 30 spring born calves including 20 replacement heifers. Company representatives will discuss and demonstrate products for grub and lice control, worming, implanting, vaccinations, black leg, leptos, IBR, BVD and P13.

Discover tells about birds and bees on KET in fifth season premier

How do penguins distinguish their mates in a crowd of thousands? How soon will killer bees arrive in the United States? These questions are among the topics explored on the season premiere of Discover: The World of Science, airing on KET at 8 p.m. Wednesday, October 11. Actor Peter Graves is the host and narrator.

MVES Annual Staff chosen

The Mt. Vernon Elementary School Annual staff is elected annually. Eight grade students whose grades the previous year were all B's or higher are eligible. The student with the highest grade point average is named chair. This year's editor is Courtney Adams.

The staff works hard throughout the year. They sell ads, organize the annual, take orders for annuals, and distribute the annuals. They are to be commended for their hard work both in the classroom and on the annual staff.

Robbie Crawford, along with farm hands and company representatives, were busy September 14 weighing and working 30 spring born calves in preparation for a 28 day preconditioning demonstration. Beef farmers may see the preconditioning results and observe many of the recommended fall herd health practices at a Field Day Thursday, October 12, at 6 p.m.

EXTENSION HOME ECONOMICS
Improve your quilting

Cheryl Witt
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

With fall officially here, many persons look forward to more time for quilting and to having gardens and lawns behind them.

Whether you quilt for a pastime, for resale, for family heirlooms, or for competition, there are some qualities that will make a quilt outstanding. To achieve excellence in your quilting, here are some tips for a Blue Ribbon quilt:

1. Fabrics should be prewashed; similar in weight and texture.
2. Overall appearance should be clean, neat and tidy.

3. Balance of color within design, plus suitability of colors to the design.
4. Patchwork pieces should be cut with the grain.

5. Patchwork corners should meet evenly.
6. Piecing should be done with thread to match the darkest patch.

7. Trim evenly and press patchwork pieces toward the dark side of the seam so they will not show through.

8. If utilizing block form of construction, uniformity of block size and grainline within blocks adds to overall appearance.

9. Sashing should not wobble horizontally or vertically on the quilt. It should be straight in all directions.

10. No raw edges on appliques. Applique stitches should not have loose tension, but at consistent, even, non-puckering stitch.

11. If lighter shades are applied on top of darker shades, the lighter ones should be lined to discourage underneath colors from showing through.

12. Applique thread should match pieces of applique.
13. Buttonhole applique should have threads dangling at the raw edges.

14. The fabric used on the back should coordinate with the front.
15. Quilting stitches should be consistent, small, even running stitches on both front and back.

16. Quilts should have plenty of quilting to enhance the design.
17. The quilting pattern should complement the quilt top, adding to the overall design.

18. The quilting pattern marks should be invisible.
19. No knots or back stitches (quilting or embroidery) should be visible on the top or on the back of the quilt.

20. Traveling thread ends such as knots and strand tails where knots have been popped inside should not show on the front.
21. The binding should complement the top as part of the overall design.

22. The binding should be firm; filled with all three layers.
23. The binding should be firmly stitched and hand sewn if quilt has been hand quilted.

24. Dark top or lining should not show through the binding.
25. Binding should be made of bias

OUR WORK AND PRAYERS HAVE CREATED THE LIFE WE ENJOY

Religion teaches us to earn our bread By using hands and brains to get ahead. In offices and factories we toil. In cities, or on farms we till the soil. Because of what we've done in our careers To earn our livelihood throughout the years, Our system of free enterprise indeed Became a model for the world to head. Our House of Worship's messages explain That work we do will never be in vain; And if we've learned the lesson they convey, Then we can celebrate this Labor Day.

Work is something you can count on a trusted, lifelong friend who never deserts you. -Margaret Bourke-White

"... let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good." -Ephesians 4:28

SOME GRANDPARENTS STAY YOUNG BUT THEY ALL NEED LOVE

Grandparents, as well as other members of the older generation, come in many forms today. The traditional image of Grandpa knitting in her rocking chair and Grandpa with a long white beard and a cane may still be in effect, but it's rapidly being replaced by their going to the senior citizen's center for lunch every day, playing bingo, doing aerobics and getting involved in political issues. In any case, our House of Worship reminds us that they deserve our attention and respect. Our children should be taught at an early age to be kind and considerate to all older people, whether related to them or not, and to listen to them. Sharing ideas and activities with them is the best way to bridge the generation gap, and it can be a very rewarding experience all around. Love has no age limitation, and this is one of the finest ways of showing it.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Rockcastle Baptist to host World Mission Conference

Thirteen Southern Baptist Churches of the Rockcastle Association are participating this next week in a World Missions Conference. A banquet Saturday night at the First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon will kick off the conference and honor seven missionaries who will be speaking in the participating churches. The special speakers represent ministers in three foreign countries and 85 ethnic and cultural groups within our nation. The program, sponsored by the Rockcastle Baptist Association, is designed to acquaint the people with the mission effort in a cooperative program of ministries at home and abroad. It challenges the church to become more actively involved in their support of more than 3700 missionaries serving in over 170 foreign countries and more than 300 home missionaries engaged in meeting physical and spiritual needs of people in all 50 states of our nation. Conferences will be conducted Sunday morning and successive evenings through Wednesday at each of the following churches: Flat Rock, Brindle Ridge, Freedom, Marburg, Mt. Pleasant, Ottawa, Pine Hill, From Thursday night through Sunday night

Academic team tops Danville in TV contest

By: Jim Griesch

The first week of the academic league season was a mixed bag of ups and downs for Rockcastle County High.

The quick recall teams -- varsity and junior varsity -- began fall play by topping Clinton County, but losing to both Lincoln County and Pulaski County last Thursday in Somerset, in the first week of action in the Lake Cumberland Academic League.

But, Saturday, the trio of Chuck Mink, Chad Abney and Kevin Rowe beat Danville 190-135 in first round action of "In The Know," WLEX-TV's high school quiz show.

The contest will be aired at 2:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 11. At 2 p.m., that same day, Rockcastle will take on Frankfort Western Hills in second round play.

Croach Janet Wells said she plans to use the same three students, pending availability of Rowe. The senior academic team leader could be involved in the state football playoffs that same weekend.

Wells said she credits the teams' success on TV to a relaxed and casual attitude.

"Even in defeat, people tell us how relaxed our kids seem to be," Mrs. Wells said. "It's the same thing on TV. The Danville kids looked much tighter."

More than relaxed Mrs. Wells wants to see a second victory.

"Each time we've gone on TV (1985, 1988, and now 1989) we've won the first round, but lost in the second round. I'd like to see us get to the third round, at least just this once."

Mrs. Wells credited a quick start and a missed Danville question as key points in the contest.

"We got the first four questions, and led 60-0 after the first round," she explained. "In the fourth round, Danville got a five-point penalty for a wrong early answer, and then only got one more answer after that."

Each of the three on the TV team has ability in a different academic field.

Mink scored in science and math. Abney in math, and Rowe in history and mythology.

"Things didn't go quite so well last Thursday at Pulaski County."

The varsity quick recall team lost to Lincoln 28-4 and to Pulaski 31-6, but topped Clinton County 17-16.

Abney, Mink, Jason Wilson, Carrie Mullins and Angela McKinney keyed the team.

The JV team beat Clinton 21-9, but lost to Lincoln 27-13 and Putaski 26-14.

The top three scorers for John Wells' JVs were Matt Bryant, Scott Mullins and Marilyn Coffey.

Wells noted that Coffey carried the brunt of the scoring in the Putaski match.

The Rockcastle teams are back in action Thursday night, hosting Garrard County, Russell County and Lincoln County, in matches that begin at 5:30 at the high school.

The team will be in action all fall, leading up to the district tournament in January or February.

The district schools correspond closely to the traditional basketball districts, pitting Rockcastle, Jackson County, Clay County and Oneida Baptist against each other again.

The district journey is the first step on the road toward state supremacy in the Governor's Cup.

meeting.
In keeping with their plan to visit all of the schools in the county, the board held Tuesday's meeting at Broadhead School.
Principal Tom Hamme and assistant principal Sue Hamm gave a brief profile of the school, which included plans for the future as well as on-going activities.
Items discussed were curriculum improvement, staff development, parent involvement and drug education.

In other business the board voted to approve GED certificates for Margaret Barrett, Dawn Didonato, Mattie A. Sarge and Tammy E. Swinney.

The check presentation ceremony was held in conjunction with the Cumberland Valley ADD monthly Board of Director's meeting.

Roof to go on new grandstand

The newer, concrete grandstand at the horse showing ring at the Broadhead Fairgrounds will get a roof this winter.

The announcement came via news release from the Department of Local Government Sept. 29.

The roof will be built with the help of a $21,250 grant through the Cumberland Valley Area Development District.

Tim Schwendeman of CVADD said that construction of the 71-foot by 38-foot roof will begin as soon as bids are released, the final specs are completed, and a contractor is signed.

The roof could be in place by the end of the year, he said, if construction begins in early November, the target date.

Right now, CVADD and county officials are waiting for the paper work on the grant to be completed, but the check should arrive in County Judge-Executive Hubert Thacker's office soon, Schwendeman said.

A grant request was made in July, 1988, to CVADD, he said, and the board approved it for July, 1989, or, to be included in second-year budget projects.

The total cost of the roof is projected at $21,990, meaning that some $740 in local money will have to be found.

The concrete grandstand is the newer of two at the horse ring.
A covered seating area will help solve problems for spectators caused by both rain and the hot summer sun.

A roof might also attract other groups to put on any number of functions.
This past summer, as is usual, the ring hosted three major horse shows within a five-week period.

One of the shows was rained by rain.

KU to put up lights at intersection of US 25-KY 461

Three street lights should be in operation by the end of October at the intersection of US 25 and KY 461, just north of Mt. Vernon.

Mayor Gary Cromer made the announcement last week.
He said that Kentucky Utilities Co., will put up the poles and do the work, and the only cost to the city will come in the form of monthly electric costs, which both Cromer and KU's Jack Jones estimated wouldn't be more than $50 in any one month.

The three poles will be spread along both 461 and 25.
Jones said the placement of the poles will be:

- One right in the intersection of the two roads;
- A second on US 25, south of the intersection toward Mt. Vernon;
- And, a third on the north side of KY 461, to the west of the intersection, approximately at the bottom of the hill on 461.

The reason there is no construction cost to Mt. Vernon, said Jones, is because the project has been added to KU's street lighting plan.

He explained that the company had been waiting for the city to clear away some paper work on the project, but pointed out that a construction crew should be ready to begin work by mid-October, and be done by the end of the month.

Each 35-foot pole will be placed about five feet into the ground.

Mt. Vernon loans KHI $100,000

By: Jim Griesch

Mt. Vernon City Council voted Monday night to loan Kentucky Highlands Investment Corp., owners of the building housing Rockcastle's Manufacturing Co., $100,000 at four percent interest over 10 years.

KHI had originally asked for the money at three percent for 10 years.

The council wanted to make the loan Monday for four percent over eight years, before settling on the four percent, 10-year agreement.

The loan - which would come from an Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) would help upgrade facilities at the plant, leased by Cintas Corp. Cintas, said KHI chairman of the board Wayne Stewart, wants to add two loading and receiving docks, add 1,600 feet of floor space, and put in new equipment.

The plan here produces uniforms for Cintas employees at several of the company's plants.

The cost of the addition has been put at $800,000 for the facility, itself, and $1.1 in new equipment.

Cintas has reached an agreement with KHI to lease the building for the next seven and a half years. The company could leave before then, said Stewart, but the lease has been guaranteed for that long.

An additional 60 employees are to be hired by Cintas, bringing the total number at the plant to 248.

Stewart told the council that Cintas officials have told him the plant here is 20 percent less efficient than two others already in use.

The expansion at the plant, one of three businesses in the industrial park, would be the second within the past year.

Stewart said that Reynolds Metals, Inc., has spent $9 million, and will spend about $6 million more, on Mt. Vernon Plastics. Reynolds bought the company about 14 months ago.

Stewart told the council that Cintas Communications for a booster antennae to help mobile phones pick up and receive in the Rockcastle and Putlaski area.

The cost to the company would be $25 per month for five years.

and has issued a permit for it.

However, the city will need to buy a meter to measure CO2 residual, which monitors chlorine. He labeled the purchase, at somewhere between $1,400 and $2,100, a MUST.

But, workers at the plant say that one rotator arm on one of the pieces of machinery still scrapes the side of the pool, in which water is filtered.

Moore told the city that the particular piece of machinery has been a problem since its construction, but that the problem should be taken care of before the machinery's warranty runs out.

In the only other piece of new business, the council voted to rent space on the city water tower to Putlaski Communications for a booster antennae to help mobile phones pick up and receive in the Rockcastle and Putlaski area.

The cost to the company would be $25 per month for five years.

Annexation

But, the newest annexation proposals would "stop somewhere in Renfro," he said.

Also included in the annexation would be all businesses between the Exit 62 interchange, and Renfro Valley.

That would include some residences, a truck stop, and some empty businesses.

Cromer said that businesses along any pipeline from existing city lines to Renfro would make it mandatory for businesses and homes to tie on.

"The state would make them tie on," he said.

Annexation into Mt. Vernon would also save Renfro some utilities money, it was pointed out.

Now, if a home or business outside of Mt. Vernon ties on, the entity involved pays 150 percent of the user rates normally paid by those within Mt. Vernon city limits.

Training for parents of handicapped

Any parent/guardian of a handicapped child is eligible for training on issues of legislation, laws, rights, communication, problem solving, and educational programming relating to handicapped children.

This training will be provided by KY-SPIN (Kentucky Special Parent Involvement Network) -- a federally funded project, designed to provide information and training for parents of handicapped children across the state of Kentucky, so that these parents will know what programs are available for their children and how to access them.

Parents may take advantage of these trainings by contacting the KY-SPIN office in Louisville at (800) 525-SPIN, to participate in the trainings and/or learn the name of the KY-SPIN Regional Parent Coordinator in their region.

ROCKCASTLE

EVALUATION: If chosen to serve you as Judge/executive the next four years, there will come a time for evaluation. No doubt you will review my performance in two areas: (1) duties of the judge/executive; (2) action plan. In other words, did I carry out the duties and did I keep the promises. Both are listed below. Further, both will be posted in the judge's office as a reminder of the job to do and the promises to keep.

Action Plan

Jobs--I know firsthand the employment needs of Rockcastle County. At age fifteen, I left the state to find a job. Then, as an adult, I have driven 150 miles a day to work. I will, therefore, fight a vigorous day to day battle to recruit jobs and to maintain the jobs we now have.

Good Treatment--None of us should have to face the pangs of being ignored, of seeing our ideas discounted, or of having our needs considered unimportant. Each of us deserves to have a voice, to be given special consideration and to have our needs recognized. Since the county is yours, the Judge/executive is to serve you.

Water--A large percentage of families in Rockcastle County have no public water. Knowing firsthand the hardships of not having enough water, I intend to attack this problem immediately and forcefully if I am elected.

Roads--I was born on the banks of Crooked Creek over a mile from the nearest road. I am familiar with the road problems and needs of our county. You can be sure that if I am elected, the county road fund will be stretched toward every household in the county.

Garbage--The other person's filth is always dirtier than our own. Roadside dumps and illegal disposal is the other person's filth to each of us, and think how it looks to tourists and industrial prospects. This situation must be remedied. Also, county facilities must be maintained, kept clean and attractive.

Affordable Housing--It is my estimate that we have immediate need for 350-500 single unit owner occupied houses in the county. Developers and financial sources will be brought together and potential buyers will be sought out if I am elected to lead during the next four years.

Taxes--If I am elected in this fall's general election, I will get the most for your tax dollar, seek alternative funding for eligible items and mind the treasury on a daily basis.

Economic Development--Endeavors that introduce new dollars into the county allow for a scope of development. The expansion at Renfro Valley will tap the thousands of cars that pass on I-75 daily bringing in new money. The development of U.S. 150 will prompt building along that corridor. Promoting regionalism of business to reach the 100,000 plus population South and the 100,000 population North, both less than an hour away, will bring in new dollars. Leadership can tackle this.

Community Development--Encouraging the individual to produce by opening avenues for producing enhances any community. Assisting organizations to build, to develop, to expand, to do better to serve more promotes the common good and results in community development. This should be the commitment of any leader.

Recreation--At any age, a healthy body increases the ability to reason and function. The channeling of youthful energy through athletics improves the body and enhances the chances for success later in life. As Judge/executive, I will support the development of recreational areas throughout the county. Further, I will encourage the development of little league soccer.

Fire Protection--A ready response to fire hazards saves property and lives; it also lowers insurance rates. I will support the various fire departments if elected.

Duties of the County Judge/Executive

The 1975 Judicial Amendment and the subsequent 1976, 1978, 1980 and 1988 sessions of the Kentucky General Assembly dramatically changed the office of County Judge. Duties now include:

1. Chief executive officer of the county, executing ordinances, resolutions and contracts entered into by the Fiscal Court.
2. Organizes departments and agencies of county government for Fiscal Court approval.
3. Creates, combines or abolishes special districts, subject to Fiscal Court approval.
4. Prepares county administrative code... personnel administration, fiscal management, purchasing and general maintenance.
5. Keeps Fiscal Court informed of county operation.
6. Assures representation on boards, commissions and special districts.
7. Prepares county budget, oversees county funds, reports fiscal matters to Fiscal Court.
8. Proposes spending for general government, highways and bridges, health and sanitation.
9. Administers budget as approved by Fiscal Court.
10. Keeps Fiscal Court apprised of financial needs and conditions of the county.
11. Sees that officials, county boards, commissions and special districts that utilize county funds submit annual reports.
12. Appoints, supervises and renames county personnel with Fiscal Court approval.
13. May appoint a county police force
14. Relief of the poor.
15. Inspects the county jail.
16. May work prisoners on community service projects with the Fiscal Court approval.
17. Serves as a member of various boards.
18. Creates, combines, abolishes special districts, subject to Fiscal Court approval.
19. May perform marriages.
20. Correct any clerical error in property tax assessment.
21. Supervises specific National Guard commanders on accomplishment of specific tasks assigned by the Governor.
22. Administers oaths of office.
23. Receives petitions for elections on local questions.
24. Has the same voting privilege as any member of Fiscal Court.
25. Sets the Fiscal Court meeting dates.
26. Appoints the deputy judge and clerical assistants.

The above listing is a very broad general outline and presented only as a guide.

Palmer attends 1989 National Scout Jamboree

By: Sharon Palmer

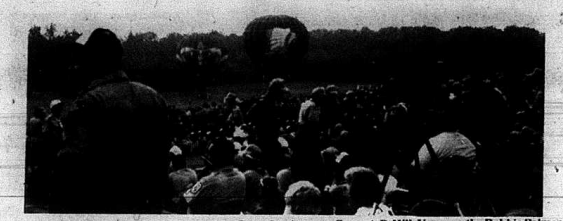

Robbie Palmer, Eagle scout with Troop 263 of Rockcastle County, son of Robert and Sharon Palmer, attended the 1989 National Boy Scout Jamboree at Camp A.P. Hill, Va. Palmer was one of 40 scouts across the Blue Grass Council that formed Troop 421 to represent the state of Kentucky at the Jamboree.

After many months of preparations, departures from Eastland Shopping Center in Lexington on July 30th was the adventure of a life time. Arriving among hundreds, a bus from across the nation carrying 42,000 scouts and 4,000 adult volunteers made Camp A.P. Hill the largest city in Virginia for the next ten days.

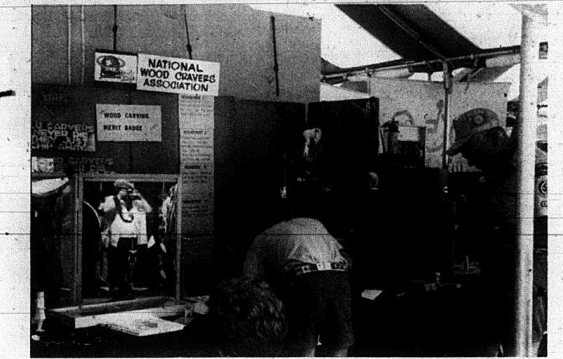

On August 2nd as the sun began to set over the Virginia hills and music began to play, an estimated 100,000 scouts and visitors rose to sing the national anthem followed by the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds, by which announced the Opening Ceremonies for the 12th National Jamboree.

The highlight of the show was when National Scouters Ben Love and Harold Hook introduced Steven Spielberg. Spielberg's life was demonstrated on screen as a youth to adult. Spielberg said "This is a great honor for me to be here today, I've got many of my own memories from the last Jamboree that I attended in 1960 in Colorado Springs.

"I've been a scout most of my life, once a scout always a scout. One of the wonderful high points for me was scouting. What was so great about it was the inroad to the motion picture career that I am now enjoying came about because of my working on photograph merit badge." Receiving the Eagle Award was Spielberg's greatest merit badge. "Scouting," he mentioned that he was proud of being a member of Order of the Arrow. If more people were in scouting, this country would be further along in the 20th century than it already is." Spielberg was awarded the Distinguished Eagle for his contribution to America and scouting. Spielberg introduced the newest merit badge to

Scouting "Cinematography" and would be at the Jamboree teaching it along with Panasonic.

The 1989 National Jamboree featured programs, activities and attractions that focused on the unique skills of Boy Scouting, on our nation's dramatic presentation of that last great frontier...space, on physical fitness, conservation, ecology, and the universal spirit of brotherhood. Each day the activities included many subjects that promised to challenge the unbounded energy of the youth. Events would provide exciting, fun-filled and rewarding experiences as scouts participated as individuals, in patrols, and as a troop.

More than 530 International Scouts from 36 different countries came to attend the Jamboree, the largest country represented was Korea with a contingent of 129.

Scouting history was made this year by the arrival of the first co-ed Explorer Scout contingent to participate in a National Jamboree. The 48 member contingent consisted of 22 young ladies, explorers have always held staff positions in Law Enforcement Security and Sea Exploring.

An order of the Arrow Indian Village was set up where you could learn how to shoot a real Cherokee blowgun under the tutelage of one of the nation's top experts learning Indian skills, games, crafts, and view Indian dancing at the village. There were 38 dancers, some of them National winners, 16 were Eagle Scouts, providing the expertise was Jess Colwell, an Apache who is the protégé of Hal Cooper, a Cherokee who is three-time National Boy Scout champion.

Exhibits of great interest were: NASA Freedom Station named for Space Station Freedom, the permanently manned orbital facility which is being developed by the U.S. and international partners, Japan, Canada and the European Space Agency. As a part of the exhibit, NASA Shuttle astronaut Bruce McCandless was the host, along with 40 other NASA employees. Another exhibit of great interest had a lot more than fish at the Fish and Wildlife Exhibit Fish Hook Lake, this was one of the great hands-on climb on, and jump into displays, catch nets, and electric shocker bait and cannon net that were found, also a rocket net on site and demonstrated. If you were ready to get wet, muddy and most of all, have a lot of fun, there was the place for you at the jam. "Challenge Valley" had 10 obstacles that were designed to get you wet, muddy, such as Glacite Creek, where you ran through a muddy pond and then there was Mutant Muck Crawl where you crawl through a mud pit under logs, plus many others, the valley was operated on patrol method, and there was even a free shower at the end of the course so if you didn't have to take the mud with you.

Recycling made history, during the Jamboree more than 1 million aluminum cans of soft drinks were consigned with the high 90 degree and heat factors over 100. Recycling camps was not a new effort for the Boy Scouts. Troops across the country have been raising monies by recycling and some have used the idea to pay for their Jamboree fees.

At the end of the National Jamboree on August 9th, the scouts from Kentucky embarked on a journey to Washington, DC and Arlington. They were treated with tours through the White House (They met President Bush at the Jamboree at Mid-West Ceremonies), the National Air and Space Museum, the Washington Monument to name just a few. The motley crew arrived back at Eastland Shopping Center, a little worn but full of the excitement...The Adventure was still going on and will always with these boys.

There is adventure in scouting, whether you are 7 or 70, you can belong to scouting. ### Moyers: The Power of the Word Sunday, October 29 at 10 p.m. on KET "Poets are our troubadours," Bill Moyers says. "They are teachers and performers who tell us stories that touch the deepest springs of being...instead of manipulating emotions, they honor feelings and make us come alive." Moyers highlights the significant role poets play in today's society in a new six-part series premiering on KET October 29. The hour-long programs celebrate "some of the most provocative ideas and personalities of our time" and look at how language has the power to create common bonds between human beings. To illustrate the diversity of the word, Moyers visits poets at unusual locations: a New York prison, a bar in St. Louis, a rural church in Mississippi, and a meeting of business executives in Iowa.

Whitley and Harlan Counties hosted the rest of Wildernes Trail Counties "Under the Big Top". This took place Thursday, Sept. 21st, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in Corbin.

The guests were welcomed by clowns, balloons and popcorn.

After registration and refreshments, Irene Reid, W.T.A. Homemaker President, welcomed the group and

Ladies Aide

By: Elizabeth F. Mullins

The Six Point Restaurant was the Sept. 12th meeting place for the Ladies Aide Missionary Society. Ella Mae Martin was the hostess.

Every member present took a part in the lesson that Elizabeth Mullins prepared. She copied an event that happened in Jesus' life when He was in earth that was prophesied in the Old Testament and then which the prophesy was fulfilled in the New Testament. After each member read a prophesy and a fulfillment, Mrs. Mullins said, "To me this is enough proof that I need to know that Jesus is the Son of God."

Barbara Watson followed this lesson with prayer.

Marjorie Shivel read the Sowder Nursing Home newsletter and Betty Fatchal read the monthly letter from Brenda and Mike Dickens, missionaries in El Paso, Texas.

Nita Rifer announced that on Sept. 25th there would be a special meeting for the women of Broadhead Christian Church.

Pictures of the church steple were passed around. The steple was made by Lloyd Cash.

Hostess Ella Mae Martin served refreshments of raw vegetables and crackers for dipping in a dip and then butterscotch pie! Emily Glover and Sibyl Lunceford helped her serve them.

In October, Elizabeth Mullins will be the hostess with Jenny Gilpin presenting the lesson told the ladies about a bonding activity. "The World of Leadership in Extension Homemakers."

Then everyone broke into groups for discussions of responsibilities, reports and contests. These groups were: Presidents and Vice Presidents; Secretaries, Treasurers and Public Information; Cultural Arts; Clothing-Textiles and Housing Energy and Environment; Foods and Nutrition; Health and International Chairman; Family Life, 4-H, and Citizenship and Community Outreach Chairman; Family Resource Management; and Young Homemakers Chairman.

Imagine having any and all of these things, member-to-be, to learn more about?

The women managed to do popcorn as they took notes and gave suggestions, before going back to the main room.

There the purple feathered ringmaster asked the different animals present to perform.

The monkey performed first. It held around Charlotte Jack's neck, as if it were afraid of the audience, but dutifully helped it's trainer tell by motions, of how to be committed and do jobs well.

Many animals were introduced and told about how their traits resembled what Homemakers traits should be, if perfect.

Oh yes, we had lion tamers, muscle men that were dressed and acted their part, Helen Yoock "took the cake" in her get-up!

The program specialist, U.K. Martha Nall gave us a pep talk in her smiling, forceful way in "Recruiting and Merchandizing Extension Homemakers".

Charlotte Jacobs followed with more advice and encouragement, in an encouraging way.

Remember, "The more you give, the more you get out of it".

After adjournment, everyone went to a restaurant of their choice.

Those attending this meeting from Rockcastle County were: Clara Proctor (Jean Abright), Alford Bullock (for Noretta Thompson), Elizabeth Mullins, Cheryl Witt and Linda Williams.

Your child's health
By: Dr. John Payne

Children who have many allergies are often irritable. It has been asked whether irritability can be the only or the main symptom of allergic problems. No studies have shown conclusively that allergy causes behavior changes directly. However, there are many reasons why an allergic child may not be the most pleasant creature to be around.

Nasal congestion often leads to more than the usual number of ear infections, with pain and hearing loss, and subsequent irritability. Persistent nasal congestion can make one feel bad. Also, certain medications taken for allergy may cause side effects of irritability, upset stomach or

Sweet Smell in the Air' Annual 'Lasses Makin' Festival at Renfro Oct. 6-8

The sweet smell of sorghum being prepared will mingle with the sounds of music in the crisp-fall air over Renfro Valley at the annual Lasses Makin' and Country Music Gatherin' October 6-8.

The traditional old-fashioned way of making sorghum molasses will again be a focal point of the festival, which drew more than 6,000 people last year. A mule-powered mill will crush the liquid from sorghum cane, which will then be boiled in large evaporator pans to collect the molasses.

There will also be a grist mill grinding corn meal, while a number of harvest type foods will be on sale at concession stands around the festival grounds.

Several craftsmen will also be demonstrating their skills, including a wooden shingle maker. Many fine hand-crafted items will be on sale at a number of booths. There will also be an old fashioned wagon train and a Kentucky Long Rifle "Turkey shoot" with the Craig's Creek Muzzle Loaders.

Top entertainment also will be provided all three days of the festival. Southern Bband will play on Friday, the Bill Sky Family on Saturday and the Parker Brothers on Sunday. Show times are: Friday, 11 a.m., 1, 3 and 5 p.m.; Saturday, 11 a.m., 3 and 5 p.m.; Sunday, 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. There will also be a talent contest on Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m.

The festival will be held at Renfro Valley's new festival grounds, which are across Renfro Creek and west of the old festival site. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sunday.

Admission to the grounds is $3 for adults and $1 for children ages 6-12. Children under 6 will be admitted free.

For festival information, call 256-2664.

"Home Economics" (Cont. From A6)

strips in the appropriate fabric for the quilt. Purchased bias is too stiff and often is the wrong color.

26. Quilts presented for judging at contests should not be soiled. Wash them.

27. Cross stitch should have stitches all going the same direction, that is the top stitch should be going in the same direction throughout the quilt.

28. Carefully sew by hand a sleeve to the top of your quilt if it is being prepared for hanging.

nervousness.

Often food allergies cause conflict at home if one child can eat ice cream, chocolates etc. and the allergic child cannot. Also, a favorite pet may have to be removed from the home to control allergies. Such conflicts can cause irritability as well.

Other factors such as poor sleep from nasal congestion or asthma, and frequent doctor visits may also make the child more irritable.

The question of whether allergies cause irritability is really a moot point. Chronic allergy patients have enough to make them irritable whether or not it comes as a natural part of their disease. Allergy management is difficult for patient and doctor alike. However, there is much that can be done.

By: Cheryl Witt
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Gary C. Griesser from Burlington, will be the featured speaker at the Wilderness Trail Area Extension Homemakers meeting to be held at the Rockcastle County High School on Saturday, Oct. 21.

All Homemakers and their guests are invited to attend the meeting. Registration is $2 and lunch is $6. Please register at the County Extension Office by Friday, Oct. 13.

The theme of the meeting is "Proud to be an American". Rockcastle County Homemakers are busy planning favors, refreshments, door prizes and decorations to make this an exciting day.

About Our Speaker

Gary Griesser is the Deputy Superintendent of the Boone County School

System in Florence. He is a graduate of Georgetown College and the University of Kentucky in Lexington. He has spoken to most educational organizations in Kentucky at their conventions as well as some National conferences. He has given concerts in over 400 churches nation wide.

Mr. Griesser recorded an album of patriotic music entitled: "Proud To Be An American". This was done in conjunction with the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States of America.

He has a Master's degree in guidance and counseling from Georgetown College and a Rank 1 from the University of Kentucky. He is currently doing doctoral study at the University of Kentucky and Northern Kentucky University.

Author Gurney Norman to be at Family Life Center tonight

Gurney Norman, according to the Courier-Journal, may be the outstanding Appalachian storyteller of his generation. He is one of the most powerful and compelling personalities ever to come out of the Appalachian mountains. He is also one of the region's best writers.

While many writers have attempted to "capture" the way of life of the Appalachian underclass without living it, Gurney Norman lived that life long before he attempted to write about it.

While much contemporary writing is pointless and visionless, Gurney Norman is a writer who does have a vision. He is deeply committed to working closely with young writers from the mountains. Currently, Gurney teaches creative writing at the University of Kentucky, works with teachers encouraging them to utilize Appalachian Literature in the classroom, and is very active in supporting and sustaining several struggling literary magazines which serve Appalachia's next generation of writers.

Gurney is the second in a series of Appalachian writers to appear in the Appalachia: A Sense of Community program, organized by Gary Eldridge, Program Manager of the Family Life Center School. There is no admission charge and the public is invited to hear Gurney Norman tonight at 6:30 p.m.

Gurney Norman will be speaking and reading from his book Kinfolks at the Family Life Center School tonight.

A pair of ex-Rocks helping Centre

By: Jim Griesch

Two former Rockcastle County Rockets are making some contributions to Centre College's 4-0 record this fall.

Junior Doug Cox, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cox, is a starting defensive tackle. Fellow junior Mike Hamilton is a backup at both offensive tackle spots and center.

They both were in during Centre's 34-9 win over O-3 Sewanee Saturday, in another rain-marred game.

Cox started slowly, but was half of one thunderous quarterback sack. Hamilton was in on two scoring drives as Centre was dominant on the ground, 307 yards to one.

Hamilton, at 6-1, 220, is quick and agile enough to pull and block upfield for the Colonel backs.

He's also tough enough to make the drive or seal blocks on nosemen or defensive guards inside as a center.

Hamilton had a lot of success blocking down on guards on some counter plays.

"That's counter 40 or 41," he said. "I block out on the guy head up on our guard, and the guard pulls around inside. It opened well every time we ran it, today."

"I play better against the run," said Cox. But, he spent a lot of his day chasing down Sewanee's two quarterbacks, Scott Thompson and John Shoop.

He was also happy about meeting one of the defensive team's goals. Holding their opponent to 14 points or less.

Sewanee got all nine of its points in the first quarter, and actually led 9-7 at one point.

But, Centre was up 20-9 by the half, and added two more scores in the fourth quarter to ice it.

Both men like playing college football.

But, it isn't like the weekly larger-than-life game seen on TV, or in a Division I stadium.

"It's fun," explained Cox. "Everybody's out to have fun," echoed Hamilton.

What Division I football really happens to be is sports without athletic scholarships at schools that highlight academic achievement.

It costs about $11,500 to attend Centre for one year.

But, Centre's academic standards are such that graduates are in demand in business, or find entrance to professional schools easier than grads of many other colleges.

Hamilton is looking toward either medical school or pharmacy school. He said he will take the MCAT (Medical College Aptitude Test) soon, and that a "45's pretty good. A 43-45 is needed to get in."

But, Hamilton scored a 29 on the ACT coming out of high school. Since 34 is considered a perfect score, a 45 on the MCAT would seem to be within his reach.

Cox isn't so narrowly defined in his future goals.

Right now, he's majoring in biology, with a chemistry minor, but as for later, "It's still pretty open," he says.

While both are on solid ground academically and seem to have a grip on future endeavors, both are most interested in getting into the NCAA playoffs later this year.

A key contest will be the last game of the year, at home against Rhodes College.

"Rhodes is the highest-ranked team in our conference (College Athletic Conference) and it is the only team we could lose to and still go."

Head coach Joe McDaniel, who recently became the winningest coach ever at Centre, doesn't want to think about losing to any schools. He wants to finish 9-0 and automatically earn a trip.

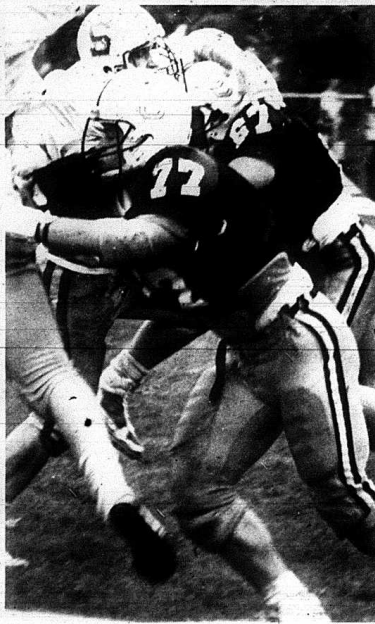

But, Cox understands that an 8-1 mark probably would get them into the mixer.

Rhodes is in the same region, the south, as Centre, which makes the game that much more important.

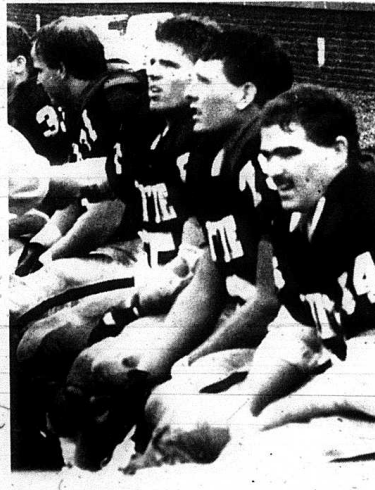

This week, Centre hosts Millaps, and Emory & Henry on Oct. 28, which is Homecoming.

Cox considers those two schools the other two "muses" for Centre.

Luckily, Centre catches all three

Roundstone, Livingston split two games; MVES continues unbeaten skein on road

Roundstone and Livingston split two of the closest junior high girls basketball games of the year so far Monday night.

The Roundstone Lady Redskins edged Livingston's Lady Devils 30-29. The winners got balanced scoring in picking up their first win in three tries.

Ginger Mink and Jamica Cummins each had eight points, followed by Jeanne Proctor with seven.

That was just enough to counter the one-two punch of Livingston's Jenny Hubbard, who had 13, and Virginia Slusher, who had 10.

In the "B" game, Livingston returned the favor, taking a 19-18 win, thanks in large part to Slusher's 15 points. She had seven in the final quarter, including three on a long-distance field goal.

Jamica Cummins had 10, including four from the foul line, for Roundstone.

Mt. Vernon's Lady Red Devils won their 23rd in a row Monday, in a round-robin tournament at Berea.

They downed the host Lady Pirates 36-25, as Kristi Doan scored nine and Hope Carmack had eight.

Coach Judy Bullock said her team trailed 11-6 in the second quarter and had three starters on the bench with fouls before they began to click.

She said, "We took the lead when I had one sixth-grader, three seventh-grader, and an eighth-grader on the floor."

Mt. Vernon outscored Berea 25-9 in the middle two quarters to overcome that slow start.

April Borders equaled Doan's nine to tie for game-high honors.

Mt. Vernon was to have played Lancaster in a 5 p.m. game Wednesday, and will play Foley Middle School at 5 p.m., Thursday, to complete the tournament.

Mt. Vernon and Brodhead captured wins in the second round of intra-county play among Rockcastle's junior high girls basketball teams last Thursday.

Mt. Vernon, now 21-0 over the past two years, swept past Livingston 58-17, using a 36-6 advantage in the first half to cement the win.

Tabatha Bell scored 16, the same as Kim Kirby, to pace the win. Brandi Chastain and Kristi Doan added six each.

Rosemary Parker led Livingston with seven. Livingston dropped to 0-2 after the game.

"Brodhead got 22 from Cindy McCauley in turning off to a 53-26 win over Roundstone.

Brodhead was up 32-10 at the half, thanks in large part to a 21-2 run the first quarter.

Donna Cash added 21 for Brodhead, while Ginger Mink had nine, Jeannie Proctor eight for Roundstone.

Brodhead evened its mark at 2-2 on the year, but 2-0 in county play, while Roundstone dropped to 0-2.

Three of the schools have added some games for the remainder of the fall.

Brodhead will play at Camp Dick Robinson on Oct. 24, against Tyner at home on Nov. 9, and at Tyner on Nov. 21.

Roundstone has added a home game with Camp Dick on Oct. 10, at Paint Lick on Oct. 12, at home with Paint Lick on Oct. 19, at Camp Dick on Oct. 26, and at Broughtontown on Nov. 27, as part of a boy-girl double-header.

Bell Co. survives Rockets' bid, 13-6

By: Jim Griesch

Bell County took the field last Friday looking as if they were a herd of dip sticks about to poke holes in the Rockcastle County Rockets.

Instead, Bell was about a quart low for much of their 13-6 win, which gave them sole possession of first place in the state's Class AAA, Region 3, District 2 race.

Bell, a 40-point favorite in some of the power index polls seen state wide, fell behind 6-0 in the second quarter.

Herman Burnett fumbled the ball away at his own 24, and the Rockets needed eight plays to charge the 24 yards for a score. Dane Cox took it around right end on the option pitch for the score.

It was the first TD Bell's defense had given up in 20 quarters, and Cox's third score of the season.

However, Jerry Jackson crashed through between center and right guard to block Curtis Cotton's extra point attempt.

The third and fourth plays of the drive were unreal.

With third and just six inches to go on the Bell 15, Kevin Rowe smashed far into the line for an apparent first down. The ball was spotted an inch short of the yard marker.

On fourth down, Rowe again smashed well into the line, but the measurement showed him making a first down by inches.

Apparently, the score awoke Bell, because the Bobcats bobbed down the field instead of treading water in the mud mire, as they had the first three times they had the ball.

They went 60 yards in seven plays, with the three big plays all coming via the pass.

Mark Collett hit Phillip Green open in the right flat for the 13-yard score. Bell had run a flood pattern to the right, and two other receivers were in the end zone. Green was wide open.

Rockcastle coach Tom Larkay said somebody just blew a defensive assignment on Green, who came out of the backfield for the pass.

Greg Dean's kick put Bell ahead to stay, but Rockcastle kept everyone in suspense until the final minute.

The Rockets opened the second half with a 48-yard drive from their own 19 to the Bell 53. They had reached the Bell 30, but a delay of game penalty pushed them back five yards. Quarterback Scott Parkey then fumbled the snap on first-and-15.

A run and an incomplete pass stopped the drive after 8:17 had been taken off the clock.

Bell took over on its own 13, and drove 87 yards for a score, using up 9:38. The TD came on a two-yard run by Burnett with just 6:05 left in the game.

Billy Todd knocked down a conversion pass attempt.

The two opening drives of the

second half took 17:55 to complete, and left just 6:05 in the game. The Rockets reached the Bell 40, but on fourth and seven from the 41. Parkey was intercepted when he overthrew Todd along the left sidelines.

Bell returned it to the Rockets 43, got a deliberate delay of game penalty, then fumbled it back to Rockcastle at the 50.

But, Parkey was intercepted again with 29 seconds left, and Bell squeezed out the clock for the win. Bell is 6-0 on the year, 3-0 in the district, and has beaten the two teams nearest them in the standings. They have only Knox Central and McCreary Central left to wrap up the crown. The Rockets can still make the playoffs with a win at Cawood next Friday night.

They are off the week, but would go as district runners-up with wins over both Cawood and Whitley County later this month.

That has become a familiar scenario for the Rockets in recent years. In each of the last two seasons, the Rockets had gone 6-0 before running into Bell County.

The luck of scheduling has had Bell and Cawood back-to-back in district play. But, unlike the other two years, the Rockets have a week to rest, get over some bumps and bruises, and be ready to catch Cawood.

But, the Jachs (they have changed their nickname from Trojans) seem to be putting first-year coach Tim Saylor's offense into high gear.

They had scored just 42 points in their first four games, but have scored 47 the last two. They had 25 against Middleboro (down this year) and 22 against Knox Central last week (a team the Rockets had to hang on to whip 8-0).

Rain again had an effect on a Rockets football game. They have played seven so far this season, and it has rained before and/or during five of them.

Even with the mud and a very limited passing game, the Rockets outdisturbed Bell 147-140.

Cox led all rushers in the game with 97 yards on 26 carries.

Rowe had 47 on just 14 carries, as the Rockets had more diversity in their running game for the second week in a row.

Cox also became the second Rocket to catch a forward pass this year. Billy Todd had caught all three of the others, and Cox had one for 11 yards in that last, futile, drive.

The catch came along the right sidelines (in front of the Rockets bench) on a fourth and seven call for their own 45.

He also had all 16 yards rushing in the drive.

And, as a linebacker, Cox once drove over the line of scrimmage to make a hit on a back trying for a first down on a third-and-one play at the Bell 40.

Rockcastle continues to show the effects of little depth on the team. They have outscored the opposition 62-26 in the first half, including 21-7 in the first quarter, 41-19 in the second.

But, opponents have outscored the Rockets 52-35 in the second half, and by 31-28 in the final quarter.

In the last four games, the opponents have outscored the Rockets by 4-2 in TDs in the final half. And, both of the Rockets' scores came in their 14-0 win over Class A Harlan three weeks ago.

Putaski scored twice to win 28-14 after the Rockets were up 14-13 at the half. Knox scored late, after Rockcastle led 8-0 at the half, and controlled the first 42 minutes of the game.

And, the Rockets failed to score late Friday after controlling the ball so well, so long, to open the third quarter.

On Bell's second-half drive, Burnett carried the ball 15 of the drive's 19 plays, and had a 47-yard TD run called back on a clip. His brother, Lance Burnett, carried the other four plays.

The Rockcastle County freshman football team rolled past Lincoln County's from 13-8 last Thursday. William Bullens scored on a 40-yard run in the second quarter, working into the end zone off an option pitch.

Bobby Coffey scored the winner on a three-point conversion in the first quarter. Clark Mullins kicked the extra point.

That second touchdown offset a TD and two-point conversion by Lincoln in the last period.

JVs edge Garrard County 7-0

The Rockcastle County JV's won at Garrard County Monday, 7-0. The only score came on a four-yard pass from Jason Kirby to Jeff Navarre with 6:25 left in the game. The play was a crossing pattern in which Navarre went to the right corner of the end zone, while defenders picked up William Hellard over the middle. Navarre was wide open. The score came on a 75-yard drive, and the big play was a 40-yard pass from Kirby to Hellard which put the young Rockets on the Garrard 10. Other than the drive, Garrard was big and strong enough, defensively, to dominate play.

Kirby was four of eight passing for 76 yards. Hellard had two catches for 56 yards, while Acree Harris had one for 16. William Bullens rushed 13 times, but for just 37 yards, while Bobby Coffey had 33 yards on nine carries. All Rockcastle JV and frosh games, scheduled Mondays and Thursdays, are at home through Oct. 23, the end of the sub-varsity season.

Tough win
Scoring: Rockcastle - Jeff Navarre, 4 pass from Jason Kirby (Clark Mullins kick).

Redskins clinch title in 7th-8th grade youth football league

The Redskins wrapped up the 7th and 8th grade Rockcastle youth football title Tuesday night, and did it with an exclamation point. They topped the Bucs, who had been tied for second with a 2-2 record, 50-0, and didn't score the final quarter. Blade Owens scored twice on reverses, while Shane and Shawn Thacker each had short TD runs in the first half. The league's leading scorer, Greg Bowman, scored all three TDs in the third quarter, once on a 70-yard run. About the only thing the Redskins did wrong was convert extra points. Bowman hit just one of seven kicks, and a desperation pass off another botched kick attempt fell short. The Redskins also limited damage inside the Buc's 20, and were stopped a couple of times on downs. The Redskins are 5-0, with one game left, and every other team in the league has at least two losses. The Bengals, with two losses, need a win next week to clinch second by themselves, and they play the Redskins. In the second game Tuesday, the Bengals assured themselves a tie for second with a 19-0 win over the Wildcats. Sherman Collins scored on runs of 57 and 60 yards, and Mikhael Shaffer added a 28-yard scoring jaunt. In fifth and sixth grade play, the Bucs can wrap up the league title with a win over the Redskins Thursday at Roundstone. Last week, the Buc beat the Bengals 18-6 as Jason Weaver had two TDs, one on a kick-off return. The Redskins topped the Wildcats 12-0 as Saben Blair had a short run and Dennis Thomas scored on a 20-yard pass from Jared Singleton on the last play of the game.

CUTTING TREES SAFELY

Do you have plans to clear some land for farming or for building a new house or barn? Maybe you're cutting a new road through the woods, or perhaps you're just getting rid of some old dead trees which have become a nuisance to you.

Regardless of the chore, you can avoid needless tragedy by observing some simple safety rules:

- *Put on working gloves to protect hands.
  - *Wear safety glasses to protect eyes from flying chips.
  - *Wear a hard hat to protect your head from falling branches.
  - *Wear steel-toed boots to protect feet.
- Now, you think you're all set to start cutting?

THINK AGAIN!!!

Some of the most serious accidents involving tree cutting occur because no attention is paid to overhead electric lines. Look overhead and to all sides before you begin any tree work. Be sure the tree will not contact any power line when it falls.

Wood can be a conductor of electricity. Each year deaths and serious injury are reported which involve trees falling into power lines. Don't become a statistic—survey your working area. And above all, if you do cause a tree to fall into a power line or if you find a tree on a line, DO NOT—UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES—ATTEMPT TO REMOVE THE TREE. STAY CLEAR OF THE TREE AND THE LINE.

Call the Jackson County RECC office as soon as possible and they will see to it that the proper action is taken right away.

Small game hunting season has begun

Small game hunting begins early this fall on some wildlife management areas in Kentucky.

Some public hunting areas have split seasons and closing dates vary. Small game hunters should check complete rules before going afield.

In addition to Big South Fork National River and Recreational Area in McCreary County, hunters may try for elusive grouse beginning October 1 and quail and rabbit on November 1 on the following wildlife management areas (WMAs): Beaver Creek, McCreary and Pulaski counties; Cane Creek, Laurel County; Clay, Nicholas County; Fleming, Fleming County; Mill Creek, Jackson County; Paintsville Lake, Johnson and Morgan Counties; Redbird, Leslie and Clay Counties; and along shoreline portions of Dewey Lake in Floyd County, Fishtrap Lake in Pike County, Grayson Lake in Carter and Elliott counties (some portions closed) and Lake Cumberland in Pulaski, Russell, Wayne and Clinton counties.

Quail and rabbit season opens November 1 on these WMAs: Barren River, Barren and Allen counties; Curtis Gates Lloyd, Grant County; Green River, Taylor and Adair counties; Kleber, Owen County; Mullins, Kenton County; Taylorsville Lake, Spencer, Nelson and Anderson counties; Yellowbank, Breckinridge County; West Kentucky, McCracken County (tracts 2,3,6,7); Higginson-Henry, Union County; and along shoreline portions of Nolin Lake in Grayson, Edmonson and Hart counties and Lake Cumberland.

Note to raccoon hunters: There is no limit on raccoons on the Long Point unit of the Redfoot refuge between the hours of 7:30 p.m. and midnight from September 21 through 30 and October 4 through 7.

Dove season continues

Dove hunters may have to look a little harder for birds during the October 7-30 segment of dove season. Doves go where they can find food, and wild silage and other grain crops already harvested in many portions of the state, birds are scattered.

However, hunters can try these wildlife management areas (WMAs) for some good dove hunting in October: Higginson-Henry, Union County; Yellowbank, Breckinridge County; Clay, Nicholas County; and Curtis Gates Lloyd, Grant County. Two additional WMAs, Ballard in Ballard County and Central Kentucky in Madison County provide one week of dove hunting, October 7-13, October shooting hours are between 11 a.m. and sunset.

More doves are expected to arrive in Kentucky in early December, coinciding with the final December 1-6 segment of dove season. December shooting hours are from sunrise to sunset.

The daily bag limit for doves is 15 and the possession limit is 30. Hunters are reminded that steel shot is required to hunt doves on Ballard, Swan Lake, Peal, Henderson Sloughs and Kaler Bottoms WMAs.

For complete information on any hunting season in Kentucky, contact the Department of Fish and Wildlife. Continued on Page B-9

Grace Baptist softball team played in the Church World Series in Rock Hill, South Carolina on Sept. 15 and 16. This was the first year Grace has had the honor of participating in the World Series. From left to right team members are: Tony Mahaffey, Jessie Mahaffey, Bruce Blanton, Brittany Offutt (Masco), Dwight Mahaffey, Batch Lunsford, Mark Bishop, Back row, Paul Burton, Raymond Offutt, Shannon Burton, Steve Phelps, Danny Offutt and Dwayne McKinney. Other members of the team that were unable to make the trip were: Bobby Dale Robinson, Billy Reynolds, Terry Lee, Mike Lopez, Roger Lopez, Bobby Robinson and Jeff Argenbright. A special thanks to all the businesses that donated and sponsored the trip. Jeff Bullock, a member of the team, could not make the trip.

And, luckily for Hamilton, he has one more year after this to become a full-time starter.

However, hunters can try these wildlife management areas (WMAs) for some good dove hunting in October: Higginson-Henry, Union County; Yellowbank, Breckinridge County; Clay, Nicholas County; and Curtis Gates Lloyd, Grant County. Two additional WMAs, Ballard in center and defensive tackle for the Rockets, he went to Centre expecting to be a center there, too. But, he was moved to tackle shortly after practice began his freshman year. Two centers were injured in practice one day, and I went to center. The coaches liked me, and I've stayed," he explained. "I'd rather play center," he said. "I have since the sixth grade."

Cox's story is a little smoother. He was moved to offense as a freshman, then back to defense last year. He started some as a sophomore, and is now a fixture at left tackle.

"Four reasons to buy an electric Heat Pump."

Compare the facts, starting with efficiency. The heat pump is as much as three times more efficient* than any conventional heating system.

In winter, the heat pump delivers clean, even heat—not the hot blasts and cold drafts you get with a gas furnace. And in summer, the heat pump offers the bonus of high efficiency central air conditioning.

Also, because it's flameless, it's cleaner and safer, too.

Let us tell you more. For the full story, contact a customer service representative at your local KU office today.

Magistrate District #3
Democrat Candidate
Your Vote and Support Will Be Appreciated

I am a life-long resident of Rockcastle County, a graduate of Brodhead High School and Eastern Kentucky University. My wife, Vicki, and I have taught several years in Rockcastle County. We have one son, Michael Corey.

Having been magistrate for a short period of time, I have seen many things that have been overlooked in the third district. I believe it's time for our fiscal court to work together, face our problems and show the people we can make a change in Rockcastle County. I think we can have, by working together, one of the most successful and productive fiscal courts we have had.

I am asking all the voters of the third district to help me be your representative and a member you can depend on to stand up for you and the needs of our district and the county.

Your Vote and Support Will be Very Much Appreciated.

Congratulations to our local 4-H!

They're an organization dedicated to creating a better future by guiding today's youth in the right direction.

4-H introduces young people to the business of agriculture and the pleasure of accomplishment, the joys of working together as a team and the satisfaction of seeing that work benefit their community.

We're especially proud of them and the fine work they do!

4-H For Youth... For America

4-H puts our youth to work in constructive and responsible ways...contributing to a growing community today...helping to shape strong, dedicated leaders for tomorrow. We're proud to support these innovative young people and this outstanding organization.
