We miss him more and more, for we know he's gone to stay.
I know he's up in Heaven, with Jesus by his side.
For he told us he was ready as he slowly, slowly died.
He had to suffer so much, before he went away.
But now I know he's resting and that he's okay.

Sadly missed and loved by his family and children

Mount Vernon Signal

MOUNT VERNON, KENTUCKY 40466

Volume 102 - Number 16

Thursday February 8, 1990

Chad Payne, an employee of Eaton's Wrecker Service, examines the rear window of the car through which a six-year-old girl was shot to death Thursday at a Mt. Vernon trailer park.

Council amends ordinance

Second reading of an annexation ordinance amending and combining two annexation ordinances into one ordinance was held by the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night. The new ordinance, published on another page in this issue of the Signal, combines the first annexation ordinance that includes an area virtually surrounding the city that already has been annexed to the city, and an ordinance that proposes to annex the Renfro Valley area along U.S. 25 to the bottom of Green Fish Hill.

At the first reading of the new ordinance at the last council meeting, only the first six preamble paragraphs were read to the councilmen who apparently already knew what was in the remainder of the ordinance. The ordinance was not made available to the press at the first reading last Wednesday morning. The city has been sued by six residents who were included in the original ordinance.

McKinney found dead

Pvt. Larry Dwayne McKinney, 18, of Fort Campbell, and formerly of Mt. Vernon, was found dead in his bunk at the Army base Feb. 3, 1990. Army officials have not reported the cause of his death which is being investigated. An autopsy was scheduled.

He was born in Rockcastle County May 16, 1971, the son of Cecil and Joyce Whitaker McKinney.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Cecil Jr., and Marvin Lee, both of Mt. Vernon, and two sisters, Melinda Monk and Lisa McKinney, both of Mt. Vernon.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Dowell and Martin Funeral Home with Bro. Edd Gibbs officiating. Burial with military honors will follow in Skaggs Creek Cemetery.

Jury gives Robinson life for Alma Jean Brown murder

Don Brown returned to work this week but he doesn't believe he'll ever be able to return to normal after spending the past two weeks attending the jury selection and trial of his wife's murderer.

It took a Lincoln Circuit Court jury only 12 minutes Friday to decide that Kenneth Wayne Robinson, 18, was guilty of the Sept. 15, 1988 murder of Alma Jean Brown at the store she and her husband operated in the Dog Walk section of Lincoln County.

It took the same jury two hours on Saturday to decide on his punishment - life in prison with no possibility of parole for 25 years.

Robinson, who has already served more than a year in jail awaiting trial, could be paroled at the age of 42, four years younger than Jean Brown was when Robinson and his brother Steven, both of Mt. Vernon, robbed her of $100 to purchase drugs. Kenneth, then only 17, shot her five times to insure she could never testify against them.

Don Brown was back behind the counter this week at Don's Country Market and was upset with the jury's decision on the punishment. "The boy killed my wife," he said. "He came in here and shot her five times. It was premeditated and in cold blood."

Robinson testified at the trial that he and his brother visited the store on the afternoon of Sept. 15 with the idea of robbing it to pay off Clinton Hensley, who he said had sold them cocaine on credit.

After looking around and buying a pack of gum, the Robinson brothers drove to a nearby church parking lot where they plotted their robbery and decided that Kenneth, who was single and without a job, would kill her so that no witnesses would be left. Brown didn't buy the argument that the brothers were high on drugs when they planned and performed their crime. Neither did he buy the argument that Robinson, who has a hearing problem, has low self-esteem because he must wear hearing aids.

"The only thing he had was that he was on narcotics," Brown recalled of the trial. "That was never proved. It offered no facts other than he came in here and killed her in cold blood."

Brown said the jury apparently believed that the Robinson brothers were under the influence of drugs and that Kenneth Robinson suffered some emotional problems because of a hearing impairment that he blamed for his inability to hold a job.

"His witnesses were programmed and phony," Brown said. "It was something they worked up and the jury fell for it."

Brown said that hearing problems don't produce emotional problems and criminal acts.

"The Browns have a deaf son who is also legally blind. Brown said their son attends college in Rochester, N.Y., and holds down a summer job. "I've got a deaf child," he said.

Robinson guilty of murder and armed robbery, faced several alternatives in sentencing him.

Brown hoped for and prosecutors asked for the death penalty for Robinson. That was the maximum punishment.

"A sentence of 'life in prison,' which one juror favored according to Brown, would have meant that Robinson could have been paroled after serving eight years.

The jury could have set a sentence of a specific number of years ranging as high as they wanted. Parole would have been a possibility after half the sentence had been served. Brown said a sentence of 100 years would have satisfied him.

all interested parties."

An election on this issue can be held, if within 60 days of the proposed ordinance, 50 percent of the resident voters or owners of real property within the territory to be annexed see the mayor with a petition opposing annexation.

During the meeting the council was told that Western Rockcastle Water Association officials and the city have reached, at least, a tentative agreement over an overdue water bill owed (Con't to A-9)

Housing unit tabled

A proposed 24-unit housing project for the elderly and handicapped was tabled for future discussion by the Brodhead City Council at a meeting Monday night.

The council tabled the motion after councilmen reported they had received numerous telephone calls opposing the project. The project is to be constructed on property owned by Sybil Lunsford at the rear of Dix Point Restaurant. Builders are Meade Inc. of Irvin, through FHA.

At the meeting Marvin Owens protested the location of the project. He said it was too near his home and will cause congestion.

The city will also request the Environmental Protection Agency to lift its ban on sewer tap-ones in the city. The city has been under the ban pending upgrading of the city sewer system now under way.

Vehicle stolen

A 1988 Chevrolet Blazer owned by Roy Williams of Owens Street, Mt. Vernon, was stolen sometime Friday night from his driveway. Mt. Vernon city police are investigating.

Shooting claims life of Mt. Vernon six-year-old

By: Richard Anderkin

A 16-year-old boy has been charged with the shooting death of a six-year-old Mt. Vernon girl.

Kevin R. McCoy, who lives in the edge of Pulaski County near the Rockcastle County line, was arrested by police Saturday and charged with the murder of Elvina June Curry, a Mt. Vernon Elementary first grader.

The shooting occurred at the trailer of Ed DeBorde in Cox's trailer park in Mt. Vernon Thursday night at approximately 8:30.

Mount Vernon city police charged Margaret Alcorn, 28, with the murder the night of the shooting, but said Monday that they had evidence that McCoy had done the shooting and arrested him as well.

City police chief Joe Howard said that charges against Alcorn would probably be changed to tampering with physical evidence and other related crimes.

But police are waiting on the results of a gun residue test performed on Alcorn Thursday night.

A preliminary hearing for Alcorn is scheduled for Monday before District Judge William Cain. At that time it will be determined if there is enough evidence to prosecute Alcorn on murder charges or not.

Howard said police, faced with conflicting statements - from witnesses, charged Alcorn based on information available Thursday night and then charged McCoy after further investigation.

The chief said the youth, who is being held in the Bowling Green Detention Center, admitted to the shooting during questioning Sunday.

"We never falsely accused no one. We were acting completely on what evidence we got," Howard said.

Howard said that the youth told police that he thought he had initially shot into the ground, but realized later that it was actually the car.

The sequence of events leading up to the reportedly shooting occurred as follows:

About 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Lana Curry apparently found a note on the door of her apartment at Dixie Boone, that she said was from Ed DeBorde.

That note asked for Curry to come to DeBorde's trailer, Curry told police. (Con't to A-9) the county. They are Tom Welch from Mt. Vernon, Millard Robbins from Brodhead, Calvin Mize of Bufalo, Tiford Reppart of Scalford Cane and Elsie Jones of Lamero.

The judge enumerated the duties of the new committee. They included such efforts as clean-up in each magistrate district; develop plans for site clean-up; education campaign; garbage pick up by communities, and advise staff coordinators, judge, fiscal court on use of inmates and county road workers in clean-up efforts; (Con't to A-9)

Mt. Vernon attorney Debra Hembree Lambert was sworn in as assistant Commonwealth Attorney during ceremonies at the Rockcastle County courthouse Thursday morning. Mrs. Lambert, who began her law practice in Mt. Vernon last Fall, will replace Martin Hatfield in Benny Ham's office. She was sworn in by Circuit Judge Dan Venters, left. Commonwealth attorney Ham, center, looks on.

In my opinion it has always been harder to try and report the news in a small community than in a larger metropolitan city like Louisville and so on . . .

It seems these days that it is becoming more difficult to report the news in our small county.

The news is quiet simple. We are a part of the community as well as everyone else. We have friends who are elected officials, our children attend the same schools, we live in the same neighborhoods, we attend the same churches and we must see everybody all the time and, unlike other newspaper people, we are accessible to our readers and to our subjects.

Only a couple of weeks ago, I had to tell a friend we could not leave a name out of the court news. I have known the family and been friends with them for over twenty years. They could not understand why I could not do the favor and if I were them it would probably feel the same way. But if you are going to do something like print names of everyone involved in court proceedings you certainly have to print them all.

Then today, a lady called up about the basketball game at the high school.

She is a friend who thinks I should do or write something about the bad records of the varsity and freshman team.

Fact is this lady has the right to question losing records, especially when her son is involved and when he is affected by the losing.

She has every right to be upset when her son says he is quitting because of the way his team is being handled.

But, the coaches who are friends of mine have rights too.

Sure everyone wants a winning record and the basketball coaches at the high school are no exception.

Only a couple of weeks ago the head coach had to be taken to the hospital for chest pains. They found that stress was causing him to have high blood pressure and in turn the pains.

The problem was apparently his anxiety over his team's performance as of late.

These coaches work very hard to make a winner, but obviously they have not been able to make their efforts turn into wins.

The parents' questions are legitimate and should be answered, but not by me. People know the records of the teams. The coaches know the records and certainly administrators know the records.

I certainly don't think it is my place to stir up something that will only cause friendships to be rattled and I'm not going to.

If I had a child playing I know I would feel differently, but I wouldn't have. If I did I would discuss the matter, first with the coaching staff and then with their bosses.

People take it personal when you start talking about their job performance and a friendship is worth a lot more to me in this case than taking up the fight against our basketball program.

On the other hand I have a little brother who plays in the intramural league/field each week in the county. Each time I have gone to watch him play I have heard criticism from people that don't think the program is being handled properly. They think the kids are only being hurt by the format. The most frequent gripe is that many of the teams simply play games on Saturdays and do not practice. There is never any practice sessions for the kids to learn the fundamentals it takes to be able to perform on the court on Saturdays.

They have a legitimate gripe. I don't think there is enough practice time for most teams and know there is none in other sports, but I know who am I to criticize something I have done nothing to help. And I'm not going to.

And then there was the lady that came to my office last week mad because she can't get any help from the police in stopping people from shooting into her home.

She says her home has been shot into seven or eight times and that she is scared for her life and the lives of her children. She is right, very little has been done about her complaints and the evidence is there that her home has been shot into. But when further review of the case was made I found out that she dropped the charges against the men accused of shooting into her home the first time. But now she wants us to do something about it.

She is upset at the police and the prosecutor and if they are not doing their job she should be. And then on the other hand if she is not willing to press charges and stick it to, she has no right to expect someone else to do it for her.

I was also told this week that it is obvious that I am pro school administration.

Sure I think there have been some good changes in our school system and I think that given the time, Bige Towery and other school officials will make even greater, better changes.

The lady said the school system was very political, much more than I realized.

That may be true. I am not the utmost authority on school politics and it is certainly hard to criticize a man like Towery who works as hard as he does to see that our school system improves in every aspect.

If he is still playing politics he is certainly doing a good job of hiding it behind hard work and accomplishments.

But, then again back in December somebody made a horrendous mistake when they did not release school children until snow blanketed all of the roads.

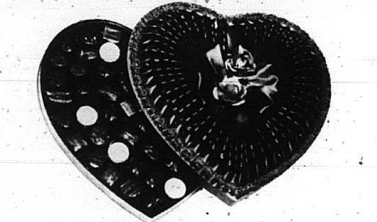

After it was over and no children were hurt, it did not seem like that big a deal. But if I had children riding a school bus I certainly would have been upset and I know Towery will be the first to admit school should have dismissed earlier.

There are many Mt. Vernon taxpayers that think city police officers should stay within the city's limits except for an emergency. One upset caller could not believe that a city police officer was on 1-75 helping work a wreck. The same caller said he could not believe that a city police officer was investigating a case in Brothead. Of course the caller was not sure about that incident, it was only hear say, but they wanted to know what I knew. The caller of course was a Mt. Vernon taxpayer,

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor:

Citizens of Livingston, especially you older ones, that remembers we had street named decades ago; do you like it that they have been changed? Does our town board have that much power? Without notification to the public or a say about the matter?

Those streets named the people decades ago gave to Livingston's prominent and outstanding citizens, that lived in Livingston all their lives not just a few years. People not even born in Rockcastle Co. comes and changes streets. It's not right.

The board changed all others why not Main St. to Medley Dean Lane.

They had to move back to the homestead of Congressional Medd of Honor Monrow Smith to its original location. Without authorized order to be moved in the first place.

How much power in force does everyone have? I remember a woman mayor did more in one year for the elderly and low income which meant something, which she gets no credit.

I can't see myself a fly by night Jack of all trades. Just change names by a select picked board members street names that are on our street signs. Mullins is an old established name. But what about Mize, Burdine, Mink, Wagner, Dickerson, McKinney, Black, Webb, Riggs, Davis, Pike Mason, Durham and more. These people helped found Livingston.

No I don't like it. I was born in Livingston and know better, that's it the trouble people like this changing our heritage, tearing down, changing, face lifts, nothing to remember. Just because the board doesn't remember these names a lot of older people do.

Points East

By: Ike Adams

Co-worker, ex-friend, Steve LeBrun from Lancaster has joined ranks with several dozen other folks across the eastern half of the commonwealth who have written spiteful letters to editors of their weekly newspaper of late. The common thread among these letters is a question of my competency/qualifications to speak out about anything. LeBrun has suggested that I confine my comments to gardening and has slyly suggest that I may not be as much an authority on that subject as I profess.

Numerous other writers have suggested that, contrary to my opinion, the governor has replaced Gabriel at God's right hand. Wilkinson supporters, for the most part though, have written to me at home which leads me to conclude that they are not so proud of their hero that they're willing to go public with it. Some have insisted that neither their letters nor their names be published.

If you have been reading the paper over the last couple of weeks, you also know that I have stomped on a corn on the big toe of the National Rifle Association. The fact of the matter is that a recent piece I did lambasting AK-47 assault rifles was not as factual as it might have been. AK-47's for example, are not sold across the counter as fully automatic weapons. You have to pay a few dollars for a kit and spend a few minutes installing it to convert an AK-47 to fully automatic, but it's already against the law to do that. And since all AK-47 owners are responsible, law-abiding pillars of the community, there is no such thing as a fully automatic assault rifle and I didn't know what I was talking about.

Not only that, but George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and company did, in fact, have assault weapons in general and AK-47's in particular in mind when they framed the constitution. In fact, if all they had been referring to were the flintlock rifles that existed then, they probably wouldn't have bothered to even mention anything about the right to keep and bear arms. But George and Thom, being farsighted individuals, figured that one day there would be some controversy about weapons, especially AK-47's. They actually wanted all of us to have one and it is our responsibility to run out and get one fast. If a burglar breaks into your house, robs you at gun point and you don't have an assault weapon to fight back with it's your own Sin! fault. If you get upset with the way the government is being run and you don't have an AK-47 to overthrow it with, don't blame me.

There, you see, I am man enough to admit it when I am wrong. Some guy in Laurel County even challenged me to go deer hunting with a bazooka. An AK-47 is much more efficient he says and he doubts that I could even win a bazooka. I admit that it would be tough to do in some places, but what I had in mind was getting permission from the army to go up to Fort Knox and try to get 25 or 30 with one shot. So far, the military has been reluctant to loan me a bazooka though.

I figure I've gotten about 35 or 40 letters to my home address from NRA members, several of which politely called me a bare-faced lunatic liar. Most of them called things that simply can't be put in the paper and I've learned a few new bad names in the process. But I do appreciate mail too and to prove it, I've added every one of their names to the Great Adams Seed Catalogue scam so that they can sort through several catalogues while they're searching for the latest propaganda from Washington headquarters. I figure that even if they don't want to start gardening they can always use the catalogues for target practice. It's a real challenge to hit a picture of a carrot at five hundred yards.

Anyway, LeBrun suggested that I devote this space to letting readers know how many broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage plants I already had growing indoors and whether or not my peas were up yet. Apparently he is already eating tater onions, has his windows full of transplants and has had his peas twice. I'm ashamed to tell it, but LeBrun is ahead of me.

I have however, performed the carpentry on an outdoor seed bed that I will get started soon. If you're still reading, the rest of this column is intended to be serious because I'd like to tell you how to save some money on plants and maybe even make some.

I dig a hole about two feet deep and fill it with a combination of wet leaves, straw and barn manure. The hole needs to be about 18 inches to 2 feet in diameter. Then I build a box 4 feet wide and twelve feet long with lumber that is at least a foot wide around that hole. I rake the dirt that came out of the hole up around the outside of my seed box and then pour six or eight large bags of potting soil inside the box and rake it down so that the soil is four or five inches deep.

Then I sow all manner of plant and flower seeds in it. Last year we had over a hundred varieties. Enough for several large gardens. We sold enough to pay for the material and seed and gave away bundles of plants after we got out gardening going. The bed has to be covered with thick, clear plastic like the kind Wal Mart sells to cover windows. It has to be tacked or stapled down so that the wind won't blow it off. I put strips of cardboard across the plastic and staple through it.

The straw and manure will rot and put off heat and the plastic will hold it in. Punch a couple of holes in the plastic to wait the bed over a day or so and reseed them with duct tape.

You should have at least six to nine inches of growing space between plastic and soil, so you should have several thin pieces of wood or plastic pipe across the top of the box to keep the plastic from sagging. Plants will not be hurt unless the weather stays very cold for several days and you should have enough for the whole neighborhood. In fact, you might consider doing this project with several other people. Have one guy bring cabbage seed, another tomato, another broccoli, and also split the cost of materials five or six ways. It's not only fun, but it's very economical and you will have plenty plants to share.

If robbers start stealing all your beef-steak tomatoes, you might consider investing in an AK-47. I've been told that people who go around stealing transplants are terrified of them. Take the AK-47 and tack it to a tall pole like you would a scarecrow right beside your seed bed. Tie a string to the trigger and run it into your house. Everytime you hear the dogs bark, just yank on that string a few times and things should quieten down. I'll guarantee that nobody will mess with your beefsteaks.

"CHARGING ROCKCASTLE"

who could not believe that Mt. Vernon law officers did things outside the city limits and especially on I-75.

There of course have been cases when Mt. Vernon police have gone to the scene of an incident in Red Hill and left the city unattended.

We got a couple of calls about that one. All of the callers want something to appear in the paper.

And most of the gripes are from city taxpayers and they have a right to question police department procedure.

But to me this was not a big deal and yes I have to work with these guys almost daily. To criticize them for something so minor would not benefit anyone involved, especially myself when it comes to getting information. But Red Hill, I-75 and Brodhead are really no place for Mt. Vernon police officers.

And then there is of course the caller that asked me straight out, "How much are you all gettin' paid."

The caller was referring to our relationship with the Rockcastle Hospital. "I never see nothing in the paper negative about that place," he continued.

The gentlemen's gripe was that he had stayed in the hospital for a few days and he had no bathroom in his room. He had to use the bathroom and take a shower down the hall with other people.

"All of those foreigners have bath rooms in their rooms and you or I get sick we have to use the community room to do our private business," is the way he put it.

And then of course, he said, we were getting paid off, with advertising to not print anything about it.

And if I, or any of my family, had to stay at the hospital over night it would probably upset me that there is not a bathroom in most of the rooms on the acute side of the hospital.

I mean I would probably be quite aggravated and start asking a lot of questions.

But, how can anyone criticize something that means so much to the economy of our county. Over 200 people are employed at the hospital. Their payroll is in the millions. and We have a hospital in a small county that is able to stay open and maintain a high quality level of care for their patients when other rural hospitals are closing.

Those "foreigners", as the gentlemen referred to are human beings who have as much right to be cared for in this county as the next person.

I feel sure that in time the hospital board will take care of the no bathroom problem. But until they do, we will just have to make do.

And then this week we asked how much new chairs and a new table cost the city of Mt. Vernon.

The chairs and table are very nice and make city hall look much nicer. We were simply curious to know the costs.

When we asked the Mayor we were passed to the city clerk, who responded by asking us who cares about some silly old chairs. I think was the answer and she is right. If we were not trying to run a newspaper here I probably would not care at all. As a matter of fact I know I wouldn't. But the fact remains that we are attempting to provide our readers with as much accurate information as possible and the city of Mt. Vernon's taxpayers have every right to know what their money is being spent on. Even if it is just some silly old chairs.

Some important things to consider when choosing your family's health insurance...

When your husband is in Intensive Care, you shouldn't have to travel to Lexington to be with him.

But, that's exactly what some health insurance companies expect you to do. With their policies, only care provided in the hospitals that the insurance company designates is covered, no matter the distance or the services required.

That means you'll probably have to go to another city to one of the insurance company's affiliated hospitals for both overnight hospitalization or outpatient care including lab work, x-rays, physical therapy and even surgery.

In addition to the inconvenience and added stress of being so far away from your loved ones, your choice of specialists is limited to out-of-town physicians, such as internists, surgeons, urologists and oncologists, whom the insurance company designates.

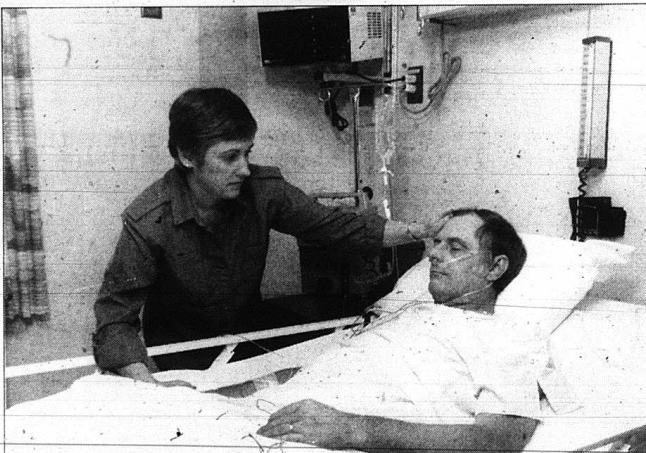

What does all this mean? Very simply, by selecting some insurance plans for your family, you may have to:

1 Be hospitalized in another city in a hospital that your insurance company, not you, has chosen. Even if you are admitted to your local hospital in an emergency, you will be transferred to one of the insurance company's affiliated

You should have the right to choose your own physician and a hospital where you're comfortable and well cared for.

2 Be cared for by a physician specialist that someone else chooses for you.

ated hospitals once you have been stabilized.

The insurance company has chosen physicians who admit patients at their affiliated hospitals in other cities.

3 Your local family physician will probably not participate in your care because you will be required to go to a hospital in another city.

When you're faced with the decision of selecting your family's health insurance, consider these points, which could have a dramatic effect on you and your family:

• Hospital services — Can both inpatient (i.e. hospitalized overnight) and outpatient (e.g. surgery, lab work, x-rays, physical therapy) be provided at your local hospital, or to be covered will you be required to travel to one of the insurance company's affiliated hospitals?

• Physician selection — Will you be allowed to choose a local physician specialist, or must you select one of the insurance company's designated physicians in another city? Will your family physician be able to provide your care if you require hospitalization in another city?

• Emergency care — Exactly what conditions and injuries are defined as an "emergency" in order to be covered if care is provided at your local hospital? Who determines what constitutes an "emergency" or "medically necessary" — the insurance company or your local emergency room staff?

Choosing your family's health insurance plan may be one of the most important decisions you'll ever make. Consider your options. Ask questions. Carefully examine the facts. Don't allow someone else to choose your physician or hospital for you.

Benny Craig and I were in Mt. Vernon Tuesday and stopped by to visit Julia Hunt and her grandson Jeffrey Stephen Owens, who was suffering from a virus.

Mrs. Brenda Bradley and Kathy McKibben were Monday guests of Willie and Mabel Taylor. Mabel had quite a few other visitors since she came home from the hospital. She appreciated her visitors very much.

Rev. Harvey Pensol filled his regular appointment at the Fairview

Baptist Church over the weekend with good attendance. One hundred and forty were present for Sunday School. I'm so thankful to God for parents who are interested enough in their children to see that they are in Sunday School and church: We see and hear about so many of our little children who are mistreated in our world today. Our hearts go out to them. Many of them are crying out for love but aren't getting it. How in the world can an adult look in the eyes of a helpless little child and mistreat it. I can't understand it. But we do know that all people aren't alike and we know too, that Jesus loves all the little children of the world. And if we have the love of God in our heart we love them too.

I want to correct a mistake that appeared in the Signal earlier, when I listed the names of those receiving perfect attendance Sunday school pins. Two names were omitted -- Kenneth Alexander and Gail Lee Gabbard received thirteen year pins. (Sorry about the mistake).

Our average Sunday School attendance for the month of January was 131 for which we are thankful.

Several of our people have had colds and flu, others have had pneumonia and some had surgery. But right now, thank the good Lord, most of them are feeling better.

Many of our people around here have lost loved ones recently; some of whom were Arthur Cope, Mrs. Laura Gabbard, Mrs. Darlene Bowman and Mrs. Rebecca Burdette. They have our sympathy, love and prayers.

God bless them.

Visiting Mrs. Mary Cope recently have been her daughters Mrs. Christine Barnea, and Mrs. Helen Powell of Berea and Mrs. Jean Hayes and husband Frankie of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Issacs and daughters of Conway spent a few days last week visiting relatives in Rural Retreat, Va.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Rex Davidson and family recently were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davidson and daughter of Conway.

County to receive federal funds for emergency food, shelter

Rockcastle County has been chosen to receive Federal Funds for Emergency food, shelter programs. The selection was made by a National board made up of affiliates of national voluntary organizations and chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). United Way of America will function as the administrative staff and function as fiscal agent. The Board was charged to distribute funds appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the county.

A local board has been formed which will determine how the funds will be distributed in Rockcastle County. Among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service organizations in the area, the local board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds, and any additional funds available under this phase of the program. Under the terms of the grant from the National Board, local government or private voluntary organizations choose to receive funds must: 1) be non-profit, 2) have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit, 3) practice nondiscrimination; 4) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs; and 5) if they are a private voluntary organization, they should have a voluntary board.

Local representatives of non-profit organizations, or people in the community who are knowledgeable about the issues of hunger and homelessness are invited to participate in the Local Boards.

Further information on the program may be obtained by contacting 256-5315 or 256-2310.

Please remember church and Sunday school. Let's all love each other and pray one for another. God bless you.
Here is a poem I'd like to share with you.

"Faithful is He Who Has Promised"

Are you passing through a testing,
Is your pillow wet with tears?
Do you wonder what the reason,
Why it seems God never hears?

off-repeated plays.
Why the Heaven still is laden as you wait on bended knee?

Do you wonder as you suffer,
Whether God does understand,
And if so, why He ignores you,
Fails to hold you in His hand?
Do doubt blacks creep in,
Assail you, fears within and fears within,
Till your heart brave almost falters and gives way to deadly sin?

All God's testings have a purpose
Some day you will see the light.
All He asks is that you trust Him,
Walk by Faith and not by sight.
Do not fear when doubts beset you,
Just remember -- He is near.
He will never, never leave you,
He will always, always hear.

Faithful is He who has promised,
He will never let you fall,
Daily will the strength be given,
Strength for each and strength for all.
He will gladly share pain with you,
He will gladly give you peace.

Now is the time to save on bronzing baby's precious shoes. With every adorable scuff and crease preserved in solid metal, they make priceless gifts for your family to cherish through the years.

Under this Assurance, this organization is committed not to discriminate against any person on the grounds of race, color or national origin, solely by reason of such person's handicap, on the basis of age, in its policies and practices relating to applications for service or any other policies and practices relating to treatment of beneficiaries and participants including employment, rates, conditions and extension of service, admission or access to or use of any of its facilities, attendance at and participation in any meetings of beneficiaries and participants or the exercise of any rights of such beneficiaries and participants in the conduct of the operations of this organization. The person in this organization responsible for coordinating the nondiscrimination compliance efforts of this organization is Mary Bowling, Coordinator Human Resources.

Any individual, or any specific class of individuals, who feels subjected by this organization to discrimination prohibited by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act, by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, by the Age Discrimination Act or by the rules and regulations of the U.S. Department of Agriculture implementing Title VI of the Civil Rights Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and the Age Discrimination Act, may personally or through a representative, file with the Office of the Secretary, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250; the Office of the Administrator, Rural Electrification Administration, Washington, D.C. 20250; the Office of Advocacy and Enterprise, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250; or this organization, or all, a written complaint. Identity of complainants will be kept confidential except to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of the rules and regulations of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Till your tired and weary body,
Finds its blessed, glad release.
When the darkened veil is lifted,
Then dear heart, you'll understand
Why it is you had to suffer.
Why you could not feel His hand
Giving strength when it was needed,
Giving power and peace within.
Giving joy thru tears and trial,
Giving victory over sin.

Knowing that our Father watches,
Knowing that our strength He'll give,
Victory for each passing hour,
This is life, so let us live.

A Legislative Perspective

By: Rep. Danny Ford

During this short work week of the Kentucky General Assembly, bill movement increased noticeably. In addition, the Governor again spoke to a joint session of the Legislature, this time in his State of the Commonwealth address.

But, even before legislators returned to the capitol, the Governor launched a television ad campaign which created serious misconceptions about the state's General Fund and its relationship to the General Assembly.

The advertisements give the impression that legislators use the General Fund for some sort of "slush fund" and possibly use the fund for something other than government-related purposes. Of course, those who are familiar with the operation of state government understand that this is a ridiculous accusation. The General Fund is the largest of seven operational funds through which all government programs are funded, most of which goes to fund elementary, secondary and higher education. The Revenue Cabinet is responsible for collecting billions of dollars in taxes, of which a majority is deposited into the General Fund. Furthermore, the Kentucky Constitution plainly places responsibility for state government spending to members of the Kentucky General Assembly, the public officials elected by the residents of the Commonwealth to represent their interests in Frankfort.

No decision has been made at this point in the legislative session as to whether lottery proceeds are to be utilized. As members of the House of Representatives, we recognize our role in the budget process and are ready and willing to work with the executive branch to make efficient and effective use of all revenue generated for government programs. The Governor, most certainly, has an important role in the budget planning process -- to propose a budget which the Legislature evaluates and uses as a basis for the final budget bill that is enacted.

Bill action for the week included House passage of the so-called "Living-Will" legislation. According to the bill sponsor, the measure gives terminally ill people the right to die with dignity in the event of illness or injury resulting in irreversible coma by allowing adults to execute a codicil declaring their wish to forego artificial life supports. The controversial legislation had been introduced unsuccessfully in several previous sessions.

The House Appropriations and Revenue Committee approved legislation that would allow the state to buy and preserve unique lands. Under this bill, areas that are important to migratory birds and have other significance to the wildlife community could be saved from development or other actions that might deplete the natural resources and animal populations there.

After two intense discussion meetings, the House Education Committee finally approved legislation that would require students under age 18 to maintain attendance and academic competency levels in school in order to obtain and retain their drivers licenses. While the bill was passed, it was stressed by committee legislators that this is not by itself an acceptable answer to the Commonwealth's dropout problem. Instead the concept should be used as a tool to fight high school dropouts. Mike Ward (Democrat) from Louisville was the primary sponsor of the bill which was the same type of legislation introduced by Rep. Danny Ford, Republican of Mt. Vernon.

"Robinson guilty"

Or they could impose a life sentence with no possibility of parole for 25 years. That is the alternative the jury chose. They tacked on another 10 year sentence in the armed robbery charge, believing incorrectly, that the two sentences would put Robinson away for 35 years.

Not so, Brown said. The armed robbery sentence will run concurrently with the murder sentence, making Robinson eligible for parole at the age of 42.

The result is unsatisfactory to Brown and he wants the jury members to know it.

"It wasn't like we had a jury that didn't believe in the death penalty," he noted. Each juror was asked before being selected whether he or she believes in using the death penalty. Those who said they didn't were rejected as potential jurors.

Brown said the punishment for Kenneth Robinson doesn't give him much confidence that the judicial system will deal with Steven Robinson properly when his trial comes up, probably this summer.

"According to this conviction, the next guy won't get anything," Brown said.

Brown said that during the approximately 15 months since the Robinsons were arrested for his wife's murder, he kept quiet about the case so the rights of the defendants, and therefore their trial, would not be jeopardized.

"I got upset (during the wait for the trial) but kept quiet for a year through all the hearings," he said. "I kept my mouth shut and what did it get me?"

Robinson will be walking the streets again in 25 years with many years of freedom ahead of him, Brown said.

"I had to live with the jury's decision. I'll never accept it," Brown said.

State audit praises Hale

The audit of the Rockcastle Property Valuation Administration's office has been reported and all areas tested were in compliance with state laws and regulations.

At the close of the fiscal year, the audit of the office of Elmer Hale showed a cash balance of $23,126, according to a report by Bob Babbage, auditor of public accounts.

Receipts for the office showed $6,800 statutory contribution; $11,209 prior year statutory contribution; $718 from the City of Brodhead; 4250 from the City of Livingston; $1,839 from the City of Mt. Vernon and $174 miscellaneous, for a total of $20,990.

Disbursements totalled $10,039. Net surplus was $10,951 and cash balance July 1, 1988 was $12,175 for a total cash balance of $23,126.

Additionally, the 1988 General Assembly passed a law requiring the Auditor to Audit Kentucky's 120 Property Valuation Administrators.

Babbage also said he had been working with the legislature on ways to improve the state's purchasing practices.

"The public demands accountability from their elected officials and for the use of their tax dollars. One of the major assignments of the Auditor's office is to review, report and do all in our power to ensure that Kentucky taxpayers' funds are used wisely and honestly," Babbage said.

"Based on the large number of calls our KY-ALERT line gets about edu-cast" on local governments, Babbage said.

Many local governments are struggling to meet their budgets and provide services for the citizens they serve, Babbage observed.

"Increased public awareness of the well publicized needs of government has raised calls to the Auditor's KY-ALERT line by over 600 percent," Babbage explained.

The KY-ALERT program offers a toll-free phone line for citizens to use if they suspect waste, mismanagement or fraud in the use of their tax dollars, Babbage explained.

Citizens also call to make positive suggestions for improvements in government, he noted.

Babbage explained that his office's major cases of official misconduct await legal action.

The Auditor said the assignment to audit the games and transactions of the Kentucky Lottery and the management study of Kentucky schools has kept his office's activities at a record high.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

(Delayed)

Tomorrow is "groundhog day" in our country. Just suppose we were to announce a special "Groundhog Day Sunrise Worship Service"? What would be your reaction? We could say that as groundhog day anticipates the coming of Spring, even so our "groundhog day services" are an anticipation of the coming of Jesus.

People could come and learn the "real" meaning of groundhog day; sort of like learning of the "real" meaning of Easter, and Christmas. We could call ourselves "Hogheads," like others who call themselves by some names also not found in the Bible.

This "holy day" could be a rich spiritual and moving experience to draw us closer to God. We could hold special revival services that night to encourage sinners to "accept Christ as their personal Saviour" and to "pray the sinner's prayer" in view of the fact of the coming of Jesus. At noon, we could have a special fellowship dinner in the church kitchen with "groundhog" as the focus of the meal, to be in keeping with the festivities of the day. And, later that night before the kids go to bed and say "what maneth all these things?" we can respond how all this is done in the "name of the Lord" and that it is for the "glory of God."

So what's your reaction so far? Do you think it's a good idea? Would God be well pleased? Would it be necessary to give book, chapter and verse for such activities?

In truth, such would be iniquity or lawlessness. We have no plans for any of the above things, for such are without divine authority, Col. 3:17. Yet, the things that are mentioned above are just as unscriptural as "Easter Sunrise Services," "Put Christ Back in Christmas," calling ourselves by sectarian and human names (instead of Christian, Ac. 11:26); "accept Christ as your personal saviour and pray the sinner's prayer;" "fellowship dinners." When will people be satisfied with just the Word of God?

The sarcasm of this article is not out of meanness, but of love and concern hopefully to cause one to think and wake up to the truth. Let us know if you would liked to study the Bible, we would be glad to help.

by the district to the city. Under the plan, the district will pay the $28,080 bill in four equal payments.

The council also agreed to increase the monthly total water furnished to the district from 7 million gallons to 7.4 million gallons monthly.

The council also gave its blessing to the City of Broadhead to sell any surplus water Broadhead has to the Western District. Broadhead would bill Western for the amount it furnishes.

Mayor Gary R. Cromer instructed Water Superintendent Matt Powell Jr., to look into the mechanics of the water system to determine if any kind of problem might occur. He also informed the council a state water department engineer would come to the county to evaluate the entire water system, including Mt. Vernon, Broadhead, Western and Northern.

Businessman Billy Hiatt asked the council to make sure parking meters are checked regularly, and asked the city to keep the parking lot opposite the courthouse trash free.

Hiatt said businesses in downtown Mt. Vernon depend on available parking and stressed the importance of keeping it available.

Hiatt also asked for a continuance of a revolving loan fund once in effect during the tenure of the late Floyd Owens. That fund provided money for beautification of the downtown area.

Hiatt also asked that some of the Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) money returned to the city from repayment of a grant from Mt. Vernon Plastics be made available for downtown remodeling and beautification.

Mayor Cromer told Hiatt there is no longer revolving loan fund money available, and the UDAG money is earmarked for use in prescribed projects, and with stringent restrictions. He said some money could be made available through UDAG if the requirements are met, a detailed and tedious job.

The council accepted a bid from Richmond Ford for a 1990 Bronco 2.4 by 4, for $15,262, if a rebate between $700 and $1,000 is available, bringing the total down to $14,262 with a $1,000 rebate.

If not, the council agreed to accept a 1991 Chevrolet Blazer, four wheel drive, for $14,056 which includes a discount, from Conrad Chevrolet of Lexington. The Blazer, however, had overdrive, something the council didn't want.

The other bid from Stewart Powell Ford of Danville for $13,618 with a possible rebate of $1,000. However, that bid was for a 1990 Ford Ranger pickup truck which was not advertised by the council.

The council postponed until the next meeting a decision on a dispatch system. Jailer Billy Kirby currently sends dispatches calls by city, but wants to discontinue the practice.

In a last action, Mayor Cromer told the council he would like to see the interior of city hall refurbished, including sheet rock instead of paneling and a new carpet.

A committee of councilmen were appointed to check into the remodeling of all kinds.

Members will meet monthly on the first Monday at 3 p.m. in the District Courthouse.

There will also be staff coordinators who will report directly to Judge Mullins.

Members of the staff coordinator group will be three Green Thumb workers, two parttime county employees and assigned road workers.

Their job will be to identify all illegal dumps and mark them on a road map; encourage groups, families, individuals to adopt an area to clean up. See that all dump sites are cleaned and buried.

Arrange for salvage of materials that can be re-cycled. Report to judge on progress monthly;

Begin an education program. Use the telephone for contact and organization. Clean up around and inside the county garage. Clean county vehicles, participate in pick-up along roadides and several others.

Most admit it will not be a simple and easy job to get county people generally to adhere to cleanup practices.

The county has a garbage plan already in place, but it was never put into action.

On the threat from the state the former court approved a coordinator for the garbage program. He was Luster Bullock, county road foreman who had too much else to do to oversee the garbage plan. The county paid about $13,000 for the plan that gathered dust on the shelf. Bullock is no longer coordinator.

In recent weeks garbage has become discussed in Frankfort. The governor suggested the legislature now in session to take up the question of mandatory garbage collection, an unnecessary move since the governor had the power to mandate collection himself. Some legislators dubbed the governor's decision hot potato, too hot for a politician to handle.

Most legislators believe some kind of garbage plan will come out of the legislature eventually. In the Kentucky House committee passed a bill 15-1 and sent it to the House floor to what would allow local governments with garbage collection systems to add unpaid trash bills, to property tax.

Unpaid bills are a problem in the six counties that have mandatory collection. The bill would become pivotal when discussions begin on Gov. Wilkinson's mandatory garbage collection measure he sent to the House.

Pike County, for example has $2.4 million in unpaid garbage bills.

Six-Year-Old Killed

(Cont. From Front)

When Curry, Joe and Janet Prewitt, Curry's children Earlanna and Elvina arrived at DeBorde's house, they encountered Alcorn, who police say was intoxicated, on the front porch of the trailer.

Apparently Alcorn, who is the daughter of Ed DeBorde, began yelling at Curry and the others to leave and not come back.

When the Currys and Prewitts tried to leave, they backed into the tongue of DeBorde's trailer. That is when the shooting occurred.

The shot traveled through the back window and hit Elvina who was sitting in the back seat with her sister. Both girls were in the back seat, Elvina looking toward the front and Earlanna toward the rear window.

Howard said he was told Curry apparently wanted to collect money she said Ed DeBorde owed her.

DeBorde gets a $1,300,000 check the first of each month and police said that the entire group, including Alcorn's husband Freddie, had been feuding since the check arrived.

Police also said that DeBorde had spent a lot of time at Curry's apartment in the past and that Curry even had a key to his Mt. Vernon Post Office box.

As soon as the car was hit by the gun blast the group drove back to Dixie Boone. At that time they realized that Elvina had been shot.

They called for an ambulance and then for police.

The six-year-old died almost instantly, according to Rockcastle Coroner Bill Dowell.

Dowell said an autopsy in Lexington revealed that Curry was shot once in the back with a shotgun.

At the time of the shooting Howard said that Elvina's sister Earlanna told them she saw Alcorn with a long gun standing on the porch.

But Curry and the Prewitts told Howard they saw Alcorn with a pistol and not a shot gun.

But, Howard said police searched the trailer and could find no pistol.

They did find a shotgun.

"It is a mess, a young girl is dead and we have a lot of people telling different stories," Howard said.

"We think the seven-year-old did see a gun, but it was being held by the youth who was standing behind Alcorn," Howard said.

Everyone involved in the incident, except for the children were drinking alcohol, which apparently caused the conflicting stories.

Thursday night's shooting incident is not the only turmoil the young Currys have been involved in.

On at least three different occasions, the two girls have been taken away from their mother by the courts.

The last time the children were taken because Lana Curry was arrested for public intoxication in Laurel County. According to district court records there, that was in the Spring of last year.

After a lengthy hearing in Laurel district court this summer, Judge Rod Messer gave the children back to Curry.

While living in Laurel County last year, Earlanna and Elvina attended four different schools.

In a case involving their children, but not related to the last action in Laurel District Court, Curry sued District Judge Rod Messer in 1989 in Federal Court for ordering the state to take her children and then jailing her when she did not comply.

A few weeks later Federal Judge Eugene Siler Jr., dismissed the case against Messer and ordered Curry to pay all costs involved in the suit.

Elvina Curry was buried on her grandparents farm in Laurel County Monday.

Kevin McCoy will be arraigned in Rockcastle District Court February 14.

Selective Service

Young men who will turn 26 in 1990 will be reaching an important milestone, according to the Selective Service System.

Beginning on Jan. 1, 1990, men who were required to register with Selective Service in 1982 will be turning 26 and will no longer be eligible for induction unless a draft is reinstated. Selective Service does not have the authority to accept late registrations after a man reaches his 26th birthday.

Selective Service State Director Taylor L. Davidson warned that with few exceptions, a man who fails to register before turning 26 will permanently forfeit his eligibility for certain benefits, such as federal student aid, job training, and most federal employment in addition to facing possible prosecution as a felon.

Some states also require registration for state student aid, entrance to state-supported colleges and universities, state employment and permission to practice law.

Davidson points out that men age 18 through 25 who have not yet registered can avoid the risk of prosecution and loss of benefits by registering promptly at any local post office.

Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000, up to five years in prison or both.

Over 14 million men, age 18 through 25 are currently registered with Selective Service. Of those, 239,413 are from Kentucky.

Asthma is a fairly common condition in children, but fortunately deaths are relatively rare. However, a recent increase in fatal attacks have led to some investigations. Most deaths were found to have occurred in adolescence who were likely to have been responsible for taking their own medications. They were likely to have the seriousness of their condition underestimated by themselves, family disturbance, to have felt depression, and to have attacks at night. They were also more likely to be poor.

Poor compliance with taking medicines seems to have been involved, based on blood tests showing low levels of prescribed drugs at the time of death.

What all this tells us about asthma would seem to be that patients with this condition need to be taken seriously when they complain. Medicines need to be taken regularly, and doctors consulted when relief is not prompt and complete. Asthma attacks would seem to be that patients serious in themselves, probably means poor disease control, and the need for more or different medication. It also means that teenagers, in whom we want to foster independence, must be made to realize the need for continued medication, even when they don't have symptoms.

Tiger Pause

Congratulations to our Academic team, coached by Mrs. Regina Burton, who took first place in the Governor's Cup at the district level this past Friday and Saturday. The students have worked hard throughout the year, and it has certainly paid off for them. Mrs. Burton has been an excellent coach and has given much time to this program. We appreciate her and her students for this fine accomplishment.

The students from the competing schools in our county did a great job in their competition. They and their coaches have worked hard this year, too. It's just so rewarding to see these students becoming excited about academics. It's a joy to watch them at work! BES and individual and team winners from the other three schools will be competing in the regional contests on Friday, Feb. 23, and Saturday, Feb. 24, at Somerset. Come and cheer them on!

Speaking of cheering, we want to extend our congratulations to the boy's varsity squad at RCHS. They leave today (Thurs.) for Orlando, Fla., for some stiff competition of their. We're proud of these students and wish them luck! Isn't it great how students from all four elementary schools go to the high school, join together, and become the best?

In an effort to boost school spirit, we will be selling T-shirts and sweat shirts during the next few weeks. We have received many requests to do this from students and adults. Your child will be bringing home complete information later.

This Friday is the final day to send soup labels for this year's contest.

Send yours in and help your child's class win!

Don't forget to save your receipts from Jif Peanut butter. Circle the price of Jif and send all receipts to get cash for our school, this offer expires April 30. Thanks for your help.

PTA meets tonight (Thurs.) at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria. This will be our special Founder's Day program. As always, you are invited. PTA is 93 years old on Feb. 17.

This week we are featuring our second-grade teachers. These ladies work hard and are enthusiastic about their teaching. Mrs. Kathy Dyehouse received her A.A. from Somerset Community College and her B.S. and Masters from EKV. Miss Linda Cummins earned both her B.S. and Masters from EKV where she also received her Rank I. Mrs. Sharon Ponder received her B.S. and Masters from EKV. We are pleased to have these teachers on our faculty.

Second grade teachers: Mrs. Kathy Dyehouse, Miss Linda Cummins and Mrs. Sharon Ponder at BES.

Scholarships available

Graduating seniors who plan to attend a college, university, or vocational school are encouraged to apply for a Christian Appalachian Project Community Service Scholarship.

Recipients of this scholarship are based on the quality of community service projects and organizations in which a student has participated. Financial need and academic achievement are secondary considerations.

Community service can be accomplished by working on projects to improve your community through organizations such as church, chamber of commerce, Scouts, Kiwanis; or as a volunteer on a continuing basis in hospitals or nursing homes; or on projects to help improve your school or community through school organizations.

Scholarships of $1,000 or $500 will be awarded to seniors in 29 eastern Kentucky counties: Garrard, Madison, Rockcastle, Jackson, Lincoln, Pulaski, Floyd, Magoffin, Clay, Knott, Letcher, Martin, Whitley, Wolfe, Estill, Johnson, Knox, Laurel, Lee, Leslie, McCreary, Owsley, Powell, Casey, Bell, Perry, Lawrence, Harlan.

Almost $2,000 for CAP from Campbell

The Christian Appalachian Project was the beneficiary of $1,833 from the Campbell Soup Company during the Christmas holidays.

Campbell Soup sponsored the regular Saturday Night Barn Dance show at Renfro Valley, on Dec. 9, 1989, and donated the proceeds.

Campbell Soup promoted the program through more than 60 local food stores and suppliers in its central Kentucky service area.

Approximately 300 people attended the show on a cold night in Campbell Snow from the previous day remained on the ground.

The proceeds will be used in the project's Small Garden and education programs, areas strongly supported by Campbell Soup.

People were also asked by the project and Campbell Soup to bring a can of soup or other canned good for use in the project's Christmas Basket program. The donated cans were distributed in Rockcastle County, where Renfro Valley is located.

"We appreciate the generosity of Campbell Soup and Renfro Valley during the holidays," said Michael McLaughlin, president of the Christian Appalachian Project.

Ohio man killed in auto crash

One Ohio man was killed and another received head injuries following a two vehicle accident on I-75 Saturday morning.

State police at the London Post said that James P. Knapke, 20 of Coldwater Ohio died after his 1989 Ford Fiesta collided with a pick-up truck near the 68 mile marker of I-75 around 8 a.m. Saturday.

Rockcastle County Coroner Bill Dowell said that Knapke died from massive head injuries that occurred when his body was partially ejected from his car and hit a cliff.

According to police LeRoy Danner, 81 of Massillon Ohio was driving a 1971 Chevy pick-up pulling a travel trailer when he lost control of his vehicle, crossed the median of the interstate and hit Knapke's car broadside. Knapke was headed south and Danner north.

A passenger in Knapke car, Rodney Adcock, 21 of Selina Ohio, was taken to the Rockcastle Hospital where he was treated for a concussion and then transferred to a Lexington hospital.

Danner, who was wearing a seat belt was not injured. Knapke nor Adcock were wearing seat belts.

The accident occurred during one of several hard downpours of rain that dumped over three inches of precipitation on the county Saturday.

Danner told police that wind caused his travel trailer to swerve and the rain was not a factor.

Gary Reppert of By-pass auto parts looks into the 1989 Ford Fiesta that James Knapke died in Saturday morning following a collision on I-75.

$539,013 for road program

By: Ray McClure

The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet plans to spend $539,013 on secondary rural roads in Rockcastle County during the 1990-91 fiscal year.

That was the information Jerry Gadberry of the Somerset District, of which Rockcastle is a part, brought to the Rockcastle Fiscal Court at its meeting Tuesday.

Gadberry recounted that Rockcastle has 114.9 miles of secondary rural roads and the state estimates it will cost $287,400 for routine maintenance alone, or $2,500 a mile.

He estimated $251,613 will be spent for road improvements and said the district is recommending four major road improvement projects in the next fiscal year.

They are: 2.4 miles of Ky. 3245 (Negro Creek Road) from the junction of Bryant Ridge Road to the junction of U.S. 150 at a cost of $61,100.

2.07 miles of Ky. 3274 (Chestnut Ridge School Road) beginning at the state maintained road and running to Old Chestnut Ridge School Road, at a cost of $53,900.

.74 of a mile of Hurricane School Road (Ky. 3275) from the junction of U.S. 25 to the bridge over I-75 at a cost of $19,800.

1.79 miles of County Line-Climax Road (Ky. 2614) from old mine shaft entrance road to beginning of the backstop, at a cost of $117,900.

Last year, the state allocated $518,558 to the county system with five projects listed. However, the state did not get around to the Negro Creek Road Project and rescheduled it for the coming year.

In other action at the Fiscal court meeting, the court was notified by Robert E. Philbeck that he had made a mistake on the estimates of materials for covering the grandstand at Brodhead fairgrounds and was withdrawing his $19,834 bid. Next lowest bid was $24,500. The court then shelved the project until a later date when more money becomes available. The county was granted $21,250 to spend on the project. That money will be put into a certificate of deposit until more money can be obtained for the project.

Jack C. Crawford, engineer of Burnside, told the court he was making a survey of areas of Rockcastle that do not have a water supply and would make a report to the court when the survey is completed. He said he is looking mostly at the south, east and northeast sections of the county.

A survey of the courthouse building paid for by a group Leadership Rockcastle, was presented to the court. Compiled by Garlan Vanhook, the report suggested the court concentrate on a new roof for the courthouse as a first priority. The court approved hiring Vanhook as architect for the roof project with the hourly rate not to exceed 5 percent of the roof bid.

Constables Eugene Seaters and James King asked the court to allow them to use blue lights on their cars. The request died from lack of a motion.

Sheriff Shirley Smith made a report of his activities for January to the court and asked the court for some help with gasoline costs. Judge R-O (Con't to B-6)

Time to check on quotas

Once again it's time for tobacco growers to apply for new burley tobacco farm allotment should contact the ASCS office in the county where the farm is located no later than Feb. 15.

ASCs programs are open to all regardless of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, handicap and marital status.

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter yesterday approved a 2.5 percent increase in the 1990 basic burley quota and a 2.6 percent rise in the average price support from last year.

Yeutter established a quota of 602.3 million pounds for the eight-state Burley Belt. It was the third consecutive year that the basic quota rose, but far below the 24.1 percent increase last year.

Still, several farmers, farm organizations and politicians were pleased with the decision and its implications for Kentucky's No. 1 cash crop.

The message that it sends is that we have demand and we are going up rather than backward," said Denny (Con't to B-6)

Arnold named scout chairman

Frank Arnold, of Mt. Vernon, has been named new county chairman of the Boy Scouts of America.

Arnold, along with District Chairman Ken Holt, George Young and Mike Robertson discussed some positive ideas about the program at their initial meeting Thursday in Mt. Vernon.

"If I can get boys in the scouts, I can keep them," explained Arnold.

With some exciting activities planned for the scouts, Arnold has already accomplished a survey throughout the elementary schools which involves the scouts' career interests.

Arnold's main goal is to get Rockcastle's scouts involved with the career interest program.

The program will begin by the scouts contacting a local business that relates to his career interest. The next step involves the community as the scouts will wait for a reply from the business to either invite the scouts to their place of work or come out to a meeting of the scouts and teach about that particular career.

With this program, Arnold wants the scouts to get out and see the community for what it really is and also give the scouts a chance to say "that's what I want to do when I grow up."

Arnold is also planning several outdoor activities which will include (Con't to B-6)

Venters rules for Margie Wilcop

By: Richard Anderkin
Rockcastle Circuit Judge Dan Venters has ruled in a civil case that resulted from a dispute over a grade in a chorus class at Rockcastle County High School.

The suit is over two years old. Terenia Bond Wallin, then a student at RCHS, sued Margie Wilcop, the teacher, the local Board of Education and principal Ronnie Cash, because Wilcop gave her an F in chorus for missing a Baccalaureate service in the Spring of 1987.

Mrs. Wilcop has since retired, but the case has continued on.

In her suit, Wallin contended that she did not have to attend the service because it was held on Sunday, concerned a form of religious service and violated her first amendment constitutional rights.

However the Board of Education, Cash and Wilcop did not agree and neither did Judge Venters.

In a ruling handed down January 29th, Venters concluded that Wilcop acted properly in giving Wallin the "F", for not attending and performing at the Baccalaureate service.

In the eight page summary judgement Venters concluded that Wallin was obligated to attend the service and perform because she had been informed by Wilcop at the beginning of the school year that performances such as Baccalaureate were required to fulfill the course requirements.

Wilcop went as far as to provide Wallin and all other chorus students a contract of what was required of them in chorus, at the beginning of the year.

Venters ruled that Wallin was well aware of the requirements in the class that included public performances. In his judgement, Venters wrote that without the public performances, chorus would be no more than a sing along session and some instruction on music theory.

In his judgement, Venters said the requirements for the class were not something that Wilcop decided upon a "Whim" or after the absence occurred, it was part of the written contract.

Venters wrote in his judgement that Wilcop did not violate any of the school's code when she made such requirements of chorus students.

Wallin's attorney, Larry York, has until March 1 to appeal Venters' decision to the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

Frank Arnold has been named new county chairman of the Boy Scouts of America. Arnold is shown with district chairmen (left to right) Ken Holt, Arnold, George Young and Mike Robertson.

For those who thought there wasn't much rain last weekend, the falls above disputes that theory. The falls is located on I-75 east/south of the Renfro Valley interchange. A total of 2.14 inches of rain fell Saturday sending streams out of their banks and making new waterfalls. A total of 3.14 inches fell over Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Girls beat Southern

The Rockcastle County Lady Rockets, 5 and 10 on the season, defeated the Madison Southern Eagles 57-44 Thursday night RCHS for the second time this year.

The Lady Rockets also traveled to Estill County Friday night where they received their second loss from the 14 and 5 Lady Engineers 55-39. With Stephanie Northern, Karla Bullock and Donna Harper all in double figures, the Lady Rockets had little difficulty defeating the Lady Eagles Thursday.

Although both teams were neck to neck in the first period with a 9 all tie, Harper got the touch in the second period and nailed two consecutive 3 pointers to boost the Lady Rockets up by 6.

The Lady Rockets then sank 1 of their only 3 free throws made during the game to up the lead to 7 which carried into the half.

Behind Harper's game high of 19, the Lady Rockets nursed their 7 point half time lead to clinch the win and send home the Lady Eagles empty handed.

Other scorers besides Harper were: Karla Bullock, 15; Stephanie Northern, 10; Tiffany Carter and Clara Pigg, 4; Angie Sinters, 3 and April Burton, 2.

Lady Rocket sophomore Jennifer Thacker was back in the lineup against the Lady Engineers Friday night after missing 3 weeks of action due to illness.

Although a losing effort, Thacker's presence was noted. "Our girls are fired up and ready to play when she is in the lineup," said Lady Rocket head coach Judy Bullock. "Thacker is a leader and that's what we need," Coach Bullock added.

After missing so many games, Coach Bullock started Thacker at a slow pace, playing her in 2 minute intervals and giving her a rest when needed. This was evident as Thacker got off only 3 shots during the game.

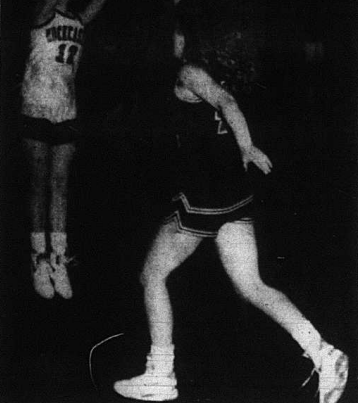

The Lady Rockets did play well however but were just outmatched as the Lady Engineers used their size, quickness, shooting ability and home court advantage to jump on the Lady Rockets early 16-6.

The Lady Engineers continued to pull away in the second period by picking away at the Lady Rocket zone defense with solid outside shooting and with that took a 14 point lead into the half.

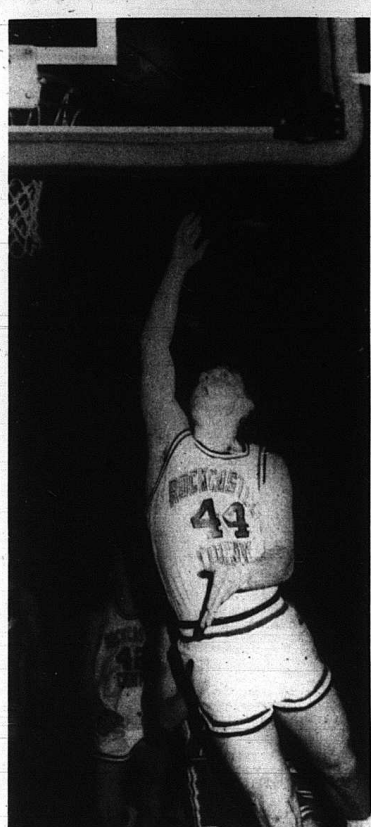

The Lady Rockets opened up in a man to man defense in the second half which brought better results. "It allowed the girls to be more active and in turn we played better ball," coach Bullock said.

The Lady Rockets did play well as they traded buckets with the Lady Engineers through the half.

Although the Lady Engineers were matched in the second half, their 14 point halftime lead carried over and gave them the win. Scoring against Estill County were: Stephanie Northern, 16; Karla Bullock, 7; Jennifer Thacker, 4; Angie Sinters, 3; Cindy McCauley, 3; April Burton, 2; Donna Harper, 2 and Clara Pigg, 2.

Donna Harper fires up a 3 pointer for 3 of her 19 points in the Lady Rocket victory against the Lady Eagles of Madison Southern.

Junior varsity

Smooth sailing Thursday brought only rough waters Friday for the Rockcastle County Lady Rocket junior varsity.

After an easy 43-34 win against the Madison Southern Lady Eagles junior varsity Thursday, the Lady Rockets were rolled over 62-24 by the Estill County Lady Engineers junior varsity Friday.

Boys lose two without Clark

By: Spencer Bengé

The Rockets leading scorer, Steve Clark, could only watch from the sideline this past week as the Rockets lost 2 and dropped their record to 5 and 9.

Clark, a senior, was ejected, along with an Estill County player, in the first four minutes of Thursday's 79:58 loss to the host Estill County Engineers.

According to Rocket head coach David Perkins, the Estill player, a substitute, walked out after a timeout and literally punched Clark. The referees' judgement then called for both players to exit the game although the victimized Clark did not return the punch.

Clark also had to sit it out in Friday night's 73-64 loss to the Jackson County Generals at RCHS.

According to high school rules, if a player is ejected from a game, that player is penalized and cannot participate in the teams next game.

The Rockets were only trailing the Engineers by 4 Friday night before the incident occurred.

But with Clark's presence erased, the Rockets fell to an 8 point deficit at the end of one period.

The Rockets stayed with the Engineers through the second period and only trailed 31-21 at half-time.

But the Rockets found the second half to be fatal as the Engineer's offense put up 24 points to take a 17 point lead into the final period. Although Rocket guard Billy Todd took up the slack with 28 points, it just wasn't enough as the Engineers walked away with the game by 21.

Other scorers besides Todd's 28 were: Michal Perkins, 11; David Sargent, 6; Tim Cottrill, 5; Robbie Phillips, 3; Darren Smith, 3; David Eaton, 2.

It was a different story against Jackson County Friday night as the Rockets were on the Generals heels through the last three periods of the game.

It wasn't for a 22-6 deficit in the first period, the Rockets would have walked away the winner as they outscored the Generals 56-49 the rest of the way.

Lacking in size and Clark still out, the Rockets came out in the second period mixing it up with the Generals' underneath and cut the lead to 26-17 with 4:25 remaining in the half.

After a shaky first period, the Rockets were playing well and after a 3 point conversion by point guard Robbie Phillips, the Rockets now only trailed by 10 at the half.

Proving to be one of the most physical games of the year, the Rockets opened the second half continuing to work hard against the Generals down in the paint.

With the game almost looking like a wrestling match inside, the Rockets made a run. Rocket junior Billy Todd netted a 15 footer to give the Rockets three straight baskets and cut the General lead to 4 midway through the third period.

But the Rockets couldn't close the gap as the Generals, with good inside play by senior forward Dewayne Smith, took their lead up to 9.

The Generals put in 1 of 2 from the stripe with 1 second remaining in the third period to bring the score back to a 10 point spread, the way it started. The Rockets opened up in the final period making yet another run. With a 3 pointer by Todd and a fastbreak 2 by David Sargent, the Rockets brought the tally to 46-41.

But once again, that was all the Generals would allow. With both teams in the bonus, the Generals were sinking some crucial free throws and took their lead back up to 9.

The Rockets had a couple more good stretches but never could break that 5 point margin. Sophomore Michal Perkins nailed 2 from the charity stripe to pull them within 5 but the Generals took it back to 9. Sargent got another 2 from a fastbreak to pull them within 5 but again the General took their lead back to 9. The Rockets did however play a good game overall but found that 22-6 deficit in the first period just too much to overcome as the Generals came out on top by, you guessed it, 9.

Scoring against Jackson County were: Robbie Phillips, 19; David Sargent, 11; William Bullens, 10; Chris Newland, 7; Billy Todd, 6; Michal Parkerson, 5; Darren Smith, 4 and David Eaton, 2.

Boy's b-team

The junior varsity boys came out on the short end twice this week after leading in the first quarter during both games.

The Rockcastle County Rockets junior varsity, now 6 and 4, were edged out Thursday night, 42-39 by the host Estill County Engineers while Friday's 56-40 loss at RCHS came at the hands of the Jackson County Generals.

The Rockets were leading the Engineers 13-6 and behind sophomore forward Michal Parkerson with 18 points, took a 20-16 lead into the half.

But Engineer guard Keith Orr who had 10 points in the deciding factor as the Engineers sank 12 while the Rockets got only 2.

Besides Parkerson's 18 Chris Newland added 8, William Bullens scored 7, Tim Cottrill chipped in 4 and Roger Hasty had 2.

In Friday night's section, the Rockets were just outmaneuvered. After leading by one in the first quarter, the Rockets fell to a 10 point deficit by the half.

The Generals went on to protect that 10 point cushion through the second half and took home the win.

Scoring against Jackson County were: Scott Parkey, 10; William Bullens, 10; Chris Newland, 5; Mike Albright, 5; Scott Bullens, 5; Kevin Mullins, 3; Tim Cottrill, 1.

Saylor Pharmacy's Basketball Contest

Saylor's is located on Richmond Street in Mt. Vernon Ph. 256-5224

Even when Florida had Dwayne Schintz and Livingston Chaman Kentucky beat them in Rupp Arena. Without them Pitino and his "bombinos" could win their first road game when they travel to Gator company. Look for Reggie Hanson and Deron Feldhouse to have big games and beat Don DeVoe's club in a mid upset.

Joey Meyer's club has most likely already beaten the only good team they will all season long. That of course, was the Louisville Cardinals who played in Chicago like they were afraid they might get knocked off by the mob if they beat the Blue Demons. Don't look for Valvano's boys to take it easy on the Demons when they come to state Saturday. This one is a easy pick for all.

Leonard Hamilton's Cowboys probably will not have enough ammunition when they travel to Vegas Saturday. The Rebs are one of the best teams in the country and at home they are almost invincible. Stacey Augmon and company will send Hamilton to the showers or the black jack table, whichever comes first, early.

Louisville played a terrible second half at Ohio State and allowed the Buckeyes to win in overtime after squandering a 17 point lead. Don't look for the Cardinals to be so kind to Bobby Cremins' club in Freedom Hall Saturday. Dennis Scott and his teammates will have to play extremely well to stay close to the Cardinals.

If there is a worse major college coach in the country than Digger Phelps, we certainly pity that program. Phelps has never really accomplished anything in his '900' seasons at Notre Dame and this season is certainly no exception. Houston doesn't have much this season, but they are playing at home and if the Cougars can give a good effort for 40 minutes they will most likely give the Fighting Irish yet another loss.

Dale Brown and company invade Knoxville Saturday for an SEC showdown. If the result of previous road games in the SEC hold true to form here Dale doesn't have a chance. But we wouldn't count Dale out just yet. Take the Tigers.

Other winners should include the Buckeyes, Jayhawks, Crimson Tide and Old Dominion, who will handle Murray Arnold's Hilltoppers.

First Christian maintains lead

By: Eddie Hammond

On paper, week seven of the Rockcastle Christian Men's Basketball league looked anything but even, at least when won-loss records were considered. But the league's parity was evident by the score of four good games.

The Scaffold Cane & Crew team lead by Zandale Hasty and Kenny Graves jumped out to a huge early lead on Bible Baptist #1, but both teams played even the remaining two and a half quarters, thanks in part to the torrid shooting of John Ford, who ended the game with 21 points. Kenny Graves topped Scaffold Cane with 22. Scaffold Cane won 63-45.

First Baptist took sole possession of second place by pulling away in the last minutes from Brodhead Baptist. The game was close throughout, with the lead changing hands several times. Howard Haidt led First Baptist, now 6 and 1, with 13 points. Tommy Payne, who hit 6 of 6 free throw attempts led Brodhead. The final was 60-50.

Undefeated First Christian ran out to a early lead on Wildie/Mareburg, leading at one point 28 to 7, but the league's leading scorer, Benny Blanton ignited a furious comeback over the next two quarters that saw the lead dwindle to 2 at 47-

45 with about four minutes to play. First Christian was however able to pull it out down the stretch and maintain their perfect mark and first place in the league. The final 63-53. Anthony Asher led First Christian with 16.

It was "David" versus "Goliath" in the final game. Ottawa Baptist winners of four in a row and the hottest team in the league looked for an easy win against one time winner Northside Baptist. But at halftime Northside had a four point lead at 20-16. The second half would prove to be a different story however Dennis Harris and company pulled away to win 54-47. Mike Dixon led Northside with 15, all 3 points shots.

Top Ten Scores

Through seven weeks Benny Blanton leads the league in scoring with a 24.1 average. Kenny Graves is second at 23.2, while Steve Phelps is averaging 21 and Zandale Hasty 19.3. Bobby Dale Robinson averages 17.4 a game. Danny Offutt and Rick Bryant are both averaging 17.3 a game John Ford has a 16.8 average. Chris Cornelius averages 16.5 and Dennis Harris 16.3.

Steve Phelps leads the league in free throw shooting percentage, hitting 94% of his chances from the charity stripe.

Indulge in good food and fitness during pregnancy

By: Cheryl Witt
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

If there's ever a time in a woman's life when nutrition and fitness are more important than at other times, it's when she is pregnant.

A woman's nutritional status profoundly influences not only her own health but the outcome of her pregnancies as well.

All the food your baby needs to build a strong, well-developed body must come from you. What you eat and drink is what your baby eats and drinks.

The easiest way to eat proper amounts of the right foods during pregnancy, and throughout your life, is to plan meals using the daily food guide based on the food groups. When you are pregnant, your nutritional needs increase (usually your appetite does too). To provide the extra nutrients you and the baby require, you need to eat two extra servings from the milk-cheese food groups; and one more serving from the meat, poultry, fish and beans group.

Here is a comparison of recommended daily servings for women during pregnancy and at all other times:

Daily Food Guide

Category	When not pregnant
Vegetable-Fruit Group	4
Bread-cereal Group	4
Milk-cheese Group	2
Meat, poultry, fish and beans group	2

A healthy diet includes eating a variety of foods, drinking six to eight glasses of water or other liquids daily, and cutting down on sweets, soft drinks, and other empty calories. You should avoid or limit coffee and other caffeine-containing drinks, such as teas or colas, and also chocolate, since caffeine may be harmful to the development of your baby.

Pregnancy is not the time to indulge in alcoholic beverages at all. Even a few drinks can retard the baby's mental and physical growth or cause deformities and brain damage. And don't take any medications, even aspirin, without first asking your doctor.

Exercising in some way every day is desirable during pregnancy, just as it is at any other time of life. But a more appropriate and sensible.

Exercise offers benefits for both body and mind, and fresh air is also very important, but exercise that leads to exhaustion is not recommended.

A good diet and regular exercise can help relieve a few of the common complaints of pregnancy, too, namely nausea, heartburn, and constipation. Heartburn and indigestion are caused by decreased gastric mobility and increased pressure being placed on the stomach by the enlarging uterus, and the result is the reflex of gastric contents into the esophagus.

Here are suggestions for reducing some of the discomforts of pregnancy:

For nausea and vomiting:

- Eat a few crackers or dry cereal or dry toast prior to getting out of bed.

-Get up slowly.

- Eat 5 to 6 small meals per day.
- Drink fluids between meals rather than with meals.
- Avoid fatty or fried foods.
- Avoid spicy foods.
- Open windows or use an exhaust fan when cooking.
- For heartburn:
- Eat 5 to 6 small meals per day.
- Avoid fatty or fried foods.
- Avoid spicy foods.
- Wear clothes which are loose around the waist.
- Avoid bending over.
- Avoid lying down after a meal.

For constipation:

- Eat raw fruits and vegetables, including skins.

 All eight members of the Lady Rocket squad got into the scoring column against the Lady Eagles as they passed through the first half and breezed through the second half for the win.
 Scoring against Madison Southem were: Cindy McCauley, 13; Tiffany Carter, 7; Beth Amyx, 6; Christy Coleman, 6; Brandy Chastien, 4; Melinda Smith, 3; Danetta Ford, 2 and Christine Silman, 2.
 But it got rough Friday night as the Lady Engineers almost tripled the Lady Rockets' score.
 The Lady Engineers are a top notch ball club and carried a 14 and 1 record into Friday night's game against the Lady Rockets.

Playing juniors and seniors, the Lady Engineers had a lot more experience than the young Lady Rockets and it made for a "lopsided" game.
 Scorers were: Cindy McCauley, 13; Beth Amyx, 4; Christy Coleman, 3; Danetta Ford, 2 and Melinda Smith, 2.

 McKinley, executive secretary of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association in Lexington.
 By using his authority to establish the quota within 3 percent of the formula, Yeutter approved a net increase of 2.5 percent.
 Including Burley not marketed last season -- called carry-over tobacco -- the effective quota for 1990 is expected to be 743 million pounds. That is up 82 million pounds, or 12.5 percent, from last year's effective quota. Although the quota increase was expected by some farm leaders, the price support announcement was not.
 Yeutter set the average price support for the 1990 crop at $1,558 a pound, up 2.6 cents.
 "That's our surprise today," said the cooperative's McKinley, who thought the figure would not be final until March. "That's OK. We can take this 2.6 cents and put it on grades. Our average, considering all grades, will be $1,558."
 McKinley said tobacco organizations would meet to discuss how to apply the average increase to various tobacco grades. He said the co-op should have a recommendation in July.

Kentucky Afield

Kentucky turkey hunters are expected to surpass last year's record harvest by taking more than 1,000 wild birds during the 1990 spring season, according to George Wright, the department coordinator for the Turkey Program of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Based on last year's harvest information, Wright predicts good turkey hunting throughout the state this spring, especially in southeastern portions of Kentucky where turkey populations are rapidly expanding.

Counties producing the highest harvest during the 1989 spring turkey season were: Nelson, with 99 wild turkeys taken; Harlan, 92; Christian, 87; Leitcher, 72; Caldwell, 68; Hopkins, 62; Butler, 37; Ballard, 30; Bell, 26; and Bullitt and Logan, 23 each.

This spring, 64 Kentucky counties or portions of counties will be open for turkey hunting.

Kentucky is divided into two turkey hunting zones for the spring season. Zone A opens April 11 and continues through April 29, while the shorter season in Zone B runs April 11-17. The daily limit is one turkey and the season limit is two turkeys with visible beards.

Hunters may take two turkeys in Zone A, while only one turkey may be harvested in Zone B. Hunters who take a turkey in Zone B may attain their season limit by taking a second bird from Zone A as long as the gobblers aren't bagged on the same day.

Generally, wildlife management areas (WMAs) lying within open counties or open portions of counties are open to turkey hunting and are governed by the zone regulations in effect for the area in which the WMA is located. There are exceptions, however.

Turkey hunters required to purchase an annual license must possess both an hunting license and a turkey permit. In addition, turkey hunters under the age of 18 must be accompanied by an adult and remain under the control of that adult while hunting. All turkey hunters born after 1972 are required to have a valid hunter safety certificate in possession when hunting turkeys in Kentucky.

The 1990 Kentucky Turkey Hunting Guide includes information on season dates, zones, limits, exceptions, license, permit and tagging requirements, along with a list of turkey check stations. To receive a free copy of this guide, contact the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Division of Public Relations, #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, KY 40601, phone (502) 564-4336.

Join the 14 million vocational education students in celebrating Vocational Education Week February 11-17, 1990.

Much of the work of business, industry, education and government requires the skills that are being taught in vocational classrooms today.

Vocational education is the key to many of our nation's top careers -- from carpenters, bricklayers and electricians to agricultural scientists, computer programmers and health professionals.

Eighty percent of the occupations now and in the future have ties to vocational education. Many are among the fastest-growing careers, such as paralegals and medical technicians. Vocational education also prepares millions of workers in retail sales, construction and other fields that will create most of the new jobs in the future.

Free Dogwood Trees

Ten free white flowering dogwood trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during February, 1990. The free trees are part of the non-profit Foundation's Trees for America campaign. The white flowering dogwoods will add year-round beauty to your home and neighborhood," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said. "Dogwoods have showy spring flowers, scarlet autumn foliage, and red berries which attract songbirds all winter." The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between March 1 and May 31 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge. To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to TEN DOGWOODS, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Feb. 28, 1990.

A VALENTINE EXPRESSES YOUR LOVE BUT DOES NOT REPLACE IT

Love is sending a greeting designed to convey Our expression of highest regard; Yet it means a lot more than a simple display Of some cupids and lace on a card; For it also means caring for someone in need, With concern for the sick and the poor; As we see from the lessons contained in our creed, We can make others feel more secure. So apply the instructions your faith has to give, While remembering this, come what may: That our love is essential as long as we live, And it's not just for Valentine's Day.
 —Gloria Nowak

So long as we love we serve; so long as we are loved by others we are indispensable.
 —Robert Louis Stevenson

"Let us not love in word, but in deed and in truth."
 —1 John 3:18
