Western water advisory

By: Ray McClure

A boil water advisory for Western Rockcastle Water District customers along Spiro Road has been issued by the Kentucky Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

The department said the potential exists for bacterial contamination as a result of insufficient water pressure and an inadequate water supply.

Residents are advised to boil water to be used for drinking and cooking a minimum of 10 minutes before use.

The advisory will remain in effect until the source of contamination has been corrected and eliminated from the drinking water supply, according to Denver Burton, water superintendent of the Western district. He added samples of water are being taken weekly.

Burton asked members of the Western district to conserve water.

"As all of you know we do not have enough water to meet our demands," Burton said. "The City of Mt. Vernon cannot treat enough water at this time for all its customers. If we are having problems now, it can only get worse as the summer progresses."

He said the district is "requesting that you help everyone by conserving on your water usage."

"Even though you may not have been out of water, there are people who are," Burton continued. "Please help so that everyone can have water. It is everyone's job to conserve water."

Burton said if users have problems they can telephone 256-5331, day or night. If the call goes to an answering machine, leave a message including the persons name, phone number and location of the problem. Messages are monitored regularly.

Water users in the district have been plagued with a short supply of water at one time or another in the past, Burton said that continues to be the case.

Some blame the City of Mt. Vernon which supplies water to the district by saying the city is limiting the supply.

Others claim Western's continued extension of lines into outlying areas has been a major problem.

The claim that the city is limiting the supply has been challenged by the city with a report the city water plant is close to pumping at capacity now and will be at capacity if there is dry weather in the summer.

As of May, the plant was averaging about 900,000 gallons of treated water a day with a capacity to treat 1,780,000 gallons a day, or 53,400,000 gallons in a 30-day month. In April, the plant produced a total of 29.9 million

It took the Jaws-of-Life apparatus to free two Ohio men Tuesday afternoon after they wrecked on I-75. Both men died in the accident after driving their van into the rear of a transfer truck.

Eddie Moore and Brian Bussell remove the body of Gary McIntosh who died instantly in the accident.

Sheriff reports numerous break-ins

Break-ins with considerable loss of property has been reported to Sheriff Shirley Smith's office.

Thieves broke a bedroom window to get into the home of Cleidith Ray Winkler of Broadhead on June 2.

Taken were a 30-06 rifle with a scope, a 22-caliber Marlin semi-automatic, a 12 gauge single shot shotgun, a 20 gauge single shot shotgun, a 22 pistol, and a 20 gauge single shot shotgun, with a horseshoe stock, chrome with black barrel.

The gun cabinet was damaged. The Winklers were on vacation when the theft occurred.

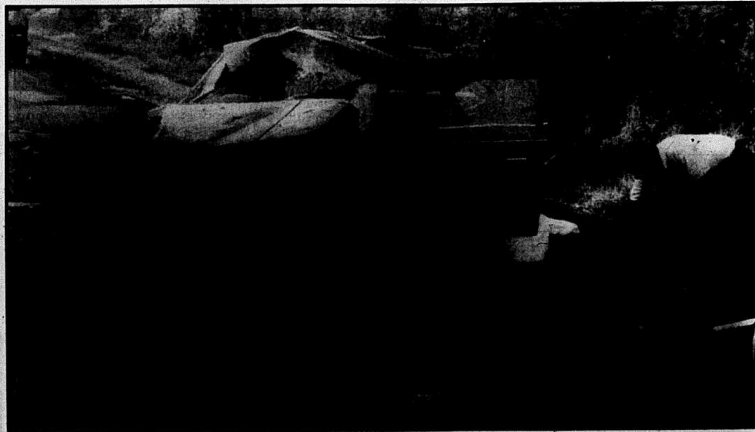

On June 5, burglarized was a garage at the home of Robert Robinson on Newcomb Avenue in Mt. Vernon. The theft occurred between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. A lock was broken to gain entrance.

Taken were two chainsaws, two weed eaters, a battery charger, gas blower, hedge cutter with electric line.

A Gibson guitar was stolen from David Lindsey's home on Dailsey Street in Mt. Vernon on June 3.

On June 1, a 1982 Honda XR2 trail-bike was stolen from James Robinson of Brush Creek while he was at the home of Clinton Bowman, also of Brush Creek.

Rockcastle County Coroner Bill Dowell prepares to remove the body of Della Hamblin who was killed in a single car accident on I-75 Sunday morning. An eighteen year old pregnant woman was also killed in the accident which occurred around 6:30 a.m.

Four die in two wrecks

By: Richard Anderkin

Interstate 75 in Rockcastle County turned deadly this week as four people lost their lives in traffic accidents.

Two different wrecks claimed the lives of an 18-year-old pregnant woman her unborn child, an 18-year-old Ohio man, his 22-year-old cousin and a 37-year-old Middlesboro woman.

The first wreck occurred Sunday morning around 6:30 a.m. near the 56 mile marker of I-75, three miles south of Mt. Vernon, when a trip to a wedding in Chicago turned to tragedy for guests on their way home from the wedding.

The one car accident killed 18-year-old Helena Williams, who was eight months pregnant and the driver of the 1985 Chevrolet station wagon. Della J. Hamblin, 37 of Middlesboro.

State Trooper Gary Lane said that Hamblin apparently fell asleep allowing the station wagon to run off the shoulder of the road in the passing lane of the interstate. Lane said that Ms. Hamblin apparently overcorrected after running off the road and lost control of the station wagon, which hit a cliff and overturned several times before coming to a stop in the southbound emergency lane.

Besides Hamblin and Williams four other passengers in the car were injured.

Hamblin's twin sister 37-year-old Zella Schultz of Oliver Springs Tenn., and June Jenkins, 49, of Harbor Springs Tenn., were listed in serious but stable condition with head injuries at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington.

Wayne Williams, Helena Williams' 17-year-old husband, was in satisfactory condition at the UK hospital with a broken back. Zella Schultz's daughter, Andrea, 3, was treated at Rockcastle Hospital and dismissed.

All but the passengers in the car were asleep. Helena Williams, Zella Schultz, Andrea Schultz and Della Hamblin were thrown from the car. No one was wearing a seat belt.

Helena Williams died while being flown to the hospital in Lexington.

Fayette Deputy Coroner Claire Dixon said the fetus died before Williams was airlifted.

Rockcastle County Coroner Bill Dowell pronounced Della Hamblin dead at the scene. Dowell said that his preliminary investigation indicated that Hamblin died from massive head trauma.

Tuesday afternoon two Ohio men were killed only a few miles from the scene of the other accident, when they drove their 1970 Chevrolet van into the rear of a transfer truck.

Coroner Bill Dowell said that Gregory S. McIntosh, 22, of Franklin Ohio died at the scene. His 18-year-old cousin, Gary Lee Lewis of Middletown Ohio died at the Rockcastle Hospital around 6:14 p.m. The accident occurred at 4:30.

State trooper Mike Hopkins said that Lewis apparently misjudged the speed of the transfer truck, which was traveling about 25 miles an hour up the steep hill in the slow lane, and drove the van into the rear of the truck.

Rockcastle Manufacturing back to business

Rockcastle Manufacturing was back to normal this week following a chemical spill that sent fumes into the plant last Wednesday.

Several employees became ill and were treated at Rockcastle Hospital and released. The plant was closed until Friday.

Tandy Pedigo, manager of the plant, said the chemical has been cleaned up and the site approved by the State Fire Marshal.

Pedigo emphasized there was no gas leak inside the plant.

"That has been checked by everyone involved in the investigation and no leak was found," Pedigo said.

The fumes came from a chemical used to take impurities out of gas lines, but when a connection was opened to check, a screening area was bypassed and the chemical spilled on the ground several yards from the factory. The fumes then drifted into the factory cooling unit.

There was no danger other than the foul odor that made some of the employees ill, Pedigo said. He added that the company has not been fined and does not expect to be.

Renfro Valley now part of city of Mt. Vernon

After many a discussion and lengthy legal process, Renfro Valley is now a part of the City of Mt. Vernon.

The Mt. Vernon City Council voted Thursday and Friday to annex the section to the city. Councilman Ott Bond and Bill Cash did not attend.

The new area includes on and along either side of U.S. 25 north from the area near Red Top Restaurant through Renfro Valley to the Norma Mullins property at the bottom of Green Hill.

The annexation adds about 29 properties to the city, including restaurants, service stations, the Renfro Valley entertainment complex, KOA campground, new businesses owned by Willard Collingsworth and Joe Allen, Derby City South truck plaza, and property owned by Jimmy Renfro opposite the truck plaza.

The newly annexed section was part of a large area in and around Mt. Vernon that was to be annexed, including along Ky. 461, U.S. 150 and U.S. 25 south.

However, those sections were taken out and property owners and those actually living in the areas will vote on annexation in November.

It has been suggested that only property owners and persons actually living in the area are eligible to vote. Persons who own property in the sections, but do not live on the property, are not eligible to vote, a regulation that has made some property owners unhappy.

Our Readers Write

Dear Sir,
I would like to take this opportunity to commend and thank some of the very helpful and friendly people in your column.

My father was born in Mt. Vernon, but his family lived there only a short time. While they were living there, in the early 20's, my father's brother died of the age of thirteen months and was buried in the local cemetery.

We have no friends or family in that part of the state, so visits to the grave were infrequent. A few years ago my father was passing through and he stopped at the cemetery. He was unable to find the grave and so assumed that somehow the small stone had been destroyed. Ever since that time, he has wanted to replace it.

Last week I came to town to try and find out if the grave marker was actually gone or not, so that we could replace it if necessary. I had no idea where the cemetery was; where the grave was, or even the exact date of my uncle's death. I knew only his first name and an approximate time frame of his life.

When we arrived in town we went to city hall. I don't know the lady's name who talked to us, but she was very kind and helpful. She said that the person who would most likely know was Mr. Cox at the funeral home.

She called him for us and gave him all the information we had. Within a matter of minutes she told us that the grave is there and said that Mr. Cox would meet us at the cemetery to help us find it.

It took ten minutes Mr. Cox arrived at the cemetery. By sheer luck we had already found the grave. But we appreciated very much the fact that Mr. Cox was willing to take time out of his busy schedule to help two strangers.

I'm very happy to be able to come home and report to my dad that the stone was not only still there, but being well taken care of!

"Thank you, Mt. Vernon, for your true "Southern Hospitality"!"

Sincerely,
Dorinda B. Lasure

Dear Editor:
I've been on the Copper Creek Road in Rockcastle. I am wondering if anyone can tell me about the church by the name of Wilmot Chapel that was located about three miles from the highway 150. The land is now owned by my great aunt, Lorene Baker. I would like to know if anyone has a picture or any of the record books of the church. Also there is two cemeteries by the name of Wilmot. Is the cemetery named for the same family? I would also like to know if anyone has a picture of a school by the name of Gum Grove also located on Copper Creek. I recently learned that my great grandfather Henry Turner gave part of the land for the school to be built. Please write to me.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Editor,
Good evening. I was just sitting around so I thought I would write a letter to the Big Red Machine, the 1990 Cincinnati Reds.

The Big Red Machine are 10 games ahead of the San Diego Padres who are in second place. In third place are the Los Angeles Dodgers and are 11 games behind the Big Red Machine. Everyone was talking about the four game series out in L.A. The Big Red Machine won three out of four games. Thursday night was the only L.A. victory of the series, the game was 2 to 1 in 10 innings.

Former Reds leftfielder, now LA leftfielder, Ken Daniels, hit a solo homer in the bottom of the 10th on Thursday night off of Red's Norm Charlton. Friday night the Big Red Machine beat the Dodgers 5 to 2. Kal Daniels hit another homer, this time off of Danny Jackson. Eric Davis of the Reds was the winner of the 1990 World Series of the Reds was the winning pitcher and his record is 1 and 1. Norm Charlton got Saturday's win in relief. Norm has four wins in relief and one loss. Sunday, Tom Browning and Randy Myers shut out LA 2 to 0. Tom Browning has a record of five wins and four losses.

I believe that 1990 will be the year of the Big Red Machine.
Better close for now.
Sincerely,
David Brock
Big Red Machine Fan

Social Security Bulletin

A new rule makes it easier for a disabled Social Security beneficiary who works to retain Medicare coverage when coverage lapses because of earnings. If Medicare coverage has already lapsed, a person must sign up by June 30, 1990, for coverage to begin July 1, 1990.

Under the provision, a person may purchase Medicare coverage by paying a monthly premium. In 1990, the premium is $175 a month for Medicare hospital insurance coverage and $28.60 per month for Medicare's medical insurance coverage.

People have seven months after they receive notice that their Medicare coverage has lapsed to enroll. Those who do not enroll during that time would have to wait until the general enrollment period -- January-March of each year -- and may have to pay a premium surcharge.

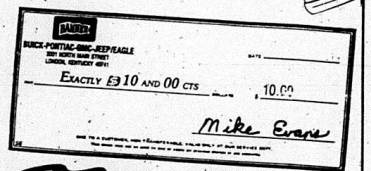

Note that, while a person may purchase Medicare coverage (Cont. to A5)

A Weekly Report from Fifth District Congressman Hal Rogers

Report From Tour: Southern Kentucky Is On the Move

Southern Kentucky is reaping a huge harvest of progress. My recent Memorial Day Recess tour through 12 of the Fifth Congressional District's 27 counties showed me how far we have come, and how much promise we show. (I will visit the other 15 counties in August.)

In Southern Kentucky, many public and private projects under way in each of these 12 counties will generate hundreds of new jobs, add millions of dollars to our economy, and build a better way of life for Southern Kentuckians.

Clay County—Construction of a $45 million federal prison is under way in the hills north of Manchester. When it is completed in two years, the Manchester Federal Corrections Institution will employ 250 Southern Kentuckians on the federal wage scale, annually generate a $10 million payroll and several million dollars in annual purchases of local supplies.

Estill County—Late this summer, construction should begin on a modern wastewater treatment plant for the Irville area, providing sewerage service for many parts of the county for the first time ever.

Garrard County—Lancaster residents should expect work to begin soon on a recently-funded $722,000 water system expansion, serving more than 100 additional Garrard County customers.

Knox County—I joined the Corps of Engineers and local officials in breaking ground for a multi-million-dollar expansion of the floodwall, and nonstructural protection outside the floodwall, to guard Barbourville from the periodic floods of the Cumberland River.

Laurel County—The London Postal Regional Sort Center has opened near Interstate 75, keeping 80 postal jobs in Southern Kentucky and speeding the mail for many Southeastern Kentucky counties. And downtown London will soon be served with a postal contact station.

Lee County—Construction is proceeding at a quick pace on a new, state-of-the-art minimum security state prison just outside Beattyville, providing 100 new jobs and purchases of local supplies.

Leslie County—The coal business is prospering in Leslie County, and one look at the county seat of Hyden will show how much. Stores are busy and businesses are bustling. In addition, the Richard M. Nixon Community Center is being completely refurbished by the county government.

Lincoln County—Construction should begin soon on a $1.6 million water system project to bring city water to several county customers for the first time ever. And the local economy prospers. Two new industries have located in Lincoln County, creating 250 new jobs, and more are on the way.

Owsley County—All the necessary funding has been accumulated for extending Booneville's water system to additional customers in Owsley County. Construction will begin soon.

Rockcastle County—The centerpiece of Southern Kentucky's revitalized tourism marketing plan, Renfro Valley, home of the famous Barn Dance near Mt. Vernon, has embarked on a multi-million-dollar expansion program. The new 1,500-seat auditorium for the Renfro Valley Barn Dance has already opened, and construction is well under way on an old-fashioned country village, a theme park, recreational vehicle park, restaurants and other facilities.

Whitley County—The State of Kentucky has ambitious plans for expanding and renovating the cabins at Cumberland Falls State Park. Across the river in McCreary County, Tombsone Junction, the country music theme park, has just opened a greatly improved facility for the new season. With more visitors come more jobs for Southern Kentuckians.

My tour through Southern Kentucky is only half over. This August, I will visit the remaining 15 counties in the Fifth Congressional District. Look around. Southern Kentucky is on the move.

Secretary of Agriculture accepts burley growers recommendations

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter and officials of the USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation have announced their acceptance of American burley growers' recommendations for 1990 grade-loan rates that are designed to increase the production of high-quality burley and to encourage the practice of "stripping," or the careful separation of leaves into various grades before growers market the crop.

Grade-loan rates go into effect when tobacco, marketed on U.S. warehouse floors, fails to bring 1 cent per pound over the support price, which for the 1990 burley crop is $15.58 per pound.

By federal regulation such unsold tobacco automatically goes under loan to the burley associations, which operate by borrowing and repaying with interest funds from the CCC.

According to Keith Bjerkie, the CCC's executive vice president, the USDA-approved grade-loan rates for 1990 were developed in consultation with the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association and the Burley Stabilization Commission.

Other USDA officials noted that the burley associations did "an exceptionally good job" this year in compiling their recommendations.

"That's what we had hoped for," said Danny McKinney, the BTOCA's executive secretary-treasurer.

"Our co-op directors tried very hard to do a good job for the growers when we prepared this rate schedule," McKinney explained. "We also sought input from all the burley growers, and they all participated solidly, before we sent our recommendations to Washington. So, having the USDA approve it exactly the way we sent it in means that, apparently, we succeeded."

The rates -- given "preliminary" status on the USDA-approved schedule -- range from 80 cents per pound for an "NGI" grade to $17.17 per pound for a "B1R" grade.

Compared to 1989 levels, these rates reflected an overall increase of 2.6 cents per pound in the national support level for the 1990 burley crop.

According to another June 1 announcement, the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service plans to add two new "mixed" grades for burley, effective with the 1990 crop.

But USDA officials indicated that "these additional grades are expected to have little effect on the final grade-loan rates" that will be announced after these grade changes have been made.

CCC officials also noted that it will not provide loans on 1990 tobacco graded "N2L," "N20," "U" (or "un-sound"), "W" (or "wet"), "NO-G" (or "no grade") "scrap" tobacco.

"Two wrecks" Cont. from A-1

Witnesses at the scene said the two men were traveling at a high rate of speed up the hill.

Rockcastle ambulance attendants and members of the Mt. Vernon and Brodhead fire departments used the Jaws-of-Life apparatus to remove both men from the vehicle.

Dowell said that Lewis apparently died from massive head injuries and McIntosh died from internal chest injuries.

A spokesperson for Baker Funeral Home in Middletown said that the two men were traveling home from a job in Tennessee.

Both men will be buried in Middletown.

Autopsies were performed on all the victims at the University of Kentucky Medical Center by the state medical examiner.

All our groups using water are under a ban on water line extensions by the Drinking Water Branch, Division of Water, Frankfort, including Mt. Vernon, Northern, Western and Brodhead.

Incidentally, Brodhead also furnishes some water to the Western district. Burton estimated the amount was about 20,000 to 25,000 gallons a day for which the district pays Brodhead 98 cents a 1,000 gallons, the same as Mt. Vernon charges Brodhead.

A meeting had been scheduled for Monday with the Division of Water in Frankfort with all parties involved in water usage in Rockcastle represented, but the meeting was postponed until June 18 when Mt. Vernon Mayor Gary R. Cromer was unable to attend.

When the ban on water line extensions was imposed, John T. Smither, manager of the state agency, said the city "is not able to adequately serve its customers."

The ban is in effect until the city "demonstrates to the satisfaction of this office that it can adequately supply the water needs of all its customers," Smither wrote.

Apparently, the coming meeting will see a discussion of present water problems reported by the Western district, as well as future plans for the

Mt. Vernon water plant and distribution of water. According to Jack Crawford of Crawford & Crawford, engineers of Bumside, his firm is working on a survey to advise the city on future plans. At a recent council meeting, it was a estimate of $1.7 million would be needed to upgrade the plant and distribution system.

Rainfall brings mixed blessings

Above normal rainfall in May brought mixed blessings to many Kentucky vegetable growers.

"The rain certainly helped reduce the rainfall deficit," said John Hartman, an Extension plant pathologist at the University of Kentucky. "But we're seeing some evidence that these rains caused earlier than normal, and perhaps more severe, outbreaks of some vegetable crop diseases. Driving rains and winds spread bacteria and spores of fungi that cause diseases, increasing the problem."

Downy mildew has been spotted on some of the 500 acres of cabbage in Kentucky, and early blight has been discovered in some of the 400 to 500 acres of stalked tomatoes in the state, according to Hartman. Weather-related diseases are also showing up in the 2,000 to 3,000 acres of bell and pimento peppers in Kentucky.

"Farmers should carefully scout their fields several times a week, preferably daily, for signs of diseases," Hartman said. "If you think a plant has a disease problem, but can't identify it, dig several plants with roots intact and take them to the county Extension office for diagnosis."

The combination of wet weather and cooler temperatures has created conditions favorable for development of downy mildew on cabbage, according to Hartman. Disease symptoms are light yellow spots on the upper surface of leaves and fuzzy or moldy-looking spots on the underside of leaves. Farmers should use a Ridomil-Bravo spray schedule, following label instructions.

Farmers also should watch for white moths flying around cabbage fields during the day. The moths are laying eggs that will hatch into small worms that feed on cabbage leaves.

To prevent insect damage, spray weekly with Bacillus thuringiensis (Bt), a biological insecticide. "The duo of recent warm weather and wetness tends to spread early blight on tomatoes and could help spread bacterial spot diseases on peppers," Hartman said. Early blight causes brown target-shaped lesions on tomato plant leaves. To prevent early blight on tomatoes, follow a weekly spray schedule with a fungicide such as Bravo or Dyrene.

chase hospital insurance without the medical insurance, it is not possible to purchase medical insurance without hospital insurance. Medical insurance pays doctor bills and certain outpatient expenses not covered by hospital insurance.

The new rule is expected to be a major boost for disabled beneficiaries who are attempting to return to the workplace in spite of their disability. Fear of losing Medicare protection is one of the major deterrents to such work attempts. Because their disability continues, they can expect continued substantial medical expenses.

Disabled beneficiaries who would be eligible to buy Medicare but have limited income and resources need to know that the states are required to pay Medicare hospital insurance premiums for "qualified disabled and working individuals" who meet certain income and resource standards. However, the states are not required to pay Medicare medical insurance premiums. For specific information on the income and resource requirements, contact your State Medicaid agency.

Disabled people who would like to buy Medicare coverage or need more information should contact Social Security.

Thomas Wolfe, I believe, given credit for coining the phrase "You can't go home again". Most folks interpret that to mean that if you leave home and stay gone for any long length of time, things will change so much that it won't be like you remember when you do get around to going back. In other words you can't go back to something that isn't there anymore.

I left Letcher County sixteen years ago this month. I moved from the head of Blair Branch, first to London, where I lived in a new apartment in a new subdivision and stayed home sick around the clock, and then to Berea where I lived in the first of several homes I've occupied that needed so much attention I had no time to grieve for the old place.

The thing that disturbed me most about living in town then, and still does today, was the fact that you have to lock the darn doors if you're going to be gone more than a minute. I was robbed three times within the first two weeks of moving to London because I kept forgetting to lock up. I called the law one time, told them what happened and got laughed at. An unlocked door in that particular neighborhood was as good as putting a full page ad in the paper insisting that you needed to be burglarized.

Instead of trying to solve the crime that had been perpetrated upon me, the police wondered aloud about my mental condition and hinted that I should consider my stolen camera an inexpensive price to pay for the lesson I'd just received about locking doors.

"You're lucky", I was told. "They could have taken your clothing. Shoot man! They didn't even take your clock radio."

But the thieves came back and got it the next week along with every stitch I owned except what I was wearing. They even took my laundry hamper, dirty underwear and all.

I was too embarrassed to call the cops so I moved to Berea. Into the most run down house I could find. The dining room floor was so unlevel that you could only fill a bowl of food about half full else it would spill over when you set it down on the table. I put bricks under the front of the refrigerator to level it up enough so everything wouldn't fall out every time the door was opened.

It was not the sort of place that looked prosperous. I'd been there about two months before I fell back into my old habit of not locking the door. I had one of those big Master locks and a hasp as security on the front door but it looked more imposing than it was functional. When cold weather set in, getting it open could turn into a major undertaking. I used to have to thaw it out with a cigarette lighter because it would attract moisture like a sponge and then freeze as, if it had been welded together. Finally

The Bill Sky Family, Ware Brothers and Elmer Goodman are just a few of the entertainers scheduled to appear during the Mountain Music Weekend in Renfro Valley.

This year's Mountain Music Weekend, June 15th and 16th is sure to be the best yet in the beautiful Kentucky valley.

Other performers include Renfro Valley's own Old Joe Clark and Terry, the Eversole Brothers, Virginia Sutton and Jim Gaskin.

The Bottom of the Barrel Band and the A.L. Phipps Family will also perform as will the Cumberland Rangers who will reunite for this special weekend of music.

The Cumberland Rangers performed with the late country music pioneer, Asa Martin for 12 years when Asa came out of retirement in the mid 60's during an upsurge in interest in old-time music among the college group.

Jim Gaskin, Grady "Buz" Brazaele, Gilbert Thomas and Earl Barnes will come together again for this special event, performing old Mountain ballads, novelty songs, gospel songs and classical instruments that took them to the National Folk Festival twice, the Smithsonian Institute, numerous festivals, television specials, over 1,000 radio shows and over 60 recordings. All of the members of the group have played traditional music for over 40 years.

The Ware Brothers, (Chest and Don) are natives of Casey County.

These fellows have the close vocal harmony and unique instrumental accompaniment of the standard six-string guitar and tenor, four-string guitar popularized by the Demore Brothers, along with some very distinctive styling of their own. Many of the old friends of Renfro Valley will be reminded of the fine Baker Brothers duet which was part of the Barn Dance shows for many years.

The A.L. Phipps Family is an Appalachian mountain music family in the finest tradition. From their home near Barbourville, A.L. Phipps and his wife and daughter have taken their music to the world through records, radio and stage appearances. Although their style is similar to their close friends and associates (The A.P.

Carter Family), the A.L. Phipps family used many songs that are distinctive in their own.

Many years of careful study and hard work, combined with their deep love for their music makes their performance a pure delight.

Elmer Goodman is a loyal student of old-time music since his childhood and he has combined his music talents with radio broadcasting for a long and colorful career. He is widely known for his broad knowledge of music and his association with many of the music pioneers who helped to bring this music to the world through radio and records.

Elmer was a regular performer at Renfro Valley for many years and it is always a treat when Elmer returns. He is also still very active in radio at WANY in Albany.

The Bottom of the Barrel Band is a traditional string band devoted to old country music. The band depicts the style of music of the early radio era of the 1920's and 1930's. They play tunes that were made popular by groups such as the Carter Family, Uncle Dave Macon, Skillet Lickers and the Georgia Yellow Hammers.

They consist of Scottie Holbrook who plays banjo, Aaron Meadows a bass player, Robin Holbrook and Roy Conely, who play guitar and Jamie Wells a fiddle player.

There have been lots of family teams to go on stage and entertain the crowds with their music, but very few acts can claim that every member on stage is a self taught musician.

Self taught is what Bill, Tara and Laurie Sky are when it comes to their knowledge of music. The Bill Sky Family will be the featured entertainers during the Mountain Music Weekend.

Bill plays the guitar while Tara plays mandolin, auto harp and banjo. Laurie plays standup bass and auto harp. Both daughters are excellent jig and clog dancers.

The trio brings to their music a delightful authenticity which keeps them in demand all over the country.

15th Annual Ladies' Retreat

By: Elizabeth F. Mullins

Nine churches were represented on the Christian Churches camp site hill, June 8th, from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Patsy Hopkins registered women from Christian Churches of Broadhead, Mt. Vernon, Southern Heights, Scott Fork, New Antioch, Science Hill, Glades, Westside and Broadhead Baptist Church.

The Mt. Vernon ladies did a great job in setting up the tables for the pitch-in meal, as well as "spring-cleaning" the kitchen.

It was so cooler outside, benches were placed there to start the Prayers in Songs.

The trees against the sky formed a beautiful background at 8 p.m.

The songs sung were chosen to follow the theme of the 1990 retreat which was "Our Purpose-God's Promise"

This was the speaker's subject also. She started her spiritual talk after a prayer and special music.

In the introduction of Dolly Steele of Richmond Christian Church, the group was told that she worked with Special Education at E.K.U., as well as following in her late husband's work as a follower of Christ.

She talked to the ladies as if she were a teacher. Her speech was really like a Bible study.

One great purpose in life is to let the world know about God and His purpose; another is to love everyone; pray for those who desperately use you; to be stewards of our time, money, talents, and spiritual sacrifices," she stated firmly.

Mrs. Steele quoted several verses in 1 Peter. One was, "But you are a chosen people, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people belonging to God."

She asked her young friend to sing "Take My Heart and Let It Be" accompanied by music from a portable key-board.

The speaker told the listening ladies to not let the world tell them what to do. Enjoy God's creation and let Him take your heart, hands, feet, lips and days to use for His glory.

This great lesson was followed by prayer.

When the moon refused to give the ladies light they gathered inside the "Get Acquainted" session.

Groups were formed first to find

nally I came home one evening, spent thirty minutes getting into the house and threw the lock up Center Street in the general direction of Boone Tavern.

I really intended to buy a new lock that night but I kept putting it off for weeks until the thieves got me again. Actually, I don't know that it was thieves because I never did miss anything, but they broke every glass in the room and pieces of my bluegrass record collection were scattered all over. I figure they were ticked off because there wasn't anything worth stealing so they just decided to vandalize. But I didn't call the law. The lesson I'd learned in London had failed to make me lock the door, but I could vividly remember how low I felt when the cops had laughed at me and I didn't want anymore of that.

Since then I've been pretty good at locking up. I lived in one place that had four doors but the locks were weak so Loretta just nailed two of them shut permanently. At another place we had locks that must have cost a hundred dollars apiece, but thieves got us anyway. They threw a cinder block through the window and we learned that even if you do lock up there still isn't any sense in calling the law. We're thinking about going on vacation this summer and I'm studying about turning rat-snares loose all over the house. If someone breaks in I'll just call the emergency room and see who reported a snakebite while we were gone.

This whole thing started off being an essay on whether or not you can, in fact, go home again though, and believe it or not, I'm getting there, because I maintain that you can.

"The thing that I remember most fondly about Blair Branch is the trust that neighbors had for each other when I was growing up. My mom would have worried herself sick if she had thought someone couldn't get in the house when we were gone. They might be hungry or need a drink or maybe just need to sit and rest for awhile. You just didn't lock up. And you didn't worry about your stuff getting stolen.

But I thought that all of that had died out. It hasn't.

Last week I called my sister-in-law, Shannon, to see if she and Steve would put me up for the week-end while I hung out at Appashop.

"We'll probably be gone all day Friday," she told me, "but just make yourself at home. The doors will be unlocked."

And I said to myself, "Don't tell me that I can't go home again. I just did it."

numerous items in their purses. Four groups tied for this hunt. But the next game was to find someone older than they were and to start a conversation.

Each and everyone could have gone to Elizabeth Mullins to talk, as again, she was the oldest one to attend this spiritual gathering!

After this "Fun and Sharing", we sat down to share a few green backs and some part of our life.

At 11 p.m. prayer circles were formed before singing the closing chorus and retiring.

The camp bell rang at 7 a.m. to let everyone know to be ready for breakfast at 7:45 a.m., Saturday.

Hot coffee finished awakening some of the sleepheavies, before they devoured the good breakfast.

Then they were ready for the Prayer Walk. All alone each lady went to several spots to pray.

At 9 a.m. they heard Dolly Steele lift their spirits with another uplifting speech.

After a coffee break and business meeting, they all joined in songs of praise at 11 a.m.

At the benediction, adieus were said to each other with hugs of returning in 1991 for a divine influence of the Holy Spirit, at this same location.

New Diet Product Passes Pharmacist's Test

WASHINGTON - Before offering a revolutionary new diet product to his customers, a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist put the product to his own test. In a documented statement, the pharmacist said "after using the product FOOD SOURCE ONE I did not have the desire to nibble. I took FOOD SOURCE ONE in the morning and at lunch and did not get hungry. In the evening I ate my usual meal and as a result I lost 14 pounds in 15 days.

In a separate report, after fighting a weight battle for twelve years, a Daytona Beach, Florida woman, on the recommendation of her physician used the product and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "not only have I lost thirty pounds, but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes that have not fit me in two years which I can now wear. This product is very easy to take and I feel good. I now have one daughter and two sons-in-laws who also decided to go with the plan. Thank you for a product that in my opinion is a real aid to dieters."

Developed by National Dietary Research, FOOD SOURCE ONE packs the balanced nutrition of a meal into a compact tablet. FS-1 makes you feel full like you just got up from the dinner table, but without the calories. FS-1 works by mimicking the food assimilation process, due in part to the special mechanism by which FS-1 works to decrease body weight called nutri-bonding.

FOOD SOURCE ONE is unlike any other product on the market and is available only through physicians and pharmacists. FS-1 is not a drug and contains only natural ingredients known to be safe. Physicians and pharmacists are praising FOOD SOURCE ONE as a natural, drug free alternative for the treatment of obesity.

Summer Poison Tips

The Kentucky Regional Poison Center of Kosair Children's Hospital is anticipating a record number of calls for its 36th anniversary in 1990. Center statistics show a 96 percent increase in the number of calls since 1977 (earliest figures available). In 1977, the center received 5,313 calls, and in 1989 51,155.

The increase in calls does not represent more people being poisoned, but rather a greater awareness of the resources of the Poison Center. The nurses and pharmacists are specially-trained to answer the hotline, evaluate each situation and determine what kind of treatment is needed. About 80 percent of the cases can be managed at home.

Summertime brings a list of poisoning hazards. Petroleum products such as gasoline, paint thinner, furniture polishes, kerosene and mineral or motor oils are often swallowed by curious children. These products can get into the lungs causing prolonged coughing and difficult breathing. They may also make a child vomit or sleepy and lethargic.

Outdoor summer activities bring people in contact with insects, spiders and snakes. Bites from any of these critters can be annoying and painful. But certain bites can be fatal. The following types of bites should receive immediate medical attention:

1. Poisonous snakes
  2. Stinging insects in patients with known serious allergies to the insect
  3. Poisonous insects such as scorpions, spiders and scorpions in very young children
  4. Any bite that produces major symptoms such as difficulty in breathing or pronounced swelling
- Other poisoning hazards include alcohol; cigarettes; medications; personal care products; household cleaners; fertilizers; outdoor plants, bulbs and berries; indoor plants; lead from old paint chips; and fireworks. If you have questions concerning a possible poison hazard, call The Kentucky Regional Poison Center of Kosair Children's Hospital. It operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The toll-free number in Kentucky is 1-800-722-5725. Information pamphlets and stickers are available by calling the center or writing P.O. Box 35070, Louisville, KY 40232-5070.

Beware of the Beetles

Japanese beetles are marshalling forces to attack many plants and trees in Kentucky.

The grub, or immature stage, spends the winter deep in the soil and the adult emerges from early to mid-June, according to Lee Townsend, an Extension entomologist in the University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture. The adult beetles ravage landscape shrubs and trees for about eight weeks, reaching their peak in mid-July.

"Adult Japanese beetles feed on more than 300 plants and trees," Townsend said. "They are especially attracted to specimens that have a scent. Roses, grapes and purple leaf plants are among their favorites."

The beetles feed on foliage, leaving a lace-like appearance on leaves, and can strip a plant of all foliage. These attacks stress plants and reduce their vigor as well as making them unsightly.

Adult Japanese beetles are about one-half inch long. They have bright metallic green bodies, with white spots along the lateral sides, and copper-colored wing covers.

Homeowners can use milky spore powder to reduce lawn damage from the grub stage. However, the time and money invested in milky spore powder treatment often is ill advised, according to Townsend.

"These grubs do minimal damage to lawns in Kentucky," he said. "The milky spore powder treatment is only effective when used on a large area adjacent to a homeowner's lawn; otherwise, grubs from adjoining areas will move into the lawn over the course of time."

A more productive alternative is to control adult beetles, he said.

"It is better to protect susceptible plants with a dust like Sevin, which kills the beetles and is labeled for a wide variety of plants and trees used in the landscape," Townsend said. "Where only a few beetles are on a plant, homeowners can remove and destroy them."

"Japanese beetle traps are not an effective control measure. The trap lure is potent in attracting beetles. However, traps attract more beetles than they can kill, and beetles often stop off to feed on plants or trees before they reach the trap."

For information on Japanese beetles and other landscape pests, contact the county Extension office.

"RAIN-MIXED BLESSING" (Cont. From A3)

Warm, wet weather also is conducive to leaf spot diseases, such as bacterial leaf spot, on bell and pimento peppers. The disease causes dark brown or black, sometimes water soaked, lesions on the leaves. As the disease progresses, the leaves may turn yellow and drop off the plant.

If scouting indicates pepper plants have bacterial leaf spot, spray with a fixed copper spray weekly, Hartman said.

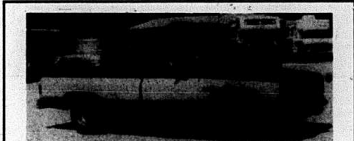

The Extension publication "Commercial Vegetable Crop Recommendations 1990-91" (ID-36) has information on vegetable diseases and control. It is available at the county Extension office.

CABLE RATE INCREASE (Cont. From B1)

Mayor Gary R. Cromer a 45-day advance notice of any rate increase. That was equally not done.

The company also agreed to pay the city money equal to three percent of the gross revenue derived from basic cable subscription rates for the first year.

The second year, the city at its option may increase the franchise fee paid to the city to five percent of the gross revenue. All payments were to be on a quarterly basis.

Water meeting at Livingston

All residents living in the Livingston water project proposed areas for water line extension are invited to attend a public meeting to be held Thursday, June 21, at 6 p.m., in the City of Livingston Fire Department.

It is important for all residents to attend as this meeting will determine those households that are eligible for tap fee and service line construction assistance.

The Appalachian Regional Commission has awarded the city $904,654 for the proposed water project.

The project includes new water lines for 46 new customers and to connect a water line along U.S. 25 to Woods Creek Water District. A 25,000 gallon storage tank will be constructed on Ky 1955. There will also be replacement lines in the city.

The project is expected to get underway this year.

RECC meeting June 26

Jackson County Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation cordially invite its members to its 52nd annual meeting and business session to be held on Tuesday, June 26, 1990, at the RECC Farm.

The farm is located 6 1/2 miles south of McKee and 2 1/2 miles north of Amvville on Kentucky Highway 290. Registration will begin at 6 p.m., with the program getting underway at 7 p.m.

The business meeting will be the first item on the agenda. Cooperative members and their families will hear reports on current activities and conditions of their cooperative. Also, a review of activities from last year, as well as plans for coming years will be presented.

President and General Manager Lee Roy Cole, said, "The Board of Directors of Jackson County RECC would like to invite every member to attend this year's annual meeting. There are a number of important matters to report to the membership. We want our members to know how successful their cooperative is today, and what our plans are for the coming year. Also, we are fortunate again this year to have some very good entertainment for the whole family to enjoy."

George Hamilton IV, the "International Ambassador of Country Music" and Grand Ole Opry star, will be the evening's featured entertainment. George Hamilton IV has been a country music recording star for more than thirty years.

In addition to George Hamilton IV, ventriloquist and comedian Billy Earl will also entertain with his unique and original show. Earl is one of the few ventriloquists who never uses a dummy. He and his many animal co-stars will provide quite a few laughs during his performance.

Western Rockcastle Water Association President Denver Burton and board member Curt Begley were interviewed by Chris Wellman of Channel 27 at Begley's Grocery on Hwy. 70. Western is having trouble supplying their water customers. (See story on Page A-1)

Falcon says no increase in bills until September

An official of Falcon TV Cable has told city officials the company will make every effort to abide by requirements included in the city's cable television franchise.

Robert Taylor, regional manager at Corbin and Monticello, reported he was not aware of the requirements included in the franchise, but will abide by those regulations following discussions with the city.

Persons who have paid the monthly base rate increase from $14.95 to 16.95, or $2, plus other charges for some subscribers, will be credited with the increased amount on a future bill.

However, the new rate will go into effect in September, according to the franchise agreement.

On Aug., 1989, the city signed a contract with the then owner Southern Cablevision of Corbin that gave Southern an extension on its franchise for 10 years from May 9, 1993 to May 9, 2003.

The company agreed, and it is indicated in the ordinance, there would be no rate increase for 12 months from the effective date of renewal, Sept. 1, 1989.

The company also agreed to give

Fiscal Court sells bonds

Another step toward a bond issue with the money to go for road repairs in the county was taken, by the Rockcastle Fiscal Court at a special meeting Tuesday.

The court voted to issue bonds for $700,000 for the various projects, still unnamed, that will allow the county Road Department and others to repair roads that have been a problem over the years.

The Department of Local Government in Frankfort reduced the bond money from $1,065,000 to the $700,000 figure following guidelines set down at the last session of the Kentucky General Assembly.

However, if need be, the county at a later date can issue bonds for the remaining $365,000.

Actually, the county will have $600,000 for construction since $100,000 is mandated to go into an interest bearing escrow account that will remain through the bond period.

The bonds are to be sold at a special meeting of the court at 3 p.m. June 22.

Money should be available the first week of July.

Interest on the bonds that are sold to a private bonding company is estimated at between 7.75 percent and 8.10 percent, the present bond interest rate, for 12 years.

After a repayment of about $27,000 on the bonds in January 1991, it is estimated the 1991-21 year interest will be about $83,000. The county receives about $600,000 annually from the state for road work. Some of that money can be used to repay the bond issue.

In other business, the court approved renting a barn on the Brodhead fairground to Billy Joe Shafer of Brodhead to store his tobacco at $50 a month for about four months.

Sealed bids will be sought on sale of a mobile home located on the grounds of West Mt. Vernon voting precinct on Poplar Street. The mobile home was included in the sale of the property to the county in 1988.

Were you counted?

"Were you and all the members of your household counted in the 1990 Census?"

That's the question the U.S. Census Bureau is asking during the next four weeks as the nation's bicentennial census enters its final months.

"If you receive a census questionnaire was not completed for your household or that someone living in your residence was not counted, there is a toll-free number you can use to provide the information over the telephone," said William F. Hill, regional director of the census bureau. "The call will only take a few minutes."

Toll-free telephone service is available seven days a week between 7 a.m. and 10 p.m. The number is 1-800-999-1990.

Final date for reporting crops July 1

The final reporting date for Corn, Soybeans, and Grain Sorghum is July 1.

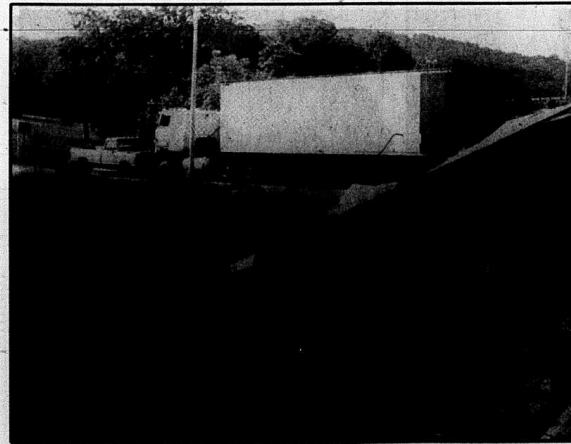

ASCS encourages all producers growing crops who desire to be eligible for price support and other program benefits to make an appointment to file a crop acreage report. Farmers growing program crops but not participating in current programs should report crop acreages to insure history preservation in order to participate in future programs.

Producers who have an established base but are not growing crops MUST file a zero report of acreage in order to have an established history file.

Failure to report crop acreage when a producer is enrolled in the current program results in failure to fully comply and makes producers subject to penalties. Please call the ASCS Office at 256-2525b between June 1 and July 1 to make an appointment to report crop acreages.

A Georgia man said three men drove his transfer truck over the embankment at the Renfro Valley exit Monday night after they assaulted him. Bobby Ray Nichols, 47, is in the University of Kentucky Medical Center listed in serious condition.

Fight results in truck wreck at Renfro Valley

Three men stopped a tractor-trailer on U.S. 25 in Rockcastle County yesterday morning, assaulted the driver and then rolled the truck over an embankment, according to the Kentucky State Police.

Bobby Ray Nichols, 47, of Rabun Gap, Ga., who was bound for Chicago with a load of frozen chicken, was listed in serious condition at the University of Kentucky Chandler Medical Center last night.

Police have filed charges of assault and criminal mischief against the three men, who fled on U.S. 25 in a red car. No arrests were made as of yesterday afternoon.

Police said Nichols was carrying a load of frozen chicken from Athens, Ga., northbound on I-75. About 5:30 a.m., he left the interstate at the Mt. Vernon exit in Rockcastle County.

Nichols told police that he exited going the wrong way on U.S. 25 and turned around. It was then that he saw a red car behind him, signaling to stop.

When he approached the car, the driver said Nichols' truck had struck them while turning around. A scuffle broke out between Nichols and two of the men. Meanwhile, a third man climbed into the truck and let off the air brake.

The men then fled. Nichols told police he tried to jump back in his truck but couldn't, and the semi-truck rolled over an embankment, spilling most of its load. Some fuel also was spilled, police said.

Trooper Craig Sutton said police were looking for leads and asked that anyone having information call the state police post in London, at (606) 878-6622.

Little League Report

Orioles, A's and Reds on top in league play

You can always find the ball parks at Roundstone and Brodhead filled with kids and spectators as little league season continues with games almost every day.

So let's look at some of the action that has kept these fields filled with excitement and just good all around little league fun.

It was a brother duo that worked together, Friday at Roundstone in the Minor League division. Both Mark and Jason Proctor at home to help their team, the Giants, defeat the Angels 11-9.

The Angels also got the short end last Monday when the Cubs, with a homerun from Calvin Todd, defeated them, 23-11.

The Orioles also defeated the Pirates last Monday in a big scoring game 23-20.

Tuesday night it was the Bears with the big score as they defeated the Giants 20-7.

But the Giants fought hard Thursday night against the undefeated Orioles and still fell short by only one run when they lost, 17-16.

Friday night action saw the Cubs defeat the Pirates 18-11 and the Bears roll over the Angels 14-4 for an easy win.

But the big game was Monday night when the undefeated Orioles thumped the Bears 25-9 to up their record to 10-0 and clinch the Minor League division for this year. The Orioles had seven homers, three by catcher J.B. King and two each by brothers Deral and Brian Pittman.

The standings thus far for the Minor League are the Orioles, 10-0; Cubs, 8-3; Bears, 5-4; Giants, 4-4 and the Angels, 2-6.

In Major League action this past week, the Pirates got the win against the Padres, 14-4, last Monday night for their second win of the year.

The Cubs snatched a victory last Tuesday over the Reds, 9-6, but were on the losing end Thursday when the Cardinals handed them an 8-6 loss.

But the Cubs bounced back Friday defeating the Pirates by one run, 13-12.

The A's are the team to beat and it was they who beat the Reds, 13-3

Saturday with a little help from a grand slam homerun by Josh Blanton. Jason Childress also added a homerun for the A's in the effort.

Two teams battled for second place in the league standings for the Major League. Saturday and the rest was the Cardinals taking over second with a 9 to 6 win over the Twins.

But once again the big game was Monday when the first place and undefeated A's fell in a 14-9 loss to the fourth place Padres.

Monday night the Cardinals also defeated the Cubs 12-2 for an easy win.

Standings for the Major League are the A's, 9-1; Cardinals, 6-3; Twins, 5-3; Padres, 4-6; Cubs, 3-4; Reds, 2-7 and the Pirates, 2-7.

Now starting with last Tuesday in Senior League play, the first place Bears, with five homeruns, had no trouble in their 11-1 win over the Braves. Collecting the homeruns for the Bears were Jason Kirby with two, Stacy Kirby with a grand slam and Stacy Smith and Chris McHargue with one each.

The Expos were able to get their fourth straight win Tuesday night over the Dodgers, 27-13. Jason Goff had a four run shot in the game.

The Braves defeated the Dodgers, 7-2, Saturday in only one of the four games scheduled.

Also in Saturday's action, the Indians ripped the Braves, 10-7. Anthony Dowell had a grand slam and Charlie Wren a homerun for the Indians.

Curtis Cotton also had a three run homer for the Cubs but it was in a losing effort as they lost 21-17 to the Dodgers. And in the last game Saturday and another high scoring game, the Pirates got the win 18-15 over the Cubs.

Senior League standings are the Reds, 7-1; Expos and Dodgers, 5-3; Indians, 4-4; Cubs, 3-5; Braves and Pirates, 2-6.

Here are a couple of corrections from last week's scoring. The Reds beat the Cubs 7-0 and the Cubs beat the Braves 8 to 6.

Fishing Report

Fishing activity over the June 2-3 weekend was light to moderate on most of the major lakes. Water temperatures ranged from 68-74 degrees. Largemouth bass, crappie, bluegill and catfish are being caught primarily around shoreline cover. The lake-by-lake report:

Kentucky: Largemouth bass were hitting spinnerbaits and jig & pig combinations 1-5 feet deep around shoreline cover; striped and white bass were active on jigs and crankbaits 15-20 feet deep in open water; clear to murky, stable, four feet above summer pool and 72 degrees.

Barkley: Largemouth bass were active on spinnerbaits, buzzbaits and plastic worms 1-5 feet deep in shallow coves; catfish were taking minnows, nightgivers and red worms 5-10 feet deep along the shoreline and off rocky points; clear, stable, four feet above summer pool and 72 degrees.

Burren: Bluegill were hitting red worms and crickets 5-10 feet deep along the shoreline; largemouth bass were hitting plastic worms 10-15 feet deep over stump rows and off rocky points; clear to murky, stable, at summer pool and 72 degrees.

Nolin: Largemouth bass were active on crankbaits and spinnerbaits 1-5 feet deep along the shoreline and off rocky points; crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 5-10 feet deep over submerged trees and brush piles; clear to murky, rising, one foot above summer pool and 68 degrees.

Rough River: Largemouth bass were active on plastic worms 5-10 feet deep off rocky points; crappie were hitting minnows 10-15 feet deep over brush piles; clear, falling, 1/2 foot above summer pool and 72 degrees.

McClure is sixth

Ronnie Grant of Columbia, won the Red Man Memorial Division qualifier, held Sunday, on Warren River. Grant landed a limit of six bass weighing 13 pounds, 15 ounces. Grant collected $1,331 for first plus an additional $1,000, a Browning/Lew's reel and a one week vacation for himself in the state. The second place fish weighed 3 pounds, 9 ounces. A field of 106 anglers competed for cash prizes totaling $5,293.

Grant finished main lake points. He caught his fish on 6 inch Datto Gator-tails. Second place went to James Howard of Lexington, weighing 12 pounds, 6 ounces. Howard used one-half ounce black Stanley jigs and Bomber crankbaits. Second place paid $847.

Charles Crisp, Jr. of Ashland, placed third with six bass weighing 9 pounds, 6 ounces. Crisp fished channel banks in Skaggs Creek. He caught his fish on one-quarter ounce white Stanley spinnerbaits and High Rider buzz baits. Third place paid $516.

Fourth place went to Steven Scott of Lexington. Scaggs bass weighing 9 pounds, 3 ounces. He fished shallow water in Skaggs creek using homemade one-quarter ounce chartreuse spinnerbaits. Fourth place paid $334.

Fifth place and $310 went to Randy Long of Florence. Long landed five bass weighing 8 pounds, 4 ounces. He fished bluffing a Rebel Pop-R and Dave Turner one-quarter ounce spinnerbaits.

Rounding out the top 10 positions were: (6) tie, Bruce Hacker, Albany, six bass, 7 pounds, 3 ounces, $250; and Ron McClure, Mt. Vernon, five bass, 7 pounds, 3 ounces, $250; (8) Curtis Hall, Florence, six bass, 6 pounds, 15 ounces, $199; and (9) tie, Mike Walker, Louisville, three bass, 6 pounds, 8 ounces, $132; and Jim Forshee, Lexington, four bass, 6 pounds, 8 ounces, $132.50.

At the completion of the six Red Man qualifying events, the top 30 fishermen, determined on a basis of pounds and points, will move on to Regional Classic competition. There they will compete against 120 other fishermen from four other divisions. The 10 highest finishers from each Regional advance to the $150,000 Red Man All-American. The winner will receive $100,000. All Red Man tournaments are catch and release events.

Operation Bass sponsors for 1990 include: Red Man chewing tobacco, Ranger Boats, Chevrolet trucks, DuPont Power Lifes, Evinrude and Johnson outboards, Evinrude and Johnson electronics, GNB batteries, Pennzoil outboard lubricant, technon (Humminbird electronics), Browning rods, Browning/Lew's reels, Armour Vienna sausage advertised, I have my basket half full, so I skip the bruised fruit and buy something a bit more expensive but in good condition. On to the coffee aisle, no coffee of that brand on the shelf. On inquiry the answer was more tomorrow. On to the cereal, same thing, rain check, plain or self rising flour, the plain I was in need of was nowhere around. Of course next to all these empty spaces was merchandise that was much higher. The same thing at the department stores... Out of my size or the quality was so poor no one would want it but close by was attractive but more expensive clothing. What I am saying is, this is a method being used to tempt people into stores knowing once there other, more expensive things will fill their baskets. It isn't false advertising but very misleading. Most of us driving this distance cannot afford to take a rain check to save a dollar. Most of us are too timid to complain to the manager. The brains that plan this tactic understands this.

1. for one, began my boycott the other day when I found another empty shelf of an item on sale. This was the third such time for the same store but with different articles for sale. I will not be using that store again.

Are there any others of you willing to do the same thing?

KPHA honors Faye Hensley

The annual meeting of the Kentucky Public Health Association (KPHA) was held at the Galt House Hotel in Louisville, Kentucky on March 27-29, 1990.

Faye R. Hensley, M.A., R.N., Director of Nursing for the Cumberland Valley District Health Department, received the Helen B. Fraser Award for an exceptional contribution to the health and well-being of mothers and children in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The award was presented by John Poundstone, M.D., M.P.H., 1989 President of KPHA.

Additionally, Ms. Hensley was honored with the Outstanding Public Health Nurse Award given to the public health nurse who is considered the best "all around" nurse in her workplace as well as in other community activities. Rhonda K. Mills, R.N., 1990 President of KPHA, and Violet Brown, A.R.N.P., president-elect of KPHA, presented the award to Ms. Hensley.

The Kentucky Health Association was organized in 1949 as a nonprofit, independent, voluntary organization consisting of professionals representing various health disciplines throughout the Commonwealth. The purpose of the association is "to promote maintenance and improvement for protection of the health and welfare of all Kentuckians."

The Cumberland Valley District Health Department consists of Jackson, Clay, Rockcastle, Bell and Harlan Counties.

Consumer Problems

We, the people who keep the wheels of industry rolling should have more control of where and how they roll. Industry as I'm using the term means more than factories turning out cars or toys. It is the kind of industry that puts food on our tables from the stores that are serving our needs. Or it can be the insurance companies that insure our homes, cars or health. Or it can be the doctors that we pay to take care of our health needs.

The consumer industry includes everything connected to the needs of people. And we pay the price asked for each service. That's all well and good as long as it stays a fair price for the consumer as well as the one giving the service. I believe in a fair profit but I do not believe in profiteering. More and more often we see the evidence of profiteering at the expense of innocent consumers.

I think Rick's column last week triggered this article. I heartily agree with him that it is time for the people being served TV cable or any other public service to begin getting the control back into the consumers hands by legal but strict means such as boycott or discontinued service. Phone service is another one of these same fascists. Their double talk is just as effective at taking their paying customers for a very expensive ride. And here we sit, complaining but doing nothing about it.

Some of the best brains in the country are behind practices like these two companies are using. They know every tiny loophole to squeeze an extra profit from and never hesitate to use it regardless of hurt to the consumer.

There are many more ways by the consumer, are being ill used by a system that believes "all is fair in love or war". Whoever thought up the idea of all this special advertising of sales should have to go through some of the problems I have in dealing with them.

I drive 14 miles to London, 16 miles to Mt. Vernon, 22 miles to Somerset so my closest market place where I can use any advertised merchandise is at least 14 miles away. I wait until I am in need of several things before I drive this distance. When the need becomes severe enough I check out all the sales from the junk mail that has filled my box and mark the specials. Coffee, my brand cereal, any brand, 2 for 1 sale, fruit and so on. Then the department store next door has their weekly specials of course. So, summer tops, summer slacks, etc. Now for the ordeal of driving and pushing carts through crowded aisles. Once there I began my fill up at the bread counter. Why are most bread counters at the beginning of the hour? By the time I reach the fruit counter and find the fruit half rotten that was

Roundstone Elementary News

Roundstone Elementary classrooms were very busy this school year with a variety of special learning projects. Pictured below are a few of their activities. Students at all grade levels (bottom four photos) were given the opportunity to help with contributions to St. Jude Children's Hospital by taking part in a Marathon. Many students were awarded T-shirts for their participation. Pictured are first, second and fifth graders.

Fifth Graders (top and bottom)

Mrs. E's first grade class class stand in front of the bulletin board which they and Mr. Gabbard's fifth grade created for a kick-off for their Foxfire mini-project. Entitled "A Patchwork of Our Countryside," each student in these two classes was responsible for making a geometric-shaped picture of a landmark in their community or county. The pictures were then arranged to form a "quilt" pattern. Allen Pensol was the local Artist-in-Residence for this project.

EKU Teachers Network sponsoring student project at Berea College

The Eastern Kentucky Teachers Network is sponsoring an Exhibition of student directed projects at Berea College Student Center Monday, June 25 from 2 to 4 p.m.

This showcase of student work will feature students from various grade levels and subject areas displaying and discussing their work from the past school year.

Students have produced magazines of local history and their original writings, videotapes in science, ecology, and history, cassette tapes of mountain music and radio programs, school newspapers, and plays based on community history.

For example, a TMH class from Benham Elementary School in Harlan County will be present to promote their publication "Tapestry" which is a collection of writings by the students, peer tutors, and parents about how it feels to be or work with a special child. High school students from David School in Floyd County will show their video and explain their involvement in a pond cleanup project while meeting their skills and content requirements in earth science.

This is an opportunity for the students to display finished products and to share with visitors how the process of the project was accomplished. Ten or more exhibits will be featured.

Primary classes were the special guests of first and fifth graders during their performance of three favorite Appalachian stories. The Eastern Kentucky Teachers Network and the Kentucky Arts Council made possible the funding of local artists in the community who helped with the art, drama and music involved in this "Reading & Writing & Fun" project. The first and second grades combined forces and skills to generate their own art project for the last month of school. Second grade classes wrote letters to three local banks and the PTO asking for donations to help finance an activity dealing with natural clay. After receiving donations from The Bank of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. V.G. Walker of Berea, supplies were bought which enabled every first and second grade student to form, glaze and have fired by Berea College, their own animal, vase or small dish. Mrs. Pat McEliff served as art teacher for this project and set up a display of the student work in the cafeteria during the last week of school. The students in both classes also used their "thank you card" skills, learned during the year, to thank their friends in the community who helped fund this special project.

UK Dean's list

Named to the spring Dean's List at the University of Kentucky are the following:

Leslie A. Norton, of Mt. Vernon, a sophomore in secondary education-social studies education.
Alan S. Purcell, of Brodhead, a freshman in political science.

Alison T. Sowder, of Mt. Vernon, a freshman in the College of Arts and Sciences with an undeclared education.

SPRING GRADS AT EKV

Eight Rockcastle County students received degrees from Eastern Kentucky University at the event of the EKV's spring semester.

They were among the 1,127 spring semester degree candidates, and 608 December graduates honored at commencement ceremonies held May 12.

The graduates are: William R. Belcher of Brodhead, bachelors degree in industrial technology, quality control; Jamie Leigh Cox of Mt. Vernon, bachelors degree in music (teaching); Janis Lynn Durham of Livingston, bachelors degree in psychology; James Harrison of Lexington and formerly of Mt. Vernon, a two year associate degree in nursing; Patricia Clark Himes of Mt. Vernon, a bachelor of business education degree; Claretta L. Hodges of Mt. Vernon, a masters degree in secondary education and business education; Jeffrey Stevens of Wildie, a bachelors degree in marketing and Jennifer Stewart of Lexington and formerly of Mt. Vernon, a bachelor degree in accounting.

year, annually causes more than 1.3 million bone fractures, more than 250,000 of which are hip fractures.

Osteoporosis is caused by many factors, including a drop in estrogen levels in women experiencing menopause. Chronically low calcium intakes and not enough exercise. Women at the greatest risk for osteoporosis are those who have an early menopause (before age 45), a family history of the disease, smoking cigarettes, and excessive use of alcohol and caffeine.

Small-boned white women also are in a high risk category to be affected by the disease. Early signs of the disease may be a hip or wrist fracture, significant backpain or loss of height.

Knowing how to prevent and recognize the disease can help women minimize their chances of being injured. Preventing the disease should begin early in life. Women in their teens or early adulthood can increase the strength of their bones by eating a well-balanced diet rich in calcium. It's the lifetime intake of calcium that matters in a person's life, not just how much you consume today and tomorrow. It's important, therefore, to maintain a diet that includes a consistent amount of calcium.

The best sources of calcium are dairy products, such as lowfat milk, cheese and yogurt. Other foods that have some calcium include dark green leafy vegetables and canned fish with bones.

Many foods are also fortified with calcium include dark green leafy vegetables and canned fish with bones. Other ways to reduce chances of bone loss are regularly walking, jogging or other weight-bearing exercises, limiting smoking and alcohol and caffeine intake.

The daily recommended allowance of calcium for women is about 800 milligrams.

The National Institutes of Health, however, recommends 1,000 milligrams of calcium a day for premenopausal women.

During menopause, the NIH says that women should increase their daily calcium intake to 1,500 milligrams and consider estrogen replacement therapy in consultation with a physician.

Adolescents and young adults, ages 11 to 24, now are recommended to have 1,200 milligrams of calcium daily.

Several tests are available to determine if women have osteoporosis. There are several diagnostic methods available to measure bone density which are reasonably accurate if administered by a qualified professional.
