Summer School is a success

The Rockcastle County/Destination Graduation Summer School is an educational partnership that is striving to create the very best academic opportunities for at-risk students at Rockcastle County High School.

Funded by the Bellsouth Foundation, this innovative program strives to provide a creative learning atmosphere to enable at-risk students to get back on track academically.

The School System and Eastern Kentucky University's College of Education are partners in the planning and delivery of the summer school program.

The program is the result of collaboration and cooperation of these three agencies.

The Rockcastle County/Destination Graduation is at the forefront of Kentucky's new mandate that each school district provide an extended school year for at-risk students starting in 1991.

Prior to the beginning of summer school, the teachers participated in a two day training seminar in the National Diffusion Network Office of the Kentucky Department of Education.

Teachers were then equipped to incorporate innovative strategies with their program and provide students with alternative learning approaches.

Tutors assisted teachers daily in a variety of capacities and accompanied the class on enrichment day field trips. They also have a key role in the success of the summer school program.

Once a week, following their classes, the students went on enrichment field trips. Some of these trips included: Fort Boonesboro, Shakertown, E.K.U.'s Planetarium, Channel 27, various facilities at UK, and a tour of the state capital.

Judy Maples, Otis Prater and Charles Baker were part of the summer school group that visited the E.K.U. Planetarium.

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY SCHOOLS CTBS/4 TESTING REPORT FOR 1989-90

As testing coordinator, I am pleased to announce that the Rockcastle County School District showed marked improvement on the state mandated testing instrument (CTBS/4).

When comparing the percent of students scoring at or above the 50th percentile we find gains at all grade levels (K-11).

The percent of improvement for our 1989-90 scores, by grade, is as follows:

Kindergarten - 8.4 %	Grade 6 - 1.6 %
Grade 1 - 9.7 %	Grade 7 - 17.9 %
Grade 2 - 11.8 %	Grade 8 - 5.0 %
Grade 3 - 12.8 %	Grade 9 - 16.1 %
Grade 4 - 19.2 %	Grade 10 - 7.2 %
Grade 5 - 8.0 %	Grade 11 - 18.0 %

Test taking is an art! It combines cognitive knowledge with subjective common sense. Many students do poorly in school because they have not mastered the skills of test preparation and taking. Hence, it is important to become more "testwise". We were able to offer test taking instructions this year by incorporating the "RIGHT COMBINATION" which is a program geared to prepare students for success on standardized tests.

Thanks to administrators, teachers, students, and parents educational progress is being made in Rockcastle County.

Let's join together to make even greater gains in 1990-91.

Testing Coordinator

School Bus Rules and Regulations

The privilege of any pupil to ride a school bus is conditioned upon their good behavior and observance of the following rules and regulations. Pupils violating these rules and regulations shall be reported to the principal of the school which the pupil attends for necessary corrective action.

Safety is the primary concern in the transportation of pupils. In order to assure proper safety, it is vital that pupils and parents understand the rules and regulations of school bus riding. Following is a list of basic rules and regulations as adopted by the Rockcastle County Board of Education and the Kentucky Department of Education:

1. Arrive at bus stop on time. The bus has many scheduled stops and cannot be delayed.
2. Never stand in the road while waiting for the bus. Parents should encourage safety measures for pupils as they wait for the bus and walk home from the bus.
3. Cross a safe distance (10 feet) in front of the bus so the driver can see you.
4. Take a seat upon boarding the bus and do not change seats while the bus is in motion.
5. The driver is in charge of the bus and pupils and has the authority to assign seating arrangements.
6. Keep noise to a minimum so that the driver's attention can be devoted to driving.
7. Do not extend arms, legs and head out the bus windows.
8. Obey the rules posted on each bus.
9. Do not block the aisles in any way.
10. Knives/other sharp instruments are not permitted on the bus.
11. Never run toward the bus. Always load and unload when the bus has come to a complete stop.
12. Apply the above rule (No. 11) when transferring buses.
13. Never use the rear exit unless an emergency exists.
14. Ride only your assigned bus unless you have a signed note from the Principal. Parents must write or call the principal to obtain permission for pupil to ride another bus or to exit at a different stop.
15. Report any damages to the bus.
16. Do not occupy more space in a seat than required.
17. Open and close windows in compliance with the driver's instructions.
18. Pupils and parents are to accept the responsibility of listening for dismissal announcements on the radio on days when inclement weather disrupts the regular schedule.
19. The following rules are of particular concern and the activities mentioned are prohibited at all times:
  - a. Use of profane/foul language
  - b. Smoking or other use of tobacco on the bus
  - c. Fighting on the bus
  - d. Destruction of bus property
  - e. Defiance of driver's authority
  - f. Throwing objects on or from the bus.
20. Disciplinary Action: Violation of the above-stated rules and regulations shall be reported to the appropriate school principal. The principal shall record the incident and determine the appropriate disciplinary action. Should any pupil persist in violating any of these regulations, it shall be the duty of the driver to notify the Principal and after due warning has been given to the pupil and such violations persists, the Principal and/or Board of Education shall then forbid such disobedient pupil the privilege of riding the bus. Written notice of the action of the Principal shall be furnished the Parent and the Superintendent.

The facts about . . .

Kentucky Parent and Child Education

In PACE . . .

- . . . parents and children attend public school together.
- . . . parents study adult education and life skills while their children are in a model preschool program.
- . . . parents read and learn with their children and discover ways of helping them learn.
- . . . adults become educational role models for their preschool children and other family members.
- . . . parents, children, and school personnel develop the kind of mutual respect that can provide sustained support for the family's educational success and help prevent dropouts.

Background

The 1986 Kentucky General Assembly established the Parent and Child Education program as a two-year pilot program for parents without high school diplomas and their three- or four-year-old children in selected rural districts. PACE classes, the first of their kind to be offered by public schools in the United States, were begun in six Kentucky classrooms in the fall of 1986. The 1988 General Assembly continued PACE and made districts eligible if at least 50 percent of adults were not high school graduates, enabling PACE to be offered in eighteen classrooms in twelve Kentucky school districts. In the fall of 1989, the Kentucky Cabinet for Human Resources assigned federal funds for two additional classes as part of the welfare reform effort.

Objectives and Results

Objectives of PACE are to raise the educational level of parents, enhance parental skills, and improve children's developmental skills. Nearly six hundred family groups have been enrolled in PACE since 1986. A much higher percentage stayed with PACE than with other adult education programs. Seventy percent of the adults either received their GED certificates or raised their grade levels by at least two years. Parents have shown a better understanding of their children's abilities and needs and have raised their aspirations for their children's education. PACE preschoolers have exhibited measurable developmental gains. Regular classroom teachers report significant positive differences in PACE children.

Costs

Each PACE unit, capped at fifteen family groups under an open-entry program, is allocated $50,000 a year. The Department of Education provides a coordinator, and local districts provide classroom space, transportation, and administrative services. Research in early childhood and adult education shows that programs like PACE are a cost-effective investment.

Rockcastle County was one of 30 counties to receive a PACE Grant. PACE has received national recognition for its innovative composition.

Professional staff development

By: Shelby Reynolds

Since education is a never-ending process, educators have realized that a quality staff development program is a necessity. The educational reform that has been enacted by the legislature, has had some impact on staff development.

First, the old title of "in-service" has been changed to "professional staff development." Then the state has mandated that we use our four professional development days that we have each year for more specific areas. During the next two years, we will devote our professional development time to the cause of teaching our staff about the changes that reform is bringing to educators.

The state has also given us some dates to go by. Some of these dates are:

By June 30, 1991 local school district should join a consortium and develop their professional development plans to submit to the state department. A consortium will be made up of 2 or more school districts.

All principals and superintendents will go through a training and assessment center. These centers will be developed by July 1, 1992.

It appears that the reform act has ushered in an age when we must offer all of our staff quality training that will help them become better educators, equipped to provide children a sound education.

MOUNT VERNON KENTUCKY 40456

Volume 102- Number 42

Thursday August 9, 1990

An informal open house, sponsored by the Mt. Vernon Elementary PTA, will be conducted at the new Mt. Vernon School on Sunday afternoon, August 19, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. This will allow all parents and community members to see the new facility. Later in the fall there will be a dedication ceremony to officially recognize the completion of the school and those many individuals who made it possible to build the school.

School board will add 3% utility tax

By: Richard Anderkin
Taxes are going up for Rockcastle Counties. At Tuesday's Rockcastle County Board meeting, members voted to enter into a state program that would generate another $800,000 for the local school system, but to do that the board had to raise local taxes.

The board must raise $370,000 locally and all members agreed that the increase should come in the form of a 3% utility tax, with the remainder coming from additional property taxes.

The 3% utility tax will generate about $250,000 in revenue, with the balance of the $370,000 coming from an .08 cent increase in property assessments.

The local board can levy the new taxes without any form of voter referendum.

"Everyone I've talked with has said that a utilities tax would be the fairest because everyone would have to pay for part of the funding and the property owners would not have to bear all the cost of the increased taxation," said board member Kenneth Adams. Rockcastle School Superintendent Bige Towery Jr., who recommended to the board that they participate in the Tier I program, said that everyone he had talked with was in favor of the utility tax.

"I don't think our school system can afford not to participate in the Tier I program, if we intend to forge ahead and make Rockcastle County Schools better," Towery said.

The rate for the actual property tax assessment increase will not be set until October and Towery said the final statistics cannot be provided until the 1991 fiscal year assessments are in and the Revenue Cabinet completes exact tax rates.

If all goes according to plan, the school assessment on Rockcastle County property will be .43 up from the current .25.

The board had agreed to place all of the additional burden on property owners, the tax assessment would have been 59.5.

Towery told the board that the additional money coming from the state in the Tier I program would primarily be used to update, renovate, build and equip adequate facilities to house mandated programs under the reform act.

The money will also be spent on early childhood education programs, computer labs, fine arts production and to further expedite reduction of class sizes.

Economic conference scheduled
In an effort to create new jobs for Rockcastle County, an Economic Development Conference has been planned for Sept. 13 at Mt. Vernon.

Tentative location is the Circuit Courtroom, according to County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins, who along with Rockcastle Fiscal Court is a sponsor of the conference.

Other sponsors are Congressman Harold Rogers and the Southern Kentucky Economic Development Council.

Objective of the conference is to raise awareness among business leaders of available financing for expansion and business start-up, five and six percent money that is available, and to apprise the public of programs that are designed to en-

McKinney is new assistant

Mark McKinney is the new assistant principal at Brodhead Elementary School.

McKinney, who was assistant at Mt. Vernon, was hired last Wednesday by Rockcastle School Superintendent Bige Towery Jr., following interviews at the central office on Tuesday.

Onna Kaye Owens, a teacher at Brodhead and Glen Vanwinkle, a former elementary principal and now teacher at the high school, were also candidates for the job.

Towery told board members Tuesday night that the position left vacant at Mt. Vernon would be filled immediately with the deadline for applications being this Friday.

The Superintendent revealed to the board other personnel actions he had taken since July 15th.

They included the hiring of Tammy Stevens, who will teach in the PACE program; Mary Ann Childress who will be a teacher assistant in the PACE program; Kathy Coffey an aide in the Early Childhood program and Annette Gordon an adult teacher in the PACE program.

Towery also has approved the

120 marijuana plants found

A total of 120 marijuana plants have been found and destroyed by Sheriff Shirley Smith and deputies during the past week.

The plants were found in the Brindle Ridge, Hummel and Level Green sections of the county.

Carrie and Callie Mullins of Mt. Vernon were taken to Rockcastle Hospital for observation, treated and released following one-car accident July 30 on Sand Springs Road.

Carrie Mullins told Deputy Sheriff Phillip Chesnut one wheel went off the road and she lost control of the vehicle that overturned on its side.

Chris Sowler of the Brindle Ridge section of the county reported to deputies his CR 500 Honda dirt bike was stolen from his home on Aug. 1.

Police arrest Whitley man

A Whitley City man was arrested by Sheriff July 31 on KY 461 four miles south of Mt. Vernon and charged with illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages.

State Trooper Craig Sutton found 1,464 cans of beer and 24 bottles of whiskey in the pickup truck driven by Clifton D. Strunk, 47.

Strunk had been the focal point of an undercover investigation. He was taken to the Rockcastle County jail.

$153.00 taken from Brewers

A total of $153 was reported taken from a purse belonging to Mrs. Marie Brewer at her home on High Street Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Brewer told city policeman Eddie Delaney that two young men wanted to do some painting in her house. One man stayed to measure the rooms while the other went to the truck. She found later that the money was missing.

She said the men were in an old model black Chevrolet pickup truck with paint cans in the back.

Council votes for vehicle tax

By: Ray McClure

Faced with a Sept. 1 deadline from the state, the Mt. Vernon City Council voted Monday night to consider a sticker tax for vehicles belonging to persons residing in the city.

The vote was 2 to 2 with Councilmen Lloyd Cain and Wayne Adams voting "yes" and Ott Bond and William Cash voting "no." Councilwoman Clarice Kirby and Councilman Robert Bailey did not attend the meeting. With a tie vote, Mayor Gary R. Cromer voted "yes."

As the vote came to an end, Councilman Cash stood, gathered up his belongings, said "I resign," and left the meeting.

Although no amount for a vehicle sticker was discussed, it could be $5, $10, $15, $20, or more. Most likely, if finally passed, it would be $15, similar to Berea and other adjacent cities.

Although the vote was short of an outright vote to impose the sticker tax, there seemed to be little doubt that the council would vote to comply. A meeting was set for 8:30 p.m. Tuesday to probably make the new tax final.

The state Department of Local Government told the council the city still owes the city's General Fund between $21,000 and $22,000, the fund used to operate the city.

The shortfall, according to Mayor Cromer, has been on the books for several years, mostly since Revenue Sharing was repealed by Congress.

"The city has had problems meeting its budget each year," Mayor Cromer said. "When I came into office the fund was short about $52,000 and we've succeeded in bringing it down to between $21,000 to $22,000. But that does not satisfy the state. They have given us until Sept. 1 to take action and we don't have the money."

He said the state gave the city three suggestions for raising the money: a tax placed on all insurance premiums, a tax on payrolls, or a vehicle sticker tax.

Failure to act, the council would be held responsible. That failure is a Class A Misdemeanor that could bring a charge of malfeasance of office and a fine. In some circumstances, the city could be taken over by the state.

Before the vote, it was obvious the council was stunned by the mayor's report, and the mayor's request for suggestions on raising the money was met with silence.

After the council ruled out all three suggestions made by the state, the mayor reminded them several times that something has to be done, that Sept. 1 is almost here.

Also ruled out as illegal, was taking money from the water and sewer fund for use in the General Fund, and raising property taxes that are now at the maximum rate. Incidentally, the Mt. Vernon tax rate generates a low $50,000 a year to run the city.

Prior to the vote, Councilman Cash told the council he "can't see sticking people in the city with another tax."

"I don't think any of us want to raise taxes," the mayor said. "I know I don't. But we don't have much to say about it. We have to get this money back in the General Fund or we could face court action."

Councilman Cash responded: "You can send the state my $25 council salary. If they don't like it they can just come and get me."

It was not the first time a Mt. Vernon council has wrestled with ways to raise money. In past years, even as far back as the 1950s, a sticker tax was discussed. But the discussions have always ended with, wait until next year. Next year came this year in the state's threat to settle up, or else.

If Councilman Cash lets his resignation stand it will have to be in writing. The council would then appoint someone to fill the vacancy until a future election, possibly in November.

Following Cash's resignation and leaving the room, the council no longer had a quorum and had to adjourn. Even the bills were left to be paid as well as passing up guests who had business with the council.

The council discussed the money problem in two sessions. Once, early in the meeting, followed by a temporary postponement until later in the meeting.

During the interval, the council passed an ordinance setting sewer and water rates for the newly annexed Renfro Valley area. The rates do not change present city water and sewer rates now in effect in the other sections of the city.

Mayor Cromer told the council Livingston has shown an interest in becoming a part of the city's new fire and police dispatching system. The council voted to allow the mayor to discuss the details with Livingston officials.

The council also agreed to close First Street in Mt. Vernon to allow construction of a court annex building adjacent to the courthouse. The city has taken an option on a lot owned by Henry Hines on the east side of First Street that will be the annex site. (See fiscal court story).

City Police reported 62 citations were issued during July; 180 complaints answered, and eight motorists were charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

Joe Allen changes record shop name

Win some, lose some could describe recent developments at Renfro Valley.

Renfro Valley Folks Inc., operators of the entertainment complex, has apparently ousted Joe Allen who has taken the Renfro Valley "trademark" off his record/gift shop.

Allen reported he cannot afford to hire a trademark attorney to fight a federal lawsuit filed by Renfro Folks. He said the lawyer's fee would be $25,000.

Allen was quoted as saying "its a shame to be so poor that you can't keep something that belongs to you. That's the bottom line."

Under a reported agreement Allen can continue selling Renfro Valley Barn Dance souvenirs from his shop and can buy recordings of country music personalities who perform at Renfro.

He considers the agreement a loss for him and said he was "bitter and I don't care who knows it."

Faced with the same request by Renfro Folks to remove Renfro Valley from his home store, Willard Collingsworth has yet to comply.

Collingsworth vowed earlier he would continue to fight, claiming it a "matter of big money against poor people." But he said he probably would compromise to keep out of federal court.

In another name problem, Renfro Folks bowed to a request by John Lair heirs and changed the name of John Lair Museum to Renfro Valley Museum.

Reportedly, the Lairs resented the use of John Lair's name on a museum that contained such items as Elvis Presley's car and Conway Twitty's bed along with many pictures and items that do not represent Renfro Valley as Lair envisioned it.

School board approves basketball guidelines

The Rockcastle County Board of Education accepted procedures for this year's elementary basketball program throughout the county, during Tuesday night's regular monthly meeting.

Under those guidelines each elementary school will have a 7th and 8th grade team and a 5th and 6th grade team. There will be a maximum of 12 players per team. The 5th and 6th grade teams will play county-wide and the players will also be able to participate in the intramural programs in each school.

Practice for girls will begin the first Monday after school begins this month and games will be played no earlier than November 1 and will end with the Brodhead Invitational tournament in January.

There will be county-wide teams for both boys and girls and these teams will be governed by the county athletic directors, David Perkins and Christie Beave.

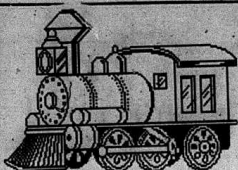

Those county-wide teams will be organized at the completion of the regular seasons. All four county coaches will coach the county-wide teams which will play other teams from surrounding areas. No cheerleaders will be fielded for the county-wide teams.

Any student, third through sixth grade may participate in the county intramural program. The county intramural program will be governed by one representative from each school as designated by the county athletic director. Kindergarten through 2nd grade, if enough interest is generated, may have teachers.

Charting Rockcastle

By: Richard Anderkin
Managing Editor

We all know that for the past several years there have basically been two political factions when it comes to Rockcastle County Schools.

Those behind the local board and superintendent and those against.

And, in my mind, there is nothing wrong with disagreeing with another person or in this case the board of education.

At times, these two factions have had fierce battles. One such battle was fought in federal court, others have spurred heated board races and others have simply caused some bad feelings on both sides.

But it seems to me, and I think most will agree, that Rockcastle County School Superintendent Bige Towery has tried and is continuing to try to break down the barriers that have caused much of the friction. Towery simply wants Rockcastle County to have the best school system possible.

What is best for Rockcastle County Schools is always foremost in his mind when he makes a decision. In his position he will and does have critics but if he is letting some political faction call the shots for him, he is doing an excellent job of hiding it.

He has not re-hired teachers because of their lack of ability and poor evaluations. He has not hired teachers who don't stack up even though they have had applications on file for quite some time. Length of time has nothing to do with it anymore.

For every job filled, he is usually faced with one happy person and three, four or even five unhappy applicants.

With all the power the recent reform act bestowed on Superintendents, Rockcastle is fortunate to have a man of Bige Towery's calibre in this position.

come back to.

Judy and Geof always take a long walk in the morning so I miss the old times when she and I would sit quietly on the porch and watch the sun come up and listen to the birds early morning twittering as we had our first cup of coffee. Time and circumstances change people's habits. This has been a good change for her and wish I could join them but there again time has made changes in me that keeps me going to slow for these pace setters.

Another change is the breakfast hour. I've always tried to fix a breakfast for the kids when they come home like they had as a child. That's a thing of the past. Now it's a bowl of cereal and a cup of coffee they want before they take off.

A five mile walk, showers, loading the car and a dish of cereal had taken the morning. Goodbyes were being said before I much more than got dressed. As they slid into the car with a final wave I unconsciously turned to look for Mat or to feel his arm around me as we would wave back. Instead I turned to the empty porch and silent rocker. I step inside and find the deathly quiet of a room. I go to the kitchen and see a cup that has been left on the sink and remember it was so recently held to Judy's lips. The sink has a couple of bowls with still a bit of milk in them. I walk to another room to get away from the agony of this quiet and it is there too.

I don't dare go to the bedroom where they slept or I'd burst into tears. I turn on the T.V. simply to hear a sound and turn it off because I can't stand the sounds that burst forth. Of course there is nothing that is going to take the place of a voice you love or the presence of a human being in the house.

This goes on all day long. For some reason the phone never rang once so was silent as the rest of the house. I stay close to the phone just in case of an emergency call.

Finally about 8 p.m. the phone does ring for the first time all day and a voice say "Hi, this is Judy." we are home safe and have had a wonderful weekend.

Tears well in my heart as I silently say "Thank you lord." And so, a happy weekend with my first born is ended.

Near Renfro Valley, Kentucky
Green Hill Section of Rockcastle County

Location: 9 miles south of Berea, 4 miles north of Mt. Vernon. Turn off U.S. 25 at Green Hill and follow auction signs.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. David Parsons and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Durham have authorized our company to sell the farm of their late father for the absolute high dollar.

The farm will be offered in 6 tracts, reserving the right to regroup or combine in any manner to reflect the best return.

- TRACT NO. 1 - Fronts on county road and contains 8.964 acres, most of all which is crtp and pastureland. Ideal mini-farm with building sites. There's a pond for stock water and city water available.
- TRACT NO. 2 - Has 9.53 acres and fronts on county road with city water available. Most all of this tract is crop or pastureland. It's improved with a 32x48 tobacco barn with a 12 ft. shed. This is a dandy small farm within itself.
- TRACT NO. 3 - Is comprised of 6.988 acres of good fertile Green Hill land. Since there are no buildings, you can build to suit yourself. It fronts on the county road and city water is available.
- TRACT NO. 4 - Contains 6.184 acres and is improved with the above-pictured frame house. The house has a living room, bedroom, utility room and bath on the first floor and 2 bedrooms on the second floor.
- TRACT NO. 5 - Is the largest of all the tracts and contains 33.846 acres. Access to this tract is from the county road and drive leading to the house. This tract has several acres of crop and pastureland and the balance in woods. A spring provides the water. This tract also adjoins I-75.
- TRACT NO. 6 - Fronts on the Brindle Ridge Road (Hurricane School Road) and contains 12.384 acres and offers a panoramic view of the Kentucky hills. If you enjoy the natural beauty of the area, you'll like this spot.

The basic tobacco allotment for the entire farm is 2759 lbs. Should the farm sell in tracts, the tobacco allotment will be divided by the ASCS office.

Local teachers take part in EKV Aerospace Education Class
Janice Davidson, center, a teacher at Mt. Vernon Elementary School, and Becky McClure, a teacher at Livingston Elementary, discuss the operation of a single-engine airplane with Dr. Robert J. Miller, a professor in the EKV Department of Curriculum and Instruction. They were participating in EKV's annual four-week Aerospace Education Course for Teachers. The course helps participants develop instructional activities involving aviation and space to enrich their teaching programs. Various field trips to regional aviation facilities are scheduled as part of the course. The class viewed aircraft and took a short plane trip during a visit to the Madison County Airport.

Burdine gets Yale scholarship

Becky Burdine, a Somerset High School graduate and daughter of Charles "Kip" and Judy Burdine, has been awarded a five-year scholarship to participate in a fellowship program at Yale University in New Haven, Conn., where she plans to earn a doctoral degree in biology. Burdine says, "I build a stronger foundation for a career as a medical researcher."

Tuition for graduate students at Yale runs around $14,000 a year. Burdine says, "about the same as four years at Western Kentucky University, where she graduated with a bachelor of science degree in biology in only three years."

Burdine was accepted into the fellowship program with four other Americans and a Finnish girl, who were among 15 finalists for five openings. She will be moving to New Haven next month after her wedding to Dwayne Whitus, Aug. 11.

Much of her undergraduate background came in a specialized and relatively new field of biology, recombinant genetics, which, at least in part, involves identifying genes in chromosomes that are beneficial and introducing them to other sources to make a product.

"If I could come up with a cure tomorrow for something it would be AIDS because it's such a widespread disease. It can be a scary thing," she says. "AIDS is a retro virus, and if we can develop a cure for AIDS, it may lead to cures for cancers and quite a few leukemias."

"Every dollar that is poured into AIDS research is helping with cancer research in a roundabout way," she adds.

Burdine visited Yale this spring and says she's honored to have been accepted there.

"But it's kind of intimidating too. It's a very big place," she says.

"From what I understand, they want everybody to succeed," she adds. "They're not going to cut anybody's throat, and they work very hard for their students."

$1,000 Scholarship
Kim Barnes recently received a $1,000 scholarship from CSX Railroad. She also received the Regent's Scholarship from EKV which pays full tuition for four years and the Clarence H. Gifford Scholarship in the amount of $500 per year, for a four year period. Kim plans to major in Pre-Med-Chemistry in the fall at EKV. Kim is the daughter of Joe Edd and Vickie Barnes.

My Father's Oldsmobile

By: Garry Baker

On television
They dance and sing
"This is not your father's Oldsmobile"
And they sure are right

My father would not pay $16,000
For a four cylinder, fuel injected, front-wheel drive, automatic transmission, gimmicked and gadgeted Economy car called "Calais."

My father's Oldsmobile
Was a sturdy black 1941 Six cylinder
Three speed on the column
Six years old already
And a WW II vet
Like him.

My father's Oldsmobile
Went every Sunday morning
From Bluebank to Gimlet
Filled with diapers
Shotguns
Cured hams and Blackberry jam

And the Renfro Valley Sunday Morning Gatherin'
Scratchy on the little radio

My father's Oldsmobile
Served ten years and more
Working
Hauling milk cans to the highway
Tobacco plants, tools, calves,
And finally wore out
A rusty legacy of tired steel
And burned oil.

Forty years later I buy an Olds
Bucket seats, air conditioning,
Stereo, cruise control,
Fancy wheels
And 48 months financing.

My father's Oldsmobile
Turns over in its junkyard
At all the plastic,
Computers, pollution controls,
Safety harness
And the little motor
The size of a Singer

And now
Every time I open the frail door
Swing down into soft bells,
Flashing lights,
And strangling straps

I hear that TV ditty about
"A new generation of Olds"
And chuckle
At Detroit's concept of progress.

Exhibit has more than 300 phones

Over 300 historic phones are included in Thomason's display in the Renfro Valley Museum. The display has

"Wedge" Thomason's exhibit of more than 300 historic telephones may really "ring a bell" for visitors at the Renfro Valley Museum.

The telephones, collected by the retired Contel administrator from London, come in all shapes and sizes.

There are a few "exotic" phones, too: Experiments that didn't work. But mostly, the phones came from everyday American homes and businesses, 40 or 50 or 90 years ago.

"This is the stuff I remember as a kid," remarked Al Orcutt of Warsaw, Ind., who stopped at Renfro for the bluegrass music show.

Much to his surprise, among the momentoes of country music in general (Elvis Presley's Cadillac, Barbara Mandrell's dress, Lee Greenwood's boots) and Renfro Valley in particular (banjos played by Red Foley, the Coon Creek Girls, or Old Joe Clark), there were all these telephones.

Not only that, but the phone exhibit fills one entire half of the museum's second floor... featuring over 300 telephones, 13 switchboards, numerous lineman's tools, phone booths, phone-books and colored-glass phone-line insulators.

As the nephew of a retired operator, Orcutt was fascinated. "I'd seen small displays," he enthused. "The Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago has one; but I've never seen anything like this."

Thomason smiled, obviously pleased. Phone companies often display old phones in their lobbies, but the exhibits are small and mostly "exotic," he noted.

Thomason had heard Renfro Valley Folks Inc. was looking for exhibits to place in the museum at the famous Rockcastle County barn dance site, beside U.S. 25 just north of Mount Vernon.

The big log-museum, first opened in 1947, was being completely remodeled.

And Thomason was looking for a place to display his telephones, himself. There just wasn't enough room in the garage at his home on Chipewa Lane in London.

Plus, Thomason wanted people to see his phones.

"They were interested right off," he said about the Renfro management.

"There was no contract, no money; just a place to house it all. It was just what I always wanted to do."

Thomason, 67, grew up in the telephone business. His father was a contractor for the Bell System, and all four sons followed phone careers, Thomason explained.

"Two went with Bell, one bought Dad out, and I went independent. I bought a small telephone company in 1947... and the forerunner of Contel bought it in 1954."

Thomason's company was located in Smithland, Ky., just east of Paducah. His experiences there included surviving the Ohio River flood of 1950.

First Thomason borrowed a canoe to go into people's flooded homes, where he rescued phones he owned.

Then the U.S. Coast Guard had to send a ladder boat to rescue Thomason's wife Grace, known then and now as "Tootsie."

She had stayed in the second-floor office downtown, operating the switchboard until the waters got too high.

"My operators quit, because it was five blocks to dry land," Thomason recalled. "So she and I ran it 24 hours a day, and there was a Coast Guard boat there constantly."

Thomason started collecting phones, "just by accident, really," while still working for his father.

He explained: "In 1946, we were destroying phones for the Bell System, we'd hit them once with a big hammer, and throw them in the dump... I put these two in my truck. I could have kept them all, but I just kept these two."

The phones, designed in 1893, are worth $1,300 to $1,500 now, Thomason added.

The two formed the core of Thomason's collection, but "I really got serious in 1970," he said.

Thomason began buying old phones as he traveled around Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana, Tennessee and Indiana for Contel.

He would ask antique stores to call him if a phone came in. And he browsed through flea markets.

Thomason came to London in 1960 as state manager for Telephones Inc., which was sold to Contel in 1966.

After a stint in Knoxville from 1974-82, Thomason returned to London to serve as public affairs manager through 1987.

People sold him phones and artifacts cheaply because he is not a dealer, Thomason believes.

None of his collection is for sale, and that makes him pretty rare. As far as Thomason knows, he is the only pure "collector" in the two national phone-collecting clubs, with a combined membership of over 4,000.

Nevertheless, Thomason appreciates a bargain. Recently, he bought a glass phone-line insulator at a flea market for $12 that was appraised at $3,500.

The seller had thought it was a teapot, because it had a handle. But it was made for screw-on insulators were invented, and the handles helped tie the insulators onto the poles.

Most of Thomason's 800 insulators are not on display -- yet. The prettiest are dyed purple, blue or green, which was a gimmick meant to sell the insulators to early phone companies.

The collection also helped Thomason's public affairs career, he admitted. But then, so did his colorful nickname -- "Wedge."

W.W. "Wedge" Thomason of London with a few of the phones he recently put on display in the Renfro Valley Museum. Thomason is a former telephone company owner and contel executive.

Court takes option on Main Street property

Movement came this week on a proposed annex to the courthouse with the Rockcastle Fiscal Court taking an option on a lot across First Street from the courthouse.

The property, owned by Henry Hines, has a $50,000 price tag with a six month option.

The court, at its meeting Tuesday opened the way for the annex that will house the various courts in the county including District and Circuit, as well as the offices of the Circuit Court Clerk.

The fiscal court also approved an architectural contract with Garland Vanhook of Stanford at a cost of six and one-half percent of the total cost of the annex, estimated most recently at $575,000.

The annex will be joined to the courthouse by a covered walkway. The east entrance will be to a parking lot that will extend all the way to Sears, if present plans are carried out.

The City of Mt. Vernon, at its council meeting Monday night, agreed to close First Street, if the annex is assured.

No date has been set when construction will begin.

In other business, the court updated various items in its approved garbage plan making changes suggested by the state. Mandatory collection is not part of the changes.

The court approved a commodity contract between the court and Cumberland Valley Area Development District for $750.

The court put on hold a request by Renfro Valley Folks to reduce a section of Hummel Road by 10 feet to allow Renfro Folks more room if needed for a future project.

The court decided to look at the project when it becomes a reality and make a decision at that time.

Gas prices skyrocket locally

Just as in other areas of the nation, the price of gasoline and fuel oil took a jump in price in Rockcastle County due to the problems in the Middle East.

Locally, some gas increased as much as 22 cents a gallon in just a few days and is expected to increase more in the days ahead.

Some local dealers of fuel oil report record sales as users hurry to beat the price increases.

In some service stations, regular is selling at $1.29 a gallon; super regular at $1.39 and super at $1.49. These prices reflect the general increase locally.

Mercury dips to 50 degrees

It was probably a record low temperature Tuesday morning (Aug. 7) when it reached 50 degrees at Cox Funeral Home weather station.

Some residents reported temperatures in the high 40s, depending on location.

Rain to date this month is .83 of an inch on Saturday and early Sunday (Aug. 5-6).

High this month to date was 88 on Aug. 4.

Witt found guilty of DUI

Eugene Witt of Mt. Vernon was found guilty of driving under the influence of alcohol by a Rockcastle District Court Jury, Tuesday.

The jury recommended a fine of $200. Sentencing is set for Aug. 15.

Bridge construction

Work is expected to begin Aug. 13 on reconstruction of a one-lane bridge over Dix River on the Broadhead-Chestnut Ridge Road at Broadhead at a cost of $157,931.

The road will be closed until about Sept. 30, according to Chief District engineer George W. Reed.

The detour begins at Sower Nursing Home (U.S. 150) and proceeds along KY 5365 to the Broadhead-Corway Road (KY 1505).

What's the Buzz?

If you "stop and call" on the phone collection at the Renfro Valley Museum -- would that constitute a "collect" call?

Not necessarily, but the exhibit would be a switch, in case you're bored.

In fact, it's easy to get hung up on the endless variety.

Mind you, there are over 300 phones. Just be sure you don't get the wrong number. And it's all authentic. None of it's phony.

The collection includes: A replica of the world's first telephone, over which Alexander Graham Bell spoke these famous first words in 1873: "Mr. Watson, come here!"

A telephone key removed from the old Irvin-Cobb Hotel in Paducah; kept in a gambling room for the secret transmission of bets.

The "McKinley telephone," first made in 1897. A similar phone was used to notify the world President William McKinley had been shot at the 1901 World's Fair in Buffalo, N.Y.

Old-fashioned "box" telephones with worn spots near the receiver, where party-line eavesdroppers kept a hand near the hook. Phone collector "Wedge" Thomason said.

If things got noisy in the eavesdroppers' homes, they could just take the hook down and disconnect the circuit, Thomason explained.

Early phones that featured handles which had to be cranked, activating a magneto, generating electricity, and ringing a bell at the operator's switchboard.

Plus, phone users had to mix their own chemicals for glass-jar batteries attached to the phone, providing current for conversation.

A phone owned by Thomason's neighbor on Dec. 7, 1941, the "day which shall live in infamy," Pearl Harbor had just been attacked when Thomason walked into the house.

"Wedge, we're at war," the neighbor told him.

A Norwegian telephone that features numbers running clockwise on the dial, instead of the usual counterclockwise.

The switchboard from the last magneto-using phone company in this state, at Upton near Elizabethtown... still in operation until 1969.

A "toll switchboard" from London which Thomason got from Contel in 1986, when AT&T took over Contel's long-distance switching. Starting with five in 1958, Contel added boards until they numbered 30 by 1986.

But Thomason only kept one.

"That's all I wanted," he explained. "It takes four people to move that one."

The switchboard used at the Town Center Motel on North Main in London from 1962 through 1980.

"They all work," Thomason said. "Everything works."

A London phone book from 1938, including listings for Barbourville, Manchester, Burning Springs, Ansville and McKee.

London was then served by the Northeastern Telephone Co., later purchased by Telephones Inc. and then Contel.

Advertisers on the cover included Cook Bros. Auto Parts (phone number 40); House and McHargue Funeral Directors and Ambulance Service (day phone 5, night phone 158); and Sanitary Cleaners (Steve Jones, manager, phone 128).

"Installing Instructions for Compact Telephones," a maintenance diagram on a wrinkled sheet of paper.

"That diagram, to look at it, means nothing," Thomason said. "But that came out of Ginger Rogers' telephone."

A maintenance man who worked on the phone, at a resort cabin in the Oregon hills, kept the diagram as a souvenir, Thomason explained.

OUTDOORS

FISHIN' TIPS FROM THE TRACKER PROS

If you have ever experienced signal loss from your depth sounder, especially during high-speed operation, check your transducer installation.

If your unit functions properly at slow or idle speed, it should work properly at 80 m.p.h., as long as the transducer is installed correctly.

Aluminum boat owners should mount a high-speed transducer on the starboard side of the transom and position the face about 3/8 of an inch below the hull. Air bubbles from the rivets on the aluminum hull will often cause intermittent signal loss if the transducer is improperly positioned.

Fiberglass hulls create less turbulence. Transducers work well when mounted inside a glass hull. Use 2-part epoxy, and mount the transducer in the bilge area. Sand the area thoroughly before mounting.

10-Year-Olds win two lose two in tourney

In a heartbreaker Wednesday night, the 10-year-old all-stars dropped their first game in the Berea tourney 3-2 to the Berea All-Stars. Matt Sowder pitched a complete game for the local stars. Then Thursday night, they were eliminated from the tourney by a 6-5 loss to the Scott County all-stars. This tournament concluded the 10-year-old all-stars tournaments for the season.

"Up, Up and Away"

No, it's not Superman but Dane Cox as he leaves the platform during the Lake Cumberland Association Regional Swim Meet held at Cedar Rapids Country Club Saturday and Sunday. Cedar Rapids finished second out of seven teams in the field in the photo at right, Slade Calhoun heads for the finish line in one of the events. Because of the rain, it took two days to finish the event. Defending champions, London, won the event, edging out the Dolphins 526-434.

Dolphins conclude successful season with second place in regional swim meet; five swimmers receive "Most Valuable Swimmer award"

"Super, the kids did super," said Cedar Rapids swim team coach David Craig after a second place finish by the Dolphins in the swim team conference at Cedar Rapids this past weekend.

It is now two years running that the Dolphins have placed runner-up in the seven team conference.

Defeating the Dolphins, 526-434, were the defending champions, London.

"I believe if I had six to ten more kids, we would have won it," Craig said, "we were just outnumbered."

Although small in number, the 24 member cast of the Cedar Rapids team gave the 75 member London squad all they could handle.

The Dolphins, who sent 18 of their swimmers out of the qualifying round into the finals, put up some astonishing figures by capturing 25 first places, 22 second places, 16 third places, 8 fourth places, 5 fifth places and six sixth places.

However, London still had the advantage by entering more swimmers into a single event and with that finished with more points than the limited Dolphins swimmers.

The conference, which started Saturday morning, was forced into a second day due to rain. But the delay didn't seem to effect the swimmers.

One major highlight of the two day event was the awards ceremony given each year to the most valuable swimmers of each age group.

Out of the 12 age groups, the Cedar Rapids swim team had five swimmers to receive the most valuable swimmer award. This showed the caliber of team that Cedar Rapids is, Craig said.

Receiving the awards with the most total points in their group were: Suzanne Burton, eight-year-old and under girls; Heather Burton, nine and ten-year-old girls; Cassey Mullins, eleven and twelve-year-old girls; Cliff Mullins, thirteen and fourteen-year-old boys and Clark Mullins, fifteen thru eighteen year old boys. Clark, Cliff and Cassey are brothers and sister.

Receiving first places during the conference were: Cassey Mullins, Lindsay Dowell, Clark Mullins, Carrie Mullins, Suzanne Brown, Heather Burton, Andrew Giesler, Cliff Mullins, Dane Cox and Angie Bussell.

Receiving third places were: Dane Cox, Suzanne Brown, Dana Reynolds, Angela Owens, Brad Powell, Jessica Albright, Clark Mullins, Angie Bussell, Andrew Giesler, Aaron Cox, Bobbi Jo Barr, Tara Burton, Christopher Parsons, Heather Burton, Jeffrey Owens, Blake Calhoun, Slade Calhoun and Cassey Mullins.

Receiving fourth places were: Aaron Cox, Angie Bussell, Heather Burton, Dane Cox, Angela Owens, Eric McKinney, Dana Reynolds, Andrew Giesler, Cassey Mullins and Slade Calhoun.

Receiving fifth places were: Jessica Albright, Bobbi Jo Barr, Andrew Giesler and Dana Reynolds.

Receiving sixth places were: Aaron Cox, Eric McKinney, Angela Owens, Dana Reynolds and Slade Calhoun.

Craig closed by saying he was very proud of his team's success and that he looks forward to next year.

Extra-inning game finally eliminates 11-12-year-old all-stars from Berea tournament

It took extra innings and three games to eliminate the Rockcastle eleven-and-twelve year old all stars from the eleven-and-twelve-year old all star tournament in Berea last week. Estill County was the eliminator when they outscored the Rockcastle all stars four to three in the seventh inning to pull out the 11 to 10 win to advance in the tourney. The Rockcastle stars posted a 17 to 6 win over Video Fantastic to begin the tournament but were shut out in their second game against Berea 11 to 10.

Ryan Bradley, who notched up a win for Rockcastle in their first round game against Video Fantastic, teamed with Jarrod Singleton, for the pitching duties against Estill in the third game.

Bradley went the first three innings while Singleton went the rest. Estill led the game, 3 to 0, after four innings but some key hits by Rockcastle in the fifth inning soon changed the tide.

Hits by Jason Childress and Jonathan Jasper combined with five walks given up by Estill County pitching pushed in seven runs for Rockcastle.

Estill also managed four runs in the fifth that set the score at a seven all game which would soon take extra innings to decide a winner. Rockcastle knocked on the door first with three runs in the seventh inning. Steven Day and Singleton both reached on walks and then scored on a Chris Denney hit. Denney eventually scored on a ground out by Childress.

But Rockcastle's three run seventh inning proved to be in vain as Estill scored four of their own to nudge Rockcastle out in one of the better games during the tournament.

The all stars are coached by Keith Saylor and Glen Geney.

FARM NEWS

Multiflora Roses

By: Tom Mills
County Extension Agent
for Agriculture

Multiflora roses were once promoted to be the living fence as well as an ideal wildlife cover. Many farmers are finding that fields infested with this plant rapidly becomes a wildlife habitat as gateways grow closed by the living fence. Erection, maybe, but when left uncontrolled, multiflora roses will creep out from fence rows, taking acres of farm land out of production.

Controlling multiflora roses seems to be the big problem. When cut off by mowing, bush hogging or a grubbing machine, they come back. The key is in killing the root system. Chemicals are now available to control this problem with little danger of affecting other crops.

During late summer is an ideal time to control this noxious weed. The key to success is to apply chemicals to actively growing leaves. In our area, this means applying treatments before Japanese beetles have stripped the plant.

Chemicals like Round Up or Cross Bow, when applied to the leaves, will translocate to the root system, killing the whole plant. Approximately 10-14 days after application the results will be seen.

For large areas, farm sprayers may be needed. However, on small groups or single plants out in the field, small hand sprayers are fine. Mixing 2 1/2 ounces of Round Up per gallon of water then applying complete coverage of the foliage along with 406 hours without rain is all that's needed.

Cross Bow has the advantage of killing only broad leaf plants without killing the grass in treated areas. Mixture for Cross Bow is about 1 1/2 to 2 ounces per gallon of water, however, continuous agitation is required.

Farmers wishing to control this weed are better equipped with new chemicals than in year's past.

Tobacco News

STRIPPING TOBACCO

With an anticipated labor shortage for Kentucky's tobacco industry, producers who strip in two grades may make more money than stripping in one or three grades, according to a study released by University of Kentucky agronomists.

"Current market trends give producers little incentive to strip burley tobacco into different grades," said Joe Smiley, Extension agronomist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

To find whether grading into several grades was cost effective, Smiley and colleague J.R. Calvert assessed several stripping methods and calculated net returns using the method.

In the study, a three-man team stripped tobacco into three grades, with each man removing one grade from the stalk; a two-man team stripped the tobacco into two grades, using the same relay technique. Two other methods included one man each stripping tobacco into one and two grades.

"We found the highest net return (Cont. to B6)

Clay and David Colson participated in the Department of Agriculture's Multi Flora Rose Control Demonstration. Each year two local farms are scheduled through the Extension office to participate in the Demonstration Program.

New packing plant will take up slack in hog marketing

Although three packers serving Kentucky's hog industry have closed their slaughter lines, the state's hog producers are not likely to suffer as a consequence when it comes to marketing their hogs.

"Three packing houses where many Kentucky farmers sold their hogs shut down their slaughter lines over the past few months. However, the addition of a new Italian-Japanese venture in Indiana will more than offset the losses of slaughter facilities in this region," said Lee Meyer, Extension agricultural economist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Field Packing of Owensboro, and Lay Recollet of Tennessee closed their slaughter lines, but they will continue to process pork carcasses, commonly called "green cuts" in the trade, he said.

The new slaughter house, a joint venture between Central Soya and Mitsubishi being built in Delphi, Ind., will process 1,000 head of hogs per hour -- making it equal to about 80 percent of Kentucky's 1988 slaughter, Meyer said.

Meyer explained that Kentucky producers provide only about half of the hogs now needed to keep the state's slaughter plants active; the rest come from surrounding states. The loss of slaughter facilities means that fewer out-of-state hogs will be needed, but there still is more than enough capacity for all of Kentucky's hog production.

"The slaughter industry uses a watershed concept of buying hogs; they buy hogs from producers as close to the plant as possible. We don't see that policy changing soon," he said.

Producers who want top dollar for their hogs need to evaluate markets carefully and choose ones that will yield the highest possible returns, accounting for transportation costs.

KENTUCKY'S WAITING CHILD

Eight year old Terry and ten year old Thomas are "true" boys. They love climbing trees, hunting for arrowheads, and fishing. Having their own dog is important to both boys.

Kentucky has over 275 children waiting for an adoptive family. Like Scott, these children wait in foster homes, if they are lucky. Kentucky has a shortage of foster and adoptive homes for older children.

The Department for Social Services is looking for people who can make a commitment to children. You can be single, an apartment dweller, or have a moderate income. There is no fee charged for services.

If you want to make a difference in the life of a child, consider fostering or adoption. For information call:

The Chuck Wagon Gang will be in special concert in the new auditorium at Renfro Valley on Sunday, September 2.

Chuck Wagon Gang will be appearing in special concert at Renfro Valley Sept. 2

The Chuck Wagon Gang, who have been one of America's best selling artists for more than fifty-three years, will be appearing in a special concert in the new auditorium at Renfro Valley.

The concert will be held at 3 p.m. on Sunday, September 2nd. The Chuck Wagon Gang's close knit harmony and blending of melodies have become as much a part of Americana as the apple pie.

Current members are Roy Carter, Allyn Blodgett, Debby Trusty, Pat McKeehan, Harold Timmons and Mae Kutz.

The original Chuck Wagon Gang was formed in the early 1930's by D.P. Carter and consisted of himself, his son Jim, and daughters Anna and Rose.

For over forty years, the famous Chuck Wagon Gang recorded for Columbia Records, an unparalleled accomplishment in the Gospel Music industry, and at one time, they earned the distinction of being the second highest best selling American artist on the label. The group has sold over 30 million records.

The rich heritage of the Chuck Wagon Gang and the simplicity of their songs have made them classics in the world of entertainment.

They have appeared at Carnegie Hall, the Hollywood Bowl, the Grand Ole Opry, and on thousands of concert stages across America.

They have been included in the Smithsonian Institute's Classic America recordings.

They were the first gospel group to record on a major label the now standard gospel song, "I'll Fly Away," and have made other gospel songs into standards through the years, such as "The Church in the Wildwoods,"

"Looking For a City," "We Are Climbing," "Echoes From the Burning Bush," "I'll Meet You in the Morning," and many, many others.

In recent years, the Chuck Wagon Gang recorded for Copperfield Records, and with this label the Gang made the national country music charts with the song, "Keep On Keeping On."

"Hard Trials Will Soon Be Over" is the latest single by the group, and it is currently being heard throughout the nation on radio, and is steadily climbing on the gospel music charts. The group now records for Associated Artists, with Jack Eibanks producing their records.

A Chuck Wagon Gang concert is as refreshing as taking a long, cool drink of water in the heat of the noon day sun, and as warm as a friendly neighbor stopping by to chat.

To describe a Chuck Wagon Gang concert is to describe the Chuck Wagon Gang members themselves -- likeable, warm, friendly -- with a mood that leaves you feeling good about yourself, your neighbor, and your country.

It is simple beauty that cannot be described. It is wholesomeness with pure quality evolving from it. It is love shown in the degree of happiness and joy.

From the moment the Chuck Wagon Gang steps on stage and the strains of the guitar give them their clue to sing, you are transformed to a simple life of beauty and dignity through their songs. It is soft, sweet, joyous, happy, and full of the gracious moments of life which bring inner peace.

Unlike many of their counterparts in other areas of music, the Chuck Wagon Gang does not rely on heavy instrumentation to carry their show. They are real singers who know and understand each note of music and find beauty in each waiting strain.

Their harmony is unsurpassed by anyone and indeed is the foundation of all their songs.

Their concert brings you back to the good feeling of earth between you barefoot toes, the smell of honeysuckles, and the bread baking in the oven.

It takes you back to things that really matter back to the basics of life, and in finding those basic again, one discovers anew what life is all about.

It is country, gospel, old-time revivals, Americana, and Sundays in the country. It is singing school conventions and four part harmony.

It is quality instead of noise. It is campmeeting with dinner on the ground. It is love that emanates from each member as they do for the audience what they love best-sing.

In that singing, you will find each note touched and caressed as softly as a mother would touch a child, and enunciation and diction so clear that you understand each word perfectly.

More importantly, it is love which flows out from the Gang, and envelopes each member of the audience, making you feel good in its penetrating warmth.

The love is two-fold: The gang is caught up in the love of their music and their love of people. The audience responds to this with a shower of love and affection on the Chuck Wagon Gang in the form of standing ovations and encore after encore.

A Chuck Wagon Gang concert is unlike any other musical experience. You are left feeling exhilaration, joy, warmth, and kindness to your neighbor. You are left feeling proud to be an American and feeling good about yourself.

While all these good emotions have been brought out, you have been wined and dined on a feast of musical smorgasbord of what music is really all about.

After attending a Chuck Wagon Gang concert, you will never be the same. You will be far richer and a better person because their music has touched your life.

For tickets and information call (606) 256-2638 or 1-800-765-SING. Tickets are $10.00.

Library News

Rockcastle County Public Library and the Bookmobile has completed our Summer Reading Program, according to Alleyn Davis, librarian and Bookmobile librarian, Geraldine Robbins. The theme this summer was reading is "Dino-Mite". Mrs. Davis and Ms. Robbins regret that more children in the county did not take advantage of this program.

There were several merchants that donated to the program. They were Pizza Hut, Franklins Store, Durthers Restaurant, Dollar General Store, Family Dollar Store, Hiatt's Store, Foodtown and Foodland. These nice gifts were greatly appreciated and enjoyed.

The winners read 628 books, which was very good. The winners for the library were Lisa Lawhorn, Rebecca Lawhorn, first place tied, second place, Mathew Whitaker, and Angie Day was second place.

The winners from the Bookmobile were first place, Regina Blanton, second, Denise Clark, third place, Jon Colby Robbins with a tie for fourth, Carol Hensley and Melissa Hensley.

Mrs. Davis and Geraldine Robbins want to thank everyone that helped with the summer reading program.

was when the tobacco was stripped into two grades. Net returns were lowest when it was stripped into only one grade," Smiley said.

Smiley cautioned that individual farmers may find that stripping into several grades, or only one grade, is more beneficial, based on how fast workers can strip the tobacco.

"While our findings may be considered to be tentative; they do point out that both market price and worker efficiency are related to net returns on burley tobacco," Smiley said.

"I've carried it all my life. People try to tie it to golf, because I play a lot. But it doesn't have anything to do with it."

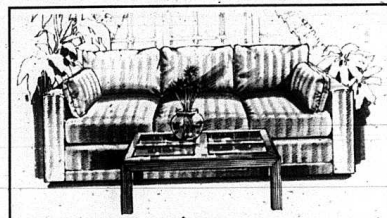

Thomason's children have not stayed entirely within the phone field. Eldest son Bill is a horse farm accountant in Lexington; daughter Susan Nichols is a bank president's wife in Albany, Ind.

But youngest son Mark works for a phone company in Raleigh, N.C. Plus, there are five grandchildren growing up.

Tips to maintaining outdoor furniture

Periodic cleaning and repair will help outdoor furniture look better and last longer, according to a home furnishings specialist at the University of Kentucky.

Outdoor furniture receives a lot of wear and tear during the summer. Although some materials are more weather resistant than others, they all need routine cleaning and repair.

Here are some cleaning and repair guidelines for the following outdoor furniture:

Aluminum—Wash with soap and water, using a stiff brush if necessary; then rinse and allow to dry. To brighten dull or pitted surfaces, dip steel wool in kerosene and rub the metal until it is satiny; then wipe off with a clean cloth. Use a coat of automobile wax or clear lacquer spray to preserve the natural luster of the frames.

Wrought Iron or Steel—Wash furniture periodically, using a water hose if necessary. Check for chips or rust spots. Use steel wool to remove rust spots; then clean the area with mineral spirits; apply metal primer to prevent rusting, and spray paint the primer and old paint.

To renew faded paint, rub the finish with steel wool or sand paper, wipe the surface with a cloth dampened with paint thinner; allow it to dry and apply one or two coats of outdoor enamel.

Redwood or hardwood—Wash with a mild detergent and rinse whenever needed. Although redwood furniture can survive outdoors during the winter, indoor storage is preferable. Apply a coat of redwood stain or penetrating sealer annually to keep redwood furniture looking nicer longer. A coat of outdoor enamel paint will protect painted hardwood furniture.

Rattan, Cane & Reed—Dust furniture frequently with a brush, paying attention to crevices. Wash with mild detergent and water once a year. After rinsing, a small amount of liquid furniture wax may be applied. Use a coat of outdoor varnish to protect the furniture. Do not use shellac, which becomes sticky when it gets damp. Brighten wicker with a coat of aerosol paint. If a strand of rattan or wicker has unraveled, soak in water and rewind.

Umbrellas, Hammocks and Awnings—Brush off umbrellas and hammocks and wash with a mild soap and water solution. Leave them open to dry. Repair patio awnings, either left in the frame or spread out on a flat surface, before washing them.

Clean with a soft brush dipped in detergent or soap suds, paying particular attention to heavily soiled areas and frames. Rinse thoroughly and let dry.

If awnings were removed from frames, replace them while still damp. Use a long-handled brush and warm, sudsy water to clean metal awnings; then rinse and touch up or repaint if necessary.

New Weight Loss Mystery 'Baffles' Scientists

WASHINGTON—Scientists are baffled by a natural food ingredient that causes people to lose weight even though they don't change the way they normally eat.

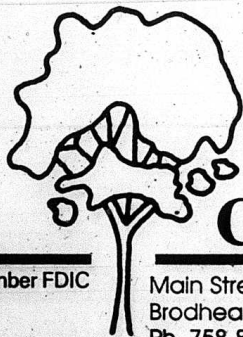

A study published in The British Journal of Nutrition says that the ingredient, often used to thicken ice cream, can cause significant weight loss without dieting. Although several explanations for the weight loss are suggested, the most likely according to scientists in a Finnish study, is that the ingredient serves to decrease the absorption of calories.

National Dietary Research, an organization committed to the research and development of nutritional solutions to world-wide health problems, along with consulting scientists, have successfully isolated and incorporated the ingredient into an improved method that greatly enhances the potential for weight loss over the ingredient alone. Called Food Source One, the significant breakthrough in nutritional weight control provides a three-way scientifically designed method to help prevent calorie absorption.

The mechanism by which Food Source One works to decrease body weight is a complicated process called nutrient bonding. When chewed and swallowed immediately before meals, high calorie fats are replaced with lower calorie nutrients, thereby providing optimum nutrition and a minimum number of fat calories as explained in an information pamphlet that accompanies the tablets. In addition, specially prepared diet plans by NRD are included for optimum results.

Food Source One is unlike any other product on the market and is available immediately because it is not a drug and contains natural ingredients already known to be safe. Physicians and pharmacists are praising Food Source One as a natural, drug free alternative for the treatment of obesity.

OUTDOORS FISHIN' TIPS FROM THE TRACKER PROS

Of all the man-made materials developed over the past few years, one of the most useful and practical is a two-part composition known commercially as Velcro. It serves a multitude of purposes for the fisherman.

One application for Velcro is its design into a handy device called a Rod Saver. Installed on the deck of a boat, the Rod Saver securely holds from one to four rods in place and prevents them from bouncing, even in the roughest water.

Rod Savers come in several sizes and are recommended anytime there is a possibility of rods being lost overboard. In addition to rod holders, the Velcro straps can be used to secure dip net handles, tackle boxes and small coolers.

TAXPAYER FUNDED CAMPAIGNS

Liberals -- never at a loss for ways to spend your money -- are pushing a scheme that you may find particularly offensive. They want to use taxpayer money -- your money -- to pay for their political campaigns. The bill to American taxpayers would add up to about $400 million.

This plan that liberals refer to as campaign finance reform calls for using public funds to pay for 90 percent of a candidate's campaign in the general election. In Kentucky, each Senate candidate would receive over $1 million from the U.S. Treasury.

Liberals in and out of Congress are saying that politicians should not have to ask for campaign contributions from supporters. They say it is too much work for candidates. So public funding proponents are going to shake down the taxpayers. I say politicians don't own those seats, and taxpayers should not have to buy them. You should not have to pay for some candidate you do not support to spout ideas you do not believe in.

Public funding of campaigns is a rip-off, not reform. And liberals want you to pay for it. They do not think you are paying enough taxes. They want you to pay a bigger tax bill, so that they can build a bigger government. I think it's outrageous.

Liberals want to impose on American taxpayers the cost of applying to Congress, a system that has cost $500 million over the last three presidential elections. What taxpayers got for their money in that debacle -- a brainchild of liberals in the 1970s -- is a regulatory mess that gives millions to fringe candidates like Lyndon LaRouche (since convicted of fraud) and Lenora Fulani, a radical social activist from New York City.

With our Nation facing a serious budget deficit, it is curious that there is this concerted effort to spend hundreds of millions of taxpayer dollars on political campaigns. Where are they going to get the money? Raise taxes? Cut programs? Their bill, S. 137, is a blank check written on your account to pay for their campaigns. No wonder the federal government cannot balance a budget.

Our system of campaign finance does need improvement. To clean up the electoral process, I introduced, with 34 cosponsors, S. 2595, the Comprehensive Campaign Finance Reform Act. This bill bans PACs (political action committees); cuts in half the amount of money contributors from out of state can give to candidates; bans "soft money" (special interest money not regulated by federal law); reduces campaign costs; reduces incumbent advantages; and helps challengers. Over thirty provisions providing real reform, and it would not cost taxpayers a dime. That's good government.

1990-91 School Term

Challenging and Exciting Time for Education

✓ Bige Towery Jr.,

A Message From the Superintendent

On behalf of the Rockcastle County Board of Education, I extend a warm welcome to all staff, students and parents as we open another school year. I am confident that our school system will continue to make significant progress. The 1990-91 school term holds exciting potential for growth and improvement, but the development and nourishment of that potential is dependent upon the efforts of everyone of us.

This past year, our school system produced the best student attendance in history, improved test scores, established a higher expectation level, and promoted the development of a strong team effort. We have a great deal going for us and I believe that puts our district in a position to successfully implement the mandated school reforms.

New changes will require different methods of operating schools. Many times we are apprehensive about change and it takes time to accept the alterations which have to be made. It will be left up to us to develop a positive culture for change and to establish a vision of what we want our schools to become in future years.

Our society is changing rapidly as we approach the 21st century. The children of Rockcastle County must be prepared to adapt to a changing world. It is awesome to think we live in a time when the mass of information doubles every two (2) years; a time when it is estimated that 40% of the jobs in the year 2000 have yet to be defined in 1990. I believe schools have a primary responsibility to prepare children to live a contributing productive life in a changing world.

Business leaders say that public education will have to change quickly or fail to exist by the end of this decade. Industry is demanding that young workers be better prepared and the government is mandating major reforms. Yet, I believe that public educators will meet the challenge and once again retain a status of respect in this country.

Please allow me to share with you some of the primary goals we will pursue in the Rockcastle County Schools during the 1990-91 school term:

1. Planning for the implementation of reform measures. Basically, schools will have the 1990-91 year to plan and prepare for implementation of the major components of school reform. It is very important that we effectively utilize this phase of the process.
2. Promote effective Staff Development at the district and individual school level. All staff must be involved.
3. Define what School-Based Management will mean in Rockcastle County and prepare to implement.
4. Conduct a new Facility Survey to establish a long range building program.
5. Continue our efforts to promote higher attendance and improve academic performance.
6. Develop a comprehensive plan to implement computers/other technology in all our schools.

7. Inform and involve the public in all our efforts to improve schools.

We must not lose sight of the basic premise of the Kentucky Supreme Court's Opinion which prompted the formulation of the Kentucky Education Reform Act of 1990:

"Each child, every child, in the Commonwealth must be provided with an equal opportunity to have an adequate education. The children of the poor districts and the children who live in the rich districts must be given the same opportunity and access to an adequate education."

We intend to ensure that the children in our district receive the same opportunity for a quality education as do other children across the state. We simply ask that we all join forces in the effort to improve schools. It will be a challenging and yet an exciting time for education in Kentucky and Rockcastle County.

I feel honored to be your leader during this time and appreciate the opportunity to serve the children of Rockcastle County.

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY SCHOOLS WILL BE READY FOR THE 21st CENTURY

NATIONAL GOALS FOR THE YEAR 2000

1. All children will start school ready to learn.
2. Ninety percent of high school students will graduate.
3. All students will master basic skills.
4. U.S. students will be first in the world in science and mathematics.
5. Every adult in America will be literate.
6. Every school will be drug-free and safe.

To Every Parent. . . . .

PARENTS MAKE THE DIFFERENCE!!

Research shows that the difference between a good school and a great school is parents.

More than 50 major research studies of the role of parents in education have shown that:

- *Parents' involvement increases their children's achievement.
- *Parents' involvement continues to be important even when students are in high school.
- *It isn't enough for parents just to be active in their children's education at home -- they must participate at all levels in the schools if the schools are to be of high quality.
- *Parents don't have to be well educated to help their children improve academically.
- *Minority and low-income children gain most from having their parents take an active part in their schooling.

You don't have to invest a great deal of time. Half an hour a day reading and talking to your child will make a difference. A few minutes each evening skimming and discussing her homework and the exams and other work she brings home will make a difference.

A brief conversation now and then showing your child that his/her education is important to you will make a difference. An hour or two a year talking to your child's teacher will make a difference.

A couple hours a week or even once a month volunteering in your child's school will make a difference, and so will attending PTA meetings and supporting PTA efforts. In fact, one study found that simply having an active PTA in your school will increase student achievement.

Rockcastle County School System encourages parents to take an active interest in their child's education. Drop by school, check with principals and teachers, so you can be informed and instrumental in your child's learning process.
