At Rockcastle Co. High School McKameys featured singers on Jubilee Echoes 10th Anniversary Sing Sept. 6

"The McKameys' of Clinton, Tennessee"

The McKameys will be the featured singers at the Jubilee Echoes 10th Anniversary Sing Thursday, Sept. 6th at 7:30 p.m. at Rockcastle County High School. The McKameys are regarded as one of gospel music's finest groups, a Based out of Clinton, Tn., the group has been singing approximately 32 years. In the past few years, the McKameys have been nominated for many awards in gospel music, including: Group of the Year, Favorite Alto, Favorite Soprano, Favorite Artist, Queen of Gospel Music, and Song of the Year. They have just recently added to their list a Dove Award Nomination for "God On the Mountain" as Southern Gospel Song of the year for 1989. They have also had three number one songs in the nation according to the Singing News Magazine. "Who Put the Tears in the Eyes of the Lamb" for Sept. 1984, "Getting Used To The Dark" for Oct. 1987 and most recently "God On The Mountain" for November 1988 through March 1989. "God On the Mountain" was voted as song of the year for 1989 by the Singing News Fan Awards, and also the Voice Magazine Fan Awards. Don't miss this exciting night of Gospel Music. Tickets are $7 in advance and $8 at the door. Tickets are available at Saylor Pharmacy in Mt. Vernon For concert information call 256-2282.

"KET News Program" (Cont. From A4) baugh-Jackson said. By bringing students and teachers information about today's rapidly changing world, we provide information the history books haven't had a chance to cover." Lobaugh-Jackson said that in addition to a new host and some innovative costuming, New Quiz hopes to make world events meaningful to young students.

Card of Thanks We would like to thank everyone for their kindness during the illness and loss of our loved one. Thank you for the flowers, food, cards, visits, and prayers. Special thanks to the staff at the Rockcastle County Hospital, Bro. Harvey Pensol, Bro. Jack Martin, Arnel and Mabel Davidson, the Lighthouse Baptist Church singers and Dowell and Martin Funeral Home. Your kindness and support will always be appreciated. The family of Eula Dolley

"Whether it's through language they'll understand, or costuming, or examples, we hope to help students not only become aware of what's happening but also have a better understanding of the news," she said. WTN News Service, an international news-gathering organization, will provide the information New Quiz will use to spotlight each week's events and late-breaking stories. New Quiz is produced by KET.

Some tips on how to save gas as price escalates during crisis

Recent events in the Middle East and the uncertainty of future supplies of oil from that area are taking a big bite out of Kentuckians' pockets as the price of gasoline escalates on a day-to-day basis.

You can take steps to save money at the gas pump and, at the same time, help extend our current supplies of oil. You can:

• Carpool. Employers can encourage carpooling by setting up special carpool parking privileges on their grounds.

• Unload your trunk of unnecessary items. This extra weight can increase your car's miles per gallon.

• Maintain adequate tire pressure at the upper level of the recommended range; under-inflated tires impose a fuel economy penalty.

• Perform simple maintenance checks on your vehicle. Check the fluid level in your battery or radiator, maintain the proper oil level, brake and transmission fluids, and keep the air filter clean. A simple tune-up can improve your vehicle's fuel efficiency anywhere from 4 percent to 12 percent.

• Driving skills can help you stretch your vehicle's miles per gallon. Simply use these fuel-saving driving techniques.

• After you start the vehicle, idle for only 30 seconds before you get going. Just sitting there idling, burning gas but going nowhere, makes little sense.

Corn alcohol production plans making comeback for use in fuels

Tensions in the Middle East may prompt some entrepreneurs to dust off their plans for corn alcohol production for use in fuels, according to a University of Kentucky Extension agricultural engineer.

"Higher fuel prices in the late 1970s and early 1980s enticed many to explore — at least on paper — the economics of substituting corn alcohol for some oil in the production of fuel. Higher fuel prices may spur interest again," said Larry Turner, agricultural engineer.

Interest in gasoline, gasoline blended with corn alcohol, peaked in the early 1980s when gain/fuel price relationships were more favorable, he said. Such blends can be found at many service stations today.

Turner said several plants in the U.S. and in Kentucky began or increased corn alcohol production in the late 1970s and early 1980s. And several farmers experimented with corn-farm production of alcohol fuel, but the quality of farm-produced fuel was low and the investment in distillation equipment was too high to provide an economic source of fuel-grade alcohol.

National Audubon Society Special on last of ancient forests

Join actor Paul Newman as he takes an in-depth look at the ongoing controversy over the commercialization of the only remaining redwood forest. Newman hosts "Ancient Forest: Rage Over Trees," a National Audubon Society Special airing on KET at 7 p.m. Sunday, August 26.

"Rage Over Trees" exposes the conflict that has developed between conservationists and members of the timber industry over how to treat this last redwood forest. Located in the Pacific Northwest, many of the trees in this majestic forest are nearly 1,000 years old.

Conservationists believe that the trees are a vital part of the region's landscape and disruption of the forest would destroy the scenic beauty of the ecosystem. But the timber industry disagrees. Their representatives contend that it is in the region's best interest to harvest the trees and reap the economic benefits. Conservationists maintain, however, that the forest is an essential part of the area's tourist trade and, perhaps even more importantly, a habitat for thousands of animals.

National Audubon Society Special is a coproduction of the National Audubon Society, WETA/Washington, D.C., and the Turner Broadcasting System, Inc.

Build an affordable all-American "dream home"

With construction costs and land values on the rise, record numbers of homebuilders are looking for money-saving alternatives to build an affordable

"dream home." As a first step, many new homebuilders are saving thousands of dollars by ordering blueprints through stock plan

PRE-DESIGNED BLUEPRINTS can save new homebuilders significant amounts of time and money. For free information about this home, No. 3711, and pre-designed blueprints, call 1-800-547-5570 or write: HomeStyle Plan Service, Suite 115, 6800 France Ave. S., Minneapolis, MN 55435.

Nigel Kennedy and Friends on encore Lonesome Pine

English classical/jazz/pop violin virtuoso Nigel Kennedy joins American great Mark O'Connor, Jerry Douglas, Edgar Meyer, fared Haque, and others for a brilliant and humorous musical adventure from Vivaldi to gershwin when Kentucky Center Presents The Lonesome Pine — American Originals in Music — on KET at 10 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 1.

Performing in more than 120 worldwide appearances each season, 30-year-old Nigel Kennedy proves to be a musician of uncommon virtuosity, technical finesse, and diversity. Hailing from Brighton, England, Kennedy has recorded and/or performed with Paul McCartney, Kate Bush, Talk Talk, The Berlin Philharmonic, The Royal Philharmonic, The Boston Symphony, The London Philharmonic, and The English Chamber Orchestra, among many others.

Kennedy has a unique personality that complements his musical ability. According to the director/Co-Producer Richard Van Kleck, "Nigel wears outfits from second hand stores adorned with exotic jewelry," Van Kleck says. "After a recent Louisville Orchestra performance, he packed up his violin and headed for the airport. He landed at a Louisville blues bar. That's an example of his diversity!"

Documentary on KET August 29 reviews the work of Mother Teresa

Mother Teresa, a 90-minute documentary airing on KET at 9 p.m. Wednesday, August 29, follows her through many of the world's worst trouble spots — war-torn Beirut, besieged Guatemala, famine-stricken Africa, and the devastated ghettos of Calcutta. The award-winning film examines her extraordinary efforts to help the world's poor.

In 1948, she founded the Missionaries of Charity to help the poorest of the thousands of needy people on the streets of Calcutta. What started as a small center in Calcutta has since grown to include 320 missions in 75 countries on five continents. In 1979, she was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for her work on behalf of the poor.

Richard Attenborough narrates this story of one woman's unwavering faith and her determination to transcend all political, religious, and social barriers to help the world's poor. The documentary is being broadcast during the week of Mother Teresa's retirement. At 6 p.m. public screening held at the United Nations — the first feature film ever to premiere there — she received a standing ovation. That showing was followed by unprecedented screenings in the U.S. senate and at the Vatican.

Mother Teresa was produced by Petrie Productions.

design companies. For custom-drawn plans, an architect's fees will range from five percent to 15 percent of the cost of the home. Design costs for a cake and a pound of butter are about $5,000 to $15,000. However, complete construction blueprints are available from many stock plan design companies for about $200.

The home plan pictured here, No. 3711, is one of the most popular home designs available from HomeStyle Plan Service, one of the nation's largest sources of stock blueprints. According to Bob Pool, resident of HomeStyle Plan Service, "most of today's homebuilders are looking for quality construction, traditional design styles and modern-day conveniences."

The popularity of plan 3711 is based on the simplicity of the design, the charm of the wrap-around porch, and the appeal of the expansive country kitchen/family room, said Pool. The home's two fireplaces, formal dining room and a wrap-around porch, a first-floor laundry room, and four bedrooms (the master bedroom has a private bath and walk-in closet) are also highly popular design features.

In addition to full-size construction blueprints, HomeStyle Plan Service offers homebuilders a variety of other plan books. Plan 3711 is featured in The Book of Home Plans ($10.95, including postage), a new volume of 400 best-selling home designs. A study plan of 3711, useful for preliminary planning and cost estimating, is available for $9.95 (postage included).

Laugh at the news with Mark Russell and the Capitol steps on KET August 29

Get ready for an hour of rib-ticking fun as the front page of your newspaper becomes a hit list for political satirist Mark Russell and a group of Capitol Hill staffers. A new Mark Russell Comedy Special is followed by CapitolSteps II on KET beginning at 8 p.m. Wednesday, August 29.

Comedian Mark Russell returns to KET playing off the headlines in grand style. For the last 15 years, he has captivated and titillated national audiences in his tongue-in-cheek humor. Russell's ability to formulate diatribes and commentaries on the most timely events and well-known personalities is one of the major factors behind his long-running success as a live television performer.

We can already see the beginnings of George Bush's kinder, gentler America. Yesterday in New York City, a teen-ager held the door open for an old lady — before stealing her purse and cane. . . You'll know it's a kinder, gentler America when the screen of the Los Angeles freeway start firing warning shots." This is only a taste of Russell's biting wit, which often has the power to make you laugh while it makes you think.

Continuing the evening of political parody is, according to The Washington Post, "Washington's favorite political cabaret troupe. . . The Capitol Steps. This group of Capitol Hill staffers has performed for three presidents and has been featured on all three commercial networks' evening news shows. Now Washington's funniest group of political satirists are back in a half-hour comedy special featuring their newest songs, including "Old Man Grier" (Reagan's video testimony), "On the Sony Side of the Street" (Japan buys a controlling interest in the United States), and "The Green Green Grass" (a prediction on global warming).

JUST BESSERS

Having a cake at the ready is a good way to be prepared for impromptu entertaining, and on a brisk fall day there is nothing quite so satisfying to the host as serving this thick wedge of a richly flavored made-from-scratch cake. Paired with a cup of coffee, it's the perfect excuse to linger over dessert and that with a friend. Topped with a steaming mug of hot chocolate or a tall glass of milk, it's a great snack for the younger set after they've raked the fallen autumn leaves from the front yard or returned from an active afternoon of touch football.

Because they keep well and are easy to prepare and transport, pound cakes are the perfect make-ahead, serve-anytime sweet treat. According to John F. Mariani's Dictionary of American Food and Drink, pound cake was first mentioned in print in 1747, and it has remained popular in the centuries since.

Traditionally, the name designated a plain white loaf cake, whose ingredients consisted of one cake mix, one pound of butter, one pound of sugar, and one pound of eggs. Most modern recipes omit the addition of a small amount of milk to increase the cake's moisture, and baking powder and/or baking soda to produce a cake that is more tender, less dense, and chewy than the original version. Increasing the proportion of butter is another way to maximize tenderness, and it adds flavor as well.

Many of the pound cake variations in circulation today seem quite exotic when compared to the traditional recipe. The addition of chocolate, spices, nuts and even a variety of flavorings, ranging from almond extract to a combination of lemon juice and poppy seeds, produces pound cakes that are far from ordinary.

Whether the cake is sprinkled with confectioner's sugar, glazed or left plain, served with a scoop of ice cream or a spoonful of a glistening fruit compote, there are lots of options for varying the presentation of even the simplest pound cake.

Best of all, it is kept tightly sealed in plastic wrap, a pound cake will stay fresh for several days. In fact, in some cases, the flavor and texture of the cake is best if, after baking, it is left to sit for a few days.

The recipes below are examples of flavorful variations on the traditional pound cake. The Spice Pound Cake, reproduced from Lia Yockelson's Country Cakes: A Homestyle Treasury (Harper & Row), is the perfect accompaniment to a late-afternoon cup of tea. From the same volume, the recipe for Bourbon Pound Cake produces a beautiful, amber-colored cake. Yockelson notes that a good Bourbon rum can be substituted for the bourbon, with excellent results.

- SPICE POUND CAKE
- 3 cups plus 2 tablespoons sifted cake mix
  - 2 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
  - 1 teaspoon freshly grated nutmeg
  - 1 teaspoon ground ginger
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice

- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1 cup (2 sticks) unsalted butter, softened at room temperature
- 2 cups granulated sugar
- 4 extra-large eggs, at room temperature
- 2 extra-large egg yolks, at room temperature
- 1 tablespoon pure vanilla extract

Lightly butter and flour a 10-inch fluted tube pan; set aside. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Resift the flour with the baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger, allspice and cloves onto a large sheet of waxed paper. Cream the butter in a large bowl, using an electric mixer on moderately high speed for 3 minutes. Add the sugar mixture in 3 additions, beating well after each portion has been added. Tapes out eggs one at a time, blending well after each one. Beat in the egg yolks. Scrape down the sides of the mixing bowl frequently with a rubber spatula to keep the batter even-textured. Beat in the vanilla extract. With the mixer on low speed, alternately add the sifted dry ingredients in 3 additions, beginning and ending with the flour. Pour and scrape the batter into the prepared pan, shake the pan gently from side to side to level the top.

Bake the cake on the lower-third rack of the preheated oven for about 1 hour and 25 minutes to 1 hour and 30 minutes, or until a wooden pick inserted in the middle of the cake comes out clean and dry. The cake pulls away slightly from the sides of the pan.

Let cool in the pan on a wire rack for 1 to 5 minutes, then invert onto a second cooling rack. Invert again to cool right side up. Dust the top of the cake with a little sifted confectioner's sugar if you like. Serve the cake cut in medium-thick slices.

- BOURBON POUND CAKE
- 3 cups unsifted cake flour
  - 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
  - 1/2 teaspoon freshly grated nutmeg
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
  - 1 1/2 cups (3 sticks) unsalted butter, softened at room temperature
  - 3 cups (firmly packed) light brown sugar
  - 3 cups granulated sugar
  - 4 egg yolks, at room temperature
  - 2 jumbo egg whites, at room temperature
  - 1 cup light cream, blended with the flour at room temperature
  - 1/2 cup good bourbon
  - 1/2 cup confectioner's sugar for dusting (optional)

Lightly butter and flour a 10-inch fluted bundt pan; set aside. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Sift the flour with the baking powder, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice and ginger onto a large sheet of waxed paper. Cream the butter in the large bowl, using an electric mixer on moderately high speed for 3 minutes. Beat in the brown sugar in 3 additions, beating

"SAVE GAS"

Pumping the gas pedal is especially wasteful.

Lower gear ranges used in acceleration demand more fuel, so accelerate briskly and steadily to your cruising speed. Drive as if you have an egg under your gas pedal.

Anticipating traffic conditions, particularly in city driving and rush hour traffic, has the potential to save more gas than any other driving skill. Observe the 55 mph and 65 mph speed limits on the highway. Most drivers will get about 20 percent more miles per gallon at 55 than they do at 70 mph.

For more information on how you can save energy in your car, home or at your workplace, contact the Division of Energy, 691 Teton Trail, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. The telephone number is (502) 564-7192.

"GAS COSTS"

If prices for oil escalate, commercial production of ethanol from corn could offer an increased market for corn and boost corn prices, at least in localized areas near ethanol plants.

"Using current technology, the cost for converting corn to grain alcohol for fuel would be about 70 to 90 cents per gallon, not counting the cost of the corn," Turner said.

Turner said that if gasoline (10 percent alcohol and 90 percent gasoline) were used in every gasoline powered vehicle in the U.S., some 4 billion bushels of corn would be needed, which would amount to about 50 percent of the total U.S. corn crop.

Manchester man uses gun to escape local jail

By: Richard Anderkin
Managing Editor

A Manchester man who was convicted of robbing a Beattyville bank walked away from the Rockcastle County jail Sunday night after pulling a pistol on a deputy jailer.

Wallace McDaniel, 57 of Manchester was being held in the Rockcastle County jail awaiting a trial in Jackson County on charges of growing marijuana, according to David Hines of the U.S. Marshall's office in London.

Hines said that a reward is being offered for information that would lead to McDaniel's capture and information concerning how he obtained a weapon, which allowed him to break from the jail.

Rockcastle County jailer Billy Kirby said that McDaniel had two visitors on August 11th.

Kirby said a Manchester attorney and McDaniel's son James visited

Mayor announces approval of sewer project through Renfro

By: Ray McClure

A $700,000 grant and loan has been awarded to the City of Mt. Vernon to construct a sewer line from the Mt. Vernon sewer plant to and through Renfro Valley, according to Mayor Gary R. Cromer.

A $350,000 grant comes from a Community Development Block Grant. The other $350,000 is a 3.8 percent, 15-year loan from the Kentucky Infrastructure Authority.

Mayor Cromer expressed pleasure that the grant and loan had been approved. He said it will open the entire Renfro Valley area to future development.

Several businesses have expressed an interest in locating in the area but have been waiting for an announcement of the availability of sewer service. Renfro Valley folks are especially pleased that the line is to be constructed because of the heavy amount of tourist traffic in the valley.

The line will run from the sewer plant area along Daily Street, then along the right side (northbound) of U.S. 25 through Renfro to the Norma Mullins property at the bottom of Green Fish Hill. It will also serve the KOA Campground and radio station

WRVK.

Residents along the new line will pay the normal city sewer rate for service, but all businesses will have a surcharge to repay the loan. The amount has not been determined.

The mayor said he hoped bids could be called for until and by 4 p.m. Friday, Sept. 14 with a bid opening at 7 p.m. Monday, Sept. 17. Work on the line could be well under way before winter, depending on weather conditions.

One businessman in the area met the announcement with "that's fine." "I was beginning to think we wouldn't get it. It will help us a lot," he stated.

Grand Jury returns twelve indictments

By: Richard Anderkin

Indictments were handed down last week in Rockcastle Circuit Court for crimes ranging from sexual abuse to burglary.

Paul Senters, 24 of Livingston was charged with a six count indictment stemming from a June 29th crime spree in Pine Hill.

Senters is accused of entering the Pine Hill Holiness Church, a building owned by Bill T. Parker and a building on the property of Phyllis Richardson.

Taken in the three break-ins were an Alvarez Guitar, Lotus bass, Washburn guitar, Pevey guitar, Dixon guitar, Coleman lanterns, a trolling motor and a weed eater.

Senters, who was charged with three counts of third degree burglary and three counts of theft by unlawful taking over $100, is free on a $10,000 property bond until his arraignment Friday before Circuit Judge Dan Venner.

Richard Dean, 42, of Berea was charged with second degree rape for a August 17 1988 incident in Rockcastle County, in which he allegedly had sexual intercourse with a female under 14 years of age.

Dean has posted a $25,000 property bond and is scheduled for an appearance Friday in Circuit Court.

Brian Northern, 20, of Rt. 2 Mt. Vernon was indicted for receiving stolen property over $100. He is accused of taking a guitar owned by David Lindsey of Mt. Vernon on May 24th. Northern is free on a $4,000 property bond until his arraignment Friday.

Jack Foster, 34, of Copper Creek Road was indicted for taking an electrical service to a 220 volt hook-up from Sarah Foster of Conway Road on June 13th. He is free on an unsecured $3,000 bond until arraignment Friday.

Daniel Cummins, 28, of Mt. Vernon and Billy Ray Wolfe, of Widwe were indicted for third offense D.U.I.s.

Cummins is free on a $200 cash bond and Wolfe posted a $10,000

Mink pleads in London

A Mt. Vernon man pled guilty in federal court in London on August 6th to felony possession of a firearm.

According to federal court records, Roger Dean Mink, 30, of Horse-shoe Bend, was charged with violation of the federal gun control act of 1968, by Kentucky State Police Detective Larry Lewis on February 23rd of this year.

Mink, a convicted felon, will be sentenced on October 9th at 4 p.m. by Federal Judge Eugene Siler. Mink could receive 10 years in prison and a fine of up to $250,000.

On September 12th, Mink is scheduled to go on trial in Rockcastle Circuit Court for complicity to commit

He was indicted for allegedly paying Dewayne Singleton to set fire to Glennis Miller's home near Maple Grove.

Dennis Rash not indicted

A Mt. Vernon man was not indicted for a July 15th shooting on Main Street that sent another local man to the hospital.

After hearing evidence from police last week, a Rockcastle Grand Jury voted not to indict Dennis Rash, 36, of Mt. Vernon in connection with the shooting of Johnny Lee Bullock, 41, also of Mt. Vernon.

Bullock was shot three times by Rash in a Main Street shoot-out. Police said at the time of the shooting that Bullock actually fired the first shot.

Assistant Commonwealth attorney Debra Lambert said Tuesday that the case could be presented to another grand jury at a later time.

Since being released from the hospital, Bullock has been arrested for violation of the federal gun control act in connection with carrying a gun the night of the shooting. He is lodged in the Rockcastle County jail awaiting a hearing.

Attention please! Anyone having information about old photos or any history of the old Langdon Memorial Girls School which existed in Mt. Vernon from 1905-1927.

I am especially interested in a photo which was in the Mt. Vernon Signal, perhaps in the 50's through the 80's. This photo had the girls in front of the school and my mother and aunt were included in the group. Their names are Grace or Gracie Allen and Goldie Allen.

I am willing to pay for other photos or information on copies of photos, as I do not have any photographs of my mother when she was young. She is now 86 and talks often of the school. She clearly remembers Miss Mary R. McCord and Miss Anna B. Stewart, who were teachers at the school.

In regards to the inflammatory danger to world peace: of course I am most inadequate to write one word, but I want to write the thought that I have about it, and know less than any one, but every one has a right to one's opinion of a situation.

I believe that if Emir Saddam Hussein, had realized the impact his move into Kuwait, and driving his leaders out of their own territory, taking over the world supply of oil wells, he would have waited to think about it for a while.

Since it was such a monstrous undertaking, Hussein must have had a great lot of faith in his ability. He had a fierce military army, added to his greed for wealth, fame, and world power; he dived in where angels feared to tread.

No one seems to know what will terminate this awful fiasco. Will Hussein win and take over the world; after a catastrophic explosion; or will the world win with reasoning and great exultation? This is what every one of us should pray for, and also

Points East

By: Ike Adams

I lived in Pikeville for nearly five years back in the late sixties/early seventies during which time I became known as a hillbilly hippy college student who worked for The Boy Scouts of America on the side. Some people thought I was schizo-phrenic. But that's another story.

I'm getting worse than my wife at interjecting things into a story that really don't have very much to do with what I'm trying to tell someone. Loretta will come in and say something like, "There was the awfulest car wreck on 52 today."

And I'll say, "Yeah!"

And then she'll start the story, "Well me and Adella were out on Buckeye making a visit to so and so. And we stopped at this little store and about the time we were getting out of the car a truck went flying by with its lights flashing and Adella recognized him as a guy who's on the rescue squad. I think he lives over on Tunnel Road. I don't know what he was doing out there on Buckeye. He was farming out there or something. But he went flying by and we figured something was wrong somewhere. I told Adella that somebody had probably had a wreck."

I don't need to know any of this and I'm dying to know who was in the wreck, whether or not anybody got hurt and that sort of thing. But no bury!

Loretta's not going to do anything other than tell it her way and that means finding out what they had in the store, what she bought, a description of all the stuff she saw at two different yard sales, the intricate details of a quilt that somebody was working on and how much Rosie's baby has grown before she gets to the 6th grade at car wreck.

If I complain about it she'll jump off somewhere and I have to get by her started again. But she will not tell you something without putting it into a much broader context.

Some people believe that if you live with someone long enough you'll get just like 'em. It's happening to me because I swear that when I sat down behind the word processor. (Thinking would probably cuss me out if I called it a typewriter), I fully intended to write about going to Pikeville last week.

And I'm going to get there yet. Loretta couldn't do it if she were limited to the space that the newspapers allow me.

I think I can still pull it off. I drove from one end of the Mountain Parkway to the other, from Salyersville over through Allen and headed up the Big Sandy via Rt. 23 according to the signs I encountered along the way. I used to do some courting in Allen and I used to know the road from there to Pikeville like the back of my hand. But if I had been blindfolded and just set out in Allen without knowing where I was at, I would have walked all the way to Pikeville before figuring it out.

I can remember sitting on a railroad bridge over 23 with a buddy from Pikeville watching the coal truck traffic below. The road wasn't wide enough for two of them to pass on the black top and we'd take bets about which one would drop off the shoulder to the other one could get by. I never did find that bridge and I looked for it both ways when I went to Pikeville last week.

Route 23 is four lanes now and it follows the river like it always did. But that's where the similarity ends. The river used to run right through town. Now if you stay on it you'll miss Pikeville altogether. The river's not there anymore, nor the bridges that crossed over into town.

A fellow on television the other day was talking about all the Government money that has been spent on eastern Kentucky -- hundreds of millions of dollars -- but nothing has changed according to him.

He hasn't been to Pikeville. I remember the place being pretty ragged and rough around the edges. I remember lots of garbage lying around and coal dust about an inch thick on anything that didn't get wiped every day. I remember the Big Sandy as a collection of white plastic jugs, used toilet paper, long strings of toilet tissue paper and other trash.

It's not that way now. Eastern Kentucky, at least the part I saw on my trip and particularly Pikeville, ought to be posting some before and after pictures. I could have used the loose garbage I saw on the roadside in a coal bucket. Twenty years ago you could have stood in one spot and picked that much out of the ditch-line without taking a step.

The Big Sandy was dark green and looked almost at peace with itself. Twenty years ago it was an open sewer. Some things have changed.

That's really what I wanted to say all along. Eastern Kentucky is getting cleaner all the time. And I don't think any one in particular is causing it. I believe we're changing our attitude finally, and that's precisely what it takes before any other change can happen.

See, I've already gotten you to Pikeville and we've started back home before I ran out of space. Loretta would just be getting in to Salyersville about now.

Dear Editor,

At the end of August, the Kentucky Supreme Court will hear a lawsuit brought against the City of Louisville, the outcome of which will have a serious impact on the property rights of all Kentuckians. This lawsuit was filed by people in three Louisville neighborhoods whose property the city wishes to condemn in order to provide for commercial development around the airport in conjunction with the expansion of Standiford Field.

The city declared these neighborhoods "blighted" because of airport noise. KR's 99-10 which covers urban renewal powers doesn't mention noise as a determinant of blight and implies urban renewal action should only be taken to eliminate the blighted conditions. Complete noise studies were not accomplished and the city refused to apply for FAA part 150 money that is available for such purposes. Housing in the three neighborhoods were not substandard and in fact, 100% of the housing in two of the neighborhoods were rated in excellent or better condition by the city. Lawyers for the neighborhoods, demonstrated in lower court hearings, that these neighborhoods statistically were equal to or better than most of the other neighborhoods in the City of Louisville. The Appeals Court agreed!

The city has been successful thus far in promoting the number of new jobs the airport expansion will create, even though they admit these neighborhoods are not needed for the airport expansion. Political favors have been asked to keep the momentum. We hope that this will stop with the Kentucky Supreme Court.

We feel that the City of Louisville has grossly misused its urban renewal powers, going beyond what the legislature intended when they wrote these statutes. These neighborhoods are not slums, rather they were middle class neighborhoods in which people took great pride in maintaining their homes.

We hope the people of the state will write the governor and express their dismay at this injustice and

The Open House at the new Mt. Vernon Elementary School was extremely well-attended Sunday and the "Writing to Read" computer room was one of the more popular stopping places on the tour as the children were encouraged to try their hand at the computers. One of the main bugs still to be worked out in the new facility evidently is the air conditioning system which is not functioning properly at present.

Tiger Pause

An exciting school year has begun at BES. We welcome Mark McKinney as our assistant principal along with new teachers Lajoy Graves, Jeanine Parsons, Tammy Stevens and Jolitta Bradshaw. Darlene Harris, instructional aide, will be working with the second grade and David Taylor will be helping in kindergarten and library.

We have "65" new little tigers enrolled in our kindergarten classes. Custodians, Nancy Bradley, Jackie Lawrence and Bill Melcher have done a great job getting our building ready for opening day. Building grounds improvements have been made with new carpet in the library and on the balcony and a new sidewalk in front of the building.

Research has proved that parental involvement through encouragement and support of the school along with a loving home environment can enhance a child's success in school.

One form of involvement is through the PTA. PTA invites and welcomes your participation. Meetings are monthly the second Thursday, at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Membership is $2.00. Join and be a part of the new education reform.

"Together we can" make this the most successful school year in the history of Brodhead Elementary.

The Bank of Mt. Vernon Plaintiff
 VS: Notice of Sale

Laura Mobley and Paula Ann Pigg Defendants

Pursuant to judgment and order of sale entered in this action on April 18, 1990, and for the purpose of enforcement of a mortgage lien to recover the sum of $14,154.82, plus interest and costs, I will offer at public auction the herein after described real property in Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle County, Kentucky
AT THE COURTHOUSE DOOR
On Friday, the 7th day of September, 1990 beginning at the hour of 11:00 A.M. EDT said property being more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Lots No. 7, 8, 9 and 10 in Block A of the Dixie Heights Addition to the town of Livingston.

And being the same property which Paula Ann Pigg obtained by deed dated March 3, 1988, from Willis R. Durham, recorded in the office of the clerk of the Rockcastle County Court in Deed Book 133, page 422.

The Property Will be Sold Upon the Following Terms and Conditions:

1. The property shall be sold to the highest bidder(s) for cash or for a deposit of TWENTY-FIVE (25%) PER CENT of the purchase price in cash at the time of sale and balance payable in SIXTY (60) DAYS. The purchaser shall be required to execute bond with surety thereon, to be approved by the Master Commissioner, for the balance of the purchase price. The bond shall bear interest at the rate of twelve (12%) per cent per annum from date until paid, and to remain and be a lien on said property until fully paid.
  2. The purchaser(s) shall have the privilege of paying all of the purchase price in cash or paying the bond before maturity by paying the principal amount thereof, together with all interest accrued thereon to the date of said payment.
  3. Purchaser(s) shall be responsible for the 1990 property taxes.
  4. Purchaser(s) shall have possession of the premises upon complying with the terms of sale and risk of loss of improvements shall thereafter be on the purchaser(s).
  5. The risk of the loss on improvements on the real property passes to the purchaser at the time of delivery of the Master Commissioner's deed to the purchaser(s).
  6. This sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise.

Join 4-H today for a better tomorrow

What is 4-H?

4-H is a world-wide organization for youth between the ages of 9-19, designed to help them "Learn By Doing" through practical hands-on learning experiences.

In 1989, over 2,094 Rockcastle County youths participated in 4-H educational programs.

Who Conducts the 4-H Program?

4-H is conducted by the University of Kentucky through the Cooperative Extension Service. Three extension agents work with the program in Rockcastle County. All other leaders and advisors are volunteers.

How Do 4-H'ers Participate?

Monthly club meetings are held in schools and in communities with special activities throughout the year. County events include Poster Contest, Talk Meets, Demonstration Contest, Fashion Revue, and Variety Show. Also, judging events include: Vegetable Judging, Land Judging and Dairy Judging. 4-H Ribbons are awarded for participation.

"Hot Pack" method good way to can tomatoes

Canned home-grown tomatoes are popular during the winter when the fresh product is expensive and lacks flavor. But some people may be disappointed when the juice and solid parts of their canned tomato products have separated. That can be avoided by using the "hot-pack" method.

When canning recipes call for the "hot-pack" method, it means to heat the product before placing it in canning jars. Raw-packed means that the product is placed in the container before heating.

Some recipes for tomato products call only for hot-pack canning. This is because an enzyme present in cut or crushed tomatoes causes separation of solid and liquid in the finished product. If tomatoes are heated quickly after they are cut into quarters, separation is prevented because the enzyme is inactivated. But with the raw-pack method, the enzyme has a long time to act before the canning process inactivates it.

So, if you have ever had extreme separation of juice and solid in tomato products, the tomatoes most likely stood too long after they were cut and before they were heated.

For more information about canning, contact your County Extension Office at 256-2403.

Corn, Milk & Tobacco referendums scheduled

By: Tom Mills
County Extension Agent
for Agriculture

On Thursday, Aug. 30, corn and milk producers will vote on whether to accept proposed producer assessments. On Sept. 14th tobacco producers will vote on a similar assessment.

The assessments are used for financing research, education and promotion of these agricultural products in order to increase their use and consumption.

Milk producers will vote on a proposed assessment of fifteen hundredths of one percent or $1.50 per $1,000. Corn producers will vote on a proposed assessment of twenty-five hundredths of one percent, or $2.50 per $1,000. Tobacco producers will vote on whether to add a one-tenth cent per pound on burley tobacco quotas in excess of 10,000 pounds, whether owned or leased.

Polling will take place at the County Extension Office between the hours

Around Brodhead

By: Mary McWhorter

Recent visitors of Mrs. Cula Cobey were Dekora Mae Cobey, Mark and Genia Holman and their sons of Georgia.

John McWhorter and wife Vickie and daughters Ami and Lori of Florida were recent visitors of their parents, Bert and George McWhorter. They also visited their grandmother, Verla Brown and Aunt Betty McWhorter in Somerset. Larry McWhorter and wife Terri of Louisville and Mr. McWhorter joined them Friday for dinner. All enjoyed the good dinner and visit. John, Vicki and daughters returned home Friday night. Larry and wife returned Friday evening.

Loretta McWhorter and Josephine Burdette of Louisville are visiting at their home place this week. We were all happy to have them with us in church Sunday night.

Mrs. Minnie Laswell has as her guest, J.C. Laswell's grandchildren, Samantha and Jamie of Atlanta, Georgia. J.C.'s son John A. Laswell and family are in the process of moving back to our county. We welcome them.

Pat Pruitt and son Freddie Pruitt Jr. and myself visited Mickie Lea Pruitt in Ashland this past weekend and enjoyed it very much. She drove us around quite a bit to places of interest in West Va. and Ashland. I enjoyed it very much until we had a little car trouble coming home. Lucky to find a service station with the attendant, being very nice to help us on the way quickly. All in all we were fortunate.

Charles Hampton, son of Pearl and Bertha Hampton, passed away after a short illness, due to cancer. Funeral and burial were near Owensboro. Our deepest sympathy goes to each and everyone of the family. They were formerly of Rockcastle County and good customers in our store.

Dee and Mary Bussell, Jack Bussell and Janet Hampton are all in Ohio due to the open heart surgery of their sister, Geraldine Glass. Our prayers are for her.

Dee and Mary Bussell were Sunday dinner guests of Lula and Janet Bussell Hampton.

Recent visitors of Petyel and Bonnie Brown were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd

Thompson and daughter Linda of Cincinnati, Ohio and Otis Denney of Cincinnati, Ohio and John Brown of Willissa.

Recent visitors of Mary Jane Randolph and daughter Linda and brother Arvil Burton were Ruby Thompson, Owen and Marie Burton, Gilbert Burton and Kevin Adams of Somerset.

Mrs. Walter Lightsey of Sun City Center, Florida and her daughter Barbara Shaffer Hulse of Lexington spent Sunday afternoon with Elizabeth Mullins and Elvora Gray.

Walter and John Eva Huffman of Lexington came to Brodhead for Mrs. Elvora Gray for a few days visit. While there she saw her doctor and also to Richmond for a visit with her niece, Henrietta Fultz and husband Bill. Henrietta and her daughter brought her home.

Mrs. Spillie Webb of Ft. Valley, Ga. went one night with her Aunt Elvora Gray, on her way home from Lexington.

Nora Perry and husband Harold of Lubbard visited her father Ray Perry and wife Esther Sunday.

Recent visitors of Maggie and Audrey Fletcher were Clara Proctor, Mae Doan, Alene and Tonya Paret, Laloy Graves and Mary McWhorter.

MODEL NOTIFICATION

OF FMHA'S FINDINGS

County of Rockcastle

Hospital Improvement Corporation

The Farmers Home Administration (FMHA) has received a preapplication for financial assistance from County of Rockcastle Hospital Improvement Corporation. The specific element of this proposed action is the construction of a 28-bed addition to the hospital. This addition will provide approximately 84 new jobs.

FMHA has assessed the potential environmental impacts of this proposed action and has determined that it will not significantly affect the quality of the human environment. Therefore, FMHA will not prepare an environmental impact statement for this proposed action.

Any written comments regarding this determination should be provided within fifteen (15) days of this publication to Ms. Mary Ann Baron, State Director, Farmers Home Administration, 333 Waller Avenue, Lexington, Kentucky 40504. FMHA will make no further decisions regarding this proposed action during the fifteen-day period. Requests to review the FMHA environmental assessment upon which this determination is based, or to receive a copy of it, should be directed to the FMHA District Office, 207 London Shopping Center, London, Kentucky 40741.

McDaniel in private on the 11th to discuss the bank robbery case. McDaniel's two sons, James and Todd, have also been indicted for the same Beattyville bank robbery and are scheduled for trial in London Federal Court. Kirby said that a deputy jailer may have failed to strip search McDaniel after the meeting. According to Kirby, Deputy Jailer Leonard Miller was in a holding area Sunday when McDaniel produced the weapon. He forced Miller into a cell, Kirby said. He then went to another part of the jail and got Deputy Jailer Margaret Kirby, the jailer's daughter, and put her in the same cell. McDaniel fled on foot around 10:30 Sunday night and is still at large. McDaniel was convicted in federal court in London in April of 1989 for a 1987 bank robbery in Beat-tyville. McDaniel was in the Rockcastle County jail because the state has closed Jackson County's full time jail. They are only a hold-over facility. Before being returned to Kentucky for the trial on marijuana charges McDaniel was serving a 30 year term in a Milan Michigan federal prison. The New Combustioneer Oil Fired Space Heater Reliable, efficient, convenient heating in a compact package.

The PH250 Combustioneer Power Oil Heater provides effective heating for your home, room addition, recreation room, cabin—just about everywhere. And there's no duct work required, so the PH250 is easy to install. Rugged, heavy-duty primary and secondary heat exchangers squeeze more useable heat from less fuel. The Beckett flame retention oil burner gives you added heating efficiency while burning less fuel. A quiet, two-speed circulating air fan gently delivers approximately 56,000 BTUs of warmed air throughout the area to be heated. Minneapolis-Honeywell controls ensure reliable, worry-free heating. Versatile, the Combustioneer is capable of burning #1 or money-saving #2 fuel oil. And, there's no need to install the oil tank above the burner for gravity feeding. Plus the PH250 has an attractive, esty-care appliance-styled finish which blends with any decor.

A Tradition Of Integrity, Always.

The Background

Over the years at Southern Belle Dairy here in Somerset, we've established a number of noteworthy traditions. Among them: providing the finest dairy products at competitive prices for our customers: individuals, school systems, grocery stores, hospitals, hotels and restaurants in a four state area; providing opportunities for challenging and rewarding employment for our work force - nearly 250 strong; honoring our commitments to those who supply our operations - our dairy farmers, vendors, contract drivers and others; supporting our community, its causes, its needs, its charities, to the fullest extent we possibly can.

Underlying everything we've done in the past 40 years, and will continue to do, is Southern Belle's tradition of integrity in products, services, relationships and contractual obligations.

The Issue

Our company, along with 14 others, has been named in a civil action filed by Kentucky's Attorney General, Fred Cowan. The action alleges price-fixing, or bid rigging, on the part of our company and others in the competition for various Kentucky school district milk contracts. Recently, several media sources reported the contents of a memo, quoting an employee of one of our competitors; a gentleman who has since denied making several of those statements. Southern Belle's attorney, James H. Wallace, Jr., of Washington, D.C., has stated that this memo is "highly misleading and inaccurate."

School milk program business is important to us and the bidding process is a complicated one; not every school district in the state buys milk at exactly the same price. All of Southern Belle's school bids reflect a number of factors having been taken into consideration. Among them: the volume/quantity to be purchased; our geographical proximity to the district; how many schools are to be serviced within the district; how much storage equipment is necessary to service the business properly.

Over the years, purchasing agents have sometimes discovered that the lowest price does not always guarantee the best service, or even the best products. Our bids are prepared by factoring our wholesale costs, our labor costs, and the other variables mentioned. Our bids are not now nor have been in the past, based on fixing prices with any competitor. Sometimes we win - sometimes we don't - (we were closely "outbid" for our own local school system's business by a competitor this past year) but we're always willing to compete - fairly - to retain this important segment of our market. The American Judicial System gives us the opportunity to present the truth in open court. Our contention is basic: the truth will speak for itself, and the truth will exonerate us.

Now What?

We have exciting plans for the future of our dairy: new products, ideas, technology, opportunities, for our employees, our customers and our community. We are proceeding with our plans and dreams, relying on the confidence that has been placed in us throughout our 40-year history by thousands of people who understand and appreciate that one quality, above all others, pervades everything that we do: INTEGRITY. Thank you for taking the time to read, and understand, "the rest of the story."

School Has Started. Watch Out For Our Children.

BE ALERT TO VISUAL CUES:

Watch for school zone signs, cross walks, school crossing guards, buses, and kids walking along the roadway. Around parked cars, watch for shadows and motion-signs that a child may be present.

SLOW DOWN: At only 20 mph, a car travels 41 feet between the time you see a child and actually stop. If you're sleepy or distracted, reaction time and stopping distances increase. Worn tires and wet pavement have a similar effect.

ALLOW YOURSELF TIME TO REACT: On two-lane streets, move as close to the center line as possible, allowing room for bicyclists and pedestrians. As mornings become darker this fall, drive with your headlights on so that you can see and also be seen.

USE YOUR HORN JUDICIOUSLY: A light touch is all that's really necessary, whereas a blast might scare a child.

USE CAUTION AROUND BUSES: Motorists are required to stop for loading/unloading buses and remain stopped as long as the bus has its red lights flashing and stop sign extended. However, drivers on multi-lane highways (more than 4 lanes) need not stop for loading/unloading school buses traveling in the OPPOSITE direction. Keep in mind that buses require extra room for turning at intersections.

BE PATIENT, PARTICULARLY ON THE WAY HOME: Risk of accidents is FOUR times greater in the afternoon - due to human psychology. Drivers are less alert and are irritable after a long day at the office. Kids, however, are excited to be out of school. As frustrating as it may be, keep your temper. Being two minutes late for dinner won't kill you or anyone else. Rushing just might.

Groundbreaking for LEAP project

By: Ray McClure

About 50 persons were on hand Wednesday at the Rockcastle Industrial Park to hear speakers laud the park and show a LEAP site that has been developed for new industry by Kentucky Highlands Investment Corporation of London.

Although no industry has announced intentions of coming to Rockcastle, there will be a site ready for construction of a building that would suit the industry's needs.

Wayne Stewart, chairman of Highlands, told the group the Mt. Vernon location is ideal for industry and predicted new industry would locate in the park in the future.

Jerry Rickett, president of Highlands, explained the LEAP program initiated by Highlands.

He said L is for land which is immediately available, including all utilities; E is for excavation of the site that is completed for immediate construction; A is for the architect, who has prepared flexible plans for a new building, in this case, Randy H. Boeber, and P is for piers, a pre-engineered building that can be installed in 25-foot increments.

As described by Highlands, LEAP offers industry prospects a building with a clear span of 100 feet, constructed to the size of the LEAP industry, ranging from 10,000 to 60,000 square feet with ceiling heights from 14 to 30 feet. Pre-determined contractors are ready to start construction immediately and will complete the building within 90 days from the date of contract.

Highlands also has sites in Corbin and Monticello.

Guests at the ceremonies were welcomed by Attorney John Clontz,

Sheriff destroys 3,000 marijuana plants

Rockcastle Sheriff Shirley Smith, deputies, State Police and National Guard members made a marijuana sweep of the Chestnut Ridge area of the county three days last week.

Found and destroyed were over 3,000 plants from various locations. Thirty-eight plants were also found in the Hummel section of the county.

The number of marijuana plants found and destroyed in Rockcastle to date this year total nearly 5,000.

Although Rockcastle is turning out to be a moderate producer of marijuana, it is far from the amounts produced in other counties, according to the Governor's Marijuana Strike Force officials.

In the nine counties of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District, to date there have been 9,598 plants destroyed and nine arrests. Arrests are made if the grower or his helpers are found at the scene.

The figures do not reflect the 3,000 plants located and destroyed in Rockcastle last week and the 1,400 the previous week.

The amount in the CAVDD district is also far from the 118,544 found to date in Leslie County, the 24,926 found in Owsley County and the 13,183 destroyed in Clinton County.

"We're extremely pleased with the initial results," said Strike Force Chairman Gary Faulkner. "It proves that a centralized approach, coupled

$58,000 grant

Grant money totaling $58,000 was allocated to county agencies at a meeting of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District (CAVDD) meeting Monday.

Rockcastle County will receive $18,000 to go toward purchase of new voting machines for each precinct; $11,000 to Rtec, rural transit; $9,000 to the City of Mt. Vernon; $8,000 to Broadhead Volunteer Fire Department for equipment; $6,500 to the Livingston Volunteer Fire Department for equipment and $6,500 to the City of Livingston.

The money is awarded by CAVDD annually for capital projects, according to County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins.

The county plans to use the money to purchase new voting machines that are adaptable for the handicapped as prescribed by law. The county hopes to have the new machines in time for the 1991 elections.

One type of machine was demonstrated recently to the Rockcastle Fiscal Court by a representative of Kentuckiana Election Services Co., of Eastern Kentucky, but no final decision was made pending clarification of purchasing regulations.

large number of arrests," Faulkner said. "We are not only concentrating on plant eradication, but on prosecuting growers, seizing their assets, and putting them out of business once and for all."

The 206,696 plants destroyed and 94 arrests made in two weeks compares with a total of 439,113 plants destroyed and 244 arrests made throughout all of 1989.

Governor Wallace Wilkinson has made the assault on marijuana a top priority of his administration.

Eradication efforts will continue

Thanks . . . .

To those who have donated to REAP, we certainly appreciate it and the people and especially children served by REAP, are grateful as well. A special thanks to Lewis Denver Nicely.

Several things have been donated and other food drives are in the works, so things are looking up for the beleaguered emergency food bank.

To persons needing REAP, the office is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 2 to 3 p.m. You must have a referral card from: Community Action Program, Christian Appalachian Project, American Red Cross, Food Stamp Office, Co. Extension Office or the Senior Citizens Program.

Donations can be sent to REAP, Inc., P.O. Box 60, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456.

Garbage rates up in county

Some garbage collection rates in Rockcastle are up, the result of higher costs for garbage disposal at Lily landfill.

The landfill at Lily in Laurel County also serves part of Whitley, Knox and Clay counties. The increase in landfill fees came about because of new state regulation for landfills and an increase in gasoline prices.

The price increase is up 25 cents a bag for at least one collector. County collectors negotiate their own price.

David Ballinger, manager of Bee Garbage at Burr, said the increase in landfill costs plus the increase in gas and diesel fuel made or will make an increase necessary.

"I don't know how much other collectors in the county have increased their price, if they have, but I'd say they eventually will," Ballinger related. "And predictions are that there will be more increases in the cost of gas."

E.R. Hopper Jr., owner of the Lily landfill, said the rates at the landfill are the result of stringent regulations put into effect by the state in January. He reported that new regulations require the landfill area to be lined with clay or synthetic liners, both below and above the garbage to prevent leakage.

Hopper estimated the cost of the new regulations and plans for further development of the landfill at between $250,000 and $300,000 plus a $25,000 per acre bond. He said he has plans to develop another 10 acres.

Hopper also noted the landfill will soon have a recycling operation to separate the different kinds of garbage.

The present rate for garbage disposal at the Lily landfill is $3 per cubic yard. It will be $4 on Sept. 1.

The rate may go to $6 to $7 by January. He said the rate will probably level off at $10 to $12 per cubic yard after completion of his project to upgrade and expand the landfill.

In Rockcastle, County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins has been working up a practical program for the county, based on the county's garbage plan approved by the state.

The county plans a recycling program and has a county-wide committee working on garbage plans and problems.

Presently, Rockcastle has six garbage collectors. In addition to Bee, there are Freddie Kidwell, Dana Perkins, Linda McWhorter, Charles Ingalls and HSI, a firm from Gray in Knox County.

The county collectors have at least five landfills to take garbage. In addition to Lily, there are landfills in Whitley, Knox, Pulaski and Jackson. There have been no reports of increases at those landfills.

Reunion and Homecoming Day set for September 1-2

Former entertainers and others have been invited to return to Renfro Valley Sept. 1 and 2 for the annual Renfro Valley Reunion and Homecoming.

The world-famous Chuck Wagon Gang will be featured Sunday with a 3 p.m. performance in the New Barn. Saturday will be a day to renew old acquaintances as former entertainers gather at Renfro Valley's Lodge Restaurant at 10 a.m. for the "All-Star Boarding House Brunch."

After brunch, the public can join in the fun as the entertainers from "days gone by" present an open stage "jam" session in the Old Barn from noon to 2 p.m. Tickets are $3 each. This is an event every Renfro Valley fan will want to attend.

After the "jam" session, there will be time for chatting and picture-taking as everyone gathers at the picnic pavilion beside Renfro Valley's Lodge Restaurant.

Several of the former entertainers will perform on Renfro Valley's Saturday Night Country Music shows.

Sunday, Sept. 2 at 3 p.m. the sounds of the Chuck Wagon Gang will fill Renfro Valley's new 1500 seat auditorium. The Chuck Wagon Gang has been one of America's most popular gospel groups for more than 53 years. During that time they have sold over 30 million records and appeared in such places as Carnegie Hall, the Hollywood Bowl, The Grand Ole Opry, and other prestigious concert spots.

The Chuck Wagon Gang's latest single, "Hard Trials Will Soon Be Over," is steadily climbing the gospel music charts.

Renfro Valley's regular performers, Dale Ann Bradley and Steve Guiley, will join with Teresa Renner and Michael Bryant of The Renners, a prominent Southern gospel group, for a special opening performance for the Chuck Wagon Gang.

Tickets for the show are $10 for adults and $5 for children 12 and under.

Reservations may be had by calling 1-800-765-SING.

Economic development conference scheduled

A tentative agenda has been set for a Rockcastle County economic development conference scheduled for Sept. 13 at the circuit courtroom.

County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins will welcome the conferees with introductions and orientation by Linda Jones.

From 8:45 until the conference ends at noon speakers include:

Norris Christian of the Kentucky Economic Development Small Business director; Don Snyder, director of the Small Business Development Center; Tim Schwendeman of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District; Betty Calhoun, Cumberland Valley Area Small Business Development; Ken Atkins of Christian Appalachian Project; Rick Bates of the Southern Kentucky Tourism Development Association; and Forrest Wright of the Southwest Kentucky Economic Development Corporation.

Persons interested are invited.

County Clerk Houk injured

County Clerk Norma Houk is recuperating at home from a broken leg that occurred at her home Monday.

Reportedly, she stepped out of the family's recently purchased motor home and missed the step. She broke her right leg in two places.

Annual Cystic Fibrosis Bike-a-thon set for Sept. 8th at Brodhead

A Bike-A-Thon for Cystic Fibrosis will be held Saturday, Sept. 8 at Brodhead School from 1 to 4 p.m. In case of rain the event will be Sept. 15th.

Cystic Fibrosis (CF) a chronic, degenerative disease that primarily attacks the lungs and digestive system.

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (CFF) established in 1955, is a non-profit voluntary health organization, dedicated to improving the outlook for the CF patient and ultimately finding an answer to the cause of and cure for CF.

The foundation supports 127 patient care centers nationwide which provides the best available equipment and staff to treat the disease and which work in research seeking a cure or control for cystic fibrosis.

Nothing is more valuable than being able to save thousands of lives. Cystic Fibrosis research has progressed at such remarkable rate that we are on the threshold of opening up the future for those who have this disease now. Children and young adults with this disease require very special care, which is available at more than 120 Cystic Fibrosis Foundation Care Centers across the nation.

Tremendous advances in diagnosis and treatment have significantly improved the outlook for people with CF. In 1955, when the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation was established, few children with CF lived to attend elementary school. Today, more than half are living into their early twenties - still an unacceptable fact.

There is no cure, so far, but today, through the foundation's efforts, after decades of research, scientists are making dramatic strides in their understanding of CF and that puts the CFF in the home stretch of this race to conquer the disease.

Still, we need to quicken the pace if we are to save the thousands of children and young adults who have CF

WLEX show will feature Rockcastle

WLEX-TV 18 is focusing its Special Projects camera on Rockcastle County in August, a one-hour television special, "Kentucky Life in Rockcastle County: The Community in Profile," will be presented Saturday, Aug. 25, at 7 p.m.

The program will take a new look at education, business and industry, recreational life, community services, and other things that make Rock-castle County a unique and special place to live as the community moves into the '90s. The county was first profiled on "Kentucky Life" in March 1986.

"Kentucky Life" producer Jeff Jacobs and videographer George Murphy are now visiting with people in and around Mt. Vernon to gather information on life in Rockcastle County, as seen through the eyes of the people who live here.

WLEX-TV Promotion and Community Special Projects Manager Bill Crawford, who is Executive Producer of the series, says the goal of "Kentucky Life" has remained unchanged since it began in 1985.

Crawford says, "We are simplifying trying to paint a honest, and positive, television portrait that will make Rockcastle Counties continue to feel a very special pride in this place they call home."

WLEX-TV will donate videotape copies of the television program to the Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial Development Authority for use as a development tool in pursuing additional business and industrial growth in Rockcastle County.

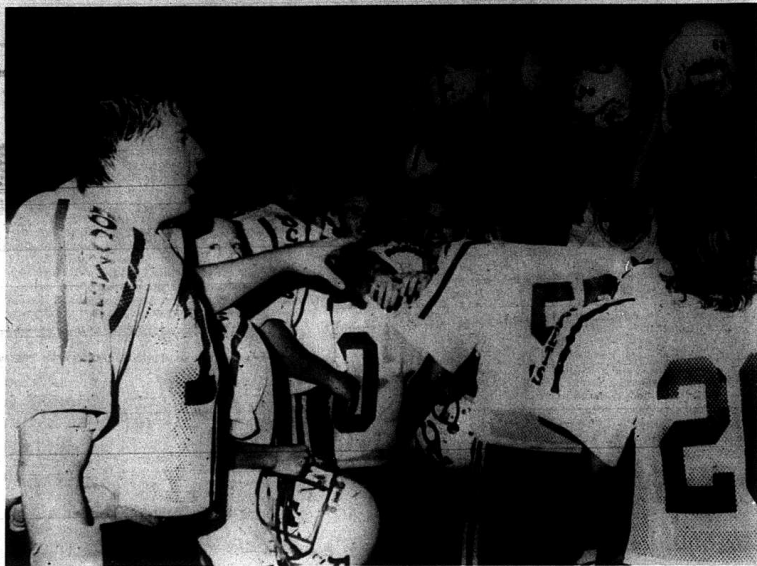

A videotape will also be given to the Rockcastle County Public Library, so that all Rockcastle Counties may have access to it.

Account Executive Terri Richardson is calling on local businesses, offering an opportunity for them to showcase their goods and services as part of the "Kentucky Life in Rockcastle County" profile. "Kentucky Life in Rockcastle County: The Community in Profile" will be telecast Saturday, Aug. 25th, at 7 p.m. on WLEX-TV 18.

With helmets held high and expressions displaying a hard fought battle, the Rockcastle County Rockets celebrate their opening day 22 to 16 win, against the host Lynn Camp Wildcats Friday night. The Rockets will now host Russell County this Friday, at 8:00p.m. at the high school.

Rockets goal-line stand in fourth, clinches first win

By: Spencer Bengel

The face mask penalty charged against Rockcastle spurred a series of controversial calls that were felt unfair by the Rockets' coaching staff.

Larkey said earlier this week that after reviewing the tape of the game, he saw several discrepancies and felt the officiating during the game was poor.

However, Larkey said to see his team keep their heads as well as they did pleased him. "We showed our character," he stated.

The Rockets' next drive began on their own twelve yard line and ended with the end of the first quarter. But during that time, the Rockets managed to score their second touchdown of the game.

With a third and six situation, Spires carried the ball to the Rockets' 25 yard line picking up the first down. On the next play, Parkey put the ball in the air and found senior receiver Billy Todd for a 47 yard gain to put the ball on Lynn Camp's 30 yard line.

Junior tailback Jonathon Saylor finished the drive up by carrying the ball in from the 25 yard line for the touchdown. Junior Curtis Cotten's extra point kick was good, but was called back due to illegal motion against Rockcastle. The Rockets were penalized five yards and Cotten's second kick was no good. The Rockets led 14-6.

On the Rocket's kick-off, Lynn Camp's receiver fumbled the ball and sophomore Bobby Coffey recovered the ball for the Rockets on the 38 yard line.

After five plays, the Rockets could only find themselves five yards closer and was forced to give the ball up to Lynn Camp on their own 33 yard line.

After a penalty and timeout by Lynn Camp, senior Rocket Kevin Goff sacked the quarterback causing a third and 22 situation for the Wildcats. Lynn Camp's quarterback then threw an incomplete pass and the Wildcats were forced to punt once again.

The Rockets failed to advance the ball on their possession and were forced to punt. Lynn Camp then threatened to score from the Rocket's 24 yard line. Faced with a fourth down and eight yards to go, Lynn Camp put the ball in the air in hopes for a touchdown, but Parkey was there to pick the pass off with only 17 seconds left thus eliminating Lynn Camp's hope of scoring another touchdown before the end of the first half.

Lynn Camp put together another scoring run with their second possession in the second half.

After a quick-kick from the Rockets on third down, Lynn Camp capitalized by returning the kick 45 yards for the touchdown to bring the score to 14 all with 7:02 left in the third quarter.

The Rockets then came back on their very next possession to score

Kentucky Dove Hunting Begins September 1

Kentucky's 1990 dove hunting season opens Saturday, September 1, and runs through September 30 for the first phase of the three-part season.

Dove populations are expected to be similar to last year, according to Ron Pritchett, migratory bird program coordinator for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Severe weather during the spring nesting season may lower dove numbers a little, but the biologist expects good hunting this fall barring any premature cold snaps. Since doves prefer hot, humid weather, early cold fronts will push the birds further south in search of warmer climates.

Dove hunting resumes October 6 and runs through October 29, while the final segment is December 1-6.

Shooting hours during the September and October seasons are 11:00 a.m. to sunset. December dove hunting is from sunrise to sunset. Hunters may take 15 birds per day; the possession limit is 30.

Remember, steel shot is the only shot that may be used for hunting doves on Ballard, Swan Lake, Peal, Sloughs, Kaler Bottoms, Duck Island and Ohio River Islands Wildlife Management Areas (WMAs). Shooters may not have lead shot in their possession while dove hunting on these areas.

Dove hunting dates are different for many WMAs and other public lands.

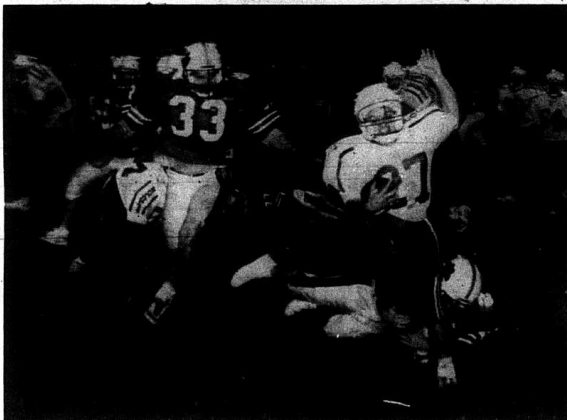

Hunters should check Kentucky's dove digest which includes information on WMA dove hunting seasons. The printed brochure also contains season dates and limits for woodcock, snipe and wood duck hunting. For a free copy, contact the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Division of Public Relations, #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, KY 40601; phone: (502) 564-4336.

Young Bald Eagles are doing fine

Six bald eagles successfully fledged from Kentucky nests this year.

Two of the immature birds are on Ballard Wildlife Management Area (WMA), Ballard County, while the other four are on the Kentucky portion of Land Between the Lakes (LBL).

Silently perched near their nest one on a hot, humid July afternoon, the Ballard pair appeared unaffected by curious visitors from the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. Nearly as large as their parents, the young raptors seemed quite content Rockets' sophomore J.D. Harris escapes a Lynn Camp tackle in the opening game of the 1990 football season Friday night. Harris was the focal point of the Rockets' running game and led the team in rushing with 21 carries for 91 yards.

Rockets' defensive coordinator Tony Saylor gives his defensive team last minute instructions during their goal stand with the Lynn Camp Wildcats Friday night. The Rockets' defense held the Wildcats six times in a first and goal situation in the final minutes of the game to give the Rockets the win, 22-16.

in their beautiful home surrounded by sloughs and hardwood forests. Their endangered bald eagles are showing signs of recovery in all sections of the United States except the southern states. Kentucky falls within this portion of the country where our national emblem is struggling to make a comeback.

LBL experienced a first this year: One bald eagle nest contained triplets. The three took to the air in mid-June. Another young bird with leg band in place departed July 5.

Until this year, only one successful eagle nest had occurred in Kentucky since the 1940s. Hopefully, 1990's six immature birds will stay in the state, or return to raise young of their own day.

Endangered bald eagles are showing signs of recovery in all sections of the United States except the southern states. Kentucky falls within this portion of the country where our national emblem is struggling to make a comeback.

The junior varsity Rockets will face off with the Berea Pirates at Berea Thursday (tonight) at 6:00p.m.

The Rockets will take on Russell County this Friday at 8:00 p.m.

Blue mold intensifying in state

Blue mold is intensifying in Kentucky tobacco as nearly ideal weather favorable to the disease continues. Sixty Kentucky counties have reported cases of the fungal disease, including Rockcastle.

"Moderate to heavy rains accompanied by cool nights and fog continue to support rapid growth of existing lesions and increased spore production," said Bill Nesmith, an Extension plant pathologist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The fungal disease has caused significant loss in some fields. Reports earlier indicated damage mostly in low or shady regions of planting sites. However, reports of heavy losses are becoming more common.

Several Extension agents in Eastern and Central Kentucky have reported that nearly all untreated fields have some activity. Losses vary greatly from field to field and within fields, Nesmith said. Some farmers are harvesting and leaving their crops earlier to avoid further damage.

Mike Carter, Garrard County Extension agricultural agent, reported that damage in untreated fields exceeds that which occurred in 1979, when the disease caused widespread destruction of the state's burley crop.

Most of the blue mold activity has been east of U.S. Highway 127. That situation, however, is likely to change as weather patterns conducive to its spread continue, he said.

Until recently, hot, drier weather has prevailed west and south of current activity, reducing the probability of damaging outbreaks in Western Kentucky. Scattered lesions, less than 10 per acre, have been found as far west as Owensboro, but sporula-tion is very limited and lesion size is unusually small, Nesmith said.

Nesmith said, however, that continued cool, rainy weather could increase the chances of blue mold development in the southern and western regions.

Farmers should refrain from early harvesting of their crop unless it is absolutely necessary. Maturing tobacco should have enough resistance to avoid significant damage although late set and irrigated tobacco may be vulnerable.

Nesmith also noted that the disease is slowing in fields where the crop has been topped and sprayed with maleic hydrazide-containing materials, which tends to accelerate maturation.

Currently, there are no materials labeled for a rescue approach. All blue mold control programs are preventive, he said.

Some farmers are using either chlorinated bleach or streptomycin sprays in their efforts to rescue fields with the disease, but Nesmith said the materials have not been shown to control the disease in fields so treated.

In fields where control seems evident, the disease is stopping as an outcome of natural forces within the field. Research over several years has shown no effect from using either of the materials, he said.

Although streptomycin is labeled for use, data of several years of study indicate that it is ineffective. Therefore, farmers using streptomycin are simply wasting their money," he said.

Nesmith reminded farmers that Ridomil is not labeled for foliar spraying.

Top management practices could mean top dollar for Burley

Top management practices at harvest will mean top dollar for burley tobacco at market, according to an agricultural engineer at the University of Kentucky.

"Growers who have toiled all season to produce a quality burley crop can lose that quality by carelessness in the field or barn at harvest time," said George Duncan, an Extension specialist with the UK College of Agriculture. "Improper field handling and curing will ruin quality and reduce weight, resulting in lower prices on the warehouse floor."

Duncan discussed some field and barn management practices to help growers get top dollar for their crop.

"Allow tobacco to mature in the field," he said. "After topping, the crop needs about three more weeks of growth to develop weight and further mature."

"At harvest time, allow as much field wilt as possible, weather permitting, to reduce leaf moisture. Wait to put tobacco into the barn until dew, rain and other moisture have dried from the plant surface."

Having sufficient air circulation to remove moisture is the key to proper curing in the barn, according to Duncan.

"Stress to workers the importance of shaking plants to untangle leaves and allow ample room for air movement," he explained. "Also, space sticks and plants on tiers far enough apart to allow air to circulate around them."

"During the first two weeks of curing, open ventilator doors to provide air movement through the tobacco to remove moisture."

An average daily humidity of 60 to 70 percent provides good curing conditions, Duncan added.

Weather is a big factor in the curing process, but growers can overcome weather-related problems by management, according to Duncan.

"During excessively dry weather, tobacco may dry too fast," he said. "To overcome dryness, close ventilator doors during the day to reduce moisture loss."

"Conversely, two to three days of rainy weather can cause 'house burn,' a bacterial rot. Growers can reduce excessive moisture in the barn by using high-volume fans to move air through tobacco to improve circulation and curing."

Although supplemental heat has been used in the past to reduce moisture, high energy costs and lack of equipment make this method a marginal choice, Duncan said.

"Rockets beat Lynn Camp"

The Rockets began the drive on their own 20 yard line. After good runs by J.D. Harris, Jonathon Saylor and William Bullens, the Rockets found themselves on Lynn Camp's 25 yard line.

Harris ran the ball in for the touchdown but was called back due to a clipping penalty against Rockcastle. After three more plays, the Rockets were successful in scoring another touchdown as Spires ran the ball in from the 15 yard line. Then, what looked like an extra point kick for the Rockets, turned into a two point conversion when Scott Parkey found William Hellard in the end zone with only 1:35 left in the third quarter.

The only other score of the game was a Lynn Camp safety. It resulted from an attempted punt from Rockcastle's Curtis Cotten in his own end zone. Cotten attempted but failed in handling a poor snap thus allowing Lynn Camp to score a safety and cut the Rocket's lead to only a touchdown.

Although the score would never change, Lynn Camp's next drive would prove to be the most crucial of the game.

The Lynn Camp drive began on the Rocket's 43 yard line and after picking up three first downs, the Wildcats were first and goal. If any time during the game the Rocket's defense would have to shine, it was now.

They did. The Rocket's offense held the Lynn Camp defense six times and with only :19 seconds left, the Rockets took over possession of the ball to clinch the victory.

Although the Rocket's gained a big victory, they suffered a couple of losses as well. Senior Billy Todd suffered a stress fracture in his toe and will be out at least four weeks. Senior Chuck Davis will take the offensive role for Todd while sophomore Jason Kirby fills his defensive position.

Another injury was to junior Jonathon Saylor who suffered ligament damage in his knee, this injury will force him to sit out two to three weeks.

And rounding out the injuries was senior Mitchell Durham who suffered a busted knee in a freak accident. Durham did not receive the injury during a play. He will be out the rest of the year.

The injuries are considered losses but losses that will affect the team from an emotional standpoint. Larkey said that the team is mentally, physically and emotionally prepared to take on the assignments of the players out.

The Rockets will now host Russell County this Friday night at 8 p.m. at the high school. The scouting report for Russell County is a much improved team from last year with several key personnel returning.

Word Usage

Don't ever believe everything you read to be gospel truth.

Writers, journalists, typists, typsetters or anyone connected with publishing can, by intention or mistake, change one word that may change the meaning of a sentence, paragraph on the subject being written about therefore bringing a different message than was intended.

Words have a lot of power. The way they are used can make all the difference in the facts being presented or a scene being described. Just the way a word is written and punctuated can change the structure of a sentence or the meaning of a command. I try to choose my words carefully to present the picture I want others to see or to describe emotions I want others to feel.

Following are a few of the boo boos that have fouled up some of my best descriptions or punch lines.

Last fall when I was writing about "chasing colors," my entry into Cincinnati was described as, "the wide white highways leading out of town were like streamers on a big bouquet." The newspaper account was, "wide, wild highways."

There is a difference in the minds eye of a variety of white roads looking like streamers on a bouquet and wide wild roads looking like streamers.

I'll admit these roads look pretty wild at times but I was describing the beauty I saw in them not the wild recklessness others may see.

In the following article on, "Still Chasing Colors" the misspelling or misprint of a word really changed things a bit. I was quoting a bit of conversation I was having with a lady from Nova Scotia while I was traveling across Canada. My quote was, "An elderly lady from Nova Scotia mentioned President Bush's meeting with their prime minister concerning pollution problems. She felt this was a step forward from the last administration." The papers printing of it was: The lady mentioned President Bush's meeting with their Prime Minister concerning politician problems.

I really liked Rick's response when I pointed this error out to him. He said, "So what, both words are about the same things. Even so, had I been speaking of political problems I would have used the word political, not politician problems. To me that combination of words would mean squabbling between two or more people about trivial things."

Quite often I find a change in the spelling of a word or the placement of it in a sentence is a fault of my sloppy writing. I'm sure I don't do all my I's not close all my o's and g's. I get in a hurry sometimes and make my letters run together but when I likened Polly to a spritzer in that week article I meant SPRITE not spirit.

A sprite is an elf or fairy or pixie. A very active and captivating being. Usually thought of as being a part of the imaginary world.

Spirit means: the soul or breath of life; ghostlike. Also thought of as being the will to do. I wrote: She was like a sprite captivall all who came under her spell. She certainly had more life than a ghost and was much more than a breath of life.

I was sad at the beginning, words have power and I love the power of words.

I may not use the best grammar nor do the most with my punctuation. I may not write legibly all the time and just maybe misspell a word occasionally but my love for words is a gift and they just pop into my mind and writing at exactly the right place. Often I have to check with the dictionary to make sure the word that has just popped out is being used correctly. So far it always has been.

If no one takes note of these corrections for none has been intended.

Dr. Jean Mayer does spell this name Jean.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Cornelius

Cox - Cornelius

Miss Jamie Leigh Cox and Christopher Cornelius were united in marriage June 9, 1990 at the First Christian Church in Mt. Vernon with Bro. Eddie Hammond performing the candle-light double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Cox and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.K. Cornelius, all of Mt. Vernon.

A selection of pre-nuptial music was performed on the harp by Arlene Rector of Lexington. Chip Dorton of Richmond, soloist, sang "Somewhere Out There," after the mothers were seated, and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony. Mrs. Jennifer Lynn Mattingly sang "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

Serving her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Jennie Lynn Mattingly of Lexington. Bridesmaids were Miss Natalie Pybas, Miss Paula Blevins and Miss Becky Burdette.

Kenny Cornelius served his brother as best man. Benny Blanton, Spencer Bengé, James Earl Miracle and William Lewis Cox served as ushers.

The flower girl was Nichole Leigh Niceley and Layne Ross Niceley served as ring bearer.

Mrs. Paige Bengé and Miss Caroline Machal kept the bride's book. Jonathan Cox was in charge of programs. Mrs. Kimberly Cornelius served as coordinator of the wedding with Mrs. Shirley Cox and Mrs. Irene Thomason assisting.

After the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with a reception at their home. Music was provided by a woodwind quintet from EKV. Serving the bride's table were Mrs. Sherri Gilbert, Miss Carrie Mullins and Miss Callie Mullins.

After a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, S.C., the couple is residing in Mt. Vernon where both are employed by the Rockcastle Co. Board of Education.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents on the eve of the wedding at Cedar Rapids Country Club.

A household shower was hosted by Mrs. Nancy Mullins, Mrs. Doris

Barron - Bray

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Barró of Brodhead announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Stacey Michelle, to Michael Roy Bray, son of Don and Loretta Bray, also of Brodhead. The wedding will be an event of September 1, 1990 at 6:30 p.m. at the Ottawa Baptist Church. All friends and relatives are invited to attend. A reception will follow in the ladies hall.

Ladies Aid Missionary Society meets

By: Elizabeth F. Mullins

The missionary groups really looked forward to this month of August. Our minister's wife, Nita, invited us to the new parsonage, Aug. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

The group's president, Ella Mae

Marin, asked Elizabeth Mullins to present the lesson first.

The lesson's subject was "Acts of God". After she read Psalms 107:22-32, she told about the providential hand of God to establish the pilgrims in America.

After the French General fought and killed some Croquet Indians, they became the pilgrims allies.

So many times George Washington was shot at but never killed.

The famous incident when fog came up and hid the American boats; when Washington's artillery was stuck in the mud and cold north winds froze the wet ground, so again they escaped the British that night, as they left by a side road.

At Yorktown, a storm came up and left the English's small boats in despair. So the British troops waved white flags of surrender, the following morning.

"No people" said George Washington, "have more reason to acknowledge and adore the invisible hand of Him who conducts the affairs of men, than do the people of the United States."

Has our country forgotten God? Will He derail His help at the Persian Gulf now?

To close this lesson, the group sang "Our Country 'Tis of Thee" and had silent prayers for God's support in our country's present "Call to Arms" in the Persian Gulf.

Barbara Watson read the Grapevine News, paper about Sowder Nursing Home patients.

Announcements were made: Revival at Brodhead Christian Church, Oct. 15 to Oct. 19; Doug Brock will have the 100th Birthday pictures of our church ready soon; and Jenny Gilpin will be hostess with Loraine Newland having the lesson, the second Tuesday in Sept.

The hostess, Nita Ritter, served her special bakery sweets as well as cheese, before we adjourned.

It was served on a grandmother's crocheted tablecloth under the chandelier that the missionary group pre-
