

Pictured are the members of the Cedar Rapids swimteam who attended their annual awards banquet at the Cedar Rapids Recreation Club this past Sunday. The banquet recognized various swimmers, within different age groups, with awards for their accumulated points during the year. They are, front row from left, Suzanne Brown, best eight and under girls swimmer; Kristy Lovell; Angela Owens; Carrie Craig, best six and under girls swimmer; Colby Brown, best six and under boys swimmer; Christopher Parsons, best eight and under boys swimmer; Tara Burton and Heather Burton, best 9-10 girls swimmer. Second row from left, Jessica Albright; Cassie Mullins, best 11-12 girls swimmer; Dana Reynolds; Jeffrey Owens, best 9-10 boys swimmer; Andrew Giesler, best 11-12 boys swimmer and most improved swimmer; Angie Bussell and Michael Parsons. Back row from left, coach David Craig; Lindsey Dowell, best 13-14 girls swimmer; Carrie Mullins, best 15-18 girls swimmer and received the Carrie C. Mullins 110% award; Dane Cox, best 15-18 boys swimmer; Clark Mullins; Cliff Mullins, best 13-14 boys swimmer and most valuable swimmer and Aaron Cox.

Carrie Mullins received the Carrie C. Mullins 110% Award during the annual Cedar Rapids swimteam awards banquet at Cedar Rapids Recreation Club this past Sunday. Carrie, who has received the award consecutively during the past few years, has had the award named in her honor in her last year with the Dolphins. The award will now be presented accordingly in her name to recipients to come. Carrie will be the only freshman from Kentucky to swim for the University of Kentucky swimteam in the upcoming year.

The varsity Rockets will travel to Pulaski County this Friday to take on the Maroons at 8:00.

Rockets beat McCreary

his second extra point of the game to give the Rockets a big, 39-8, lead.

The Rockets followed with yet another defensive stand and offensive series to send sophomore tailback Jeff Navarre into the end zone on a eight yard carry for the touchdown. The Raiders' defense was successful in rushing the line and denying the Rockets the extra point to keep the score at 45-8 to end the third quarter.

Freshman tailback Mikhael Shaffer ran in the final touchdown for the Rockets in the final quarter on a 17 yard run and, combined with Bowman's third extra point of the game, ran the score to 52-8.

The Raiders received their final touchdown of the game on an 80 yard return following the final kick-off by the Rockets. And, after a two-point conversion by the Lakers, the final score read, Rockets 52, Raiders 16. The Rockets will stay on the road this week and face off with Pulaski County Friday night, at 8:00.

Coach Larkey and defensive coordinator Tony Saylor both agreed that Pulaski may be "the second toughest team on the Rockets' schedule this year.

Pulaski is 0-3 this year with all three losses coming in close ball games to strong opponents such as Somerset, Henry Clay and Montgomery County.

Both Larkey and Saylor feel the Rockets have to play a sound football game to get by Pulaski, who defeated Rockcastle, 28-14, last year.

Mikhael Shaffer finds some running room for the Rockets behind leaf blocker Aaron Cox in Thursday's 1990 opening freshmen game against Laurel County. Shaffer had two touchdowns in the Rockets', 36-6, win over Laurel. Others scoring touchdowns were Shaun Thacker, Brian Carter and Jason Fletcher on a 18 yard reception from quarterback J.D. Bussell. Greg Bowman had two successful extra point attempts.

Grandparents stay young longer than ever before

Thanks to better living habits, advances in medicine, and a wider variety of appropriate activities, people are not only living longer but staying active longer. The so-called "generation gap" is a lot narrower than it used to be, because Grandma and Grandpa no longer sit at home in their rocking chairs. They go to senior citizen lunches, play bingo, and organize political action groups to secure better health care, insurance, etc. Some continue working, or even find new careers for themselves. In any case, we can learn much from their ability to enjoy and make the most of every day that remains of their lives. At our House of Worship, our children will learn to love, respect and communicate with their elders; a rewarding experience for all.

The older you get, the more important it is not to act your age.
--Asbleigh Brilliant

Civil Action File No. 89-CI-177

The Bank of Mt. Vernon Plaintiff
VS: Notice of Sale
Laura Ann Pigg and Paula Mobley and Paula Ann Pigg Defendants

Pursuant to judgment and order of sale entered in this action on April 18, 1990, and for the purpose of enforcement of a mortgage lien to recover the sum of $14,154.82, plus interest and costs, I will offer at public auction the hereinafter described real property in Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle County, Kentucky

AT THE COURTHOUSE DOOR

On Friday, the 7th day of September, 1990 beginning at the hour of 11:00 A.M. EDT said property being more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Lots No. 7, 8, 9 and 10 in Block A of the Dixie Heights Addition to the town of Livingston.

And being the same property which Paula Ann Pigg obtained by deed dated March 3, 1988, from Willis R. Durham, recorded in the office of the clerk of the Rockcastle County Court in Deed Book 133, page 422.

The Property will be Sold Upon the Following Terms and Conditions:

1. The property shall be sold to the highest bidder(s) for cash or for a deposit of TWENTY-FIVE (25%) PER CENT of the purchase price in cash at the time of sale and balance payable in SIXTY (60) DAYS. The purchaser shall be required to execute bond with surety thereon, to be approved by the Master Commissioner, for the balance of the purchase price. The bond shall bear interest at the rate of twelve (12%) per cent per annum from date until paid, and to remain and be a lien on said property until fully paid.
2. The purchaser(s) shall have the privilege of paying all of the purchase price in cash or paying the bond before maturity by paying the principal amount thereof, together with all interest accrued thereon to the date of said payment.
3. Purchaser(s) shall be responsible for the 1990 property taxes.
4. Purchaser(s) shall have possession of the premises upon complying with the terms of sale and risk of loss of improvements shall thereafter be on the purchaser(s).
5. The risk of the loss on improvements on the real property passes to the purchaser at the time of delivery of the Master Commissioner's deed to the purchaser(s).
6. This sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise.

Robert E. Robinson, Master Commissioner
Rockcastle Circuit Court

School Has Started. Watch Out For Our Children.

BE ALERT TO VISUAL CUES: Watch for school zone signs, cross walks, school crossing guards, buses, and kids walking along the roadway. Around parked cars, watch for shadows and motion-signs that a child may be present.

SLOW DOWN: At only 20 mph, a car travels 41 feet between the time you see a child and actually stop. If you're sleepy or distracted, reaction time and stopping distances increase. Worn tires and wet pavement have a similar effect.

ALLOW YOURSELF TIME TO REACT: On two-lane streets, move as close to the center line as possible, allowing room for bicyclists and pedestrians. As mornings become darker this fall, drive with your headlights on so that you can see and also be seen.

USE YOUR HORN JUDICIOUSLY: A light touch is all that's really necessary, whereas a blast might scare a child.

USE CAUTION AROUND BUSES: Motorists are required to stop for loading/unloading buses and remain stopped as long as the bus has its red lights flashing and stop sign extended. However, drivers on multi-lane highways (more than 4 lanes) need not stop for loading/unloading school buses traveling in the OPPOSITE direction. Keep in mind that buses require extra room for turning at intersections.

BE PATIENT, PARTICULARLY ON THE WAY HOME: Risk of accidents is FOUR times greater in the afternoon - due to human psychology. Drivers are less alert and are irritable after a long day at the office. Kids, however, are excited to be out of school. As frustrating as it may be, keep your temper. Being two minutes late for dinner won't kill you or anyone else. Rushing just might.

Livingston Homecoming is a success

By: Ray McClure

"Rockcastle is experiencing a lot of growth and renewed interest and that interest is evident here today," Kentucky Supreme Court Justice Joseph Lambert told a Livingston Homecoming crowd Saturday.

"There is a lot happening in the county," Justice Lambert continued, "We have fine leadership and I see nothing but progress in the future." He complimented Livingston residents who helped to make the seventh homecoming a success.

Mayor Billy Medley echoed Justice Lambert's remarks just before the beginning of the annual parade that the homecoming gets bigger and the parade longer each year.

"But we are always glad to welcome everyone to the homecoming," he stated. "So many have given much time and money to make the homecoming a success another year. We hope everyone enjoys the activities." Although there was a burning sun overhead, several hundred persons turned out for the events.

Among activities was the Citizen of the Year Award, this year won by Maude Mullins, a retired store clerk. Diana Sparks, daughter of Louise Faulkner and Jerry Sparks, was chosen Homecoming Queen. Runner up was Tina McClure, daughter of Bobby and Christine McClure. Both girls are sophomores at Rockcastle County High School.

The pretty baby award was won by Orville James Shepherd, 16-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Shepherd.

Dowell and Martin Funeral Home won the Business Award of Excellence.

Jason Cogger, son of Larry and Ruth Cogger of Mt. Vernon, was the recipient of the Volunteer Award for

Fairview man killed in tractor accident Monday

A Rockcastle County man was killed Monday when the tractor he was riding overturned on him. Kenneth W. Alexander, 28, of Fairview died instantly from a massive blow to the head, according to Rockcastle County Coroner Bill Dowell.

Dowell said that Alexander was driving a tobacco field when he drove his tractor too close to a creek bank, and the tractor overturned pinning Alexander under it.

Members of the Rockcastle County Rescue Squad went to the accident scene to help get the tractor off Alexander, but Dowell said that the victim died instantly.

A life long resident of Rockcastle County, Alexander apparently had very poor peripheral vision, according to Dowell, who said that probably attributed to the accident.

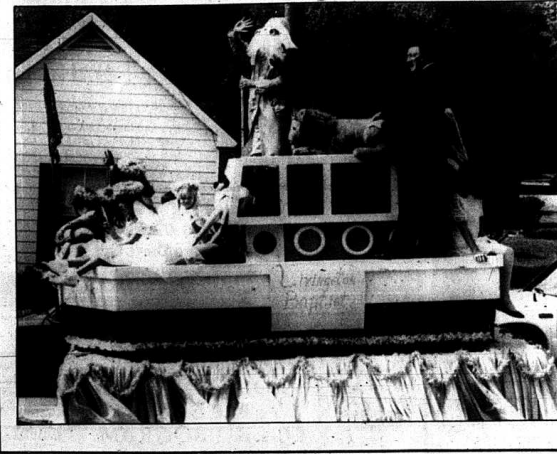

Supt. Towery to appear on national T.V.

Rockcastle County School Superintendent Bige Towery Jr., will appear on national television Thursday night when CBS will air America's Toughest Assignment: Solving the Education Crisis.

The two hour program will begin at 9 p.m. and will be hosted by Charles Kurall, the popular host of CBS Sunday Morning.

Topics on the program will include setting national goals, building the national will to improve education and involving teachers and parents in decision making.

A CBS news crew was in Rockcastle County earlier this year taping footage for the program.

Homecoming Festivities

Outstanding Citizen

Mrs. Maude Mullins, top photo, a life-long Livingston resident, was chosen as Outstanding Citizen during homecoming festivities at Livingston over the week end. Mrs. Mullins was presented with a plaque by Sammy Stallworth, homecoming committee member. She is flanked by family and friends.

Homecoming Queen

Winning Float

First place winner of floats in the homecoming parade was the Livingston Baptist Church. Among those riding on the float was pastor Sam Hampton.

At Tuesday's meeting Without a quorum again, City Council goes home

By: Ray McClure

For the second time this year, the Mt. Vernon City Council had to go home without holding a meeting.

Only three councilmen showed up for the meeting. Four is needed for a quorum.

On hand were councilmen Wayne Adams, Lloyd Cain and Bob Bailey. Absent were Ot Bond and Clarice Kirby. One seat remains to be filled following the resignation of William Cash at the August meeting.

Mayor Gary R. Cromer, with a full agenda for the meeting, finally set another date to meet, 1 p.m. Thursday (today), and even that meeting might not see the necessary four councilmen.

The vacant council seat was expected to be filled at the Tuesday meeting, but again, that fell by the wayside from lack of a quorum.

When the councilmen claimed previous engagements for a Wednesday meeting, the mayor persisted on a Thursday meeting and got it. If the council fails to appoint a councilman at that meeting, the duty will fall to Gov. Wallace Wilkinson.

Why Councilman Bond could not attend was not reported. Mrs. Kirby works at Toyota in Georgetown during the night council meetings and has attended only one meeting recently.

Several visitors were at the Tuesday meeting, some to probably discuss a proposed vehicle sticker tax. Also present were several Mt. Ver-

DUI arrest nets bigger haul

A Mt. Victory man was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Phillip Chesnut for driving under the influence of alcohol on Ky. 461 Friday night, and Chesnut found more than he expected. Billy Ray Bray was also charged with transporting alcohol beverages in a local option territory when Chesnut found 33 1/2 cases of beer and 13 bottles of liquor.

Bray posted bond for his appar-non volunteer firemen who are interested in a fire station on a city-owned lot on East Main Street.

The sticker tax is under study by the council and it is doubtful it would have come up for a vote even if there had been a quorum.

The firemen would probably have had their say on the fire station, but at the moment it appears the lot will be part of a parking area for the courthouse annex to be constructed next year.

Mayor Cromer apologized to those who came to the meeting and invited them to return Thursday.

If the council meets, Thursday, on the agenda will be the appointment and swearing in of a new councilman, second reading of an ordinance setting a license fee on entertainment, discussion of the water plant upgrading, naming of a street, set a called meeting to open sewer bids for the Renfro Valley area; Falcon TV cable service; tree trimming on Richmond Street; a report on telephone dispatching of emergencies by the city, and according to the mayor, "anything else that might come up."

Bullock arraigned in shooting

A Rockcastle County man was arraigned last week in Rockcastle Circuit Court on charges that he attempted to kill another Rockcastle County man.

Johnny Bullock, 43, of Mt. Vernon was indicted on August 10th for criminal attempt to commit murder and possession of a handgun by a convicted felon.

The indictment stemmed from a July 15th gun battle on Main Street in Mt. Vernon, in which Bullock was shot by Dennis Rash.

The two men fired several shots at each other near the Gregory building on that Sunday night.

Although Bullock was the one injured, according to police he fired the first shots.

The case has been continued to September 28th. Bullock is free on bond.

Court appoints Calvin Mize county garbage coordinator

Calvin Mize, who retired from Greyhound Lines after 33 years, was named solid waste coordinator for the county at a meeting of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court Tuesday.

Mize, who is a native of Rockcastle but lived most of his life in the Cincinnati area, was hired on a half-time (part time) basis at a salary of $9,200 a year.

Hired to help Mize with secretarial work and other duties was Denise Creech Jones.

Mrs. Jones has worked in the past for State Farm Insurance, Rockcastle sheriff, county clerk and Pulaski District Court. Her position is full time and will also be $9,200 a year.

Mize will coordinate efforts in the continued cleanup of county illegal garbage dumps; initiate a permit system for collectors and monitor their compliance; monitor and issue permits for transfer stations, and carry out training garbage flow from the point of origin to the landfill.

Also hired by the court was Albert Thomas as a full time county road worker at $4.75 an hour.

Three temporary part time workers were hired for work only when needed. They are, Donald Mink and Jack Hammonds at $4.75 an hour, and Bob French, who will receive no pay.

The three will be asked to work only in case of an emergency, illness, or if some other problem arises.

The court approved the state jail inspection report which gave Jailor Billy Kirby a "good" rating.

The court also approved, based on further information, the purchase of television monitors for the jail. Three bids on cameras and monitors were received. Low bid went to Somerset security systems for $3,173, depending on clarification of the bid.

The court accepted a bid of $395 from Jeff Robinson of Orlando to paint the Circuit Courtroom.

The magistrates and county judge learned that from now on the IRS plans to tax their expense accounts which is $300 a month.

Dear Editor,
I'm concerned about the trend of sending 4-year-olds to pre-school. I have one child and am expecting another. Our daughter will be four in January. I think the program is stupid, and I don't want to work on the young children.

I worked awhile after my daughters birth and later decided I should be home with her until time for kindergarten. Now we may have to send her to pre-school. Sure it may be a college for teachers, all they want is the money. It may also be a great thing for working mothers and for parents that just don't want to watch their children, but not for mine. I think 13 years of school is enough, that's not counting if they decide for college. I think educated parents that are home with their four year olds can teach them just as much as pre-school when they have to go to kindergarten?

As a graduate, but the thing that bothers me they only want the kids in school to get more money. Why do they do? Why do we pay taxes? Most of the children's work is sent home with them for parents to help them with. I think that's what happens to children that have to take the same year over twice is their parents may not be educated. So if they can't get it at school where are they going to get it? Children the age of four are not ready to learn, they just want to enjoy their childhood, so why not let them!

Dear Editor,
Because of Iraq's Saddam Hussein, trying to grab off all of the oil in Kuwait, it's a terrible upset in the whole world. A very monstrous question as to what will transpire and be the whole outcome of the situation. Let us not criticize any of our leaders who are trying to keep U.S. in a safe place and to take care that we are not bombed.

We are the most spoiled Americans in the world. I believe all of our heroes raised the red, white and blue for us as a historical memory on Iwo Jima.

Now we have space ships that have accomplished works too enormous for me to describe. We have in our large cities, rapid trains to transport workers in just a few minutes, for a few cents. There is not enough space for me to write about our wonderful assets, so let us all thank God. There may be a chance we will continue.

My thanks to everyone with the Mt. Vernon Signal.

Dear Editor,
On 26th of August, 1990, in New Lebanon, Ohio, I attended part of a 30 year reunion of the 1960 graduates of Dixie High School, to have heard that school was almost 70 years old, to have been built by the W.P.A. in our time of Great Depression.

We employed had hundreds of men unemployed and a need for the public works built say 50 to 70 years ago, in the time of our depression, but politicians and certain people appear to be trying to establish a Utopian System of equality and original copyright @

1949, George Orwell wrote the Classic Novel, "1984," which tells of another Great Depression and Socialist Government control, which appears to be the direction we appear to be heading.

At the Berea College bookstore I recently purchased a paper back copy of this classic to try to read again, for $4 plus tax, as if had the government taking control of all education, which Kentucky appears to be doing, and I wanted to refresh my memory as it had been a very long time since I had last read that classic novel, as it had reached that classic level, as it was required college reading.

Computers and calculators are great tools, but I read or had heard of, I think, a MacDonald's Restaurant which had a power failure to where the cash registers didn't work, and the employees did we need pre-school math skills to add up the purchase price, figure out the change, or add the required sales tax without the cash register doing the math and I have paid $10.06 for a $3.56 purchase and had the employee look at me for while as they could not mentally figure out my change, to have wondered how much this lack of education is really costing us, the customers to require cash registers to do the basic math.

In my opinion, our politicians need to go back to the W.P.A., the C.C.C., the T.V.A., and other programs in our depression era, to help try to rebuild our country?

As a veteran of the U.S. Army Security Agency, who is now retired on a medical disability pension after 17 years with municipal civil service, if I thought I could get public support, I may consider trying to run for election to a seat somewhere in the congress of the U.S., but that would perhaps require millions of dollars, which I do not have and I don't know what success I may have, if elected, on trying to bring back these programs which helped rebuild our country in our time of depression.

In my opinion, the U.S. Military, with its U.S.A.F.I. and the G.I. Bill, has the best educational opportunity for our young people, as for a three or four year active duty obligation, they receive the best training and practical experience available in such needed skills as construction, becoming future civilian pilots and mechanics, etc., skills needed to rebuild our country and our way of life.

You read of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers building dams and other public water works. Of military firefighters fighting fires along with civilians to help try to protect and preserve our vast national forests. Very few people in the U.S. Military have actual combat duties. They are cooks, mechanics, etc., support people for the unit, in skills of civilian peacetime application.

In the military, all have to go through basic combat training, but they may not have any or too much experience to actually use that basic combat training, to where many may see their active duty time to take college through U.S.A.F.I., to try to become engineers, teachers, etc., on the G.I. Bill after active military service.

In the agency, I was moved around but while stationed at White Sands M.T.R. if I had chosen, I could have attended some classes at the University of New Mexico, in Los Cruces, 26 miles away from the University of Hawaii, while stationed 28 miles above Pearl Harbor, while still on active duty, perhaps without much problem.

Education is the key to what will help rebuild our country and our way of life, meaningful education though.

I wish I had taken advantage of the many opportunities I have had to attend college, but I was perhaps too set in my ways to know things without college credits.

Dear Editor,
It's my opinion that one of the cruellest things to happen to foreigners in Iraq is for the women and children he sent to the deserts in Turkey, leaving the husbands locked up in Iraq, Turkey is not a country of "Green Pastures flowing with milk and honey". Where is the promise of survival for any of the family. Do we know whether they are being sent on cattle trains the way the Jews were sent. The Jews were packed, like sardines standing up. They dare not

By: Ike Adams

One editor and two different readers have called to see if I'm sick because the column didn't appear last week. The editor said he was concerned because the first two columns I'd sent him sure sounded sick and the readers wanted their money back when they found out I'd been goofing off in Florida.

That's right. I loaded Loretta and the kids up and we took off vacationland, USA without first remembering to get a column in the mail because I was so overwhelmed with visions of Donald Duck and Mickey Mouse awaiting our arrival with under arms and baskets of tree-ripened oranges.

The literature we perused before making a vacation decision insisted that summer was the perfect time to visit Florida. The crowds were supposed to be small because most folks go to Florida in the dead of winter, seeking sunshine and warm beaches as a respite from cold weather. In the summer, Florida is hotter than most other places so there's no incentive to visit.

Someone should have explained that to the million and a half northerners who decided to visit Disney World at the same time we did last Wednesday so they could stand in line for an hour and a half to get their picture taken beside a plastic statue of Goofy.

What a rip off. It cost $124.50 for the four of us to get a one day pass to The Magic Kingdom. I now have a keener understanding of how sardines survive and the kids insist that I did, in fact, get on three rides and watch one movie. Mostly, though, I whined and grumped as I tried to remember the name of the fellow who had written the article that sucked me into making the trip in the first place.

I learned that when we got to a sign in the waiting lines that said "minute wait from this point" it really meant 90 minutes. When I got hungry, I learned that a hot dog was worth more than three dollars to the vendors who hawk them at every corner. Mickey Mouse ears, the same ones that cost 99 cents at every gas station within two hundred miles of the place are worth five times that much inside Disney World.

If my boss were to walk up to me and say, "Here's five thousand dollars. I want you to take your family and spend a week at Disney World on me". I'd turn him down and suggest that he offer the trip instead, to his worst enemy if he has one. I neither need nor deserve such punishment.

On the other hand, we only spent one day being ripped off by cartoon characters. We did blow another day ho-humming around St. Augustine but stuff was reasonably priced and the vendors were friendly. Like most tourist traps, St. Augustine is a vast collection of plastic Indians scattered around two or three historic ruin. Lots of places to buy shirts and underwear that have advertisements silk screened on them.

sit down, as they would be trampled the fish. Who knows why the fathers and husbands are being detained, locked up like animals. We hear nothing about the personal comforts. In fact many details at all about what they are given to eat. Most of the mothers don't have money to buy food. When and where is food distributed in the deserts, I remember when the Russians sent the military out to find the Jews, they would sometimes just take a little girl along with a gang of older men. They allowed one father to say good-bye to his ten year old daughter. She was thrown on one of those box-cars, never to see her family again. The same father hid under a bridge in mud up to his nose. He stood there until he starved to death.

Compared to the lives in the Eastern half of the world, we truly live in the land flowing with milk and honey". Why do we mess up a Christian country with these people who bring their cults and evil plans to America? I remember when we lived in peace.

We owe it to ourselves to pray for those who are suffering at the hands of the raging mad-dogs, sons, and drug fiends. Let us pray, Americans, for our own people.

I thank you, sincerely,
Margaret Dychose

And you can do it without constantly being bumped and pushed about by wall to wall, sweating, irate human beings. And you can get an ice cream cone for less than a buck and a soda for fifty cents. You can also sit down when you take a notion. I can handle that for a day.

But what Florida really has to offer that I found enjoyable doesn't cost a dime. I could get used to having the ocean in my back yard and I doubt that I'd ever tire of it. I've been to places that have dolphins in swimming pools trained to jump through hoops and stand on their tails to beg for a dead herring, but they are not nearly as impressive as the untamed variety that we saw frolicking in the surf at Flagler Beach.

We had hundreds of miles of beach almost to ourselves anytime we wanted and I wanted it most of the time we were there. Riding a ten foot wave on a seven dollar rubber mat that I picked up at a discount store was immeasurably more thrilling than any ride I've ever experienced at any amusement park. And I did it for hours without ever getting in the first line.

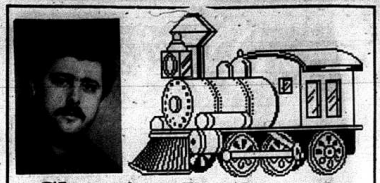

Casting chunks of shrimp into the surf and hooking bluefish, flounder, sea trout, whiting or one of half a dozen other species I managed to catch but failed to find in my Pocket Guide to Atlantic Marine Life never ceased to be interesting. Nor did crawling on all fours in the water's edge in search of the perfect shell.

If you're going to Florida, drive to Jacksonville and take highway A1A as far south as you want to go. You'll be able to see the ocean most of the way and you will be able to find plenty of places to park your car and get the water whenever you choose. Nothing that the over-priced, over-rated plastic menageries have to offer are in the same league as the Atlantic Ocean when it comes to sheer entertainment. And it's free. I'm already planning a return trip next year. Canada will have to wait.

Charting Rockcastle

By: Richard Anderkin
Managing Editor

Last week a story in the daily papers revealed that Kentuckians pay more state tax than taxpayers in 41 other states.

That is before the latest round of tax hikes that Wally's gang imposed on Kentucky taxpayers.

I certainly believe in paying my share of taxes, but nothing upsets me more than to think that my tax money is being wasted.

Of course the Governor and the ruthless legislators that passed the overwhelming tax hike will tell you that the money had to be raised for education reform.

What they won't tell you is that only about one third of the new tax-money will actually be spent on education. The rest of the money is going for pet projects for legislators who voted for the tax increase.

Amphitheaters, golf courses—you get the picture. Of course you won't see any of these projects in Rockcastle County because Danny Ford had enough guts to vote against the

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT HEAD LICE

Head lice cannot jump or fly but are spread from one person to another by personal contact or the sharing of such items as brushes, combs, hats, scarves, and coats. At one time or another, many adults and children may have to cope with this problem. School children especially may become infested with lice because of their close contact in classrooms and at play.

Head lice are no larger than a head of a pin. In fact, if you could examine a louse under a magnifying glass, it would look somewhat like a tiny ant.

Head lice are usually found on the hairs of the head, behind the ears and back of the neck. They lay oval white eggs—not to be confused with dandruff, which is flaky, or droplets of hair spray. The eggs are attached to the base of a stand of hair close to the scalp.

In order to live, head lice derive nourishment from human blood which they suck from their hosts. Lice can live, however, upwards to two or three days off the human body.

The first sign of lice is usually intense itching. The lice and/or eggs may be seen. Bite marks often appear. Skin irritation and/or infection may occur as a result of repeated scratching. If this happens, you should see your physician.

Lice infestation can be easily treated at home. Prompt action is required to rid yourself of this tormenting pest.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT LICE

At the first sign, seek assistance from your county health department, family physician, or go directly to a drug store. Follow all directions carefully. Every member of the household should be checked for lice and their eggs. If either is found, treatment should be given to them also. Unless every member is free from lice and nits (eggs), the infestation will continue to exist and grow.

All clothing and bedding in contact with lice should be washed in very hot water or dry cleaned as appropriate. Other materials such as combs and brushes should be boiled or thrown away. The backs of upholstered furniture, car seats, and mattresses should be thoroughly vacuumed and disinfected where possible.

Children found with evidence of head lice cannot return to school without proper treatment. Screening is conducted periodically throughout the school year. Additional screenings are conducted as the need arises. If you have any questions, please contact your school.

Cummins, Hines, Stevens get degrees from EKU

Three Rockcastle County students received degrees from Eastern Kentucky University at the end of the EKU's summer term.

They are: Deborah B. Cummins of Brohead a masters degree in industrial and community service counseling, William Thomas Hines of Mt. Vernon, a masters degree in industrial technology and Tammy J. Stevens of Wildcat, a bachelors degree in early elementary, grades K-4.

They were among the 580 summer semester degree candidates honored at the University's 83rd summer commencement ceremonies held Thursday, Aug. 2.

Joseph W. Phelps, chairman of Liberty National Bancorp of Louisville, gave the commencement address. EKU also awarded Phelps an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Following the formal ceremony, graduates were invited to receptions sponsored by the University's nine colleges. These receptions were held at various locations across the campus.

Faculty and administrators were on hand, as well as hundreds of family members and friends of the new graduates.

Following a long-standing tradition, the summer commencement ceremony was held at 7:30 p.m. in the Ravine at the center of EKU's historic Richmond campus.

Summer degree candidates at EKU sought 21 associate degrees, 327 bachelors degrees, and 232 master's degrees.

The new graduates join more than 60,000 EKU alumni in Kentucky, the region, and across the United States.

Eastern Kentucky University serves more than 14,500 students through programs offered on its 350-acre Richmond campus, throughout its 22-county service region, and beyond.

Tiger Pause

A hot air balloon will be coming to Brodhead Elementary, Thursday, Sept. 13 at 8:30. Free rides for students will be based on attendance. Read more about this spectacular event next week in Tiger Pause.

Congratulations to the eight seventh grade students who qualified for participation in the Duke University Talent Identification Program (TIP). To qualify, a 7th grade student must receive a 97 percentile or better on the California test of Basic Skills (CTBS). These qualifying are: Brent A. Baldwin, Regina R. Blanton, Beth Harper, Ruthie Harrison, Korry A. Lowery, Kyle Robinson, Corey Scott, Jeremiah Taylor.

Many of our students participated and received recognition in various community projects this summer. They attended 4-H camp, church camp, Trooper Island Camp and summer school. Others were involved in baseball, swim teams, golf teams and other sports. Many took vacations with their families and visited exciting places within the state as well as out-of-state. Still others helped on family farms and many earned extra spending money. All of these experiences give us a better perspective on life and enhance the value of a well-balanced education.

Some of our teachers also participated in workshops and summer school. Caroline Graves is using the cooperative style of learning with her seventh and eighth grade. Other teachers are using this style also. Saturday, Sept. 8, teachers will be attending a workshop at MVES from 8:30 - 3. The workshop, called SUM (Success in Understanding Mathematics), is for teachers of County-wide.

Charlotte Bullock attended the Foxfire Seminar at Berea College. She is sharing a variety of new and innovative educational activities with her fourth grade class.

"Book-It", sponsored by Pizza Hut and coordinated by librarian, Nancy Parkinson, continues to be a part of our library program. Parents of younger children need to help them at home with this activity.

Also, save those Campbell soup labels! Even if you don't have children in school save the labels and give them to the school. Our school needs labels and receive audio visual materials and sports equipment.

The monthly PTA meeting is Thursday, Sept. 13, at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Please join and be an active member. Our school needs you!

Deadline for news items is noon Tuesday.

Educators at schools with KET equipment cabinets may use their keypads and respond to questions posed by program panelists; viewers at sites without keypads compare their views to those of their colleagues as they are computed and graphically displayed on screen.

Education Reform: The Teacher's Perspective, Part II airs Tuesday, September 11. Kentucky's education reform act calls for the creation of a comprehensive educational assessment system based on student performance. How can teachers prepare for this new system of evaluating students? Dr. Beate Parkanz, executive director of the Council on School Performance Standards, and Dr. Stephen A. Henderson, associate superintendent of instruction in the Department of Education, will discuss student capabilities and goals and performance assessment in this live 90-minute teleconference.

Then, on five Tuesdays beginning September 18 KET presents P.S. Met: Problem-Solving Using Manipulatives for Elementary Teachers. This is KET's first series of some exciting research-based instructional practices focusing on the use of manipulatives in the elementary mathematics curriculum.

Each of the five P.S. MET seminars will begin with a brief discussion of current research associated with the new mathematics curriculum standards, the effectiveness of using manipulatives as a teaching tool, equity issues, problem-solving, and cooperative learning. This will be followed by demonstrations of hands-on activities using manipulatives, taped examples showing similar activities being taught in elementary classrooms, and a question-and-answer period.

They say that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. Super 1 Foods came to town 10 months ago, with a promise to bring lower food prices to Richmond shoppers. Now Winn Dixie has seen fit to follow our lead and lower their prices. Now they claim to have the lowest prices. But as you can see from the price comparisons above, with the same shopping list we used in Oct. 89, Richmond shoppers still save more by shopping at Super 1 Foods. This leaves only one thing left to say to Winn-Dixie. Don't flatter yourselves.

Goodbye, Supermarket.

Stop and think about it. The main reason you shop at a supermarket is because they give you good buys. But compare our prices. Super1 Foods shoppers get much better buys than supermarket shoppers. And we think that's a pretty good reason. To come buy.

tax increase. He voted against it because he knew that it was nothing but a rip-off of the Kentucky taxpayer, pure and simple.

It seems like ever since the state did it to the taxpayer everyone else is trying to get in on the act.

The school system's latest indication that they would place a utility tax was a no-choice situation created by the state. If they had not agreed to the additional tax they would have lost out on about $800,000 in additional revenue that they need.

Although I was never a big Dush fan I think it is a outright insult to the American people that the man campaigned on a "no new taxes" platform.

He is now talking tax increase and I for one think that is unnecessary.

I know what kind of taxes we pay around here and there simply is no reason whatsoever for there to be a federal deficit. None.

The city of Mt. Vernon is talking tax increase and while I am satisfied that they need the new monies to balance their budget, I am not completely satisfied that more taxes is the only answer.

I wonder if our government heads have ever considered cutting services, trimming the fat, doing without a few things.

There are hundreds of ways, probably thousands, to save money without taking away the have to programs that supply food, medicine, clothing to those who really need it.

We all know that government waste is atrocious, yet we sit back year after year and re-elect the same politicians that are doing nothing to help the working, taxpaying American families.

A prime example of things that we could do without, is the recently announced courthouse annex. Those that have worked hard to obtain it, should be commended for their efforts. The money was obviously there to be had by someone and that someone might as well be Rockcastle County.

But, 1.3 million dollars is a lot of money, that in all actuality we could do without. The courthouse is somewhat crowded I'll agree, but there are even private individuals renting space in it and if there is room for them, there is a enough room without the annex.

The annex will look good and it will be a plus for our county, but in the end the taxpayer will certainly pay for it.

Think about all of the money that could be saved across the country, if politicians would simply cut back on the things that are not needed.

I know in this business we do without a lot of things we could use, but really can't afford. It is no real hardship and when you don't have the entire taxpaying world putting money in your bank account there is little you can do about it if you want to survive.

Politics is nothing other than a big game and I think it is time we had some new players at least in Washington.

2nd Birthday
Amanda Rae Vann celebrated her 2nd birthday Saturday, August 11, 1990 with a trip to Hollywood. There with er to help celebrated were her Mommy, Aunt Marilyn and Uncle Johnny and Jay, Michael and Jeffery McKinney. Amanda is the daughter of Elaine Brown Vann of Ottawa and Alan Vann of Dalton, Georgia. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert J. Brown of Ottawa and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crowe of Parrish, Alabama. Great grandparents are Dan Brown and the late Dovia Brown of Ottawa and Margaret Bowen and the late Robert Lee Bowen of Crab Orchard. She is the great great niece of Kate Withrow of Dalton, Georgia. Uncle David and Aunt Betty, Michelle and Jennifer Brown wish her Happy Birthday also. Her family and friends wish her lots of love and many more birthdays. Mommy loves you sweetheart.

urday to get a good place to view the parade. Most found a shady spot, but as the sun got higher, so did the temperature and humidity. As the sun rose, the crowd would adjust to the shade. One visitor noted that it was the hottest day for the parade he had seen and he had attended four of them.

Happy 17th Birthday, William
I Love You, Tina

Speaking of the parade, it was also the longest to date with a variety of floats, vintage cars, horses, and the Lexington Shrine Club with their mini-cars, to name a few.

On the speakers stand was Foster Mullins, who has been a Lions Club member for 46 years and had not missed a meeting or a homecoming. Close by, but not on the stand, was Norma Houk, county clerk, who sat in a wheelchair because of her broken leg.

Others on the speakers stand included County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins; Mt. Vernon Mayor Gary H. Croner; County Attorney James H. Lambert; Attorney James W. Lambert; Alonzo McCollum, Rockcastle County chairman; Verla Scott, Democrat County chairman; Livingston city councilman Todd Mink; Cleotha Ray Thacker, pastor of the Buckeye Christian Church, and Burgess Daugherty, pastor of the Morning View Holiness Church.

Taking part in the ceremonies in honor of those who have died in wars were Shawn Hibbits and Anthony Medley, who fired their rifles; trumpet player James Medley, and flag attendant, parttime policeman Dennis Bailey.

Two flags were presented during the ceremonies, one from Gov. Wallace Wilkinson, presented by Verla Scott, and another from Woodmen of the World, presented by Cleotha Ray Thacker.

Always visible in many of the activities was Mrs. Fayc Baker, around whose drive-in restaurant many of the activities were held. The stage was beside the Livingston Volunteer Fire Department building that was opened for visitors.

The world was all before them, where to choose Their place of rest, and Providence their guide.

Becoming more assertive as a parent

Learning to deal with teens is a real test of your own personal values and standards. To be able to deal with kids you must identify what you believe in, what you value, and stick to it. Say no when you need to and become your own decision.

Kids say: Everybody's doing it. You're not everybody's.

Kids say: You're not everybody's. You're somebody special.

Kids say: Why can't you be like Susie's mother?

Parents say: I'm not Susie's mother. I can only be me and I want you to be yourself, too.

Kids say: You want me to be weird.

Parents say: I want you to be yourself.

Kids say: You don't understand.

Parents say: I understand that I love you and want you to be safe.

Kids say: We can afford it.

Parents say: We can afford it but we don't need it.

Kids say: Let me go. I'll be responsible.

Parents say: I know that you have good intentions. I don't want you to be in a situation that could be very difficult.

Kids say: You are treating me like a child.

Parents say: No. I'm treating you like a person your age.

Kids say: Why won't you ever listen to my side?

Parents say: I have listened to your side and I understand how you feel.

Kids say: Don't you want me to be one of the gang?

Parents say: I'd rather you were one of a kind.

Kids say: You're old fashioned.

Parents say: And more experienced.

Kids say: You don't trust me.

Parents say: I trust you to handle situations appropriate to your age.

Kids say: You hate my friends.

Parents say: No, I love you.

Kids say: You never let me do anything.

Parents say: I love you and I will continue to let you do many things that are safe and healthy.

Symptoms of Stress Overload

- * Decision-making becomes difficult (both major and minor kinds).
- * Increased use of cigarettes and/or alcohol.
- * Increased use of tranquilizers and "uppers."
- * Thoughts trail off while speaking or writing.
- * Excessive worrying about things.
- * Sudden outburst of temper and hostility.
- * Paranoid ideas and mistrust of friends and family.
- * Forgetfulness for deadlines, dates, appointments.
- * Frequent spells of brooding and feeling inadequate.
- * Reversals in usual behavior.

Pay attention to "apparent temperature" during summer

The temperature listed on the bank sign or outdoor thermometer at your house doesn't tell the real story, according to an Extension meteorologist at the University of Kentucky.

"While these devices show the air temperature, they don't really indicate the effect of that temperature on people, their pets or livestock," said Tom Priddy, an Extension specialist with the UK College of Agriculture. The air temperature is just one factor in how hot it really feels. The other factor is relative humidity.

"The combination of air temperature and relative humidity gives you the 'apparent temperature,' which is also known as the 'heat index.' And this is the temperature that actually has an impact on people and animals."

Priddy gave an example of an 'apparent temperature,' using an air temperature of 100 degrees (F) and a relative humidity of 50 percent.

"Under these conditions, the 'apparent temperature' would be 120 degrees (F)," he said. "In this situation, a sunstroke would be likely and a heat stroke would be possible if exposure were prolonged."

Priddy cited potential heat symptoms at the following apparent temperatures: 80 to 90 degrees -- possible fatigue; 90 to 105 degrees -- possible sunstroke; 105 to 130 degrees -- possible heat stroke, likely sunstroke; above 130 degrees -- imminent heatstroke.

"The actual degree of heat stress varies with an individual's age, health and body characteristics," he said.

Willy Witt, Jama Cornelius and Marilyn Coffey all participated in the state 4-H Horticulture Contest held recently in Louisville at the State Fair.

Three Rockcastle County 4-H'ers, Jama Cornelius, Willy Witt and Marilyn Coffey, participated in the state 4-H Horticulture Contest at the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville. These youths earned the right to compete by winning at the Area Horticulture Field Day held in Casey County on August 2.

Jama Cornelius received a Red ribbon and Willy Witt was awarded a Blue ribbon.

Marilyn Coffey was Grand Champion and will represent Kentucky at the National 4-H Horticulture Contest in Greenbay, Wisconsin in October.

Congratulations to each of these 4-H'ers on their outstanding accomplishments!

Jerry Montjoy displays his potato-cucumber plant which occurred when the two grafted themselves together. Mr. Montjoy and Margaret Helfon have raised a garden together for about the past 15 years at Orlando and have always planted the cucumbers and potatoes next to each other but this year, something happened and a potato appeared on a cucumber vine.

Demand for corn down; soybeans appear to be stronger

Large worldwide production of corn and coarse grains is dampening demand for the U.S. crop. Prices have already dropped 50 cents per bushel in anticipation of the less robust demand, according to an Extension marketing specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"Recent demand for U.S. corn has been tremendous, supporting high prices for the commodity. However, crop production is high and weather has been favorable to a large crop. Demand for U.S. corn will drop as a result," said Steve Riggins, an economist analyst.

The trade already has anticipated a lower demand and responded with lower prices. Prices may have already reached their low. Farmers may find that storage at harvest may provide a potential for increased profits, especially if an early frost jeopardizes late planted crops in the Upper Corn Belt, Riggins said.

"If an early frost stifles a heavy harvest up north, prices could regain enough strength to pay for storage costs and a profit," Riggins said.

He said that the Russian crop appears good at this time -- a factor of favorable weather in her major corn and wheat producing regions.

At harvest, Kentucky prices likely will be in the $2.40-plus per bushel range in western Kentucky, he said. Prices for soybeans, in contrast, appear to have a relatively stronger future. A smaller crop, coupled with uncertainty about planting intentions in South America, leads Riggins to believe prices at harvest will be in the $6 range.

"If weather threatens the crop -- especially early frost damage -- prices could go to $7 per bushel range," Riggins said.

Meat prices to drop some

If consumers can wait, they'll be able to save a few dollars at the meat counter.

"Comparing today's prices with prices from the early 1980s, the prices of all meats have climbed 30 to 35 percent. But the situation is beginning to change, as production is rising," said Lee Meyer, Extension agricultural economist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

While poultry prices have climbed steadily, beef and pork prices took recent leaps. As beef production declined about two years ago, prices were an average of $2.60 to $2.90 per pound. Pork prices also rose at the same time, Meyer said.

At the same time as beef and pork prices escalated, imports dropped by 40 percent, fueling the upward trend, he said.

come from a drop in live hog prices -- from 62 cents per pound earlier this year to about 50 cents per pound now, the economist said.

"Lower retail pork prices should increase demand for pork and lower beef demand somewhat which may lead to lower beef prices, too," Meyer said.

In addition, broiler production is up 7 percent, which should further dampen enthusiasm for retail beef, putting downward pressure on prices. Although it is uncertain when retail prices will drop, Meyer said to look for Labor Day as a possible trigger.

"As retailers vie to get shoppers into their stores, they are likely to lower meat prices to entice picnicers to buy from them. The result could be good opportunities to stock up on lower prices," he said.

"School Reform" (Cont. From A5)

Presenters will include: classroom teachers trained in the use of manipulatives; Dr. Linda Sheffield, Northern Kentucky University; and Sheila Vice, mathematics consultant for the Kentucky Department of Education. For high school arts students, counselors, arts teachers, and others, How to Apply Successfully to the Governor's School for the Arts will show aspiring Governor's School applicants and their teachers how to prepare for an audition and how to prepare a portfolio.

Taped segments will show students in the various art forms auditioning and talking about how they prepared for their auditions and interviews. The Governor's School for the Arts, co-sponsored by the Kentucky Center for the Arts and the Kentucky Department of the Arts, is a three-week summer program for talented high school arts students. This teleconference airs at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, September 27.

Other KET Star Channels Professional Development seminars coming in October include the all-day, intensive workshop School-Based Decision Making, airing October 15, and the three-session series Integrating Probability & Statistics and Discrete Mathematics into the High School Math Curriculum, beginning October 23.

Rockcastle improves to 124th in test scores

A few weeks ago, Rockcastle County School Superintendent Bige Towery, Jr., announced that test scores had improved in Rockcastle schools, and Tuesday local educators students and parents, found out just how they stacked up against the rest of the state.

The Lexington Herald-Leader newspaper released the rankings of the state's school districts, showing Rockcastle finishing 124th among the state's 182 school districts.

Overall Rockcastle students scored 52.1 on the Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills, up from 47.1 a year ago. The national average is 50.0.

Towery said Wednesday that he was pleased with the test results, but that there is still room for improvement.

"I am very pleased with the improvement in our test scores. I certainly commend our personnel for their hard work last year, which resulted in the better scores," the superintendent said.

"In the fifth, seventh and tenth grades our students scored higher than the national average, but in the third grade the scores were still lower than the national average," Towery said. "We are going to make a concerted effort to raise the scores in the lower grades," he said.

Towery also announced that a special board meeting will be held on September 18th to deal strictly with the instruction program. The board has held such a meeting for the past two years.

Last year Rockcastle ranked 156th and the year before 169th.

Arraignments for three held in circuit court

A Chestnut Ridge man was arraigned last week in Rockcastle Circuit court on charges of robbery and assault.

James Denny, 20 of Chestnut Ridge was indicted in August for robbery in the first degree and assault in the fourth degree.

Denny is accused of robbing Johnny Singleton of Mt. Vernon of a wallet, knife, and money, while threatening him with a knife.

He is also accused of fighting Singleton with his hand and kicking him with his feet.

Circuit Judge Dan Venters continued Denny's case until September 14th.

John Fain of Mt. Vernon, who was indicted in August for assault in the fourth degree and criminal mischief in the first degree, pleaded not guilty to both charges last week and his case was continued until November 20th.

Fain is accused of kicking Mt. Vernon police officer Jack Fritner and damaging his uniform and a Ford automobile in the amount of $1,089.

Gregory White of Richmond, who was being held in the Madison County jail on other charges was arraigned last week after the Rockcastle County Grand Jury indicted him on five counts.

The five count indictment stemmed from a March 31st automobile accident in Rockcastle County.

White is charged with operating his motor vehicle in a manner that endangered the lives of a Copper Creek family.

At the time of the accident White had no driver's license and he left the scene of the accident.

Brodhead stake-out results in two arrests

Two men, latest address Brodhead, were taken into custody following a stakeout by state and local police last Wednesday night on a warrant charging them with receiving stolen property over $100.

Raymond L. Murphy, 46, and Danny L. Allen, 40, were arrested in a stakeout at the home of Ruby Saylor of Brodhead, an aunt of one of the men.

Officers surrounded the house of the elderly woman, who was not at home, to arrest the men if they came out, or if not, to force them out.

A dog at the house jumped one of the officers and he accidentally discharged his gun. When the two men came out of the house to investigate the noise they were placed under arrest without incident.

Officers had an arrest warrant for the men who were driving a 1965 Ford pickup truck that belonged to George Phillips of Carson City, Nev.

Phillips was found shot to death in Arizona, March 4. Arizona police will come to Kentucky to question the men. Both are being held in Pulaski County under $100,000 bond. They pleaded not guilty in Pulaski District Court Thursday.

Somerset Police Chief David Gilbert was asked by Arizona Police to be on the lookout for the truck. Through information Somerset police found a campsite in eastern Pulaski and traced the two men to Brodhead.

Brodhead residents described the men as "nice" and "very helpful," especially to widow women, during the six months or so they were in the area. They did odd jobs around town, such as painting. The truck they were driving was used in the Brodhead homecoming parade.

"They did some work for me," one resident said. "But we wondered about them. They seemed to take such an interest in everything going on."

Local officers taking part in the raid were Brodhead policeman Joe Busse and Deputy Sheriff Larry Thompson.

Bussell said during planning for the raid on the house, nearby residents were to have been notified, but when the gun was fired accidentally, there was no time to alert nearby residents.

"Firing the gun may have been a good thing in the long run," Bussell said. "We thought we might have to shoot it out with them. But they came out on their own."

Annual Cystic Fibrosis Bike-a-thon set for Sept. 8th at Brodhead

A Bike-A-Thon for Cystic Fibrosis will be held Saturday, Sept. 8 at Brodhead School from 1 to 4 p.m. In case of rain the event will be Sept. 15th.

Cystic Fibrosis - (CF) a chronic, degenerative disease that primarily attacks the lungs and digestive system.

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (CFF) established in 1955, is a non-profit voluntary health organization, dedicated to improving the outlook for the CF patient and ultimately finding the answer to the cause of and cure for CF.

The foundation supports 127 patient care centers nationwide which provides the best available equipment and staff to treat the disease and which work in research seeking a cure or control for cystic fibrosis.

Nothing is more valuable than being able to save thousands of lives. Cystic Fibrosis research has progressed at such remarkable rate that we are on the threshold of opening up the future for those who have this disease now. Children and young adults with this disease require very special care, which is available at more than 120 Cystic Fibrosis Foundation Care Centers across the nation.

Tremendous advances in diagnosis and treatment have significantly improved the outlook for people with

CF. In 1955, when the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation was established, few children with CF lived to attend elementary school. Today, more than half are living into their early twenties - still an unacceptable fact.

There is no cure, so far, but today, through the foundation's efforts, after decades of research, scientists are making dramatic strides in their understanding of CF and that puts the CFF in the home stretch of this race to conquer the disease.

Still we need to quicken the pace if we are to save the thousands of children and young adults who have CF now. By participating in this bike-a-thon you are helping us do just that, because the dollars raised through this event will fund research that, hopefully, will soon bring us a cure. Come join the fun, and help sick children, you can also win something for yourself.

The prizes given through the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation are: A CFF T-Shirt for collecting $35. Toebag and T-Shirt for collecting $65. AMI FM clock radio or 6-Pak cooler and T-Shirt for collecting $100 and many more choices listed on the back of each sponsor sheet. Also collect $10 and get ice cream cone from Dardelia. In addition to these prizes, local prizes will be awarded to the six collecting the most money. These prizes include: jewelry box, sleeping bag, tape player, large ceramic horse, am/fm shower radio and telephone.

The local prizes are on display in the window at Fleischer's Grocery. The life-saving efforts is crucial. With your involvement, we can help those who have CF today. Together, we can make Cystic Fibrosis history.

We've come too far and seen too many recent breakthroughs to turn back now. We must keep the wheels of progress in motion.

away Wednesday morning. The family has our prayers and sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hamm of Indiana visited Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rogers Sunday afternoon. They were here to attend the Hamm reunion.

Mrs. Jewel Albright and Tootie visited Mrs. Janie Mae Jones and son Gene Edward Saturday afternoon.

In Memory of Joyce Brown Whitaker who departed this life Sept. 3, 1988

One day God sent a rosebud To bless our home here below And allowed us all to cherish you For 44 years we loved you so

You were the baby of the family There were twelve of us you know baby Mom, Dad, four girls and six boys Baby Austin left many years ago

Then God took Mama, then Daddy Clarence J. followed three years ago Then seemed he needed your presence He said come home and you had to go

The oldest, then youngest, He called out Our loss we can't understand It seems you were always so busy Too many on you would depend

But someday when God says it's finished And bids us all to come home, We'll gather and rejoice in His presence The Great Reunion around the White Throne

Always loved and remembered by all who knew you, Especially, Viola, Betty and Mildred

Parent and Child Education

(P. A. C. E.)

A Good Beginning

PACE means a good beginning for 3-and 4-year olds. Preschool activities make learning fun. Children like learning.

At the same time . . .

A Great Finish

PACE means a great opportunity for parents. While their children go to preschool, mothers or fathers without high school diplomas go to small classes designed for adults. They can earn GED certificates—a great "second chance" to finish high school and begin a better future!

As an added benefit . . .

Together

PACE also has special times for parents and children to work together. Parents help their children learn in the preschool classroom, and they find out how to help make learning at home fun.
