"Homemakers Meeting"

(Cont. From B6)

With a gavel, the Homemakers showed their appreciation to Carol Riddle for serving as president for the past two years by giving her a tote bag and past president pin.

Microwaving for 1 or 2

With single households or couples, microwaving is a simple way of preparing food in small amounts. The following recipes are geared to smaller amounts:

Purchase a ham slice and serve half of it glazed and the other half cubed with scalloped potatoes. Team this ham slice, that is ready in about 5 minutes, with a fresh vegetable, frozen rice side dish and fruit salad.

12 oz. ham slice, divided
2 teaspoons orange marmalade
1 teaspoon Dijon-style mustard

1. Divide ham and refrigerate half for another use. Place remaining ham on serving plate. Combine marmalade and mustard. Spread over ham slice.
2. MICROWAVE (high), uncovered, 1 1/2 to 2 minutes or until heated through.

About 2 servings

Leflover ham (from the Glazed Ham Slice recipe) combines with potatoes and cheese for this easy family dish that is ready to enjoy in about 10 minutes.

Ham & Scalloped Potatoes
1 cup thinly-sliced uncooked potato
1 cup cubed cooked ham
1 green onion, sliced
1/8 teaspoon seasoned salt
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

1. Combine potato, ham, onion, salt and half of milk in 3-cup microwave-safe casserole. Cover with casserole lid.
2. MICROWAVE (high), uncovered, 45 to 60 seconds or until cheese is melted.

About 2 servings

Tips * Processed cheese can be substituted for Cheddar.
Sliced wieners or cooked sausage can be substituted for ham.

Vary this recipe with other single-serve frozen vegetables or combinations. Or, serve with a vegetable and rice or pasta combination.

Chicken with Vegetables
2 chicken thighs (about 7 ozs. total)
No-salt seasoning blend (i.e. Mrs. dash)

1 package (5 oz.) frozen single-serve vegetable combination

1. Place chicken on microwave-safe dinner plate. Sprinkle with seasoning. Cover with waxed paper.
2. MICROWAVE (medium-high-70%) 4 1/2 to 5 minutes or until just about done, rotating plate once. Set aside covered. Puncture cover on vegetables as directed on package.
3. MICROWAVE (high) 2 1/2 to 3 minutes or until just tender. Transfer 1 chicken to second plate. Divide vegetable between two plates. (If necessary, wipe excess drippings from first plate with paper towel.)
4. MICROWAVE (high) one plate at a time, uncovered, 1 to 1 1/2 minutes or until heated through.

About 2 Servings

Tips * If cooking just one chicken thigh, decrease microwave time to 3 to 3 1/2 minutes in step 2.
* Chicken thigh can be coated with seasoned bread crumbs core cooking.

MICRO IDEA

For Individual Fruit Crisp:
Arrange 1 fruit (apple, pear, peach), peeled and sliced in 10-oz. microwave-safe bowl. Combine 1 tablespoon each flour, rolled oats, brown sugar, chopped nuts and 1/2 tablespoon margarine in a bowl; mix until crumbly. Spoon over fruit. Microwave (high), uncovered, 2 to 3 minutes or until fruit is tender.

QUICK CARAMEL-APPLE SUNDAES

8 caramels, unwrapped
1/2 tablespoon water
1 large apple
vanilla ice cream
1 Tbsp. chopped pecans

1. Combine caramels and water in 1 cup glass measure.
2. MICROWAVE (high), uncovered, 1 to 1 1/2 minutes or until softened, stirring once. Stir until smooth. Set aside to cool slightly.

3. Quarter and core apple. Spoon ice cream into dessert dishes. Slice apple and arrange slices around ice cream in each dish. Drizzle each with caramel mixture; sprinkle with pecans.

A Weekly Report from Fifth District Congressman Hal Rogers

Congress Votes to Protect Jobs Of Our Textile Workers

The jobs of the 13,000 Southern Kentuckians who work in the textile and apparel industry, such as Palm Beach, Fruit of the Loom, OshKosh and others, have long been endangered by the flood of foreign-made textiles into this country. The same can be said of the 38,000 textile and apparel jobs in Kentucky and the 2 million plus in the United States.

In the face of this danger, the House voted last week to preserve Southern Kentucky's textile jobs, along with America's 2-million-strong textile and apparel workforce.

Last week, I was proud to join a majority in the House approving legislation to bring control and fairness into American textile and apparel trade policy. As a member of the Congressional Textile Caucus, I was a cosponsor of this important legislation from the very beginning.

The incoming flood of foreign textile products has been a threat to American jobs for years. In 1987, I cosponsored legislation similar to the bill that passed the House last week. Although both the House and Senate approved that measure by huge margins, our effort to preserve American jobs was unfortunately halted by a Presidential veto. As a result, textile imports have continued to skyrocket every year, and the textile and apparel jobs of Americans have been shipped overseas.

Just last year, textile imports grew 16 times faster than the American textile and apparel market. Foreign textiles and apparel accounted for a fourth of our $130 billion overseas trade deficit. And the U.S. Trade Representative has reported that more than a third of the apparel purchased in this country is imported.

The chief reason for the dramatic increase in textile imports is that foreign textile and apparel companies are heavily supported by their governments, giving them unfair cost advantages over American manufacturers. Furthermore, overseas workers are paid dirt-cheap wages—just 27 cents an hour in China, for example. And while American companies spend millions on environmental controls, foreign makers freely pollute. Some of these same textile-exporting countries use high tariffs to unfairly block out American goods from their markets.

But even though imports are made at less cost, their prices are marked up. By the time the import reaches the store counter, the price is the same as its "Made in the USA" counterpart.

Our current textile trade policy has proven disastrous by any measure because it endangers both the American textile worker and the "Made in the USA" label. I, for one, must come down on the side of protecting our workers, and for establishing a trade policy that guards our interests at home before the interests of the other major textile-exporting countries.

The legislation approved by the House preserves American textile jobs by restricting the growth of textile imports to 1 percent a year, a fair rate equal to the growth of the American textile and apparel market. Furthermore, in order to shore up the jobs of America's beleaguered shoe industry, the legislation limits imports of most types of footwear to the amount imported in 1989. Additional highly technical textile trade provisions would ensure that our textile workers' jobs will no longer be sacrificed for the cause of slightly cheaper foreign goods.

The battle to protect our textile workers is not yet over, though. While the Senate has already approved this measure, the President has threatened to veto it. If he follows through on his threat, you can count on me to do everything I can to encourage the House and Senate to override his veto by the necessary two-thirds majority, and give our textile and apparel workers here at home the fair treatment they deserve.

4-H Talk Meet set for November 6 at MVES

By: John McQueary
County Extension Agent
for 4-H

The Rockcastle County 4-H Council will hold their annual Speech Contest on Tuesday, November 6, at 6:30 p.m. at the Mt. Vernon Elementary school (in the gymnasium area). Just as last year, the contest will be held as a joint project with the schools. Through 4-H, winning speakers will have the opportunity to advance to area and state competition.

The number of participants eligible for the county contest per class has been determined according to how many students in each grade at each school. Teachers may wish to work together to determine grade (age) representatives.

TALK MEET RULES

1. Any boy or girl, age 9-19, may participate in the 4-H Talk meet Program. (The participant does not presently have to be enrolled in 4-H).
2. The top speeches from each grade will compete against other youth of their own age category and not necessarily against their grade. The age category is determined as the age on January 1st, 1991.
3. The Junior Age categories are: 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. The Senior Age categories are: 14, 15, 16-19.
4. Junior Age category talks are to be 3 - 5 minutes long. Senior Age category talks are to be 5 - 7 minutes long.
5. A participant may secure assistance from anyone he choose in writing or preparing his talk. There is no specific topic, any suitable topic can be used.

ing or preparing his talk. There is no specific topic, any suitable topic can be used.

6. The participant and those who may work with him should be familiar with the following:

- a. Objectives of the 4-H Talk Meet program
 - b. Judge's score sheet
 - c. Selecting and preparing the speech
 - d. Pointers for giving a speech
7. Each contestant will be introduced along with the title of the talk by the room chairman.
8. After being introduced, the speaker will present the talk. Talks should not include introductory material dealing with himself: Years in 4-H, Club name, Projects completed, etc. Contestant should not repeat the title of his talk.

9. Each representative for the county Talk Meet must register by calling the Extension office at 256-2403 by Friday, Nov. 2. We need the following information: Name, date of birth, address, grade, teacher, school and title of talk.

10. Each representative for the County Talk Meet should be aware that if they win first or second place in their age category, they will have the opportunity to go to the area contest on Saturday, November 17th, in Barbourville, Knox County.

11. For 4-H Clubs wishing to earn points for the Outstanding Club Award, points will be given for each speech presented within the classroom.

Timber prices discussed; recommendations made

Timber prices vary widely and smart woodlot owners contemplating a sale will watch for trends that the market is moving up.

"Prices paid for Kentucky timber vary greatly depending on time of year, the housing market and other factors," said Doug McLaren, Extension forestry specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Fall generally is a better time to put a sale together than other times of the year, because saw mills are attempting to increase their inventories, he said.

"However, if winter weather is unusually bad, spring prices can soar so that a dwindling inventory can be replenished," McLaren said.

Housing starts also influences timber prices.

"Increasing housing starts mean that more people will be buying furniture for their new houses. That means that more hardwood will be needed," McLaren said.

SOAP helpful to coal operators for survival in present times

One thing is apparent to anyone of us who has been around the coal industry since the "Act" passed in 1977: coal operators are survivors, especially those who continue to make it without big production numbers to offset the changes in market and regulations.

Other factors influencing how much woodlot owners will receive for their stands include the quality, accessibility and quantity of the stand, he said.

"Even though current prices are not as high as they have been, woodlot owners still can make an assessment of their timber's value and then watch for upswings in the market before they sell," he said.

McLaren advised woodlot owners to have a private consultant or a service forester with the Kentucky Division of Forestry assess the value of the timber before they offer it for sale.

McLaren advised woodlot owners to have a private consultant or a service forester with the Kentucky Division of Forestry assess the value of the timber before they offer it for sale.

He also urged woodlot owners to negotiate a written contract with any buyer before any cutting takes place.

governor, although he has said he is leaning strongly toward running. Yesterday's comments from Goss were one of the strongest signs yet that Hopkins will run.

Congress was not in session yesterday. Hopkins, Bunning and Rogers were all unavailable for comment. Hopkins' spokeswoman, Stephanie Collins, said she could not comment on whether the two congressmen would head Hopkins' campaign or whether he was running.

Goss said he thought Hopkins was definitely in the race. But Goss, who has yet to make up his own mind about running, is unhappy with the way the state's Republican establishment seems to be flocking to the Hopkins camp.

Goss wrote in a letter to Rogers yesterday, "What our party needs is not a coronation, but a primary, giving the voters the benefit of free and frank discussion of the issues and the qualifications of the respective candidates."

Goss said he met with Rogers about 10 days ago and asked him to remain neutral.

tion and Enforcement, you may be able to have engineers and geologists help you plan your next permit.

You can get answers to your questions about permitting and regulations, have water and geology samples analyzed and have part of your permit written - all at no cost to you. If the engineer advises you to drill a water well, it can be installed at no cost to you.

All these free services are benefits of the Small Operators Assistance Program, known as SOAP. The assistance program is available to operators who mine less than 100,000 tons of coal a year.

"We realize that the only thing more valuable than money spent on permitting is the time required to get a permit," said J.R. Hamm, branch manager of the program. "That is why we have worked to remove delays from the system during the past two years. In private practice, I never had an operator who didn't need the permit as soon as he could obtain it. The operators who are currently using the program seem pleased with both the savings and assistance."

Often it is hard for the small operator to carry on business under present market conditions. Participation in SOAP allows you to make maximum use of your dollars available for engineering and environmental services.

SOAP funds cut out-of-pocket permitting expenses and allow you to use some of those dollars to pay for leases and other expenses.

To learn more about the program and how it can best serve you, talk to your permit engineer, call the SOAP offices at (502) 564-2356, or write SOAP, #2 Hudson Hollow, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Charting Rockcastle

By: Richard Anderkin
Managing Editor

It is time that the Rockcastle County High School football team get some recognition.

Coach Tom Larkey and his staff have once again fielded an excellent exciting football team that will no doubt end up in the Class AAA playoffs.

The Rockets and Larkey are a class act. Tuesday after practice Larkey was not only scrutinizing the Rockets' play on the field, but he was also giving his kids the once over about their grades.

It was obvious to me that the kids who stick with Larkey will be better off for it. He is genuinely concerned about his players and winning is not the only thing that he thinks about.

They are preparing to play one of the top teams in the state Friday night when they host Bell County at 8 p.m. at the high school. But, the six weeks also ended Wednesday and several of his players had less than great grades. He had a list and he talked to everyone of his players that were having problems.

He told them they could do better and that he and they both knew it. He was encouraging them to do better I'm sure so he could keep their services on the football field, but it was obvious that he simply wanted his players to be the best they can be, whether it is on the field or in the classroom or in life in general.

A player that sticks with Larkey for four years will be a better individual because of it and they will and do come away with more than a win and loss record. Friday night will probably be the biggest game Larkey has ever coached, but he continues to keep everything in perspective, thinking about his players first and his record second.

One thing is for certain, you can't dispute the man's success. He is a top notch coach and person and his teams reflect what he stands for. They are winners.

He has some very dedicated assistants, without whom he would not be so successful, but he is definitely the leader of the pack and he should be commended for the job he does.

Other Rockcastle County sports programs could take a few lessons from the RCHS football program.

I hope a large crowd turns out for Friday's game which could be the biggest upset in the state this season.

Good luck Rockets.

Hopkins lining up support for race for Gubernatorial bid

U.S. Rep. Larry Hopkins apparently has lined up the support of fellow Republican congressmen Harold Rogers and Jim Bunning for his unannounced gubernatorial bid, possible opponent Eugene Goss said yesterday.

According to a story in the Lexington Herald-Leader, Goss, a Harlan lawyer, said Rogers of Somerset told him Wednesday that he would be co-chairman of the Hopkins campaign along with Bunning of Southgate.

Hopkins, R-Lexington, has not announced whether he will run for

Brodhead now under water notice

What was called a Brodhead water "Advisory" last week is now a boil water notice for all Brodhead water customers.

The Environmental Protection Cabinet chemists are checking the water to determine the source of the contamination.

A spokesman at Brodhead said the city has purchased a chlorinator which should be installed by the end of the week, which officials hope will solve the problem.

Samples taken of the water showed bacterial contamination, but it takes numerous tests to determine the kind of bacteria and treating methods.

Meanwhile, residents are told to boil their water at least for two minutes before use until the bacteria is eliminated from the system.

Mt. Vernon Fall Festival October 13

A fall festival, sponsored by the Rockcastle Chamber of Commerce and the city of Mt. Vernon will be held on Main Street all day Saturday, Oct. 13, according to Glennis Miller, president of the chamber.

Miller said 40 persons have made commitments for booths of various kinds.

There will be a parade, musical entertainment and other events.

Anyone interested in the festival or parade should meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Red Top Restaurant, or contact Miller or Kay Rader at City Hall.

Miller also announced the chamber plans to print a tourist information brochure of the county. Persons interested in the brochure should be at Red Top Restaurant at 3 p.m. Thursday (today).

ASCS hours

Just in case Congress and President Bush fail to agree on a federal budget, federal offices have set new hours they will be open.

The Rockcastle ASCS office will be closed Mondays and Fridays if employees are furloughed. Tuesday through Thursday the office will be open as usual, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Should an agreement be reached, the office will be open as usual.

If residents have business at the office on Mondays and Fridays they should telephone before coming. The number is 256-2525.

Grand Jury returns 15 indictments

Fifteen indictments were returned by the Rockcastle County Grand Jury for crimes ranging from receiving stolen property to cultivating marijuana, during their regular meeting last week.

A Sand Gap man was indicted on five counts for an August 12th incident in which he attempted to elude members of the local Sheriff's office and Kentucky State Police who were checking licenses on Hwy. 421 in Rockcastle County.

He is free on bond until his October 12 arraignment.

Donald Lake, 36 of Brodhead was indicted for cultivating marijuana for the purpose of resale.

On July 8 police arrested Lake after they found nine marijuana plants (Cont. to A6) at times during the chase of Young, speeds topped 90 miles an hour.

He is free on bond until his October 12 arraignment.

First frost of the season

The season's first frost visited Rockcastle Monday morning when the temperature reached a low of 37 degrees at Cox Funeral Home's Weather Station.

Some areas of the county reported temperatures as low as 30 degrees, depending on elevation.

The Monday official low was higher than the same date last year when it was 35 degrees. On Sept. 24, 1983 it was 33 degrees. Highest temperature to date this month was 93 on Sept. 7.

Walter Renner dies after fall

Walter Renner, 76, of U.S. 25 south, Mt. Vernon was killed Tuesday when he fell from the roof of his house.

He reportedly was uncapping a chimney when he fell. He died of internal injuries.

Services are incomplete at Cox Funeral Home.

The new building, estimated to cost $442,160, will be located opposite the Comprehensive Care Center near Valley View Apartments on old U.S. 25 at Mt. Vernon.

There was only one resident at the public hearing to protest the change in the relocation of the Health department from the downtown area.

Former county Judge/Executive Hubert Thacker told the group he opposed the building because of its location.

Health Department board member Jerry Cox, who has contributed an acre of land for the building, said the Health Department has outgrown its present location and will need more room in the future to provide adequate services for the public.

Herman Johnson, administrator of the Cumberland Valley Health Department, told those present the new building will bring all health services into one area which could save as much as $20,000 a year.

Jim Cass, deputy director of Cumberland Valley Area Development District, the agency that will oversee the grant application and other items, said $183,160 will be the amount requested for the block grant; $28,000, the (in-kind) value of the contributed site; and $230,000 contributed by the State Health Department.

The $230,000 to come from the State Health Department will be comprised of $120,000 in available cash for the project, and about $100,000 projected from sale of the building on Richmond Street. No money comes from the county.

Red Hill man shot to death

By: Richard Anderkin

A Red Hill man was shot to death and an Orlando man is in jail charged with murder following a Saturday morning shooting incident.

Wayne Owens, 30, of Orlando is being held in the Rockcastle County jail on $100,000.00 bond charged with the fatal shooting of Dale Kelly Cope, 37, of Red Hill.

According to Rockcastle County Deputy Coroner Roy Martin, Cope died around 3:15 a.m. Saturday at the Rockcastle Hospital.

Martin said that a preliminary autopsy report indicated that Cope was killed by a single shotgun blast to his back.

Kentucky State Police Detective Johnny Phelps, who is investigating the case said that the shooting occurred on the front porch of Willie Mink's residence at Orlando.

Phelps said that alcohol was involved and that there was an argument that led to the shooting. He said that there had been bad feelings between the two men's families for a long period of time because of some stolen tobacco.

The detective said that he could not substantiate the rumor that Cope shot at Owens first. "So far there is no indication that Cope fired a shot,"

February 1---- Six-year-old Elvina June Curry is shot to death at Cox's trailer park in Mt. Vernon.

February 18---- Timothy Smith is left to die after he falls from a 40 foot cliff in a remote area of Rockcastle County.

March 7---- Abandoned infant boy dies near Buffalo, from suffocation after mother places it in a trash bag and leaves it in the woods.

March 28---- Donnie Clemmons is shot to death on Main Street in Mt. Vernon.

September 22---- Dale Kelly Cope is shot to death at Orlando following argument.

Phelps said.

Cope became the fifth Rockcastle countian to die in a homicide related incident this year.

Fiscal Court will apply for health building grant

By: Ray McClure

With a vote of 5-0 the Rockcastle Fiscal Court voted Friday to apply for a grant to help build a Rockcastle Health Department building at the request of the department.

In effect, the magistrates approved application for a Community development Block Grant as part of the cost of the new Health Department building.

The new building, estimated to cost $442,160, will be located opposite the Comprehensive Care Center near Valley View Apartments on old U.S. 25 at Mt. Vernon.

There was only one resident at the public hearing to protest the change in the relocation of the Health department from the downtown area.

Former county Judge/Executive Hubert Thacker told the group he opposed the building because of its location.

Health Department board member Jerry Cox, who has contributed an acre of land for the building, said the Health Department has outgrown its present location and will need more room in the future to provide adequate services for the public.

Herman Johnson, administrator of the Cumberland Valley Health Department, told those present the new building will bring all health services into one area which could save as much as $20,000 a year.

Jim Cass, deputy director of Cumberland Valley Area Development District, the agency that will oversee the grant application and other items, said $183,160 will be the amount requested for the block grant; $28,000, the (in-kind) value of the contributed site; and $230,000 contributed by the State Health Department.

The $230,000 to come from the State Health Department will be comprised of $120,000 in available cash for the project, and about $100,000 projected from sale of the building on Richmond Street. No money comes from the county.

The county owns the land on which the present Health Department is located. The department has a 99-year lease.

Cass said the timetable for the building construction cannot be determined and that it depended on the availability of the grant.

He added, taking into account the usual time element for similar projects, the new building could be completed in 1992.

NOTE: Rockcastle Fiscal Court will only apply for the grant for the building. The local health board will actually be in charge of construction. No county money is involved.

In other action, Cass told the court a pre-application for funds to set up a garbage recycling program in the county has been submitted to the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC).

The court hopes for a $49,000 grant to set up recycling centers in Mt. Vernon, Brodhead and Livingston.

The county would supply $49,000 as its share of the project, and would use land, improvements, and labor to offset its share.

Denise Creech Jones, who was hired by the court to be secretary to solid waste coordinator Calvin Mize, told the court she will remain in her job at State Farm Insurance.

The court then hired Betty Luck-singer of Brodhead to fill the job at a $9,200 annual salary.

Hearing for school utility tax is tonight

There will be a public hearing held by the Rockcastle County Board of Education on a proposed 3 percent utility tax at 7 p.m. Thursday (tonight) at the central office on Richmond Street.

Persons wishing to speak for or against the tax will be heard by the board.

The 3 percent tax will be placed on electric, water, television cable and telephone bills.

Nearly a third of the 176 state school districts, including Rockcastle, scrambled to set up hearings, and hurried to send out special notices so to meet the Oct. 1 deadline for approving the tax.

Contrary to earlier information, boards found out they must hold public hearings on the tax before approving it. The notice must also be reported seven days prior to the meeting. Rockcastle just did make the deadline.

The school board must raise $370,000 locally, coming from the utility tax and property assessments.

About 55 districts plan to use utility or occupational taxes to raise new local funding requirements under the new education reform law.

In Rockcastle, the 3 percent tax will generate about $250,000 in revenue, with the balance of the $370,000 coming from an .08 cent increase in property assessments.

If all goes as planned, the school assessment on Rockcastle property will be 43 cents up from the current 25 cents. If the additional money had come from property owners, the tax assessment would have been 59.5 cents. By having the 3 percent utility tax, the local school system will realize an additional $800,000.

With the additional money, the board can participate in the Tier I program with the money to be used to update, renovate, build and equip aquatic facilities to house mandated programs under the reform act.

The money will also be spent on early childhood education programs, computer laboratories, fine arts programs and to further accommodate reduction in class size.

Roundstone elementary principal William "Bill Jack" Parsons welcomed gubernatorial candidate and Kentucky's Lt. Governor Brereton Jones to the school Tuesday afternoon. Jones gave a short talk to the student body.

Dear Editor,

It was on Friday, August 31, my son, Jeremy, was put on his school bus by his teacher. His regular bus driver was unable to drive the bus that afternoon, so a substitute driver was called in to make the run. Jeremy was put on the correct bus by his teacher, but was taken off the bus by the substitute driver. The driver told Jeremy he didn't belong on that bus. When a high school student spoke up for Jeremy and told the driver that the driver told this student to sit down or he would also be removed from the bus.

It is apparent this driver didn't know Jeremy rode his bus. I believe if you are going to be a substitute bus driver you should have some knowledge about where you are going and who belongs where or at least let one of the older students help you make the correct stops.

After being removed from the bus, Jeremy looked around for a teacher or another adult, but didn't see anyone. Finding no help and frightened Jeremy instinctively began running home. He ran as far as the railroad tracks by the county health department when Lora, a family friend, saw Jeremy and picked him up and brought him home.

What if something drastic had happened to Jeremy? He could have been abducted or hit by a car. What explanation? The only explanation I was given was that it was all my fault, because in their opinion, I wasn't teaching him proper safety rules. But I know better. I didn't lose him, they did.

This incident makes me wonder are the children being watched as carefully as they should be? Should they be expected to think as rationally as a grown-up when they are just small children? Jeremy only thought about getting home. Are we teaching our children the proper safety procedures? I feel Jeremy has done well for the two years he's been going to school.

We can expect our children to be frightened and maybe panicked when put in a situation such as Jeremy's, but we should be understanding with them and willing to help and encourage them and others.

Something worse could happen the next time, not only to mine, but to someone else's child. I hope it never happens again. I love my son and I want him taken care of when he is away from me.

Dear Editor,

I am trying to locate a couple who helped me along the road recently.

I was driving along on 461 By-Pass north near Red Top Restaurant when a couple stopped me to tell my motorboat had caught fire. I was pulling my boat with a '79 red Ford pick-up. The incident occurred on June 12 around 6:30 p.m.

It is very important I talk to this couple. Would the couple please call me at 758-8136.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for their kindness and thoughtfulness shown to me following my accident. Words cannot express my appreciation for the beautiful flowers, the many get well cards, the phone calls, the visits, for offer of loan of crutches, wheel chairs and walkers and the food prepared for myself and my family.

I broke my leg in four places and will be in some type of cast for six months, but by your kindness and thoughtfulness, this trying time will be easier to endure.

Thanks so much to everyone!

REYE'S SYNDROME ALERT

Reye's Syndrome is a very serious disease that you should know about. Some people develop Reye's Syndrome as they are getting over a viral illness like the flu or chicken pox. Reye's Syndrome usually affects people from infancy through young adulthood; however, no age group is immune. It can develop 3 to 5 days after the onset of chicken pox, upper respiratory infection, or other fever-causing illnesses. It affects the liver and brain, is non-contagious, and is often misdiagnosed as encephalitis, meningitis, diabetes, poisoning, drug overdose or sudden infant death.

Typically, Reye's occurs when someone is recovering from a viral illness and begins to feel better. A person's life can depend on early diagnosis. Watch for these symptoms, usually occurring in this order:

- Relentless or continuous vomiting
- Lethargy (loss of pep and energy with little interest in their environment)
- Drowsiness (excessive sleepiness)
- Personality change (such as irritability, slurred speech, sensitivity to touch)
- Disorientation or confusion (unable to identify whereabouts, family members or answer questions)
- Combativeness (arguing out of those trying to help)
- Delirium, convulsions or loss of consciousness

Reye's Syndrome should be suspected in anyone who vomits repeatedly. Phone your doctor immediately if these symptoms develop. Voice your concern about Reye's Syndrome. If your physician is unavailable, take the person to an Emergency Room promptly. Two liver function tests (SGOT, SGPT) can be done to determine the possibility of Reye's Syndrome. There is a 90% chance of recovery when the syndrome is treated in its earliest stages by physicians and nurses experienced in the treatment of Reye's.

Studies have shown that using aspirin or aspirin-containing medications to treat the symptoms of viral illnesses increases the chance of developing Reye's Syndrome. If you or a member of your family have a flu-like illness, do not use aspirin or aspirin-containing medications. In fact, you should consult your physician before you take any drugs to treat the flu or chicken pox, particularly aspirin or anti-nausea medicines. Anti-nausea medicines may mask the symptoms of Reye's Syndrome.

The National Reye's Syndrome Foundation (NRSF), the U.S. Surgeon General, the Food and Drug Administration, and the Centers for Disease Control recommend that aspirin and combination products containing aspirin not be taken by anyone under 19 years of age during fever-causing illnesses.

Aspirin is a part of the salicylate family of medicines. Another name for aspirin is acetylsalicylic acid; some drug labels may use the words acetylsalicylate, acetylsalicylic acid, salicylic acid or salicylate instead of the word aspirin. Currently, there is no conclusive data as to whether other forms of salicylate are associated with the development of Reye's Syndrome. Until further research has answered this question, the NRSF recommends that products containing any of these substances should not be taken during episodes of viral infections.

The NRSF is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization with affiliates located in 45 states. The NRSF has pioneered the movement to disseminate knowledge about the disease in an effort to aid in early diagnosis and also provides funds for research into the causes, cure, care, treatment and prevention of Reye's Syndrome.

The garden's almost gone now. We'll have tomatoes and peppers till the frost gets them but the cucumbers, squash, eggplant, beans and such are long gone. I'm mulling over the potential that a handful of mustard and turning seed might have at this late date. It has simply been too wet to get any of the fall plants like broccoli and cauliflower out. They would have rotted anyway in the weather we've been having.

But gosh it's been fun while it lasted and it has probably paid for itself for a change. Most of the time my approach to gardening involves trying lots of new stuff. I get in on some of these three seeds for a dollar scam almost every year. I buy too much fertilizer, insecticide, and I often grow stuff that a hog wouldn't eat. But this year, I got a late start and wound up planting mostly seed leftover from seasons past or stuff that friends had given me to try.

So when I add up what little money I spent on gardening paraphernalia and compare it to what we would have paid for stuff at the grocery or roadside stands, the garden comes out making money. We've had green beans either on the table or sitting in the frig waiting to be warmed for months now. Not the same beans, but one big cooker full will usually last a month. I'll like 'em better after three times. Once or twice a week all I need for supper is a big plate of beans and a chunk of cornbread, even cornbread tastes better to me when it's a day old.

And Loreta's Eggplant Parmesan is a priceless delicacy that can't be prepared from the purple pieces of rubber that eggplants turn to before they reach produce racks in Kentucky. It needs to be in the oven thirty minutes after it leaves the vine. Lots of people tell me they won't grow eggplant because they don't like it. Nobody who has ever tried my wife's eggplant dishes continues to use that excuse. The kids even love it!

I don't figure my labor into the cost equation because the truth of the matter is that I enjoy growing a garden with the same attitude that most folks have toward their houseplants. That the stuff is edible is almost beside the point. The miracle of making things grow -- the nurturing aspect -- the appeal that gardening normally holds for me, not that there aren't exceptions once in a while.

A few years back, the late Buford Caudill and his wife Vada gave me nearly a pint of white fall bean seed. I'd been trying to get my hands on some for years and Buford called while I was home for the holidays to let me know that he'd read in the paper about my futile search. He chastised me for not coming to him in the first place because, in fact, I should have remembered that if anyone would have them, he would.

Before gardening season rolled around we moved from one house to another -- from out in the country right into metropolitan Paint Lick. My fall bean seed wound up packed away with dozens of quart jars and I couldn't find them. I ranted and raved, quarreled with everybody in the family and even blamed the dogs that I couldn't find them. Finally three years after the fact, they turned up in the residue of a fit of spring cleaning we undertook back in April.

Some sort of mile or weevil had gotten into the jar and it contents were about half beans and half bean flour. I planted them anyway, in one long row, around the first of June. Out of several hundred seed, fourteen actually sprouted. I gave those beans more attention than all of the rest of my garden combined. I checked them twice or three times daily, I watered them and I dug little trenches around them that I filled with 10-10-10. If a Japanese beetle hit my windshield on the way to or from work, I'd come home and douse my 14 fall bean plants with a concoction that contained four different brands of bug medicine.

I drove to the Rockcastle River and spent half a day finding the tallest reed poles (pipe cane to you Garrard Countians) I could find and I staked them individually. As they grew I added reeds until I had as many as five supports just for one plant. The beans covered the poles like kudzu.

Bad wind storms blew them flat on the ground twice but the reed poles are easy to put right back up. We've picked or nipped a bushel of those 14 vines and I personally have eaten more than half of them. The same kettle full

The curse of the Serpent's seed, Branham believes continues through women, evidenced in their temptation of men.

Branham taught that the Zodiac and Egyptian pyramids were equal to the scriptures in the book of Revelations of God's Word.

Almost every day there is news that people are being murdered. Some times whole families at a time. We have known this for many years now. What do you think of the people on the island who were taught to kill themselves, making a sacrifice of themselves because they worshipped their leader so much?

This Branham is another wolf in sheep's clothing. I was told to never give my money to Oral Roberts. It was pointed out to me how he always preaches on the seed which he needs so much, to support him in his ministry. Millions of people want to sing for their fortune. Maybe good singing is worth it, but some of it is only a dud, but they want a bunch of money anyway. If any singing does not appeal to me, I don't pay for it.

In Chicago, there are "Devil Worshipers" on every corner. Out of my silly curiosity I stopped to talk to one.

He sold me a book and begged me to come to one of their meetings. I left the magazine in a priest's rectory, where I had seen lascivious operations going on behind doors. I don't mean I saw the main works, only evidence of it.

I thank you sincerely and remains as ever.

of half runners or Romans that lasts a week won't last 24 hours when it's full of white fall beans in our house. And I'm saving a quart jar full of seed. I don't know whether or not I'll ever try a new brand of beans again. Beans don't get any better than white fall beans.

I tried hard to find these seeds and I'm sure that somewhere among horticulturists there's a person who can ascribe a proper name to my fall bean, but I was a long time finding them and they are not in any catalogues. I've even ordered seed that swore itself to be fall beans and then turned out to be not even remotely close. People even sent me seed in the mail that were fall beans to them. But not to me.

There's a tradition in our family to name a new seed variety after the person who gave them to us. We had Howard Caudill corn field beans and Little Howard Caudill bunch beans when I was growing up because all mom knew about the seed was that somebody got 'em from one of the fellows mentioned above.

I'm going to take it upon myself to re-establish the little white fall bean I grew this year as the Buford Caudill bean and I aim to get some of my flatland friends to grow some next year and get the seed spread around with Buford's name associated with it. It's a fitting tribute to a man I remember as a master gardener. And perhaps all that explains a little better why I enjoy gardening so much.

Social Security News

There are still many unscrupulous firms in this country trying to convince people that they need to pay for information or services which Social Security offers for free, according to Gerry Hunt, Social Security manager in Richmond.

These firms offer to take care of Social Security card name changes for new brides or to obtain earnings statements from Social Security for a fee. Both of these services are free with a phone call.

Some groups try to frighten older citizens into believing that their benefits are in danger unless they contribute to an organization which can "protect" them.

These firms and groups operate just inside the law so their solicitations cannot be stopped, Hunt said. "The best weapon we have is public information."

Medical Care

The forum being sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons at Renfro Valley Oct. 11, brings to mind many of the problems the majority of people have with their health care.

The reason for these meetings, as I understand it, is about the quality of care we receive versus the price we pay for it.

So far I haven't spoken to one person who has been satisfied with the total care we receive from the medical world nor the price that is charged for this care.

Health care is more than just going to a doctor. It can involve how we get there and how long we must wait to see him once we are there. It can mean how many times we must return for checkup (sometimes needless) and how many prescriptions we must have filled. Many of these are trial and error but we must pay for them just the same. Also many of them have side affects that can endanger our lives. Since there is no check up system between doctor and patient these side affects can cause permanent damage to one's health. A closer doctor-patient relationship could solve many problems brought about by the lack of knowledge of the patient being treated. I know a patient who was sent home before seeing the doctor and asked to return the next day. This patient lived several miles back in the hills and had driven to town in so much pain it was unsafe for him to be on the road. If that doctor had known his patient better and had understood the distance he had to drive I'm sure he would have made every effort to see him not only to relieve his pain but to save him the long drive.

There are so many flaws in our health care system it will be a mammoth task using the best brains in the nation to change it.

We need colleges to become more involved by accepting more students and turning out more qualified doctors. There seems to be a shortage of them now.

We need more doctors so evening and weekend hours can be held to take care of the working people.

We need to use more clinics to relieve the hospital emergency rooms for real emergencies. We badly need all insurance plans renovated, so people won't get tied up with red tape and paper work.

Better health care isn't for the older people only it is needed by everyone. No one, young or old, should be left to lie in a cot in a cool room in a hospital or doctors office to wait his turn for medical care.

It is a common practice for the attending nurse to call, next, and then put the patient in a small examining room, usually alone and lying on a hard examining table or cot with a sheet draped over them to again wait their turn.

This happened the other day to a patient I accompanied to a hospital in Lexington. Her appointment was for 12 noon. We were there by 11 to get checked in. Through someone's carelessness over booking or the doctor's decision to take another patient first, she wasn't seen until after 2 p.m. After leaving this room she was waiting in she again had to wait in the hall for another fifteen minutes or so before the doctor finally saw her. The care she needed only took about fifteen minutes when she was back in the little room to wait another hour before she could leave.

Now this kind of treatment to people sick enough to see a doctor is not called for and something needs to be done to a health care program that allows it to happen.

The forum being held in Renfro Valley, Oct. 11, beginning at 9 a.m. and finishing at 3 p.m. is called "Wake Up Kentucky" and will be the first held in the state to address the health care system of the nation.

The A.A.R.P. is putting on a drive nation wide to allow people to air their problems with the health care they are receiving and help by giving suggestions on how to improve it. This is a golden opportunity for the average citizen to have a say in the changes that must be made in the total health care plan that will determine our future care.

Young parents especially need to take note of this. It is you and your children that will be affected by any changes.

CAP gets grant for elderly program

The Retirement Research Foundation in Illinois has given the Christian Appalachian Project, (CAP), a grant to increase the number of participants in the project's elderly program.

The $30,000 grant is the second time in two years that Retirement Research has provided funds for expanding the scope of the project's elderly program.

Last year about $22,000 was given to expand into Estill County. This year the money, which will be 20 percent of the elderly program's total operating budget, will be used to increase participation in counties where CAP offers elderly services.

The elderly program serves approximately 339 people in Floyd, Estill, Garrard, Lincoln, southern Madison, Magoffin, Pulaski, and Rockcastle counties. Project staff and volunteers visit the elderly in their homes; have group activities for them; drive them to medical appointments and church; help with various insurance problems; help them adjust to living in a nursing home during their first month; and celebrate their birthdays.

The program in Floyd and Magoffin counties will use part of the grant to establish a special fund to help people already participating with health related items. In the other counties, the money will be used to support more staff and possible introduce the services in another county.

The Retirement Research Foundation supports programs that improve the quality of life for elderly persons in the United States. It encourages programs that maintain independent living skills, improve nursing home care, provide volunteer and employment opportunities and seek causes and solutions to significant problems of the aged.

The Outlook

Goose and Duck Season

Thanksgiving Day (November 22) marks the beginning of the 1990-91 waterfowl season in Kentucky. For the first time, goose hunting and duck hunting opens on the same day. The early portion of the split season closes after November 25.

Goose hunting resumes statewide December 1 and extends through January 31, 1991. The Western Waterfowl Zone could possibly close earlier - if the harvest quota for Canada geese is reached prior to the scheduled closing date.

Fulton County will remain open for Canada goose hunting through February 4 - unless the Ballard Reporting Area harvest quota is reached prior to that date.

The daily bag limit for geese in the Western zone is seven, and may include no more than two white-fronted geese and three Canada geese. The daily limit in the Eastern zone is also seven, except that it may include no more than two white-fronted geese and one Canada goose. The possession limit is twice the daily bag.

Shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset, except in the Ballard Reporting Area where shooting ceases at 3 p.m. from December 1 through January 26.

As might be expected, there is some misconception about the reasons for implementing more conservative limits in the Eastern zone. The lower harvest limits are simply part of a dedicated management effort aimed at restoring the eastern population to an acceptable level.

Kentucky is the wintering place for two distinct Canada goose populations, one considerably smaller than the other. The Western zone is refuge for the Mississippi Valley flock which has flourished in numbers, while the Eastern zone is host to the smaller Southern James Bay group which, because of over-harvest, poor nesting conditions and predation, has not fared quite as well.

Rocky Pritchett, waterfowl program coordinator for the fish and wildlife department, is quick to point out that the slow growth of the Southern James Bay population is a trend which can be reversed.

"We witnessed a similar pattern among the Mississippi Valley flock in the early 80s, when the population dipped to around 280,000 birds," he said. "Proper management techniques which included reduced harvest limits have rebuilt that population to a current level of about 1.3 million."

Pritchett hopes to see signs of a "turnaround" in the next couple of years, and points out that bag limits in the Eastern zone will be re-evaluated when the number of birds reaches an acceptable level.

Kentucky's reduced limit affecting the Southern James Bay geese is part of a cooperative management effort involving several states which comprise the Mississippi flyway corridor and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Last year, Canada geese invaded Western Kentucky in record numbers and experts are predicting even greater quantities this year. Hunting in the western portion of the state is forecast as "excellent."

"And let's not cast a negative shadow on the east -- barring severe winter weather conditions, goose hunting in the Eastern zone is projected to again be 'good' -- much the same as last year. Hunting for ducks, coots and mergansers resumes December 12 and continues through January 6, 1991. Hunters should note a slight change in the daily bag limit -- three ducks which may include no more than one female mallard or black duck, two wood ducks, one redhead and one pintail of either sex.

In a pair of duck hunters could take one female mallard and one black duck. This is no longer the case. The change was made to afford added protection to mallard hens, insuring the potential to increase mallard numbers.

In addition to their daily duck bag, hunters may take 15 coots and five mergansers (only one hooded merganser) per day. The possession limit is twice the daily bag and shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise until sunset.

Canvassers may not be taken. Hunters are required to use non-toxic steel shot in Kentucky's Steel Shot Zone, which has been reshaped to include all of Henderson County, southeastern portions of Craven and Oldham counties.

Waterfowl seasons, limits, and guidelines are set within and must comply with parameters established by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Those wishing to hunt on Ballard and Henderson/Slouches wildlife management areas (WMAs) must complete and submit the necessary application forms by September 30. Forms are available from both WMAs, most hunting license outlets, state conservation offices and from the central office in Frankfort.

Hunters are encouraged to obtain (and read carefully) a copy of the Kentucky Waterfowl Hunting Guide, which includes any exceptions to the standard statewide guidelines. The guide should be available from the sources listed above around the first of November.

CONTEST DEADLINE APPROACHING
Have you taken any interesting photos lately? If so, you may want to enter Happy Hunting Ground magazine's annual photo contest.

The rules are fairly simple. All entries must be "fish and wildlife" related and taken in Kentucky. People of all ages "caught in the act" of enjoying nature or hunting and fishing-type activities make good subject matter.

Although 35mm slides are preferred, color prints 5x7 or larger may also be submitted.

Winning photos will be published in an upcoming edition of Happy Hunting Ground and each winner will receive a cash award. The Grand Prize is $150.

Complete rules and official entry forms are available from the Department of Fish and Wildlife's public relations division; phone (502) 564-4336.

Entries must be postmarked no later than October 1, 1990.

PUBLIC HEARINGS SCHEDULED
Public hearing dates regarding early migratory bird and spring turkey seasons and regulations have been scheduled as follows:
October 23, 9 a.m. -- early migratory bird season dates.
October 31, 9 a.m. -- spring turkey season dates.

The hearings will be conducted in the commission room at the department's central office in Frankfort. Those wishing to address either of these public hearings must write to the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Division of Wildlife, #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, KY 40601. If no written requests to be heard are received for a particular hearing, it will be cancelled.

Backgrounding Beef Cattle
Backgrounding beef cattle appears to be the most profitable approach to retained ownership this fall, according to a University of Kentucky livestock marketing specialist.

Retained ownership traditionally has been thought of as keeping cattle through the finishing stage, said Lee Meyer, an Extension economist with the UK College of Agriculture. Actually, it is keeping ownership of animals past the time (weight) they normally would be sold. The cattle physically may be on another farm, or in a feedlot, but the original farmer retains title.

"Retaining animals through the backgrounding stage poses less risk and could result in profits of $30 to $50 a head this winter," Meyer said. "Current cattle prices, estimated feed and non-calf costs and the spring market price outlook indicate that backgrounding will be the most profitable way to go."

Retaining ownership through the finishing stage likely will result in small to negative profits on cattle held over until next spring, according to Meyer.

"Estimated production costs are $78 per hundredweight," he said. "The projected market price is in the $75 to $80 per hundredweight range. This scenario poses too great a risk."

Relative profitability is one factor to consider when deciding how long to retain ownership, according to Meyer.

"Farmers should consider relative profitability -- money received for animals versus the cost of keeping them through the next stage -- at each stage of ownership," he said.

"It may be that while one stage is profitable, another stage would be even more profitable," Meyer explained. "For instance, holding animals through the finishing stage may result in a profit of $20 dollars per head. But more profit could be made by retaining ownership in the backgrounding stage, which is expected to return $30 to $50 per head this winter."

"Farmers with yearlings would probably do better to sell, then reinvest the money in backgrounding calves, rather than retaining ownership until finishing."

Cash flow during the time animal ownership is retained "is another consideration," Meyer said. Farmers must be able to postpone receiving money they would have gotten if the animals had been sold at the normal

Local school boards can restrict sports participation

A new Kentucky law which prohibits rules barring 7th and 8th grade students from participating in high school sports does not prevent local school boards from restricting participation, based on other factors such as a student's health, safety or academic stand, according to an opinion issued by Attorney General Fred Cowan.

The opinion deals with House Bill 443 which was enacted by the 1990 General Assembly. The Attorney General's opinion was requested by the Fayette County Board of education which asked if the new law prevents the Board from limiting the participation of students of a particular weight and height in high-contact sports.

The opinion states that House Bill 443 prohibits the state school board, the Kentucky High School Athletic Association (KHSAA), and local school boards from barring 7th and 8th grade students from participating in high school sports or from participating in more than one school sport team at the same time in the same sport.

However, the opinion says nothing in the law "prohibits the state board, KHSAA, or local school boards from making rules that limit a student's participation in sports activities based on the student's health, safety and academic standing." The opinion cites a 1990 Kentucky

Appeals ruling, Thompson v. Fayette County Public Schools, which states: "(A) student has neither a property interest nor any fundamental right to participate in extracurricular activities in Kentucky."

Thus, the opinion concludes that if the Fayette school board determines that it is not in the best interest of the general health and welfare of students of a particular weight and height to participate in high-contact sports, the board "may limit participation in such sports activities by students who fail to meet the weight and height requirements without violating the terms of House Bill 443."

In addition to his parents, Robert and Goldie Cope of Berea, he is survived by his wife Kimberly Rickles Cope of Red Hill; four sons, Jeff, Shane, Junior and Jamey Cope, all of Berea; two daughters, Tonya Hammonds and Brandy Hammonds, both of Sande Gap; a brother, Robert Cope of Berea and two sisters, Imogene Gilbert of Red Hill and Rhonda Cople of Lexington.

Services were Sept. 24 at Dowell and Martin Funeral Home by Bros. Harold Ballinger and Cecil Richard, burial was in the Ralph Clark Family Cemetery at Three Links.

Pallbearers were Craig Clark, Jim Jones, Howard Johnson, Dennis Clark, Lonzie Vanwinkle, Wayne Himes and Gregg Eden.

Jimmy Decker

Jimmy Decker, 90, of Rt. 2, Mt. Vernon, died Sept. 21, 1990 at the Rockcastle Hospital after a long illness.

He was born on March 17, 1900 in Rockcastle County, the son of the late Sodd and Ellen Doan Decker. He was a retired carpenter and a member of the First Church of Jesus Christ at Pine Hill.

Survivors are: His wife, Georgia Stephens Decker; six sons, Raymond of Burnside, Paris of Lockland, Ohio, Russell of Cincinnati, Ohio, Simmie of Alexandria, James and Clarence, both of Mt. Vernon; a stepson, Donnie Dean of Brookfield; three daughters, Mrs. Thelma Bullock of Lexington, Mrs. Ruth Oyler of Green Hill, Ohio, and Mrs. Mazzie Childress of West Chester, Ohio; two step daughters, Mrs. Linda McClure of Rt. 2, Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Jo-ann Battif of Mt. Sterling; four brothers, Austin of London, Delbert and John, both of Somerset, and Doyle of Mooresville, Ind.; a half brother, Simmie Clifford of Norwood, Ohio; two sisters, Mrs. Iva Lincoln and Mrs. Opal Taylor, both of Somerset; several grandchildren and great grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his first wife, Minnie Deatherage Decker, by a son, three brothers and a sister.

Services were held Sept. 23, at Cox Funeral Home Chapel with Bro. Charles Matey and Oscar Howe officiating. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Sherrill Jennings, Shelby Balfill, Ray Decker, Donnie Lamb, Lanny Middleton and Danny Decker.

Marion Oliver

L. Marion Oliver, 81, well known Berea businessman, died Sept. 16, 1990.

One of Madison county's largest landowners, he was known for raising hackney ponies, selling insurance and farming.

A native of Livingston, Oliver and his family moved to Berea when he was six years old where he attended school.

The son of Joseph and Rena Oliver, he received his degree from the University of Kentucky Law School and was admitted to practice in 1935. At the time of his death he was the oldest agent in the nation for the State Automobile Mutual Insurance Company.

He was a member of the Berea Baptist Church and a Shriner. He is survived by his wife, Mildred; two sons, Roger M. and Douglas V. Oliver, both of Berea; a sister, Gladys Becktel of Las Vegas, Nev., and five grandchildren.

Services were held in Berea with burial in Berea Cemetery.

William Halcomb

William H. Halcomb, 81, of Bribhaven Nursing Home in Somerset and formerly of Orlando, died Sept. 21, 1990 in Somerset.

He was born in Rockcastle County Sept. 23, 1908, the son of Lawrence and Francis Wyrick Halcomb.

He is survived by three brothers, Arvil Halcomb of Crothersville, Ind., Jim Halcomb of Orlando and Everett Halcomb of Somerset, and a sister, Eva Wyrick of Orlando.

Services were Sept. 25 at Dowell and Martin Funeral Home by Bro. Olen McGuire. Burial was in the Halcomb family Cemetery.

Walter Renner

Walter Renner, 76, of U.S. 25 south, Mt. Vernon was killed Tuesday when he fell from the roof of his house.

He reportedly was uncapping a chimney when he fell. He died of internal injuries.

Services are incomplete at Cox Funeral Home.

at Cox's trailer park. She was killed when a shotgun blast hit her in the back while she sat in the back seat of a car with her sister.

Curry was with her mother and some of her friends when the shooting occurred. Margaret Alcorn of Mt. Vernon has been charged with the murder. She was to have gone on trial last week, but the trial was moved to November 27.

Tim Smith died from hypothermia in February 18 after he fell from a 40 foot cliff in the Mullins Station area of the county.

Dewayne "Wirehead" Singleton was indicted for manslaughter and later pled guilty to reckless homicide because he was with Smith at the time of the fall, but did not report it to authorities. The fall was not enough to kill Smith, but his body temperature got so low during the cold night that normal body functions could not occur.

Singleton is now serving time in the state penitentiary.

On March 7, a 17-year-old RCHS student placed her infant son in a trash bag and left it in a wooded area in the Buffalo section. It died from suffocation. The juvenile had had the child at home alone and did not want her parents to know that she had been pregnant.

Police found the baby 24 hours after the mother had abandoned it.

in which he is accused of entering the home of Tomi Howard and stealing a handgun.

He is free until his arraignment in Circuit Court Friday.

Another Livingston man, Danny

Blackburn, 19, was indicted for receiving stolen property over $100. According to the indictment, police found a stolen 1987 Suzuki four-wheeler in his possession that had been stolen in Laurel County on September 6. Blackburn is due in circuit court on Friday.

Kevin Holt of Berea was indicted for second degree escape after he broke away from deputy jailer T.J. Parsons on September 11.

Rockcastle County Homemakers

By: Elizabeth F. Mullins

Why did Christine Brown decorate walls with aprons and hats in Kastle Inn Dining Room Sept. 18th? Well, the county homemakers wore their favorite apron to their annual meeting, maybe the hats were to say, "Hats off to the many homemakers," that came for dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Sunshine Homemakers had put pink and white tablecloths on the tables. The center pieces were beautiful pink flower arrangements.

Before the dinner the county's president, Carol Riddle welcomed the group and the county's vice-president, Linda Williams, presented the "Thought of the Day." Dinner was then served.

To get acquainted Vickie Tyler of Busy Bees Homemakers had written games.

Noreita Thompson, county secretary, called the roll by clubs.

The program was about "Past and Present Famous Kentucky Women." Patty Rai Smith, Home Economics Program Specialist of University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service, presented the interesting program. She showed slides and told the group about many past famous women and surprisingly quite a few present famous females!

Then came the homemakers awards for the year!

Carol Riddle made the presentations, first for Perfect Attendance. They were given to Alta Bullock of Rise and Shine Homemakers; Vickie Tyler and Edith Lamb of Busy Bees Homemakers; Virginia Hansel, Tammy Hopkins, Christine Taylor, Joyce Taylor, Noreita Thompson and Carolyn White of Quail Homemakers; and Brenda Powell, Linda Williams, and Debbie McQueen of Sunshine Club.

There were four 100 percent clubs this year!

The apron contest proved entertaining.

Door prizes were the best of all annual dinners' prizes!

Irene Reid, area president, installed the new officers for the coming year.

They were president, Noreita Thompson; vice president, Edith Lamb; secretary, Brenda Powell; Treasurer, Clara Proctor.

To close this memorable meeting all that were present read (in unison) the Kentucky Homemakers Creed.

Dear Editor,

My dear son, Tony Saylor, has been shipped to Saudi Arabia with his National Guard Unit.

Please remember him and his two children, Heather and Heath, in your prayers.

Thank you,
Lillie Saylor

PART IV

Executive Summary

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The 1989-90 school year was a most progressive year for the Rockcastle County School System. The year brought many changes which will greatly impact the future of our children. The Education Reform Act of 1990 is the primary change agent; however, our system initiated other actions which will continue to positively impact our educational program. Attendance maintained the highest average in the history of our schools, test scores significantly improved, and a strategic planning committee was formed to help chart the course for future growth and improvement.

Through efforts of the strategic planning committee, the following mission statement was developed for our schools:

The mission of the Rockcastle County Schools is to develop students who have the knowledge and basic life skills to lead productive, fulfilling lives; therefore, we must create a positive, educational environment which requires a well-defined curriculum, appropriate facilities, and a total commitment from school personnel, students, parents, and community.

The following goals have been established for the 1990-91 school year:

- Plan for the implementation of reform measures. Basically, schools will have the 1990-91 year to plan and prepare for implementation of the major components of the Kentucky Education Reform Act.
- Promote effective staff development at the district and individual school level. All staff must be involved.
- Conduct a new facility survey to establish a long-range building program.
- Continue our efforts to promote higher attendance and improve academic performance.
- Develop a comprehensive plan to implement computer/other technology in all our schools.
- Inform and involve the public in all our efforts to improve schools.

Missionary Meeting

By: Elizabeth F. Mullins

The Missionary Group of Brodhead Christian Church's Meeting, Sat. Sept. 15, proved to be rewarding.

The spiritual reward was Betty Machal's reading about Mike and Brenda Distren's missionary work in Antigua, where they started being missionaries.

Then Marjorie Shivel's reading a letter from Elipaso, Texas, of the Diskin's missionary work there, at the present time.

These two items made us thankful that we had helped the Diskins from the time they became missionaries.

Our second reward was when Jenney Gilpin gave us $190 for the pecans her husband, Roger, sold for us. Our diminishing account needed a boost.

Of course, we enjoyed taking a tour of the Gilpins new country colonial home and furnishings.

We met in the family room that led through the kitchen to the spacious dining room.

There the group sat for refreshments and visiting. These young hostesses always have new and delicious snacks and coffees.

I am so glad we still have some night drivers, Betty Machal and Marjorie Shivel, or we couldn't have had our meeting in Jenney Gilpin's beautiful home in London.

Emily Glovak is in Sowder Nursing Home at long last!

She has wanted to be there ever since she had a stroke in March.

We plan to take turns visiting her now, daily. She loves to talk. She surely was a faithful member of our church and missionary society.

Okinawa reunion

Former members of the 705th AAA Gun Battalion who served on Okinawa during the Korean War 1951-53 are planning a reunion next summer in Owensboro. We are trying to locate James Saylor who was from Mt. Vernon and Hamilton, Ohio at that time. Would appreciate hearing from Jim or anybody that might know where he might be found.

Contact: Jim Stuerzenberger, 3400 Hummingbird Loop South, Owensboro, Ky. 42301 or phone 502-926-2885.

New class

The Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals will be conducting an Electrical Retraining Class beginning on Oct. 1 at 6 p.m. at the Barton Building in Barbourville.

The classes will be held on Monday and Wednesday nights from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Saturday's weather cooperated with plans for swimming. Saturday, September 29, a hike is planned to Eagle's Nest in Berea. Cars will leave the Center promptly at 10 a.m. The hike takes approximately four hours up and down, so the group will return about 5. Participants should wear comfortable shoes, layered clothing, and bring canned drinks and possibly a sandwich. Peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and fruit will be provided by the staff. There is no charge, but items must have their regular Teens Center permission slips signed.

Schedule for the week:
 Tuesday - Thursday 3:30 - 5 Tutoring (optional)
 Tuesday - 4:15 - Teen Council (all present participate)

5:30 - Karate (open enrollment - girls welcome)
 Wednesday - 4 - Creative crafts - grapevine wreaths and Halloween masks and monitors (paper mache)

Teen Center News

More than thirty junior high students from Brodhead, Mt. Vernon and Roundstone Elementary Schools gathered for games, dancing and contests at the Teen Center last Friday night. Several parents stayed for the evening and comments were enthusiastic. This is an age when youngsters are striving to gain some independence, and they need wholesome social outlets. Junior High Night will be a regular part of the Teen Center program; special activities will be planned around holiday times.

Countless parents especially step parents and foster parents express frustration in dealing with their children when they reach adolescence. A group of parents are currently forming to discuss such issues as setting limits and talking with their children at this age. If you would be interested in joining a daytime or evening group of this nature which would meet weekly or occasionally, phone the Center Coordinator, Ginny Gilpatrick, 256-4919.

There will be a poster contest for PTA and a student in each grade level will win $5. The theme is "Together we can make a difference. Join PTA".

The only requirements for joining PTA is that the person be over 16 years of age and not belong to another PTA. You can live anywhere and still be a member of Mt. Vernon Elementary PTA. Talk to everyone you know and encourage them to be a part of PTA.

To join PTA please fill out the form below with $3 and either send it to school c/o P.O. Box 217, Mt. Vernon, KY 40456, or send it with your child. We will send back your coupon book, valued at approximately $100, and your membership card. For more information come by the PTA office, Room 129, or call Darlena Bowles, PTA President (Home 256-5496) or Lu Ed Nielsen, Membership Chairman (Home 758-4088), or contact us at school at 256-2953.

Sincerely,
 Darlena Bowles

U.S. SENATOR FOR KENTUCKY

Mitch McConnell

MAKE SURE YOU'RE COUNTED IN THE CENSUS

The preliminary figures of the 1990 census are in and the indications for Kentucky are not good. The early numbers show that our state is losing population. If this is confirmed in the final census figure, it will have devastating consequences that will be felt throughout our state for the next ten years. For example, we not only stand to lose federal funds that are distributed according to census figures but possibly a Congressional district as well. However, there is still time to turn this situation around. It is imperative that anyone who has not been counted by the census take time out and be counted BEFORE THE SEPTEMBER 30th DEADLINE.

The purpose of the census is not only to provide population statistics to the latest almanac, but is also the basis which state funding levels for federal aid are determined. Just as important, the census decides how many Congressmen will represent a state in the U.S. House of Representatives. An inaccurate census count could cost our state millions of dollars in precious federal funds as well as political clout in Washington. A recent estimate dramatically illustrates what happens when a state's population is undercounted. For every person who is not counted, a state loses about $800 a year or $8,000 by the time the new census is taken.

There is no official estimate of uncounted Kentuckians, but it could be in the thousands. This would result in Kentucky losing out on millions of dollars in federal funds. This is money that would otherwise be used to fund projects such as Headstart and School Lunch children's programs, housing for low-income elderly, and anti-drug programs would all suffer. The entire quality of life in our state would in one way or another be affected.

A reduction in the state's population could mean that we can lose a Congressional seat. The Constitution states that representation in the House be linked to population. If the census records a decrease, then we could lose a Congressman. This would be damaging to the state when agriculture, energy, education and other important issues are being debated and voted upon in Congress.

The key to making sure that we keep our federal funding and our Congressional seat is to make sure that everyone is counted. If the census never reached you, immediately contact your local census office or call the toll-free number listed below that is connected directly to the U.S. Census Department.

The continued health and growth of our state will depend in part on the census count. That's why it is up to each and every one of us to do our part and stand up and be counted.

Hot Air Balloon Visits Brodhead Elementary.....

The "Clean Air for Kentucky" hot air balloon made an appearance at the Brodhead Elementary School Thursday, Sept. 13. The balloon, piloted by Captain ZAP (Zap Air Pollution) of Versailles, represents the Department for Environmental Protection, Division for Air Quality at schools and special events throughout the Commonwealth.

Kimberly Shivel gets ride on hot air balloon
 Kimberly Shivel, daughter of Richard Shivel and Kathy Shivel, a BES student, submitted the runner-up poster in the Ky. Division for Air Quality "Clean Air for Kentucky" poster contest of 1989. As a result, Kimberly received a plaque and a ride on the division's hot air balloon which visited Brodhead Elementary Sept. 13. With Kimberly in the photo at left, just before lift-off area, from left: Tom Payne, BES principal; Captain ZAP (Jim School of Versailles) and Lillie Cox of Frankfort, program coordinator for "Clean Air for Kentucky" Division for Air Quality. Ms. Cox said that at each balloon visit, the Division for Air Quality staff gives a short presentation on Kentucky's air quality and distributes materials on the need for clean air and what the public can do to protect it. "We all know we need clean air but many people shy away from learning about air pollution because it is a complex, technical subject. The balloon gets attention and opens doors to understanding," said Cox. Below is a photo of Kimberly's poster.

Contest Poster Says it All — Vehicle Emissions are a Major Contributor to Air Pollution

Fifth grader, Kimberly Shivel, Brodhead Elementary School, Brodhead, Kentucky, was the 1989 runner-up in the Division for Air Quality's poster contest.

Mt. Vernon Elementary News

We would like to give special recognition to several of our classrooms who have had perfect attendance since the beginning of the school year. The classroom of Mrs. Karen Powell, 5th grade and Mrs. Shannon Bales, 6th grade have both had 100 percent attendance. This is the way to go! Pizza parties have been held for the classroom of Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Bales, and also Mrs. Lear. They have attended the Pizza Hut and PTA has furnished the soft drinks for their parties.

Tiger Pause

The hot air balloon finally arrived at BES and what a spectacular show it was! Squeals of delight went up from the students as Kimberly Shivel climbed aboard the basket for the ride she had waited for, for almost a year. Kimberly received a plaque from Captain ZAP (Zap Out Pollution), with the Clean Air of Kentucky Program. Kimberly was recognized as state winner of the poster contest she had entered in 1989, while a student in Mrs. Sharon McKinney's sixth grade. Congratulations Kimberly and thanks for allowing all of us this opportunity!

Mrs. Judy Doyle's fifth grade homeroom enjoyed a Pizza Hut cutting, Friday, which they earned for 20 consecutive days attendance. The trip was very full-filling!

John McQueary, County 4-H Extension Agent, has been organizing clubs in each classroom, grades 4-8. 4-H offers a wide variety of interest that our students enjoy.

Teachers, Linda Cummins, Kelly Pensol, and Charlotte Bullock, coordinated a trip for their fourth graders to the Arts and Crafts Festival in Renfro Valley. The excursion enhanced the fourth grade Kentucky History curriculum.

Two of our Jr. High students, Jeffrey Owens and Corey Scott are members of the Rockcastle County High School Golf team. We wish them much success.

Feedback from our students and teachers regarding the DARE program, has been positive. Policeman, Jack Fortner, says that our students will be featured on a DARE calendar that will be printed later. Talk to your children. Ask them about DARE BEAR!

Student pictures are here. The package cost $7.50.

ALL A'S
 Charles Napier is proud to announce that his 5th grade class has three weeks with all A's in spelling. This is a very important part of education. So many people are not able to spell correctly, and the English language is a very difficult language to learn.

DRUG POSTER CONTEST
 Mrs. Rose McKinney, another 5th grade teacher gave us a report on the Drug Poster Contest. "This is a special contest that is being sponsored by Gov. Wilkinson. The posters of Jennifer Dykes, Aatish Patel and Tim McNew were selected to represent MVES in the Drug Poster Contest. The posters were sent on to Frankfort to the Governor for judging. We had seventeen students in our room who entered and all of the posters were excellent. Our room is now in the process of writing letters to the Secretary of State for the Environment in London, England. We are protesting the move to lift the International ban on the ivory trade and Hong Kong's "personal effects" loophole that is encouraging the continued slaughter of the African elephants process by poachers. This is a part of our international study on the environment and endangered species."

PTA VOLUNTEER OF THE MONTH

The Mt. Vernon Elementary School PTA is very proud to honor Linda Singleton as our volunteer of the month. Linda has been helping in several areas and is deeply appreciated by everyone. Linda has three children who attend MVES, and this is one of her reasons for becoming involved in PTA. She has Stephanie in first grade, Keisa in third and Jennifer in fifth. She decided to come to school to see what goes on and to become involved in the educational process. She is currently working towards her GED and we are very proud that she is taking this step to further her own education, as well as to help children in Mr. Napier's room during math with extra help and assistance. She feels that she is helping herself and is also helping others. She also helps us in the office with whatever needs to be done, and that can be a variety of things.

Thank you Linda, and we hope that you will continue to be with us for a long time. Remember, you don't have to have a child in MVES, or even be a parent to be a PTA member.

Together we can make a difference.
 Submitted by Lu Ed Nielsen, membership chairman MVES PTA.

Thank You!

Report on Servicemen will be next week

The response to our request for information about our local men and women serving in Saudi Arabia has been good and we intend to run them next week with pictures of those we have. If you have not brought in information about a member of your family, you may still do so through next Tuesday.

Attorney disbarred

Attorney Ray Bailiff Jr., who tried several criminal cases in Rockcastle, has been barred from practicing law in Kentucky for at least the next five years.

The Kentucky Bar Association filed a complaint alleging that Bailiff, as a designated administrator, failed to timely settle an estate entrusted to him in 1984, made improper use of funds in his trust account and told a trial commissioner that the estate had been settled, when in fact it remained open for another year.

He pleaded not guilty in Pulaski Circuit Court to charges of theft. He is accused of personal use of $7,150 from the estate. A preliminary hearing has been set for Oct. 26.

Break-in at residence Cameron charged with possession

Items valued at several hundred dollars was taken in a break-in Monday at the home of Marvin Dean Cromer of the Broadhead Area.

Taken in the break-in were a 20-gauge shotgun, 410 gauge shotgun, automatic rifle, six rings and 16 Nintendo games.

Entrance to the house was gained by kicking in a side door, according to a sheriff's report.

A total of 15 cases of beer were confiscated by Livingston police, assisted by the sheriff deputies, Friday on a search warrant.

Charged with possession of alcoholic beverages in a local option territory for purpose of sale was Steve Cameron of Livingston.

World Chicken Festival at London Sept. 27-30

There'll be a lot of crowing going on in London, Thursday through Sunday, when the area holds the world Chicken Festival.

Among events Friday are chicken joke telling contest; best legs contest (human), rooster crowing, strutting and clucking contest.

Saturday features an egghead (bald) contest, a Col. Harlan Sanders look-alike contest, East Bernstadt native son Carl Hurley will perform.

Florida Boys in concert

The Florida Boys, nationally known gospel quartet will be in concert Sunday at 3 p.m. in the New Barn at Renfro Valley.

The Florida Boys have been singing gospel music for over 43 years and sing 50 weekends a year all over America. Many folks remember waking up on Sunday morning to the sounds of The Florida Boys as they hosted the award-winning T.V. program, The Gospel Singing Jubilee.

The Florida Boys have been in and over a dozen foreign countries and perform at most major events in southern gospel music year after year. Telephone 1-800-765-SING for reservations.

Jerry Martin, left and Ralph Marcum, members of the Kentucky Longhunters were on hand at the Heritage Craft Festival to enlighten folks on their hobby. Martin and Marcum will be featured in a story in next week's Signal. They are shown above throwing tomahawks.

Joseph Kirby of New Albany was one of the many artists and craftsmen on hand at the Heritage Craft Festival in Renfro Valley this past weekend. Joe is quite an accomplished artist who illustrates on wood. Most of his themes are (American), life from the mid 1800's to the turn of the century.

Free dental sealants for children

Hundreds of Kentucky's children will receive free dental sealants as part of a nationwide program sponsored by The Children's Miracle Network Television and Johnson & Johnson Professional Dental Care, a division of Johnson & Johnson Consumer Products, Inc.

Due to the University of Kentucky Hospital's affiliation with the Telethon, faculty from the UK Pediatric Dental Clinic will volunteer their services to apply the sealants.

Dental sealants, recommended by the American Dental Association are thin, liquid plastic coatings. When applied, the sealant flows into the teeth's grooves and seals the chewing surfaces of the back teeth. Because food and bacteria can't penetrate this coating, sealants can provide 100 percent protection from decay on these surfaces.

For more information call Louise Godshall at 233-6363.

Two escape injury in head-on Drivers of two vehicles escaped injury early Monday in an accident on U.S. 150 west of Mt. Vernon.

Urban Hamm, 82, of Rt. 4, Mt. Vernon, told State Police Trooper Craig Sutton he was east bound on U.S. 150 and made a left turn on Mareburg Cemetery Road and because of fog and glare of the sun failed to see an approaching vehicle west bound driven by Darrell Bunch, 47, of Bloomfield. Police said Hamm struck the Bunch vehicle in the left side.

Urban Hamm of Spiro and Darrell Bunch of Bloomfield escaped serious injury in a Monday morning accident on Hwy. 150 at Mareburg. Police said that Hamm could not see because of the blinding sun when he turned into Bunch's path.

Food Fair and American Cancer Society combining in fight against cancer

"Putting it in the Bag."

That's what participating Mt. Vernon Food Fair and the American Cancer Society are doing in the fight against cancer.

To create public awareness about cancer and generate money for the American Cancer Society's cancer control programs, Food Fair is sponsoring "Grocers Fight Cancer" on October 3. On that day Food Fair will contribute a percentage of their sales to the American Cancer Society.

If you want to learn to "Eat Smart," have lots of fun and educate yourself about cancer, then this is an event you'll want to attend.

American Cancer Society volunteers will be available to answer any questions and to show you what foods may reduce your cancer risk.

Also featured during this event will be "celebrity baggers" who have volunteered to serve you with a smile while creating some excitement in the checkout line. They will accept donations and/or tips to benefit the American Cancer Society.

Food Fair has also added some additional spice to your ordinary shopping. The event will begin with a bang when they open their doors at 9 a.m. Entertainment will be provided throughout the day to make your visit a more memorable one.

To help put cancer "in the bag," come and shop at Food Fair and have some fun while you do that weekly shopping. Even if it's only for a carton of milk, you'll be glad you came.

Blood pressure screening will be done from 10 a.m. to 12 noon on October 3rd.

Death Bulletin

Billie W. Childress dies in Louisville

Miss Billie W. Childress, 55, of Louisville and formerly of Mt. Vernon, died Tuesday, September 25, 1990, at her home of a heart condition.

She was born Dec. 19, 1934 in Casey County, the daughter of Mrs. Zana Blackburn Childress of Mt. Vernon and the late Walker Childress. She was a graduate of Bryant-Stratton Business School and a legal secretary and office manager of Robert English, Attorney in Louisville.

Survivors besides her mother, Mrs. Zana Blackburn Childress, include five uncles, ten aunts and several cousins.

Services will be Friday, Sept. 28 at 2 p.m. at the Cox Funeral Home Chapel with Bro. Buford Parkerson officiating, burial in Elmwood Cemetery.

Fifth bank sues Sen. Rogers

A fifth bank has filed a cross-claim against state Sen. John D. Rogers to recover unpaid debts by foreclosure on several properties.

Mutual Federal Savings Bank of Somerset says it is owed $13,668 plus interest on a $20,000 mortgage taken out Dec. 23, 1983 on property in the Saline community on West Ky. 80.

The property secured by the mortgage, according to descriptions contained in court records filed in the case, is the same tract that Rogers mortgaged to the First State Bank of Manchester May 1, 1986.

The loan from Mutual Federal was refinanced six times between June 7, 1985 and April 25, 1989, according to contracts filed in the case.

Citizens National Bank brought suit against Rogers in Pulaski Circuit Court June 15 seeking foreclosure on three tracts of land off of West Ky. 80 and his home in Hillandale subdivision. It says Rogers owes nearly $400,000 in principal and interest on two promissory notes.

Cross-claims were subsequently filed by First State Bank of Manchester, First & Farmers Bank of Somerset and the Bank of Mt. Vernon. First State Bank filed a motion, later granted, asking that Mutual Federal be directed to answer the suit, as a defendant.

In a response to Citizens' original complaint, Rogers claims the loan amounts and mortgages listed by the bank are incorrect and has asked the court to make a determination of the actual debts.

Pursuant to a 1987 judgement awarded to the Bank of Mt. Vernon against Rogers, the state treasurer was ordered to garnish his wages.

Eugene W. Harrell, director of disbursement and accounting in the state treasurer's office, indicated last month that he has no record of any continuing garnishments of Rogers' paychecks from 1988 to 1990. Records of garnishments for previous periods have been destroyed in accordance with policies set up by the State Archives and Records Commission, according to Harrell.

Gerald Garner, left, of Estwing Hardware Company was in Mt. Vernon last week to present John Cox of Cox Hardware with a Gold Hammer for 50 years of service to the hardware industry. John's father, C.C. Cox, who started Cox Hardware was also presented with the hammer.

Marijuana Strike Force strikes here

By: Ray McClure

When the next report is issued by the Governor's Marijuana Strike Force, the Rockcastle figures should increase by several hundred plants.

The Strike Force has operated in Rockcastle for several days, and although no official count has been reported, it's a good guess over 10,000 plants have been harvested and handed to a Burr hillside and burned - maybe double that amount.

"They're a busy bunch," said one onlooker as he watched the helicopters land and take off. "They must be getting a lot of pot." They were.

The latest official count showed 6,676 plants were found and burned in the county, mostly from east and south sections, but that was early in the hunt.

As several stories in the Signal have noted, Sheriff Shirley Smith and deputies have also destroyed nearly that many plants.

The helicopters that are used to find and destroy the plants have run continually since they have been in the area bringing the plants to the Burr site.

No one has apparently been arrested. At least, no one has been charged in Rockcastle District Court by the Strike Force. Arrests are usually made only if the person is caught in the patch and that is not often.

However, the Strike Force is undoubtedly making a dent in marijuana growing in the area. It is beginning to be a supply and demand situation, police say.

By keeping the supply down and prices up, police hope to deter more casual users from obtaining pot.

High grade marijuana now costs as much as $180 to $200 an ounce, up from $35 to $40 about 12 years ago. A year ago, the price was $100 to $120 an ounce.

Through last week, the state Strike Force had found and destroyed 421,400 plants in Kentucky and arrested 147 people since Jan. 1.

"The marijuana growers must be getting the message," said Strike Force Director Gary Faulkner. "Cooperation means bigger harvests. Our team approach is paying off."

Faulkner said the Strike Force is doing more than just cutting down marijuana plants. "It's also paying growers out of business and behind bars."

In the eight county designated Cumberland Valley Area Development District, which includes Rockcastle, as of Sept. 14, the Strike Force had destroyed 49,866 plants, second in the state only to the Kentucky River Area Development District where 267,602 plants were destroyed. That district includes Owsley, Leslie, Knott, Wolfe, Lee, Letcher, Breathitt and Perry Counties.

At the height of the strike force's work in the county, some residents were keeping a sharp eye out on the goings on.

"I drove down toward Lamerco the other day and saw them at work with the helicopters and stopped to watch," a local woman said. "While I was parked these guys with orange-look people kept coming by and stopping once in awhile. It was funny. I guess they were wondering who, maybe them, was getting their crop cut down. There won't be any Christmas this year for some."

Rockets crush Central 42-0

By: Richard Anderkin
 Fresh off a 42-0 thrashing of Knox Central Friday night, the Rockcastle County Rockets football team is now looking for the "Big Win."
 Friday night Bell County, who is ranked sixth in the state and undefeated, will roll into Mt. Vernon to defend their district title.

But, in their way is the always tough - Rockets, who are also undefeated. It should prove to be one of the best high school football games of the season.

Junior Jonathon Saylor's return to the Rockets line-up Friday night certainly did not go unnoticed. He had been sidelined since the opening game of the season with a knee injury, but Friday night he racked up 98 yards on just five carries and scored two touchdowns.

With Saylor back, the Rocket's chances of the upset Friday night are much better.

Senior lineman Scottie Hines turned in another excellent performance both on offense and defense.

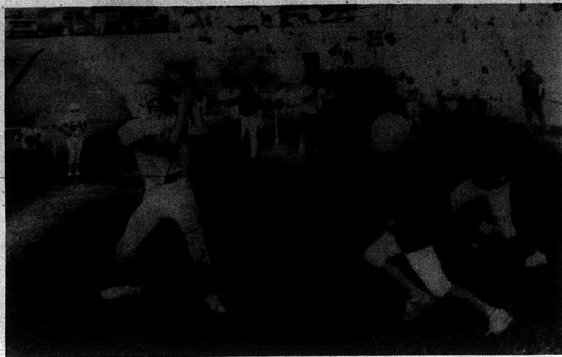

On defense he had seven tackles and five assists and on offense he made several key blocks to free Rockcastle runners.

Hines has been touted as one of the best linemen in the state and his performances this season have done nothing to make college scouts think any differently. He is major college material and the RCHS Rockets are looking for a big game from this big man. At 6'3" and 250 pounds he will anchor the Rockets offensive line against a very large Bell County defensive line.

Sophomore J.D. Harris also turned in a good performance Friday night getting 57 yards and 17 carries and scoring one touchdown.

Mike Spires had 31 yards on seven

Rockets play #6 ranked Bell Co. Friday Night at RCHS

Brandon Durham of the Roundstone Redskins caught a touchdown pass in Tuesday night's game against the Wildcats in which they won 66-6. The Redskins are 2 and 1 and the Wildcats are still undefeated in league play.

Pin Busters, Rockets and Ten Pins lead

The Pin Busters are undefeated in the Rockcastle Mixed League at Maroon Lanes in Richmond with a 12-0 record. The Rockets have lost three and are 9-3 and the Ten Pins are 8 and 4 for third place.

NAPA took high team series handicap with a 2,412. The Ten Pins were second at 2,359 and Babe's Bunch third with a 2,313.

NAPA also took high and second high team games handicap with an 840 and 813, respectively. Babe's Bunch was third with an 813.

Bill Reynolds had high men series with a 631. Tim Reynolds was second with a 594 and Babe Daugherty third with a 586.

Daugherty took high men's game with a 239. Bill Reynolds was second with a 231 and Tim Reynolds third with a 216.

Evelyn Mullins had high women's series with a 499. Wavelene Mullins was second with a 484 and Jamie Bryant's 473 was good for third place.

 Evelyn Mullins also had high women's game with a 193; Pennie Fortner was second at 191 and Alice Faulkner third with a 184.

High men's series handicap was taken by Bill Reynolds with a 667. Tim Reynolds was second with a 654 and Babe Daugherty third with a 610.

Babe Daugherty took high men's game handicap with a 247; Bill Reynolds was second with a 243 and Rick Bryant's 237 was third.

Paige Benge had high women's series handicap with a 610; Sara

Anderkin was second with a 609 and Evelyn Mullins was third with a 589.
 Sara Anderkin took high women's game handicap with a 235; Pennie Fortner was second with a 230 and Judy Lawless third with a 224.

Bill Reynolds holds high men's average with a 188. Henry Vanzant is second with a 186 and Jamie Noe third at 183.

Asloe Bray has high women's average with a 160. Jamie Bryant is second at 158 and Virginia Winstead third with a 157.

No Deer Hunt at Army-Depot

Due to the Lexington-Blue Grass Army Depot's continuing support to Operation Desert Shield, it has been determined that it will not be feasible to have a deer hunt at the Blue Grass Facility this year.

The Directorate of Ammunition Operations is still shipping ammunition to the soldiers deployed in the Middle East and will likely continue to do so through the deer hunt season. Holding a hunt at this time will not only interfere with the shipping operations, but might also present a safety hazard to hunters.

Depot wildlife officials determined that year's break from hunting will give the herd an opportunity to increase, thereby providing more hunt spaces in 1991.

The depot will cooperate with the state in a limited trapping operation, with a small number of deer being trapped live and relocated to other areas of the state.

Buccaneer Chris Ballock found the going rough Tuesday night as his punt attempt was blocked by the Redkins. The Skins won 66-6 for their second straight win.

Fishing Report

Fishing activity over the September 22-23 weekend was moderate on most of the major lakes. Water temperatures ranged from 76-83 degrees. Largemouth bass, crappie and bluegill were the most consistently active species. The lake-by-lake report:

Kentucky: Largemouth bass were hitting crankbaits and spinnerbaits 5-10 feet deep around shoreline cover; white bass were active on minnows, jigs and crankbaits 10-15 feet deep in open water; clear, falling, three feet below summer pool and 80 degrees.

Barren: Largemouth bass were hitting crankbaits, spinnerbaits and plastic worms 5-10 feet deep around stump rows and over drop-offs; crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 10-15 feet deep over submerged trees and brush piles; clear, falling, one-half foot below summer pool and 76

I am not sure when the Brodhead School was built. I do know that when I started in 1917, there were two rooms added to the rear and they were old and were four full grown maple trees in the front grounds and a huge pine tree at the side which would be partially in full view in the picture. A concrete porch was built to the front door and extended half way out to the end of each front room. In 1918 the population of Brodhead was purported to be around seven hundred plus. I would like to know more about this school at that time if it is possible. Submitted by Margaret Dyehouse, 900 Rue De La Paix Box #506, Cincinnati, Ohio 45220-1043.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

We continue our study of the church that Jesus built (Mt. 16:18), by looking at the 5th act of worship we have studied from the scriptures, singing.

In Eph. 5:19 we read "Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord." Also in Col. 3:16, "Let the Word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord." Also read Mt. 26:30; Ac. 16:25; Rm. 15:9; 1 Cor. 14:15; Heb. 2:12; Jn. 5:16.

The New Testament commands and authorizes only singing in the worship of God. All the above verses mentions only singing, vocal music in worship to God. There are only 2 kinds of music and that's, vocal music and instrumental music. God has told us the kind that he wants in worship, and that's vocal music, singing praises to him! But someone will ask, what about David and his instruments of music, like Ps. 150. Certainly Ps. 150 talks about instrumental music in praise to God, but David lived under the Old Testament law which has been done away with, Rm. 7:4, Heb. 8:6-13, Col. 2:14, II Cor. 3:6-12, et al. Then someone will ask, doesn't Eph. 5:19 talk about "making melody"? Yes, but notice where we are to make melody, "in the heart!" which shows us that we can sing scriptural songs but that there must be melody also in the heart or grace in the heart. Col. 3:16 says, "If 'making melody' means playing on an instrument, then everybody must sing and play in worship to God! For just as singing is commanded so is the making melody commanded. Thus, everyone who fails to sing and play would be disobeying God, who can believe it? Then someone will ask, "where did God say not to use instrumental music?" Where did God say not to use instrumental music? Where did God say don't put ice cream and cake on the Lord's Table? Where did God say don't burn incense, or offer animal sacrifice to him?

He did not forbid these things specifically but in principle they are forbidden, II Jn. 9; Mt. 7:21; Rm. 12:2; Heb. 7:14.
 If you would like to receive a tract on this question about instrumental music, send me your name and address to Rt. 4, Box 297, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

Fairview News

By: Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Worship services were well attended at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend. Our Sunday School attendance was one hundred and twenty six. Thank God for each and everyone.

Our deepest heartfelt sympathy is extended to the families of Carlos Ambrose of Scaffold Cane and Mrs. Martha Lee Darnell of Flat Gap Road, who passed away last week. To others who have recently lost family members you have our sympathy too. In every death, loved ones suffer pain and sorrow. At one time or another we have all experienced it. But we all need to pray for each other that God will strengthen us in these trying times. So to all you who are suffering in any way, just remember that you have friends and loved ones out there somewhere that love you and are praying for you. God bless you.

Clous Peters of the Fairview area was released from the U.K. Medical Center, Lexington, last Friday following major heart surgery Sept. 14th. Bless his heart, he was able to attend worship services at Fairview on Sunday morning. Clous has been serving as our song leader for many years. He is a deacon in our church and has served in many ways and has always been ready and willing to help any time he was needed. He is a fine, devoted Christian man and has been so faithful to his family, his church and especially to his Lord. He has many friends who respect him, love him and wish him a speedy recovery. May God bless him to well soon.

My daughter Darleen Abney and I visited at the house of Junior and Lynetta Chasteen in Berea last Tuesday.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander have been Mr. and Mrs. James McCall of Springboro, Ohio. Rev. John Dodson, pastor of Galilee Baptist Church Madison County where Eugene and wife Hallie are members. From the Berea area Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Gabbard, Mrs. Helen Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Gabbard and Kay Abney, James Reppert of Eubank. Neighbors - Mrs. Wayne Sparks, Edgema and Bodie Barnett and Ray Isaacs. Please keep Eugene and Hallie on your prayer list, we love them very much.

Visiting in our home recently were our son Wayne and wife Carolyn, Mrs. Annie Chasteen and Robert Chasteen.

Our fall season is now here but in fact every day of the year and in our life is wonderful. Each day is made by the Lord and we are to rejoice and enjoy it.

Please attend Sunday School and church somewhere. And let's always remember to love and pray for one another. God bless you.

A Softball Psycho???

"D.R.'s" Concerned Wife!

Where was my honey - When the lights went out? Playing some softball Without a doubt!

'Cause any time those Park lights go on, There's number 24 Making his run.

From ballpark to ballpark He's always there. He'll pitch, play short, Or catch. He don't care.

He plays it, talks it, Dreams it too. He lives and breathes it. What else can he do?

There's one thing left For him to do. That is, to eat it - I'd be glad for him too!

Whenever there's a call For "D.R." on the line, I know in my heart It's just a matter of time -- Before he'll be out there Playing more ball. And I'd pout and I'd cry For him not to go at all.

He'd just look at me and say "Here's some money -- go shopping!" And off to the park He'd go just a hopping!

Sometimes he goes For hours on end, Just running 'round bases And pitching again.

Is he insane Over something so small,

As a ball bat, a glove, And a little white ball?

You tell me yourself From what you have read -- Is he crazy Or is it just in my head?

HAVE YOUR PRESCHOOLERS SCREENED!

A screening test is now the first step your child will take in beginning his or her school experience. The Rockcastle County School System will be conducting a Preschool Screening Friday, Sept. 28. This service is conducted with one idea in mind - to begin children on a successful journey through school!

WHAT IS A PRESCHOOL SCREENING?

The screen test is administered as a series of "games" for the child to play. However, it is an evaluation of preschool learning skills in the following areas: eye-hand coordination, total body coordination, listening skills, following directions, working with other people, and communication skills.

WHY SHOULD I HAVE MY PRESCHOOLER SCREENED?

This is one way of finding and seeking help for preschool children who may have special needs. Screening results will give educators an indication of how well the child is developing in comparison to other children of the same age. Results can give an indication of whether your child may be gifted, have a silent developmental delay, is developing as he or she should, or if there may be a handicapping condition. It is also a good experience for your child.

WHAT DOES IT COST?

The screening is a FREE service provided by the School System to every child living in Rockcastle County.

WHO IS THE PRESCHOOL SCREENING FOR?

All preschool children ages 3 and 4 who are living in the Rockcastle County school District.

HOW LONG WILL THE SCREENING TAKE?

The actual screening will take approximately 30 minutes.

DATE, TIME AND PLACE

Preschool screening will take place Friday, September 28, 1990. Screening stations will be set up at the Family Life Center, which is located 2 miles north of Renfro Valley on the right, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Rockcastle County Homemakers Annual Meeting

The Rockcastle County Homemakers held their annual county wide meeting last Tuesday, September 18th at the Kastle Inn Restaurant.

Patty Rai Smith, Home Economics Specialist with University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service took us back 100 years, via slides, to look at the legal rights of women. She reviewed the changes that have taken place since then and challenged the Homemakers to set the foundation for changes for the next generation.

The group, representing five Homemaker clubs of Rockcastle County, was welcomed by Carol Riddle, county president. Linda Williams, county vice president presented a thought for the day. After dinner, Vicky Tyler got everyone moving with a get acquainted game.

Carol Riddle presented 25-year Membership pins to Patsy Hopkins and Edith Lamb. Perfect Attendance Certificates were presented to: Alta Bullock, Vicki Tyler, Edith Lamb, Virginia Hansel, Tammy Hopkins, Christine Taylor, Joyce Taylor, Norietta Thompson, Carolyn White, Brenda Powell, Linda Williams and Debbie McQueen.

The 100 Percent Club Awards were presented by Cheryl Witt, County Extension Agent for Home Economics, to Busy Bees, Sunshine and Rise and Shine Homemakers.

An Apron Contest was won by Kathy McCauley of Rise & Shine Homemakers, Sandi Thomas of Sunshine Homemakers and Ethel Hacker, a guest.

Irene Reid, Wilderness Trail Area President, installed the new county officers for 1990-92: Norietta Thompson - president; Edith Lamb - vice president; Brenda Powell - secretary; Clara Proctor - treasurer, was not present. After presenting Nor-
