New size limits on bass and crappie

The arrival of the new year means new size limits on bass and crappie at several of Kentucky's major lakes.

A 15-inch minimum size limit on largemouth and smallmouth bass will take effect January 1, 1991, at Fishport, Paintsville, Buckhorn and Carr Fork lakes.

Yatesville Lake, which begins impoundment next spring, will also be under the 15-inch minimum size limit for largemouth and smallmouth bass.

Also effective January 1, 1991, there will be a 10-inch minimum size limit on crappie at Kentucky and Barkley lakes.

The changes in minimum size limits are aimed at improving fishing opportunities, according to Pete Pfeiffer, director of the fisheries division of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

"Bass anglers tell us that they're more interested in catching quality fish than in harvesting fish," said Pfeiffer. "Most sport fishermen don't care that much about keeping fish, they'd rather enjoy the thrill of catching a number of nice fish."

The number of anglers in Kentucky continues to grow steadily each year. The number of places to fish doesn't.

"Fishing pressure is tremendous at most of our major lakes, and anglers are realizing that as a resource, these fish are too valuable to catch only one time," Pfeiffer continued.

"The fishermen we're talking to understand the need to better manage the resources we have. The concept of catch-and-release has really caught on."

The new limits on largemouth and smallmouth bass will provide anglers improved opportunities to catch (and release) greater numbers of "nice" sized fish in the 12- to 15-inch range.

Pfeiffer says increasing size limits provides a cost efficient means of fulfilling anglers' expectations. "Anglers are getting what they say they want, through our use of a fisheries management technique (increased minimum size limits) which really doesn't cost us anything," said Pfeiffer.

Similarly, the 10-inch minimum crappie size limit is intended to improve the historically outstanding Western Kentucky crappie fisheries.

Several other major lakes also have limits which vary from the standard statewide limits. Anglers should check specific regulations for the particular lake where they plan to fish. The current Kentucky Fishing Digest is available at most locations where hunting and fishing licenses are sold. Copies can also be obtained by contacting the Kentucky department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Division of Public Relations, #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, KY 40601; phone (502) 564-4336.

The Rockcastle 11 and 12 year old All-Stars lost, 9-5, to Laurel County to take second place in the Thacker Field Tournament at Brodhead.

The RCHS Rockets opened their 1990 football season with a goal-line stand for a 22-16 win over host Lynn Camp.

The Grace softball team and the Rockcastle Merchants joined forces to win the NSA State Tournament at Roney Park in Somerset. By winning the tourney the team earned an invitation to play in St. Louis, Missouri and represent this region.

September saw David Craig, Clark Mullins, Cliff Mullins and Cassey Mullins of the Cedar Rapids swim team received awards and honors during the Bluegrass State Games in Lexington.

Youngsters exchanged their bats and balls for pads and helmets as Little League football began.

Marching toward their fifth straight win were the Rockets' football team with an impressive, 27-13, victory over Harlan.

Also marching was RCHS senior Lisa Bullock as she was crowned the 1990 Homecoming Queen during the Rockets vs. Harlan football game.

October was the month that the Rockets football team lost their only two games of the 1990 campaign. One was to Bell County, 30-6, and the other to Cawood, 27-21, in overtime. The loss to Cawood eliminated any hopes of a play-off bid for the Rockets.

Miss Ann Elise won the six-furlong Klostermans Baking Company Purse at Turfway Park. She was ridden by Jack Neagle and paid $12.00 to win, $7.00 to place and $5.40 to show. Miss Ann Elise is owned by Hoyle Miller.

The Rockets destroyed Madison Southern, 54-0, and set nine new records in the process. Curtis Cotton kicked six extra-points for 23 points on the year, Jonathon Saylor scored four touchdowns, J.D. Harris was able to score 88 points and rush for 1,094 yards on the year. William Hillard recovered three fumbles and the Rockets recovered six fumbles as a team while scoring 54 points to put them at 272 total points on the season.

In November the RCHS junior varsity Rockets whipped Berea, 45-0, to go undefeated, 9-0, on the year. The Rockets' varsity football team ended their season with a 48-21, win over Williamsburg to tie the school record of a nine and two season record.

The girls' 7th and 8th grade basketball teams of Mt. Vernon and Roundstone captured top honors in the Science Hill Tourney. Mt. Vernon crushed host Science Hill, 65-32, to take first place and Roundstone defeated Shephard, 57-42, for third place.

The Brodhead Tigers girls' 5th and 6th grade team walked away with the 1990 Lions Club Tourney. And at the same time the Mt. Vernon Red Devils girls' 7th and 8th grade team swept the girls' County Tournament for the third consecutive year.

The RCHS Rockets' basketball team won their season opener, 114-55, over Woodbridge Academy while the Lady Rockets lost theirs, 58-35, to McCreey Central.

December, the final month, watched the Mt. Vernon Red Devils boys' 7th and 8th grade basketball team win the County Tournament by defeating Livingston, 52-39, and Brodhead, 42-41.

The Lady Rockets swept the Berea Invitational with wins over Berea, 68-62, and Madison Southern, 75-57, for their first wins of the year.

And the Rockets defeated Scott County, 76-67, for third place in the Hardees' Invitational in Jellico, Tennessee.

And finally, the Brodhead Tigers boys' 5th and 6th grade basketball team captured the 1990 Lions Club Tourney with a landslide victory, 48-29, over the Livingston Blue Devils.

There they are, some of the more memorable moments throughout the year of 1990 that may stay in the minds and hearts of those who created them.

We are truly blessed with these young athletes and through God's will, may 1991 be as successful. Happy New Year!!

14 inches precipitation in December

By: Ray McClure

"Sure is nice to see the sun," someone said Monday afternoon as the sun broke through the cloudy, foggy sky for the first time in seven days, then added, "We've had enough rain for awhile."

True, December in Rockcastle County was the wettest ever, or at least as far back as available records show at Cox Funeral Home weather station.

A total of 14.56 inches of rain was recorded during December.

Although the month was a wet one, it was the 7.81 inches that fell between Dec. 21 and Dec. 31 that added markedly to the monthly total.

Strangely, 1990 was not the wettest year. There was a total of 55.47 inches recorded in 1990, and 55.97 inches in 1989. The average for a year in Rockcastle is usually about 44 inches.

The Dec. 21 - 31 rainfall of 7.81 inches, especially last Saturday and Sunday, sent rivers and creeks out of their banks. The Rockcastle River crested on Tuesday, but is expected to remain high for several days and even weeks.

At Conway, which has a history of flooding, Sweetwater Creek spilled over into mobile homes in the area. At one time Sunday all roads into Mt. Vernon were under water except I-75.

Most persons living in rural areas of the county experienced washouts, especially those near streams.

Roundstone Creek poured over its banks in the Roundstone and Wildlife area making residents nervous as the rain continued to pour down.

Looking at local records, there were 18 days of rain during December averaging 1.80 inches per rain.

The month began warm and for the most part stayed that way. On Dec. 3, the first rain came with 1.71 inches falling.

On Dec. 16, another 1.30 inches fell followed on Dec. 18 with 1.90 inches and Dec. 19 with 1.21 inches.

After a few days of rest, the rain began again. Dec. 23 had the most during the month with 2.57 inches that had followed .78 of an inch on Dec. 22 and .45 of an inch on Dec. 21, bringing that three day total to 3.80 inches.

After 15 of an inch of rain and snow on Dec. 24, the third round began with 1.33 inches on Dec. 28 followed by 2.53 inches on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 30 and a small amount of snow flurries on Monday for a three-day total of 3.86 inches.

Other areas of the county reported more than the 2.53 inches on Saturday and Sunday. Someone in Brodhead reported to a Lexington television station that 3 inches of rain fell in 3 hours during Sunday. Precipitation amounts vary from area to area.

The warm air to the south riding over the colder air to the north was the catalyst that set off the heavy rainfall. In other parts of the nation there was snow and record rains and flooding.

Speaking of warm air, the high for Mt. Vernon in December was 65 on Dec. 30. The low was 11 on Christmas Day. There were 10 days in December with 60 degrees and over, and 9 days with 50 degrees and over. In Lexington, the 52.14 inches of rain made 1990 the wettest year since 1972 when 57.61 was recorded. The normal for the city in December is 3.78 inches. This year Lexington had 10.17 inches during December. The yearly normal for the city is 45.45 inches, about the same for Rockcastle.

Entrance was gained by breaking through a wall in the rear of the building.

Other miscellaneous items were taken.

Heavy rains in Rockcastle County Sunday caused some flash flooding in the area and made driving very difficult. Marvin Mink is shown above towing in a car that was involved in a two vehicle wreck on Hwy. 70 around 3 p.m. that afternoon.

Rhonda Durham looks at debris left by the rain that flooded her trailer on the Old Conway Road at Roundstone Sunday night. The water got as high as five feet upon the trailer after Roundstone Creek flooded it's banks.

The stories making the news in the Signal in 1990

In January several new county officials took office, including former Mt. Vernon Mayor Roland Mullins, who was sworn in as Rockcastle County Judge-Executive. Other new county officials included magistrates Clinton Brown and Charles Holbrook and Sheriff Shirley Smith.

John Harvey Taylor was captured by Mt. Vernon police Chief Joe Howard, after he escaped from the Marion Adjustment Center, where he was serving a life sentence for the shooting death of Bentley Furmon in 1983.

As the Mt. Vernon City Council began their new year, Mayor Gary Cromer advised them that the city was $18,381 in the hole.

Livingston officials announced that they have received a loan and grant for over $900,000 to upgrade their water system.

January is when many Western Rockcastle water customers began to show their displeasure with Western's service by circulating a petition. Postal officials announced that a new Mt. Vernon post office would open in March.

In February disgruntled residents who had been annexed into the city of Mt. Vernon sued the city to have the annexation overturned.

Two jail escapes were indicted for a December robbery at Mt. Vernon Drive-Thru Pharmacy. Later in the year the two men pleaded guilty.

Six-year-old Elvina June Curry was shot to death at Cox's Trailer Park in Mt. Vernon. Police charged two different people with the crime, but later dropped the charges against a juvenile.

The state gave Rockcastle $539,000 for their rural road program.

Kenneth Wayne Robinson of Mt. Vernon was found guilty of shooting Alma Jean Brown to death on September 15, 1988 at her Dogwalk store. Joe Sturgill of Livingston died in a fire at his Livingston apartment on February 9.

A black bear was spotted in the county and several have been seen since. Remember it is a heavy fine to kill the creature.

William Timothy Smith fell to his death on February 19 at Mullins Station. Another Rockcastle man was charged with manslaughter because he left the scene.

In March the county took the first step to gain funding for a new courthouse annex.

In Renfro Valley they buried a time capsule and Rockcastle County schools were facing changes under the new education reform act.

In March Kenneth Wayne Robinson tried to escape from the Lincoln County, but failed and the Rockcastle fiscal court approved an inmate work program.

Mt. Vernon got the approval for a new sewer project that would include Renfro Valley and the Rockcastle Chamber of Commerce got involved in cleaning up the county.

Joe Cummins was sworn in as the new dog warden and Rockcastle was eliminated from district tournament action. In April Marty Morgan was charged with the Main Street slaying of Donnie Clemmons and the Mt. Vernon City Council scrapped plans to install a 911 emergency number.

The Rockcastle Fiscal Court got approval for the new courthouse annex and the new Mt. Vernon elementary school neared completion.

The Mt. Vernon City Council approved a nuisance ordinance and approved dispatching their own police and fire calls.

Several Renfro businesses were notified by Renfro Valley Folk, Inc. that they could not use the name Renfro Valley in their business.

In May the city boiler at Brodhead exploded, but luckily no one was injured and Rockcastle County's budget was set at $1.4 million.

Within a week's time four people died in two separate wrecks on Interstate 75 and the new Cumberland Valley Comprehensive Care Center opened at its new location on old U.S. 25 in Mt. Vernon.

The Mt. Vernon City Council surprised Mayor Gary Cromer when they voted to place the annexation question on the November ballot.

The state imposed a ban on water line extensions and the new 1,500 seat auditorium opened in Renfro Valley.

Brodhead City Councilman D.A. Robbins was chosen Man of the Year and Danny Ford won another term in

William Mink takes over as police chief

William (Bill) Mink, who has been in law enforcement for the past five years, has been named Chief of Police at Mt. Vernon.

He replaces Joseph L. Howard who has been appointed deputy jailer.

A native of Rockcastle County, Mink is the son of the late Albert and Minnie Mink of Pine Hill. He took over duties Jan. 1.

Chief Mink and his wife, the former Mary Louise Payne, have four children, Selma Gayle, Charles Edward, Timothy Wayne and James William. He is a graduate of Eastern Kentucky University's Department of Criminal Justice.

Chief Mink began his law enforcement career as deputy jailer in January 1986. He left in October 1986 to join the Mt. Vernon Police Department where he became assistant chief in 1987.

In 1988, Mink resigned to become a candidate for jailer in the May primary. He later went into business, opening Dixie Body Shop at Burr.

He rejoined the city as a dispatcher for emergency calls where he remained until appointed chief by Mayor Gary R. Cromer. The dispatching position is not considered a part of the police department.

Mayor Cromer said Chief Mink is "well qualified for the job."

"He has had training in law enforcement and has been a city employee," the mayor said. "He has attended law enforcement school and has had refresher courses. I don't think, as far as experience is concerned, that we have a more qualified person in the department."

The mayor also reported Mink's dispatching job has been filled by Sonya Prewitt, a student at the Rockcastle Vocational school, and John Bradley, who is currently a member of the Kentucky National Guard reserve.

The additional person for dispatching was added to keep down overtime and for scheduling purposes, the mayor said.

The two other dispatchers are Kevin Fletcher and Willie Swinney.

Home flooded Sunday night

Heavy rains Sunday caused some flash flooding in the area, which in turn caused some families to have to leave their homes.

Scott and Rhonda Durham and their 5-year-old son Josh, left their trailer in Roundstone around 5 p.m. on the shoulders of his grandfather, Lee Durham, after Roundstone Creek ran out of its banks and flooded their trailer.

At one point the water was five to six feet up on the side of the trailer. By Wednesday the Durhams were back at home thanks to the efforts of family members and friends who cleaned the mud and water out of their trailer, which is on the Old Conway Road.

Water also got up several feet on Donald Barnes' trailer, which sits next to the Durhams, but he did not have to leave his residence. Barnes is Rhonda Durham's father.

Almost two inches of rain fell Sunday bringing the total precipitation in Rockcastle County for December, 1990 to 14.56.

Stolen vehicle recovered by Rockcastle Sheriff Smith

A 1978 Chevrolet pickup truck stolen from Lincoln County was recovered over the weekend by the Rockcastle Sheriff's Department.

The truck was stolen by Charles Ray Metcalf of Rockcastle County who was an escaped inmate from the Lincoln County jail, deputies reported.

The Rockcastle Sheriff's Department arrested four persons for driving under the influence of intoxicants over the Christmas holidays.

During December the department served 21 warrants, 21 subpoenas, 25 civil summons, investigated 10 accidents, 150 complaints, issued 108 citations, assisted 32 motorists, assisted State Police 37 times and city police 32 times, served 12 criminal summons, investigated 5 breakins.

Home destroyed by fire

The home of Bobby Lovell at Well Hope was destroyed by fire early Sunday, one of two reported by Mt. Vernon Fire Department in the past few days.

The Lovell house was engulfed in flames when firemen arrived. Firemen said the cause was believed to have been arson. State Police are investigating.

A car belonging to Michael E. Vance of Mt. Sterling was destroyed by fire on I-75 about 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Points East

By: Ike Adams

As late as Labor Day last year, I was still slipping up once or twice a day and writing 1989 when I handled paperwork that had to be dated. I've already forgotten most of what happened in 1989 but I must have signed a lot of stuff because both my typewriter and my right-hand recall it fondly. I even dated some Christmas cards 1989 and Loretta had to mark it out and write in 90.

Speaking of Christmas cards, it will be way up in 1991 before we finish answering all the ones we received. What do you write on a Christmas card that you don't get in the mail until April, after the fact? I wish somebody would just come out with a greeting card that had a long list of holidays on the front cover with little boxes beside each one. It could even have birthday, anniversary, get well, condolences, thank you, and stuff like that on it along with Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving, Valentine, and all the other holidays. We have friends who even send Arbor Day cards.

On the inside would be a list of greetings with the same little boxes, happy, joyfully, sincerely, merry, peacefully, congratulations, deepest sympathy, etc. You could leave a little space on the right hand side to write a personal note if such were warranted, (so sorry to hear about Uncle Ed) and that would be it. Check off whichever boxes apply and mail her out.

What I'd do, is buy about 500 and send everybody I know one around the first of June. And I'd put a check mark in every box. Across the top where folks write in dates, I'd put 1990-91. Meaning that if I forgot to send you a Christmas card last year, you should count this one twice.

One of our neighbors came in this morning talking about her Christmas mail. Said she got 109 Christmas cards and only sent out fifty. I told her that I got 200 the day after Halloween and so far I'd sent out seven, but it's Saturday and I'm going to do three or four more today.

But I'm serious about this generic card. You could put on the cover, along with the list, a picture of Garfield with a bow around his neck, a big red heart on his chest, a turkey in one hand, an Easter egg in the other and he'd be sitting on a pumpkin with a cake and some candles beside it on the steps of a church with some holly hung on the door.

If you don't like Garfield, you could have Beette Bailey or Rudolfph doing the same thing. Just think about how many bases that one card would cover.

Don't even think about sending this idea in to Hallmark. I've already done it. Told 'em I wanted ten cents for every card they sold and intended to become a millionaire. They didn't even write back.

Of course the governor says that Loretta and I are millionaires already. If we live and work another 20 years, our combined income over that period will add up to nearly $600,000 and that's good enough for the lottery to call its winners millionaires. Some how it doesn't feel nearly as good to be rich as I thought it would.

Speaking of Loretta, several send catalogue seekers have sent letters requesting more of my wife in the column. Moni Humphries of Cincinnati suggested that "maybe Loretta has some good, easy, recipes to share with your readers". Moni doesn't realize that most of my readers don't cook cause I'm a millionaire. But Loretta did make some stuff for Christmas dinner that was new and different to me.

It's easy to fix and it tastes a lot better than it sounds. This is not a joke. Try it!

- 2 cups small pretzels broken into short pieces
- 3/4 cup melted margarine or butter
- 1 tbsp sugar
- 1 8 oz. pkg cream cheese
- 1 large box strawberry jello
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 1/2 oz. pkgs frozen strawberries
- 1/2 cup crushed pretzels (in addition to above)
- 1 cup sugar

Remove from oven and chill till very cool. Spread cream cheese, sugar and cool whip on crust and put it back in the fridge. Mix berries, jello and water and chill until it starts to thicken up, then pour it over the stuff in the pan. Back in the fridge till the jello sets like it ought to. Add another layer of cool whip and garnish with crushed pretzels.

It's fantastic! And if you don't like strawberries, try cherries or your favorite jello-fruit combo. Loretta got this recipe out of a book published by the Women's Guild of the Nicholasville Lutheran Church.

Finally, last call for seed catalogue scam participants. If you want lots of mail, send two stamps, your name and address to Ike Adams, 9890 Highway 52 West, Paint Lick, KY 40461. We have about 30 so far and the list gets sent off on Jan. 12.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,

On Friday, Dec. 21, the Fire Department members of the Broadhead Fire Department, the Broadhead Fire Department Ladies' Auxiliary, and various guests shared a delightful Christmas supper together at the Fire Department. Everybody present seemed to have a great time and it was a wonderful opportunity to get together at a special time of the year to talk and share experiences.

On behalf of the Fire Department and myself, I would like to thank the Ladies' Auxiliary for the $500 donation which the auxiliary gave to the Fire Department. I would also like to thank Mr. D.A. Robbins for his generous donation of $100 to our department. Mr. Robbins has always been a super supporter of the volunteer department and the department and myself would like to let him know how much we appreciate his help. We would also like to express our gratefulness of $100 to our department for their continued support with our activities, fund-raisers, etc. Our department depends mainly on help from the public to keep our department active and ready to help our citizens.

I would also like to express my appreciation to the Broadhead City Council members that attended. We were honored to have Mr. C.B. Owens, Mr. Paul D. Owens, and Mr. D.A. Robbins sharing this special night with us. Everybody enjoyed seeing each of you and talking with you and we would like to see all the council members attend such functions as these. All our council members are always welcome!

Again, thanks to everyone involved in making our Christmas supper a success. I, along with the other Fire Department members, look forward to more events in the future when our community members can be together and share with each other.

Dear Editor,

What saith the scriptures? Yes "What?" One thing Mr. McKibben is I'm sure you believe what you write but I can't even comprehend any minister, preacher? pastor? or ??? taking issue with the day, any day. We as a nation, multitudes if you like, set aside to celebrate the Birth of Christ.

Neither you or I know for sure the day or date as month of his birth and don't quote me one or two Bible verses to prove a point because the meaning of His birth was and is much more important and rejoice that over the whole nation and other countries people join together to celebrate. I'm sure it's pleasing to God. I thank God when I see my little nose blinking its lights. Christmas cards from other states and places posted on the walls. Me alone accept God at 80 years old and it don't mean anything to me if it's Dec. 25th, aug. 1st? St. Patrick's Day? Or Ground Hog Day? You see its the meaning that counts. The sincerity.

I think its so little as to question the day. I had four sons each born in different months but since I loved all four alike I thanked God for each date. Ah, "Come on now" as an educated man you can use your time in a better way to please God - squabble over a Birthday of our Lord and savior? seems very childish.

I'm a Baptist but I have a multitude of friends of different denominations whose whole nature of life proved to me if they don't get there you and I

Flue-cured quota stable; burley quota may see little change

Burley producers expecting a large increase in the 1991 quota may have been somewhat surprised last week when the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced its 1991 flue-cured quota; it remained stable.

That may mean that burley quota for 1991, which will be announced in early February, may stay relatively stable, too.

"Historically, quota increases in flue-cured tobacco portend increases in burley quota. When that didn't materialize this year, producers' hopes for a large increase in burley quotas may have diminished somewhat," said Will Snell, an Extension agricultural economist with the University of Kentucky College of

Teen Center reaches 100 lives

By: Ginny Gilpatrick
Rockcastle Teen Center

Alcoholism is not something to be ashamed of. It is a disease something like diabetes or cystic fibrosis in which control is dependent on strict diet. The diet, in the case of alcoholism, is complete abstinence from alcohol. Members of the AA group explained this to a number of interested teens who attended a special open meeting last week. Teens were also informed about the inevitable progression of the disease which may exist in a controlled state for many years, but will eventually cause serious emotional and physical side effects. Breakdown will come on gradually or quite suddenly later in adulthood unless treatment is begun.

In describing his introduction to AA, after years of drinking and not believing he had a problem, one alcoholic said that he had come to his first meeting with a friend, as an "observer". He said he expected to see a bunch of winos sitting around with stubby beards and raincoats concealing bottles of booze; instead he was surprised to see professional people and active working people. Another man commented that AA is the only place where you will find bank presidents and bank robbers sitting side by side.

The important message that the teens received was that the only shame attached to being alcoholic is not to seek help. Alcoholism always affects family and loved ones and causes intense suffering and frustration for them. Since the alcoholic typically denies his or her problem, he is not aware of the damage to the family.

AA will continue to meet every Tuesday evening at the Rockcastle

Teen Center (an agency of Christian Appalachian Project) which is located on Williams Street in Mt. Vernon. Meetings are at 7:30 p.m. Anyone who questions whether his or her use of alcohol is problematic is encouraged to attend all meetings. The last meeting of each month will be an "open meeting" for those who may be living with an alcoholic or have questions about the disease. All those present agree to strict confidentiality, as hearing comes about by each person initially being able to admit openly to the disease and problems it has caused in their lives.

Tobacco transplant-by-float methods meeting set for Jan. 16 at Holiday Inn North

By: Tom Mills
County Extension Agent
for Agriculture

A day-long meeting featuring the latest information on growing tobacco transplants by the float system is scheduled for January 16 at the Holiday Inn North in Lexington.

The program will offer tobacco producers the chance to learn more about the production and use of tobacco transplants by precision seeding and the float tray methods, according to the meeting's organizers with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture's Cooperative Extension Service.

Seminar presentations and commercial exhibits will feature the latest information on plug transfers and float plant production using field beds and greenhouses, pelleted seed, seeding equipment, growing media, fertilizer, greenhouse structures, artificial lighting, environmental controls and carousel planters.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. with a viewing of the trade show which will continue throughout the day. Presentations by University of Kentucky and industry personnel will begin at 9:15 a.m. At noon, a buffet lunch will be served at a modest charge.

The afternoon session includes a repeat of some of the presentations made in the morning as well as viewing of the commercial exhibits.

The organizers urge tobacco producers to attend this meeting since it is scheduled early enough for them to make plans for the 1991 growing season.

For more information about the program, contact the County Extension Office at 256-2403.

She is a living angel who is honest in her belief and Brother I don't think you and I should be the judge. I read in my Bible where it says Judge Not!

If I live to see another December 25th - first thing I'm going to do on arising in the a.m. will be to thank God for the Birth of His Son Jesus Christ and all I can say is, go on preaching repentance and baptism. I think God would be pleased, but leave the judging to the Judge.

Toll free number for school reform info

A toll-free number for information about Kentucky's new school reform law is changing Tuesday, the Legislative Research Commission said.
 The new number is (800) 242-0520. It will be answered in the newly established LRC Office of Education Accountability.

 The office was established by the Education Reform Act of 1990 to monitor implementation of a new school system. The state Supreme Court in 1989 ruled the entire system unconstitutional and ordered the General Assembly to restructure it.

Sweet Sixteen academic auction

Over 120 items will be auctioned during the fifth annual Sweet Sixteen Academic Auction January 15 from 8 - 11 p.m.

The auction will be held in Lexington Center's Heritage Hall and shown live on six television stations reaching viewers in 66 counties. Stations carrying the auction are: WKYT-TV, Channel 27; WLEX-TV, Channel 18; WDKY-TV, Channel 36; Government Access, Telecast Channel 3 and local origination. Telecast Channel 9 (all in Lexington) and WYMT-TV, Channel 57 in Hazard.

Viewers will have the opportunity to see and hear an explanation of each item. If they are interested in an item, they can phone in their bids using the phone number that will be advertised on the air during the show.

There are a wide variety of auction items this year. Items include: a new truck, appliances, ready mix concrete, a hot air balloon ride, day care service, fitness club memberships, golf weekend packages, furniture, college scholarships, dry cleaning services, portrait packages, UK basketball and football weekend packages, a mini race car, and pop-a-shot machine. The items are grouped into four regular showcases and viewers will have 45-minutes to bid on items in each showcase. In addition a super showcase will be advertised for bidding throughout the program.

Auction items are donated by private individuals and businesses. Money that goes to the Sweet 16 Academic Showcase, a statewide academic competition for high school students. The Academic Showcase has awarded more than $350,000 in scholarships to 326 students over the past six years.

About 300 volunteers will help with the auction by answering phones, handling and sorting bids, serving as runners, and making follow-up calls. GTE South has donated more than 100 phone lines to handle the calls. The Auction raised over $108,000 last year.

Medicaid reimbursement rates lowered by federal government

The state reduced Medicaid reimbursement rates on prescription medicine. Human Resources Secretary Harry J. Cowherd said.
 The federal government called for the cuts because of discounts pharmacies receive on drugs at wholesale, Cowherd said in a news conference.

 No Medicaid patients will be affected, he said.
 The cuts will save Kentucky's General Fund $630,000 in the current fiscal year, Cowherd said. With federal matching funds, the total would be about $2.5 million.

Removing stickers and labels

Removing stickers and labels from household items is sometimes a frustrating chore. Often the removal process is a matter of "trial and error."

If one procedure doesn't work, it may be necessary to try the next one. Avoid using strong abrasives or solutions that will soften, scratch, discolor or harm the household item. Test the cleaning material to be sure it will not harm the surface of the item. If a manufacturer or retailer has used an adhesive that cannot be easily removed, here are some suggestions.

Stickers with Pressure-Sensitive Adhesive

1. Stickers, labels and tapes with pressure-sensitive adhesive (those that are peeled from a backing or roll, then pressed in place) often can be peeled off. The remaining adhesive can then be rubbed off with your fingers much the same way you "thumb-roll" rubber cement into small pieces. If the adhesive is old or has been exposed to high temperatures and/or humidity, this method may not work.

2. Attempt to remove as much of the label or tape as possible with your fingernail or the dull edge of a knife. The next procedure will depend on the surface of the item. It is important to protect the surface of some items to avoid damage.

3. Sometimes the adhesive can be removed with a solution of warm water, liquid dishwashing detergent and vinegar or ammonia. Other suggestions include oil, fingernail polish remover and acetone.

4. Depending on the surface, it may be possible to apply a generous amount of a commercial pre-wash spot remover on the adhesive. Strive to get the solution under the film to work on the adhesive.

5. Cleaning fluid will remove some adhesives; however, cleaning fluid can soften some kinds of plastic if left in contact with the plastic surface for a period of time.

A procedure for using cleaning fluid is to saturate a folded cloth or paper towel with the cleaning fluid and place over the label or the tape. After several minutes, when the adhesive softens, rub with the cloth or towel until all traces of the label and adhesive have been removed.

Stickers with Water-Soluble Glue

Often the labels with water-soluble glue (the kind that must be dampened before it will stick) need only be soaked in water until the label loosens and the glue dissolves. Saturate several layers of white paper towels with warm water and place over the label.

It's sometimes difficult to tell the type of adhesive that has been used. As a rule of thumb, remember that water-soluble glue is often applied only to part of the label and is generally used on larger labels. The soaking method with warm water will usually remove the water-soluble adhesive, but it can make the pressure-sensitive label more difficult to remove.

Purple Price Marks
Purple price marks that so easily transfer to kitchen counter tops can be removed with a cloth dampened in a solution of half chlorine bleach and half water.

Fairview News

By: Mrs. Hubert Chastain

New Year's Greetings to all you good readers. The year of 1990 is now history, hope it has been a good one for you! But truly hope 1991 will be even better.

At the Fairview Baptist Church we had good attendance for worship service, but due to Christmas vacations and other things our Sunday School attendance was down to one hundred and two. But we thank God for that number. We all need to be with our families, friends and neighbors in church every time we can.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

Our Lord in Jn. 10:10 said: "The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." Let's study a few moments about this abundant life.

First, let me suggest that there are many things that take away from life. Drugs and alcohol, abusive destructive chemicals to the life of people. Substance abuse contributes to marital and family problems, to social and business problems. It can wreck one's health and it mires the soul with sin and guilt. Immorality, in all its various forms, detracts from life and its enjoyment by bringing shame, guilt, unwanted pregnancy and disease. Mental attitude sins like malice, bitterness, wrath, strife, vanity are things that destroy the life that the Lord wants us to have. Yes, sin is a destructive thing to get involved in, that will bring into bondage, Jn. 8:34, who partake of such evil deeds.

But Jesus wants to deliver us from the bondage and heartaches of sin. Jesus and his truth can set us free. Jn. 8:32, "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Our Lord described his mission here on earth when he read from Isaiah 61, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord," Lk. 4:18-19.

Yes, Jesus when he forgives us our sins through obedience to him (Heb. 5:8-9). He opens the door for peace, hope, contentment, joy, love, mercy, all the abundance of God's rich grace. He makes it possible for us to be able to serve God freely and confidently, and to serve our brethren and fellow man, as Paul told the Galatians they should use their liberty for, Gal. 5:13. The life of the child of God can live in abundance, overflowing with incredible joy and peace that comes from God, 1 Pet. 1:8, Jn. 14:27.

Have you, my friends, enjoyed the blessed gospel of Christ, that you might gain to really live and obey an abundant life? If we can help you in spiritual ways, please, call or write us so we can assist in any way we can.

A Medley of Christmas Memories

By the time this week's paper arrives 1990 will be history. The big day that has been advertised com-mercially for six months will be past but the spirit of Christmas will live on in the hearts of those who celebrated

Owen and Martha Allen of Orlando are proud to be the grandparents of grandson Nathan Scott Allen, born Dec. 5, 1990 to Berkeley and Sheila Allen, held by grandfather Owen Allen. They are the proud great grandparents of great grandson T.J. Singleton, born to Tim and Debbie Singleton on Dec. 20, 1990, held by great grandmother Martha Allen.

Christmas day in the fullness of the love for which it was intended.

There is a week to relax in and enjoy the over flow of gifts and quickly sit beside the tree or fire place and reminisce about the glory of such a celebration before the new year with all its problems has to be faced. Now is a good time to go back over some memories made in earlier times so maybe you would like to share a few of mine. Not that they are any better than yours but just maybe they will be a little different.

Christmas has always been a time of family togetherness for me. A time when the whole family gets together and makes merry. A time for fun and laughter, and excitement, and sharing.

My first memory of Christmas day was of such a time. We were celebrating the day at one of dad's sisters. At that time her family was made up of herself, her husband and a son, a red headed boy a few years older than me. Our family, mom, dad, three older brothers and one older sister and I must have been the youngest for I don't remember a baby anywhere and I do remember I was quite small probably two years old plus a little. There may have been other cousins there for my memory is a confusion of kids and games. The men folk were all outside putting off fire crackers which was a must for the celebration of the birthday of so great a being as Jesus Christ. (It was fun for them too). I could hear the popping and exclamations of joy as bigger and bigger fire crackers were lit and exploded but I had more interesting things to do where I was than go out to watch that noisy bunch. Good smells and giggles came from the kitchen where the women folk were completing the feast and ever so often one would appear in the dining room with a bowl of something to put on the table and check on us kids playing about.

A big crackling fire was going full blast in the fire place in the room next to the dining room and all the other kids were busy there playing noisy games. I wasn't interested in that either. I was interested in one bowl on that table covered with a big white cloth that nearly touched the floor. It was a glass bowl filled with chocolate drops.

I've heard since then that mom and dad both craved chocolate when she was pregnant with me so I guess according to folk lore I would also crave them till I got my fill and that day was the time for fulfillment if I could just manage it right. By uptooing I could just get my grubby little hand in that bowl and grab one or two pieces and duck under the cloth where no one could see me and down them. I have no idea how long it took nor how many sneaky grabs I had to make but finally I reached and the dish was empty.

I have wondered if I was really neat enough to not allow any dribbles to show on my face or if mom and aunt Dica scolded the other children for my benefit, with tongue in cheek and a wink when I thought I was safely hid under the cloth and they discovered the empty dish. But the older children did get scolded and not a word was said to me about being pigish. I'm sorry the others had to take the blame but I was only a baby.

Several years later when I was about seven a memory comes to mind that I fondle and draw close to my heart. We were now living in Ohio and the excitement of Christmas is everywhere. By now there are three more kids to buy for and money had to be carefully divided out but Christmas was a time for indulging in all the goodies that couldn't be afforded for every day eating. I remember the smell coming from the bags of golden oranges, it seems to me now that oranges were the divine Christmas fruit. They would be brought in and placed in layers in a big dresser drawer. Oh! how I loved to open that drawer and bask in the glow and odor of those big orange discs. It was like basking in sunshine. This must have been a special drawer for mom for it was the same drawer I would sneak into at a later date and look at neatly stacked tiny baby clothes, a dead give-away that there was a baby in some doctors little black bag wanting a place like ours to live in.

Christmas day finally arrived and several tousled headed kids crept out from warm beds and headed for the fire place where their stockings were hanging. Usually by day break dad would have the fire going strong and would be ready to share in our excitement and guide us to the stocking filled to overflowing that belonged to each particular child. About all we got was in that stocking. Oh, sometimes there wasn't room for a doll or toy train and it would be lying unwrapped next to the stocking of its new owner. There was very few fancy wrapped packages at our house back in those days but one thing for sure there was fruit allergy, chocolate drop candy, stick candy, old fashioned Christmas mix and nuts in every stocking hanging around that fire-place with often the over flow piled directly above or below the stocking.

This particular Christmas morning of my pleasant memory was the one I received a fair red head's my brother, George had got for me. He was four years older than me and was always special to me and I to him. His funny maybe, but when we come from large families we do tend to have choices amongst them. He had worked to get money for gifts for everyone and mine was a long pair of red beads. Beautiful beads that hung to my waist. When he finally told me they were candy beads. I was torn between greed and love of their beauty. I'd wear them awhile then nibble on one bead, I'd hang it up on the dresser rack where it could show its beauty off then slip by and eat just one. I'm sure I had help from the other kids eating them but I also remember they lasted several days before the gaps in them made by missing beads made them so unsightly I stripped them from their string and we ate our pastor, Rev. Harvey Pensol said in his sermon "People need people". Thank God for the love we feel in our hearts for others.

I haven't mentioned before, the Christmas Parade held in Mount Vernon. My daughter Janet Ridgell and her daughter Sherry and I attended and enjoyed it very much. I spent the time, at the home of Mrs. Irene Barnett with her daughter Louise Phillips and her daughter Tena and infant son Josh. Irene rode in the parade with the A.A.R.P. At the conclusion of the parade, Mrs. ZI Graves, Irene Barnett, Cuma Abney and Bernice Cromer went on to Berea where they enjoyed lunch together. As for myself I had such a good time visiting with the girls, and little Josh is such a lovely child. The whole family loves him so much. His late great grandpa Eli Barnett would have loved him too, if he had lived to have seen him. But we all look back with good memories of Eli, he was such a good man and so good to his family. Bless his heart they miss him so much.

We here at the Chastean home enjoyed Christmas with most of our family members. Just thankful for all the blessings of life.

Mrs. Irene Alexander and children visited relatives at Evans, Ky. from Friday till Monday 24th.

Mrs. Della Bullock of Richmond attended the Christmas supper at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Goldie Isaacs on Friday night, Dec. 21st and also had Christmas dinner with her son Virgil and family. Bless her heart I'm so glad she was able to visit her children. We all love her so much.

Eugene and Hallie Alexander had their children and grandchildren home during Christmas. James Reperalta visited awhile.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Gabbard of Berea last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander. Let's all of us count our blessings and be thankful for the year of 1990 and ask God to continue to bless us in 1991. Let's love our family, loved ones, friends and neighbors. So from our house to yours I wish you all a glorious, happy and healthy New Year. Please pray for one another and our military men and women in the Middle East. God bless you.

Agriculture.
 The national marketing quota for the 1991 flue-cured crop is 877.7 million pounds, unchanged from 1990, even though the adjustment for reserve stocks decreased 9.1 million pounds. The USDA assesses reserve stocks, purchase intentions, unmanufactured exports and a discretionary adjustment to make its decisions about adjusting tobacco quotas, Snell said.
 Snell noted that burley supplies are tight this year, with no tobacco being sent to the pool so far this marketing season. For that reason, many producers believe that an increase in quota will materialize.
 "Although the 1991 flue-cured quota remained the same as past years, tight burley supplies relative to demand indicate that the 1991 burley quota will be increased, but the likelihood of a large increase diminished somewhat last week," he said.

1990: A look back at sports

By: Spencer T. Bengel

A glimpse back at the world of sports this past year not only shows 1990 as a busy year but also as a successful one as well.

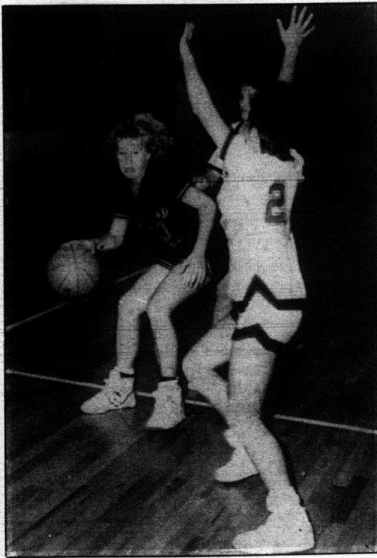

Many happy and sad memories blossomed through the accomplishments of our young athletes throughout Rockcastle County. And some of those memories may never be forgotten.

In January the Brodhead Tigers' 5th and 6th grade boys basketball team won the Lions Club Tournament with wins over Mt. Vernon, 40-24, and Roundstone, 36-24.

The Brodhead Tigers' 8th grade team also captured the Brodhead Invitational Tournament title for the second time since the tourney originated in 1981. The Tigers defeated the Red Foley Warriors, 53-36, for the championship and to round out the season with an impressive, 19-1, record.

Speaking of accomplishments, Keith Cable, son of Norman and Lydia Cable of Brodhead and a 1982 graduate of Rockcastle County High School, was commended by Wright State University in Dayton for his contributions to their wheelchair basketball team. Cable averaged 4.9 points a game and 2.4 rebounds. He also led the team with 22 assists and had a 37.7 shooting percentage.

During March the Rockcastle County Rockets' basketball team was eliminated from district play, 94-46, by the host Clay County Tigers. The Rockets wound down the season with an 8-17 mark.

BASKETBALL: Amy Robinson of the Brodhead Tigers dribbles in against Mt. Vernon Red Devils' Brandy Chasteen during the 1990 girls' elementary basketball season.

Also eliminated from the District tourney were the Lady Rockets who finished up at 6-17 with their loss 74-52 to the Clay County Tigerettes.

On the better side, First Christian won the Rockcastle Christian Basketball League, 70-49, over First Baptist. Both teams were seven and one before the match-up.

And on the track, the Raymond Ginter, Jr., trained, Hoyle Miller owned, The Streetwise Kid won the fifth race at Turfway Park. Lynn Lee Smith rode the Kid.

Miss Ann Elise, ridden by Rick Moses, also rode to victory in The Precinct at Turfway Park for the three-year-old's second win.

And back to the court, Lady Rockets' Stephanie Northern and April Burton and Rockets' Micah Parkerson and David Eaton, Jr. were named to the 49th District All-Tourney team.

And the Rockcastle County High School cheerleaders earned themselves a runners-up position in the cheerleading competition during the District tourney.

April found the Streetwise Kid back in the money as the Kid took the third race at Keeneland.

Ronnie McClure of Mt. Vernon finished sixth in the Red Man Mountain Qualifying tournament on Lake Herrington at Chimney Rock.

McClure cashed in a $355 check for catching four bass that weighed six pounds and nine ounces.

The Mt. Vernon parent/faculty team captured the championship of the Kentucky Association of Gifted Education (KAGE) sponsored basketball tournament.

During their first year as a team, the RCHS's track and field team earned themselves a ranking of ninth in the state in Class AA in their third week of competition.

Announced in May was the new district for the Rockcastle County Rockets' football team which will now play teams at Somerset, Middlesboro, Madison Southern and Wayne County.

The RCHS's weightlifting team took first place in the 11th annual Weightlifting Tournament at Lynn Camp for the fourth consecutive year. The RCHS squad placed first in 8 of 10 events in the 10 school field.

Rockcastle native Dr. Dale Coffey was recognized as reigning five-time state ski slalom champion.

RCHS's tennis team finished the season with two wins and seven losses under coaches Darla Reams and Benny Blanton.

The girls' softball team of RCHS ended their season at 9-15 with a 29-5 loss to Laurel County in the 43rd District. Named to the All-District team were Gina Martin and Stephanie Northern.

Paula Sexton, Pennie Fortner, James Hamilton and Jackie Fortner of the Sandhoppers wound up in first place in the Rockcastle Mixed Couples Bowling League in Richmond.

Cecil King of Crab Orchard was named "Sportsman of the Year" by the Kentucky Walking Horse Association and his horse Eb's Private Treaty won the high point award from the association for the amateur owned and trained class.

The Rockets' baseball team defeated Jackson County, 9-7, in the 48th District and then lost to the Middlesboro Yellow Jackets, 6-2, in the Region tourney in Barbourville.

C.B. Owens, husband of the late Barbara Owens presented Lynn Parsons, Brian Ponder, Darrell Gross, Chris Newland and Everett Harper a plaque for winning the third annual Barbara Owens' Memorial Day Golf Tournament at Cedar Rapids Country Club.

Scotty Hines, Jay Brown, Billy Todd, William Hellard, William

Clare and Jackie Fortner of the Sandhoppers wound up in first place in the Rockcastle Mixed Couples Bowling League in Richmond.
