

Local students will vie in regional competition of Academic Showcase

A total of 463 Kentucky high school students have registered to compete in the first regional competition of the 1991 Sweet 16 Academic Showcase.

This competition will be held Jan. 26 at Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond. Students competing at Richmond represent 51 high schools in 25 counties.

Students coming to this regional area from regions 11, 12, 13 and 14. Counties in this region are: Franklin, Woodford, Fayette, Jessamine, Madison, Mercer, Boyle, Garrard, Lincoln, Russell, Casey, Palaski, McCree, Wayne, Laurel, Rockcastle, Jackson, Clay, Hancock, Shelby, Bell, Harlan, Powell, Wolfe, Lee, Owens, Breathitt, Knott, Perry, Leslie and Letcher.

The top four regional winners in each of the 12 academic categories will be invited to Lexington March 13 through 16 for the state finals at Transylvania University.

A total of 1,758 students from 209 high schools in 99 Kentucky counties have registered statewide to compete in the 1991 Sweet 16 Academic Showcase.

The other regional competitions will be held at Morehead State University, Feb. 2; Murray State University, Feb. 16 and Georgetown College, Feb. 23.

The students will compete for a total of $75,350 in scholarships to be awarded through the Academic Showcase this year. The scholarships may be used at any Kentucky college, university, or post-secondary educational institution.

Since Lexington Mayor Scotty Basler started the program in 1985, more than $350,000 in scholarships has been awarded to 326 students from 168 Kentucky high schools. This year 75 students from 38 different high schools from across the state received scholarships.

The Academic Showcase has competitions in: Art; 2-D and 3-D Music, vocal and instrumental; Journalism, feature/writing and advertising/promotion; English, essay and creative writing; Speech; Computer; Mathematics; and Chess. All competitions are individual except math, computer and advertising/promotion which are team events. Competitions are judged by university faculty and professionals.

First through fourth-place winners on the regional level receive plaques and an opportunity to go to the state finals to vie for college scholarships. Individual students who win first place on the state level will receive $2,000 scholarships; second place, $1,200; third, $850 and fourth, $600. Team members who are state winners each receive $1,350 for first place; $950 for second; $650 for third; and $400 for fourth.

Art, 3-D, Stephanie Pope; Computer, Wendy Whitaker, Amy McClure, Christopher Dooley; Journalism, Shanna Kidwell; Creative, Judy Johnson;

Essay, Tonya Church; Feature, Rebecca Albright; Mathematics, Anthony Mink, Cynthia Gregory, Charles Mink, Rebecca Denney; Vocal, Jason Wilson.

Owens and Wood on Dean's List at Ky. Business College

Nancy Owens and Janice Wood of Mt. Vernon have been named to the fall quarter Dean's List at Kentucky College of Business, Richmond campus. Each student has maintained a minimum of 2.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

might be necessary to meet the school district's future needs. Unfortunately, this process does not assure good planning. It can consist of nothing more than cursory review of the district's plans, rambling discussions with school administrators and school board members, and intuitive interpretations of these impressions and facts.

Hopefully the process in Rockcastle County will conform more closely with good strategic planning principles. The Fayette County school board could be used as an excellent model by any school system considering the need to build new schools. The Fayette County strategic plan under the direction of Dr. Douglas Cole was based on extensive empirical data about population distributions of school age children, travel time to schools, mission and purpose of each school, and many other teaching and educational criteria. The Fayette County process attempted to provide an objective basis for school site selection and to involve public groups extensively and meaningfully in the planning process. The Fayette County plan has been fully implemented in the building of the innovative Dunbar High School in Lexington.

The Survey Team will make recommendations after its assessment of our school district. A hearing will be conducted at which members of the public will be able to comment about the plan and offer data and alternatives for consideration. If the local school board approves the plan recommendation, the State Survey Team makes a recommendation to the State Board of Education. If the recommendations are approved by the State Board, the plan is then considered by Woody Barwick of the State Department of Education to work out funding to construct the new school. As our own Superintendent has stated, our school district is eligible for more than $4.6 million under the new education reform act. These additional funds must be spent as wisely as possible so that the greatest good can be achieved for our children.

Vez Meeting of HET
Our next regularly scheduled meeting is Monday, Jan. 14, at the Mt. Vernon Elementary School at 7 p.m. Please arrange to attend this important meeting if at all possible. Important topics will be discussed about how to improve our schools and let our school officials know that we do not want our children bused to Livingston.

We have received excellent cooperation from Mr. Bige Towery, school superintendent, the Mt. Vernon Signal, WKOX radio in Berea, and others as we pursue our goals of communicating with each other and working to improve our schools in Rockcastle County.

School Facilities Planning Process Confusion has seemed to rule about the process the Rockcastle County and other school systems must follow to plan and build a new school. This was apparent at the recently conducted public hearings by the Bray Strategic Planning Sub-Committee. An accurate and informative interview with Bige Towery, School Superintendent, on the subject that appeared in the Mt. Vernon Signal recently did not seem to do much to reduce this confusion. As a result, it was decided the best way to cut through the morass surrounding facilities planning was to interview state officials who are responsible for the process, to analyze the law and administrative regulations which determine the process, and to talk with officials in an innovative school district about their process for deciding when and where to build a new school.

Interviews were conducted with officials in the Division of Building and Grounds in the Kentucky Department of Education and Dr. Douglas Cole, Director of Support Operations for the Fayette County board of education to obtain first-hand information on the planning process. In addition facilities planning regulations contained in Kentucky Administrative Regulations 720 (20 KAR Series 4) were analyzed to understand the legal basis for decisions at the school district level on when and where to build new schools.

The most obvious characteristics of the facilities planning process are the:

— the process is complicated and confusing and — the process does not assure a sound outcome—one that is based on objective information about educational needs and is free of local school politics.

All sources seem to concur that the facilities planning process begins with the five year re-accreditation procedure which results in a State Survey Team being sent to the local school district to make an evaluation of whether the school district should be accredited. The Survey Team is appointed by the Department of Education and consists of staff from the Department and representatives from other school districts. One member of the Survey Team represents the Division of Buildings and Grounds of the Department for Education. It is this Survey Team member who has responsibility for assessing the adequacy of the local school district's facilities and grounds for meeting its needs as expressed in its strategic plan.

The Survey Team member responsible for buildings and grounds is supposed to collect data and information during her visit to the local school district and assess what new facilities

Teen Center Perspectives

By: Ginny Gilpatrick
Rockcastle Teen Center

What prompts a man in middle to leave a secure job and devote his life to volunteer work for Christian Appalachian Project? Vince Turner, newly welcomed on staff at the Teen Center, will tell you, "I just like kids." This quality is apparent in Vince, an affable man with a dry sense of humor. He was spiritually motivated to give his life to God's service, and a chain of events led him to CAP.

But there is another factor involved in his decision. Making such a drastic change in lifestyle involves a willingness to take risks. The rewards of adventure are heralded on our screens daily. Vince's earlier life allowed him to travel, and having seen a wide spectrum of the country he is comfortable with his ability to adapt. He is free to follow his dream unencumbered by the hesitations and fears that keep many from attempting the unknown. What a wonderful role model for the teens!

A trip is tentatively planned for teens to travel for ten days this summer to the Boston area via Washington, D.C. and Pennsylvania Dutch country. In talking about the trip, teens were excited, but began to express certain fears: flying (they'll travel by bus!), relating to kids in the Massachusetts town where they'll be staying, ferry boat rides, strange food, motels, city "crime", homesickness, and parents' prohibition. Weekly group meetings for those who plan to go on the trip will deal with all these issues one by one. Teens will write to prospective host "brothers" and "sisters", learn about the areas to be visited, and make decisions about specific activities. They will also raise some money. Such a trip does involve some risks and many will opt not to cross that line. But those who do accept the adventure will return more confident, wiser, and more motivated. They will develop friendships and perspectives that will greatly enrich their lives.

An interest survey about the trip is being distributed to students this week. Parents who would like their sons or daughters to have this experience should return the information requested and they will then be invited to meet with the Program Coordinator, Ginny Gilpatrick, to discuss the trip further. Interested students are encouraged to attend the "Trip Group" meeting on Thursday at 5:00. Those who ultimately decide to go will be required to attend in order to develop group spirit and prepare for the trip. Teen Center Calendars are available at the schools and at the Council told cable service to improve

By: Ray McClure

A request that residents with poor cable television service come to a meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night brought only two or three persons to the meeting. The two or three, who came, plus those there for other business, heard Mayor Gary R. Cromer tell the two Falcon Cable TV representatives who attended that "service is better than it was; the best in years."

Robert Taylor, district representative for Falcon, introduced Larry Gregory, former Southern Cablevision repairman in Mt. Vernon, and reported Gregory was now with Falcon and assigned to Mt. Vernon. Gregory was warmly received by the council because of his former work here and knowledge of the area.

Even Councilman Wayne Adams, who spearheaded the effort to get residents to attend the meeting, and who had complained several times about TV service, gave his approval of Gregory.

Mayor Cromer told Taylor that the city now has annexed Renfro Valley area to the city and residents and motels in the new area would like to have TV service but have not been able to get it because of the high cost. Taylor said company policy dictated that service could only be available if the number of potential subscribers warrant it and the cost of installation be borne by the subscribers.

After further discussion, Mayor Cromer told Taylor he thought the city's TV franchise requires service for all sections of the city.

Taylor said he would confer with company officials, check the franchise. Cont. to A-12

School board votes to buy computers for each school

By: Richard Anderkin

The Rockcastle County School Board voted unanimously Tuesday night to spend $330,000 to bring modern technology into Rockcastle County classrooms.

That technology will come by way of computers, printers and software from International Business Machines.

"I think this will be a great asset to the school system and afford our students the same benefits that other students across the state get," said board member Clayton Cash.

Jim Jackson, an IBM representative told the board, that Superintendent Bige Towery, Jr. and his staff had done extensive planning and proceed before deciding how to purchase with their master plan for the computer age in Rockcastle County.

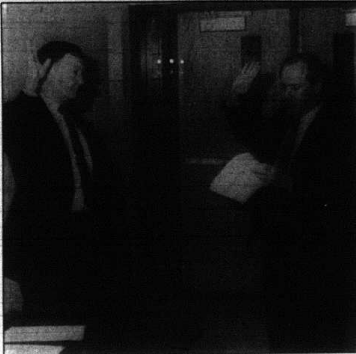

Once installed, students in each grade school and the high school will have almost daily access to a computer and a Science and Math computer lab will also be up and running at the high school.

The teaching and learning with computers program will allow teachers to share software with teachers and students at other schools and it will help prepare students for the computer oriented world of the 1990s. Along with the computers will be continuing for teachers. The training will also be provided by IBM employees.

Of the $330,000 being spent, $250,000 was generated by local tax money and the rest was part of the construction fund for Mt. Vernon Elementary School.

Poynter re-elected board chairman

George Poynter, who began his thirtieth year on the Rockcastle County school Tuesday night, was Kentucky Supreme Court Justice Joseph Lambert, right, swore George Poynter into office Tuesday night before the regular meeting of the Rockcastle County school board. Poynter was also re-elected chairman.

Lambert also swore in Earl Cummins before Tuesday's board meeting. Cummins is beginning his second term on the school board.

Survey to be conducted on possible mascot change

Superintendent Bige Towery told William Mullins and Elizabeth Abney, two local residents who are among the group wanting the mascot at Mt. Vernon changed, that MVES Principal John Hale was preparing a survey that would be mailed to all of the homes of students who attend Mt. Vernon.

"That action is the direct result of a request made by many people, most members of the Maple Grove Baptist Church, to have the Red Devil name changed at Mt. Vernon. The group also later requested that Livingston's mascot be changed."

At the December board meeting the group threatened legal action against the board if the name was not changed, saying that it was constitutionally wrong to have the Devil mascot because it related to the Satanic Religion.

Rev. Mark Halford, who attended the December meeting to present the board with statistics concerning Satanism, told the board Tuesday night, that, while he certainly understood the group's request, he would not be involved in any legal action and that personally he did not think the mascot name should be changed.

But, Mrs. Abney, who has a granddaughter at Mt. Vernon, told the board that the Ten Commandments were removed from the classroom because they contained the word "GOD" which connected them to religion and the same should apply to the devil mascot. She contended once again that it was unconstitutional to have the Red Devil mascot.

Principal Hale told the board that her group had been to three separate meetings to ask the board to change the name and that no other group had attended any of the three meetings to show opposition to the change.

However Mrs. Sandra Bullock, a Mt. Vernon PTA member spoke up and said that she had a child who has attended Mt. Vernon school for the past four years and liked being called the Red Devils. "She wants to graduate a Red Devil," Mrs. Bullock said.

Principal Hale told the board that the survey should be ready to be mailed out in the next few days and that a parent must sign it and return it to the school by the deadline to make it valid.

Only one survey per family will be sent out, according to Hale.

Superintendent Towery told Mullins and Abney that the board will review the results of the survey and discuss it at length before making any decision on the matter.

re-elected chairman by a unanimous vote.

Six term member Kenneth Adams was re-elected vice-chairman.

Poynter and board member Earl Cummins were sworn-in by Kentucky Supreme Court Justice Joseph Lambert before the meeting. Cummins, who begins his first full term after being elected to fill the remainder of Dr. Rudolph Burdette's term and Poynter were both unopposed last November.

State says "No" to new local health building

By: Ray McClure

In a surprise decision, the Kentucky Department of Local Government turned down a request for a grant for a new Rockcastle County Health Department building to replace the present building in downtown Mt. Vernon.

In a short, four-paragraph letter to County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins, the department said there had been 58 requests for the $20.4 million in Community Development Block Grant funds for various projects statewide, and that there was not enough money for all the projects.

In the letter to Judge Mullins from Libby Manis, director of the Office of Development of Community Projects, the court was informed the $287,000 grant for the building was turned down in this loan cycle but the local health department could re-apply by Feb. 15 for reconsideration. However, the next cycle will have only $1.7 million to grant and that must be divided among all community requests, hardly enough for the Rockcastle grant to be included.

The Rockcastle Health Department applied for the grant through the court with the local health department to come up with about $400,000 for the total project.

Judge Mullins said the decision was not a "dead end" for the new building that was to be located on property off old U.S. 25 near the Comprehensive Care Center and Valley View Apartments. The land was given for the building by the Cox family.

The decision from the state did not explain in detail—other than the lack of money—any other reason for the rejection.

One objection to the present location of the health department in Mt. Vernon has been parking that sometimes has cars extending over the sidewalk.

The announcement of a new building has not prompted much excitement one way or the other. Some residents rejected the move out of hand. Others said they didn't care.

At least one person was happy over the decision. Former County Judge/Executive Hubert Thacker was all smiles as Judge Mullins made the announcement of the grant rejection.

Judge Thacker had opposed the move on the grounds of the location of the new building, as being too removed from the people it was de-

Mullins announces road projects

Five major highway projects in the county were revealed to the Rockcastle Fiscal Court at its meeting Tuesday by the State Highway Department.

Douglas Gooch of the State Highway District at Somerset told the court the county Rural Secondary Road Fund for 1991-92 totals $566,000 with $287,000 of the amount going for routine maintenance and the remainder of $279,000 going for the five major projects.

Largest is $112,700 for 2.7 miles of paving on the Brush Creek-Orlando Road from the junction of Ky. 1797 to Ky. 1787.

Another project is Sand Springs Road from the Mt. Vernon city water tank south 6 miles to Cave Ridge Store. Refurfacing cost is $52,000.

Wildie-Clear Creek Road is to be done 7 miles from beginning of state-maintained area eastward, $50,000, and 3 miles from Hammonds Fork to junction of Ky. 1617, costing $55,000. Both sections total $105,000.

The final project is Stafford Lane road 4 of a mile from Ky. 1787 to the Madison County line.

The magistrates asked for one mile of work on the Copper Creek Road and guardrails on sections of Ky. 1249 and Ky. 1004.

Beware of counterfeit

Both Bank of Mt. Vernon and Citizens Bank officials report no counterfeit money has turned up in their banks to date, but warn residents that some bogus bills are being passed in central and southeastern Kentucky.

The Secret Service is telling residents to be on the lookout especially for counterfeit $20 and $100 bills.

Mt. Vernon is in the center of the warning area that has been designated between Lexington and Williamsburg, since they have been spotted in those cities. Since Dec. 10 about $2,000 in $20s and $100s have been found there.

There may be more of the bills around, according to Bill Craven of the Lexington office of the Secret Service, because they are so good they can even deceive some bank

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,
Let me speak a few words of truth and soberness, in response to last week's letter from Naomi Edwards. First, she said "Don't quote me one or two Bible verses to prove a point because..."

That is the problem with a good deal of the Religious World, folks don't want to hear the verses that condemn religious error. Jesus, Paul, Peter, James, etc., all used verses from the Bible to prove their points. A good example is when Jesus answered the Sadducees Doctrine, that there is no resurrection, Mt. 22:23-33. What did he do? He said they were wrong "Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God." Then he quotes from Ex. 3:16 to prove their error. I could imagine some of them said "Don't quote me one or two Bible verses to prove a point because..."

Mrs. Edwards's letter went on to say "You see it's the meaning that counts. The sincerity? I wonder if Nadab and Abihu thought this when they offered strange fire in Lev. 10:1-2? And was Saul and people justified in their actions of offering the best of the flocks from the spoils of Amalek? No sincerity, and the meaning didn't count." And Samuel said, "Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams. For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Folks may be sincere, but they are sincerely wrong! Because thou hast rejected the Word of the Lord, he hath also rejected thee from being King." 1 Sam. 15:22-23.

Saul could have said, to Samuel, "Ah, Come on now" as an educated man you can use your time in a better way to please God - squabble over a sacrifice to God? Seems very childish."

Mrs. Edwards said in her letter that she was "A Baptist and her best friend is a Roman Catholic." I don't read anywhere in the Bible about "a Baptist" or of a "Roman Catholic." I read of "John the Baptist" Mt. 3:1, notice it says "The Baptist, not a Baptist" for John was the only "Baptist." Jesus disciples are called Christians. Act 1:26.

Mrs. Edwards also said "I don't think you and I should be the judge. I read in my Bible where it says Judge Not!" Seems hypocritical to "Judge" me, for judging the error of Christ-mas. Jesus also said "Judge a righteous judgement." Jn. 7:24.

Yes, I am going to keep on preaching repentance, Baptism, the error of Christmas, and the whole counsel of God, Ac. 20:28! For all of us will be judged by the Word of God in the last day. He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day." Jn. 12:48.

Dear Editor,

I enjoy reading the Mt. Vernon Signal each week. I always buy at least one and sometimes two depending on whether or not the boys are expecting to read something about their sports interests.

I just finished reading Sports 1990: A Look Back, as it was during the respective seasons of Sr. League Baseball and Youth League Football, not one word was mentioned about the teams that a lot of kids, along with mine played on. It couldn't be because they were a last place team. The Sr. League Reds went through the season with only one loss by one run and won the league. They also won the end of the season tournament with no losses. Also in the 7th and 8th grade Youth League of Football the Mt. Vernon Wildcats went undefeated. I think these are big achievements and are certainly noteworthy, because these kids are already, or will be playing for the Rockcastle County Rockies. I couldn't print anything. I didn't think it was my place to question it since my husband, Paul was the coach of both teams. That shouldn't matter though. In fact I'm very proud of his achievements down through all the years that he has donated his time to the youth in Rockcastle County.

I didn't get to see some games last year because I worked second shift, therefore I looked forward to reading the Signal to get the story. I must say that I usually get disappointed and had to wait for the weekend to get it from Stacey, Jason or Paul.

I'm a firm believer that when you do something do your best and that goes for reporting. Report the good along with the bad. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Clarice Kirby

P.S. You have my permission to print this but I won't strain my eyes looking for it!

(Ed's Note: Our apology for not mentioning the Youth Football League team, the Wildcats. It is indeed noteworthy. However the Senior League Baseball Team, the Reds, were mentioned in the issue as winning the Senior League championship with a 17-3 win over the Braves. It just goes to show how easily something can be overlooked.)

Points East

By: Ike Adams

Unmentioned in the press and unnoticed except by family members and a few, close, personal friends, Mary Ann Adams surrendered life on earth on Friday, December 21, 1990. And I sit behind my word processor wondering how many other people, besides myself, are doing whatever it is they do to earn a living because Mrs. Adams came into our lives. At least a thousand. Probably more than that.

The quietness of her passing was in character because Mary Ann was not much given to mourning. Instead she was a walking, laughing celebration of life. Her style, perhaps her purpose on this earth, was to dry away the tears. Her ambition was to replace them with a determined grin and she was widely successful in that endeavor.

Born in Taylorville, (Spencer County), Kentucky on September 25, 1911 to James and Mollie Patton, Mary Ann received her early education at Cullpepper, a one room grade school near her home. She graduated high school at The Nazareth Academy in Nelson County in 1929 and earned her college degree at Eastern Teacher's College, (Now Eastern Kentucky University) in 1935.

At Eastern, she fell in love with and married a handsome pre-med student who would soon become a family practice physician. Mary Ann Patton's marriage to Dr. Lundy Adams took her from prosperous and gentle rolling farmland to the rugged, coal-mining community of Hotspot, located near the Virginia line in Letcher County, Kentucky where the Appalachian mountains send up their highest peaks and where Dr. Adams had been born and raised.

They soon settled in Blackey, just a few miles down-river where "Doc Lundy" established his practice and Mary Ann began another love affair that was to last the 55 years of their marriage. While sociologists and governments lamented the lack of privilege and the isolation of Eastern Kentucky, Mary Ann Adams quietly and devoutly fell head over heels in love with her new surroundings and the people who lived there.

The actual chronology of her teaching career is not as important as the fact that she spent 23 years running classrooms. There were interruptions, "pauses", she would have more appropriately called them, to bear four children. She took time off in the sixties to organize Letcher County women around an Appalachian handicrafts production and marketing business that received national acclaim for excellence in quality and design. She also served as a founding board member of a self-help cooperative called Hill & Hollow Inc. whose members learned to make and market quilts, soft toys, baskets, corn shuck dolls and other items in quantity enough to sell to a national market.

During the first two decades of their marriage, child birthing in the mountains was almost always done at home. On more than 50 occasions Mary Ann rode with Doc Lundy as far as it could drive the Model T up a rutted hollow road and then walked with him the last quarter half a mile to assist in delivering babies who would later become her students. She often tied the umbilical cord and invariably, she was the first to bathe

Durham - Long

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Durham of Livingston announcing the engagement of their daughter, Janis, to Gregory Alan Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Long of Brodhead. The couple plan a spring wedding.

RAMBLINGS...

BY: PERLINA M. ANDERSON

Well, isn't it amazing. The world of science is in disarray because of the "explosion" of their "big bang" theory (Jan. 4th Lexington Herald-Leader). You know, the one that said our world began when a bunch of matter collected in the universe and exploded (somehow) and presto! our earth. That's very much an oversimplification but relatively close.

I, for one, am crushed. Here I

40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Vester Singleton, formerly of Rockcastle County, are celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary. They were married Nov. 4, 1950 in Mt. Vernon and left immediately for Richmond, Ind. but moved shortly thereafter to Hamilton, Ohio where they have spent all their married life. They have three children, Ronnie of Hamilton, Danny of Richmond, Va. and Gail of Fairfield, Ohio and three grandchildren. A delayed celebration was held at Christmas when all the family could be together. Mr. Singleton, the son of the late Sherman and Delia Singleton, is a general contractor and Mrs. Singleton, the daughter of Frank and Joan Shell, works for Hancock Fabrics.

thought all the time that I owed my existence to something as "scientific" as a bunch of matter collecting together somewhere in space and just happening to explode and create something as unique and wonderful as our world.

Oh well, I guess I'll just have to go back to my original "theory." You know, the one where a Divine Being, carefully and with great forethought and love created the world in which we live. I realize scientists dismiss this "theory" out of hand but we at least have the Bible as proof - they have nothing but their computers and their knowledge to program into them.

There are simply too many miracles concerned with creation to not believe there was and is divine guidance behind it all. And, before you insist that if that is true, God has sure messed up since with the sorry state of today's world, just remember that God, along with his other gifts, gave us free will and the sorry state of today's world can be attributed to man's "free will" run rampant. All we would have to do to correct our present situation is live by the guidelines set for us in His Word.

And now, on to other things since I would be far better off leaving the preaching to those much better qualified.

This is always the time of year that New Year's Resolutions come to mind - that's convenient isn't it? New Year's Resolutions at the start of the new year? Anyway, I'm ___ years old and have been making resolutions for many years and have a perfect record thus far - I've broken all of them. I read a column earlier by a man who said he wasn't making any

Lest We Forget

That the sun will always come out after a storm and will seem all the brighter because of the dark clouds that have darkened the sky. It is weathering the storm that must concern us. When the winds howl and the rain comes down ceaselessly we must remember the forests need a good shaking and twisting to loosen their roots and get rid of dry limbs in their tree tops and the earth needs moisture to survive. After the floods the creekbeds will be washed of some of their filth and the water ways will be a little cleaner. The air will also be a little cleaner from the cleansing down pour. The grass in the meadows will be greener and new growth will spring up as if by magic. We must remember all things have a purpose and it is we, the human race, who will benefit in the long run.

We must remember that peace follows wars. It doesn't matter how devastating a war may be, sooner or later peace comes and the world goes on and cleans up the rubble left behind broken hearts and empty lives pick up the pieces and, as if stretching after a night time of bad dreams and night mares, use the peace that follows to sooth then wounded spirits. We must remember it is usually the little people who suffer most in these times and seem to be the forgotten ones. War lords seldom are in the front lines and aggressors are so busy with their desire to be the aggressor they seem to forget it is their own youth they are wasting on battle fields. Civilization may seem to stop for awhile or even take a step back in time but eventually it will be over, like the storm, and again peace will remain while the war lords and the aggressors will lick their wounds or crow to the world that this was just cause. It has always been that way since history has been written and mothers have borne sons and daughters to fill the ranks of the fallen.

And lest we forget, there has always been times of prosperity and well being in every country of the world as well as depressions and famines. Wicked and greedy leaders look out for their own kind and allow the citizenry to grapple with lack of work and means to live on. It can be called harmless recessions or severe depressions but human lives get the consequences with hunger and deprivation. While countless acres of tillable land go to waste for want of workers, people all over the world starve to death for want of leaders to point the way to a harvest of their own while factories close their doors and allow the buildings to fall down because of the profit index. People reach out their empty hands to a government already in debt beyond its ability to pay, for more handouts so they can survive. While land is put into land banks and tractors and plows are stored in an empty shed to rust, people fill offices and form miles long lines to receive a piece of paper that allows them to purchase food to keep them alive.

While slum areas in the cities are being torn down because of their unsightliness and run down conditions the people once sleeping in them are now sleeping on sidewalks. And where once there were cheap soup houses for the hungry now there are Civic Centers for the few who can find a way to get to them and are not intimidated by their plush surroundings.

Lest we forget, our country was settled by immigrants from every nation in the world seeking a better way of life, most of them were proud people who were willing to face the hazards of a new world and work countless hours under every condition known to man to attain and hold their freedom to live the life of their choice and worship God in their own way. Cities were built and inhabited by these people as well as the hills and hollows allowing them to live in the peace and quiet of their solitude if they so choose.

Our learning began around the fireplace by parents telling of the past and what could be of a better future and graduated to little isolated one room buildings where "readin-stin and rithmetic" was taught, often by candlelight, and always to the tune of discipline. There were no halls of ivory for many years but those schools did turn out some real statesmen and leaders.

When we think back to the writers and signers of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution that is still the best in the world and know these young explorers and surveyors had nothing but good clean, well trained minds and the will to do we wonder just how far the computer of today has brought us.

We can think back to Susan B. Anthony, Womens Suffrage and Clara Burton, Red Cross and wonder how these two women began the work that has continued down through the history of U.S.A., and know they had no planes to fly them from coast to coast and a whole team of people to beg money for them. It was in their will to do something for humanity and they were willing to study and work hard through trying times to achieve it. All women who believe in the right to vote for the person of their choice should be eternally thankful for Susan B. Anthony who fought so hard, and was practically an outcast for awhile because of her views on a woman's right and need to vote. I think I read somewhere, at some time in my life that one of her speeches was about the saying: "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," and her speech brought out the fact that as long as males only could choose who was to run the country, the hand that rocked the cradle would be powerless to rule anything or even help to shape it. She won her point, so good or bad it is now up to us women to balance the vote and try to be as wise as Solomon in the choice we make. God knows we need wisdom in these trying times of crooked politicians whose only interest seems to be in power and greed.

Clara Burton, another woman who helped settle our country and whose name has gone down in history was the nurse who organized the American Red Cross. This organization has become a world symbol of mercy.

Wishing you a "Happy 21st" Birthday January 9th, Audrey Tonya Parrett. We Love You!! The West Street Gang!!

Son Born
Berkley and Sheila Allen announce the birth of their second child, a son, Nathan Scott, born December 5, 1990 at Lake Cumberland Humana Somerset. Nathan weighed 7 lbs., 10-1/2 oz. and was 18-1/2 inches long at birth. He was welcomed home by a sister, Gena Kaye who will celebrate her 4th birthday Jan. 6, 1991. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Owen Winkle and Mr. and Mrs. Van Allen, all of Orlando.

Second Child

Roger and Marie Smith of Broadhead are proud to announce the birth of their son, Shayne Dale. He was born Dec. 13, 1990 at Pattie A. Clay Hospital in Richmond. He weighed 7 lbs., 4 ozs. and was 20 inches long at birth. He was welcomed home by a sister, Shawmetha Noelle, 2-1/2. Paternal grandparents are James Jr. and Bernice Smith of Mt. Vernon. Maternal grandparents are Darvel Rader of Connersville, Ind. and Darlene Hicks of Livingston.

3rd Birthday
Jeffery Curtis McClure celebrated his 3rd birthday Dec. 28. He is the son of Jeff and Rhonda McClure and grandson of Joyce Cobb and the late Curtis Cobb and Ellis and Janet McClure.

To Jeffery Curtis McClure on his 3rd birthday December 28th from MaMa

I'll never forget that special day on December 28th when you came my way.

Pretty as a picture sweet as could be and you were the first grandchild to me.

I've watched you grow and change through the years I've seen your smiles and I've seen your tears.

So you have my love all I can give just remember that for as long as you live.

Is it a nightmare, or it is just a Dream
Our little girl just turned sixteen.
Love,
Dad, Mom, Jon and Matt

And lest we forget, Kentucky has given a fair share of statesmen to the making of our nation. Abraham Lincoln was born here and began his earliest studying here by the light of a lamp or by firelight, then there was Henry Clay and much later Alben Barkley. I've always thought of Dr. Tim Lee Carter as a statesman in my time. He went beyond simple politics and voted for what he thought best for the people in his district. We've had many more people of great stature come from the hills, hollows and blue grass regions of Kentucky. My belief is, there are many more of them here bidding their time to show the world all good things don't come from the big cities and more progressive states. Our one room schools have turned out thinkers equal to the most exclusive schools in the world. Our colleges have turned out world leaders. Other states are pleased to have our college graduates as teachers in their schools and professionals in their world of professionals, doctors, lawyers, psychologists and etc.

And lest we forget, we have children and youth who need our attention today. They need to be taught the struggle Kentucky has had to survive as well as learn of the many people who have survived the struggle and reached the heights of success.

Now for a "Test we forget on a local and immediate problem. Have you all forgotten we still have a garbage problem? Do you remember the road clean up campaign? Are you once again throwing out your trash on the roadways? Have you forgotten laziness more effort to clean up than dirty? If you can't pickup - don't throw out.

I've been noticing more roadway trash lately as I've driven about the countryside.

So, lest we forget, the pride of a proud people shows up in many ways, one of them being cleanliness.

resolutions this year because he had found in the past that he would lie, cheat and even steal in order to keep them. I thought this was a little drastic so I decided this year that I would make New Year's Resolutions for other people rather than myself -- other people translates primarily to Jim (my husband). This year, his list would include: (1) a new bathroom floor (2) finishing Sara's bathroom (this could also be on Sara's list since she could do it as well) (3) never, ever running out of wood (4) telling me every day, at least once, how indispensable I am to his existence and so on and so forth, you get the idea. I have lists prepared for Sara, Travis and Allison but I have to wait for the proper time to present them -- such as when they have committed some transgression and I can use it for a bargaining point. Now if I can just get Jim to read this column...

"Counterfeit bills"

Those who should find counterfeit bills may not always turn them in and may choose to keep them or spend them since the bills are not reimbursed by the bank.

Keith Smith of the Citizens Bank, said they have not received any that they know of. Jess Butlock of the Bank of Mt. Vernon said he was not sure they would know one if they got one. Usually the Federal Reserve Bank in Cincinnati can spot the bogus bills, but the bills could be kept in circulation for a long time and not reach the federal reserve for several weeks or even months.

Understanding the Bible

Studies in "Understanding the Bible" will be offered in five weekly classes beginning Jan. 17, at the Rockcastle Baptist Center for Biblical studies at the First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon.

Rev. Jack Bruce, Director for the Center, announced today that Rev. Wendell Romans, pastor at the First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon would be teaching this course. Classes will be held on Thursdays from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Interested persons may pre-enroll at your local Baptist Church or by calling the Baptist Association office at 256-4571, Monday through Friday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Folks who are not members of Southern Baptist churches may also enroll by calling 256-4571. This course is designed for all who would like to understand the Bible better, also as a good 'refresher course' for those who already know a great deal about the Bible, and to help all Christians ians more effectively serve the Lord as they continue their spiritual pilgrimage.

The Rockcastle Baptist Center for Biblical Studies is one of 400 Extension Centers in operation across the country in cooperation with the Southern Baptist Convention's External Education Division, and is sponsored by the Rockcastle Association of Missionary Baptist Churches.

The Center is a member of the National University Continuing Education Association and an accredited member of the National Home Study Council.

A guiding principle of the Center is II Timothy 2:15 - "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of truth."

"So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." - Psalm 90:12

Obituaries

Cleo Moore

Mrs. Cleo Moore, 76, of Mt. Vernon died Jan. 6, 1991 at St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington of an apparent heart attack.

She was born on June 4, 1914 in Rockcastle County, the daughter of the late Tom and Lula Doan Hansel.

Survivors are: a son, William Moore of Lancaster; two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Graves of Stanford, and Mrs. Anna Graves of Lancaster; two brothers, Monroe and L.H. Hansel, both of Mt. Vernon; six sisters, Mrs. Rissie Childress, Mrs. Tessie Childress, and Mrs. Clotilde Deatherage, all of Mt. Vernon; Mrs. Jennie Mason of Lockland, Ohio; Mrs. Minnie Smith of Independence, and Mrs. Eva Kinman of Williamstown, eight grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Alex Moore and by four brothers and two sisters.

Services were held Jan. 8, 1991 at the Cox Funeral Home, Chapel with Bros. James Nicely and Bill Graves officiating. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Tommy Grims, Terry Graves, Doug Graves, Brian Moore, Junior Moore and Joe Deatherage.

Roger Joiner

Roger Madison Joiner, 82, of Liberty, Ga., died Dec. 18, 1990 of natural causes.

A native of Washington County, Joiner was retired from the U.S.

Please Note!

Persons from states other than Kentucky who send obituaries to the Signal should always include the state in which the deceased lived and their relation to Rockcastle County.

the newborn child.

She rode alone on hundreds of other "house calls" to assist her husband and his patients in whatever ways they needed help - to cook a meal or clean the kitchen.

An accurate account of her citizenship over the years would fill this column several times. She was president of PTA's secretary of the Leitcher County Planning Commission; chairperson of the County Recreation Commission; active in the Women's Auxiliary of the Kentucky Medical Association and was named its Doctor's Wife of the Year in recognition of her community service. She was the Lion's Club teacher of the Year for "Service to students beyond the call of duty." She faithfully served the Kentucky Historical Society, the Southern Highlands Craft Guild, The Kentucky Youth development Foundation and more than a dozen other development focused groups.

In 1977 she was recognized as Eastern Kentucky University's Outstanding Alumna of the Year. In presenting the award the speaker noted that Mrs. Adams had moved to a mining community and become, herself, a miner of the human spirit.

But for all that she accomplished outside the classroom, Mary Ann Adams was first and foremost, an innovative educator. She organized a travel club that, for several years enabled her students to make trips out of the hills and gauge for themselves, the size and grandeur of a larger world. She organized a student exchange program that sent dozens of mountain kids to eastern cities and vice versa to create better understanding and appreciation of our diverse cultures.

Mostly though, she challenged us in such a way that we accepted it and in doing so we literally changed our destinies. Long before the U.S. Army took up the motto, "Be all that you can be," Mrs. Adams preached it daily in terms that did not involve taking up arms. "Dare to be great." "March to your own drummer," she would insist so often that many of us started believing that we could.

Mary Ann's love for her students and mankind was real and sincere. Her faith in God was unshakable. She did not have to preach of Christ, because she set His example in everything she did. The world is a better place because she made so many of us better than we would have been without her. And though gone from us, her spirit will continue to live through us and those we teach. How proud I am just now, to be a small part of that wonderful legacy.

To Dr. Adams and the children, Ann, Michel, Dwana and James Lundy, I suggest you put aside your mourning and celebrate instead because your wife and mother will likely outlive us all.

Department of Agriculture and was once-owner of Tucker Poultry Co. He was member of Masonic Lodge 42 F&AM, Tucker, and Yarab Shrine Temple, and a charter member of Crossview Baptist Church, Lilburn.

Survivors include his wife, Lena Gustafson Joiner, a sister, Mary Joiner, Atlanta, and a brother, Milo Joiner, of Clarkston.

Memorial gifts may be made to Crossview Baptist Church Building Fund, 101 Killian Hill Road, Lilburn 30247.

Services and burial were in Covington.

Wanda Thompson

Mrs. Wanda Thompson, 75, of R.L. 3, Somerset, died Jan. 3, 1991 at the Rockcastle Hospital.

She was born in Rockcastle County, September 29, 1915, the daughter of Jonas and Tillo McClure DeBord. She was retired from the Quatron Chemical Company and was a member of the American Quilters Society and the Fairview Church of Christ.

She is survived by a daughter, Illa DeBord of R.L. 3, Somerset; four brothers, Sam DeBord of Ottawa, Burdette DeBord of R.L. 1, Brodhead, V.C. DeBord of Crab Orchard and Junior DeBord of Trenton, Fla.; two sisters, Alzie Thompson of Erlanger and Olga Thompson of R.L. 1, Mt. Vernon; a first cousin, Geraldine Cash of Brodhead. She was preceded in death by her husband, Earlow Thompson.

Services were Jan. 5 at Dowell and Martin Funeral Home with Bro. Harold Carter officiating. Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery at Wilhalla.

Pallbearers were Wilburn Thompson, Paul Thompson, Albert Burton, Henry Owens, A.F. DeBord and Arnold Larkin.

Lena Cromer

Mrs. Lena Owens Cromer, 88, of Reading, Ohio, and formerly of Rockcastle County, died Jan. 7, 1991. She was born in Rockcastle County May 22, 1902, the daughter of Will and Alice Baker Owens. She was a member of the Sand Hill Baptist Church.

She is survived by a son, Virgil Cromer of Reading, Ohio and a daughter, Verma Burke, of Mt. Vernon; a half sister, Bonnie Maybrier of Lexington, 10 grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Willie Cromer and two sons.

Services were Jan. 9 at Dowell and Martin Funeral Home with Bro. Tim Hampton officiating. Burial was in the Sand Hill Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Billy Burke, Robert Burke, Roger Burke, Roger Burke, Jr., Terry Burke and Jason VanZant.

Rosie Adams

Mrs. Rosie Adams, 79, of Berea, formerly of Rockcastle County, died Jan. 9, 1991 at Berea Hospital. Arrangements are incomplete at Cox Funeral Home.

Help available to Desert Shield Guard/Reserve

Assistance in resolving employment and personal problems to Guard and Reserve members activated for "Desert Shield" comes quickly from the Kentucky Committee for Employee Support of the guard and Reserve, says state Chairman Edward F. Hessel, Jr.

Hessel says the Committee is fielding an average of 50 calls a week state wide.

The Committee, a Department of Defense sponsored organization, is made up of volunteers whose duty it is to smooth the differences that may arise between an employer and his citizen soldier employee.

"A Reservist/Guardman has an obligation to keep his or her employer completely informed of active duty requirements and time tables. By the same token, the employer has a moral and legal obligation to facilitate the employee's compliance with military requirements," Hessel said.

If a problem arises the employer should contact the unit of assignment to which the employee belongs. If that fails to clear the problem, he should contact Hessel at (502) 459-1690 or national headquarters at 1-800-336-4590.

Forty-four percent of the nation's defense is made up by the Reserve and National Guard forces.

The Environment at Risk-- You can make a difference

Did you know that...

-- The average American throws out his own weight in packaging every month.

-- It takes twenty trees to keep one baby in disposable diapers for two years.

-- The average American family produces about 100 pounds of trash every week.

-- Paper towels and toilet paper are often made from recycled paper.

-- Every three months, the U.S. throws away enough aluminum to rebuild our commercial aircraft.

Environmental issues continue to dominate public policy decisions in the United States. Groups are calling for new answers to environmental problems we are facing in our communities--water quality, solid waste, and depleting resources, to name a few. Earth Day found Americans taking renewed interest in "cleaning up their act" as individuals, communities, and as a whole nation. Yet, as the media "hype" dies down, what can individuals in their homes and acts you are now choosing to see if they fit into the environmental picture from consumption to the landfill. Do not confuse "environmentally safe" products with "healthy"; not everything in an environmentally-safe package is good for you or the environment. Conversely, very healthy products may be packaged in environmentally-harmful containers. For example, skim milk may be the healthiest dairy product, but may be packaged in a plastic carton that is a problem in an overcrowded landfill. Begin to weigh the value of the products you select and consume for their environmental value (or harm) as well as their cost, useful purpose, nutritional value, etc.

Pre-cycle your products or services that you consume. Learn to reduce waste before you buy an item. Watch the packaging of various items. Since styrofoam generally doesn't break down in a landfill and is partially responsible for the depletion of the ozone layer, it is a product you can pre-cycle out of your home. Instead of buying eggs in styrofoam containers, select those in cardboard. Think of using plates and cups that wash instead of plastic plates or styrofoam. Select foods packaged in recycled cardboard (with the gray interior). Buy vegetables and fruits individually loose, not in styrofoam trays. Buy in bulk, not in single-serving quantities (it's cheaper and there's less packaging). Buy in returnable bottles or containers. Choose glass containers over plastic containers. Glass is recyclable, while fewer re-

Quail Homemakers
By: Millie Eaton

The Quail Homemakers held their cycling centers now accept plastic. Watch for the recycle seal on items that indicates that the package has been or can be recycled. Choose recycled paper products. Avoid packages and products labeled as "disposable". Whether the product is a plastic razor, paper plate, disposable window cleaner, or disposable diaper, this is a product that means convenience today and environmental headaches tomorrow. These products have a one-way ticket to the dump. Wean yourself from disposables. Avoid excessively-wrapped products, such as medicine or cosmetics in a bottle, packed in cardboard, inside another box, inside a plastic film. Does cough medicine really need a dispensing cup and then the package together, or can we just get the bottle? Aseptic packages, such as individual juice packs in paper boxes coated with plastic and foil boxes with straws, don't require refrigeration but encourage waste problems. Blister packaging with products shown in a transparent plastic bubble are often used on items that need no bubble at all - tools, nails, serving utensils, etc. As you shop, take your own shopping bag, or ask for paper bags rather than plastic bags that don't easily degrade in landfills.

Another way to pre-cycle is to stop your junk mail. In order to reduce the amount of unsolicited junk mail you receive, you may wish to ask that your name be removed from mailing lists. Write: Mail Preference Service; Direct Marketing Association; 11 West 42nd Street, P.O. Box 2861; New York, NY 10163-3861. This will reduce your junk mail up to 75 percent.

December meeting at the home of Noreitta Thompson. The ride into the country was cheerful as we passed homes that were decorated for the holiday season.

Noreitta's home was not to be missed as we rounded the curve and saw the outside so brightly lit.

Everyone was anxious to discover who their Secret Pal for the past year had been and to know if they had guessed right. No business was discussed so we were able to get started right away. The laughter that arose was nothing compared to the comments made as each gift was opened and Secret Pals were revealed. Games were played, with yet more gifts exchanged and Secret Pal names were drawn for the coming year.

Refreshments were served, which turned out to be a seven course meal, with far too much, especially when you feel that you have to try everything, including each dessert.

Everyone left for home several hours later with arms and stomachs too full.

The January meeting will be held at my home with an open invitation to anyone who might be interested in joining a club. The area where you live has nothing to do with a club that you might like to join. I live in Mt. Vernon and belong to the Quail Club.

Clint Hasty relays radio messages from Middle East

By: Jon Jimison Daily Times Staff Writer

BAILEY - A Wilson County man is helping transmit radio messages from the U.S. troops in Saudi Arabia. Clint Hasty, a ham radio operator, is volunteering his time to the U.S. Air Force for receiving and transmitting messages from servicemen and women in the Middle East to their loved ones. In December, he helped in the transmission of 220 messages to people in Eastern North Carolina.

Although he is capable of receiving the Middle East with his radio equipment, Hasty said he is getting messages relayed to him through locations such as Germany and Georgia.

Hasty is affiliated with MARS, Military Affiliated Radio System, of the U.S. Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. C.S. McKinney visited Mr. and Mrs. Glen Vaught at Woodstock and also Mr. and Mrs. Keith Norton Sunday.

Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C.S. McKinney were their daughter Mrs. Sharon Lovins and granddaughter Jamie.

Sympathy is extended to all who have lost loved ones recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Purcell visited Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Barron recently.

Mrs. Linda Eaton and girls and Patricia Holland were in Somerset Saturday.

Mrs. Linda Eaton and daughter Angie and Patricia Holland were in Berea Monday evening.

One message he helped in relaying was a wedding proposal from the Middle East.

Another message began, "Too many words, not enough space." The messages are so important to the people who send and receive them," he said. "They're also very touching and emotional."

"I believe this is just a small way that I can help with the Middle East situation the way it is," he said. "I feel fortunate that I can help in this way."

Hasty said with the uncertainty of the situation in the Middle East, the soldiers don't know if or when they will be able to come back to the United States.

"The messages are very special and touching," he said.

After Hasty receives the messages, he has the option of either calling or writing the people to relay the message.

"I call at my expense a lot," he said. "We take pride in delivering the messages promptly."

His employer, Merck Pharmaceutical Manufacturing, has donated long-distance waste line access so Hasty can make some of the calls without personal expense.

Hasty, who has had his amateur radio license for about 17 years, said his interest in ham radio has always been strong.

He took a course at a community college and has since invested approximately $6,000 in equipment including a 100-foot tower antenna.

Hasty said he would readily assist those who are trying to get messages overseas.

While mail might take several weeks, the radio messages may be completed in two or three days, he said.

"This is just my way of helping," he said.

Clint Hasty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hasty of Rt. 1 Mt. Vernon.

production and technology necessary for producing quality transplants. The day-long program will be held Wednesday, Jan. 16 at the Holiday Inn North, Lexington, on Newton Road at the I-75 and I-64 intersection.

Seminar presentations and commercial displays will feature the latest information on "plugs," transmitters and "float plant" production utilizing field beds and greenhouses, pelleted seed, seeding equipment, growing media, management practices, transplanters and other equipment.

Several seminar presentations will be made by University and industry personnel from 9:15 a.m. to noon and from 1:15 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Topics to be covered include: seeding methods, germination environment, growing media, fertility requirements, basic greenhouse structures, plant trays, field bed construction, planting, clipping, undercutting, the overall float plant production system and Extension Agent and farmer experiences with the various practices.

Advice and precautions on best management practices for producing quality tobacco transplants by these new methods will be covered.

Commercial exhibits featuring production products, structures and equipment will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m.

This special day will be organized and held on Jan. 16, 1991, to give tobacco producers timely opportunities to learn about and see the various assortment of products and services coming available in support of these new ideas and methods of plant production. The urgency of the early date is to allow producers time to make critical decisions about any adoption and purchases in time to prepare for the February and March seeding and plant growing dates.

1991 ACP-LTA sign-up period

The 1991 ACP-LTA sign-up period for Rockcastle County has been set for Jan. 14, through Jan. 25, according to D.G. Albright, chairman of the Rockcastle County ASC Committee.

Any Rockcastle County farmer interested in the 1991 LTA program should contact the Rockcastle County ASCS office immediately.

ACP-LTA is a federally assisted cost-sharing program emphasizing the identification and solution of soil, water and woodland conservation and pollution problems on agricultural lands and encourages energy conservation.

The basic objective of Long Term Agreements (LTAs) is to treat a specific delineated area that has been identified with critical soil and water farmland problems. Through the use of an approved conservation plan, a combination of selected conservation

The stories making the headlines the last six months of 1990

This week we completed the stories that made news in Rockcastle from July to December, 1990.

In July, the Rockcastle/Fiscal Court revised its solid waste budget, approved a committee to review it, and planned to hire a solid waste coordinator. Western Water District was reported to have used water in excess of its contract with Mt. Vernon. Broadhead approved a $76,619 budget. The Mt. Vernon Elementary School was torn down. Johnny Lee Bullock and Dennis Rash had a gun battle. GTE and Contel talked merger. Charlie Moore, county's oldest citizen, died. Once again, the Broadhead Fair was held.

In August, nearly a million dollars worth of marijuana was destroyed by Sheriff Shirley Smith and before the season was over, a lot more. Steven Dale Robinson pleaded guilty in the murder and robbery of Alma Jean Brown. He later got 10 years in prison. The school board added a 3% utility tax. So did the city council. The tax also voted for a vehicle tax but it never became an ordinance. Fletcher's grocery was damaged by fire followed by the resignation of Fire Chief David Ovi, who later returned. The robber of a Beattyville Bank walked away from the county jail after pulling a gun on a deputy jailer. William Cash resigned over opposition to a council vote.

In September, Livingston had its annual, successful Labor Day Homecoming event. County Judge Executive Roland Mullins and the fiscal court appointed Calvin Mize garbage coordinator. Later in the year he resigned. After the resignation of William Cash, the city council chose Charles Mullins as Mt. Vernon Mayor. A $4,500 matching grant for a county airport was approved; location not chosen. New county health department is approved on property given to the county by Atty. Jerry Cox. Renfro Valley sewer line bid approved. Hospice service became available in county. The Kentucky Public Service Commission said there was little hope for more water in the county. As the county ended the month, Dale Kelly Cope of Red Hill was shot to death and Wayne Owens

Besides Poyner, Adams and Cummins, Clayton Cash and Debbie Whinnhead comprise the local board.

In other business the board voted to approve G.E.D. certificates for Nancy M. Caldwell, Carolyn R. Dean, Lehoma Lasswell, Elva Marcum, Pamela S. Mason, Betty J. Newcomb, Tina M. Robinson, Linda S. Singleton and Doris Sowder.

The substitute teacher aide rate of pay was amended to $5.05 per hour.

Katrecia Cash, a teacher at Livingston Elementary school was granted an extended maternity leave.

Paula Cobb, Tommy Collins, Stacy Craig and Bessie Prickett were approved for school bus monitors.

Superintendent Towery's personnel actions in the past month included the hiring of Charles Bullens, Lora Lee Lambert and Geraldine Holbrook as substitute teachers. Linda Kirby will take over for Katrecia Cash at Livingston. Paula Cobb was also hired as a substitute teacher aide at Roundstone. Carolyn Northern was hired as a cook. Linda Howard will be a teacher aide in the TMH class at Mt. Vernon and Ricky Harris was hired as a substitute custodian at Broadhead.

was charged with murder. The shooting was at the home of Willie Mink.

In October, the Mt. Vernon City Council approved a 3% motor tax. The tax was later withdrawn in favor of a countywide tax approved by the fiscal court. City also loaned $100,000 for a Days Inn Motel project near Renfro Valley I-75 interchange. The 1990-91 school budget of $11.2 million was approved by the school board up from $9.2 million in 1989-90. Over 10,000 visitors attended Old Joe Clark's Bluegrass festival. County Attorney James H. Lambert filed suit in circuit court to set aside a ruling by District Judge William T. Cain that prevented blood tests of four county men from being introduced as evidence in their drunk driving case. Mt. Vernon's first fall festival was a success with hopes for another next year. A Southern Kentucky Information Center opened in Renfro Valley.

In November, public forums were held on school planning including discussion of a middle school. Later in the month, Livingston and Broadhead area residents said "no" to a middle school. Roundstone residents said "yes". Along came a controversy over the use of the Red Devil tion programs best suited to the particular needs of each individual site are applied with respect to the primary use of the farmland under contract.

With the 1990 Farm Bill placing increased emphasis on Water Quality concerns and issues, the STC has determined that FY91 funds will be authorized only for requests addressing specific Water Quality issues resulting from ineffective, or lack of, Agricultural Waste Control Facilities (WP4's). (Other systems dealing directly with solving the degradation of Water Quality issues may be approved if determined warranted.)

Farmers are eligible to receive cost-sharing of up to 75% of the actual cost of the conservation practice performed. These practices are to be maintained by farmers for a period of five to ten years after the completion of the practice depending upon the type of practice performed.

These practices are under specific instructions and should not be started before actual approval from the County Committee with the instructions as listed on the approved ASCS form ACP-245 mailed to farmers prior to starting of the practice(s). Cost-sharing amount will be applied after the practice is reported as completed and adequate receipts are presented as proof of the material(s) used to perform the practice. Some practices must be referred to the Soil Conservation and the Kentucky Division of Forestry for approval.

ACP-LTA funds are obligated for a period of three to five years with the maximum permitted cost-sharing for one year not to exceed the amount of $3,500. This means on a three-year contract you could learn up to $10,500.

As a reminder, Jan. 25, is the deadline for sign-up in the ACP-LTA program with regard to Rockcastle County. Anyone interested in applying for the Long Term Agreement should contact the office immediately. If you have any questions concerning LTA's, you may call our office anytime Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Our telephone number is 256-2525.

name as team mascot at the new Mt. Vernon Elementary School. The change was not made. The city revised its duck hunting ordinance at Lake Linville. And, annexation of areas around the city lost in a vote 209 to 39. U.S. Senator Mitch McConnell defeated Harvey Sloane in Rockcastle over 2 to 1. Faced with absenteeism to go hunting, principal Ronnie Cash at Rockcastle High School to go deer hunting on one day.

Rogers losses bid for top republican post in House

U.S. Rep. Harold Rogers, R-Somerset, narrowly lost his bid to become the ranking Republican on the House Budget Committee, a post he had sought for several months.

Rogers conceded defeat yesterday to Rep. Bill Gradison, R-Ohio, who was recommended for the post Thursday by the House Committee on Committees by a vote of 100-88. The full Republican caucus will vote on the recommendation later this month, but Gradison is virtually assured of approval, Rogers said.

The Budget Committee is powerful because it sets the fiscal policy of the federal government. The ranking

In December, the State rejected a $500,000 grant to upgrade the city water plant that had a $1.7 million price tag. Earlier, the state had said the plant was supplying enough water. The Red Devil name came up again with some residents threatening legal action. Fiscal Court approved allowing state prisoners to work in the county. Christmas planning had begun in earnest with a "biggest, best" parade in Mt. Vernon, visitors said, and a second one in Broadhead. GTE-Contel approved merger. Western water district applied for a grant to upgrade their system. County deluged with 14.5 inches of rain. Mt. Vernon Police Chief Joseph L. Howard resigned to be deputy jailer. He was replaced by William (Bill) Mink.

chise, and report back to the mayor.

In another matter, the mayor told the council there was an error in the description in the ordinance closing First Street to make way for a courthouse annex. The description did not leave enough space between the annex and a service station. The council rescinded the ordinance and passed a revised one.

The council gave second and final reading to an ordinance allowing duck hunting in a specified area at Lake Linville. Councilwoman Clarice Kirby abstained.

The council put off for study a privilege license fee, or some other type of fee, for campsites in the city. Presently, the city does not have a fee. The three campsites are Beauty View on the hill behind Renfro Valley

Shell; KOA and Renfro Valley Folks campsite.

Mayor Cromer said it was up to the council to determine the method of taxation for campsites—whether a tax similar to the recently passed motel tax, a franchise tax, or some other.

The mayor also asked the council to think about a street specification ordinance. The mayor said the city does not have specifications for new streets that are asked by residents to be brought into the city.

At the suggestion of the state Department of Local Government, the council approved changing the city's method of accounting to a method that will tie the accounting method to the city budget.

Police Chief Bill Mink gave the council the police and fire activity report for December.

There were 212 complaints, 10 total arrests, 14 traffic accident investigations, 47 assists, 11 motorist assists, 11 public services rendered, 3 domestic incidents and 4 transient reports taken.

The Mt. Vernon Fire Department had 13 fire runs, 1 safety program, 1 fire prevention program, 1 false alarm call, and 2 smoke investigation calls. The Livingston Fire Department had 1 fire run.

Mt. Vernon and Brodhead advance in Brodhead Invitational Tourney

The Mt. Vernon Red Devils and the Brodhead Tigers advanced in the first round of the Brodhead Invitational Tournament at Brodhead Elementary Monday night.

Mt. Vernon edged out the Roundstone Eagles, 64-59, in the first game while Brodhead defeated the Livingston Blue Devils, 55-44, in the second. Mt. Vernon and Brodhead will face one another in the second round of the tourney Friday, January 11th at 6:30 p.m.

As expected, a capacity crowd filled the gymnasium to take in a night of basketball and to most, it will well worth their while.

The match-up between Mt. Vernon and Roundstone brought out the best in what basketball should be. No one team ever dominated the other. In fact, for awhile it appeared the game would have to be decided in overtime.

However, Mt. Vernon, led by Jason Cromer with 16 points and Ken Hopkins with 14, pulled the game out in the closing seconds despite a technical foul called against them.

In the closing seconds Mt. Vernon's Head Coach Jerry Pensol substituted two players for the same player creating a six man squad for the Red Devils. So with too many men on the floor, Pensol was slapped with the technical.

Roundstone was already on the foul line due to a personal foul by the Red Devils. So the result would be the Eagles shooting four from the charity stripe plus getting the possession and all with only 10 seconds remaining and trailing by only six.

Roundstone faultered. They missed all four free throw attempts and failed in scoring on their possession to bring the game to its conclusion with Mt. Vernon on top.

As for Roundstone, who led most of the first half and carried a 28-23 lead into the half, they deserve a pat on the back for the tremendous game they played.

As for Mt. Vernon, they made the right plays when they needed them and for now, are one game closer to the championship of the tourney.

Scoring for Mt. Vernon were: Jason Cromer, 16; Ken Hopkins, 14; Chris Kirby, 13; Scottie Cotton, 6; Zach Cromer, 5; Stacey Kirby and Tim Miller, 4 each and Cliff Mullins with 2.

Scoring for Roundstone were: Bobby Miller with the game high of 20; Jamie Linville and Chris Cobb, each with 14; Eddie Todd, 9 and Jimmy Osborne with 2.

Game 2

It wasn't Rupp Arena but Tiger Arena in game two of the Brodhead Invitational. The Brodhead Tigers used the home court advantage backed by some very loud Tiger mania fans to whip the Livingston Blue Devils, 55-44.

Led by Anthony Noel with 17 points, the Tigers romped out of the starting gate to take a 22-0 lead over Livingston in the first quarter of play.

Lady Rockets fall to Corbin, 83-50, and Walton, 55-47

Lady Rockets' Head Coach Christy Beaver said earlier this week that the Lady Rockets were starting fast and finishing slow. So was the case in last week's games.

The Lady Rockets lost to Corbin, 83-50, last Thursday at RCHS and to Walton, Verona, 55-47, Friday at Onida.

"We played well in the first and second quarters against Corbin and in the first against Walton," Beaver said. "We just didn't close out the game that way."

Against Corbin, the Lady Rockets with a balanced scoring attack kept a nine point deficit in the first quarter intact by playing right with Corbin and equalling their 21 points in the second quarter to set the score at 37-28 at the half.

But like Beaver mentioned, the Lady Rockets fell victim in the latter part of the game, the second half.

Corbin rebounded in the third

A score that displayed the fact that Brodhead was ready to play.

No one person would have thought the score would have been so lopsided, especially since Livingston had already notched a win under their belt over Brodhead earlier in the year.

Still, Brodhead had everything leaning toward their side. Aside from the fact that the Tigers' full court press was dominating the tempo of the game, their bench was working too.

Pernell Brummett led Brodhead's bench with 14 points and the game's second best point total for the night.

However, Mike Smith's 12 points and Willie Morris' 10 allowed Livingston to at least draw nearer and bring the score to 44-16 in the third quarter and then to a respectable 55-44 conclusion.

And like Roundstone, Livingston deserves credit for their efforts as well as Brodhead, who will now take on Mt. Vernon in the second round of the tourney Friday night.

Scoring for Brodhead were: Anthony Noel, 17; Pernell Brummett, quarter to stretch their nine point half-time lead to 27 by limiting the Lady Rockets to only three points.

One contributing factor was free throw shooting. The Lady Rockets managed only 18 successful baskets out of 41 attempts which accounted for 23 points that were missed opportunities.

Speaking of free throws, the Lady Rockets made only one of 10 attempts in their eight point loss to Walton Verona of Covington.

Again, the Lady Rockets started smooth with well rounded scoring and a 12-5 first quarter lead.

They tapsed at times in the second quarter but thanks to three Lady Rockets reaching double digits, kept the game close and only trailed by four, 24-20, at the end of the first half.

But again their second half play lacked as Walton chipped away at the score to take a eight point lead in

Rockets even on season at 6-6 with losses to Corbin and Bell

Back-to-back games against top ranked contenders can definitely take its toll on a team. If that is the Rockets.

Corbin, ranked 17th in the state and second in the region, walked into Rockcastle County Thursday night and took a game away from the Rockets, 86-69. Bell County, ranked third in the region, followed Friday night by walking in and out in a hurry with a big, 85-55, win.

The losses set the Rockets at 6-6 on the year.

Of the two, Bell seemed to play the better game and in fact, is the only team this year to come into RCHS and actually beat the Rockets outright.

In Rockets' Head Coach David Perkins' words, "Bell County had as much talent as anyone in this part of the state."

Corbin, on the other hand, found their win just a little more difficult to obtain.

The Rockets certainly didn't lose face in their loss to the highly talented Corbin club but proved what they have been proving all year long. They can play with just about anyone.

Senior David Sargent, who leads the team with an average of 15.3 points per game, had another big night with 24 points and led the Rockets to a three point game in the first quarter, 23-20, Corbin's favor.

Still led by Sargent, the Rockets kept Corbin on their toes by continu-

Jason Cromer pulls down a rebound for the Mt. Vernon Red Devils in their opening game against the Roundstone Eagles in the Brodhead Invitational Tournament at Brodhead Elementary Monday night. The Red Devils defeated the Eagles, 64-59, in the closing minutes of the game.

Rockets' freshmen thump Model, 83-22

The Rockcastle County High School Rockets' freshmen squad put on a scoring exhibition Monday night when they crushed visiting Richmond Model, 83-22, at RCHS.

Highlighted by a shutout in the second quarter, the Rockets boasted a 40-8 lead by the half.

And by having all nine of the Rockets' roster contributing, with three of those in double figures, the Rockets stretched the margin to 57-13 in the third quarter.

The Rockets, who were led by forward Jason Fletcher with 21 points, punched up their biggest quarter of 26 points in the final period to easily thrash Model for the second time this year.

The freshmen will now travel to Madison County to take on Madison Southern Monday, January 14th at 6:30 p.m.

Scoring along with Fletcher for the Rockets against Model were: Michael Shaffer, 15; David Dooly, 12; Mickey McClure and Freddie Pruitt, 8 each; Marvin McCollum and Shannon York, both with 6; Shane Adams, 5 and J.D. Bussell with 2.

Anthony Noel of the Brodhead Tigers shoots for two of his game high of 17 points against the Livingston Blue Devils in Monday night's second game of the Brodhead Invitational Tourney. Brodhead won, 55-44.

Lady Rockets' Player of the Week
for Dec. 30, 1990 - Jan. 5, 1991

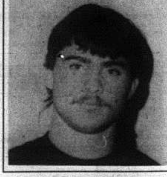

For the second time this season, freshman guard Cindy McCauley has been named as the Lady Rockets' player of the week. Praised as a great young talent by the Lady Rockets' coaching staff, McCauley fired in 18 total points in last week's games against Corbin and Walton. "She always hustles and gives it her all, she wants to play," said Head Coach Christy Beaver. McCauley, who is the youngest member of the Lady Rockets' squad is indeed a player of the week and of tomorrow.

Rockets' Player of the Week
for Dec. 16 - 22, 1990

Junior forward Mitch Parkerson was the Rockets' player of the week before the holiday break last week. Rockets' Head Coach David Perkins said that Parkerson was instrumental in their 60-58 win over Whitley County. Parkerson, who pumped in 14 during the game, is highly regarded by the Rockets' coaching staff as a talented big man in their lineup. Parkerson is also one of the leading rebounders for the Rockets this season.

Rockets' Player of the Week
for Dec. 30, 1990 - Jan. 5, 1991

Junior guard William Bullens brings in the new year as the Rockets' player of the week. Although the Rockets were winless last week, Bullens played a key role in the Rockets' offense and all-round play. Complimented by Rockets' Head Coach David Perkins on his hard nosed play, Bullens busted for 18 points against Corbin and nine against Bell County. Bullens averages 10.7 points per game for the Rockets this year.

Lady Rockets' Player of the Week
for Dec. 16 - 22, 1990

Last year's last Lady Rockets' player of the week was senior forward Karla Bullock. Although the Lady Rockets lost to Estill, 55-50, Head Coach Christy Beaver said that Bullock played an extremely good ball game in every aspect. Beaver also said that Bullock displayed a sense of urgency while never saying quit throughout the ball game. A leading rebounder for the Lady Rockets, Bullock fired in the game high of 15 points against Estill County.

of time and work that will key them on solid basketball through all four periods of play and when it comes, look out district tournament.

One note during the Corbin game was the injury of senior guard Tim Cottrell, who suffered a sprained ankle in the second half. Perkins said that Cottrell's absence in the Bell County game was felt by the Rockets and that when he will return is not known at this time.

The Rockets will now host Lynn Camp Thursday night at the high school.

Rockets scoring against Corbin were: David Sargent, 24; William Bullens, 18; Micah Parkerson, 9;

Four games separate top positions in Bowling League

The top three positions have been narrowed to only a four game difference in the Rockcastle Bowling League in Richmond. The first place Pin Busters, 50-22, lead the Ten Pins, 48-24, by two games and the third place Top Guns, 46-26, by four games.

In last week's action, Babe's Bunch took high team series HDCP with a 2393. The Wild Thangs were second with a 2354 and NAPA third with a 2331.

High team game HDCP went to DARE with an 842. Babe's Bunch had second high with an 821 and the Chris Newland, 8; Billy Todd, 6 and Tim Cottrell with 4.

Scoring for the Rockets against Bell were: David Sargent, 16; Billy Todd, 15; Micah Parkerson, 12; William Bullens, 9; Chris Newland, 2 and J.D. Bussell with 1.

J.V. Action
The Rockcastle County Rockets' junior varsity dropped to one and five on the year with their loss to Bell County Friday night, 44-35.

Michael Shaffer led the Rockets in their losing effort with 12 points. J.D. Bussell followed with nine and Scott Bullens with eight. Jason Fletcher also added four and Stacy Smith, two.

Top Guns third high with an 815.

Henry Vanzant took high men's series with a 603 while James Noe took second with a 570. Third high went to Bill Reynolds with a 563.

Henry Vanzant also took high women's game with a 223 and second high with a 222. Perry Noe and Bill Reynolds tied for third at 210.

Kim Daugherty had high women's series with a 526. Sara Anderkin followed in second with a 514 and Wavelene Mullins in third with a 479.

Evelyn Mullins and Sara Anderkin tied for high women's game at 181. Kim Daugherty claimed second and third high with an 180 and 179. High men's series HDCP went to Henry Vanzant with a 648. James Noe was second with a 627 and Jeff Cromer third with a 625.

Henry Vanzant also captured high men's game HDCP with a 238 and second high with a 237. Perry Noe and Jeff Cromer tied for third high at 236.

ally using the full court to their advantage with their endless running style of play. And with it only trailed by five, 40-35, at the half.

"Corbin was an extremely good shooting team," Perkins said. "They also had a very good man-to-man defense," he added.

Although the Rockets trailed by nine in the third quarter, they fought back to win three in the final period to play as they have so many times this season. But just as many times this year, the Rockets let the game slip away.

The Rockets have made crucial mistakes time and time again in the closing minutes of ball games that Perkins credits as mental lapses. And the Corbin game was one of them.

But for the Rockets it's just a matter

After enjoying the holidays, our students were enthusiastic to return to their friends and teachers. All were excitedly sharing their own holiday stories, now ready to face the remaining semester with renewed vigor.

Mrs. Sue Hamm, who retired during the summer, returned to BES for the Teacher's Christmas Tea. Mrs. Hamm is now working as a counselor for the Nutri System Weight Loss Program in Somerset. Although she misses the children, faculty, and staff, she is happy and enjoying her new job. We wish her well.

The third six weeks grading period ended Wed., Jan. 2, hence report cards will be going home Wed., Jan. 9.

The third graders in Mrs. Kathy Dyehouse's class are participating in the Weekly Reader Pen Pal Writing Club. Weekly Reader, a current event publication, matches schools and pen pals according to their community and school size and ages of students. Our third graders have been matched with students from a small, rural community in Wellsville, West Virginia.

Mrs. Jennifer Adkisson, first grade teacher, highlights a Student of the Week. The parent of the student visits and brings the child's favorite snack to share with the class and reads a favorite story or book to the class.

Mrs. Onna Kaye Owens fifth grade class has been studying the thirteen original colonies. Friday, students dressed in appropriate attire of the New England, Middle and Southern Colonies.

The PTA would like to thank Mrs. Sharon Manning, Outreach Coordinator for the Family Life Center, for the informative talk regarding the dysfunctionality of the family and the effect on students' emotional development.

Mrs. Sharon Ponder's second graders are making Big Books (9x12) using the whole language approach. Education manager of Sports Illustrated for Kids, conveyed thanks to Mrs. Patsy Morgan's sixth graders for participating in the magazine's October Drawing Contest. Special mention of congratulations was given to Christopher Arch Bradley, who was the winning drawing. Chris received a nice backpack and each student received a magnet, courtesy of Hersey's Chocolate.

Mrs. Morgan's class also won the R-H Food Collection Project for 4-E.A.P. at BES with 297 cans. They won third in the county. They will receive a Pizza Party for their efforts. These same students made Christmas stockings for the students in Mrs. Shaffer's kindergarten class.

Eighth grade students went on a shopping spree before the holidays, purchasing $416 worth of toys that were given to 16 students in K-2. The money to buy the toys was raised by the Junior High through a auction held recently.

Some room changes were made during the holidays, which allowed two of our classrooms to move into the main building. Mrs. Duina Thompson's and Mrs. Jeleta Bradshaw's classes report that they are happy to take a part of the school rather than apart from the school.

Host families being sought for exchange students in U.S.

Host families are being sought for high school exchange students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Spain, Portugal, France, Italy, Colombia, Brazil, Ecuador, New Zealand, Australia, Japan, Thailand and Yugoslavia for the school year 1991-92 in a program sponsored by the American International Student Exchange (AISE).

The students, age 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in August, 1991, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in June 1992.

Students are fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives in their home countries, have spending money and medical insurance.

Host families may deduct $50 per month for income tax purposes. AISE is also seeking American High School Students, age 15 through 17, who would like to spend a high school year in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, France, Spain, New Zealand or Australia or participate in a five week summer host family stay throughout Western Europe.

Families interested in either program should call toll free: 1-800-SIBLING.
