

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK

February 10-16, 1991

MT. VERNON, KENTUCKY—Students and faculty in more than seven vocational programs at Harry Sparks Area Vocational Education Center will observe National Vocational Education Week from February 10-16. The theme, 'Vocational Education: Classroom of the Future,' will provide a focus for the celebration.

Donna Hopkins, director of the school, said that the week 'will give students a chance to show off what they know and do in a variety of fields from computers and agriculture to trade and industry.' She continued, 'We want to educate the community about the level of skills our students gain here at Harry Sparks Vocational School and encourage them to find out how vocational education teaches young people the skills they'll need to be productive workers.'

Recently, President Bush noted that 18 of the 20 fastest growing occupations require vocational training. The 1990s fastest growing occupations will demand 30 million workers with less than four years of college.

Donna Hopkins explained that participation in vocational student organizations and special programs like this one supplements the practical, technical, training students receive in school by giving them practice at decision making, organizing, and cooperating to meet a goal. And with so many course options, vocational education can be tailor-made to individual needs and learning style. The 'Classroom of the Future' prepares students for a new world, one emphasizing robotics, computer-assisted manufacturing and design, health fields, business and telecommunications.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

ENROLLMENT INSTITUTIONS

- Almost 14 million Americans are enrolled in public vocational programs.
- The vocational education system includes more than 26,000 institutions that prepare two million workers each year for the marketplace.
- Vocational education is offered in 10,851 general high schools, 4,878 comprehensive high schools, 225 vocational high schools, 1,395 secondary area vocational centers, 504 postsecondary area vocational schools, 720 community colleges, 162 technical institutions, 308 specialized postsecondary schools, 70 skill centers, 185 four-year institutions, 586 private secondary schools, and 6,813 private secondary institutions.
- Approximately 60 percent (9.3 million) of the students are in secondary programs, while 40 percent (6.3 million) are in postsecondary programs.
- Enrollment in vocational education is almost evenly divided among male (47 percent) and female (53 percent) students.
- Minority students account for about 21.8 percent of the enrollment in vocational education, which is close to their proportion in the general population and in the work force (20.5 percent).
- About 97 percent of all high school graduates take at least one vocational course in high school. Half take four or more courses.

- The learning gains in basic skills are approximately the same for students whether they are enrolled in academic, general or vocational programs in high school.

EDUCATIONAL ATTAINMENT

- Sixty percent of all high school vocational graduates enter some form of postsecondary education.
- The success rate of vocational students in completing postsecondary education programs is similar to those of general students and only slightly less than academic students.
- Although academic graduates are approximately 25 percent more likely to enroll in postsecondary training than vocational students, they are only 7-8 percent more likely to finish.
- Twice as many graduates of postsecondary programs were vocational students in high school as were academic track students.

- Those who took at least four vocational courses in their last three years of high school enjoyed an 8 percent higher wage rate, earned 47 percent more income and were 23 percent more likely to be employed than their non-vocational peers.

- A survey of 3,500 employers found that new employees with related vocational education were 6.5 percent more productive 6-36 months after being hired than those in the same job who had not taken vocational education.
- Employees with relevant vocational education required about 20 percent less formal on-the-job training, and needed 10 percent less informal on-the-job training than those without relevant vocational education. They enjoyed higher wages, increased the firm's output and reduced its training costs by considerably more than the additional wages paid.

HIGH SCHOOL DROPOUTS

- Vocational education can make a difference between dropping out and staying in school. A 1986 study shows that dropout-prone high school students who end up staying in school tend to earn more vocational credits than their peers who leave school.
- The same study, looking at people who have actually dropped out, found that the number of dropouts who were once in a high school vocational curriculum is significantly less than the number of dropouts who were not.

JOB MARKET TRENDS

- Vocational education prepares students for 80 percent of the occupations the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics predicts will account for the largest number of new jobs by 1995.
- Eighty percent of all U.S. jobs don't require a college diploma, but they do demand skills provided by vocational education. Of the 20 fastest-growing occupations and 20 largest occupations projected for the year 2000 by the U.S. Bureau of Statistics, 32 require vocational education preparation.

MAKING LEARNING EASIER

- Learning studies have found that the practical 'hands-on' method, utilized in vocational classes, is the most effective way of teaching many students.

JOB PLACEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

- A study of 3,000 high school graduates in 1,000 schools found that noncollege-bound students

Library News

By: Geraldine Robbins

The art exhibit "Images From the Mountains" is still at the library and will be here until Feb. 21. We hope that those of you who haven't come in to see the exhibit will do so before that date. Several classes from the county schools have been to view the paintings and we invite the other teachers to bring their students in, also. One of the paintings that was selected for the art exhibit was done by Darlene Martin, who lives in this county. She has also brought in two more of her paintings for us to enjoy.

We have purchased the Civil War video series that was shown on KET last year. There are nine videos in the set, and each has a different story. These are both entertaining and informational and we hope you will take advantage of them. They may be checked out like our other videos, for two days.

Some new books we have ready to be checked out are -- a set of four books of the "Baby Sitters Club". The titles are 1. "Claudia and the Great Search", 2. "Mary Anne and Too Many Boys", 3. "Stacey and the Mystery of Stoneybrook", 4. "Jessica's Baby Sitter."

The new fiction books are Dazzle by Judith Krant. Meet Jazz Kilkullen a humorous, impetuous and gifted girl with a unique talent for photography and a creature totally of the 1990s. Enter Dazzle, the huge photographer's studio in lively Venice Beach, California, which Jazz owns with two male partners. Discover the Kilkullen Ranch, Jazz's beloved family home, an unspoiled cattle ranch that lies on the coast between Los Angeles and San Diego. Forgiving by Lavyrle Spencer. When Sarah Merritt arrives in Dakota territory in 1876, she steps off the dusty Cheyenne stagecoach determined to start this ramshackled town's first newspaper. Sarah thinks her younger sister is living in Deadwood as domestic help at Mrs. Hosseter's boarding house but she finds that Addie's work is as an "upstairs girl" at a brothel. When she sets up her father's printing press in the middle of Main Street, she finds herself at odds with Sheriff Noah Campbell and he arrest her on the spot. Filled with vivid, heartfelt characters, exquisite story-telling and the triumphant passion that have brought Lavyrle Spencer's books such national acclaim. Some other fiction books are 1. Oh, Kentucky! by Betty Layman Receiver. 2. Texas Chase by Sandra Brown. 3. Dark Fall and Nightshift by Stephen King. 4. The Conquest by Jude Deveraux. 5. Longshot by Dick Francis. There are also two interesting non-fiction books. A Life on the Road by Charles Kuralt and Breaking Points by Jack and Jo Hinckley. This is the story of their son's assassination attempt of Ronald Reagan.

Don't forget to come in and see our art exhibit.

2-year-old girl is dead on arrival at local hospital

A two-year-old Willailla girl was pronounced dead on arrival at the Rockcastle Hospital, around 6:30 Tuesday morning according to Rockcastle County Coroner Bill Dowell.

Tara Leigh Renner, daughter of Terry Renner and Tammy Bradley, apparently became ill Monday and was taken to the Rockcastle Hospital for treatment that afternoon.

According to Dowell, Renner was treated in the emergency room and released. "Her parents were up with her most of the night Monday, but the child eventually fell asleep during the early morning hours," Dowell said. The coroner said the parents checked on the child around 6:15 a.m. and she was apparently not breathing at that time.

Dowell said that the parents rushed the child to the hospital again, but that she was dead on arrival. Dowell, who declined to comment on the cause of death, said he was awaiting the results of an autopsy performed in Frankfort Tuesday.

Funeral services for Tara Leigh Renner will be held Thursday afternoon at the Dowell and Martin Funeral Home, (A complete obituary appears on Page A-8)

Four teenagers indicted on two theft charges

Four Rockcastle County teenagers were among sixteen indicted by the Rockcastle County Grand Jury last Friday.

Wesley Mullins, 18, of Mt. Vernon, Jeff Ellison, 19, of Rt. 3 Mt. Vernon, Marty Bussell, 18, of Mt. Vernon and John L. Fain II, 19, of Mt. Vernon were indicted on one count of receiving stolen property over $100 and one count of theft by unlawful taking over $100.

The indictments stemmed from two separate incidents on January 28th, in which the four men are accused of faking a tool box and tools belonging to Mark Owens of Somerset and fifteen cases of ink pins belonging to a Shelbyville man who was staying at the Best Western Motel.

All four men are free on bond until their arraignment later this month in circuit court.

A McKee man was also indicted for failure to support his three children.

Douglas E. Lewis, 39, of McKee, was indicted for Flagrant Non-Support by failing to support his three minor children in the amount of $25,466.75.

Bowling in court

The man who is accused of killing Assembly of God Minister Marvin Hensley on February 22, 1989, and trying to kill gas station attendant Ricky Smith three days later at his Burr Sunoco station was in court in Rockcastle County Tuesday.

Ronnie Bowling of Manchester was scheduled to go on trial for the attempted murder of Smith, but his attorney Cleis Miracle of Manchester had to withdraw from the case, after he was appointed Circuit Judge. Circuit Judge Dan Venters appointed a public defender to handle Bowling's case. The trial was moved to a later date.

Davis not indicted

Mt. Vernon businessman Phillip Davis was not indicted by the Rockcastle County Grand Jury for a January 21 accident that claimed the life of a Roundstone Elementary School student.

Rockcastle County Deputy Sheriff Darrell Doan presented the case to the Grand Jury last Friday, but they took no action to indict Davis.

Davis accidentally struck six-year-old Michael Kirby as he got off the bus in front of his Conway home.

Three East Bernstadt residents killed in wreck

Three East Bernstadt residents died instantly Tuesday night, when the car they were traveling in ran off Ky. 30, five and a half miles east of London.

According to a report filed by Kentucky State Trooper Mike Hopkins, Cody Jack Evans, 24, Norma Jean Brock, no age listed and Melissa Parker, all of East Bernstadt were pronounced dead at the scene around 9:15 p.m. by Laurel County Coroner Ed Bowling.

According to Hopkins' report, Laurel Deputy Sheriff Bill Butcher was in pursuit of the three when the accident occurred. However, Butcher did not see the accident because he had lost sight of the car the three were riding in just before the Volkswagen failed to negotiate a curve on Hwy. 30. After leaving the roadway the Volkswagen hit a tree.

Support Rally Friday

It's friendly reminder time. A rally in support of service personnel in Saudi Arabia and elsewhere is to be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the courthouse, sponsored by Mt. Vernon civic organizations.

Included will be an honor guard from Richmond, the Signal and the VFW Post will dedicate a sign for names of those in the service from Rockcastle.

Persons are reminded to bring a flag and yellow ribbons. There will be music and short talks.

Michael T. Bullock, 20, of Orlando escaped serious injury Wednesday morning after he apparently lost control of his 1979 Dodge Charger. The accident occurred around 6:45 p.m., on U.S. 25 at the Exit 59 interstate bridge. School bus driver Jack Noe of Mt. Vernon, spotted Bullock, who was apparently thrown from the car during the wreck, sitting by his car. Witnesses at the scene said that another passenger in Bullock's car left the scene after the accident. However KSP Trooper Jack Lawless said that he could not confirm the report. Bullock was admitted to the Rockcastle Hospital with neck injuries and charged with no insurance.

Second water hearing scheduled by PSC

A second hearing has been called by the Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC) to further study and discuss the need for another water association in Rockcastle.

The PSC has called all water district officials to the meeting. Not all attended a meeting in October.

In its summons, the PSC informed all parties the hearing is for "initial operations, to obtain additional information concerning the feasibility of forming a water association in Rockcastle County."

The association being considered involves areas not now served by water. It has been a project of County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins.

Court approves compilation of county history

A history of Rockcastle County may be compiled in the near future by a Waynesville, N. Car., publishing firm.

The Rockcastle Fiscal Court approved a request last week by the Walsworth Publishing Co., to compile the book at no cost to the county.

The company would then sell the book to county residents or other interested persons.

Don Mills, publishing consultant, said his company would do all the work involved.

Several attempts have been made over the years to compile a history, most notably by the late John Lair who worked on the history as long as his health allowed.

His book was to have dealt with area families and family ancestry had it been completed.

A Mt. Vernon history was also written several years ago by Cepha Kincaid, daughter of the late Signal publisher, Bill Davis. It also dealt mostly with residents and their homes in Mt. Vernon.

Also, John Iar and the late Ralph Griffin both had weekly columns in Indiana woman kidnapped

City and county police arrested an Indiana man on a charge of terroristic threatening after his wife left a note at an I-75 rest stop that she had been kidnapped.

Police stopped the vehicle at Reno Valley Interchange and jailed William Lock, 37, of East Stone, Ind. Later, he was also charged with the Signal many years ago, but they did not always agree on details.

kidnapping on a warrant from Indiana obtained by his wife, Noleen Kay Lock.

Lock remains in jail on a $25,000 bond, 10 percent cash.

Mt. Vernon Police Chief Bill Mink said the note said, "Kidnap, I beg help," and the description of the car, a 1977 Oldsmobile.

Gary Kidwell's accused killer

Watkins returned to jail in Lincoln

Thomas Wade Watkins, the accused killer of Stanford Patrolman Gary Kidwell, returned to Lincoln County Monday to face a host of criminal charges.

Watkins, who was released from the hospital in Knoxville, Tenn., late last week after being treated for gunshot wounds suffered in two police shootouts Jan. 20 and 21, decided not to fight extradition back to Kentucky so was brought back to Lincoln County quicker than had earlier been anticipated.

Watkins is scheduled to appear in court for arraignment Feb. 22. Commonwealth Attorney Thomas Lockridge said Tuesday that he doubts that Watkins, who is being held without bail, will be in court before then unless it is briefly in district court for formal presentation of charges.

He will face the death penalty for the murder of Kidwell, who was shot and killed after stopping Watkins on a suspicion of drunken driving charge Jan. 20.

Following the shooting, in which Watkins was wounded by Sgt. Bobby Durham of the Stanford Police as he tried to flee, Watkins is accused of kidnapping three people and stealing their car.

He kept the three, a boy and two 15-year-old girls, hostage for about three hours, according to police, before releasing them in Rockcastle County and driving south on Interstate 75.

As he headed south, Williamsburg police tried to pull him over and another gun fight ensued. Watkins was seriously wounded and taken to Tennessee for treatment.

In a related incident in Stanford, Watkins former landlord has been suspended from his job managing the SuperTest gas station on Main Street for trying to raise money for Watkins and his mother.

J. Edwin Price, district manager for SuperTest in Somerset, said that Ernest J. Phillips was suspended from his job as manager in Stanford while the company investigates his "receiving unauthorized" donations for 2 different people."

Phillips, who has managed the station for 26 years, said he was attempting to raise money for Watkins' mother, who is here from Texas.

"She's here from Texas without anything," he said. "She's broke and needs a little spending money."

Phillips efforts also included money to benefit Watkins himself, accord-

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter to all of the law abiding citizens of this county. I too am a law abiding citizen and I thought that our local law was to protect the innocent but on Feb. 4, I found that that is not always the case. Around 1 p.m. that day I received a phone call where I work from our local law. He confirmed that he had reached me and began with his statement. He rudely informed me that I had dumped garbage on a county road and if it happened again that a warrant would be issued for my arrest. I tried to explain to him that I pay to have my garbage taken off and that I personally would not dump my garbage on anybody's road. He informed me that this was just a warning and the next time legal action would be taken and that I was 80% responsible for my garbage even though someone was paid to haul it off. I told him there must have been a mistake and the conversation ended. This upset me greatly, so much that I began to cry at work. Later that day, after I had gone home from work, a second party person called me apologizing and told me the whole issue had been resolved, to forget it that it was all a big mistake and that I was innocent and not worry about anything. No personal apologies were given directly to me by our local law. I was very relieved that it was all over and that the law knew I did not do what they had accused me of but I also went through a day of torment over a mistake that has absolutely nothing to do with me. I know that we have to have law and order and I am all for that but our law officials should be more careful and most of all certain before they call and accuse an innocent person of a crime they did not commit.

Kimberly Bond

Letter to County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins:

I just wished to express my respect and appreciation for the people of Rockcastle County and your leadership regarding the Adopt-A-Highway Program. Our records show that the miles adopted for your county increased almost ten times, from 25.7 miles to 216.4 miles from July to December of 1990. That represents 91 percent of Rockcastle County's eligible miles while the state as a whole is only 23 percent.

That sort of increase didn't happen without some very good effort by leaders such as yourself. The leaders of your civic and religious organizations involved in the program certainly deserve praise. Please convey the appreciation of Governor Wilkinson and myself to your people for this fine example of pride in Kentucky and pride in community.

Dear Editor,
Well, how about the new cable prices? I don't know about everyone else but I'm already paying $36.71 per month and I'm not going to pay it. I'm going to tell Falcon to take it out. I'm sitting here now trying to watch TV and it's so snowy I can't see it. They tell us they want to give us the best cable possible. Ha! What they want is our money.

I think we should boycott the cable for a month or two and maybe then they would lower the price. As it is, it's sure not worth what we are paying. I think we should take Falcon to court like the people did Simmons. They talk about cable theft, well, this is pocket theft.

Dear Editor,
In response to Mr. Halford's Letter to the Editor, in the 2/7/91 edition of the Signal. Let me speak a few words. I really appreciate Mr. Halford to take the time to write a letter believing that I missed some passages of scriptures. I always encourage folks to search the scriptures daily, whether these things are so (Act. 17:11). Truth has nothing to fear from an honest investigation. My desire is to stand on what is right, the Will of God; and I'm ready to change my beliefs any time one can show from the Bible wherein I'm wrong. I had to change my views on several points through the years since I first began studying the Bible after I got out of high school. I hope our readers and Mr. Halford have this desire to conform to the Will of God.

Now concerning the passage in I Tim. 5:1-5. Paul began in vs. 1-2 pointing out that the "times and seasons" of judgment the Lord is coming is unknown. For the Lord is coming as a thief in the night. Then in vs. 3 we read "for when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as it will upon a woman with child. And they shall not escape." Notice that to the wicked, the day of the Lord shall bring destruction which they cannot escape. The day of the Lord will be a day of wrath. Rm. 5:9, II Pet. 1:7-9. Now in vs. 4-5 of Mr. Halford's letter, Paul points out that true Christians will not be overtaken as a thief, that is, to be caught up in the destruction that the wicked shall suffer at the day of the Lord (vs. 3). Peter makes the same point about the Lord coming as a thief in the night. II Pet. 1:10, that is, that we have no idea when He is coming but that we should be looking for His coming and thus be prepared II Pet. 3:11-14. Yes, we learn from the Bible the fact of Jesus' second coming, who is coming. How He is coming, why He is coming but we do not know when He is coming.

Now concerning the book of Revelation. Yes, I would agree that Rev. 20:11-15 has not been fulfilled, in that the day of Judgment is being depicted, which is yet to come. My point in the 1-24-91 article was that the events of the Gulf War, or any other modern events are not depicted in the symbols of ch. 6-19. John is showing that all go down in defeat; the Sea Beast; and it's helpers shall be defeated; the false prophet shall be defeated; ch. 20, every and any other attempt to oppose God and His people here on earth shall be defeated and finally, ch. 20:11-15, all enemies shall be defeated in the end, at the Day of Judgment. Mr. Halford did not discuss ch. 11:3, 22:6 to 10, which shows that the Book of Revelation for the most part deals with the events of the early church. Concerning Rev. 21:22 I would suggest that when one studies vs. 6:17-25 a prophecy of the blessings in Christ, that the language in these two passages, they are discussing the things to come.

Mr. Halford cites II Tim. 3:1-5 a passage that warns of the signs of the end times. Peter in Act. 16:17 said that he was in the last days. I'm compelled by this and the statement of Hebs. 1:2 "Hath at the end of these days...? ASV." that this refers to the end of the Jewish state. The Law was nailed to the cross (Col. 2:14) but the outward motions continued till Jerusalem's destruction in A.D. 70. The perilous times took place (of II Tim. 3:1-5) before the destruction of Jerusalem. That also, is what Hebs. 10:25 is talking about, as they saw this day approaching. Mt. 24, Mk. 13, Lk. 21, were the signs given to warn Christians of the destruction to come upon Jerusalem, so they could "flee to the mountains" Lk. 21:21. Yes, they had to watch and be ready to flee, even so we must watch and be ready for the Second Coming of Christ, that we be not destroyed, whenever it shall be.

By: Ike Adams

When I talk to God I'm prone to use pretty much the same message, day in and day out.

"God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can and the wisdom to know the difference."

I also use The Lord's Prayer a lot and sometimes I'll be specific in my gratitude for something I feel especially blessed about or I'll ask for a bit of intervention when things aren't going well. But basically I stick to the Serenity Prayer.

Cause that's where I need help. I am not serene enough in my acceptance of things that I can't do much about. So I gripe a lot about stuff that I'd figure out how to change if they ever made me President.

James Madison thought the Bill of Rights was too long when he was helping write it. He thought the laws of the land ought to be simple enough and fairly stated so that anybody with a flick of the tongue could understand them.

The laws of the land are so complicated now that nobody really knows much about rights and we live in a society that is largely dictated to us by the legal profession who caused all the confusion in the first place, much to its economic advantage. You never hear the right to a speedy trial talked about anymore because the court system is made up of lawyers who want you to have anything but a speedy trial. The longer it takes to get to trial, the more money it's gonna cost you. And guess who gets the money.

I get sick to my stomach when an attorney brags in front of the TV camera about how well the system worked for his innocent client who has just spent $100,000 or more during a three year trial to prove his or her innocence. You're right. The system works very, very well for you if you're a lawyer. It's the victims of crime and the innocent who don't fare too well with the system.

See, I gripe about stuff that I can't do anything about.

Another one that gets me is price gouging. Just plain old greed to the bone. It takes oil at least ninety days to get from the "barrel" it's purchased in to the pump you use to fill your car. But if one day goes up four or five dollars a barrel in one day, they'll raise gasoline prices a quarter a gallon before dark at your service station.

Don't blame the guys at the station. They get gouged too. The orders come from higher up. And the next day when prices fall five dollars a barrel, you know where your cost is going to stay. It does take a drop in price ninety days to get to the pump. It doesn't take a genius to figure out that the buying public is being had.

But none of us are in a position to insist that we aren't going to buy until they lower the price. We have to get to work and we are at their mercy. We are seeing that they gave none and there's not a thing we can do about it except gripe. So I'm griping.

I recently reduced my television cable fee by fifteen dollars a month because I found out there was a way around one gouge.

Our television set came through Cumberland Gap on a mile's back right behind old Dan. They didn't make 'em cable ready back then. So when I agreed to get in on the once in a lifetime, no hook-up fee deal, I found out that my television wouldn't work after they'd strung the wire and drilled holes all over my house.

"You gotta have a converter box," the man with the pliers told me.

"How much is a converter box."

"Another two dollars and a half a month. But they're unhandy as the devil if you don't have a remote."

"How much is it?"

"Another two dollars and a half."

I thought I was signing up for basic cable and my monthly bill was going to be $14 which I considered exactly $10 too much. But I was under a bit of family pressure to take advantage of this great new source of information.

When the man left, I learned that my monthly bill was going to be nearly $35. I fell for the HBO and Movie Channel scam hook, line and sinker. And I've been griping about it ever since.

I recently discovered that Radio Shack sells a considerable better converter box than the one I was renting for less than $30. You just plug the cable in it and hook it to the back of the TV and it works like normal.

The cable company intended to charge me for the rest of my life for something that they fully intended to have me pay for during the first year it was in my possession. I also dumped HBO and The Movie Channel, which they would have to pay to reinstall in this house. And now I want to know why it is that I'm also being billed for

Misuse of child safety seats common

The good news is more and more concerned parents are using child safety seats to protect their children. Unfortunately, misuse of these safety seats still allow preventable injuries or deaths of improperly protected children.

Use of child seats has risen to 82 percent over the past decade. However, surveys estimate that 30 to 65 percent of safety seats are used improperly.

In checking for correct use of a safety seat, the Blue Grass AAA Foundation for safety recommends:

- * The child is facing the correct way. A seat designed for infants (up to 18-20 pounds) always faces the rear.
- * The lap belt is properly threaded through the seat.
- * The child is buckled in correctly.
- * Straps and belts are snug.

a "tier" at $3.50 a month. If my set will work without it, I want it out, and if it won't, I want to buy one. I want a few less hidden costs by the cable company and this one may be changeable. I'm sure gonna gripe about it.

"Many times the manufacturer doesn't know that even a small deviation from the safety seat manufacturer's instructions can endanger a child's life. It's important the seat be used properly and installed correctly for the child to have the maximum protection," said Lilla Mason, executive secretary for the Blue Grass AAA Foundation for Safety. The Foundation is highlighting the need for caution in properly using child safety seats during Child Safety Passenger Awareness Week, Feb. 10-16.

"Often, it's a matter of information," said Mason. The Foundation offers materials for public education on proper child restraint in vehicles. One such source is the "Fragile."

Dear Editor,

Recently, I've been either jogging or recording music on cassettes, in order to get myself away from so much war news. One day while jogging out in the sunshine, I began to think of the good old days. I suddenly remembered Will Rogers. I thought, what a remarkable man he was. Parly Cherokee Indian with a third grade education and grammar to match. He set out to earn his way in life, accepting or rejecting whatever came his way, at his own will.

He learned that he had a talent, entertaining the public, by twirling a rope. Later he had a job in the circus. Hal Roach offered him a part in the "Little Rascals". He decided to go to New York to see what he could do that was more interesting. He was offered a job in the Ziegfeld Follies. He did a Rudolph Valentino balcony scene, making great love. He had some buddies, such as Tom Mix and Babe Ruth. He decided to go to see London, England, from there Russia and others. He decided to make speeches. He made thousands of those in a life time. With out his knowledge, he was elected mayor of Los Angeles. Later someone put in his name for the Presidency of the United States.

He found himself married, rented an apartment in New York City. They had four children.

He built a big home and a large memorial in Claremore, Oklahoma. When the Lindberg Baby was abducted and killed he went to cheer up the parents.

He decided that he wanted to go with his friend Wiley Post, a pilot, to Point Barrow, Alaska. The one engine plane, not too reliable, crashed fifteen miles within Point Barrow, both were killed.

Five thousand people came to his funeral. Just a few months later, on May 2, 1936 at midnight I heard a description of Bruno Hauptmann being rigged for the electric chair. Step by step. The last slammer shut, gears to the chair, the first charge and the second, later when I saw the headlines in the paper, "Bruno Hauptmann Electrocutted". I wondered what Will would have said. I will never know.

Great Prices Every Day

The 'Writing to Read Class', consisting of first graders and kindergartners, at Mt. Vernon Elementary School recently enjoyed a two hour session of learning and entertainment by the "Teller of Tales" Beverly Carter Sexton of Brodhead. Sexton's storytelling was a learning experience for the students of the class, who are also involved in writing stories as a part of their class.

Mt. Vernon Message

This week we would like you to meet our fifth grade teachers. There are four of them and approximately 104 students.

Kim Doan interviewed Mrs. Melinda Kinicer.

Kim: "Why do you like teaching?"

Mrs. Kinicer: "I like being able to share my knowledge with students and watching them grow and learn."

Kim: "What don't you like about teaching?"

Mrs. Kinicer's response: "The class size should be smaller."

Kim: "How many years have you taught?"

Mrs. Kinicer: "Three years."

Wendy Hensley and Julie Eaton interviewed Mr. Charles Napier.

Mr. Napier has been teaching fifth grade for 20 years. He says he likes teaching because he's helping to build the futures of young children and he knows he is making a difference in their lives. He loves teaching fifth grade and he enjoys being in the new building. He has this to say about the Middle East crisis: "We are a country that symbolizes freedom to the world and it is left up to us to defend freedom and to stop dictators such as Hussein."

Chris Kirby and Greg Mink interviewed Mrs. Sharon McKinney.

"What college did you go to to get your teaching degree?"

Mrs. McKinney: "Eastern."

"What is your favorite subject to teach?"

Mrs. McKinney: "Social Studies."

How many schools did you teach at (full time) before coming to Mt. Vernon and what was the names of the schools?"

Mrs. McKinney: "One, your 'Brodhead'."

"How old were you when you first started teaching?"

Mrs. McKinney: "21."

What would you change about teaching?"

Mrs. McKinney: "I would add an hour on the day for teachers planning time."

Have you ever taught outside the state of Kentucky?" "If so, where?"

Mrs. McKinney: "No, not even outside of Rockcastle County."

Are you in favor of the mascot of Mt. Vernon? (The Red Devils)

Mrs. McKinney: "Yes I even have my own toy devil on my desk."

Kim Doan interviewed Mrs. Karen Powell. The first question was, "Why do you like teaching?"

She said, "I enjoy teaching because I like being around children. Teaching can also be a very rewarding experience. It's wonderful to see the look on a child's face when he's truly learning something new!"

The second question I asked was, "Why don't you like teaching?"

Her answer was, "The least thing I like about teaching is the stress associated with the job."

The last question was, "How many years have you taught?"

Her response was, "This is my third year of teaching. Mrs. Powell taught two years in Kentucky and one in Florida."

Mrs. McKinney's fifth grade Monday, Jan. 28, we went to Apollo's Pizza as an attendance award. This is our second attendance award trip for pizza and we're certainly going to try for a third!

Mrs. Charlotte Griffith went along with us to help chaperone. We appreciated it because she's nice and a lot of fun. We also have an EKU student coming into our classroom every week to observe us having class. His name is Mark Brummett and he's an RCHS graduate. He's studying to be a teacher someday. He used to be a student in Mrs. McKinney's room years ago at Brodhead. We had our test to see who will represent our room in the geography bee. It is Chad Silvers. We wish him good luck.

Mrs. McKinney's fifth grade; the big news in our room this week is the 4-H Variety Show. We're busy discussing what our acts will be and trying to get things together. We're also anticipating our Valentine Party Thursday afternoon. We hope to be able to visit the art exhibit at the library next Friday.

Many classrooms are participating in the Geography Bee sponsored by the National Geographic Society. Winners in Junior High are: Angela Parsons and Estel McFerron, 8B; Barbara Hayes and Jerry Bishop, 8C; Brandy Chastain and Eddie Gentry, 8A; Cassie Mullins and Jonathan Cox, 7A; David Bullock and Kalpan Patel, 7C.

With Valentine's Day fast approaching, our roving reporters, Ann Owen, Julie Eaton and Deana Mink roamed our building to learn what our faculty and students' love?

Mrs. Henderson, Fridays at 3-15.

Ann Owens, "Watching my sisters get in trouble."

Barbara Hayes, "Warm days in the sun."

Julie Eaton, "Brian Childress."

Maria Brown, "Robbie Abney."

Angie Rash, "Jodie Cromer."

Mrs. Kinicer, "Chocolate."

Mrs. Clontz, "Money."

Deana Mink, "Jack Navarre."

Mr. Singleton, "People."

Mrs. Darsl, "Tom Darsl."

Cris Cromer, "Basketball."

Jesse Bagg, "Football."

Mrs. McQueary, "Chocolate, husband, son and teaching."

Mrs. Cornelius, "Vacation."

Teen Center Perspectives

By: Ginny Gilpatrick
Rockcastle Teen Center

Music adds a dimension of light to any situation. When Teresa Renner, lovely female vocalist with The Removers of local fame, called the Teen Center and expressed an interest in working with the teens, it was like receiving a burst of welcome sunlight. By way of introduction to the Center she is working with the group planning on travelling to Massachusetts in June where some of them will sing in the Sunday service at the Millis Church of Christ. Teresa had three taped songs for the group to choose from last Thursday, and her presence was such that even those professing to be "non-singers" entered into the decision process expressing strong preferences. Some asked if they could do more than one. Surely Teresa's involvement will maximize the number and quality of "singers." She also plans additional programming open to all teens who feel a response to the gospel through music. Welcome Teresa!

huge success. Elaborate decorations were engineered by Michelle Marple and Andy Pigg, with the help of Shanna Stevens, Tim Huff, and several other teens. The decorations made the atmosphere along with Matt Gess's sound equipment and Robert Miller's black light. The Center plans to host one Saturday night dance per month, all teens are welcome.

This coming Saturday, Teen Center Youth Worker, Michael Durham, a graduate of EKU, will lead an insider's tour around the campus in Richmond. Interested teens should be at the Center by 1 p.m. Following the campus tour there will be time to visit McDonald's and the Mall. Teens will return home by 6 p.m. The Center is an agency of CAP.

Beta Club, under the supervision of Mrs. Caroline Graves, is appreciating their efforts to make our school look better.

Mrs. Caroline Graves and Mrs. Kathy Dyehouse will attend a workshop, Wed. Feb. 13, in Estill County. They will be viewing math textbooks that are available for selection.

Mrs. Rita Shaffer, has coordinated a Career Week for Mrs. Patsy Morgan's sixth grade. The week's resource persons were: Terri Woodall, (hair stylist), Sherry Cash (x-ray technician), JoAnn McClure (crafts), Doug Brock (photographer), and Gayle Scoggin (lab technician). Our teachers are always receptive to persons wishing to inform our students of the various types of work available. If you have a vocation that would allow time for this type of sharing, call the school, talk to the teacher or counselor to arrange a session.

Mrs. Laloy Graves, students have enjoyed Hershey bars and Milky Ways this week. This is a fun way that Mrs. Graves uses to teach fractions and measurement. For creative writing, the students had to write their idea of, "How the Milky Way got its name." Mrs. Graves had two winners, Mary Elkins and Stale Calhoun. The class is on their 16th day of perfect attendance.

The faculty and staff would like to thank Mr. Payne and Mr. McKinney for the red carnation and a note of appreciation found in their mailboxes, Thursday, Valentine's Day. The lunchroom staff, who is always promoting school spirit, served the students a Valentine treat, Thurs. The "cookers" were dressed in Valentine T-shirts designed by one of our own, Ruby Thompson. We appreciate these ladies. Remember... there's no school Friday or Monday.

I Don't Like to Think About Dying Either!

Death is a subject we often seem to shun. We don't like to think about it or talk about it with our loved ones. Yet discussing death openly can sometimes be of great benefit.

KET to rebroadcast acclaimed Civil War series beginning February 24 during telefund '91

For five consecutive evenings last September, millions of American sat spellbound in front of their television sets for an unforgettable lesson in American history. The Civil War, the television series that broke public television viewing records, returns to KET at 8 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 24. Remaining episodes will air at 8 each Tuesday through March 19.

Amazing Grace returns to KET during TeleFund '91

The familiar words of this old hymn bring a haunting melody to our minds and warmth to our hearts as Amazing Grace with Bill Meyers returns to KET during TeleFund '91.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

Pride is one of the most destructive attitudes in the hearts of men and women, since the beginning of time. Let's look at some lessons on this ever timely subject of pride.

Jms. 4:6 says, "But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble." Peter in 1 Pet. 5:5 quotes the same verse: "Yes, proud people are resisted by God. He refuses to bestow grace upon them. When is against you, you know you definitely are in a losing effort."

Pride is one of the three avenues of temptation that the devil uses on us. 1 Jn. 2:15-17 "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life is not of the father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever."

Pride keeps people from obeying the gospel of Jesus Christ. Some folks are too proud to admit that they have sinned against God, and that they need the Lord. That proud Pharisee of Lk. 18:9-14 could not see his own sinfulness. Pride can also prevent people from admitting that they are in religious error. Rm. 10:1-3 speaks of those Jews who were ignorant of the gospel, yet persisted in their rejection of the gospel. Pride keeps people from asking forgiveness of those they sin against. Folks are just too proud, when they can't come in humility and apologize to those who they do wrong to. Pride can also keep people from forgiving others who have sinned against them.

Pride can lead to an overconfidence of one's stand before God. "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." 1 Cor. 10:12. Solomon said in Pr. 16:18, "Pride goeth before destruction and an haughty spirit before a fall."

Many of God's people have felt, thinking they couldn't fall from God's favor. God hates "pride and arrogance" Pr. 8:13. We have no justification to lift ourselves against God in pride. The proud will be destroyed and the humble will be saved. Which category are you in?

Fire at Rockcastle Villa

A fire Friday at Rockcastle Villa Apartments, across from the high school, slightly damaged an apartment occupied by Nancy Weaver and her two small sons. A short in the television set caught curtains on fire which in turn caught the apartment on fire. However, the Mt. Vernon Fire Department was called and contained the fire to minimal damage. Mrs. Weaver has not as yet been able to return to her apartment. In the above photo, city fireman Bob Bailey inspects the back of the television.

ing to a television report quoting an employee of the station.

The fund raising effort attracted a line of pickets around the station Sunday, where about 15 people held signs and chanted "Support Kidwell's family not the killer."

Carolyn Manuel, one of those on the picket line Sunday, said that they understood some of the money might be used to hire an attorney for Watkins. Court officials say that Watkins probably will have one of the state-paid public defenders representing him.

Phillips said he ended the soliciting of donations when the protesters began picketing and people began trying to call his boss in Somerset.

"I quit Sunday," he said. "I didn't know it was going to cause this kind of stink."

A Secret Valentine Desire I meant it when I said, "I Do," for it came from my heart. For now and forever till death do us part.

I needn't any flowers for they only wither and die. And, I don't want chocolate candy that goes straight to my thighs.

I only want more tomorrows for us and our son. Filled with happiness and sunshine without any sorrows.

Sweetheart I love you and I will for all time.

Would you please be my very special VALENTINE?

To Larry with all my love,
Kathy

A Valentine's Day Special

Common Questions for the Engaged

Most engaged persons are romantically in love and tend to avoid basic questions and decisions. These should be worked out or answered so that the "wedding bells" will ring smoothly, getting the couple off to a good start. Most couples exhibit some fears, confusions, ignorance, doubts, and inexperience regarding the responsibilities of marriage. Where do they turn for help? The couple should solve as many of their problems as they possibly can together. Then they turn to parents, siblings, and friends as they feel comfortable and trusting. For some information they may need the services of the dowry, lawyer, religious leader and financial advisor. In seeking and receiving help the couple needs only to adopt the information and ideas that make sense for them. They should not depend too much on anyone.

Common questions for engaged persons are centered around close relationships of the bride and groom. 1. Can you talk to each other on a factual warm level and be realistic about conditions of concern?

2. Can you empathize and sympathize at a deep emotional level?

3. Can you communicate appropriate feelings and ideas?

4. Do you understand and respect differences that may exist between you?

5. Have you worked out the appropriate masculine and feminine roles for each other?

6. Do you have a process that you have tried for making decisions?

7. Do you give and receive an appropriate amount and kind of affection to each other?

8. Do you know how to manage tempers that are out of control?

9. Can you turn down a request without getting upset.

10. Do you know how to support and encourage each other day by day?

11. Are you committed to the creation of a successful marriage?

12. Do you appreciate your religious practices and basic values in human relations?

13. Do you find fun and mutual satisfaction in recreational pursuits?

Common questions for couples registered persons close to you:

1. Is your attitude toward mother-in-law and father-in-law a positive one? These are additional love persons for you to enjoy.

2. How do you build a positive relationship with other in-laws, new persons to trust and enjoy?

3. What about his friends, her friends, new friends?

4. Can you discuss with these persons ways for planning and enriching the relationships?

5. Are you aware of family and friends who feel left out and neglected by your recent actions.

Common questions related to the process of getting married:

1. Do you both feel good about and agree on the person who will be performing the wedding ceremony, since most couples today do have a ceremony?

2. How will your housing be handled?

3. What about your work and school?

Phyllis Parrett, left, and Mary Lear were recognized by Rockcastle Manufacturing for an amazing 10 years of perfect attendance.

4. Will the wedding reception go along with the wedding? It takes extensive planning to do this so that most guests will be pleased.

5. Will the honeymoon costs be appropriate to the means?

6. Will the honeymoon provide the rest and privacy for enjoyment and getting really acquainted?

7. The wedding license is usually purchased prior to the wedding. Why wait to the last minute?

8. A premarital medical examination is not required to meet state law, but you will want to talk to a doctor or health clinic about:

- A. Psychological and physiological aspects of sex.
- B. Family planning procedures.
- C. Answers to questions that either of you has about the physical side of the marriage.

9. Do you know enough about the financial aspects of marriage? What about: car (used or new, large or small), insurance (term, life, rental, surgical, endowment), food, recreation, housing (old or new, rent or buy), clothes, medical and dental care, installment buying and savings and growth investments?

10. On emotional and social stresses they may want to seek a marriage and family counselor, a minister, or other professional persons.

11. Couples who are able to think through and solve most of the anticipated problems of getting married will get along better during the first years of marriage than those couples who take each problem as it arises on a trial and error basis.

12. Do you appreciate your religious practices and basic values in human relations?

13. Do you find fun and mutual satisfaction in recreational pursuits?

14. Common questions for couples registered persons close to you:

1. Is your attitude toward mother-in-law and father-in-law a positive one? These are additional love persons for you to enjoy.

2. How do you build a positive relationship with other in-laws, new persons to trust and enjoy?

WHEN A LOVED ONE IS DEPLOYED TO SAUDI ARABIA:

Keeping Yourself in Control
If your family member has been deployed to Saudi Arabia, you may feel that you are caught up in a situation over which you have no control. Although you can't control what is happening with your family member, there are things you can do to maintain control over your own life.

Each of these is simply a suggestion to get you started. After you read each one, try to list two or three ways you can follow through and add to the control you have over your life.

Although I cannot control the world situation, I can control my aspects of how it affects my life.

I need to take care of myself so that I can continue doing the things that are most important.

I need to simplify my lifestyle.

I need to allow others to help me.

I need to take one day at a time rather than worry about what may happen in the future.

I need to look to others for love and support.

I need to frequently remind myself that I am doing the best that I can at this very moment.

Cub Scouting

Cub Scouting began in 1930, mainly because younger Boy Scouts wanted to tag along with Boy Scout troops and needed their own program. It grew quite rapidly, and by the early 1950's, there were more Cub Scouts than Boy Scouts.

By and large, the early dens and packs operated much as they do today. In the beginning, the main leader of the den was supposed to be the den chief (an older Boy Scout). But it soon became evident that an adult hand was needed to control the Cub Scouts, so by 1940 the den leader (usually a parent of one of the Cub Scouts) was in charge. Some of the early packs had weekly pack meetings as well as weekly den meetings. With these exceptions, the program five decades ago was much like it is today.

Music, Music, Music on KET's TeleFund February 27

On Wednesday, Feb. 27, KET offers a lineup of musical programs throughout the evening. Listen to Duke Ellington, followed by Julie Andrews, and later on, Lionel Hampton.

which we are so very thankful. We have had a few days of sunshine recently, but so many days this winter has been so dark and dreary with cold winds and a lot of rain. This makes it bad for some of our elderly people who have to stay indoors so much. But as fast as the time goes, it won't be long until springtime will be here, and I'm sure we are all looking forward to that time.

The "World Day of Prayer" was observed at our morning worship service Feb. 3rd as I'm sure it was in many, many churches throughout our country. It was so nice of our President George Bush to set this day aside to pray for our troops in the Middle East conflict. But I'm sure too, there are thousands and thousands of people throughout our land who pray for them many times every day, which is what we should do. We also need to write them, and encourage and support them any way we can. Bless their hearts, they are doing what they have been called on to do and they are doing it bravely. So please, please keep them in your prayers day and night. Also remember their loved ones back here, they need our prayers and support too. God bless them all.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Arminie Sloan of Mt. Vernon. She was a member of our church at Fairview and was such a kind, sweet and humble, lady whom everybody loved.

I think my sister Myrtle for the beautiful poem she sent to the Signal in memory of our parents, Eugene and Liddy Reppert and other family members. I had absent them so much and wish so many times that I could talk to them again, but one day we Christians and our loved ones will be together, where we won't have to be separated anymore. What a glorious day that will be!

Cake and ice cream have been served twice this month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander in celebration of birthdays. Their daughter Jewell Davidson's birthday was February 5th and her daughter Jerna Davidson was Feb. 7th. Many happy returns of the day to both these sweet ladies, that we all love.

Jan Hayes of Winchester spent last Sunday night with her mother Mrs. Mary Cole. Before going home they visited Mrs. Cole's other daughters Helen Powell and Christine Barnett, both of Berea.

Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Ridgell and daughter Sherry were Sunday guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ridgell of Corbin.

Our recent guests have been our son Wayne and wife Carolyn, our daughter Joyce Scals and husband James and our grandson Darrin Chasteen. Also my nephew J.B. Alexander and little twin daughters Judy and Jamie.

Mrs. Irene Alexander and children spent the past weekend in Evans visiting her sisters and brothers and their families.

Eugene and Hallic Alexander recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Edg Croucher in Berea.

Hubert and I visited at the Alexander home a few days ago, and visiting them this past Sunday was James Reppert.

So until next time take care and try to attend church and Sunday School. Pray for one another and let's always be good to children they desperately need our love. So many of them are neglected today and ill treated, best their hearts. They need to be taught and disciplined at home and not left to our schools to get this training. After all God gives children to parents and we are responsible for their upbringing - it's not the teachers place to raise our children. When we pray, remember our troops, the sick and lonely, also our ministers and school teachers, doctors and nurses, they are all carrying heavy loads and do love one another.

Have you ever wondered if it really matters who is in office or which political party seems to rule the majority of the populas.

I know that I certainly have. I've wondered time and again, if it really matters if I go vote or if I simply let others elect our officials for me.

I think that we have too many politicians in our great country and politicians are human just like everyone else. They too feel obligated to their friends, supporters and constituents. That obligation often times results in bad decisions that favor a friend or constituent.

You also should always try to figure the motive for a politicians ambitions.

I certainly believe that Republican Larry Hopkins would make as good a Governor as we've had in Kentucky for some time. He no doubt would be a marked improvement over what we have had for the past three years, but is he really running for Governor because he wants to be the ultimate public servant or because this is the last year under federal law that he can keep over $600,000 that has built up in his Congressional reelection fund. You have to keep in mind that this money was donated to him for his re-election efforts in the U.S. House, yet he is allowed to cash it in for his personal use.

To me, that had to be a major reason for his decision to run for Governor, although he would never admit it.

Most if not all of our local Republican leaders are behind Hopkins, mainly I think because he got the word out before Larry Forgy.

I've always liked Forgy, a Lexington attorney, for his common sense approach to most things, especially Kentucky politics. That is why I'm surprised he aligned himself with a loser like Louie Nunn.

A few years back Forgy spoke at the Farm's Business Banquet at the high school.

He spoke on several topics but the one I remember and agreed with the most, was the fact that the Wal-Mart stores were in fact bad for America.

Wal-Marts are especially bad for small towns where they totally destroy the competition, by giving away stuff for a while and then once they have run everybody out, they raise their prices higher than the other stores they run out.

They usually pay poor wages and in essence, when you shop at Wal-Mart you are spending your money with the wealthiest man in the U.S.

Sam Walton is considered one of the wealthiest if not the wealthiest man in America, so does he really need to keep running the little guy out of business all the time. Compare the prices at say, Hiatt's 5 & 10 and at Wal-Mart and you'll find that places like Hiatt's are usually as cheap or cheaper than Wal-Mart.

Regardless of the way you feel about Wal-Mart and Louie Nunn and even Larry Hopkins, remember that Larry Forgy was not able to cash in over $600,000 when he decided to run. I think he genuinely wants to be Governor. I think that if he is not too closely tied to Louie Nunn he would do a good job.

To be honest about it, as long as Martha doesn't win, the state of Ky. has to be better off than we have been during Wally World's term.

I'm not sure if the Red Devil mascot controversy is over or not, I know it should be, if it isn't.

Everyone has a right to their opinion and they have the right to voice it. They also have the right to seek change when there is something they don't like.

If the majority of parents at Mt. Vernon had wanted the mascot changed, I'm satisfied it would have been, but unfortunately for those wanting it changed, the majority voted to keep it the same.

While the school board never really voted on whether to change it or leave it alone, they did vote to go along with Principal John Hale's recommendation - for really no action.

He and they were correct in their actions and I hope that the subject will now be dropped.

As I watched a news broadcast Tuesday night from the University of Kentucky Campus, where anti-war protesters were shown hanging the flag upside down in protest of the war, I wondered of those kids ever really thought about why they were able to voice their opinion in such a tasteful manner.

They like myself and so many other Americans probably have no idea of what our soldiers have gone through in the past and what they are going through now to preserve world freedom.

(association) will seek funding for the estimated $7 million project and begin the initial plans necessary to begin construction.

Judge Mullins said he could not even speculate on the outcome of the meeting. "We just hope for the best," he said.

At the present time a ban on water lines is in effect in areas of the county now served by the Mt. Vernon Water Works. It has been in effect since March 16, 1990. Areas of the new association that would be served by Mt. Vernon would be affected by the ban.

The proposed system area consists of 44 square miles with an estimated population of 1,860. Included are the communities of Lamero, Three Links, Climax, Top Hill, Sand Springs, cedarville, Pongo, Sand Hill, Wabed, Flat Gap, Clear Creek, BRUSH Creek and Spiro.

According to FmHA guidelines which the PSC uses, the association would use 104,809 gallons a day or 3,144,284 gallons a month.

Because of the men and women who have died through the years in order to preserve the freedoms we enjoy in this country, I too have a right to voice mine and I think those apparently immature students should try living in the Baltic States for a while.

Census shows large growth locally

The final figures for the 1990 census shows Mt. Vernon grew by 13.7 percent from 2,334 in 1980 to 2,654 in the 1990 census, according to figures released by the U.S. Census.

It is considered a modest growth, but one that is an indication that Mt. Vernon/Renfro Valley is "up and coming."

The Rockcastle County figures were not made available at this time, but it is believed the county also grew moderately.

Broadhead grew an amazing 66.20 percent, one of the major growth towns in the state. Probably the most increase came from the housing project near the fairgrounds. Broadhead's population grew from 686 in 1980 to 1,140 by 1990.

Not so at Livingston. The 1980 census listed the population at 334. In 1990 it was 241, or a loss of 27.8 percent.

Figures of cities in the surrounding area shows:

Berea grew from 8,600 to 9,126, 6.10 percent. Richmond lost residents from 21,705 to 21,155 or 2.5 percent during the 10 years. McKee grew from 759 to 870. London grew 43.9 percent from 4,002 to 5,757. Somerset lost 9 of a percent from 10,829 to 10,733. Burnside lost 10.3 percent from 775 to 1980 to 695 in 1990. Danville also lost 4 percent from 12,942 to 12,420. Lancaster grew 1.7 percent from 3,365 to 3,421. Crab Orchard lost 2.10 percent from 843 to 825. Eubank jumped 71 percent from 207 to 354. Stanford lost 2.8 from 2,764 to 2,686.

Tim Schwendeman of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District (CVADD) said, "I think telecommunications is going to be opening up doorways to these counties," he said. "I think that's going to help Eastern Kentucky -- service industries that don't require great transportation networks."

Other figures of interest: Lexington a modest 10.4 percent from 204,165 to 225,366. Louisville lost 9.90 percent from 298,694 to 269,036. Although London grew, Corbin lost 8.10 percent from 8,075 to 7,419 possibly because Corbin is difficult to count since it is located in Laurel, Knox and Whitley counties.

Cities that lost include Covington,

Cumberland, Glasgow, Harlan, Pineville, Middlesboro, Hyden, Irvine, Lebanon, Liberty, Manchester, Maysville, Mount Sterling, Newport, Owensboro, Paducah, Science Hill, 4.1 percent; Williamsburg, Ashland, Jenkins, Murray.

Some others that grew include,

Anchorage, Annville, (26.70 percent), Barbourville, Bardstow, Bowling Green, Crestwood, Elizabethtown, Erlanger, Georgetown, Henderson, Hodgenville, Hopkinsville, Lawrenceburg, Lebanon Junction, Middletown, Nicholasville, Paintsville, Paris, Pikeville, Radcliff, Russell Springs, Salyersville, Shelbyville, Versailles, Whitesburg.

This list does not include some new areas around larger cities. In some cases those towns have growth of as much as 277 percent.

Desert Shield names needed

As part of the Rotary Club's Feb. 17th Rally in support of the troops engaged in Operation Desert Shield, a sign will be erected on the courthouse lawn with the names of individuals participating in the operation.

If you have additions or corrections, please notify County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins as soon as possible so the sign can be ready for the Rally.

Officials at the disaster field office in Painsville announced today the addition of six more counties to the list of counties now considered major disaster areas.

After the completion of state and federal surveys of damage, the following counties have been approved for Public Assistance only: Carroll, Trimble, Livingston, Wolfe, Jackson, and Rockcastle.

These counties join Boyd, Breathitt, Casey, Johnson, Lawrence, Magoffin, McCracken, Owsley, Perry, and Wayne counties which were declared eligible for Public Assistance on January 29th, 1991 and Lewis County which was added February 3.

The term "Public Assistance" refers to assistance for the restoration of publicly owned property damaged or destroyed by flooding in December.

FEMA funds 75 percent of the work. The remaining 25 percent is furnished by the state and/or local government.

Depending upon the nature of the disaster, aid under Public Assistance may include the following: clearance of hazardous debris; emergency protective measures, such as barricading roads and salary expenses related to the flooding for police, firemen and other public employees; repair of roads, streets and bridges; and repairs to water control facilities (dikes, levees, irrigation works and drainage systems).

It may also include repairs to public buildings and related equipment; repairs to public utilities; repairs to private non-profit institutions such as volunteer fire departments, electric cooperatives, and certain educational and medical facilities; and repairs to public recreational facilities and parks.

Local governments can elect to perform all or part of the repairs and restorations -- or they can let contracts for the work. In either case, federal funds would provide 75 percent for all of the eligible work.

Craig to head bike-a-thon

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Sherry Craig has agreed to be the coordinator of the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-A-Thon in Mt. Vernon, on Apr. 20.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer, Danny Thomas. The institution exists to serve the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, and provides total medical care to all patients.

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are working side-by-side seeking not only a better means of treatment, but also the causes, cures and prevention of these terrible killers.

All findings and information gained at the hospital are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Thanks to St. Jude Hospital, children who have leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, sickle-cell anemia, and other child-killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

The Bike-A-Thon Program this year is dedicated to Brooke Simon, a six-year-old solid tumor patient at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

Brooke developed a malignant tumor in her abdomen, and after surgery, was treated with radiation and chemotherapy. She has now been taken off all therapy and is in remission (no sign of the disease). Although she isn't cured of her cancer yet, as long as she has people helping her through the Bike-A-Thon Program, there is always hope. Brooke is a living example of the successful research, patient care and educational programs of this internationally recognized hospital.

We sincerely appreciate the concern that Sherry Craig has shown for our work to help children like Brooke, and we hope the citizens of Mt. Vernon will support the Bike-A-Thon this spring to help provide the funds needed to preserve the world's greatest asset... our children.

The car overturned on its top. It was raining at the time according to the police report. The car slid 25 feet before coming to a stop.

It was Thacker's second accident since Oct. 11 when he collided with a car in Lincoln County.

Lady Rockets' road trip unsuccessful, lose to Belfry, 73-54, and Phelps, 85-60

By: Spencer Bengé
The Rockcastle County Lady Rockets found their first overnight road trip this year to the Pike County area very disappointing as they fell to Belfry High, 73-54, Friday and to Phelps High, 85-60, Saturday. Their record now stands at 7-14.
"Belfry was a very talented team," said Lady Rockets' Head Coach Christy Beaver earlier this week. "In comparison, I would say Belfry was better than Jackson County," she added.
But unlike other losses, Beaver said that this game was very pleasing. "Although it was a loss, we played a very smart ball game, especially in the first half, and I was very pleased with our performance," commented Beaver.

The summary was that Belfry just out-matched and out-sized the Lady Rockets.
Still, the Lady Rockets proved Beaver's comments by playing one of their better first quarters and by allowing Belfry only a four point lead at the end of the quarter, 20-16. But the true colors of Belfry were just around the corner in the second quarter. While the Lady Rockets were having difficulty getting any shots to fall underneath, Belfry was lighting the basket up and in the process, pumped in 21 points to take a commanding lead, 41-25.

Early on in the third quarter brought more problems as Belfry surged for 11 consecutive points to stun the Lady Rockets and eventually take a dominating 24 point lead.
The Lady Rockets, led by Karla Bullock's 13 points, had their best scoring run of 18 points in the final quarter to once again back their performance on the night and bring the final outcome to 73-54, in Belfry's favor.
And just like the game against Belfry, Saturday's game found the fate of the Lady Rockets in the hands of yet another talented team, Phelps High. But unlike the game against Belfry, the Lady Rockets could have very easily won the Phelps gamahad they had the style of play displayed Friday.

Basically, one major factor blocked the path to victory for the Lady Rockets, shooting. Phelps bombarded the bucket all night and shot 64% from the field to take an early lead and keep it throughout the game. On the other hand, the Lady Rockets couldn't buy a basket, especially from the free throw line. They managed to get to the charity stripe a whopping 51 times during the game but were only successful in connecting on 15 occasions, giving up 36 points.

Although the outcome of the game could have been reversed by the shooting of the Lady Rockets, Beaver felt that it wasn't the only aspect of their game that was poor. "To be honest, I really have nothing positive to say about the game," said Beaver. "It was just disappointing."

The proof was in the scoring. Phelps took a 15-9 first quarter lead, stretched it to 42-37 at the half and to 63-37 in the third quarter for an easy victory of 85-60 at the conclusion.
"We just weren't in the game."

Beaver said, "We didn't set up our offense the whole night, didn't set picks and couldn't get the ball up the floor." "I guess you have to give credit where credit is due, Phelps played an extremely good ball game," concluded Beaver.

A very tough weekend for the Lady Rockets, who hope to change the tide Thursday (tonight) when they travel to McCreary County to take on McCreary Central.

Scoring for the Lady Rockets against Belfry were: Karla Bullock, 13; Kristi Sargent, 10; April Burton and Beth Amyx, 9 each; Jan Durham, 7; Cindy McCaughey, 4 and Christy Coleman, 2.

Lady Rockets scoring against Phelps were: April Burton, 15; Karla Bullock, 12; Beth Amyx, 10; Kristi Sargent, 7; Christy Coleman, 6; Cindy McCaughey, 4 and Jan Durham, Darcetta Ford and Jennifer Clark, all with 2.

Streak of bad luck strikes again leaving Rockets with another loss and injury

By: Spencer Bengé
It was a year of hope and potential for the Rockcastle County High School Rockets, who definitely had a chance of passing through the district tournament to advance to the region. It was until the express train of bad luck came whistling through Rockcastle County.

Not to say that this year is finished but to say that this year is hampered to a high degree due to injuries would be the exact terminology.

After taking a 85-76 loss from host Whitley County last Friday, the Rockets had yet another player sustain a leg or foot related injury. Senior center David Eaton, Jr. suffered a foot injury in Monday's practice at RCHS. And according to medical reports, the x-rays of Eaton's foot shows that it is not broken but recommendations say that Eaton should undergo bone scan to make sure. As of now Eaton is side-lined.

Eaton's injury put the running count of four players being injured for the Rockets in just over one month's period. Including Eaton, three of the four injured were senior starters.

Just how much the injuries have affected the Rockets was clearly shown against Whitley. They defeated Whitley earlier this year on a tip-in at the buzzer by senior guard Tim Cottrell but lost to Whitley Friday night by nine points. Not a big difference, but clearly a difference.
The Rockets had some good scoring output by nine players, four of those nine in double figures, but never led during the game. However, they did tie the score at 31 at the half after a solid scoring run of 19 points in the second quarter.

But true to tradition this year, the Rockets quickly found themselves in serious foul trouble in the latter part of the second half.

In fact, the Rockets had seven players with three or more fouls. But the turning point was when three of those seven, William Bullens, Michael Parkerson and Chris Newland) fouled out the ball game. All are starters.

Needless to say, Whitley pounced on the occasion and took a 54-49 lead

Rockets' freshmen roll with two wins in three game home stand

During the past two weeks, the Rockcastle County Rockets' freshmen have been in some very nerve-bending basketball games. They routed Northern Pulaski, 52-39, Monday, edged out Madison Southem in overtime, 66-65, last Monday and got edged out by Corbin, 61-60, Thursday, January 31.

One contributing factor to the freshmen's success during the past three games has been the superb play by forward Jason Fletcher. Fletcher fired in 25 points against Pulaski, another 25 against Southern and 30 against Corbin for a tremendous total of 80 points.

Of course, Fletcher wasn't alone. All in all, every member of the squad has had a hand in on the action in one way or the other and to put it bluntly, have played some solid team basketball.

Scoring along with Fletcher against Pulaski were: Mikhael Shaffer with 10, Mickey McClure with eight, Marvin McCollum with seven and Freddie Pruitt with two.

Trailing Fletcher in scoring in the Southern game were Mikhael Shaffer with 11, Marvin McCollum with nine, J.D. Bussell and Mickey McClure with eight each, Freddie Pruitt with four and Shane Adams with one.

Mikhael Shaffer followed Fletcher in scoring again in the Corbin game with another good night of 14 points. Others scoring were Freddie Pruitt with six, Mickey McClure and Marvin McCollum with four each and J.D. Bussell with two.

Point guard J.D. Bussell drives the lane for the Rockets' freshmen and looks for an open man in their game against Northern Pulaski Monday night at RCHS. The freshmen went on to crush Pulaski, 52-39.

in the third quarter and nursed it through the final period for the win, 85-76.

The Rockets will now play their last home game this year against Knox Central Thursday (rescheduled to tonight) at the high school. The night will be highlighted with a ceremony before the game for the seniors and their parents. They will also be a presentation of certificates at the half of the varsity game to all the youngsters involved in the intramural basketball program.

Scoring for the Rockets in the game were: David Sargent, 17; Kevin Mullins, 15; William Bullens, 11; Tim Cottrell; 10; Micheal Parkerson, 9; David Eaton Jr., 6; Chris Newland, 4 and Scotie Bullens and Mikhael Shaffer, 2 each.

Rockets' Player of the Week

for Feb. 3-9

Junior Kevin Mullins has been selected by the Rockets' coaching staff as this week's player of the week for his performance in the Whitley County game last Friday night. Casted as a small forward, Mullins came off the bench to fire in an impressive 15 points and to help the Rockets stay within striking distance for the duration. With injuries now taking their toll on the Rockets, Mullins will be looked upon more than ever by the Rockets' coaching staff to take up the slack and give the team that extra lift underneath the basket.

Lady Rockets' Player of the Week

for Feb. 3-9

Sophomore Christy Coleman's performance off the bench against Belfry and Phelps this past weekend was the deciding factor for her selection as this week's player of the week by Lady Rockets' Head Coach Chris Beaver. "Coleman came off the bench to do a very good job for us," said Beaver. "She scored in crucial situations and played an exceptional defensive game, especially on our full court press, forcing numerous turnovers." Coleman has a lot of athletic ability and we are learning to put that ability to good use right now," concluded Beaver.
