Lady Rockets'

Player of the Week

for Feb. 10-16

Sophomore guard Beth Amyx has been selected by Lady Rockets' Head Coach Christy Beaver as this week's player of the week. "Amyx played really well in our two games this past week," said Beaver. "Although Amyx was among many that stood out in the Garrard County game, she was however, the only one to really stand out in the McCrory Central game." Beaver went on to commend Amyx, who had 18 points on the week, for her display of smart passing and shooting. "Amyx answered the call for us in a lot of ways this past week," said Beaver in closing.

Rockets'

Player of the Week

for Feb. 10-16

Junior forward Micah Parkerson has been awarded the honor of player of the week for February 10-16 by the Rockets' coaching staff for his play against Knox Central and Monticello. Parkerson, who had 16 points for the week, posted two doubles in the Central game by scoring 10 points and putting down 10 rebounds. Parkerson, who is not skittish when it comes to committing fouls, is best known for his rebounding and inside scoring. And with injuries now taking their toll and the season coming to a close, Parkerson will be looked upon as well as several other players to lead the Rockets in district play.

New GED program

A new program to aid recipients of High School Equivalency Certificates, commonly known as GEDs, to continue their quest for further education is being inaugurated by the Christian Appalachian Project this year.

Scholarships are being offered in Rockcastle, Garrard, Lincoln, and Floyd counties. People who have received their GED are eligible to compete for $1,000 or $500 scholarships.

The scholarships are non-renewable, and are applicable for the first year for educational expenses -- tuition, books, room, board, or personal expenses -- transportation, child care or food -- while attending school.

The scholarship can be used, wherever the recipient wants to go, which may include any college, university, or vocational school.

Anyone, at any age, who has received a GED by a local board of education as a result of participating in a Christian Appalachian Project preparation program in Rockcastle, Lincoln, Garrard, or Floyd counties is eligible to apply for a scholarship.

One or two recipients will be chosen from each county based on a combination of GED test score, financial need, two letters of recommendation and a one page statement about what the applicant wants to accomplish and how a degree or vocational certificate would help him or her reach their goals.

"It is important that we give low-income, GED recipients incentives to further develop their skills so that they will be eligible for better job opportunities," said Glen Taul, manager of scholarships.

Applications are due March 15. Completed applications are to be sent to Glen Taul, 322 Crab Orchard Road, Lancaster, Ky., 40346 for applicants in Garrard, Lincoln, Rockcastle, Madison, Casey, Pulaski, and Jackson counties, and for Floyd County applicants, to Rose Price, Christian Appalachian Project, Box 1119, Martin, Ky. 41649.

Applications and more information on the program is available from Cathy Bailey, Family Life Center, School, Rt. 3, Box 35, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456; 256-5307; Glen Taul, 792-3051; or Rose Price, 285-5111.

Social News

past when mothers raised their own children and instilled in them the values they believed in. TV, crime and violence were not a part of that child's life. Nor was a boy's sister's knowledge or lack of knowledge allowed to shape his/her values. The mother, regardless of her knowledge of child rearing, did what she thought was best for the child and did it with a mother's love. Kissing tears away or a sharp reprimand was all in a day's work for her and in time they both paid off with a moderately well behaved child. The no no's she had to say so often and enforce with a smack on the behind if necessary worked wonders with the discipline problems. As we all know this was often overdone and the child was punished unduly which left scars in his memories. Still it was done by a mother whose love wanted her child to be perfect.

These were the days of the work ethic also. Every one had to do his or her part to keep a household together. Money was scarce so all the work had to be done by family members, children included.

These were also the days when most parents realized the need of the children to have two parents and often stayed married when they would have preferred to be divorced. The children were the ties that hold them together.

Another facet of yesterday was the care given to the older generation. This was as much of a concern to the middle age people as the rearing of children.

There was no such thing as nursing homes and senior citizen programs so the burden of care of a widowed parent or parents too old to care for themselves was a duty to be borne by their offspring. I think I'd be safe in saying all people were not happy with the job of caring for their parents but they opened their doors and hearts to them anyway. Children often had to double up in their sleeping arrangements to make room for the one moving in and had to change their life style but in the long run they gained by having a loving grandparent help with their care.

My own paternal grandma was absorbed into the home of her daughter and contributed much to the rearing of her children. I'm sure each of the girls in that family have precious memories of brushing her long curly hair that she no longer could handle. She would sit in her low rocking chair with her loosened hair flowing over the chair back and each girl in her turn would brush strand after strand carefully before it would be coiled back into a huge crown on top of her head. We all kind of envied them for the closeness they had with her.

My maternal grandma spent her last years at my mom and dad's home. She was in her nineties when she died. She was a fun person to be around and we missed her so much when we would return for a visit. It was she who could keep us spell bound with her stories of the Civil War. Also of our Indian heritage. It was also she who knitted a darling little pair of baby booties as a gag gift to give Mat at our wedding shower.

The years she spent with mom were a trial, I'm sure, to both of them but to us adult children going back home to allow our own little ones to meet and love her she was a blessing.

She was the grandma who believed cleanliness was next to Godliness. She often said, "if you have only one dress take it off every night and wash it then you will have a clean one to wear the next day."

One of the funny little things that happened while she was living with mom has been a source of joy to all of us down through the years.

As I said, she was in her nineties when she died so her mind had begun to wander and she forgot easily. She was beginning to worry that she was in the way and wanted to go to her other daughter. One day when she was determined to go. My sister visit awhile. Grandma, not realizing the hoax and temporarily forgetting it was Rena she had just left was over joyed at seeing her. Not long after that she gently went to sleep in that same room and never awakened again.

Yesterdays

Three very important times in the lives of people are, the yesterdays we have lived through, the todays we are now living, and the tomorrows we will leave for those who follow. Today we will talk about our yesterdays.

Of course the yesterdays are in the past but we should remember the good in those years, try to forget the bad times and use the knowledge we have gained to lay the foundation for a more secure tomorrow. There was a time in the not too far

We are preparing for our Spring Festival to be held in April. This is our largest activity so we need to organize and plan early. There will be a special meeting Feb. 26 at 6 p.m. to plan the Spring Fling. All those interested in sharing ideas please attend.

We will be sending home permission slips next week with our students. These slips are for parents to sign stating their children have their permission to compete and participate in our Spring Fling activities.

Anyone not returning their form by the requested date will not be required to participate in our Spring Fling. There will be a boy and girl elected by the students from each grade. There will be some expense on your behalf, the children will be required to wear formal or dressy clothes during the activity.

The grade with the largest sum of money will be announced as our king, queen, prince or princess. We would like to ask all parents that have free time to donate to PTA that it will be appreciated. This is an activity that requires a lot of manpower. Please sign up on your form to give your time to a worthy cause.

Teen Center Perspectives

By: Ginny Gilpatrick
Rockcastle Teen Center

Contemporary gospel rang through the Teen Center last Thursday. Jason Wilson, well-known by the teens for his lunchtime performances at RCHS, was one of the star attractions. His moving solo, and a lively Christian rapp performance with Rob Carr were part of a devotions program arranged by Ricky Welch. Anthony Mink did the preaching. At 7 p.m. on a snowy night, about twenty teens sat and listened, and appreciated the message and the talent. On the flip side, the boys who staged the program loved the audience. They will be back regularly on Thursday evenings following Teen Challenge. The professional quality and originality in what they do make this a "must see" event.

Earlier that day, Teresa Renner had everyone in the Trip Group turned on and singing the chorus to "Our God is an awesome God", what a beautiful sound; the Millis church will love them.

On the wall of every Christian Appalachia Project facility is a copy of their Mission statement. To excerpt some quotations from that statement: "The purpose of CAP will be to promote the good news of Jesus Christ by our programs and our Christian witness... Our work is in many fields (social, economic, spiritual)... Those in positions of responsibility within CAP shall be personally committed to Christian principles, seek to grow in that spirit, and strive to manifest that spirit in daily life."

The activities at the Teen Center on Thursday clearly manifest the principles contained in the Mission Statement. That leaders in the community with strong Christian commitment and witness have been attracted to serve as leaders of regular programming within the overall structure is heartening. The numbers and the attitude of the teens who participate in inspirational programs is growing.

Tens of alcoholics (or from broken families) began meeting separately from Alton last Tuesday. Teens in this group are led to an understanding of how the alcoholic, or missing parent, has affected their feelings and personality. They can share their thoughts in confidence with each other and find support and insight to make the most of their lives. All teens are welcome; those in AA are encouraged to bring their children aged twelve and up.

I Am...
I Am...
By: Michael Parsons

I am a boy that likes to draw
I wonder about the earth's core

Two on Dean's List at Centre College

Two students from the Mt. Vernon area have been named to the fall dean's list at Centre College. Mike Hamilton is the son of James and Brenda Hamilton of Conway Road, Berea. He is a 1987 graduate of Rockcastle County School. A member of the football team, he was named most valuable offensive lineman. He is also a peer counselor and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Kevin Rowe, the son of Donald and Linda Rowe of Mt. Vernon, is a 1990 graduate of Rockcastle County High School. He is a member of the football team and a pledge of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

I hear a bat hit the wall
I see a book walk.
I want a drum set.
I am a boy that likes to draw
I pretend that I am a Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle
I feel that I am a cool dude.
I touch a herringhead shark.
I worry about if the sun will blow up
I cry when my dad goes to a meeting
I cry for two or three days
I am a boy that likes to draw
I understand that Jaws is not real
I say Mrs. Clark is a very nice teacher
I dream that I turn into a frog
I try to fix my bike
I hope that I get a drum set
I am a boy that likes to draw

I am...
By: Brad Powell
I am just a happy guy
I wonder if there are U.F.O's
I hear birds flying in the sky

I see green hills and blue skies
I want everyone to be happy
I am just a happy guy
I pretend I am president
I feel happy
I touch the stars in the sky
I worry we will be at war
I cry for the people who are not happy
I am just a happy guy
I understand people's feelings
I say no to drugs
I dream the world being perfect
I try to do my best
I hope everyone's happy
I am just a happy guy

Geothermal heating and hot cocoa. What more do you need?

Geothermal heating, cooling and water heating systems offer unmatched efficiency, which translates into low operating costs. Just as important, though, they'll keep you warm. For a kid on a snowy winter day, that may even be more important.

Did You Know?

Dear Editor,
Did you know that in 1990 Congress decided they needed a raise in salary so they voted on it and most of them voted to give themselves a raise. However I'm glad to report that our Republican members there voted against the raise. The men are Sen. Mitch McConnell, Rep. Harold Rogers, Jim Bunning and Larry Hopkins. Those that voted for the raise were Sen. Wendell Ford, Chris Perkins, William Hatcher, Carroll Hubbard, Romano Mazzoli. Notice all are Democrats.

Hopkins called the vote an obscenity of arrogance. Congress had no right to give itself a raise when it refuses to balance the budget.

Bunning was equally outspoken against and at one time he threatened to give his raise to charity.

Rogers said it was not the right time for a raise. There were 147 members who voted against the raise in salary. 85 are keeping theirs, 145 donating to charity and there are 11 returning theirs to the treasury. No record of what the other members did with their raise.

These men that voted for the raise will be up again for reelection. Perhaps not all but the most of them. Let's remember their greed for money and vote against them. However I must say that Senator Wendell Ford has done a good job despite the fact he voted for the raise.

Sincerely,
Archie L. French

"I AM..."

(Cont. From B7)
I pretend I am fighting a giant
I feel I am touching the trees
I worry that I will wreck on my bike
I cry when I have to go to the doctor

I am a boy who likes to draw

I understand Mom and Dad's rules
I say that I love Mom and Dad
I dream of flying
I try to play the piano
I hope I get a new bike
I am a boy who likes to draw.

I touch water that floats above land
I worry that my mom will die
I cry when my dad doesn't come home

I understand why it rains
I say girls should be able to be President
I dream that I can fly
I try to think happy thoughts
I hope that I can change the world when I grow up
I am a girl who likes to have fun

Seniors may get new building

By: Ray McClure

Plans are under way for a Rockcastle County Senior Citizens Building to replace the center now located in the Rockcastle Library.

To that end, a community meeting will be held at 1:30 p.m. Feb. 26 in the community room at the library to get input into the proposed project, estimated to cost about $200,000, according to Shirley Cummins, director.

If approved, the new building will be located on property donated by the Cox Family near Valley View Apartments and the Comprehensive Care Center just off Old U.S. 25.

Also planned in that area is a new Rockcastle Health Department Building.

The building will, as noted, house the Senior Citizens area, adult day care, alzheimers respite care center, leaving the library with space for the Rockcastle Historical Society and a much-used community room.

Money for the project would come from $1,500,000 appropriated by the Kentucky Legislature through Cumberland Valley Area Development District. However, the local project must compete with other projects across the state, with amounts varying. The available money can be used for renovation of present facilities, construction of facilities and the purchase of facilities.

All persons who plan to participate in the programs and use the building are urged to attend the meeting and submit comments.

Also, a public hearing will be held at 1:30 p.m., March 12 in the community room.

Written comments may be sent to Rockcastle Senior Citizens, P.O. Box 746, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456.

Eugene Halcomb, left, and Tom Miller, members of the local chapter of Veterans of Foreign Wars, were on hand with other members of the local chapter to help display a sign that was made in honor of the men and women serving in Operation Desert Storm. The local club displayed the sign during a support rally at the Rockcastle County High School, Sunday afternoon.

Mullins announces deadline set for CSX right-of-way claims

Rockcastle Countians who wish to press ownership claims on abandoned railroad right-of-way should make their request before March 1, according to Rockcastle County Farm Bureau President Virgil Mullins.

Mullins says requests should be made by certified letter to the railroad and to the Kentucky Attorney General's office before that date.

The March 1 deadline was set as part of an agreement between CSX and Attorney General Fred Cowan to settle a lengthy dispute over ownership of abandoned rail lines in Central and Eastern Kentucky.

In effect, CSX agreed to relinquish its claims over most of the property and to restore any property it had improperly sold. At stake were some 50 miles of line in Marion, Boyle, Taylor and Lincoln counties, as well as a longer corridor between Mt. Sterling and Ashland.

The agreement was reached after Kentucky Farm Bureau intervened in the dispute on behalf of the landowners. It covers property which was granted to the railroad by easement when the lines were constructed, most of it well over 100 years ago.

Under the terms of the agreement CSX agreed to: Buy back any property it had sold to anyone other than the owner, then file a disclaimer in the property so that the owner can assume control of the property. As an alternative, the company may pay legal costs, including attorney's fees, of the owner in any title action.

Refund any money to owners who had purchased property, except for a $200 processing fee; provide a disclaimer to any other landowner covering his or her individual property.

Landowners must request relief under the sections of the CSX agreement by March 1. Certified letters should be sent to both CSX and the Attorney General's office. Those addresses are: Frederic J. Cowan, Attorney General, Commonwealth of

Kentucky, Consumer Protection Division, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. ATTENTION: James C. Shackelford and William Basney, Senior Counsel, CSX Transportation, Inc., 500 Water Street, Speed Code J-150, Jacksonville, FL 32202

For additional information, landowners may contact the Attorney General's office at 502/564-2200, or CSX at 904/359-3100 or 904/359-1233.

Woodstock teacher and children killed Monday

A Woodstock Elementary school teacher and her two daughters were killed Monday morning in a tragic accident on Ky. 452 north of Science Hill.

Donna Taylor New, 40, of Tank Pond Spur Road, Eubank, was pronounced dead upon arrival at Huma Hospital - Lake Cumberland. Her two daughters, Casey Lynn, 12, a seventh grader at Northern Junior High in Pulaski and Terra Dawn New, 8, a third grader at Woodstock, were pronounced dead at the scene by Pulaski County Deputy Coroner Denver Hislop.

According to Pulaski County Sheriff Sam Catron, the New's 1990 Chrysler Mini-Van collided with a tractor trailer and then left the roadway hitting a telephone pole.

Mrs. New's first cousin, Delores Phelps, an officer at Citizen's Bank in Brodhead, said that her cousin was not passing another vehicle when the accident occurred. According Mrs. Phelps, the mini-van was coming up an incline when Mrs. New apparently lost control of the mini-van, which crossed the road into the path of the truck, driven by Anthony W. Taylor, 25, of Rt. 3, Somerset.

Taylor's vehicle struck the New's mini-van in the passenger's side. According to the Sheriff's report, Taylor did nothing to contribute to the accident, which occurred at 7:50 p.m.

The reason why Mrs. New lost control of the mini-van is still under investigation, particularly whether she hydroplaned on a wet road surface or was forced to swerve by oncoming traffic, according to the Sheriff.

The Sheriff said that none of the News had a seat belt on, but Mrs. Phelps said that she was not sure that was true, because her cousin and the children always wore their seat belts.

The News are survived by the husband and father, Terry New of Eubank and parents and grandparents, Chester and Ardilla Taylor, also of Eubank.

Services for the News will be held at Morris and Hislop Funeral Home in Science Hill, Thursday at 2 p.m.

Three indicted; one to be sentenced Friday

Three persons have been indicted by a Rockcastle Circuit Court Grand Jury, and one is due for sentencing Friday.

Steven Scott Johnson, 41, of Manchester, pleaded guilty Feb. 14 to a charge of "criminal possession of forged instrument," second degree.

Commonwealth Attorney Benny Ham has recommended he serve two years with his sentence to run concurrently with similar charges in Madison and Laurel circuit courts.

He pleaded guilty to having a $250 check drawn on the Peoples Bank and Trust Co. of Madison County.

Robert Womble, 24, of Mt. Vernon has been indicted for criminal possession of a forged instrument, namely, a $100 check. He remains in jail.

Jeffrey Allen, 27, of Livingston was indicted for theft by unlawful taking over $100, by taking a Ford truck owned by Clifford Collins. He was released from jail on his own

Trace Branch home destroyed

A home belonging to the Ron Hillard family on Trace Branch was destroyed by fire recently. A car parked near the frame house was also destroyed, Livingston firemen reported.

The house, near Trace Branch Church, was engulfed in flames when firemen arrived. The family had just returned from town when the fire was discovered.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Rogers seeks tax change

Once again, U.S. Rep. Harold Rogers, has introduced a bill that would exempt seasonal farm workers from income tax withholding.

The legislation would repeal a controversial law that took effect in 1990. The statute requires farmers to withhold taxes from hired hands -- even if they worked only a day or two.

"The withholding requirement was buried in a thousand-page budget bill Congress passed in 1989," Rogers reported. "This is a terrible burden on small farmers, and it's unfair to those workers, most of whom don't earn enough money to file an income tax return."

He said that dozens of farmers have complained. Growers had a difficult time hiring seasonal help for the tobacco harvest before the withholding law took effect. The law has aggravated the labor shortage by discouraging potential workers, Rogers said.

"Mandatory withholdings could drag down a worker's pay until working is not a worthwhile option," he said. "Why should a farm worker go into the fields if he'll receive pay more than a paycheck?"

"We spend quite a few hours keeping track of expenses, and this is a

Kidney infection causes death of two-year-old girl

A two-year-old Willailla girl, who was dead on arrival at the Rockcastle Hospital last Tuesday morning, died as the result of acute pyelonephritis. Tara Leigh Renner, died as the result of a "severe kidney infection," according to Rockcastle County Coroner Billy Dowell.

Dowell said that final results from an autopsy were received in his office Tuesday morning.

The child was taken to the Rockcastle Hospital last Monday, suffering from a high fever. She was treated in the emergency room and discharged.

Family members said that time of her release from the hospital, the child had a temperature of 105 degrees.

Elsie Mullins arrested for transporting

When deputy sheriffs responded to a wreck call on U.S. 25 at Sigmon Hill Feb. 14, they found Elsie Cox Mullins of Mt. Vernon in her wrecked truck.

They also found 10 cases of beer and several bottles of vodka and whiskey in her truck and arrested her for illegal transportation and delivery of alcoholic beverages in local option territory.

She posted 10 percent of a $4,000 bond for her appearance in District Court Feb. 27.

It was the second time in two weeks she was charged with a violation of an alcohol related incident. She was arrested Feb. 1 for illegal possession for purpose of sale when State Police raided her residence on Ky. 461.

Arresting officers were Deputy Sheriff's Ronnie Roark and Leonard Miller.

Dear Editor:

The enclosed poem has been sent to my congressman, John Boehner, in Washington, D.C. There has been some suggestion by his local office staff that he might have it inserted in the Congressional Record and submitted to The Stars & Stripes.

Because of this, you might choose not to use it. But I would be honored to see it in my hometown paper. I appreciate the way you have honored me in the past, and I shall continue to test your endurance from time to time.

This poem was written while in a somber mood, as I watched a protest march on TV. The spectacles, about twenty years of age, informed us that, quote: "War never solved anything!"

And I wondered how she thought her freedom to say that, or the right to carry those idiotic signs, came about! From there, like Mrs. Zi Graves, my pen took over and this is what I wrote. Whether or not you use it, I hope you enjoy and agree with the sentiments expressed.

Sincerely, Christine Harper McKinney West Chester, Ohio 43069

A Tribute To Our Fighting Men By: Christine Harper McKinney

Looking back through history -- as Americans often do -- We say a prayer of gratitude and shed a tear or two For those who passed this way before and blazed a rugged trail, Who gave to us a land of hope where freedom could prevail. They suffered endless heartache to make their dream come true. And yet, with every sacrifice, determination grew!

With deep, abiding faith in God -- a faith that never wavered -- Their obstacles were overcome and blessings humbly savored. Each day brought added burdens to test their dedication, But this just meant an extra prayer and a bit more meditation -- Each stumbling block a stepping stone that brought them near and nearer That precious goal of freedom as it grew ever dearer!

And so we look back through the years to the dawning of our nation. And find that words cannot express the deep, heartfelt sentiment... The lump that comes each time we see Old Glory waving high, Or hear our National anthem, or a soldier passes by. Our brave young men in uniform who serve the cause today Are carrying on tradition in the same American way. For the men who gave us freedom held this gift in high esteem. Thank God, our nation still has men who share this precious dream! Down through the ages we've been blessed, each time that - duty called!

Today is no exception and we thank them, one and all! WE LOVE YOU, GUYS!!! (More Letters Pg. A-3)

The old joke around Frankfort, used to be that while our state legislature meets for 60 days every two years, the electorate would be better off if the state's lawmakers met for two days every 60 years.

After seeing the result of yet another wasteful and unproductive special session, this taxpayer is inclined to agree.

Governor Wilkinson obviously likes to throw his executive power around and he must like having other lawmakers in Frankfort, because nothing constructive has really come from the latest special session, except for the fact that it cost the taxpayer almost $40,000 a day to try and accomplish things they should have been accomplished during their regular session last year.

So far I have seen nothing come out of the special session that could not have waited until the regular session.

Dear Editor,
Never before has progress been so great that the public can hear a play by play description of the war, over and above the censorship. There are good reasons for that too.

This brings me to wonder why so many people are objecting to the war. Don't they realize that our great leaders don't want the death and destruction and every thing else that goes with war. When satanic spirits rise up to challenge the very existence of humanity. If we should allow the President of Iraq to get a toe hold, win the war, he might even wipe allies off of the earth with one bomb, set up a kingdom in the middle of the United States.

After what I saw that he did to some captive allied fighters there is no limit to the evils he is capable of doing.

The UN and USA and allies all know that we would have such a catastrophic life of suffering unlimited. If we were too weak to fight the Iraqi people and his friends would have a party. We all love our precious young sons as tragic as it is, how do we know what would happen to them, if we did not fight at all?

Down with Saddam Hussein. Please and quickly.

Dear Editor,
I am Joan Shelton, the daughter of Col. Charles E. Shelton who is the only official Prisoner of war (POW) listed alive in Southeast Asia by the United States government. I recently moved back to Kentucky, the state in which my daddy was born and raised, only to find in grave disappointment at the Vietnam Veterans Memorial of Kentucky in Frankfort, there is a very important part of any U.S. war memorial missing—a Prisoner of War Flag.

There are still 2,296 Americans unaccounted for in Southeast Asia, and unfortunately, 8 POWs and 27 Missing-in-Action (MIA) and the Persian Gulf. What does it take and how

As I read Dateline: Washington, Report to Kentucky, whatever Mitch calls his column, I wonder if these politicians really believe that Americans buy their bull.

Senator Wendell Ford writes about an incredibly costly epidemic of fraud, waste and mismanagement in bureaucracies across our nation's Capitol.

What Ford, Rogers and other veteran officials don't tell you is that they have been a part of the mismanagement process for several years.

Sure, the President presents a budget, but as we saw last year and as Harold Rogers admits it is Congress, not the Administration, that decides how much money will be spent and where that money will be used.

If you work in the U.S., pay taxes, own a home and so on, the massive federal deficit that faces our country affects us all. And it has to go to stop some where, somehow.

But the only way we will ever get a handle on the federal deficit is to have a political revolt or reform.

Ky. is going through education reform at this time, so why not some political reform.

It is the same old same old. Most of our politicians telling you that they are going to fight for your rights and for programs in your area that will spur growth, when in all actuality they don't give two hoots about you or your area, just your vote, so they can stay in office.

Neither Report to Kentucky or Dateline: Washington said anything about the pay increase that Senators and Congressmen received this year.

Folks like Harold Rogers make $125,000 and our Senators make $101,000. Honestly, other than the fact that our Republican delegation voted against a pay increase and then took it without hesitation, the increase doesn't bother me.

What does bother me, is the fact that each Senator and Congressman has a budget of millions of dollars a year.

Each one, use those dollars to pay staffs to help them stay in office. They may not do it legally, some do, but it is done.

Our deficit has reached the trillions, and we could probably only save a billion or so by cutting Congressional and Senate budgets, but it would be a start.

Rise and Shine Homemakers

By: Kathy McCauley

Where does our water come from in Rockcastle County? There are approximately 3,729 households on Rockcastle's water system. Remaining 22 percent of 4,729 households are wells, cisterns and springs according to the health department. Water samples taken from only eight wells in 12 years have not been contaminated, all springs tested were contaminated.

These and many other facts were discussed during the lesson of the Rise and Shine Homemakers Club last Tuesday. The meeting was hosted at the home of Alta Bullock, co-hosted by Bea Hensley.

We had eight members present with the addition of one new member. We were glad to welcome Mrs. Ada Riddle.

We would like to welcome you to join us for our next meeting to be held March 12 at 10 a.m. at the home of Bessie St. Clair.

If used properly, growth implants increase profits in beef cattle

By: Tom Mills
County Extension Agent
for Agriculture

Implants that promote growth in beef calves are among the best tools cattlemen can use to increase profits, but only if they are used properly. The use of implants can significantly increase growth in calves. However, their use in very young heifer calves that will be kept for breeding may not be wise, according to Dave Patterson, an Extension animal scientist who specializes in reproduction at the University of Kentucky.

Research indicates that implanting heifer calves at birth inhibits subsequent development of the female reproductive tract which will ultimately lead to decreased fertility rates in those heifers.

Producers interested in using implants on heifers used for replacement should be aware of which implants are specifically approved and the time period during which implanting is recommended. Based on a review of reports recently published in Florida, Patterson recommends that producers not implant heifer calves before they are two months old, especially if there is a chance they will be kept as replacement stock. However, implanting heifer calves that will not be used for breeding purposes is still a management procedure that will pay big dividends. He suggested implanting such calves at least once before weaning, which will result in increased weights at weaning.

Further beef production information will be discussed at the annual beef producer meetings get underway Thursday, Feb. 21 at 7 p.m. in the Agriculture Service Center basement. Dr. Carla Nichols will discuss beef production records through CHAPS. On Thursday, Feb. 28 Dr.

Brock, Dee Bussell, Glenn Burton, Everett Albright, Stanley Payne, Mac Harmon, Chief David Ott, Nelson Graves, Danny McClure, Denver Burton, Tim Albright, Jeff Albright, Johnny Renge and Larry Albright.

David Patterson and John Wilson will discuss replacement heifer development, use of MGA and replacement heifer sales. On Thursday, March 7, the Rockcastle Vet. Clinic will sponsor the Annual Beef Association band with programs on new cattle wormers and respiratory diseases. For more information, contact the County Extension Office.

Blue Mold

No two words strike fear in the hearts of burley tobacco growers more than "blue mold." Burley growers across much of Kentucky had much to fear during the summers of 1989 and 1990.

"Blue mold is very unpredictable and highly dependent upon certain weather conditions at key stages of develop," said Bill Nesmith, an Extension plant pathologist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. "A combination of weather favoring blue mold development and reduced preventive controls resulted in the most threatening blue mold outbreaks the past two summers since the early 1980s."

"Above normal rainfall and below normal temperatures during much of the 1989 and 1990 summers fostered blue mold outbreaks in northern, central and eastern Kentucky. A drier weather pattern deterred significant disease development in southern, south central and western Kentucky."

Statewide losses at the farm were estimated at $1.5 million in 1989 and $7.2 million in 1990, according to Nesmith.

Burley growers can learn some valuable lessons from the blue mold outbreaks in 1989 and 1990, he said.

One lesson is that layby applications of Ridomil are needed for full season control of blue mold under prolonged wet weather.

"When blue mold developed in the Bluegrass Region in 1990, growers reacted quickly and used layby applications of Ridomil to protect their crops," Nesmith said. "Although the outbreak generated a large mass of spores, it did not cause extensive crop damage in the region."

Another lesson is that spores produced in one area of the state can become a serious threat to other areas.

In 1990, a large mass of spores produced in the Bluegrass Region moved eastward, causing considerable crop damage on some eastern Kentucky farms. Preventive applications of Ridomil could have afforded excellent crop protection.

"Regardless of weather conditions," Nesmith said, "burley growers can lessen crop damage by using preventive controls before an outbreak occurs and understanding how the disease works and its effect on their management decisions."

Preplant applications of Ridomil are highly effective deterrents to early and mid-season blue mold outbreaks, according to Nesmith.

"If you have an outbreak, don't panic and harvest too early," he added. "In most cases, blue mold is not a full-season disease. Instead, it develops most intensely from mid-season to topping and tends to stop quickly after topping, even when weather conditions are favorable for development."

Contact your county Extension office for more information on blue mold and other tobacco diseases.

The report consists of three parts and evaluates the direct timber program income and costs, benefits to wildlife and recreation, and benefits to local economies as well as future investments.

According to Daniel Boone National Forest Supervisor Richard H. Wengert, "The greatest immediate benefits are found in local communities where the timber program provided the equivalent of about 479 year-round jobs which resulted in $10,500,000 of income. Counties with National Forest lands received about $352,041 in payments directly from timber sale receipts. These funds are for education and roads."

Wengert also stressed that over 29.7 million board feet of timber was harvested, providing products which ranged from high quality veneer for furniture and musical instruments to framing materials for homes and firewood for heating.

From My Window

By: Spencer Bengé

I regret to say that I wasn't able to attend the rally held in support of our troops in the Middle East at the Rockcastle County High School this past Sunday. It would seem that previous engagements forced me to miss a good thing. A very good thing.

Nevertheless, my thoughts were there just as I think many others' thoughts, who were not able to attend, were too.

My wife Paige and I returned home Sunday night and were able to catch a glimpse of the rally on television during the 11 o'clock news. A tingling feeling, the kind I get when I hear the National Anthem, swept through my body as I watched the camera pan around the gymnasium showing the many supporters in attendance.

I wondered just how many people showed up at the function and quickly came to the realization that it didn't matter. What did matter was the thought, the time these people took out of their busy schedules to organize such an event and more importantly, the cause.

-To me, although I'm not in the Middle East, there would be no greater feeling than to know the country and people I defend and support are in turn, supporting me.

It's like everything else in life. As long as you have the support and love from the ones you care the most about, the ability to accomplish and overcome certain situations are far more greater than if you tackled them alone.

I think the men and women in the Middle East have known for quite some time now that the struggles and battles that they are tasked with are not faced alone. I believe they know deep down that with every step they take, the majority of the American people goes with them.

It should be that way. And aside from the select few, I believe we are accomplishing it and it gives me great pleasure to be able to say that.

What doesn't give me great pleasure is the fact of knowing that there are still a select few. A select few that continues to rebel against the American efforts in the Middle East.

Sure, I believe in our freedom of speech and opinion but I also believe there should be a limit to the extremity we can take them.

I think if someone is against the war, that is their right. If they want to march along the sidewalk with their picket sign, well that is their right also. But to burn the American flag in a protest is a different story.

The American flag stands for freedom. It is a symbol representing the people of the United States and everything we stand for. Its our way of life.

It seems to me that anyone who burns the flag is against what the flag and America stand for and, to me, they are in need of a one way ticket to anywhere besides the United States.

Don't get me wrong, I'm not saying that people can't disagree with some of the things our government does, nobody is perfect. But burning the one thing our troops hold dear to them in the Middle East is definitely not the solution. I think there are better ways to voice an opinion.

I just thank God that He has blessed us with such brave men and women and a majority of people in the United States that will hold our Star Spangled Banner high and say "God bless America and our troops, always."

Drive carefully - Watch our children!

BACK TALK

By Dr. Stacy K. Edwards, D.C.

Exercise is important in both the prevention of and recovery from back injuries. General exercise, such as walking, is good for your overall health and for your back as well. Special exercises to strengthen the muscles and ligaments of your back and abdomen can help you recover from a back injury. If exercises are carried out faithfully, they can keep your back problems from reoccurring.

However, you must obtain the advice from your Doctor of Chiropractic or other health care provider before beginning any exercise program.

Everyone's case is different, but your Chiropractor can tell you what exercises would be appropriate for you. If you are having back problems or are out of shape, you may be making your problem worse, not better. If you are doing the wrong exercises, you could be putting too much stress on the tender muscles and ligaments you are trying to strengthen.

Remember the days when you were feeling run down and tired? Those were probably the days you needed exercise the most.

Bowman is "Woman of the Year" at Sue Bennett

By S. Dwane House
The Submecco

"She not only works with her team, but also with the college as a whole," says Gwen Stivers, chair of the physical education department about Coach Debbie Bowman, the Woman of the Year for 1990 at Sue Bennett College.

Bowman, 25, was selected from among ten nominees. A panel of ten students chose Bowman after polling about 40 students, instructors and administrators at Sue Bennett.

Bowman has been the women's head basketball coach for two years. She was assistant coach to the Lady Dragons for one year.

Originally from Mt. Vernon, Bowman was a star player for Rockcastle County. She then played for Sue Bennett the two years before transferring to Berea College. Bowman completed a degree in physical education in 1987. She is working at Eastern Kentucky University, enrolled on her Master's degree in health education.

"Coach Bowman is a great role model for me," says sophomore Susan Felner, who has played under Bowman for two years.

Tammy Sizemore, who is the manager for the Lady Dragons and Bowman's work-study aide, says the coach "teaches us the difference between right and wrong, and she is always there when we need her, no matter what. Coach knows when the girls need authority and when they need caring for. She's a friend as well as a leader."

Stivers believes that Bowman is a good asset to Sue Bennett College. "She has lots of young ideas. She is wonderful with the players, yet authoritative in a quiet, kind way. She gets her point across without yelling, and she involves with her players not only in sports, but academically. I hope she stays here a long time."

Bowman treats all of her players equally, according to freshman Missie Burns, a freshman player. "She's not biased toward anyone. With her, everyone gets an equal chance. She's like a big sister, and we respect her very much."

Bowman was nominated not only for her "excellent performance as a coach and as a teacher," but also as a "good example to her players and all of her students."

Dawn Degen, a sophomore Lady Dragon, agrees. "She has had great influence on me. She gives great advice, but still lets you make your own decision. There should be more people here like her."

"Debbie is top-notch," says Athletic Director Owen Barker. "She is great to work with and wholly dedicated to the concept of education and sports. She is dedicated, has wonderful rapport and gives great guidance on and off of the court."

Bowman's two goals for the year were to beat Sullivan College, one of SBC's biggest competitors, and reach the finals in the regional tournaments.

The Lady Dragons topped power rankings in January 26. Bowman believes this team also has the ability and determination to go to the finals of the regional tournament.

There is a game Saturday at 6 p.m. at Sue Bennett against Sullivan. If Ms. Bowman wins this game she will win her conference.

Legislative Update

By: State Rep. Danny Ford

I reported last week that the two big issues of the special session, now a month old, were going to come to the floor this week. On schedule, the House acted on the controversial DUI and solid waste bill.

Because the solid waste bill was drastically altered after it came over from the Senate and will surely face changes in a House-Senate conference, I will delay my discussion of its provisions until next week when I should be able to give you a thorough account. This week, I would like to elaborate on House Bill 11, the drunken driving bill, as it passed the House on Tuesday.

The controversy over the original version of House Bill 11 centered around a provision known as "administrative per se." This legal term means an operator's license could be taken from a driver before he was proven guilty in a court of law. When the bill was considered this week, that section of the original bill had been deleted.

As passed by the House, HB 11 establishes the following schedule of fines, revocation and imprisonment: First Offense: $200-$500 fine, 48 hours - 30 days in county jail, or both. License to be revoked for 90 days.

Second Offense: $350-$1,000 fine, 7 days - 6 months imprisonment, and community labor of 10 days to 6 months. License to be revoked for 12 months.

Third Offense: $500 - $1,000 fine, 1-12 months imprisonment, and 10 days to 12 months community labor.

Fourth Offense: Class D Felony. (1-5 years imprisonment)

Under the bill, drivers arrested for violation of the DUI laws must be informed that if they refuse to take a breathalyzer test they may lose their license for 6 months and that if they take the test and have a blood alcohol content of .10%, they may lose their license for 90 days. If a driver refuses after the warning, they will lose their license for six months for the first offense, 18 months for the second offense, three years for the third, and five years for the fourth.

The bill also contains an exemption in the license revocation in cases of necessity. A "hardship license" may be granted by the Transportation Cabinet for the last 60 days of the initial 90 day suspension if losing the license will hinder the driver's ability to continue employment, attend school, obtain medical care, or receive court-ordered counseling or substance abuse treatment.

Next week I will have more thorough information on the final form of this bill as well as the final status of the solid waste bill. If we wrap things up next week as expected, I will give you a detailed summary of the bills as well as the other issues that passed during this special session.

Until that time, be sure to share your thoughts and concerns with me regarding any legislative matter of importance to you by calling 1-800-372-7181. I look forward to hearing from you and to reporting back next week.

What is a Heart Attack?

A heart attack occurs when the blood supply to part of the heart muscle is severely reduced or stopped by an obstruction in one of the coronary arteries. As a result, the heart muscle is damaged and death can be eminent.

But during a heart attack, the body usually sends out warning signals that your heart is starving for oxygen. "An uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest for more than two minutes is one signal," says Bill Harris, M.D., president of the American Heart Association, Kentucky Affiliate.

"Chest pain that spreads to your shoulders, neck or arms is another. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur. Sometimes the signals may subside, only to return later."

Learn to recognize these signals and take fast action. Remember that each year more than 300,000 Americans die from heart attacks before reaching the hospital. So don't ignore the warning signals. Act immediately.

February is American Heart Month, so the AHA is stressing awareness through various community activities. Volunteers across the country are also canvassing their neighborhoods to collect donations to support heart research and education programs.

The American Heart Association recommends that if you are having chest discomfort lasting for two minutes or more, call the emergency rescue service. If you can get to a hospital faster by car, have someone drive you. Find out which hospitals in your area offer 24-hour emergency cardiac care. Select in advance the facility nearest your home and office and tell your family and friends so they will know what to do.

"Keep a list of emergency numbers next to your telephone and in a prominent place in your pocket, wallet or purse," Harris adds.

If you are with someone who is experiencing the warning signals that last for two minutes or longer, insist on taking prompt action. Expect the person to deny the possibility of anything as serious as a heart attack. Call the emergency rescue service, or get to the nearest hospital emergency room with 24-hour cardiac care. Give mouth-to-mouth breathing and chest compression (CPR) if it is necessary and if you are properly trained.

For more information, contact your local American Heart Association.

The American Heart Association is the nation's largest voluntary health organization dedicated to the reduction of disability and death from heart and blood vessel diseases, which annually kill almost one million Americans. Last year the AHA spent more than $172 million for research support and public and professional education and community programs.

The ambitious series chronicles the years immediately preceding India's independence from Great Britain. "The depths of passion are plumbed, the terrible secrets of apparently upright men are revealed.... it all makes for heady stuff," said one critic.

This "headly stuff" is apparently the stuff of which winning series are made. "The Jewel in the Crown" won Emmys for Outstanding Limited Series and Best International drama and received 15 BFTA nominations, the U.K.'s combination Oscar and Emmy.

The clash between traditionalism and modernism occurs on a more personal level in his first episode as the young English girl, Daphne Manners, begins "crossing the river" of traditional social decorum by developing a friendship with Indian academic Hari Kumar. Kumar's adversary, Ronald Merrick, the local police superintendent, is both intimidated by Kumar's superior education and breeding and outraged by his close relationship with Manners, whom Merrick hopes to marry. The growing animosity between the two men parallels the growing uneasiness between India and Britain.

"Timber Sales"

The Daniel Boone National Forest spent more than it returned in timber sale revenue in February.

Timber sales accounted for 20 percent of the value of many benefits to the wildlife and recreation program areas derived from the timber sale program. The cost of these programs could not be afforded if it were not for our timber sales program," according to Wengert.

Some benefits that are not included are in the areas of inventorying and protecting Threatened and Endangered plants and animals, as well as in the value of locating and protecting our cave resources. These beneficial programs are funded by the timber sale program," Wengert continued.

Supervisor Wengert stressed that "caring for the land and serving people" means that the forest is managed as an ecosystem with many resources that many people benefit from in various ways.

"The activities in the timber sale program are fully an investment in the future of our Forest here in Kentucky," Wengert stated. "Not only do we have the potential to grow some of the finest oak, hickory, poplar and pine in the country, but we also are providing habitat lost in our area due to the impact of past logging practices and uncontrolled wildlife prior to the Daniel Boone National Forest's existence."

The Daniel Boone National Forest produces this report annually for management analysis and to keep the public informed about the benefit and costs of the timber sale program. A full report is available to the public at the Forest Supervisor's Office, 100 Vaught Road, Winchester, KY 40391, (606) 745-3100.

an affectionate name. The closer to mother and father, the better.

6. Make your own decisions regarding finances, children, employment, etc. It is okay to ask for counsel from parents and in-laws, but make sure you make your own decision in consultation with your spouse or prospective spouse.

7. When corresponding or responding to your prospective or current mother and father-in-law, do so as a unit. Both should be addressed in letters and visits.

8. Remember that financial aid received from in-laws is often more than gift of money. Make sure you know what strings, if any, are attached to the money and abide by those expectations or decline the financial aid.

9. Look for and find some new ways to learn to like and appreciate your mother and father-in-law. You won't change them, so learn to like them.

10. Refrain from telling mythical mother-in-law jokes. When making references to your mother or father-in-law, do so in a positive way.

11. Pay public and private in-laws the same respect and appropriate making sure you are sincere in giving that tribute.

12. Make your mother and father-in-law into grandparents after a few years of marriage.

13. Recognize that a mother or father-in-law changes very slowly. Fault finding seldom, if ever, speeds the process.

In-laws need not be a major source of difficulty if concerned thought and planning go into making and maintaining the relationship. The potential is there for conflict, yet the potential is also there for a very dynamic, warm, satisfying relationship.

Poet's Corner

In Memory of Our Pastor Willie Randall

By: Mrs. Eric Jacob

He was one who stood by the door
with a smile,
To light his people on their way.
Clouds seemed to lift and the sun came in,
To make a brighter day.
He stood like a mighty tree,
To cast a cooling shade,
He was there to encourage everyone,
When progress had been made.
He was a brook that never ceased to flow,
And refreshing comfort give when we were feeling low.
He was one to give and not to take and never fret at all;
One to lift our spirits up that we should never fall.
He was one to seek out the lost,
And bring the people in.
All this he was, and more;
A true and trusted friend.

(From Lincoln Co. Newsletter 3/16/66.)

In loving acknowledgment of Bro. and Mrs. Willie Randall, and for their dedicated lives, which have made such a difference in all who were privileged to know them. Daddy went to be with Jesus Feb. 4, 1966.
Mom made her journey Feb. 25, 1968.
Lovingly and Respectfully submitted by their daughter
Doris Randall Wright

Dear Editor,
To show my pride in America and my thanksgiving to God for allowing me to be an American, I wrote the following poems. You may print them

If you wish I pray that God will bless each one of our troops.

American Support

By: Nancy Isaacs

I support our troops and the coalition
An example of action by the United Nations
The Allies are joined in a fight against aggression;
The free world won't stand for hostile
suppression
I support our President, for he's taken a stand,
As do our military people in the Saudi land.
They were not drafted, they volunteered to go,
And I understand why they must fight this foe.

I support our country and our flag,
red, white and blue
My daddy supported them; he fought in World War II.
My husband is a veteran of the Vietnam war.
They appreciate America from shore to shore.

All six of my brothers have served in the military,
Four now are in the Army National Guard and wary.
Waiting for a call, they'll leave wives
and babies,
And perhaps join my brother-in-law
in Saudi Arabia.

So you see I was taught to feel love
and pride,
For all the soldiers who have fought and died.
To guarantee our freedom, safety,

and security, too,
That's why I support them, don't you?

The Persian Gulf War

By: Nancy Isaacs

We hear from the Persian Gulf, the sounds of war.
We hear them now much sooner than ever before.
Bombs exploding, patriot missiles
launching, families cry.
We get live reports while air raid sirens pierce the sky.

We see from the Persian Gulf the sights of war.
We're fascinated and frightened but we have to see more.
We see the planes, the tanks, and destruction
We even see a commander giving
Marines instructions.

We see from the Persian Gulf the faces of war
We meet individual troops by the score
We hear them talk, laugh, see a few shed a tear,
And then we meet many families,
faces full of fear

These are all as close as our television sets.
The details of this war, we'll never forget
Seeing our troops out in the desert sand
Fighting for the freedom of another small land.

So let's join together and all pray for peace,
That aggression by Hussein soon will cease.
That our fine young people won't die
in vain,
And Kuwait will be its own country
once again.

Deadline for Poet's Corner

My New Car

By: Ada Bullock
Somerset

I bought a new car
Which I thought was pretty neat
And of course I feel younger
Sitting in a bucket seat
I can't say it's comfortable
But at least I'll drive in style
And getting used to all the gadgets
Will also take awhile

On the radio I pushed a button
And almost went into shock
I'd turned on the two live crew
Instead of New Kids On The Block
The gadget to control your speed
I'm sure I'll never use
My speed is up and down
I could never drive in cruise

I guess I'm so old fashioned
New cars are not for me
I prefer the out of style
With their simplicity
So I'm going back to my style
And get an older make
So when I push a button
There will be no mistake

Judgement Day

By: Ada Bullock

May I render a message
Of a day that will come
When we'll face the judgement
For what we have done
We'll stand without council
As we plead our case
And the judge will be our master
We'll meet face to face
The books will be opened
Is your name written there?
If it isn't dear sinner
What a life of despair

There'll be weeping and wailing
As the lost journey through
And the master says depart
I never knew you
They'll be joined by old Satan
Whom they served here below
He'll say welcome home children

The Mount Vernon Signal, Thursday, February 21, 1991 P-A11

To my place we shall go
He'll be loosed for a season
With his people to dwell
On the great tribulation
And the torments of hell

They'll cry out for mercy
How sad it's too late
For they cannot enter
That heavenly gate
They chose to follow Satan
Now with him they will be
For they refused Jesus
And His tender plea
Oh listen dear sinner
Won't you kneel down and pray
Prepare to meet Jesus
On that judgement day

Okonite goes on strike by narrow vote

In a 136-130 vote, members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers rejected a proposed contract and went on strike Monday at The Okonite Co. cable plant in Richmond.

The strike affects 278 employees, including several from Rockcastle County.

"That has us a little bit stunned," Thomas M. Scanlon, vice president of employee relations at Okonite's headquarters in Ramsey, N.J., said Tuesday.

The same three-year contract was approved overwhelmingly at Okonite plants in New Brunswick, N.J., and Patterson, N.J., Scanlon said. Those plants are continuing production.

Larry Todd, president of Electrical Workers Local 2356 in Richmond, said union members rejected the contract because it included changes in the company's health insurance plan that would mean higher premiums.

In addition, Todd said the proposed pay raises were inadequate. Increases would average 3.5 percent a year for the first two years, and a bonus would be paid in the third year that would not affect pay scales, he said.

Tourism Commission to organize Feb. 28

An organizational meeting of the Rockcastle Tourism Commission will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. Feb. 28 in the Rockcastle Circuit Courtroom.

Among those who are expected to attend and discuss the commission and its goals include, Ken Harvey, executive director of the London, Laurel County Tourist Commission; Gib Gosser, of the Somerset/Paisiski Commission, and Jim Handy of London, who will discuss responsibilities of board members.

From the Kentucky Department of Travel Development will be Robin Phillips, matching funds coordinator, and benefits of membership in the Kentucky Tourism Federation, Melodie Doom, executive director.

Persons with comments and suggestions should telephone or see County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins, who will moderate the meeting.

Okonite's sales have been good for several years, and union members think the company can afford better wages and benefits, he said.

The local went on strike at noon Monday, and no contract talks have been scheduled, said Les Ruszkowski, personnel manager at the Richmond plant.

The last strike at the plant was in 1979.

Okonite produces insulated cable that is usually installed underground to carry high-voltage current for commercial and industrial purposes, Ruszkowski said.

Okonite is owned by its 1,400 employees through an employee stock ownership plan, Scanlon said.

The company's annual sales reportedly are $300 million.

considerable burden," Terry Morgan, a tobacco grower in Jessamine County, said about the bookkeeping for the withholding tax.

The bill that Rogers introduced last year was overshadowed by the budget deficit debate and was not considered.

This year, the legislation could face a similar fate as Congress focuses on events in the Persian Gulf.

"You can't get people's minds on anything except the war," Rogers said. "It will be tough to get through under the best of circumstances."

Farm Bureau waives premiums

The Kentucky Farm Bureau Insurance Companies have initiated a program which will waive one full six-month renewal premium for automobile insurance policyholders called to active military duty.

J. J. Miranda, Executive Vice President of Kentucky Farm Bureau Insurance Companies, said that when a renewal notice is received by a member of the military serving in Operation Desert Storm, that individual, or a family member can bring the statement to the local Kentucky Farm Bureau Insurance Office for a premium free six-month renewal of one automobile insurance policy.

Local agents will handle this as a personal service for their clients.

Miranda cautioned families against disregarding renewal statements on the assumption that the program is automatic. He stressed that the renewal notices, along with proof of military call-up, must be presented to local agents for processing. He said this is one way Kentucky Farm Bureau Insurance can show support for those Kentuckians called to active duty because of the Persian Gulf crisis.

Watkins indicted for attempting to kill officers

A Lincoln County man accused in the fatal shooting of a Stanford policeman was indicted yesterday for allegedly attempting to kill two other police officers in Whitley County following a high speed chase through four counties. The indictment returned by a Whitley County grand jury charged Thomas Wade Watkins, 32, with two counts of criminal intent to commit murder, according to Whitley Commonwealth's Attorney Allen Trimble. All of the charges stem from the same late-January incident. Watkins was charged in a Lincoln County indictment with capital murder in the shooting of Stanford policeman Gary Kidwell. Watkins allegedly shot Kidwell, 41, after the officer stopped him for a possible drunken-driving violation. After the shooting, police said, Watkins fled the scene, crashed his vehicle and took another car and its two occupants hostage releasing them in Rockcastle County. Williamsburg Police officers Lawrence Hodge and Charles Davis said Watkins fired at them before they wounded him.

Watkins is scheduled for arraignment Friday in Lincoln Circuit Court. No arraignment date has been set for the Whitley County charges, Trimble said.

Lady Rockets shine in Garrard game but lose by two, 61-59

By: Spencer Bengé
"It was one of our best games we've played all year," remarked Lady Rockets' Head Coach Christy Beaver on their two point loss to host Garrard County, 61-59, Monday night.

Garrard County's Head Coach Ken Burton agreed and added that the Lady Rockets were the best team that they had faced all year and appeared to be a lot better than their record of 7-15 indicated.

"True to nature, the Lady Rockets played an exceptional game both on offense and defense. "We came through when we needed it," said Beaver, "We put the ball in the basket, played some very good defense and just had a solid night of basketball as a whole."

The Lady Rockets never led in the first half but never trailed by more than three, thanks to some superb play by senior center April Burton and freshman guard Cindy McCauley. Burton and McCauley combined for 17 of the 21 points in the half to keep the Lady Rockets within two, 14-12, in the first quarter and three, 24-21, by intermission.

However, the one key aspect the Lady Rockets brought into the game that they have left out of so many others was passing. "We made some really good passes, some smart passes," Beaver said. Countless times the Lady Rockets' front court was able to kick the ball down in the paint and allow their inside game to work. The result, most of the time, was Burton, who led all scorers with 16 points, being on the receiving end for the easy bucket.

Another strong suit for the Lady Rockets was some nice play from sophomore guard Beth Amyx. Amyx's touch in the second half for 15 points (all scored in the half) pulled the Lady Rockets, who trailed 45-38 in the third quarter, from a 12 point deficit in the fourth quarter to a 59 all tie with only 24 seconds remaining in the game.

However, with Garrard in possession and the final seconds ticking away, the Lady Rockets refused to commit a foul. "I might have lost the game for us," Beaver said, "I didn't want to foul because I thought we could eventually steal the ball or force a turnover, we had been doing a good job of it all night," she added.

The final result was Garrard eventually scoring from underneath to post the final score of 61-59 with only eight seconds left in the game. The game concluded when the Lady Rockets missed a desperation shot from mid court.

Also in action this past week, the Lady Rockets lost to host McCreary Central, 43-26, last Thursday. The quarter scores were Lady Rockets 7-11-22-26 and McCreary 15-22-32-43.

The Lady Rockets will play their last regular season game Thursday when they take to the road and face Monticello. After the Monticello game the Lady Rockets will come back home to host the district tourney and take on the Jackson County Lady Generals Tuesday, February 26 at 6 p.m.

The outlook for the Lady Rockets in district play is positive. Beaver said if they can continue to play like they did against Garrard then their bid for a regional berth could very well be attained.

Scoring for the Lady Rockets in the Garrard game were: April Burton, 16; Beth Amyx, 15; Cindy McCauley, 14; Kristi Sargent, 7; Karla Bullock, 5 and Christy Coleman, 2.

Lady Rockets' scoring in the McCreary game were: Karla Bullock, 6; April Burton, Cindy McCauley and Kristi Sargent, all with 5; Beth Amyx, 3 and Jan Durham, 2.

JV Action

The Lady Rockets' junior varsity also fell victim to Garrard County Monday, 34-23.

Scoring for the Lady Rockets' JV were: Jan Durham, 8; Danetta Ford and Greta Burdette, 6 each and Christina Silmon, 3.

Injuries are taking their toll; Rockets' drop record to 8-15

There has been quite a bit of bad luck rolling around on the Rockets' side of the court lately, with injuries, and such, but this past week brought about just a tiny stroke of good luck, if you can call it that.

Although the Rockets lost to host Monticello last Tuesday night, 68-48, and to host Knox Central last Friday night, 68-53, they did not, however, have any players suffer an injury this past week. As you may know, the Rockets have had a total of four players sustain an injury, two of those in the previous two weeks.

Another bit of good luck is the fact that senior center David Eaton, Jr. is back in the line-up after suffering from a thought-to-be broken foot two weeks ago.

Still, the injuries are lingering on, both physically and mentally. Injuries that are proven evidences the Rockets have undergone a five game losing streak in the past three weeks to drop their season record to 8-15.

Another piece of evidence was Monticello's game last week. Rockets' assistant coach Jerry Reynolds called it "probably the worst shooting game this year."

For one, the Rockets didn't have one player in double digits. They had a group of players score (nine) but failed to have a leader to lead the club through the game.

The result was Monticello taking a 20-8 first quarter lead, 34-24 half time lead, 50-34 third quarter lead and finally a 68-48 win.

The Rockets also received no sympathy when they took to the floor last Friday against Knox Central. And as in the previous game, the Rockets never led through the duration although they only trailed by one in the first period, 18-17.

Senior guard David Sargent led the Rockets' attack with 12 points and was followed by junior forward Micah Parkerson's 10 but, aside from the first period, never really was in the ball game.

And similar to the Monticello game, the Rockets had 10 players reach the scoring column, however it wasn't enough as Knox Central stretched their lead to 32-23 at the half.

Central only widened the margin in the second half by taking a 45-32 lead in the third period and eventually turned the lights out on the Rockets with a decisive, 68-53, win.

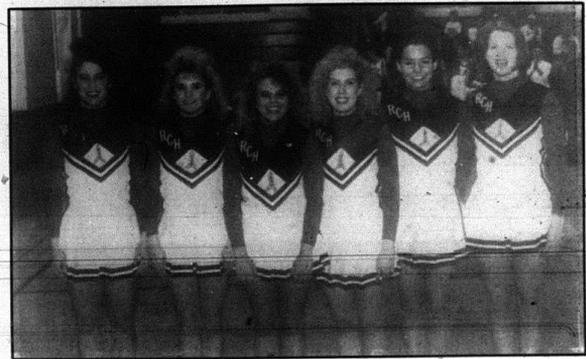

The Rockets will play their final regular season game at Bracken County Friday and then will host the top ranked Clay County Tigers in district play on Tuesday, February 26 at 8 p.m.

Scoring for the Rockets against Monticello were: David Sargent, 8; Tim Cottrell and Jason Fletcher, 7

Cont. to B-3

Five senior members of the Rockcastle County High School Rockets' basketball team were honored in a ceremony before their last home game against Knox Central last Friday night. Receiving plaques for their accomplishments were statistician Shawna Albright, forward Billy Todd, guard David Sargent, center David Eaton Jr., and guard Tim Cottrell.

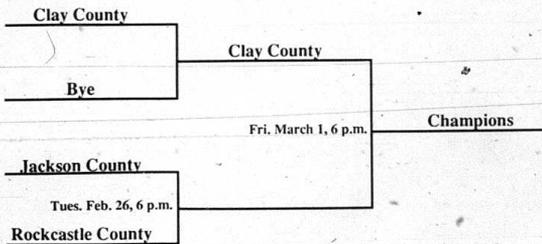

The senior members of the Rockcastle County High School cheerleaders were also honored during the ceremony before the last home game at RCHS last Friday night. They were Teresa Burdette, Michelle Hamm, April Kendrick, Jennifer Noe, Cindy Gregory and Dawn Lewis.
