

Quilt Homemakers

By: Millie Eaton

The Quilt Homemakers have been very active. We had our food sales at the Ford farm machinery sale and did very well. It always surprises us to see men eating chili dogs at 10 a.m. in the morning. This year the weather was pretty so we didn't have to wear coats and gloves. Our last meeting was held at the home of Carolyn Brown and members brought items that they had made. Each one had a story in front and anytime you have something that is hand made it is beautiful. Quilt making is a dying art and very few people still have the talent to do this. Basket making is another project that is hard to do and takes good hands and a lot of skill. The last months of winter are always depressing and we have had more than our share of rain, but it seems that spring has sprung and with it the work of homemakers. Our club is planning a spring cleaning at the Quail Park in the month of April. If you are interested in having an event at the park you can contact Norcetta Thompson or Virginia Hensel to see what dates are open. There is no charge for use of the park but donations are appreciated.

"WATKINS TRIAL"

found in local newspapers have generally been one-sided in that they told about information gathered-by police.

In addition, Halstead said, several of the articles mentioned the high regard with which the slain officer was held in the community.

Given the publicity and Kidwell's wide range of friends, Halstead said it would be impossible for Watkins to receive a fair trial in Lincoln County.

Halstead also asked Circuit Judge Robert Jackson to take himself out of the case because of his previous career as a police officer.

The attorney noted that Jackson was a Lexington police officer for 12 years before going to law school and may still feel some kinship toward police officers in general.

Jackson's comments in denying bail for Watkins also are reasons that the judge should step aside, Halstead said in his request.

In turning down Watkins' request for reasonable bail, Jackson heard some of the evidence that will be presented in the case, including a hint that a part of the defense will be that Watkins was being persecuted by the police.

Jackson said that even if the assertion is true that Watkins was being persecuted, it still didn't justify shooting Kidwell.

Lockridge and Halscad are to report back to Jackson on April 26 if they can agree on a site for the trial. If the site is outside Jackson's district, which includes Lincoln, Garrard and Jessamine counties, it will automatically be heard by another judge. If the trial is moved merely to another county in Jackson's district, further arguments will be heard on the request that the judge step down for this case.

Once the location of the trial is decided, a trial date can be set.

Thank You

Sgt. Kenneth E. Sowder, Jr. wants to say thanks for everyone's prayers and the letters and packages he received while in Saudi Arabia. Sgt. Sowder returned home to Dusseldorf, Germany April 5 for a few weeks, visiting his wife and children there. He will return to his permanent base in Spangdahlem, Germany. In the photo, Sowder is shown with his Christmas tree while in Saudi Arabia. His mom and dad also say thanks and thank God he came home safe.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tip Reppert recently were Gary Reppert of Mt. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Saylor of Berea, Eugene Alexander and grandson Cody Alexander and Hubert Chastain.

Eugene and Hallie Alexander visited Mrs. Lula Alexander of Macedonia Sunday April 14th. Thank the Lord she is home from the hospital and we hope and pray she continues to get better.

Please remember church and Sunday School. And I do hope you all will be good to children. They need our love and discipline and most of all to be brought up in the House of the Lord. God bless you all.

"It was a dark and stormy night..."

Telling scary stories by the campfire is half the fun of camping trips. Sitting in the dark because of a power outage isn't.

Summer storms can damage power lines and cause some customers to lose power. Here are some items to have handy so a power outage doesn't become a scary story:

- candles and flashlights (and, don't forget the batteries).
- a supply of canned and prepared foods that don't require cooking.
- a battery operated radio (and, don't forget the batteries).
- containers for storing water.

Make sure you keep your refrigerator and freezer doors closed as much as possible. This will keep your food fresher longer.

When the power comes back on, don't turn everything on at once. Gradually turn on those appliances that are most necessary.

Tiger Pause

This is National Secretaries' Week and we wish to extend appreciation to our secretary, Mrs. Carol Riddle. Mrs. Riddle has been an employee of the school system for over twenty years. She is the wife of Bill Riddle, a retired teacher and coach. They have three children and four grandchildren. Mrs. Carol says that "being around the children" is the favorite part of her job. Thanks, Mrs. Carol, for your patience and help.

Ms. Linda Cummins and fourth graders were ecstatic, Thursday, when their soldier, Steve Fournier, arrived unexpectedly at their classroom door. PFC Fournier, from New Hampshire, corresponded with the students while stationed in the Persian Gulf. Steve spent the day with the students, answering their questions and sharing his experiences.

Ms. Lisa Johnson's 7th class determined some clever inventions ranging from a cyclops magnifier to an interplanetary land rover. Michael Todd contrived a cloth diaper with velcro fasteners that allows expansions as the infant grows. Sixth grader, Kesha McClure, won champion in the 4-H Demonstration at LES, Tues. April 16, with "How to use Picture This". Kesha is in Mrs. Morgan's room and is the daughter of Ralph and JoAnn McClure. Kesha also received word Cont. to B-7

Teen Center Perspectives

By: Ginny Gilpatrick

Days are getting warmer and longer, school is drawing to a close, and teens are geared for vacation. Adjustment in the Teen Center calendar for the summer months needs to be made. Through the last week in May, only one minor change: Thursday afternoons, teens will be transported to the CAP Rec Center in Renfro Valley for outdoor sports. This will replace karate.

The summer program, beginning June 10, will be entirely different. It will include:

- preparation and performance of the major musical production, "Joseph and His Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat" (watch for auditions)
- swimming three times a week, including beginning and advanced instruction, free swim, and water sports.
- weekly day-trips to recreation areas.

- 4-H sewing instruction and projects
- open recreation times to accommodate vacation schedules

New participants are always welcome in Teen Center programs.

Two special events are happening this weekend. Saturday night there will be a dance for senior highs from 8 to 10:30. Garrard Teen Center has been invited and will probably bring some rap tapes for a little variety.

Admission is 50 cents. On Sunday, the Teen Center Choir has been invited to sing at the First Christian Church. The youth fellowship is hosting the singers at a lunch following the morning assembly. Interested members of the community are encouraged to attend the 11 a.m. assembly to hear the beautiful sound of the choir, under the direction of Miss Theresa Renner. They will perform in Millis, Massachusetts next month.

Week's Schedule

- Thursday, April 25 - 3:00 - 5:00 - Recreation
- 4:30 - Leave for Rec Center
- 5:00 - Trip group (practice at First Christian)
- 6:00 - Teen Challenge
- 7:00 - Devotions
- Friday, April 26 - 3:00 - 5:30 - Recreation/Work on Annual
- 7:00 - 9:00 - Junior High Night
- Saturday, April 17 - 12:00 - 4:00 - Decorate for dance or cleanup at L. Linville
- 8:00 - 10:30 - Dance (50 cents)
- Monday, April 29 - 3:00 - 5:30 - Writers and Artists
- Tuesday, April 30 - 5:00 - 5:30 - Recreation
- 4:15 - Teen Council
- 5:30 - Karate or sexuality group
- 7:30 - AA, Alanon, Teens of alcoholics (separate)
- Wednesday, May 1 - 3:00 - 5:00 - Recreation
- 5:30 - Movie or work on wishing well for Respite care party

DONATE $10.00 OR MORE TO HELP FIGHT CYSTIC FIBROSIS AND WE'LL INSTALL YOUR CHOICE OF CABLE TV SERVICES ABSOLUTELY FREE!

During April, National Cable Month, Falcon Cable TV will donate your installation charge — a minimum contribution of $10 — to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. When you give to cystic fibrosis, Falcon Cable TV will give to you. For each new premium service you add, we'll give you the second month of that service free. For each new cable customer, we'll give you the second month of basic cable free.

Your contribution will help thousands of children

Cystic fibrosis is the #1 genetic killer of children and young adults in the United States. Through a buildup of thick, sticky mucus, cystic fibrosis slowly and painfully suffocates the lungs and other major organs. Every minute of every day, this brutal killer continues to claim the lives of innocent children.

A series of medical breakthroughs are helping to make the dream of a cure a reality for the 30,000 children who suffer from cystic fibrosis. In 1989, scientists discovered the gene which causes cystic fibrosis.

When you subscribe to Falcon Cable TV during April, your donation will ensure that this life-saving work continues.

MT. VERNON MESSAGE

AT M.V.E.S. we have approximately 96 kindergarten students and two teachers. Our students attend for half a day each day. We have morning students and afternoon students. Our teachers are Mrs. Alexander and Ms. Parkinson.

Mrs. Irene Alexander graduated from E.K.U. She has been teaching for 14 years. She likes M.V.E.S. because she enjoys working with the teachers and students.

Ms. Shelly Parkinson has taught for two and half years. She also graduated from E.K.U. Ms. Parkinson likes teaching because she never has a chance to be bored. Here it or not, she likes to grade papers!!!

Our P.E. teachers at M.V.E.S. are Mr. Judy Bullock and Charles Carter. Together, they have P.E. classes each day for 30 minutes for all of our 800+ students.

Mr. Carter attended E.K.U. and earned B.S., M.A. and Rank 1 degrees. He was interested in other lines of work. He enjoys teaching gym to his students. Mr. Carter goes along well with his students. He tries to be firm, but flexible. If Mr. Carter could change anything about teaching it would be, "That all students enjoy success in school." His main goal in life is to try to be a good person and provide a happy life for his daughter.

Written by Chris Kirby and Heather Deckard.

Kim Doan and Sabrina Mahafey interviewed Miss Bullock. We asked her how many years she had taught P.E. she said, "16 years." She taught math three years at Roundstone Elementary. Then we asked her why she enjoyed teaching P.E. she said she likes kids of all ages and she likes sports. The next question was, "What don't you like about teaching?" She said, "Not many dislikes this year. Not being able to go outside as one thing I miss being able to do."

This week at Mt. Vernon Elementary School is testing week. On Tuesday through Thursday the students will be taking their CTBS test. The teachers are encouraging students to go to bed early and eat a good breakfast. If they do that it will help them to do better on the test. Students do your best.

By: Ann Owens

On May 17, 1991 our seventh grade students are going to Sterns, Kentucky. The trip will cost them $6.25, plus meals. If students go to the office for behavior problems, before then, they will not go to on the trip. The only advice I have is that you don't misbehave and go to the office.

By: Ann Owens
Student Prayer for Test Week

Now I lay me down to study, I pray the Lord I won't go nutty. If I should fail to learn this junk, I pray the Lord I will not flunk. If I do, don't shed a tear, just put a rose behind my ear. Tell my teacher I did my best. Then pile my books upon my chest. If I die before I wake that's one less test I'll have to take.

-Amen-
Our class is geared up for the CTBS. We feel confident that our class will blow the top off!

We are happy to announce that Matt Ford received a blue ribbon on his demonstration, "How To Get Peanut Butter Off the Roof of Your Mouth." Also, Matt Chalif is champion in his category and will go on to the area demonstration contest. He demonstrated how to make a Gee How Whammy Diddle. Congratulations and good luck!

The 7th and 8th grade Prom was Friday, April 19, in the gym at Mt. Vernon Elementary School. The theme was "Stairway to Heaven." We had a large crowd. We had music, food, and drinks too. Everyone had prom dresses and tuxedos on. Brock studio took our prom pictures and everyone had a blast, even the teachers!

What the Prom Was Like
It was fun and exciting! We played all rock and roll and one country song. Country Charley Napier was the DJ, and he did good! Most of all the 8th grade and 7th grade would like to thank the teachers that were responsible for the prom. We especially thank our principal, Mr. Hale, for letting us have it. Thank you!

Wendy Hensky
Deana Minsk
The most enjoyable thing about the prom was the music. The decorations were halfway decent. But the best part of the whole thing was when one certain couple was dancing. We are not allowed to call their names, but any way the guy was jumping around the gymnasium like a pogo stick. He dragged the girl like a rag doll.

RCHS Minute

Summer School Preparations
Mr. Cash is finalizing all plans for summer school now. If anyone is planning to attend summer school and has failed to make arrangements with Mr. Cash, they need to do so soon by contacting Mr. Cash at the high school.

CTBS Week
CTBS Testing will be held April 23-25, during the morning hours. Mr. Cash has said that if attendance meets the good standards of last year, or exceeds those standards, students will be rewarded.

Club Meetings
Friday, April 26, club meetings will be held at RCHS during first period.

Cystic Fibrosis Benefit
A benefit show will be held for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation at 7 p.m. on Friday, April 26. The benefit will be held at the RCHS cafeteria.

Cheerleader Tryouts
Cheerleading for varsity squads will be held Wednesday, May 1, at the Rockcastle High School. Rita Schaeffer will be the new sponsor for next year's squads. All girls will be expected to tryout that afternoon with a cheer they have organized themselves.

FHA Banquet
Friday, May 3rd, the Rockcastle County High School FHA Club will hold a club banquet. All members of the FHA Club are invited to attend.

Awards Night
Thursday, May 9th, Awards Night for graduating seniors will be held at the Rockcastle County High School. The awards presented will be given according to the highest grade point average attained by a student in the individual class.

Gregory in Lances
Joseph G. Gregory, a University of Kentucky student from Mt. Vernon, received special recognition at UK's annual awards night ceremony held April 16.

Some 400 students were honored at the program held on the Lexington campus.

Gregory, a junior in arts and sciences, was selected for membership in Lances.

Lances is a national honor society which recognizes outstanding juniors. Its purpose is to encourage academic excellence and leadership exemplified in campus activities.

Ms. Stacy Norton, a flight attendant for US Air visited Mrs. Morgan's sixth grade. Stacy is the sister of Holly Norton a student in the class. Stacy, who resides in Los Angeles, CA, gave an interesting talk about her career and life-style.

Lunch tickets will start Thursday, May 2nd. They will go on sale Tuesday and will be for ten days.

Additional orders of the yearbook, Tiger Tales, will not be taken.

Beverly Owens, Judy Danks, Onna Owens, Molly Hamm, Jelita Bradshaw, Charlotte Bullock and Regina Burton attended Fourth in the Fifth Math and Science Alliance at the Holiday Inn in Somerset, Thursday.

Elementary counselors, Molly

Hamm and Loretta Powell attended a regional meeting to discuss Turning Points - Preparing American Youth for the 21st Century, published by the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The report recommends sweeping changes in the services offered for early adolescents, ages 10-15. The meeting was in Williamsburg at the Whitely County Middle School.

If I Could Turn Back Time is the theme for the seventh and eighth grade banquet, Saturday evening at 7:00.

Saturday morning at 7 a.m., the Junior High (only students with perfect attendance) will be leaving for a day at King's Island. Accompanying the students will be: Pam Martin, Caroline Graves, Lisa Johnson, Mary Cash and Eddie Cash.

Teachers of PACE and the 4-year-olds programs, Tammy Stevens, Annette Gveddon and Mary Ann Bussell, arranged an outing to Bill Jack Parson's farm in the Brindle Ridge section of the county, for the students and parents. Mr. Parson's sheep farm has a flock of 200 plus sheep.

Forestry camp applications

The Kentucky Forestry Council is accepting applications for the 1991 Youth Forestry Camp.

Entering junior and senior high school students interested in natural resources and currently holding a grade average of C or above are invited to attend.

Student campers will be taught the basis of forestry practices; fire behavior and suppression techniques; wildlife, fisheries and botanical habitat awareness; public land management issues and how to prepare and present a site management plan.

The camp will be held at the Felner 4-H Camp London, from July 22 until July 26. The cost is $75, which includes a non-refundable $10 application fee. Scholarships may be available from local Conservation District Officers to cover camp costs. The enrollment will be limited to 60 students. Individuals who have previously attended this camp are ineligible to apply.

NOTICE OF RIGHT TO NOMINATE BY PETITION

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is accepting nominations for County Committee for the Jackson-Rockcastle area. This notice is issued to inform eligible voters of the right to nominate candidates by petition. Copies of the petition and instructions on its completion can be obtained from your local FmHA office.

Persons nominated should have an interest in a farm as an owner, tenant, or sharecropper within the county or area in which activities of the county or area committee are carried out. They must be citizens of the United States or aliens lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, and be well qualified for committee work. Spouses of those persons who meet the eligibility criteria are also eligible for nomination for election to the county committee. Nominations must be received in the McKee County Office no later than May 24, 1991. FmHA committee elections are open to all eligible voters without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, political affiliation, marital status, sex, and/or handicap.

Floyd Wayne Owens, 30, of Orlando went on trial Tuesday for the shooting death of Dale Kelly Cope last September. Rockcastle Circuit Judge Dan Venters declared a mistrial after it was discovered that jurors and witnesses had been threatened. Owens was defended by Jerry Cox of Mt. Vernon, right.

Ceremony will honor Desert Storm troops

Mark tomorrow on your calendar. That's Friday.

At that time two ceremonies will be held at 10:30 a.m. at the court-house.

One ceremony will honor county veterans who served in "Desert Storm" and have returned home.

The second ceremony will be groundbreaking for the new court-house judicial annex.

The public is invited and urged to attend.

The veteran recognition ceremonies will open with a welcome by County Judge/Executive Roland D. Mullins. Master of ceremony will be State Rep. Danny Ford. Livingston

Mayor Billy Medley will give the opening prayer. The Rockcastle County High School Chorus will sing the National anthem. Rev. Harvey Pensol will recognize the veterans.

Larry Burdette will give the benediction.

Judge Mullins said the recognition is "to let you know that we appreciate your going to the Gulf, that we are thankful for your safe return, and we are glad you are home."

The judge said known veterans have been contacted. If someone has been missed he or she should call 256-2856.

The groundbreaking ceremony for the new court annex will open with a discussion of the $1.9 million project by architect Garland Vanhook. There will be a recognition of Circuit Judge Dan Venters, and District Judges William Cain and Walter Maguire. Comments will be made by Harry Hoffman from the Administrative Office of the Courts in Frankfort. A discussion of the new facility will be by Supreme Court Justice Joseph Lambert.

County receives good state audit report

An audit of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court for the 1989-90 fiscal year shows the county complied in "all material respects" with state regulations, according to Bob Babbage, state auditor of public accounts.

County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins called the audit a "good" one, and said he was pleased with the state report.

The audit did mention one item. It noted "the county treasurer did not make a full and complete settlement with the fiscal court, nor has the treasurer published the settlement in a local newspaper on a timely basis."

Babbage recommended the fiscal court "comply with these statutes."

Lillie Lawhorn was treasurer at that time of the audit, but she later changed jobs with Betty Luckinger, who resigned at the April meeting of the court.

Judge Mullins said the county now has a certified public accountant (Joseph Clontz) as treasurer and that the problem would not occur again.

Babbage said nothing came to the attention of the state that would "cause us to believe that Rockcastle County had not complied with provisions set down by the state.

Council doesn't have quorum

Linville has high bid on Linville boat dock

Three bids on the Lake Linville boat dock were opened by the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night, but the lease on the dock will not be awarded until the next regular session, April 6, to give the council time to check the bids.

The council could not have approved the bids anyway since only three councilmen attended - Clark Mullins, Bob Bailey and Lloyd Cain.

Highest bidder on the dock was Gary Linville of U.S. 25, Berea. If his bid is accepted, he will pay the city $12,000 for the first five years; $18,000 for the second five years and $24,000 for the next five.

Edwin and Donna Mahaffey of Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon, bid $7,500 for the first five years; $9,000 for the second five and $10,000 for the next five.

Third bidder was Paul R. Cox of Brodhead. Cox bid $8,100 for the first five years; $8,600 for the second five and $9,100 for the next five.

The main building at the dock was recently destroyed during a storm and has not been rebuilt. Mayor Gary R. Cromer said the city is awaiting an insurance settlement.

Trial may be moved outside of Lincoln

A hearing set for Friday could decide whether the accused killer of Stanford Police Officer Gary Kidwell will stand trial here or get his trial moved outside the county.

Attorneys for Thomas Wade Watkins, who has been hospitalized or jailed without bond since the Jan. 20 shooting, asked last week that the trial be moved to another county and be heard by another judge.

John Halstead of the public defender's office and Commonwealth's Attorney Thomas Lockridge are negotiating over possible locations for the trial according to a story in the Stanford Interior Journal.

Court sources say that Madison Clark counties are possible locations because they are nearby but outside the judicial district and away from the heaviest concentration of pretrial publicity.

Halstead, who represents Watkins, asked that the trial be moved because potential jurors in Lincoln and surrounding counties have been barraged by "massive publicity" about the crime. Halstead said 54 articles he

Accused of killing Dale Kelly Cope

Owens murder trial begins in Rockcastle Circuit Court

By: Richard Anderkin

Floyd Wayne Owens shot Dale Kelly Cope in self defense, contended defense attorney Jerry Cox in his opening remarks Tuesday in Rockcastle Circuit Court.

But, Commonwealth Attorney Benny Ham told jurors that Cope was gunned down by Owens in cold blood.

Owens is on trial this week for the Sept. 22, 1990 shooting death of 37-year-old Dale Kelly Cope of Red Hill.

Cox was shot in the back at the residence of Willie Mink in Orlando around midnight.

Cox told jurors that his client was fired upon twice by Cope before he shot him and that he killed him in self defense. "Wayne Owens was trying to leave Willie Mink's house alive and Cope was trying to kill him," Cox said.

But, Ham told jurors that the evidence would prove that Owens gunned down Cope, who had not fired at Owens and who was attempting to go back into the house.

According to testimony, Owens, Cope, Kathy Hazelwood, Bill Mullins, Willie Mink, Irvine King and Daniel King were at Mink's residence drinking Budweiser beer and Jim Beam whiskey the night of the shooting.

Daniel King testified that Owens showed up at Mink's residence sometime before midnight and began drinking with the others. King said that sometime around midnight Cope and Owens got in an argument and that Cope hit Owens knocking him to the floor.

King testified that Cope hit Owens with a chair while he was on his back on the floor, but that it only hit Owens's legs and feet. But on cross examination by Cox, King admitted that Cope grabbed the door frame to help him get leverage while he tried to stomp Owens.

King, who testified to drinking only five beers because he was the designated driver, said that the two men quit fighting and that he, (King) gave Owens some whiskey as he was preparing to leave Mink's residence.

"Mr. Owens told Kelly that he had other friends he could party with and that he would leave, and Kelly agreed that would be the best," King said.

King testified that Cope showed Owens off the porch of the house as he was leaving and that when he turned to go back in the house, Owens shot him in the back with a gun he had apparently gotten out of his truck.

King testified that Owens then jumped into his vehicle and started to back out of the drive. He said that Owens then stopped and opened the passenger side door.

"I did not know what he was going to do, so I grabbed a rifle out of my car and fired at Owens six times," King testified. King then testified that Owens left the scene and that he (King) rounded up the other people in the house, except for Bill Mullins who was passed out, and got them outside where Cope was lying on the porch.

King testified that he (King) has had paramedic training and that he knew Cope was dead. "The way Kelly was laying you couldn't see any blood and the others thought he had just passed out," King said.

King testified that he was in the doorway of the house when Cope was shot and that he saw a streak of fire over his shoulder.

On cross examination, King admitted that he had married into Kelly Cope's family and the night of the shooting he was helping Cope "hide out from the law."

"Kelly wanted me to go to Mt. Vernon to see what the warrant was for," King said. King later testified that he thought the warrant against Cope was sworn-out by Cope's wife whom he (Cope) was accused of shooting.

King also admitted that Cope had a gun with him the night of the shooting because he saw Kathy Hazelwood playing with it and Cope took it away from her.

King also testified that Owens indicated that he wanted to leave Mink's residence after his encounter with Cope.

But, King testified that he did not see Kelly Cope shoot at Owens and that he did not hear any shots fired.

King is apparently the eyewitness in the case and was expected to testify again, Wednesday.

Defense attorney Cox said that his client would testify in his own defense and would tell the jury that he was only defending himself after Cope fired at him first.

The trial is expected to end Thursday (today).

Two other murder trials were continued this week.

Margaret Akorn is accused of shooting a six-year-old girl at Cox's trailer park in Mt. Vernon last February. She has been tried once in Rockcastle Circuit Court, but it ended in a hung jury. Her trial is scheduled for Sept. 10.

Marty Morgan of Mt. Vernon will be tried on Sept. 17 for the shooting death of Dominic Clemmons who was shot to death on Main Street in Mt. Vernon on March 28, 1990.

Editors Note: Rockcastle Circuit Judge Dan Venters declared a mistrial in the case late Wednesday. Venters said that he did feel like Owens could get a fair trial because of pressure being placed on the witnesses and jurors by people interested in the outcome of the trial. Venters re-scheduled the trial for September 24.

Babbage releases audit

State Auditor Bob Babbage has released the audit of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court for the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1990.

The report shows that the county received $1,911,760 from local taxes for the year ended. The county clerk returned excess fees of $58 to the fiscal court and federal payments to the county administered by the state treasurer totaled $165,594, the 1990-91 fiscal year.

State payments to the county amounted to $944,394 for the year, according to the report. The county earned $24,485 in interest for the year added, according to the Babbage report.

At the close of the fiscal year, $345,038 in principal remained on a loan from the county to Mt. Vernon Plastics, Inc.

A balance of $156,000 remained on the debt incurred by the Rockcastle County Industrial Development Authority for the purchase of 63.77 acres of land from John D. Henderson. The debt service requirements for the current fiscal year are $12,000 for principal and $12,180 for interest, the report shows.

The county issued $700,000 of road bonds in 1990, according to the report. September 1, 1991 is the first principal maturity date noted in the report.

The loss of Federal Revenue Sharing programs has forced many units of local government to look for alternate ways to meet their budgets and to continue to provide established services," Babbage said.

Investing all possible funds into interest earning accounts is one option many counties are using to enhance their revenues, he noted.

A Mt. Vernon man was only slightly injured in an accident at the Renfro Valley exit of I-75, on U.S. 25, Thursday morning. James R. Jones, 35, was driving a dump truck loaded with dirt when he exited the interstate ramp. The truck brakes apparently went out and the truck struck a median and overturned. Mt. Vernon Police Chief Bill Mink said the southbound lane was blocked for about an hour.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,
If you will kindly provide space in your paper, I should like to announce to those who contributed toward the fund to purchase a gravestone for our deceased, Drewry Harper, that the stone will soon be installed. The balance has been paid in full and the inscription is now being done.

We descendants of the Harpers buried there are happy to have found this old abandoned family cemetery located in the woods on Lovins Branch, near the site where the Lower Line Creek School one stood.

We're grateful to the Pulaski County Historical Society, and specifically to a staff member, Thelma Herrin, and to Wanda Bullock, both of whom are descendants of Drewry and have been most helpful in raising funds for this project.

The eager response and generosity of the following persons is much appreciated:

Joseph Doyle and Julie Harper, Livingston, Montana; Thelma Hayes Herrin, Somerset; Russell and Myrtle Harper Ward, Stab; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Harper, Indianapolis, IN; Russell and Geneva Harper, Sharonville, Ohio; Dorman and Wanda Ward, Bullock, Somerset, KY; Jimmy and Doris Petercheff, Somerset, KY; Mabel Randolph Phillips, Somerset; Roy Hayes, Somerset; Ivan and Christine Harper McKinney, West Chester, OH; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harper, Reading, OH; Russell Hayes, Middletown, OH; Franklin and Jonda Brinner, Louisville, KY; Richard and Lorena Harper Crosby, Austin, Texas; Bonnie Slasky, Ayr, Massachusetts; Ronald and Betty McKinney, Hopkins, OH; Ray and Barbara McKinney Warren, LaFollette, TN; Daniel McKinney and son Michael, Milford, OH; Dale and Sue McKinney, Middletown, OH; Dortha Brinner, no address listed; Junior (Ike) Harper, Pongo, Mt. Vernon; Callie Howard, Brodhead; Don Harper, London; Gale and Marsha Jane Ferguson, Berea; Shirlene Whitaker Wytenbach, Salisbury, N.C.; Bessie Hayes-Whitaker, Spencer, N.E.; Wade and Armina Harper, Sandy Gap, Somerset; Gordon and Maxine Harper, Monks, Camano Island, WA; Bill Hayes, Jacksonville, FL; Earl and Donnie Godsey, Somerset; Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Harper, Fargush; Beatrice Harper Sargeant, Downey, CA.

We have purposely not listed the amount received from each contributor, as some were able to give the suggested $10 and more; others gave what they could and wished it were more.

We appreciate each and every one of you, and hope to see you at our Harper reunion now tentatively scheduled for July 28, at the Shopville-Stab Firehouse.

Everyone will be asked to bring a lunch, drinks sufficient for their own family and a small bag of ice. We hope you will spread the word and invite a friend. The turnout last year was great; this one, hopefully, will be better. So make plans to join us.

For more information, call Wanda Bullock - (606) 256-4889 or Violet Turner (606) 274-4645. Any change of plans will be announced later in this paper.

Thanking you most sincerely, I am Yours truly,
Christine Harper McKinney

Dear Editor,

Who likes to bowl? Not I. My reason is that every time I bowl I make a strike the first time I roll, then every time thereafter I go in the alley. How ever I know it is a real good past time. Miss Hilda who is ninety years old likes to bowl. Her son who is seventy-one, bowls with her as a team, and are olympians. They will bowl in the 11th South West Ohio Int. Regional Senior Olympics Competitions, starting April 22, until May 11.

The son Emil is so energetic, that he does voluntary office work to fill up his time when he is not bowling.

Yours truly, has found that walking is the most healthful thing anyone can do. If anyone is interested in living a good long life, and have good health, he and she should walk at least two miles every day. I do and I am nearly eighty. I feel younger now than I did when I was fifty.

The air will clear your lungs. After a while you won't have the flabbiness that goes with old age. Arms will shape up again. Circulation doesn't stop half way around, it goes to the brain and you don't get senile so soon. You won't be so inclined to worry. You know all the ways of improvement. But do you do it? Now you take your lady by the hand and get out there and do it. Why wait until that sluggishness takes hold of you and you give the Doc a hundred dollars to poison you with medication to kill out what you could have done by walking? Walking is free. So is the air, so see, but hurry, someone will take a franchise on it by hook or crook some day.

Except for clothing at the beginning of the school year, we don't purchase a lot of new stuff in my household. Loretta and I will occasionally splurge on birthdays with a brand new item of clothing, but for the most part, our wardrobes consist of fashions by Yard Sale or an attic. We do buy our underwear new because I have some reservations about wearing other people's drawers, but I have found, over the years that a pair of jeans for fifty cents are just as comfortable as the ones that cost $30. And if you've been in a big clothing store lately, you may have noticed that the more worn-out they look, the more they cost.

I have purchased one new car in my life. I learned, from that experience, that the only noticeable differences between a new car and a two year old model is about $200 a month more in payments and that new car smell. I have discovered that I can buy a can of deodorant for 99 cents and create the same odor, but frankly, I am just as content with essence of old ash tray.

Five years ago I purchased an 81 Mustang from a high school kid in Berea for $1,600. That's what the car booked for and it was fair trade for both of us. I put a used motor in the car for $600 and went through a couple of sets of tires. Last night I sold the car for $650 and after doing a bit of math, I figured that I had spent less than $500 a year to keep myself in transportation while I drove that vehicle. You will just have to take my word for the fact that I was as happy with the old Mustang as I would have been in a Cadillac.

Now I'm driving the only lemon I've ever purchased and it's costing me about $500 a month. My pick-up however has run for more than thirty days now without having to have the transmission or the motor replaced and I have enough confidence in the

"What for dinner?" This familiar question frequently goes unanswered until just before serving time. To help make the decision easier, prepare meals that are just about complete in one dish or on a single plate or platter. Incorporating the meat, vegetable and starch portions of the meal in one recipe, reduces dishes and simplifies both preparation and serving. Just add a salad or relishes and a dessert, if you wish.

Don't let the slightly longer ingredient listing of the recipes frighten you. Preparation is simple and the list is longer only because the meat, vegetable and starch are included in one recipe.

Of course, some foods require longer cooking than others when combining several items at a time in the microwave oven. Most of these "meals in one dish" can be reheated by microwaving a few additional minutes, should serving time be delayed.

Salmon balls combine nicely with potatoes, cauliflower and peas for a spring-like meal on a plate. Allow about 30 minutes for preparation.

Salmon-Vegetable Plate

- 1 tablespoon margarine or butter
- 2 large baking potatoes, scrubbed
- Seasoned salt
- 1 can (15 1/2 oz.) red salmon, drained
- 1 cup crumbled fresh bread
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
- 2 1/2 cups sliced cauliflower
- 1 cup fresh or frozen pea pods
- 1/2 cup prepared white sauce (see Easy Sauce Directions below)
- 1/4 teaspoon dill weed

1. MICROWAVE (high) margarine in small microwave-safe dish 30 to 45 seconds or until melted. Cut potatoes into wedges. Brush surface of each with margarine; sprinkle with seasoned salt. Place on large microwave-safe serving plate or platter. Cover with vented plastic wrap.

2. MICROWAVE (high) 5 to 6 minutes or until steaming hot. Meanwhile, combine salmon, bread crumbs, egg, onion, lemon juice and mayonnaise; mix well. Shape into eight 2 1/2-inch balls.

3. Move potatoes to one side of plate. Place salmon balls on opposite side of plate. Arrange cauliflower in center area of plate. Cover.

4. MICROWAVE (high) 7 to 8 minutes or until salmon is set, rotating plate once. Add pea pods to cauliflower; cover.

5. MICROWAVE (high) 1 1/2 to 2 minutes or until pea pods are tender. Let stand covered. Prepare sauce as directed. Stir in dill weed. Spoon over salmon balls.

About 4 Servings
* Sauce can be omitted.
* For 2 Servings, use half the ingredients amounts. Decrease time in step 2 to 3 to 3 1/2 minutes, in step 4 to 4 to 4 1/2 minutes and in step 5, microwave 1 to 1 1/2 minutes.

This easy-to-make sauce mix keeps in the refrigerator for months. Make up a batch and then add to water or cooking juices for savory sauces in second.

Speedy Sauce Mix

- 1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
- 2 2/3 cups instant non-fat dry milk powder
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup margarine or butter

1. Combine all ingredients in food processor bowl. Process until margarine is well mixed with dry mixture. Store in tightly covered container in refrigerator.

Makes 6 Cups Mix

TIPS * For added flavor, add 1 tablespoon chicken bouillon.

* A food processor is best for mixing ingredients. If necessary, a mixer or pastry blender can also be used. Be sure to mix until margarine is in fine pieces.

The sauce mix can be added directly to vegetables and other mixtures with cooking liquid. Or, use these directions to prepare separately.

Easy Sauce Directions

- 1/2 cup water
- 1/3 cup Speedy Sauce Mix

1. MICROWAVE (high) water in uncovered 1-cup glass measure 1 1/2 to 2 minutes or until boiling. Stir in sauce mix.

2. MICROWAVE (high), uncovered, 30 to 45 seconds or until boiling. If thinner sauce is desired, stir in a little milk or water.

About 1/2 Cup

TIPS * Other quantities can be prepared. Just allow about 2 minutes microwave time for heating each cup water and add about 2/3 cup sauce mix for each cup of water.

* For additional flavoring, add 1/8 teaspoon favorite dried herb or 1/2 teaspoon snipped fresh herb.

* For cheese sauce, stir in 1/4 cup favorite shredded cheese.

Enjoy the down-home flavors of chicken, sauce and mashed potatoes served in one dish. Table-ready in about 30 minutes to serve with fruit gelatin salad and rolls.

Chicken and Potato Bake

- 1 lb. skinned boneless chicken breasts or thighs
- 1 package (16 oz.) frozen broccoli
- 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
- 1 can (10 3/4 oz.) cream of mushroom soup
- 1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1/2 teaspoon dried basil leaves optional
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cup instant potato flakes
- 1/4 cup sour cream
- 1 egg, beaten
- Paprika

1. Cube chicken and place in shallow 2-quart microwave-safe casserole. Add frozen broccoli. Cover with lid or vented plastic wrap.

2. MICROWAVE (high) 12 to 14 minutes or until broccoli and chicken are tender, stirring once. Stir in onion, soup, mushrooms and basil. Cover.

3. MICROWAVE (high) 3 1/2 to 4 minutes or until hot and bubbly, stirring once, set aside.

4. MICROWAVE (high) water in uncovered 2-cup glass measure 2 1/2 to 3 minutes or until boiling. Stir in salt and potato flakes. Mix with fork until combined. Blend in sour cream and egg; mix well. Spoon tablespoons around outer edge of chicken mixture. Sprinkle with paprika.

5. MICROWAVE (high), uncovered, 3 to 3 1/2 minutes or until potatoes are set, rotating dish once.

About 5 Servings

TIPS * Cream of chicken soup can be substituted for mushroom

Expanded program for Rockcastle Emergency Assistance Program (REAP)

By: Lu Ed Nielsen
Coordinator

During the past several months, progress has become reality in Rockcastle County. We have been able to see many things change in our county, such as expansion in Renfro Valley, a new courthouse annex, new restaurants and businesses, a change in education, a change in attitudes, and I think that all of these changes are areas that progress is happening, and I feel that most people are encouraged at these changes taking place.

Rockcastle Emergency Assistance Program wants to be a part of this progress. When the program was started it was decided that the people involved wanted to help the people in Rockcastle, but at the time the most pressing need was to open a food bank for those who needed food on an emergency basis, but that was of Christ.

Survivors include four sons; Donald Lovell of Cincinnati, Ohio, Billie, J.T., and Douglas Lovell, all of Chestnut Ridge; four daughters, Mrs. Geneva Rice of Jacksonville, Fla., Mrs. Georgia Searles of Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Beatrice Green of Tipp City, Ohio and Mrs. Yvonne Cloniz of Berea; two brothers, Tully Lovell of St. Petersburg, Fla. and Alonzo Lovell of California; four sisters, Mrs. Sadie Cloniz of Mt. Vernon, Mrs. Juanita Farris of Harrodsburg, Mrs. Janice Farris of Maryland and Mrs. Vivian Pittman of Columbus, Ohio. Thirty grandchildren and several great grandchildren also survive. He was preceded in death by his wife, Mrs. Mary Glover Lovell.

Services were conducted April 25, 1991 at the Cox Funeral Home Chapel with Bros. James Head and Bobby Owens officiating. Burial was in Elmwood cemetery.

only the beginning point. Other needs were talked about, but resources were very limited, so R.E.A.P. began with the food bank. The program has been operating out of the Signal Building on Main Street, Mt. Vernon, with limited volunteers, and a lot of assistance from the Anderkin family. We appreciate all of the help that has been given to R.E.A.P., but now it is time to progress to other areas of need, along with the food bank, and a proposed clothing bank. We were asked if we could take over the Christian heater program that Christian Appalachian Project had been administering. We now have that program and during the winters we will be able to loan out these heaters and fuel cans. Also, we will have personal need items that cannot be purchased with food stamps, which will be available to those who are in need due to an emergency. Such items as washing soap, toothpaste, toothbrushes, and other personal needs will be on hand. The one thing that I look forward to is the cooperation of all our county agencies in helping our people. We have a number of programs that are available, but so many are not aware of them. Then we also have those who have found the loopholes and the advantages of the program. By a concerted effort we hope to close the loopholes and help those who truly need the help.

"I have found that many people need help in using the money and other items they are able to get in a wise manner. When someone gets food stamps on the 5th of the month and is out of stamps the 20th of the month it is time to take a look and see why this happens. I have even volunteered to go shopping with some of our clients to help them learn how to shop. We take this for granted, but believe me, there are a great many people who cannot figure out what it costs per ounce, or what quantity it will take, and what they should buy.

The federal guidelines for obtaining vouchers for food have become very strict. You must have either lost, or had stolen, your food stamps; You must have either lost, or had stolen, your S.S. check, etc. You must be able to show that this has been reported to the proper agency. You must have had a death in the family; You must have had a family emergency; that has taken more of income; You must have unexpected bills that has taken more income than usual -- you must bring in paid receipts.

These same guidelines will be followed by the R.E.A.P. program so

"What Saith the Scriptures"

The problem of human suffering is one that has perplexed the minds of men for ages. All men suffer from time to time because we are part of the human race, and ultimately we all are appointed to die (Heb. 9:27). Christians suffer for righteousness sake from time to time, 1 Pet. 2:18-25; 1 Pet. 3:14; Heb. 12:5-11. God has created us as creatures of choice; thus with the possibility to sin, comes the consequences of sin, which brings suffering, both to the guilty and to the innocent. Instead of focusing in on the "why" of suffering, let's notice some things that can be gained through suffering.

First, suffering can cause us to turn to God or cause us to draw closer to God. Ps. 119:71 says "It is good for me that I have been afflicted; that I might learn thy statutes." The prodigal son came to himself in the midst of the misery of his profligate life, Lk. 15:16-17. Paul said that he had the sentence of death in himself, "That we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead." II Cor. 1:9. Yes, the hardships of life can and should turn our hearts and minds upward to God.

Suffering also should cause us to be more compassionate for others. Paul spoke of the "God of all comfort; who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God," II Cor. 1:4. Our Lord came and lived among men, suffering in this world, tempted of devil (yet without sin). That he might be a merciful and faithful high priest. Heb. 2:17.

Suffering can also make us stronger in the faith. "That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ." I Pet. 1:7. Jesus can be either our Rock of Salvation or a Rock of Offense. Rev. 2:6-8; it depends on how we look at him. Even so, the sufferings of this world can be either stepping stones or stumbling stones, depending on how we react to the situation and event. All things work together for good, but only to those who love God. Rom. 8:28. Yes, we shall suffer in this world, but let's be made better but not bitter.

"Anyone building a house—if they consider the facts—will end up with an electric heat pump."

—Rick O'Connell
London, Ky.

"I had my first house with a heat pump back about 1975, and I think it's the way to go.

"It provides more consistent heat, rather than getting hot, then cooling down again. It's much cleaner than other heating systems. And it's two pieces of equipment in one, because it air conditions in summer.

"Our house is total-electric, so we don't have any fuel tanks to fill up, and there's only one energy bill to pay each month—which makes budgeting easier.

"We've been in this house three years, and we're really pleased with our heating costs. And we've never had to have our heat pump serviced.

"I would hate to buy another house without an electric heat pump!"

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY
AUDITOR
OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

125 CAPITOL ANNEX
FRANKFORT 40601

BOB BABBAGE

To the People of Kentucky
Honorable Wallace G. Wilkinson, Governor
Honorable Roland D. Mullins, County Judge/Executive
Members of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court

Independent Auditor's Report

We have audited the statement of assets, liabilities, and fund balances arising from cash transactions of Rockcastle County, Kentucky, as of June 30, 1990, and the related statement of cash receipts, cash disbursements, and changes in cash balances for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and the Audit Guide for County Governments issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. These standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Rockcastle County, Kentucky, prepares its financial statements on a prescribed basis of accounting that demonstrates compliance with the cash basis and laws of Kentucky, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles. Consequently, certain revenues and the related assets are recognized when received rather than when earned, and certain expenses are recognized when paid rather than when incurred. This cash basis system does not require the maintenance of a general fixed asset group-term debt group of accounts. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements are not intended to present financial position and results of operations in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the assets, liabilities, and fund balances arising from cash transactions of Rockcastle County, Kentucky, as of June 30, 1990, and the related statement of cash receipts, cash disbursements, and changes in cash balances for the year then ended, in conformity with the cash accounting basis described above.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements of Rockcastle County, Kentucky, taken as a whole. The accompanying additional information, provided on Schedules A through D, including the schedule of federal financial assistance is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. This information has been subjected to tests and other audit procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

As required by Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, we have reported on the financial statements and statements (page 1), internal control structure (page 23), and compliance with laws and regulations (page 25).

COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATION

The following comments and recommendation was disclosed during our audit of the financial statements and our study and evaluation of the county's internal control structure and compliance with laws and regulations:

Internal Accounting and Administrative Controls of All County Programs: The County Treasurer Should Prepare The Annual Settlement
The County Treasurer did not make a full and complete settlement with the fiscal court nor has the Treasurer prepared the settlement in a local newspaper on a timely basis. KRS 68.020 requires an annual settlement with the fiscal court no later than 30 days from the close of the fiscal year and KRS 424.230 requires publication within sixty days from the close of the fiscal year. We recommend the fiscal court comply with these statutes.

We are confident the above finding and recommendation will be useful to you in managing the operations of the county in a manner consistent with effective accounting and compliance controls.

Sincerely,
Bob Babbage

Enchantment

Sunday morning was cold and wet so to most people it would have been the beginning of a dreary day. Instead of the dreariness I saw beauty everywhere I looked.

I was still in my long warm nightgown when I opened the door to feed the cats. They weren't there but what I saw made me reach for a warm robe and leather slippers and with a cup of hot coffee in hand I began a stroll down my driveway to where the azaleas are in full bloom. There are two bright red bushes and a soft pink one in between, directly behind them is a row of tulips the same color.

This is the first year they have bloomed in such profusion. It occurred as if they were defying the cold and was using their bright red color to help warm the earth around them. If this wasn't enough to keep me spellbound, the peonies with their fat buds wanted to burst their buds so they could join the parade of color, were I. I seemed as if nature was tempting me and on as I strolled across the wet grass to further explore the wonders about me. My feet were cold and wet by now but still I wandered to the fence around the orchard so I could drink in the beauty and absorb the glory of such a morning. My coffee had been cold for some time before I realized it but that didn't matter a bit for I was drinking in beauty and didn't mind the temperature of it anyway. The mass of dogwoods in bloom everywhere I looked kept me spellbound. Before I knew it I was transported back through time and was once again living in the old log house that sat where the garage now sits. I was standing within feet of where it once stood.

The fence I was now learning on was not there then nor was the orchard afloat time. In their stead was a clearing where at some time a garden had been and a faint path wound its way to the spring where we carried our water from. Only one dogwood was anywhere about then and it was far from the house. I was standing close to where the old chimney stood and where I had cooked on the improvised stove in the fireplace when we first arrived in the country. The enhancement grew as I looked toward the garden spot where I learned how to make a garden. That spot was where I learned to plant a garden, to eat and fight off swallows. That is where I learned to sweat the trees and can them for our winter food.

Just beyond the garden is a road now, that was a path then that led to a hillside cornfield and the milk gap. That was the path Judy tottled down when she caught my back turned one day and when I found her she was standing by the milk gap holding a tiny bucket calling the cow to come and be milked. Where an old apple tree now stands was where Matt's chopping block and the chip pile once was. The sound of his ax making the chips fly came echoing back. I don't know if it was real or tears on my face that made me realize the birds had awakened and was serenading me. Bird song was everywhere. The air was full of music that is never heard by fast sleepers nor city folks. Little Goldfinches were darting about my head and one almost hit me before it seemed to realize I wasn't a statue. This awakened me to the fact I was standing in a cold mist with wet feet and my robe still on. You see, these little creatures didn't need sunshine to make them sing and enjoy the bright beauty all about them nor did they need to compare their yesterday with today. Today was the one day in their life they had to be concerned about and they were happily doing it. Their bird song never ceased for a minute as they darted about in search of their bread.

I had left Rodney, Helen and Birch, who were spending the weekend with me in bed when I glanced toward the house and saw someone was up I knew it was time for me to get into folks who have already performed those chores for me several times since last fall from setting a vague sense of confidence that it may last me through the summer.

So I advertised the mowing in a freebie classified circular called The County Exchange because that's where I found it to start with. And I sold it the day it came out.

I have used the proceeds of that sale to purchase a new riding lawn mower. I wanted a computer or a fishing boat, but I actually needed the lawn mower because the one my sister-in-law gave me three years ago has been stuck in fourth gear since last fall and it can't be fixed without my spending a great deal of money. Three times in the spring I have mowed the grass 35 miles per hour and received more thrills than I would on any ride at King's Island. I'm not exaggerating when I tell you that mowing the lawn has been a life threatening experience here lately.

So I prepared to shell out over a thousand bucks for a new mower until I found an ad in the Lexington paper that had been placed by a disillusioned yuppie. The very mower I wanted, he had purchased last October and he had it marked down to well less than half price because he wanted a BMW with blades on it. Gonna use whatever he

Since 1986 I have been involved with almost all of the community service agencies, either as a volunteer or as a Board Member. I am president of the American Cancer Society for Rockcastle County, and also youth adviser for the Mt. Vernon PTA since 1987 and also a chairperson Gifted and Talented for the District 8 PTA; I have been a tutor and Board Member with rockcastle Literacy Council since 1987; I serve on the K.D.S. committee where all of the agencies in the county work together to help those students with severe problems and assist them in ways that we can to keep the families together and keep the students in school. This is a pilot program which has been an office in the Mt. Vernon PTA. Spot of hot tea with him and a toast did the trick. Of course the chatter around the table about future plans for college etc. helped break the spell of wandering into the past but it didn't squelch the beauty that surrounded us.

I'm Margaret Dyehouse. I thank you hearty.

got out of the Statesman to make a downpayment on a $500 Cub Cadet to mow about as much space as my living room. I talked him down to $625 and as far as I'm concerned, I have traded the Mustang for a new mower and made $25 to boot.

For the next several weeks, my kids will fight to see who gets to do the mowing. I won't worry because this thing has half a dozen kilowatts on it and appears to be as safe as a mower can be made. I can spend my outside time concentrating on the garden.

In the meantime, we are watching the ads for a cookstove and a computer.

Gardening Tip: Blain Cross, who now lives in Beckley, West Virginia, called to say that he was most impressed with my ambition to grow a three pound tomato and offered the following tip. Blain says that almost all tomato diseases are caused with a good dose of salt. He says to mix three tablespoons of Epsom Salts with a quart of warm water. Pour one cup of this mixture around each tomato plant every two weeks and that's it. Apparently, salts contain a variety of minerals, especially calcium that tomatoes need. Deficiencies of these vital minerals cause most diseases. A calcium deficiency, for example, causes blossom end rot. Blain says he doesn't know what causes blight, but last year the salts cured it for him.

member of the Mt. Vernon Bittersweet Festival Board. I am Licensed LPN and enjoy teaching and helping people better themselves.

Several months ago I was asked if I would consider taking over the R.E.A.P. program as the Coordinator for the program. Our original bylaws were to include programs in nutrition, to have a clothing bank, and referral to other agencies if the family is in need of additional assistance. Agencies that will be working with us are: WIC program, Senior Insurance, Social Services, Senior Citizens, Community Action Program, Christian Appalachian Project, Literacy Council, County Extension office, Health Department, Transportation System, Comp Care, Green Thumb. Referrals will be made to these different areas if it is felt that help would be beneficial to the family. Several people have said that they just enjoy having someone to talk to who can relate to their problems. I know what it is like to lose a house and start over again, to raise children and now grandchildren, to have many illnesses and be told you won't live very long, to have miracles happen, which is why I have the great desire to help others.

It is hoped that we will be able to have a telephone soon, and to get the clothing bank in operation, but please wait to bring clothes, as I am still moving things around.

The new location will be the gray building across the street from Fair Furniture on West Main Street. After May 15th I will be there Monday/Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. I can be reached at home at 758-4088.

Registration underway for KET courses

Registration is underway for one graduate and three undergraduate telecourses broadcast on KET this summer beginning June 10. KET telecourses are fully accredited college-level courses. Students with on-campus courses, just have textbooks, professors, assignments, tests, and tution. The main difference between telecourses and on-campus courses is that telecourses are convenient; it is that the majority of classes are broadcast on KET.

The call is FREE. The publication is FREE. And a lot of the events and attractions in it are FREE. Call for the 64 page, full color Attractions and Events Calendar.

Did we mention it's FREE.

First Birthday

Jilissa Nichole Martin

Hi, my name is Jilissa Nichole Martin. I was one year old on Wednesday April 17, 1991.

I had a big birthday party at my mamaw and papaw Martins house (their names are Carol and Brownie).

There were a lot of people at my party. There was my good friend, "Chicken Man", Jerry Issacs, Uncle Jake and Aunt Brenda Brown, Uncle Richard and Aunt Jill Cash and my cousin Josh, Uncle Dickie and Aunt Merta Martin, Uncle Danny and Aunt Pam Martin and cousin Daniel. My great grandma Ella Mae Martin, my uncle Jon and cousins Travis and Jasmine Martin. My friend Matthew Cash. And my very special friend Mrs. Kerry Watson and her friend Rodney Hasty.

"Oh, I almost forgot, my mommy, Gina, was there too. Thanks mommy for my Little Tyke Playhouse, and thanks to everyone else for all the other nice gifts you gave me.

From My Window

By: Spencer Benge

The dearest man I've ever known is missing in my life this week. A man I held so close to my heart and I loved with all of my heart.

My Papaw, Bro. Virgil Brock, past away Monday, April 15th at his home in Brindle Ridge.

I often wondered how I'd react if I lost a loved one, especially one that meant so much to me, and I usually come up with only one answer, not very good.

But, somehow, I'm making it. I honestly believe that Papaw, being the man he was, prepared myself and others who loved him dearly and left a type of love behind that is enabling all of us to accept his loss as a glorious one. For my Papaw was not just an ordinary man, he was a man of God.

One particular thing that has helped me tremendously was a card that was found in my Papaw's papers he kept. The card simply read, "Do not stand at my grave and weep, for I am not there. I think of those words often and I now fully enjoy knowing that the things my Papaw preached about for so many years, he now enjoys. It must be wonderful.

I'm always going to remember the great times I had with Papaw and I'm always going to cherish them all. As a Christian man and a family man, he did it all and did it well.

So many times we went fishing, hunting or just for a ride in the woods. He always found the time for everyone. I guess that Bro. Charles Shivel summed it up when he said that we took Bro. Virgil Brock for granted. I know I, for one, always thought he would be around. I thought he would be around. He had been sick during the recent months and was in the hospital a couple of times, but everytime I visited him, I thought this is Papaw, he is glowing with the strength of God, he'll be alright.

However, the Lord works in mysterious ways and we just have to trust him. I firmly believe that the Lord had a very good reason to take such a man as Papaw away from this earth we live on today. Again, although I truly miss the twinkle in his eyes, smile on his face and the joy in his heart be shared with everyone, I'll remain strong. I'll remain strong because just a few days before he died, I had a very heart filling experience with him.

I went to see him at the hospital as I always do when he was there. We talked for awhile and I apologized for not being able to visit him and my Mamaw as much as I would like to. He said that's alright, I understand with a hug and a kiss.

Papaw went on to say, while pointing at his heart, that it didn't matter where I was because he always had me in his heart. I said the same as I walked out the door.

As I write this now, I believe Papaw was telling me something that I didn't realize then but do now. I believe he was giving me a message that I keep dear to me today, a message that defines the true meaning of love. A love that bonds people together, both in body and in spirit.

So I know now, that although my Papaw is gone physically, he lives on inside me. And as long as I can draw a breath, he will live on, until hopefully one day I can meet him again and share our love in a place he so long talked about, a place where we will never grow old.

A place called Heaven.

Dawn Lewis is All-American Scholar

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Dawn Lewis has been named an All-American Scholar.

LEG PAINS

By Dr. Stacy K. Edwards, D.C.

Whenever you have a spinal misalignment, there is always the risk of lower back pain. Named sciatic neuritis or sciatica, it is an inflammation of the main nerve supply to the leg and is commonly called "toothache of the leg."

The sciatic nerve, the largest in your body, runs from your lower back with many branches going to various parts of the leg, all the way down to all five toes. In your thigh, the thumb-sized sciatic nerve may become inflamed, causing unbearable pain which can affect your entire body.

Impingement of spinal nerves in the lower back is the major cause of sciatica. Your chiropractor will locate the exact point of impingement and correct this misalignment, restoring normal flow of vital nerve impulses.

Thank You

A big thank you to all our friends and neighbors who remembered us with prayers, cards, flowers and candy during our recent illnesses.

Thanks Again,

Fairview

By: Mrs. Hubert Chastean

Hello to all you good people everywhere.

Hope you are well and enjoying the beautiful spring weather (even though right now we are experiencing some rather cool weather) and the beauty of nature.

Our Sunday School attendance at Fairview April 14th was one hundred and twenty four and for worship service we had a "full house". We thank God for everyone and especially for our visitors.

But then our hearts go out to those who have lost loved ones recently including the families of Elmo Linville of Boone, Mrs. Ruth Lambert and Ed Westwind of Mount Vernon. They all have our love and prayers.

In the absence of our pastor Rev. Harvey Pensol, we had filling in for him, the Rev. R.C. Flynn of Brookfield, for the Sunday morning and evening services.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth (Noland) Tudor is seriously ill and hospitalized at this time and needs the prayers of the good Christian people.

Dorothy Lambert and Mary Lou Reynolds of Georgia have spent the past few days here visiting relatives. They attended worship services at Fairview. We always enjoy seeing them, they are such nice friendly ladies. And of course the Lambert family have always meant so much to our community and our church. They too told me that they always enjoy reading my article in the paper.

Our recent visitors have been our son Wayne and wife Carolyn, our daughter Joyce and husband James, our grandson Darrin Chastean and wife Monica, and nephews J.B. Alexander, Eugene Alexander and Mike Peters.

Visiting Mrs. Mary Cope at the present time is her son and family Mr. and Mrs. William Cope and son of Dayton, Ohio. Her daughters, Helen Powell and Christine Barnett, have also visited recently.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander were Rev. Jack Frost, Rev. and Mrs. Sherman Isaacs and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Gabbard of Berea and Mrs. Tretha Alexander and her son and family Mr. and Mrs. Mark Alexander and son of London.

Large crowd expected for Redbud Festival

Those looking for a glance at the past, will want to attend the Redbud Festival, April 27 and 28 at Renfro Valley.

The festival, traditionally an arts and crafts festival, is geared toward demonstrations of dying craft skills, such as willow chair making, vine basketry, and cornshuck doll making.

Craft artisans from all over Kentucky will come together to demonstrate and converse with the public the methods they use to preserve the rich heritage of Appalachia.

Photographs of Kentucky's countryside will be available for viewing as well.

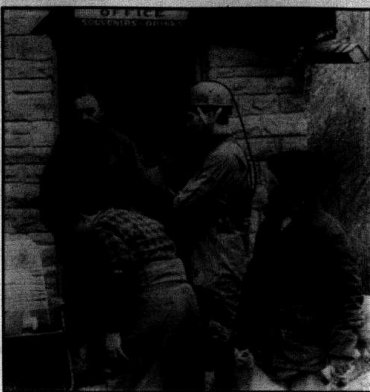

Art students from Appalachia will be displaying their works in an Appalachian Art Show. The display can be seen from April 20 through 29 at City Hall in Renfro Village.

Former students of the Redbud School, a hand-hewn one room log cabin school dated to the early 1800's, will reassemble at Renfro Valley to be acknowledged during the Redbud Festival. Continuing a tradition, local Girl Scouts will gather to plant a Redbud tree sapling.

To enhance the development of heritage, a Long Rifle Muzzleloader Shoot will take place on April 27 starting at noon. Muzzleloaders from all over will demonstrate their sharp eye as they fire at large and small bull targets.

The Redbud Festival, a walk down memory lane, is sure to provide you with not only hours of enjoyment and memories, but will prove to be an educational experience as well.

For more information, call 1-800-765-7464, extension 407 or 411.

Hans Lindblom a member of the Bluegrass Groto Club talks with cave explorers after they exited Salt Pate Cave Saturday afternoon.

Local Veterans received $1.8 million during 1990

A total of $1,777,650 went to veterans in Rockcastle County during the 1990 fiscal year, according to figures from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

Of that amount, $1,697,718 went for compensation and pensions; $15,517 went for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation; and $64,415 for insurance and indemnities.

"Of the more than $495 million distributed in Kentucky last year, more than 57 percent, or $286.7 million, went directly to veterans as compensation and pension for disabling injuries or diseases incurred while in the armed forces," according to John W. Hagan Jr. director of the VA Regional office in Louisville.

He added that VA spent $10.2 million for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation benefits, $20.7 million for insurance and indemnity payments, $3.8 million for facility construction and $173.5 million for medical services and administrative costs in Kentucky.

"The Department of Veterans Affairs proudly serves those who served our country," Hagan said.

Group holds tour of cave

By: Ray McClure

They squeezed through "fat man's misery," waked along "pinchmigh" alley. They examined bats, drank pure, cold water, and finally, scurried along Richards's Run to the great outdoors.

They were a group of few folks from Rockcastle who toured Great Saltpetre Cave at a "get acquainted" affair Saturday at the cave.

About 30 special and invited guest attended the affair held by the Great Saltpetre Management Committee, namely, the Greater Cincinnati Groto and the Bluegrass Groto.

In recent months, the cave has been fenced to prohibit the public from exploring it because of insurance regulations.

"However, an open house for the general public will be held May 11.

According to the management committee, "It is not the intention of the cave management to 'shut away' the cave from those who have an interest in it, though of course we must always be concerned with its preservation."

"We feel that we are in effect holding this property in trust for the citizens of Rockcastle and Kentucky, in an age when, regrettably, too much of our heritage has been destroyed or altered beyond recognition in the name of 'progress,' the committee stated.

The management committee said "the cave management has no plans to open the cave to public tours on a regular basis, but would hope to develop the cave and perhaps as a research and educational facility."

Continuing: "We will allow, and even encourage, pre-arranged tours by interested persons, and we sincerely hope that the establishment of Great Saltpetre Cave Historic Preserve will benefit the county."

The Greater Cincinnati Groto was in the news several years ago when members of the Groto were trapped in another cave in the county.

The cave has been a historic landmark in Rockcastle since its discovery in 1798 by John Baker.

The cave played an important part in the defense of the United States during the War of 1812 when its abundant saltpetre was used in the process of making gunpowder.

In recent years the cave has had two major owners, the late Rockcastle Department Dr. Walker Owens, and John Lair, who operated it in conjunction with Renfro Valley. Richard Mullins was caretaker and manager for about 16 years guiding tourists through the cave.

In September 1989 a private foundation leased the cave property to a private foundation to be managed by the two Grotos.

"One of the goals of the management committee is to compile articles for the committee doing research on the cave. The group plans to publish a booklet about the cave.

They are asking residents of the area to contact the committee if they have any articles, information, pictures or other items that could help in researching and preparing the booklet. Credit will be given for material used. Contact: Wesley Keiter, T111 Hawthorn Dr. Sidney, Ohio, 45365, telephone: (513)498-2466.

Warren Rosenthal
Rosenthal, Hillenmeyer to be inducted

Herald-Leader staff report

Junior Achievement of the Bluegrass will induct two former leaders of major Lexington companies into its Business Hall of Fame next month.

Former Jerico chairman Warren Rosenthal and the late Walter Hillenmeyer Jr., former chairman and chief executive officer of First Security National Bank & Trust Co., will be honored by Junior Achievement at noon May 17 at the Hyatt Regency in Lexington.

Walter Hillenmeyer III will accept the honor on behalf of his father, said Mary Coyle, president of Junior Achievement of the Bluegrass.

"We solicited nominations from the business community," she said.

It was Rosenthal who, beginning in the late 1940s, built Jerico from a few Lexington hamburger stands into a multinational corporation.

After a heart attack in 1982, Rosenthal, 67, turned over the company's daily management to others. Rosenthal sold his interest in the company in 1989 when two New York investment firms bought the Lexington company.

He has focused on two other ventures: his Lexington horse farm, Patchen Wilkes, and the Renfro Valley country music center, in which Rosenthal has an ownership interest. He and others hope to turn Renfro Valley into a big tourist attraction.

Sixty-nine donate blood at Harry Sparks Vocational school

A total of 69 people donated blood at Rockcastle County Vocational School in Mt. Vernon April 12.

The drive was sponsored by Central Kentucky Blood Center and Rockcastle County Vocational School.

Contributing to the successful drive was Shelby Falgout who organized the drive. The Rockcastle County Blood Program is greatly aided by the community support of the Rockcastle County Vocational School.
