Bond Reunion

By: Wanda Bond

Here we are again! The Bond Clan in Richmond, Indiana, for Mother's Day with Mary Belle Bond. Seems as if we keep multiplying every year. This year we rented a shelterhouse in Glen Miller Park at Richmond.

Attending from Orlando, Ky., was Mary's daughter Sally and husband Earl, also sons Mike and wife Shelly and daughter Diana; Gary of Cincinnati came along this year. Sally's daughter Judy from Edelstein, Ill. with husband Bill and son Tracy Hyatt from Mt. Vernon. Daughter Aileen McGuire and son Franklin with friend Michelle and her mom from New Paris, Ohio. From Erlanger the late Ross Bond's daughter Jean and husband Earl Farris and also her brothers from Hamilton, Ohio. Charles and Lonniss and his son Danny from Temperance, Mich.; Billy and wife Pat and daughter Lisa with husband Rod and children Terri and Rachael. From Oregon son Lloyd and wife Sharon and son Floyd Jr. From Northwood, Ohio, son Lee and wife Wanda with son Steven and daughter Sandra and her children Chris, Matthew and Judy and friend Christy Leavelle. From Hamilton son Leonard and wife Hazel and grandson Chad and also her son Dennis made a brief appearance. From Richmond came son Elmer and wife Louella with their two boys Melvin and wife Linda and children Chad and Melissa, Edward and Lorraine and baby Trent. Linda's mom Doris Angie also Elmer and Louella daughter Karen and son Nathan. The late John Bond's wife Mary who will be 87 years old also was there with daughter Nonetta McClure and son J.W. and wife Betty from Cherryhill, N.J. Our family is big and scattered but we seem to be able to get together for a happy occasion once in a while.

Mary Bell resides in Heritage House Nursing Home in Richmond and will be 89 on her birthday in December. We all hope to see her again next year at the same time and place and maybe the rest of the clan will be here as there are more than was. She gets the Signal every week at the rest home and reads it without glasses and says it's a happy day when she receives her Signal.

Cash honored
Lonnice Cash of Brodhead, has been recognized nationally by the American Angus Association for having two registered Angus cows included in the American Angus Association's 1991 Pathfinder Report. Only 1,092 of the more than 22,000 members of the American Angus Association are represented in this year's report, according to Richard Spader, executive vice president of the American Angus Association with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri. The Pathfinder Report identifies superior Angus cows based upon recorded performance traits that are economically important to efficient beef production. These traits include regular calving and heavy weaning weights, reports John Crouch, director of performance programs for the American Angus Association. All registered Angus cows that meet the Signal Pathfinder standards are listed, along with their owners, in the Pathfinder Report which is published annually by the American Angus Association. The 1991 Pathfinder Report lists 336 registered Angus cows. It is published in the May issue of the Angus Journal and extra copies are available from the American Angus Association. The largest number of Pathfinder cows from a single herd this year is 102, and several hundred breeders have a single cow that qualifies for the exclusive listing.

In county Monday Forgy seeks Republican support

For the fifth time since he announced his candidacy, Republican Larry Forgy brought his gubernatorial campaign to Rockcastle County.

Speaking from the Rockcastle County courthouse steps Monday night, Larry Forgy asked local Republicans to help him beat the bosses, the big money that is behind his opponent, Lexington Congressman Larry Hopkins.

"They'll remember me as the three hundred dollar man and you can rest assured that I am a Republican, unlike my opponent who says that he leans toward being bi-partisan.

In the final days of this Kentucky Primary, Forgy a Lexington attorney who dropped out of the race four years ago, has closed the gap on his opponent Larry Hopkins.

Hopkins, a noted Republican Congressman who has been elected several times in a heavily Democratic region has stumbled somewhat lately and has even unveiled plans that have already failed in other states.

"Larry Hopkins has shot himself in both feet and one knee since he began this race and the Democrats want him to win because they know he will be easier to beat this fall than I will," he told a crowd of supporters that included his local chairman Larry Dale Carter and local Tax Commissioner Elmer Hale, Magistrate Amos Burdette and former County Judge Hubert Thacker.

Forgy said that if he is elected he will roll back about $50 million a year in taxes and protect the education reform act. "The state legislature used the education reform act to go hog wild in raising taxes. They needed about $500 million dollars and they raised taxes almost $2 billion in order to fund all of their pork barrel projects," he said.

Forgy said that he would also work hard to see that the price of tobacco is increased.

"Out foreign markets are great, but if they expect farmers to grow more tobacco to build barns and increase their production the price is going to have to go up, it needs to be around $2.10 a pound," he said.

The former state budget director said that his opponent had never bothered to come in Rockcastle until Republican gubernatorial candidate Larry Forgy was in Rockcastle Monday night. Before he made a short speech from the courthouse steps he shook hands with Maude Randolph, T.J. Parsons, Bill Livesay, Paul Hansel, Benton Bullock and Amos Burdette.

Supporters of Republican candidate for governor Larry Hopkins, center, gathered around when he arrived at the Rockcastle Courthouse early Wednesday for a campaign speech. About 60 persons attended the rally. Hopkins was accompanied by GOP Lieutenant Governor candidate Lawson Walker.

State commissioners approve water board for outlying areas

By: Ray McClure

A Rockcastle Water Association that would supply water to areas in the county not now served has been approved by the Kentucky P.S.C. (PSC).

The commission's approval paves the way for the board to seek funding for several communities including Sand Hill, Lamero, Red Hill, Chimney, Clear Creek, Sand Springs to Pongo, Bryant Ridge and State Branch.

Anticipating approval by the PSC, County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins has a 17 member board in place to take action.

In its order, the PSC wrote that although there is a marked difference in the estimated cost of the project by engineers of the PSC and those of the applicants, "when the circumstances are viewed as a whole, it is clear that the formation of the proposed association represents the only means by which the residents proposed to be served by the new association will be able to obtain water service."

The PSC noted that "there is little question that a need exists for the proposed water utility. Kentucky has the highest proportion of residences without indoor plumbing in the nation. In the opinion of Judge Mullins, this is attributable to the lack of water utilities. In addition, the lack of a water utility produces a health risk to the residents who must rely upon the county's underground water for their needs."

"Rockcastle County is in a limestone area through which underground water migrates. A report by the Cumberland Valley District Health Department states that due to the presence of contaminants, the underground water is not bacteria free and is below acceptable standards for purposes of consumption."

"The lack of access to a water utility also requires many Rockcastle

County residents to purchase treated water delivered to them by truck. Water obtained in this way is expensive, costing between $20 and $25 for each 1,000 gallons of water delivered, the variation in cost being dependent upon the distance that the (Cont. to A7)

Hopkins says he is confident of win in May

A confident U.S. Rep. Larry Hopkins told a crowd of about 60 at the courthouse Wednesday with the team "we have here in Rockcastle, we'll win in November."

Hopkins, who is opposed in the governor's race by Larry Forgy, told his audience it's "time for an honest change in Frankfort."

"I was urged to run for the Republican nomination by President Bush, Reps. Harold Rogers and Jim Bunning and Sen. Mitch McConnell," he stated, "and with your help in the next week, and the help of Kentucky Republicans, we will be successful."

He took a few pot shots at Forgy whom he called a quitter and who "turned his back on education."

"I'll always be a strong proponent of education," he continued.

Pointing out he was born in Detroit, Mich., Hopkins said the reason was his family had to leave the state to find work.

"People don't want to leave Kentucky to find work," he related. "But they must to make a living. This has got to stop and I intend to help stop it."

He said, as governor, he will "wipe out corruption and waste in state government; create and protect Kentucky jobs; demand a world-class education for Kentucky's children; lead the battle against illegal drugs and crime; and reduce Kentucky's high taxes."

"Finally, he called on supporters to get committed to this camp, and in the next few days double your effort. We can't keep losing. We need a two-party system in this state."

The Congressman was accompanied by State Rep. Lawson Walker, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, who made a short talk.

Empty house destroyed by fire

An empty house owned by Monroe Hansel just off U.S. 25 south was destroyed by fire early Friday morning, Mt. Vernon firemen reported.

A mobile home, also unoccupied and owned by Floyd Smith of Mt. Vernon, was destroyed by fire about 10 p.m. Friday night at Tark Hill. The fire is being investigated.

Before his short speech Monday, Larry Forgy talked with Benton Bullock and Elmer Hale.

Truck windshield broken

A rock thrown from an I-75 overpass at Conway broke the windshield of a truck Sunday night.

Driver Ronnie Terry of Eagan, Tenn., estimated the damage at $500. The rock hit the passenger's side. Sheriff deputy Phillip Chesnut investigated.

John Bishop of Green Hill reported to the sheriff that a 55 horsepower Johnson boat motor was stolen from his home. He valued the motor at $3,000.

William Holt of Livingston reported a break-in at his home on May 10. Taken were sleeping bags, Coleman stove, Coleman lantern, tackle box, a fishing rod, a fishing reel and an 18-inch silver chain and a bottle of Musk. He estimated the value at $1,500.

Deputy Leonard Miller investigated.

Injury Update

Tina Marie Croucher, who was found beaten in Sparks Quarry at Burr last Wednesday, remains in the intensive care ward at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington.

Hospital officials called her condition, late Tuesday, serious.

Her assailant has not been arrested, but the incident remains under investigation by State Police.

Steve Curwin of Eubank, who was injured in a wreck last week at Willallia, remains in satisfactory condition at U.K. Medical Center in Lexington.

Also, Charlotte Halcomb who was injured in the same wreck, is listed in fair condition at U.K. Medical Center.

Mrs. Halcomb was in another car involved in the crash that killed Alben Saylor off Eubank.

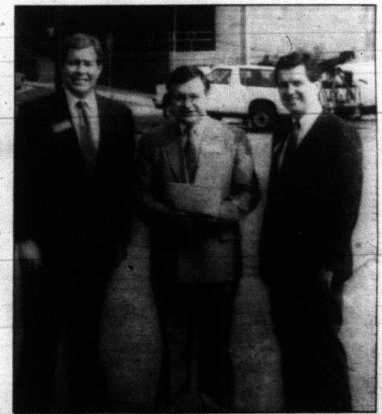

County gets grant for voting machines

Efficient and accurate election results will occur in Rockcastle County as a result of a state grant announced recently by Gov. Wallace G. Wilkinson.

An $18,000 grant from the Area Development Fund has been awarded to the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court for the purchase of computerized voting machines. Local funds in the amount of $27,385 will be used for a total project cost of $45,385.

The Area Development Fund is a capital projects program administered by the Department of Local Government in the office of the Governor.

The state's 15 area development districts make recommendations to the department on the basis of state law and policy for project funding. The Cumberland Valley Area Development District Board of Directors recommended this project.

State Representative Darryl Ford has announced his support of Lawson Walker for the office of Lieutenant Governor. Pictured above are U.S. Congressman for Ohio Bob McEwen, Rep. Ford and Lawson Walker.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,
 I find myself writing to you this year about the same thing I wrote to you last year. Someone has stolen my flowers off my brother's grave, Michael Ledford, again this year at the Fairview graveyard off Hwy 70. They were on the head stone and weren't in the way of mowing or cleaning the graves. It hurt me real bad and made me very angry. All the other graves who had flowers on the stone, like mine, were still there. No one had taken them. I guess if all the flowers were gone, I wouldn't have been so mad. They were my brother's flowers, not theirs. I bought them, they never!!
 I know who took them, a lady told me and I know it was for meanness.

They knew it would hurt me. They are sick to steal my flowers. This hurt my mom and I very much. We have bought flowers already for my brother's grave but I don't guess I will ever decorate his grave there again. It's not worth it to buy flowers for Mike and some cruel and heartless person steal them. Someday I'm gonna have his body removed and buried at Brodhead where he belongs.
 I just wonder if our flowers were too cheap or disgraced the graveyard. I guess if someone were to be mean, as was the case, they don't care. We know who it was and they do too. I hope they are far well since they stole Mike's flowers. They too will have a day to have a loved one gone and I hope they see how sad it is and how your life is all over and never the same when you lose a loved one.

 sommel would like to thank some people for a wonderful night at Reno Valley.

Thanks to Renfro Valley Folks for the fantastic show and help in getting it together. Thanks to Darlena Bowles for a hard effort in getting personal counts and money collection. Thanks to the financial support of Tom Payne of Broadhead Elementary, Jerry Mink of Livingston elementary and Darlena K. Bowles of the Mt. Vernon PTA. Our night was special and everyone is still talking about it.

Thanks, Charlie Napier R.C.E.A. P.S. Thanks to Donna Dailey

Dear Editor,
 I would like to take this opportunity to thank the officers of Mt. Vernon PTA, Lu Ed Nielsen, treasurer, Cathy Allen, secretary and my working mothers that come in every day to donate their time to our kids, Joyce Philbeck, Linda Singleton and Alice Cloud, for a job well done. Also, I would like to thank our supporting parents, students and businesses. You have all made this a very successful year in giving our children the extras they deserve.

A special thanks to the teachers and staff of Mt. Vernon Elementary. You have all stuck with me through the good and the bad and I appreciate all your support.
 I only hope we have more parents interested for next year. Every year we should strive to improve. It's for the greatest thing in the world to us, KIDS.

Sincerely yours,
 Darlena Bowles

Dear Editor,
 I attended the recent high school graduation ceremony and I was elated. Before the ceremony ended I was reminded of a very real truth.

When co-valuedictorian Jason Wilson spoke he made everyone there realize how fortunate we all are to live in a country where we are free to attend church services and worship. Sometimes we as Americans and even Christians take for granted the freedom to worship. It seems we attend church only at our leisure. If God was this way there might not have been a Savior nor a place prepared for us.

I'm extremely proud of people like Jason, who are not ashamed of their trust and beautiful relationship with Jesus Christ, the world's greatest friend and hope.

I, too, share Jesus with Christians all across the globe. Indeed, He is the greatest friend that anyone could ever have and any and all can have. He'll never hurt or fail you and He'll always be there for you.

I'm very proud of my International Christian family and I'm proud to be a Christian.

Dear Editor,
 In a day in which gubernatorial candidates are returning funds and contributors are being investigated by grand juries, one candidate clearly stands out above all the rest -- Larry Forgy has said I will not accept more than $300 from any contributor? Do you really have to take a second look before deciding.

Dear Editor,
 (To the employees of Mt. Vernon plastics)

Once again we are faced with a union organizing campaign. It seems like we can expect one every year along with rumors and half truths about the company we all work for. Rita Smith who feels women are discriminated against at MVP, she herself held and voluntarily gave up a machine operators position in printing. She currently holds a Q.C. position for the 2nd time during her employment at MVP. Seniority was certainly a factor in her being chosen for those positions. There are currently 90 some female employees who hold key positions at MVP and 70 some employees who have been promoted to key positions within the plant.

If you are confronted and faced with the decision of signing a union card please consider all your options and all the facts. Any union will only be as good as the local people who are involved. Are the people who are trying to organize this union the people you want to be your voice?

If teamsters have always stood by us here were they when MVP was a small company on the verge of bankruptcy with less than 100 employees.

We urge each of you, do not sign your name to anything you do not fully know and understand. Once they have your signature the next step is your wallet. Remember teamsters sell memberships. To them we are an investment, a profit, a way to make their business grow with money we could be taking home.

Support our company, refuse to sign a union card, let's beat this union one more time.

Dear Editor,
 There is a lot of talk in the Republican gubernatorial primary about resumes. We all have resumes, sometimes we make changes in them, and other times we don't. However, when you are running for the highest office in Kentucky the voters are entitled to be informed about a candidate's background.

Take Larry Forgy, he somehow managed to leave out his position as president of South East Coal Sales for three years from a resume his campaign produced. It is exceedingly difficult to forget three years of business wheelings and dealings involving millions of dollars. Was Forgy trying to cover up his part in South East Coal sales' negotiations with Kentucky Utilities on a contract buyout? Was the man, who calls himself the expert on fiscal matters, not quite so proficient when it came to making the actual business decisions? Was Forgy's handling of the multi-million contract buy-out and other South east Coal Sales' decisions faulty? Is that the reason he just happened to forget those three years.

Tell us, the voters, Mr. Forgy, just why you omitted this elevated business position from your resume and just what your part was in the KY-South East Coal Sales contract buy-out negotiations? Haven't you often remarked that an informed electorate is the best equipped to make a decision in the voting booth? So, inform us.

Dear Editor,
 Friday evening Bobby (Bub) Singleton was arrested, charges stemming from no headgear, which is against the law! Arresting officers were Larry Thompson and Ronnie Roark. Several people witnessed this from Burr Hill to White Star and must remain nameless because of charges being sought in court.

Bub passed the officers in Mt. Vernon City limits where they made motions pertaining to his helmet. He showed them that he had broken the strap and without it the helmet wouldn't stay on. He proceeded on through town and up Super-Test Hill where he observed Mr. Roark coming upon him very fast and also with a gun stuck out the window. Two or three feet from his bike is a man with a gun and with no intent of letting up so that he can pull over. Also behind Roark is Larry Thompson also at a high rate of speed both officers weaving, changing lanes and directly trying to cause him to have to leave the road on their condition, which were hard and fast! The only thing he could do was get away from them. This is eluding, which is against the law! Still there are witnesses to see all this and they will proceed. More than one person who saw these things happening say that it was very obvious that the two officers were trying to cause him to wreck! Just outside of Pine Hill Thompson pulled from the chase and off the road. This observed by yet more witnesses. Three to five minutes later he resumes the chase! Well out of the city limits and very well out of sight! Many citizens observed the happenings and have remarked on the closeness of Roark to the cycle and then as Thompson rejoined the chase the roadway that took place. Switching lanes, swerving the bike and driving across the yellow line in the other lane forcing innocent people from the road. I wonder if a 2 or 3 foot Roark couldn't have read the tag

The Mount Vernon Signal, Thursday, May 23, 1991, P-A-3 to help beat up this horrid criminal! If not for him they could have gotten away with more of their lies. Trooper Sutton saw to it that he was treated more as another human. Afterward Thompson reported to Bubs mother that he had wrecked it what put all those knots and bruises on him. Yet there were no scratches on him or his bike! Wonder how many he would have gotten had he been wrecked at that rate of speed with no helmet? Plus the factagorn Mr. Roark and Mr. Thompson there were too many witnesses.

The chase ended by the bike blowing up and finally crossing three lanes to keep from being run down. On the wrong side of the road against a guard rail before Bub could get off the bike Roark and Thompson were on him. Hitting him from behind before he ever released the bike. Then both men were beating him in the head, back and legs. There came the charges of resisting arrest and wanton endangerment. This scene also was witnessed by persons traveling on the road and by the citizens who had followed the whole chase.

Trooper Craig Sutton arrived on the scene soon after they stopped. For some reason then Thompson and Roark both became very courteous professional police officers taking in a menace to society. Mr. Sutton was very courteous and very professional otherwise they might have asked him

Our county needs good officers to keep the peace and maintain the law and we are fortunate enough to have some. What we don't need are vigilantes carrying guns and badges and continuing to give our county a reputation that we do not deserve.

Had Thompson and Roark had their way my brother would have been forced from the road and hopefully killed there -- a chase that ended had but it was all in the line of duty right guys? Blameless and completely lawful were these not your words Mr. Roark? Are we lucky you didn't force him from the road Mr. Thompson? Or are you?

Thank you,
 Sandi Nolan

"What Saith the Scriptures"

The word Disciple(s) is found some 270 times in the New Testament. It would do us well to spend a little time studying this important concept.

First, disciple is defined as a learner, a pupil, one who learns, with the desire to apply and follow that which is learned. Jesus said, "Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me." Mt. 11:29. We must learn of Jesus and his way, and then seek to follow such, for hearers only, are self-deceived and foolish. Jn. 1:22, Mt. 7:26-27.

The demands of being a disciple of Jesus Christ are great! Jesus said, "If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yet, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple." Lk. 14:26-27, 33. Hate in vs. 26 signifies the sense of love and less. We must love the Lord more than any other relationship. We must bear our cross, which demands the same attitude that Jesus had as he faced the cross. "Now my but time be done. We must forsake all and spot Christ first in our lives. And if we are not willing to meet these demands, we cannot be Lord's disciples! And if we are not the Lord's disciples we cannot go to heaven. And if we do not go to heaven there is only one other place to go in eternity, hell.

Jesus said in Mt. 28:19 "Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost." The marginal reads "make disciples of all nations," as does the ASV. The Lord is interested in having true disciples not throngs of people who make a pretense of following him. Convincing someone to go through the motions of following Christ will not prepare that soul for heaven.

The Lord wants committed disciples, who have given themselves to God by the will of God, II Cor. 8:5. It is interesting that the word disciple is found only in Matthew, Mark, Luke, John and Acts. And these are the very books that are needed to tell the gospel story of Jesus and to reveal the plan of salvation to the lost. Men have sought to lower the standard through false doctrines but Jesus still demands true discipleship in 1991!

Teen Center Perspectives

By: Ginny Gilpatrick
Rockcastle Teen Center

The teen center will close Memorial Day weekend until June 10. On that date a brand new summer program will begin, highlighted by the production of the smash hit Broadway musical Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. Allen Penson, well known for his past, always successful productions in Rockcastle County, has agreed to direct. Auditions, open to all ages from young teens to adults, will be held at the Teen Center on Williams Street on Friday, June 7, from 4 to 8 p.m. Those who wish to be on stage in chorus or solo, should come and audition to be guaranteed a spot. Rehearsals will be held three nights a week and performances are scheduled for August 8 and 9 at the high school. Teens may get involved in any aspect of production from acting or singing to scenery/prop/lighting/sound to costume-making. Times in the summer calendar are scheduled for all phases of production (see next week's Signal for the complete schedule).

For those who have other interests, the Center will offer recreation and swimming several days a week, sewing for pleasure or for 4-H projects, and two nights open till 10:30 for recreation or dancing. In addition, each Thursday there will be a trip to a State Park or other attraction.

Summer permission forms which include swimming and trips, must be signed by parents prior to the event. Permission forms which were signed earlier this year become valid after June 15.

The Teen Center staff, and Christian Appalachian Project wish to thank all the parents who loaned us their teens for a most successful school year. It has been a pleasure to watch the maturation of each young person as he or she has grown in a sense of responsibility and commitment to the standards of the Center.

Participation in service projects and structured programs has increased; ideas expressed at Teen Council have increased; and the good spirit among the teens has increased.

When the Signal goes to press next week, twenty-four teens will be on their way to Washington, D.C. and Millis, Massachusetts, thanks to the support of some very caring friends and relatives. The summer schedule will appear as the "Teen Center Perspective" column. Please cut it out and put it up on your refrigerator. Remember all teens are welcome and may come occasionally, or every day to any activity. Parents are encouraged to come in and see what goes on.

McKinney on Dean's List at Vanderbilt

Angela Danette McKinney

Miss Angela Danette McKinney, daughter of Danny and Betty Jo McKinney, was recently appointed to the Dean's List at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn. after completing her second semester of study.

Angela is pursuing a double major in English and psychology as pre-law. While at Vanderbilt, she served on the Commodore yearbook staff, participated in Project Write, was a member of Students Organized for Animal Rights, and was elected treasurer of Sigma Gamma Sigma, an honor society for Governor's Scholars at Vanderbilt.

To be named to the Dean's List at Vanderbilt, a student must maintain a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.5.

Completes degree

Dianna Joy Callahan has completed a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing from Eastern Kentucky University. Mrs. Callahan has been employed by the Rockcastle Hospital Respiratory Care Center since 1980. She is the wife of Hershel Callahan and the mother of Christy Carr and Hershel Dale Callahan of Mt. Vernon. Her parents are Bert and Ada Thacker of Roundstone.

Baker gets degree

Judith Broek Baker has completed a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing from Eastern Kentucky University. Mrs. Baker has been employed by the Rockcastle Hospital Respiratory Care Center since 1984. She is the wife of Ralph Baker and daughter of Proctor and Opal Broek of Copper Creek.

PAPA Awards at Livingston School

Five Livingston graduates received the Presidential Academic Fitness Award (PAPA). Awards are given to students with the following achievement criteria: an overall grade point average of 3.3 or better, composed of all grades in the school - including the spring semester of the graduating grade - and has received an achievement test battery score at 80th percentile including both verbal and mathematical skills.

The five receiving certificates and letters of congratulations from President George Bush were: Monnie Hinton, Peggy Sue Daugherty, Marty Poynter and Brian and Bruce Sizemore.

Livingston Elementary School had 29 students graduating from eighth grade, Tuesday evening, May 21, in the school gymnasium. Graduating with special honor were valedictorian, Peggy Daugherty and salutatorian, Monnie Hinton. Peggy is the daughter of Burness and Barbara Daugherty. Monnie is the daughter of Carolyn and Danny Hinton.

Leading the graduate procession were seventh grade honor students, Catherine Sue Lamb and Myrle Hopkins.

Graduating were: Floyd Edward Callahan, Edna Rebecca Cameron,

Harper gets degree

Shelly Harper, daughter of Alma Cable and Shirley Ray Cable, has completed her associate degree of nursing at Somerset Community College. She will be employed at Ephraim-McDowell Hospital in Danville.

Robert Clark

Joseph Clark

Congratulations!

Robert and Joseph Clark for a very successful year at LES. Rob and Joe, both completed the school year with honors and awards. Both students were members of the principal's list and had another year of perfect attendance. They are the sons of Mitch and Sandi Nolan of Livingston.

MT. VERNON MESSAGE

Tuesday, May 21, was a day of new beginnings for several of our students. In the morning about 90 kindergarten students graduated to first grade and at 7 p.m., 81 eighth-graders graduated to high school. We congratulate these students for their achievements and wish them well in their new studies.

Also on Tuesday we had Awards Day. Many of our students received certificates for perfect attendance all year, or for having missed only one day of school this year. We're very proud of their dedication to good attendance. Many students also were awarded for their academic performances. Several students had only A's or B's on their report cards and others had made the Year's End Honor Roll by having made the six week honor roll all year. Congratulations to all those who worked so hard.

On Friday, May 17, the seventh grade of M.V.E.S. took a trip to Starns, Ky. After arriving at Starns, we came to Big South Fork National Park, we got on a train and took a ride through the park. The Daniel Boone National Park and we saw some beautiful landscape and some breathtaking sights. The biggest thrill of the trip for me was when we went up over the ground and all that was holding us were the train tracks. Then we stopped at Burger King afterward. As you can probably see, we had a pretty good time.

By: Emily Mullins

On Monday, May 20, the eighth-grade took their trip to Mammoth Cave National Park, even though the weather did not cooperate with our plans, we managed to have a good time anyway.

From Ms. Bugg's Class: Stacey Bailey made the honor roll although her name wasn't on the list printed in the newspaper.

Ms. Bugg's class made $25 and also Mrs. Davidson's class made $25 at the "Fish Pond" booth at the Spring Fling.

The class guinea pig will soon be out of school just like the rest of us. It will be going to the home of Ms. Abney for the summer.

If anyone's wondering where Ms. Bugg heads out so fast on Mondays and Wednesdays, trying to beat the buses out, she's on her way to Livingston school for open gym with the girls' basketball team there.

Notice to students who will be 5th and 6th graders next year and are interested in "Boys Basketball."

You need to give Ms. Bugg your name and phone number so she can notify you when open gym will be this summer. Watch the Signal for more information. Open gym will be one week in June and one week in

In local races most weekly newspaper writers don't have the freedom to endorse who they think is the best candidate for the job. That is because some of the candidates are friends and certainly some of the candidates are close to family members and after all no one wants to hurt someone's feelings over a local election. And, nine times out of ten it makes little difference who the local self-proclaimed scribe endorses anyway. All too often in Kentucky it is who spends the most money, who pays the right family member or who buys the best Kentucky Bourbon. Let's face it folks, you are only kidding yourself if you don't think it still occurs in every Kentucky election. Votes are bought and sold and, until, there is some real election reform which includes people going to jail for crimes committed, it will continue to occur.

It is just like our supposed laws for littering and drunk driving, they are useless unless every part of the law works. Unless the law is enforced and unless the judges pass proper sentences for crimes committed.

I consider myself a pretty good judge of character, a person that can see through all the bull and as I listened to Larry Forgy Monday night I had an overwhelming desire to applaud, although it is against all journalistic principals ever taught. You are there to report what happens and it is unthinkable and certainly unethical to allow personal feelings to become involved.

CHARTING ROCKCASTLE

By Richard Anderkin

Of course I have never been one to comply exactly with the way other people do things. It isn't in my nature and I don't think it is in Larry Forgy's nature either. It would be different if any of the other candidates, Republican or Democrat, had made any solid statements as to what they intend to do about Kentucky's problems. The rest of the field seems to be depending upon the usual mainstays of any political race, making broad based statements that will not tie them to any certain agenda when they take office.

Most Kentuckians could not believe that Forgy would even attempt a run against Hopkins, especially after Hopkins got out and won the support of most Republican leaders, but Forgy isn't stupid. He knew that he was the best candidate and he has taken his message to Kentucky voters by way of 5300 contributions.

One thing that makes me weary of Hopkins is his obvious unlearning of many important issues facing Kentucky and his unwillingness to debate Larry Forgy on the real issues.

Ford endorses Walker

State Representative Danny Ford has announced his support of Lawson Walker for the office of Lieutenant Governor. In making the announcement, Ford said he had worked with Walker for the last seven years, and that he felt Kentuckians could make no better choice than Lawson Walker for Lieutenant Governor. "Walker has shown through his duties as State Representative that he is a concerned, dedicated, loyal and hardworking individual. He is the type of individual that has the ability to work and converse with those in Washington and yet who never forgets that the lifeblood of America is in its rural communities."

Ford continued by saying, "Walker is a family man, a man who is dedicated to his responsibilities as State Representative, a man who is dedicated to his church, a man dedicated to his community, and a man who is dedicated to Kentucky." Ford asks that his friends throughout Rockcastle County and the entire eighth legislative district join him in electing Lawson Walker as their next Lieutenant Governor.

There may be two Larrys running for office but there is certainly just one clear choice. Larry Forgy will do the best job for Kentucky. He will bring a welcome change to a political system that is usually bought and paid for by big business and special interest groups and he will be best for Rockcastle County.

Monday night Elmer Hale stood alone as the only local county-wide office holder, to show his support for Forgy. That is really a shame, because down deep the rest of our county office holders and leaders of the Republican party know that Larry Forgy is the best candidate and he will do the most for Kentucky and Rockcastle County.

As Larry Forgy said, he knew where Rockcastle County was before he announced for Governor, and I'm satisfied he will know where it is after he takes up residence in the Governor's mansion.

Hopkins first trip to the county was to raise money for his campaign. That is all well and good, but how tied is Hopkins to money. Who has he promised what and for how much money. If you think about it, a Hopkins administration would probably be little different from Wilkinson's administration.

Larry Hopkins has yet to tell us what he intends to do with a $600,000 war chest left from his contributors who wanted to keep him in Washington and he said Sunday on television that he was more of a bi-partisan than anyone else. The Fifth District doesn't need a bi-partisan Governor—we need Larry Forgy.

ABSOLUTE

of Walter "Red" Swinney Farm

36 Acres, more or less
Sat., May 25, 1991 10:30 a.m.

Mareburg Section of Rockcastle County

Location: Approximately 3 miles W. of Mt. Vernon on Hwy. 150. Turn off 150 near Mareburg Church. Auction signs are posted.

Mr. Swinney's widow, Ms. Geneva Swinney, is living out of state and no longer has a need for this farm, therefore, she has authorized our firm to market this excellent farm for the absolute high dollar.

TRACTS 1 THRU 4 - contain 4.65 to 5.70 acres and each have approximately 1275 ft. of road frontage on the Spiro-Mareburg Road. These tracts are level to gently rolling and are excellent for agricultural or development purposes.

TRACTS 5 & 6 - contain approximately 1/2 acre each and are excellent building lots.

TRACT No. 7 - contains 2.36 acres and is improved with the above pictured frame house. The floor plan of the house consists of a living room, eat-in kitchen, 3 bedrooms, and bath. It has storm doors and windows, electric heat, hardwood floors with carpet and a full basement. In addition to the house, there is a 32x40 barn with 16 ft. shed, plus some miscellaneous buildings. Stock water on this tract is furnished by a pond.

TRACT No. 8 - is a large country lot containing 1.15 acres.

TRACTS 9 & 10 - contain 4.29 and 6.15 acres, respectively, of rolling land which is practically all cleared.

When combined, there is a total of 35.89 acres, by survey. All tracts have frontage on Spiro-Mareburg Road and have city water available to them. The tracts will be offered separately then together, selling whichever way reflects the best returns for the seller. The farm has a basic tobacco allotment of 2,745 lbs., however, the effective allotment is 3,922 lbs. Should the farm sell in tracts, the tobacco allotment will be divided by the Rockcastle County ASCS office.

AUCTIONEER'S NOTE: Seldom do you have the opportunity to buy property in this section of Rockcastle County so, if you're in the market for a building lot, country tract or a small farm, be sure to attend this auction on May 25, 1991 - 10:30 a.m.

TERMS: 20% down day of sale with balance in 30 days. A 6% buyers premium will be added to the last bid to determine the final sales price.

For additional information, contact the selling agents.

About 60 will participate in this summer's RCHS Destination Graduation program

This summer, up to 60 students from Rockcastle County will take part in a special seven-week partnership project with Eastern Kentucky University.

The students, identified as "at risk of dropping out of school," will participate in the second Destination Graduation summer school project in Rockcastle County.

"We were very pleased with the first Destination Graduation summer school program last year," said Bige Towery Jr., superintendent of schools for Rockcastle County.

He noted that the program not only helps students progress academically but contains important self-esteem components.

Rockcastle County's high school students will be tutored by EKU students, who are Rockcastle County natives, he said.

Program officials said they hoped the college students will serve a role models for the high school students. Towery said he was looking forward to the opportunities that Destination Graduation will offer to Rockcastle County students.

"It's a total learning experience," Towery said. "It provides students a wide variety of experiences, in addition to their regular academic work. Students will take part in field trips, visit a college campus, and hear a selection of special speakers during the program, he said.

Rockcastle's summer program will offer high school English, math, consumer math, science, and American history, while Estill's program will offer high school English, math, general science/introduction to chemistry and physics, and American history.

Thames said EKU's student-tutors will help teachers at each high school in a variety of capacities, tutors will work with students in small groups, in one-on-one tutoring, and in larger group activities.

Each Wednesday, a speaker will visit the high schools to address subjects related to the summer school theme.

Special enrichment classes each Friday will be conducted on EKU's campus.

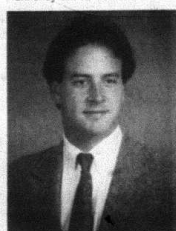

On-campus activities will vary according to the students' interests,

Nunnelley graduates law school cum laude

Richard A. Nunnelley graduated cum laude for the Louisville University school of Law in ceremonies held at Louisville Fine Arts Center, May 19, 1991.

He received special recognition as an editor of the Journal of Family Law and was named to the Brandeis Honor society and the Phi Kappa Phi Honor society.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Preston Nunnelley, Jr., Lexington, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Nunnelley of Mt. Vernon.

Richard A. Nunnelley

Thames said.

Summer school math and science students will be involved in a weekly hands-on computer/math workshop directed by Dr. Nancy Peel and Dr. Martha Sudduth at EKU's College of Education Computer Laboratory.

Students in the English classes will write and submit articles to their local newspaper about the enrichment classes and trips each week.

"National reform reports have recommended partnerships between institutions of higher education and public schools," Thames said.

"The coordinated efforts of Rockcastle and Estill counties and EKU's Destination Graduation project to provide these summer schools for at-risk high school students are examples of such partnerships."

Destination Graduation is funded through the Council on Higher Education to serve at-risk high school students in the Fifth and seventh Congressional Districts with monies provided by the Bell South Foundation and the Federal School, College and University Partnership Program.

The majority of the funding for the summer schools will be provided by the school systems through the Extended School Services of KERA.

"What distinguished the program is this special blend of educational opportunities—classroom and out-of-class experiences," he said.

"I haven't noticed any of our students complaining about summer school this year. On the contrary, they seem to be quite excited about it, which is something I enjoy seeing; students excited about learning."

Municipal Aid Fund Public Notice Proposed Use Hearing

A public hearing will be held by Mayor Gary R. Cromer at City Hall on Monday, June 3, 1991 at 2:00 p.m. for the purpose of obtaining written and oral comments of citizens regarding possible use of Municipal Aid Funds. The city currently has $70,000.00 in carry-over funds from fiscal year 90-91 and will be receiving $25,000.00 during the fiscal year 91-91 for a total of $95,000.00.

All interested persons and organizations in Mt. Vernon are invited to the public hearing to submit oral or written comments on the possible use of the Municipal Aid Funds. These funds will be used for the maintenance and repair of municipal streets.

Any person(s) (especially senior citizens and handicapped) who cannot submit comments, should call the city hall at 256-3437 so that arrangement can be made to secure their comments.

"Water Association"

water must be transported." The proposed association, plans to construct 107.28 miles of water line to serve about 608 households located in 18 identifiable areas: two of those areas would receive water from the city of Mt. Vernon; seven areas would receive water from the Western Rockcastle Water Association; three areas would receive water from the Northern Rockcastle County Water District; three areas would receive water from the Jackson County Water Association; and three areas would receive water from the city of Livingston. In addition, one area would receive water either from the city of Mt. Vernon or from Western Rockcastle Water Association.

Each of the utilities could serve these areas directly and are willing to extend service into them if the residents of the proposed areas bear the cost of constructing the necessary water mains and other facilities necessary to transport the water. Northern Rockcastle County Water District has, in fact, applied for a loan to serve the residents in one of the areas proposed to be served by the new association.

The cost of extensions from the cities would have to be paid entirely by the new customers, but extensions from the water districts and water associations would be apportioned between the new customers and the utilities in accordance with this Commission's regulations. However, the residents of the area to be served by the proposed association are unwilling and, in many cases, financially unable to bear those costs.

There is considerable disagreement between the Commission's investigative report and the applicants' engineer concerning the cost of construction and its ultimate impact in the form of rates upon the proposed utility's potential customers.

In the investigative report, Commission Staff estimated that it would cost $7,034,011 to construct a distribution system. Assuming that each customer contributed a service connection fee of $250 and the balance of the construction was financed by a loan, the estimated average bill, based on usage of 4,200 gallons a month, would be $84 per month. This is comparable to the cost of water delivered by truck at a charge of $20 per 1,000 gallons.

If the new association was able to obtain a grant for 50 percent of the total project cost, the monthly bill would be reduced to $53 a month, or approximately $12.65 per 1,000 gallons of water.

In sharp contrast to the staff's estimate, the applicants' engineer has estimated the cost of construction to be considerably lower. According to him, the total cost of constructing the system would be $3,325,000.

Assuming that the proposed association could obtain a grant for half of the cost from the Farmers Home Administration and finance the remainder with a loan, the average bill for each customer, based on an average usage of 4,200 gallons per month, would be $30 per month.

The monthly rate could be reduced further if funds can be obtained from other sources such as the abandoned mine lands funds.

Photo Contest

Amateur and professional photographers are invited to participate in the Cumberland Gallery Photography show sponsored by the Cumberland Valley National Bank of London.

The show is scheduled for August 12 through 16. To be eligible to enter their work, photographers must be residents of Clay, Jackson, Knox, Laurel, Rockcastle, Pulaski, and Whitley or past residents of Laurel County.

Prizes and ribbons will be awarded in the following categories: action/sports, humorous, landscape, nature/science, people, animal, and architectural. Within these classes, color and black and white prints will be judged separately. Photographers may enter two photographs.

Prizes and ribbons will also be awarded to participants 16 years and under. They may enter one photograph of their choice and must be a resident of the above mentioned counties.

Rotary Speaker

Jim Parman of the Lancaster Chapter of the Rotary Club will be the principal speaker at a meeting of Mt. Vernon Rotary at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday May 28 at Kastle Inn. His topic will be "Radio: Past and Future." Interested persons are invited to attend.

"Forgy"

(Cont. from front) He decided to run for Governor. "Larry Hopkins came to Rockcastle County to get money for his campaign. I was here many times before I decided to run for Governor and I have a genuine concern for the folks in communities like Rockcastle County," he said.

"The political system in this country is eroding and it is time that we stood up and did something about it," he said to a round of applause from supporters.

New music shop at Renfro Valley

Renfro Valley has a new attraction. It is the Renfro Valley Music Shop located in the Village.

Visitors to the well-known Renfro Valley Country Music Shows can purchase records and tapes of their entertainers currently performing at Renfro Valley, as well as those from by-gone years.

A Grand Opening Celebration, open to everyone, is scheduled for Saturday, May 25, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Renfro Valley performers will be on hand to sign autographs and special prize drawings will be held every half-hour. Cloggers will perform on Main Street in the Village at intervals throughout the day.

In addition, WKDP Radio will broadcast live from the Country Store, and Emory Martin, one-armed banjo picker and star of the early Renfro Valley bandances will be on hand for the opening.

With best wishes and good luck to Mark Carl from "Prepared" Quartet

Your loyalty and dedication to your gospel ministry and to your friends was second to none.

Your unselfishness in quietly doing your part to enhance our ministry in music, driving miles (at your own expense) to practice, and to singings miles away without a complaint.

You were always there to listen when we needed to talk, cheer us up when we were down and be there when we needed you.

Who but you could have had that unique way of filling the piano bench back on two legs, with an expression that might have made one wonder, "Do you think he can really play that thing? And then a soft ripple of music would come forth that would do justice to the Heavenly Choir.

You always tried to quietly cover up our mistakes (which were many) by circling back and picking us up as if we'd never skipped a beat.

What we're really trying to say is, pianists come and go, but you will always have a very special place in our hearts, because, in addition to being an excellent pianist, you are one special guy, and we love you!

Things will never be quiet the same, but with people like you serving our country, we can be assured of having a better country in which to live.

Lovingly,
"Prepared"

Forgy made reference to the fact that most of Rockcastle County's elected officials are against him, but he said that did not bother him because he knew that many of them may cast a different vote when they get behind the curtain.

Former county garbage coordinator Calvin Mize told Forgy that most of the county's elected officials were probably for him, but they had publicly committed to Hopkins.

For Democrats/For Kentucky, SCOTTY BAESLER

Which of the candidates for governor can provide the competent and proven leadership Kentucky needs?

The answer is clear.

SCOTTY BAESLER

As a life long resident of Kentucky, and in 10 years as mayor of Lexington, SCOTTY BAESLER has proven his abilities. It is time to give him a chance to show off those abilities in a larger arena.

- He has run the Urban County Government efficiently and without a major scandal in his three terms as mayor.
- He has demonstrated an array of skills and been effective in obtaining state and federal funds for needed projects.
- He has tackled the troubles of the Kentucky River and other environmental issues.

- He has solved difficult problems by bringing people together and finding common ground where none seemed to exist.
- He is the strongest candidate for education reform in the field.

These are just a few of the reasons that you should vote for SCOTTY BAESLER in the primary and in the fall in the general election.

The answer is proven.

SCOTTY BAESLER is a politician of uncommon skills in a state with uncommon needs.

Specifically, the theme of this year's summer program in Rockcastle County is "Knowing Ourselves, Knowing Our Community, Knowing Our World."
EKU is operating a similar program this summer for students in Estill County, where the theme is Preserving Our Environment in Estill County, in Kentucky, and Worldwide.

Students in both groups will hear presentations by Appalachian author James Still, humorist Carl Hurley, EKV English professor Dr. William Sutton, and authors George Ella Lyon and Loyal Jones.

Rockcastle County students will hear television executive Ralph Gabbard, newsmen Bill Bryant, and State Supreme Court Justice Joseph Lambert, among others.

Estill County students will be guests of State Sen. John A. "Eck" Rose, D-Winchester, State Rep. Clarence D. Noland, R-Irvine, will speak to the students at Estill County High School on Preserving the Kentucky River.

Students also will visit EKV's Hummel Planetarium, computer/math workshops, the Maywoods Environmental Center, the Kentucky State Capitol, Shakerown, the Kentucky Horse Park, Fort Boonesborough State Park, and White Hall State Shrine, among other planned enrichment outings.

"We believe that the Rockcastle County Destination Graduation project directly supports provisions of the Kentucky Education reform Act," said Nancy Thames, the project coordinator.

She cited Section 27 of the Act, which advocates that continuing education be provided for those students identified as needing additional time to achieve the outcomes required by Section 3 of the Act.

Rockcastle County's summer school will run from June 10 through July 26, and Estill County's program will run from June 13 to Aug. 2, she said.

Thank you

There are only two and half days of school left and Mrs. McQuerry's class is very excited about 7th grade. Over the summer some of us will be attending 4-H camp and other camps that are offered.

Mrs. McQuerry's class would like to say, congratulations to all of the graduates.

By: Katie Wilson and Talona King

Summer school will be conducted in each of the four county elementary schools from June 3 through June 28. The school day will begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 1:30 p.m. Each school will have two buses serving to transport the students from selected pick up points. Obviously, two buses cannot pick up every student where they are picked up during the regular school year, thus the schools will need the cooperation and assistance of parents in working out suitable transportation arrangements.

The students who will be participating in the summer school have been selected by their teachers through an individual educational plan designed for students with the greatest educational need. It is hoped that all students who have been selected to participate will attend every day and strive to learn as much as possible. Each student can look forward to a very enjoyable school experience.

This is our last Message for the year. We thank all who have contributed to our news, and we thank those students who helped gather and prepare the news items each week. As this school year ends, we would like to add this reminder: If you have tried to do something and failed, you are vastly better off than if you had tried to do nothing and succeeded.

KET offers summer activities for students

School may be out for the summer in June, but KET will continue to offer Kentucky children fun and challenging activities to develop reading, writing, and math skills.

The fast-paced video magazine format of Reading Rainbow motivates young students to read on their own for entertainment and enlightenment. The series stars LeVar Burton and will air on KET Monday through Friday at 10:30 a.m. beginning June 3.

Rockcastle County Preschool Programs

The Kentucky Education Reform Act of 1990 makes preschool education an important part of Rockcastle County's total school program.

PRESCHOOL PROGRAMS are educational programs that focus on the physical, intellectual, social and emotional development of 3 or 4 year old children.

Preschool programs offered through the public schools have the following components:

- preschool services for eligible children at no cost to the parent.
- activities that develop creativity and thinking skills through play
- partnerships with the parents through parent education
- cooperation among programs and with other agencies to provide services
- developmental, medical and health screenings

Rockcastle County Board of Education has available:

| FOUR-YEAR-OLD PROGRAMS | SPECIAL NEEDS SERVICES |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Participating children must be eligible for free lunch AND four years old by October 1 (all others as space permits). • Developmentally appropriate program for one-half school day | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Children with disabilities • Age 3 or above (as of birthdate) • Mainstream, center-based, home-based models for services • Related services, such as speech, physical or occupational therapies, transportation |

An optional preschool program also available is:
PACE (Parent and Child Education)
Family support program focusing on family literacy. Parents work on their G.E.D. while the child attends preschool.

It's Never Too Early To Start Building Blocks to Education

For information, contact Tammy Gabbard at 256-2125. Registration to be held May 23, 24 & 25 at Mt. Vernon Elementary from 9 to 2.

WE'RE FRIENDS YOU CAN DEPEND ON.

Ask someone who didn't receive good service when needed, and you'll find out how important it is. Especially if the service they expected (and didn't get) should have come from their insurance agent.

That's where we come in. Our business is providing dependable insurance service at all times, and protection plans based on your individual needs.

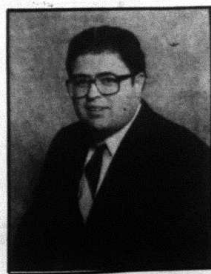

When you need us, we'll be there.

May we serve you? Just give us a call. You'll find we're friends you can depend on.

Our Roots Go Deep

You can make a difference
In our lost and dying world we find people lonesome, friendless, confused, worried and afraid. Yes, there are great numbers of people out in every part of our world without Jesus. We must tell them about Him. He alone can give them a full and meaningful life. Share hope by sharing the Gospel and taking part in your association.

Rockcastle Missionary Baptists celebrating church cooperation

The churches of Rockcastle Missionary Baptist Association are observing their annual Associational Emphasis-Week: May 20-26. The theme is: "Churches In Association: Our Roots Go Deep". Rev. Jack Bruce, Director of Missions for the Rockcastle Baptist Association, released a statement to the Signal in which he emphasized that "the association's roots are sunk deeply into the soil of Biblical principles, started churches, helped other churches, enjoyed a mutual and enduring faith in God and His Word, had a steadfast commitment to each other, and a determined concern for our world. We've been in this together and we'll stay in this together!" The Rockcastle Missionary Baptist Association is composed of 22 churches with a combined membership of 5,308 as of August 31, 1990.

which translates into quite a heritage - and quite a future. For more than 200 years Baptists have been on mission together through associations. We have ministered, evangelized, started churches, helped other churches, enjoyed a mutual and enduring faith in God and His Word, had a steadfast commitment to each other, and a determined concern for our world. We've been in this together and we'll stay in this together!" The Rockcastle Missionary Baptist Association is composed of 22 churches with a combined membership of 5,308 as of August 31, 1990.

Jamboree
Broadhead Christian Church will be conducting a "Camp Can-Do" Jamboree at the church this Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. There will be games, food, entertainment and the chance to pre-register for Vacation Bible School. Everyone is invited. Everything is FREE.
"All the law is fulfilled in one word - That thou love thy neighbour as thyself."

Rainstorm douses area with over five inches

By Ray McClure

A rainstorm that swept in a narrow band across Rockcastle Sunday night and Monday brought 5.72 inches of rain to Mt. Vernon, a probable record amount in the short time span.

Brodhead and Livingston also were deluged with water. At Livingston it was estimated that about 3.5 inches fell, and at Brodhead some estimates set the amount close to the Mt. Vernon figures.

Areas in northern and southern Rockcastle escaped the heaviest rain that elsewhere sent streams out of their banks, made highways into rivers, closed and washed out roads, and even caused top-heavy trees to fall. Farmers in the county were also hit by the pouring rain. According to Harold Ballinger at the ASCS office, about 200 acres of tobacco were either under water or damaged and about 1,500 acres of corn was probably lost or will have a reduced yield. Many gardens were under water.

Probably the most water accumulated in a "lake" at the rear of Mt. Vernon Elementary School where excavation and clearing work is being done in a sinkhole area. Water backed up from School Street at the school to Lovell Lane and nearly to Williams Street to the south of the school.

School officials believe the main sinkhole is still open since the lake fell about two feet overnight Monday into Tuesday. It continues to fall. "We just had too much rain to handle," one school official said.

There were many leaks in larger buildings, including Rockcastle County High School, Mt. Vernon Elementary School, Bank of Mt. Vernon, various churches, Agriculture Service Center, and Foodtown, to name a few. The courthouse didn't leak.

Many basements were also flooded from the backup of water in clogged or overworked drainage lines.

Several cars were caught in the water and abandoned. U.S. 150 and several county roads were under water at the height of the storm.

Hard hit, as it often is, was Cox's Mobile Home Court near Spout Spring in Mt. Vernon. Andy Barnett reported five mobile homes had water in them and that water ranged from two to five feet in the flood prone area.

Mrs. Stella Young, wife of Tim Young, had to swim out of a low lying area near their home, in Barnett Subdivision. Mrs. Young started across and water carried the 1990 chevrolet truck into about four feet of water. Alarmed, she swam to safety, the truck was towed out by Eatons.

For the record, at Cox Funeral Home weather station the rain began late Sunday night, and until 8 a.m. Monday, a total of 3.02 inches had fallen. No wind or lightning accompanied the rain.

From 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Monday another 2.60 fell. From 10:30 a.m. Monday to 8:30 a.m. Tuesday there was .10 of an inch as the rain stopped.

It was the most rain to fall since last December when 4.82 inches fell in a similar time span. A total of 4 inches fell on Mar. 5 and 6 in 1989. Last December's monthly total was 6.75 inches.

Several heavy rains have fallen in Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle from time to time, but few persons remember when as much fell as on Sunday night and Monday.

Possibly, the heaviest and most rain fell the last week of January 1937, known as the Ohio River and Louisville flood. That year water backed up from the school sinkholes into houses in the area. The rain continued for most of the week all across Kentucky.

Friendly reminder

For those who may not have heard, Martha Wilkinson, wife of the governor, is no longer a candidate for office.

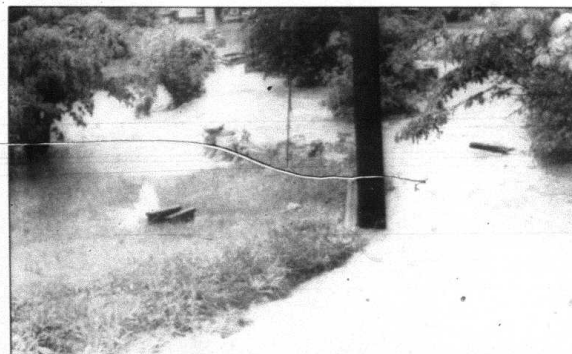

According to county clerk Norma Hook, Mrs. Wilkinson is still on the ballot, but persons who vote for her will lose their vote. Votes for Mrs. Wilkinson will not be counted.

U.S. 150, which runs in front of Mt. Vernon Foodtown, was closed for about an hour and a half Monday morning due to heavy amounts of rainfall. The closing created minor traffic delays throughout the morning.

Water accumulated in every low area in Mt. Vernon, especially on Lovell Lane where basements filled quickly. The picture above was taken at the Owen Billingham residence on Lovell Lane.

Ditches filled quickly in the heavy downpour early Monday. The Ted Jackson family had water in their yard until Wednesday as water backed up from a sinkhole area near Mt. Vernon Elementary School.

Rockcastle sends six to state competition

Not often can Rockcastle County say that they sent a team or an individual to the state finals in any sport. One individual did go last year and is back again this year, of course the only difference is, there will be five more along with him.

Scottie Hines will be joined this year by William Bullens, Lisa Spencer, Michelle Mullins, Amy Thacker and Traci Phillips in the state competition of Class 2A track and field. A grand total of six.

Out of the nine events entered in last Saturday's sectionals, Rockcastle walked away with four first place finishes and one second place finish.

Hines captured first place in both the shot-put and discus during the sectionals. His throw of 144' 9" (new school record) in the discus is ranked second in the state while his throw of 46' 6 3/4" is ranked fourth. Hines will have distances of 146' 8" in the discus and 52' 6 1/2" in the shot (top three in the state) to shoot at for a state title. Both top throws were recorded by Jerry Ingram of Harrison County.

"Hines placed second in the shot and seventh in the discus last year," said head coach Tom Larkey earlier this week, "I believe, with a good day, he can place second in the shot and win the discus this year," he added.

Larkey also addressed his other member, Bullens, who also placed first in the long jump with a jump of 20' 5". Realistically, if Bullens equals his sectional jump in the state, he should finish fifth."

Larkey's comments were based on the fact that four other jumps recorded through the state were over Bullens' distance, two over 22' and two over 21'. Of course, Bullens has already posted a better jump of nearly a foot since the regionals when he jumped 19' 6 1/2".

Of course, Larkey was not the only one with a smile on his face, girls' head coach Tammy Cox was very pleased with all four of her members that entered the sectionals and advanced to the state.

Spencer headed the group with a first place finish in the 400m dash with a time of 1:03.4.

And Spencer, along with Phillips, Thacker and Mullins, placed second in the 1600m relay with a time of 4:28.9.

Cox commented that Mullins, who placed third in the long jump with a jump of 15' 6", was just edged out of second place when Makeisha Lee of Middleboro leaped 15' 7" on her last attempt.

However, Cox said that Spencer's time, Mullins' jump and the relay team's time were all new RCHS records.

The state finals will begin this Saturday, May 25, at the University of Kentucky's track beginning at 9:30 a.m. The schedule of events are Hines throwing the shot at 9:30 a.m. and discus at 3:00 p.m., Bullens long jumping at 9:30 a.m., Spencer running at 2:30 a.m. and the relay team running at 4:50 a.m.

Expos are only undefeated team in first week of Senior League action

Compiled by: David Brock

The Expos remain as the only undefeated team, 1-0, in first week action of Senior League. The league began this past Saturday at Thacker Field in Brodhead with the Pirates taking on the Indians in the opening game. Willie Witt struck out six, walked three and gave up only three hits to lead the Pirates to victory, 15-1, over the Indians in five innings.

The following game boasted the Dodgers against the Reds in a very good ball game. Pitcher Mikhael Shaffer went the distance for the Dodgers in their 11-7 win.

Again, the only undefeated team, the Expos, notched their first win, Monday at Thacker Field, over the Pirates in a pitching duel between high school teammates Greg Goff and Greg Bowman. Goff got the nod as the Expos edged out the Pirates, 8-3. Over at Roundstone on the same night, the Indians squeaked by in a scoring fest, 15-14, over the opposing Dodgers.

In Major League action, the Cardinals defeated the Pirates, 10-4, at Thacker Field last Tuesday. And at Roundstone, Thursday, the Twins pulled off a big 10-0 victory over the Cubs.

The Cardinals also spread out a 10 run margin at Roundstone Friday with a 11-1 win over the Cubs. Also, winning were the A's with an 11-5 margin over the Reds at Thacker Field.

The Cubs played a fine ball game Saturday, but were downed in the sixth inning, 15-12, when the opposing Padres rallied to score five runs.

The Bears started the Minor League action last Tuesday with a 27-9 rout over the Cubs. On Thursday, the Giants also found a win over the Cubs, 18-16, in a game that was called on the time limit. The Orioles downed the Angels, 21-11 on the same night.

The Pirates received their first loss Friday when they lost to the Bears, 13-7. On Saturday, the Orioles defeated the Cubs, 21-6, and the Giants defeated the Angels.

The Pirates scored the most runs by any team this year when they defeated the Cubs, 36-10, in Monday's final Minor League game.

Homerun leaders to date for Senior League are Jason Payne and Greg Bowman of the Pirates, John Martin of the Dodgers and Brian Carter of the Reds, all have one apiece.

Homerun leaders for the Major League are: Brad Helms of the Padres, three; Mark Todd of the Twins and Josh Blanton of the A's, both with two and Brian McMullen of the Twins, Blake Childress of the Cardinals and Jonathon Northern of the Reds, all with one.

Standings for Senior League are: 1) Expos, 1-0; 2) Dodgers, 1-1; 2) Indians, 1-1; 2) Pirates, 1-1 and 5) Reds, 0-1.

Standings for Major League are: 1) Padres, 6-3; 2) Twins, 5-2; 2) A's, 5-2; 4) Cardinals, 4-2; 5) Reds, 3-4; 6) Pirates, 1-5 and 7) Cubs, 0-7.

Standings for Minor League are: 1) Pirates, 5-1; 2) Bears, 4-1; 3) Orioles, 4-2; 3) Giants, 4-2; 5) Angels, 1-5 and 6) Cubs, 0-7.

Education card required for hunters

If you want to hunt in Kentucky this year and were born on or after January 1, 1975, completion of a state-approved hunter education course is required. The requirement applies to residents and nonresidents.

There seems to be some confusion over exactly what the requirement means.

Some folks have been led to believe they must complete the hunter education course before purchasing their hunting license.

Not so.

The law simply says hunters "shall, while hunting, carry a valid course completion card in addition to the appropriate Kentucky hunting license." The key words here are "while hunting."

Simply put, a hunter education course completion card must be in the hunter's possession while hunting. Hunting licenses may be purchased anytime, whether or not the buyer has completed the hunter education requirement. But, if the hunter's birthday falls on or after Jan. 1, 1975, that person needs to earn a course

By: Ike Adams

A lot of people are mad at me right now because I've been throwing baseballs at their favorite politician. Since the heat is already on, I figure that I may as well go ahead and get everybody in my immediate family angry too. Because I aim to go public with a rather touchy subject we've been dealing with lately.

Jennifer, our eighth grader, wants to be a high school cheerleader. Pardon my bias, but Jennifer is a pretty girl, very athletic, outgoing, industrious and God knows she has the mouth for it. She probably has a shot at making the squad. Even if she didn't, I know that she'd give a good accounting of herself in the tryouts and on the bottom line, that kind of attitude is most important anyway.

And I don't have a thing in the world against my daughter being a cheerleader. I happen to believe that it's a rather wholesome way to learn some discipline, get plenty of physical exercise, practice team building, experience enthusiasm, and probably half a dozen other attributes that I'm leaving out. I'd be a pretty proud dad if she made the squad.

But not nearly as proud as I would be if cheerleading was offered for every girl at Garrard County High School, or for that matter, at all the elementary schools and the middle school in our county. But I'd be willing to bet that at least 70 percent of the kids in our schools don't even dare to dream about being cheerleaders because it simply costs too much.

From what I can gather, and this is not an exaggeration, if Jennifer makes the cheer leading squad, Loretta and I will be expected to cough up between $500 and $800 for uniforms, shoes, camps and other paraphernalia. Five hundred if Jennifer can befriend a senior her size on this year's squad. But more likely, $700 to $800 because they may want new uniforms anyway.

What it would mean, in our household, is that something has to be put on the back burner. For instance, a computer, in my opinion would be a bit more educational than a $100 pair of Reeboks.

But both Loretta and I work full time and Jennifer will get some earning opportunities this summer that should enable her to save a couple hundred dollars. If she makes the squad, we'll probably find a way to pay for it even though I think it's one of the wrongest wrongs with which I've ever been associated.

It's wrong because it sends a message to kids that they can be anything they want to be as long as mommy and daddy have the money to pay for it. It's wrong, because kids with per-daps more athletic and gymnastic potential, better attitudes and more raw talent than the kids who do make the squad, can't even compete for it. They live in families that simply can't afford to shell out between $500 and $800 dollars of cheerleading money. Many of them live in families that can't afford to shell out $10.

Two years ago I used to drop off a couple of kids who came to my ten center at one of the Public Housing neighborhoods in Lancaster. Four little girls would invariably be going through cheering routines while a group of boys played basketball on the community court. They did synchronized cartwheels, back flips and tumbling moves that were awesome to watch. And when they would catch me watching, they would yell for me to wait a minute so that they could demonstrate a new move.

At first I thought they were on the grade school squad. But after I got acquainted with them, they told me that they'd like to be, but their mothers didn't have the money. They were easily the best squad in the county. I know so, because Jennifer was on the Paint Lick ball team and I saw all the others. These kids would have been the envy of most high school squads, but when trophies were handed out at the tournament, they never had an opportunity to even compete for them. And that, folks, is just absolutely wrong.

It's not just Garrard County. In most rural schools across the state, kids who come from families with modest incomes are prevented from competing for the prestige that goes with being a cheerleader. Kids with musical talent can't afford a band instrument. And how many seniors couldn't make the trip because Mom and Dad couldn't afford it.

I would much rather Jennifer stir up a little protest among all the girls in Garrard County about the high price of cheerleading than become one. I'd much rather see her carry a banner along with ten or twelve other girls until they embarrassed the school and the sponsors and the board of education into making it possible for any kid with the talent to try out for and perhaps become a cheerleader. That, to me, would be a much more impressive undertaking than trying to become a member of the squad.

The leadership and prestige opportunities at our schools should be just as open to the lower income kids as they are to the folks who can somehow find the money to pay for them. And until they are, we are sending those kids a message that you can buy anything you want to be but you sure better have the cash. We're telling them that they're no good because their parents don't have enough money. And we're paying good money for counselors and other school officials to figure out why so many of our kids drop out of school. Read this column again and you'll start realizing why a bunch of them do so.

Most kids believe it or not, can deal with competition. Most kids can sleep at night when they get bettered at a game or on a test. But they harbor some bitterness when they know they can't be cheerleader or in the band or on the senior trip because Mom and Dad don't have the money that would enable them to try. And by godly they have every right and reason to be depressed. No wonder they drop out in such alarming numbers.

Responsible school administrators would do something about that inequity. Make it affordable for every single kid in the system or do away with it altogether. That rule ought to be applied across the board and until it is, we can forget about making much of a dent in the drop out problem. We can stop lying to kids by telling them they can be anything they want to be. The hypocrisy in that old bank of bull manure is as obvious to most of our kids as the bright capital letters on the cheerleaders' sweaters.

From the very beginning, our goal has been to help people by offering the best financial services available.

Many changes have taken place in the world since we opened our doors . . . and this includes people's financial needs and the way our bank has met those needs.

Over the years, we've taken an active role in the community with home mortgages and commercial loans for people committed to building a better life. Many savings programs with various interest earning opportunities have been developed. We've worked hard to assure each investment with us remains secure.

We recognize our bank needs to make continual changes to keep pace with our ever changing world, however, we won't change our philosophy. Sweet and Sour Birthdays

By: ZI Graves

A very special holiday that has never been proclaimed a national holiday yet is celebrated by every living person in some way or other is their birthday. There may be those who deny their age or perhaps truly forget their birthday, none-the-less when that special day arrives and passes by another year is marked to their credit in the census records or in their family records. So it is a special day in our lives whether we admit to our age or skip the day.

The day we are born is the most important one I guess but we don't enjoy that one nearly as much as all the rest that follow.

There is the first one. After a year of walking the floor half asleep while the baby snuggles on your shoulder, fixing bottles, changing diapers, then watching the first smile upon a face where a toothless mouth is opened pleasantly instead of in a squawl. Mamas Daddies and grandparents are, not only relieved that the first year is past but they are so proud of that unpredictable, laughing mischievous bit of humanity they go all out to make it a day that rivals Christmas.

Gifts are all over the place, new toys cover the floor, stuffed animals cover the beds, squeaky toys are shoved aside for those they make louder noises. A cake is placed in front of a greedy little mouth with no punches pulled. And little hands dig in while cameras flash and gins break the faces of all the elders as icing covers the face, as the baby seeks the open mouth and tries to cram every bit into it. Then the hair is covered into the little one year old itself looks like a half eaten piece of cake that has been discarded. The new one year old is just as sweet and often as obnoxious at the end of the day as the left over cake. This is only the beginning of birthday celebrations. The two year old has learned how to be demanding and the house is once again run over with new toys. Birthday party time with cocky little hats set on heads at crazy angles and dressup clothes appear during the elementary years. It seems to me they come between the years seven and eleven. That is when two wheel bikes make their appearance and gifts take on new meaning. This is when parents wanting to please their offspring go all out to keep up with the Joneses. If a child down the street has a two speed bike and their child still has his leamers bike then he also has to have a new one with two speed attachment. Birthdays are the perfect time to make these demands. The joy in their face upon receiving these gifts are well worth the sacrifice you had to make to get it, and the careless treatment it often receives after the first week or so makes one want to trade it in for the new outfit that was sacrificed for it. Still the next years roll around and the teen years with all their demands are on you before you feel like you have the cake cleaned off the baby face.

Cakes of all descriptions accompany these years. Mothers don't seem to wait for another year to roll around so she can try her skill (or someone else's skill) on a new idea to decorate the cake for that special child on his/her special day.

My cakes were usually about the same. I baked from scratch and decorated it myself from my own recipe for icing. I never had a disappointed child when they cut their cake. We didn't have parties and fancy hats and two speed bikes but each child did have a good meal fixed in his or her honor with always a big white cake decorated with candles on it as a center piece. I was lucky when Polly then I had only one cake to bake. But on that cake each child was recognized in some special way. . . Usually it was their names written in fancy lettering and joined in some way. For years Rodney tried to be home on birthday time so he and Polly could share their special time together. They still make an effort to do so.

Birthday time at our house was a day for a little extra fun and laughter at the evening meal where the cake was served and gifts were opened. The cake seemed to be my main concern for it was what I enjoyed doing most. I loved the look of surprise and joy when I would come up with a new idea. I remember one birthday of July's, I think it was her eighteenth, I know she was in college and couldn't get home for it. I also knew the kind of up-side-down cakes I made was her favorite so I outdid myself making the biggest and best I had ever made. To disguise it to look like a birthday cake I decorated with pineapple with fruits of frosting. The cherries filling the centers looked like tiny candles. So off to Berea I went and walked into her room where several girls were already gathered and everyone enjoyed the most unusual birthday cake they said they had ever seen. Those years are long gone. No more happy voices heard singing Happy Birthday to you but the memories linger on. Even though most of us would not like to turn back the clock of time and go through those years again I think most of us would still like to sit on the sidelines and enjoy the merry making of others going through the same thing.

This brings me up to the most recent birthday celebration attended. One doesn't have to be a baby with cake on it's face nor a sixteen year old receiving his or her first car to enjoy a birthday. Eighty year olds can and do still enjoy the attention they receive on their special day. And at tanning ones eightieth birthday is something to celebrate about.

My niece, Peggy, wanted to make her dad's eightieth birthday the most special one he had ever had when he stopped by her home in Houston on his way back to Kentucky from Arizona. She called me to see if some of his family could be there for the big surprise. My answer was count me in. I will be there. My younger sister gave the same answer and we began getting our reservations and making our plans. She and I arrived a few days early so we could visit with a nephew who lived in the area. That visit alone was worth the trip but the real pay-off came when we drove into the driveway in Peg's and she and I were greeted with such a warm hug from the house so they could witness the surprise when I saw us. Needless to say he was struck dumb. Our appearance along with our nephew, Glen and wife Ruth was the last thing he would have thought of. The secret was finally out that this was to be a special day in his life. Flowers that had arrived from my children for Uncle Ish and Mother's Day had been sneaked into the shower so Ish wouldn't see them and so what if they were for, now they were proudly displayed and the sparkles from them

YOUR CAMPAIGN FOR KENTUCKY

I HAVE PRIDE IN KENTUCKY

John Frith Stewart For Lt. Governor

JOHN FRITH STEWART is a native of Brodhead, Ky., the son of Christine Frith Stewart of Louisville and the late Charles Stewart. He is a learned man, well-known in his area of achievement. Reprinted below is a letter written to the Louisville Courier Journal by a Louisville resident which details Mr. Stewart's qualifications for the office he seeks.

...'Switch' to Stewart

I am an 80-plus-year-old, senior citizen and a lifelong Republican. Rare is the time when I will switch party lines and cast a vote for a Democrat. This year, however, I am compelled to make that switch and cast my vote for a man who would serve this state with distinction, John Frith Stewart, running for lieutenant governor.

I've known Stewart and his family since he was a teenager attending Shawnee High School. It was apparent to me even then that he was a born leader. He won many academic awards in high school and college. He was elected the Youth Governor of Kentucky by the YMCA Kentucky Youth Assembly. He was recipient of the Ford Foundation Acceleration Scholarship for four years to the University of Louisville. He was an International Living Scholarship recipient to Geneva, Switzerland in 1955 and obtained his juris doctorate at the University of Louisville in 1960 (age 22).

Today, Stewart is an extremely capable Louisville attorney who is respected in all legal circles and most particularly, in labor relations circles in his community and throughout Kentucky.

Uniquely, Stewart is only asking $50 per individual toward his campaign and is traveling every day getting his message out across the state. When the primaries take place May 28, I feel confident Stewart will receive more votes per dollar spent than any other candidate.

I feel I know a good man when I see one, and John Frith Stewart fits that bill. He is a natural leader and I know he has Kentucky's best interest at heart. I'm making a switch come May 28 and I urge my fellow Republicans to do the same.

Hady Lou Beckett
Louisville 40214

JOHN FRITH STEWART is very clear and concise on where he stands on the major issues facing Kentuckians today. In a recent platform paper, he detailed what he intends to do about the following issues:

EDUCATION REFORM: Call together leaders from education, business and develop the long-term plans that will make Kentucky a leader. Our young people's education can be directed to prepare them to meet our country's future needs. Let's look forward to the day that Kentucky is ranked #1 in education.

JOBS: Attract new businesses, while striving to retain the ones we already have. Only 61 days' notice of a business' plan to close its doors, doesn't give local governments or labor officials time to prevent moves from the state; find the "at risk" employees.

MEDICAL CARE: Find a solution for the spiraling costs which have threatened to make adequate health care unaffordable, and unobtainable for many; union, education, health care providers, insurers, business and government leaders, here and abroad will be invited to work until the problem is solved; DO IT NOW

WORKPLACE SAFETY: Strive to eliminate the risks of employment-related injuries and illnesses; you deserve no less.

ENERGY CRISIS: Find new uses and opportunities for coal. Now is the time to expand Kentucky's coal industry.

PRISON REFORM: Limit parole: A job waiting, required.

PUBLIC EMPLOYEES: Guarantee collective bargaining. We need to educate government leaders throughout the state of the benefits of collective bargaining. These forums, sponsored by the Lt. Governor's office, should be conducted by the leadership of Kentucky's labor/employee organizations.

SENIOR CITIZENS/RETIREES: Senior Kentuckians shall plan with us to fulfill their dreams of the past and needs of the present.

In The Forum section of the Sunday, May 19, 1991 issue of the Courier Journal, John Frith Stewart spoke out on the issue "What Happened to Efficiency in Our Government." Mr. Stewart said,

"Kentucky voters choose a lieutenant governor based upon what he promises to do for them, while lieutenant governor, as most serve out their full terms.

I accepted my fellow Kentuckians' cry for "campaign finance reform," voluntarily limiting individual's contributions for the primary race to $50.

With experience of two years as judge, 16 years as mayor, and 30 years as a lawyer, I have observed, statewide, Kentucky's problems and opportunities. The support given by educators, labor and business interests for my nomination to the president as federal court judge is the strongest evidence of my credibility, fairness and concern for Kentuckians.

The endorsements and recommendations of the Kentucky Education Association's KEPAC, numerous other employee organizations (memberships totaling over 75,000), senior citizens, farmers, businessmen, ministers and even my town's Presbyterian/Republican mayor, are indicative of their knowledge that I, through lieutenant governor/citizen forums, can get people to work together to take steps to: (1) solve our medical care crisis; (2) develop a statewide Education Forward 2000 cheering and support organization to strive towards a No. 1 ranking in education (operating from each of our 120 counties); and (3) focus on retaining Kentucky's employers, keeping jobs, here.

Please vote for a "caring" Democratic lieutenant governor candidate."

Fairview

By: Mrs. Hubert Chastain

Worship services were well attended at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend. Sunday school attendance May 19 was one hundred and twenty nine.

There is nothing more beautiful (or to me anyway) than seeing a good Christian Mom and Dad taking their children to church and Sunday school. Children need to be brought up in the House of the Lord. What they learn in their early life is what they will always remember. Children are so precious, and need love and more love, along with discipline and guidance. So never, ever treat a child mean or abuse it. After all they are human beings like we are, they are just smaller, prettier and sweeter.

Our deepest heart felt sympathy goes out to the family of Mary Elizabeth (Noland) Tudor who passed away May 7 in Lexington. She was 81 years old and died of cancer. She was buried in the Richmond Cemetery. The whole family, whom I love deeply, have the prayers of many friends. May God comfort them in their trying time.

We also wish to extend our sympathy, love and prayers to the loved ones of Aster Shouse of Berea who passed away May 10. May God be with those who left behind.

Do hope all you wonderful mothers had a very happy Mother's Day. I love you and your family are well and happy, you are so blessed.

If we mothers who are enjoying these things could only be concerned and think about those who don't. I'm so thankful that all of our children are close and we can see them often. God blesses in many ways.

Congratulations to all you Rockcastle County High School seniors who graduated Tuesday night May 14th. Four of the graduates were members of our church: Carol Isaac, Tonya Church, Gwyn Fowler and Ricky Welch. To these and all the other graduates - we wish you the very best in life. Just live a good Christian life and work hard and accomplish your goal of whatever it may be. Just remember you live in the greatest country in the world, America, and you can be what you want to be.

And you have many people who love you and are proud of you. God bless you all.

Recent guests of Mrs. Mary Cope have been Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Cope of Mt. Vernon, Christine Barnett of Berea and William Cope and sons of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Ridgell and Sherry were guests of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ridgell of Corbin May 5th.

Guests in our home recently have been James Lambert and granddaughter Lora Lee Lambert of Mt. Vernon, Bill Stephens of Rockford. Others were Wayne and Carolyn Chastain, Tip Reppert, David Wayne and Kim Chastain, Allen Alexander, Monica Chastain, Eugene Alexander, Rex and Jewell Davidson and son Jeremy.

Woody Gabbard of Berea visited Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander last Saturday.

Hubert Chastain visited Tip Reppert recently. Tip at this time isn't feeling too well but we hope he will continue to improve and be feeling better soon. Hubert has been able to attend church with me the past two weeks and we are so thankful for that. The weekend of April 28 Mr. and Mrs. Bill Patrick and Mrs. Georgia Blair all of the Fairview vicinity and Mrs. Blair's sister, Dorothy Gabbard of Berea visited relatives in Lima, Ohio, two sisters Mrs. Mable Poynter and Mrs. Irene Shanks and husband Charles. They also brought their brother Lee Moore from a nursing home to join them at Bal's for a family reunion on Sunday. They also got to see and visit Bill and Linda Mays and Frank Poynter's wife (Frank died a few years ago). After spending a most enjoyable time together, they returned home on Monday. As we get older and some of our family members have departed this life, time together for the ones that are left, seems more precious. But that great home-coming in Heaven will be wonderful when we can be together forever and ever. So to all that reads this article I'd like to say to each of you, if you aren't prepared to die, please get ready for we never know just what moment we will be called out of this world and the way we die is the way we will meet God.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Goodrich last Sunday. They also visited at the funeral home and attended the funeral of Aster Shouse and have had as recent visitors Allen Alexander and Cleus Peters.

Please go to church and Sunday School everytime you can and love and pray for one another. May God bless and keep you in my prayer.

Clarissa Hubbard celebrated her 7th birthday May 24, 1991. She is the daughter of Katherine Hubbard of Mt. Vernon and Larry Hubbard of Lexington. Paternal grandparents are Frank and Glessie Hubbard of Livingston and maternal grandmother is Esther Johnson of Richmond. Maternal grandparents are Hermon and Debbie Johnson of London. Maternal great grandfather is Ernie Mason of Livingston.

"SWEET AND SOUR"

I gave a festive look to the room. Peg's son brought yellow roses and they were like bits of sunshine in the breakfast nook. It was here we gathered for the fun things, like opening the gag gifts. Since Ish has always been a prankster he had several of these to open.

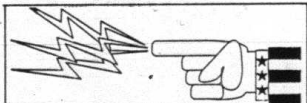

A Mexican dinner was prepared by Peg's two young daughters and her son cleaned up the after dinner mess. Peggy was always in the background anticipating and taking care of everyone's needs but she was never far from Daddy.

The dining room was decorated with all the frivolous things that go with birthday parties and was a perfect backdrop for the meal. Besides the big chocolate cake, Laura baked especially for her grandpa. She knew what his favorite cake was. We all wore silly little hats that sat askew and giggled throughout the picture taking just like we were at a child's party. Really it was a second childhood party and we acted the part.

Sunday A.M. was spent at church where Ish was recognized for his longevity and his sixty plus years of service to God. The celebration was finished Sunday evening with a dinner hosted by Jim, Peggy's husband, at the Flying Dutchman, a sea-food restaurant overlooking the Gulf of Mexico. We had a hilarious time getting closer to our kin and meeting new friends with some interesting news when we parted. This was an occasion I will always remember with warmth and I am sure Ish will treasure it forever.

So whether you are one or eighty, birthdays are always fun.

MAY IS ELECTRICAL SAFETY MONTH!!

We invite you and your family to learn all about electrical safety. And for starters we offer a few home safety tips:

- Use extension cords and appliances that have a seal of approval from a major testing laboratory, such as Underwriters Laboratories (UL).
- Disconnect or turn off power whenever work is being done on anything that uses electricity.
- Don't insert metal objects into an electrical outlet or appliance.
- Use fire extinguishers or common baking soda if an electrical fire occurs.
