State tax rate is 18.7

Revenue Secretary C. Emmett Calvert today announced that the 1991 state real property tax rate is 18.7 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

The state rate is revised each year to limit the increase in revenue over the previous year to 4 per cent in compliance with the law commonly known as House Bill 44. As property values increase and new property is created, the previous year's rate produces real property tax revenue exceeding the statutory limit. Accordingly, the tax rate usually declines each year. The 1991 values were also increased by the current real property reassessment program.

The 1990 real property tax rate was 18.9 cents per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation.

Heat index staying near 100 degrees

Sure is hot! That expression has been stated many times in the past few days, and they were right according to figures from Cox Funeral Home, weather station.

Tuesday was the high for the month when the temperature reached 92 degrees. Others may have had higher readings.

To date this month the temperature has been 90 degrees on six days and 89 on four days, not unusually high for this time of year. The heat index hovering

The Weather Service is correct, the next two or three days may see a cool down into the mid 80s with lower humidity.

Rainfall is fair ahead for July, usually a dry month.

To date 6.36 inches of rain has fallen, probably a record amount for July. Most came on two days, 1.67 on July 1 and 3.11 inches on July 8. Tuesday afternoon and night there was 1.8 of an inch in Mt. Vernon.

If anyone noticed, the low temperature for the month was 60 on July 15.

All-Night gospel sing is Saturday

Saturday, Aug. 3 will mark the 42nd anniversary of the All-Night Gospel Sing at Renfro Valley.

According to Pete Stamper, entertainment director at Renfro Valley, this event draws a big crowd every year and this year is proving to be no exception.

"We're expecting over 2,000 people, and we're ready for them," Stamper said. "Performances will be held in both of our show barn theaters, and each of the gospel groups featured will appear to the audiences in both barns."

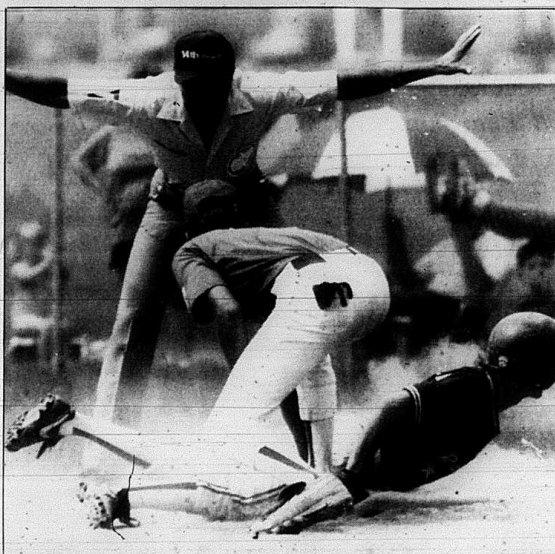

Scheduled guest entertainers for the evening include nationally acclaimed groups such as The Spencers, Karen Peck & New River and The Perry Sisters, plus the regionally popular Primatives, Renners, and Jubilee's Echoes. A number of Renfro Valley's own vocalists and groups will also be on hand to perform traditional gospel favorites.

Jim Gaskin, well known Renfro Valley stage personality and emcee of the nationally broadcast radio program, "The Renfro Valley Sunday Morning Gatherin'," thinks that the All-Night Gospel Sing is the "best time of year in the valley."

"We always encourage folks to sing along," he said, "and most of them join right in. It sure is a joyful noise when two thousand people gather together and lift their voices in song and praise to our Lord. I'd highly recommend the experience for anyone who enjoys fine gospel music."

The Renfro Valley All-Night Gospel Sing always begins at Saturday midnight and continues through 4:30 a.m. Sunday. For reservations or more information, phone toll free 1-800-765-7464.

He's safe, they're out

That's right, centerfielder Green Roman was safe as he went back to first base in Saturday's first round game of the Kentucky State Tournament. The local 14-15 year old all-stars finished third in the tournament after they were knocked out by Jefferson Town, 8-3. (Photo By: Rick Elkins)

Road trade approved

By: Ray McClure

An exchange of roads between the state and county has resulted in new owners of Lake Inville Road and two other roads.

The exchange was approved at a special meeting of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court Friday.

The switch will mean the state will upgrade 1.2 miles, or a little more, of the lake road to the boat dock area. It will be a welcome switch for the county which has had to struggle to maintain the busy lake road. One source has said that the state will rebuild the road including widening and leveling the hill near the boat dock.

"I have not seen the state plans for the road," County Judge/Executive Ruford Mullins said. "But I understand the lake road will be engineered and rebuilt."

Along with Lake Inville Road, the state accepted .7 tenths of a mile of the Spiro-Mareburg Road from U.S. 150 to its end, and half-a-mile of Hummel Road.

In return, the county will accept small sections of roads, mostly sections that border on I-75. Included are 97 of a mile of Sand Hill Road parallel to I-75; Sand Hill Road across I-75, about 2 tenths of a mile; Burrard Sparks Quarry on S. 25, 1.2 miles; old U.S. 25 north of Mt. Vernon at Rockcastle Steak House, 3 tenths of a mile, and on Brindle Ridge, 8 of a mile.

In its report, the highway department said by classifying the roads as Supplemental Roads, the Transporation Cabinet has signified for many years that these facilities serve only a local purpose and should not be the responsibility of the Transportation Cabinet. All these proposed roads, which extend along I-75, have no relevance to state maintained levels of travel and for the department to maintain these alignments is not practical."

In other business, N & N Contracting Co. of Mt. Vernon was the low bidder on a bridge over Roundstone Creek on Otis Miracle Road. The bid was $44,400. The Allen Company of

Sinkhole project nears completion

Workers are putting the finishing touches this week aiming for completion of the sinkhole project at Mt. Vernon Elementary School next week.

Grass has been sowed and straw scattered around the area. Only some minor dozer work remains.

"The project is nearing completion and should be by next week," according to Richie Bray.

The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) has spent most of the spring and summer clearing the sinkhole area. First crews were called to remove the "living quarters" of thousands of birds that roosted there nightly.

Next the SCS cleared the sinkhole that is the main drain of water from the west area of Mt. Vernon. The sinkhole was cleaned and surrounded by a chain link fence to prevent trash from going into the hole.

Another small sinkhole is in the area but does not take a lot of water. The SCS placed rock around it.

The property, owned by the school system, will be maintained by the school, including cleaning trash regularly from around the sinkhole.

According to Bray, there are no plans at present for development of the site for a play area by the school system.

Work on the sinkhole area at the rear of Mt. Vernon Elementary School is nearing completion, according to school officials. The area has been cleared by the Soil Conservation Service.

Appalachian Science in the Public Interest

Angry group berates forest service actions

Environmental damage to a section of Daniel Boone Forest's Shelter Trace in Rockcastle and adjacent areas has drawn the fire of Appalachia-Science in the Public Interest (ASPI).

In a blunt release, Dr. Al Frisch, ASPI director of the Livingston group, accused administrators of the Daniel Boone National Forest with "systematically destroying by bulldozing at least 10 miles of hiking trail in the Trace, to please out-of-state off-road vehicle (ORV) users."

"To show the public what he called destruction, ASPI is conducting a media tour of the area "to expose the destruction of a section of the Trace by the Forest Service and ORV riders."

The tour is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday at the ASPI center near old Fort Squoyah. Lunch will be provided for those who call before 6 p.m. Thursday.

"The area looks like a disaster zone, which only this past winter was a peaceful and uniquely wonderful walking trail," Dr. Frisch related.

The Trace is accessible in the area of ASPI headquarters south of Livingston. It extends 254 miles north-easterly in the forest.

ASPI officials reported they got little encouragement from the Forest Service officials when they complained.

ASPI reported Forest Service people defend their decision by saying the Trace is their creation and under their care, and that the most frequent users are ORVs and the bulldozing caters more to them (ORVs) than the occasional hiker.

Bill Spencer, an ASPI forest outreach coordinator, reports the Trace is now virtually impassable for all but ORVs and four wheel drive vehicles. He added the bulldozing is what was intended to achieve -- an extended mud track for ORVs, mostly from out-of-state.

Spencer said the forest service may be within its rights to cater to non-Kentuckians, but this is somewhat perverse, granting that neighboring states forbid ORVs to destroy the environment within their national forest areas.

"Kentucky has to accept the burden of these joy riders," Spencer said.

Another researcher, Rick Calkins, reports "the surface has been converted from a soft pristine organic mat to a muddy rutted strip. Far from an enjoyable hike, now the path requires constant watch lest the hikers stumble and break a leg. Furthermore, the ORVs know they are king and may run the hikers down."

Prof. John Carroll of the School of Forestry at the University of New Hampshire, faulted the site and expressed astonishment that the U.S. Forest Service would be the initiator of such wanton destruction of a hiking trail.

Late last fall ASPI approached the Forest Service asking their help and calling about a new environmental hiking trail program to allow non-Kentuckians to experience nature.

Forest Service employees tried to persuade ASPI to run its own environmental hiking tours in other parts (more scenic strips) of the Trace saying this one is not necessary. However, these were sections of the Trace closer to ASPI office and nearer to where hikers could park vehicles and be transported to walking areas.

Furthermore, the scenery has been excellent except that now the current practices of the Forest Service are allowing hikers to experience destruction of forestlands by loggers and ORV users alike," says Timothy Collins, research director of the ASPI Forest Project.

"While this is not the type of hike we had anticipated even six months ago, ASPI is prepared to conduct tours to show the destruction and thus to close the truth that hauling people to rapidly declining pristine areas. Let our people know what is happening, even when it hurts, to show it and see it," Dr. Frisch concluded.

Points East

By: Ike Adams

I was talking with a lady from Philadelphia the other day and she was trying to find out if some of her people had settled in Kentucky. She was wanting to claim kin to some hillbillies and wondered if I knew any Nuggens.

I didn't. I told her I'd heard of one but I thought he was a Rock & Roll singer and I'm pretty certain he didn't grow up in Kentucky.

We talked for awhile and she finally got around to asking me where my family had come from before they got to Kentucky.

I told her that as far as I know, they didn't come from anywhere. Because, as far as I can tell, the Adams, Caudills and Breedings have been in Leitcher County since time began.

"Oh no", she said. "You've got German and English stock in you for sure but I'm not sure about Breeding, and then she looked at me like she was waiting for me to tell her where the Breedings came from.

And I don't know. So while it's on my mind, I want some of the kin folks up in Leitcher County to drop me a line if any of them know. I'm kinda hoping they're or we're or whatever are from Scotland. That would make explaining why I like bug-pipe music a lot easier.

Anyway, she was just agghast that I didn't know very much about my family tree. But the truth of the matter is Collins, Blairs, Backs, Holbrooks and whoever else I'm kin to in Leitcher County have been there for a bunch of generations. I can get back to great grand Paps on both sides of my family and that's it.

I have a sneaking suspicion that if I did manage to get back far enough one of the great greats would be a Cherokee Indian. Or, given the nature of some people in our family, they might have a little Apache blood. Great great great grand pap may have been Geronimo himself.

So I told that to my friend.

"Send your head back a little", she instructed me and she commenced checking out my facial features. She noticed that I have about ten whiskerson both jaws combined and a little patch about the size of a quarter on my chin that I have to shave every day. And if I let my "mustache" grow for a little while, it starts looking like I got a little coffee stain on my upper lip.

"By golly, you may be more of an Indian than you think", she told me. "I've never seen an Indian with a beard and you might as well not have one."

A lot of men would be insulted by a remark like that, but I started thinking about it, and I believe it would probably be as much, if not more, fun to be part Indian as it would to be Scottish. I would also have fodder for my argument to Loretta that the urge to hunt and fish simply runs in the family.

"It's that Indian blood in me", I could say when I stay out all night on Laurel Lake. "I can help myself."

On the other hand, if you knew my wife, you'd also know that if I made that part of the debate, the next thing she would do is call the government and see if she couldn't get me sent to a re-education.

If the truth were to be known, Loretta is probably part Indian. That would explain her being on the war path two or three times a week.

Anyway, I bet it would be interesting if any of you cousins have the rest of your life with nothing else to do to run the family tree back to the homelands. And let me know just as soon as you can if y'ez find any Scots or Indians.

In the meantime, let me tell you that down here in the flat lands, people don't have a bit of trouble telling you where they came from.

If you see Adams, Blair, Back, Fields, Caudill, Wells, Whitaker, Cornett, or one of several other last names on a mail box, just stop in and ask 'em where their family came from before it settled in Lincoln County. They'll every one tell you that their mom or dad or their grand parents moved down from Leitcher County. And the ones that didn't, came from Harlan, Knott or Leslie Counties.

I read all of these studies about how the population of certain counties has declined so much over the last several decades because all the younger generation has moved to Detroit or Columbus or Indianapolis. And some of them actually have. But it looks to me like a major portion of them were pioneers. The ones from Leitcher County discovered and settled Lincoln County when their hillside farms slid down the creeks. They're down here farming now where it's flat enough to drive a tractor.

Ask 'em where they came from before Leitcher County and they'll tell you the same thing I told the woman from Philadelphia. They started out in Leitcher County as far as anyone knows.

Speaking of farming, I have two dozen letters that I have received over the last few months from people wanting to get started before Caudill fall beans which are something else that God apparently created in Leitcher County.

If we don't have another tornado go through the suburbs of Paint Hick, I stand to have seedlings well before Labor Day. If you're mad because I haven't written back to you, please hold on to your drawers. I have dug post holes and stretched four strands of high tension cord, each one 65 feet long and seven feet off the ground. Under each cord is a row of Buford Caudill fall beans and they have climbed individual strings, which I have dropped by the hundreds from the lines. You ought to see it. If the lines don't break, I oughta be able to get your seed in the mail before frost sets so you can get started next year. They're just now blooming and it looks more like a...le than a bean patch.

If you'd like to get a start of the beans, please send me self-addressed envelope with a couple of stamps on it. If I give you seed last spring or fall, please write and let me know how they're doing. The address is 9890 Highway 52 West, Paint Lick, KY 40461.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,
To whom it may concern:
For many years, really since back in the 30's, the family of as most folks called him, Uncle John, the Smith family, has had a home coming day once a year.

When the families and friends could come together and enjoy the fellowship of each other and renew old friendships and all that good old time cooking.

But people have changed so much as it seems in the past few years and so many of the Smith family has gone on to be with the Lord and it asks us think how many people around in Leitcher County as well as Rockcastle County would be related to the John Smith family that lived on the Old State Road and the Pokey Bob Jones Family of Eglog near Pine Grove in Jackson county that would like to have a part in this Smith-Jones Homecoming this year at the Family Life Center just off old US 25 north of Renfro Valley on Sunday August 18, the third Sunday of the month from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m., all day.

If you sing, come and sing, play music, games, horseshoes or just sit and talk. Anyone that's related to these families that would like to come, please call or write to the address I give you later.

All our times are a running out, the cemeteries are getting fuller all the time. No matter where you live we want you to come.

There will be dinner on the ground, and everyone that would like to bring a covered dish or whatever you like, would be fine. So don't miss this opportunity and let us know as soon as you can. Home 256-5250 or write Albert Smith, Route 4 Box 6464, Mt. Vernon, KY, zip 40456.

Rockcastle gets $4,000 from state Department of Travel

The state Department of Travel Development has disbursed $889,000 in state funds to help non-profit tourism organizations carry out promotional activities.

Through its Matching Funds Program, the department provided grants to 110 organizations throughout the state for the fiscal year that ended June 30, said Tourism Secretary Ron genery.

The Rockcastle County Chamber of Commerce has received $4,000 that will be used to pay for brochures showing points of interest in the county, and to set up a county tourism commission.

Recipients included nine regional tourism organizations that received grants ranging from $42,500 to $88,000 to print regional brochures, undertake regional advertising campaigns, and other promotional activities. The amounts varied because some regions spent more for regional promotions than did others, noted Travel Development Commissioner Mimi Lewis. In all cases, the regional groups received 80 percent state funds for their projects.

The Matching Funds Program supports a variety of promotional activities that range from media advertising to attendance at travel shows to printing brochures. The program's guidelines were altered in recent years to encourage regional promotions by offering 80 percent state funding, compared to the maximum of 50 percent that a local promotion can receive. Applications are (Cont. to A5)

Bail denied in $400,000 cash case

A federal magistrate in Lexington has ruled that a man in whose car police found $400,000 in cash should be held in jail without bail while he awaits trial on money laundering charges, according to a report in the Lexington Herald Leader.

U.S. Magistrate James Cook said he thought Miguel Angel Garcia Jr., 32, might flee if released on bond.

Garcia, of Glen Ellyn, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, was arrested July 12 in Laurel County after police found nearly $400,000 in a secret compartment underneath his 1982 Mazda.

Police said they became suspicious after Garcia contracted with a Mt. Vernon tow company to tow his car from Laurel County to Miami for $1,200.

During a hearing Monday in Cook's court, federal drug agent Frank Finken testified that the car was worth about $500.

Finken said traces of cocaine were found inside the car and in the trunk of the car. He said that was an indication the car had been used to haul cocaine.

Cook agreed, and granted a government motion that Garcia be held without bail. Cook said he thought Garcia had delivered a load of cocaine from Miami to Chicago and was returning to Miami with the money from the sale of the drug when his car broke down near Interstate 75 in London.

Garcia did not testify at the hearing.

Geothermal heating can make your home paradise

In some parts of the world, sea breezes and trade winds keep you comfortable all year long. That's not the case in Kentucky. When it's hot, it's hot. When it's cold, it's cold.

But a geothermal heating and cooling system can bring a bit of paradise to your home. It's the most efficient system on the market, and high efficiency means low operating costs.

Just as important, you'll stay comfortable year-in, year-out, no matter what the weather.

Call your electric cooperative for more information about geothermal heating and cooling. It's the wave of the future.

Sweet and Sour

By: Zi Graves

Sometimes another person's experience, like the one Spencer wrote about a couple of weeks ago when he encountered the snake over his head instead of a wasp nest, brings a chuckle to my memories. His experience with the snake brought more memories to mind than I will have space to recount.

Remember now, I was a city gal and had to learn the ways of country life and it wasn't easy. The last thing I thought about was the snakes. I would have to encounter; they were the least of my worries. I had more important things to be concerned about, such as how to make a garden, cook on a wood burning stove, wash clothes on the board, carry water from a spring, help build a house, take care of my first baby and still try to exist as a woman. These were all firsts for me and it was a tough assignment.

My first experience with the reptile world after arriving at our place, I have called home for fifty five years, was with the "blue tailed scorpions" or lizard. They were all over the place and since I had never seen one before I was kind of afraid of them. Not real fear now, just squeamishness, so I killed everyone that invaded my domain. Mat had taught me how to shoot this rifle so we bob into the one showing himself on my property.

I remember quite well the day a young neighbor boy stopped by to chat and friendly with the "baby" July. I was enjoying the break with this friendly young chap when we saw this slender black tailed creature run across the truck bed parked close by.

The rifle was close by and was in my hand in a flash and I fired. This was a freak shot if I ever saw one for the bullet never touched him but the splinter shaved off the plank under him entered his body and did the job as well as the bullet would have done. Bill never did get over that lucky shot and still reminds me of it whenever we get together.

Later I learned these cute little fellows were harmless and keep bugs off the flowers. So now they can play around on my porch any time they wish without fear of being molested.

Since I had been raised in the city all I knew about snakes was what I had heard. I had seen some little green snakes and garter snakes and thought they were obnoxious but to have a fear of them was something I had never thought about. But now, I learned, I was in copperhead and rattlesnake country and had to be on guard for they were poisonous and dangerous. I also learned that black snakes were harmless and were not to be killed for they killed the poisonous ones. Now since I didn't know snakes and couldn't tell them apart, and I certainly wasn't going to take time when I saw one to ask him his name, I was wary of them all. Especially so after I saw this short heavy snake with the square golden brown head and pretty golden spots on his body glide through the beach pan. Instant told me this was what I had been hearing about and I had to make my shot count. I did, and it never moved again. Now I was alert to the dangers about and never again was I out without some kind of protection. Usually the trusty "Marlin 22". This was only the beginning of the snake nightmares I had to contend with. Some of my memories are amusing when I think of how many snakes I have had to scout out of my way so I could complete a task I had begun. There was one blacksnake that loved our front yard and every time I would go to the car with a load in my arms he would be stretched across the path to the car. At first I would take time to set my things down and get the hoe to chase him away. Finally I just accepted him as a fixture in the yard and would say scats as I kicked him out of the way, and he always "scatted".

There was the one that liked to perch himself on the beam above the cellar door. Spencer's experience reminded me of this and I know the feeling he must have had when this nest he was about to remove turned out to be a slimy snake. It can be a traumatic experience. The first time such a thing happened to me I was almost petrified. The difference was, I didn't see the snake till it fell on my head and slithered to the floor in the cellar. My arms were full of freshly canned food I was taking to the cellar to store and I couldn't drop it. All I could do was yell. After he slid to a place of safety. After this happened several times over the next few years I got used to the big old boozier and would open the door very cautiously and knock him off his perch before entering. I knew he was harmless but it finally got on my nerves and I insisted on Mat doing something about these critters that were beginning to multiply. What he did I don't know but I do know why stopping using the cellar for their home and it became a safe place again.

The snake at the barn was another funny one. As I said, Mat would never kill a blacksnake nor allow one to be killed for he felt strongly that they were a protecting nut wherever they were. So this big old fellow, maybe Mat had talked him into leaving the barn, decided he would make the cellar his future abode. It was nice and cool there and not many humans about so he could enjoy the freedom of curling up or stretching out wherever he pleased or catch all the mice and rats that he fested the place to his heart's content, whenever we would go to the barn here he would be stretched out in a cozy corner or lying across the driveway and Mat would simply shoot him out of the way. That is until one day when he went to gather eggs that a comanqueous old hen insisted on laying in the hay. For several days there had been no eggs in the nest and

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Keith Johnson

Miss Burdette weds Mr. Johnson in ceremony at Brodhead Baptist

Jelctia Dene Burdette, daughter of Charlotte Griffith and Tommy Burdette was united in marriage to Eric Keith Johnson, son of June Johnson and Ike Johnson June 15 at the First Baptist Church in Brodhead.

A program of nuptial music was presented by friends of the bride. The pianist was Kristy Fletcher. Vocal selections were sung by Carrie Stone, Shawn Burdette and Jim and Johnnie Ward.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Don Jones. The scripture was read by Dr. George W. Griffith (stepfather). The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents.

The bride wore a white satin wedding gown with white wrist length gloves. The gown had a fitted bodice with schiffle lace encrusted with sease pearls and sequins and a Basque waist with a large bow in the back. Her gathered satin skirt was bordered with schiffle lace and applique roses terminating into a cathedral train. A band of silk roses, seed pearls, and sequin with a pouff in back held her veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses mingled with soft white feathers and miniature pearls.

Maid of honor was Rebecca Burdette, sister of the bride. Matron of honor was Johanna Ward. The bridesmaids were Lisa Jones and Stacey Norton. Flower girl was Jessica Holbrook. They all wore matching black and white satin floor length gowns. Each gown had a scoop neckline, short puffed sleeves, fitted bodice with a black and white bow on the side and mock wrap front. Each of the attendants carried long stemmed red roses.

The groom wore a Pierre Cardin black tuxedo complimented by a bound's tooth check vest and matching bow tie. The best man was Greg Johnson, brother of the groom. Groomsman were David Johnson, Paul Johnson and Mark Baldrige. Usher was Jeffrey Burdette. Ring bearer was Shaun Denny. They all wore matching black tuxedos with bows to their bow ties.

The mother of the bride wore a black silk suit with a satin lapel and fastened at the waist with a pearl button. She wore a corsage of red roses. The mother of the groom wore a white suit with a black and white scarfed neckline. She also wore a corsage of red roses.

Jeanne Payne and Patricia Lynn Herald attended the guest register and programs for the wedding. Joe Young and Martha Cox did the photography. Howard Saylor was in charge of the videotaping.

The church was decorated with black ostrich feathers and white tulle bows which continue through the aisles and on the pews around the attached gilded candles. Rebekah Hammond of Hammond Interior was in charge. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Cedar Rapids Country Club. Catering was by Glenn

Sexton - Isaacs

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Sexton of Mt. Vernon would like to announce the forthcoming wedding of their daughter, Cheyenne, to Steven Isaacs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Isaacs of McKee. The ceremony will be held at Crestview Holiness Church August 2, 1991 at 7:30 p.m. All friends and family are invited. A reception will follow.

Continuous Sign-up at ASCS office

The Rockcastle County ASCS Office now has a continuous ACP sign-up, according to D.G. Albright, chairman of the Rockcastle County ASCS Committee.

Anyone wanting to sign-up for fall seeding practices can do so at any time, as long as you have a copy of a current soil test results from the County Extension office. Practices will be approved in August.

Albright stated that practices available to the farmers of this county include, new seedings, renovations, no-till, water conservation, critical areas, and forestry practices. A more detailed list of the practices available for this period is available in the county office.

Rockcastle County is now under the variable cost-sharing method. Requests are evaluated before County Committee Approval according to soil erosion. ACP practices which result in the highest saving of soil may receive up to 75 percent of the actual cost of completing the practice.

All requests must be filed and approved by the ASCS Committee prior to the starting of work pertaining to the practice.

A soil sample must be turned in to the county agent's office and the results must be in the ASCS Office before signing up for a cost-share practice.

The servers were Sherry Dee Denny, Sherry Wolfrom, Jeanna Payne and Patricia Lynn Herald, friends of the bride. Music for the reception was performed by the Pete Conely Orchestra.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Renfro Valley Lodge.

After a wedding trip to Hilton Head Island, South Carolina, the couple will reside in Richmond. Jeleta is a hairstylist at Guy's and Daily Salon in Richmond and Eric is a graduate of Eastern Kentucky University and employed at Bluegrass Field in Lexington.

Sweet and Sour (Cont. From A6)

on this day he found the reason. In the nest, having the time of his life, was the big old shiny blacksnake swallowing the eggs. Yep, they swallow them whole then break them inside their bodies and absorb them while they sleep in a cozy corner. No wonder he was so slack and snoring.

I remember so well Mat's calm voice as he said, "well, good buddy, I guess this does it," and picked him up with the hay fork and tossed him onto the driveway below. Then just as calmly got the hose and decapitated him. It was probably by this same snake he had held up at arms length so Denny, our grandson, a little boy then, could see the size of the big harmless snake in the barn. After that execution we had eggs again.

Now copperheads is a different story. They are dangerous and I've heard that where there is one another can always be found close by. So to get rid of one's nest you have to be on guard for the male which is sure to follow.

One of my most harrowing experiences involved five of these menaces under my house. The road was being built past our house and Mat was talking to the crew of workers. Ray Osborne was with them and heard me call out to Mat to come quick.

I was storing my canned vegetables in a cave under the house. Rodney and I had dug out for the purpose and when I opened the door to crawl into the space a copperhead was stretched out on the door sill. For one facted quickly and put my containers of jars down and called for help. By the time Mat got there the snake had crawled back into what he thought was a safe place amid the jars. A gun couldn't be used to get him so jars had to be carefully removed until he was exposed enough to be drug but with a hoe. By this time all the workers were there to watch the excitement. After discussing his size and the danger of him being there, things quieted down and the laborers went back to work and I again began the task of storing the fruits of my labor. As I stooped again to enter the small space low and behold here was another one ready to take the place of the first. My cry for help this time had more urgency in it and the whole crew came to my aid. before they were finished they had removed all my cans into the yard and killed five copperheads. I'll bet the members of that road crew still remember this. I know it was the talk of the neighborhood for years. I never used the space again for storage. And soon after Mat had a nice big cellar and wash house built. It was this cellar that the blacksnakes liked.

Once I found a big copperhead lying close to the mule stall in the driveway of the barn. I knew the miles were in danger and I had to find a way to get rid of the trouble maker without disturbing the mules. I left him enjoying his siesta in the cool spot he had chosen and went to get my faithful friend, the 22, when I returned he was still snoring or whatever they do when they are lying still. That was his last nap. I had to make my shot a sure one so the mules would not panic at repeated noises so I quietly eased into the shadow of the door and took close aim. One shot was all that was needed. He never even moved and as far as I ever knew, his mate never came to see about him. I hope the last encounter I had with a copperhead will be the last I ever have. It was the most disturbing of all.

I always have felt my house was snake proof but the incident that happened proved otherwise.

It was the summer after Mat had died and I was trying to deal with loneliness so I tried to keep busy by picking up and putting away. As I passed the stairway door to the basement I saw something on the top step that I took to be a belt I had dropped so stooped to pick it up when the buckle (head of snake) moved to the floor level. Then I moved. And I mean I really moved and slammed the door. For the first time in my life I began to shake at the sight of a snake. My only thought was a blacksnake had somehow come through the sewer. I called Polly knowing there wasn't a thing she could do since she lived sixteen miles away. But I knew I could never kill that snake in my basement and needed someone to advise me. She called one of my neighbors to see if one of the boys would come out and get it but Timmy wasn't home. Another call and Barbara and Gayle said they would. When they finally found it hidden between the pipes of the washer and dryer Barbara recognized it as a huge copperhead. Much caution had to be used before it was brought down with the faithful hoe and finished off. How could any one, especially in the county get along without a good hoe?

I had the shakes for days every time I thought of how close that snake came to being in my kitchen.

The exterminator I called was even squeamish when he sprayed the basement and crawl space under the house. I've never seen a copperhead since and have no desire whatsoever to ever see one again.

I've had enough reptiles to last me.

U.S. 150 may be widened, state says

A statewide transportation alliance headed by the Kentucky Highway Needs Study Commission, meeting at Cumberland Falls State Park, a major transportation project needed in Highway District 8 is widening of U.S. 150 from 1-75, from Mt. Vernon to Randolph.

In a letter to State Representative Hank Hancock, chairman of the Highway District 8 and state Commissioner, Clay P. Davis, Somerset, regional chairman of Kentuckians Better Transportation, said, commission in Highway District 8 must have adequate linkage to the Interstate system - I-64, I-75 and I-65.

"Communities not connected to the Interstates by good serviceable highways do not have a chance to compete for new and expanding business and industry, and existing industry is at a competitive disadvantage," he said.

Davis said major arteries linking the district with the Interstate system include US 127, Cumberland Parkway, KY 80, US 27, KY 90, US 151, and KY 92. He said these highways "must be maintained and expanded as needed to keep pace with traffic growth."

Davis said other specific major highway linkage needs in the district include widening of KY 92 from Big South Fork area to 1-75 in McCreary County.

Completion of southeast bypass of Somerset (final construction scheduled for 1996 in 6-year plan); Completion of 4-laning of US 27 with two bridges over Pimman Creek and Cumberland River; Six-laning US 27 from Cumberland Parkway to south of Somerset Mall; Construction of southwest quadrant of Somerset bypass from US 27 to Cumberland Parkway.

Davis said the projects were from recommendations pointed up by a 1988 KBT transportation survey in the district that included manufacturers with 30 or more employees, industrial foundations, chambers of commerce, city and county governments, and banks. The projects were updated by the KBT technical Committee.

The 8th highway district includes: Adair, Casey, Clinton, Cumberland, Lincoln, McCreary, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Russell, and Wayne. KBT includes in its membership all major transportation modes, users and providers of transportation, city and county governments and others who are interested in the development of the state and improved safety and efficiency in the movement of people and products.

Shirley Scalf holds 18-month-old Brittany at their home in Mt. Vernon. Brittany nearly drowned Saturday morning, but is now doing fine.

Brittany Scalf recovering following near drowning

By: Richard Anderkin

A Rockcastle County family is counting their blessings this week after their 18-month-old daughter fell into a swimming pool and nearly drowned.

Brittany Scalf is recovering from the incident at home with her parents, John and Shirley Scalf of Mt. Vernon, but last Saturday morning is a day that none of them will soon forget.

John and Shirley both work the third shift at a local restaurant and Brittany's parents keep their child at their home on Perciful Street in Mt. Vernon.

When John and Shirley got to her parsonage last Saturday morning, Brittany was nowhere to be found.

"The front door was standing open and I thought Brittany may have just wandered off in the back yard," Shirley Scalf said.

John was still in the truck waiting and I came out and told him that Brittany wasn't in the house, so we started looking for her everywhere," said Shirley Scalf.

"Something told John to look in the neighbor's pool and when I heard him scream, I knew he had found Brittany," she said.

What John found was his little girl floating on her back in the pool, not breathing and unconscious.

"Brittany had apparently gotten out of the bed and walked over to the neighbor's and climbed into the pool," Shirley Scalf said.

Although John has had no formal training he attempted CPR on Brittany and it apparently worked.

Brittany began to throw up water and milk and to take short breaths, as John and Shirley rushed her to the hospital.

No one is sure how long Brittany was in the water, but there was no sign of brain damage and doctors at the University of Kentucky Medical Center say she will be fine.

John and Shirley found Brittany around 7:10 a.m. Ironically they went to pick her up earlier than usual that morning. "We usually run our paper route and then go get Brittany her breakfast before we pick her up. It is usually 7:30 so, Shirley said. "For some reason that morning we decided to go get Brittany first," she said.

"We had been in the pool swimming a couple of weeks ago and Brittany simply loved it," Shirley said. "I guess Brittany remembered the fun time she had and wanted to go back," Shirley said.

After arriving at Rockcastle Hospital, Brittany's stomach was pumped and doctors and nurses continued to get water out of her lungs, but she started to breathe normally soon after arriving at the emergency room.

"We are thankful, we thought it was too late," Shirley said.

A local doctor, who asked not to be identified, said that in most cases, Brittany would have drowned, but "I think this was an act of God."

Miss Rockcastle pageant scheduled for August 9th

The contestants for the Miss Rockcastle Pageant are busy preparing for the exciting agenda scheduled for the event of August 19th at the Renfro Valley Barn at 7 p.m. A lot of hard work goes into preparation, therefore the participants, Pageant Committee and sponsors need the community's support. Tickets will be sold at the door at $3 per person.

"Listen up!" The entertainment will be superb! Mrs. Margie Wilcox, Mrs. Jamie Cornelius and Mrs. Johnna Ward have been busy putting together the theme "New York, New York, The Big" included in the program. The entertainment will not want to miss. It will include the Arthur Murray Dancers and Hunter, the Magician from Lexington.

The entire pageant promises plans our excitement and a new Miss Rockcastle. We congratulate Miss Rockcastle 1990 for her excellent representation at the state pageant and her personal qualities of poise, intelligence and beauty that enhance her presentation and placing third at Miss Ky. USA. Congratulations, Angela McKinney.

Little World's Fair begins Saturday

The first impression most people have of rodeo is the image of a bucking horse, but there is much more to this fantastic sport than mere bucking horses as will be witnessed two nights at the Little World's Fair at Brodhead.

The rodeo is scheduled for 8 p.m. Aug. 1 and 2.

There'll be barrel racing, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, team roping, barrel racing, bull riding and clowns.

Another major event at the fair is the demolition derby, set for 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. Aug. 3.

As a reminder of events scheduled, July 27, dairy show and judging, noon.

July 28, horse shoe pitching contest, 10 p.m.

July 29, midway open, 6 p.m. - gospel singing 7 p.m.

July 30, go-kart races, East Ottawa Club only. Exhibits open 6 to 9 p.m.

July 31, go-kart races, open 6 p.m. Aug. 1, kids day, rodeo, 8 p.m.

Aug. 2, 8 p.m. rodeo; exhibit hall open 6 to 9 p.m.

Aug. 3, at 8 and 10 p.m.; demolition derby.

All-Stars finish third in state

They play together and work together to strive for the best. They are noted for being in the top category of competition with speed, pitching, offense and defense. They are, indeed, a group of boys that most would consider to be the best ever assembled as an all-star team to represent Rockcastle County.

They are the 14 and 15-year-old all-stars of Rockcastle County.

During the past two weeks, the 14 and 15-year-olds have proved all of the above and more. They captured the Area 3 championship and District 4 championship and concluded the year with a third place finish within the state tournament just this past week. A great year for a great team.

The miraculous post season finish for the all-stars began last Thursday at Hazard when they took the area championship with a 3-1 win over the Knox Central All-stars.

The all-stars won their first two state tournament games over the weekend. One over Scott County, 9-7, Saturday and the other over Jefferson-Town of Louisville, 3-0, on Sunday.

Their season ended this week with a loss to Paintsville, 3-2, Monday and a loss to Jefferson-Town, 8-3, Tuesday.

Coaches James "Bear" Bradley, Jim Bussell and Junior Asher, in a telephone interview Tuesday evening, all commended the boys on a fine year and agreed that this year's team was the best ever fielded by Rockcastle County.

Captain Bussell best summed it up when he said, "Although we didn't win tonight (Tuesday), we have nothing to be disappointed about. We're truly proud of these boys."

Indeed, the post season began and ended with more positive highlights than negatives.

Pitcher Mikhael Shaffer sparked the all-stars in their district championship sweep over Knox Central, 3-1, last Thursday with one of the most memorable highlights of the post season, a no-hitter. Shaffer faced 29 batters, struck out 15 and walked only eight during the no-hitter. Of course, the only run scored by Knox Central in the seventh inning was unearned.

Rockcastle, who out-hit Knox Central, 5-3, had several missed opportunities to score throughout the first five innings but didn't connect until the top of the sixth inning.

Greg Bowman led the sixth with a base-on-balls and, in an attempt to steal second, reached third base on an overthrow. J.D. Bussell followed by reaching first base on a base-on-balls and then second base with a steal. And after a fly out by Shaffer to the third baseman, Fletcher stepped to the plate to drive in both Bowman and Bussell with a solid single for the first two runs of the game.

Again the running game was in place for Rockcastle as Fletcher stole second. Fletcher eventually scored on a fly ball hit by pinch-hitter Brent Asher, which was missed by Knox Central's rightfielder.

Contra's rightfielder, to set up the third and final run by Rockcastle.

With the win, Rockcastle moved to the state tournament and took with them, the momentum.

In Saturday's combined game, they posted 11 hits and held Scott County to six with the combined pitching of Bussell and Jason Goff and found themselves, one game deep, within the state tournament with a 9-7 win in eight innings.

Rockcastle scored their first five runs in the top of the first which appeared to set an early pace for, yet, another solid win.

Bowman started the inning by stealing second after a walk. The next batter, Bussell, struck out but reached first base on a passed ball third strike. Shaffer, who followed with a single to score Bowman, was later thrown out at third on a passed ball. Fletcher drove in Bussell with a double and eventually scored himself with a steal and passed ball for the second and third run of the inning. The final two runs were set up when Asher and McClure drew back-to-back walks and then scored on an Eric McKinney double.

However, Scott County managed to cut the score to 5-2 in the bottom of the first on a single and walk and two consecutive passed balls.

Again, both teams scored in the second inning. Shaffer scored on a double by Fletcher for Rockcastle while Scott County drew two walks and a single to tie the run.

Scott County held the Rockcastle bats silent in the top of the third inning and then scored on a walk and triple in the bottom of the inning to put the score at a close 6-4.

11-year-old All-Stars win two in tournament

The Rockcastle County 11-year-old All-Stars won two and lost two in a tournament held at Thacker Field in Brookhead.

The All-Stars started the tournament with a big win over McCreary County, 20-19, Wednesday night. The All-Stars had to face Lexington Southeastern that same night and were defeated 19-8.

The All-Stars played McCreary County again, Friday night and defeated them again, 14-4.

The All-Stars were eliminated in the tournament by Wayne County, 9-5, Saturday.

"Coach Glen Gentry said, 'This was a fine group of boys to coach. I enjoyed it greatly.'"

But Rockcastle countered the run in the top of the fourth to regain their three run margin. Jason Payne led off the inning with a single and then stole second. Payne scored on a single by Shaffer.

But again, Scott County's pitching staff held the Rockcastle bats silent through the fourth, fifth and sixth innings while their offense pecked away at the lead. Scott pushed in two runs in the bottom of the fifth on two walks and a double and then scored the tying run in the bottom of the sixth on a single, error and sacrifice fly to set the score at 7-7.

Rockcastle failed to score in the top of the seventh when three consecutive outs were recorded after Asher led the inning off with a double.

However, a good pitching performance by Goff in the bottom half of the inning set down the Scott County batters in order to send the game into extra innings.

But it only took one inning as Rockcastle found the spark again in the top of their batting order. Bowman and Bussell led the eighth inning off with consecutive walks. And Shaffer followed with a single to lead the bases with nobody out and their clean-up hitter coming to the plate. Fletcher entered the batter's box and, with one swing, sent the final deciding two runs across the plate as Scott County was, again, shut down in order in the bottom half of the inning.

The final tally, 9-7, Rockcastle wins.

But Rockcastle would soon find their second win of the state tournament on Sunday against Jefferson-Town, the most favored team in the tournament.

But backed by another outstanding performance by Shaffer on the mound, Rockcastle shut-out Jefferson-Town, 3-0.

In what most considered a true baseball game which saw Rockcastle earn only eight hits and Jefferson-Town only five, Rockcastle quickly gained fame as a high caliber baseball team.

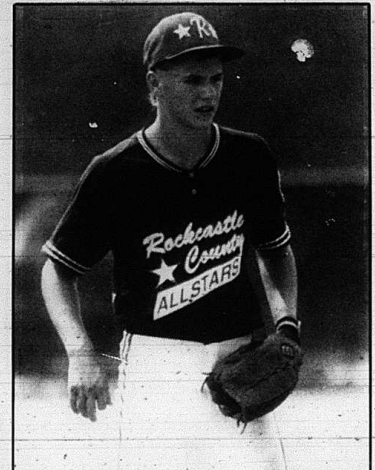

While Shaffer was in the midst of pitching a perfect game through four innings, the Rockcastle bats collected two runs in the process. Mickey McClure recorded the first RBI with a single in the top of the second inning to drive in Jason Goff, who had reached on a error by Jefferson's third baseman.

Rockcastle's second run was scored in the top of the third. Bussell reached on a walk, stole second, moved to third on a bunt hit by Shaffer and scored on a fielder's choice by Fletcher.

The third and final run by Rockcastle was scored in the top of the fifth. Fletcher got to first base on an error by Jefferson's shortstop and was moved to second on a sacrifice fly by Jason Goff. McClure followed by striking a triple to drive in Fletcher.

It was all Rockcastle needed for 11-and-12-year-olds finish fourth in tournament

The Rockcastle County 11 and 12-year-olds finished fourth out of twelve teams recently in a tournament held at Thacker Field in Brookhead.

The all-stars were defeated by the London All-Stars, 9-1, Thursday but bounced back to defeat the Wayne County All-Stars, 12-9, Saturday.

Coach Gordon Pope said, "Everybody played solid ball and real good defense against Wayne County. The bats came around, not just one, but everybody."

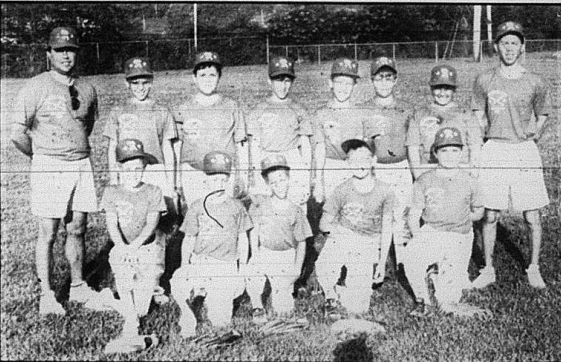

The all-stars were eliminated in the tournament by the Lexington Southeastern All-Stars, 19-5, Saturday night.

The all-stars were leading 5-3 in the third inning but Lexington came back and scored 14 runs in the fourth and fifth inning to put the game out of reach.

London All-Stars took first place in the tournament. Somerset claimed second, Lexington Southeastern took third followed by the 11 and 12-year-old all-stars.

The all-stars are now done with their post-season play.

Tournament Champions

7-and-8-year-old All-Stars shine in Estill County, win tourney

The Rockcastle County 7 and 8-year-old All-Stars came away with a first place trophy this past weekend as they won the Estill County 7 and 8-year-old tournament.

The all-stars defeated the Estill County All-Stars, 6-5, Friday night. They were defeated Saturday, 4-2, by Nicholas Gold for their first loss. There were two controversial calls made in the game which, according to Coach George Bishop, Jr., after viewing a video tape of the game, were wrong.

The all-stars then came out of the loser's bracket to win the tournament. In their quest for first place, the all-stars defeated Estill, 6-5, and beat Nicholas Gold twice, 8-3 and 10-4, to win the tournament.

Coach Bishop said, "This was a fine bunch of boys that played with a whole lot of heart and never gave up. We are a real good defensive team. I knew all along that we were the best team, it was just a matter of getting good calls."

Coach Bishop also would like to thank Dairy Queen for sponsoring their team.

The all-stars will now play in a tournament at Lee County. They will square off with Powell County at 11 am, Saturday.

Bishop also said that everything is looking good for a county tourney to be held at Roundstone August 3rd and 4th.

their second consecutive win within the state tournament and the perfect record during post season play.

However, an upset was in the making and it occurred in the following game. Paintsville, a team considered weaker than Rockcastle, upset Rockcastle, 3-2, in a fine ball game this past Monday.

"I really think we would have beat them. I believe we were the better team," said coach James Bradley Tuesday night.

"That's just the way it happens sometimes. As the added."

Paintsville took the early advantage by scoring in the top of the first inning on two hits to take a 1-0 lead. However, Rockcastle evened the tally at one all in the bottom half of the inning.

Bowman led the inning off with a base hit, then stole second and moved to third on a ground out by Bussell. Bowman crossed the plate on a single by Shaffer on the next at bat.

But Paintsville regained the lead in the second inning on an unhandled ball by Shaffer in left field and managed to reach third base on the play. The runner was allowed to score on a passed ball to the next batter by pitcher Scottie Cotton.

Cotton put in a solid performance from the mound and went six innings. Jason Goff closed the game.

The third and fourth innings went scoreless in a fine pitching stand by both teams although Rockcastle did have an opportunity in the bottom of the fourth. Fletcher reached first on an error by the shortstop and then stole second after Asher struck out. Fletcher moved to third on a ground out by McClure and was stranded when the next batter, Freddie Pruitt, grounded out to end the inning.

However, Rockcastle did connect for one run in the fifth to tie the game at 2-2.

After a silent top of the fifth by Paintsville, Rockcastle's Cotton reached first in the bottom half of the fifth on an error charged to the Paintsville second baseman. Payne followed by reaching safely with a hit up the middle to put runners on first and second. After a Bowman strike-out, Bussell connected to center field to score Cotton and tie the game at 2-2. Shaffer then struck out and Fletcher grounded out to the pitcher to end the rally and inning.

But in the top of the sixth, Paintsville, again, regained the lead. Cotton walked the first batter and allowed him to advance to second on a passed ball. The next batter for Paintsville hit one up the middle to put runners on first and third with nobody out. At this point, Cotton left the game and turned over the pitching assignment to Goff. Goff did the job and forced the next batter into a double play, however, the runner on third was able to score and give Paintsville the lead, 3-2. Goff retired the following batter on a fly out to center field.

Rockcastle was retired in order in the bottom of the sixth as was Paintsville in the top of the seventh to bring the game into the bottom of the seventh with Rockcastle trailing, 3-2.

The Rockcastle all-stars had a golden opportunity to score during their last at bat. Gregg Goff led off the inning with a walk and left the game when Brian Carter came in to pinch-run and give the all-stars one-up on the homeplate. After a Payne strike-out, both Bowman and Bussell reached safely with walks to lead the bases.

But with the bases loaded and only one out, Rockcastle failed to produce any runs. Shaffer grounded to the shortstop who threw to home for the force out and Fletcher hit a hard ground ball down the third base line which was fielded on a superb play by the Paintsville third baseman who touched third for the final out.

"I believe if we would have scored and won, nobody could have beat us twice," said coach Bussell Tuesday night.

The result was the first loss by the Rockcastle all-stars in post season play and the first of two.

The other game Tuesday when Rockcastle fell victim to Jefferson Town, 8-3, in a rematch that ended the teams confrontations at 1-1.

Shaffer took the starting assignment again in an attempt to set his record at 2-0 against Jefferson. But with only one day's rest between games, Shaffer fell short and went only four and two-thirds innings. Bussell closed the game.

Rockcastle did get on the board first in the top of the third inning. Gregg Goff smacked a ground rule double into right field and was moved to third on a base hit by Payne. With men on first and third and nobody out, Goff scored on a wild pitch and Payne move to second. But the next three batters were retired in order to strand Payne at second.

Rockcastle maintained the lead until the bottom of the fourth when Jefferson Town sent one run across the plate to tie the game at 1-1. With one out, Jefferson's second batter reached first on a walk and then scored when the following batter hit a shot by third base.

In the top of the fifth, Rockcastle's Gregg Goff and Bowman singled and were followed by Bussell who reached on an error to lead the bases with two out. However, the next batter, Shaffer, was fanned to end the threat and keep the score at 1-1.

But in the bottom of the inning, Jefferson Town capitalized with four runs to take a 5-1 lead and one they would never relinquish. Jefferson began with a ground out, walk, bunt out, intentional walk, double for two runs, single for one run and another single for the final run.

The four run rally by Jefferson was enough to send the momentum of the game into their favor and give them the insurance runs they would require to defeat the high caliber Rockcastle team.

And if it wasn't enough, Jefferson added three more in the bottom of the sixth on Rockcastle errors. Jefferson's first batter laid down a bunt and reached on an overthrow. The second batter walked before the third batter reached safely on another overthrow which also allowed a run to score. After the next batter was hit by the pitch, two outs were finally recorded. The seventh batter for Jefferson stroked a double which sent two runs across the plate to set the score at 8-1.

Rockcastle did manage two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning in the losing effort. Asher got on first on an error by the shortstop and moved to third on a hit by Cotton. Bowman then drove in both Asher and Cotton with a triple which proved to be the final hit by Rockcastle in the tournament.

The loss eliminated the Rock-castle all-stars from the tournament and gave them the ranking of third in the state of Kentucky.

Coaches Bradley, Bussell and Asher all wanted to stress the accomplishments of this young team. All said they were extremely proud of these kids and, again, said that they have nothing to be disappointed about.

The coaches and team would also like to express their thanks to the many fans that traveled to and from their games in support of their efforts. They would also like to thank Saylor's Pharmacy for sponsoring their uniforms.

And in response, congratulations to Rockcastle County 14 and 15 year-old all-stars for a solid representation of Rockcastle County. Rockcastle County is very proud of you.

Congratulations All-Stars!!

Teen Center Perspectives

By: Ginny Gilpatrick
Rockcastle Teen Center

The "coming to an end" of a project or a program often restores one's faith in the principle that all things work together for good. A plan may not turn out according to the original vision, but in retrospect one can often see that the course of events has improved upon the expected.

Saturday, the teens who went on the trip to Massachusetts in early June had a reunion. A major focus of activities that day was looking over photographs and reminiscing, often with laughter. The trip has come to an end, but far from being anticlimactic, the reunion just proved that the rich experience has become a part of the fabric of each teen who participated.

Rehearsals for the summer performance of "Joseph..." are coming to an end. Who could have anticipated the heroic efforts people would have to make to attend rehearsals? Scenery and props have materialized from unexpected quarters. Teens who have helped out, most notably Andy Pigg, have seen first hand all that must go into a production besides learning lines. Everyone involved has grown from experiencing the blend of song, dance, and drama evolve into an exciting whole, worthy of an audience.

And the first year back in operation of the Teen Center is coming to an end. August 10 will be the last day. There is no way to have anticipated the more than 200 persons who would set the climate at the Center during the year. Initial plans, almost without exception, have had to be scrapped or drastically revised to accommodate the interests of the teens and address problems that arose. People who volunteered to help have branched the program in unexpected directions. New ideas materialized among staff and teens. The result has been a colorful and heartening sense of belonging "ownership" for the nucleus of teens who attend regu-

Eleven from Rockcastle to participate in State Games

A record number of Kentuckians, including 11 from Rockcastle, will be participating next week in the seventh annual Bluegrass State Games.

The Games - featuring 22 different sports - will be held July 16-28 in Lexington.

The largest team event is softball with 226 teams or 4,520 persons. Soccer is the second largest with 196 teams or 3,920 participants.

(Volleyball has 157 teams or 1,570 participants. Three-on-three basketball has 68 teams or 640 people.)

In the individual events, track and field is the largest with 771 participants. Tennis is the second largest with 555 individuals followed closely by swimming with 422. Gymnastics also has a large following in the state with 308 persons signed up for the event.

The other events and number of participants are: archery, 286; bowling, 239; canoeing/kayaking, 31; chess (new this year), 102; croquet, 46; cycling, 150; diving, 41; equestrian, 217; fencing, 29; golf (new this year), 53; horseshoes, 95; shooting, 165; table tennis, 93; and wrestling (new this year), 176.

About 3,300 senior citizens Pace-setters (a non-competitive walking event) will help kick the Frankfort activities off on Friday, July 26.

Those from Rockcastle and their event are: Joel R. Kirby, Livingston, archery; Suzanne Brown, Mt. Vernon, Heather O. Burton, Brodhead, Tara Burton, Brodhead, Tara B. Cox, Mt. Vernon, Michelle K. Hamm, Mt. Vernon, Amanda G. Miller, Mt. Vernon, all swimming; Cody R. Cox, Mt. Vernon, Nicole C. Blair, Mt. Vernon and Amy S. Thacker, Berea, track and field; and Danny Offutt, Mt. Vernon, softball.

"We are extremely pleased with the large number of participants this year," said Shirley Watts, Executive Director of the Games. "We are also very happy with the broad representation with participants coming in from 106 of the state's 120 counties."

"We know that many of them will take home medals along with good memories of their participation in the Games."

The Bluegrass State Games, one of 41-in the nation, is sponsored by Valvoline Oil Company and Coca Cola Company. The games are coordinated by the Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government with the assistance of about 700 volunteers.

"Joseph...." cast comes from varied cross-section of county

The cast of the upcoming "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" represents a true cross-section of the Rockcastle community. Seasoned performers work alongside newcomers and the blending of talents carries the show with refreshing spirit.

Allen Pensol (Director) - Recently hired as Basic Arts Coordinator for the Rockcastle County Schools, Allen has impressive experience in direction, choreography, drama and dance. He has studied and worked in New York City and Washington, D.C. and five southern states. "Joseph..." is the sixth production he has directed for the local Council for the Arts.

Vincent Bardette (Narrator) - A senior at Lindsey Wilson College, Vince's musical talent carries the story line. He has performed with a Madrigal Dinner troupe and sung in "They Teach" as well as college chorale. Vince grew up in Wildie.

Ed Cortis (Joseph) - Ed makes his debut in the leading role. He is a native of Elkhart, Indiana, a graduate of Notre Dame University, and previous employee of G.E. In the process of discovering new dimensions, Ed has recently come to Christian Appalachian Project as a volunteer. He dabbles in piano and has done a little singing in college, and always been a "Patron of the Arts."

David Phillips (Pharaoh) - Originally from Louisiana, David is now owner and operator of Lane Signs Inc. in London. He will be recognized by Rockcastle County Arts fans for his previous outstanding performances. Credits include "Grass Harp", "South Pacific", "Oliver", "My Fair Lady" and "Camelot".

Allen Gilpatrick (Jacob, Ishmael, Potiphar) - An employee of The Cabinet for Human Resources, having moved to Mt. Vernon a year ago, Allen is gaining a local reputation for his character acting. He appeared at Christmas as the Innkeeper in "Bethlehem Inn", and previously in "Pirnochio" and "Tea House of the August Moon", and "Shangri-La". He aptly carries the caricature parts in "Joseph..."

Carolyn McGuire (Potiphar's wife and chorus) - Carolyn has appeared in two previous Rockcastle County performances: "Once Upon a Matress" and "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum". She resides in Brodhead and is employed by the Transportation Cabinet.

G. Wayne Thomas ("Rueben and Chorus") - A native of Louisville, Wayne is head physical therapist at Rockcastle Hospital. He plays the guitar and has done choral and solo work primarily in the church.

Tom Wilson (Baker and Chorus) - Tom has recently settled in Mt. Vernon and does private contracting. Though this is his first musical theater production, Tom plays the lap dulcimer and has done considerable singing for pleasure.

Ricky Pitman (Butler, camel, and Chorus) - Ricky is an active participant in the Teen Center. His interest in theater has manifested in his participation in the Mt. Vernon Elementary Talent Show, "A lot of Christmas Plays", and a church concert. Justin Thomas (Benjamin and Chorus) - The youngest of the cast, and obviously a budding talent, Justin has appeared in "Robin and the Match at Nottingham" with the Gifted Education program at MVES, and "At Bethlehem Inn" at the First Christian Church.

Members of the Chorus: Datsi Bringer - Residing in Big Hill and attending Berea Community School. Datsi has appeared in the KIDS Radio station musical, "Louisiana, Brandt has experience in school choruses and the Teen Center Choir. She will attend RCHS in the fall.

Frank Fain - Frank sings with the RCHS Chorus and performed with the Teen Center choir. He lives at Conway.

Kelly Garrett - Before moving to Conway, Kelly appeared in plays at Cumberland County Elementary and Middle Schools. She was in the Teen Center Choir which travelled to Massachusetts.

Ginny Gilpatrick - Program Coordinator of the Rockcastle Teen Center. Ginny initiated the cooperative effort of the center with Rockcastle Council for the Arts to produce "Joseph..." as community summer theater. She has done extensive choral work in Massachusetts and Washington, D.C. prior to coming to Mt. Vernon last summer.

In Loving Memory of Lee Wallin. Who passed away one year ago July 23, 1990

It's been a year since he went away. He knew he must go and we must stay. There is many reasons that we miss him. The visions will never dim.

We see him on a lake with a fishing pole in his hand. See him talking about God to his fellow man. His eyes glisten when a fishing tale is told.

Watch his face light when his grandchildren he holds. He is sitting with the family he adored. On a Sunday morning in the House of the Lord.

There is the camper on a sunny shore. In these memories there's so much more. He stepped into the Land where there is no night.

He followed the never ending light. In his short journey through this world.

He lived so his glory in Heaven could be unfurled. He's in the place he had planned. God met him with a welcome hand.

Sadly Missed
By Wife, sons, daughters, grandchildren.
Poem Written by Wandalene Wallin, sister-in-law.

The family of Edward Barnett wish to say thank you to all the people who gave flowers and food during our time of sorrow. Thanks for all the support and sympathy. Special thanks to: Dowell and Martin Funeral Home, the Rockcastle County Hospital, and to Bro. Emerson Hall and Bro. Elzie Doan and all the pall bearers.

The family of Joe Bradley would like to thank each and every one that sent flowers and food; for the prayers, support and sympathy in any way, a special thanks to Bro. Billy Joe Cameron, the Dowell and Martin Funeral Home, Freda and Zelda for their beautiful songs and to all the pall bearers.

May God Bless You All

ESTATE Auction

of The Late Mrs. Mattie Sowder's

6 BRODHEAD PROPERTIES

Saturday, July 27th • 10:30 a.m.

BRODHEAD, KENTUCKY

LOCATION: All properties will be sold at the house site located just off U.S. 150 near Citizens Bank. Look for auction signs.

In order to settle the estate of the Late Mrs. Mattie Sowder, her heirs have authorized our firm to sell for the ABSOLUTE high dollar the following six properties. Order of the sale will be: (1) House and Lot; (2) Extra Lot; (3) West Street Lot; (4) Hardware Property; (5) Laundromat Building; and (6) Service Station Building.

PROPERTY #1—One of Brodhead's finest homes. Has brick and stone exterior. The floor plan consists of a spacious living room, 4 large bedrooms, kitchen with built-in cabinets, formal dining room, sun room, and 1 1/2 baths. Other amenities include a full basement, hot water/oil heat, hardwood floor throughout, storm doors and windows, and a lovely stone fireplace. In addition to the house, there is also a garage with carport.

Although in need of some cosmetic improvements such as painting, etc., the house is in excellent structural condition. It could be redone to suit your own personal taste.

The house is located on one of Brodhead's foremost lots, fronting on both Silver and Short Streets. It is well landscaped, private, and convenient. The lot measures approximately 194 x 237.

PROPERTY #2—Is a spacious, level building lot adjacent to Property #1. It fronts on Silver Street and measures approximately 108 x 196 and has city water and sewer available.

PROPERTY #3—Building lot containing .71 of an acre. Located on West Street in Brodhead. It's level, has city water and sewer available, is an excellent building site, and measures approximately 92 x 330.

PROPERTY #4—Brodhead Hardware building on Main Street in Brodhead, Kentucky. This well located property consists of the hardware building measuring approximately 43 x 80. The lot measures approximately 43 x 288 x 314.

PROPERTY #5—Commercial property formerly known as the Laundromat. It fronts on U.S. 150 and Short Street next door to Citizens Bank. The concrete block building measures approximately 25 x 50. It has a concrete floor and almost new roof. The lot measures approximately 44 x 139. An ideal spot for retail business or offices in the heart of Brodhead.

PROPERTY #6—Consists of service station building measuring approximately 24 x 45. It has 2 bays, display room, furnace room, and restrooms. It is located on a large, spacious lot with space for growth. The lot measures approximately 196 x 135 along U. S. 150.

TERMS: 20% down day of auction, balance in 30 days upon delivery of deed.

POSSESSION: Announced the day of sale.

*Owners reserve the right to sell individually and to regroup. However, the properties will not be offered altogether.

We're ready to support a winner!

It was obvious to me this week that county spirit and support for local athletic teams is still alive and well in Rockcastle County.

It may have been somewhat dormant for the past few years, but people still want a winner to support.

Aside from football at RCHS, local fans have had little to cheer about, until the past couple of weeks when 15 young men and a couple of coaches proceeded to the state baseball tournament in Hazard.

The 14-15 year old all-stars from Rockcastle County lost Tuesday to Jefferson County 8-5 to end what was an excellent and exciting trip through post season play.

James Bradley and his group represented Rockcastle County very admirably as they won the area tournament, the district tournament and finished third in the state of Kentucky.

grandma's house, but each time Rockcastle's all-stars took the field they had support from local fans.

Fans from all areas of the county supporting a team filled with players from all segments of the county.

It was good to see the support and when young men and women reach higher plateaus through hard work, the support will be there.

Most fans, including yours truly, are fair weather at best. Most do not and will not support losing teams and who can really blame them. But if the last couple of weeks are any indication, fans are ready and willing to support local teams. And from what I saw, most would probably support a mediocre program.

All this is leading up too... this year Rockcastle steps into a new football district. We play the likes of Corbin, Somerset and Middleboro and although Tom Larkey has said this may be his best team ever, there's likely to be some tougher competition for the kids than they have been used to in the past and local support can make a big difference in the way our kids handle the stronger competition.

Tom Larkey and his staff are proven winners and they deserve our support. Let's help them.

The same kind of support may help a less than good basketball program.

County Crimes

year with the number of reported rapes increasing dramatically according to a report released by the Kentucky State Police Records Section.

The 1990 edition of "Crime in Kentucky" reports that 122,216 Part I offenses, an increase of nearly five percent, were reported last year. Part I offenses include murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft.

The number of rapes reported increased 43 percent from 829 cases in 1989 to 1,187 cases last year. Of those, 64 percent were solved.

Murders were up with 261 reports in 1990 over 249 in 1989 or an increase of nearly five percent. More than 60 percent were committed with firearms and Jefferson Co. had 54 murders—more than any other county

The Mount Vernon Signal, Thursday, July 25, 1991 P-17

The reports of aggravated assault increased more than 23 percent and in excess of half of those were solved. Larceny rose nearly 6 percent from 1989 with 21 percent of those cases solved.

Robbery reports declined 3.9 percent in 1990 from 2,706 to 2,600 in 1989. There was a slight decrease in burglary cases from 28,563 in 1989 to 28,292 last year. Thirty-two percent of all robbery cases and sixteen percent of all burglary cases were cleared.

In the report's analysis of arson cases, 1,024—an increase of three from 1989—were reported and 18 percent or 183 were solved. The cost of structural damage resulting from arson was $14,705,407 and half was from damage to single occupancy residences.

A number of variables contribute to different annual crime figures including reporting and tabulation methods used by various law enforcement agencies. The totals are also influenced by differing levels of citizen awareness and responsibility to report a crime.

Other statistics compiled in the 1990 report included: a serious crime was committed on the average of once every 4.3 minutes; rapes occurred on an average of once every seven hours; a murder was committed on an average of once every 34 hours; 55 percent of all violent crimes (murder, rape) were solved; property crimes outnumbered violent crimes seven to one; 15,889 arrests were made for drug violations, and more than 46,000 arrests were made for driving under the influence; 272,667 arrests were made.

We were drugstore cowboys

The fabulous fifties

James Dean posters, Elvis '57 Chevys, Cokes in real glass bottles. Hula hoops. Boat-neck shirts. Poodle skirts. Duck-tail haircuts. Reminders of a time when life seemed much simpler. Oh, I suppose the problems then were pretty much the same as now. It just didn't seem so.

This wave of nostalgia was brought on after attending my high school reunion. Thirty years changes lots of things. Of course, Elvis is still the "king" and '57 Chevys are still in great demand, but duck-tail haircuts and poodle skirts are pretty much out today. Thirty years changes the way people look—a few extra pounds, lots of gray hair, no hair! But the faces hadn't changed much. Faces that brought back a flood of memories—of football games and sock hops, of first loves and best friends; of Albiga II and drive-in movies.

My dad called us "drug store cowboys." A bunch of us girls would spend hours at the neighborhood drug store just talking and drinking cokes (in real glass bottles!) filled with salty peanuts—and, of course, watching the boys. (Watching the boys worked.)

I met my husband at that old neighborhood hangout!

I often wonder how long kids today could survive if they were all suddenly put in a time machine and sent back to 1959 or 1960. Some of us had cars, but not many. And most of those were not very fancy. A 1950 Ford was the norm (and gasoline was 19¢ a gallon). Summer evenings were spent dancing on somebody's carport, and snow days were spent building snow forts that didn't melt till spring.

It was fun to visit with old classmates and "remember when," but I don't wish to go back. I have no desire to do without all the modern, magical appliances and gadgetry we have today or to share a room with my sister or to wear all those starched slips we wore under our skirts.

All of us would change some of the things we did over that many years, but I believe the "good old days" are now. Family, friends, community, church—each of us makes our own good old days, no matter what the year.

After the horror blows over...

After the broken dreams are cleared away...it's only natural to feel grateful if it didn't hit you personally. But the fact is, someone, somewhere was hit...and needs your help.

Right now, the Red Cross is providing shelter, meals, and emergency assistance for people who suddenly have to start all over again. We need your support.
