IN MEMORY OF
A MEMORIAL TO TOM MEYER

A thorough chemist by trade. And analytical in the tests. He had an understanding way. Which was why he was the best.

He always had a "Good Morning" to the world would ever start. He shared his time with others. And would listen with his heart.

If you knocked on his door, He would gladly ask you in. His advice and counsel sincerely given. With a warm smile and a grin.

From a disconcerting and knowing mind, Wisdom he would share. To help others in their work and lives. Because he really cared.

He fought the battle, hard and brave until the end. His courage was inspiring to watch him stand. Though illness made his body weak. His strength shown like the strongest man.

And now he has left us. For a better place. A special prayer will send. Thank you LORD for giving us. Tom to be our friend.

Russell Bullock and wife, Magdalene Bullock, Et Al DEFENDANTS

Pursuant to judgment and order of sale entered in this action on September 13, 1991, and for the purpose enforcement of mortgage lien to recover the amount of $26,030.78, plus interest thereon, I will offer at public auction the hereinafter described real property in Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle County, Kentucky.

At the Courthouse Door on Friday, the 11th Day of October, 1991 Beginning at the hour of 10:30 a.m.

said property being more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Bounded on the north by the lands of M.E. Owens; bounded on the east by the lands of S.D. Lewis; bounded on the south by the lands of S.D. Lewis and A.B. Lewis; a portion of this line beginning at a walnut stump in a low gap and turning west a straight line to a dead post, has been surveyed and the line marked by Henry Hamzman and by the lands of Jordan Daniels; and on the west by lands of G.W. Brown and Jarvis J. Noe.

The above boundary of land is in two tracts, the larger boundary is known as the McKenzie land and the other boundary consisting of about 18 acres was purchased by James Hensley and John McKenzie and Ella McKenzie and in all contains 155 acres, more or less.

There is excluded from the above and not now mortgaged 10.062 acres which was heretofore conveyed to Benton Bullock by deed dated September 2, 1987, which is recorded in Deed Book 132, page 52.

There is also excluded and not now mortgaged 12.126 acres heretofore conveyed to the Commonwealth of Kentucky for right of way by deed dated January 23, 1983, recorded in Deed Book 120, page 515.

Defendants, Russell Bullock and Magdalene Bullock, obtained title to said real property by deed dated November 25, 1975 from J.C. Bowling, et al, recorded in Deed Book 99, page 604, Rockcastle County Court Clerk's office, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky. The property will be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

- The property shall be sold to the highest bidder(s) for cash or for a deposit of TWENTY-FIVE (25%) per cent of the purchase price in cash at the time of sale and balance payable in SIXTY (60) DAYS. The purchaser(s) shall be required to execute bond with surety thereon, to be approved by the Master Commissioner, for the balance of the purchase price. The bond shall bear interest at the rate of twelve (12%) per cent per annum from date until paid, and to remain and be a lien on said property until fully paid.
- The purchaser(s) shall have the privilege of paying all of the purchase price in cash or paying the bond before maturity by paying the principal amount thereon, together with all interest accrued thereon to the date of said payment.
- The purchaser(s) shall pay the 1991 County, State and School taxes on the property.
- The purchaser(s) shall have the possession of the premises upon complying with the terms of sale and risk of loss improvements shall thereafter be on the purchaser(s).
- This sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise.

Bids to be let for construction of bypass at Ky. 80 - U.S. 27

The Ohio boatpeople will be happy to hear this.

Bids for construction of the first section of the proposed Southeast Somerset Bypass will be accepted until 10 a.m. Friday, when they will be opened and read publicly by state transportation officials.

The most recent cost estimate of the project, a new 3.5 mile roadway extending from U.S. 27 to the Lake Cumberland Regional Industrial Park, is $11.1 million.

A design plan for the roadway shows it beginning from a point on U.S. 27 near the existing intersection with Allen Way just south of Somerset Mall and continuing through portions of the Industry Road Properties and farmland behind the mall. It will cross Ky. 1247 at Sinking Creek near the intersection of Parkers Mill road and parallel the entrance to the industrial park beyond ending near the Hartco-Tibbals Flooring plant.

The second and final leg of the bypass, proposed for construction in fiscal year 1994, extends from the industrial park to a point on Ky. 80 about one half mile east of the intersection of East Mt. Vernon Street.

Phillipia Jeffers, a Cabinet spokesperson, says an awards committee within the Cabinet is likely to review all of the bids for a week or possibly longer before making a final decision on which firm receives the construction contract.

Carmeron to exhibit livestock at International Exposition

Local livestock producer Charlie Carmeron, of Mt. Vernon, will be an exhibitor at the 1991 North American International Livestock Exposition (NAILE) and has entered three head of Holstein in the Dairy division.

These animals will compete along with more than 15,000 others to bring their owners a share of NAILE premiums and awards totaling $400,000.

The 18th annual North American International opens Nov. 9 and continues through Nov. 22 at the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center in Louisville. According to Executive Director Harold Workman, the giant livestock expo is expected to attract entries from nearly every state and from Canada, and more than 150,000 visitors from the United States and several foreign nations.

Seven livestock divisions will be featured. They are beef cattle, dairy cattle, dairy goats, swine, sheep, quarter horses and draft horses. Workman said virtually every breed will be represented in the seven categories, bringing total shows and sales to nearly 75 during the two-week exposition.

"NEW TRACK"

quickness over endurance range from the 100 meter dash, 200 meter dash, and the 400 meter dash. All three require speed, yet the 400 meter dash demands some endurance as it is a quick sprint of the track's full length. According to Larkey, the 400 meter dash is the toughest race to run.

Long distance races include the 800 meter, the 1600 meter, and the 3200 meter. Endurance is the key to long distance success.

Some of the running events are performed as a relay, having teams of four to complete a race, such as the 400 meter. Each team member runs one-fourth of the race, then hands a baton to the next runner on his/her team to run the next fourth.

Coach Larkey believes that home meets are important for the team and just as important are the score keepers, timers, measurers, etc. The team will need many volunteers for such jobs and in preparation, a clinic will be held in the spring to teach all those interested in participating how to run a track meet.

A veteran track and football coach, Larkey came to RCHS in 1985 and began plans for a track team which took form in 1990. Tammy Cox, girl's coach, obtained experience as well while residing in Indiana.

The dream of having a track team may have taken five years but the dream of getting a track came much sooner.

Coach Larkey is pleased that the public is utilizing the facility and urges them to continue. He would like to remind everyone of the rules that accompany the track and hopes that they will be adhered to. First of all, the said that no bikes or skateboards are allowed on the track. Secondly, no cleats, as they would damage the rubberized surface. Lastly, a fence will soon be put up for protection of the track, although Larkey said it will be intended to keep vandalism out, not walkers and runners.

Dear Friend,

How are you? I just had to send you this letter to tell you how much I love and care about you. I saw you yesterday as you were walking with your friends. I waited all day, hoping you would talk to me also, as evening drew near, I gave you a sunset to close your day and a cool breeze to refresh you, and I waited, you never came. Oh yes, it hurt me, but I still love you because I am your friend.

I saw you fall asleep last night and I longed to touch your brow, so I spilled moonlight upon your pillow and face. Again I waited, wanting to rush down so we could talk. I have so many gifts for you.

You awakened late and rushed off for the day. . . My tears were in my rain. Today you looked so sad, so alone. It makes my heart ache because I understand. My friends let me down and hurt me many times too, but I love you. I try to tell you in the quiet green grass; I whisper in the leaves and trees, breathe it in the color of flowers. I shout it to you in the mountain streams and give the birds the love songs to sing. I clothe you with warm sunshine and perfume the air. My love for you is deeper than oceans and bigger than the biggest want or need you have.

We will spend eternity together in heaven. I know how hard it is on this earth, I really know because I was there and I want to help you. My Father wants to help you too. He's

Win Them to the Lord
Teacher, do you know the burden God has laid on you. His steward? Priceless souls are in your keeping. Win them! Win them to the Lord!

Those young eyes upturned toward you. Are they keen with life, or bored? Are they longing to be challenged? Win them! Win them to the Lord!

Here may sit some future preachers, wielders of the Spirit's sword. They must first be led to trust Him. Win them! Win them to the Lord!

How to win them? Here's the answer: Give them more than spoken Word. When you guide their crafts and projects, You may turn them to the Lord.

While their eager hands are busy With the paper, cloth, and board, Everlasting truths may touch them. And, they may receive their Lord.

Teacher, gladly face the challenge: Help them know God's love out poured. Help them learn through word and working. Win them! Win them to the Lord!

The Only Real Handicap is not Trusting God's Wisdom

The answer to why some people are physically handicapped is not easy to come by, but it is there. Those who over the years watched the TV series which was based on the true story of a struggling midwestern farm family will remember the heart-rending episode in which the beautiful eldest daughter went blind at the age of 15, a tragedy that would surely have destroyed her hopes of being a teacher. Nevertheless, after learning to cope with her sightless condition, she did indeed become a teacher--of blind children. The only people who are truly handicapped are those who fail to realize that God has a purpose for all of us, enabling us to live full and productive lives in which, regardless of our disabilities, we learn to help others as well as ourselves.

"In the world ye shall have tribulation; but be of good cheer." -John 16:33

It's no crime to cooperate. . .

It is hard for me to understand how the state of Kentucky can and does offer all kinds of incentives to business to try and get them to locate in Kentucky so the people of this state will have opportunities to acquire good jobs, and here in 1,500 looks at Rockcastle County or any other Eastern Kentucky county, public officials and other groups fall all over themselves to help them out, provide funding, helping them to acquire land or whatever they need.

CHARTING ROCKCASTLE

By Richard Anderlin
Managing Editor

Rockcastle County, more particularly Mt. Vernon, we can't even seem to do much of anything except try to get big business as a cash cow for city coffers.

Kentucky landed Toyota because they were willing to work with them and give tax incentives that would help them during the first few years of operation. The state will get their tax breaks back many, many times over in state income tax, property tax and sales tax. They are presently trying to lure United Airlines in the same way they got Toyota. It just makes sense.

No business is perfect, no business can make all their employees happy and no business always sees eye to eye with the city or county providing them with services. But come on folks, 200 plus jobs is nothing to sneeze at, not to mention the other jobs that are indirectly attributed to Renfro Valley.

Every time any type of factory, whether it will employ 15 or business with us, but even if they didn't do business with us, I hope I am civic minded enough to know that we all should try and work together instead of having to settle disputes in court. There are many counties in this state that would give anything to have Renfro Valley and their 200 jobs. Think about it.

On a somewhat different subject, Monday there will be a blood drive at the Rockcastle County High School. The drive is for everyone's benefit, but in particular for Bobby Joe Hansel, who suffers from Hodgkins (?). Bobby recently had a bone marrow transplant and is in need of many, many pints of blood. If enough can be donated it will save the Hansels a lot of money.

Points East

whole week. It's the moral equivalent of saying "go to hell".

So I've been mulling over the reasons that I don't dread Louisville and I think I have it figured out.

First of all, I'm not the least bit uncomfortable driving my pick-up to any address that I might need to find in Louisville. I don't even worry when I get lost and have to turn around a few times. I find other drivers there to be reasonably sane and you can't even say that about Lexington anymore. People actually stop when traffic lights turn red and they don't proceed until they turn green. I can drive at the posted speed limit and it pleases me to notice that most everybody else is doing the same thing.

In most other cities anymore things like traffic lights and speed limits are considered bad suggestions by the driving public. A yellow light in Lexington, for example is generally interpreted to be a direct order to push the accelerator to the floor. Red lights mean you should stop if the car in front of you does, in which case you and all the people behind you curse the guy who stopped and sit on your horns if he doesn't lay rubber when the light turns green.

The posted speed limit on Winchester Road between I-75 and New Circle in Lexington is 45 mph. Try driving that slow on that road between 7 a.m. and 9 any weekday morning and see what happens to you. I'll give you a hint. Don't be expecting any kindness. But if you want to learn the meaning of intimidation go right ahead.

The definition of intimidation in the dictionary should read, "what you experience by driving the speed limit on Winchester Road."

Multiply that by 50 and you have a fairly accurate definition of New York and most other big cities. Some of my associates actually rent cars when they go to New York. I wouldn't do it if they put me in a Rolls Royce and told me I could have the car when I down and motioned me out. That's why I like Louisville. People on the streets actually carry on conversations with each other. And they sound Kentucky. I like that too.

And there are places to eat where the food is original and good and affordable that aren't part of some big chain where the food is pre-portioned in plastic. There are some good restaurants in Lexington, but I haven't won the lottery. The most important qualification a chef needs in most Lexington eateries is a working knowledge of the microwave.

The next time you're in Louisville, go to Bristol's and have a dining experience that you will remember fondly for weeks to come, both because the food was excellent and you will still have enough cash to make the car payment.

In the meantime, if you don't like Louisville, let me suggest that you make some calls in Atlanta or New York. Go to Chicago and rent a car. Take a ride through Boston in a cab. And then come back to Louisville for a day or two and tell me where you feel at home.

and sports were areas concerning the parents and they believe they should receive a chance to voice their opinions. "We listened to them last spring," said Mink. "At least we deserve them listening to us."

Brodhead PTA member, Alison Reynolds, reported that in talking to residents of the Brodhead area, the support remains against the state recommendation.

Mayor Bill Medley voiced that the city council supports the PTA 100%.

In addition to support, Medley continued by saying that all students should have an equal opportunity to school facilities.

"Our number one objective is to not have our school moved," said Mink as he urged the parents and supporters to attend the hearing on Thursday.

A planning meeting was held on Wednesday, Oct. 2, to prepare the questions and argument in effort to save the local school.

Renfro sues city over entertainment tax

By: Richard Anderkin
Apparently believing they have been discriminated against by the City of Mt. Vernon, Renfro Valley Folks, Inc., has filed suit in Rockcastle Circuit Court.

In September of last year the City of Mt. Vernon passed an ordinance that called for a three percent entertainment tax for institutions inside the city of Mt. Vernon that provide entertainment. The three percent tax is to be paid on all tickets sold at entertainment events.

The suit also alleges that at the time the privilege license tax for entertainment centers was adopted last September, the ordinance was intended to apply solely to Renfro Valley Folks Inc.

Mt. Vernon Mayor Gary R. Cropper, said last week that he really did not understand why Renfro was suing the city.

"We took Renfro Valley into the city limits so they could get their insurance rates decreased, worked hard to get a sewage treatment plant for the Valley and resisted the 5% tax for entertainment allowed by law," Cropper said last Thursday.

But, Renfro Valley Folks Inc. president Ralph Gabbard has stated before that it was totally unfair to tax Renfro in extreme excess of other businesses in the city.

Gabbard met with the council on September 3 and asked council members to abolish the tax, forgive what Renfro owes for 1991 or use half of the tax money generated to help attract industry to the area.

The council voted Gabbard down on each request.
The suit alleges that Mt. Vernon violated the equal protection clause of Kentucky's fourteen amendment and that the tax imposed is grossly excessive, unreasonable, arbitrary and oppressive and is not based on a fair apportionment of the cost of city services provided by the city.

Renfro Valley Folks say the ordinance providing for the entertainment tax is unconstitutional and invalid and therefore, void and unenforceable.

The suit asks that the City of Mt. Vernon be permanently restrained and enjoined from collecting the tax.

"We have made a multi-million dollar investment in Renfro Valley.

Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County and we certainly do not care to pay our fair share. We simply do not think this is a fair tax," Gabbard said following the September 3, Mt. Vernon council meeting.

To date Renfro Valley Folks has paid the city of Mt. Vernon $800.

A civil suit states only one side of the case.

Youth shoots self in head at Livingston

A 21-year-old Livingston man, apparently dependent over the shooting death of a friend a week ago, shot himself in the head Sunday.

Eddie Morris is in good condition in a K. Medical center in Lexington. According to a sheriff's report, Morris, also known as Eddie Sturgill, was alone in the bedroom of the home of his stepfather Charles "Bud" Lovell when the shooting occurred.

Police said the bullet grazed his head. He was flown to Lexington for treatment.

Morris and Jeffrey Clinton Bailey, were in a bedroom of the Lovell home on Sept. 22 handling a 38 special when, according to Morris, the gun went off striking Bailey in the abdomen. He died an hour later in Rockcastle Hospital.

No ruling has been made on that shooting pending an autopsy report. Sheriff Deputy Darrell Doan investigated the most recent shooting.

News briefs

Lasses Festival

As in other years, eyes turn this weekend to the annual Renfro Valley Lasses Makin and Harvest Festival.

Always a crowd pleaser, the spotlight will be on sorghum made from cane the old-time way.

During the three-days of activities, there will be pony rides for children; regional arts and crafts; live entertainment including music, clogging and square dancing; muzzel-loading shoot including turkey shoot, clay pigeon shoot and string match.

"Jib" Hasty, former Rockcastle County sheriff, is back for another pig roast that proved so successful last weekend.

Also on hand will be the Kentucky Trailblazers wagon train of Mt. Eden with their 18 to 25 wagons.

Admission to the festival is $3 for adults and half-price for children 12 and under.

Flu shots

Once again, health officials are suggesting flu shots.

The Federal Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta says it's too early to predict how severe the 1991-92 flu season will be.

But authorities expect that strains of influenza A are likely to be dominant this year, since influenza B was predominant last year. And outbreaks of influenza A have often been more severe than influenza B.

The worst outbreak of B-type influenza in 20 years occurred in 1989-90.

State health officials say that those who should get flu shots are the elderly — who are especially vulnerable to pneumonia and other flu complications — and people with heart and other respiratory diseases. Shots also are recommended for health-care workers, who come in contact with large numbers of people in the high-risk groups.

The ideal time for flu shots is well before the first flu cases appear, which usually happens in December.

A basic guideline is to be vaccinated by Thanksgiving at the latest, officials say. It takes about two weeks for the vaccination to begin offering protection.

The Fayette County Health Department will begin offering flu shots after Oct. 14.

Jeans sold
After 14 years dishing out vittles, Don and Jean Walker have decided to let someone serve them for awhile.

Walker said recently "we're tired." So they're going to "take a vacation for awhile."

No school

School will be dismissed for students Oct. 4 and 11. Friday, Oct. 4 is dismissed for CKEA with voluntary participation from teachers and administrators. (This is not one of the 185 days in the school calendar.) Friday, Oct. 11 is a Professional Development Day for certified staff members that have not completed the flexible training sessions.

On Thursday, Oct. 3, the Rockcastle County High School will dismiss at 2 p.m. (elementary schools at 2:30 p.m.) in order to complete emergency bus evacuation drills. These drills will be conducted at the elementary schools.

Mt. Vernon fest

Plans were moving along this week in preparation for the Bittersweet Festival scheduled for Mt. Vernon Friday and Saturday Oct. 11 and 12, according to Rebecca Hammond, chairman.

A children's parade is scheduled for 3 p.m. Friday. Children will dress as fairy tale characters. Those participating should gather at the courthouse by 2:30 p.m.

Friday night a band will play, but the name has not been announced. The band Saturday night will be the Last Angels.

At noon, both Friday and Saturday, there will be 3 on 3 basketball at the city parking lot opposite the courthouse. Christy Beaver, RCHS girls coach will be in charge.

Saturday there will be a magician at 11 a.m. on Main Street. The Hill Top Stompers, cloggers, will perform beginning at noon.

At 1 p.m. the Different Way gospel group will sing, followed at 2 p.m. by the Jubilee Echoes. The Daughters will sing at 3 p.m. Old Joe Clark and Terry will perform at 4 p.m.

The Lost Angels will play beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Children will not be in school on Friday.

Statue damaged

The full-length, impressive statue of the late U.S. Senator John Sherman Cooper in Fountain Square in Somerset was toppled by vandals last week.

The statue has been stored until it can be repaired and restored to the square.

Cooper, a Somerset native, died Feb. 21, 1991 at the age of 89. He is buried in Arlington National Cemetery. At one time he served as Circuit Judge for Rockcastle.

Break-in

About $3,500 worth of electronic equipment was stolen from the home of Jim Jarvis at KOA campground Sept. 27.

The theft remains under investigation by Sheriff Deputy Leonard Miller.

Big tobacco

Willard Harrison of Brodhead brought an eight-foot tobacco plant to the Signal for a picture. It was grown on his half-acre plot and had 39 leaves. He used Top Yield fertilizer but no weed killer.

Livingston folks upset with state building plan

By: Laura Mize

An estimated 150 supporters rallied at the Livingston PTA meeting in hopes of encouraging the public to resist the new recommendation from the state making Livingston a transition school.

If the school is given a transition status, the funding for any repairs, construction etc. will not be available to Livingston Elementary.

Livingston principal Jeri Mink spoke against the recommendation and informed the attendees of a hearing on Thursday, Oct. 3, at 10 a.m., at Rockcastle High School.

Two hearing officers will be sent from Franfort to listen to the complaints of Livingston residents.

Buzz Carlotis was chosen to represent those in opposition and will pose the questions at the meeting.

"I believe our school board has the best interests in mind," said Carlotis. "They are always supportive and progressive—compared to other counties, our buildings and facilities are some of the best."

He continued by saying that he is confident that when the hearing officers learn of the need Livingston has for the school, they will agree it should remain.

Carlotis commented that the parents should be the ones giving priorities to Frankfort, not Frankfort giving priorities to the parents.

According to Mink, Frankfort speaks bureaucratic language to impress the public and he said enthusiastically, "They will have to impress me to get me to agree with this move."

In lieu of the conflict, Mink told of a report by the Carnegie Foundation in 1990, that says no middle school should be larger than 300 students and no elementary over 250. Mink estimated Mt. Vernon Elementary to house 600 if the proposal occurs. "Take the school out of the community, the community dies," said Mink.

15-year-old girl missing since September 18

Mandy Meadows, 15, daughter of Johnny Meadows of Burr, has been reported missing since Sept. 18.

According to family members, Mandy was last seen about 3 p.m. at Rockcastle County High School. Earlier, she had had a problem at school and was told to discuss it with her parents.

Police checked the residence of her mother, Vicky Meadow at Berea but found no trace of her.

"We love her and hope she will call us at home," said a family member. "The number is 256-4131." She is about 5-foot, 4 inches tall, has dark brown hair and weighs about 185 pounds.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,
Oct./Nov. 1991 - "Practical Survival", the second issue of a recently started new publication, about Plant Respiration in Hydroponic Growing of Plants, reported high energy plants, like vegetables, require large quantities of oxygen for their growth and development, which is not the way I was taught. I was taught plants take in mostly carbon dioxide and give off some (21%) oxygen.

Still it reports since 1938, our government and our industry have commercially used hydroponics and depending on the type plant, one can achieve a crop yield of two to 30 times as great of vegetables grown hydroponically, as compared to those grown in soil and the water-nutrient solution used in hydroponics can be mostly recovered and re-used, to require less water-nutrients to grow this crop yield and less chance part of the fertilizers used would be washed by rain into the ground waters, to perhaps pollute our streams, lakes and drinking waters.

I am retired on a medical disability pension since 1988, but have 140 acres (ML) of Jackson County, Kentucky property near the settlement of Three Links, which since my knowledge hasn't been farmed so my grandfather died in 1925.

As the Farm Bureau Agent I talked with only knew what he had read about hydroponics, to say the startup cost of hydroponics may be too expensive to be economically practical for small farms. He was perhaps talking commercial hydroponics to suggest proper irrigation may be a less expensive way to increase crop yield.

But that would be the more troublesome way of farming in soil, without recovery and re-use of most of the water-nutrients, and though I had two neurosurgical operations to my brain in the time of a week in 1986, I still may be able to think and reason things out.

I graduated high school in 1960 at 17 years of age, at a time when you went to school to try to get an education, not to learn how to socially integrate? When I was 18, I went into the U.S. Army Security Agency for my military obligation to my country, to serve 19 months and five days of overseas assignments, including hardship tour in the country of Turkey, to honorably separate with having seen parts of our world I would not have seen had I not decided to get my military obligation over A.S.A.P.

God willing and the horse don't run dry, I have a few ideas to where with help I may be able to try a less expensive form of limited hydroponics a bit, which I can do and, it may show Hydroponics are possible and perhaps economically practical for small farms.

To perhaps build cement walls maybe 12" - 18" high to form a shallow pool, with perhaps polyethylene sheets on the bottom to help keep the water nutrients from leaking out. To then add 9" thick, a layer such as gravel, sand, peat, vermiculite, perlite, or free of salt substrate which does not require cultivation as a water-nutrient solution from one to four times a day, which drains through the soil substitute to cause a much better seed germination of seed, just put in and covered over a bit, when the plants develop roots, there is a much better transfer of the essential elements necessary for the plant roots, and development of the better roots, although the soils substitute will not support tall growing plants without additional support.

A drain is placed into the sump pool to where as the solution drains, it is mostly recovered into a reserve, and with perhaps a sump pump and a bit of hose, used as a supply of water-nutrients to flood the sump pool again and again.

With an electric timer and a float shut off, you may only need to go to the pool every week or two, to see that everything is operating and to bring the water nutrients to operating level, as the emplants will use a bit. Evaporation and leakage a bit more, but maybe not really that much. After you see how often you really have to bring the solution up to operating level this way, you could go away that long, on short trips or vacations as long as everything is operating right your presence would not help the plants grow any faster or slower.

A neighbor or friend may help, if you are going to be away for long but if you've got a spring near, it may not take all that long to take the pump and hose over to the spring to replace the little water used and evaporation takes mostly water, so the nutrients may have to be added less often, unless a severe leakage problem develops.

This can be used in places not normally used to grow plants, as it is used world wide now, unless suitable lands to grow plants, but some of our elected officials and some of our industries may see personal profits and helping the world over the problems in America.

This may not work as I expect, but if it is economically possible with a little help and a bit of advice, I may try it a dab-dab and a half next year.

If advice is available I will try to read the newspapers enough to see if anyone else writes about hydroponics.

If economically practical this limited hydroponics may be a way to reduce chemical fertilizers from polluting our streams, lakes, and drinking water a bit.

I learned long ago in the army, "I am just one man. I can not do everything alone, yet as a man, I can do my part to the best of my ability, and as a team, each doing their part the best way they can almost any problem can be overcome."

I advanced to a minor position of leadership, among a team of highly intelligent professionals, but I doubt my ability then and now.

Though I have thought of it, I don't have any political ambitions but if this is economically and productively practical, I wonder why it wasn't one years ago?

If I can, I want to try it, just to see if I can still reason things out.

Storm

Quiet reigns once again in my dining room at the farm as I sit at my favorite place looking out at the orchard. All I can hear are the bells that are constantly ringing in my ears. That is an affliction that many of us older people have. Maybe we have heard enough in our life time and are ready for "the bells," and should call them "Joy bells," for being permitted to live long enough to hear them. So be it.

Today my yard is dappled with shade from the remaining leaves on the apple trees that are left. The old stump from a fallen tree, lying next to the fence, is outlined in shadow which makes the stump look as if it has been coated with silver. One lone purple flower is pecking its head above the grey fence plank which makes the goldenrod in the background look as if they have been purposely arranged to show up the purple one brave enough to peep over the fence and into my window.

The storm in July has left havoc in my orchard but none the less it did weather the storm and those that did are proudly showing they are survivors by dropping red apples on the ground beneath them.

That storm in July that ended up as a tornado in this part of the county was the worst I've ever been through. It was midafternoon and about an hour before the storm hit that I was sitting here writing and bemoaning the fact of so many dead trees in the orchard with no one to cut them down.

And even while writing about it a dark cloud appeared over the hill top and I heard the howling and moaning wind that accompanied it. I ran to put my car in the garage and noticed the cats scrambling for safe places under porch furniture. This should have warned me of what was ahead for animals have the instinct for such things and always seek shelter.

For the next 10 minutes or so I was busy fastening up windows and securing loose porch furniture. It wasn't until I had this done that I realized I was in the center of the worst storm I had ever been in. The rain in now was coming down in torrents and the sky was as dark as night. I could not see out the windows nor could I hear the crashing of the trees that I later discovered all over the place. It was as if I was in the bottom of a muddy river with a war going on above and about me. The crashing of thunder could be heard and the vivid flashing of lightning was the only light to be seen. Where serenity had been a few short minutes ago now it was all chaos. This lasted perhaps ten minutes before it passed on and left its toll for us to take care of.

As the thunder became less deafening and the lightning flashes less frequent the denseness outside began to ease a bit so I could see shadows in the yard that later turned out to be downed trees. It was odd how they had fallen along the fence instead of across it. I now had a living fence of green tops surrounding my place, even the big poplar beside the driveway fell horizontally instead of across the drive.

I was not, nor had I been scared by the ferociousness of the storm and even as I surveyed the fallen trees a calmness settled over the place and I realized neither human life nor the buildings had been damaged. It seemed to me I could hear the voice of God saying in a thunderous voice, "Take warning, see what I can do."

It was later I heard of other miracles that had taken place. Strangely, the phones had not been put out of order and very soon Dean Mize, my neighbor, called to see if I was alright. They had lost several big shade trees and their front porch had been ripped from the house but they were alright. It was she who alerted me to the real damage to our neighborhood yet I could not comprehend it till I went out the next day to see for myself. The last three miles of highway 1249 that deadends at old highway 80 was literally felled with criss crossed trees. Not little bushes and branches blown from trees but big oaks and pines were mingled together across the road. The wind had blown in one direction till most of the trees in its path were down then turned around and came back for the rest. What wasn't blown down was twisted and broken off in their tops.

One of the many miracles that happened that after noon was the one Vivian Renner was involved in. She was on her way home from work in London when the storm hit. She was less than two miles from home when a big tree fell across the road in front of her and as she backed into a

Teen Center Perspectives

By: Ginny Gilpatrick

Being a truckdriver isn't what it used to be. Increasing regulations and paperwork have drastically changed the carefree image of the job. Maybe there were some teens who visited the Truck Stop last Wednesday who had their fantasies shattered. Or maybe none of them ever planned to be a truck driver, but now they understand better how to handle their four-wheeled around trucks on the highway. Or maybe the new technology in trucking appealed to someone who might not consider that career.

Each Wednesday by 4:00, teens have a chance to expand their horizons and get questions answered that they never thought of asking. "What are the dangers of over-the-counter drugs?" or "What if you no longer want that tattoo of a serpent circled around your entire arm when you are 35?" Teens are pretty much here-and-now oriented. Future consequences often don't enter their minds. The CAP Teen Center program attempts to raise their consciousness by taking them behind the scenes through trips and speakers. They have talked with the pharmacist at Mt. Vernon Pharmacy; they have toured the new Days Inn where they got some realistic pointers about job applications and personal qualities that impress prospective employers. They got first-hand second thoughts about tattooing from a former biker, and they talked with a veteran trucker and a woman truckdriver.

In October, teens will look at the food industry from the standpoint of retailer, E.C. Porter, and food service establishment, Kaste Inn. A young woman who has done relief work in Latin America will show slides of her experiences and discuss social consciousness efforts. Teens will also view the WKXO radio station and the Fitness Center in Brodhead. The October calendar with all the details is posted in the schools and is available at the Teen Center. The van, and extra cars, if needed, leave the Center at 4 p.m. on Wednesdays. Going with a group is a good way to break down some barriers and help teens feel comfortable with places and people that can enrich their lives.

"I Care Hotline" 1-800-728-4227
 Thursday, Sept. 26, the students at RCCHS were presented with an assembly on the "I Care Hotline." The "I Care Hotline" is a toll free number exclusively for teens. The hotline is for teens who don't have anyone to talk to about their problems.

Meeting at RCCHS Oct. 3
 Thursday morning at 10 a.m. there will be a meeting at the high school about the new high school being constructed. The meeting is open for anyone who is interested and would like to attend.

Special Day for RCCHS
 RCCHS was visited by officials from the State Department of Education. The theme of the day was "Support the Spirit Day!" The officials visited Mt. Vernon and Roundstone Elementary Schools.

No School!
 School will be dismissed at RCCHS at 2 p.m. Thursday. There will be no school Friday Oct. 4 or Friday Oct. 11.

Football Game
 Rockcastle County Rockets will be going against the Somerset Brar Jumpers at 8 p.m. Thursday night. A dance will follow the game.

The Rockcastle County High School guidance committee held their first meeting of the 1991-92 school year on September 19. The topic of discussion with the Counselor Licensure Bill. ## Tiger Pause

"Sing and Celebrate" - a musical production by the 7th and 8th grade performing arts classes was postponed until Thursday, Oct. 3 at 1:20 p.m.

The council for Effective Schools met for training Monday - Wednesday. Those members are: Mark McKinney, Judy Adams, Molly Hamm, Steve Ritter, Gary Scott and Katherine Bradley.

The following seventh grade students qualified to participate in Duke University Talent Search Program: Amy Robinson, Ashley Scoggin, Charles Saylor, Denise Brummett, Derek Tomkins, Chris Bradley, Slade Calhoun, Devin Graves, Aaron Stallworth, Holly Norton, and Beth Durham. These seventh graders will be taking the ACT or SAT at a nearby college with college age juniors and seniors.

Thursday, Oct. 3 our school will be conducting a drill for bus safety evacuation. Students who do not go to school will also signal the rest of the student body to board buses for the drill. Your children will be arriving home a little earlier and you may need to plan for this early dismissal.

Mr. Pybas and the junior high band students are preparing a concert for the schools in the near future. We are looking forward to this performance. The Kentucky DES (Division of Emergency Services) is sponsoring a contest for elementary schools to name a plaque from Kentucky DES and a prize of $500 to purchase educational items for the school. Earthquake Preparedness Week is Oct. 20-26.

Our students who are fourth graders this school year will graduate from high school in the year 2000. The American Cancer Society, American Heart Association and American Lung Association want these students to graduate free of tobacco addiction. Our school is participating in the Smoke-Free Class of 2000 project - classes of Mrs. Charlotte Bullock, Mrs. Katreka Cash and Mrs. Kathy Reynolds.

A program recently implemented by the Transportation Cabinet and the Department of Highways, the Kentucky Engineering Exposure Network (KEEN), is coming to our school

Wednesday and Thursday Oct. 9 and 10. This program has been developed to enhance the image of the engineering profession and to provide school students of all ages with information concerning engineering as a career choice, particularly civil engineering. Students in the following classes will host presenters Joseph Cox and Neal Shoemaker, District 8, Somerset: 5th grade, Judy Doyle, Oma Owens; 6th grade, Patsy Morgan, Lajoy Graves, and Nelson Graves; and the eighth grade Earth Science classes of Jim Ward.

The County Annual 4-H Recognition Banquet will be Tuesday evening, Oct. 8 in the school cafeteria. John McQuerry and the 4-H Council will present awards after the dinner.

The halls of Roundstone Elementary are looking very festive this week. All classrooms have been doing special projects. "The Great Pumpkin" and the "Tall Tales" legs are some of the more colorful displays. A special thank you to all the teachers and students for these beautiful displays.

Mrs. Davis' preschoolers have especially enjoyed participating in the library program and physical education classes this week in "big school". They have also been very busy in the preschool building. They have constructed and painted paper mache music makers. Also the students have enjoyed art projects that include leaf rubbings and leaf collages.

Roundstone's 7th and 8th graders joined other students from the county elementary schools to hear an informative and entertaining program about the National Youth "I Care" hotline. This hotline is for teens that want confidential help with or information about problems.

Recycling has been the topic of interest in Mrs. Little's 7th and 8th grade science classes. Over 100 students participated in a poster contest to promote recycling and foster youth leadership. The Project S.T.O.P. poster contest is sponsored by Cumberland Valley Area Development District and will be judged on school, district, and state levels. Round Elementary school had the following winners: Amber Coffey, Martha Collins, Jill Cummins, Janna Cornelius, Hazel Rowe, LeAnn Sigmon, Jewell Jackson, Brandy Poynter.

Jason Proctor, Alice Potter, Lee Cromer, Neil Sparks and Amy Truett. Also declared winners were: Jennifer Little, Crystal Couch, Kim Poynter, Melanie Coffey, Misty Hacker, Kelly Garrett, Misty Lamb, Shawna Stevens, Ginger Mink, Marcia Coffey, Janica Cummins, and Breana Owens. Thank you to Beverly Owens, Carol Pybas, Rosamond Brown and Tracy Gabbard for helping judge the posters. Mr. Gabbard also helped display all of the posters.

Mr. Abney's class has been learning about the changes in each season. They have taken several nature walks. On these walks they have found leaves from nine different types of trees. Also, they have picked up apples and hickory nuts to make a salad. Mr.

Abney would like to congratulate Daniel McFerron and Jamie Russell for six weeks of perfect attendance. Also, the class would like to send a "big" thanks to Evelyn Newcomb and Alice Cromer for the art supplies they sent to the class. The Roundstone Effective School team has been training this week with teams from other schools in the county. Team members Kathryn Howard, Carol Pybas, Nancy Hale, Vicki Scott, David Parsons, and Melanie Lyons will be developing an improvement plan for Roundstone Elementary. They need our support and encouragement with this project. Mrs. Linda Osborne's 7th and 8th grade English classes are enjoying

Dr. Bottoms gives workshop for RCHS teachers

Teachers at Rockcastle County High School are continuing to upgrade their skills in writing. Dr. Laurie Bottoms, of the University of Kentucky was present on Sept. 23, to share her expertise on the writing process. This workshop was one of eleven workshops funded by a grant from the Language Arts Department of Education.

This grant, the third written by Mrs. Iris Young, endeavors to familiarize teachers with Writing Across the Disciplines. These teachers are learning activities which help the student understand that writing is a learning tool in all content areas rather than in the English classroom only.

Two other workshops are scheduled with Dr. Bottoms. In these workshops teachers will learn to score holistically some of the new performance assessment activities which students will be expected to perform in the spring of 1992.

DeVry offers over $1.75 million in scholarships throughout US

DeVry Institutes will offer 40 full-tuition and 80 half-tuition scholarships at a total value of more than $1.75 million to 1992 high school graduates throughout the United States.

According to DeVry Inc. Chairman Dennis Keller, each full-tuition scholarship, valued at up to $23,330, and each half-tuition scholarship, valued at up to $11,650 may be used for application fees and tuition toward a bachelor's degree program in Electronics Engineering Technology, Computer Information Systems, Business Operations, Telecommunications Management or Accounting. The scholarship can be applied at any of the nine DeVry Institutes in the United States. (Not all programs are offered at each institute.)

Finalists will be determined on the basis of SAT, ACT or WPCT scores and will be announced in April of 1992. Scholarship recipients will be chosen on the basis of those scores, high school academic achievement, extracurricular activities and an essay. Announcement of winners will be made shortly thereafter.

Applications are available at the Admissions Office at each DeVry Institute and must be returned before March 23, 1992.

Keller said scholarship recipients will receive a plaque to commemorate the honor, and a similar plaque will be presented to the students' high schools for permanent display. The number of scholarships granted

"Dracula" matinees announced for high school students

October 24 and 25, Thursday and Friday there will be 9:30 a.m. matinees at Sue Bennett College in London of the classic horror story "Dracula" by Bram Stoker. Junior and senior high school students are invited to these matinees and they can see this Halloween weekend offering for $1 with no charge for teachers.

The play recounts the popular story of the vampire and gives blood sucking attacks on innocent people. The play runs 90 minutes and brings STACY, the latest victim of the vampire, her father who, desperate for help, calls in Professor Van Helsing a Dutch physician who knows about vampires and wicrowles, Lucy's fiancee John Harker, a lunatic named Renfield who eats flies and spiders; a maid who falls under the spell of Count Dracula, a keeper who spends the entire show trying to keep up with Renfield and of course the count from Transylvania.

The script is the original version used on Broadway in 1931 and includes all the special effects such as flying bats, the disappearing count and a variety of stage lighting to give particular emphasis to the theme of this eerie old popular story.

For reservations call Dr. Kimmon at Sue Bennett College, 864-2258 or 864-2290. Please leave name and phone number of contact person and number to attend. Seating is limited. Reservations are taken on first-come, first serve basis.

Evening performances Oct. 24, 25, 26 at 8 p.m. for the general public. Admission will be $3 for adults and $2 for children.

ROAMIN' ROCKCASTLE

By HILDA PAYNE GABBARD

I tell you if it gets any colder these mornings, I'm not even going to get up, unless there's a good warm fire burning in the fireplace which brings me to the tale on Larry Abrams.

They say that the way he got his name is the wife, Ina.

They are members of Galilee Baptist Church the same as we are and I expect a whole lot more faithful.

It seems Larry told Ina she would never have to get up to a cold house in winter if he didn't wait for the world to come to him, he went out looking for it and a new life.

His wanderings took him from Indiana back to Berea where I stopped writing last week. There he worked in the Council of Southern Mountains and left for Virginia and later returned to Berea. This time it seemed where he wanted to stay.

Perhaps his brother, Randy Osborne being in church worked out. Sonny to find the place he wanted to stay.

The brothers purchased what is known now as the Osborne -- Wray Funeral Home. Sonny is proud of the place which they have remodeled some and says, "It is so nice and peaceful looking."

As I started to leave, he introduced me to his brother, Rev. Randy Osborne who is pastor of a church near Berea. When I saw his smile, I felt this was a man you could trust.

Helen Powell, an employee in the restaurant, came over and talked to me. When she mentioned her father, Willie Cope, from around Fairview, who lived on Clear Creek many years ago, and knew my Dad and family, I was on home ground. I can see why a lot of folks gather in Helen with her whom I have a great respect. I also met Lois Hensley, an attractive and friendly woman who was night manager.

As I left, I thanked Sonny for his time, he smiled and said, "After all, I'm just an old country boy!" But country boys make good too.

I met some mighty nice Jackson County folks recently. Winifred and Lily VanWinkle who live at Morrill and own the house that used to belong to my Uncle Bob Abney. They were readers of mine in this paper and Lily said they wondered if I would look like "Dear Adam".

A neighbor of theirs, Stella Roark, has lived close by them for 45 years and they said they'd never had a word between them. They always paid back what they borrowed from each other. Now those are true hill country people but I bet if I lived close to Virginia, Mrs. Roark could say that about me, I somehow forget.

A letter from Betty Gabbard Dickinson who says she's trying to trace some of her kinfolks. Her travels have taken her from Lee County (Briplance) to Breathitt County where she was raised and to Florida where she now lives and makes her home. Sorry, but I can't help you as you asked about kinfolks.

Betty asked how much time I spent at the Citizen office. Well, none except to put my copy in on Friday.

In a grocery store one day, I went down the aisle looking for John.

A fellow was holding a cart at the end of the aisle. Seeing me coming looking for someone, he raised his arm and pointed his finger around the corner to the next aisle. Sure enough John was in it.

I asked him who the man was and he said, "That's Jerry Alexander from Scaffold Cave."

I didn't know Jerry but he must have known me to be looking for John so thank you, Jerry, for your help.

From Falls Church, Virginia, comes a nice letter from Ray and Lillian Hall Edwards who left Rockcastle soon after tying the knot at Brodhead where their families are.

Lilian says they located in Virginia and one thing that has kept them from being so homesick was to get the county paper, the Signal from there.

They read my column (6 or 7) years ago and it kept them with memories of their early life.

Now, Lillian, you mean you liked the recipes on preserved turnips and kumquat preserves I gave in that column. You seem to have kept me on your mind a long time. Yes, I'm back with the Signal with one of the "nicest bosses" I've had, Richard Anderkin who has "newspapering" in his blood.

Don't you like his articles in "Charming Rockcastle" where he tells "it" like it is.

Your letter, Lillian, was so interesting. My brother, Dr. George Payne died 42 years ago and Lou, his wife is four months away from her 100th birthday. She is not very well is why she hasn't answered your letter but I know it made her happy all the nice things you said, a former teacher. Thank you for a very nice letter and write again.

I'm always missing out on things, stopping at Berea Health Care Center I talked to Virginia Morris who gets up the interesting entertainment they have there. She said since it was gloomy, dark weather the day before, she had made sassafras tea for the residents which perked them up. I'll declare, Virginia keeps something going on all the time to help the folks there. (She could have let me know about the "free tea" she).

Till next week when I tell about the two sure enough mountain pioneers, John Dees (deceased) and Bill Hazelwood.

in honor of our Senior Adults. The choir consisted of twenty members for this special event. The songs sung were entitled Blessed Hope; Will Jesus Find Us Watching; Eric You Left Your Room This Morning (Did you think to pray); Life's Railway to Heaven; I Feel Like Traveling On Face to Face With Christ; The Final Move and The Meeting in the Air. We had fifteen Senior Adults from our church and three visitors Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hundley of near Roundstone and Mrs. Nancy Fowler of Paris. A long stemmed red rose was presented to each one (both men and women). At the close of the service they all stood up front for a lot of handshaking and hugging. It was a very glorious time and we thank God for the day and what it meant to us. Bless each one is my prayer.

well and enjoying life. But if you are ill, distressed or bereaved in any way, you have our love and prayers. I believe that we should show love and concern for each other and we all need the prayers of one another.

Our Sunday School attendance Sept. 29th was one hundred and nineteen. And we had an outstanding number for worship service. This was the beginning of our fall revival. We enjoyed the messages delivered by Rev. Owen Edwards both Sunday morning and night. Also enjoyed having Mrs. Edwards with us Sunday evening. We would be glad to have any of you that can come and worship with us. We extend to you a warm welcome.

On Sunday morning Sept. 22nd a musical entitled "Some Golden Daybreak" was presented by the choir

4-H County Recognition Banquet
This year's 4-H Recognition Banquet will be held Tuesday, October 8, at 6:30 p.m. at Brodhead Elementary School. This is the time we recognize all the 4-Hers who have won county activities. We also recognize leaders who have helped with the county 4-H program.

Donna Parker, a senior at Berea College and this past summer's intern, will be the guest speaker. We are looking forward to having Donna and what she has to say to our young people.

If you were a winner in any 4-H event and didn't receive an invitation, please call the Extension office at 256-2403.

4-H Dance
There will be a back-to-school 4-H dance on October 10 at Mt. Vernon Elementary School from 7-9 p.m. for grades 4th - 8th only, no exceptions. Tickets are $2 advance and $3 at the door. Buy advanced tickets from: Livingston Jar Grigsby, Mt. Vernon - Judy Buick, Roundstone - Nancy Hale and Brodhead - Molly Hamm.

Sunday School class met at Shoney's in Richmond for a delicious meal. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Buddy and Doris Gabbard and Gail Lee, Johnny and Paula Gilliam, Helen Reppert and son Ronnie Dale, David and Shirley Poynter, Roy Lee and Velma Croucher, Lavey and Betty Poynter, Cleus Peters, Danny and Janice Dooley and Margie Malone. They had a very enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Delilah Blair and two children visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander Saturday.

Mrs. Edith Mullins (my beloved aunt) is feeling some better and we are so thankful.

~ Visiting Mrs. Mullins and other relatives from Franklin, Ohio over the weekend were her grandchildren Beth Johnson, husband Todd and daughter Rachel.

Other guests of Mrs. Mullins on Friday evening were her cousin Mrs. Christine (Ponder) Phillips, her son Gary Phillips and two of her grandsons all of Dayton, Ohio.

Some of our most recent guests in our home have been our son Wayne, wife Carolyn and their daughter-in-law Monica Chasteen, our daughters Joyce, Janet and Darleen, granddaughters Sherri Ridgell and Connie Adams. Also on Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Todd of Madison County.

Connie Adams of LaGrange, Ga. visited her mother and family and other relatives over the weekend.

William Cape and sons of Dayton, Ohio were guests of his mother Mrs. Mary Cope over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Peters of Indiana attended church services at Fairview Sunday morning. We were glad to have them.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander Saturday night were his brother and wife William and Ruby Alexander.

Please attend Sunday School and church whenever possible and pray for revivals and evangelists everywhere and also for our ministers who are preaching God's Word. Bless you all is my prayer.

I like Louisville. Business has taken me to our state's big city lately and if all goes well I'll make several more trips over the next few months. I'm actually looking forward to the next one.

People who know me well think it strange that I don't mind going to Louisville. I have a well-deserved reputation for avoiding cities. When I tell my boss that I need to go to Atlanta, Pittsburgh, Chicago, New York or wherever, he doesn't even ask why. He simply figures that I've already done everything I can to get out of going.

When the kids get mad at me, their favorite curse is to tell me that they hope I get sent to New York for a while. (Cont. to A20)

Journalism Class attends EKU and SPJ Workshop

by: Marilyn Coffey

The Journalism Class at RCCHS went to Eastern Kentucky University looking for fresh new ideas at a journalism workshop sponsored by the Society of Professional Journalists (SPJ). Students from 15 high school newspaper staffs from all over the state were represented at the workshop, and many more schools had entered the newspaper competition earlier when they sent copies of their newspapers to be judged. The welcome was delivered by Terry Sebastian, EKU SPJ president, who also introduced the keynote speaker Jay Grell, a reporter at the Lexington Herald Leader, who covered the Persian Gulf War in Saudi Arabia as well as in Kentucky. He told the audience about his stay with a national guard unit stationed in the Saudi desert as well as some of his experiences at Fort Campbell in Kentucky. Next, the class split up to attend various workshops such as: news, opinions, features, sports writing, photography, design basics, advertisements, and videography. The afternoon session was an

RCCHS students get acquainted with ICARE Hotline

by Kevin Robinson

The crowd fell silent as the sound of gunshot echoed through their minds. Most jumped, some twitched, but most students at a recent RCCHS assembly were stunned with the realities of suicide after they listened to a suicide tape a teen left his mother. Representatives of the ICARE Hotline, which presented the message to the RCCHS assembly, used RCCHS students in skits and used some comedy to make points about drinking and driving, drugs, peer pressure and other negative teenage influences. The students were told about the ICARE Hotline which is designed to help troubled teens who see drugs or suicide as the only way to solve their problems. The Houston-based hotline provides a way for teens to discuss their problems with someone who will understand and will listen. Teens are able to talk out problems related to grief, pain, worry, and frustration anonymously. The hotline number is 1-800-729-4227.

Retired Rockcastle teachers attend district meeting

Ten retired teachers from the Rockcastle County Retired Teachers Association attended the 7th Annual Meeting of Central Kentucky Retired Teachers Association East District. The meeting was held at Cedar Village Restaurant at Irvine on Sept. 17. Attending were Juanita Witt, Barbara Rader, Mary Thomas, Aslee Bay, Sue French, Sarah E. Hammon, Geraldine French, Pat Knauer, Jo Anna Allen, and Kathleen Stevens. The Central Kentucky East District includes the counties of Montgomery, Powell, Estill, Lee, Madison, Garrard, Lincoln, Jackson, and Rockcastle. During the afternoon session Sue French was elected vice president of the district. She is now serving as president of Rockcastle County Retired Teachers Association. All retired teachers are invited and encouraged to become active in the local association. The next meeting will be at 3:30 p.m., Oct. 28 at Rockcastle County Library.

Hindman School dedicates new James Still Learning Center Saturday, Oct. 5

The Hindman Settlement School will be dedicating the new James Still Learning Center on Saturday, Oct. 5 at 2 p.m. Tours of the facility will begin at 1 p.m. Childa Legg, Alternate Federal Co-Chairman of the Appalachian Regional Commission, will be the featured speaker. James Still, nationally known author, will be reading from his works. The program will also involve some of the first students to take part in the Settlement's work with children with dyslexic characteristics. Closing comments will be made by Lois C. Weinberg, founder and Director of the settlement's work with dyslexics. For the past eleven years the Hindman Settlement School has provided coordination of tutorial services for children with dyslexic characteristics throughout this area. During this time, over 700 students and 700 parents have been involved in this program. Studying from between central and southern Kentucky counties have received remediation 4-8th through 12th grade programs and the summer school.

Attending RCHS

Three local families hosting exchange students

By: Laura Mize

Many people read of exciting foreign lands only to wish they could visit them someday. The majestic Swiss Alps and the snow-laden Norwegian landscapes offer exciting histories and cultures that few Americans ever experience.

Three lucky Rockcastle County families no longer have to read about these cultures—instead, they are living with them. Ione Parsons, Wayne and Ruby Stewart, and Dottie and Bill Jack Parsons are hosting the exchange students who are visiting RCHS this school year.

The three students consist of two boys and one girl. Their names are Keil Gauspet and Axel Wangberg of Norway and Irene Gruter of Switzerland. All are seniors and attend Rockcastle County High School.

Keil, who lives with Wayne and Ruby Stewart, was not initially assigned to Rockcastle County. He spent four weeks at a language camp in New York and then traveled out to Lexington where he was to remain for the duration.

Attending Tates Creek High School, Keil felt he was not fulfilling his purpose as an exchange student in that he lived with a divorced man who spent most of his time at work. Although the intentions were right, the man had little time to spend with Keil.

Unhappy with his school as well, Keil exemplified his happiness here by saying, "I made more friends in one day here than three weeks at Tates Creek."

Much to his approval, Keil was placed in the Stewart's home in Renfro Valley. He enjoys his new found friends and according to Ruby, "Compared to Lexington, he was really pleased with the school."

The consensus seemed to be that all three were satisfied with their homes. Each relayed a sense of belonging and explained that they felt welcomed in Rockcastle County. "It's like you meet people and you don't even know their face and they say 'hello,'" Axel said.

Axel learned of his assignment four days prior to his arrival, as did Bill Jack and Dottie. "His father called us to find out what kind of clothes to bring," said Bill Jack. Axel's first day at his new home was one filled with discovery. He had spent the day roaming through the house, and he elaborated on American showers. "It was like this...," he said as he used his hands to describe the shower—extremely short.

His first breakfast consisted of a native favorite, Pop-Tarts. "We don't eat them but I thought he would like them," said Dottie jovially. Disgruntled, Axel scrunched his nose but remained silent and grinning. The schools in Norway and Switzerland are very different from American schools. They all agreed that schools here are much more strict and the relationship between students and teachers is more formal here. Teachers here are referred to by their first names and students are given the freedom to come and go as they please. "Your learning is your own responsibility," said Axel.

Irene's first glimpse of America was from the airplane flying above the city lights. "I was too tired to be nervous," she said, commenting on her trip to the USA.

Knowing her assignment two weeks in advance, Irene phoned Ione Parsons to chat, however, the accents prevented both from communicating well with one another over the phone. "The accent here is hard to understand," said Irene.

A basketball player, FHA member and member of the area SA/DD chapter, Irene keeps busy with extra-curricular activities. Schools in both Norway and Switzerland do not have extra-curricular activities so Irene has fully enjoyed them. She believes the school here is very spirited as a result of the activities.

Although the students are attending school, they will not receive credit for the classes they are taking. They are to average a 2.0 grade point, yet all of them agree that the experience is much more important than the grade. "Here I don't have enough time to do everything I want to—there's something going on all the time," said Keil.

While both of the boys have yet 2 years of school and one year of mandatory military service to complete educational requirements, Irene endures 5 more years of schooling.

Keil mentioned that he wanted to come to the USA because it is one of the two most important countries in the world.

When asked about the expectations of America, each one sounded like things they see on television, such as Falcon Crest and Dallas. Only one of the students found America to be different. Keil stated that he expected the standard of living on the average to be a little wealthier, so to speak.

Along those same lines, each knew American's began with fast-food. Axel loves a Big Mac and he said that in Norway, one would cost around $7. Irene and Keil are not so fond of fast-food.

All three said that the food they eat at home is much healthier, such as fish, fresh breads and vegetables. Ione Parsons explained that Irene eats little meat and loves fruits, vegetables and especially bread.

"Our family goes out to eat about one or two times a year," said Irene. On Bill Jack and Dottie's second night with Axel, they were given the chance to sample Norwegian cuisine. Axel prepared a raw, smoked salmon for them, and while partaking of his dinner, Axel looked up and noticed that he was the only one eating it. "I cut mine up in little pieces so I didn't have to chew it... we didn't want to insult him by not eating it, but we cook our food," commented Bill Jack as he jokingly reminisced the event.

Since norms and mores are different in every culture, these families determine what is and isn't acceptable in each other's cultures within the first few days. The students told that in their homes, it is impolite to wear outdoor shoes inside. They have shoes to wear inside and outdoor shoes to wear outside and none of them were aware of their own shoes in their American homes.

Overall, the students described Americans as hospitable people and that this area as opposed to others, such as the larger cities of the US, is slightly conservative.

These teenagers have become part of the Parsons and Stewart families. Dottie and Bill Jack noted that the greatest thing about having Axel around is that he is like a son to them, and as Dottie expressed her concern, she said, "I don't know what we'll do when he's gone." They said they like to be around the family a lot and he likes to talk. "Sometimes too much," Bill Jack said jokingly.

Irene is Ione Parsons's fifth exchange student. "She's wonderful with her students," said Ruby. "She's up for anything!" Agreeing with Ruby, Irene told of a recent trip to a shopping mall where Ione took her and her friend "cruising".

All of these fine teens are grateful for their homes here and their American "parents" because they are volunteers, giving of their time, home and love to these students.

The Parsons and the Stewarts encourage anyone who has considered an exchange student to do so. It is obvious how genuinely happy both the kids and the adults seem to be with their new family members, and it is not only an experience for the students, but also the host families. It is strictly a voluntary act, and the only expenses to the host family is for food and shelter-- they bring their own spending money.

As an incentive to housing exchange students, all host families receive a reduction in their taxable income by $50 each month.

When asked why she was so generous in participating in the program so often, Ione Parsons commented, "It's something I wanted my grandchildren to experience."

"These kids are the cream of the crop," Mrs. Ruby Stewart proudly. "They are the most polite kids and they are joy to have around." Each student has to apply to be an exchange in addition to undergoing extensive interviewing before acceptance.

Ms. Parsons was the first of these three families to receive an exchange student and she has probably been the inspiration for the other two families in sharing this great experience. "I just saw the ad in the paper and decided to get one."

Exchange students . . .

Axel Wangberg, left, Irene Gruter and Keil Gauspet are spending this school year with three families from Rockcastle County. Each say they have enjoyed their stay so far and are looking forward to the rest of the school year.

Court approves blacktopping of district 5 roads

By: Ray McClure

Think now. That's what the Rockcastle Fiscal Court told county roads department employees at the court's monthly meeting Tuesday.

County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins said it is not too early to begin planning for snow removal this winter.

The county escaped snow last winter when less than an inch fell. The court also approved blacktopping 102.5 miles of road in Magistrate District 5.

The roads include: Clayton Singleton Road, 8 1/2 miles; Old Gaultey, 1.20 miles; Piney Branch (lower end) 6 miles; Poplar Gap (Top of hill) one mile; Murphy Martin Road (left fork), 3.5 miles; Merritt Cemetery Road (Hummel side), 6 miles; Emmet Foster Road, 4 miles; Brush Creek Holiness Church Road, 2 miles; Shirley Rader Road, 1 1/2 miles; Chappel Road, 4 miles; Charley J. Davis Road, .75 miles; Parker Hollow, .65 miles; Melvin Gibbons Road, 4 miles; Gilbert Wynn Road, .75 miles; Frank Mason Road, .75 miles; Frank Mason Spur, .15 miles.

Also approved in District 1 was Lev Hunt Road, .45 miles, and in District 2, James Bullock Road, .3 miles and Bill Moore Road, .5 miles and New J.D. Cottengrind Road, .45 miles.

Other priorities for the second quarter of fiscal year 1991-92 include:

Submit application for water expansion to Sand Springs/Pongo; Lamer, Red Hill and Sand Hill, and to prepare preliminary plan for the remainder of county water expansion.

Do second phase of industrial site plan. To remove three major dump sites; complete architectural plan on existing courthouse and jail expansion; continue housing programs.

In other business, the court hired Tammie Shelton of Ky. 39 south to be site director for the community program at Broadhead replacing Mrs. Linda Reynolds who resigned. The court transferred $17,000 to the General Fund from the Jail Fund to go to the Rockcastle Ambulance Service. The annual contribution is in a lump sum instead of monthly payments.

Approved expansion of water system to Hammonds Fork Road in the Northern Water District.

Resolving a $1,105 between Conway and Brindle Ridge presented a petition with 27 names asking the court to contact Falcon Cable TV about poor reception in their area. Judge Mullins said he would write the cable company.

Added to the county road program were Bronco Abney Road, Lena Sower Road, Danny Sower Road (100 feet road change) and J of a mile of Barron Road.

The court received Phase I of the revised solid waste plan for the county from Cumberland Valley Area Development District.

The plan reflects changes in state law governing solid waste regulations.

The court will now proceed to Phase 2 in its plan.

Forest fire season now underway

This week is the beginning of the fall forest fire season, Donald A. Hamm, director of the Kentucky Division of Forestry, reminds Kentuckians.

The spectacular blaze of autumn colors across the Commonwealth's forestlands also can be accompanied by destructive forest fires. August, September, October, and November are generally the driest months of the year in Kentucky," Hamm said.

Kentucky law designates Oct. 1 through Dec. 15 as "Fire Hazard Season." For these two-and-a-half months, the law prohibits burning within 150 feet of the woods or burning anything capable of spreading fire to the woods except between the hours of 4:30 p.m. and midnight.

This is called the 4-30 Burning Law and is intended to prevent fires. "Even after 4:30 p.m., no one should burn unless the air is calm and there is adequate moisture in the air to allow control of the fire. It is also illegal to start a fire at any time near timberland without taking all reasonable precautions to prevent its spread. The same law requires all outdoor fires to be attended until extinguished," Hamm said.

"Forest fires are a multi-million dollar damage state fire at any time near timberland without taking all reasonable precautions to prevent its spread. The same law requires all outdoor fires to be attended until extinguished," Hamm said. Volunteers hope to clean-up river

Rockcastle Re-birth project

By: Laura Mize

The native tongue refers to them as the Buckeye Navy - Buckeye is somewhat debatable because people from many different states come to enjoy Kentucky's beautiful lakes and rivers.

Likewise, to Jerry Waddle, beautiful may be a debatable term as well. For the past few weeks, Jerry has headed a campaign to urge Rockcastle Countians to clean up the Rockcastle River.

Jerry calls his venture the Rockcastle River Rebirth. He believes that the greatest economic possibility for our county lies within the shores of the Rockcastle River and right now, it is not fit to attract the vacationers that are flocking to the various waterways of Southern Kentucky.

"Our forefathers taught us how to mess the river up—now it's time we learn to clean it up," said Jerry anxiously.

Inspired by a paper he wrote for a college English assignment about the condition of the once majestic river, Waddle began his efforts by contacting prominent citizens, the EPA, state officials, local schools and county organizations to name a few.

Rockcastle County science teacher, Ryan Riddle, has donated one of his classes to aid in the testing of the water to determine the pH factor, temperature, amount of nitrates, iron, and oxygen. In addition to the science department, the journalism class has donated its time and energy as well.

In effort to begin the clean up, Waddle has organized a meeting to discuss the problem with the community with Ken Cooke, Kentucky Division of Water, to kind discuss about clean up procedures. The meeting is set for Oct. 20, at the Livingston Fire Hall at 2 p.m.

"I have fisherman friends who report all of the spots along the river that need cleaned up," said Waddle.

Although Jerry is very confident that the campaign will produce clean river, he explains that public involvement is what will keep this effort continuing. He said, "When these guys spend hours cleaning the river, I want them to sit back and say 'look what we did and didn't do it do good'."

The group's outlook on the project is very positive as they believe by completing the task, they will promote a better environment and set an example for other residents in effort to keep the river clean.

"This is not a business venture," said Waddle, "We are doing this to get the river clean and have a good time."

RCHS will host spring meets

New track at RCHS to be completed soon

By: Laura Mize
Effective April, 1992, Rockcastle County will be able to host track meets at home.

The new track at the school is rapidly nearing completion as the finishing touches are being added.

"We still have to stripe the track, put concrete for the discus ring, pour concrete for the discus ring and put up a toe board for the shot put," said Head Track Coach Tom Larkey. The characteristic that sets the track apart from the average is the rubberized seal on top of the asphalt. This serves as a type of shock absorber for the runner's feet and legs which in turn promotes safer sporting.

According to Larkey, the team will experience no type of "home court advantage," however, the team will gain some support from spectators who may attend as a result of the location.

In the two years of existence, the all interested citizens from both Rockcastle and Laurel Counties to attend the meeting.

team boasts many victories as it included a runner-up in state competition and second team all state. The average number of members is generally around 50 participants, having close to an equal number of both boys and girls involved.

Coach Larkey believes that the new track will encourage students to join the team and hopes to install a cross-country team in the fall to inspire some long distance runners for the track season. Long distance, according to Larkey, was last year's weak area, while field events seemed to be the strong point.

Being a new opportunity for spectators, the sport may not be as easily understood as most. Unlike football, basketball, etc., winning a track meet depends on individual scores that are tallied in the end to determine the victorious team.

"A running score is kept throughout the meets as the individual scores are put together on a team score," the coach explained.

Contrast to common belief, Mr. Larkey advocates that the sport entails more than just running. It includes many field events, such as long jump, high jump, pole vault, shot put, triple jump and discus. Elaborating on the term, Larkey stated, "Actually, the name of the sport is track and field, not just track as it is often called."

The long jump is a springing jump whereas the triple jump involves more of a technique and style in performing the proper steps.

The take off area for the long jump is 8 feet for girls, 12 feet for boys with the average jump ranging from 12-20 feet.

The high jump is usually a backwards jump over a marking bar which generally averages between 3 and 6 feet.

Shot put and discus are throwing events. The shot put is thrown from the chin whereas the discus is thrown from the waist level in a circling motion.

The running events that require

Controversies play key role in Rockets' first loss of season to Leslie County 34-30

By: Paige Benge

Controversial calls and an all-state quarterback proved to be key factors in the Rockcastle County Rockets' first loss of the season to Leslie County Friday night 34-30. The loss brings the Rockets record to 4-1 on the season.

With the loss, the Rockets have dropped out of the top 20 in the state and are now ranked fifth in Class 2A.

The controversial calls stemmed from a fumble and a defensive pass interference call in the second half.

The fumble came in the fourth quarter when quarterback Scott Parkey fumbled the ball on the snap. Parkey recovered the fumble yet the referee managed to give the ball to Leslie.

"It is clearly shown on film that Parkey recovered the ball and handed it to the referee, yet he still gave the ball to Leslie," head coach Tom Larkey said.

Before the fumble, the Rockets obviously had full momentum on their side but the fumble seemed to stall momentum for the Rockets.

The defensive pass interference call came late in the third quarter which gave Leslie a first and goal situation and three plays later Leslie scored a touchdown.

"You could see on film that the Rockets defense did not interfere and if anything it should have been offensive pass interference on Leslie," Larkey said.

"I'm not going to say the referees cost us the game, but the two bad calls came at very costly times, they really hurt us," Larkey said.

Leslie County's senior quarterback Greg Couch completed 18 of 26 passes for 288 yards and also ran for 82 yards.

Yet the Rockets did not lay down and quit. They kept fighting and were still going strong at the end of the fourth quarter.

J.D. Harris scored a touchdown from the two yard line for the Rockets with :36 seconds left in the game to bring the Rockets within four points. The two point conversion attempt was not good.

The Rockets then attempted an on-side kick and senior William Hellard was there to recover for the Rockets.

The Rockets took over around the fifty yard line and got three plays of before time expired.

"I was pleased with the way my team played, they played as hard as they could the whole game. I was proud of them," Larkey said.

Leslie County got on the scoreboard first by scoring from the Rockets six yard line on a pass into the end-zone. Their two-point conversion attempt was good and the Rockets were behind eight points with 6:55 left in the first quarter.

Rockcastle and Leslie exchanged punts and on the Rockets next drive, J.D. Harris ran the ball in from Leslie's 44 yard line. Scott Parkey completed the two-point conversion and the Rockets had tied Leslie late in the first quarter.

On Leslie's next drive, after about 14 plays, William Bullens sacked Leslie's quarterback on fourth down.

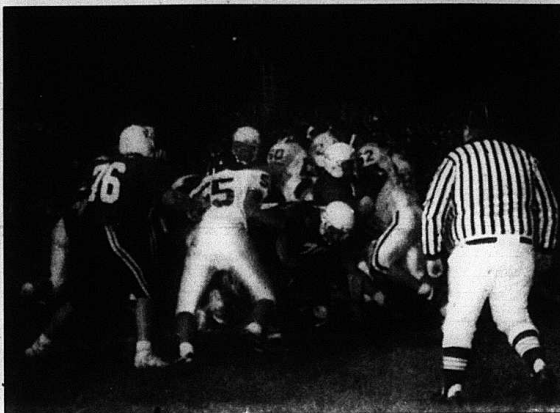

The Rockets took over on their own 20 yard line. But two plays later, the Rockets fumbled and Leslie recovered.

"This fumble was very costly. It was the most costly turnover all year long," Coach Larkey said, "had we not fumbled, I feel sure we would have scored," he added.

This fumble was costly because two plays later Leslie scored on a 23 yard pass and their two-point conversion was not good. With 5:08 left in the first half the Rockets were behind 14-8.

Leslie came out just as hot in the second half as they did at the beginning of the first half.

Leslie received the kick-off, drove down field and scored on a 32 yard pass into the end-zone. The two-point conversion was not good and Leslie had a 20-8 lead early in the second half.

Rockets' offensive lineman #70 Stacy Nicely (center) makes a hole for teammate Jonathon Saylor, who went in for the touchdown on the play. The Rockets fell short to Leslie County for their first loss of the year, 34-30.

The Rockets did not lay down and quit. William Bullens returned the kick-off from the Rockets 25 yard line to Leslie's four yard line. Jonathon Saylor scored for the Rockets on the third play of the drive to pull within six of Leslie with 6:24 left in the third quarter.

The Rockets will face Somerset Thursday (tonight) at 8:00 p.m. at RCHS.

It took less than two minutes for Leslie to score yet another touchdown. Leslie's quarterback threw a seven yard touchdown pass to extend their lead to 14 points. The two-point conversion was good and Leslie led 28-14. The Rockets immediately scored on their next drive when J.D. Harris scored from Leslie's nine yard line. Parkey kept the ball for the two-point conversion and the Rockets were only down by six points with :29 seconds left in the third quarter.

On Leslie's next drive, the Rockets defense pushed Leslie back deep in their own territory. With a 3rd and 24 situation, Saylor tackled Leslie's quarterback in their own end-zone off a safety. This safety pulled the Rockets within four points.

Leslie had to punt and momentum was completely on Rockcastle's side until the referee made the very controversial fumble call against the Rockets.

After a couple exchanges of the football, Leslie's halfback ran straight up the middle from the 45 yard line to score Leslie last touchdown of the game. Leslie's two-point conversion was not good and Leslie led 34-24.

Yet again, the Rockets did not quit. Harris scored from the two yard line to cut the lead to four for the final 34-30 score.

"I feel we learned a lot - offensively and defensively. It should help us this Thursday night against Somerset," Larkey said.

J.D. Harris broke Kevin Rowe's career rushing record, during the Larkey era, Friday night. Harris has 2,178 career rushing yards. Rowe's record was 2,099. Harris has rushed for over 100 yards every game this season. This is a first for any Rocket.

William Bullens set a school record, during the Larkey era, of four quarterback sacks in one game. Bullens had a total of 10 tackles against Leslie Friday night.

In the statistics department, the Rockets rushed for a total of 194 yards and passed for a total of 46 yards.

Harris had 23 carries for 129 yards. Saylor carried the ball eight times for 44 yards. Bullens had six carries for 32 yards. Mikkeal Shaffer had two carries for five yards and Parkey had four carries for minus 16 yards.

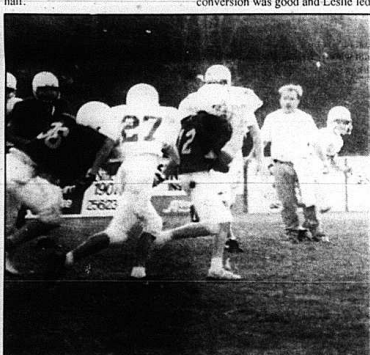

Parkey completed five of 13 passes for 46 yards. Harris caught four passes for 40 yards and Shaffer caught one for six yards.

Defensively, Saylor had four tackles. Stacy Nicely had three tackles. Curtis Cotton had two tackles and one sack. Mike Darham had two tackles and one sack. William Hellard had one tackle, one sack and one fumble recovery. Bullens had 10 tackles and four sacks. Bobby Coffey had nine tackles. J.D. Harris had one tackle. Rickey Moore had one tackle. J.D. Bussell had five tackles. Shaffer had six tackles and Jason Fletcher had two tackles.

The Rockets now face Somerset Thursday night at 8:00 at the high school.

Rocket Jason Kirby hits Leslie County's quarterback Greg Couch during last Friday night's action at Leslie. The Rockets were handed their first loss of the year, 34-30.

Redskins' defensive player Jarrod Singleton chases Anthony King of the Bucs in Monday night's Little League football action. The Redskins went on to defeat the Bucs, 14-7.

Bowhunter killed by arrow

Bow hunters take care! A Pulaski County man died Sunday in a bowhunting accident in the Land Between the Lakes.

It was the first fatality of its type since the area was opened to hunting in 1965, an official reported.

Perry L. England, 37, of Science Hill, formerly of Campbellsville, died at the scene after he was hit by an arrow shot by a 16-year-old hunter, said the spokesman, Scott Seiber.

England and the youth were in the same hunting party but became separated while looking for a deer they had wounded, Seiber said.

No charges were filed against the boy who had completed a hunter safety course required by Kentucky law, Seiber said. Land Between the Lakes officials would not release the boy's name.

Though England's death was the result of a shooting fatality in the recreation area, Seiber said another hunter died of injuries suffered in a fall from a tree stand.

The family of Lisa Hasty want to express our thanks to each and everyone who was so kind and thoughtful during the death of our loved one. A special thank you to Virgil Bushe for the comforting words and his wife Bessie for the beautiful songs. To Bro. Allen Hensley for his comforting words and beautiful song. To Bro. Gene Nee and his wife Jean for their kindness and support. God bless these ministers. A special thanks to those who gave money and flowers and visits in my home, and all the nice cards. A special thanks also to Dowell and Martin Funeral Home for their kindness and efficient service and to the pallbearers, God Bless everyone of you.
The Family
Inez, Roger, Michael and Josh

'Thank You'

The family of Sgt. William Oscar Pingleton would like to extend their gratitude to all the wonderful family and friends that offered so much comfort and support during the time of our loss. Also we would like to extend a special thank you to Brother Bill Paik and to the soldiers of the 100th Division for their commemoration for my husband and our father, a man who we love and admire, with feelings of great pride.

'Thank You'

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wheat wish to express their heartfelt thanks for all the presents and good wishes given them during and after their wedding. A special thanks to Red Top Restaurant for their patience and understanding during the reception. To everyone, we thank you and love you.
Sincerely,
Eva and Buddy Wheat

Poet's Corner

Remember how it was when you used to come home.
No one to greet just you and me.
No to alone you.
How wonderful it was just knowing He was there.
All you had to do was talk to Him in prayer.
He said, 'I'll never leave you nor forsake you. He is such a friend.

I forever want Him with me. If you agree say Amen!
Time spent with Him was so sweet. But He added a little something that made it complete.
We're like pilgrims on a journey and while traveling down that road.
God knew we needed someone to leave and to hold.
Times get pretty hard when you're left all by yourself.
Then you call on God. 'Lord! I need some help.
I guess that's why in this troublesome life.
God created a husband and gave him a wife.

A wedding invitation
By: Mrs. William Isaac VanWinkle
There is going to be a wedding. The Lord may be coming soon. To those of us who are ready we are the bride. He is the groom. If Jesus gave an invitation. Would you be a witness and come and dine?
Or would you be like the five foolish virgins that had no oil, and were left behind.
If you're not ready to meet Him. Then please prepare my friend. He is Alpha and Omega the beginning and the end.
